 Sowced (p. from sowce, not so common a spelling) Thrown into the water, souced.
 Sowcing (p. a. from sowce not so common a spelling) Throwing into the water, soucing.
 Sow (v. t. obsolete) To seal. Chaucer.
 Sow (p. from sow) Sown, thrown as seed into the ground; spread, propagated; sewed, tacked together with a needle and thread.
 Sow (s. from sow) One that sows seed; one that sews.
 Sow (v. int. obsolete) To found. Cole.
 Sow (p. a. from sow) Casting seed into the earth; tacking together with a needle and thread.
 Sow (s. from the part.) The act of casting seed into the earth, the time in which seed is cast into the earth; the act of tacking together with a needle and thread, that which is sewed.
 Sow (s.) A kind of four flummary. Mortimer.
 Sow (s. obsolete) A fore, a buck of the fourth year.
 Sow (s. from sow, and iron) Iron in its first state from the ore, pigiron.
 Sow (v. t. of uncertain derivation) To pull by the ears. Shakespeare.
 Sow (p. from fowl, a local word) Pulled by the ears.
 Sow (s. from the Brit.) February. Scott.
 Sowmetal (s. from sow, and metal) Metal in a large mass as just extracted from the ore.
 Sow (p. from sow) Cast as seed into the earth, impregnated with seeds; sewed. Swift.
 Sow (s. obsolete) A found, a noise. Chaucer.
 Sow (v. int. obsolete) To found, to signify. Chaucer.
 Sow (v. int. in the exchequer) To be collected, to be capable of being collected.
 Sow (p. obsolete) Savoured, founded, signified. Ch.
 Sow (s. obsolete) A cobbler, a shoemaker.
 Sowthistle (s. in botany) The name of a plant; a common weed.
 Sow (s. an old spelling) The soil, the ground.
 Sow (s. not so common a spelling) A spaw, a place noted for mineral waters.
 Spade (s. in natural history) A kind of English tile. Woodward.
 Spade (s. from the Lat. spatium) Room, an extension of place; a quantity of place or room; a quantity of time or duration; a small time, a little while.
 Spacious (adj. from space) Wide, extensive, roomy.
 Spaciously (adv. from spacious) With wide extent, with large space.
 Spaciousness (s. from spacious) An extent of space, roominess.
 Spack (adj. a local word) Apt to learn. Cole.
 Spade (s. diminutive of spade) A little spade.
 Spade (s. from the Sax. spad) The instrument of dig-ing, a kind of shovel; a deer three years old; a suit of cards, a card of that suit.

S P A

 SPADE (s. from the Lat. spado) One who has been gelded, an eunuch; an animal that has been castrated. Bailey.
 Spadiard (s. from spade) One who works a spade, one who digs in the mines of Cornwall.
 SPADICEOUS (adj. from the Lat. spadix) Having a light red colour. Brown.
 SPADILLE (s. at ombre) The ace of spades.
 Spadi'lo (s. at ombre) The ace of spades, spadille.
 SPADIX (s. from the Greek) The branch of the red palm-tree; a light red colour, a bright bay. Phillips.
 SPAGIRIC (adj. from the Lat. spagircus) Chymical, belonging to chymistry.
 Spagirical (adj. from spagirc) Chymical.
 Spagirick (s. from spagirc) An alchymist. Cole.
 Spag'irisk (s. from spagirc) A chymist.
 SPAHI (s.) A Turkish horseman, a gentleman on horseback completely armed.
 Spahy (s. from spahi) A Turkish horseman completely armed.
 Spaid (s. a hunting term) A spayed, the male of the red deer at three years old. Phillips.
 Spaid'air (s.) One of the white friars who wore two red swords as a badge on their habits.
 SPAIN (s. in geography) A large kingdom of Europe.
 Spake (v. int. pret. of speak, but now nearly obsolete) Did speak, spoke. Mil'm.
 SPALDING (s.) A town in Lincolnshire; it has a market on Tuesday and is 103 miles from London.
 Spald'ing (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Spalding, made at Spalding.
 SPALL (s. from the French espalle, but now out of use) The shoulder.
 Spalles (s. plu. of spall) Shoulders. Fairfax.
 SPALT (s. in natural history) A white scaly kind of stone used to promote the fusion of metals.
 SPAN (s. from the Sax.) The space comprehended between the top of the thumb and the end of the little finger extended; any short duration.
 Span (v. t. from the sub.) To measure by the hand extended; to measure.
 Span (v. t. pret. of spin) Did spin.
 Span (s. a sea term) A small rope the middle of which is usually attached to a stay.
 Span (v. t. a local word) To wean, to take from the breast. Bailey.
 Span (adv. a colloquial word) Quite from the maker. "Span new."
 Span'cel (s. a colloquial word) A rope to tie a cow's hinder legs. Bailey.
 Span'counter (s. from span, and counter) Spanfarthing.
 Spane (v. t. a local word) To wean, to take from the breast. Cole.
 Span'farthing (s. from span, and farthing) A play in which money is attempted to be thrown within a span of a certain mark.
 SPAN'GLE (s. from the German spange) A small drop or bofs of shining metal, any small thing that sparkles.
 Span'gle (v. t. from the sub.) To sprinkle over with spangles.
 Span'gled (p. from spangle) Besprinkled with spangles.
 Span'gling (p. a. from spangle) Besprinkling with spangles.
 Spang'ling (s. from the part.) The act of besprinkling with spangles.
 Span'iard (s. from Spain) A native of Spain.
 SPAN'IEL (s. from the French eipagneul) A dog used for sports in the field remarkable for sagacity and obedience; a sneaking fellow.
 Span'iel (v. t. from the sub.) To fawn on, to play the spaniel. Shakespeare.
 Span'ieled (p. from spaniel, but not used) Fawned on.
 Span'ieling (p. a. from spaniel, but not used) Fawning on, playing the spaniel.
 Span'ish (adj. from Spain) Belonging to Spain, produced in Spain, imported from Spain.
 Span'ishbroom (s. in botany) The name of a shrub.
 Span'ishflies (s. in medicine) The cantharides, the flies of which blister plasters are made.
 Span'ishing (adj. obsolete) Having the breadth of a span, full breadth. Chaucer.
 Span'shnut (s. in botany) The name of a plant, a kind of iris.
 Span'istooth'pick (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Span'ishwool (s. from Spanish, and wool) Fine wool imported from Spain; a died wool from Spain formerly used as a cosmetic.
 SPANK

SPA

SPANK (v. t. from the Sax. span) To strike with the open hand. Scott.
Spank'ed (p. from spank, but not much used) Struck with the open hand.
Spank'ing (p. a. from spank, but not much used) Striking with the open hand.
Spank'ing (adj. a colloquial word) Large, strong; fine, spruce. Scott.
Span'ned (p. from span) Measured with the thumb and finger extended.
SPAN'NER (s. the derivation is not noted) The lock of a fusee or carbine. Howel.
Span'new (adj. from span, and new) Quite new, just come from the maker. Scott.
Span'ning (p. a. from span) Measuring with the thumb and finger extended, measuring.
SPAR (s. from the Dutch sparre) A small beam, a small fir-tree, a bar, the bar of a gate; the spoke of a spinning wheel.
SPAR (s. in natural history) Marcasite, a kind of debased crystal.
Spar (v. t. from the sub.) To shut, to close, to bar. Sh.
Spar (v. int.) To fight as cocks with prelusive strokes.
Spar (v. t. a local word) To enquire, to cry at the market. Cole.
SPAR'ABLE (s. from the Sax. sparran to fasten) A small nail to fasten the sole of a shoe.
SPAR'ADRAP, SPARADRA'PUM (s. in pharmacy) A cerecloth, a large plaster.
Spar'agus (s. not so common a word) The asparagus. Dict. of Arts.
Spar'ande (adj. obsolete) Sparing, niggardly.
SPARE (v. t. from the Sax. sparan) To use with frugality, to save from any particular use; to do without; to omit, to forbear; to use tenderly; to grant, to allow, to indulge.
Spare (v. int.) To live frugally, to be scrupulous; to use mercy, to be tender.
Spare (adj. from the verb) Scanty, parsimonious; lean, wanting flesh; superfluous, having more than is wanted.
Spare (s. from the adj. but not used) Parsimony, frugal use. Bacon.
Spar'ed (p. from spare) Used with frugality, used tenderly; done without.
Spar'eddeck (s. a sea term) The lower deck of a ship, the orlop.
Spar'enefs (s. from spare) The state of being spare, lean-ness. Scott.
Spar'er (s. from spare) One who avoids expence.
Spar'rer (adj. comp. of spare) Spare in a greater degree.
Spar'rest (adj. sup. of spare) Spare in the greatest degree.
Spar'erib (s. from spare, and rib) A part cut off from the ribs of a pig.
SPARGAN'ION (s. in botany) The sedge, the sword-grass.
SPARGAN'OSIS (s. from the Greek σπαργω to swell with milk) An immoderate extension of the breast occasioned by a redundancy of milk.
SPARGEFACT'ION (s. from the Lat. spargo, to sprinkle) The act of sprinkling.
Spar'hawk (s. in ornithology) A kind of short winged hawk. Scott.
Spar'ing (p. a. from spare) Using with frugality, using tenderly, indulging, granting, allowing.
Spar'ing (adj. from the part.) Parsimonious, near, scanty, scarce.
Spar'ing (s. from the part.) A frugal use, an act of indulgence.
Spar'ingly (adv. from the adj.) With parcimony, with abstinence; cautiously, tenderly; with no great frequency.
Spar'ingness (s. from sparing) Parsimony, narrowness.
SPARK (s. from the Sax. spearca) A small particle of fire; any thing shining, any thing vivid and active; a showy smart fellow.
Spark (v. int. from the sub. but not used) To sparkle Sp.
Spark'ful (adj. from spark) Lively, brisk, airy. Camd.
Spa'k'ish (adj. from spark, a low or droll word) Airy, gay, showy, fine. L'Estrange.
Spar'kle (v. int. from spark) To emit sparks, to issue in sparks; to shine, to glitter.
Spar'kle (s. from the verb) A spark, a small particle of fire; a luminous particle.
Spar'kling (p. a. from sparkle) Emitting sparks, shining.
Spark'lingly (adv. from sparkling) With sparkling lustre.
Spark'lingness (s. from sparkling) A vivid and twinkling lustre.

SPA

Sparre (s. obsolete) A spar, a bolt, a bar. Clarendon.
Sparre (v. t. obsolete) To spar, to shut. Spenser.
Spar'ed (p. from spar) Shut, barred. Clarendon.
Spar'rid (p. obsolete) Barred, bolted.
Spar'ring (p. a. from spar) Shutting, bolting; fighting with prelusive strokes.
Spar'ring (s. from the part.) The prelusive strokes of cocks in fighting.
SPAR'ROW (s. from the Sax. spearwa) The name of a well known bird.
Spar'rowbil (s. not so correct a spelling) A sparable, small nail to fasten the sole of a shoe.
Spar'rowgrass (s. an incorrect spelling) The paragus.
Spar'rowhawk (s. from sparrow, and hawk) The hawk, a small kind of hawk.
Spar'rownet (s. from sparrow, and net) A net to catch sparrows.
Spar'ry (adj. from spar) Consisting of spar.
Spar'riedly (adv. not used) Scatteringly.
SPAR'SION (s. from the Lat. spargo to sprinkle, but not used) The act of sprinkling.
SPARTA (s.) A once famous city and republic in Greece.
Spar'tan (adj. from Sparta) Belonging to Sparta.
Spar'tan (s. from the adj.) A native of Sparta.
Spar'the (s. obsolete) A double ax.
SPARTIUM (s. in botany) Spanish broom, a genus of plants.
SPAR'US (s. in ichthyology) A genus or class of acanthopterygious fishes.
SPASM (s. from the Greek σπασω to draw) A sudden and violent contraction of any part, the cramp.
Spasmat'ic (adj. from spasm) Afflicted with the cramp.
SPASMO'DIC (adj. from the Greek σπασμος a spasm, and δεινν pain) Convulsive, affected with spasms.
Spasmo'dica (s. from spasmodic) Medicines good against the cramp, antispasmodics.
SPASMOLOGIA (s. from the Greek σπασμος a spasm, and λογος a description) A treatise on spasms and convulsions.
Spas'motic (adj. from spasm, but not so common a word) Spasmodic.
SPAS'MUS (s. from the Greek σπασμος a spasm) The cramp, the convulsions.
SPAT (s. in ichthyology and natural history) The young shell fish; a kind of mineral stone.
Spat (v. int. pret. of spit) Did spit.
SPA'THA (s. from the Greek σπάθη) The spatula, the instrument with which surgeons spread their plasters.
SPATHULA (s. from spatha) The spatula.
SPATIATE (v. int. from the Lat. spatior) To rove, to range, to ramble at large.
Spat'iating (p. a. from spatiate, but not much used) Roving at large, rambling.
Spat'ious (adj. not so common a spelling) Spacious. Scott.
Spat'lingpoppy (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
SPAT'TER (v. t. from the Sax. spat to spit) To sprinkle with dirt, to throw out any thing offensive, to asperse to defame.
Spat'ter (v. int.) To spit with quick repetitions; to spit at; as, "To spatter at any thing nauseous."
Spat'terdashes (s. from spatter, and dash) A kind of covering for the legs to keep off the wet, a kind of stockings or boots to be buttoned on the legs.
Spat'tered (p. from spatter) Sprinkled with dirt; aspersed, defamed.
Spat'tering (p. a. from spatter) Sprinkling with dirt, aspersing, defaming.
Spat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of sprinkling with dirt, that with which any thing is spattered.
Spat'terplashes (s. not so common a word) Spatterdashes. Phillips.
Spat'tlingpoppy (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the white behen, a species of campion.
SPA'TULA (s. from spatha) The spatula, the instrument with which surgeons spread their plasters.
SPA'TUM (s. in natural history) The spat.
SPAVIN (s. from the French espevene) A disease incident to horses, an excrescence or swelling on the inside of the hough.
Spaut (s. a local word) A youth.
SPAW (s.) A town in Germany famous for mineral waters.
Spaw (s. from the foregoing) A place famous for mineral waters, a mineral water.
SPAWL (v. int. from the Sax. spoetian to spit) To throw moisture out of the mouth.
Spawl (s. from the verb) Spittle, moisture thrown out of the mouth. Spawling.

S P E

spitting (p. a. from spawl) Spitting, ejecting matter from the mouth.
 spittle (s. from the part.) Spit, moisture ejected from the mouth.
 spawl (s. from the Dutch spene) The eggs of fishes, the eggs of frogs; an offspring in contempt.
 spawn (v. t. from the sub.) To produce eggs as fishes; to generate, to bring forth in contempt.
 spawn (v. int.) To issue as eggs from fish; to issue in contempt.
 spawned (p. from spawn) Brought forth as the eggs of fishes; produced in contempt.
 spawner (s. from spawn) A female fish.
 spawning (p. a. from spawn) Bringing forth eggs as fishes; bringing forth in contempt.
 spawning (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth eggs as fishes.
 spay (v. t. from the Lat. spado, one gelded) To castrate a female animal.
 spayed (s. a. bunting term) A deer three years old.
 spayed (p. from spay) Castrated as a female animal.
 spaying (p. from spay) Castrating a female animal.
 speak (v. int. from the Sax. specan) To utter articulate sounds, to utter words; to harangue, to make a speech; to talk, to debate; to give a sound as a trumpet. "To speak with," to address, to converse with.
 speak (v. t.) To utter with the mouth, to pronounce; to address, to accost; to proclaim, to celebrate; to exhibit, to shew.
 speakable (adj. from speak) Capable of speech, possible or fit to be spoken. Milton.
 speaker (s. from speak) One that speaks; the prolocutor of the House of Commons; a teacher among the Quakers.
 speaking (p. a. from speak) Uttering words, expressing in words, proclaiming, celebrating; conversing with.
 speaking (s. from speak) The power of utterance, the act of expressing in words.
 speaking-trumpet (s. from speaking, and trumpet) A trumpet by which the noise is propagated to a great distance.
 spear (s. from the Sax. spere) A long weapon with a sharp point, a lance to strike fish.
 spear (v. t. from the sub.) To kill with a spear, to pierce with a spear.
 spear (v. int.) To inspire, to shoot. Mortimer.
 spear'd (p. from spear) Pierced with a spear.
 spear-grass (s. from spear, and grass) Long stiff grass.
 spear'ing (p. a. from spear) Piercing with a spear.
 spear'ing (s. from the part.) The act of piercing with a spear, the method of killing fish with a lance or spear.
 spear-man (s. from spear, and man) One who uses a spear in battle.
 spear-men (s. plu. of spearman) More than one spearman.
 spearmint (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 spearwort (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 species (s. an old spelling) Sorts, kinds, species. Chaucer.
 special (adj. from species) Peculiar, particular, belonging to some particular sort or species; appropriate, designed for some particular purpose; extraordinary, uncommon; chief, superior in excellence.
 speciality (s. from special) Particularity.
 specially (adv. from special) Particularly, peculiarly.
 specialness (s. from special) The state or circumstance of being special.
 specialty (s. from special) Speciality, peculiarity.
 species (s. from the Lat.) A sort, a kind; a class, a single order of beings; an appearance, a representation to the mind; current moneys; the symbols assumed in algebraical operations; the simples which take place in a compound.
 specific (adj. from the Lat. species a kind, and facio to make) Denoting the species, distinguishing the kind; appropriated to the cure of some particular disease.
 specific (s. from the adj.) That quality which points out the species; a remedy for some certain disease.
 specific (adj. from specific) Specific, special, denoting the species.
 specifically (adv. from specific) In such a manner as to constitute a species.
 specificness (s. from specific) The state or quality of being specific.
 specify (v. t. from specific) To mark by a notation of the species.
 specified (p. from specificate) Marked by noting the species.

S P E

specifying (p. a. from specificate) Distinguishing by a notation of the species.
 specification (s. from specificate) A distinct notation, a particular mention.
 specificness (s. from specific) The state or quality of being specific.
 specified (p. from specify) Distinguished by some particular mark; mentioned.
 SPECIFY (v. t. from the Lat. species a kind, and facio to make) To shew by some particular mark; to mention.
 specifying (p. a. from specify) Distinguishing by some particular mark; mentioning.
 specifying (s. from the part.) The act of distinguishing by some particular mark; a particular mention.
 SPECIL'LUM (s. from the Lat.) A little mirror; a probe.
 SPECIMEN (s. from the Lat.) A sample, part of any thing exhibited in order to judge of the rest.
 speciousity (s. from specious) Speciousness. Scott.
 SPECIOUS (adj. from the Lat. specio to see) Showy, pleasing to the sight; plausible, superficial, striking at first view.
 Speciously (adv. from specious) With fair appearance.
 Speciousness (s. from specious) The state or quality of being specious.
 SPECK (s. from the Sax. specec) A small spot, a small spot of a different colour.
 Speck (v. t. from the sub.) To stain in drops, to spot.
 Speck'd (p. from speck) Spotted, stained in drops; with with: as, "Speck'd with gold."
 Speck'ing (p. a. from speck) Spotting, staining with drops.
 Speck'le (s. from speck) A little spot, a small speck.
 Speck'le (v. t. from the sub.) To mark with small spots.
 Speck'led (p. from speckle) Marked with small spots, distinguished by particular marks.
 Speck'ledness (s. from speckled) The state or quality of being speckled.
 Speck'ling (p. a. from speckle) Marking with small spots.
 Speck't (s. in ornithology) The woodpecker.
 SPECT'ABLE (adj. from the Lat. specto to behold) Capable of being looked on. Scott.
 SPECT'ACLE (s. from the Lat. spectaculum) A show, a gazing stock; any thing perceived by the sight.
 Spect'acle (adj. from spectacles) Having spectacles. Sh.
 Spect'acle-maker (s. from spectacle, and maker) One who makes spectacles.
 Spectacles (s. plu.) Glasses to assist the sight.
 SPECTA'TION (s. from the Lat. specto to behold, but not used) Regard, respect. Harvey.
 SPECT'ATIVE (adj. from the Lat. specto to behold, but not used) Speculative, contemplative. Bailey.
 SPECTA'TOR (s. from the Lat. specto to behold) One who looks on, one who beholds.
 Specta'torship (s. from spectator) The act of beholding, the office of a spectator. Shakespeare.
 Specta'tress (s. from spectator) A female who looks on. Scott.
 SPEC'TRE (s. from the Lat. spectrum) An apparition, the ghost of a dead person.
 Spect'rehell (s. in natural history) A species of voluta.
 SPEC'TRUM (s. from the Lat.) An image, a visible form.
 Spec'ula (s. plu. of speculum, a scientific word) Mirrors; instruments for dilating wounds.
 SPEC'ULABLE (adj. from the Lat. specularis) Capable of being discerned. Scott.
 SPEC'ULAR (adj. from the Lat. specularis) Having the properties of a mirror; assisting sight. Phillips.
 Specula'ria (s. from specular) The act of making mirrors; the laws of reflection by mirrors. Scott.
 SPECULA'RIS (s. in natural history) A kind of tales, the specularis lapis.
 SPECULA'RISLA'PIS (s. in natural history, from the Lat. specularis assisting vision, and lapis a stone) A stone clear as crystal, sometimes used for window lights, the specularis.
 SPEC'ULATE (v. int. from the Lat. speculo to behold) To contemplate on, to meditate, to employ the thoughts; with on or upon: as, "And not speculate upon an intrinsic relation."
 Spec'ulate (v. t.) To consider attentively, to look through with the mind.
 Spec'ulated (p. from speculate) Considered with attention.
 Spec'ulating (p. a. from speculate) Meditating, contemplating.
 Spec'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of speculation. Specu-

S P E

Speculation (s. from speculate) An examination by sight, a view; a mental view, a train of thoughts; the power of sight. Shakespeare.
Speculations (s. perhaps a mistake in the orthography) Speculators, spies. Sb.
Speculative (adj. from speculate) Contemplative, given to speculation; belonging to speculation as distinguished from practice.
Speculatively (adv. from speculative) In a speculative manner.
Speculativenefs (s. from speculative) The state of being speculative. Scott.
Specula'tor (s. from speculate) One who speculates; an observer, a spy.
SPECULATORY (adj. from speculator) Exercising speculation.
SPECULUM (s. from the Lat.) A mirror, a looking glass; an instrument in surgery for dilating a wound.
SPECULUMANI (s. from the Lat. speculum a dilating instrument, and anus the fundament) An instrument to extend the fundament.
SPECULUMMA'TRIS (s. from the Lat.) An instrument to dilate the womb.
SPECULUMOCULI (s. from the Lat. speculum a mirror, and oculus the eye) The pupil of the eye.
SPECULUMORIS (s. from the Lat.) An instrument to force open the mouth.
Sped (v. t. pret. of speed) Did speed.
Sped (p. from speed) Provided with; furnished with; hastened.
Spede (s. an old spelling) Speed. Chaucer.
Speech (s. from speak) The power of articulate utterance, the faculty of expressing thoughts in words; language, words as expressing thoughts; a particular language, the language of a country or people; talk, any thing spoken; an oration, an harangue; liberty of speaking.
Speech'less (adj. from speech) Dum, mute, deprived of the power of speaking.
SPEED (v. int. from the Dutch spoeden) To make haste, to move with haste, to be quick in motion.
SPEED (v. int. from the Sax. spedian to grow rich) To have success, to be in any condition good or bad.
Speed (v. t.) To dispatch in haste, to hasten, to assist, to help forward, to make prosperous.
Speed (s. from the verb) Quickness, haste, dispatch, hurry, the course or pace of a horse; success, issue.
Speed ed (p. from speed) Hastened, assisted, helped forward.
Speed'ier (adj. comp. of speedy) Speedy in a greater degree.
Speed'iest (adj. sup. of speedy) Speedy in the greatest degree.
Speed'ily (adv. from speedy) With speed, with haste.
Speed'iness (s. from speed) The state or quality of being speedy.
Speed'well (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the speedwell.
Speed'ily (adj. from speed) Quick, nimble, quick in dispatch.
Speck (s. a sea term) A spike, a long nail. Phillips.
Speck (v. i. from the sub.) To spike, to fasten with a long nail. Scott.
Speck'ing (p. a. from speck) Spiking. Phillips.
Speck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a spike. Phillips.
Speer (s. a local word) The chimney post. Bailey.
SPELL (s. from the Sax. spel) A charm, a sentence consisting of words which are supposed to have some occult power; a turn at work, the succession by which one man relieves another; a history, a tale. Chaucer.
SPELL (v. t. from the Dutch spellen) To write with the proper letters, to read by naming letters singly; to find out the meaning; to charm.
Spell (v. t. a sea term, used chiefly in the imperative mode) Take a turn, fall in at by way of relief. "Spell the pump."
Spell (v. int.) To form words of letters, to read, to read unskillfully.
Spelled (p. from spell) Written with proper letters, read by naming letters singly; charmed.
Speller (s. from spell) One that spells.
Spelling (p. a. from spell) Writing with proper letters, reading unskillfully, discovering the meaning with some degree of difficulty; working by spells; using spells.
Spelling (s. from the part.) The act of writing with proper letters, the manner in which a word is written.

S P E

Spelt (v. t. a corruption of split) To split. Mortimer.
Spelt'ed (p. from spelt) Split, broken. Mortimer.
SPELT'ER (s. in natural history) A kind of feminine the zinc.
Spence (s. obsolete) A place where provisions are laid in a pantry; expence. Chaucer.
SPEND (v. t. from the Sax. spendan) To consume, exhaust, to expend; to squander, to lavish, to tigue, to haras; to wear out, to effuse; to pass away.
Spend (v. int.) To make expence, to prove in the use to be lost; to be employed in any use.
Spend'er (s. from spend) One that spends, a prodigal spendthrift.
Spend'ing (p. a. from spend) Consuming, wasting, vishing; harassing, fatiguing; employing in any proving in the use.
Spend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wasting, act of using.
Spend'thrift (s. from spend, and thrift) A prodigal, a squanderer.
Spene (v. t. an old spelling) To spend, to consume. Bailey.
Spene (s. a local word) A cow's teat.
Spent (v. t. pret. of spend) Did spend.
Spent (p. from spend) Wasted, consumed, gone, decayed, worn out.
Sper (v. t. obsolete) To spar, to fasten. Chaucer.
SPEURABLE (adj. from the Lat. spero to hope) Capable of hope, fit to be hoped for, admitting hope. Bailey.
Sper'age (s. an old spelling) Asparagus. Chaucer.
Sperde (adj. obsolete) Locked up. Chaucer.
Spere (s. an old spelling) A spear, a long pole; a sphere. Chaucer.
Sper'ed (adj. obsolete) Locked up. Chaucer.
SPERGULA (s. in botany) The spurry.
Sper'hawke (s. obsolete) The sparrow hawk. Chaucer.
Sper'kel (adj. a local word) Wandering, roving; perished.
Sper'keland (adj. obsolete) Dispersed, wandering.
Sperm (s. from the Lat. sperma) Seed, that by which any species is propagated.
Sper'MA (s. from the Greek) The sperm, the seed, which any species is propagated.
Sper'MACE'TI (s. from the Lat. sperma seed, and a whole) An unduous substance drawn from the large whales.
Sper'MACOCE (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Spermat'ic (adj. from sperma) Seminal, consisting of the belonging to the sperm, conveying the seed.
Spermat'ical (adj. from spermat'ic) Spermat'ic, belonging to the seed.
Spermat'ique (adj. an old spelling) Spermat'ic.
Spermatize (v. int. from sperma) To yield seed.
Spermatizing (p. a. from spermatize) Yielding seed.
SpermatoCE'LE (s. from the Greek σπέρμα τελευτή a rupture) A rupture occasioned by the action of the femoral vessels.
SpermatoPœ'A (s. from the Greek σπέρμα τελευτή to make) Medicines which are supposed to create the semen.
Spermol'ogist (s. from the Gr. σπέρμα τελευτή a description) One who gathers seeds, one who creates the semen.
Sper'rid (adj. obsolete) Locked up, barred. Chaucer.
Sperse (v. t. from the Lat. spargo to sprinkle) To perse, to scatter. Chaucer.
Sper'sed (p. from sperse) Dispersed, scattered.
Sper'sing (p. a. from sperse, not used) Scattering, sprinkling.
Sperst (p. obsolete) Dispersed.
Spet (v. t. a corruption of spit) To pour out abundantly.
Spet (s. in the Scotch dialect) An exuberant water.
Spete (v. int. obsolete) To spit.
Spet'ou'e (adj. obsolete) Spightful.
Spette (v. int. third person) Hasteeth, speedeth.
Spet'ted (p. from spet, not used) Poured out abundantly.
Spet'ting (p. a. from spet, not used) Pouring out abundantly.
SPEW (v. t. from the Sax. spewan) To vomit, ejected from the stomach; to cast forth; to eject, to loathing.
Spew (v. int.) To vomit, to ease the stomach by vomiting.
Spew'ed (p. from spew) Vomited, ejected, loathing.

Vomiting (p. a. from spew) Vomiting, ejecting from the stomach.
 Vomiting (s. from the part.) The act of vomiting.
 Spongy (adj. a local word) Spongy, foddened with wet, giving the water oozing out.
 Sphacelate (v. int. from sphacelus) To affect with a gangrene.
 Sphacelate (v. int.) To mortify, to become gangrened.
 Sphacelated (p. from sphacelate) Affected with a gangrene.
 Sphacelating (p. a. from sphacelate) Mortifying, affecting with a gangrene.
 Sphacelus (s. from the Greek σφακελισμός) A gangrene; a blast.
 Sphacelus (s. from the Greek σφακελος) A gangrene, a mortification.
 Sphæra (s. from the Greek σφαῖρα) A sphere, a ball.
 Sphæramachy (s. from the Greek σφαῖρα a sphere, and μάχη a fight) Tennis, bowls, a play with balls. Ba.
 Sphæranthus (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Sphæric (adj. from sphæra, the more formal spelling) Spheric, spherical.
 Sphærical (adj. from sphæric, the more formal spelling) Spherical.
 Sphæricity (s. from sphæric, the more formal spelling) Sphericity.
 Sphæricity (s. from sphæric) Sphericity.
 Sphæristerium (s. from the Greek σφαῖριστήριον) One part of the ancient gymnasium; the place where the theromachia was performed.
 Sphæristis (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Sphærocarpus (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Sphærocephalus (s. in botany) A kind of thistle, the globe-thistle.
 Sphæromachia (s. from the Greek σφαῖρα a ball, and μάχη a fight) A play or contest with balls, tennis, bowls; a method of boxing with a ball in the hand.
 Sphæroides (s. in anatomy) The jugular veins.
 Sphænum (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Sphendambos (s. in botany) The maple.
 Sphenoidal (adj. from sphenoidalis) Belonging to the sphenoides.
 Sphenoidal (s. in anatomy) The sphenoidal suture.
 Sphenoides (s. in anatomy) The seventh bone of the skull.
 Sphenoides (s. in anatomy) The sphenoides. Phillips.
 Sphenopalutinus (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the gargareon.
 Sphenopharyngæi (s. in anatomy) A pair of muscles which serve to widen the gullet.
 Sphenopterygopalutinus (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the gargareon.
 Spherable (adj. from sphere, but not used) Capable of being made spherical. Cole.
 Sphere (s. from the Greek σφαῖρα a ball) A globe representing the earth or sky; an orb, a circuit of motion; a compass of action, a province, an employment.
 Sphere (v. t. from the sub.) To place in an orb; to form into roundness.
 Sphered (p. from sphere) Placed in a sphere, formed into roundness. Milton.
 Spheric (adj. from sphere) Round, orbicular; relating to a sphere, relating to the orbs of the planets, belonging to the lines and angles formed on a globe or sphere.
 Sphærical (adj. from spheric) Spheric, belonging to a sphere.
 Sphærically (adv. from spheric) In the form of a sphere.
 Sphæricity (s. from spheric) The state or quality of being spherical.
 Sphericity (s. from sphere) Roundness, sphericity.
 Sphæricity (s. from spheric) The doctrine of the sphere, spherical trigonometry.
 Sphæristicus (s. from sphere) A player at racket. Bai.
 Sphæroid (s. from the Greek σφαῖρα a sphere, and εἶδος shape) A body approaching to the form of a sphere, a solid body formed by the rotation of a semiellipsoid about one of its diameters.
 Sphæroides (s. in anatomy) The parts of the body which approach to the form of a sphere.
 Sphæroidical (adj. from spheroid) Having the form of a spheroid.
 Sphærooachy (s. from the Greek σφαῖρα a sphere, and μάχη a fight) One of the exercises of the ancient gymnasium, tennis bowls; a method of boxing with a ball in the hand.
 Sphærule (s. from the Lat. sphærule) A little globe, a small sphere.
 Sphincter (s. in anatomy, from the Greek) A muscle which binds up or draws together any passage or duct of the body.

SPHINX (s. in the mythology of the Egyptians from the Greek σφίγξ) A fabulous monster supposed to have had the face of a woman and the body of a lion.
 SPHONDILUM (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the cowparfly.
 SPHONDYLIIUM (s. in anatomy) A vertebra or joint of the backbone.
 SPHYGMICA (s. with physicians) Medicines to move or accelerate the pulse.
 SPHYGMUS (s. from the Greek σφυγμός) The pulse.
 SPHYRÆNA (s. in ichthyology) The spittfish.
 Spial (s. obsolete, from spy) A spy, a scout. Bacon.
 SPICA (s. in botany) A ear of corn, a spike, a plant whose flowers resemble an ear of corn.
 SPICACELTICA (s. in botany) A kind of moss.
 SPICANODI (s. in botany) Spikenard.
 SPICATA (s. from spica) A composition in which the herbs called spicas make a principal ingredient.
 Spicate (adj. from spica) Spicated. Bailey.
 Spicated (adj. from spica) Formed like an ear of corn.
 SPICATO (adv. in music books) With plainness and distinction, so as to have the notes distinctly heard.
 SPICAVIRGINIS (s. in astronomy) A star of the first magnitude in Virgo.
 SPICE (s. from the French especes) A vegetable production pungent and aromatic; a small quantity, a smatch.
 Spice (v. t. from the sub.) To season, to mix with the productions of aromatic vegetables.
 Spiceapple (s. from spice, and apple) The name of an apple.
 Spiced (p. from spice) Seasoned with spice.
 Spiceisland (s. from spice, and island) One of the islands on which spice grows.
 Spicer (s. from spice) One who deals in spice.
 Spicery (s. from spice) The commodity of spices, a repository of spices.
 Spicetrate (s. from spice, and trade) Traffic in spice.
 Spiced (adj. obsolete) Distinguished, specified. Chaucer.
 SPICIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. spica an ear of corn, and fero to bear) Bearing ears of corn; bearing spikes, bearing flowers near the top.
 Spicivory (s. a local word) The act of gleanings corn. Bailey.
 Spicing (p. a. from spice) Seasoning with spice.
 Spicing (s. from the part.) The act of seasoning with spice.
 Spicingapple (s. from spice, and apple) The name of an apple.
 Spick (adv. supposed to be from spike, as being newly extended on the spikes or tenters, a low droll word) Quite, very. "Spick and span new."
 SPICK/NEL (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Spicose (adj. from spica) Full of ears, having many ears like corn.
 Spicosity (s. from spica) The state of being spicose. Sc.
 Spicous (adj. from spica) Full of ears, abounding with ears as corn.
 Spicousness (s. from spicous) The state of abounding with spikes or ears as corn or other vegetables. Sc.
 Spicy (adj. from spica) Producing spice, having the qualities of spice.
 SPIDER (s. of uncertain derivation) A well known insect which spins a web and preys on flies.
 Spiderwort (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Spied (v. t. pret. of spy) Did spy.
 Spied (p. from spy) Discovered by the eye at a distance.
 SPIEL (s. in glass houses) An instrument with which the metal is taken out of the melting pots to see if it be fit for working.
 SPIGALIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Spight (s. an incorrect spelling) Spite, malice.
 Spight (v. t. an incorrect spelling) To spite. Shakespeare.
 Spighted (p. from spite, an incorrect spelling) Spited.
 Spightful (adj. from spite, an incorrect spelling) Spiteful. Shakespeare.
 SPIC/NEL (s. in botany) The meum.
 SPIG/OT (s. from the Dutch spijker) The pin which is put into the faucet to keep in the liquor.
 SPIGURNAL (s. from the name of a man who perhaps was first employed in the office) An officer who seals the king's writs.
 Spike (s. from spica) An ear of corn; the feedy flower of a plant resembling an ear of corn; the name of a plant, a species of lavender; a long nail, a long rod of iron or wood sharpened.
 Spike (v. t. from the sub.) To fasten with long nails, to set with spikes; to drive a nail into the touch hole of a great gun.
 Spiked (p. from spike) Fastened with a spike, closed with with a spike, set with spikes; having spikes.

S P I

Spikedness (s. from spiked) The state of being spiked Sc.
SPIK'ENARD (s. in botany and medicine) The name of a plant, the oil produced from the plant.
SPi'KENE (s. in botany) The meum.
Spik'ing (p. a. from spike) Fastened with spikes, setting with spikes, closing with a spike.
Spik'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with spikes.
SPILL (v. t. from the Sax. spillan) To shed, to lose by shedding; to throw away, to destroy, to mischief.
Spill (v. int.) To waste, to be lavish, to fall to the ground as liquor, to die, to perish. Chaucer.
Spill'ed (p. from spill) Shed, dropped as liquor on the ground, poured out.
Spiller (s. from spill) One that spills.
Spil'ling (p. a. from spill) Shedding, pouring out, falling as liquor to the ground.
Spil'ling (s. from the part.) The act of shedding.
SPILS'BY (s.) A town in Lincolnshire; it has a market on Monday, and is 137 miles from London.
Spils'by (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Spilsby, made at Spilsby.
Spilte (p. obsolete) Spilled, destroyed, lost. Chaucer.
Spilth (s. from spill) That which is spilled. Shakespeare.
SPIN (v. t. from the Sax. spinnan) To draw out into threads; to protract, to draw out; to form by degrees.
Spin (v. int.) To exercise the art of spinning; to move round as a spindle.
SPIN (v. int. from the Italian spingare) To stream out in a thread or small current.
SPi'NA (s. in anatomy) The spine, a vertebra of the back; a thorn, a sharp point.
SPi'NABIFI'DA (s. in anatomy) The supposed parting of the spinal processes into two rows.
SPi'NACH (s. in botany) The spinach.
SPi'NACHIA (s. in botany) The spinach.
SPi'NÆ (s. plu. in anatomy) The vertebræ of the backbone.
SPi'NÆ'A (s. in botany) A kind of rose.
SPi'NAGE (s. in botany) The name of an herb, a well known edible herb.
Spinal (adj. from spina) Belonging to the spine, belonging to the backbone.
SPi'NALIS (s. in anatomy) The name of several muscles which have a connection with the spine.
SPi'NATI (s. in anatomy) The muscles of the spine.
SPi'NDLE (s. from the Sax. spindl) The pin on which the thread is formed and wound, the slender pin on which any thing turns; a long slender stalk; any thing slender in contempt.
Spind'le (v. int. from the sub.) To shoot into a small long stalk.
Spind'lethanked (adj. from spindle, and shank) Having small legs.
Spind'lethell (s. in ichthyology) A species of the buccinum.
Spind'lethined (adj. from spindle, and thin) Having small legs.
Spind'letree (s. in botany) The prickwood.
Spind'ling (p. a. from spindl) Shooting into a small long stalk.
Spine (s. from spina) The backbone; a thorn, a sharp point.
SPi'NEL (s. in natural history) A kind of mineral, a kind of ruby.
SPi'NEL'US (s. in natural history) The spinel, a kind of ruby.
Spinelruby (s. from spinel, and ruby) A kind of soft ruby.
SPi'NEOLA (s. in botany) The spinæa, a kind of rose.
Spin'gard (s. an old word) A kind of gun.
SPi'NET (s. from the French espinette) A small harpichord.
SPi'NEROUS (adj. from the Lat. spina a thorn, and fero to bear) Producing thorns.
SPi'NEROUS (adj. from the Lat. spina a thorn, and gigno to bear) Sprung from thorns. Scott.
SPi'NIVENTUM (s. in botany) The holy thorn, a thorn that blossoms in winter.
SPINK (s. in ornithology) The finch.
Spin'ner (s. from spin) One that spins, one skilled in spinning; a kind of spider with long jointed legs.
Spin'ning (p. a. from spin) Drawing out into threads, protracting, forming by degrees.
Spin'ning (s. from the part.) The act of drawing out into threads, the quality of the threads drawn out, the expence of spinning.
Spin'ningwheel (s. from spinning, and wheel) The wheel used in spinning.

S P I

Spin'ny (adj. from spin, but reckoned a bad word) Small slender.
Spin'ny (s. a local word) A plantation of young timber trees, a young coppice.
SPi'NO'SA (s.) A man's name, one who taught that religion was nothing more than an engine of state.
SPi'NOSE (adj. from the Lat. spinosus) Prickly, having short pricks on the edge as a leaf.
Spin'osism (s. from Spinoza) The doctrine of Spinoza, who taught that religion was invented merely to keep the world in awe.
Spin'osist (s. from Spinoza) A follower of Spinoza.
SPi'NOSITY (s. from spinose) Thorniness, perplexity.
SPi'NOUS (adj. from the Lat. spinosus) Thorny, full of thorns, prickly.
Spin'osism (s. a different spelling) Spin'osism.
Spin'iter (s. from spin) One that spins; the general title of maiden or unmarried woman.
Spin'itry (s. from spiniter) The work of spinning.
SPi'NTRIA (adj. from the Lat. spintria) Inventive indulgences to lust.
SPi'NTUR/NIX (s. in fabulous history) A bird which sometimes attended the sacrifices and carried away live coal from the altar as a supposed omen of luck; a four footed beast with wings resembling the phoenix.
SPi'NUS (s. in botany) The sloetree.
Spin'ny (adj. from spine) Thorny, abounding with thorns; difficult, perplexed.
SPi'NACLE (s. from the Lat. spiraculum) A vent, a small aperture, a breathing hole.
SPi'RAL (adj. from the Lat. spira) Winding, curve involved.
Spiral (s. from the adj.) An involved curve, a curve generated by unwinding a thread with a pencil at the end of it.
Spir'ally (adv. from spiral) In a spiral form.
SPi'RARCH (s. not used) A captain, a leader.
SPi'RATION (s. from the Lat. spiro to breathe, but not used) The act of breathing.
SPi'RE (s. from the Lat. spira) A round pyramid, a figure, any thing growing up taper; the top, the uppermost part; a wreath, a curl, a twist; a sprout, a twig.
Spire (v. int. from the sub.) To shoot up pyramidally.
SPi'RE (v. int. from the Lat. spiro, but not used) To breathe.
Spir'ed (adj. from spire) Having a spire, tapered till it comes to a point; blowed.
Spir'ing (p. a. from spire) Shooting up pyramidally.
SPi'RI'T (s. from the Lat. spiritus) An immaterial or spiritual substance; the soul, an apparition; ardor, courage; temper, disposition of mind; sentiment, perception; eagerness, desire; the essence, the essential qualities; any thing eminently pure and refined that which hath power and energy; a person distinguished by high qualities of mind; that which gives vigor and cheerfulness; an inflammable liquor raised by distillation.
SPi'RI'T (s. from the Lat. spiro to breathe) Breath, wind in motion.
Spir'it (v. t. from the sub.) To animate, to excite, to encourage.
Spir'itally (adv. from spirit) By means of the breath.
Spir'ited (p. from spirit) Endued with a spirit, animated, exerted; lively, full of fire.
Spir'itedness (s. from spirited) A disposition, a cast of the mind.
Spir'itual (adj. from spirit, but not used) Full of spirit, lively.
Spir'itualness (s. from spiritul) Sprightliness, liveliness.
Spir'iting (p. a. from spirit) Animating, exciting, encouraging.
Spir'itleis (adj. from spirit) Void of spirit.
SPi'RI'TO (adv. in music) With life and vigour.
SPi'RI'TOSO (adv. in music) In a lively spirited manner.
Spir'itous (adj. from spirit) Refined, advanced near spirit; fine, ardent, active.
Spir'itousness (s. from spiritous) The quality of being spiritous.
Spir'itual (adj. from spirit) Incorporeal, distinct from matter; mental, intellectual; heavenly, expressive of divine things; ecclesiastical, belonging to the church as distinguished from the state.
Spirituality (s. from spiritual) Immateriality, an essence distinct from matter; mental refinement, heavenly mindedness; that which belongs to any one as ecclesiastic.
Spiritualiza'tion (s. from spiritualize) The act of spiritualizing.

Spir'itual

Spiritualize (v. t. from spiritual) To refine the intellect, to make spiritual.
Spiritualized (p. from spiritualize) Refined in the intellects, made spiritual.
Spiritualizing (p. a. from spiritualize) Making spiritual, refining the intellects.
Spiritualizing (s. from the part.) The act of making spiritual.
Spiritually (adv. from spiritual) In a spiritual manner.
Spirituality (s. from spirit) An ecclesiastical body.
Spirituous (s. from spirituous) Spirituousness.
Spirituous (adj. from spirit) Having the quality of spirit, having tenacity and activity of parts; lively, gay, vivid.
Spirituousness (s. from spirituous) The quality of being spirituous.
SPLING (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, the Phyllips.
SPIT (v. int. from the Danish spritta to fly out) To spring out in a sudden stream, to stream out by intervals.
Spit (v. t.) To throw out in a jet.
Spitted (p. from spit) Thrown out in a jet.
Spitting (p. a. from spit) Throwing out in a jet, streaming out by intervals.
Spitting (s. from the part.) The act of throwing out in a jet.
Spittle (v. t. from spit) To dissipate.
Spittled (p. from spittle) Dissipated.
Spitting (p. a. from spittle) Dissipating.
Spitting (s. from the part.) The act of dissipating.
Spitnet (s. from spit, and net) A kind of fishing net.
Spire (adj. from spire) Wreathed, curled, pyramidal.
Spiss (adj. from the Lat. spissus) Close, firm, thick.
Spissated (adj. from spiss) Thickened, brought to a consistence.
Spissation (s. from spiss) The act of thickening, the act of bringing to a consistence.
Spissitude (s. from spiss) Spissitude, thickness, consistence.
Spissitude (s. from spiss) Thickness, grossness.
SPIT (v. t. from the Sax. spittan) To thrust through, to put on a long prong to be dressed before the fire, to pierce by one action of a spade or shovel.
Spit (s. from the verb) The long pointed instrument in which meat is put to be roasted, such a depth of earth as is pierced by a single action of the spade.
SPIT (v. t. from the Sax. spætan) To eject from the mouth.
Spit (v. int.) To throw moisture from the mouth.
Spitchcock (v. t. of uncertain derivation) To cut an eel in pieces and roast it. Johnson.
Spitchcock (s.) A large eel fit for roasting.
Spitchcocked (p. from spitchcock) Cut in pieces as an eel and roasted. King.
SPITE (s. from the Dutch spyt) Malice, rancour, malignity, malevolence. Spite of, or, in spite of, in defiance of.
SPITE (v. t. from the sub.) To vex, to thwart, to militate; to offend, to fill with spite.
Spited (p. from spite) Vexed, thwarted, offended, filled with spite.
Spiteful (adj. from spite) Full of spite, malicious.
Spitefuller (adj. comp. of spiteful) Spiteful in a greater degree.
Spitefullest (adj. sup. of spiteful) Spiteful in the greatest degree. Hooker.
Spitefully (adv. from spite) With spite, with malice.
Spitefulness (s. from spiteful) Malice, malignity.
SPITHAMA (s. from the Gr.) A measure of length, a span.
Spitting (p. a. from spit) Vexing, thwarting, offending, dealing with spite.
Spitting (s. from the part.) The act of vexing.
Spittle (s. from spit, and insect) A kind of grasshopper.
Spitious (adj. obsolete) Spiteful. Chaucer.
SPITAL (s. from hospital, nearly obsolete) A charitable foundation.
SPITALER (s. from spittal, and sermon) A sermon preached with a design to promote a charitable foundation.
Spitted (p. from spit) Put on a spit; thrust through; pierced by a single action of the spade; shot out into length. Bacon.
Spitter (s. from spit) One that puts meat on the spit, one who ejects moisture from the mouth; a young deer.
Spitting (p. a. from spit) Putting on a spit, thrusting through, piercing with a single act of the spade; ejecting moisture from the mouth.
Spitting (s. from the part.) The act of putting on a spit, the act of piercing with a single act of the spade, the act of ejecting moisture from the mouth.
SPITTLE (s. from the Sax. spættian) The saliva, the moisture of the mouth.
Spittle (s. from hospital, nearly obsolete) An hospital.
Spittle (adj. from the sub.) Like an hospital, besitting an hospital. Cleveland.

Spittlehouse (s. from spittle, and house) An hospital. Shi.
Spit/venom (s. from spit, and venom) Poison ejected from the mouth.
Splais (v. t. obsolete) To display, to set forth, to dress. Chaucer.
Splait (s. in farriery) The slipping of the shoulder in horses.
Splaited (p. from splait) Slipped in the shoulder.
Splaiting (p. a. from splait) Slipping the shoulder as an horse.
Splaiting (s. from the part.) The slipping of the shoulder.
Splanchnica (s. from splanchnon) Medicines to relieve disorders of the bowels.
Splanchnologist (s. from splanchnology) One who describes or treats of the bowels.
SPLANCHNOLOGY (s. from the Greek σπλᾶγχνον the bowels, and λογος a description) A treatise or description of the bowels.
SPLANCHNON (s. from the Greek σπλᾶγχνον) The bowels.
SPLASH (s. from the Dutch plaska) A puddle of water, a wet dirty place.
Splash (v. t. from the sub.) To daub with wet and dirt.
Splashed (p. from splash) Daubed with wet and dirt thrown on one upon another.
Splashier (adj. comp. of splashy) Splashy in a greater degree.
Splashiest (adj. sup. of splashy) Splashy in the greatest degree.
Splashiness (s. from splashy) The state of being splashy.
Splashing (p. a. from splash) Daubing with wet and dirt.
Splashing (s. from the part.) The act of daubing with wet and dirt.
Splashy (adj. from splash) Full of dirty water, apt to daub.
Splat (v. t. in carving) To cut up a pike.
Splatchy (adj. not used) Painted, counterfeit. Scott.
Splatted (p. from splat) Cut up as a pike.
Splating (p. a. from splat) Cutting up a pike.
Splat/tyd (adj. an old word) Dressed, dished. Cole.
Splay (v. t. an old word) To display. Chaucer.
Splay (v. in carving) To cut up a bream. Bailey.
Splayed (p. from splay) Cut up as a bream.
Splay/foot (adj. from splay, and foot) Having the feet turned inward; having a double rhyme in poetry.
Splay/footed (adj. from splayfoot) Having the feet turned inward.
Splaying (p. a. from splay) Cutting up a bream.
Splaying (s. in farriery) The slipping of the shoulder.
Splay/mouth (s. from splay, and mouth) The mouth widened by design.
Splaymouthed (adj. from splaymouth) Having a wide mouth.
SPLEEN (s. from the Lat. splen) The milt, a part of the viscera; anger, spite, a fit of anger; melancholy.
Spleen/ed (adj. from spleen) Deprived of the spleen. Arb.
Spleen/ful (adj. from spleen) Angry, peevish, fretful.
Spleen/ier (adj. comp. of spleeny) Spleeny in a greater degree.
Spleen/iest (adj. sup. of spleeny) Spleeny in the greatest degree.
Spleen/less (adj. from spleen) Void of spleen, mild, gentle. Chapman.
Spleen/wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the miltwort.
Spleen/y (adj. from spleen) Angry, peevish.
Spleg/et (s. not so common a spelling) A pledget, a small plaister, a small tent for a wound. Bailey.
Splen/dency (s. from splendent) Brightness, brilliancy.
SPLEN/DENT (adj. from the Lat. splendeo to shine) Shining, bright, having lustre.
SPLEN/DID (adj. from the Lat. splendeo to shine) Showy, magnificent, sumptuous.
Splen/didly (adv. from splendid) Magnificently, sumptuously.
Splen/didness (s. from splendid) The state or quality of being splendid.
Splen/didous (adj. from splendid, but not used) Splendid. Sc.
SPLEN/DOR (s. the modern and correct spelling, from the Lat.) Splendour, lustre, magnificence.
SPLEN/DOUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French splendeur) Splendor.
Splenetic (adj. from spleen) Troubled with the spleen, fretful, peevish.
Splenetic (s. from the adj. put absolutely) One troubled with the spleen.
Splenetic (adj. the less modern spelling) Splenetic.
Splenetic (adj. from spleen, but not used) Belonging to the spleen. Phillips.
Sple/nic (adj. from spleen) Belonging to the spleen. Phillips.
Sple/nica

S P O

Sple'nica (s. from splenic) Medicines good for the spleen.
Splen'ical (adj. from splenic) Splenic. Scott.
Splen'ick (adj. the less modern spelling) Splenic.
SPLE'NII (s. in anatomy) The muscles of the neck which serve to draw backward and turn the head.
Sple'nish (adj. from spleen) Fretful, peevish.
Splenit'ique (adj. an old spelling) Splenic, splenetic. Cole.
Sple'nitive (adj. from spleen, but not used) Hot, fiery, passionate. Shakespeare.
SPLE'NIUM (s. in surgery) A long plaster laid on the body to relieve the spleen, a linen bolster laid on wounds.
SPLE'NIUS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the neck, one of the splenii.
SPL'ENT (s. in farriery) A callous substance adhering to the Shank bone of a horse.
SPLICE (v. t. from the Lat. plico to fold) To join the two ends of a rope without a knot.
Splice (s. from the verb) The juncture of the two ends of a rope without a knot.
Spli'ced (p. from splice) Joined as the ends of a rope without a knot.
Spli'cing (p. a. from splice) Joining the ends of a rope without a knot.
Spli'cing (s. from the part.) The act of joining the ends of a rope, the juncture of the ends of a rope without a knot.
SPLINT (s. from the Dutch splinter) A thin piece of wood or other matter, the thin bit of wood used by surgeons to keep a fractured bone in its proper place.
Splint (v. t. from the sub.) To secure by splints; to shiver, to break into fragments.
Splint'ed (p. from splint) Secured by splints, shattered, shivered.
SPLINT'ER (s. from the Dutch) The fragment of any thing broken with violence, a thin piece of wood or other matter.
Splint'er (v. int. from the sub.) To break into fragments.
Splint'er (v. t.) To shiver, to split in thin parts.
Splint'ered (p. from splinter) Broken into small parts, shivered.
Splint'ering (p. a. from splinter) Breaking into thin fragments, shivering.
Splint'ering (s. from the part.) The act of breaking into thin fragments.
Splint'ing (p. a. from splint) Securing with splints; shivering, breaking into small parts.
Splint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of securing with splints.
SPLIT (v. t. from the Dutch splitten) To cleave, to rive, to divide longitudinally; to dash, to break on a rack; to divide, to break by discord.
Split (v. int.) To burst asunder, to crack, to be broken against rocks.
Split (v. t. pret.) Did split.
Split (p. from the verb) Broken asunder, rived.
Split (v. t. a sea term) To blow down.
Split (p. from split, a sea term) Blown down as a sail.
Splitt'er (s. from split) One that splits, a bustle, a tumult; but this is a low word. Johnson.
Splitt'ing (p. a. from split) Breaking in shivers, riving asunder.
Splitt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of riving asunder.
SPO'DIUM (s. in pharmacy) One of the foulest excrements of copper, the sweepings of a copper furnace.
SPOOL (v. t. from the Lat. spolio) To rob, to take away by force, to mar, to make useless.
Spoil (v. int.) To practice robbery, to grow useless, to corrupt.
Spoil (s. from the verb) An act of robbery, robbery, waste; plunder, pillage, booty gotten in war; corruption, a cause of corruption; the slough, the cast skin of a snake or viper.
Spoil'ed (p. from spoil) Plundered, stripped of goods, corrupted, marred, rendered useless.
Spoil'er (s. from spoil) One that spoils.
Spoil'ful (adj. from spoil, obsolete) Wasteful, rapacious.
Spoil'ing (p. a. from spoil) Plundering, rendering useless.
Spoil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of plundering, the act of rendering useless.
SPOKE (s. from the Sax. spaca) The bar of a wheel passing from the nave to the felly.
Spoke (v. t. pret. of spake) Did speak.
Spo'ken (p. from speak) Told, declared.
Spo'keman (s. from spoke, and man) One who speaks for another.
SPOL'iate (v. t. from the Lat. spolio) To rob, to plunder. Johnson.
Spoliated (p. from spoliare, not used) Robbed plundered.

S P O

Spol'iating (p. a. from spoliare, not used) Robbing, plundering.
Spolia'tion (s. from spoliare) The act of robbery, the act of privation.
Spon (p. obsolete) Pushed, thrust.
SPONDÆ'US (s. from the Lat. in poetry) A foot consisting of two long syllables, a spondee.
SPONDA'LION (s. in antiquity) The hymn sung by the pagans while the incense was burning.
Spon'dee (s. from spondæus) A foot in poetry consisting of two long syllables.
SPON'DIAS (s. in botany) The hogplum, a genus of plants.
Spon'dyle (s. from spondylus) A vertebra of the back, joint of the spine.
SPONDY'LUS (s. from the Greek σπονδυλος) A vertebra of the back, a bone or joint of the chine.
Spone (p. obsolete) Pushed, thrust. Chaucer.
Sponge (s. from spongia) A soft porous substance remarkable for sucking up water.
Sponge (v. t. from the sub.) To blot, to wipe away with a sponge, to take off the gloss of new cloth with a sponge.
Sponge (v. int.) To suck in as a sponge, to gain by artful methods; with on, or upon: as, "The fly is an intruder that sponges upon other people's trenchers."
Spong'ed (p. from sponge) Blotted out, wiped away with a sponge.
Spong'er (s. from sponge) One that sponges, one who hangs on others for a maintenance.
SPON'GIA (s. from the Lat.) The sponge, supposed to be the nidus of some animal or insect.
Spong'ier (adj. comp. of spongy) Spongy in a greater degree.
Spong'iest (adj. sup. of spongy) Spongy in the greatest degree.
Spong'iness (s. from spongy) The state or quality of being spongy.
Spong'ing (p. a. from sponge) Blotting out, wiping away as with a sponge, gaining by mean arts.
Spong'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wiping away with a sponge, the act of imposing on others by mean arts.
SPONGIOI'DEA (s. in anatomy) The cribriformia, the sieve like bone.
Spong'iose (adj. from sponge) Porous, spongy.
Spong'ious (adj. from sponge) Full of small cavities like a sponge.
Spong'iousness (s. from spongy) The state or quality of being spongy.
SPONG'IES (s. in natural history) A stone found in the sponge.
Spong'y (adj. from sponge) Soft, full of small interstices; wet, drenched, soaked with wet, full like sponge.
Spo'nis (s. obsolete) Spoons. Chaucer.
Spunk (s. in the Scotch dialect) Touchwood, a match.
Sponne (p. obsolete) Spun. Chaucer.
SPON'SAL (adj. from the Lat. sponsus a bridegroom) Relating to marriage.
Sponsal'tious (adj. from sponsal but not used) Sponsal.
SPON'SION (s. from the Lat. spondeo to answer) The act of becoming a surety.
SPON'SOR (s. from the Lat.) A surety, one who makes a promise for another; one who answers for a child in baptism, a godfather, a godmother.
SPON'SUS (s. from the Lat.) A bridegroom; mercury, quicksilver so called by the chymists.
SPON'TAL (adj. from the Lat. sponte freely, but not used) Free, spontaneous.
Sponta'ne (adj. from spont, but not used) Spontaneous.
Spontane'ity (s. from spontane) Voluntaryness.
SPONTA'NEOUS (adj. from the Lat. spontaneus) Voluntary, acting without compulsion, acting freely.
Spontaneously (adv. from spontaneous) Voluntarily, without compulsion.
Spontane'ousness (s. from spontaneous) Spontaneity, voluntariness.
Sponta'nice (adj. obsolete) Spontaneous. Chaucer.
SPOOL (s. from the German, spuhl) A small piece of cord or reed to wind yarn on, a quill.
Spool (v. t. from the sub.) To wind yarn on a spool.
Spool'ed (p. from spool) Wound as yarn on a spool.
Spool'ing (p. a. from spool) Winding yarn on a spool.
Spool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of winding yarn on a spool.
Spoom (v. int. a sea term) To raise a spume as a ship in swift motion; to proceed with haste, to be in a hurry. Dryden.

S P O

om'ing (p. a. from spoom) To raise a spume as a ship in swift motion, proceeding prosperously.
 om'ing (s. from the part.) The act of proceeding prosperously.
 OON (s. from the Danish, spone) A small kind of ladle used at table, a well known utensil.
 on (v. int. a sea term) To put right as a ship before the wind.
 on (p. obsolete) Driven, thrust. Chaucer.
 on/bill (s. from spoon, and bill) The name of a bird, kind of pelican.
 on/full (s. from spoon, and full) As much as is generally taken at once in a spoon; a small quantity of any thing liquid.
 on'ing (p. a. a sea term) Putting right before the wind.
 on'ing (s. from the part, a sea term) The state of a ship right before the wind.
 on/meat (s. from spoon, and meat) Food taken with the spoon.
 on/wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 ORADES (s. in astronomy) The stars which were never yet reduced or brought into any constellation.
 oradic (adj. from sporades) Belonging to those diseases which are neither epidemic nor endemic.
 oradic (adj. from sporadic) Belonging to those diseases which affect but few people at the same time.
 ore (s. an old word) A spur. Chaucer.
 orne (v. t. an obsolete spelling) To spurn. Chaucer.
 ORT (s. from the Islandick, spott a makegame) A play, diversion, frolic, game; that with which one plays; a idle gingle; a diversion of the field.
 rt (v. t. from the sub.) To divert, to make merry, to represent by any kind of play.
 rt (v. int.) To frolic, to game, to wanton, to trifle.
 rt (s. a local word) A hand basket. Cole.
 rte (s. obsolete) Behaviour, deportment. Cole.
 rted (p. from sport) Dissipated in sports.
 rtful (adj. from sport) Merry, full of sport, wanton, one in jest.
 rtfully (adv. from sportful) Wantonly, merrily.
 rtfulness (s. from sportful) The state or quality of being sportful.
 rt'ing (p. a. from sport) Diverting, making merry, wantoning, playing.
 rt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of engaging in sports.
 rtive (adj. from sport) Gay, merry, wanton, playful.
 rtiveness (s. from sportive) The state or quality of being sportive.
 rtman (s. from sport, and man) One who pursues the recreations of the field.
 rtmen (s. plu. of sportman) More than one sportsman.
 RTULA (s. in antiquity) A dole given by great men to the poor.
 rtule (s. from sportula) An alms, a dole. Ayliffe.
 T (s. from the Flemish, spotte) A blot, a discoloration; a taint, a disgrace; a small extent of space, any particular place. "Upon the spot," without changing place immediately.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To mark with a discoloration, to corrupt, to disgrace, to taint.
 tless (adj. from spot) Void of spot, free from reproach.
 tlessness (s. from spotless) The state of being spotless. Scott.
 ted (p. from spot) Marked with spots, corrupted, spoiled.
 ter (s. from spot) One that spots.
 tier (adj. comp. of spotty) Spotty in a greater degree.
 tier (adj. sup. of spotty) Spotty in the greatest degree.
 ting (p. a. from spot) Marking with spots, corrupting, spoiling.
 ting (s. from the part.) The act of marking with spots.
 y (adj. from spot) Full of spots, marking with spots.
 Vage (s. from spouse) The act of espousing. Scott.
 Vail (s. obsolete) The act of espousing. Cole.
 Vail (s. obsolete) Marriage. Chaucer.
 Vail (adj. from spouse) Nuptial, matrimonial, connubial, bridal.
 Vail (s. from the adj.) Marriage, nuptials.
 VISE (s. from the Lat. sponfus) One joined in marriage, a husband, a wife.
 Vebreach (s. a law term) Adultery.
 Vebreach (s. an old law word) Adultery.
 Vied (adj. from spouse) Wedded, espoused, joined in matrimony.
 Vileless (adj. from spouse) Destitute of a husband, destitute of a wife.

S P R

SPOUT (s. from the Dutch spuyt) A pipe, the mouth of a vessel out of which any thing is poured; water falling in a body, a cataract, an uncommon discharge of water from a cloud.
 Spout (v. t. from the sub.) To pour out with violence.
 Spout (v. int.) To issue as from a pipe or spout.
 Spout'ed (p. from spout) Poured out with violence.
 Spout'ing (p. a. from spout) Pouring out with violence, issuing from a spout.
 Spout'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out with violence.
 Sprain (v. t. corrupted from strain) To stretch the ligaments of a joint without a dislocation.
 Sprain (s. from the verb) An extension of the ligaments without a dislocation of the joint.
 Sprain'ed (p. from sprain) Stretched without being dislocated.
 Sprain'ing (p. a. from sprain) Extending the ligaments without dislocating the joint.
 Sprain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stretching the ligaments without dislocating the joint.
 Spraints (s. a hunting term) The dung of an otter.
 Sprang (v. int. pret. of spring) Did spring.
 Sprant (p. obsolete) Sprinkled. Chaucer.
 SPRAT (s. from the Dutch, spret) A small sea fish.
 SPRAWL (v. int. from the Danish, spradle) To struggle as in the agonies of death, to tumble with agitations and distortions of the limbs.
 Sprawl'ing (p. a. from sprawl) Struggling as in the agonies of death, tumbling with agitations of the limbs.
 Sprawl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tumbling on the ground with convulsive agitations of the limbs.
 Spray (s. from sprout) The extremity of a branch; the foam of the sea, the particles of salt water thrown on the shore.
 SPREAD (v. t. from the Sax. spredan) To extend, to expand, to cover by extension, to cover over; to stretch, to disseminate; to publish, to divulge; to diffuse, to emit effluvia.
 Spread (v. int.) To grow wider, to expand.
 Spread (s. from the verb) An extent, a compass, an expansion of parts, a growing extent.
 Spread (v. t. pret.) Did spread.
 Spread (p. from the verb) Extended, expanded.
 Spread'er (s. from spread) One that spreads, one that publishes abroad.
 Spread'ing (p. a. from spread) Extending, expanding, disseminating.
 Spread'ing (s. from the part.) An extension, an expansion, the act of extending.
 Spren (s. an old word) Broken wood, wood blown down by the wind.
 Sprene (v. t. obsolete) To sprinkle. Urry.
 Spren'id (p. obsolete) Sprinkled. Chaucer.
 Sprent (p. obsolete, from sprene) Sprinkled. Sidney.
 Sprete (s. an old spelling) A spright. Johnson.
 SPRE'TION (s. not used, from the Lat. sperno spretus to despise) The act of despising. Bailey.
 SPRE'TOR (s. from the Lat. but not used) A despoiser. Cole.
 Sprig (s. from spring) A small branch, a spray.
 Sprig (v. t. from the sub.) To mark with small branches, to work in sprigs.
 Sprig'crystal (s. in natural history) A kind of crystal, rockcrystal.
 Sprig'ged (p. from sprig) Adorned with sprigs, wrought with sprigs.
 Sprig'ging (p. a. from sprig) Ornamenting with sprigs, working in sprigs.
 Sprig'ging (s. from the part.) The act of adorning with sprigs, an ornament of sprigs.
 Sprig'gy (adj. from sprigs) Full of sprigs, abounding with sprigs.
 Spright (s. from spirit) A ghost, an apparition; a power which gives cheerfulness and courage; an arrow. Bacon.
 Spright (v. t. from the sub.) To haunt as an apparition.
 Spright'ed (p. from spright) Haunted as with a spright in droll style. Shakespeare.
 Spright'ful (adj. from spright) Lively, brisk, gay.
 Spright'fully (adv. from sprightful) Briskly, vigorously.
 Spright'fulness (s. from sprightful) Liveliness, briskness, vivacity. Scott.
 Spright'ing (p. a. from spright, not used) Haunting as a spright.
 Spright'lier (adj. comp. of sprightly) Sprightly in a greater degree.
 Spright'liest (adj. sup. of sprightly) Sprightly in the greatest degree.

S P R

Spright/linefs (s. from sprightly) The state or quality of being sprightly.

Sprightly (adj. from spright) Gay, brisk, airy, lively.

SPRING (v. int. from the Sax. sprinan) To rise out of the ground, to begin to grow, to proceed as from seed; to come into existence; to arise, to appear; to issue with effect; to proceed as from a cause or origin; to grow, to thrive; to rise from a covert; to issue from a fountain; to leap, to bound; to fly with elastic power, to return to a former state by the force of elasticity.

Spring (v. t.) To start game; to produce to light; to discharge a mine; to make way for a leak; to produce hastily, to leap over. "To spring the fence." Thom.

Spring (s. from the v.) The vernal quarter of the year, the season in which plants spring; an elastic body, a piece of metal tempered to elasticity; an elastic force; the starting of a plank; a fountain, a source; a rise, a beginning; a cause, an origin.

Spring (adv. from the sub.) With elastic vigor. Spenser.

Spring'al (s. from spring) A young man, a youth. Spens.

Spring'ant (adj. in heraldry) Drawn in a posture just ready to take a spring or leap; the high tide of the new and full moon.

Spring'arbour (s. in clockwork) That part which is placed in the middle of the spring box.

Spring'box (s. from spring and box, in clockwork) The box which incloses the spring.

Springe (s. from spring) A gin, a springale.

Spring'er (s. from spring) One that springs game; one that leaps.

Spring'halt (s. from spring and halt) A lameness which causes a horse to catch up his legs in walking.

Spring'ier (adj. comp. of springy) Springy in a greater degree.

Spring'iest (adj. sup. of springy) Springy in the greatest degree.

Spring'inefs (s. from springy) Elasticity, an elastic power.

Spring'ing (p. a. from spring) Rising out of the ground as water in a spring, growing out of the ground as a plant from a seed; exerting an elastic force; leaping, bounding; proceeding from some cause or origin.

Spring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising out of the ground, the act of shooting as a plant, the act of leaping.

Spring'le (s. from spring) A springe, an elastic noose.

Spring'le (v. int. supposed to be misprinted for) To sprinkle. Shakespeare.

Spring'months (s. from spring, and month) The months of the spring quarter.

Springmor'ning (s. from spring, and morning) A mild growing morning.

Springquarter (s. from spring and quarter) That part of the year which is comprehended between the vernal equinox and the summer solstice.

Spring'tide (s. from spring, and tide) The high tide at the new and full moon.

Spring'y (adj. from springe) Elastic, endued with an elastic power; full of springs, abounding with fountains. Mortimer.

SPRINKLE (v. t. from the Dutch, sprinkelan) To scatter, to disperse in small quantities; to besprinkle.

Sprinkle (v. int.) To scatter in small quantities.

Sprink'led (p. from sprinkle) Scattered in small quantities, covered with small quantities, besprinkled.

Sprin'kling (p. a. from sprinkle) Scattering in small quantities, besprinkling.

Sprin'kling (s. from the part.) The act of scattering in small quantities, that which is scattered in small quantities.

SPRIT (v. int. from the Sax. spritan) To shoot, to sprout.

Sprit (s. from the verb) A shoot, a sprout. Mortimer.

Sprit (s. an old spelling) A spirit. Chaucer.

Sprite (s. an uncommon, but correct spelling) A spright. Fo.

Sprit'eful (adj. a correct, but uncommon spelling) Sprightful. Johnson.

Sprit'efully (adv. from spriteful) Sprightfully. Chapman.

Sprittely (adj. a correct, but uncommon spelling) Sprightly. Johnson.

Sprit'sail (s. a sea term) The sail which belongs to the bowsprit.

Sprit'ing (p. a. from sprit, but not much used) Shooting, sprouting.

Sprong, Spronge (p. obsolete) Sprung. Hooker.

SPROUT (v. int. from the Sax. spritan) To shoot by vegetation, to germinate, to grow.

Sprout (s. from the verb) The shoot of a vegetable.

Spruce (adj. supposed to be from pruce) Nice, trim, neat without elegance.

Spruce (v. int. from the adj.) To dress with affected neatness.

S P U

Spruce (v. t.) To dress up with neatness.

Spruce (s. in botany) A kind of fir.

Sprucebeer (s. from spruce, and beer) Beer tinged with branches of fir.

Spru'ced (p. from spruce) Dressed up with neatness.

Spru'cefir (s. from spruce, and fir) A kind of fir which grows with more regularity than the common fir.

Spru'celeather (s. from spruce and leather) A fine kind of leather, Prussian leather.

Spru'celey (adv. from spruce) With neatness, affected neatness.

Spru'cenefs (s. from spruce) Neatness, affected neatness.

Spru'cer (adj. comp. from spruce) Spruce in a great degree.

Spru'cest (adj. sup. of spruce) Spruce in the greatest degree.

Spru'cing (p. a. from spruce) Dressing up, dressing with affected neatness.

Spru'cing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.

Sprung (p. from spring) Risen.

Sprung (v. int. pret. of spring) Did spring.

Sprunt (s. the derivation is not noted) Any thing broken and stiff.

Sprut'ellit (adj. obsolete) Spotted.

Spryn'gill (s. obsolete) An instrument formerly used to sprinkle holy water.

Spud (s. from sprunt) A short knife.

Spue (v. int. not a common spelling) To spew.

Spu'ing (p. a. an uncommon spelling) Spewing.

Spul'ler (s.) One employed to see that yarn is spun and fit for the loom.

SPUME (s. from the Lat. spuma) Froth, foam.

Spume (v. int. from the sub.) To froth, to foam.

Spu'mid (adj. from spume) Foamy, frothy.

Spu'mier (adj. comp. of spumy) Spumy in a greater degree.

Spu'miest (adj. sup. of spumy) Spumy in the greatest degree.

SPUMIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. spuma froth, fero to bear) Producing froth.

Spu'minefs (s. from spumy) The state or quality of being spumy.

Spu'ming (p. a. from spume) Foaming, frothing.

Spu'ming (s. from the part.) The act of foaming.

Spu'mous (adj. from spume) Frothy, foamy.

Spu'my (adj. from spume) Foamy, frothy.

Spun (v. t. pret. of spin) Did spin.

Spun (adj. from spin) Drawn out in threads, protruded.

Spunge (s. a different spelling) A sponge.

Spunge (v. t. from the sub. a different spelling) To sponge.

Spunge (v. int. a different spelling) To sponge, to bathe upon.

Spung'inefs (s. from spungy) The state of being spungy.

Spung'ing (p. a. from spunge, a different spelling) Spunging.

Spung'inghouse (s. from spunging, and house) A house to which debtors are taken before their commitment to prison, and where the bailiffs riot at the cost.

Spun'gious (adj. from spunge) Spongy.

Spung'y (adj. from spunge) Spongy.

Spunk (s. a different spelling) Sponk, touchwood.

Spun'yarn (s. a sea term) A kind of rope yarn.

SPUR (s. from the Sax. spura) A sharp point fixed in the heel of the rider to prick the horse and drive him forward; a stimulus, a prick; the sharp point of the leg of a cock; any thing standing out, a suggestion, an incitement, an instigation.

Spur (v. t. from the sub.) To prick with a spur, to drive with a spur; to instigate, to stimulate, to drive by force.

SPURC'DICAL (adj. from the Lat. spurco to defile, dico to say, but not used) Speaking obscenely.

Spur'ler (s. from spur) A spurrier.

Spur'gall (s. from spur, and gall) A hurt occasioned by the too frequent use of the spur.

Spur'galled (adj. from spurgall) Hurt with the spur.

SPURGE (s. in botany, from the Lat. purgo to purge) The name of a purgative plant.

Spu'rgeflax (s. in botany) The name of a shrub.

Spu'rge laurel (s. in botany) A kind of spurge, the name of a shrub, the mezereon.

Spu'rget (s. a local word) A peg or bit of wood to be driven into anything on.

SPUR'GULA (s. in botany) The spurry.

SPUR'IAANG'INA (s. with physicians) The bladder squinny.

SPUR'RIE (s. in anatomy) The bladder ribs, the floating ribs.

SPURIOUS (adj. from the Lat. spurius) Counterfeit, adulterine, bastard.
SPURIOUSNESS (s. from spurious) The state of being spurious.
SPURKET (s. a sea term) The space between the upper and lower compassing timbers on the ships side.
SPURLING (s. in ichthyology) The name of a small sea fish.
SPURN (v. t. from the Sax. spornan) To kick, to strike or drive with the foot; to reject, to scorn; to treat with contempt.
SPURN (v. int.) To toss up the heel, to kick; to make contemptuous opposition; with at: as, "To spurn at royalty."
SPURNED (p. from spurn) Kicked, rejected with scorn. Lo.
SPURNEY (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
SPURNED (p. an old spelling) Spurned, stumbled on. Ch.
SPURNING (p. a. from spurn) Kicking, striking with the foot, rejecting with scorn, treating with contempt.
SPURNING (s. from the part.) The act of striking with the foot, the act of rejecting with disdain.
SPURRED (p. from spur) Hurt with the spur, driven on with the spur, excited, stimulated, urged on.
SPURTER (s. from spur) One that spurs.
SPURRIAL (s.) A gold coin current in the reign of James the First.
SPURRIER (s. from spur) One who makes spurs.
SPURRING (p. a. from spur) Pricking with a spur, driving with a spur; instigating, urging on.
SPURRING (s. from the part.) The act of driving with a spur, the act of urging on.
PURRY (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
PURRY (s. from spurry, and leed) The seed of spurry.
PURSH (s. from spur, and shell) A species of cochlea.
PURSH (v. int. from spurt) To fly out with a quick stream, to shoot as a plant.
PURSH (s. from the verb, a colloquial word) A sudden stream; a hurry for a little time.
PURSHING (p. a. from spurt) Flying out with a quick stream; shooting as a plant.
PURSHING (s. from the part.) The act of flying out in a quick stream, the shooting of a plant.
PURWAY (s. from spur, and way) A horse way through another man's ground.
PUTATION (s. from the Lat. spuo to spit) The act of spitting. Harvey.
PUTATIVE (adj. from the Lat. spuo to spit, but not much used) Spitting much. Scott.
PUTTER (v. int. from the Lat. spuo to spit) To emit moisture in small flying drops, to fly out in small particles; to speak hastily and obscurely, to throw out the spittle by hasty speech; with at: as, "They sputtered at each other for half an hour."
PUTTER (v. t.) To throw out with noise and hesitation.
PUTTERED (p. from sputter) Emitted as moisture in small drops, thrown out with noise and hesitation.
PUTTERER (s. from sputter) One that sputters.
PUTTERING (p. a. from sputter) Emitting moisture in small drops, throwing out with noise and hesitation, speaking in a confused and unintelligible manner.
PUTTERING (s. from the part.) The act of emitting moisture in small drops, the act of speaking with haste and obscurity.
PUTUM (s. from the Lat.) The saliva, the spittle, that which is discharged by spitting.
PUTTING (p. an old spelling) Spewing. Chaucer.
SPY (s. from the Lat. specular to watch) One sent to watch the motions of others, one sent to gain intelligence.
SPY (v. t. from the sub.) To discover by the eye at a distance, to discover by close examination, to search or discover by artifice.
SPY (v. int.) To search narrowly.
SPYBOAT (s. from spy, and boat) A boat sent out for intelligence.
SPYED (p. from spy) Discovered at a distance, searched out by diligence or artifice, spied.
SPYGLASS (s. from spy, and glass) A short telescope.
SPYING (p. a. from spy) Discovering at a distance.
SPYING (s. from the part.) The act of discovering at a distance.
SQUAB (adj. of uncertain etymology) Unfeathered, newly hatched; fat, thick, awkwardly bulky.
SQUAB (s. from the adj.) A kind of sofa, a stuffed cushion.
SQUAB (adv. from the adj.) With a heavy sudden fall, "be came down squab on the ground."
SQUAB (v. int. from the adj.) To squab, to squee, to fall down plump.
SQUABBIER (adj. comp. of squabby, a colloquial word) Squabby in a greater degree.

SQUABBIEST (adj. sup. of squabby, a colloquial word) Squabby in the greatest degree.
SQUABBLING (p. a. from squab) Falling down plump, falling down as any thing fat and heavy.
SQUABBLISH (adj. from squab) Thick, heavy, fleshy.
SQUABBLE (s. from the Swedish kiabla) A petty quarrel, a low brawl.
SQUABBLE (v. int. from the sub.) To quarrel, to wrangle, to engage in petty quarrels.
SQUABBLER (s. from squabble) A brawler, a quarrelsome fellow.
SQUABBLING (p. a. from squabble) Brawling, quarrelling.
SQUABBLING (s. from the part.) A low brawl, the act of engaging in petty quarrels.
SQUABBY (adj. from squab, a colloquial word) Squabblish, fat, heavy.
SQUABCHICK (s. from squab, and chick) A chicken before it is full feathered.
SQUABRABBIT (s. from squab, and rabbit) A very young rabbit.
SQUACCO (s. in ornithology) A bird of the heron kind.
SQUADRON (s. from the Lat. quadratus square) A body of men drawn up in a square; a part of an army, a troop; a part of a fleet, a certain number of ships.
SQUADRONED (adj. from squadron) Formed into squadrons.
SQUALMOUS (adj. obsolete) Squeamish. Cole.
SQUALMUS (adj. obsolete) Squeamish. Chaucer.
SQUALOTTA (s. in ornithology) A species of heron.
SQUALID (adj. from the Lat. squalidus) Foul, nasty, filthy.
SQUALIDITY (s. from squalid) The state or quality of being squalid. Scott.
SQUALIDNESS (s. from squalid) The state or quality of being squalid. Scott.
SQUALL (v. int. from the Swedish squala) To scream out as one frightened.
SQUALL (s. from the verb) A loud scream; a gust of wind.
SQUALLER (s. from squall) One that squalls.
SQUALLY (adj. with weavers) Faulty, uneven as cloth.
SQUALLIER (adj. comp. of squally, a sea term) Squally in a greater degree.
SQUALIEST (adj. sup. of squally, a sea term) Squally in the greatest degree.
SQUALLING (p. a. from squall) Screaming, making a loud cry.
SQUALLING (s. from the part.) The act of screaming, a squall.
SQUALLY (adj. from squall, a sea term) Inclined to sudden storms, stormy, gusty.
SQUALOR (s. from the Lat.) Coarseness, nastiness, the want of neatness.
SQUALUS (s. in ichthyology) The shark kind, a genus of fishes.
SQUAMÆ (s. from the Lat.) Scales.
SQUAMARIA (s. in botany) The anblatum, a genus of plants.
SQUAMES (s. obsolete) The scales of fishes. Chaucer.
SQUAMIGEROUS (adj. from the Lat. squama a scale, and gero to bear) Bearing scales, having scales.
SQUAMOSA (s. in anatomy) The bones of the skull behind the ears.
SQUAMOSE (adj. from the Lat. squamosus) Scaly, covered with scales.
SQUAMOSNESS (s. from squamose) The state of being covered with scales.
SQUAMOSITY (s. from squamose) The state of being covered with scales.
SQUAMOUS (adj. from squamose) Scaly, covered with scales.
SQUAMOUSNESS (s. from squamous) The state of being squamous.
SQUANDER (v. t. from the Teut. verchevenden) To scatter lavishly, to spend profusely; to dissipate, to disperse.
SQUANDERED (p. from squander) Lavished away, spent profusely, dissipated, scattered.
SQUANDERER (s. from squander) One that squanders.
SQUANDERING (p. a. from squander) Scattering, spending profusely, dissipating.
SQUANDERING (s. from the part.) The act of spending profusely.
SQUARE (adj. from the Lat. quadratus) Having four corners, having right angles, forming a right angle; having angles, having corners; equal, exact, honest; strong, stout, well set; belonging to a number multiplied into itself.
Square (s. from the adj.) A geometrical figure of four equal sides and angles; an area of four sides; a number multiplied into itself; a rule fixed at right angles.

SQU

gles used by artificers; rule, regularity, exact proportion; a quaternion, the number four; a quartile aspect, a quarter of the heavens. Squares go, matters proceed, the game goes.

Square (v. t. from the sub.) To form with right angles, to reduce to a square, to multiply into itself; to measure, to regulate, to shape, to accommodate, to fit; to make a quartile aspect; to find the content.

Square (v. int.) To suit with, to fit with; to quarrel, to fall out. Shakespeare.

Squa'red (p. from square) Made square, multiplied into itself, measured, fitted.

Squa'reness (s. from square) The state or quality of being square.

SQUA'RER (s. from the French se quarrer to walk with the arms a-kembo) A swaggering blade. Shakespeare.

Squa'rer (adj. comp. of square) Square in a greater degree.

Squa'rest (adj. sup. of square) Square in the most perfect degree.

Squa'ring (p. a. from square) Making square, multiplying into itself, fitting, measuring.

Squa'ring (s. from the part.) The act of making square, the act of reducing to square measure.

SQUAR'ROSE (adj. from the Lat. squarrosus) Rough, scabby, covered with a kind of scurf.

Squash (v. t. from quash) To crush into pulp.

Squash (s. from the verb) Any thing soft and easily crushed, any thing unripe or not come to its proper solidity, a sudden fall, a collision of soft bodies.

SQUASH (s. in botany) A plant, a kind of pompon.

Squash'ed (p. from squash) Crushed into pulp.

Squash'ing (p. a. from squash) Crushing into pulp.

Squash'pear (s. from squash, and pear) A kind of pear remarkable for producing good perry.

Squash'perry (s. from squash, and perry) The perry made of the squashpear.

SQUAT (v. int. from the Italian quattare) To sit cowering, to sit close to the ground.

Squat (adj. from the verb) Close to the ground, cowering; short, thick, having one part close to another.

Squat (s. from the verb) The posture of sitting close to the ground; a sudden fall; a bruise, a hurt by falling; but this is a local sense.

Squat (s. in natural history) A kind of tin ore mixed with spar.

SQUAT'INA (s. in ichthyology) The monkfish.

Squatt (s. in natural history, a different spelling) Squat.

Squat'ting (p. a. from squat) Sitting close to the ground, cowering.

Squat'ting (s. from the part.) The act of sitting close to the ground.

Squawl (v. int. a different spelling) To squall. D. of A.

SQUEAK (v. int. from the Swedish squaka) To cry out as in pain, to set up a sudden cry, to cry with an acute tone, to break silence for fear of hurt or pain.

Squeak (s. from the verb) The cry of pain, a sudden shrill cry.

Squeak'er (s. a cant word) A boy who attends the bar at an inn. Bailey.

Squeak'ing (p. a. from squeak) Crying out as in pain, uttering a shrill cry.

Squeak'ing (s. from the part.) The cry of pain, the sound of a shrill cry.

SQUEAL (v. t. from the Swedish squala) To cry with pain, a continued cry of distress.

Squeal'ing (p. a. from squeal) Crying out as in pain.

Squeal'ing (s. from the part.) The protracted cry of pain.

Squeamish (adj. from qualm) Nice, fastidious, easily disgusted; having the stomach easily turned, tending to a nausea.

Squeam'ishness (s. from squeamish) Niceness, delicacy, aptitude to take offence, a tendency to a nausea.

Squeb'led (adj. a cant word) Put out of due form. Cole.

SQUEEZE (v. t. from the Sax. swisan) To press, to crush between two bodies; to oppress, to harass by extortion.

Squeeze (v. int.) To act in consequence of compression, to force a way through hard bodies.

Squeeze (s. from the verb) A pressure, a compression.

Squeez'ed (p. from squeeze) Pressed, crushed between two bodies, harassed by extortion.

Squeez'ing (p. a. from squeeze) Pressing, crushing between two bodies, harassing by extortion.

Squeez'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pressing between two bodies.

SQUIB (s. of uncertain etymology) A small roll of wild fire, a small paper filled with gunpowder; a piece of feeble ill-natured ridicule; a petty fellow.

STA

Squier (s. an old spelling) A square. Shakespeare.

SQUILL (s. from the Lat. squilla) The name of a plant, the sea onion.

SQUILL (s. in the history of insects) An insect resembling the squillfish.

SQUILL (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish.

SQUILL'LA (s. from squill) A genus of insects having ten legs.

Squill'fish (s. in ichthyology) The squill.

Squill'insect (s. from squill, and insect) An insect resembling the squillfish.

SQUINAN'THUS (s. in botany) The sweet rush.

SQUIN'ANCY (s. from the French squinancy) A quinsey, an inflammation and swelling in the throat.

Squin'ey (s. from squinancy) An inflammation and swelling in the throat.

SQUINT (adj. from the Dutch squinte oblique) Looking obliquely, looking suspiciously.

Squint (v. int. from the adj.) To look obliquely, to look not in the direct line of vision.

Squint (v. t. from the adj.) To form the eye to oblique vision, to turn the eye obliquely.

Squint'eyed (adj. from squint, and eye) Having the sight directed obliquely, indirect, oblique, malignant.

Squint'go (adj. a cant word) Squinting. Dryden.

Squint'ing (p. a. from squint) Looking obliquely, looking one way with one eye and another way with the other.

Squint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking obliquely.

Squint'y (v. t. a cant word) To look askint; as, "Dost thou squinty at me?" Shakespeare.

Squire (s. a contraction of esquire) An esquire, a gentleman next in rank to a knight; an attendant on a noble warrior, an attendant at court.

Squire (v. t. from the sub.) To wait on as a gentleman usher.

Squire (s. an old spelling) A square. Chaucer.

Squird (p. from squire) Attended by a squire, waited on as by a gentleman usher.

Squird'ing (v. t. third person, obsolete) Squirreth. Chaucer.

Squird'ing (p. a. from squire) Attending as a gentleman usher.

Squird'ing (s. from the part.) The act of attending as an usher.

Squirm (v. int. a local word) To move like an eel, to move about very nimbly as an eel. Railay.

SQUIR'REL (s. in zoology, from the Lat. sciurus) A small animal remarkable for its agility in leaping from one bough of a tree to another.

Squir'reskin (s. from squirrel, and skin) The skin of a squirrel.

SQUIRT (v. t. of uncertain derivation) To throw out in a quick stream.

Squirt (v. int. a cant word) To prate, to let fly. Jobson.

Squirt (s. from the verb) An instrument by which a quick stream is ejected, a syringe, a small quick stream.

Squirt'ed (p. from squirt) Thrown out in a quick stream.

Squirt'er (s. from squirt) One that plies a squirt.

Squirt'ing (p. a. from squirt) Throwing out a quick stream; prating. L'Estrange.

Squirt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing out with a quick stream, that which is thrown out from a squirt.

Squirt'er (v. t. perhaps from scatter) To void the excrements with a kind of repeated noise. Stall.

Squirt'er (s. in tin mines) The drops of tin.

Squirt'ering (p. a. from squitter) Voiding the excrements with a kind of reiterated noise.

Squirt'ering (s. from squitter) The act of voiding the excrements with a kind of repeated noise.

Squob'ble (v. int. a different spelling) To squabble, to quarrel. Scott.

Squob'ble (s. from the verb) A brawl, a petty quarrel.

Squob'bling (p. a. from squobble) Squabbling, engaging in petty quarrels.

Squob'bling (s. from the part.) The act of quarrelling.

STAB (v. t. from the old Dutch slaven) To pierce with a pointed weapon; to wound mortally, to wound maliciously.

Stab (s. from the verb) A wound with a pointed instrument; a stroke, a blow; an injury done slyly and maliciously.

Stab'bed (p. from stab) Wounded by the thrust of a sharp instrument, wounded mortally, wounded maliciously.

Stab'ber (s. from stab) One that stabs, a sly secret murderer.

Stab'bing (p. a. from stab) Piercing with a sharp weapon, wounding maliciously, wounding mortally. Stab'bing bying (s. from the part.) The act of wounding with a pointed weapon.

ABIL/IMENT (s. from the Lat. stabilio to establish) The act of making firm, stability, firmness. Derbam.

Ability (s. from stable) Strength, firmness, steadiness.

ABLE (adj. from the Lat. stabilio to make firm) Strong, fixed, steady, constant, durable.

ABLE (s. from the Lat. stabilum) A house for beasts, a house for horses.

able (v. int. from the sub.) To kennel, to dwell as beasts.

able (v. t. obsolete) To confirm. Chaucer.

ableboy (s. from stable, and boy) A boy employed in the stable.

ableman (s. from stable, and man) A man employed in the stable.

ableness (s. from stable) Stability, steadiness.

abler (adj. comp. of stable) Stable in a greater degree.

ableroom (s. from stable, and room) Room in stables, extent of stables.

ablest (adj. sup. of stable) Stable in the greatest degree.

ablestand (s. a law term) The act of making a stand in the forest with a cross bow, or with dogs in a path, which was considered as a sufficient proof of an intention to kill the king's deer.

able (adj. obsolete) Stably, firmly. Chaucer.

abill (v. t. obsolete) To confirm. Chaucer.

abling (p. a. from stable) Kennelling, dwelling as beasts.

abling (s. from stable) Stable room, stables.

ABLISH (v. t. from the Lat. stabilio) To establish, to fix, to settle.

ablished (p. from ablish) Established, fixed, settled.

ablishing (p. a. from ablish) Establishing, fixing, settling.

ablishment (s. obsolete) An establishment. Chaucer.

abulate (v. t. from stable) To keep up cattle in a stable. Scott.

abulated (p. from abulate, but not used) Kept up as cattle in a stable.

abulating (p. a. from abulate, but not used) Keeping up cattle in a stable.

ACCA'DO (s. from the Italian staccato) A pale, a fence.

achia (s. in old records) A dam, a bank to stop a watercourse.

ACHYARPAGOPH'ORA (s. in botany) The celosia, a genus of plants.

ACHYS (s. in botany) The hoarhound.

ACHYS (s.) A man's name.

ACK (s. from the Italian stacca) A large quantity of hay, corn, or wood piled up together; a number of chimneys or funnels standing together.

ack (v. int. a local word) To stumble as a horse.

ack (v. t. from the sub.) To pile up, to rick as hay, corn, or wood.

ack (p. obsolete) Stuck. Chaucer.

acked (p. from stack) Piled up, ricked.

acking (p. a. from stack) Piling up, making a rick.

acking (s. from the part.) The act of piling up hay, corn, or wood.

ACTE (s. from the Greek αγω to drop) A kind of music that issues from the myrtle.

act (adj. an old word) Encumbered, placed, set, beset. Chaucer.

act (adj. obsolete) Placed, set, beset, encumbered. Ch.

act (s. from stand) The frame of wood on which a rick stands, that which is laid under a rick to keep it off the ground; a young tree, a standil; the mark or impression of any thing which has rested long on the ground; a mark of the smallpox.

act (s. from stadium) A furlong. Cole.

AD/HOLDER (s.) The regent of a province in Holland, the chief magistrate in Holland.

ADIUM (s. from the Lat.) A Roman measure of length, a furlong.

adle (s. obsolete) A staff. Spenser.

ADLE (s. from the Sax. radel a foundation) A frame of wood to support a rick, that which is laid under a rick to keep it from the ground; a young tree, a standil.

adle (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with stables.

adled (p. from stable) Furnished with a stable.

adling (p. a. from stable) Furnishing with a stable.

ADT/HOLDER (s. from the Dutch stad a state, and holder to hold) The chief magistrate in the United Provinces.

ady (s. obsolete) A stadium, a course, a place for running. Chaucer.

STÆHEL'NA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

STAFF (s. from the Sax. staf) A stick with which a man supports himself in walking; a prop, a support; a long piece of wood; a stick used as a weapon; an ensign of office, a badge of authority; the five lines in music; a stanza, a series of verses. Dryden.

Staff (s. with cockfighters) A pair of cocks.

Staffier (s. an old word) A lacquy. Cole.

Staff'ish (adj. obsolete, from staff) Stiff, harsh. Ascham.

Staff'keep (v. t. from staff, and keep) To keep with a staff as cattle where there are no fences.

Staff'keeping (p. a. from staff keep) Keeping cattle with a staff in the hand where there are no fences.

Staff'keeping (s. from the part.) The act of keeping cattle with a staff.

Staff'kept (p. from staff keep) Kept with a staff in the hand as cattle where there are no fences to preserve different property.

Staff'ficer (s. from staff, and officer) A general of an army.

STAF'FORD (s.) The capital town of Staffordshire; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 135 miles from London.

Staff'ford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stafford, made at Stafford.

STAF'FORDSHIRE (s. from Stafford, and shire) One of the inland counties of England; it contains one city and eighteen market towns, and sends eight members to parliament, two for the shire, two for Lichfield, two for Stafford, and two for Newcastle under Line.

Staff'ordshire (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Stafford, produced in the county of Stafford.

Staff'tree (s. in botany) A kind of evergreen shrub, a kind of privet.

STAG (s. the derivation is not noted) The male red deer, the male of the hind.

Stag/beetle (s. from stag, and beetle) The name of an insect.

STAGE (s. from the French estage) A floor raised on which any show is exhibited, the theatre, a place where any thing is publicly transacted, a place where a rest is made on a journey, the single step of a gradual process.

Sta'gecoach (s. from stage, and coach) A coach that keeps regular stages on the road for the convenience of passengers.

Sta'geplay (s. from stage, and play) A theatrical diversion.

Sta'geplayer (s. from stage, and player) An actor, one who exhibits on the theatre.

Sta'ger (s. from stage) A player, one who has had experience in any matter.

Stag'evil (s. from stag, and evil) A disease incident to horses.

Sta'gewaggon (s. from stage, and waggon) A waggon that keeps regular stages for conveying goods and passengers.

Stag'gard (s. a hunting term) A male deer of four years old.

STAG'GER (v. t. from the Dutch staggeren) To make to reel; to make less steady; to shock, to alarm.

Stag'ger (v. int.) To reel, to begin to give way, to faint, to fall into doubt, to hesitate.

Stag'gered (p. from stagger) Made to reel, made less steady, shocked, alarmed.

Stag'gering (p. a. from stagger) Reeling, giving way, fainting; making less steady, alarming, filling with doubt.

Stag'gering (s. from the part.) The act of reeling.

Stag'gers (s. in farriery) A disease incident to horses, a kind of apoplexy in horses; madness, irregular behaviour. Shakespeare.

Stag'gerwort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Stag'hunting (s. from stag, and hunting) The diversion of hunting the stag.

Stagia'rius (s. in old records) A canon who kept his stated residence in a cathedral church.

Stagiona'rius (s. in old records) A tagiarius.

STAG'IRA (s.) A town in Greece famous for the birth of Aristotle.

STAG'IRITE (s. from Stagira) An inhabitant of Stagira, Aristotle so called because born at Stagira.

STAG'MA (s. with chymists) A compound of simples for distillation.

Stag'nancy (s. from stagnant) The state of being stagnant.

STAG'NANT (adj. from the Lat. stagnare to stand as water) Still, motionless.

Stagna'rium (s. a different spelling) A stannarium, a tin mine. Cole.

STAG'NATE

STAG/NATE (v. int. from the Lat. stagno) To lie motionless, to have no current.
Stag/nating (p. a. from stagnate) Lying motionless, having no current.
Stagnation (s. from stagnate) An obstruction of motion, a cessation of motion.
STAG/NES (s. from the Lat. stagno to stand, but not used) Stagnant waters, pools. Cole.
Staid (v. int. pret. of stay) Did stay.
Staid (adj. from the part.) Sober, grave, regular, composed.
Staid'er (adj. comp. of staid) Staid in a greater degree.
Staid'est (adj. sup. of staid) Staid in the greatest degree.
Staid'ness (s. from staid) Sobriety, gravity, regularity.
STAIN (v. t. from the Brit. ystænowd) To blot, to spot, to maculate; to disgrace, to defame.
Stain (s. from the verb) A blot, a spot, discoloration; a taint of guilt or infamy; a cause of reproach or shame.
STAIN'AND (adj. in heraldry) Tawny, murrey. Phil.
STAIN'ANT (adj. a different spelling) Stainand. Scott.
Stain'ed (p. from stain) Blotted, disgraced.
Stain'er (s. from stain) One that stains, one who blots.
STAINES (s.) A town in Middlesex; it has a market on Friday, and is 16 miles from London.
Staines (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Staines, made at Staines.
Stain'ing (p. a. from stain) Blotting, spotting, discolouring; disgracing.
Stain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a different colour, the different colour laid.
Stain'less (adj. from stain) Free from stains, free from reproach.
STAIR (s. from the Sax. stæger) A step, one step of a staircase; a flight of stairs, a staircase. Sidney.
Stair'case (s. from stair, and case) The stairs by which we ascend to the upper room of a house, the space or room where the stairs are fixed.
STAKE (s. from the Sax. staca) A small post or strong stick fixed in the ground; a small kind of anvil; a piece of wood, the post to which a beast is tied to be baited, the post to which a criminal or martyr is tied to be burnt; any thing pledged or wagered, the state of being pledged, the state of being hazardous.
Stake (v. t. from the sub.) To fasten with a stake, to defend with small posts set upright; to wager, to hazard.
Stake (s. not so common a spelling) A steak, a slice of meat to broil or fry. Tatler.
Stak'ed (p. from stake) Fenced with stakes; wagered, pledged.
Stak'er (v. int. obsolete) To stagger, to hesitate. Chau.
Stak'ing (p. a. from stake) Fencing with stakes, wagering.
Stak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fencing with stakes.
STALACTANG'NA (s. in natural history) The stalactice, a kind of crystal spars.
Stalac'tical (adj. from stalactites) Resembling an icicle.
STALACTI/TÆ (s. in natural history) Spars in the form of icicles.
STALACTI/TES (s. in natural history) Spars in the form of icicles.
STALAG'MA (s.) A kind of distilled liquor.
STALAG'MIAS (s.) The best kind of black for shoes.
STALAG'MITES (s. in natural history) Spars formed in the shape of drops.
Stalag'mium (s.) An ornament worn in the ear, a pendant, a drop.
STAL'BRIDGE (s.) A town in Dorsetshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 111 miles from London.
Stal'bridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Staibridge, made at Staibridge.
Stal'dings (s. obsolete) A kind of old money. Phillips.
STALE (adj. from the Dutch stelle) Old, long kept, altered by time, used till of little worth.
Stale (s. from the adj.) Old beer, four beer; urine, old urine; a prostitute. Shakespeare.
Stale (v. int. from the sub.) To void urine, to make water.
Stale (v. t. from the adj.) To make old, to wear out. Shakespeare.
STALE (s. from the Sax. stælan to steal) An allurement, a trick, something exhibited to draw others; a term at chess.
Stal'ed (p. from stale) Made old, worn out. Sh.
Stal'ely (adv. from stale) In a stately manner, of old.
Stal'enate (s. from stale, and mate) A tenant at chess.
Stal'eness (s. from stale) The state of being long kept, the state of being corrupted by time.

Stall'ing (p. a. from stale) Growing stale, voiding urine, making water.
Stall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making water of beasts.
Stalk (s. obsolete) The step of a ladder. Chaucer.
STALK (v. int. from the Sax. stælcen) To walk slowly to walk with high and superb steps, to walk behind a stalking horse.
Stalk (s. from the verb) A stately step, a high a proud step.
STALK (s. from the Dutch stete a handle) The stem of which flowers or fruits grow.
Stalk'er (s. from stalk) A sort of fishing net; one that stalks.
Stalk'ing (p. a. from stalk) Walking slowly, walking with a stately step.
Stalk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of walking slowly.
Stalk'inghedge (s. from stalking, and hedge) An artificial hedge with which fowlers conceal themselves from the game.
Stalk'inghorse (s. from stalking, and horse) A horse real or fictitious by which a fowler screens himself from the sight of the game, a mask, a pretence.
Stalk'ingly (adv. from stalking) In a stately manner with affectation of importance. Scott.
Stalk'y (adj. from stalk) Hard like a stalk.
STALL (s. from the Sax. steal) A crib in which an ox is fed, a shed or covering where black cattle are fed; place or division in a stable for a single horse; a bench or form where any thing is set to sale, a small house or shed in which some petty trades are practised; the seat of a dignified clergyman in a chair.
Stall (v. t. from the sub.) To keep in a stall or stable; to invest. Shakespeare.
Stall (v. int.) To inhabit, to dwell; to kennel.
Stall'age (s. from stall) The right of setting up stalls in a fair or market, the money paid for setting up stalls in a fair or market.
Stall'boat (s. from stall, and boat) A kind of fishing boat.
Stall'ed (p. from stall) Kept in a stable or stall; invested.
Stall'fed (adj. from stall, and fed) Fed in a stall, fed with dry meat.
Stall'id (adj. obsolete) Established, ordained. Chaucer.
Stall'ing (p. a. from stall) Keeping in a stall, putting in a stall; investing.
Stall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of keeping in a stall the act of investiture.
Stall'ingken (s. a cant word) A house that receives stolen goods. Bailey.
STALL'ION (s. from the Sax. stælan to leap) A stallion horse, a horse kept for mares.
Stall'money (s. from stall, and money) The money paid for setting up stalls in a fair or market.
Stall'worn (adj. from stall, and worn) Long kept in a stall or stable.
S all'worth (adj. obsolete) Brave, stout. Chaucer.
Stalm'flesh (v. int. a cant word) To cant.
Stam (s. a local word, from stamina) A stalk.
Stam'en, Stamin (s. obsolete) Hemp; coarse cloth made of hemp.
STAM/FORD (s.) A borough town in Lincolnshire; it has a market on Monday and Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 88 miles from London.
Stam'ford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stamford, made at Stamford.
Stam'in (s. in commerce) A kind of stuff. Bailey.
STAM'INA (s. from the Lat.) The first principles of any thing, the solids of a human body; the fine threads that grow up in the flower of plants, the male organs of generation in plants.
STAM'INE (s. in commerce) A kind of French stuff.
Stamin'eous (adj. from stamin) Consisting of threads having stamina.
STAM'MEL (s. the derivation is not noted) A kind of bay colour.
Stam'mel (s. a cant word) A large awkward mare; a bouncing wench.
Stam'melcolour (s. from stammel, and colour) A kind of bay.
Stam'meljade (s. from stammel, and jade) A large awkward mare. Phillips.
STAM'MER (v. int. from the Sax. stammer) To speak with a kind of convulsive hesitation, to utter words with difficulty.
Stam'merer (s. from stammer) One that stammers.
Stam'mering (p. a. from stammer) Uttering words with a kind of convulsive hesitation; uttering words with difficulty. Stam'mering

m/mering (s. from the part.) The act of uttering words with a kind of convulsive impediment.

AMP (v. t. from the Dutch stampen) To strike by placing the foot hastily downwards, to pound, to beat in a mortar; to fix a mark by impression, to make by impressing a mark, to mint, to coin.

mp (v. int.) To strike the foot plain on the ground.

mp (s. from the verb) An instrument by which an impression is made, an impression, a mark made by impression, a thing marked with an impression; a picture cut in wood or metal, a cut, a plate; a character; an order; a cast, a make; a currency, an authority derived from an alteration.

mp/duty (s. from stamp, and duty) The duty on stamps.

mp/ed (p. from stamp) Beaten as in a mortar, impressed with some mark or figure.

mp/er (s. from stamp) An instrument of pounding, that with which any thing is stamped.

mp/ing (p. a. from stamp) Pounding as in a mortar, striking the foot with force to the ground; impressing an image or mark; giving authority by a mark.

mp/ing (s. from the part.) The act of striking the foot to the ground, the act of communicating an impression by a stamp.

mp/office (s. from stamp, and office) The office where the stamps are delivered.

mps (s. from stamp) The papers and parchments which are charged with duty delivered at the stamp office.

mp/wood (s. a local word) The roots of trees grubbed up.

ANCH (v. t. from the French estancher) To stop blood, to hinder from running; to satisfy, to satisfy.

anch (v. int.) To cease flowing, to stop.

anch (adj. from the verb) Sound, firm; trusty, determined; strong, unbroken.

anch/ed (p. from stanch) Stopped, hindered from flowing.

anch/er (adj. comp. of stanch) Stanch in a greater degree.

anch/est (adj. sup. of stanch) Stanch in the greatest degree.

anch/ing (p. a. from stanch) Stopping, stopping blood.

anch/ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping, the stopping of blood.

ANCHION (s. from the French estancon) A prop, a support.

anch/less (adj. from stanch) Incapable of being stanch.

anch/ness (s. from stanch) Firmness, stability.

AND (v. int. from the Sax. standan) To be on the feet, to be in an erect posture; to become erect, to rise from a sitting or reclined posture; to stop, to halt, to be at a stationary point; to be in a state of firmness, to keep one's ground; to be upon the defence; to be placed in some rank or order, to remain in a present state; to remain in force, to have power or effect as a law; to put up for, to offer as a candidate; to consist, to have its being or essence; to be in a state of inaction, to be idle; to depend, to rest as on support; to be in the place, to be a representative; to hold a course, to have a direction; to stagnate, to be without motion; to insist, to hold out in argument; to persist, to persevere; to be consistent, to hold good. "To stand by," to support, to be a spectator. "To stand for," to maintain, to support; to propose one's self as a candidate. "To stand off," to keep at a distance, to forbear intimacy; to have respect, to be protuberant. "To stand out," to be refores, to hold a post, to be protuberant. "To stand up," to persevere, to remain fixed. "To stand under," to sustain, to undergo. "To stand up," to rise in order to gain notice; to make a party. "To stand upon," to value, to take pride; to insist, to concern, to interest; "Does it not stand them upon, to examine upon what grounds they presume it to be a revelation from God." But this construction is awkward, and now disused.

and (v. t.) To endure, to resist without yielding; to wait, to abide; to keep, to maintain.

and (s. from the verb) A station, a place where any thing stands; a rank, a post; a stop, a halt; difficulty, complexity; an interruption, an act of opposition; the highest pitch, that beyond which we cannot pass; a small frame or table on which any thing is placed.

Stand'ard (s. from stand) An ensign in war; a test, that by which other things are to be measured; a settled rate, that which has been tried by a proper test; a small tree left for growth, a post or tree in a fence to distinguish the extent of property.

Stand'ardbearer (s. from standard, and bearer) One who bears a standard or ensign.

Stand'ardgrafs (s. in botany) The name of a plant. Scott.

Stand'ardtree (s. from standard, and tree) A tree that has stood long, a tree which stands to distinguish the extent of property.

Stand'crop (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Stand'el (s. from stand) A tree of long standing.

Stand'er (s. from stand) One that stands; a tree that has stood long. "A stander by," one present, a mere spectator.

Stand'ergrafs (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the ragwort.

Stand'il (s. not so common a word) A standel, a standard, a young tree preferred for timber.

Stand'ing (p. a. from stand) Resting on the feet in an erect posture, remaining in a certain state, persevering in the same state.

Stand'ing (adj. from the part.) Settled, established; lasting, durable; stagnant, fixed; placed on the feet.

Stand'ing (s. from the part.) A station, a place to stand in; continuance, long possession; a power to stand, a rank, a condition; a competition, a candidateship.

Stand'dish (s. from stand, and dish) A case for pen and ink.

Sta'nefiles (s. with card makers) The perforated pasteboards through which the cards are painted.

STANG (s. from the Sax. stang) A perch, five yards and half in length; a square perch. Swift.

Stang (s. a local word) A cowlstaff. Bailey.

Stang (v. t. pret. of sting) Did sting. Johnson.

STAN'HOPE (s.) A town in the bishoprick of Durham; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 267 miles from London.

Stan'hope (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stanhope, made at Stanhope.

Stank (v. int. pret. of stink) Did stink.

Stank (adj. obsolete) Weak, worn out. Spenser.

Stank (s. a local word) A dam, a bank to stop water. Bailey.

STAN'LEY (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 103 miles from London.

Stan'ley (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stanley, made at Stanley.

Stan'nary (s. from stannum) A tin mine, a tin work.

Stan'nary (adj. from the sub.) Relating to tin works.

Stan'ner (s. an old word) A supposed fume heretofore called the mother of metals. Cole.

STAN'NUM (s. from the Lat.) Tin, a hard kind of lead.

Stant, Stante (v. int. obsolete) Standeth. Chaucer.

Stan'yel (s. in ornithology) A kind of buzzard, a kind of kite.

STAN'ZA (s. from the Italian) A number of lines in poetry regularly adjusted to each other, so much of a poem as contains every variation of measure and relation of rhyme.

STAPE'LIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

STA'PES (s. in anatomy, from the Lat. signifying a stirrup) One of the small bones of the internal ear.

STAPHISAG'RIA (s. in botany) The stavesacre.

STAPHYLÆ'A (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the bladder-nut.

STAPHYLADEN'DRON (s. in botany) The bladder-nut.

STAPHYLADEN'DROS (s. in botany) The staphyladen-dron. Scott.

STAPH'YLE (s. in physic) A disease or inflammation of the uvula.

STAPHYL'NUS (s. in botany) The daucus, the carrot.

STAPHYLO'MA (s. from the Greek) A disease in the eye in which the cornea is affected so as to resemble the stone of a grape.

STAPHYLOPA'RTES (s. in surgery) An instrument to raise the uvula when depressed.

STAPH'YLUS (s.) A man's name, one who was said to be the first that mingled water and wine. Pliny.

Sta'pid (v. int. obsolete) Did tread, did step. Chaucer.

STA'PLE (s. from the Dutch stapel) A settled market, an established market, a town or city where goods are laid in to be vended wholesale; a bent iron with two two fangs to be driven into any thing to fasten it with a bolt or lock.

S T A

Star'ple (adj. from the sub.) Settled, established in commerce, belonging to articles in commerce which do not immediately take damage or perish.

Star'pid (v. int. obsolete) Did step, did tread. Ch.

STAR (s. from the Sax. steorra) One of the numerous lucid bodies that keep equal distances from each other and appear in the night; the pole star; a configuration of the stars and planets as having a supposed influence on the affairs of human life; a mark of reference, an asterism. The star of Bethlehem, the orni-thogallum, the name of a plant.

Star'apple (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Star'blind (adj. from star, and blind) Half blind.

Star'board (s. a sea term) The right side of the ship, the contrary to the larboard.

STARCH (s. from the Tent. starc stiff) The fine white substance, made from corn or potatoes, with which linen is stiffened.

Starch (v. t. from the sub.) To stiffen with starch.

Starch (adj. from the sub. a colloquia word) Stiff, formal.

Star'chamber (s. from star, and chamber) A kind of arbitrary court in which criminal causes were formerly decided.

Star'chamber (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the court described in the foregoing article. Shakespeare.

Starch'ed (p. from starch) Stiffened with starch.

Starch'ed (adj. from the part.) Stiff, precise, formal.

Starch'er (s. from starch) One that takes in linen to starch.

Starch'ing (p. a. from starch) Stiffening with starch.

Starch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stiffening with starch, the starch put in cloaths to make them stiff.

Starch'ly (adv. from starch) Stiffly, formally.

Starch'maker (s. from starch, and maker) One whose business is to make starch.

Starch'making (s. from starch, and making) The act or process of making starch.

Starch'ness (s. from starch) Stiffness, formality.

Starch'wort (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

STARE (v. int. from the Sax. starian) To look with wide and fixed eyes, to look with wonder, to look with impudence; to stand out, to project. "To stare in the face," to be undeniably evident.

Stare (s. from the verb) A fixed look, the look of wonder or impudence.

Stare (s. in ornithology) The starling.

Sta'rer (s. from stare) One who stares.

Starf, Starfe (v. int. pret. obsolete) Did die, perished.

Star'fish (s. in ichthyology) A kind of fish branching out into many rays resembling a star.

Star'fort (s. in fortification) A kind of redoubt.

Star'gazer (s. from star, and gaze) One that looks much at the stars, an astronomer in contempt or ridicule.

Star'gazer (s. in ichthyology) The uronoscopus.

Star'gazing (adj. from star, and gaze) Looking at the stars, observing the stars.

Star'gazing (s. from the adj.) The act of observing the stars.

Star'hawk (s. in ornithology) A kind of hawk.

STARK (adj. from the Sax. stare) Stiff, strong, rugged; deep, full; mere, simple, plain, gross.

Stark (adv. from the adj.) Quite, down right.

Stark'ier (adj. comp. of starkey, colloquial) Starky in a greater degree.

Stark'iest (adj. sup. of starkey, colloquial) Starky in the greatest degree.

Stark'iness (s. from starkey, colloquial) Stiffness, rigidity.

Stark'ly (adv. from stark) Stiffly, strongly.

Stark'y (adj. from stark, colloquial) Stiff, rigid. Bailey.

Star'less (adj. from star) Void of stars, having no light from the stars. Milton.

Star'light (s. from star, and light) The lustre of the stars.

Star'light (adj. from the sub.) Illumined by the stars, having the light of the stars.

Star'like (adj. from star, and like) Resembling a star, stellated; bright, illustrious.

STAR/LING (s. from the Sax.) The name of a bird; it is one of the kind that may be taught to whistle and articulate.

Star'ling (s. from star) One of the sharp points that defend the piers of a bridge.

Starlings (s. obsolete) Sterling money. Chaucer.

Star'paved (adj. from star, and paved) Paved with stars, studded with stars.

Star'proof (adj. from star, and proof) Impervious to the light of the stars.

S T A

Star'read (s. obsolete, from star, and read) The doctrine of the stars.

Star'ried (adj. from star) Adorned with stars, influenced by the stars.

Starredoubt (s. in fortification) A fort in form of a star.

Star'rier (adj. comp. of starry) Starry in a greater degree.

Star'riest (adj. sup. of starry) Starry in the greatest degree.

Star'riness (s. from starry) The state of being ornamented with stars.

Star'ring (adj. from star) Shining like stars.

Star'ruet (s. from star) A little star.

Star'shoot (s. from star, and shoot) A supposed emission from a star; a kind of jelly supposed to be made from the extinction of a falling star.

Star'stone (s. in natural history) A kind of jointed stone each joint resembling the form of a star.

START (v. int. from the German startzen) To feel a sudden motion on the apprehension of danger, to rise up suddenly, to move with sudden quickness; to shrink, to deviate; to set out from the place where a noise begins, to set out on any pursuit.

Start (v. t.) To alarm, to disturb suddenly, to raise or make to fly with haste, to bring into motion, to discover so as to bring within pursuit, to put suddenly out of place.

Start (s. from the verb) A motion of terror, a sudden spring, a quick spring or motion; the first departure from the spot where a race begins, an advantage by starting first, an advantage gained over another in any matter of proficiency.

Start'ed (p. from start) Made to start; brought into motion, set on foot; put suddenly out of place.

Start'er (s. from start) One who starts, one who shrinks from his purpose.

Start'histle (s. in botany) The name of a plant, a species of centaury.

Start'ing (p. a. from start) Feeling a sudden shock on the apprehension of danger, rising suddenly, setting out on any pursuit; discovering, raising from a lurking place, bringing into pursuit; flying from one's purpose, getting out of place with a sudden motion.

Start'ing (s. from the part.) The shock of terror; the act of setting out on any pursuit, the act of setting any matter forward; the act of relinquishing any design.

Start'ing (s. in the brewery) The method or process of reviving old or flat liquor by putting new to it.

Start'ingly (adv. from start) By sudden fits, with frequent intermissions.

Start'ish (adj. from start) Apt to start as a horse.

Start'le (v. int. from start) To shrink, to start.

Start'le (v. t. from start) To fright, to shock, to impress with sudden terror.

Start'le (s. from the verb) A shock, a sudden alarm, a sudden impression of terror.

Start'led (p. from startle) Frightened, impressed with sudden terror.

Start'ling (p. a. from startle) Frightening, impressing with sudden terror.

Start'ling (adj. obsolete) Sparkling. Chaucer.

Start'lish (adj. a colloquial word, from startle) Apt to start.

Start'up (s. from start, and up) One that comes suddenly into notice; a kind of high shoe.

STARVE (v. t. from the Sax. starfan) To kill with hunger, to subdue by famine; to kill with cold, to deprive of force or vigour.

Starve (v. int.) To perish with hunger, to perish with cold, to suffer extreme poverty.

Star'ved (p. from starve) Killed with hunger, killed with cold, deprived of force or vigour.

Star'veling (s. from starve) An animal stunted in its growth for want of proper care and nourishment; a thin meager person.

Star'ving (p. a. from starve) Killing with hunger, killing with cold, depriving of force and vigor; dying of hunger, dying of cold.

Star'ving (s. from the part.) The act of dying with hunger or cold, the act of killing with hunger or cold.

Star'wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

STA'SIARCH (s. from the Greek stasis, a station, and archos, a chief, but not much used) A chief rebel. Ch.

STATA/NUS (s. in heathen mythology) An invisible power who was supposed to influence children to good alone.

STA'TARY (adj. from the Lat. sto to stand, but not much used) Fixed, settled, stationary.

STATE (s. from the Lat. sto status to stand) A condition.

ion, a modification; a stationary point; an estate, a possession; a community, a republic; a rank, a quality; an appearance of greatness, solemn pomp; dignity, grandeur, a seat of dignity; a canopy; a covering of dignity; a principal person in government; a person of high rank; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Lat. (v. t. from the sub.) To settle, to regulate; to propose, to represent any thing as it really is. Stat. (adj. from the Lat. used in composition) Belonging to government, public, referring to the state. Stat. (s. from state, and affairs) Affairs of state. Stat. (p. from state) Settled, proposed, represented as it really is.

Stately (adj. obsolete) Stately, proud. Chaucer. Stately (adj. comp. of stately) Stately in a greater degree.

Stately (adj. sup. of stately) Stately in the greatest degree.

Stately (s. from stately) Grandeur, appearance of pride, affected dignity.

Stately (adj. from state) Great, elevated, majestic; elevated in deportment or sentiment.

Stately (adv. from the adj.) With state, with majesty.

STATER (s.) A weight of one ounce and an half; an ancient Greek coin.

STATERA (s.) A kind of balance, the Roman balance; a weight.

Stat-general (s. from state, and general) The states of Holland, the general assembly of the United Provinces.

Stateman (s. from state, and man) A politician, one versed in the arts of government, one employed in state affairs.

Statemen (s. plu. of stateman) More than one stateman.

Statwoman (s. from state, and woman) A woman who meddles in state affairs in contempt.

Statwomen (s. plu. of statwoman) More than one statwoman. Addison.

STATIC (adj. from the Greek στατικός) Statical, belonging to the science of weights.

Static (s. with physicians) An epileptic, one seized with an epilepsis.

Static (adj. from static) Belonging to the science of weights.

STATICE (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the drift.

Static (adj. a less modern spelling) Static, statical.

Statics (s. a less modern spelling) Statics.

Statics (s. from static) The science of weighing.

Setting (p. a. from state) Settling, proposing, representing.

Setting (s. from the part.) The act of settling, the act of representing.

STATION (s. from the Lat. statio to stand) The act of standing, the place where any one stands; a state of rest, a fixed point; a post, an office; a situation, a position; a character, a state; a rank, a condition of life; a church among the papists where indulgences may be had on certain days, the ceremony of going out of the choir to sing an anthem before a crucifix or image.

Station (v. t. from the sub.) To place in a certain post, to place in a certain rank.

STATIONA'RII (s. in antiquity) The soldiers which were stationed at certain places to prevent disorders.

STATIONA'RIOUS (s. in antiquity) A soldier in garrison; a sentinelle; a stationer, a bookseller; a canon who resides in a cathedral.

Stationary (adj. from station) Fixed, standing in one place, remaining in one state.

Stationed (p. from station) Placed, placed in a certain post, rank, or condition.

Stationer (s. from station) A bookseller, one who deals in paper.

Stationing (p. a. from station) Placing, fixing in some certain place.

Stationline (s. in surveying, from station, and line) The line which coincides with the station where any observation is made.

Stationstaff (s. from station, and staff) An instrument used in surveying.

Statist (s. from state) A statesman, one skilled in the arts of government. Milton.

STIVA (s. with the Romans) A standing camp for the defence of a frontier.

Stative (adj. from stativa) Belonging to a fixed camp or garrison.

STIVUS (s.) A man's name, a comic poet among the Romans.

STOCE'LE (s. in surgery) A kind of rupture in the rotum.

STATOR (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

Statuary (s. from statue) The art of carving images representing life, one that professes the art of making statues.

STATUE (s. from the Lat. statua an image) An image, a solid form of some living being.

Statue (v. t. from the sub.) To place as a statue. Johns.

Statued (p. from statue) Placed as a statue. Shakespeare.

STATULINUS (s. in heathen mythology) An invisible power who was supposed to influence children to walk.

STATUMEN (s. from the Lat.) A prom, a butteress; a kind of mortar mingled with pebble stones.

Statuminate (v. t. from statumen, but not used) To underprop. Cole.

Statuminated (p. from statuminate, but not sufficiently authorized) Underpropped.

STATURE (s. from the Lat. statura) The height of any person, the height of an animal.

Statutable (adj. from stature) Conformable to statute.

STATUTE (s. from the Lat. statuo to appoint) A law, an act of the legislature.

Statute (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a statute, determined by a statute. "A statute acre."

Statutemerchant (s. a law term) A kind of bond acknowledged before the mayor and two merchants.

Statutestaple (s. a law term) A bond acknowledged before the mayor of the staple and two constables.

Statuteffions (s. a law term) A kind of petty sessions for determining disputes between masters and servants.

Stave (s. an old spelling) A staff, one of the narrow pieces of wood of which a cask is made.

Stave (v. t. from the sub.) To break in pieces as a cask, to pour out by breaking the cask; to push off as with a staff; to furnish with rundles or staves. To stave and tail, to part dogs by interposing a staff and pulling at the tail.

Staved (p. from stave) Broken to pieces as a cask or ship, pushed off as with a staff, furnished with staves.

Stavers (s. in farriery) A disease incident to horses, the staggers.

Staves (s. plu. of staff) More than one staff.

Stavesacre (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Stawed (adj. a local spelling) Stowed.

Stawed (adj. a local spelling) Stowed.

STAY (v. int. from the Dutch staen) To continue in a place, to forbear departure; to continue in a state; to wait, to attend; to dwell, to be long; to rest with confidence.

Stay (v. t.) To stop, to withhold, to repress; to delay, to obstruct; to prop, to support.

Stay (s. from the verb) Continuance in a place; a stand, a cessation, a stop, an obstruction; a restraint, a caution; a fixed state, a prop, a support; steadiness, steadiness of conduct; tackling, boddice; but these last senses generally take the plural.

Stay/bobbin (s. from stays, and bobbin) A kind of bobbin used for stays.

Stay/braid (s. from stays, and braid) A kind of braid used in ornamenting stays.

Stay'ed (p. from stay) Stopped, prevented from departing; repressed, obstructed; propped, fixed, supported.

Stay'edly (adv. from stayed) Composedly, gravely.

Stay'edness (s. from stayed) Solidity, gravity, composure.

Stay'er (s. from stay) One that stops, one that stays.

Stay'goods (s. from stays, and goods) The materials of which stays are made.

Stay'ing (p. a. from stay) Stopping, delaying, abiding in one place; propping, supporting.

Stay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping; the act of supporting, that with which any thing is kept steady.

Stay'lace (s. from stays, and lace) A lace with which women's stays are fastened.

Stay'maker (s. from stay, and maker) One who makes women's stays.

Stays (s. from stay, and mostly used in the plu.) A kind of stiff waistcoat made of whalebone and worn by ladies, boddice; the ropes in a ship which keep the mast from falling aft, that which keeps a thing extended.

Stay'fals (s. a sea term) The fals which are fastened to rings which slide on the stays.

- STEAD (s. from the Sax. stæd) The place of another, room; use, help; the frame of a bed; place; but this sense is obsolete. Spenser.
- Stead (v. t. from the sub. nearly obsolete) To help, to advantage, to support, to assist, to fill the place of another. Shakespeare.
- Stead'ed (p. from stead, nearly obsolete, or local) Helped, assisted, furnished with.
- Stead'fast (adj. from stead, and fast) Firm, fixed, constant, resolute.
- Stead'fastly (adv. from stead'fast) Firmly, constantly.
- Stead'fastness (s. from stead'fast) Firmness, constancy, immutability.
- Stead'ier (adj. comp. of steady) Steady in a greater degree.
- Stead'iest (adj. sup. of steady) Steady in the greatest degree.
- Stead'ily (adv. from steady) Firmly, without tottering, without variation.
- Stead'iness (s. from steady) Firmness, fixedness, unchangeableness, constancy.
- STEAD'Y (adj. from the Sax. stædig) Firm, fixed, constant, unchangeable.
- STEAK (s. from the Sax. stece a piece) A slice of flesh broiled or fried, a collop.
- STEAL (v. t. from the Sax. stelan) To take by theft, to take clandestinely, to take without right; to withdraw without notice, to gain or effect by private means.
- Steal (v. int.) To withdraw privately, to pass silently; to practise theft, to play the thief.
- Steale (s. a local word) The handle. Bailey.
- Steal'er (s. from steal) One that steals.
- Steal'ing (p. a from steal) Taking away by theft, taking away clandestinely, withdrawing secretly, practising theft.
- Steal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of theft, the practice of theft.
- Steal'ingly (adv. from stealing) Silly, by invisible means, by secret practices.
- Stealth (s. from steal) The act of stealing, theft; a secret act, a clandestine practice; the thing stolen. Raleigh.
- Stealth'y (adj. from stealth) Done by stealth, performed clandestinely.
- STEAM (s. from the Sax. steme) The smoke of any thing hot, the vapour of any thing moist and hot; an exhalation.
- Steam (v. t. from the sub.) To smoke with warm vapour, to send up vapours, to pass in vapours.
- Steam'ed (p. from steam) Moistened with warm vapour.
- Steam'ing (p. a. from steam) Moistening with warm vapour, sending forth in vapours, passing in vapours.
- Steam'ing (s. from steam) The act of moistening with warm vapour, the act of sending forth vapour.
- Steane (s. obsolete) A stone, a stone vessel. Spenser.
- STEATOCE'LE (s. from the Greek στεατοφυετ. and κηλη a rupture) A kind of rupture or swelling in the scrotum, the matter of which resembles suet.
- STEATO'MA (s. from the Greek) A tumour resembling the steatocele.
- Steato'matous (adj. from steatoma) Tending to a steatoma, belonging to a steatoma.
- STECCA'DO (s. in fortification) A kind of poll or fence between the trenches.
- STECHA'DOS (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
- Sted (v. t. obsolete) To stead, to help. Shakespeare.
- Stede (s. obsolete) A place; a steed, a horse. Chaucer.
- Sted'fast (adj. a different spelling) Steadfast. Scott.
- Sted'fastness (s. from sted'fast, a different spelling) Steadfastness. Scott.
- Sted'ship (s. obsolete) Firmness. Chaucer.
- Stee (s. a local word) A ladder. Bailey.
- STEED (s. from the Sax. steda) A horse, a horse for state or war.
- STEEL (s. from the Sax. stal) Iron purified and hardened; the refined metal used in making edge tools; a weapon, armour; chalybeate medicines; hardness, firmness.
- Steel (v. t. from the sub.) To point or edge with steel; to make hard, to make firm, to make unfeeling.
- Steel'ed (p. from steel) Pointed with steel; made hard, made obdurate, rendered unfeeling.
- Steel'ing (p. a. from steel) Pointing with steel; making firm, making unfeeling.
- Steel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pointing with steel, the act of making obdurate.
- Steel'y (adj. from steel) Made of steel; hard, firm.
- Steel'yard (s. from steel, and yard) A kind of balance, the Roman beam.
- Steen (s. from stean) A vessel made of clay or stone.
- Steen'kirk (s. a local word) A neckcloth. Ainsworth.
- STEEP (adj. from the Sax. steap) Rising as a road with quick ascent.
- Steep (s. from the adj.) An ascent approaching to perpendicularity, a precipice.
- STEEP (v. t. from the Dutch stippen) To soak, to dip, to imbue, to infuse.
- Steep'ed (p. from steep) Soaked, imbrued, infused.
- Steep'er (adj. comp. of steep) Steep in a greater degree.
- Steep'est (adj. sup. of steep) Steep in the greatest degree.
- Steep'ing (p. a. from steep) Soaking, imbruing, infusing.
- Steep'ing (s. from the part.) The act of soaking, the act of infusing.
- Steep'ings (s.) A sort of gold coin, crocards. Phillips.
- STEEP'LE (s. from the Sax. steopl) The turret of a church.
- Steep'lehigh (adj. from steeple, and high) High as a steeple.
- Steep'ly (adv. from steep) With steepness.
- Steep'ness (s. from steep) The state or quality of being steep.
- Steep'y (adj. from steep, used in poetry) Steep, having quick ascent.
- STEER (s. from the Sax. styre) A young bullock.
- STEER (v. t. from the Sax. stearan) To direct, to guide in a passage.
- Steer (v. int.) To direct a course.
- Steer'age (s. from steer) The act of steering, that by which any course is guided, a regulation, a management; the hinder part of a ship.
- Steer'ed (p. from steer) Directed, guided in a course, managed, regulated.
- Steer'idge (s. a different spelling) Steerage.
- Steer'ing (p. a. from steer) Directing, guiding a course, managing, regulating.
- Steer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of guiding a course.
- Steer'less (adj. obsolete) Having no steerage.
- Steers'man (s. from steer, and man) A pilot.
- Steers'mate (s. from steer, and mate) A pilot, one who steers a ship.
- Steeve (v. int. a sea term) To be too much reclined, the bowsprit.
- Steeve (v. t. in commerce) To pack goods by pressing them into a bag or box with a screw.
- Steev'ed (p. from steeve) Pressed into a package with a screw.
- Steev'ing (p. a. from steeve) Reclining too much, the bowsprit.
- Steev'ing (p. a. from steeve) Pressing into a package by means of a screw.
- Steev'ing (s. from the part.) The method of pressing goods into a package by means of a screw.
- Steg (s. a local word) A gander.
- Steganog'raphist (s. from steganography) One who practises the art of secret writing.
- STEGANOGRAPHY (s. from the Greek στεγανος, secret, and γραφω to write) The art of writing in secret characters, the art of writing in cyphers intelligible to those who correspond with each other.
- STEGNO'SIS (s. from the Greek) An obstruction of the pores of the body, the suppression of any excretion.
- STEGNOT'IC (adj. from the Greek στεγνω to bind) Binding, astringent, coctive.
- Stegnot'ic (s. from the adj.) An astringent medicine, medicine to close the mouths of the vessels.
- Stegnot'ica (s. from stegnotic) Medicines of an astringent quality.
- Steick (v. t. a local word) To shut, to shut a door.
- Stein (s. an old word) The same.
- Steire (s. obsolete) The rudder, the palm, the rudder.
- Steke (v. t. a local word) To shut as a door.
- STELE (s. from the Sax. steia, but now become obsolete) A handle, a stalk.
- STEL'LA (s. from the Lat.) A star; the starfish.
- STEL'LA (s.) The name of a woman.
- Stel'lar (adj. from stella) Belonging to the stars, astral.
- STELLAR

S T E

STELLARIA (s. in botany) The corispermum.
STELLARIS (s. in botany) The ornithogallum.
STELLARY (adj. from stellar) Starry, stellar. Scott.
STELLATE (adj. not so common a word) Stellated. Scott.
STELLATE (adj. from stella) Painted in the manner in which a star is depicted; having leaves growing round a stalk as a centre.
STELLATE (adj. from stellate) Having rays in the manner of a depicted star, having leaves growing out of a stalk as a common centre.
STELLATION (s. from stella) The emission of light as from a star.
STELLUM (adj. an old word) Stored, contained. Bailey.
STELLUM (s. an incorrect spelling) The stilyards. Phillips.
STELLIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. stella a star, and ferre to bring) Having stars. Johnson.
STELLIFER (v. t. from the Lat. stella a star, and facio to make, but not used) To transform into a star, to place among the stars. Ch.
STELLIFER (p. from stellifer) Transformed into a star, placed among the stars.
STELLIFYING (p. a. from stellifer) Transforming into a star, placing among the stars.
STELLIO (s. in zoology) A kind of lizard.
STELLION (s. a different spelling) The stellio, a kind of spotted lizard.
STELLIONATE (s. a law term) A fraud in selling, the crime of selling what is not as though it were one's own.
STELLIOGRAPHY (s. from the Greek στήλη a pillar, and γραφή to write) An inscription on a pillar.
STEM (s. from the Lat. stemma) A stalk, a twig; family, a race, a generation; the prow, the fore part of a ship.
STEM (v. from the sub.) To oppose a current, to pass across or against the stream.
STEMMED (p. from stem) Opposed as a current, passed withstanding the stream.
STEMMING (p. a. from stem) Opposing a current, passing across or against a stream.
STEMMING (s. from the part.) The act of passing against a current.
STEMPIES (s. in mines) The cross pieces which are put into a frame of wood work to cure and strengthen a shaft.
STENCH (s. from the Sax. stencan) A stink, a bad smell; good smell. Dryden.
STENCH (v. t. from the sub.) To make to stink; to stench, to hinder to flow. Harvey.
STENCHED (p. from stench) Made to stink.
STENCHING (p. a. from stench) Making to stink.
STENERY (s. a different spelling) A stannary, a tin work. Cole.
STENO (s.) A man's name, a physician who first discovered the stenonian duct.
STENOCORIASIS (s. from the Greek) A disease in the apple of the eye.
STENOGRAPHIC (adj. from stenography) Belonging to stenography, done in short hand.
STENOGRAPHICAL (adj. from stenographic) Done in short hand, belonging to short hand.
STENOGRAPHY (s. from the Greek στενος short, and γραφή to write) The act of writing in short hand.
STENONIAN (adj. from Steno) Belonging to one of the stival ducts discovered by Steno.
STENOTHRACOS (s. from στενος strait, and θώραξ the breast) Persons subject to phthical affections from the narrowness of the chest.
STENT (s. from the Sax.) A limit, a bound.
STENTED (p. from stent) Bounded, limited.
STENTEN (v. t. obsolete) To stint, to limit. Chaucer.
STENTEN (v. int. obsolete) To cease, to give over. Chaucer.
STENTOR (s.) A man's name, a Grecian herald who was said to have had a voice as loud as fifty men. Homer.
STENTORIAN (adj. from Stentor) Loud, remarkably loud.
STENTOROPHONIC (adj. from Stentor, the Greek bell, and φωνή a voice) Speaking loud, sounding loud.
STEP (s. from the Sax. steap) A progressive motion effected by one remove of the foot, the space marked out by one advance of the foot; a stair, a hold for the foot; a footstep, a mark of the foot; a small length, a small space; a walk, a passage; a progressive act, an act of advancing; a gait, a manner of walking; an action, an instance of conduct.
STEP (v. int. from the sub.) To set one foot before the other, to advance by a sudden progression; to walk slowly, to walk gravely; to walk, to take a small walk; to move in thought, to move mentally.

S T E

STEP/DAME (s. from the Sax. steap a celebration by marriage, and dame a lady) A stepmother, a mother by marriage.
STEP/daughter (s. from the Sax. not much used) A daughter in law, a daughter by marriage.
STEP/father (s. from the Sax. not much used) A father in law, a father by marriage.
STE'PHANITIS (s. in botany) A kind of vine.
STE'PHEN (s.) A man's name; the protomartyr.
STEP/MOTHER (s. from the Sax. steap a celebration by marriage, and mother) A mother by marriage, a mother in law.
STEP'ping (p. a. from step) Putting one foot before the other, walking slowly, advancing by a sudden progression.
STEP'ping (s. from the part.) The act of putting one foot before the other, the act of going forwards by steps.
STEP'pingstone (s. from stepping, and stone) A stone laid to receive the foot in stepping over dirt or wet.
STEP'son (s. from the Sax. but not much used) A son in law, a son by marriage.
STER/brech (s. an old Sax. law term) The obstruction of a way. Cole.
STERCORA'ceous (adj. from stercus) Belonging to dung, consisting of dung.
STER'CORANIST (s. in church history, from stercus) One of a sect who believed that the sacramental bread and wine were so far digested as to have some part turned into excrements.
STERCORA'rious (adj. from stercus, but not used) Stercoraceous. Cole.
STER'corated (adj. from stercus) Dunged, manured.
STERCORA'tion (s. from stercus) The act of covering with dung, the act of manuring land.
STERCORA'nean (adj. from stercus, not used) Stercoraceous. Cole.
STERCORA'SUS (s. in physics) A kind of loosener.
STER'CUS (s. from the Lat.) Dung, manure for land.
STERCU'TIS, STERCU'TIUS (s. in beaten mythology) The supposed divinity who first taught the method of manuring land.
STERE (v. t. obsolete) To stir, to steer. Chaucer.
Stere (s. obsolete) The rudder of a ship, the steering. Chaucer.
STER'ed (adj. obsolete) Handled, dealt with. Cole.
STER'elefs (adj. an old word) Having no stern. Cole.
STEREOBA'TA, STEREOBA'TES (s. in architecture) The first part of a wall built on pillars; the groundwork on which the base of a pillar is set.
Stereograph'ic (adj. from stereography) Belonging to stereography, done according to the rules of stereography.
Stereograph'ical (adj. from stereographic) Belonging to stereography.
STEREOG'RAPHY (s. from the Greek στερεος solid, and γραφή to write) The act of describing solid bodies on a plane.
Stereometrical (adj. from stereometry) Belonging to stereometry.
STEREOMETRY (s. from the Greek στερεος solid, and μετρον to measure) The act of measuring solid bodies.
STEREOTOMY (s. from the Greek στερεος solid, and τέμνω to cut) The act of representing solid bodies in proper sections.
Sterfe (v. int. pret. obsolete) Dved, did dye. Chaucer.
STER'IL (adj. from the Lat. sterilis) Barren, unfruitful, wanting fecundity.
Steril'ity (s. from steril) Barrenness, unfruitfulness, want of fecundity.
Ster'ilize (v. t. from steril) To make barren, to deprive of fecundity.
Ster'ilized (p. from sterilize) Made barren, deprived of fecundity.
Ster'ilizing (p. a. from sterilize) Making barren, depriving of fecundity.
Ster'ilness (s. from steril) Sterility, barrenness. Scott.
Ster'isman (s. obsolete) A sterisman. Ch.
STER'LING (adj. supposed to be from the Easterlings, who were heretofore employed in coining) Belonging to the current coin, genuine, having passed the test.
Ster'ling (s. from the adj.) English money, current coin; a standard rate.
STER'LING (s. the derivation is not noted) An abutment of stone and timber to cut the water and preserve the pier of a bridge.
STERN (adj. from the Sax. styra) Severe of countenance; hard, afflictive; harsh, cruel.

STERN

- STERN (s. from the Sax. stean) The hinder part of the ship, the part where the rudder is fixed; the hinder part of any thing; direction, the post of management.
- Stern (s. a hunting term) The tail of a wolf, the tail of a greyhound.
- Stern (v. t. obsolete) To throw flat on the ground. Ch.
- Stern/chafe (s. from stern, and chafe) The guns placed on the stern of a ship; the method of pursuit exactly in the same course.
- Sterne (v. t. obsolete) To lay flat on the ground. Cole.
- Stern'er (adj. comp. of stern) Stern in a greater degree.
- Stern'est (adj. sup. of stern) Stern in the greatest degree.
- Stern/fast (s. from stern, and fast) A fastening in the hinder part of the ship.
- Stern'ly (adv. from stern) Severely, harshly, cruelly.
- Stern'most (adj. from stern, and most) Lying in the rear, farthest astern.
- Stern'ness (s. from stern) Severity of look, severity of manners.
- Sternohyoide's (s. in anatomy, from sternon, and hyoides) A pair of muscles which take their rise from the inner part of the clavicle and are inserted at the root of the hyoides. Scott.
- Sternohyoide'us (s. in anatomy, from sternon, and hyoides) One of the muscles described in the foregoing article. Dict. of Arts.
- STER'NON (s. in anatomy, from the Greek) The sternum, the breastbone.
- STERNOTHYROE'IDES (s. in anatomy, from sternon, and thyroides) A pair of muscles arising from the sternum and terminating in the thyroids. Scott.
- Sternothyroides (s. a different spelling) The pair of muscles described in the foregoing article. Pb.
- Stern/post (s. a sea term, from stern, and post) The large timber framed into the keel of a ship at the stern.
- Stern'sheets (s. a sea term) That part of a boat which lies behind the rowers and which is generally fitted up with seats for the accommodation of passengers.
- STER'NUM (s. in anatomy, from the Lat.) The sternum, the breastbone.
- STERNUTAMEN'TUM (s. with physicians) A medicine or powder to cause sneezing.
- STERNUTA'TION (s. from the Lat. sternuto to sneeze) The act of sneezing.
- Stern'nutative (adj. from sternutatio) Having the quality of sneezing, causing to sneeze.
- Stern'nutative (s. from the adj.) A medicine to promote sneezing.
- STERNUTATO'RIMUM (s. with physicians) A medicine or powder to promote sneezing.
- Stern'nutatory (adj. from sternutatorium) Having the quality of sneezing, causing to sneeze.
- Stern'nutat'ory (s. from the adj.) A medicine or powder to excite sneezing.
- Stern'way (s. from stern, and way) The method by which a ship retreats or falls back with her stern foremost.
- STE'ROPE (s. in astronomy) One of the Pleiades.
- STE'R'PES (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the Cyclops. Virgil.
- STERQUIL'INOUS (adj. from the Lat. sterquilinus) A dunghill, but not much used) Belonging to a dunghill. Coe.
- STERQUIL'INUS (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed divinity who first discovered the method of manuring land.
- STERQUIL'IUS (s. a different spelling) Sterquilinus.
- Sterre (s. an old spelling) A star. Ch.
- Stert, Sterte (v. int. obsolete) To escape; did escape. Chaucer.
- Stert'ling (adj. from stert, obsolete) Sudden, unexpected. Chaucer.
- Sterve (v. int. obsolete) To die. Spenser.
- STESICH'ORUS (s.) A man's name, a famous Sicilian poet who flourished about six hundred years before Christ.
- Ste'ven (s. obsolete) Sound, noise, a cry, a clamour. Sp.
- STE'VENAGE (s.) A town in Hertfordshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 31 miles from London.
- Ste'venage (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stevenage, made at Stevenage.
- Ste'vin (s. obsolete) A voice, a sound, a loud clamour. Chaucer.
- STEW (v. t. from the French estuver) To seeth, to boil any thing with a slow fire.
- Stew (v. int.) To boil over a slow fire.
- Stew (s. from the verb) A bagnio, a hothouse; a brothel, a house of prostitution.
- STEW (s. from the Dutch staven to store) A store pond where fish are kept for the table.
- STEW'ARD (s. from the Sax. stward) One who manages the affairs of another; an officer of state.
- Stew'ardship (s. from steward) The office of a steward.
- Stewe (s. obsolete) A small closet, a pond for fish.
- Stew'ed (p. from stew) Seethed, boiled over a slow fire, suffocated with warm or foul air.
- Stew'ing (p. a. from stew) Seething, boiling over a slow fire.
- Stew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seething, the act of boiling over a slow fire.
- Stey (v. int. obsolete) To stay; to mount.
- Stey (s. obsolete) A stair, a step.
- STEYN'ING (s.) A borough town in Sussex; it has a market on Wednesday, sends two members to parliament; and is 51 miles from London.
- Steyn'ing (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Steyn, made at Steyn.
- STHEN'ELUS (s.) A man's name, an intimate friend of Diomedes.
- STHENO (s.) One of the Gorgons.
- STHENOBA'E'A (s.) The wife of Proetus who fell in love with Bellerophon.
- Stib'ial (adj. from stibium) Antimonial.
- STIB'UUM (s. in natural history and medicine) Antimony.
- STIC'ADOS (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
- STICK (s. from the Sax. sticca) A small long piece of wood, a small tree, a staff to walk with generally its natural growth.
- STICK (v. t. from the Sax. sticcan) To fasten on with some glutinous matter, to fasten on so as to make adhere.
- Stick (v. int.) To adhere, to become united; to stick on the mind; to stop, to lose motion; to become perplexed, to be embarrassed, to scruple, to hesitate with at: as, "To stick at nothing." To stick out, to be prominent; to be unemployed, to keep out of employment.
- STICK (v. t. from the Sax. stician) To stab, to pierce to fix on a point, to fasten by transfixion; to stick with something pointed.
- Stick'ier (adj. comp. of sticky) Sticky in a greater degree.
- Stick'iest (adj. sup. of sticky) Sticky in the greatest degree.
- Stick'iness (s. from sticky) The quality of being adhesive, viscosity.
- Stick'ing (p. a. from stick) Adhering, uniting with stopping, resting in motion through the power of friction; doubting, hesitating; stabbing, piercing, transfixing, placing on some pointed body; fastening with something pointed.
- Stick'ing (s. from the part.) The act of adhering, stopping through friction, the act of piercing.
- Stick'le (v. int. from stick) To take part with one or other, to interpose as with sticks, to contend with a kind of pertinacity; to trim, to play fast and loose.
- Stick'le (s. a local word) A prickle.
- Stick'leback (s.) The name of a fish.
- Stick'lebag (s. an incorrect spelling) The stickleback, the smallest of fresh water fish.
- Stick'ler (s. from stickle) A sidesman to sencers, a fencer to a duellist; one who obstinately contends for a thing.
- Stick'lerlike (adj. from stickler, and like) Like a stickler. Shakespeare.
- Stick'ling (p. a. from stickle) Taking one side or other, contending with a kind of obstinacy.
- Stick'ling (s. from the part.) The act of contending with obstinacy.
- Stick'ly (adj. from stick) Viscous, adhesive, glutinous.
- STIC'TICUM (s. from the low Lat.) A sticking plaster, a plaster to close and heal a wound.
- STIFF (adj. from the Sax. stif) Rigid, inflexible; fixed; strong, hardy, stubborn; harsh, contrainformal, rigorous.
- Stiffen (v. t. from stiff) To make stiff, to make unpliant, to make obstinate, to make stubborn.
- Stiffen (v. int.) To grow stiff, to become rigid, to grow hard, to become less susceptible of impression.
- Stiffened (p. from stiffen) Made stiff.
- Stiffening (p. a. from stiffen) Making stiff.
- Stiffening (s. from the part.) The act of making that which makes stiff.
- Stiffer (adj. comp. of stiff) Stiff in a greater degree.

stiff (adj. sup. of stiff) Stiff in the greatest degree.
stubborn (adj. from stiff, and heart) Obstinate, stubborn, contumacious.
stiffly (adv. from stiff) Rigidly, inflexibly.
necked (adj. from stiff, and necked) Obstinate, unmanageable, rebellious.
stiffness (s. from stiff) Rigidity, inflexibility, tension, obstinacy, formality, harshness, want of ease in writing, want of freedom in style or composition.
streak (s. a local word) A strapping girl. Bailey.
stifle (v. t. from the French estouffer) To suffocate, to choke by closeness of air; to keep in, to hinder from action, to extinguish by artificial means; to suppress, to conceal.
stifle (s. in farriery) The first joint from the buttock of a horse.
stifled (p. from stifle) Suffocated, killed by closeness of air, repressed, kept in, suppressed, concealed; stifling the stifle put out.
stifling (p. a. from stifle) Suffocating, killing with closeness of air, repressing, concealing.
stifling (s. from stifle) The act of suffocating, a suffocation.
stifle joint (s. from stifle, and joint) The joint next the stock of a horse.
stiff (v. int. obsolete) Ascended, did ascend. Ch.
stygian (s. an incorrect spelling) Stygian. Cole.
stigma (s. from the Greek) A brand, a mark of disgrace, a mark with a hot iron.
stigmata (s. from stigma) The marks impressed on the human soldiers when they first entered the service; apertures on the bodies of some insects which serve the purposes of respiration.
stigmatic (adj. from stigma) Marked with some token of infamy.
stigmatic (s. from the adj.) One branded with some token of infamy. Shakespeare.
stigmatical (adj. from stigmatic) Branded with some token of infamy.
stigmaticalness (s. from stigmatical) The state of being branded with some token of infamy. Scott.
stigmatize (v. t. from stigma) To brand, to mark with some token of disgrace.
stigmatized (p. from stigmatize) Branded with some token of infamy.
stigmatizing (p. a. from stigmatize) Branding with some token of disgrace.
stigmatizing (s. from the part.) The act of branding with infamy.
stigmatism (s. from the Greek στυγμω marked with points, and μαγικα magic) Divination performed by writing on the bark of a tree.
stigmatist (s. with painters) A composition used for painting in oil or water.
stile (adj. from stile) Belonging to the stile of a dial.
stilet (s. in astronomy, from the Greek) The planet Mercury, so called on account of its scintillation.
stilet (s. from the French) The pin of a dial.
stilet (s. from the Sax. stigele) A set of steps or rails to go from one inclosure to another; an upright piece which goes from the bottom to the top in a piece of wood.
stilet (s. not so common a spelling) A manner of writing; stiletus, the ancient instrument of writing. Scott.
stiletto (s. from the Italian) A small kind of dagger.
stilo (s.) A man's name, a valiant Roman father the emperor Honorius.
stille (v. t. from the Sax. stillen) To quiet, to make calm, to calm, to appease; to make motionless.
stilled (adj. from the verb) Silent, uttering no noise; calm, motionless. stille (s. from the adj.) Calm, quietness.
stille (adv. from the Sax. stille) Till now, till this; nevertheless, notwithstanding; always, ever; that, in continuance.
still (s. from distill) An alembick, a vessel for distillation.
still (v. t. from distill, obsolete) To distil, to extract by distillation.
still (v. int.) To drop, to fall in drops. Craslow.
stillitious (adj. from the Lat. stillo to drop) Falling in drops, drawn by distillation.
still (s. from still) An alembick; the room in which distillation is performed.
stillborn (adj. from still, and born) Born without life, in the birth.
stillbottom (s. from still, and bottom) that which remains in the bottom of the still after the operation is ended.

Stille (adj. obsolete) Quiet, still. Ch.
Stilled (p. from still) Made quiet, calmed, appeased; drawn by distillation.
Stilllet (s. in botany) The style.
Stilletto (s. a different spelling) The stiletto. Scott.
Stillhouse (s. from still, and house) The house in which distillation is performed.
Stilliards (s.) The Roman beam.
STILLICIDE (s. from the Lat. stillicidium) A succession of drops.
Stillicious (adj. from stillicide) Falling in drops.
Stillicious (adj. a different spelling) Stillicious. Cole.
Stillling (p. a. from still) Making quiet, calming, appeasing; drawing by distillation.
Stillling (s. from the part.) The act of quieting, the act of distillation; the frame of wood on which vessels are supported in a cellar.
Stillness (s. from still) A calm, quietness; silence.
Stillstand (s. from still, and stand) A cessation of motion. Scott.
Stillly (adv. from still) Silently, quietly; calmly, without tumult.
STILPON (s.) A man's name, an ancient philosopher master to Zeno.
STILTS (s. from the Sax. stælean) Supports on which boys raise themselves and walk.
STIMULA (s. in heathen mythology) A goddess among the Romans who was supposed to invite people to arduous and daring enterprises.
STIMULATE (v. t. from the Lat. stimulo to prick) To prick, to urge forward, to excite by some pungent quality; to excite a quick sensation.
Stimulated (p. from stimulate) Pricked, urged forward; excited by some pungent quality.
Stimulating (p. a. from stimulate) Pricking, urging forward, exciting by some pungent quality.
Stimulation (s. from stimulate) Excitement, pungency.
STING (v. t. from the Sax. stengan) To pierce or wound with an envenomed point; to pain acutely.
Sting (s. from the verb) A sharp venomous point with which some animals are armed; any thing that gives pain; the point in the last verse of an epigram.
Stingier (adj. comp. of stingy, the g is soft) Stingy in a greater degree.
Stingiest (adj. sup. of stingy, the g is soft) Stingy in the greatest degree.
Stingily (adv. from stingy, the g is soft) With stinginess.
Stinginess (s. from stingy, the g soft) Covetousness, nearness, meanness.
Stinging (p. a. from sting) Wounding with a sting, giving acute pain.
Stinging (s. from the part.) The act of wounding with a sting.
Stingless (adj. from sting) Having no sting.
Stingo (s. a cant word) Old beer, strong beer.
STINGY (adj. supposed to be of cant derivation, the g is soft) Covetous, avaricious, greedy.
STINK (v. int. from the Sax. stincan) To emit an offensive smell.
Stink (s. from the verb) An offensive smell.
Stinkard (s. from stink) A mean paltry fellow.
Stinkier (s. from stink) One that stinks, something that offends by the smell.
Stinking (p. a. from stink) Sending forth an ill smell, offending the smell.
Stinking (s. from the part.) An offensive smell.
Stinkingly (adv. from stinking) With an offensive smell.
Stinkingness (s. from stinking) The state of emitting an offensive smell. Scott.
Stinkpot (s. from stink, and pot) An artificial composition offensive to the smell.
STINT (v. t. from the Swedish stinta) To limit, to restrain, to stop.
Stint (s. from the verb) A limit, a bound, a proportion, a quantity assigned.
Stint (v. int.) To cease, to give over. Ch.
Stinted (p. from stint) Limited, bounded, proportioned.
Stinting (p. a. from stint) Limiting, bounding, proportioning.
Stinting (s. from the part.) The act of limiting, the act of proportioning the right of common.
STIPONY (s. with physicians) A disease within the eyelid.

S T I

STIPATION (s. from the Lat. stipa to fill close) The act of guarding, the act of surrounding. Bailey.
STIPEND (s. from the Lat. stipendium) A salary, a settled pay, wages.
STIPENDIAL (adj. from stipend) Belonging to a stipend. Co.
STIPENDIARY (adj. from stipend) Receiving a stipend, relating to a stipend.
STIPENDIARY (s. from the adj.) One who receives a stipend.
STIPONE (s. from the Lat. stipa to fill up) A kind of sweet compound liquor drank in hot weather. Phil.
STIPONY (s. from stipone) The stipone, the liquor described in the foregoing article. Bailey.
STIPTIC (adj. from the Greek στυπτικός) Astringent, having the power to stanch blood.
STIPTIC (s. from the adj.) An astringent medicine, a medicine to stop blood.
STIPTICAL (adj. from stiptic) Astringent, having power to stop blood.
STIPTICALNESS (s. from stiptical) The quality of being stiptical. Scott.
STIPTICNESS (s. from stiptic) The quality of being stiptical. Scott.
STIPULATE (v. int. from the Lat. stipulor) To contract, to bargain, to settle terms; with with, and for: as, "She stipulated with him for the loss of her reputation."
STIPULATING (p. a. from stipulate) Contracting, bargaining.
STIPULATION (s. from stipulate) A contract, a bargain.
STIR (v. t. from the Sax. stirian) To move, to move out of its place; to agitate, to bring into debate; to incite, to instigate. To stir up, to incite, to put into action.
STIR (v. int.) To move one's self, to go out of place; to appear, to come into notice; to rise in the morning.
STIR (s. from the verb) A tumult, a bustle; a commotion, an uproar; an agitation, a conflict of passion.
STIR/ICIDE (s. from the Lat. stiria an icicle, and cado to fall) The dropping of icicles. Cole.
STIR/IOUS (adj. from the Lat. stiria) Resembling icicles.
Stirk (s. a local word) A stirk, a young bullock. Phil.
STIR/LING (s.) A parliament town in Scotland; a county in Scotland.
STIRP (s. from the Lat. stirps) A race, a family. Bacon.
Stir/red (p. from stir) Moved, put out of place; agitated, brought into debate.
Stir/er (s. from stir) One that stirs; with up: as, "A stirrer up of quarrels."
Stir/ing (p. a. from stir) Moving, putting out of place; agitating, bringing into debate.
Stir/ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving; the second ploughing, the land to be ploughed a second time.
Stir/rop (s. not so correct a spelling) A stirrup.
STIR/RUP (s. from the Sax. stirap) An iron hoop in which the horseman sets his foot when he mounts or rides.
Stir/rupglass (s. from stirrup, and glass) The glass drank on horseback at parting.
Stir/rupstocking (s. from stirrup, and stocking) A stocking to be drawn over another to keep the leg warm and dry in riding.
Stir/rupstrap (s. from stirrup, and strap) The strap of leather by which the stirrup is suspended.
STITCH (v. from the Danish stike) To sew, to work on with a needle; to join, to unite; to mend; with up; as, "To stitch up his life again."
Stitch (v. int.) To practise needlework.
Stitch (s. from the verb) A pair of the needle and thread through any thing; a furrow in ploughing. Chapm.
STITCH (s. from the Sax. stician) A sharp sudden pain.
Stitch (s. a cant word, from the verb) A tailor.
Stitch/ed (p. from stitch) Sewed, united, mended by sewing.
Stitch/ery (s. from stitch) Needlework in contempt.
Stitch/fallen (adj. from stitch, and fallen) Appearing as though a stitch had given way, hanging loose. Dry.
Stitch/ing (p. a. from stitch) Sewing, working on with the needle, uniting, mending with a needle.
Stitch/ing (s. from the part.) The act of sewing; a particular method of working with the needle, work in which the stitches are made to appear by way of ornament.
Stitch/wort (s. in botany) The camomile.
Stith (s. obsolete) An anvil. Chaucer.
Stithe (adj. a local word) Strong, stiff. Cole.
STITHE (s.) A disorder of the eyelid. Dict. of Arts.
Stith'y (s. obsolete) A smith's anvil. Shakespeare.

S T O

Stith'y (s. with coruleaches) A disease in oxen.
Stith'y (v. t. from the sub. obsolete) To bear on a vil.
Stit/tieback (s. in ichthyology) The name of a small fish.
Stive (v. t. supposed to be from stew) To stuff up to make hot, to make sultry.
Sti'ved (p. from stive) Made close, made hot or stifled.
STIVER (s.) A Dutch coin in value about one penny.
Stives (s. obsolete) The stews.
STIVES (s. in ancient geography) The inhabitants of Thebes, the ancient Thebans.
Sti'ving (p. a. from stive) Making close, suffocating, want of free air.
Sto'age (s. an incorrect spelling) Stowage.
Stoak'ed (adj. a sea term) Stock d. stopped; beyond reach of the pump as water in the hold.
Stoak'er (s. in a brew-house) One who looks after the fire.
Stoat (s. in zoology) An animal of the ferret kind, remarkable for an offensive smell.
STO'BEA (s. in botany) The knapweed.
Stob'ill (s. an old spelling) Stubble.
STO'CAH (s. from the Erie stock) An attendant, who waits on foot on one that rides.
STOCCA'DO (s. from the Italian stocco a rapier) Thrust with a rapier.
STOCCA'TA (s. from the Italian) A thrust in a rapier.
STOCK (s. from the Sax. stoc) The trunk, the body of a plant; the trunk into which the graft is inserted; a post; a stupid fellow; a race, a lineage, a family; the handle of any thing, the support of a ship or building; a kind of crevat, a close neckcloth; principal, the capital store; a quantity; a fund established by government; the remainder of a pack of cards after the deal.
STOCK (s. from the Italian stocco a rapier) A thrust with a rapier.
Stock (v. t. from the sub.) To store, to lay in a store; to root up, to strike with a pointed instrument; to be in the stocks.
STOCK/BIDGE (s.) A borough town in Hampshire, has a small market on Thursday, sends two members to parliament, and is 67 miles from London.
Stock/bridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stockbridge, made at Stockbridge.
Stock/dove (s. in ornithology) The ringdove, the pigeon.
Stock/drawers (s. a cant word) Stockings.
Stock'ed (p. from stock) Stored, sufficiently rooted up, struck with a pointed instrument; in the stocks.
Stock/en (s. in the cyder counties) The name of an apple.
Stock/fish (s. an unusual spelling) Stockfish. D. W.
Stock/fish (s. from stock, and fish) Dried cod to call account of its hardness.
Stockgillyflower (s. in botany) The name of a plant, leucolum.
STOCKHO/LM (s.) The capital of Sweden.
Stock'id (adj. obsolete) Imprisoned.
Stock'ing (p. a. from stock) Storing, filling; with up; putting the legs in the stocks.
Stock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing a stock; a hose, a covering for the leg.
Stock'ing (v. t. from the sub.) To dress in stockings.
Stock/inged (p. from stocking) Dressed in stockings.
Stock/ingframe (s. from stocking, and frame) The frame in which stockings are woven.
Stock/ingweaver (s. from stocking, and weaver) whose business is to weave stockings.
Stock/jobber (s. from stock, and jobber) One who manages the public funds.
Stock/jobbing (s. from stock, and jobbing) Trading in the public funds, the business of a stockjobber.
Stock'ish (adj. from stock) Hard, blockish.
Stock/lock (s. from stock, and lock) A lock of wood.
STOCK/PORT (s.) A town in Cheshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 175 miles from London.
Stock/port (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stockport, made at Stockport.
Stocks (s. seldom used in the singular) A prison for debtors; the supports of a ship while building.
Stocksi'l (adj. from stock, and still) Motionless, stock.
STOCK/TON (s.) A town in the bishoprick of Durham; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 248 miles from London.
Stock/ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stockton, made at Stockton.

(s. a different spelling) A stud, a stock of breeding Phillips.

ST (s. in botany) The knapweed.

STADOS (s. in botany) The cottonweed.

STACHOS (s. in botany) The cottonweed, the lavan-

STOIC (s. from the Greek στωικος a σοα a porch) A philosopher who followed the sect of Zeno, and held neutrality of all external things; one who extirpates or pretends to extirpate the passions, one who is all things indifferent.

STOIC (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the Stoics, holding all things indifferent, void of passions, destitute of all feelings.

STOIC (adj. from stoic) Belonging to the Stoics, void of passions.

STOICNESS (s. from stoical) The state of being stoical, want of mental feelings.

STOICISM (s. from stoic) The maxims or opinions of the Stoics.

STOIKER (s. a different spelling) A stoaker, one who attends to a brewhouse.

STOKESLEY (s.) A town in the north riding of Yorkshire, it has a market on Saturday, and is 238 miles from London.

STOKESLEY (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stokesley, at Stokesley.

STOLA (s. from the Lat. stola) A robe, a long vest; a robe, a priest's vestment.

STOLE (v. t. pret. of steal) Did steal.

STOLEN (p. from steal) Taken by stealth.

STULTUS (adj. from the Lat. stultus a fool) Foolish, stupid, Scott.

STUPIDITY (s. from stolid) Stupidity, foolishness. Bentley.

STUPIDITY (s. from stolid) Stupidity, want of sense. Sc.

STUPIDITY (adj. a local word) Dirty, confused. Bailey.

STOMACH (s. from the Greek στωμαχος) The mouth, the opening of a vein or other vessel.

STOMACH (s. from the Greek στωμα a mouth, and χωμα bad) A fore mouth, soreness in the gums.

STOMACH (s. from the Greek στωμαχος) The ventricle in which the food is digested; an appetite, a desire of food, an inclination, liking; anger, resolution; fullness, resentment; pride, haughtiness.

STOMACH (v. t. from the sub.) To resent, to remember anger and resentment.

STOMACH (v. int.) To be angry.

STOMACH (p. from stomach) Resented, remembered resentment.

STOMACH (s. from stomach) An ornamental covering by ladies on the breast.

STOMACHFUL (adj. from stomach) Sullen, stubborn, per-

STOMACHFULNESS (s. from stomachful) Stubbornness, ob-

STOMACHIC (s. with physicians) The stomachic fever.

STOMACHIC (adj. from stomach) Belonging to the stomach, good for the stomach.

STOMACHIC (s. from the adj.) A medicine for the stomach.

STOMACHIC (adj. from stomachic) Belonging to the stomach, pertaining to the stomach.

STOMACHIC (adj. the less morning spelling) Stomachic. Harvey.

STOMACHIC (s. from stomachic) The quality of being stomachic. Scott.

STOMACHICUM (s. from the Lat.) A stomachic.

STOMACHIC (adj. from stomach) Wanting an appetite, little appetite.

STOMACHIC (s. from stomach, but not used) Indigestion, anger. Bailey.

STOMACHIC (adj. from stomach, but now grown obsolete) Stomachful, sullen, obstinate. Spenser.

STOMACHIC (s. from stomach, and skin) A disease in the skin of fowls.

STOMACHIC (s. in anatomy) The gula, the upper opening of the stomach.

STOMACHIC (s. in natural history) A genus of simple STOMACHIC (adj. from stoma) Belonging to the mouth, pertaining to the fauces; having a fore mouth.

STOMACHIC (s. from stomachic) Medicines for the mouth.

STOMACHIC (adj. the less modern spelling) Stomatic. Cole.

STOMACHIC (v. int. an obsolete spelling) To stand.

STOMACHIC (s. from the verb) A stand, a station. Bacon.

STOMACHIC (s. from the Sax. ston) A substance generated in earth, hard, insipid, neither ductile, malleable nor soluble in water or oil; a fragment of a rock or stone prepared for building; a concretion in the bladder or kidneys, a calculus; the case in which some fruits contain the seed; a testicle; a gem, a precious stone; a denomination of weight, a weight of fourteen pounds. To leave no stone unturned, to try every expedient, to do all that can be done.

STONE (adj. from the sub.) Made of stone, producing stone.

STONE (adv. from the sub. sometimes used in composition) Quite, very; as a stone. "She is stone dead."

STONE (v. t. from the sub.) To pelt with stones, to kill with stones; to harden.

STONE (s.) A town in Staffordshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 140 miles from London.

STONE (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stone, made at Stone.

STONEBLIND (adj. from stone, and blind) Quite blind.

STONEBREAK (s. in botany) The name of an herb, faxifraga.

STONECHATTER (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

STONECROP (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

STONECUTTER (s. from stone, and cutter) One whose business is to hew stones.

STONED (p. from stone) Pelted with stones, killed with stones.

STONEDEAD (adj. from stone, and dead) Quite dead.

STONEDOUBLET (s. a cant word) A prison.

STONEFALCON (s.) A kind of hawk, a hawk that builds on a rock.

STONEFLY (s. from stone, and fly) The May fly.

STONEFRUIT (s. from stone, and fruit) Fruit which contains the seed in a stone.

STONEHAMMER (s. from stone, and hammer) The hammer with which a mason breaks stones.

STONEHAWK (s. from stone, and hawk) The stone falcon.

STONEHORSE (s. from stone, and horse) A horse that has not been gelded, the male of the mare.

STONEMAFON (s. from stone, and mason) A mason who works in stone.

STONEMORTAR (s. from stone, and mortar) A kind of mortar in which stones are laid.

STONEPIT (s. from stone, and pit) A pit out of which stones are dug.

STONEPITCH (s. from stone, and pitch) A hard kind of pitch.

STONEPlover (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

STONEQUARRY (s. from stone, and quarry) A stonepit.

STONEMICK (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

STONEMICKLE (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

STONEMICK (s. from stone, and wall) A wall built of stone.

STONENETWORK (s. from stone, and work) Work done in stone, a building of stone.

STONGID (v. t. the old pret. of sting) Did sting, stung. Ch.

STONIED (adj. obsolete) Astonished, confounded. Chau.

STONIER (adj. comp. of stony) Stony in a greater degree.

STONIEST (adj. sup. of stony) Stony in the greatest degree.

STONINESS (s. from stony) The state of being stony.

STONING (p. a. from stone) Pelting with stones, killing with stones; making hard, laying with stones.

STONING (s. from the part.) The act of pelting or killing with stones.

STONT (v. int. old pret. of stand) Did stand. Chaucer.

STONY (adj. from stone) Full of stones, abounding with stones; made of stone; hard, inflexible.

STOOD (v. int. pret. of stand) Did stand.

STOOD (adj. a local word) Having the ears cropped, cropped. Bailey.

STOOK (s. a country word) A shock of corn, twelve sheaves of corn.

STOOK (v. t. from the sub.) To set sheaves of corn in shocks.

STOOKED (p. from stook) Set up as corn in shocks.

STOOKING (p. a. from stook) Setting up corn in shocks.

STOOL (s. from the Sax. stal) A seat without a back, a seat for one person without a back; an evacuation downwards, an evacuation procured by a purgative medicine, that which is evacuated at one motion downward. The stool of repentance, the cutty stool in the kirk of Scotland; a state of uneasiness arising from a sense of misconduct.

STOOLBALL (s. from stool, and ball) A play in which a ball is driven from one stool to another.

STOOM (v. t. with wine coopers) To impregnate wines by putting bags of herbs or other ingredients into them.

STOOMED (p. from stoom) Impregnated as wines by having bags of herbs or other ingredients put into them.

STOOMING (p. a. from stoom) Impregnating wines by putting putting bags of herbs or other ingredients into them.

STO

Stoo'ming (s. from the part.) The method or process of impregnating wines by putting bags of herbs or other ingredients into them.
STOOP (v. int. from the Sax. stupian) To bend down, to bend forward; to lean forward in standing or walking; to yield, to submit; to condescend, to descend from rank or dignity; to sink to a lower place, to come down, to alight from the wing, to descend as a hawk on the prey.
stoop (s. from the verb) The act of stooping, an inclination downwards; a condescension, a descent from dignity; the fall of a bird on its prey.
STOOP (s. from the Sax. stoppa) A vessel of liquor; two quarts in measure.
Stoop'ing (p. a. from stoop) Bending forward; yielding; alighting from the wing, descending as a bird on its prey; condescending.
Stooping (s. from the part.) The act of bending forward, the act of bending down.
Stoop'ingly (adv. from stooping) With inclination downwards.
STOP (v. t. from the Dutch stoppen) To hinder from going forward, to hinder from action, to suppress, to obstruct, to regulate musical strings with the fingers, to close any aperture.
Stop (v. int.) To cease to go forward.
Stop (s. from the verb) A cessation of motion, an obstruction, a hinderance of action, an interruption, a pause, a prohibition; the instrument by which the sounds in wind music are regulated, a regulation of musical sounds by the fingers; a pause, a point in writing; a failure in trade.
Stop'cock (s. from stop, and cock) A pipe stopped by a turning cock.
Stop'er (s. a sea term, and different spelling) A stopper, the piece of cable which stops the hiliards. D. of A.
Stop'in (adj. obsolete) Advanced, far gone in years. Ch.
Stop'page (s. from stop) The act of stopping, the state of being stopped.
Stop'ped (p. from stop) Hindered from proceeding, obstructed, closed as an aperture.
Stop'per (s. from stop) A stopple; a piece of cable to stop the hiliards on board a ship.
Stop'ping (p. a. from stop) Hindering from proceeding, obstructing, closing up an aperture.
Stop'ping (s. from the part.) The act of making a stop.
Stop'ple (s. from stop) That by which the mouth of a vessel is stopped, that by which a hole is filled up.
Sto'rage (s. from store) A place in which stores are laid up; the hire paid for storing goods in a warehouse.
STORAX (s. in botany and medicine) The name of a sweet scented tree growing in Syria, the gum of the tree.
Sto'raxtree (s. in botany) The storax.
STORE (s. from the Runic stor) A large quantity, a large number, plenty; a stock, a hoarded supply; a storehouse, a magazine; account, value.
Store (adj. from the sub.) Provided for time to come, laid up.
Store (v. t. from the sub.) To stock against after time, to furnish, to replenish; to lay up, to hoard.
Sto'red (p. from store) Stocked against after time, furnished, provided, laid up, hoarded.
Sto'rehouse (s. from store, and house) A magazine, a place where stores are laid up.
Sto'rekeeper (s. from store, and keeper) One that takes care of stores.
Sto'rer (s. from store) One that stores, one that lays up.
Sto'reroom (s. from store, and room) The room on board a ship where stores are kept; a place where stores are kept.
STOR'GE (s. from the Greek στήνη) Natural affection, parental instinct.
Sto'riall (adj. obsolete) Historical, opposed to fabulous. Ch.
Sto'ried (p. from story) Related in story, ornamented with historical pictures; ranged as stories one under another.
Sto'rier (s. from store) The fry of young fish; young pigs to be fatted. Scott.
Sto'ring (p. a. from store) Providing for some future time, furnishing, replenishing; hoarding, laying up.
Sto'ring (s. from the part.) The act of laying up in store.
STORK (s. in ornithology) A bird of passage famous for the regularity of its departure.
Stork'bill (s. from stork, and bill) An instrument of surgery; the name of a plant.
STORM (s. from the Sax.) A tempest, a commotion of the elements; an assault on a fortified place; violence, vehemence; commotion, tumult; affliction, calamity.

STO

Storm (v. t. from the sub.) To attack by open force.
Storm (v. int.) To raise tempests; to rage, to fume.
Storm'bird (s. in ornithology) The procellaria, a bird that takes shelter in ships against a storm.
Storm'ed (p. from storm) Attacked by open force.
Storm'fish (s.) The stormbird. Dict. of A.
Storm'ier (adj. comp. of stormy) Stormy in a greater degree.
Storm'iest (adj. sup. of stormy) Stormy in the greatest degree.
Storm'iness (s. from stormy) The state of being stormy.
Storm'ing (p. a. from storm) Raising tempests, attacking by open force; raging, fuming.
Storm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of attacking by open force.
Stor'my (adj. from storm) Tempestuous; violent, furious.
STORT'FORD (s.) A town in Hertfordshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 30 miles from London.
Stort'ford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stortford, made at Stortford.
STORY (s. from the Greek ιστορία history) A short history, an account of things past; an idle tale, a fiction.
STORY (s. from the Sax. storm a place) A floor, a floor of rooms.
Sto'ry (v. t. from the sub.) To tell in history, to relate to make floors, to range one under another.
Sto'rying (p. a. from story) Relating in story; ranging one floor under another.
Sto'ryteller (s. from story, and teller) One who tells stories, an historian in contempt.
Sto'rytelling (s. from story, and telling) The act or practice of telling stories.
Sto'rywriter (s. from story, and write) A writer of stories.
Sto'rywriting (s. from story, and write) The practice of writing stories.
Stot (s. obsolete) A young horse; a young bullock.
Stot'al (s. an old spelling) Scotale.
STOTE (s. from the Sax. stād) A young horse, a young bullock; a kind of stinking ferret.
STOVE (s. from the Sax. stofa) A hot house, a place made warm; a close place in which fire is made; a place by which heat is communicated.
Stove (v. t. from the sub.) To keep warm in a place artificially heated.
Sto'ved (p. from stove) Kept warm in a house or place artificially heated.
Sto'ver (s. a local word) Straw, fodder for cattle.
Sto'ving (p. a. from stove) Warming in a stove.
Sto'ving (s. from stove) The act of warming in a stove.
Stound (v. int. from the islandick stunde to grieve) To be in pain, to be in sorrow, to be stupefied.
Stound (s. from the verb, retained in the Scotch dialect) Sorrow, grief; astonishment, amazement; time, season.
Stound (s. a local word) A vessel that stands on one end.
Stound, Stounde (s. obsolete) A small space, a moment.
Stound'emele (adj. obsolete) Various, changeable, compounded by turns.
STOUR (s. from the Sax. sturan to disturb, to stir) An assault, an incursion, a tumult.
Stoure (s. obsolete) A fight, an assault.
STOUT (adj. from the Dutch) Strong, valiant; bold; strong, firm; obstinate, pertinacious.
Stout (s. a cant word) Strong beer.
Stout'er (adj. comp. of stout) Stout in a greater degree.
Stout'est (adj. sup. of stout) Stout in the greatest degree.
Stoutheart'ed (adj. from stout, and heart) Bold, courageous.
Stout'ly (adv. from stout) Boldly, firmly, obstinately.
Stout'ness (s. from stout) Strength, fortitude, boldness, obstinacy.
STOW (v. t. from the Sax. stow a place) To lay in any place, to reposit in order so to make the best use of the room.
STOW (s. from the Sax. signifying a place) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 88 miles from London.
STOW (s.) A town in Suffolk; it has a market on Thursday, and is 75 miles from London.
Stow (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stow, made at Stow.
Stow'age (s. from stow) Room for laying up, the act of being laid up in close order.
STOWE (s. from the Sax. stow) A place, a village.
Stow'ed (p. from stow) Laid up in close order.
Stow'er (s. obsolete) Trouble, contest, mishap.
STOW'EY (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 150 miles from London.

Stowey (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stowey, made at Stowey.

Stowing (p. a. from stow) Laying up in close order.

Stowing (s. from the part.) The act of laying up in close order.

Stwk (s. a local word) A handle.

Stwr (s. a local word) A stake for a hedge; a round of ladder.

Strabism (s. from strabismus) The act of squinting.

STRABISMUS (s. from the Greek στραβισμος) A distortion of the eyes, the act of looking askint; a kind of mask to cure squinting.

STRABO (s.) The name of a man, a famous stoic philosopher and accurate geographer.

Straddle (v. int. supposed to be from stride) To stand with the feet wide from each other, to walk with the feet wider than common.

Straddling (p. a. from straddle) Standing with the feet wide, walking with the feet wider than usual.

Straddling (s. from the part.) The act of standing or walking with the feet wider than usual.

STRAGGLE (v. int. the derivation is not known) To wander without any certain direction, to ramble, to rove; to wander dispersedly, to stand single, to be at distance from the main body; to exuberate, to shoot luxuriantly.

Straggler (s. from straggle) One that straggles, any thing that stands single, any thing that shoots too far.

Straggling (p. a. from straggle) Wandering, roving, rambling, shooting luxuriantly, standing alone.

Straggling (s. from the part.) The act of wandering without any certain direction.

Strake (s. perhaps from streak) A plate of iron for the wheel of a carriage.

Strake (adj. from the Dutch strack) Having no curve, straight, going as in a direct line; narrow, close; but this sense is judged improper.

Strake (adv. from the adj.) Immediately, directly. "It strake takes fire."

Straken (v. t. from strake) To make straight.

Straken (p. from strake) Made straight.

Straking (p. a. from straken) Making straight.

Straking (s. from the part.) The act of making straight.

Straiter (adj. comp. of strait) Strait in a greater degree.

Straitest (adj. sup. of strait) Strait in the greatest degree.

Straitness (s. from strait) The state of being strait, the contrary to crookedness.

Strights (s. in commerce) A kind of narrow kersey cloth.

Strightway (adv. from strait, and way) Immediately, presently.

Strightways (adv. from straitway) Straightway, presently.

Strain (v. t. from the French estraindre) To purify by filtration, to filter, to purify by passing through a cloth or sieve; to squeeze in an embrace; to put to the utmost stretch, to push beyond the proper extent; to make strait, to make tense; to sprain, to weaken by too much violence; to force, to constrain.

Strain (v. int.) To make violent efforts, to pass in filtration.

Strain (s. from the verb) A sprain, an injury by too much violence, a force, a constraint.

Strain (s. from the Sax. streng) A race, a generation, descent; a style or manner of speaking; a song, a tale, a sound; a rank, a character; a turn, a tendency.

Strained (p. from strain) Filtered, purified by passing through a cloth or sieve; sprained, injured by violence; forced, constrained.

Strainer (s. from strain) That through which any thing is strained.

Straining (p. a. from strain) Purifying by filtration, injuring by violent tension, forcing, constraining.

Straining (s. from the part.) The act of filtration, the act of injuring by a too violent tension.

Strait (adj. from the French estroit) Narrow, close, confined; strict, rigorous; difficult, distressful; intimate, closely connected; having no curve, proceeding in a direct line; but this sense is judged improper. Never.

Strait (s. from the adj.) A narrow pass, a strith; distress, difficulty.

Strait (v. t. from the sub.) To bring into difficulties.

Strait (p. from strait) Put to difficulties.

Strait (v. t. from strait) To make narrow, to contract, to confine, to make tight; to distress, to perplex.

Straitened (p. from strait) Made narrow, contracted, confined, made tight.

Straitening (p. a. from straiten) Making narrow, contracting, confining, making tight.

Straitening (s. from the part.) The act of making narrow, the act of making tight.

Strait'er (adj. comp. of strait) Strait in a greater degree.

Strait'est (adj. sup. of strait) Strait in the greatest degree.

Strait'laced (adj. from strait, and lace) Stiff, constrained, wanting freedom.

Strait'ly (adv. from strait) Narrowly, strictly, rigorously, closely, intimately.

Strait'ness (s. from strait) Narrowness; strictness, distress, difficulty.

Strait'way (adv. from strait, and way, but not so correct a spelling) Straightway, immediately.

Strake (v. t. the old pret. of strike) Struck, did strike. Acts 28.

Strake (s. from streak) One of the plates of iron with which a wheel is bound; a seam between two planks on the side of a ship; the breadth of a plank on a ship's side.

Strake (v. t. obsolete) To stretch, to lay open. Chau.

Strak'ed (adj. from strake) Having strakes, marked with lines. Scott.

STRAMO'NIA (s. in botany) The thorn apple, the apple of Peru.

STRAMONIOIDES (s. in botany) The stramonium.

STRAMO'NIUM (s. in botany) The datura, a kind of nightshade.

STRAND (s. from the Sax.) The verge of the sea, that part of the shore which is washed by the water.

Strand (v. t. from the sub.) To drive in the shallows.

Strand (s. with sailors) The twist of a rope.

Strand'ed (p. from strand) Driven on the shore, driven on the strand.

Strand'ing (p. a. from strand) Driving a ship on the shore.

Strand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of driving a ship on the shore.

Strand'runner (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird that runs and feeds on the strand.

Strand'y (adj. an old word) Restive, passionate. Bailey.

STRANGE (adj. from the Lat. extraneus) Foreign, belonging to another; wonderful, causing wonder; odd, irregular; remote, unknown; uncommonly good or bad; unacquainted, wanting familiarity, reserved, unfociable.

Strange (interj. from the adj.) Expressive of wonder.

Strange (v. int. from the adj. but not used) To wonder, to be in astonishment; with at: as, "Which we strange not at." Glanville.

Stran'gely (adv. from strange) In a strange manner, with respect to strangers, wonderfully.

Stran'geness (s. from strange) The state of being foreign, remoteness, shyness, mutual dislike; the state of being odd, the state of being wonderful.

Stran'ger (s. from strange) A foreigner, one of another country, one unknown; a guest, a visitant; one not admitted to intimacy, one not admitted to close fellowship.

Stran'ger (adj. comp. of strange) Strange in a greater degree.

Stran'ger (v. t. from the adj.) To estrange, to alienate.

Stran'gered (p. from stranger) Estranged, alienated; with with: as, "Strangered with an oath." Shake.

Stran'gest (adj. sup. of strange) Strange in the greatest degree.

STRANG'FORD (s.) A town in Ireland in the county of Down and province of Ulster.

STRAN'GLE (v. t. from the Lat. strangulo) To choke, to suffocate, to kill by stopping the breath; to suppress, to hinder from appearing.

Stran'gled (p. from strangle) Choaked, suffocated, suppressed.

Stran'gler (s. from strangle) One that strangles.

Stran'gles (s. in farriery) A swelling in a horse's throat.

Stran'gleweed (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Stran'gling (p. a. from strangle) Choking, suffocating, killing by stopping the breath, suppressing.

Stran'gling (s. from strangle) The act of killing by stopping the breath, death by stopping the breath.

Strangulation (s. from strangle) The act of strangling, the state of being strangled.

STRAN'GURY (s. from the Greek στραγγα a drop, and urogen) A difficulty in making water, a painful obstruction of the urinary passages.

STRANRA'ER (s.) A parliament town in Scotland in the shire of Galloway.

S T R

STRAP (s. from the Dutch stroppe) A narrow long strip of cloth or leather.
Strap (v. t. from the sub.) To beat as with a strap. Scott.
Strappa'do (s. from strap) A chastisement by blows. Shakespeare.
Strap'ped (p. from strap, a colloquial word) Beaten as with a strap.
Strap'ping (p. a. from strap, colloquial) Beating as with a strap.
Strap'ping (adj. a cant word) Large, huge, bulky with slight contempt. Johnson.
Strata (s. plu. of stratum) Beds, layers.
STRAT'AGEM (s. from the Greek στρατημα) An artifice in war, a trick by which an enemy is deceived; an artifice, a trick by which some advantage is obtained.
Stratagenical (adj. from stratagem, but not used) Belonging to stratagem, done by stratagem.
STRAT'ARITH'METRY (s. from the Greek στρατος an army, αριθμος a number, and μετρον to measure) The art of drawing up an army in some geometrical form.
Strat'egem (s. an incorrect spelling) A stratagem. D. of A.
STRAT'EGUS (s. in Grecian antiquity) An Athenian officer annually chosen to command the army.
STRAT'FORD (s.) A town in Warwickshire; it stands at the head of the navigation on the river Avon, is famous for the birth place of Shakespeare, has a market on Thursday, and is 94 miles from London.
STRAT'FORD (s.) A town in Buckinghamshire; it has a market on Monday, and is 45 miles from London.
STRAT'FORD (s.) A town in Buckinghamshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 52 miles from London.
Strat'ford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stratford, made at Stratford.
Strath (s. from the Brit. obsolete) A vale, a dale. Philips.
STRATH'NAVER (s.) The most northern county or district of Scotland.
Stratification (s. from stratify) An arrangement of different matter, stratum upon stratum, an arrangement in beds or layers.
Stratified (p. from stratify) Ranged in beds or layers.
STRAT'IFY (v. t. from the Lat. stratum a bed, and facio to make) To range in beds or layers.
Strat'ifying (p. a. from stratify) Laying on beds or layers.
Strat'ifying (s. from stratify) The act or process of laying in beds or layers after the manner of the chymists.
STRAT'ITES (s. in botany) A genus of plants; the fresh water soldier, the name of a plant; the hottonia.
STRAT'OTIC (adj. from the Greek στρατος an army) Warlike. Cole.
STRATOC'RACY (s. from the Greek στρατος an army, and κρατος power) A military government.
STRAT'TON (s.) A town in Cornwall; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 222 miles from London.
Strat'ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stratton, made at Stratton.
STRAT'UM (s. from the Lat. a scientific word) A bed, a layer.
Strat'uminate (v. t. from stratum, but not used) To pave, to lay with stone. Scott.
Strat'uminate (p. from stratuminate, but not used) Paved.
Strat'uminating (p. a. from stratuminate, but not used) Paving, laying with flat stones.
Straught (p. obsolete, from stretch) Stretched out. Ch.
Straught'en (p. obsolete, from stretch) Stretched out, spread. Chaucer.
Straunge (adj. an old spelling) Strange. Chaucer.
STRAW (s. from the Sax. streow) The stalk on which corn grows, the stalk after the corn is thrashed out; any thing proverbially worthless.
STRAW (v. t. from the Sax. strawan, nearly obsolete) To strew, to scatter.
Straw'berry (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the fruit of the plant.
Straw'berryleaf (s. from strawberry, and leaf) The leaf of the strawberry.
Straw'berryleaves (s. plu. of strawberryleaf) More than one strawberry leaf.
Straw'berrytree (s. in botany) The arbutus.
Straw'built (adj. from straw, and built) Made up of straw.
Straw'colour (s. from straw, and colour) A pale yellow, a colour resembling that of straw.
Straw'coloured (adj. from straw, and colour) Light yellow, having the colour of straw.

S T R

Straw'led (p. from straw, nearly obsolete) Strewed, scattered.
Straw'hat (s. from straw, and hat) A woman's hat made of straw.
Straw'ing (p. a. from straw, nearly obsolete) Strewing, scattering.
Straw'worm (s. from straw, and worm) A worm that breeds in straw.
Straw'y (adj. from straw) Made of straw, consisting of straw.
STRAY (v. int. from the Danish strec to scatter) To wander, to go beyond due limits; to err, to deviate from the right way.
Stray (s. from the verb) A beast wandering beyond proper limits, any thing lost by wandering; the act of wandering.
Stray'ing (p. a. from stray) Wandering, roving beyond proper limits, going astray.
Stray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of going astray.
Stre (s. a cant word) Straw.
STREAK (s. from the Sax. strice) A line of colour different from the ground; a ray of light.
Streak (v. t. from the sub.) To stripe, to dapple, to variegate; to stretch; but this sense is obsolete. Chapman.
Streak'ed (p. from streak) Striped, variegated.
Streak'ing (p. a. from streak) Marking with streaks, variegating.
Streak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with streaks.
Streaky (adj. from streak) Striped, variegated.
STREAM (s. from the Sax.) A running water, a current, any thing issuing from a head and proceeding with continuity of parts; any thing forcible and continued.
Stream (v. int. from the sub.) To flow, to run in a continued current, to flow with a current, to issue with continuance.
Stream (v. t.) To mark with colours, to embroider long tracks.
Stream'anchor (s. from stream, and anchor) A small anchor used in a current.
Stream'cable (s. a sea term, from stream, and cable) A small cable used in a current.
Stream'ed (p. from stream) Marked with a length of colour: with with: as, "Streamed with gold."
Stream'er (s. from stream) An ensign, a flag, any thing flowing loosely from a stock.
Stream'ing (p. a. from stream) Flowing in a stream, issuing with continuance.
Stream'ing (s. from the adj.) The act of flowing in a continued stream.
Stream'work (s. in mines) The method of following a vein of metal by cutting trenches.
Stream'y (adj. from stream, a poetical word) bounding with running water, flowing with current.
Streck (v. t. obsolete) To strike.
Streen (s. an old word) Kindred.
STREET (s. from the Sax. stræt) A way between houses, a paved way between two rows of houses, a public place.
Street'gavel (s. from street, and gavel) A kind of tax for a free passage.
Street'walker (s. from street, and walker) A prostitute who shews herself in the open streets.
Streight (v. t. old pret. of stretch) Did stretch. Chapman.
Streight (p. obsolete, from stretch) Stretched. Chapman.
Streim'idin (v. int. pret. obsolete) Did stream, did flow.
STRE'INÆ (s. with the Romans) Presents made on the first day of the year.
Strene (s. obsolete) Kindred, stock.
Stren'gift (adj. obsolete) Strongest.
STRENGTH (s. from the Sax.) Force, vigour, power, body; firmness, durability; power of mind, force, intellect; the potency of liquor; military force; argumentative force.
Strength (v. t. from the sub. but not used) To strengthen, then.
Strength'en (v. t. from strength) To make strong, to confirm, to animate, to fix in resolution.
Strength'en (v. int.) To become strong, to grow strong.
Strength'ened (p. from strengthen) Made strong, confirmed, fixed in resolution.
Strength'ener (s. from strengthen) One that strengthens, any thing that gives strength, a restorative.
Strength'ening (p. a. from strengthen) Making strong, fixing in resolution.
Strength'ening (s. from the part.) The act of strengthening, that which gives strength.
Strength'less (adj. from strength) Void of strength, deprived of strength, weak, wanting strength.

S T R

Strength'ner (s. a different spelling) A strengthener. Te.
 Strenu'ity (s. from strenuous) Activity, manhood. Bai.
 Strenu'osity (s. from strenuous) Strenuousness. Scott.
 STRENUOUS (adj. from the Lat. strenuus) Brave, bold, active; zealous, vehement.
 Strenu'ously (adv. from strenuous) Vigorously, zealously, vehemently.
 Strenu'ousness (s. from strenuous) The state of being strenuous.
 Strepe (v. t. an old spelling) To strip. Chaucer.
 STREPEROUS (adj. from the Lat. strepo to make a noise) Loud, noisy.
 STREPI'FATE (v. int. from the Lat. strepo, but not used) To make a noise. Cole.
 Strep'itus (s. in old records) Noise.
 STREPSICEROS (s. in zoology) The antelope.
 STRESS s. from the Sax. strece violence Violence, force; importance, that on which there is dependence.
 Streis (v. t. from the sub.) To distress. Spenser.
 Streis'ed (p. from streis) Distressed. Spenser.
 STRETCH (v. t. from the Sax. strecan) To extend, to spread out, to strain; to expand, to display; to strain to the utmost, to make tense; to carry by violence, to wrest.
 Stretch (v. int.) To become extensive without breaking, to fail beyond the truth, to say more than is strictly true.
 Stretch (s. from the verb) Extension, reach; the form of a body extended; an effort, a struggle; the utmost reach of power, the utmost extent of meaning.
 Stretch'ed (p. from stretch) Extended, spread out; made tense, strained to the utmost; expanded, displayed; carried beyond the bounds of strict truth.
 Stretch'er (s. from stretch) Any thing used for stretching; the timber against which a rower places his feet; a brick laid lengthwise.
 stretch'ing (p. a. from stretch) Extending, making tense, extending to the utmost, carrying a matter beyond the bounds of strict truth.
 stretch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of extending, a tension.
 strete (s. an old spelling) A street. Chaucer.
 Street'gavel (s. an old spelling) The streetgavel. Phillips.
 STRETTON (s.) A town in Shropshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 153 miles from London.
 stret'ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stretton, made at Stretton.
 TREW (v. t. from the Sax. streawian) To spread by scattering, to scatter loosely.
 Trew'ed (p. from strew) Spread by scattering, scattered loosely.
 Trew'ing (p. a. from strew) Spreading by scattering, scattering loosely.
 Trew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of scattering lightly.
 Trew'ment (s. from strew) Any thing scattered in decoration. Shakespeare.
 TRI'Æ (s. in natural history) The channels in shells of the scollop kind.
 TRI'Æ (s. in architecture) The fillets or rays which separate the fringes of fluted columns.
 tri'ate (adj. from triæ) Striated. Ray.
 tri'ated (adj. from triæ) Channelled, formed in triæ.
 tri'ature (s. from triæ) The disposition of triæ, the state or quality of being striated.
 tri'ck'el (s. an incorrect spelling) A strickle. Pb.
 TRICK (s. in ornithology, from the Greek σπρίξ) The name of a bird.
 trick (s. a contraction for) Strickle.
 trick'el (s. not so common a spelling) A strickle.
 trick'en (p. from strike) Struck.
 trick'le (s. from strike) The instrument with which corn is made level and struck off in measuring.
 trick'les (s. from strickle, but not so common a word) The strickle.
 TRICKT (adj. from the Lat. strictus) Exact, accurate, rigorously nice; severe, rigorous; tense, rigid.
 trick'ter (adj. comp. of strict) Strict in a greater degree.
 trick'test (adj. sup. of strict) Strict in the greatest degree.
 trick'ly (adv. from strict) Exactly, rigorously, severely.
 trick'ness (s. from strict) Exactness, rigor, severity.
 tri'd've (adj. from strict) Gathered with the hand, cropped with the hand. Scott.
 TRICTOR (s. in anatomy) The constrictor, the sphincter. tri'd'ure (s. from strict) A contraction, a closure by contraction; a strike, a touch, a slight touch on a subject.

S T R

 Strid (v. int. pret. of stride) Strode, did stride. Johnson.
 Strid (v. t. pret. of stride) Did stride.
 Strid'den (p. from strid) Passed with a stride.
 STRIDE (s. from the Sax. stræde) A long step, a step taken with violence, a wide stretch of the legs.
 Stride (v. int. from the sub.) To walk with long steps, to stand with the feet far from each other.
 Stride (v. t.) To pass by a step, to pass by a long step.
 STRID'ENT (adj. from the Lat. strideo to crack, but not much used) Stridulous, making a small noise. Scott.
 Strid'ing (p. a. from stride) Walking with long steps, passing by a stride.
 Strid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of walking with long steps.
 STRID'DOR (s. from the Lat.) A crushing noise.
 STRID'ULOUS (adj. from the Lat. stridulus) Making a small crushing noise.
 Strid'ulousness (s. from stridulous) The state or quality of being stridulous. Scott.
 Strife (s. from strive) Contention, contest, discord; opposition, contrariety.
 Strife (s. obsolete) Endeavour. Chaucer.
 Strifeful (adj. from strife) Contentious, quarrelsome.
 Strift (s. from strive, but not much used) A violent struggle. Scott.
 Strig (s. a local word) The footstalk of fruit. Bailey.
 STRI'GES (s. in architecture) The furrows in the shaft of a column.
 STRIG'ILATE (v. t. from the Lat. strigil a horse comb, but not used) To curry a horse. Cole.
 STRIKE (v. t. from the Sax. african) To hit with a blow, to act upon by a blow; to dash, to throw; to stamp, to impress, to notify by the sound of a hammer; to punish, to afflict; to alarm, to put into motion; to produce by a sudden action, to effect in a particular manner; to forge, to mint; to make a bargain, to ratify by striking hands. "To strike off," to erase from an account, to separate as by a blow. "To strike out," to produce by collision, to blot, to bring to light, to form by a quick effort. "To strike up," to cause to sound as instruments of music, to begin, to make the first advance.
 Strike (v. a sea term) To contract, to lower, to take down, to yield.
 Strike (v. int.) To make a blow, to make an attack, to sound with blows, to run on any thing, to pass with a quick effect; to pay homage by lowering the fail, to break forth. "To strike in with," to conform, to join with. "To strike out," to make a sudden exertion.
 Strike (s. from the verb) The strickle, the instrument with which corn is made level and struck off in measuring; a bushel, four pecks; a measure containing four pecks.
 Strike (s. obsolete) A streak. Chaucer.
 Strikeblock (s. from strike, and block) A short kind of plane, a short jointer.
 Stri'ker (s. from strike) One that strikes, a quarrelsome fellow.
 Stri'king (p. a. from strike) Acting with blows; notifying with strokes; operating by a sudden effect; alarming; lowering, letting down.
 Stri'king (s. from the part.) The act of dealing blows, the act of notifying by sounds.
 Stri'king (adj. from the part.) Affecting, surprising.
 String (s. from the Sax.) A small cord, a slender rope; a thread on which any thing is filed, a set of things filed on a thread; a small fibre, a musical chord; the nerve of a bow; a series, a concatenation. "To have two strings to one's bow," to have two views, to have two expedients.
 String (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with strings, to file on a string, to make tense, to put a stringed instrument in tune.
 String'ed (adj. from string) Furnished with strings, effected by strings.
 STRIN'GENT (adj. from the Lat. stringo to bind) Binding, contracting.
 String'halt (s. from string, and halt) A kind of catch in the hinder leg of a horse occasioned by a convulsive motion of the muscles.
 String'ier (adj. comp. of stringy) Stringy in a greater degree.
 String'iest (adj. sup. of stringy) Stringy in the greatest degree.
 String'ingis (s. from stringy) The state or quality of being stringy.
 String-

String'ing (p. a. from string) Furnishing with strings, filing on a string.

String'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with strings, the act of filing on a string.

String'less (adj. from string) Having no strings, deprived of strings.

String'y (adj. from string) Full of strings, abounding with fibres.

STRIP (v. t. from the Dutch striopen) To deprive of covering; to make naked, to divest; to rob, to plunder; to peel, to decorticate; to separate from something adhesive.

Strip (s. from the verb) A narrow piece, a narrow shred.

Strip (v. int.) To take off the upper garments.

STRIPE (s. from the Dutch strepe) A narrow length of a different colour; a blow, a lash; the discoloration occasioned by a blow.

Stripe (v. t. from the sub.) To variegate with lines of different colour, to make stripes.

Stripe (s. obsolete) A race, a kindred; a stirp. Chaucer.

Striped (p. from stripe) Marked with stripes, having stripes.

Stri'ping (p. a. from stripe) Marking with stripes.

STRIP'LING (s. of doubtful etymology) A youth, a young man not fully grown.

Strip'ped (p. from strip) Deprived of covering, peeled, robbed; with of: "Stripped of those specific differences." Locke.

Strip'per (s. from strip) One who strips.

Strip'ping (p. a. from strip) Depriving of covering, peeling, robbing; taking off the upper garments.

Strip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of proper covering, the act of putting off the upper garments.

Stript (v. t. pret. of strip) Did strip.

Stript (p. from strip) Stripped, deprived of covering, robbed, pillaged; with of: as, "We should be stript of all those things." Hooker.

Stri'chel (s. a different spelling) A strickle. Johnson.

STRIVE (v. int. from the Dutch streven) To struggle, to labour, to make an effort; to contest; to contend; to vie, to emulate; with for, with, about and against: as, "Strive for the truth." "Why dost thou strive against him." "Strive not with thy maker." "They strive about words to no profit."

Strive (s. obsolete) Strife. Chaucer.

Striv'en (v. t. the old pret. of strive) Strove, did strive.

Striv'en (v. t. pret. or participial form of strive) To have struggled, to have contended.

Stri'ver (s. from strive) One who strives.

Stri'ving (p. a. from strive) Struggling, contending, using efforts.

Stri'ving (s. from the part.) The act of struggling; the act of using efforts.

STRIX (s. in ornithology, from the Greek) The name of a bird, the screech owl.

STRIX (s. in fabulous history) A witch, a hag who was supposed to change or distort the countenances of children.

STRIX (s. in architecture) One of the channels in a fluted pillar.

Stro (s. obsolete) A straw. Chaucer.

Stroak (s. a different spelling) A stroke. Bailey.

Stroak (v. t. a different spelling) To strike. Bailey.

STROB'ILUS (s. in botany) A kind of seed vessel; the artichoke, the pine apple.

Stro'cal (s. a different spelling) A strokel. Cole.

Strode (s. a different spelling) A strude. Johnson.

Stro'kal (s.) An instrument used by glass makers.

Stroke (s. from strike) A blow, a knock, the collision of one body on another, a hostile blow; a sudden disease, a seizure; a touch, a touch of the pencil; power, efficacy; an effect suddenly produced; a masterly effort.

Stroke (v. t. the old, pret. of strike) Struck, did strike.

Stroke (v. t. from the Sax. stracan) To rub gently with the flat of the hand, to rub gently in one direction; to sooth.

Stro'ked (p. from stroke) Rubbed gently in one direction; soothed.

Stro'ken (p. from stroke) Stroked, rubbed gently in one direction. Tusser.

Stro'king (p. a. from stroke) Rubbing gently in one direction; soothing.

Stro'king (s. from the part.) The act of rubbing gently in one direction.

Stro'kings (s. from strike) The last milking; the milk last drawn from the teats.

Stroie (v. int. a different spelling) To stroll. Swift.

Stroll (v. int. supposed to be from roll) To wander, ramble, to rove as a vagrant.

Stroll'er (s. from stroll) One who strolls, a vagrant.

Stroll'ing (p. a. from stroll) Wandering, roving, vagabond.

Stroll'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wandering, act of vagrancy.

Strom (s. a local word) An instrument to keep the meat in the fat.

STROMATE'US (s. in ichthyology) A genus of fishes.

STROMAT'IC (adj. from the Greek στρωματις) Miscellaneous, composed of different sorts.

Stromat'ics (s. from stromatic) Books treating of different subjects, miscellaneous compilations.

STROM'BUS (s. in ichthyology) A kind of shell fish.

Strond, Stronde (s. an old spelling) The strand, the part of the shore washed by the water; a street by the water.

Strond'word (adv. obsolete) Towards the strand.

STRONG (adj. from the Sax. strong) Vigorous, forceful; powerful, mighty; fortified, secured; healthy; ardent, eager; potent, intoxicating; having a deep tincture; furnished with abilities; efficient, valid, confirmed; cogent, conclusive; violent, vehement; compact, firm; nervous, forcibly written.

Strong'backed (adj. from strong, and back) Having strong back.

Strong'er (adj. comp. of strong) Strong in a greater degree.

Strong'est (adj. sup. of strong) Strong in the greatest degree.

Strong'fisted (adj. from strong, and fist) Having strong hands.

Strong'hand (s. from strong, and hand) Force, violence.

Strong'headed (adj. from strong, and hand) Having strong hands.

Strong'ly (adv. from strong) Powerfully, forcibly, with strength, with firmness; with vehemence, with eagerness.

Strong'ness (s. from strong) The state or quality of being strong.

Strongul'ion (s. an uncommon word) The strong gury.

Strong'water (s. from strong, and water) Liquor obtained by distillation.

STRON'GYLE (s. in natural history) A kind of allum.

Strook (v. t. the old pret. of strike) Struck, did strike.

STROP (s. from the Dutch stroppe) The leather which the barber sets his razor, a piece of rope formed into a kind of wreath to surround the body of a block or to answer some other purpose on board a ship.

STRO'PHE (s. from the Greek) A stanza.

Stroth'ir (s. obsolete) The rudder, the steering of a ship.

STROUD (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Friday, and is 100 miles from London.

Stroud (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Stroud, at Stroud.

Strouds (s. a sea term) The twists at the end of a cable rope.

Strove (v. int. pret. of strive) Did strive.

Strought (p. obsolete) Strowed, laid flat on the ground.

Stround (s. obsolete) A strand.

STROUT (v. int. from the German struffen) To strut with appearance of greatness, to strut.

Strout (v. t.) To swell out, to puff out, to enlarge, affectation.

Strout'ed (p. from strout) Enlarged, puffed out.

Strout'ing (p. a. from strout not much used) Swelling out, strutting, swelling with affectation of greatness.

Strout'ing (s. from the part. not much used) The act of strutting.

STROW (v. t. from the Danish strawer) To strew, spread, to scatter.

Strow'ed (p. from strow) Strewed, scattered; with: as, "And every place strowed with garbs."

Strow'ing (p. a. from strow) Strewing, spreading, scattering.

Strow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of strewing, which is strowed.

Strowl (v. int. not so common a word) To stroll.

Stroy (v. t. from destroy) To destroy.

Struck (v. t. pret. of strike) Did strike.

STU

truck (p. from strike) Affected with a blow, affected by a sudden motion; obliterated; affected with, harmed; touched, afflicted; with with: as, "Struck with so great a name." Milton.
 truck/en (p. obsolete, from strike) Struck. Milton.
 RUC/TURE (s. from the Lat. ruo to build) The act of building, a manner of building, the thing built, an edifice.
 rude (s. supposed to be from stud) A flock of breeding fowls. Johnson.
 RUG/GLE (v. int. of uncertain derivation) To labour, to act with efforts; to strive, to contend; to labour in difficulties, to be in distress.
 rug/gle (s. from the verb) A labour, an effort; a contest, a contention; an agony, a severe trial.
 rug/gling (p. a. from struggle) Labouring, striving, contending with difficulties.
 rug/gling (s. from the part.) The act of striving, the exertion of powers in difficulty or distress.
 RU'MA (s. from the Lat.) A glandular swelling, the king's evil.
 RU'ME (s. plu. of struma) Glandulous swellings. rumatic (adj. from struma) Strumous. Scott.
 rume (s. from struma) A swelling in the neck. Cole.
 RUME'A (s. in botany, a different spelling) The strumia, the crowfoot.
 rumous (adj. from struma) Having a glandulous swelling, affected with the king's evil.
 RUM/PET (s. supposed to be from the Lat. stuprum) A woman of ill fame, a prostitute.
 rum/pet (v. t. from the sub.) To debauch. Johnson.
 rum/peted (p. from strumpet) Debauched. Shakespeare.
 rung (v. t. pret. of string) Did string.
 rung (p. from string) Furnished with a string, filed on a string.
 runt'ed (adj. a local word) Having the tail cut off as a sheep. Scott.
 runt'ager (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 runtings (s. a local word) Orts, the refuse of fodder. Bailey.
 RUT (v. int. from the German strussen) To walk with affected dignity, to swell, to swell with stateliness, to protuberate.
 rut (s. from the verb) An affectation of stateliness in walking.
 RU'THIA (s. in botany) The stridia, a genus of plants.
 RU'THIO (s. in ornithology) The ostrich.
 RU'THIOCAME'LUS (s. in ornithology) The ostrich.
 RUTHIOME'LA (s. in botany) A kind of quince. rutting (p. a. from strut) Walking with affectation of dignity, swelling.
 rutting (s. from the part.) The act of walking with affectation of dignity.
 RU'THION (s. in botany) The struthium.
 RU'THION (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, a kind of sparrow.
 RU'THIUM (s. in botany) The luteola, the dyers weed.
 RYCH'NIS (s. in botany) The name of an herb which, if eaten, is said to induce madness.
 RYCH'NUS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 RUB (s. from the Sax. iteb) A thick short stock after the rest has been cut off; a log, a block.
 rub (v. t. from the sub.) To force up, to root up, to extirpate. Swift.
 rub'bed (p. from rub) Rooted up.
 rub'bed (adj. from rub) Short, thick; truncated.
 rub/bedness (s. from rubbed) The state of being rubbed.
 rub'bier (adj. comp. of stubby) Stubby in a greater degree.
 rub'biest (adj. sup. of stubby) Stubby in the greatest degree.
 rub'bing (p. a. from rub) Rooting up, eradicating.
 rub'bing (s. from the part.) The act or process of clearing wood lands, the act of rooting up.
 RUB'BLE (s. from the Lat. stipula) The stalks of corn left in the field after reaping.
 rub'blegoose (s. from stubble, and goose) A goose fed on the stubbles.
 rub'born (adj. perhaps from stub, and born) Obstinate, inflexible, contumacious; hard, firm; harsh, rough; determined, resolute.
 rub'borner (adj. comp. of stubborn) Stubborn in a greater degree.
 rub'bornest (adj. sup. of stubborn) Stubborn in the greatest degree.

STU

Stub'bornly (adv. from stubborn) Obstinate, inflexibly.
 Stub'bornness (s. from stubborn) Obstinacy, inflexibility, contumacy.
 Stub'by (adj. from stub) Full of stubs, short and strong, short and thick.
 STUC (s. from the French) A kind of mortar, which when dry resembles stone.
 STUC/CO (s. the more common word) A kind of mortar made of washed sand and white lime, a kind of plaster resembling stone.
 Stuck (v. t. pret. of stick) Did stick.
 Stuck (p. from stick) Pushed in so as to stick, applied so as to adhere; fixed, fastened; stabbed, pierced.
 Stuck'ling (s. a provincial word) An apple.
 STUD (s. from the Sax. studer) A post, a stake; a nail with a large head for ornament, an ornamental protuberance; a kind of button for the sleeve.
 STUD (s. from the Sax. stode) A collection of horses and mares for breeding.
 Stud (v. t. from the sub.) To adorn with ornamental protuberances.
 Stud'ded (p. from stud) Ornamented with studs; with with: as, "Studded all with gold and pearl."
 Stud'ding (p. a. from stud) Ornamenting with studs.
 Stud'ding (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with studs, ornamental protuberances.
 Stud'ding(sail (s. a sea term) A sail extended in a fair wind by the side of the main sail; an additional sail.
 STUD'ENT (s. from the Lat. studeo to study) A man who studies, a scholar, a man given to books.
 Stud'ied (p. from study) Considered attentively, formed by study, learned by application, qualified by study.
 Stud'ient (adj. obsolete) Studious. Chaucer.
 Stud'ier (s. from study) One who studies, a student.
 Stud'ing(sail (s. a different spelling) A studding sail. Fal.
 Stu'dious (adj. from study) Given to study, given to learning; diligent, busy; attentive to, contemplative.
 Stu'diously (adv. from studious) With application to study, attentively, diligently, carefully.
 Stu'diousness (s. from studious) The state of being studious, application to study.
 STUD'Y (v. t. from the Lat. studeo) To apply the mind to, to consider attentively, to learn by application.
 STUD'Y (v. int. from the Lat. studeo) To think with close application, to muse; to use endeavours.
 Study (s. from the verb) Application to learning, attention, close thought, meditation; perplexity, deep thoughtfulness; any particular kind of learning; an apartment set off for literary employment, the room in which a person studies.
 Stud'ying (p. a. from study) Thinking attentively, applying the mind to; learning by application, using endeavour to obtain learning, considering with attention, contemplating.
 Stud'ying (s. from the part.) The act of applying the mind to obtain knowledge, application to study.
 STUFF (s. from the Dutch, stof) Any matter, materials out of which any thing is made; furniture, goods; a mixture, a medicine; a texture of cloth, a texture of wool thinner than cloth; matter in contempt, any thing in contempt, any thing mentioned with dislike.
 Stuff (v. t. from the sub.) To fill, to fill to uneasiness; to swell out by something thrust in; to fill meat with something of high relish, to fill with something superfluous; to obstruct the organs, to fill the smaller passages of the body.
 Stuff (v. int.) To feed luxuriously, to feed like a glutton.
 Stuffed (p. from stuff) Filled, overcharged, obstructed by reason of fulness.
 Stuff'id (p. obsolete) Stuffed. Chaucer.
 Stuff'ing (p. a. from stuff) Filling, overcharging, obstructing by means of fulness.
 Stuff'ing (s. from the part.) The act of filling, that with which any thing is filled, savory ingredients put into meat.
 Stuff'net (s. a local word) A skillet, a posnet.
 Stuke (s. from stucco) Stucco. Bailey.
 Stull (s. a provincial word) A great piece of any thing. Bailey.
 STULM (s. with miners) A shaft to draw water out of a mine.
 Stult'ic (adj. obsolete) Foolish, silly. Chaucer.
 STULTIL'OQUENCE (s. from the Lat. stultus foolish, and loquor to speak) Foolish talking. Johnson.
 STULTI-

STU

STULTILOQUY (s. from the Lat. stultus foolish, and loquor to speak) Stultiloquence. Cole.
STUM (s. supposed to be a contraction of the Lat. mustum sweet wine) Wine unfermented, new wine used to raise a fermentation, old or vapid wines, wine revived by a new fermentation.
Stum (v. t. from the sub.) To renew wines by raising a fresh fermentation.
STUM'BLE (v. int. perhaps from tumble) To trip in walking; to slip, to err; to light on by chance; with over, on and upon: as, "But stumbled over the beam." "Ovid stumbled, by some inadvertency, on Livid in a bath."
Stum'ble (v. t.) To obstruct in progress, to offend, to make to doubt.
Stum'ble (s. from the verb) A trip in walking; a blunder, a failure.
Stum'bled (p. from stumble) Obstructed in progress, offended, made to doubt.
Stum'bler (s. from stumble) One who stumbles, a horse apt to stumble.
Stum'bling (p. a. from stumble) Tripping, making a false step; hindering in progress, offending.
Stum'bling (s. from the part.) The act of making a false step, the act by which any one is offended or made to doubt.
Stum'blingblock (s. from stumbling, and block) A cause of stumbling.
Stum'blingstone (s. from stumbling, and stone) A cause of offence, a cause of stumbling.
Stum'med (p. from stum) Revived as wines by a new fermentation.
Stum'ming (p. a. from stum) Reviving by a second fermentation.
Stum'ming (s. from the part.) The method or process of reviving flat wines by a new fermentation.
STUMP (s. from the Danish, stumpe) The part of a solid body which remains after the rest is taken away.
Stump'er (s. from stump, a colloquial word) A hoaster. Bailey.
Stump'ier (adj. comp. of stumpy in husbandry) Stumpy in a greater degree.
Stump'iest (adj. sup. of stumpy in husbandry) Stumpy in the greatest degree.
Stumpy (adj. from stump) Full of stumps. Mortimer.
STUN (v. t. from the Sax. stunan) To confound with noise, to make senseless by a blow.
Stung (v. t. pret. of sting) Did sting.
Stung (p. from sting) Hurt with a sting; angered, pierced.
Stunk (v. int. pret. of stink) Stank, did stink.
STUNT (v. t. from the Islandick, stunta) To hinder from growth, to stop in the growth.
Stunt'ed (p. from stunt) Stopped in the growth.
Stunt'ing (p. a. from stunt) Stopping in the growth.
STUPE (s. from the Lat. stupa) A kind of fomentation, a cloth dipped in warm medicaments and applied to a hurt or sore.
Stupe (v. t. from the sub.) To foment, to dress with stupe.
Stu'ped (p. from stupe) Fomented, dressed with stupe.
Stupefaction (s. from stupefy) Insensibility, dulness, stupidity.
Stupefactive (adj. from stupefaction) Causing stupefaction.
Stupefactiveness (s. from stupefactive) A tendency to stupefaction, the quality which induces stupefaction. Scott.
Stu'pefied (p. from stupefy, a different spelling) Stupefied. Scott.
Stu'pefier (s. from stupefy, a different spelling) A stupefier. Scott.
STU'PEFY (v. t. from the Lat. stupeo to stupefy, and facio to make, but not so common a spelling) To stupefy. Scott.
Stu'pefying (p. a. from stupefy, not so common a spelling) Stupefying. Scott.
Stupen'dious (adj. not so common a spelling) Stupendous. Scott.
Stupen'diously (adv. from stupendious) In a wonderful manner. Scott.
Stupen'diousness (s. from stupendious) The state or quality of being stupendous. Scott.
STUPEN'DOUS (adj. from the Lat. stupendus) Wonderful, amazing, astonishing.
STU'PHA (s. in surgery) The stupe.
STU'PID (adj. from the Lat. stupidus) Dull, heavy, sluggish, wanting sensibility, wanting apprehension; done without skill or genius.

STY

Stu'pider (adj. comp. of stupid) Stupid in a greater degree.
Stu'pidest (adj. sup. of stupid) Stupid in the greatest degree.
Stupid'ity (s. from stupid) Dulness, sluggishness, want of sensibility.
Stu'pidly (adv. from stupid) With dulness, with stupidity.
Stu'pidified (p. from stupify) Made stupid, deprived of sensibility.
Stu'pifier (s. from stupify) Any thing which induces stupidity.
STU'PIFY (v. t. from the Lat. stupeo to wonder, and facio to make) To make stupid, to deprive of sensibility.
Stu'pifying (p. a. from stupify) Making stupid, depriving of sensibility.
Stu'pifying (s. from the part.) The act of making stupid.
STU'POR (s. from the Lat.) A diminution of sensibility, a suspension of sensibility.
STU'PRATE (v. t. from the Lat. stupro) To ravish, to violate chastity.
Stu'prated (p. from stuprate) Ravished, deprived of virginity.
Stu'prating (p. a. from stuprate) Ravishing, violating chastity.
Stupra'tion (s. from stuprate) A violation of chastity, the commission of a rape.
STUR'BRIDGE (s.) A town in Worcestershire; it has a market on Friday, and is 123 miles from London.
Stur'bridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Sturbridge, made at Sturbridge.
Stur'dier (adj. comp. of sturdy) Surdy in a greater degree.
Stur'diest (adj. sup. of sturdy) Sturdy in the greatest degree.
Stur'dily (adv. from sturdy) Stoutly, hardily; obstinately, resolutely.
Stur'diness (s. from sturdy) Stoutness, hardness, obstinacy, brutal firmness.
STUR'DY (adj. from the French, estourdi) Hardy, strong, forcible; stiff, unyielding; brutal, obstinate.
STUR'GEON (s. in ichthyology) The name of a sea fish.
STUR'RIO (s. in ichthyology) The sturgeon.
STURK (s. from the Sax. styrc) A young ox, a young bullock, a young heifer.
Stur'ken (v. int. from sturk, a local word) To grow, to thrive. Bailey.
STUR'MINSTER (s.) A town in Dorsetshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 111 miles from London.
Stur'minster (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Sturminster, made at Sturminster.
STUR'NUS (s. in ornithology) The starling.
Stur'ry (adj. a local word) Sturdy, stiff, inflexible.
Sturt (v. int. obsolete) To struggle; to strive. Bailey.
STUT (v. int. from the Dutch, stutten to hinder) To speak with frequent hesitation, to stammer.
STUT (s. an old word, from the Sax.) A gnat. Bailey.
Stut'ter (v. int. from stut) To stut, to stammer.
Stut'ter (s. from stut) One that stammers, a stammerer.
Stut'terer (s. from stutter) One that stutters, a stammerer.
Stut'tering (p. a. from stutter) Speaking with frequent hesitations, stammering.
Stut'tering (s. from the part.) The act of speaking with frequent hesitations.
Stut'ting (p. a. from stut) Speaking with frequent hesitations.
Stut'ting (s. from the part.) The act of speaking with frequent hesitations.
STY (s. from the Sax. stige) An inclosed place to keep hogs in; a place of bestial debauchery.
Sty (v. t. from the sub.) To shut up in a sty. Shakespeare.
Sty (v. int. obsolete) To soar, to ascend; to stay. Scott.
STYE (s. the derivation is not noted) A disorder of the eyelid, a small inflamed tumor on the lid of the eye.
Sty'ed (p. from sty) Put up in a sty.
Styg'ian (adj. from Styx) Belonging to Styx, infernal.
Sty'ing (p. a. from sty) Putting up in a sty.
Style (s. from stylus) A pointed instrument formerly used in writing on tables of wax; a manner of writing, a manner of speaking; a manner of computing time, a title, an appellation; any thing with a sharp point, a graver, a pin of a dial; the pistil, the female organ of generation in plants. "The style of court."
Style (v. t. from the sub.) To call, to term, to name. Scott.

yled (p. from style) Called, named.
 ylet (s. from style) A kind of small poniard which may be concealed in the hand.
 yletto (s. from stylet) The stylet.
 yling (p. a. from style) Calling, terming, naming.
 yling (s. from the part.) The act of naming.
 YLITE (s. in ecclesiastical history) One of the superstitious sect who took up their abode on the top of a pillar or column for the sake of more intense and elevated contemplation.
 YLNESS (s. an old spelling) Stillness. Chaucer.
 YLOBA'TA (s. in architecture) The pedestal of a column, the base of a pillar.
 Y'LOCERATOHY'OIDES (s. in anatomy) The muscles of the hyoides which draw the tongue and larynx upwards.
 Y'LOCHONDROHYOIDÆ'US (s. in anatomy, from the Greek, ὑλός a pencil, χονδρός a cartilage, and υοειδής the hyoides) A muscle of the hyoides.
 YLOGLOS'SUM (s. in anatomy, from the Greek, ὑλός a pencil, and γλῶσσα a tongue) One of the muscles which lift up the tongue.
 Y'LOHYOIDÆ'US (s. in anatomy, from the Greek, ὑλός a pencil, and υοειδής the hyoides) One of the muscles of the hyoides.
 YLOIDES (s. in botany, from the Greek ὑλός a pencil, and εἶδος a shape) The processes which are shaped like a pencil and fixed in the basis of the skull.
 YLOPHARANGÆ'US (s. in anatomy, from the Greek, ὑλός a pencil, and φάρυγξ the pharynx) One of the muscles which serve to dilate the gullet and draw the fauces upwards.
 YMMMA (s. in medicine, from the Greek, ὑμμη to constrict) A thick composition of a binding quality; the grosser parts of an unguent; the sediment or mass that remains after the steeping of herbs.
 YMPHALIDES (s. in the mythology of the poets, from Stymphalus) Birds that fed on human flesh, and were said to have been destroyed by Hercules.
 YMPHA'LUS (s.) The name of a high hill in Arcadia.
 YPTIC (adj. from the Greek, ὑπτικός) Astringent, efficaciously astringent.
 yptic (s. from the adj.) An astringent medicine, a medicine to stop blood or prevent hæmorrhages.
 ypticity (s. from styptic) Astringency, the power to stop blood.
 ypticness (s. from styptic) Astringency, stypticity. Sc.
 Y'RAX (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 YX (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the supposed rivers of the internal regions; a poisonous lake of Arcadia; by this lake the gods were supposed to wear, and, if perjured, to lose their divinity for the space of one hundred years.
 A'DA, SUADE'LA (s. in beaten mythology) The supposed goddess of eloquence and persuasion.
 A'SIBLE (adj. from the Lat. suadeo to persuade) Easy to be persuaded.
 A'SION (s. from the Lat. suadeo to persuade) The act of persuading.
 A'sive (adj. from suasion) Having power to persuade, tending to persuasion.
 A'siveness (s. from suasive) Aptness to persuade. Scott.
 A'SORY (adj. from the Lat. suaviorius) Suasive, apt to persuade.
 AVIA'TION (s. from the Lat. suavior to kiss) The act of kissing. Bailey.
 A'VIL'QUENCE (s. from suaviloquent) Sweetness of speech. Bailey.
 A'VIL'OQUENT (adj. from the Lat. suavis sweet, and loquor to speak) Speaking sweetly, using soft and agreeable speech. Cole.
 A'VIL'oquy (s. from suaviloquent) Sweetness of speech. Cole.
 A'VITY (s. from the Lat. suavis sweet) Sweetness, pleasing to the taste, pleasing to the mind.
 A'CID (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and acidus) Acid in a small degree.
 A'CRID (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and acridus) Pungent in a small degree.
 A'CT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and ago to do) To bring under, to reduce, to subdue.
 A'cted (p. from subact) Brought under, reduced, subdued.
 A'ction (s. from subact) The act of reducing to any state or condition. Bacon.
 A'G'ITATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and agito to agitate) To solicit; to perform the act of generation on a female. Scott.

Subagitation (s. from subagitate) A solicitation. Scott.
 SUBALA'RIS (s. in anatomy, from the Lat. sub under, and ala the armpit) The large vein under the armpit.
 SUBAL'BID (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and albus white) Tending to white. Cole.
 SUBAL'MONER (s. from the Lat. sub under, and almoner) An almoner who acts under another.
 SUBAL'PINE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and Alps) Living under the Alps, growing near the Alps.
 SUBAL'TERN (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and alter another) Subordinate, inferior.
 Subal'tern (s. from the adj.) An inferior, one acting under another.
 Subal'ternate (adj. from subaltern) Succeeding by turns.
 Subal'ternately (adj. from subalternate) By turns.
 SUBAQUA'NEOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and aqua water) Lying under water. Bailey.
 SUBASTRING'ENT (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and stringo to bind) Astringent in a small degree.
 SUBAUDI'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and audio to hear) The act of hearing but a little, the power of hearing but a little. Cole.
 SUBBEA'DLE (s. from the Lat. sub, and beadle) An under beadle.
 Sub'bois (s. in old records) Under woods.
 SUBBRIGADIE'R (s. from the Lat. sub under, and brigadier) A brigadier acting under another.
 SUBBU'TEO (s. in ornithology) The yellowlegged falcon.
 SUBCARTILAG'ENOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and cartilago a cartilage) Lying under the gristles.
 SUBCARTILAGINE'UM (s. in anatomy) The hypochondria, the cartilage of the belly which lies under that of the breast.
 SUBCELES'TIAL (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and celestis heavenly) Placed under the heavens.
 SUBCHAN'TER (s. from the Lat. sub under, and succentor a chanter) The deputy of the precentor in a cathedral.
 SUBCINERIT'IOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and cinis ashes) Baked under the ashes. Bailey.
 SUBCLA'VIAN (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and clavus a callus) Lying under the shoulder, lying under the armpit.
 SUBCLAVIC'ULAR (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and clavicula the collar bone) Belonging to that branch of the vena cava which runs under the collar bone.
 SUBCLA'VIUS (s. in anatomy) A muscle which takes its rise from the lower part of the collar bone.
 SUBCONSEQUEN'TIALLY (adv. from the Lat. sub under, and consequentia a consequence) By way of secondary consequence. Scott.
 SUBCONSTELLA'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and constellatio a constellation) A subordinate constellation, a secondary constellation.
 SUBCON'TRACT (s. from the Lat. sub under, and contraho to draw together) A second contract, one contract under another.
 Subcontract'ed (adj. from subcontract) Contracted after a former contract; with to: "Subcontracted to his lord." Shakespeare.
 SUBCON'TRARY (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and contrarius contrary) Contrary in an inferior degree.
 SUBCOS'TAL (adj. in anatomy, from the Lat. sub under, and costæ the ribs) Lying under the ribs.
 SUBCUTAN'EOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and cutis the skin) Lying under the skin.
 Subcutan'eousness (s. from subcutaneous) The state of lying under the skin. Scott.
 SUBCUTAN'EUS (s. in anatomy) That branch of the basilic vein that runs towards the inward condyle or joint of the arm.
 SUBDEA'CON (s. from the Lat. sub under, and the Greek διακονος a deacon) A deacon acting under another.
 Subdea'conship (s. from subdeacon) The office of a subdeacon.
 SUBDEA'N (s. from the Lat. sub under, and decanus a dean) A substitute of a dean.
 SUBDE'CUPLÉ (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and decuplus tenfold) Containing one part of ten.
 SUBDEL'EGATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and delego to assign) To appoint to act under one's self, to appoint to act under another.
 Subdel'egate (adj. from the verb) Appointed to act under another.
 Subdel'egate (s. from the adj.) One who is appointed to act under another.

SUB

Subdelegated (p. from subdelegate) Appointed to act under another.

Subdelegating (p. a. from subdelegate) Appointing to act under one's self or another.

Subdelegating (s. from the part.) The act of appointing to act under another.

Subdelegation (s. from subdelegate) An appointment to act under another.

Subdelegate (v. t. not so correct a spelling) To subdelegate. Phillips.

Subdehd (adj. not much used) Low, mean, grovelling as bad verse. Bailey.

SUBDERISORIOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and rideo to laugh at) Using tender and delicate ridicule.

SUBDIVAL (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and dies a day) Done in the day time. Cole.

SUBDITIVIOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and do to give) Put secretly into the place of something else.

Subdiversified (p. from subdiversify) Diversified a second time.

SUBDIVER'SIFY (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, diversus different, and facio to make) To diversify a second time.

Subdiversifying (p. a. from subdiversify) Diversifying what has been already diversified.

SUBDIVIDE (v. t. from the Lat. sub. under, and divido to divide) To divide a second time, to divide a part that has already been divided.

Subdivided (p. from subdivide) Divided a second time.

Subdividing (p. a. from subdivide) Dividing a second time.

Subdividing (s. from the part.) The act of dividing a second time.

SUBDIVINE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and divinus divine) Divine in a subordinate degree.

Subdivision (s. from subdivide) The act of subdividing, the part distinguished by a second division.

SUBDOLOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and dolus deceit) Cunning, subtle, sly.

SUBDUCE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and duco to lead) To withdraw, to take away, to subduct, to substract.

Subduced (p. from subduce, but not much used) Subducted, withdrawn.

Subducing (p. a. from subduce, but not much used) Subducting, withdrawing.

SUBDUCT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and duco ductus to lead) To withdraw, to take away, to substract, to subduce.

Subducted (p. from subduct) Taken away, substracted.

Subducting (p. a. from subduct) Withdrawing, substracting.

Subducting (s. from the part.) The act of withdrawing.

Subduction (s. from subduct) The act of taking away; substraction, the act or process of taking a less number from a greater.

SUBDUCE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and do to give) To conquer, to overpower; to crush, to oppress; to tame, to bring under.

Subdued (p. from subdue) Conquered, overcome; crushed, oppressed; tamed, brought under.

Subduement (s. from subdue, but not sufficiently authorized) A conquest. Shakespeare.

Subducer (s. from subdue) One that subdues.

Subduing (p. a. from subdue) Conquering, crushing, taming.

Subduing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing into subjection.

SUBDU'PLE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and duplus double) Containing one part of two.

Subduplicate (adj. from subduple) Containing one part of two.

SUBER (s. in botany) The corktree.

SUBFULGENT (s. from the Lat. sub under, and fulgeo to shine) Shining in a subordinate degree.

SUBFUMIGATION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and fumigo to fumigate) A kind of fumigation used by sorcerers to drive away evil spirits; a fumigation by way of charm.

Sub'get (s. obsolete) A subject. Cbaucer.

Sub'gette (s. an old word) A subject. Cole.

SUBHASTATION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and hasta a spear) A public sale, a method of selling confiscated goods among the Romans under a spear or pike set up for that purpose.

SUBHUMERATE (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and humerus the shoulder) To undergo a burden. Cole.

SUBJACENT (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and jaceo to lie) Lying under.

SUBJECT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and jaceo to lie) To put under, to reduce to submission, to en-slave; to expose, to make liable, to make subervient.

SUB

Subject (adj. from the verb) Subjected, placed under, belonging to any matter treated of; exposed, liable. twit to: as, "All human things are subject to decay."

Subject (s. from the adj.) One who is under the dominion of another; one on whom any operation is performed; that on which any operation is performed; that in which any thing consists; a matter treated of; the nominative case to a neuter verb.

Subjected (p. from subject) Put under, reduced to submission, exposed, made liable; twit to: as, "Sub-jected to the victor's cruel power."

Subjecting (p. a. from subject) Putting under, reducing to submission, making liable.

Subjecting (s. from the part.) The act of putting under another.

Subjection (s. from subject) The act of subduing, the state of being under government.

Subjective (adj. from subject) Relating to the subject, distinguished from the object.

Subjectively (adv. from subjective) In a manner relating to the subject as distinguished from the subject.

SUBINGRESION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and ingredior to enter in) A secret entrance. Byron.

SUBJOIN (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and jungo to join) To add at the end, to add afterwards.

Subjoined (p. from subjoin) Added at the end, added afterwards.

Subjoining (p. a. from subjoin) Adding to the end, adding afterwards.

Subjoining (s. from the part.) The act of adding to the end.

SUBIT (s. in botany) A plant heretofore used in making glass.

SUBITANEOUS (adj. from the Lat. subito/quickly) Sudden, hasty.

SUBITO (adv. in music books, from the Lat.) Quickly, hastily.

SUBJUGATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and jugum a yoke) To conquer, to subdue, to bring under dominion by force.

Subjugated (p. from subjugate) Conquered, brought under.

Subjugating (p. a. from subjugate) Conquering, bringing under.

Subjugating (s. from the part.) The act of bringing under.

Subjugation (s. from subjugate) The act of subduing.

SUBJUNCTION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and jungo to join) The act of subjoining, the state of being subjoined.

SUBJUNCTIVE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and jungo to join) Subjoined; belonging to that mode of grammar in which one verb is subjoined to another.

Subjunctive (s. from the adj. put absolutely) The subjunctive mode, a subjoined or conditional mode of a verb.

SUBLAPSARIAN (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and lapsus the fall) Having respect to the fall, done as after the fall.

Sublapsarian (s. from the adj.) One who holds that the Divine Being, in the choice which he made of his people, considered them as fallen.

SUB/LAPSARY (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and lapsus a fall) Done after the fall of man.

SUBLATION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and tero to take away) The act of taking away.

SUBLAXATION (s. in surgery, from the Lat. sub under, and laxo to loose) An imperfect dislocation, a dislocation in which the bones are but a little out of place.

SUBLEVATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and levare to lift up) To lift up.

Sublevation (s. from sublevate) The act of raising, the act of lifting up.

SUBLIEUTENANT (s. from the Lat. sub under, and French lieu in the room of, and the Lat. teneo to hold) A subordinate lieutenant.

SUBLIGACULUM (s. from the Lat.) A kind of truss, a rupture.

SUBLIGATION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and ligare to bind) The act of binding underneath.

Sublimable (adj. from sublime) Capable of being sublimed.

Sublimableness (s. from sublimable) The quality which admits of sublimation.

Sublimate (s. from sublime) Any thing raised by fire, the retort, quicksilver raised in the retort.

Sublimate (v. t. from the sub.) To raise by the force of chymical fire; to exalt, to heighten, to elevate.

Sublimated (p. from sublimate) Raised in a retort, exalted, heightened.

Sublimating (p. a. from sublimate) Raising in the retort; exalting, elevating.

Sublimation

S U B

S U B

Sublimating (s. from the part.) The act of raising in a retort, sublimation.
Sublimation (s. from sublimare) A chymical operation in which any thing is raised in a vessel by means of fire; an exaltation, an elevation.
Sublime (adj. from the Lat. sublimis) High, exalted; high in place, high in excellence, high in style; elevated with joy; haughty, proud.
Sublime (s. from the adj.) The lofty style, the grandeur of style.
Sublime (v. t. from the adj.) To raise by a chymical process, to raise in a retort; to exalt, to improve, to raise on high.
Sublime (v. int.) To rise in a retort or chymical vessel.
Sublimed (p. from sublime) Raised in a retort, exalted.
Sublimely (adv. from sublime) In a sublime style, loftily.
Sublimeness (s. from sublime) The state of being sublime.
Sublimer (adj. comp. of sublime) Sublime in a greater degree.
Sublimest (adj. sup. of sublime) Sublime in the highest degree.
Subliming (p. a. from sublime) Raising in a retort, raising.
Subliming (s. from the part.) The process of raising in a retort.
Sublimity (s. from sublime) The state of being sublime.
Sublimis (s. in anatomy) One of the muscles that move the fingers.
Sublimy (s. not so common a word) The sublime. Pb.
Lingual (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and lingua tongue) Placed under the tongue.
Lingualis (s. in anatomy) A gland on the inner side of the tongue.
Linguium (s. in anatomy) The epiglottis, the cover of the windpipe.
Lition (s. with painters, from the Lat. sub under, and lino to paint) The act of laying on the ground colour; the first coat of paint.
Lunary (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and luna moon) Situate beneath the moon, terrestrial, belonging to the earth.
Lunary (adj. from sublunar) Sublunar, situate beneath the moon.
Marine (adj. from the Lat. sub. under, and mare sea) Lying under the sea, acting under the sea.
Marshall (s. from the Lat. sub under, and the French marechal) An officer in the Marshalet, the deputy marshal.
Merger (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and mergo immerge) To put under water, to drown.
Merged (p. from immerge) Put under water, drowned.
Merging (p. a. from immerge) Putting under water, drowning.
Merge (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and mergo immerge) To put under water, to drown.
Mersed (p. from immerge) Put under water. Scott.
Mersing (p. a. from immerge, but not used) Immersing, putting under water.
Mersion (s. from immerge) The act of putting under water, the act of drowning.
Minister (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and minister to minister) To supply, to afford. Hale.
Minister (v. int.) To subserve; with to: as, "Fire water subminister to the best and worst of purgation."
Ministered (p. from subminister, not much used) Supplied, afforded.
Ministering (p. a. from subminister, but not much used) Supplying, affording.
Ministrate (v. t. from subminister, but not much used) Supply, to afford. Narvey.
Ministrated (p. from ministrare, but not much used) Supplied, afforded.
Ministrating (p. a. from ministrare, not much used) Supplying, affording.
Ministration (s. from ministrare) The act of supplying, affording.
Modest (adj. from submit) Humble, submissive, obsequious.
Modesty (s. from submit) The act of submitting, acknowledgment of inferiority; the confession of error; resignation, obedience.
Moderate (adj. from submit) Humble, testifying inferiority; dutiful, obsequious.
Moderately (adv. from submit) In a submissive manner, with submission.

Submissiveness (s. from submissive) The state of being submissive.
Submissively (adv. from submiss) Humbly, with submission. Taylor.
Submit (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and mitto to send) To let down, to sink; to leave to discretion, to refer to judgment; to subject, to resign.
Submit (v. int.) To be subject, to yield; with to: as, "Submit to pain."
Submit (adj. obsolete) Subject to. Chaucer.
Submitted (p. from submit) Referred to judgment, left to discretion; with to: as, "It is submitted to the house."
Submitting (p. a. from submit) Yielding, letting down, referring to judgment.
Submitting (s. from the part.) The act of yielding.
Submultiple (adj. from the Lat. sub under, multus many, and plico to fold) Contained in another a certain number of times, applied in arithmetic to a number which will divide another number without any remainder.
Subnascent (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and nascor to be born) Growing out under another, springing out under another.
Subnervate (v. t. in old records) To hamstring.
Subnervate (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and nervus a nerve) To hamstring, to cut the sinews. Pbil.
Subnervated (p. from subnervate) Hamstringed.
Subnervating (p. a. from subnervate) Hamstringing, cutting the sinews.
Subnormal (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and norma a rule) Belonging to that point in the axis of a curvilinear space which is intersected by a perpendicular to a tangent drawn from any given point in the curve.
Subnormal (s. from the adj.) The perpendicular to the tangent of a curve intercepting the axis.
Suboctave (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and octo eight) Containing one part of eight.
Suboctave (s. from the adj.) One part of eight.
Suboctuple (adj. from the Lat. sub under, octo eight, and duplus double) Containing one of eight.
Suboctuple (s. from the adj.) One part in eight.
Subordinacy (s. from subordinate) The state of being subordinate.
Subordinancy (s. not so correct and analogical) Subordinacy.
Subordinate (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and ordinare to order) Inferior, descending in a regular series.
Subordinate (v. t. from the adj.) To range under another. Watson.
Subordinated (p. from subordinate, but not used) Ranged under another.
Subordinately (adv. from subordinate) In a subordinate manner.
Subordinating (p. a. from subordinate, but not used) Ranging under another.
Subordination (s. from subordinate) The state of being subordinate, a series regularly descending.
Suborn (v. t. from the Lat. suborno) To procure privately, to procure by collusion; to procure by indirect means, to hire to swear falsely.
Subornation (s. from suborn) The crime of procuring by indirect means, the act of hiring to bear false witness.
Suborned (p. from suborn) Procured by secret collusion, procured to do a bad thing, procured to bear a false testimony.
Suborner (s. from suborn) One who suborns.
Suborning (p. a. from suborn) Procuring by secret collusion, procuring to do any thing bad, hiring to bear false witness.
Suborning (s. from the part.) The act of proving by indirect means.
Subpedaneous (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and pes a foot) Placed under foot. Cole.
Subpoena (s. from the Lat. sub under, and poena punishment) A writ commanding attendance in a court under a penalty.
Subpoena (v. t. from the sub.) Served with a subpoena.
Subpoenaed (p. from subpoena) Served with a subpoena.
Subpoenaing (p. a. from subpoena) Serving with a subpoena.
Suequadrate (adj. from the Lat. sub under, quadrans a fourth, and duplus double) Containing one part of four.
Subquintuple (adj. from the Lat. sub under, quintus fifth, and duplus double) Containing one part of five, having the proportion of one to five.
Subreader (s. in the inns of court) An under reader.

S U B

SUBREC'TOR (s. from the Lat. sub under, and rector a ruler) The deputy of the rector.

SUBREP'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and repo to go softly) The act of obtaining a favour by surprize or misrepresentation.

Subreptitious (adj. from subreption) Obtained by fraud or misrepresentation.

SUBRIG'UOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and rigo to water) Moist, wet underneath. Bailey.

SUBRIS'ION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and rideo to laugh at) The act of smiling. Bailey.

SUB'ROGATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and rogo to ask) To depute in the room of another. Scott.

Sub'rogated (p. from subrogate, a law term) Deputed in the room of another.

Sub'rogating (p. a. from subrogate, a law term) Deputing in the room of another.

Subrogation (s. from subrogate, a law term) The act of putting one into the place of another.

SUBROTUN'DOUS (adj. in botany) Approaching to roundness.

SUBSAN'NATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and san-na a jest) To mock, to make a jest of. Cole.

SUBSCAPULA'RIS (s. in anatomy) The muscle which fills up the scapula.

SUBSCRI'BE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and scribo to write) To give consent to by writing one's name, to ratify by writing one's name, to attest by writing one's name; to circumscribe, to limit; but this sense is now disused. Shakespeare.

Subscri'be (v. int.) To give consent, to promise a stipulated sum to any undertaking.

Subscri'bed (p. from subscribe) Underwritten, promised by a subscription.

Subscri'ber (s. from subscribe) One that subscribes, one that joins with others in the support of any interest or undertaking.

Subscri'bing (p. a. from subscribe) Consenting by a signature of one's name, attesting by the signature of one's name, promising a stipulated sum to support any undertaking.

Subscri'bing (s. from the part.) The act of giving consent by the signature of one's name.

Subscription (s. from subscribe) Any thing underwritten, a consent or attestation by a signature of the name; the act of contributing with others to the support of any undertaking; submission, obedience; but this sense is not used of late. Shakespeare.

SUBSE'CIVE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and seco to cut) Done at different times, done in the intervals of other business. Cole.

SUBSEC'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and seco to cut) A subdivision, a division of a larger section.

SUBSEQUENT (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and sequor to follow) Following under another, following after another; following in a train.

Subsequently (adv. from subsequent) In a subsequent order.

SUBSER'VE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and servio to serve) To serve in subordination, to serve instrumentally.

Subserv'ed (p. from subservie) Served in a subordinate manner, served instrumentally.

Subserv'ience (s. from subservie) Subordinate use, instrumental fitness.

Subserv'ieny (s. from subservience) Subservience, subordinate use.

Subserv'ient (adj. from subservie) Subordinately useful, instrumentally useful.

Subserv'iently (adv. from subservient) In a manner subservient, in a manner subordinately useful.

Subserv'ientness (s. from subservient) The state or quality of being subservient. Scott.

Subserv'ing (p. a. from subservie) Serving in a subordinate manner.

Subserv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of serving in a subordinate manner.

SUBSEQUAL'TERAL (adj. in mathematics, from the Lat. sub under, sequi one and a half, and alter another) Containing one and a half, having the proportion of six to nine.

SUBSEX'TUPLE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and sextuplus six fold) Containing one part of six.

SUBSID'E (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and sedeo to sit) To sink, to tend downwards.

Subsided (p. from subside) Sunk, appeased. "His passion was subsided."

Subsidence (s. from subside) The act of sinking, a tendency downwards.

Subsidency (s. from subsidence) The act of sinking, a tendency downwards.

S U B

Subsidiary (adj. from subside) Assistant, brought inwards.

Subsiding (p. a. from subside) Sinking, tending downwards.

Subsiding (s. from the part.) The act of sinking, a tendency downwards.

SUBSIDY (s. from the Lat. subsidium) An aid, an given in money, a grant of money to the king.

SUBSI'GN (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and signa sign) To sign under.

Subsighed (p. from subsign) Signed under, with which as, "subsigned with crosses." Camden.

Subsign'ing (p. a. from subsign) Signing under.

Subsign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of signing under.

SUBSI'ST (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and stand to stand) To continue, to retain its being, to live, have the means of living, to inhere, to have existence: with on or upon; as, "To subsist on charity."

Subsistence (s. from subsist) Real being, the means supporting life, a competence.

Subsistencemoney (s. from subsistence, and money) Money allowed for subsistence, half pay given to officers for their present support.

Subsistence (s. not so common a word) Subsistence.

Subsistent (adj. from subsist) Having existence, subsisting.

Subsist'ing (p. a. from subsist) Continuing, living, subsisting.

Subsist'ing (s. from the part.) The act of continuing existence.

SUBSOLA'NUS (s. from the Lat. sub under, and sol sun) The east wind.

SUBSORTITION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and sort a lot) The act of choosing by lot to fill up the place of others who have been refused.

SUBSTANCE (s. from the Lat. sub under, and stand to stand) Being, something existing; the essential part that which supports accidents or qualities; body, corporeality; something real, something solid; the means of life.

Substantial (adj. from substance) Real, actually existing, true, solid; corporeal, material; strong, responsible, tolerably wealthy.

Substantiality (s. from substantial) The state of being substantial, corporeality.

Substantially (adv. from substantial) In a substantial manner.

Substantialness (s. from substantial) The state of being substantial.

Substantials (s. from substantial, wanting the proper) Essential parts.

Substantiate (v. t. from substance) To make to exist, to give being to.

Substantiated (p. from substantiate) Made to exist.

Substantiating (p. a. from substantiate) Making to exist.

Substantiating (s. from the part.) The act of making to exist.

SUBSTANTIVE (s. from the Lat. sub under, and stand to stand) A part of speech in grammar, a word expressing the name of any person, place or thing; the subject of the neuter verb, the agent of an active verb.

Substantive (adj. from the sub.) Betokening existence, depending on itself: but this sense is now out of use.

SUBSTITUTE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and stitute to appoint) To put in the place of another.

Substitute (s. from the verb) One placed in the place of another.

Substituted (p. from substitute) Appointed in the place of another.

Substituting (p. a. from substitute) Appointing in the place of another.

Substituting (s. from the part.) The act of appointing one in the place of another.

Substitution (s. from substitute) The act of placing a person or thing in the room of another; the person being appointed in the room of another.

SUBSTRA'CT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and trahere to draw) To take a part from the whole, to take a less number from a greater according to the rules of arithmetic.

Subtracted (p. from subtract) Taken as a part from the whole, taken one out of another.

Subtract'ing (p. a. from subtract) Taking one from another, taking a less number out of a greater according to the rules of arithmetic.

Subtract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking a number from a greater, the act of taking a part from the whole.

Subtraction (s. from subtract) The act of taking a part from the whole, a rule in arithmetic, the process of taking a less number from a greater.

S U B

S U C

STRATUM (s. from the Lat. sub under, and stratus a layer) A layer of earth or any other matter which lies under another.

STRUCTION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and struo build) The act of securing a foundation, the foundation of a building.

STYLAR (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and stylus style) Belonging to the style, belonging to that line in which the style of a dial is set.

SUULT (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and salto leap) To leap under, to leap about. Bailey.

SULTATION (s. from subult) The act of leaping by leaps. Bailey.

SULTIVE (adj. from subult) Bounding, moving by leaps.

SULTING (p. a. from subult, but not much used) Leaping by leaps.

SULTORILY (adv. from subultory) In a subultory manner.

SULTORY (adj. from subult) Bounding, leaping by leaps.

TANGENT (s. from the Lat. sub under, and tango to touch) The line which determines the intersection of the tangent with the axis of a curve.

TREGULANEOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and tregula a covering) Situate under the eaves or roof of a house. Bailey.

TEND (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and tendo to stretch) To stretch under, to extend opposite to a string the bow.

TENDED (p. from subtend) Stretched under, extended opposite to.

TENDING (p. a. from subtend) Stretching under, extending opposite to.

TENDING (s. from the part.) The act of extending opposite to.

TENSE (s. from the Lat. sub under, and tendo to stretch) The string of a bow, the cord of an arch.

TERFLUENT (adj. from the Lat. subter under, and fluere to flow) Flowing under, running under.

TERFLUOUS (adj. from subterfluent) Flowing under.

TERFUGE (s. from the Lat. subter under, and fugio to fly) An evasion, a shift, a trick.

TERRANE (adj. not much used) Subterranean. Scott.

TERRANEAL (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and terra the earth) Lying under the earth. Boyle.

TERRANEAN (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and terra the earth) Lying under the earth, placed below the surface of the earth.

TERRANEOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and terra the earth) Subterranean.

TERRANEOUSNESS (s. from subterraneus) The state of being subterranean. Scott.

TERRANITY (s. from subterrany) The state of being subterranean. Brown.

TERRANY (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and terra the earth) Subterranean. Bacon.

TERRANY (s. from the adj.) A place under the surface of the earth. Bacon.

TILE (adj. from the Lat. subtilis) Thin, fine, piercing, acute; refined, acute beyond exactness; cunning, artful, sly, deceitful.

TILELY (adv. from subtile) Finely, with fineness of parts; artfully, cunningly.

TILENESS (s. from subtile) The state or quality of being subtile.

TILER (adj. comp. of subtile) Subtile in a greater degree.

TILEST (adj. sup. of subtile) Subtile in the greatest degree.

TILITE (v. t. from subtile) To make subtile, to make thin.

TILITED (p. from subtilite) Made thin, made subtile.

TILITING (p. a. from subtilite) Making subtile, making thin. Harvey.

TILITION (s. from subtilite) The act of making thin. Bo.

TILITY (s. from subtile, but not a common word) Subtily. Scott.

TILIZATION (s. from subtilize) The act or process of making any thing subtile or volatile; a refinement, a superfluous acuteness.

TILIZE (v. t. from subtile) To make thin, to make volatile; to refine, to make over nice distinctions.

TILIZED (p. from subtilize) Made thin, made volatile; refined, too nicely distinguished.

TILIZING (p. a. from subtilize) Making thin, making volatile; refining, spinning out with too great nicety.

TILIZING (s. from the part.) The act or process of making thin and volatile, the act of refining beyond what is necessary.

Sub'tilly (adj. from subtile, but not a common spelling) Subtily. Scott.

Sub'tilty (s. from subtile) Thinness, fineness of parts; nicety, refinement; cunning, artifice.

Sub'tile (adj. from subtile) Sly, artful, cunning.

Sub'tlety (s. from subtile) Cunning, artfulness. Scott.

Sub'tly (adv. from subtile) Silly, artfully; nicely, delicately.

SUBTRACT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and trahere to draw, but not so common a word) To subtract.

Subtracted (p. from subtract) Subtracted. Ha.

Subtracting (p. a. from subtract) Subtracting. Ray.

Subtracting (s. from the part.) The act of subtracting. Ray.

Subtraction (s. from subtract, but not so common a word) Subtraction. Johnson.

SUBTRAHEND (s. from the Lat. sub under, and trahere to draw) The less number which is to be taken out of the greater in subtraction.

SUBTRIPLE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and triplex threefold) Containing one part of three.

SUBUBERES (s. from the Lat. sub under, and uber the breast) Infants that suck at the breast. Bailey.

SUBVECTION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and vehere to carry) A secret method of conveyance. Bailey.

SUBVENTANEOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and ventus the wind) Consisting of wind, adde, conceiving wind, impregnated of wind.

SURVENTION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and venire to come) A supply, an aid, a subsidy. Bailey.

SUBVERSE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and verto to turn) To subvert.

Subverted (p. from subverse) Subverted. Thomson.

Subversing (p. a. from subverse) Subverting.

Subversion (s. from subverse) An overthrow, a ruin, a destruction.

Subversive (adj. from subverse) Tending to subversion, tending to an overthrow.

Subvert (p. obsolete, from subverse) Subverted, subverted. Spenser.

SUBVERT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and verto to turn) To overthrow, to destroy, to turn upside down; to corrupt, to confound.

Subverted (p. from subvert) Overthrown, destroyed, turned upside down.

Subverter (s. from subvert) One who subverts.

Subverting (p. a. from subvert) Overturning, destroying.

Subverting (s. from the part.) The act of overturning.

SUBVICAR (s. from the Lat. sub under, and vicarius in the room of another) An under vicar.

Subvicarship (s. from subvicar) The office of a subvicar.

SUBULARIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

SUBULATED (adj. in botany, from the Lat. subula a bodkin) Having the form of a bodkin, gradually lessening from the base to the point.

SUBURB (s. from the Lat. sub under, and urbs a city) The part of a city which lies without the walls; the confines, the out parts.

Suburban (adj. from suburb) Belonging to the suburbs, inhabiting the suburbs.

Suburbanity (s. from suburb) The state of living in the suburbs. Bailey.

Suburbanian (adj. a different dwelling) Suburban. Scott.

Suburbian (adj. from suburb) Belonging to those provinces which composed the ancient diocese of Rome.

SUBVULTURIAN (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and vultur a vulture) Living by rapine. Bailey.

Subworker (s. from sub, and work) An under worker, a subordinate worker. South.

SUC (s. from the French) Juice, moisture.

SUCAGE (s. from suc) An apochylism, rob.

SUCCAGO (s. with apothecaries) An apochylism, an inspissated juice. Scott.

SUCCARATH (s. in zoology) An American wild beast with a face resembling that of a lion.

Succedaneous (adj. from succedaneum) Supplying the place of something else.

SUCCEDANEUM (s. from the Lat. sub under, and cedo to come) That which is put for something else; a medicine used to supply the place of another that cannot be so easily obtained.

SUCCEEDENT (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and cedo to go) Succeeding, following after.

SUCCEED (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and cedo to go) To follow in order, to come into the place of another; to obtain one's wish, to terminate according to wish; to go under cover. Dryden.

Succeed

S U C

Succed'd (v. t.) To follow; to prosper, to make successful.

Succeed'ed (p. from succeed) Followed; rendered successful, prospered.

Succeed'er (s. from succeed) One who succeeds, a successor.

Succeed'ing (p. a. from succeed) Following, coming into the place of another; prospering, rendering successful.

Succeed'ing (s. from the part.) The act of following, the act of prospering.

SUCCENT'OR (s. from the Lat. sub under, and cano to sing) One who sings an under part, one who sings the base.

SUCCENTURIA'THE (s. in anatomy) The capsules of the reins.

SUCCENTU'RIATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and centuria a band of a hundred men) To fill up a band or company of soldiers.

Succenturiated (p. from succenturiate, but not much used) Filled up as a band or company of soldiers.

SUCCENTURIA'TI (s. in anatomy) The capsules of the reins.

Succenturiating (p. a. from succenturiate, but not much used) Filling up a band or company of soldiers.

Succenturia'tion (s. from succenturiate) The act of filling up, the act of substituting.

SUCCER'NATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and cerno to sift) To sift as meal.

Succernated (p. from succernate, but not used) Sifted as meal.

Succernating (p. a. from succernate, but not used) Sifting as gravel.

SUCCE'SS (s. from the Lat. sub under, and cedo to go) Prosperity, the prosperous issue of any affair, the event of any matter prosperous or unprosperous; succession; but this sense is now become obsolete. Spenser.

Succes'sful (adj. from success) Prosperous, happy, fortunate.

Succes'sfully (adv. from successful) Prosperously, with success.

Succes'sfulness (s. from successful) The state of being successful, a series of good fortune.

Succes'sion (s. from success) Consecution, a continuation, a series of persons or things following one another; a lineage, an order of descendants; the right of an inheritance from an ancestor.

Succes'sive (adj. from success) Following in order, continuing in an uninterrupted succession; inheriting by succession; but this sense is now obsolete. Shakespeare.

Succes'sively (adv. from successive) In succession, in an uninterrupted order.

Succes'siveness (s. from successive) The state of being successive.

Succes'sless (adj. from success) Void of success, unfortunate.

SUCCES'SOR (s. from the Lat.) One that follows in the place, character, or office of another.

SUCCES'SOUR (s. from the French successeur, the less modern spelling) A successor, one that follows in the place, character, or office of another.

SUCCID'UOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and cado to fall) Ready to fall.

Succine'ous (adj. from succinum) Belonging to amber.

SUCCIN'CT (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and cinctus bound) Girded up, having the cloaths drawn up as on the legs; short, concise, brief.

Succinct'ly (adv. from succinct) Briefly, concisely, without superfluity of words.

Succinct'ness (s. from succinct) Brevity, conciseness.

SUCCIN'UM (s. in natural history) The amber.

Succis'ive (adj. not used) Done in the intervals of other business.

SUCCIS'SA (s. in botany and medicine) A kind of scabiosa.

SUCCOLLA'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and collum the neck) A beating on the shoulders.

Succor (s. a modern spelling) Succour, help.

SUC'CORY (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Succo'sity (s. from succous) The state or quality of being succous.

SUC'COTH (s. from the Heb. signifying tents) The name of a place in the land of Israel.

SUC'COTHBE'NOTH (s. from the Heb. signifying the tents of prostitutes) An idol worshipped by the Babylonians.

SUC'COTRA (s.) An island on the coast of America famous for the produce of the finest sort of aloes.

Suc'cotrine (adj. in medicine, from Succotra) Belonging to the finest kind of aloes, distinguishing the finest sort of aloes.

S U C

SUC'COUR (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and curro to run) To help, to assist in difficulty, to help in distress, to relieve.

Suc'cour (s. from the verb) Aid, assistance, help in difficulty or distress; one that brings help, any thing that succours.

Suc'coured (p. from succour) Aided, assisted, helped in distress.

Suc'courer (s. from succour) One who succours, one who helps; a helper, an assistant.

Suc'coursing (p. a. from succour) Helping, assisting, relieving; helping in distress.

Suc'coursing (s. from the part.) The act of helping.

Suc'coursless (adj. from succour) Wanting succour, void of friends, void of help.

SUC'COUS (adj. from the Lat. succus moisture) Juicy, full of juice.

SUC'CUBA (s. from the Lat. sub under, and cubo to lie down, with physicians) An inflation of the stomach attended with the sensation of a great weight on the breast.

SUC'CUBA (s. in beaten mythology) A supposed demon in the form of a woman haunting a man in the night and producing the sensation described in the foregoing article, the night mare.

SUC'CUBUS (s. a different spelling) The succuba.

SUC'CU'LA (s. in mechanics) A kind of windlass.

Suc'culency (s. from succulent) The state of being succulent.

Suc'culent (adj. from succus) Juicy, moist.

Suc'culentness (s. from succulent) The state or quality of being succulent.

SUC'COUM'B (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and cumbo to lie down, retained in the Scotch dialect) To sink under a difficulty, to yield.

Succumb'ency (s. from succumb) The state of sinking under difficulties.

Succum'bing (p. a. from succumb, but not used except in the Scotch dialect) Sinking under difficulties, yielding.

SUC'CUS (s. from the Lat.) Moisture, juice, sap.

SUC'CUSA (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

SUCCUSSA'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and quatio to shake) A trot, a trotting.

SUCCUS'SION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and quatio to shake) A violent shock, a concussion; the act of shaking; a stimulation of the nerves.

SUCH (adj. from the Sax. swill) Being of the same kind, being of the like kind; with as; as, "Ye love a werse, take such as I can fend." "Such gift as a kingdom."

SUCK (v. t. from the Sax. fucan) To draw in with the mouth, to draw by exhausting the air, to draw the milk, to empty by sucking; to draw from the breast, to draw from the dug of an animal; to drain, to exhaust.

Suck (v. int.) To draw, to draw the breast, to draw by rarefying the air, to imbibe.

Suck (s. from the verb) The act of sucking, the milk given by females.

Suck'ed (p. from suck) Drawn in by the mouth, drawn by a rarefaction of the air, emptied by sucking, drained, exhausted.

Suck'er (s. from suck) One that sucks, any thing that draws by suction, the embolus of a pump, a pipe through which any thing is sucked; a young twig shooting from the stock.

Suck'et (s. from suck) A sweetmeat.

Suck'fish (s. from suck, and fish) The remora.

Suck'ing (p. a. from suck) Drawing in with the mouth, drawing by a rarefaction of the air, drawing the breast; draining, exhausting.

Suck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing in by the mouth, the act of drawing the breast, the act of drawing by a rarefaction of the air.

Suck'ingbottle (s. from sucking, and bottle) A bottle to supply the want of the breast to children.

Suck'iny (s. obsolete) A kind of white attire, a rocket, a frock.

Suck'le (v. t. from suck) To nurse at the breast.

Suck'led (p. from suckle) Nursed at the breast.

Suck'ling (p. a. from suckle) Nursing at the breast.

Suck'ling (s. from the part.) The act of nursing at the breast.

Suck'ling (s. from suck) A young child at the breast, a young creature fed at the dug.

Suck'stone (s. from suck, and stone) The lamprey.

Suction (s. from suck) The act of sucking, the power of sucking.

Suc'ula (s. a different spelling) The succula.

SUC'ULA

S U F

SUFULA (s. from the Lat.) A little fow.
SUFULAE (s. from the Lat.) The Hyades, the seven stars.
SUFULAE (s. a sea term) The south wind.
SUFAMINA (s. in medicine) A kind of small pimples on the skin.
SUFATION (s. from the Lat. sudo to sweat) A sweat.
SUFATORY (adj. from the Lat. sudo to sweat) Producing sweat.
SUFATORY (s. from the adj.) A sweating bath; a hot bath.
SUFEBURY (s.) A town in Suffolk; it has a market on Saturday, and is 54 miles from London.
SUFEBURY (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Sudbury, made of Sudbury.
SUFEDEN (adj. from the Sax. foden) Coming hastily, coming without notice; hasty, violent, passionate, precipitate.
SUFEDEN (s. from the adj.) A point of time, an unexpected point of time; a surprise, an unexpected occurrence.
SUFEDEN (adj. comp. of sudden) Sudden in a greater degree.
SUFEDEN (adj. sup. of sudden) Sudden in the greatest degree.
SUFEDEN (adv. from sudden) In an unexpected manner, hastily.
SUFEDEN (s. from sudden) The state of being sudden, unexpected appearance, a manner of coming unexpectedly.
SUFOR (s. from the Lat.) Sweat.
SUFORIFERA (s. from the Lat. sudor sweat, and fero bring) Medicines to promote sweating.
SUFORIFERUS (adj. from sudoriferus) Causing sweat.
SUFORIFERUS (s. from sudoriferus) The state or quality of being sudoriferous.
SUFORIFIC (adj. from the Lat. sudor sweat, and facio make) Causing sweat, producing sweat.
SUFORIFIC (s. from the adj.) A medicine to promote sweating.
SUFORIFICA (s. from sudorific) Medicines to promote sweating.
SUF (s. from the Sax. feodan to seek) A livivium of up and water. In the fuds, in difficulty.
SUF (v. t. from the French sulvre) To prosecute at law; gain by legal procedure.
SUF (v. int.) To beg, to entreat, to petition; with to, for: as, "I sue to you for peace."
SUF (s. contracted from Sufanna) A woman's name, Sufanna in familiar style.
SUF (p. from sue) Prosecuted at law; followed.
SUF (s. from the old French) The fat about the kidneys, hard fat.
SUFONIUS (s.) A man's name, the name of several famous Romans.
SUF (adj. from suet) Consisting of suet, made of suet, resembling suet.
SUF (s.) The most ancient and warlike people of many.
SUF (s. from Suevi) The country of the Suevi.
SUFARANEOS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and araneos carrying meal, substituted under another).
SUFARINATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and araneos to stuff) To stuff.
SUFARINATE (p. from suffarcinate, but not used) Stuffed.
SUFARINATE (p. a. from suffarcinate, but not used) Stuffed.
SUFARINATE (s. from the Lat. sub under, and facio) A substitution.
SUFARINUS (s.) A man's name, a silly poet who was fond of his own performances and delighted others.
SUFARINUS (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and fero to bear) To bear, to undergo, to feel with sense of pain; endure, to support; to allow, to permit; to pass through, to receive the effect of.
SUFARINUS (v. int.) To undergo pain, to undergo punishment, to sustain injury; with for: as, "He alone must suffer for it."
SUFARINUS (adj. from suffer) Tolerable, capable of being suffered.
SUFARINUS (s. from sufferable) Tolerableness. Scott.
SUFARINUS (adv. from sufferable) In a manner to be suffered, tolerable.
SUFARINUS (s. from suffer) Toleration, permission; patience, moderation; pain, misery, inconvenience.
SUFARINUS (adj. obsolete) Suffering, patient. Chaucer.
SUFARINUS (p. from suffer) Endured, born; permitted, suffered.
SUFARINUS (s. from suffer) One who suffers.

S U F

SUFFERING (p. a. from suffer) Enduring, bearing, permitting, allowing.
SUFFERING (s. from the part.) Pain, affliction.
SUFFERUSURAE (s. in medicine) A kind of cuticular eruption in children occasioned by heat.
SUFFETE (s. from the Heb. signifying a judge) The supreme magistrate among the Carthaginians.
SUFFETIM (s. from the Heb.) The suffetes.
SUFFICE (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and facio to do) To be sufficient, to answer the purpose.
Suffice (v. t.) To supply, to afford; to satisfy.
Sufficed (p. from suffice) Sufficed, satisfied.
Sufficiently (adv. an old spelling) Sufficiently. Chaucer.
Sufficiency (s. from sufficient) A competency, a supply adequate to the want, the state of being sufficient; a qualification for any purpose; an opinion of one's self as sufficient. Temple.
Sufficient (adj. from suffice) Competent, adequate to, qualified, having requisite abilities; with for: as, "Who is sufficient for these things."
Sufficiently (adv. from sufficient) In an adequate manner.
Sufficiency (s. from sufficient, not used) The state of being sufficient.
Sufficing (p. a. from suffice) Answering the purpose, satisfying; with for: as, "Sufficing for our present happiness."
Sufficing (s. from the part.) The act of satisfying.
SUFFIMENTUM (s. from the Lat.) A kind of perfume, a fumigation.
Suffrable (adj. obsolete) Patient, passive. Chaucer.
Suffrance (s. obsolete) Excess, plenty. Spenser.
Suffraunce (s. obsolete) Sufficiency, ability. Chaucer.
Suffraunt (adj. obsolete) Sufficient, able. Chaucer.
Suffrauntly (adv. obsolete) Sufficiently. Chaucer.
Suffice (v. int. obsolete) To bear, to be sufficient. Chaucer.
SUFFITION (s. from the Lat. suffitio, but not used) A fumigation. Cole.
SUFFITUS (s. from the Lat.) A kind of perfume, a fumigation.
SUFFLAMEN (s. from the Lat.) The stop of a wheel, that which stops a wheel.
Sufflamine (v. t. from sufflamine) To stop a wheel, to stop a wheel by placing something under it. Cole.
SUFFLATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and flo to blow) To puff up. Bailey.
Sufflated (p. from sufflate, but not used) Puffed up, blown up.
Sufflating (p. a. from sufflate, but not used) Puffing up, blowing up.
Sufflating (s. from the part.) The act of puffing up.
Sufflation (s. from sufflate) The act of blowing up. Co.
SUFFOCATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and foco to choke) To choke by excluding the air, to kill with heated air.
Suffocated (p. from suffocate) Choked for want of air.
Suffocating (p. a. from suffocate) Choking for want of air, choking by excluding the air.
Suffocating (s. from the part.) The act of choking for want of air.
Suffocation (s. from suffocate) The act of choking, the state of being choked for want of air.
Suffocative (adj. from suffocate) Having the power to suffocate.
SUFFOLK (s.) A maritime county of England; it contains thirty two market towns, and sends sixteen members to parliament, two for the shire, and two for each of the boroughs Ipswich, Dunwich, Orford, Aldborough, Sudbury, Eye, and Saint Edmundsbury.
Suffolk (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Suffolk, produced in the county of Suffolk.
SUFFOSION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and fodio to dig) The act of digging under. Cole.
SUFFRAGAN (adj. from the Lat. suffragans assisting) Helping, assisting.
Suffragan (s. from the adj.) A bishop considered as subject to his metropolitan.
Suffragate (v. int. from suffrage) To vote with, to agree in voice. Hale.
Suffragation (s. from suffragate) The act of giving a suffrage.
SUFFRAGE (s. from the Lat. suffragium) A vote, a voice given in a controverted point.
SUFFRAGINOUS (adj. from the Lat. suffrago the knee joint of a beast) Belonging to the hough, belonging to the knee joint of a beast.
Suffraunce (s. an old spelling) Patience, sufferance. Ch.
Suffraunt (adj. obsolete) Suffering, patient. Chaucer.
SUFFRICATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and frico to rub) To rub off, to rub under. Cole.
Suffricated (p. from suffricate, but not used) Rubbed off, suffricating.

SUI

Suffracting (p. a. from suffracte, but not used) Rubbing off.
SUFFRUTEX (s. in botany) The name of a shrub.
SUFFUMIGATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and fumigo to fumigate) To smoke underneath.
Suffumigated (p. from suffumigate) Fumigated underneath.
Suffumigating (p. a. from suffumigate) Fumigating underneath.
Suffumigating (s. from the part.) The act of fumigating underneath.
Suffumigation (s. from suffumigate) The operation of fumes raised by fire.
SUFFUSE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and fundo to pour out) To spread over, to disperse through all parts.
Suffused (p. from suffuse) Spread over, dispersed through all parts.
Suffusing (p. a. from suffuse) Spreading over, dispersing through all parts.
Suffusing (s. from the part.) The act of spreading over, a suffusion.
Suffusion (s. from suffuse) The act of overspreading, the state of being suffused.
SUG (s. in the history of insects) The sea flea.
SUG (v. t. from the Lat. sugo) To soak in water.
SUGAR (s. from the Lat. saccharum) The salt of a cane which grows in the West Indies remarkable for its sweetness; any thing proverbially sweet; a dry chymical crystallization.
Sugar (adj. from the sub. frequently used in composition) Belonging to sugar, made of sugar.
Sugar (v. t. from the sub.) To impregnate with sugar, to sweeten.
Sugar (s. from sugar, and cane) The cane that produces sugar.
Sugar (s. from sugar, and dish) A dish to keep sugar in.
Sugared (p. from sugar) Impregnated with sugar, sweetened.
Sugarhouse (s. from sugar, and house) A house where sugar is refined.
Sugaring (p. a. from sugar) Sweetening with sugar.
Sugaring (s. from the part.) The act of sweetening with sugar, the sugar with which any thing is sweetened.
Sugarisland (s. from sugar, and island) One of the islands in which sugar grows.
Sugarloaf (s. from sugar, and loaf) A lump of refined sugar.
Sugarplum (s. from sugar, and plum) A kind of sweet meat.
Sugartrade (s. from sugar, and trade) Traffick in sugar.
Sugarwork (s. from sugar, and work) The place where sugar is extracted from the canes; a kind of sweetmeat.
Sugary (adj. from sugar) Containing sugar, consisting of sugar, like sugar.
SUGGEST (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and gero to bring) To intimate, to hint; to tell privately, to seduce; but these senses are now grown obsolete.
Suggested (p. from suggest) Intimated, hinted.
Suggesting (p. a. from suggest) Intimating, hinting.
Suggesting (s. from the part.) The act of intimating.
Suggestion (s. from suggest) An intimation, a hint, an insinuation, a secret notification.
SUGILLA'NA (s. from the Lat. fugillo to beat black) A black eye.
SUGILLATE (v. t. from the Lat. fugillo) To beat black and blue, to make livid by a blow.
Sugillated (p. from sugillate) Beaten black and blue.
Sugillating (p. a. from sugillate) Beating black and blue.
Sugillating (s. from the part.) The act of beating black and blue.
Sugillation (s. from sugillate) The livid mark of a blow; the spots in malignant fevers.
Sug're (s. an old spelling) Sugar. Chaucer.
Sug're (adj. obsolete) Sweet, grateful, pleasing. Chaucer.
Sug'rid (adj. obsolete) Sweetened, made sweet. Chaucer.
SU'HAK (s. in zoology) A kind of goat.
SU'ICIDE (s. from the Lat. sui of himself, and cædo to kill) The crime of killing one's self, self murder.
SU'IDAS (s.) A man's name, an excellent grammarian and lexicographer.
Suillage (s. obsolete) A drain, a sewer; filth. Scott.
SUIL'LUS (s. in botany) The boletus, a genus of mushrooms.
Su'ing (p. from sue) Pursuing at law.
Su'ing (s. from the part.) A prosecution at law.
SU'ING (s. supposed to be from the French suer to sweat) The act of soaking through. Bacon.
SUIT (s. from the French suite) A set, a number of things correspondent to each other; cloaths made to answer one part to the other; a series, a regular train.

SUL

Suit (v. t. from the sub.) To fit, to adapt one thing to another; to dress, to clothe; to become, to correspond with.
Suit (v. int.) To agree, to accord, to have correspondent properties; with to: as, "It suits with so well."
Suitable (adj. from suit) Fitting, agreeable to, correspondent; with to: as, "It is very suitable to the principles of the Roman church."
Suitableness (s. from suitable) Fitness, agreeableness.
Suitably (adv. from suitable) In a suitable manner.
Suit/covenant (s. a law term, from suit, and covenant) The covenant one man has entered into with the cæsto: of another to sue at his court.
Suit/custom (s. a law term) Suit that has been paid the immemorial.
Suited (p. from suit) Fitted, adapted to, furnished with a suit; with to: as, "Suited to their different conditions."
Suiter (s. from suit) A petitioner, one that sues; a suitor, one who courts a woman.
Suiting (p. a. from suit) Fitting, corresponding, agreeing with, petitioning, courting.
Suiting (s. from the part.) The act of fitting, the making one thing correspond with another, the courtship.
Suitor (s. from suit) A suppliant, one that courts a lady.
Suitor (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to courtship, long to one who courts a lady. "Far from suitor train."
Suitre'al (s. a law term) An appearance at the feet.
Suitre'gal (s. a law term) The appearance at the feet.
Suitor (s. from suitor) A female suppliant.
Suit/service (s. a law term) The attendance which a suitor owes to the court of their lord.
Suit/silver (s. a law term) The money paid to a suitor for an attendance on the court of the lord of a manor.
SUL'CATED (adj. from the Lat. sulcus a furrow) Furrowed.
Sull (s. a local word) A plough.
SULLEN (adj. of obscure etymology) Gloomily angry, sullenly discontented; heavy, dull; gloomy, obstinate, intractable; mischievous, malignant.
Sullen (adj. comp. of fullen) Sullen in a greater degree.
Sullenest (adj. sup. of fullen) Sullen in the greatest degree.
Sullenly (adv. from fullen) Gloomily, intractably, sullenly.
Sullenness (s. from fullen) Gloominess, moroseness, sullenity.
Sullens (s. a burlesque, from sullen, and wanting the lar) Sullenness, gloominess of mind. Shakespeare.
Sullage (s. from sully) Pollution, filth; the stain of filth.
Sullied (p. from sully) Soiled, tarnished.
Sull/paddle (s. a local word, from sully, and paddle) A small paddle used to clean the plough.
SUL'LY (v. t. from the French souiller) To soil, to dirty, to dirt, to spot.
Sully (s. from the verb) A soil, a spot.
Sully (p. a. from sully) Soiling, tarnishing.
Sully (s. from the part.) The act of soiling.
SULPHUR (s. from the Lat.) Brimstone.
Sulphureous (adj. from sulphur) Made of brimstone, having the qualities of brimstone.
Sulphureousness (s. from sulphureous) The state of being sulphureous.
Sulphurine (adj. from sulphur) Sulphureous.
Sulphur (adj. from sulphur) Made of sulphur, having the qualities of sulphur.
Sulphurwort (s. in botany) The hog'sfennel.
Sulphury (adj. from sulphur) Containing sulphur.
SULPITIA (s.) The name of a woman a Roman poet.
Sulpitian (s. from Sulpitia) Belonging to Sulpitia, long to an illustrious family at Rome.
SULPITIUS (s.) The name of a man, the name of a famous illustrious Roman.
SULTAN (s. from the Arabic) The emperor of the Turks.
Sultana (s. from Sultan) The wife of the Sultan.
SULTANE (s. in confectionary) A kind of sweetmeat made of eggs, sugar, and fine flower.
Sultane (s. from Sultan) The wife of the Sultan.
SULTANIN (s.) A gold coin in Turkey valued at eight shillings.
Sultany (s. from Sultan) An eastern empire.

S U M

trinefs (s. from sultry) The state of being sultry.
TRY (adj. the derivation is uncertain) Close, hot and cloudy, hot without air.
SUM (s. from the Lat. summa) The whole of any thing, total; a quantity of money, an uncertain quantity of money; a compendium, an abridgment; height, completion.
(v. t. from the sub.) To compute, to collect into total; to comprise, to comprehend; with up emphatical: as, "He may as well undertake to sum up unity."
(v. int. in falconry) To have feathers full grown. For.
(adj. an old spelling) Some. Clauser.
SUMACH (s. in botany) The name of a tree, the name of a shrub.
SUMACH (s. in botany) The name of a shrub.
SUMACH (s. a different spelling) The sumach. Phillips.
UMBRIERO (s. from the Spanish) A canopy of state; a kind of superb screen or umbrella.
SUM (adj. from sum) Large beyond computation.
SUM (s. an old spelling) A sum. Phillips.
SUMMA (s. in old records) A horseload.
SUMMANUS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Pluto.
SUMMARY (adv. from summary) Briefly, in a summary manner.
SUMMARY (adj. from sum) Short, brief, compendious.
SUMMARY (s. from the adj.) A compendium, an abridgement.
SUMMATIOUS (adj. from the Lat. summa a sum, not much used) Belonging to computation.
SUMMATORY (adj. from the Lat. summa a sum) Relating to computation, employed in finding the cent of a fluxion.
SUMMED (p. from sum) Computed, collected into one; recapitulated, drawn up in brief hints.
SUMMED (adj. in falconry) Having feathers fully grown, full.
SUMMER (s. from the Sax. fumer) That season of the year in which the sun has the greatest force.
SUMMER (s. in architecture) The principal beam of a door.
SUMMER (v. int. from the sub.) To pass the summer.
SUMMER (v. int.) To keep warm; to keep through the summer.
SUMMER (adj. from the sub. sometimes used in composition) Belonging to the summer, done in summer, fit for summer.
SUMMERCORN (s. from summer and corn) Corn which ripens in summer.
SUMMERED (p. from summer) Kept through the summer, kept warm.
SUMMERFRUIT (s. from summer, and fruit) Fruit produced the height of summer.
SUMMERHOUSE (s. from summer, and house) An apartment in a garden to be used in the summer.
SUMMERING (p. a. from summer) Keeping warm, keeping through the summer.
SUMMERPARLOUR (s. from summer, and parlour) A room to be used in the summer.
SUMMERNOON (s. from summer, and noon) The noon of summer's day.
SUMMERFAULT (s. from summer and fault) A high leap which the heels are thrown over the head.
SUMMERLET (s. a corruption of summerfault) A summerlet. Gulliver.
SUMMERFOLSTICE (s. from summer, and solstice) The height of summer, the point of time with us when the sun is the greatest northern declination.
SUMMERITIR (v. t. in husbandry, from summer, and stir) To plough land for fallow in the summer.
SUMMERITIR (p. from summeritir) Ploughed in the summer.
SUMMERITIRING (p. a. from summeritir) Ploughing fallow in the summer.
SUMMERITIRING (s. from the part.) Fallow ploughed in the summer.
SUMMERTREE (s. in building) The summer, the principal beam of a floor.
SUMMIT (s. from sum) An abridger.
SUMMIT (s. from the Lat. summitas) The top, the utmost height.
SUMMITTY (s. not so common a word) A summit. Phillips.
SUMMON (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and moneo admonish) To cite, to call with authority, to warn to appear; to excite, to raise, to call; with up: as, "Summon up all thy courage."
SUMMONED (p. from summon) Cited, called to appear; cited, raised.

S U N

SUMMONER (s. from summon) One who cites, one who summons.
SUMMONING (p. a. from summon) Citing, calling with authority; exciting, raising.
SUMMONING (s. from the part.) The act of citing.
SUMMONITOR (s. from summon) An apparitor.
SUMMONITORES (s. in old records) Apparitors; officers who assisted in collecting the king's revenues.
SUMMONS (s. from summon) A call of authority, a citation, an admonition to appear; a writing containing a citation.
SUMMUM BONUM (s. from the Lat. summum greatest, and bonum good) The chief good.
SUMNER (s. not so common a word) A summoner. Phillips.
SUMPTER (s. from the French sommier) A pack horse, a horse that carries cloaths or furniture. Shakespeare.
SUMPTERHORSE (s. from sumpter, and horse) A horse which carries necessaries for a journey.
SUMPTERMULE (s. from sumpter, and mule) A mule that carries cloaths or furniture for a journey.
SUMPTERSADDLE (s. from sumpter, and saddle) A pack saddle, a pannel.
SUMPTIFY (v. int. from the Lat. sumptus expence, and facio to make, but not used) To lay out great expences. Bailey.
SUMPTION (s. from the Lat. fumo to take) The act of taking. Taylor.
SUMPTUARY (adj. from the Lat. sumptus expence) Relating to expence, regulating the cost of living.
SUMPTUOUSLY (s. from sumptuous) Expensiveness, costliness. Rauleigh.
SUMPTUOUS (adj. from the Lat. sumptus expence) Costly, expensive, splendid.
SUMPTUOUSLY (adv. from sumptuous) Expensively, splendidly.
SUMPTUOUSNESS (s. from sumptuous) The state of being sumptuous.
SUN (s. from the Sax. sunne) The luminary that makes the day; a sunny place, the sun shine; any thing remarkably splendid. "Under the sun," in the world.
SUN (v. t. from the sub.) To expose to the sun, to warm in the sun.
SUN (adj. from the sub. used in composition) Belonging to the sun.
SUNBEAM (s. from sun, and beam) A ray of light proceeding from the sun.
SUNBEAT (adj. from sun, and beat) Shone on by the sun.
SUNBEATEN (adj. from sunbeat) Shone on by the sun, tarnished by the heat of the sun.
SUNBRIGHT (adj. from sun, and bright) Resembling the brightness of the sun.
SUNBURNING (s. from sun, and burn) The effect of the sun on the face.
SUNBURNT (adj. from sun, and burn) Discoloured by the sun, burnt by the sun.
SUNCLAD (adj. from sun, and clad) Bright, clothed in brightness.
SUND (s. an old spelling) A sound, a strait. Col.
SUNDAY (s. from sun, and day) The day which our heathen ancestors dedicated to the sun, the first day of the week, the Christian sabbath.
SUNDAYEVENING (s. from Sunday, and evening) The evening of the Lord's day.
SUNDAYLETTER (s. from Sunday, and letter) The dominical letter, the letter in the calendar which points out the first day of the week.
SUNDAYMORNING (s. from Sunday, and morning) The morning of the Sunday.
SUNDAYNIGHT (s. from Sunday, and night) The night of the Sunday.
SUNDER (v. t. from the Sax. synthrian) To divide, to part.
SUNDER (s. from the verb) Two parts.
SUNDERED (p. from sunder) Divided, parted. Carew.
SUNDERING (p. a. from sunder) Dividing, parting.
SUNDERLAND (s.) A town in the bishoprick of Durham; it has a market on Friday, and is 271 miles from London.
SUNDERLAND (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Sunderland, made at Sunderland.
SUNDREW (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
SUNDIAL (s. from sun, and dial) An instrument to shew the hour by the shining of the sun.
SUNDRIES (s. plu. of sundry) Several things.
SUNDRY (adj. from the Sax. sunder) Several, containing more than one.
SUNDRY (s. from the adj.) Several persons, several things.

S U P

Sun/foil (s. in botany) A sunflower. Scott.
Sun/flower (s. from sun, and flower) The name of a plant, the flower is radiated and remarkable for turning with the sun.
Sung (v. t. pret. of sing) Did sing.
Sung (p. from sing) Uttered with a musical modulation of the voice, celebrated in song.
Sunk (v. t. pret. of sink) Did sink.
Sunk (p. from sink) Depressed, lowered, put under water; decreased in flesh, depressed in mind.
Sun/less (adj. from sun) Wanting the sun, void of the sun.
Sun/like (adj. from sun, and like) Like the sun, resembling the sun.
Sun/ned (p. from sun) Exposed to the rays of the sun, warmed in the sun.
Sun/nier (adj. comp. of sunny) Sunny in a greater degree.
Sun/niest (adj. sup. of sunny) Sunny in the greatest degree.
Sun/niness (s. from sunny) The state of being exposed to the sun. Scott.
Sun/ning (p. a. from sun) Exposing to the rays of the sun, warming in the sun.
Sun/ny (adj. from sun) Bright, resembling the sun, coloured by the sun, exposed to the rays of the sun.
Sun/rise (s. from sun, and rise) The appearance of the sun in the morning, the time when the sun rises, Bent.
Sun/rising (s. from sunrise) The rising of the sun, the time when the sun rises.
Sun/set (s. from sun, and set) The setting of the sun, the time when the sun sets.
Sun/set/ting (s. from sunset) The setting of the sun, the time when the sun sets.
Sun/shine (s. from sun, and shine) The rays of the sun, a place on which the sun shines; favour, prosperity.
Sun/shiny (adj. from sun, and shine, sometimes accented on the second syllable) Bright with the sun, bright like the sun, illuminated by the rays of the sun.
Suo/na (s. in music) A sound considered as the basis of music. Bailey.
Suona/ta (s. in music) A sonata. Bailey.
Suonati/na (s. from suona) A little plain sonata. Bailey.
Suo/no (s. a different spelling) The suona, a sound. Bailey.
Suovetaurilla (s. a different spelling) A solitaurilla, a kind of sacrifice among the Romans.
SUP (v. t. from the Sax. supen) To sip, to drink by little and little.
SUP (v. int. from the French souper) To eat the evening meal.
Sup (v. t.) To treat with a supper.
Sup (s. from the verb) A small draught, a mouthful of liquor.
SUPER (adj. from the Lat.) Better than some other, better in quality than some other.
SUPERABLE (adj. from the Lat. superabilis) Capable of being conquered, surmountable.
Superableness (s. from superable) The state or quality of being conquerable.
SUPERABOUND (v. int. from the Lat. super over, and abundo to abound) To have more than enough, to have a great abundance.
Superabound/ing (p. a. from superabound) Having more than enough, having great abundance.
Superabound/ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of abounding more than enough.
Superabund/ance (s. from superabound) More than enough, a great abundance.
Superabund/ant (adj. from superabound) Having more than enough, superabounding.
Superabund/antly (adv. from superabundant) With superabundance.
SUPERA/DD (v. t. from the Lat. super over, and addo to add) To add over and above, to join to any thing so as to make it more.
Supera/dd (v. int.) To make addition.
Superad/ded (p. from superadd) Added over and above.
Superad/ding (p. a. from superadd) Adding over and above.
Superad/ding (s. from the part.) The act of adding, a superaddition.
Superaddi/tion (s. from superadd) The act of adding, that which is added.
SUPERADVE/NIENT (adj. from the Lat. super over, and advenio to come) Coming to the assistance, coming unexpectedly.
SUPERAFFU/SION (s. from the Lat. super over, and affundo to pour out) The act of pouring over, the act of pouring out upon. Bailey.

S U P

SUPERAN/NATE (v. int. from the Lat. super over, and annus a year, but not so common a word) To superannuate, to grow out of date.
SUPERAN/NUATE (v. t. from the Lat. super over, annus a year) To impair by length of time.
Superan/nuate (v. int. but not in use) To last beyond year.
Superan/nuated (p. from superannuate) Impaired length of time.
Superan/nuating (p. a. from superannuate) Impaired by length of time.
Superannua/tion (s. from superannuate) The state of being impaired by years.
SUPER/B (adj. from the Lat. superbus) Grand, pompously, magnificent.
Superb/er (adj. comp. of superb) Superb in a greater degree.
Superb/est (adj. sup. of superb, not much used) Superb the greatest degree.
SUPERBIF/IC (adj. from the Lat. superbus superb, facio to make) Making superb, making proud.
Superbilo/quence (s. from superbiloquent) Superb language, lofty diction.
SUPERBIL/OQUENT (adj. from the Lat. superbus superb, and loquor to speak) Speaking proudly, using blown expressions.
SUPERBIPAR/TIENT (adj. from the Lat. super over, and partior to part) Belonging to that number in a division which leaves a remainder.
Superb/lily (s. in botany) The name of a plant, flower of the plant.
Superb/ly (adv. from superb) Grandly, magnificently, proudly.
SUPER/BUS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the eye which turns it upwards and contributes to a haughty look.
SUPERCAR/GO (s. on board a ship) The officer who superintends the cargo.
SUPERCELES/TIAL (adj. from the Lat. super over, celestis heavenly) Placed above the firmament.
Supercha/rge (v. t. in heraldry) To place one bearing upon another.
Supercha/rge (s. from the adj.) One bearing in herald placed on another; an overcharge.
Supercharg/ed (p. from supercharge) Placed in herald as one charge or bearing on another.
Supercharg/ing (p. a. from supercharge) Placing bearing on another.
Superchar/ging (s. from the part.) The act of overcharging.
SUPER/CHERY (s. from the French supercherie) A perfidy; a sudden assault.
SUPERCIL/IOUS (adj. from the Lat. supercilium eye brow) Proud, haughty, despotic, dictatorial.
Supercil/iously (adv. from supercilious) Proudly, haughtily, despotically, arbitrarily.
Supercil/ioufness (s. from supercilious) Haughtiness, pride.
SUPERCIL/IUM (s. from the Lat.) The brow, the brow.
SUPERCONCEP/TION (s. from the Lat. super over, concipio to conceive) A second conception, one conception upon another.
SUPERCON/SEQUENCE (s. from the Lat. super over, and consequentia a consequence) A secondary consequence, a remote consequence.
SUPERCRES/CENCE (s. from the Lat. super up, creico to grow) That which grows on some other thing substance.
Superdaint/y (adj. not much used) Over daintiness.
Superem/inence (s. from supereminent) Eminence above the common degree.
Superem/inency (s. from supereminence) An uncommon degree of eminence.
SUPEREM/INENT (adj. from the Lat. super over, emineo to stand out) Eminent in a high degree.
Superem/inently (adv. from supereminent) With superior excellency.
SUPERER/OGATE (v. int. from the Lat. super above, erogo to lay out) To do more than duty requires.
Superer/ogating (p. a. from supererogate) Doing more than duty requires.
Supereroga/tion (s. from supererogate) The act of doing more than duty requires, a work beyond what requires.
Superer/ogatory (adj. from supererogate) Performed beyond what duty requires.
Superex/cellence (s. from superexcellent) The state of being uncommonly excellent.
Superex/cellency (s. from superexcellence) The state of being uncommonly excellent. SUP

S U P

PEREXCELLENT (adj. from the Lat. super above, and excello to excel) Uncommonly excellent.

PEREXCRESCENCE (s. from the Lat. super above, and excreco to grow out) That which grows superfluously.

PERFETATE (v. int. from the Lat. super above, and fetus an embryo) To conceive on another conception.

PERFETATING (p. a. from superfetate) Conceiving on another conception.

PERFETATION (s. from superfetate) One conception upon another.

PERFICE (s. from the Lat. super upon, and facies the face, not much used) A surface, the surface, the outside.

PERFICIAL (adj. from the Lat. super upon, and facies the face) Lying on the surface, belonging to the surface; shallow, having no depth; wanting in penetration, deficient in knowledge, deficient in learning.

PERFICIAL (s. from the adj.) That which has but little depth.

PERFICIALIST (s. from superficial) One who attends to anything superficially.

PERFICIALITY (s. from superficial) The state or quality of being superficial.

PERFICIALIZE (v. int. from superficial) To perform superficially.

PERFICIALIZING (p. a. from superficialize) Performing superficially.

PERFICIALLY (adv. from superficial) On the surface, on the outside, without depth, without penetration.

PERFICIALNESS (s. from superficial) The state or quality of being superficial.

PERFICIALIUS (s. in old records) One who builds on another man's ground and pays a quit rent.

PERFICIALIUS (s. from superficialius) One who builds on another man's ground and pays a quit rent.

PERFICIALIES (s. from the Lat.) A surface, the outside, the superficial content.

PERFINE (adj. from super, and fine) Eminently fine.

PERFINE (s. from the adj.) The best kind of woollen cloth, a piece of the finest cloth.

PERFINE (v. int. from the adj.) To act a critical part; to superfine upon.

PERFINENESS (s. from superfine) The greatest fineness.

PERFLUITANCE (s. from superfluitant) The act of floating on the surface.

PERFLUITANT (adj. from the Lat. super upon, and fluo to flow) Flowing on the surface.

PERFLUITY (s. from superfluous) The state of being superfluous.

PERFLUOUS (adj. from the Lat. super upon, and fluo to flow) Superabundant, exuberant; unnecessary, excessive by its abundance.

PERFLUOUSLY (adv. from superfluous) In a superfluous manner.

PERFLUOUSNESS (s. from superfluous) The state or quality of being superfluous.

PERFLUX (s. from the Lat. super above, and fluxus) That which is more than enough.

PERFYCE (s. obsolete) A surface.

PERGOMINALIS (s. in anatomy) The epidedymis.

PERHUMAN (adj. from the Lat. super above, and humanus human) Having a power or faculty above that which is common to humanity, belonging to that which is more than human.

PERHUMERALIS (s. in anatomy) The superior part of the shoulder.

PERIMPREGNATION (s. from the Lat. super above, and impregno to impregnate) A superconception.

PERINCUMBENT (adj. from the Lat. super above, and incumbere to lie down) Lying on, resting on something else.

PERINDUCE (v. t. from the Lat. super above, and induco to induce) To bring in as an addition, to bring in what did not originally belong to the subject.

PERINDUCED (p. from superinduce) Brought in as an addition, brought in as what did not originally belong to the subject.

PERINDUCING (p. a. from superinduce) Bringing in as an addition.

PERINDUCING (s. from the part.) The act of bringing in what did not originally belong to the subject.

PERINDUCTION (s. from superinduce) The act of bringing in what did not originally belong to the subject.

PERINJECTION (s. from the Lat. super upon, and injectio to cast in) One injection thrown in upon another.

PERINSTITUTION (s. a law term, from the Lat.

S U P

super above, and instituo to institute) One institution upon another, the institution of two persons into one living.

SUPERINTEND (v. t. from the Lat. super over, and intendo to intend) To oversee, to overlook, to take care of others with authority.

SUPERINTENDANT (s. from superintend) A chief surveyer; a Lutheran bishop; the director of the customs in France.

SUPERINTENDENCE (s. from superintend) The act of superintending, the act of overseeing with authority.

SUPERINTENDENCY (s. from superintendence) The act of superintending.

SUPERINTENDENT (s. from superintend) An overseer, one who overlooks with authority, a director.

SUPERINTENDING (p. a. from superintend) Overseeing, taking care of others with authority.

SUPERINTENDING (s. from the part.) The act of overlooking.

SUPERIOR (adj. from the Lat.) Superiour, higher, greater in dignity, greater in excellence.

SUPERIOR (s. from the adj.) One who is higher in office, dignity, or excellency.

SUPERIORITY (s. from superior) Preeminence, the state of being superior.

SUPERIOR (adj. the less modern spelling, from the French superieur) Superior, higher in office, dignity, or excellency.

SUPERIOR (s. from the adj. the less modern spelling) A superior, one higher in office, dignity, or excellency.

SUPERLATION (s. from the Lat. super above, and ferio latus to bring, but not used) The highest degree.

SUPERLATIVE (adj. from the Lat. super above, and ferio latus to bring) Expressing the highest degree, implying the highest degree; rising to the highest degree.

SUPERLATIVE (s. from the adj.) The highest degree, one superlatively excellent.

SUPERLATIVELY (adv. from superlative) In a manner expressive of the highest degree, in the highest degree.

SUPERLATIVENESS (s. from superlative) The state of being in the highest degree.

SUPERLIGAMEN (s. in surgery, from the Lat. super upon, and ligo to bind) A kind of swathe or bandage.

SUPERLIGAMENT (s. from superligamen) A superligamen, a swathe or bandage.

SUPERLIGAMINA (s. plu. from superligamen) More than one superligamen.

SUPERLIGULA (s. in anatomy) The epiglottis, the cover of the wind pipe.

SUPERLUNAR (adj. from super above, and luna the moon) Placed above the moon; placed above the world.

SUPERMEATE (v. t. from the Lat. super over, and meo to go, but not used) To pass over.

SUPERMEATED (p. from supermeate, but not used) Passed over.

SUPERMEATING (p. a. from supermeate, but not used) Passing over.

SUPERNAL (adj. from the Lat. supernus) Having a higher position, placed above, heavenly.

SUPERNALLY (adv. from supernal) From above, from heaven.

SUPERNATANT (adj. from the Lat. super above, and nato to swim) Swimming above.

SUPERNATATION (s. from supernatant) The act of swimming on the surface.

SUPERNATURAL (adj. from the Lat. super above, and natura nature) Being above the ordinary course of nature; miraculous.

SUPERNATURALLY (adv. from supernatural) In a manner above the common course of nature.

SUPERNATURALNESS (s. from supernatural) The state or quality of being supernatural.

SUPERNE (adj. from the Lat. superne, but nearly obsolete) Supreme, supernal.

SUPERNITY (s. from superne, but not used) The state of being supernal.

SUPERNUMERARINESS (s. from supernumerary) The state of exceeding the fixed or usual number.

SUPERNUMERARY (adj. from the Lat. super above, and numerus a number) Being above a stated or usual number.

SUPERNUMERARY (s. from the adj.) One who is added to a stated or usual number.

SUPERPARTICULAR (adj. in arithmetic) Containing a number and one or a unite over.

SUPERPARTIENT (adj. in arithmetic) Containing a number and some aliquot part over.

SUPERPLANT (s. from super, and plant) A plant growing on another plant.

S U P

SUPERPON'DERANT (adj. from the Lat. super above, and pondero to weigh) Weighing over and above.

SUPERPON'DERATE (v. t. from the Lat. super above, and pondero to weigh) To weigh over and above, to outweigh. Johnson.

Superpon'derated (p. from superponderate, but not used) Outweighed.

Superpon'derating (p. a. from superponderate, but not used) Weighing over and above.

Superpondera'tion (s. from superponderate; but not used) The act of weighing over and above.

SUPERPROPOR'TION (s. from the Lat. super above, and proportio a proportion) Overplus of proportion. Digby.

SUPERPURGA'TION (s. from the Lat. super above, and purgo to purge) A purgation which exceeds the intention.

SUPERREFLEX'ION (s. from the Lat. super over, and reflecto to reflect) The reflection of an image which had been reflected before.

SUPER$AL'LENCY (s. from the Lat. super upon, and salto to leap) The act of leaping upon any thing.

SUPER$CAPULA'RIS (s. in anatomy) One of the two muscles of the arm distinguished by the upper and lower.

SUPERSCRI'BE (v. t. from the Lat. super upon, and scribo to write) To inscribe on the outside, to write on the outside.

Superscri'bed (p. from superscribe) Written on the outside.

Superscri'bing (p. a. from superscribe) Writing on the outside.

Superscri'bing (s. from the part.) The act of writing on the outside.

Superscription (s. from superscribe) The act of superscribing, that which is superscribed.

SUPERSE'DE (v. t. from the Lat. super above, and cedo to go) To set aside, to make void by a superior power.

SUPERSE'DEAS (s. a law term) The name of a writ to set aside or stop some proceeding.

Superse'ded (p. from superse'de) Set aside, made void by some superior power.

Superse'ding (p. a. from superse'de) Setting aside, making void by a superior power or influence.

Superse'ding (s. from the part.) The act of setting aside by some superior power.

SUPERSER'VICEABLE (adj. from the Lat. super above, and servo to serve) Over officious, officious beyond what is required. Shakespeare.

Superse'sion (s. from superse'de) The act of superse'ding.

SUPERSTIT'ION (s. from the Lat. super upon, and sto to stand) Unnecessary scruples in religion; false religion, religion without morals; scrupulous exactness in things of little importance.

Superstitious (adj. from superstition) Addicted to superstition, fanciful or scrupulous in matters of religion; over accurate, needlessly scrupulous.

Superstitiously (adv. from superstitious) In a superstitious manner.

Superstitiousness (s. from superstitious) The state of being superstitious.

Superstrai'n (v. t. from super, and strain) To strain beyond due bounds. Johnson.

Superstrained (p. from superstrain) Strained too much.

Superstrai'ning (p. a. from superstrain) Straining beyond due bounds.

Superstrai'ning (s. from the part.) The act of straining too much. Bacon.

SUPERSTRU'CT (v. t. from the Lat. super above, and struo struus to build up) To build upon.

Superstru'cted (p. from superstruct) Built upon.

Superstru'cting (p. a. from superstruct) Building upon.

Superstru'cting (s. from the part.) The act of building upon.

Superstruction (s. from superstruct) An edifice raised on any thing.

Superstru'ctive (adj. from superstruct) Built on something.

Superstru'ctive (s. from superstruct) That which is raised or built on something else, the building raised on the foundation.

SUPERSUBSTAN'TIAL (adj. from the Lat. super above, and substantia substance) More than substantial. Johns.

SUPERTRIPAR'TIENT (adj. in arithmetic) Dividing into three parts without any remainder.

S U P

SUPERVACA'NEOUS (adj. from the Lat. super above, and vacuum an empty space) Superfluous, serving no purpose.

Supervaca'neously (adv. from supervacaneous) Needless.

Supervaca'neousness (s. from supervacaneous) The act of being unnecessary.

SUPERVAC'UOUS (adj. from the Lat. super above, and vacuum an empty space) Needless.

SUPERVE'NE (v. int. from the Lat. super above, and venio to come) To come as an adventitious circumstance.

Supervene'nt (adj. from supervene) Coming unexpectedly; with to: as, "Supervene'nt to change practice."

Supervene'ning (p. a. from supervene) Coming unexpectedly.

Supervene'ning (s. from the part.) The act of coming unexpectedly.

Superven'tion (s. from supervene) The act of coming unexpectedly.

SUPERVISE (v. t. from the Lat. super over, and video to see) To oversee, to overlook, to superintend.

Supervised (p. from supervise) Overlooked, superintended.

Supervising (p. a. from supervise) Overlooking, superintending.

Supervising (s. from the part.) The act of overlooking.

Supervis'ion (s. from supervise, but not much used) The act of overlooking.

Supervi'sor (s. from supervise) One who overlooks, inspector, an officer in the excise.

SUPERVIVE (v. int. from the Lat. super over, and vivo to live) To overlive, to outlive.

Superviving (p. a. from supervive, but not used) Overliving, outliving.

SUPINA'TION (s. from supine) The act of lying with the face upward.

SUPINA'TOR (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the hand by which the hand is drawn back so as to have the palm exposed.

SUPINE (adj. from the Lat. supino to lie with the face upwards) Lying with the face upwards, leaning backward with the face exposed to the sun; careless, negligent.

SUPINE (s. in grammar, from the Lat. supinum) A particular form of Latin verbs.

Supinely (adv. from supine) With the face upward, negligently.

Supineness (s. from supine) The posture of lying with the face upwards; carelessness, negligence.

Supin'ity (s. from supine) Supineness.

SUPPEDA'NEA (s. from the Lat. sub under, and pes the foot) Plasters applied to the feet.

SUPPEDA'NEOUS (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and pes the foot) Placed under the feet.

SUPPE'DIATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and pes a foot) To supply, to furnish, to provide.

Suppe'diated (p. from suppediate, but not used) Supplied, furnished, propped.

Suppe'diating (p. a. from suppediate, but not used) Supplying, furnishing, propping.

Sup'ped (p. from sup) Treated with a supper; supped in by mouthfuls.

SUPPELLECTICA'RIOUS (adj. from the Lat. suppellectilis, but not used) Belonging to household stuff.

Sup'per (s. from sup) The last meal in the evening.

Sup'per (s. from sup) One that sups.

Sup'perless (adj. from supper) Wanting a supper, eating no supper.

Sup'pertime (s. from supper, and time) The time of eating supper.

SUPPILA'TION (s. from the Lat. suppilare to steal) The act of stealing.

Sup'pling (p. a. from sup) Eating a supper, treating with a supper; supping, taking in liquor by a mouthful at a time.

Sup'pling (s. from the part.) The act of eating a supper; the act of supping, something to be taken a mouthful at a time.

SUPPLA'NT (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and plant a plant) To displace by stratagem, to turn out of power, to force away.

SUPPLANTA'LIA (s. with physicians) Plasters applied to the soles of the feet.

Supplant'ed (p. from supplant) Displaced by stratagem, overpowered, forced away.

Supplant'er (s. from supplant) One who supplants.

S U P

supplanting (b. a. from supplant) Displacing by stratagem, overpowering, forcing away.
supplanting (s. from the part.) The act of displacing by stratagem.

supple (adj. from the French souple) Pliant, flexible, yielding, soft; flattering, fawning; making soft.
supple (v. t. from the adj.) To make pliant, to make soft, to make compliant.

supple (v. int.) To grow pliant, to become soft.
suppled (p. from supple) Made pliant, made soft.

supplement (s. from the Lat. sub under, and pleo to fill) An addition to supply deficiencies.

supplemental (adj. from supplement) Additional, containing a supplement.

supplementary (adj. from supplement, but not so common) Additional; containing a supplement, done by way of supplement.

suppleness (s. from supple) Flexibility, facility, the state of being supple.

suppler (adj. comp. of supple) Supple in a greater degree.

supplest (adj. sup. of supple) Supple in the greatest degree.

suppletory (s. from the Lat. sub under, and pleo to fill, but not much used) A supplement. Hammond.

suppliant (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and plico to fold) Intreating, beseeching, submissive.

suppliant (s. from the adj.) A humble petitioner, one who begs with submission.

suppliantness (s. from suppliant) The act of supplicating. Scott.

supplicant (s. from supplicate) A suppliant.

supplicate (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and plico to bend) To implore, to intreat.

supplicating (p. a. from supplicate) Imploring, entreating.

supplicating (s. from the part.) The act of entreating with submission.

supplication (s. from supplicate) A humble petition, a submissive intreaty; prayer, petitionary worship.

supplice (s. from the Lat. supplicium, but not used) Punishment. Bailey.

supplied (p. from supply) Filled up, furnished, accommodated, relieved.

supplier (v. int. obsolete) To supplicate. Chaucer.

supplication (s. from the Lat. sub under, and plodo to clasp) A noise made with the feet. Bailey.

supply (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and pleo to fill) To fill up, to yield, to afford, to serve instead of, to accommodate, to furnish.

supply (s. from the verb) An aid, a relief, that which fills up the room of another, one that performs the service of another.

supplying (p. a. from supply) Filling up a deficiency, furnishing, accommodating with what is necessary.

supplying (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with what is wanted.

support (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and porto to carry) To sustain, to prop, to bear up, to endure, to keep from fainting.

support (s. from the verb) The act of supporting, a prop, a supply; the necessities of life, a maintenance.

supportable (adj. from support) Capable of being supported, tolerable.

supportableness (s. from supportable) The state of being supportable.

supportance (s. from support, but now grown obsolete) A support, a maintenance. Shakespeare.

supportation (s. from support, but now become obsolete) A support, a maintenance. Bacon.

supported (p. from support) Sustained, born up.

supporter (s. from support) One that supports, that which bears up any thing; a defender, a comforter; one of the animals which supports the coat armor of a person ennobled.

supporting (p. a. from support) Sustaining, bearing up.

supporting (s. from the part.) The act of sustaining.

supportable (adj. from suppose) Capable of being supposed.

supportableness (s. from suppose) The state of being supportable. Scott.

supposal (s. obsolete) A supposition. Chaucer.

supposal (s. from suppose) A position without proof, a thing supposed; imagination, belief.

suppose (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and pono to put) To lay down without proof, to admit without proof; to require as previous; to imagine, to believe.

supposed (s. from the verb) A supposition, a thing supposed. Dryden.

supposed (p. from suppose) Laid down without proof, admitted without proof; imagined, believed.

supposer (s. from suppose) One who supposes.

supposing (p. a. from suppose) Laying down without proof, admitting, without proof; imagining, believing.

supposing (s. from the part.) The act of laying down without proof, a supposition.

supposition (s. from suppose) A position, an hypothesis, an imagination.

supposititious (adj. from suppose) Counterfeit, put into the place of another.

supposititiousness (s. from supposititious) The state of being supposititious.

suppositive (adj. from suppose) Taken as a supposition.

suppositively (adv. from suppositive) With supposition, on supposition.

suppositary (s. from suppose, an incorrect spelling) Suppository. Scott.

suppository (s. from suppose) A kind of solid glyster.

SUPPOSTED (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and pono to put, but not used) Suborned. Cole.

SUPPRESS (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and premo to press) To crush, to overpower, to subdue, to reduce to a state of inactivity; to conceal, to keep in.

suppressed (p. from suppress) Crushed, overpowered, subdued; concealed, kept in.

suppressing (p. a. from suppress) Crushing, overpowering, subduing; concealing, keeping in.

suppressing (s. from the part.) The act of subduing, the act of keeping under; the act of concealing.

suppression (s. from suppress) The act of suppressing, the act by which a publication is prevented.

suppressor (s. from suppress) One who suppresses.

surprise (v. t. obsolete) To surprise.

surprised (p. from surprise, obsolete) Surprised. Chau.

surprize (v. t. obsolete) To suppress. Chaucer.

SUPPURATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and pus matter) To generate pus.

suppurate (v. int.) To turn to pus.

suppurated (p. from suppurate) Generated as pus.

suppurating (p. a. from suppurate) Generating pus, tending to pus.

suppurating (s. from the part.) The act of generating pus, a suppuration.

suppuration (s. from suppurate) The ripening of matter into pus, the matter suppurated.

suppurative (adj. from suppurate) Generating matter, digestive.

SUPPURGATION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and purgo to purge) A too frequent purgation, a purgation beyond the intention.

supputation (s. from suppute) A computation, a reckoning.

SUBPUTE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and puto to think) To reckon, to calculate. Johnson.

supputed (p. from subpute, not much used) Calculated, reckoned.

supputing (p. a. from subpute, not much used) Calculating, reckoning.

SUPRACOSTALES (s. in anatomy) The muscles which serve to dilate the thorax.

SUPRALAPSARIAN (adj. from the Lat. supra above, and lapsus the fall) Done without any respect to the fall; belonging to the doctrine of the supralapsarians.

supralapsarian (s. from the adj.) One who holds that God made choice of his people in the pure mass or without any respect to the fall.

supralapsarianism (s. from supralapsarian) The tenets of the supralapsarians.

supralapsary (adj. from supralapsarian) Antecedent to the fall. Johnson.

supralapsary (s. from the adj.) A supralapsarian. D. of A.

SUPRAMUNDANE (adj. from the Lat. supra above, and mundus the world) Placed above the world. Scott.

SUPRASCAPULARIS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the arm which it moves directly backwards.

SUPRASPINATUS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the arm.

SUPRAVULGAR (adj. from the Lat. supra above, and vulgaris vulgar) Placed above the vulgar.

Supremacy (s. from supreme) The state of being supreme, the highest place, the highest authority.

SUPREME (adj. from the Lat. supremus) Highest in dignity, highest in authority; highest, most excellent.

Supreme (s. from the adj.) The highest; the Divine Being.

Supremely (adv. from supreme) In the highest degree.

Supremeness (s. from supreme) The state of being supreme, supremacy.

Supremity (s. from supreme) Supremacy. Bailey.

SUP

SUR

SUR (s. from the Heb. signifying one that withdraws) One of the gates of Solomon's Temple. 2 Kings.

SURRA (s. in anatomy) The lesser bone of the leg.

SURADDITION (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. addo to add) Some thing added to a name. "He gained the suraddition Leonatus."

SURAL (adj. from sura) Belonging to the calf of the leg.

SURALIS (s. in anatomy) A branch of the fural vein.

SURANCE (s. from sure) A warrant, a security, an assurance. Shakespeare.

SURANNA/TON (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. annus a year) The state of growing out of date, the state of being more than a year old. Cole.

SURANTLER (s. from the French sur upon, and andouiller an antler) The upper antler of a deer's head.

SURBATE (v. t. from the French forbaiter) To bruise, to batter. Mortimer.

SURBATED (p. from surbate) Bruised, battered. Claren.

SURBATING (p. a. from surbate) Bruising, battering.

SURBATING (s. from the part.) The state of being bruised, the act of bruising.

SURBEAT (v. t. a different spelling) To surbate, to bruise, to batter. Johnson.

SURBEATING (p. a. from surbeat) Bruising, battering.

SURBEAT (p. from surbeat) Bruised, battered. Spenser.

SURCEASE (v. int. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. cessio, to cease, but now grown obsolete) To stop, to cease, to put an end to. Spenser.

SURCEASE (s. from the verb) A cessation, a stop. Hooker.

SURCHARGE (s. from the French) An over burden, a larger proportion than can be well born.

SURCHARGE (v. t. from the sub.) To overload, to overburden; with with: as, "Surcharged with morning dew."

SURCHARGED (p. from surcharge) Overloaded, overburdened.

SURCHARGER (s. from surcharge) One who surcharges.

SURCHARGING (p. a. from surcharge) Overloading, overburdening.

SURCHARGING (s. from the part.) The act of overloading.

SUR/CINGLE (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. cingulum a girth) The girth which comes round the saddle of a horse; the girdle of a caßock.

SUR/CLE (s. from the Lat. furculus) A shoot, a twig, a sucker. Brown.

SUR/COAT (s. from the French sur upon, and cote an upper garment) A short coat worn over the rest of the dress; a coat of arms worn over a suit of armour.

SUR/cote (s. an old spelling) A furcoat. Chaucer.

SUR/CREW (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. crecio to grow, but not used) A surplus, an advantage accruing from any thing. Cole.

SUR/CROIT (s. from the French, but not used) An increase, an advantage, a surplus. Cole.

SUR/CULATE (v. t. from the Lat. furculus a twig) To prune, to cut off young shoots. Cole.

SUR/culated (p. from furculate, but not used) Pruned.

SUR/culating (p. a. from furculate, not used) Pruning, cutting off young shoots.

SUR/culation (s. from furculate) The act of pruning. Sc.

SUR/CULI (s. plu. of furculus) The middle ramifications of the ribs of a leaf.

SUR/culose (adj. from furculus) Abounding with young shoots. Scott.

SUR/culous (adj. from furculus) Abounding with young shoots. Cole.

SUR/CULUS (s. from the Lat.) A shoot, a sucker, a slip; a middle branch between the larger and smaller ribs of a leaf.

SURD (adj. from the Lat. surdus deaf) Wanting the sense of hearing, unperceived by the ear, wanting a proper term of expression.

SURD (adj. in arithmetic) Incommensurable, having no proper ratio; incapable of being exactly reduced to the power or root required.

Surd (s. from the adj.) An incommensurable quantity, a number or quantity incapable of being exactly reduced to the term or root required.

SUR/desolid (s. in arithmetic) The sursolid, the fifth power. Diet of Arts.

SUR/dity (s. from surd) Deafness, dullness. Bailey.

SURE (adj. from the French seure) Certain, unailing; safe, firm; confident, assured; with of: as, "Swift and sure of foot." To be sure, certainly.

Sure (adv. from the adj.) Certainly, without doubt.

SUR/footed (adj. from sure, and foot) Treading firmly, not given to stumble.

SUR/ely (adv. from sure) Certainly, undoubtedly.

SUR/ement (s. obsolete) Security, assurance. Chaucer.

SUR

SUR/eness (s. from sure) Certainty.

SUR/er (adj. comp. of sure) Sure in a greater degree.

SUR/est (adj. sup. of sure) Sure in the greatest degree.

SUR/etie (s. obsolete) Surety, certainty. Chaucer.

SUR/etiship (s. from surety) The office of a surety; the act of being bound for another.

SUR/ety (s. from sure) Certainty, security; evidence; ratification; a hostage, a bondsman, one that gives security for another.

SUR/FACE (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. facies a face) A superficies, an outside.

SUR/FEIT (v. t. from the French sur upon, and faire overdo) To overcharge, to feed to sickness; to eat to satiety.

SUR/feit (v. int.) To grow sick with eating, to become satiate.

SUR/feit (s. from the verb) Satiety from over feeding; sickness from eating too much.

SUR/feited (p. from surfeit) Satiated, made sick with eating.

SUR/feiter (s. from surfeit) A glutton, one who eats and drinks too much.

SUR/feiting (p. a. from surfeit) Feeding to satiety, indulging the appetite so far as to occasion a nausea.

SUR/feiting (s. from the part.) The act of indulging the appetite to sickness, gluttony.

SUR/feitwater (s. from surfeit, and water) A simple kind of spirits good for a surfeit.

SURGE (s. from the Lat. surgo to swell) A swell of the sea, a billow, a wave.

SURGE (v. int. from the Lat. surgo to swell) To rise high, to swell as the sea.

SUR/geon (s. from chirurgion) One who cures by manual operation, one who cures a wound or other maladies by external applications.

SUR/geonry (s. from surgeon, but not so common a word) Surgery, the practice of a surgeon. Johnson.

SUR/gerly (s. from surgeon) The practice of a surgeon; the act of curing wounds and other maladies by external applications.

SUR/ging (p. a. from surge) Rising high, swelling of the sea.

SUR/ging (s. from the part.) The swelling of the sea, the action of the waves on the sea shore.

SUR/gy (adj. from surge) Rising in billows.

SURIA/NA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

SUR/rid (p. an old spelling) Assured. Chaucer.

SUR/kney (s. an old word) An upper garment, a kind of rocket.

SUR/lier (adj. comp. of surly) Surly in a greater degree.

SUR/liest (adj. sup. of surly) Surly in the greatest degree.

SUR/lily (adv. from surly) In a surly manner.

SUR/linefs (s. from surly) The state of being surly.

SUR/ling (s. from surly, but not used) A crabbed fellow.

SUR/loin (s. a different spelling) A firloin.

SUR/LY (adj. from the Sax. fur four) Morose, rough, uncivil, four, silently angry.

SUR/micha (s. in old records) A loaf of the middle of bread.

SURMI/SE (v. t. from the French) To suspect, to suppose, to imagine without perfect knowledge.

SURMI/SE (s. from the French) A suspicion, an imagination unsupported by knowledge.

SURmi/ed (p. from surmise) Suspected, imagined.

SURmi/ing (p. a. from surmise) Suspecting, imagining.

SURmi/ing (s. from the part.) The act of suspecting, suspicion.

Surmoun/ing (p. an old spelling) Surmounting. Chaucer.

SURMOU/NT (v. t. from the French surmonter) To rise above, to conquer, to overcome, to surpass, to exceed.

Surmoun/table (adj. from surmount) Capable of being surmounted.

SURMOUNTE (adj. in heraldry) Surmounted, having a smaller bearing on a larger.

Surmounte (s. from the adj.) One bearing on another.

Surmoun'ted (p. from surmount) Conquered, overpassed.

Surmoun'ting (p. a. from surmount) Conquering, coming, surpassing.

Surmoun'ting (s. from the part.) The act of overcoming, the act of rising above any difficulty.

SUR/mulet (s. in ichthyology) The name of a sea fish.

SUR/NAME (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. nomen a name) The name of the family, a name added to the original name.

SUR/name (v. t. from the sub.) To distinguish by an additional name. Surname

S U R

S U R

sur (p. from surname) Distinguished by an additional name.
sur (p. a. from surname) Distinguishing by an additional name.
sur (s. from the part.) The act of distinguishing by an additional name.
surpass (v. t. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. passus a step) To go beyond, to excel.
surpassable (adj. from surpass) Capable of being surpassed.
surpassed (p. from surpass) Excelled, exceeded.
surpassing (p. a. from surpass) Going beyond, excelling.
surpassing (s. from the part.) Surpassing, the act of going beyond another.
surprisingly (adv. from surpassing) In an extraordinary manner.
surplice (s. from the Lat. super upon, and pellis a covering) The white garb worn by the clergy of the church of England while they read prayers.
surplice (s. an old spelling) The surplice. Cole.
surplus (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. plus more) An overplus, something more than sufficient.
surplusage (s. from surplus) A surplus, something more than sufficient.
surprise (s. from surprise) The act of taking at unawares, the state of being taken at unawares; sudden confusion.
surprise (v. t. from the French surprendre) To take unawares, to fall upon unexpectedly, to put into confusion, to perplex by something sudden.
surprise (s. from the verb) The act of taking unawares, a surprisal.
surprised (p. from surprise) Taken unawares, thrown into confusion, perplexed by something sudden.
surprising (p. a. from surprise) Taking unawares, coming on unexpectedly, throwing into confusion, perplexing by something sudden, filling with wonder, exciting astonishment.
surprising (s. from the part.) The act of taking unawares, a surprisal.
surprisingly (adv. from surprising) In a surprising manner.
surprisingness (s. from surprising) The state or quality of exciting wonder. Scott.
surprize (s. not so correct a spelling) A surprise. Bacon.
surprize (v. t. not so correct a spelling) To surprise. Ben Jonson.
surprized (p. from surprize, but not so correct a spelling) Surprised. Thomson.
surprising (p. a. from surprize, but not a correct spelling) Surprising.
surprisingly (adv. an incorrect spelling) Surprisingly. Bailey.
surquedrie (s. obsolete) Surquedry. Chaucer.
surquetry (s. an old word) Pride, insolence. Donne. surquidri (s. obsolete) Surquedry, self conceit. Cb.
surbatter (s. a law term) A second rebatter, an answer to a rebatter.
surjoinder (s. a law term) A second rejoinder, a reply to a rejoinder.
surrender (v. t. from the French sur upon, and reddo to render) To yield up, to deliver up, to deliver up to an enemy.
surrender (v. int.) To yield, to give one's self up.
surrender (s. from the verb) The act of yielding, the act of giving up.
surrendered (p. from surrender) Given up, yielded up.
surrendering (p. a. from surrender) Delivering up, yielding up.
surrendering (s. from the part.) The act of delivering up.
surrendry (s. from surrender, but not so common a word) A surrender. Hooker.
surreption (s. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. rapio to snatch) A surprise, a sudden invasion.
surreptitious (adj. from surreption) Done by stealth, fraudulently obtained.
surreptitiously (adv. from surreptitious) By stealth.
surry (s.) One of the inland counties of England; lies south of London and the river Thames, is reckoned generally healthy, contains eleven market towns, several royal palaces and numberless seats of nobility and gentry; and sends eight members to parliament, two for the shire, and two for each of the boroughs, Southwark, Bletchingly, Ryegate, Guildford, Garton, and Haslemere.

surry (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Surrey, produced in the county of Surrey.
SURROGATE (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and rogo to ask) To put in the place of another.
Surrogate (s. from the verb) A deputy, the deputy of an ecclesiastical judge.
Surrogate (adj. from the verb) Substituted, appointed in the place of another.
Surrogated (p. from surrogate, but not used) Deputed in the place of another.
Surrogating (p. a. from surrogate, but not used) Deputing in the place of another.
Surrogation (s. from surrogate) The act of appointing a deputy, the act of a bishop appointing a deputy.
SURROUND (v. t. from the French surround) To environ, to encompass, to inclose on all sides.
Surround (p. from surround) Enviroined, inclosed on all sides.
Surrounding (p. a. from surround) Environing, inclosing on all sides.
Surrounding (s. from the part.) The act of encompassing on every side.
Surroyal (s. a hunting term) The broad part of a stag's horn with the branches growing out of it.
Surfature (s. obsolete) A sore healed over before it is found at the bottom. Chaucer.
Surfenge (s. an old word) A surcingle, an upper girth. Cole.
Surfenge (s. a different spelling) A surcingle. Phillips.
Surfise (s. a local word) The fine laid on those who neglect their duty at Dover castle. Dict. of Arts.
SURSO/LID (adj. in the mathematics) Belonging to the fifth power, requiring a higher equation than a quadratic.
Sursofid (s. from the adj.) The fifth power of any given root.
Surtoot (s. a different spelling) A furtout. Phillips.
SURTOU'T (s. from the French) A kind of great coat, a coat worn over the rest of the cloaths.
SURVEINE (v. t. from the French sur upon, and the Lat. venio to come) To supervene, to come to as an addition. Harvey.
Surveined (p. from survene, but not much used) Brought on as an addition.
Surveining (p. a. from survene, but not used) Supervening, coming by way of addition.
SURVEY (v. t. from the French sur upon, and voir to see) To overlook, to oversee, to view by way of examination.
Survey (s. from the verb) A view, a prospect; a view by way of examination.
Survey (s. a local word) A public sale.
Surveyance (s. obsolete) The act of overseeing, a survey. Chaucer.
Surveyed (p. from survey) Viewed, examined.
Surveyer (s. a different spelling) A surveyor. Bailey.
Surveying (p. a. from survey) Viewing, examining, overlooking.
Surveying (s. from the part.) The act of overseeing, the act of viewing by way of examination; the act of measuring land.
Surveyor (s. from survey) An overseer, one placed in order to superintend others; a measurer of land.
Surveyorship (s. from surveyor) The office of a surveyor.
SURVIEW (v. t. from the French sur upon, and voir to see, but now grown obsolete) To overlook, to have in view. Spenser.
Survived (p. from surview, obsolete) Overlooked, held in view.
Surviving (p. a. from surview, obsolete) Overlooking, having in view.
Survivance (s. from survive) The act of surviving. Pb.
SURVIVE (v. int. from the Lat. supra above, and vivo to live) To live after the death of another, to continue in life, to remain alive.
Survive (v. t.) To outlive.
Survived (p. from survive) Outlived.
Surviver (s. from survive) One who outlives others, one who continues alive.
Survivorship (s. from surviver) The state of outliving another.
Surviving (p. a. from survive) Outliving others, continuing alive.
Surviving (s. from the part.) The act of outliving others.
Survivor (s. from survive, a law term) The longest liver of two joint tenants, one who outlives another.

Survi-

S U S

Survivorship (s. from survivor) The state of one who outlives another, survivorship.

Sufryal (adj. an old word) Belonging to the broad part of a stag's horn.

SUS (s. in zoology, from the Lat.) A swine, a pig, a sow.

SU'SA (s.) The name of a man; the name of a place. Apocrypha.

SU/SAN (s. a contraction of Sufanna) A woman's name, Sufanna.

SUSAN'NA (s. from the Heb. signifying a rose) The name of a woman.

Susceptibility (s. from susceptible) The state or quality of being susceptible.

SUSCEP'TIBLE (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and capio to receive) Capable of receiving, ready to admit.

Susceptibleness (s. from susceptible) Susceptibility.

Susceptibly (adv. from susceptible, but not used) In a manner suited to receive. Scott.

SUSCEP'TION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and capio to take) The act of taking.

Susceptive (adj. from susception) Susceptible, capable of receiving, apt to receive.

Susceptor (s. from susception) An undertaker; a god-father. Cole.

Susci'piency (s. from suscipient) A reception, an admission.

SUSCIP'IENT (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and capio to take) Receiving, admitting. Scott.

Susci'pient (s. from the adj.) One who receives, one who admits.

SUS'CITATE (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and cito to stir up) To rouse, to excite.

Sus'citating (p. a. from suscitare) Rousing, exciting.

Sus'citation (s. from suscitare) The act of rousing, the act of exciting.

SU'SI (s. from the Heb. signifying a horse) A man's name. Numb. 13.

Sus'kin (s.) An old coin prohibited by 3 H. 5.

SUSPEC'T (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and specio to look) To hold uncertain, to imagine guilty without proof, to be jealous of, to mistrust.

Suspect (v. int.) To have suspicion, to have doubt.

Suspect (adj. from the verb) Doubtful. Glanville.

Suspect (s. from the verb, but now grown obsolete) Suspicion. Shakespeare.

Suspected (p. from suspect) Held uncertain, imagined guilty; with of; as, "He was sorely suspected of treason."

Suspectful (adj. from suspect) Apt to suspect, apt to mistrust. Bailey.

Suspectfulness (s. from suspectful) An aptness to suspect. Bailey.

Suspecting (p. a. from suspect) Holding uncertain, imagining guilty.

Suspecting (s. from the part.) The act of holding as uncertain, a suspicion.

Suspicion (s. obsolete) Suspicion. Chaucer.

Suspe'nd (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and pendo to hang) To hang, to make to hang on any thing; to interrupt, to stop for a time; to delay, to hinder; to set aside, to debar for a time.

Suspend'ed (p. from suspend) Hanged, made to depend from; interrupted, hindered, debarred for a time.

Suspend'ing (p. a. from suspend) Hanging, making to depend, hindering, delaying, debarring for a time.

Suspend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting aside for a season.

SUSPEN'SE (s. from the Lat. sub under, and pendo to hang) An uncertainty, a state of doubt; a delay, an indetermination; an impediment, a privation for a time.

Suspense (adj. from the sub.) Held from proceeding, held in doubt. Milton.

Suspension (s. from suspense) The act of making one thing hang on another; the act of making one thing depend on another; an interruption, a delay, a temporary privation.

SUSPEN'SOR (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the testicles.

SUSPENSO'RIMUM (s. in anatomy) A ligament of the penis.

Suspens'ory (s. from suspense) A cord by which a sick person may draw himself up in the bed; a kind of truss or bandage.

Suspens'ory (adj. from the sub.) Suspending, belonging to that by which any thing is suspended.

Suspe'nt (adj. obsolete) Suspended, interdicted. Chaucer.

Susp'icable (adj. not used) Liable to suspicion. Phil.

SUSPIC'ION (s. from the Lat. sub under, and specio to look) The act of suspecting, a mistrust, an imagination of something ill without clear proof.

S W A

Suspicious (adj. from suspicion) Inclined to suspect; mistrustful; liable to suspicion, giving cause for suspicion.

Suspiciously (adv. from suspicious) In a manner to be suspected, with suspicion.

Suspiciousness (s. from suspicion) The state of being suspicious, a tendency to suspicion.

Suspi'ral (s. from suspire) A spring of water passing under ground to supply a conduit or fountain; an air hole, a hole to breathe through.

Suspiration (s. from suspire) A sigh, the act of fetching the breath deep.

SUSPI'RE (v. int. from the Lat. sub under, and spiro to breathe) To sigh, to fetch the breath deep; to begin to breathe. Shakespeare.

Suspi'ring (p. a. from suspire) Sighing, fetching the breath deep.

Suspi'ris (s. obsolete) Sighs. Chaucer.

SUSPIR'IUM (s. from the Lat.) A sigh, a short breath, a phthisic.

SUSSEX (s.) One of the maritime counties of England; the soil is deep in some places, and the air is reckoned unhealthy; it contains one city and eighteen market towns, and sends eighteen members to parliament, two for the county, and two for each of the boroughs, Horsham, Midhurst, Lewes, Shoreham, Bamber, Steyning, East Grinstead, and Arundel.

Sussex (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Sussex, produced in the county of Sussex.

SUSTAIN (v. t. from the Lat. sub under, and tenere to hold) To bear, to hold up, to support; to maintain, to keep; to help, to relieve; to bear, to endure; to suffer, to bear without yielding.

Sustain'able (adj. from sustain) Capable of being sustained.

Sustained (p. from sustain) Born, supported; suffered, endured.

Sustain'er (s. from sustain) One who sustains.

Sustain'ing (p. a. from sustain) Bearing, supporting, maintaining, suffering, enduring.

Sustain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing up.

Sus'tenance (s. obsolete) Substance. Chaucer.

SUS'TENANCE (s. from the Lat. sub under, and tenere to hold) Support, maintenance; the necessities of life, food.

Sust'ne (v. t. an old spelling) To sustain. Chaucer.

Sus'terne (s. obsolete) Sisters, sisterhood. Chaucer.

SUSTENTATION (s. from the Lat. sustento, but much used) Support, maintenance. Bacon.

Sus'tir (s. an old spelling) A sister. Chaucer.

SUS'URRATE (v. int. from the Lat. susurro) To whisper.

SUSURRA'TION (s. from the Lat. susurro to whisper) A whisper, a soft murmur.

Sute (s. from suit) A suit, a sort, a series, an order. Hol.

Sute (v. t. not so common a spelling) To suit.

Sut'feilver (s. a different spelling) The suitfeilver.

SUTH'ERLAND (s.) One of the counties in Scotland.

SU'TOR (s. from the Lat.) A shoemaker.

Suto'rious (adj. from futor) Belonging to a shoemaker.

Sut'tle (adj. perhaps from futter) Neat, remaining after an allowance for tare.

SUT'TLER (s. from the German fudler) One who sells provisions in a camp.

SUT'TON (s.) A town in Warwickshire; it has a market on Monday; and is 100 miles from London.

Sut'ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Sutton, at Sutton.

SUTU'RA (s. in anatomy) A suture, the joining of the bones of the skull.

Suture (s. from sutura) A manner of sewing, the suture of wounds by sewing; a particular mode of articulation, the juncture of the bones of the skull.

Su'yr (v. t. obsolete) To assure. Chaucer.

Swa (conj. obsolete) So. Chaucer.

SWAB (s. from the Swedish swabb) A kind of mop, clean floors.

Swab (v. t. from the sub.) To clean with a mop, clean with a mop on board a ship.

Swab (s. a local word) A bean shell.

Swab'bed (p. from swab) Cleaned with a mop.

Swab'ber (s. a sea term, from swab) The cleaner of the deck, one who is to see that the ship be kept clean.

Swab'bing (p. a. from swab) Cleaning with a mop.

Swab'bing (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning with a mop.

SWA'BIA (s. in geography) A circle of the German empire.

Swache (s. a local word) A tally.

AD (s. a local word) A peasecod; a fat woman. Phil.
AD/DLE (v. t. from the Sax. swedan) To swathe, to bind in cloaths; to beat, to cudgel in droll style.
AD/dle (s. from the verb) Cloaths bound round the body.
AD/dled (p. from swaddle) Swathed, bound round in cloaths.
AD/dling (p. a. from swaddle) Swathing, binding round in cloaths.
AD/dling (s. from the part.) The act of swathing.
AD/dlingband (s. from swaddle, and band) A cloth wrapped round a new born infant.
AD/dlingcloth (s. from swaddle, and cloth) The cloth wrapped about a new born child.
AD/dlingclout (s. from swaddle, and clout) The clout wrapped round a new born infant.
ADFFHAM (s.) A town in Norfolk; it has a market on Saturday, and is 94 miles from London.
ADffham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Swaffham, made at Swaffham.
AG (v. int. from the Sax. figan) To sink down by its weight, to lie heavy.
AG (v. t. from afuige) To ease, to soften, to mitigate. Milton.
AGED (p. from fwage) Eased, softened, mitigated.
AGGER (v. int. from the Sax. fwegan) To bluster, to bully, to be turbulently insolent.
AGER (s. from fwagger) A bully, a turbulent fellow.
AGERING (p. a. from fwagger) Blustering, behaving with turbulent insolence.
AGERING (s. from the part.) The act of blustering, turbulent insolence.
AGING (p. a. from fwag) Sinking down by its weight.
AGING (s. from the part.) The act or state of sinking down by its weight.
AGING (adj. from fwag) Dependent by its weight.
AGING (p. a. from fwage) Easing, softening, mitigating.
AGING (s. from the part.) The act of mitigating, a mitigation.
AIN (s. from the Sax. swain) A young man, a pastoral youth, a servant employed in affairs of husbandry.
AINMOTE (s. a different spelling) A swainmote. D. of A.
AINMOTE (s. a law term) A court within the precincts of a forest, the court of the freeholders within the forest.
AL/BEA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
AL/LE (v. int. from the Sax. swelan) To waste, to waste away. Johnson.
AL/LE (v. t.) To singe, to burn off the hairs. "To singe a pig."
AL/LE (adj. an old word) Swelled. Chaucer.
AL/LE (adj. a local word) Bleak, cold. Bailey.
AL/LE (s. in geography) A river in Yorkshire, which rises on the confines of Cumberland, and empties itself into the Ouse.
AL/LED (p. from swale) Singed, stripped of hairs by singeing.
AL/LED (p. a. from swale) Singing, burning off the hairs.
AL/LED (s. from the part.) The act of burning off the hairs of a pig.
AL/LET (s. in tin mines) The water that breaks in on the work.
AL/Low (s. in ornithology) The name of a well known bird.
AL/Low (v. t. from the Sax. swelgan) To take down the throat; to absorb, to take in; to engross, to appropriate; to devour, to destroy.
AL/Low (s. from the verb) The throat; voracity.
AL/Low (p. from swallow) Taken down the throat, taken in, absorbed; devoured, destroyed.
AL/Lowish (s. in ichthyology) The hirundo, a species of swallow.
AL/Lowing (p. a. from swallow) Taking down the throat, taking in, absorbing; devouring, destroying.
AL/Lowing (s. from the part.) The act of taking down the throat, a deglutition.
AL/Lowtail (s. in fortification) The queue.
AL/Lowtail (s. in carpentry) The dovetail.
AL/Lowtail (s. in botany) A kind of willow.
AL/Lowwort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
AL/Low (v. int. pret. of swim) Did swim, swum.
AL/MP (s. from the Sax. swam) A marsh, a bog, a fen.
AL/MP (adj. comp. of swampy) Swampy in a greater degree.

Swamp/iest (adj. sup. of swampy) Swampy in the greatest degree.
Swamp'y (adj. from swamp) Boggy, fenny.
SWAN (s. in ornithology, from the Sax.) The cygnus, a large waterfowl.
Swang (v. t. pret. of swing) Did swing.
Swang (s. a local word) A strip of green between ploughed land; a marshy place, a pasture overflowed with water. Bailey.
Swank'ing (adj. a droll word) Great, large. Scott.
Swan'nimote (s. a different spelling) A swainmote. Sc.
SWAN/SEY (s.) A town in Glamorganshire; it has a market on Wednesday and Saturday, and is 205 miles from London.
Swan/sefey (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Swansey, made at Swansey.
Swan'skin (s. in commerce) A kind of soft flannel.
Swap (v. t. a different spelling) To swop, to exchange. Jo.
SWAP (adv. from the Islandick, a droll word) Hastily, suddenly. Johnson.
Swappe (v. t. obsolete) To strike, to cut off with a quick motion; to fling down with violence. Chaucer.
Swappe (v. int. obsolete) To fall down suddenly. Chau.
Swapped (p. from swap, a low word) Swopped, exchanged.
Swap'ing (p. a. from swap, a low word) Swopping, exchanging.
Swapt (adj. a local word) Squatted. Cole.
SWARD (v. t. from the Swedish) The green surface of the ground; the skin of bacon. Tusser.
Sward'ed (adj. from ward) Covered with grass. Bai.
Sward'y (s. from ward) Well covered with grass.
Sware (v. t. pret. of swear) Did swear, swore.
SWARM (v. int. from the Sax. swearman) To rise as bees in a body, to quit the hive; to appear in multitudes, to throng; to be overrun, to breed in multitudes.
Swarm (s. from the verb) A number of bees or other small animals; a multitude, a croud.
Swarm'ing (p. a. from swarm) Rising in a body as bees, quitting the hive; appearing in multitudes, breeding in multitudes.
Swarm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising in a body as bees, the act of appearing in great multitudes.
SWART (adj. from the Sax. swart, but now grown obsolete) Black, tawny, darkly brown; gloomy, malignant. Milton.
Swart (v. t. from the adj.) To blacken, to make dusky. Brown.
Swart (s. from ward) The ward, the green surface of the earth. Phillips.
Swart'ed (p. from swart, but not used) Made black.
SWARTH (adj. from the Sax. swart) Black, tawny. Sp.
Swarth (s. from ward) The ward, the green surface of the ground. Mortimer.
Swarth (s. a different spelling) A swath, a row of grass or corn cut down. Phillips.
Swarth'ier (adj. comp. of swarthy) Swarthy in a greater degree.
Swarth'iest (adj. sup. of swarthy) Swarthy in the greatest degree.
Swarth'ily (adv. from swarthy) Blackly, duskily, tawnily.
Swarth'iness (s. from swarthy) Darkness of complexion, tawniness.
Swarth'y (adj. from swarth) Dark of complexion, dusky, tawny.
Swart'ing (p. a. from swart, but not used) Making black, making tawny.
Swart'ishe (adj. obsolete) Swarthy. Chaucer.
SWART'REXTER (s. from the Dutch) A horseman in black armour. Phillips.
SWASH (v. int. perhaps from the sound) To clash, to make a noise with swords, to dash about.
Swash (s. from the verb) A stream, a puddle of water. Pb.
Swash (s. a cant word in architecture) A kind of oval figure in which the mouldings are put on in an oblique direction to the axis of the work. Moxon.
Swash'buckler (s. from swash, and buckler) A vainglorious sword player, a vapouring fellow.
Swash'er (s. from swash) One who makes a shew of valour, one who pretends to great force of arms.
Swash'ing (p. a. from swash) Making a great noise.
Swash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a shew of valour.
Swafive (adj. an old spelling) Suafive. Dorney.
Swat (p. obsolete) Sweated. Chaucer.
Swatch (s. not used) A swathe. Tusser.
SWATH

SWE

SWATH (s. from the Dutch swade) A line of grass or corn cut down by the action of the scythe; a continued quantity; a swathe; a band.

SWATHE (v. t. from the Sax. swadan) To bind with bands or rollers, to bind about as a child with swaddling bands.

Swathe (s. from the verb) A band, a fillet, a roller to bind about a newborn infant.

Swathe (adj. a local word) Calm, gentle. Bailey.

Swathebank (s. a local word) A swath. Bailey.

Swathed (p. from swathe) Bound about with a swathe.

Swathing (p. a. from swathe) Binding about with a swathe.

Swathing (s. from the part.) The act of binding with a swathe.

Swathingband (s. a local word) A swathe, a line of grass or corn cut down by the scythe. Scott.

Swatthe (v. t. a local word) To waste. Bailey.

SWAY (v. t. from the German scheven to move) To wave in the hand, to wield with ease; to direct, to govern; to influence.

Sway (v. int.) To hang heavy, to have weight; to have rule, to govern; to have influence.

Sway (s. from the verb) The swing of a weapon, any thing moving with power; power, rule; direction, influence.

Swayed (p. from sway) Moved with ease, directed, governed, influenced.

Swaying (p. a. from sway) Moving in the hand, wielding with ease; ruling, directing, influencing.

Swaying (s. from the part.) The act of wielding with ease, the act of ruling, the act of influencing.

Sweal (v. int. a different spelling) To swale. Johnson.

Sweal (v. t. a different spelling) To swale, to finge, to burn off the hair of a pig. Scott.

Swealed (p. from sweal) Singed.

Swealing (p. a. from sweal) Swealing, blazing, finging.

Swealing (s. from the part.) The act of swaling, the act of finging a pig.

SWEAM (s. from the Dutch scheweimen to swoon) A qualm, a sudden fit of sickness. Bailey.

Sweamish (adj. from sweam) Squeamish, modest. Bailey.

Sweamish (adj. a local word) Modest. Cole.

Sweep (s. a different spelling) A swipe, an instrument for throwing up water, an engine for throwing grenades. Scott.

SWEAR (v. int. from the Sax. swerian) To utter on oath, to declare on oath; to give evidence on oath; to utter prophane oaths.

Swear (v. t.) To testify with an oath; to put upon oath, to obtest.

Swearer (s. from swear) One who swears; one who uses prophane oaths.

Swearing (p. a. from swear) Declaring on oath, uttering prophane oaths.

Swearing (s. from the part.) The act of testifying on oath, the act or practice of using prophane oaths.

SWEAT (s. from the Sax.) The moisture evacuated at the pores of the skin by heat or labour; an evaporation of moisture; labour, toil, drudgery.

Sweat (v. int. from the sub.) To emit moisture by the pores of the skin, to emit moisture; to toil, to labour, to drudge.

Sweat (v. t.) To emit as moisture through the pores of the skin, to put into a sweat.

Sweated (p. from sweat) Put into a sweat, emitted by sweating.

Sweater (s. from sweat) One that sweats.

Sweath (s. a local word) A swath. Bailey.

Sweatier (adj. comp. of sweaty) Sweaty in a greater degree.

Sweatiest (adj. sup. of sweaty) Sweaty in the greatest degree.

Sweatiness (s. from sweaty) The state of being sweaty.

Sweating (p. a. from sweat) Emitting sweat, exuding as moisture; labouring, toiling; putting into a sweat.

Sweating (s. from the part.) The act of emitting moisture by the pores of the skin, the moisture emitted by the pores of the skin.

Sweat-sickness (s. from sweating, and sickness) A disease which, it is said, made its first appearance in England in the year 1483; it is attended with a profuse sweat, and many alarming symptoms.

Sweaty (adj. from sweat) Moist with sweat, covered with sweat; consisting of sweat; laborious, to come.

SWE

Sweh (v. int. a local word) To swoon.

SWED (s. from Sweden) A native of Sweden.

SWE'DEN (s.) One of the northern kingdoms of Europe containing the greater part of the ancient Scandinavia; it is about 800 miles in length, and about 100 in breadth.

Swe'dish (adj. from Sweden) Belonging to Sweden, produced in Sweden, imported from Sweden.

Swe'dish (s. from the adj.) The language of the Swedes.

SWED'LAND (s. hardly used) Sweden.

SWEEP (v. t. from the Sax. swepan) To clean with a broom, to drive away as with a broom; to drive or carry off with a swift motion; to pass over with force and swiftness; to rush over, to strike with strokes, to carry with pomp, to pass with an equal motion.

Sweep (v. int.) To pass with violence, to pass with pomp, to move with a long reach.

Sweep (s. from the verb) The act of sweeping, the compass of any continued and violent motion; the direction of a motion in compassing any thing; an instrument to throw out water, an engine to throw grenades; a violent, sudden, and wide destruction.

Sweepage (s. a local word) The crop of hay in a meadow.

Sweeping (p. a. from sweep) Cleaning with a broom, passing with force and swiftness, passing with a wide reach.

Sweeping (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning with a broom, that which is swept away; the act of passing with pomp, force or violence.

Sweep-net (s. from sweep, and net) A net that takes in a great compass.

Sweep-stake (s. from sweep, and stake) One who wins all.

Sweep'y (adj. from sweep) Passing with speed and violence, passing over a large space at once.

SWEET (adj. from the Sax. swete) Luscious to the taste, fragrant to the smell, pleasing to any sense; gracefully pleasing, mild, soft, gentle; fresh, not stale.

Sweet (s. from the adj.) Something pleasing; a person's sweetness; a word of endearment. "My dear, my sweet."

Sweetbread (s. in anatomy) The pancreas.

Sweetbriar (s. from sweet, and briar) A sweet smelling briar.

Sweetbroom (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Sweetcicely (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Sweet'en (v. t. from sweet) To make sweet, to palliate, to soften, to make pleasing.

Sweet'en (v. int.) To grow sweet.

Sweet'ened (p. from sweeten) Made sweet, softened, made pleasing.

Sweet'ener (s. from sweet) One that palliates, one that sweetens, one that contemperate acrimony.

Sweet'ening (p. a. from sweeten) Making sweet.

Sweet'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making sweet, that which sweetens.

Sweet'er (adj. comp. of sweet) Sweet in a greater degree.

Sweet'est (adj. sup. of sweet) Sweet in the greatest degree.

Sweet'heart (s. from sweet, and heart) A lover, a man who courts a woman, the woman courted.

Sweet'ing (s. from sweet) A sweet luscious kind of apple; a word of endearment. "Trip no further, my pretty sweeting."

Sweetish (adj. from sweet) Somewhat sweet.

Sweetly (adv. from sweet) With sweetness.

Sweetmar'joram (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Sweetmeat (s. from sweet, and meat) A delicacy made of fruit preserved with sugar.

Sweetness (s. from sweet) The quality of being sweet, fragrance, melody, mildness of temper.

Sweetcent'ed (adj. from sweet, and scented) Having sweet scent, fragrance.

Sweet-smelling (adj. from sweet, and smell) Having sweet smell, fragrant.

Sweet-sound'ing (adj. from sweet, and sound) Sound with sweetness, pleasing to the ear.

Sweetwilliam (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the flower of the plant.

Sweetwillow (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the gale.

Sweigh (s. obsolete) A rumbling noise.

Sweight (s. obsolete) A weight, a great sound.

Swele (v. int. obsolete) To die.

SWELL (v. int. from the Sax. swellan) To grow bigger, to grow turgid, to extend the parts; to look big, to be into arrogance; to be exasperated, to be inflamed with anger; to grow upon the view; to rise as a river.
Swelling (v. t.) To cause to rise, to make tumid; to aggravate, to heighten; to raise to arrogance.
Swell (s. from the verb) An extension of bulk, a swelling.
Swelled (p. from swell) Made to swell, grown tumid, swollen.
Swelling (p. a. from swell) Growing tumid, extending the parts, growing larger, rising higher, growing protuberant.
Swelling (s. from the part.) The act of growing tumid, a morbid tumor, a protuberance, an effort for a rent, a rise of water.
Swelling (v. int. nearly obsolete) To pant in sweat, to pant with heat.
Swelt (v. int. pret.) Did swelt, did pant in sweat.
Swelt (p. from the verb) Burned, consumed with heat.
Swelt (v. t. obsolete) To suffocate, to kill.
Swelter (v. t. supposed to be from sultry) To parch, to fry up with heat.
Swelter (v. int.) To be incommoded with heat.
Sweltered (p. from swelter) Incommoded with heat, parched, dried up with heat.
Sweltering (p. a. from swelter) Incommoding with heat, parching.
Sweltering (adj. from swelter) Suffocating with heat.
Swallow (v. t. an old word) To swallow.
Swallow (v. t. obsolete) To soil, to tarnish, to injure.
Swallow (s. from sweep) An engine with cross beams to draw up any weight, a swipe.
Swallow (v. t. pret. of sweep) Did sweep.
Swallow (p. from sweep) Cleaned with a becom; driven away by fudder force.
Swallow (s. from fward) The fward, the surface of grassy ground.
Swallow (v. int. from the sub.) To breed a green turf.
Swallow (p. a. from fward) Breeding a green turf.
Swallow (s. obsolete) The neck.
Swallow (v. int. obsolete) To swear.
Swallow (s. obsolete) Swarthiness.
SWELLA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
SWERVE (v. int. from the Sax. swerven) To wander, to rove, to deviate, to depart from rule or custom, to fly, to bend; to climb, to climb on a leaning ranch.
Swerving (p. a. from swerve) Wandering, roving, departing from rule or custom.
Swerving (s. from the part.) The act of deviating.
Swet (s. obsolete) Sweat.
Swet (p. obsolete) Sweated.
Swet (p. obsolete) Sweated.
Swet (s. obsolete) A darling, a sweetheart.
Swet (s. obsolete) A dream.
Swet (s. obsolete) Dreams.
SWIFT (adj. from the Sax.) Moving far in a short time, quick, nimble; ready, apt.
Swift (s. from the adj.) The current of a stream; a kind of wheel for reeling yarn.
SWIFT (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, a kind of martin, so called from the swiftness of its flight.
Swift (v. t. a sea term) To strengthen with the wreath of a rope.
Swifted (p. from swift, a sea term) Strengthened with the turn or wreath of a rope.
Swift (s. a sea term) A rope to strengthen the masts and keep the mast stiff; a rope to confine the bars of a capstern; a rope incircling a boat to strengthen her sides and enable her the better to resist the force of the sea.
Swift (adj. comp. of swift) Swift in a greater degree.
Swift (adj. sub. of swift) Swift in the greatest degree.
Swift (p. a. from swift, a sea term) Strengthening with the turn or wreath of a rope.
Swift (s. from the part. a sea term) The act of strengthening any thing with the turn or wreath of a rope.
Swiftly (adv. from swift) With swiftness, rapidly, limply.
Swiftness (s. from swift) Speed, rapidity, quickness of motion.

SWIG (v. int. from the Islandick fwiga) To drink largely.
Swilk (adj. an old word) Such.
Swilk'er (v. t. a local word) To dash, to dash over.
SWILL (v. t. from the Sax. swilgan) To drink largely and luxuriously, to inebriate, to wash, to drench.
Swill (s. from the verb) Drink luxuriously swallowed; wash for pigs.
Swill'bowl (s. a cant word) A toper, a great drinker.
Swill'ed (p. from swill) Washed, drenched, inebriated.
Swill'er (s. from swill) A luxurious drinker.
Swilling (p. a. from swill) Drinking luxuriously, washing, drenching.
Swilling (s. from the part.) The act of drinking luxuriously, the act of washing, the last act of washing cloaths.
Swill'pough (s. an old word) A child born when the parents are old, a dilling.
SWIM (v. int. from the Sax. swimman) To float on the water, to move in the water by the motion of the limbs; to be conveyed by the stream; to glide along with an easy motion; to be dizzy, to be vertiginous, to have abundance, to flow in any thing.
Swim (v. t.) To pass by swimming.
Swimm (s. from swim) The bladder of fishes.
Swim'mer (s. from swim) One who swims.
Swim'mer (s. in farriery) The protuberance in the leg of a horse resembling a bit of horn.
Swim'ming (p. a. from swim) Floating on the water, moving forward in the water by the motion of the limbs, moving with an easy motion.
Swim'ming (s. from the part.) The act of floating on the water, the act of moving forward in the water by a proper motion of the limbs, the act of moving on with an easy motion; a dizziness in the head.
Swim'mingly (adv. from swim'ming, a low word) Smoothly, without interruption.
SWINDON (s.) A town in Wiltshire; it has a market on Monday, and is 82 miles from London.
Swind'on (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Swindon, made at Swindon.
SWINE (s. from the Sax. fwin) A hog, a pig, a sow; pigs, hogs, fows.
Swine (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to swine, like swine. "He will be swine drunk."
Swine/bread (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Swine'creases (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Swine'cree (s. a local word) A hogsty.
Swine'erne (s. a local word) A hogsty.
Swine'gras (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Swine'grean (s. a local word) The snout of a swine.
Swine'herd (s. from swine, and herd) A keeper of swine.
Swine'hull (s. a local word) A pigsty.
Swine'pipe (s. in ornithology) A bird of the thrush kind.
SWING (v. int. from the Sax. swingan) To hang loosely, to wave backwards and forwards; to move backwards and forwards on a rope.
Swing (v. t.) To wave loosely, to make to move backwards and forwards, to whirl round in the air.
Swing (s. from the verb) The motion of any thing hanging loosely, a line on which any thing hangs loosely, a kind of machine to teach children to go; the influence or power of a body in motion; a loose, unrestrained liberty.
SWINGE (v. t. from the Sax. swingan) To whip, to bastinate, to punish; to move as a lash.
Swinge (s. from the verb, but not used) A sway, the sweep of any thing in motion.
Swing'ebuckler (s. from swinge, and buckler) A vain blustering fellow.
Swing'ed (p. from swinge, a droll word) Whipped, bastinated, punished.
Swing'ing (adj. a different spelling) Swing'ing.
Swing'er (s. from swing) One that swings; one who hurls.
Swing'ing (p. a. from swing) Waving loosely, moving backwards and forwards, whirling round in the air.
Swing'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving backwards and forwards.
Swing'ing (p. a. from swinge, the g pronounced soft) Whipping, punishing.

S W O

Swing'ing (adj. from fwing, the g pronounced soft, a droll word) Great, huge. Arbutnot
 Swing'ingly (adv. from swinging, a droll word, the g pronounced soft) Vastly, greatly. Swift Swing'le (v. int. from swing) To dangle, to swing in pleasure. Johnson
 Swing'le (v. t. from swing) To beat flax.
 Swing'le (s. from swing) The instrument with which flax is beaten.
 Swing'led (b. from fwingle) Beaten as flax.
 Swing'lestaff (s. from fwingle, and staff) The stick with which hemp or flax is beaten.
 Swing'ling (p. a. from fwingle) Beating flax; dangle.
 Swing'ling (s. from tb. part.) The act of beating flax.
 Swin'ish (adj. from swine) Resembling a swine, besting a swine, brutal, gross.
 Swink (v. int. obsolete) To labour, to toil, to drudge. Spenser
 SWINK (s. obsolete, from the Sax. swina) Labour, toil, drudgery. Spenser
 Swink (v. t. from the sub. obsolete) To overlabour, to fatigue with labour. Johnson
 Swink'ed (p. from swink, obsolete) Wearied, fatigued with labour. Milton Swink'er (s. from swink, obsolete) A drudge, a laborious man. Swift Swink'ing (p. a. from swink) Labouring too much.
 Swipe (s. probably from sweep) A machine for drawing up water; a machine for throwing grenades. Spenser
 Swip'per (adj. a local word) Nimble, quick. Ba Swire (s. obsolete) The neck. Chaucer
 Swisse (adj. from Swisserland) Belonging to Switzerland.
 Swisse (s. from the adj.) A native of Switzerland.
 SWIS SERLAND (s. a different spelling) Switzerland.
 SWITCH (s. the derivation is not noted) A small pliant twig.
 Switch (v. t. from the sub.) To lash, to beat with a small pliant stick.
 Switch (adj. from the sub.) Growing long like a small twig. "That horse has a switch tail."
 Switch (adv. obsolete) Quickly. Cole
 Switch'ed (p. from twich) Lashed, beaten with a switch.
 Switching (p. a. from twich) Lashing, beating with a switch.
 Switching (s. from the part.) The act of beating with a switch.
 Swith (adv. obsolete) Quickly. Sp.
 Swithe (adv. obsolete) Swiftly, quickly, soon. Cb.
 SWITH'IN (s.) A man's name.
 SWITZ (s.) The capital of Switzerland.
 SWITZERLAND (s.) The Helvetia of the Romans; it is situate on the Alps, and consists of thirteen cantons.
 SWIVE (v. int. from the Teut. schevenen to agitate) To perform the act of generation. Bailey
 Swivel (s. probably from twive) Something fixed in another body so as to turn round in it, two links of a chain so made as to turn one in another; a gun which turns on a swivel.
 Swive-gun (s. from swivel, and gun) A gun which turns on a swivel used on board a ship.
 Swizzen (v. t. a local word) To finge. Bai.
 Swob (s. from swob) A mop.
 Swob'ed (p. from swob) Swabbed, mopped.
 Swob'ber (s. from swob) A swabber; one that cleans with a mop; a privileged card incidentally used in betting at the game of whist.
 Swob'bing (p. a. from swob) Swabbing, mopping.
 Swob'hot (adj. an old word) Sultry hot. Bai.
 Swol'ing (s. an old word) A hide of land, as much land as one plough can till in a year.
 SWOLLEN (p. from swell) Swollen.
 Swallow (s. an old spelling) The swallow, the throat. Chaucer
 Swoll (p. from swell) Grown turgid, tumefied; inflamed with anger, raised to arrogance.
 Swom (v. int. pret. of swim) Swam, did swim. Dryd.
 Swonne (s. an old spelling) A swoon. Cb.
 SWOON (v. int. from the Sax. aswunan) To faint, to fall into a fainting fit; with for: as, "And swoon for what is to come upon thee."
 Swoon (s. from the verb) A fainting fit.
 Swooning (p. a. from swoon) Fainting, falling into a fainting fit.
 Swooning (s. from the part.) The act of fainting, a fainting fit.
 Swoop (v. t. supposed to be from the sound) To fall at once as a hawk on its prey; to prey upon, catch up.

S Y C

 Swoop (s. from the verb) The fall of a bird of prey on its quarry.
 Swoop'ed (p. from swoop) Preyed upon, caught up.
 Swoop'ing (p. a. from swoop) Preying upon; snatching up.
 SWOP (v. t. of uncertain etymology, a low or droll word) To change, to exchange one thing for another.
 Swop'ed (p. from swop, a low or droll word) Changed.
 Swop'ping (p. a. from swop, a low or droll word) Changing one thing for another.
 SWORD (s. from the Sax. feword) A long sharp cutting weapon, the weapon used in fighting hand to hand, destruction by war; vengeance, justice; the emblem of authority.
 Sword'cutler (s. from sword, and cutler) One that makes swords, one that deals in swords.
 Sword'ed (adj. from sword) Furnished with a sword; girt with a sword.
 Sword'er (s. from sword) A cut throat, a soldier in contempt.
 Sword'fish (s. from sword, and fish) A fish with a sharp bone proceeding from its head.
 Sword'grass (s. in botany) The glader, a kind of sedge.
 Sword'knot (s. from sword, and knot) A ribbon tied to the hilt of a sword.
 Sword'law (s. from sword, and law) Law imposed by the sword, the will of the conqueror, violence.
 Sword'man (s. from sword, and man) A soldier, a man that fights with a sword.
 Sword'player (s. from sword, and player) A gladiator, a fencer.
 Sword'sheiper (s. a local word) A swordcutler.
 Swore (v. t. pret. of swear) Did swear.
 Sworl (v. int. a local word) To snarl. Bai.
 Sworn (p. from swear) Admitted on oath, examined on oath, obliged by oath, put upon oath.
 Swote (s. an old spelling) Sweat.
 Swough (s. an old word) A swoon; a sound, a noise. Cb.
 Swoun (s. an old spelling) A swoon.
 Swowe (s. an old spelling) A swoon. Cb.
 Swung (v. t. pret. of swing) Swang, did swing.
 Swung (p. from swing) Moved backwards and forwards, whirled round in the air.
 Swift (adj. an old spelling) Swift.
 SYB (adj. from the Sax. sib, retained in the Scotch dialect) Related by blood. Spenser
 SYB (s. from the Sax.) Peace. Phillips
 SYBAR'IS (s. in ancient geography) A once powerful city of Calabria, whose inhabitants were proverbially feminine and luxurious.
 Sybarit'ical (adj. from Sybaris) Luxurious, effeminate.
 Sybil (s. a different spelling) A sibyl.
 Sybil'iaidist (s. from sybil) A christian so called by heathens in contempt.
 Sybil'ine (adj. from sybil) Sibylline.
 Syb'ship (s. from syb) The state of being related by blood, parentage.
 Sycamin (s. not so common a spelling) The fig-tree.
 Sycamine (s. not so common a word) The fig-tree.
 Sycaminetree (s. from sycamine, and tree) The fig-tree.
 SYCAMORE (s. in botany, from the Greek σικαμωρα, a mulberry) The name of a tree.
 Sycamore (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the fig-tree, made of sycamore.
 Sycamorefruit (s. from sycamore, and fruit) The fruit of the sycamore.
 Sycamoretree (s. from sycamore, and tree) The fig-tree.
 SYCE (s. in botany, from the Greek σικω, a fig) The fig-tree.
 SYCITES (s. in natural history) A precious stone resembling a fig.
 SYCH'OR (s.) The name of a city. Johnson
 SYCO'MA (s. from the Greek) The sycosis, a kind of fleshy excrescence.
 SYCO'SIS (s. from the Greek) A fleshy excrescence growing about the fundament, and is so called from its resemblance to a fig.
 Syc'ophancy (s. from sycophant) The practice of sycophant, flattery.
 SYCOPHANT (s. from the Greek σικωφαντα, to tell, one who informed against those who exported)

S Y M

Symbolic (adj. from symbol) Typical, expressing by signs.
Symbolical (adj. from symbolic) Typical, representing by signs.
Symbolically (adv. from symbolical) Typically, by representation.
Symbolism (s. from symbol) The content of the different parts of the body by the intermediation of the nerves.
Symbolization (s. from symbolize) A representation, a semblance.
Sym'bolize (v. int. from symbol) To agree with as a symbol; with with: as, "To symbolize with many things."
Sym'bolize (v. t. from symbol) To make representative, to make to correspond as a symbol.
Sym'bolized (p. from symbolize) Made to correspond as a symbol.
Sym'bolizing (b. a. from symbolize) Making to correspond as a symbol.
Sym'bolizing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to a symbolical representation.
Symbolog'raphist (s. from symbology) One who writes of symbols.
SYMBOLOG'GRAPHY (s. from the Greek συμβολον a symbol, and γραφω to write) A description or treatise of symbols.
SYMMA'CHUS (s.) A man's name; a famous Roman orator.
SYM'MACHY (s. from the Greek συν with, and μαχη a fight) An aid in war, assistance in battle.
Sym'metral (adj. from symmetry) Commensurable. Ph.
Symmetrian (s. from symmetry) One who is studious of exact proportion.
Symmetrical (adj. from symmetry) Proportionate, having exact proportion.
Symmetrical (adv. from symmetrical) Proportionally.
Symmetrist (s. from symmetry) One very studious of exact proportions.
SYM'METRY (s. from the Greek συν with, and μετρεω to measure) Proportion, the agreement of one part with another.
Sym'mist (s. from symmysta) A colleague in any profession. Cole.
SYMMYS'TA (s. from the Greek συν with, and μυσηριον a mystery) A privy counsellor; a secretary; a brother priest. Phillips.
Sympathetic (adj. from sympathy) Having mutual sensations, having a fellow feeling.
Sympathetical (adj. from sympathetic) Having mutual sensation, having a fellow feeling.
Sympathetically (adv. from sympathetic) With sympathy, with fellow feeling.
Sympathize (v. int. from sympathy) To feel with another, to have fellow feeling; with with: as, "And sympathized with their heroes."
Sympathizing (p. a. from sympathize) Feeling with another, having a fellow feeling.
Sympathizing (s. from the part.) The act of feeling with another.
SYMPATHY (s. from the Greek συν with, and παρχω to suffer) A fellow feeling, a mutual feeling; tender compassion.
SYMPEP'SIS (s. from the Greek) The concoction of an inflammatory tumour.
SYMPEX'IUM (s. in natural history) A genus of stones.
SYMPHO'NESIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and φων a sound) The collision of two vowels.
SYMPHONIA'CA (s. in botany) The henbane.
Symphonious (adj. from symphony) Harmonious, agreeing in sound.
SYMPHONY (s. from the Greek συν with, and φωνη to sound) Harmony of sound, a concert of instruments; that part of a tune which is sung or played between the words of a song.
SYMPHYSIS (s. from the Greek) The act of growing together, the union of two bones, a mode of articulation in which there is no motion.
SYMPHYTON (s. in botany) The comfrey.
SYMPHYTUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the comfrey.
SYMPLEGADES (s. in geography) The cyanæ. Scott.
SYMPLEX'IUM (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, a kind of silicite.
SYMPLO'CE (s. from the Greek συν with, and πλεω to connect) A rhetorical figure in which several clauses of a sentence have the same beginning and ending.
SYMPO'SIAC (adj. from the Greek συν with, and ποτιω to furnish with drink) Belonging to merry making, belonging to a drinking bout.
SYMPO'SIARCH (s. in antiquity, from the Greek συν with, ary to law) A flatterer, a parasite, a mean imitating fellow.

S Y M

Sycophant (v. int. from the sub. reckoned a bad word) To act the part of a parasite.
Sycophantic (adj. from sycophant) Flattering, parasitical.
Sycophantic (s. from the adj.) A parasitical plant, a plant that grows on another plant.
Sycophantical (adj. from sycophantic) Belonging to a sycophant, parasitical.
Sycophanting (p. a. from sycophant) Acting the part of a sycophant. Gov. of the Tongue.
Sycophantise (v. int. from sycophant) To act the part of a sycophant. Johnson.
Sycophantise (p. a. from sycophantise) Acting the part of a sycophant.
Sycophantize (v. int. a different spelling) To sycophant. Scott.
Sycophantizing (p. a. from sycophantize) Sycophanting, acting the part of a sycophant.
Sycophantizing (s. a different spelling) Cider, the juice of apples.
Sycophantism (s. not so correct a spelling) A sycophantic. Sc.
Sycophant (adj. not used) Planet struck. Bailey.
SYCROUS (adj. from the Lat. siderosus, but not used) Full of stars; planet struck. Cole.
SYCROUS (adj. from the Lat. sius a star, but not used) Planet struck. Scott.
SYNE (s. from the Syriac, signifying enmity) The enmity of a place. Ezek.
SYNE (adj. obsolete) Visible. Chaucer.
SYNE (s.) The name of a man; an illustrious man.
Synonym (s. from syllable, not used) A book treating of syllables. Cole.
Synonymic (adj. from syllable) Relating to syllables.
Synonymical (adj. from syllabic) Belonging to syllables.
Synonymically (adv. from syllabical) In a syllabical manner.
Synonymize (v. int. from syllable, but not used) To use syllables. Cole.
SYLLABLE (s. from the Greek συν with, and λαμβανω to take) A single articulation, as much of a word as uttered by one articulation; any thing proverbially small.
Syllable (v. t. from the sub. but not used) To utter, to pronounce, to articulate. Milton.
Syllabub (s. a different spelling) A syllabub. Felton.
Syllabus (s. from the Greek συν with, and λαμβανω to take) A compendium, an abstract, the heads of a course.
Syllabis (s. from the Greek) A figure in grammar which two nominative cases of the singular number are joined to a plural verb.
SYLOGISM (s. from the Greek συν with and λογος) An argument composed of three propositions, argument in scholastic form.
Syllogistic (adj. from syllogism) Belonging to a syllogism, containing a syllogism.
Syllogistical (adj. from syllogistic) Belonging to a syllogism.
Syllogistically (adv. from syllogistical) In the form of syllogism.
SYLOGIZE (v. int. from the Greek συν with, and λογω to reason) To reason by syllogisms.
Syllogizing (p. a. from syllogize) Reasoning syllogistically.
Sylph (s. the derivation is not noted) A kind of fairy.
Sylva (s. in old statutes) A wood.
Sylvia (s. in poetry) A rhapsody.
Sylvan (s. in old records) An underwood.
Sylvan (adj. from the Lat. sylva a wood) Relating to woods, abounding with woods. Milton.
Sylvan (s. in heathen mythology) A satyr, a sylvan.
SYLVANUS (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed god of the woods.
Sylvan (adj. not much used) Silvan. Scott.
Sylvan (adj. not used) Silvan, belonging to the woods. Cole.
Sylvia (s.) Silvia, a woman's name.
Sylvan (s. from the Lat. sylva a wood, and colere to cultivate) One who dwells in a wood.
Sylvan (adj. from the Lat. sylva a wood, and colere to bear, but not used) Bearing wood. Cole.
Sylvan (s. from the Greek συν with, and βαλλω to throw) An abstract, a compendium, a comprehensive type, a figurative representation; a character.
Sym'bol (s. from symbol) A symbolism. Scott.

SYN

συρος, drink, and αρχος, chief) The director of an entertainment, the governor of a feast.

Sympo'iaques (s. from sympo'ia) A treatise on feasting. Cole.

Sympo'iaist (s. from sympo'ia) A master of a feast. Co.

SYM'PTOM (s. from the Greek συ with, and πτω to fall) That which happens with something else; a sign, a token; a concurring circumstance.

Symptomati'c (adj. from symptom) Happening as a concurrent circumstance, having the nature of a symptom.

Symptomati'cal (adj. from symptomatic) Having the nature of a symptom.

Symptomati'cally (adv. from symptomatical) In the nature of a symptom.

Syn (adv. obsolete) Since. Chaucer.

SYNACTIC (s. from the Greek συ with, and αγω to bring) A medicine to contract or brace up any part.

SYNACTICA (s. from synactic) Medicines to contract or brace up any part.

SYNÆRESIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and αγω to lift up) A figure in grammar in which two vowels are contracted into one sound.

Synagogi'cal (s. from synagogue) Belonging to a synagogue.

SYNAGOGUE (s. from the Greek συ with, and αγω to bring) A congregation, a religious assembly among the Jews, the place where the congregation met.

SYNALOE'PHA (s. from the Greek συ with, and αλφω to mix) A figure in grammar in which the former of two vowels coming together is cut off in scanning a verse.

SYNAN'CHE (s. from the Greek) A kind of quinsy.

SYNANTHRÆ'SMUS (s. from the Greek) A figure in rhetoric in which several matters of a different nature are thrown together.

SYNAR'THROSIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and αρθρω to form) A figure in rhetoric in which several matters of a different nature are thrown together in a discourse.

SYNASTA'MOSIS (s. from the Greek) The anastomosis. Ro.

SYNAU'LIA (s. in ancient music) A concert of pipes without singing.

SYNAX'IS (s. from the Greek συ with, and αγω to bring) A congregation, a communion, the Lord's Supper.

SYN'CAMPE (s. from the Greek συ with, and καμπτω to bend) A curvature, the flexure of the arm.

SYNCATEGORE'MA (s. a logical word, from the Greek συ with, and καταγω to indicate) A word which signifies little of itself unless added to some other word; a mere epithet.

Synecategori'c (adj. from syncategorema) Signifying little of itself, requiring some other word to make good sense.

Synecategori'cal (adj. from syncategorematic) Producing nothing of itself, requiring some other word to make out the full sense.

Synecategori'cally (adv. from syncategorematical) In a manner predicating nothing of itself, in the manner of a syncategorema.

SYNCEL'LUS (s. in church history) A dignified ecclesiastic in the Greek church, the suffragan of a bishop.

SYNCEN'TRIC (adj. from the Greek συ with, and κεντρον a centre) Concentric, having the same centre. Cole.

SYNCHON'DROSIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and χονδρος a cartilage) A close conjunction of two bones, a cartilaginous union.

SYNCHORE'SIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and χωρεω to take) A figure in rhetoric, in which the argument is given to the adversary with a design to retort it on him with greater force.

SYN'CHRISM (s. from the Greek συ with, and χρισμα an ointment) A kind of liquid ointment.

SYNCHRONIC (adj. from the Greek συ with, and χρονος time) Happening at the same time.

Synchroni'cal (adj. from synchronic) Happening at the same time, done at the same time.

SYNCHRONISM (s. from the Greek συ with, and χρονος time) A concurrence of events happening at the same time.

SYNCHRONOUS (adj. from the Greek συ with, and χρονος time) Synchronical, happening at the same time.

SYNCHYSIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and χυνω to pour) A confusion, a confused mixture; a confused arrangement of words in a sentence; a preternatural confusion of the blood or humours in the eye.

SYNCOPA'LIS (s. with physicians) A fever in which the patient is much troubled with fainting fits.

Syn'copate (v. t. from the sub.) To cut off, to shorten; to swoon. Scott.

SYN

Syn'copated (p. from syncopate, an unusual word) off, shortened.

Syn'copation (s. from syncopate) The breaking off of part in music before another.

SYN'COPE (s. pronounced in three syllables, from the Greek συ with, and κοπτω to cut) A fainting contraction of a word; a short note in music longer ones which drives on to the next short note make the beating regular.

Syn'copist (s. from syncopate) A contractor of words.

Syn'copize (v. t. from syncopate) To syncopate, to cut off, to shorten.

Syn'copized (p. from syncopize, but not used) Cut off, shortened.

Syn'copizing (p. a. from syncopize, but not used) Cutting off, shortening.

SYNCRATISM (s. from the Greek συ with, and κρατος power) The junction of two against a power.

SYN'CHRISIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and κρισις judge) A figure in rhetoric in which contrary and different persons are compared together in the same sentence; a comparison; a kind of antithesis.

SYNCRITICA (s. with physicians) Relaxing medicines.

SYNDES'MUS (s. from the Greek συ with, and δεσμος a band) A band, a tie; a ligament; a part which unites other parts of the body; a conjunction, part of speech in grammar.

SYN'DIC (s. from the Greek συ with, and δικω to mix) A person deputed to act on the behalf of a corporation or community; the chief magistrate of a town or corporation.

Syn'dicable (adj. from syndic) Subject to censure.

Syn'dicat (s. from syndic) The office of a syndic.

Syn'dicate (v. t. from syndic) To judge, to censure.

Syn'dicate (s. from syndic) The office or dignity of a syndic.

Syn'dicated (p. from syndicate, but not used) Judged, censured, condemned.

Syn'dick (s. a different spelling) A syndic.

Syn'dickship (s. from syndick) The office or dignity of a syndic.

Syn'dique (s. a different spelling) A syndic, one of four chief magistrates of Geneva.

SYN'DROME (s. pronounced in three syllables, from the Greek συ with, and δρωμα a course) A concurrent action.

SYNE'CHES (s. from the Greek συ with, and χημα a fever) The synchus, a continued fever.

SYNEC'DOCHE (s. pronounced in four syllables, from the Greek συ with, εκ out of, and δεχομαι to take) A figure in rhetoric in which the part is taken for the whole or the whole for a part.

Synecdoch'ical (adj. from synecdoche) Expressed by synecdoche, implying a synecdoche.

SYNEC'PHONESIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and φωνη a sound) A figure in grammar in which two vowels or syllables are pronounced as one; a liaison of vowels.

SYNEDRUON'TA (s. from the Greek συ with, and δρωμα a feat) The common symptoms of a disease.

SYNE'DRION (s. a different spelling, from the Greek council, the sanhedrin)

Synedrium (s. a different spelling) A synedrium.

Synel'reis (s. a different spelling) The synaeresis.

SYNGENE'SIA (s. in botany, from the Greek συ with, and γενεα to be born) A genus of plants in which the stamens are united or formed into a regular cone.

Syn'gerly (adv. obsolete) Singularly.

SYNGNO'THUS (s. in ichthyology) A genus of pterygious fishes.

Syn'graph (s. from syngrapha) A deed executed by parties.

SYN'GRAPHA (s. from the Greek συ with, and γραφω to write) A deed in writing under the hand of parties.

Syn'guler (s. an old word) A boar of four years leaving the herd.

SYNGUL'TUS (s. from the Lat.) The hiccup.

SYN'MESIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and μεσις send) The junction of bones by the intervening membrane.

SYNPZESIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and πω to mix) A figure in grammar in which two vowels or syllables are contracted into one.

SYNNEU'ROSIS (s. from the Greek συ with, and νευρος a nerve) A kind of articulation or connection of bones by the intervention of a ligament.

SYNO'CHA (s. from the Greek συ with, and χημα a synchus, a continual fever.)

SYN

SYS

CHUS (s. from the Lat.) A continued fever, a fever which has no remission.

DD (s. from the Greek συν with, and ὁδὸς a way) Assembly, an assembly of ecclesiastics; an assembly of the gods; a conjunction of heavenly bodies.

dal (adj. from synod) Belonging to a synod; conjoined from one conjunction of the sun to another.

dal (s. from the adj.) A tribute paid to the bishop or archdeacon by the inferior clergy at the Easter visitation.

dale (s. from synod) The synodal.

DALES (s. in antiquity) The rural deans.

DIC (adj. from synod) Belonging to a synod; conjoined from one conjunction of the sun to another.

dic (adj. from synodic) Belonging to a synod; conjoined from one conjunction of the sun to another.

dic (adv. from synodical) By the authority of a synod, according to the appointment of a synod.

DON, SYNO'DONTES (s. in ichthyology) The hugh.

DUS (s. in astronomy) The conjunction of two or more of the heavenly bodies.

dy (s. from synod) The synodal.

ESIA (s. in antiquity) An Athenian festival in commemoration of Theseus.

CEPOSI (s. from the Greek συν with, and οὐκισμός under familiar) A figure in rhetoric in which contrary qualities are united and applied to the same object.

NIA (s. a different spelling) The synovia. D. of A.

ymous (adj. not so correct a spelling) Synonymous. Scott.

NYMA (s. from the Greek συν with, and οὐκισμός a) Words of the same signification; names signifying the same thing.

ymal (adj. from synonyma) Synonymous. Scott.

ymise (v. t. from synonyma) To express the same thing in different words. Camden.

ymised (p. from synonymise, but not used) Expressed in different words.

ymising (p. a. from synonymise, but not used) Expressing the same thing in different words.

ymist (s. from synonyma) One of those botanical writers who have collected the different names of the plants as described by different authors.

ymous (adj. from synonyma) Expressing the same thing in different words, having the same signification.

ymy (s. from synonyma) The quality of expressing the same thing in different words.

er (s. a different spelling) Sinoper, red lead. Cole.

le (s. a different spelling) Sinople, the green color. Cole.

SIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and ὠψ a view) General view, all the parts brought into one view.

ical (adj. from synopsis) Exhibiting a general view, containing a synopsis.

VIA (s. with physicians) The nutritious juice produced by any part; the glewy matter between the joints; gout or other diseases of the joints; the sanies which proceeds from a diseased joint.

ical (adj. from syntaxis) Conjoined, fitted to another; belonging to syntax, relating to the construction of speech.

ically (adv. from syntactical) In a manner conforming with the rules of syntax.

m (s. from syntagma) A disposition according to order.

GMA (s. from the Greek συν with, and τάσσω) A disposition of things according to order; a treatise on any subject.

SIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and τεῖνω to) A preternatural distention of the parts.

X (s. from the Greek συν with, and τάσσω to) A system, a number of things joined together; a part of grammar which teaches the construction of words in a sentence.

XIS (s. from the Greek) A connection; the connection.

ical (adj. from syntaxis) Deep in a consumption. Cole.

TOE (s. from syntaxis) A kind of looseness in a kind of unctuous matter is discharged.

OSIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and τεῖνω to) The junction of two bones by the intervention of a synovial membrane.

ESIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and τῆνω to) A remembrance of conscience.

(s. from synteresis) Conscience accusing or exhorting. Cole.

Synteretic (adj. from synteretica) Belonging to the preservation of health.

SYNTERETICA (s. from the Greek συντερεῖν to preserve) That part of physic which intends the preservation of health.

Synteretic (s. from synteretica) That part of physic which intends the preservation of health.

SYNTEXIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and τῆνω to liquify) A deep consumption, a wasting sickness.

SYN'THEME (s. from the Greek συν with, and τίθημι to put) A watch word; a riddle; a diploma. Cole.

SYN'THESIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and τίθημι to put) The act of joining, the contrary to analysis.

Synthetic (adj. from synthetis) Synthetical.

Synthetical (adj. from synthetic) Conjoining, compounding.

SYN'TOMY (s. from the Greek συν with, and τέμνω to cut) Conciseness. Cole.

SYN'TOTHE (s.) The name of a woman. Phil. 4.

SYNULOTIC (s. with physicians) A medicine to cicatrize.

SYNYMEUSIS (s. a different spelling) The synemesis. Ph.

SYNU'SIAS (s. in church history) One of a sect who held that there was one nature in Christ.

SY'PHAX (s.) A man's name; a king of Numidia who was taken in the third Punic war.

SY'PHILIS (s. from the Greek συν with, and φιλω to love) The venereal disease.

Sy'phon (s. not so correct a spelling) A siphon, a pipe. Mor.

SYR'ACUSE (s.) The chief city of Sicily.

Syr'en (s. not so common a spelling) A firen.

SYR'IA (s.) A part of Asiatic Turkey.

Syr'iac (adj. from Syria) Belonging to Syria.

Syr'iac (s. from the adj.) The language of the Syrians.

Syr'iac (adj. the less modern spelling) Belonging to Syria.

Syr'ian (adj. from Syria) Belonging to Syria, produced in Syria.

Syr'ian (s. from the adj.) A native of Syria, the language of the Syrians.

SYRING'A (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the pipetree, a shrub cultivated in gardens.

SYR'INGE (s. from the Greek σφύριξ) A pipe through which any liquor is squirted.

Syr'inge (v. t. from the sub.) To spout with a syringe, to wash with a syringe.

Syr'inged (p. from syringe) Spouted with a syringe, washed with a syringe.

Syr'inging (p. a. from syringe) Spouting with a syringe, washing with a syringe.

Syr'inging (s. from the part.) The act of washing with a syringe.

SYRINGOTOM'ATA (s. from the Greek σφύριξ a fistula, and τέμνω to cut) A surgeon's knife for opening fistulas.

SYRINGOTO'MIA (s. from the Greek σφύριξ a fistula, and τέμνω to cut) The operation of laying open a fistula.

Syringotomy (s. from furingotomia) The act of opening a fistula.

SYRINGO'TON (s. from the Greek σφύριξ a fistula, and τέμνω to cut) The knife or instrument with which a fistula is laid open.

SYR'INX (s. from the Greek σφύριξ) A reed, a pipe; a syringe, a squirt; a fistula, a hollow ulcer.

SYR'INX (s. in the mythology of the poets) An Arcadian nymph who flying from the embraces of Pan was said to have been changed into a reed. Ovid.

SYR'ITES (s. in natural history) A stone found in the bladder of a wolf.

SYR'IUS (s.) One of the surnames of Jupiter.

Sy'rones (s. a different spelling) The irones, a kind of cuticular eruption; worms that breed in the skin. Scott.

Sy'rop (s. an uncommon spelling) Sirup. Dict. of Arts.

SYROPHENICIA (s. in ancient geography) A country bordering on the land of Israel.

Syrophenician (adj. from Syrophenia) Belonging to Syrophenia.

Syrophenician (s. from the adj.) A native of Syrophenia.

Syr'tes (s. plu. of fyrtis) Two dangerous quicksands in Africa.

SYR'TIS (s. in geography) One of the two famous quicksands in the farthest part of Africa; a quicksand, a shelf in the sea.

SYR'TITES (s. in natural history) A precious stone found in the sands on the coast of Africa, a kind of sapphire.

Syr'up (s. not so common a spelling) Sirup.

SYRU'PUS (s. from the Lat.) Sirup. Phillips.

Sy'for (s. an old word) A juror. SYSSAR CO-

T A B.

SYSSAR/COSIS (s. from the Greek συσ with, and σαρξ flesh) A kind of articulation by the intervention of flesh.

SYSSITIC/TERIS (s. in botany) The name of an herb. Ph.

Systat'ique (adj. from system, but not used) Placing in order. Cole.

SYS'TEM (s. from the Greek συσ with, and ἵστην to put) A combination of many things acting together, a scheme conducing to a regular cooperation, a scheme uniting several things in regular order.

SYSTE'MA (s. from the Greek) A system, a body of science, the compass of a song, a synthesis.

Systemat'ic (adj. from system) Methodical, depending on a regular course.

Systemat'ical (adj. from systematic) Methodical, depending on system.

Systemat'ically (adv. from systematical) In the manner of a system.

Systemat'ist (s. from system) A botanical writer who treats on the genera of plants.

SYS'TOLE (s. from the Greek συσ with, and ὥσθω to draw together) A contraction, a pressing together; the contraction of the heart by which the blood is forcibly pressed into the arteries; a figure in grammar by which a long syllable is made short.

SYS'TYLE (s. in architecture, from the Greek συσ with, and στυλὸν a pillar) A building in which the pillars stand near together.

Syxehand'neman (s. a different spelling) The saxhandeman. Phillips.

SYXHAND'EMAN (s. from the Sax.) A man of the middle rank under the Saxon government, a man worth six hundred shillings.

Syxhand'emem (s. from Saxhendeman) Men of the middle class under the Saxon government.

SYZEAGME/NON (s. with the ancients) A particular note in music.

Syz'igy (s. a different spelling) The syzygia, that part of the old gnostic scheme which referred to the production of their æons. Scott.

SYZY'GIA (s. from the Greek συσ with, and ζυγῶν to yoke) A joining; a figure in grammar in which different feet are coupled together in a verse; the nerves which convey sense from the brain to the rest of the body; a conjunction of any two of the heavenly bodies; that part of the old gnostic scheme which referred to the production of their æons.

T.

T. (s.) The nineteenth letter and fifteenth consonant of the English alphabet. As a contraction it is sometimes put for the Lat. theologiæ of divinity: as, S. T. P. As an old numeral it stands for one hundred and sixty, and with a dash over it for one hundred and sixty thousand.

TA'ANA(H) (s. from the Heb. signifying one that humbles) The name of a city. I Kings.

Ta'as (s. obsolete) A heap. Cbaucer.

Tab (s. a local word) The string of a shoe. Bailey.

Tabac'co (s. not so common a spelling) Tobacco. Scott.

Tabac'cum (s. a different spelling) Tobacco. Phillips.

TABA'GO (s. in geography) One of the Caribbee islands, from which tobacco was first imported into England.

TABA'NUS (s. in the history of insects) The name of a fly, the breeze.

TAB'ARD (s. from the French) A kind of gown, a kind of jacket, a herald's coat.

Tab'ardeer (s. from tabard) One that wears a tabard. Ba.

Tab'arder (s. from tabard) One that wears a tabard. Sc.

Tab'arr (s. a different spelling) A tabard. Phillips.

TAB'BATH (s. from the Heb. signifying good) The name of a place. Judges 2.

Tab'bied (p. from tabby) Calendered.

TAB'BY (s. from the French tabis) A kind of waved silk.

Tab'by (adj. from the sub.) Variegated, brindled.

Tab'by (v. t. from the sub.) To calender, to give a kind of gloss and water to silk or stuff.

Tab'bying (p. a. from tabby) Calendering.

Tab'bying (s. from the part) The act or process of putting a gloss on silk or stuff.

TAB'EAL (s. from the Heb. signifying the goodness of God) A man's name.

TAB'EEL (s. a different spelling) Tabeal. Exra 4.

Tabefaction (s. from tabefy) The act of washing away.

T A B

Ta'befied (p. from tabefy) Wasted, extenuated, diseased.

TA'BEFY (v. t. from the Lat. tabes a consumption, facio to make) To waste; to extenuate by disease.

TA'BEFY (v. int.) To waste away, to grow less, diseased.

Tab'efying (p. a. from tabefy) Wasting, extenuating, diseased.

TABEL/LA (s. in pharmacy) A solid edulary, the of medicine commonly called lozenges.

Tabella'rious (adj. from tabellary, but not used) Belonging to a letter carrier.

TABEL'LARY (s. from the Lat. tabella a little tablet, not used) An auditor; a letter carrier.

Tabell'ion (s. in old records) A notary public.

Tab'er (s. a different spelling) A tabour, a little drum.

Tab'erd (s. from tabard) A kind of short coat.

Tab'erde (s. a different spelling) The tabard, the herald's coat.

Tab'erder (s. from taberd) A bachelor at Queen's college Oxford, one who wears a tabard.

Tab'ern (s. a local word) A cellar.

TAB'ERNACLE (s. from the Lat. tabernaculum) A temporary habitation, a casual dwelling; a sacred place of worship.

Tab'ernacle (v. int. from the sub.) To enshrine, dwell.

Tab'ernac'ling (p. a. from tabernacle) Enshrining, dwelling, taking up a temporary dwelling.

Tabernac'ulum (s. in old records) An inn, a house, public entertainment.

TABERNAMONTA'NA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TABERNA'RIOUS (adj. from the Lat. taberna a tavern) Belonging to a tavern.

Tab'ert (s. a different spelling) A tabard.

TA'BES (s. with physicians, from the Lat.) A wasting away for want of natural moisture, a consumption, ulcer in the lungs; the matter that issues out of a wound.

TAB'ID (adj. from the Lat. tabes a consumption) Consumptive, wasted by disease.

Tab'idness (s. from tabid) The state of being consumptive, the state of being wasted by disease.

TABIF'IC (adj. from the Lat. tabes a consumption, facio to make) Consumptive, tending to a consumption, wasting, producing a consumption.

Tabif'icable (adj. from tabific) Capable of falling into consumption.

Tabif'ical (adj. from tabific) Tending to a consumption, producing a consumption.

Tab'iter (s. a different spelling) A taberder.

TAB'ITHA (s.) A woman's name.

Tab'lature (s. from table) A table, a directory; a set of music composed for the lute; a division of a skull; a painting on a wall or ceiling.

TAB'LE (s. from the Lat. tabula) A flat or level surface, a horizontal surface raised on a frame, the board on which victuals are set to be eaten; the fare or entertainment for a meal, the persons who partake of it; a tablet, a surface on which anything is written; an index, a collection of particulars, a synopsis, many particulars brought into one; a set of numbers to facilitate any calculation; the palm of the hand; a picture, that which exhibits anything to view; the play at draughts. To make tables, to change the condition.

Tab'le (v. t. from the sub.) To make into a catalogue, set down in a regular series.

Tab'le (v. int. from the sub.) To board, to live at table of another.

Tab'le (s. in architecture) A smooth simple moulding, long square projecting beyond the surface of the work.

Tab'le (s. in heraldry) A field without any thing on it.

Tab'le (adj. with jewellers) Having a plain surface.

TAB'LEAU' (s. from the French) A picture, a representation of contents.

Ta'blebeer (s. from table, and beer) Small beer, drunk with victuals.

Ta'blebook (s. from table, and book) A book on which anything is graved or written without ink.

Ta'blecloth (s. from table, and cloth) The linen on a table to receive the victuals.

Ta'bied (p. from table) Put down in a table; banished at another man's table.

Ta'blediamond (s. from table, and diamond) A diamond with a plain surface.

Ta'blediscourie (s. from table, and discourie) Conversation at table, conversation at meals.

table (s. from table, and glass) A kind of large glass.
tableman (s. from table, and man) A moveable bit of wood at draughts.
tablemat (s. from table, and mat) A small round mat to put under a dish at table.
tablemen (s. plu. of tableman) The men at draughts. Bacon.
table (s. from table) One who boards. Ansforth.
tablement (s. from table, and rept) A sum of money paid to an ecclesiastic for the support of his table.
tablespoon (s. from table, and spoon) A large spoon used at table.
table (s. from table) A small plain surface; a surface described or painted; a medicine in a square form.
tabletalk (s. from table, and talk) Conversation at table, conversation at meals.
table (p. a. from table) Setting down in a table, making a catalogue; boarding, living at another's table.
table (s. from the part.) The act of boarding, the money paid for board.
table (s. a sea term) The broad hem on the skirt or bottom of a sail.
TABOR (s. from the Heb. signifying purity) The name of a place, the name of a mountain.
TABORITE (s. in church history) A kind of Hufite.
TABOUR (s. from the French) A small drum, a drum beaten with one stick to accompany a pipe.
tabour (v. int. from the sub.) To play on the tabour, to strike often and lightly.
tabourer (v. int. obsolete) To tabour. Chaucer.
tabouler (s. from tabour) One that plays on a tabour.
tabouret (s. from tabour) A small tabour.
TABOURET (s. from the French) A tabour. tabouring (p. a. from tabour) Playing on the tabour, striking often and lightly.
tabouring (s. from the part.) The act of striking often and lightly, the act of playing on a tabour, the sound of light and repeated strokes.
tabouler (s. an old spelling) A tabourer. Spenser.
taboret (s. a different spelling) A tabour, a small drum.
BRIMMON (s. from the Heb. signifying a pomegranate) A man's name.
TABULA (s. in old records) A weekly directory for the service of a cathedral; a table, a board.
tabular (adj. from tabula) Set down in the form of tables, formed in tables; formed in squares.
tabularious (adj. from tabular, but not used) Tabular. Cole.
tabulary (s. from tabular) A place where public writings are kept. Cole.
TABULATE (v. t. from the Lat. tabula a table) To reduce to tables, to reduce to a synopsis, to bring into one view; to floor with boards. Cole.
tabulated (p. from tabulate) Reduced to tables, formed into a regular series.
tabulated (adj. from tabulate) Having a flat surface.
tabulating (p. a. from tabulate) Reducing to tables, placing in a catalogue.
tabulating (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to tables.
TABULATURA (s. in music) The old way of setting down tunes by letters instead of notes.
TABUM (s. from the Lat.) Gore, blood; the sanies or thin matter issuing from an ulcer.
TACAMAHA (s. not so common a spelling) The tacamahaca. Dict. of Arts.
TACAMAHA/CA (s. in botany, and medicine) The name of a tree; the resin of the tree.
tacamahacy (s. a different spelling) The tacamahaca. Sc.
TACE (v. int. imper. mode, from the Lat. in music books) To be silent, hold.
TACES (s. of uncertain derivation) Armour for the thighs. tach (s. obsolete) A catch, a trick; an attempt. Chaucer.
tache (s. from tack) A loop, a button, any thing to be taken hold of. Exod.
tachography (s. not so common a word) Tachygraphy. Scott.
tacher (v. int. obsolete) To endeavour. Chaucer.
taches (s. an old word) Tricks. Bailey.
TACHYGRAPHY (s. from the Greek ταχυς swift, and γραφω to write) The art of quick writing, the act of writing quick.
TACIT (adj. from the Lat. taceo to be silent) Silent, implied though not expressed.
TACITA (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed goddess of silence.
tacitly (adv. from tacit) Silently, without oral expression.
taciturnity (s. from tacit) Habitual silence, the contrary to loquacity.

Taciturnous (adj. from taciturnity) Silent, making no noise. Scott.
TACITUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman orator and historian.
TACK (v. t. of uncertain etymology) To fasten, to join slightly, to unite, to stitch together.
Tack (s. from the verb) A small nail; a hold, a perfecting cohesion; but this sense is most confined to the Scotch idiom.
Tack (v. int. supposed to be from tackle) To turn as a ship; with about: as, "To tack about and steer another way."
Tack (s. from the verb) The turn of a ship, the act of turning a ship at sea.
Tack (s. a sea term) The state of being close hauled with the wind either on the larboard or starboard side; a rope to confine or bring forward the clue of a sail; that part of the sail to which a rope is fastened.
Tacked (p. from tack) Fastened with a tack, fastened slightly, united, stitched together.
Tacker (s. from tack) One who tacks any thing together.
Tackling (p. a. from tack) Fastening with a tack, uniting, stitching together; turning a ship, altering the cable.
Tackling (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with tacks, that part which is fastened with tacks; the act of turning a ship at sea, the process of altering the course of a ship at sea.
TACK'LE (s. from the Brit. tacle) Weapons, instruments of action; an arrow; but this sense is now become obsolete.
TACK'LE (s. from the Dutch tauhel, a rope) The ropes of a ship.
Tack'le (v. t. a local word, from the sub.) To accoutre; to put the saddle and bridle on a horse.
Tack'led (p. from tackle) Accoutred, fitted for action; made of ropes tacked together. Shakespeare.
Tack'ling (p. a. from the verb) Accoutring, fitting for action.
Tack'ling (s. from tackle) Instruments of action; the furniture of a mast on board a ship.
Tack'tackle (s. a sea term) A small tackle used occasionally to pull down the tack of the principal stays.
TACQY (v. t. an old word) To pull down. Cole.
TAC'TIC (adj. from the Greek τακτω to put in order) Relating to the act of drawing up an army in order of battle.
Tactical (adj. from tactic) Relating to tactics.
Tactics (s. from tactic) The act of drawing up an army in order of battle.
TAC'TILE (adj. from the Lat. tango to touch) Susceptible of touch, capable of being touched.
Tactility (s. from tactile) The quality of being perceptible by the touch.
TAC'TION (s. from the Lat. tactio) The act of touching. Johnson.
TADCASTER (s.) A town in the West Riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 187 miles from London.
Tad'caster (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tadcaster, made at Tadcaster.
TAD'DY (s.) A pleasant kind of liquor issuing out of a tree in America.
TAD'MOR (s. from the Heb. signifying a palm tree) Palmyra; a city built by Solomon in the wilderness.
TADORNA (s. in ornithology) A beautiful species of anas.
TAD'POLE (s. from the Sax. tud a toad, and pola a young one) A young shapeless frog, a young shapeless toad consisting only of a body or rather a head and a tail.
TÆNIA (s. in zoology) The tapeworm.
TÆNIA (s. in architecture) The member of the Doric capital representing a square fillet.
Tænia (s. plu. of tænia) More than one tænia.
Taffarel (s. a different spelling) The tafferel, the upper part of the stern. Falconer.
Taffata (s. not so common a spelling) Taffeta. Sc.
Tafferel (s. a sea term) The upper part of the stern. Sc.
TAFFETA (s. from the Italian) A sort of thin silk.
Taffety (s. from taffeta) The taffeta, a thin kind of silk.
TAG (s. from the Islandick) A point of metal put to the end of a string; any thing paltry.
Tag (v. t. from the sub.) To fit any thing with an end; to join one thing to another. Swift.
TAGES (s. in the mythology of the poets) A man's name, a supposed grandson of Jupiter who first taught the art of divination.
TAGE'TES (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TAK

Tagge (s. a local word) A sheep of a year old. Scott.
 Tag'ged (p. from tag) Furnished with a tag; tacked together.
 Tag'ging (p. a. from tag) Furnishing with a tag; tacking together.
 Tag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a tag.
 Tagliacot'tian (adj. from Tagliacotius) Belonging to Tagliacotius, made by Tagliacotius.
 TAGLIACO'TIUS (s.) The name of a man, a noted surgeon who was said to have made a new nose for one of his patients out of a piece of another man's flesh.
 Tag'rag (s. from tag, and rag) A mean pitiful ragged fellow. Scott.
 Tag'tail (s. from tag, and tail) A common earth worm with a tail of a different colour.
 TA'GUS (s. in geography) A large river which takes its rise in Spain, runs through Portugal and empties itself into the Atlantic ocean.
 TAHAPA'NES (s. from the Heb. signifying secret) The name of a place, a royal villa in Egypt.
 TAHPE'NES (s. from the Heb. signifying a flight) The name of a woman.
 TAJA'CU (s. in zoology) The musk hog.
 TAIL (s. from the Sax. tegl) That which terminates the animal behind, the continuation of the vertebra of the back hanging loose behind; any thing hanging long, a catkin, the lower part; the hinder part of any thing, the refuse. "To turn tail," to flee, to run away.
 Tail (s. a law term) A limited estate, an entail.
 Tail (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with a tail; to tie tail to tail.
 Tail (v. int.) To pull by the tail.
 Tail'ager (s. a diff. spel.) A tallager, a collector of tolls. Bai.
 Tail'agier (s. an old word) A collector of tolls. Ch.
 Tail'block (s. a sea term) A small kind of block.
 Taile (s. obsolete) A supposition, account, trust. "Took by taile." Cbaucer.
 Tail'ed (p. from tail) Furnished with a tail, tied tail to tail.
 Tail'ing (p. a. from tail) Furnishing with a tail, tying tail to tail.
 Tail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tying tail to tail.
 TAIL'LAGE (s. from the French tailler to cut) A toll, a tax.
 Taille (s. a law term) A limited estate, an entail.
 TAILLE' (adj. in heraldry) Parted by a bend sinister.
 TAILLE'DOUCÉ (s. in painting) The engraving, the art of sculpture. Evelyn.
 TAIL'LOIR (s. in architecture) The abacus.
 TAIL'OR (s. from the French tailler to cut) One whose business is to make men's cloaths.
 Tail'or (v. t. from the sub. a bad word) To make garments. Scott.
 TAINCT (s. in zoology) A kind of small red spider. Sc.
 TAINE (s.) A parliament town in Scotland in the county of Ross.
 TAINT (s. from the French teinte) A spot, a stain, a small blemish; infection, contagion; a small red spider, a taint. Brown.
 Taint (v. t. from the sub.) To imbue, to impregnate; to stain, to sully; to corrupt, to infect.
 Taint (v. int.) To become tainted, to grow corrupt, to become infected.
 Taint'ed (p. from taint) Stained, sullied, corrupted, infected.
 Taint'ing (p. a. from taint) Staining, sully, corrupting, infecting.
 Taint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of corrupting, the act of infecting.
 Taint'less (adj. from taint) Free from infection.
 Taint'ure (s. from taint) A taint, a tinge, a defilement.
 TAKE (v. t. from the Islandick taka) To receive, to seize; to receive what is offered, to seize what is not given; to catch, to surprise, to entrap; to deprive of liberty, to arrest; to get, to use, to employ; to form, to fix; to admit, to suffer; to understand, to receive into the mind; to receive as food, to receive as physic; to copy, to set down in writing; to convey, to carry, to transport; to go in, to go into, to pursue; to choose, to pick out from others; to draw out, to move from one place to another; to endure, to bear; to leap, to jump over; to carry out for use, to carry out on a journey; to assume, to suppose; to comprise, to comprehend; to have recourse to, to flee to; to utter, to use as on oath; to receive with indifference, to receive with fondness; to captivate, to engage, to delight; to come upon, to seize as a disease; to blast, to infect. "To take away," to deprive, set aside. "To take down," to repress, to reduce to swallow. "To take from," to derogate, to detract. "To take in," to comprise, to comprehend to admit, to inclose, to impose upon. "To take out," to remove, to destroy; to withdraw, to withdraw to copy, to imitate; to swallow. "To take on," to be greatly affected with, to grieve, to pine. "To take out," to bring out, to remove from within. "To take to," to apply to, to be fond of; to betake to, to have recourse to. "To take up," to borrow upon credit to be ready for, to have final recourse to, to occupy to comprise, to adjust, to engross, to engage, to raise from the ground, to fasten with a ligature a vein or artery, to stop, to reform. "To take with," to be contented with. "To take with," please.

TAL

 Ta'kel (s. an old word) A feather, an arrow.
 Ta'ken (p. from take) Received, seized, conveyed away moved from one place to another.
 Ta'ker (s. from take) One who takes.
 Ta'kerde (s. obsolete) A tabard. Claude.
 Ta'kil (s. obsolete) An arrow; tackle.
 Ta'king (p. a. from take) Running, seizing, conveying from one place to another.
 Ta'king (s. from the part.) A seizure, an arrest, the act of receiving, the act of seizing, the act of conveying away.
 Tal'age (s. obsolete) A tax, an impost.
 TALA'RIA (s. from the Lat.) The winged shoes of Mercury; a gouty swelling in the ancles.
 Tal'aries (s. from talaria) The talaria.
 TAL'BOT (s. of uncertain derivation) A kind of dog the dog usually depicted on a sign post.
 TALC (s. in natural history) A large class of fossil substances composed of thin transparent laminae.
 Tal'catife (adj. an old spelling) Talkative.
 TAL'CUM (s. in natural history) The talc.
 TALE (s. from the Sax. tellan to tell) A story, a narrative; an oral relation, an information, the disclosure of a secret; a number reckoned, a reckoning.
 Tale (v. int. obsolete) To tell a story, to talk.
 Talebearer (s. from tale, and bearer) One who gives officious intelligence; one who makes mischief by carrying stories from one neighbour to another.
 Talebearing (s. from tale, and bearing) The practice of a talebearer.
 TAL'ENT (s. from the Lat. talentum) A weight, a sum of money different in different periods of time and different countries; a faculty, a power, a gift; nature; nature, disposition; but this is reckoned mistaken sense. "It is the talent of human nature run from one extreme to another."
 Tal'ent (s. obsolete) Desire, inclination.
 TA'LES (s. a law term, from the Lat.) The supply of jurymen in the room of those who do not appear have been objected to.
 Tale'shide (s. an old word) Fire wood cut in billets.
 Tale'sman (s. from tale, and man) One who has any thing, the author of a story.
 Tal'ey (s. a different spelling) A tally.
 Taliatu'ra (s. in old records) Long wood made in billets.
 TAL'IO (s. from the Lat.) The law of retaliation, the law which required like for like.
 Tal'ion (s. from talio) The law of retaliation.
 TAL'ISMAN (s. supposed to be from the Greek talisman) A magical character, a kind of image or engraving taken from some particular configuration of heavenly bodies, to which the old astrologers ascribed very extraordinary virtues.
 Talisman'ic (adj. from talisman) Magical, having hidden virtue.
 Talisman'ical (adj. from talismanic) Magical.
 Tal'ismanist (s. from talisman) One who makes talismans, one who gives credit to the virtue of talismans.
 TALK (v. int. from the Sax. tellan) To speak in conversation, to speak fluently and familiarly, to converse to give account, to reason, to confer, to prattle, to speak impertinently; with of and with: as, "Let us talk with thee of thy judgements."
 Talk (s. from the verb) Fluent and familiar speech, conversation, subject of discourse.
 Talk (s. not so common) Talc.
 Talk'ative (adj. from talk) Loquacious, full of talk.
 Talk'ativeness (s. from talkative) Sagacity, an aptitude to be talkative.
 Talk'ed (p. from talk) Related in conversation, subject of discourse. "It was much talked of."

T A L

Ver (s. from talk) One who talks, one who talks much.
ing (p. a. from talk) Speaking, speaking familiarly, discoursing, prating much.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of speaking, oral conversation.
ly (adj. from talk) Consisting of talc, resembling talc.
er (v. t. an old spelling) To tell. Cb.
L (adj. from the Brit. tal) High in stature, high, tall; sturdy, lusty. Shakespeare
LA (s. with physicians) The swelling of the gout in the ankles.
LAGE (s. from the French tailage) An impost, a tax, an excise.
ager (s. from tallage) A collector of tolls.
gium (s. in old customs) Tallage, imposts, customs.
er (adj. comp. of tall) Tall in a greater degree.
est (adj. sup. of tall) Tall in the greatest degree.
LIA (s. in old records) The set allowance of meat to drink for a prebendary or canon in a cathedral.
ed (p. from tally) Fitted, suited, made to agree; as, "They are not so well tallied to the present juncture."
LOW (s. from the Danish talge) The hard fat of an animal, suet.
ow (v. t. from the sub.) To smear with hard fat, to tallow.
owchandler (s. from tallow, and chandler) One who makes candles of tallow.
owed (p. from tallow) Smear with tallow.
owing (p. a. from tallow) Smearing with tallow.
owing (s. from the part.) The act of smearing with tallow.
owtrade (s. from tallow, and trade) Traffic in tallow.
owtree (s. in botany) The name of a tree in which produces an unctuous matter resembling tallow.
owth (adj. from tallow) Having the nature of tallow. Scott.
wood (s. from tall, and wood) A kind of long cleft wood. Scott.
LY (s. from the French tailer to cut) A stick cut in which in conformity to another stick and kept as an amount; any thing made to fit another.
ly (v. t. from the sub.) To fit, to suit, to cut out any thing.
ly (v. int.) To conform, to be suitable; with as, "I found tiles that exactly tallied with the pavement."
ed (p. from tally, but not an analogical spelling) Fitted, suited to; with to, with, and for: as, "They seemed just tallied for each other." Prior.
ing (p. a. from tally) Fitting, suiting.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of fitting.
man (s. from tally, and man) One who sells on credit to be paid on weekly payments.
MAI (s. from the Heb. signifying my sorrow) A man's name.
MUD (s. from the Heb. signifying learned) The oral law of the Jews with the comments of the Rabbins.
udic (adj. from talmud) Belonging to the talmud.
udical (adj. from talmudic) Belonging to the talmud.
udist (s. from talmud) One well versed in the talmud.
is (s. from tall) Height of stature, the state or quality of being tall.
ON (s. from the French) The claw of a bird, the talon of a bird of prey.
ON (s. in architecture) A small member made of stone fillets, a cymatium crowned with a square capital.
ed (adj. from talon) Having talons.
A (s. in zoology) The mole.
A (s. in surgery) An encysted tumour under the skin.
ES (s. in surgery) Encysted tumours under the skin generally arising from some venereal affection.
ICIDE (s. from the Lat. talpa a mole, and cædo) A mole catcher.
de (s. in old records) Fire wood.
HYBIUS (s.) A man's name, a herald in the Trojan camp. Homer.
is (s. in anatomy) A bone of the heel.
is (s. in architecture) The slope or inclination of a work.
is (s. in fortification) The slope of a rampart.

T A N

TA'LUS (s.) A man's name, the nephew of Dædalus who it is said first invented the use of the saw.
Tal'wood (s. an old word) Fire wood. Pb.
TAMA'DUA (s. in zoology) The ant bear.
TAMALAPA'TRA (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
TAMAN'DUA (s. in zoology) The myrmecophaga, the antbear.
TA'MAR (s. in geography) The river which divides Cornwall from Devonshire.
TA'MAR (s. from the Heb. signifying a palm) The name of a woman.
TAM'ARIND (s. in botany and medicine) The tamarind-tree, the fruit of the tamarindtree.
Tam'arindtree (s. in botany) The name of an Indian tree, the tree which produces the tamarinds.
TAM'ARISK (s. in botany) The name of a tall tree, the wood of which is said to be medicinal.
TAM'BAC, TAMBA'QUA (s.) A mixture of gold and copper which has been reckoned by some more beautiful than gold itself.
TAM'BARINE (s. from the French tambourin) A tabar, a small drum.
TAM'BOUR (s. from the Arabic tambor) A drum, a kind of fine sieve; a kind of musical instrument.
TAM'BOUR (s. in architecture) A member of the Corinthian and composite capital resembling a drum; a place inclosed with folding doors to break the wind at the entrance of a church or a place of worship.
TAME (adj. from the Sax.) Opposed to wild, domestic, gentle; spiritless, easily subdued; crushed, subdued, depressed.
Tame (v. t. from the adj.) To reduce from wildness, to reclaim, to make gentle; to subdue, to crush, to depress.
Ta'meable (adj. from tame) Capable of being tamed.
Ta'med (p. from tame) Reduced from wildness, reclaimed, made gentle; subdued, crushed, conquered.
Ta'mely (adv. from tame) Mildly, meanly, without spirit.
Ta'meness (s. from tame) The quality of being tame; timidity, the want of spirit.
Ta'mer (s. from tame) One who tames.
Ta'mer (adj. comp. of tame) Tame in a greater degree.
TAM'ERLANE (s.) A man's name, a noted Scythian who subdued the haughty emperor Bajazet and carried him about in an iron cage.
Ta'mest (adj. sup. of tame) Tame in the greatest degree.
TAM'ESIS (s. the Latin name of) The river Thames.
Ta'ming (p. a. from tame) Reducing from wildness, reclaiming, subduing.
Ta'ming (s. from the part.) The act of reducing from wildness.
Tam'iny (s. in commerce, but not a common spelling) Tammy, a kind of woollen stuff. Johnson.
TA'MIS (s. in botany) That part of a tulip which supports the stamina.
TAM'KIN (s. the derivation is not noted) The stopple of the mouth of a great gun.
TAM'MUZ (s. from the Heb. signifying astrife) The name of an idol. Ezek. 8.
Tam'my (s. in commerce) A kind of thin woollen stuff.
TAM'NUS (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the black briony.
TAMOATA (s. in ichthyology) The stromateus.
TAM'PER (v. int. of uncertain etymology) To meddle, to be busy with; to deal, to practise; with in and with: as, "Having thus far tampered in it." "To tamper with your crazy brain."
Tam'pering (p. a. from tamper) Meddling, dealing, practising with.
Tam'pering (s. from the part.) The act of meddling.
Tam'pin (s. a different spelling) A tamkin, a piece of wood to stop the mouth of a cannon. Pb.
TAM'PION (s. a different spelling) A tamkin, a piece of wood fitted to the mouth of a great gun.
Tamp'kin (s. a different spelling) A tampon. Pb.
Tampoon (s. from the French tampon) The bung of a vessel.
TAMPOY' (s.) A kind of drink in the east made of gilliflowers. Phil.
TA'MUS (s. in botany, a different spelling) The tannus.
TAM'WORTH (s.) A borough town in Staffordshire; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 112 miles from London.
Tam'worth (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tamworth made at Tamworth.
TAN (v. t. from the Sax. tannan) To impregnate with 6 A 2 the

T A N

the bark of the oak, to prepare leather from raw hides by putting them in ooze; to imbrown by the heat of the sun.

Tan (v. int.) To become impregnated with bark, to become brown by being exposed to the sun.

TAN (s. from the Sax.) The bark of the oak, the ooze with which tanners prepare their leather.

Tan (v. t. a colloquial or droll word) To beat.

TANACE/TUM (s. in botany) The tansey.

TAN'ACLES (s. of uncertain derivation) An instrument of torture like pinchers.

TAN'NAIS (s. in geography) The great river which divides Asia and Europe, the Don.

TAN'AQUIL (s.) The name of a woman; a Roman lady of great spirit.

Tane (p. a contraction of taken) Taken. May.

TANG (s. from the Dutch tanghe acrid) A strong taste, a taste left in the mouth; something that leaves a sting or pain behind it; a relish, a taste; a tone, a sound. Holder.

Tang (v. t. from the sub.) To ring with, to make to sound. Shakespeare.

TAN'GENT (s. in geometry, from the Lat. tango to touch) A right line which touches a curve in one point, and is perpendicular to the radius of curvature, the right line which subtends the angle formed by the radius and secant of the arch of a circle.

TAN'GERE (s. a cant word with physicians) A small cuticular eruption to exceeding sore that it can hardly bear to be touched.

Tangibility (s. from tangible) The quality of being tangible.

TAN'GIBLE (adj. from the Lat. tango to touch) Perceptible by the touch.

TAN'GLE (s. probably from the Sax. tangl a small twig) A complication, a knot which cannot be easily untied; a kind of sea weed.

Tan'gle (v. t. from the sub.) To implicate, to knit together; to ensnare, to entrap; to embroil, to embarrass.

Tan'gle (v. int.) To become entangled.

Tan'gled (p. from tangle) Implicated, knit together, ensnared, embarrassed.

Tan'gling (p. a. from tangle) Implicating, entrapping, embarrassing.

Tan'gling (s. from the part.) The act of entangling, an implication.

TAN'HUMETH (s. from the Heb. signifying consolation) A man's name.

TAN'IST (s. from the Erse taanisther) One who is next to a captain, one chosen to succeed a captain. Sp.

Tan'istry (s. from tanist) The tenure of an estate held by a tanist which was only for life as he was admitted by a free election.

TANK (s. from the French tanque) A large cistern, a large basin. Dryden.

Tank (v. int. a colloquial word) To dangle after any one.

TANK'ARD (s. from the French tanquarde) A drinking vessel with a cover chiefly used for strong beer.

Tan'leather (s. from tan, and leather) Leather that has been tanned.

Tan'ned (p. from tan) Impregnated with bark, prepared by tanning; beaten, in colloquial or droll style.

Tan'ner (s. from tan) One who tanns leather, one whose business is to prepare things by tanning.

Tan'ning (p. a. from tan) Impregnating with bark, preparing leather by impregnating the hides with bark.

Tan'ning (s. from the part.) The act or process of preparing leather with bark.

Tan'ning (adj. from the part.) Used in the business of a tanner.

Tan'ningengine (s. from tanning, and engine) A machine used by tanners in cutting and grinding the bark.

Tan'pit (s. from tan, and pit) The pit in which leather is tanned.

Tan'quam (s. a cant word in the universities) A man of learning, one who is fit company for the fellows of a college.

TAN'SY (s. in botany) The name of a herb.

TANTAL'IDES (s. from Tantalus) The descendants of Tantalus.

Tan'talism (s. from Tantalus) A punishment like that of Tantalus.

Tan'talize (v. t. from Tantalus) To torment by a shew of pleasures which are not permitted to be enjoyed.

Tan'talized (p. from tantalize) Tormented with a shew of pleasures which must not be enjoyed. Tan'talizing (p. a. from tantalize) Tormenting by shew of pleasures which are not permitted to be enjoyed. Tan'talizing (s. from the part.) The act of tormenting by a shew of pleasures which are not permitted to be enjoyed.

T A P

TAN'TALUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A king of Corinth who, it is said, invited the gods to a banquet, and, to prove their divinity, served up his own son to the table in a patty for their entertainment; for which atrocious crime, as the poets say, he is condemned in hell to stand in water up to his chin in the midst of the most delicious fruits hanging just over his head without any power to taste the one or the other.

Tan'tamount (s. from the French) An equivalent.

TANTIV'Y (adv. from the sound of the hunting horn) With great speed, with more than common hurry.

Tan'tivy (s. a cant word) A greedy clergyman in quest of a living.

Tan'tling (s. from Tantalus) One who is agitated with the hope or desire of unattainable pleasures.

Tan'too (s. with shag weavers) The pin which turns the breast roll.

Tan'yard (s. from tan, and yard) The yard or place where the business of a tanner is carried on.

TAP (v. t. from the French tapper) To touch lightly to strike gently.

TAP (v. t. from the Dutch tappen) To pierce a vessel in order to draw out the liquor, to broach.

Tap (s. from the verb) A gentle blow; the pipe by which the liquor is drawn, the run of a vessel.

Tapas/sant (adj. a hunting term) Lurking, (quarrying).

TAPE (s. from the Sax. tappen) A kind of fine Indian narrow fillet.

TAPEI/NOSIS (s. from the Greek) A figure in rhetoric in which the orator speaks less than the truth.

TA'PER (s. from the Sax.) A light, a wax candle.

Ta'per (adj. from the sub.) Pyramidal, conical, regularly narrowed from the bottom to the top.

Taper (v. t. from taper) To make taper.

Ta'per (v. int. from the adj.) To grow smaller.

Ta'perboard (adj. with burners) Having the barrel wider at the mouth than at the breach.

Ta'pered (p. from taper) Made taper.

Ta'perer (adj. comp. of taper) Taper in a greater degree.

Ta'perest (adj. sub. of taper) Taper in the greatest degree.

Ta'pering (p. a. from taper) Growing smaller.

Ta'pering (adj. from taper) Taper.

Ta'pering (s. from the part.) The act of making taper.

TAPESTRY (s. from the Lat. tapetum) Cloth woven in regular figures, cloth used chiefly for hangings.

Tap'estry (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to tapestry.

Tap'estryhanging (s. from tapestry, and hanging) Hanging of tapestry.

Tap'estryloom (s. from tapestry, and loom) The loom in which tapestry is woven.

Tap'estrymaker (s. from tapestry, and maker) One who makes tapestry.

Tap'estrytrade (s. from tapestry, and trade) Trade in tapestry, the business of one who makes or deals in tapestry.

Tap'estryweaver (s. from tapestry, and weaver) One who weaves tapestry.

Tap'estryweaving (s. from tapestry, and weaver) The act or process of weaving tapestry.

Tap'estrywork (s. from tapestry, and work) Work in tapestry.

TA'PET (s. from the Lat. tapetum) A kind of carpet or figured stuff.

TA'PHAH (s. from the Heb. signifying a little girl) The name of a woman.

TA'PHIUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the sons of Neptune.

Tap'house (s. from tap, and house) A room in which beer is drawn, a house where beer is drawn.

TAPH'UES (s.) The name of a place.

TA'PIA (s. in botany) The crateva.

Tap'inge (s. obsolete) Secresy, stiness.

Tap'iser (s. an old word) One who makes tapestry.

Tap'istere (s. an old spelling) A tapster.

Tap'istry (s. not so common a word) Tapestry.

Tap'ite (v. t. obsolete) To hang with tapestry.

Tap'ped (p. from tap) Struck with a light blow.

Tap'ping (p. a. from tap) Piercing in order to draw out liquor, striking with a gentle blow.

T A R

T A R

ing (s. from the part.) The act of piercing to let liquor, the act of striking with a gentle blow.
 PY (v. int. a bunting term, from the French tapir) lie concealed as deer.
 lying (p. a. from tappy) Lying concealed as deer.
 lying (s. from the part.) The act of lying concealed.
 root (s. in gardening) The principal branch of a tree, that part of the root which runs straight down.
 beer (s. from tap) One who draws beer in a public house.
 SUS (s. in botany) The white mullein.
 to (s. a different spelling) The tattoo. Scott.
 to (s. a different spelling) The tattoo. Phillips.
 (s. from the Sax. tare) Liquid pitch, the juice of a pine drawn out by fire.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To cover over with tar.
 (v. t. supposed to be from the Greek ταράσσω to shake) To tease, to provoke. Shakespeare.
 (s. a cant word) A sailor.
 and (s. from tarandus) The tarandus.
 ANDUS (s. in zoology) A kind of buffalo; the deer.
 ANIS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
 ANTAEUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
 ANTARA (s. from the found) The sound of a trumpet; an encouragement to battle.
 tarize (v. int. from tarantara) To blow the tarantara. Cole.
 tarizing (p. a. from tarantara) Blowing the tarantara.
 tarizing (s. from the part.) The act of blowing the tarantara.
 tarati (s. from tarantula) Persons affected with the antismus.
 antism (s. from tarantismus) The disease occasioned by the bite of the tarantula.
 ANTISMUS (s. in medicine, from tarantula) The disease occasioned by the bite of the tarantula.
 ANTULA (s. in zoology) A kind of spider, an insect whose bite is said to produce madness and only be cured by music.
 tarantara (s. a different spelling) The tarantara. Phil.
 AXACON (s. in botany) The dandelion.
 AXACONASTRUM (s. in botany) The hyaferis; a yellow fucory.
 AXACONIDES (s. in botany) The leontodon.
 AXACUM (s. in botany) The dandelion.
 AXIS (s. from the Greek) A perturbation, a disease of the eye, a pain in the stomach, a commotion in the winds.
 CHO (s.) A man's name, a commander who was said to have assisted Aeneas against Turnus.
 CHON (s. in botany) The taragon.
 CHONANTHUS (s. in botany) The parthenium.
 DA (s. in ornithology) The bustard.
 DANT (adj. from the Lat. tardus) Slow, lingering. Sc.
 DATION (s. from the Lat. tardo to stay) The act of hindering, a delay. Johnson.
 tard (p. from tardy) Hindered, delayed. Shakespeare.
 tard (adj. comp. of tardy) Tardy in a greater degree.
 tard (adj. sup. of tardy) Tardy in the greatest degree.
 DIGRADE (adj. from the Lat. tardus slow, and adior to go) Moving slowly. Bailey.
 DIGRADEOUS (adj. from the Lat. tardus slow, and adior to go) Moving slowly. Brown.
 illoquence (s. from tardiloquent) Slowness of speech. Sc.
 DILLOQUENT (adj. from the Lat. tardus slow, and adior to speak) Speaking slowly, slow of speech. Co.
 illoquous (adj. from tardiloquent) Slow of speech. Sc.
 illoquy (s. from tardiloquent) Slowness of speech. Ba.
 dily (adv. from tardy) Slowly, sluggishly.
 diness (s. from tardy) Slowness, the state of being slow.
 dity (s. from tardy) Slowness. Shakespeare.
 DIVE (adj. from the Lat. tardus) Slow, late, late.
 do (adj. in music books) Slow. Scott.
 DY (adj. from the Lat. tardus slow) Slow, sluggish, dilatory; unwary, criminal: but these senses are now lost. Hudibras.
 dy (v. t. from the adj.) To delay, to hinder. Sba.
 dy (p. a. from tardy, but not used) Hindering, delaying.
 (s. in commerce, from the French) The weight of a sack or other package, the weight allowed for a sack or other package.
 (s. in botany) Supposed to be from the Dutch tarren to consume The name of a weed growing long corn.

Tare (v. t. pret. of tear) Did tear, tore. Dryden.
 TARGET (s. from the Sax. targa) A target.
 TAR'GET (s. the more common spelling) A kind of buckler, a kind of shield borne on the left arm.
 TAR'GUM (s. from the Heb.) A paraphrase on the pentateuch in the Chaldee language.
 TA'RI (s. from the Italian) An Italian coin worth about five pence.
 TAR'IF (s. a different spelling, from the French) The tariff. Diët. of Arts.
 TAR'IFF (s. from the French) A regulation of commerce declaring the duties on imports and exports.
 Tar'ky (adj. a local word) Dark. Cole.
 TAR'MES (s. in the history of insects) A maggot, a gentle; a worm that eats timber.
 Tarn (s. from the Islandick tiorn) A bog, a fen, a pool, a quagmire. Johnson.
 TAR'NISH (v. t. from the French ternir) To soil, to sully, to make dim.
 Tar'nish (v. int.) To lose brightness.
 Tar'nished (p. from tarnish) Soiled, made dim.
 Tar'nishing (p. a. from tarnish) Soiling, making dim, losing brightness.
 Tar'nishing (s. from the part.) The act of soiling.
 Tarpaulin (s. not so common a spelling) A tarpawling.
 Tarpawling (s. from tar) Strong hemp cloth covered over with tar; a sailor in contempt.
 TARPE'IA (s.) The name of a woman; a vestal virgin who betrayed the capitol to the Albans for what they wore on their left arm, meaning their bracelets, but when they were entered they threw their shields upon her, by which means she was crushed to death.
 TARPE'IAN (adj. in Roman antiquity, from Tarpeia) Belonging to a steep rock in Rome from which criminals were precipitated.
 TARPE'US (s. from Tarpeia) The steep rock at Rome from which criminals were precipitated.
 TARPE'US (s. from the foregoing) One of the names of Jupiter.
 TARPELITE (s. from the Heb. signifying a rank) One of an ancient people, who with other nations were sent into the land of Israel by Ashappur to supply the place of the Israelites who were carried captive. Ezra.
 TAR'QUIN (s.) A man's name, the name of two of the kings of Rome.
 Tarr (v. t. a different spelling) To tar, to urge on, to provoke. Shakespeare.
 Tar'race (s. a different spelling) A terrace, an open walk or gallery, the flat roof of a house. Scott.
 TAR'RAGON (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 TAR'RAS (s. from the Dutch) A kind of plaister or strong mortar which will hold water.
 Tarre (v. t. a different spelling) To tar, to urge on, to provoke. Shakespeare.
 Tar'ed (p. from tar) Covered over with tar; urged on, provoked.
 Tar'iance (s. from tarry) A stay, a delay. Shakspeare.
 Tar'rier (s. not so correct a spelling) A terrier, a kind of small hunting dog.
 Tar'rier (s. from tarry) One that tarries, one that stays.
 Tar'ring (p. a. from tar) Covering with tar; urging on, provoking.
 Tar'ring (s. from the part.) The act of covering with tar.
 TAR'RING (s.) A town in Suffex; it has a market on Saturday, and is 58 miles from London.
 Tar'ring (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tarring, made at Tarring.
 Tar'ry (adj. from tar) Consisting of tar, resembling tar.
 TAR'RY (v. int. from the French, targar) To stay, to continue in a place; to delay, to belong in coming.
 Tar'ry (v. t.) To wait for. "I cannot tarry dinner." Sb.
 Tar'rying (p. a. from tarry) Continuing in one place, delaying.
 Tar'rying (s. from the part.) The act of continuing in one place, a delay.
 TAR'SEL (s. in falconry) A kind of hawk.
 TAR'SHISH (s. from the Heb. signifying contemplation) The name of a man, the name of a city.
 TAR'SO (s. in glass making) A kind of white stone used instead of sand in making crystal glass.
 TAR'SUS (s. in anatomy) The space between the bones of the leg and the metatarsus; the cartilages which terminate the eyelids, the eyebrow.
 TAR'SUS (s. in geography) An ancient city in the Lesser Asia.
 TART (s. from the French tarte) A small pye of fruit.
 TART (adj. from the Sax. teart) Sour, acid; keen, severe.
 TAR'TAK (s. from the Heb. signifying bound) The name of an idol. 2 Kings.
 TAR'TAN

T A S

- TAR'TAN (s. from the Heb. signifying the gift of the turtle) The name of a man. 2 Kings.
- TAR'TANE (s. from the French) A small vessel with one mast and a triangular sail.
- TAR'TAR (s. with the old poets) The infernal regions, hell. Shakespeare.
- TAR'TAR (s. in medicine) The concreted substance which sticks to a wine cask; a hard substance separated from a vegetable juice after a fermentation.
- Tar'tar (s. in geography, from Tartary) A native of Tartary.
- Tarta'rean (s. from tartar) Belonging to the infernal regions, hellish.
- Tarta'reous (adj. from tartar) Consisting of tartar; hellish. Milton.
- Tartarine (adj. from tartareous) Consisting of tartar; tartareous. Scott.
- Tarta'rium (s. an old word) A kind of cloth supposed to have been imported from Tartary. Chaucer.
- Tartarize (v. t. from tartar) To impregnate with tartar.
- Tartarized (p. from tartar) Impregnated with tartar.
- Tartarizing (p. a. from tartarize) Impregnating with tartar.
- Tartarizing (s. from the part.) The act or process of impregnating with tartar.
- Tartarous (adj. from tartar) Consisting of tartar, containing tartar.
- TARTARUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The deep east part of hell.
- TAR'TARY (s. in geography) A vast country in Asia.
- Tar'ter (adj. comp. of tart) Tart in a greater degree.
- Tar'test (adj. sup. of tart) Tart in the greatest degree.
- Tart'ish (adj. from tart) Somewhat tart. Scott.
- Tart'ly (adv. from tart) Sharply, sourly; keenly, severely.
- Tart'ness (s. from tart) Sourness, acidity; sourness of temper, poignancy of language.
- Tart're (s. not so common a word) Tartar, the hard lees of wine. Scott.
- TART'RE (s. in cookery) A particular way of dressing chickens.
- Tart'ruff (s. a different spelling) A tartuffe. Phillips.
- TAR'TUFFE (s. from the French) A counterfeit in religion, a pretender to devotion; a puritan so called in contempt.
- TASCK (s. an old word, from the Brit.) Tribute. Ph.
- TAS'CO (s. in natural history) A kind of clay for melting pots.
- Tas'cony (s. from tasco) The tasco, the clay of which melting pots are made.
- Tas'fel (s. a different spelling) A teasel. Cole.
- Task (s. probably from tasck) Something to be done as imposed by another; business imposed, employment. To take to task, to reprove, to reprimand.
- Task (v. t. from the sub.) To burden with something to be done.
- Task'ed (p. from task) Burdened with something to be done.
- Task'er (s. from task) One who imposes tasks, a task master; one who works by the day, a man in the country employed by the day; but this is a colloquial sense.
- Task'ing (p. a. from task) Imposing a task.
- Task'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imposing a task.
- Tas'master (s. from task, and master) One who imposes a task.
- Tasfs (s. a local word) A mow. Bailey.
- Tassay' (v. t. a contraction) To assay. Cole.
- TASSE (s. from the French tas a heap, but not used) An accumulation, a heap. Cole.
- Tas'sel (s. from tasse) An ornamental bunch of silk or stuff, a number of threads loose at one end and united in a kind of ball at the other.
- TAS'SEL (s. in falconry) A male hawk.
- Tas'tel (s. in botany, but not so common a spelling) The teasel.
- TAS'SEL (s. in building) A piece of board or timber which lies under the end of a beam.
- Tas'seled (adj. from tassel) Adorned with tassels.
- Tas'selgentle (s. in falconry) The male hawk. Shakespeare.
- Tas'ses (s. a different spelling) Taces, armour for the thighs. Ainsworth.
- Tas'sid (adj. an old spelling) Tasseled. Chaucer.
- Tas'sum (s. in old records) A heap of corn, a mow.
- Tast (v. t. obsolete) To feel. Chaucer.
- Tast (s. a local word) The smell. Cole.
- Tast'able (adj. from taste) Savoury, relishing, capable of being tasted.
- TASTATU'RA (s.) The keys of an organ or harpsichord.

T A V

- TASTE (v. t. from the French taster to try) To perceive by the palate, to try by the mouth; to feel, to receive; to essay, to try first.
- Taste (v. int.) To have a smack, to have perception, have enjoyment, to have pleasure in a small degree with of: as, "For age but tastes of pleasure."
- Taste (s. from the verb) The act of tasting, the sense of tasting; sensibility, intellectual relish; a small portion given as a specimen; an essay, an experiment; this sense is now grown obsolete. Shakespeare.
- Ta'ted (p. from taste) Perceived by the taste.
- Ta'teful (adj. from taste) Savoury, having a high relish.
- Ta'tefulness (s. from ta'teful) The state or quality of being palatable.
- Ta'tfeels (adj. from taste) Void of taste, having little or no taste.
- Ta'tfeelness (s. from ta'tfeels) Insipidity, want of taste, want of intellectual relish.
- Ta'tter (s. from taste) One who makes the first trial of food; a little cup to taste liquor, a dram cup.
- Ta'tting (p. a. from taste) Perceiving by the taste, making the first trial of food; perceiving by the taste.
- Ta'tting (s. from the part.) The act of perceiving by the taste; the sense of perception by the taste.
- TAS'TO (adj. in music books) Just touched as a note on the organ or harpsichord.
- Tat'arwagges (s. obsolete) Rags. Chaucer.
- TATCH (s. from the French attacher) A kind of fastening for a garment, a loop, a button.
- Tatche (s. obsolete) Craft, subtlety. Chaucer.
- Tath (s. in old customs) An ancient privilege, claimed by the lord of the manor, of having the sheep belonging to his tenants folded on his lands, at night, for the sake of the dung.
- TA'TIAN (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Justin Martyr, who after his master's death introduced the doctrine of aëons and condemned marriages.
- Ta'tianist (s. from Tatian) A follower of Tatian.
- Ta'tianite (s. from Tatian) A follower of Tatian who introduced the doctrine of aëons and condemned marriages.
- TA'TIUS (s.) A man's name, a king of the Sabines who became a partner with Romulus.
- TAT'NAL (s. from the Heb. signifying a giver) A man's name. Exodus.
- TAT'TER (v. t. from the Sax. totæran) To tear, to rend to make ragged.
- Tat'ter (s. from the verb) A rag, a fluttering rag.
- Tatterdemal'ion (s. from tatter) A ragged fellow. 2P.
- Tattered (p. from tatter) Torn, rent.
- Tat'tering (p. a. from tatter) Tearing, rending.
- Tat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of tearing.
- TAT'TERSHALL (s.) A town in Lincolnshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 133 miles from London.
- Tat'tershall (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tattershall, made at Tattershall.
- Tat'terway (s. an old word) A tatter, a rag.
- TAT'TLE (v. int. from the Dutch tatteren) To prate, to talk much and little to the purpose; with of: "They have enough to tattle of them."
- Tat'tle (s. from the verb) Prate, idle chat, trifling conversation.
- Tat'tler (s. from tattle) One that tattles, one that talks much but to little purpose.
- Tat'tling (p. a. from tattle) Prating, talking to little purpose.
- Tat'tling (s. from the part.) The act or habit of talking much to little purpose.
- TATTOO' (s. of uncertain derivation) The beat of drum by which the soldiers are ordered to the quarters.
- TAU (s.) The nineteenth letter of the Greek alphabet.
- TAU (s. in heraldry) The Saint Anthony's cross.
- TAU (s.) The cross of Christ; the mark which has been supposed was set on the foreheads of them who mourned.
- Tau'dry (adj. not so common a spelling) Tawdry.
- Tave (v. int. a local word) To rave as one in a delirium.
- TAV'ERN (s. from the Lat. taberna) A house where wine is sold, a house where people are entertained with wine and other liquors on paying for what is drunk.
- Tav'erner (s. from tavern) One who keeps a tavern.
- Tav'ernere (s. obsolete) One who haunts taverns, a drunkard.
- Tav'ernkeeper (s. from tavern, and keeper) One who keeps a tavern. Tav'ern man (s. from tavern, and man) A man who keeps a tavern.

T A X

 teach (v. t. pret. of teach) Did teach.
 taught (p. from teach) Instructed.
 tight (adj. a sea term) Tight, extended, stretched out.
 insult (v. t. of uncertain etymology) To insult, to reach, to treat with insolence.
 insult (s. from the verb) An insult, a scoff; reproach, rebuke.
 tall (adj. a sea term) Tall, remarkably tall.
 taunt (p. from taunt, but not much used) Insulted, rebuked.
 taunter (s. from taunt) One who taunts.
 taunting (p. a. from taunt) Insulting, scoffing, reaching.
 tauntingly (s. from the part.) The act of insulting.
 tauntingly (adv. from taunting) With insult, with tauntingly.
 tattered (adj. a sea term) Having a tall mast.
 Tavistock (s.) A borough town in Devonshire; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 204 miles from London.
 Tavistock (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tavistock, Tavistockian.
 Taunton (s.) A large and populous town of Somersetshire; it has a market on Wednesday and Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 145 miles from London.
 Taunton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Taunton, Tauntonian.
 taurus (adj. from taurus) Belonging to a bull. Cole.
 taurus (s. in beaten mythology) One of the horses of Bacchus.
 taurus (adj. from the Lat. taurus a bull, and a horn) Having horns like a bull.
 taurus (adj. from the Lat. taurus a bull, and a bear) Producing bulls. Scott.
 taurus (adj. from the Lat. taurus a bull, and a shape) Having the shape of a bull.
 taurus (s. in beaten mythology) One of the horses of Bacchus.
 taurus (s. in Roman antiquity) A kind of religious games celebrated to appease the infernal gods.
 taurus (adj. from taurus) Belonging to a bull. Cole.
 taurus (s. from the Lat. taurus a bull, and a glew) A kind of glew made of a bull's hide.
 taurus (s.) A man's name, one of Alexander's captains.
 taurus (s. in zoology) A bull.
 taurus (s. in astronomy) One of the signs of the zodiac, the bull.
 taurus (s. in geography) A vast ridge of mountains in Asia.
 tautologic (adj. from tautology, but not much used) Tautological.
 tautologic (adj. from tautologic) Belonging to tautology, comprising tautology.
 tautologically (adv. from tautological) With tautology.
 tautologist (s. from tautology) One who uses tautology.
 tautology (s. from the Greek ταυτο the same, and a word) A repetition of the same words, a repetition of the same sense in different words.
 taw (v. t. from the Sax. tawian) To dress leather, to dress with alum.
 taw (s.) A marble to shoot with. Swift.
 taw (s. from tawdry) Tinsel finery, ostentatious.
 taw (adj. of uncertain etymology) Meanly fine, splendid without cost, showy without elegance.
 taw (p. from taw) Dressed white, dressed as leather with alum.
 taw (s. from taw) One who dresses white leather.
 taw (p. a. from taw) Dressing leather with alum.
 taw (s. from the part.) The act or process of dressing white leather.
 taw (v. int. a local word) To swoon. Bailey.
 taw (s. in heraldry) Red and yellow mixed in a coat of arms. Bailey.
 taw (adj. not so common a spelling) Tawny, having a mixture of red and yellow.
 taw (s. from the French taune) Yellow, having the color of tan leather.
 taw (s. from the adj.) A kind of dusky yellow color, the tawne in heraldry.
 taw (from the French taxe) An impost, a tribute, a charge, a tax.
 taw (s. from the sub.) To load with imposts, to put a duty upon any thing; to charge, to censure.

T E A

 Taxable (adj. from tax) Capable of being taxed.
 Taxation (s. from tax) The act of laying on a tax, an impost, a tribute; an accusation, a scandal.
 Taxed (p. from tax) Loaded with a tax, accused, censured.
 Taxer (s. from tax) One who lays on a tax.
 Taxiles (s.) The name of a man, an Indian king.
 Taxing (p. a. from tax) Laying on a tax; censuring.
 Taxing (s. from the part.) The act of laying on a tax, a taxation.
 Taxis (s. in ancient architecture) The ordonnance, the disposition.
 Taxus (s. in botany) The yewtree.
 Taxus (s. in zoology) The badger.
 Tay (s.) A river in Scotland.
 Taygete (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the daughters of Atlas, one of the Pleiades.
 Taygetus (s. in ancient geography) A mountain of Laconia sacred to Bacchus.
 Tayl (s. in heraldry) The tail of the hart.
 Tayliagy (s. obsolete) Tallage, taxes. Chaucer.
 Tazel (s. a different spelling) A teasel. Phillips.
 Tea (s. supposed to be from the Chinese) A Chinese plant, the dried leaves of the plant, an infusion of the dried leaves of the plant now commonly drank in most parts of Europe.
 Tea (adj. from the sub. sometimes used in composition) Belonging to tea, used with tea.
 Tea-board (s. from tea, and board) The moveable board or plain surface on which the teacups are placed.
 Tea-canister (s. from tea, and canister) A canister to keep tea in.
 Teach (v. t. from the Sax. tæcan) To instruct, to inform, to deliver any doctrine to be learned; to tell, to give intelligence; to shew, to exhibit.
 Teach (v. int.) To perform the office of an instructor.
 Teachable (adj. from teach) Capable of being taught, docile, susceptible of instruction.
 Teachableness (s. from teachable) Docility, capacity to learn, aptness to learn.
 Teacher (s. from teach) One who teaches, an instructor, a preceptor; a preacher who delivers doctrines to the people; a dissenting minister sometimes so called in contempt.
 Tea-chest (s. from tea, and chest) A small kind of cabinet in which tea is brought to table.
 Teaching (s. from teach) Instructing, performing the office of an instructor.
 Teaching (s. from the part.) The act of giving instruction, the instruction given.
 Teacup (s. from tea, and cup) The small cup in which tea is usually drank.
 Tead (s. from the Lat. tæda) A torch, a flambeau. Sp.
 Teadish (s. from tea, and dish) A teacup.
 Teague (s. a cant word) An Irishman.
 Teakettle (s. from tea, and kettle) The vessel in which water is boiled for tea.
 Teal (s. in ornithology) The name of a wild fowl something less than a duck.
 Teale (s. a different spelling) A tail. Dict. of Arts.
 Tealeaf (s. from tea, and leaf) The leaf of the tea-tree.
 Tealeaves (s. plu. of tealeaf) The leaves of tea.
 Team (s. from the Sax. tyme a yoke) A number of horses or oxen drawing at the same carriage or plough; a number passing in a line.
 Team (s. an old law term) The jurisdiction of the lord of a manor in his court over the bondmen and villains within the manor.
 Teamful (adj. a local word) Full to the very brim. Bai.
 Teapot (s. from tea, and pot) The pot or vessel in which tea is made.
 Tear (s. from the Sax. the ea is pronounced like ee) The drop that falls from the eye when a person is violently agitated with grief or passion; any moisture trickling in drops.
 Tear (v. t. from the Sax. tæran, the ea is pronounced as a narrow) To pull in pieces, to rend; to wound with a short point drawn along; to break by violence, to shatter; to take away by sudden violence.
 Tear (v. int. from the Dutch tieren) To fume, to rave.
 Tear (s. from the verb) A rent, a fissure.
 Tearer (s. from tear) One who tears.
 Tearfalling (adj. from tear, and falling) Shedding tears, tender.
 Tearful (adj. from tear) Full of tears, weeping.
 Tearing (p. a. from tear) Rending, plucking asunder.
 Tearing (s. from the part.) The act of rending.
 Tearing (adj. a local word) Fine, showy.
 Tea'sauce

T E D

- Tea'saucer (s. from tea, and saucer) The small vessel on which a tea cup is set.
- TEASE (v. t. from the Sax. tæsan) To comb wool, to comb flax; to search cloth to level the nap; to torment, to vex with importunity.
- Tea'led (p. from tease) Combed as wool or flax; tormented, vexed with importunity; searched as cloth to lower the nap.
- TEA'SEL (s. from the Sax. tæsl) The name of a plant, the rough part of the plant with which cloth is dressed.
- Tea'sel (v. t. from the sub.) To raise the nap on woolen cloth by the action of the teasel.
- Tea'seled (p. from teasel) Dressed as cloth with the teasel.
- Tea'seling (p. a. from teasel) Raising the nap on woolen cloth by the action of the teasel.
- Tea'seling (s. from the part.) The act or process of raising the nap on woolen cloth by the action of the teasel.
- Tea'ser (s. from tease) One who teases.
- Tea'sil (s. a different spelling) The teasel. Bailey.
- Tea'sing (p. a. from tease) Tormenting, vexing with importunity.
- Tea'sing (s. from the part.) The act of vexing with continued importunity.
- Tea'spoon (s. from tea, and spoon) The spoon used in drinking tea.
- TEAT (s. from the Sax. tift) The dug of the breast; the nipple of the breast, the breast. Shakespeare.
- Tea'table (s. from tea, and table) The table on which tea is served up.
- Tea'tongs (s. from tea, and tongs) The instrument with which sugar is put into a tea cup.
- Teaz (v. t. a different spelling) To tease. Phillips.
- Teaze (v. t. a different spelling) To tease. Scott.
- Tea'zel (s. a different spelling) The teasel.
- TE'BAH (s. from the Heb. signifying murder) A man's name.
- TE'BATH (s.) The Babylonish name of the tenth month of the Hebrews.
- Tech (s. an old word) A touch. Bailey.
- Teché (v. t. obsolete) To touch. Chaucer.
- Techel'minar (s. a different spelling) The chilminar, the ruins of Persepolis.
- Tech'ier (adj. comp. of techy) Techy in a greater degree.
- Tech'iest (adj. sup. of techy) Techy in the greatest degree.
- Tech'iness (s. from techy) Peevishness, aptness to take offence.
- TECH'MARSIS (s. from the Greek) The cause of a disease.
- TECH'NICAL (adj. from the Greek τεχνικη) Belonging to arts, not used in popular style.
- Tech'nically (adv. from technical) In a technical manner. Scott.
- TECHNOL'OGY (s. from the Greek τεχνικη, and λογος a word) A description on arts, a treatise on mechanics.
- TECH'Y (adj. probably from the French toucher to touch) Peevish, fretful, easily offended.
- TECOL'YTHOS (s. in natural history) The lapisjudai-cus.
- TECTO'NIC (adj. from the Greek τεκτων a builder) Belonging to building. Johnson.
- TECTO'RIAN (adj. from the Lat. tectorius, but not used) Belonging to the art of plaiting. Cole.
- TED (v. t. from the Sax. teadan) To spread grafs from the swath.
- Ted'ded (p. from ted) Spread as grafs from the swath.
- Ted'der (s. from ted) One who teds.
- TED'DER (s. from the Dutch tudder) The tie of a horse in the field that he may not pasture too wide; any thing by which one is constrained.
- Ted'der (v. t. from the sub.) To confine a horse by a tie to prevent its pasturing too wide.
- Ted'dered (p. from tedder) Confined by a tedder.
- Ted'dering (p. a. from tedder) Confining by a tedder.
- Ted'ding (p. a. from ted) Spreading grafs from the swath.
- Ted'ding (s. from the part.) The act of spreading grafs from the swath; grafs that has been teded.
- Tede (v. t. a different spelling) To ted.
- Tede (s. obsolete) A torch. Spenser.
- TEDE'UM (s. from the Lat. te to thee, and Deum God) A grand hymn usually sung on extraordinary and joyful occasions.
- TEDIF'ERA (s. from the Lat. teda a torch, and fero to bear) One of the names of Ceres.

T E L

- TEDIF'EROUS (adj. from the Lat. teda a torch, and fero to bear, but not used) Bearing a torch.
- Ted'ingpenny (s. a different spelling) The penny.
- TE'DIOUS (adj. from the Lat. tedium) Wearisome, some, slow, prolix, wearisome by continuance.
- Te'diously (adv. from tedious) In a tedious manner.
- Te'diousness (s. from tedious) The state or quality of being tedious.
- TEEM (v. int. from the Sax. team offspring) To young, to be pregnant, to be big with young.
- Teem (v. t.) To bring forth, to produce.
- Teem (v. t. supposed to be from the Dutch tommen) To pour.
- Teem'ed (p. from teem) Brought forth, produced.
- Teem'er (s. from teem) One that brings young.
- Teem'ful (adj. from teem) Pregnant, prolific; full to the brim.
- Teem'ing (p. a. from teem) Bringing forth, producing young.
- Teem'ing (s. from the part.) The act of producing young.
- Teem'less (adj. from teem) Unfruitful, barren.
- TEEN (v. t. from the Sax. timan) To excite, to voke to any thing, to kindle.
- Teen (v. t. obsolete) To fence, to hedge in.
- TEEN (s. from the verb, but now grown obsolete) row, grief.
- Teen (adj. obsolete) Angry.
- Teen'age (s. a local word) Brushwood, wood for fires.
- Teene (s. obsolete) Sorrow, grief; injury, slander, ger, provocation.
- Teens (s. from ten) The years of thirteen to nineteen inclusive.
- Teer (s. not so correct a spelling) A tier; a row on the same deck.
- TEES (s. in geography) A river which rises in the fies of Cumberland, divides the bishoprick of ham from Yorkshire, and empties itself into the man sea a little below Stockton.
- Teeth (s. plu. of tooth) More than one tooth.
- Teeth (v. int. from the sub.) To breed teeth.
- Teeth (v. t.) To furnish an instrument with teeth.
- Teeth'ed (s. from teeth) Furnished with teeth.
- Teeth'ing (p. a. from teeth) To breed teeth, to furnish with teeth.
- Teeth'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breeding the act of furnishing a dentated instrument with teeth.
- Tegg (s. a hunting term) A doe of the second year.
- Teg'ment (s. an incorrect spelling) A tegument.
- TEG'UMENT (s. from the Lat. tegumentum) A ing, an outward part.
- TEHAPHNE'HES (s. a different spelling) Tahaphne.
- Teh'he (s. a cant word, from the sound) A laugh.
- Teh'he (v. int. from the sub.) To laugh.
- Tei'gnes (s. in farriery) A distemper incident to which the flesh moulders away.
- TELL (s. in botany) The linden, the limetree.
- Teil'tree (s. in botany, from teil, and tree) The linden.
- Teine (s. in falconry) A disease in hawks which them short breathed.
- Teine (adj. an old spelling) Tiny, little.
- Teine (s. obsolete) Sorrow, grief, anger.
- TEINT (s. from the French teinte) A colour, a the pencil.
- Teirce (s. not so common a spelling) A tierce, half tierce.
- Teirs (s. an incorrect spelling) A tierce.
- TE'KEL (s. from the Heb.) A weight.
- TEK'OA, TEK'OAH (s. from the Heb. signifying a pet) The name of a place, the name of a man.
- TEK'UPHÆ (s. in the Hebrew chronology) The in which the sun proceeds from one cardinal to another.
- Tel (adv. obsolete) Until.
- TELA'MON (s. in architecture) The figure of a man supporting a cornice or other projection.
- TELA'MON (s.) A man's name, the brother of father of Ajax.
- Tela'mones (s. plu. of telamon) More than one mon.
- Tela'monies (s. plu. of telamon) More than one mon.
- TEL'ARY (adj. from the Lat. tela a web) Spun web as a spider.
- Tel'beut (s. an uncommon spelling) A turbant.
- TELCHI'US (s. in beaten mythology) One of the men of Castr and Pollux.
- TELECA'RDIOS (s. in natural history) A prehistoric animal.

TELEPHONUS (s.) A man's name, the son of Ulysses who ignorantly slew his father.

TELEPHACHUS (s.) A man's name, the son of Ulysses and Penelope, who was a child when his father went to the Trojan war.

TELEPHUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the Cyclops.

TELEPHIA/STRUM (s. in botany) The orpine.

TELEPHION (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TELEPHION (s. in botany) A kind of orpine.

TELEPHIUM (s. in surgery) A kind of ulcer.

TELEPHIUM (s. in botany) A kind of orpine, a genus of plants.

TELEPHUS (s.) A man's name, a king of Myria who was said to have been wounded by Achilles, and after long time cured by the rust of the spear that gave him the wound.

TELESCOPE (s. from the Greek τελεσ, the end, and σκοπεω, to view) A dioptric instrument by which distant objects are brought near to the view.

TELESCOPE (s. in natural history) The turbo.

TELESCOPIC (adj. from telescope) Telescopic, belonging to a telescope, seeing at a distance.

TELESCOPICAL (adj. from telescopic) Belonging to a telescope, seeing at a distance, viewed with a telescope.

TELEPHUS (s.) A man's name, the name of a poet. Juv.

TELETHUSA (s.) A woman's name, the mother of Iphis.

TELETHUSA (s. from the Heb. signifying a heap) The name of a place. Ezra 2.

TELETHUS (s. from the Lat. telum a dart, and fero to bear) Bearing a dart, furnished with arrows.

TELETHUS (s. in botany) The foenicreek.

TELETHUS (s. a different spelling) A talisman, a magical character. Cole.

TELETHUS (s. in beaten mythology) A supposed god of medicine.

TELETHUS (v. t. from the Sax. tellan) To utter, to express, to speak; to relate, to rehearse; to teach, to inform; to discover, to betray; to count, to number.

TELETHUS (v. int.) To give an account, to make report. To tell on, to inform of; but this construction is doubtful. 1 Samuel.

TELETHUS (s. a different spelling) A tillar, a small tree left to grow when the wood is cut down. Bailey.

TELETHUS (s. from tell) One who tells, one who numbers, an officer in the exchequer.

TELETHUS (s. in ichthyology) A kind of muscle, a mignon.

TELETHUS (p. a. from tell) Uttering, relating, counting, informing.

TELETHUS (s. from the part. The act of declaring by verbal expression.

TELETHUS (s. a different spelling) The thelonium, a toll, a kind of custom. DiEt. of Arts.

TELETHUS (s. from tell, and tale) One who gives malicious information, one who tells tales.

TELETHUS (s. in beaten mythology) The supposed gods of the earth; the earth.

TELETHUS (s. from the Heb. signifying a lump of salt) The name of a place. Ezra 2.

TELETHUS (s.) A man's name, a noted French mariner.

TELETHUS (s. from the Lat.) Toll, custom, a custom house.

TELETHUS (s. in old records) The theam, the jurisdiction of a lord of a manor in his court over the bondmen and villains within the precincts of the manor.

TELETHUS (s. from the Heb. signifying admiration) The name of a man, the name of a place.

TELETHUS (s. from the Heb. signifying the south) The name of a man, the name of a place.

TELETHUS (s. from Teman) An inhabitant of Teman.

TELETHUS (s. in old customs) A decennary, ten families. S.

TELETHUS (s. an old word) A theme, an argument. Cole.

TELETHUS (v. t. an old word) To bind, to lay. Cole.

TELETHUS (s. in old records) A tax of two shillings on every ploughland.

TELETHUS (s. in old records, a different spelling) The thementail. Phillips.

TELETHUS (adj. from the Lat. temerarius) Rash, hasty, careless.

TELETHUS (s. from temerarius) Rashness, temerity. Scott.

TELETHUS (s. from the Lat. temeritas) Rashness, an unreasonable contempt of danger.

TELETHUS (s. in fortification) A pillar or piece of earth by the workmen in digging to shew how much has been removed, and what they are to have for their labour.

TELETHUS (s. a local word) A small fine sieve.

TEMPE (s. in the mythology of the poets) A valley between Mount Ossa and Olympus, said to be the most pleasant spot in the world, where the gods and goddesses were supposed to meet and divert themselves.

TEMPER (v. t. from the Lat. tempero) To mix in such a manner that one part may qualify the other; to compound, to form a mixture; to accommodate, to modify; to soften, to mollify; to form metal to a proper degree of hardness; to govern; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Spenser.

TEMPER (s. from the verb) A due mixture of contrary qualities; a medium, a middle course; the state of metals reduced to a proper degree of hardness; a constitution of body, a disposition of mind; calmness, moderation.

TEMPERAMENT (s. from the Lat. temperamentum) A constitution, the state respecting the predominancy of any quality; a mixture of opposite qualities, a medium.

TEMPERAMENTAL (adj. from temperament) Constitutional, belonging to a temperament.

TEMPERANCE (s. from temper) Moderation, the opposite to gluttony and drunkenness; patience, calmness of mind.

TEMPERANTIA (s. with physicians) Medicines to correct and sweeten the humours of the human body.

TEMPERATE (adj. from temper) Moderate, keeping within the bounds of temperance, dispassionate.

TEMPERATELY (adv. from temperate) With temperance, with moderation.

TEMPERATENESS (s. from temperate) The state of being temperate.

TEMPERATURE (s. from the Lat. tempero to temper) A constitution, the degree of any qualities; mediocrity; moderation.

TEMPERANCE (s. an old spelling) Temperance, temper, moderation. Chaucer.

TEMPERED (p. from temper) Mixed in due proportion, reduced to a proper degree of hardness.

TEMPERED (adj. from temper) Disposed with respect to the passions.

TEMPERING (p. a. from temper) Mixing, qualifying, reducing to a proper degree of hardness.

TEMPERING (s. from the part.) The act of mixing in due proportion, the act of reducing to a proper degree of hardness.

TEMPEST (s. from the Lat. tempestas) The utmost violence of the wind, a violent motion of the wind; a tumult, a commotion.

TEMPEST (v. t. from the sub.) To disturb, to put into commotion.

TEMPESTAS (s. in beaten mythology) The power or goddess who was supposed to preside over storms and tempests.

TEMPESTBEATEN (adj. from tempest, and beaten) Shattered with storms, beaten with tempests.

TEMPESTED (p. from tempest, but not used) Beaten with tempests.

TEMPESTING (p. a. from tempest, but not used) Shattering with tempests.

TEMPESTIVE (adj. from the Lat. tempestivus) Seasonable. Scott.

TEMPESTIVELY (adv. from tempestive) Seasonably. Scott.

TEMPESTIVITY (s. from tempestive) Seasonableness. Bro.

TEMPESTOUS (adj. an old spelling) Tempestuous. Chau.

TEMPESTOUS (adj. from tempest, and tost) Tossed with tempests. Shakespeare.

TEMPESTUOUS (adj. from tempest) Stormy, turbulent.

TEMPESTUOUSLY (adv. from tempestuous) With tempests, with storms. Scott.

TEMPESTUOUSNESS (s. from tempestuous) The state of being tempestuous.

TEMPLAR (s. from temple) One of a religious order instituted at Jerusalem about the year 1118, but long since abolished; a student in the law, from the buildings in London called the Temple, which originally belonged to the order mentioned in the foregoing part of the article.

TEMPLE (s. from the Lat. templum) A place appropriated to acts of religion; a building in a garden generally of gothic construction.

TEMPLE (s. from the Lat. tempora) That part on the side of the head where the pulse is felt.

TEMPLES (s. not so common a spelling) A templar.

TEMPLES (s. with weavers) An instrument with two moveable parts to keep the work to its proper breadth just before the lay.

TEM'PLET (s. in architecture) A piece of timber laid into a wall for a beam to rest on.

Temp'les (s. from temple) Jewels formerly worn by ladies on their foreheads and temples.

TEM'PORAL (adj. from the Lat. tempus time) Measured by time, opposed to eternal; secular, opposed to spiritual; placed at the temples, belonging to the temples.

TEMPORA'LIS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the upper jaw.

Temporal'ity (s. from temporal) The temporal revenue of a bishop, which he holds not by ecclesiastical right; a secular possession.

Temp'orally (adv. from temporal) With respect to temporal interests.

Temp'oralness (s. from temporal) The state of being temporal. Scott.

Temp'orals (s. plu. from the adj.) Secular possessions, the possessions of the present life.

Temporal'ity (s. from temporal) The laity, the common people as distinguished from the clergy; secular possessions.

TEMPORA'NEOUS (adj. from the Lat. tempus temporis time, but not used) Temporary. Johnson.

Tempora'neousness (s. from temporaneous) The state of being temporary. Scott.

Temp'oraneity (s. from temporary) The state of being temporary. Johnson.

TEMPORARY (adj. from the Lat. tempus temporis time) Continuing only for a limited time.

TEMPORIZE (v. int. from the Lat. tempus time) To delay, to procrastinate; to comply with the times, to yield to occasions with a degree of servility; with with: as, "You will temporize with the times."

Temp'orizer (s. from temporize) One who temporizes.

Temp'orizing (p. a. from temporize) Complying with the times, meanly yielding to occasions.

Temp'orizing (s. from the part.) The act of complying with times and occasions.

Temps (s. obsolete) Time. Chaucer.

TEMPT (v. t. from the Lat. tento to try) To incite to something ill, to solicit, to provoke; to try, to prove; to attempt.

Temp'table (adj. from tempt) Liable to temptation, capable of being tempted to ill. Swift.

Temp'tation (s. from tempt) The act of tempting, the state of being tempted; a trial, the motive offered to ill.

Temp'ted (p. from tempt) Incited to ill, solicited, provoked, tried, attempted.

Temp'ter (s. from tempt) One who tempts, one who solicits to ill; Satan.

Temp'ting (p. a. from tempt) Soliciting to ill, trying, attempting.

Temp'ting (s. from the part.) The act of soliciting to ill.

Temp'tingly (adv. from tempting) With temptation, with allurement. Scott.

Temp'tingness (s. from tempting, but not used) The state or quality which comprises temptation. Sc.

TEM'SE, TEM'SED (s. from the French tams a sieve) Sifted, sifted finer than common. Johnson.

Tem'sebread (s. from temse, and bread) Bread made of flower better sifted than common.

Tem'sedbread (s. from temsed, and bread) Bread made of flower better sifted than common.

Tem'ulency (s. from temulent) Drunkenness, intoxication by liquor.

TE'MULENT (adj. from the Lat. temulentus) Drunken, intoxicated with strong liquor.

Temulen'tive (adj. not so common a word) Temulent, intoxicated with liquor. Cole.

TEN (adj. from the Sax. tyn) Nine and one, five and five.

Ten (s. from the adj.) The number twice five, ten persons, ten things.

TENABLE (adj. from the Lat. teneo to hold) Capable of being held, capable of being maintained against opposition.

Tenableness (s. from tenable) The state of being tenable.

TENA'CIOUS (adj. from the Lat. tenax) Holding fast, unwilling to let go; retentive, adhesive, cohesive; niggardly, parsimonious to meanness.

Tena'ciously (adv. from tenacious) In a tenacious manner.

Tena'ciousness (s. from tenacious) The state or quality of being tenacious.

TENAC'ITY (s. from the Lat. tenax tenacious) The adhesion of one part to another, viscosity.

TENAC'ULA (s. in surgery) A kind of forceps.

TENAIL'LE (s. in fortification) A kind of horn work.

Ten'ancy (s. from tenant) A temporary possession of what belongs to another; a kind of tenure.

TEN'ANT (s. from the Lat. teneo to hold) One that holds a possession, one that holds of another, the correlative of a landlord; one who resides in any place.

Ten'ant (v. t. from the sub.) To hold on certain conditions.

Ten'antable (adj. from tenant) Capable of being held by a tenant, fit to be held by a tenant.

Ten'antableness (s. from tenantable) The state of being tenantable.

Ten'anted (p. from tenant) Held on certain conditions, held by a tenant.

Ten'anting (p. a. from tenant) Holding under another.

Ten'antless (adj. from tenant) Unoccupied, void of a tenant.

Ten'antlaw (s. supposed to be a corrupt spelling) A tenon law, a law used in forming tenons.

TEN'AR (s. in anatomy) The thenar.

TENAS'MUS (s. from the Greek τενασμος) A continued inclination to go to stool.

Ten'ance (s. obsolete) Tenants. Chaucer.

Ten'ance (v. t. obsolete) To enhance, to advance, to raise. Chaucer.

TEN'BURY (s.) A town in Worcestershire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 130 miles from London.

Ten'bury (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tenbury, made at Tenbury.

TENBY (s.) A town in Pembrokeshire; it has a market on Wednesday and Saturday, and is 247 miles from London.

Ten'by (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tenby, made at Tenby.

TENCH (s. in ichthyology) The name of a delicious pond fish.

Tench'fishing (s. from tench, and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for tench.

TEND (v. t. from tendo to stretch) To be attentive to, to watch, to guard, to attend, to wait on.

TEND (v. int. from the Lat. tendo to stretch) To move towards a certain point or place; to contribute, to be helpful; to attend, to attend as something inseparable; with to and upon: as, "It tendeth to poverty." "Threefold vengeance tend upon your steps."

Tend'ance (s. from tend) Attendance, a state of expectation, care, an act of waiting; an attendant.

Tend'ant (adj. from tend, but now grown obsolete) Attending. Chaucer.

Tend'ed (p. from tend) Attended, watched, guarded.

Tend'eheve (s. an old word) The head of ten families. Bailey.

Tend'ence (s. from tend) Direction, drift, a course towards any result.

Tend'ency (s. from tendence) A direction, a drift, a course towards any result; with to: as, "A moral particular tendency to the good of their country."

TENDER (adj. from the Lat. tener) Soft, easily impressed; sensible, easily pained; compassionate; susceptible of soft passions; amorous, expressive of the softer passions; effeminate, delicate; gentle, mild; young, weak; careful not to hurt; with of: as, "His tender of her reputation."

TEN'DER (v. t. from the French tendre) To offer, to exhibit; to hold, to esteem; to regard with kindness; but this sense is not in use.

Ten'der (s. from the verb) An offer, a proposal for acceptance; regard, kind concern; but this sense is not used. Shakespeare.

Tend'er (s. from tend) One that attends, one that waits on another; a small ship attending with reinforcements on a larger.

Ten'derment (adv. in music) Tenderly, gently.

Ten'dered (p. from tender) Offered, proposed for acceptance.

Ten'derer (adj. comp. of tender) Tender in a greater degree.

Ten'derest (adj. sup. of tender) Tender in the greatest degree.

Tenderhearted (adj. from tender, and heart) Compassionate, susceptible of soft impressions.

Tenderheartedly (adv. from tenderhearted) With compassion, with soft impressions.

Tenderheartedness (s. from tenderhearted) Compassion.

T E N

tion, susceptibility of the softer impressions.
 tenderling (p. a. from tender) Offering, proposing for acceptance; esteeming, valuing.
 tenderling (s. from the part.) The act of proposing for acceptance.
 tenderling (s. from tender) A fondling, one who is made soft by too much indulgence; the first horns of a deer.
 tenderly (adv. from tender) With tenderness.
 tenderness (s. from tender) The state of being tender, susceptibility of softer passions; kind attention, anxiety for the good of others; a pathos of expression; cautious care, scrupulosity.
 TENDICULE (s. from the Lat. tendicula) A gin, a snare. tending (p. a. from tend) Attending, guarding, moving to some certain point.
 tending (s. from the part.) The act of attending, a direction to a certain point.
 tendinous (adj. from tendon) Containing tendons, sinewy.
 tendinousness (s. from tendinous) The state or quality of being tendinous. Scott.
 TENDON (s. from the Lat. tendo to stretch) A sinew, a ligature by which the joints are moved.
 TENDRIL (s. from the French tendrillon) The clasp of a vine, that part of a plant by which it lays hold of any thing for its support.
 tene (s. obsolete) Sorrow, grief; anger, provocation. Chaucer.
 TENEA'TES (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
 TENEBRE (s. in the Roman church) A service to represent the agony of Christ in the garden, the tenebres.
 TENEBRES (s. in the Romish church) A service in which the passion of Christ in the garden is represented, by putting out the lights, one after another, at solemn intervals, till the whole concludes, and the congregation is left in total darkness.
 TENEBRICOSE (adj. from the Lat. tenebrosus, but not much used) Tenebrous, dark, gloomy. Johnson.
 TENEBRIO (s. in zoology) A species of beetle.
 TENEBRION (s. from the Lat. tenebræ darkness) A night walker.
 TENEBROSE (adj. from the Lat. tenebrosus) Dark, gloomy.
 tenebrosity (s. from tenebrose) Darkness, gloom.
 TENEBROUS (adj. from the Lat. tenebrosus) Dark, gloomy.
 TENEMENT (s. from the Lat. teneo to hold) Any thing held by a tenant; a small dwelling house.
 Tenementale (s. in old customs) A decennary, the number of ten men, ten families.
 Tenementary (adj. from tenement) Belonging to lands let out to tenants.
 Tenent (s. a different spelling) A tenant, a tenet. Sc.
 Tenent (s. in heraldry) A supporter, something which sustains or bears up the coat of arms.
 TENERITY (s. from the Lat. tener tender) Tender-ness. Ainsworth.
 TENESMUS (s. from the Greek τενεσμός) A continued inclination to go to stool arising from an obstruction in the orifice of the bladder.
 TENET (s. from the Lat. teneo to hold) A position, a principle, an opinion.
 TENNE (s. in heraldry) The tawny colour, a colour compounded of red and yellow.
 Tenney (s. in heraldry) The tenne, a colour compounded of red and yellow in the coats armorial of the gentry.
 TENNIS (s. of doubtful etymology) A play in which a ball is driven with a racket.
 TENNIS (v. t. from the sub.) To drive as a ball. Spenser.
 Tennisball (s. from tennis, and ball) The ball at tennis.
 Tennis-court (s. from tennis, and court) The place in which the game at tennis is played.
 Tenth (adj. obsolete) Tenth. Ch.
 Tenny (s. in heraldry) The tenne, the colour compounded of red and yellow in the coats armorial of gentlemen.
 TENON (s. from the French) The end of a timber fitted to a hole cut in another piece of timber; that part which fills up the mortise.
 Tenonaw (s. from tenon, and saw) A thin saw sometimes used in fitting tenons.
 TENOTOTUS (s. from the Greek τενω to stretch out, and τενω, wounded) One who is wounded in a tendon.

T E N

 TEN'OR (s. a modern and correct spelling from the Lat.) A tenour, a constant mode, a general drift, the general sense; a part in music.
 Ten'or (adj. from the sub. some times used in composition) Belonging to the tenor in music.
 Tenorist' (s. from tenor) A person who sings tenor, one who has a tenor voice.
 Tenorvoice (s. from tenor, and voice) A voice suited to a tenor in music.
 TEN'OUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French teneur) A tenor. Johnson.
 Tens're (v. t. in old records) To fence, to hedge in.
 TENSE (s. in grammar, from the Lat. tempus time) A variation of the verb to distinguish the circumstance of time.
 TENSE (adj. from the Lat. tendo to stretch) Stretched, stiff, tight.
 Ten'sense (s. from tense) The state of being tense.
 Ten'fer (adj. comp. of tense) Tense in a greater degree.
 Ten'sest (adj. sup. of tense) Tense in the greatest degree.
 Tensibility (s. from tensible, but not much used) The state or quality which admits of extension.
 TENSIBLE (adj. from the Lat. tendo to stretch) Capable of being stretched, capable of extension.
 Tensibleness (s. from tensible) The state of being tensible. Scott.
 TEN'SILE (adj. from the Lat. tensilis) Capable of extension.
 Tension (s. from tense) The act of stretching, the state of being stretched.
 Ten'sive (adj. from tense) Tending to contraction; giving a sensation of tightness.
 TENSOR (s. in anatomy) A muscle which extends the part with which it is connected.
 Tensure (s. from tense) Tension. Bacon.
 TENT (s. from the Lat. tentorium) A lodging place set up in a field commonly made of canvas stretched on poles; a pavilion; a moveable habitation.
 TENT (s. in surgery, from the French tente) A roll of lint to be put into a wound.
 TENT (s. from the Spanish tento) A kind of deep red wine.
 Tent (v. int. from the sub.) To lodge as in a tent, to take up a temporary abode.
 Tent (v. t.) To fill a wound with lint, to search as with a medicated tent.
 Tent (adj. obsolete) Intent. Chaucer.
 Tent (v. t. a local word) To tend, to look to. Bailey.
 Tent (s. with lapidaries) The glutinous substance in which table diamonds are set.
 TENTATION (s. from the Lat. tentatio, but not so common a word) A temptation, a trial. Brown.
 Tentative (adj. from tentation) Trying, essaying. Jo.
 Tentative (s. from the adj.) An essay, an effort; a thesis. Scott.
 Tent'ed (p. from tent) Furnished with a tent, filled with a roll of lint.
 Tent'ed (adj. from tent) Covered with tents.
 TENT'ER (s. from the Lat. tendo to stretch) A hook on which things are stretched; a machine on which clothiers stretch and dry their cloth, a rack. On the tenters, on the stretch, in difficulties.
 Tent'er (v. t. from the sub.) To stretch on hooks.
 Tent'er (v. int.) To admit extension.
 TEN'TERDEAN (s.) A borough town in Kent; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 55 miles from London.
 Ten'terdean (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tenterdean, made at Tenterdean.
 Tent'ered (p. from tenter) Stretched on tenters.
 Tent'erground (s. from tenter, and ground) The ground on which tenters are erected.
 Tent'erhook (s. from tenter, and hook) A kind of nail or square hook with two sharp points, one of the nails or hooks driven into the rack or frame on which cloth is stretched and dried.
 Tent'ering (p. a. from tenter) Putting on the tenters, stretching on the tenters.
 Tent'ering (s. from the part.) The act of stretching on the tenters.
 Tenth (adj. from ten) Next in order above the ninth.
 Tenth (s. from the adj.) The next in order above the ninth; the tenth part, the tithe.
 Tenthly (adv. from tenth) In the tenth place.

TER

TENTHREDO (s. in zoology) A genus of insects; the lesser hornet.
Tentidily (adv. obsolete) Diligently. Cb.
Tentiginous (adj. from tentigo) Affected with the tentigo.
TENTIGO (s. with surgeons, from the Lat.) An involuntary erection of the penis.
Tent'ing (p. a. from tent) Filling a wound with a roll of lint; to lodge in a tent.
Tent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of filling a wound with a roll of lint.
Tent'maker (s. from tent, and maker) One whose business is to make tents.
Tent'making (s. from tent, and make) The act of making tents.
TENTOR (s. from the Lat. tendo to stretch) An instrument formerly used by clothiers, but now prohibited.
Tento'rian (adj. from tent) Belonging to a tent. Cole.
Tent'wine (s. from tent, and wine) A kind of rich red wine.
Tent'wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
TENUATE (v. t. from the Lat. tenuo) To make thin, to cause tenuity. Cole.
Tenuated (p. from tenuate, but not used) Attenuated, made thin.
Tenuating (p. a. from tenuate, but not used) Attenuating.
TENUIFOLIOUS (adj. from the Lat. tenuis slender, and folium a leaf) Having thin leaves.
TENUITY (s. from the Lat. tenuis slender) Thinness, smallness.
Tenuous (adj. not so common a spelling) Tenuous. Pb.
TENUOUS (adj. from the Lat. tenuis) Thin, small, slender.
Tenuousness (s. from tenuous) Tenuity. Scott.
TENURE (s. from the Lat. teneo to hold) The manner in which tenements or possessions are holden; a holding.
Tenyth (adj. an old spelling) Tenth. Chaucer.
TEPEFACTION (s. from tepesy) The act of warming in a small degree.
Tepe'fied (p. from tepesy, but not used) Warm in a small degree.
TEPEFY (v. t. from the Lat. tepidus warm, and facio to make, but not used) To warm in a small degree.
Tepe'fying (p. a. from tepesy) Making warm in a small degree.
Tepe'fying (s. from the part.) A tepesfaction. Cole.
TEPHRAMANTIE (s. a different spelling) Tephromancy. Co.
TEPHRIAS (s. in natural history) A kind of marble.
TEPHRION (s. from the Greek) A medicine for the eyes.
TEPHRITES (s. in natural history) A stone having the figure of a crescent.
TEPHROMANCY (s. from the Greek τεφρα ashes, and μαντις magic) A kind of divination performed by writing in ashes.
TEPID (adj. from the Lat. tepidus) Warm in a small degree, lukewarm.
Tepid'ity (s. from tepid) Lukewarmness.
TEPPOR (s. from the Lat.) A gentle heat, lukewarmness.
TE'RAH (s. from the Heb. signifying to breathe) A man's name.
TERAPHIM (s. from the Heb. signifying images) Household gods; talismanic representations; some badge or appendage of the priestly office.
TERATICAL (adj. from the Greek τερατικός, but not used) Monstrous, prodigious. Bailey.
TERATOLOGY (s. from the Greek τερατα wonderful things, and λογος a description) An affection of sublimity, bombast.
TERCE (s. from the Lat. triens) A vessel containing forty two gallons of wine, the third part of a butt.
Teree (s. at piquet) A sequence of three cards. Hoyle.
Ter'cel (s. not so common a word) A terce. Pb.
Ter'cell (s. in falconry) A male hawk. Cb.
Ter'cellet (s. from tercel) A male hawk. Cb.
Terce/major (s. at piquet) A sequence of the three best cards. Hoyle.
TERCET (s. in music) A third.
Ter'cian (s. not so common a word) A terce, a third part of a tun of wine.
Tere (v. t. an old spelling) To tear. Cb.
TEREBELUM (s. from the Lat.) A small augre, a wimble.
TEREBINTH (s. in botany, from the Greek τερεβινθος) Turpentine, the turpentine tree.

TER

Terebint'h'inate (adj. from terebint) Consisting of turpentine, mixed with turpentine.
Terebin'thine (adj. from terebint) Consisting of turpentine, mixed with turpentine.
TEREBINTH'ZUSA (s. in natural history) A precious stone, a kind of jasper.
TEREBINTHUS (s. in botany) The turpentine tree.
TER'EBRA (s. in surgery) The trepan.
TER'EBRATE (v. t. from the Lat. terebro) To bore, to pierce, to perforate.
Ter'ebrated (p. from terebrate) Bored, pierced, perforated.
Ter'ebrating (p. a. from terebrate) Boring, piercing, perforating.
Terebra'tion (s. from terebrate) The act of boring, the act of piercing.
TER'EBRUM (s. from the Lat.) The terebra, a small augre; an instrument to grave on stone; the trepan.
TE'REDO (s. in the history of insects) A worm found in rotten wood; a moth that frets garments.
TE'REDUM (s. from the Lat. tero to crumble) A cavity, the rottenness of a bone.
TERENCE (s.) The name of a man; a famous comic poet.
TERENTIA (s.) The name of a woman.
TERENT'TIUS (s.) The name of a man; the name of several illustrious Romans.
TE'RES (s. in anatomy) One of the two muscles of the scapula called the greater and lesser.
TERE'US (s. in the mythology of the poets) A king of Thrace who ravished Philomela and was said to have been turned into a hawk. Ovid.
TERGEMINOUS (adj. from the Lat. ter thrice, and gemino to double) Threefold.
TERGIDUC'TOR (s. from the Lat. tergum the back part, and ducere to lead) One who brings up the rear. Cole.
Tergif'etous (adj. a less formal spelling) Tergifetous. Pb.
TERGIF'ETÆ (s. in botany) The plants which produce their seed on the back of the leaf.
Tergif'etous (adj. from tergifetæ) Producing seeds on the back side of the leaf.
TERG'IMENT (s. from the Lat. tergum the back) That which is added to turn the scale. Cole.
TER'GIVERSATE (v. int. from the Lat. tergum the back, and vertere to turn) To beggle, to shift, to use evasive expressions. Bailey.
Ter'giversating (p. a. from tergiversate, but not used) Practising tergiversation.
Tergiversa'tion (s. from tergiversate) A shift, a subterfuge, an evasion, an evasive expression.
Tergiversa'tor (s. from tergiversate) One that practises tergiversation.
TER'GUM (s. from the Lat.) The back, a target, a buckler.
Ter'in (s. obsolete) The name of a bird, the teal. Cham.
TERM (s. from the Lat. terminus a bound) A limit, a boundary; a word by which any thing is expressed; a word of art; a single word, a single expression; a condition, a stipulation; a limited time, the time in which any thing is granted. In law, the time in which the tribunals or places of judgment are open.
Term (v. t. from the sub.) To name, to call.
Ter'magancy (s. from termagant) Turbulence, tumultuousness.
TER'MAGANT (adj. from the Sax. tyr thrice, and magon powerful) Tumultuous, turbulent; quarrelsome, furious.
Ter'magant (s. from the adj.) A scold, a brawling turbulent woman.
Ter'magant (adj. an old spelling) Termagant. Cham.
Term'ed (p. from term) Called, named.
Term'er (s. from term) One that goes up to attend the terms.
TER'MES (s. from the Lat.) An olive branch, a bough plucked off with the fruit; a maggot, a gentle, a death watch.
Ter'minable (adj. from terminate) Limitable, admitting bounds.
TERMINA'LIA (s. in Roman antiquity) The feast celebrated in honour of Terminus.
TER'MINATE (v. t. from the Lat. termino) To bound, to limit; to conclude, to put an end to.
Ter'minate (v. int.) To end, to come to a conclusion.
Ter'minated (p. from terminate) Ended, concluded, bounded, limited.
Ter'minating (p. a. from terminate) Limiting, bounding, concluding, putting an end to.
Ter'minating (s. from the part.) The act of limiting, a termination. Talm.

TER

TER (s. from terminate) The act of limiting; a limit; an end; a conclusion; the ending of a word, as varied in grammatical construction; a word, but this sense is now grown obsolete. Shakespeare.
TER (v. t. obsolete) To determine. Chaucer.
TERMINER (s. a law term) A commission to try and determine.
TERMINING (p. a. from term) Naming, calling.
TERMINING (s. from the part.) The manner of expression.
TERMINIST (s. from term, in church history) A Calvinist held something peculiar with respect to the time of the resurrection.
TERMINUS (s. in surgery, from the Greek τερμινος) A kind of tumour.
TERMINUS (s. in heathen mythology) The invisible being who was supposed to preside over boundaries and landmarks.
TERMINUS (adj. from term) Boundless, unlimited.
TERMINUS (adv. from term) Term by term, in every earth.
TERMINUS (adj. a law term) Belonging to the church.
TERMINUS (s. from term, and land) Glebe land, belonging to the church.
TERMINUS (s. a law term) One who holds for term of life.
TERMINUS (s. plu.) The menes.
TERMINUS (v. t. obsolete) To determine. Chaucer.
TERMINUS (s. obsolete) A pool, a large pool. Chaucer.
TERMINUS (s. from ternary) The number three.
TERNARIUS (adj. from the Lat. ternarius) Ternary, proceeding by threes, consisting of three.
TERNARY (adj. from the Lat. ternarius) Consisting of three, proceeding by threes.
TERNARY (s. from the adj.) The number three.
TEREFA (s. in botany) The clitoria.
TERNATED (adj. in botany, from the Lat. terni tres) A leaf, composed of three.
TERENDER (s.) A man's name; a lyric poet of the 18th century.
TERESCHORE (s. in the mythology of the poets, from the Greek, pronounced in four syllables) One of the nine Muses who was supposed to have invented the art of singing.
TERE (s. from the Lat.) The earth, the ground; any kind of earth; some particular kind of earth. Terra with continued leaps as applied to the movement of a managed horse; by the coast applied to vessels that never go far from the shore. Terra dantata, a caput mortuum of the chymists. Terra firma, land that has not been lately ploughed. Terra Lemnia, a kind of red earth imported from Lemnos and much used in medicine. Terra Samia, a kind of white earth imported from the isle of Samos. Terra vestita, land sown with corn.
TERE (s. in old records) Arable land.
TERE (s. from the French) A small mount of earth covered with grass; the flat roof of a house; a balcony.
TERE (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with a mount of earth, to form with a flat roof.
TERE (s. a different spelling) Terras, a kind of strong structure. Dict. of Arts.
TERE (p. from terrace) Raised with a mount of earth, furnished with a terrace.
TERE (p. a. from terrace) Furnishing with a terrace. Wotton.
TEREFILIVUS (s. from the Lat. terra the earth, and as a son) A scholar at Oxford appointed to make official speeches at the commencement; the same at Oxford as the prevaricator at Cambridge.
TERE (s. from terra) A servile tenure by which the tenant was obliged to cultivate the lands of the lord; exemption from that service.
TERE (s. in the manage) A horse which goes too far the ground.
TERE (s. in the manage) The ground on which a horse makes his pift or tread.
TEREOLA (s. in ornithology) The bunting.
TERE (s. in zoology) A tortoise, a turtle.
TEREQUEOUS (adj. from the Lat. terra the earth, and aqua the water) Composed of land and water.
TERE (s. an old law term) A terrier.
TERE (s. in old records) A land holder; an officer who was to keep the terrier of lands belonging to a religious house.
TERE (s. a different spelling) A terrace, a walk raised above the rest of a garden.
TERE (s. from the French) Earth, ground, land. Pb.
TERE (s. from terre, and blue) A kind of earth, a kind of lapis armenus.
TERECREPANT (adj. from the Lat. terreo to affright, and crepo to chide) Rebuking with great severity. Co.

TER

TERREFY (v. t. not so common a spelling) To terrify. Bai.
TERRELLA (s. in natural history) A loadstone whose poles correspond with those of the earth.
TERRENE (s. from the Lat. terra the earth) Earthly, terrestrial.
TERRENESS (s. from terrene) The state of being earthly. Scott.
TERREOUS (adj. from the Lat. terra the earth) Earthly, consisting of earth.
TERREPLAIN (s. in fortification) The platform or horizontal surface of the rampart.
TERRE (s. a different spelling) A terrier, a particular account of lands belonging to a religious house.
TERRESTRE (adj. obsolete) Terrestrial, earthly. Chaucer.
TERRESTRIAL (adj. from the Lat. terrestris) Earthly, opposed to celestial; consisting of earth; but this sense is judged improper. Woodward.
TERRESTRIALNESS (s. from terrestrial) The state or quality of being terrestrial. Scott.
TERRESTRICITY (s. from terrestrial, but not used) The state or quality of being terrestrial. Scott.
TERRESTRIED (p. from terrestrify) Reduced to the state of the earth.
TERRESTRIFY (v. t. from the Lat. terrestris earthy, and facio to make) To reduce to the state of the term.
TERRESTRIFYING (p. a. from terrestrify) Reducing to the state of the earth.
TERRESTRIOUS (adj. from the Lat. terrestris) Earthy, consisting of earth.
TERREtenant (s. from terre, and tenant) A tenant to a freehold.
TERREVERTE (s. from the French terre earth, and verte green) A kind of green earth owing its colour to a mixture of copper.
TERREY (s. in familiar style) A man's name, Theodrick.
TERREBILITY (s. from terrible) The state of being terrible. Bailey.
TERREBIBLE (adj. from the Lat. terribilis) Dreadful, formidable; great, excessive.
TERREBLENESS (s. from terrible) The state or quality of being terrible.
TERREBLY (adv. from terrible) Dreadfully, formidably; greatly, in a violent degree.
TERRICOLIST (s. from the Lat. terra the earth, and colo to cultivate) One who inhabits the earth.
TERRIER (s. from the Lat. terra the earth) A dog that follows the game under ground.
TERRIER (s. from the Lat. terra the land) An exact survey or register of lands.
TERRIER (s. from the Lat. terebro to bore) A small kind of augre, a wimble. Ansforth.
TERRIFIC (adj. from terrify) Dreadful, causing terror.
TERRIFIED (p. from terrify) Frighted, shocked with fear.
TERRIFY (v. t. from the Lat. terreo to affright, and facio to make) To fright, to make afraid, to shock with fear.
TERRIFYING (p. a. from terrify) Frighting, shaking with fear.
TERRIFYING (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a fright.
TERRIGENOUS (adj. from the Lat. terra the earth, and gigno to beget) Born of the earth.
TERRILOQUOUS (adj. from the Lat. terreo to affright, and loquor to speak) Speaking terribly, talking of terrible things. Bailey.
TERRINE (s. in cookery) A breast of mutton stewed with quails or chickens.
TERRINE (s. from the French) An earthen or porcelain vessel with a cover in which sauce is set at table.
TERRISONOUS (adj. from the Lat. terreo to affright, and sono to sound) Sounding terribly.
TERRITORIAL (adj. from territory) Belonging to a territory.
TERRITORY (s. from the Lat. territorium) A dominion, a country, a district.
TERROR (s. a modern and correct spelling, from the Lat.) A terror, great fear, dread, the cause of fear.
TERROR (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed god of fear.
TERROUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French terreur) Terror, fear, the cause of fear.
TERRULENCY (s. from terrulent) Fulness of earth. Bai.
TERRULENT (adj. from the Lat. terrulentus) Full of earth. Bailey.
TERRY (s.) The liquor drawn from the palmtree. Ca.
TERSE (adj. from the Lat. tersus) Smooth, neat, elegant, cleanly written. Swift.
TERSION (s. from the Lat. tergo to wipe) The act of wiping, a rubbing. Scott.
TERSOR (s. in anatomy) The broad muscle of the back.
TERTHRA

T E S

TER/THRA (s. in anatomy) The parts about the throat, the middle part of the neck.

TER/TIA (s.) The name of a woman, the sister of Brutus.

TERTIAN (s. from the Lat. tertius) The third part of a tun of wine.

TERTIAN (adj. from the Lat. tertius) Returning every third day.

Tertian (s. from the adj.) An ague which returns every other day.

TER/TIATE (v. t. from the Lat. tertius the third) To do any thing the third time. Johnson.

TER/TIATE (v. t. in gunnery) To round the metal of a cannon at the touchhole, trunnions and muzzle.

Ter/tiated (p. from tertiate) Done the third time; rounded at the touchhole, trunnions and muzzle.

Ter/tiating (p. a. from tertiate) Doing a third time; rounding the metal at the touchhole, trunnions and muzzle.

Tertia'tion (s. from tertiate) The act of doing anything a third time.

TERTIO/LA (s. in botany) The allheal.

TERTIUM (s. with chymists) That which is formed by the mixture of two things as different from either.

TER/TIUS (s.) A man's name.

TERTUL/IAN (s.) A man's name; one of the fathers of the christian church.

TERTUL/LUS (s.) A man's name; an infamous orator who pleaded against the Apostle Paul before Felix.

TERUN/CIUM, TERUN/CIUS (s. from the Lat.) A Roman coin of three ounces, in value about the fourth part of an as.

Te'ry (adj. obsolete) Drowned in tears. Cbauer.

TER/ZA (s. in music books) A song or tune in three parts.

Ter/za (adj.) Third, next to the second.

TERZET/TO (s. in music) A little air in three parts.

TER/ZO (s. in music) A song or tune in three parts.

TESSEL/LA (s. from the Lat.) A small square piece, one of the small squares of a Mosaic work.

TESSEL/LÆ (s. plu. of tessella) Small square pieces, the small squares of Mosaic work.

Tessel/ated (adj. from tessella) Chequered, formed in little squares.

TES/SERA (s. from the Lat.) A die, a square piece; a tally, a score; a bone of the foot.

TES/SERACOSTE (s. in church history) The time of Lent; the time from a woman's being brought to bed to her first appearance at church; a feast at the churching of a woman.

Tessera'rious (adj. from tessera) Belonging to the tessera. Cole.

Tes'to (s. in old records) A brock, a badger.

TEST (s. from the Lat. testor to witness) A trial, an examination; a cupel by which refiners try their metals, the means of trial; that with which any thing is compared in order to prove it genuine; judgment, distinction; a vessel to hold fire. Dryden.

Test (s. a law term) The sacrament of the Lord's Supper received in the church of England as a qualification for any office civil or military; the test act.

TES/TA (s. from the Lat.) A shell, a shellfish; an earthen pot, a tile, a brick; a splint, a piece of a bone; the hard brittle covering of some seeds.

Tes/table (adj. from test) Capable of being admitted as a witness. Scott.

Testa'ceous (adj. from testa) Consisting of shells, composed of shells; having a continued shell, opposed to crustaceous.

Testa'ct (s. from test, and act) A statute of the twenty-fifth of Charles the Second, by which any officer under the crown, civil or military, is obliged to receive the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, according to the forms of the church of England, under the penalty of five hundred pounds.

TEST/AMENT (s. from the Lat. testamentum) A will, a writing by which a person disposes of his possessions after his death; one of the volumes of sacred writ, either of the two principal parts of the Bible.

Testamental'rious (adj. from testament) Testamentary, pertaining to a testament.

Testamen'tary (adj. from testament) Belonging to a testament, given by will.

TES/TATE (adj. from the Lat. testatus) Having made a will. Scott.

TESTA/TOR (s. from the Lat.) One who leaves a will, one who gives by will.

TESTA/TRIX (s. from the Lat.) A woman who leaves a will.

Test'ed (adj. from test) Tried by a test.

T E T

TESTER (s. from the French teste) A coin valued at pence; the canopy of a bed.

Tes'ter (s. obsolete) A helmet; the headstall of a bridle.

TES/TES (s. in anatomy) The testicles; the external parts of the brain towards the cerebellum so called account of their resemblance to the testicles.

TES/TICH (s.) A kind of superb Persian carpet.

TES/TICLE (s. from the Lat. testiculus) One of the organs in a male animal which separate the semen.

Testic'ular (s. from testicle) Belonging to the testicles.

TESTIC/ULATED (adj. in botany, from the Lat. testiculus) Tuberos, consisting of two knobs resembling testicles.

Testic'ulose (adj. from testicle) Having large testicles.

TESTIC/ULUS/VE/NE/RE/US (s. with surgeons) The swelling of the testicles after a venereal infection.

Tes'tier (adj. comp. of testy) Testy in a greater degree.

Tes'tiest (adj. sup. of testy) Testy in the greatest degree.

Tes'tise (adj. obsolete) Wild, giddy; peevish, fretful.

Tes'tiff (adj. an old word) Wild, furious.

Testification (s. from testify) The act of bearing witness, a solemn declaration.

Testifica'tor (s. from testify) One who testifies.

Tes'tified (p. from testify) Witnessed, proved by witness, solemnly declared.

Tes'tifier (s. from testify) One who testifies.

TES/TIFY (v. t. from the Lat. testis a witness, and facere to make) To witness, to prove, to give evidence.

Tes'tify (v. int.) To bear witness; with of, for, against: as, "He needed not that any should testify man."

Tes'tifying (p. a. from testify) Witnessing, proving, giving evidence.

Tes'tifying (v. t. from the part.) The act of witnessing.

Tes'tily (adv. from testy) Fretfully, peevishly.

Testimo'nial (s. from testimony) A writing produced by any one as an evidence for himself.

Tes'timonied (p. from testimony) Witnessed, evidenced. Shakespeare.

TES/TIMONY (s. from the Lat. testimonium) An evidence given, a public evidence, open attestation, proof.

Tes'timony (v. t. from the sub. but not used) To witness.

Tes'tinefs (s. from testy) Peevishness, moroseness.

Test'liquor (s. from test, and liquor) A liquor used by dealers in spirits to prove whether they be genuine.

TES/TO (s. in music) The words of a song.

TES/TON (s.) An old coin made of brads covered with silver, which from eighteen pence the original value came down to sixpence, a tester.

Tes'tu'dinated (adj. from testudo) Arched, roofed.

Testudin'eous (adj. from testudo) Resembling the shell of a tortoise.

TESTU'DO (s. in zoology) A tortoise.

TESTU'DO (s. in architecture) An arched roof, the hemispherical vault of a church.

TESTU'DO (s. with the poets) A lyre supposed to have been first made by Apollo from the shell of the tortoise.

TESTU'DO (s. a military term) A kind of covering formed by the shields of a body of soldiers engaged in a fight.

TESTU'DO (s. with surgeons) The talpa, a kind of tumour in which the matter is formed between the skull and the scalp.

TES/TY (adj. from the French testie) Fretful, peevish, apt to be angry.

TE/TA (s. in ornithology) The ring dove.

TETAN/IC (adj. from the Greek τετανικός) Having a cramp in the neck, having a stiff neck.

Tetan'ical (adj. from tetanic) Having a stiff neck, having a crick in the neck.

TETANOTH/RUM (s. in medicine, from the Greek τετανος to take away a wrinkle) A medicine to take away wrinkles or smooth the skin.

TETA/NUS (s. from the Greek τετανος) A contraction, kind of stiffness or rigidity in any part of the body.

TETART/E/US (s. with physicians) A quartan ague.

TETBURY (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has market on Wednesday, and is 98 miles from London.

Tet'bury (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tetbury, made at Tetbury.

Tetch (s. obsolete) A fashion; a trick, frowardness.

Tetch'es (s. obsolete) Frowardness.

Tetch'ier (adj. comp. of tetchy) Tetchy in a greater degree.

Tetch'iest (adj. sup. of tetchy) Tetchy in the greatest degree.

Tetch'inefs (s. obsolete) Spots, stains.

ness (s. from tetchy) Peevishness, frowardness.
 (adj. from tetch) Froward, peevish, testy.
 A TET/TE (adv. from the French tete à tete) head to head, cheek by jowl.
 Deluded mortals, whom the great (chose for companions tete à tete." Swift.
 (s. from tedder) The tie by which horses are fined in the field that they may not pasture too far.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To confine with a tie from being too wide, to tie up.
 (p. from tether) Confined with a tether.
 (p. a. from tether) Confining with a tether.
 (s. from the part.) The act of confining with a tether.
 Tithingpenny (s. a different spelling) The tithingpenny. Phillips.
 TET/YS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The sister of Minerva, wife of Oceanus and goddess of the sea.
 TET/YS (s. in ichthyology) A genus of fishes.
 TET/YS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 TET/YS (s. in music) The diatessaron, the fourth interval in music from the Italian) The tetrachord, an interval in music which we call the fourth.
 TET/YS (s. in medicine, from the Greek τετρα, four, and ὄγκος a humour, and ὄγκος to drive) A medicine which purges four sorts of humours.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four, and κωλον a stanza) A stanza consisting of four lines or verses.
 TET/YS (s. in ancient geometry) A point, a line, a face, a solid.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four) A mess consisting of four persons.
 TET/YS (s. in music) The quadruple diapason.
 TET/YS (s. in church history) The sabbatharians called from their keeping Easter on the fourth day; Manichees who admitted of a quaternity in the head; the several sects distinguished by a particular veneration for the number four.
 TET/YS (s. a different spelling) The tetradiæ.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek) A weight of four ounces; a coin valued at four groats.
 TET/YS (s. in botany, from the Greek τετρα four, and δυναμις to be powerful) A genus or class of plants distinguished by having four stamina of more efficacy than the rest.
 TET/YS (s. in geometry) A solid body contained by four equal sides.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four, and ετος
 a year) The space of four years.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four, and ετος
 a year) The space of four years.
 TET/YS (s. from tetraeteris) The space of four years.
 TET/YS (adj. from the Greek τετρα, four, and γλωσσα a tongue) Consisting of four languages.
 TET/YS (s. in geometry, from the Greek τετρα, four, and γωνια a corner) A plain figure consisting of four sides and angles.
 TET/YS (s. in astronomy) A quartile aspect.
 TET/YS (adj. from tetragon) Belonging to a tetragon.
 TET/YS (s. from tetragonal) The state or quality of having four sides and angles. Scott.
 TET/YS (s. in botany) The spindle-tree.
 TET/YS (s. in meteorology) A kind of luminous meteor.
 TET/YS (s. from tetragon) The quadrature of the circle.
 TET/YS (adj. from tetragon) Summatory, finding the flowing quantity from the fluxion.
 TET/YS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 TET/YS (s. in anatomy) The name of a muscle, quadratus.
 TET/YS (s. in geometry) The tetragon.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four, and γλωσσα a letter) The word Jehovah, which in Hebrew consists of four letters.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four, and λογος a discourse) A discourse in four parts.
 TET/YS (s. from the Greek τετρα, four, and μετρον a measure) An iambic verse consisting of four measures or eight feet.
 TET/YS (s. in botany, from the Greek τετρα, four, and μετρον a measure) A measure in verse consisting of eight feet.
 TET/YS (s. in botany, from the Greek τετρα, four, and γλωσσα a male) A genus of plants distinguished by having hermaphrodite flowers and four stamina.
 TET/YS (s. in ornithology) A genus of birds distinguished by having the part of the forehead over the eyes naked.

TETRAPENTAE/TERIS (s. in chronology, from the Greek) An olympiad, the space of four years.
 TETRAPETALOIDES (s. in botany) A plant with a flower deeply cut into four parts.
 TETRAPE/TA/LOUS (adj. in botany, from the Greek τετρα four, and πτελον a leaf) Having four petals or flower leaves.
 TETRAPHAR/MACUM (s. from the Greek τετρα four, and φαρμακον a medicine) A medicine consisting of four ingredients.
 TETRAPHYLL/LOUS (adj. from the Greek τετρα four, and φυλλον a leaf) Consisting of four leaves.
 TETRAPLA (s. from the Greek τετραπλος fourfold) A Bible in four columns each containing a different Greek version, a work of Origen.
 TETRAP/OLIS (s. in geography) A country or district of Syria.
 TETRAP/TOTE (s. in grammar, from the Greek τετρα four, and πωσις a case) A defective noun, a noun with no more than four cases.
 Tetrapote (adj. from the sub.) Defective in case, having no more than four cases.
 TETRAP/TOTON (s. in grammar) A tetrapote, a noun which has no more than four cases.
 TETRAPYRE/NOUS (adj. in botany, from the Greek τετρα four, and πυρην a kernel) Having four seeds or kernels.
 TET/RARCH (s. from the Greek τετρα four, and αρχη chief) A Roman governor of a fourth part of a province.
 Tet/rarchate (s. from tetrarch) The district governed by a tetrarch.
 Tet/rarchy (s. from tetrarch) The district of a tetarch.
 TET/TRAS (s. from the Greek) A quaternion, the number four.
 TETRASPAS/TUS (s. in mechanics, from the Greek τετρα four, and σπασσω to draw) A machine in which there are four pulleys.
 TETRASPE/MOUS (adj. in botany, from the Greek τετρα four, and σπέρμα a seed) Bearing four seeds.
 TET/RASTICH (s. from the Greek τετρα four, and στιχος a verse) An epigram consisting of four lines, a stanza of four lines.
 Tet/rastiche (s. in architecture) A gallery with four rows of pillars.
 TET/RASTYLE (s. in architecture, from the Greek τετρα four, and στυλος a pillar) A building with four columns in front, a building with four pillars on a side.
 TETRASY/LOS (s. from the Greek) A tetrastyle.
 TETRASYLLAB/IC (adj. from the Greek τετρα four, and συλλαβη a syllable) Containing four syllables.
 Tetrasyllabical (adj. from tetrasyllable) Consisting of four syllables.
 TETRATO/NOUS (s. in music, from the Greek τετρα four, and τονος a tone) The superfluous fifth.
 TET/RAX (s. in ornithology) A pheasant, a bustard.
 TET/RICAL (adj. from the Lat. tetricus) Froward, perverse, crabbed, four. Knott.
 Tetricity (s. from tetricus) Severity, harshness, perverseness. Bailey.
 TET/RICOUS (adj. from the Lat. tetricus) Froward, perverse. Johnson.
 TET/RIX (s. in ornithology) The tetrax, a kind of pheasant, the bustard.
 TETROB/OLUM (s. in antiquity) A weight of four drams, a coin valued at about four pence half-penny.
 TETRON/YMAL (adj. from the Greek τετρα four, and ονομα a name) Having four names.
 TET/TER (s. from the Sax. teter) A kind of ring worm;
 a scurf, a scab.
 Tet/terberry (s. from tetter, and berry) The berry of the white briony.
 Tet/terworm (s. from tetter, and worm) The name of an insect.
 TETTIGO/NIA (s. in the history of insects) A kind of grasshopper.
 TEU/CA (s.) A woman's name, a martial queen of the Illyrians. Pliny.
 TEU/CER (s.) A man's name, the son of Scamander.
 TEU/CHITES (s. in botany) A kind of sweet rush.
 TEU/CHRAN (s. in botany) The germander.
 TEU/CHRIUM (s. a different spelling, in botany) The germander.
 TEU/CRI (s. in ancient geography) The inhabitants of Troy.
 TEU/CRIA (s. from Teucris) Troy.
 TEU/CRIUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 TEU/TAS

T H A

TEU'TAS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Mercury.

TEUTHA'LIS (s. in botany) The knotgrass.

TEUTHAMAL'ACHE (s. in botany) The spinage.

TEU'THIS (s. in ichthyology) A kind of cuttle fish.

TEU'THRAS (s.) A man's name, a king of Myſia.

TEU'THRION (s. in botany) The poly.

TEU'TLON (s. in botany) The beet.

TEU'TON (s. in old geography) One of the Teutones, one of the ancient inhabitants of the northern part of Germany.

TEUTO'NES (s. from Teuton) An ancient people who inhabited the northern part of Germany.

TEUTO'NI (s. from Teuton) The Teutones.

Teuton'ic (adj. from Teuton) Belonging to the Teutones.

Teuton'ic (s. from the adj.) The language of the Teutones.

TEW (s. from the Sax. towe) An iron chain; materials for any thing. Skinner.

TEW (v. t. from the Sax. tawian) To work, to beat so as to soften; to tug, to pull.

Tew'd (p. from tew) Worked, beaten; pulled, tugged.

TEWE'L (s. from the French tyel) A tube or pipe of iron at the back of a forge through which the wind from the bellows is conveyed to the fire.

Tew'ell (s. an old word) A chimney. Cb.

Tew'ing (p. a. from tew) Working, beating so as to make soft; pulling, tugging.

Tew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating any thing as flax to soften it; the act of tugging.

TEWKS'BURY (s.) A borough town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Wednesday, and Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 109 miles from London.

Tewks'bury (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tewksbury, made at Tewksbury.

Tew'ly (adj. a local word) Tender, sick. Bailey.

Tew'taw (v. t. from a reduplication of tew) To beat, to break as flax.

Tew'taw'd (p. from tewtaw) Broken, beaten as hemp or flax.

Tew'tawing (p. a. from tewtaw) Breaking, beating as hemp or flax to soften it.

Tew'tawing (s. from the part.) The act or process of beating hemp or flax to soften it.

TEXT (s. from the Lat. textus) The original discourse without any interpretation, that on which a comment has been made; a particular passage of scripture; a sentence taken from the Bible; a particular kind of hand writing, writing in a large hand.

Text'book (s. from text, and book) A book in which the words of a classic author are transcribed in very wide lines to leave room for an interpretation or comment.

Text'copy (s. from text, and copy) A copy in text hand.

Text'hand (s. from text, and hand) A particular kind of large hand writing.

TEXT'ILE (adj. from the Lat. textu to weave) Woven, capable of being woven.

Text'letter (s. from text, and letter) One of the letters of the alphabet in text hand.

Text'man (s. from text, and man) A man ready at quotations from scripture.

TEX'TRINE (adj. from the Lat. textu to weave) Belonging to the act of weaving.

Text'uarist (s. from textuary) A textuary, one ready at quotations from scripture.

Text'uary (adj. from text) Contained in the text, serving as a text; authoritative.

Text'uary (s. from the adj.) One well versed in scripture, one ready at quotations from scripture.

Text'uele (adj. obsolete) Well versed in the text of scripture. Cb.

TEXT'URE (s. from the Lat. textu to weave) The act of weaving, the manner of weaving, the thing woven; a complication, a combination of parts.

Teynt'ed (adj. an old word) Tainted, dyed, dipped. Bailey.

THAB'ORITE (s. in church history) A kind of Hussite.

Thacke (s. obsolete) Thatch, the straw that covers the roof of a house. Cb.

Thack'tile (s.) A kind of tile to lay on the side of a house. Scott.

THADDE'US (s. from the Heb. signifying one that praises) A man's name.

THA'HASH (s. from the Heb. signifying one that makes haste) A man's name.

THA'IS (s.) The name of a woman, a famous courtesan at Athens, a prostitute.

T H A

Thak'id, Thak'kid (adj. obsolete) Thumped, beaten the brain.

THALA'MI (s. in anatomy) Two oblong prominent parts of the brain.

THALAS'SIARCH (s. from the Greek θαλασσα and αρχη a government) A chief commander of the admiral of a fleet.

THALAS'SIARCHA (s. from thalassiarcho) A chief commander at sea, a thalassiarcho.

Thalass'archy (s. from thalassiarcho) The office of an admiral, the jurisdiction of an admiral.

THALAS'SICAL (adj. from the Greek θαλασσα) Having a colour resembling that of the sea.

Thalass'ion (s. from thalassius) A nuptial song.

THALAS'SUS (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed god of marriage.

THA'LES (s.) A man's name, one of the seven men of Greece; he excelled in ethics and astronomy.

THALES'TRIA (s.) The name of a woman, a queen of the Amazons.

THAL'IA (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of nine muses; one of the nymphs.

THAL'IA (s. in botany) A genus of plants the change of which are not fully ascertained.

THALIC'TRUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants, meadow rue.

THAL'MUD (s. a different spelling) The talmod.

THALY'SIA (s. in Grecian antiquity) The festival which sacrifices were offered to the gods, the fruits of the earth might have a proper growth.

THA'MAH (s. from the Heb. signifying one who rates) A man's name.

THAME (s.) A river in Oxfordshire.

THAME (s.) A town in Oxfordshire; it has a market Tuesday, and is 46 miles from London.

Thame (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thame, at Thame.

THAMES (s.) The large navigable river which divides the city of London from the borough of Newmark; it is chiefly composed of the Thame and Isis from which it has its name.

THAMY'RAS, THAMYRIS (s.) A man's name, a famous soothsayer of antiquity.

THAN (adv. from the Sax. thanne, it is used only in parison) Compared with. "Poorer than Job, than Solomon."

Than'age (s. from thane) The land granted to a knight in the district in which the thane anciently presided.

THANE (s. from the Sax. thegn) An old title of a baron, a nobleman; a magistrate, a governor, officer of the king; the district in which such officer presided; a freeholder.

Thane'land (s. from thane, and land) The land heretofore granted to a thane.

THAN'ET (s.) A small island on the coast of Kent, famous for the first settlement of the Saxons.

THANK (v. t. from the Sax. thanican) To return acknowledgements for any favour received; to thank to blame. "You may thank Adam for that."

Thank (s. from the verb, but mostly used in the phrase) An acknowledgment for a favour received, an expression of gratitude.

Thank (s. obsolete) Service, kindness.

Thank'ed (p. from thank) Repaid with thanks, acknowledged with thanks.

Thank'eheid (adj. obsolete) Thankworthy.

Thankes (s. obsolete) Acts, enterprises.

Thank'ful (adj. from thank) Full of gratitude, ready to thank.

Thank'fully (adv. from thankful) With thanks, gratefully acknowledgments.

Thank'fulness (s. from thankful) Gratitude, a disposition to acknowledge a favour.

Thank'heid (adj. obsolete) Thankworthy.

Thank'ing (p. a. from thank) Giving thanks, returning thanks.

Thank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning thanks.

Thank'ings (s. obsolete) Services, favours.

Thankis (s. obsolete) Acts, enterprises.

Thank'less (adj. from thank) Unthankful, ungrateful, undeserving, unlikely to gain thanks.

Thank'lessness (s. from thankless) Ingratitude, a want of due acknowledgements.

Thank'offering (s. from thank, and offering) An offering of an acknowledgement of mercy.

Thank'giving (s. from thanks, and giving) The giving thanks for mercies received.

Thank'worthy (adj. from thank, and worthy) Deserving thanks, worthy of thanks.

- SPSIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the name of a herb.
- OAT CAKES (s. an old word) Oat cakes. Cole.
- THE (adv. obsolete) There. Ch.
- ARGELIA (s. in antiquity) The festivals celebrated in honour of Apollo and Diana. Bai.
- THE (adj. a local word) Dark, dusky.
- THE (s. from the Sax. thearm) The intestines of an animal prepared for puddings; a string or thong made of the twisted gut of an animal. Bailey.
- THE (s. a different spelling) Thaim. 2 Mac.
- ARSUS (s.) The name of a place. Cole.
- THE (s. an old word) An outcry.
- THE (v. t. an old word) To lay up in a rick.
- THE (pron. from the Sax. thet) The other, the more distant of two; who referring to a person, which referring to a thing; the matter or thing mentioned before; what, the thing which.
- THE (conj.) Because, in order to, as, so as.
- THE (s. from the Sax. thace straw) The straw laid in the roof of a house to keep out the rain.
- THE (v. t. from the sub.) To cover with straw so as to keep out rain.
- THE (p. from thatch) Covered with straw so as to keep out the rain.
- THE (s. from thatch) One whose trade or business is to put straw on houses so as to keep out the rain.
- THE (p. a. from thatch) Laying straw on a house to keep out the rain.
- THE (s. from the part.) The act or process of laying on straw to keep out rain; the straw laid on to keep out rain.
- THE (s. a sea term) The bench on which the rowers sit in a boat.
- THE (s.) A man's name, the father of Iris. Ov.
- THE (s. from the Greek θαυμαστος) A wonder, and εργον a work) One who works miracles, a title given by the papists to those of their saints who were supposed to work miracles.
- THE (s. from thaumaturgus) The act of working miracles; the act of doing that which may excite wonder.
- THE (v. int. from the Sax. thawan) To grow liquid after congelation by frost, to melt.
- THE (v. t.) To melt what was congealed with frost.
- THE (s. from the verb) A remission of frost, the melting of any thing congealed by frost.
- THE (p. from thaw) Melted from a congelation occasioned by frost or cold, melted.
- THE (p. a. from thaw) Melting what was congealed by frost, liquifying.
- THE (s. from the part.) The act of melting what was congealed by frost.
- THE (s.) A borough town in Essex; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 42 miles from London.
- THE (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thaxted, made at Thaxted.
- THE (v. int. from the Dutch de) Some one in particular, one distinguished from others, only one of all others; but this is a French idiom. "It is a constitution the most adapted of any to the poverty of these countries." Addison.
- THE (v. int. obsolete) To thrive, to prosper. Chaucer.
- THE (s. in familiar style, a contraction of Theobald, Theodore, Theodosius, Theodoric, and Theophilus) A man's name. Chaucer.
- THE (pron. obsolete) They.
- THE (s. in beaten mythology) The festivals of Bacchus at which it is said the empty vessels in their temples were filled with wine in the night time by the miraculous power of that deity.
- THE (s. in botany) The tea tree.
- THE (s.) A man's name, the name of several illustrious Greeks.
- THE (s. in old records) The jurisdiction of the lord of a manor in his court over the bondmen and villains within the precincts of the manor.
- THE (adj. from the Greek θεος God, and ανθρωπος a man) Having the divine and human nature in conjunction. Scott.
- THE (s.) A woman's name, the wife of Antenor who is said to have betrayed Troy to the Greeks.
- THE (s. from the Greek θεος God, and ανθρωπος a man) The Emanuel, a title of our Saviour as being God and man.
- THE (adj. a local word) Firm, tight, free from leaks as a barrel. Bailey.
- THE (s. not so common or correct a spelling) A theatre. Phillips.
- THE (s. in church history) One of a particular order of priests among the papists.
- THE (s. in church history, from theatin) One of a particular order of nuns under the direction of the theatins.
- THE (s. from theatine) An order of nuns.
- THE (s. plu. of theatin) An order of nuns.
- THE (adj. from theatre) Belonging to the theatre.
- THE (s. from the Greek θεατρον to see) A place in which shews are exhibited, the playhouse, a place rising with steps like a theatre; the place of action.
- THE (adj. from theatre) Belonging to the theatre.
- THE (adj. from theatric) Belonging to the theatre, suited to the theatre, scenic.
- THE (adv. from theatrical) In a theatrical manner, in a manner suited to the theatre.
- THE (s. a local word) A ewe lamb of the first year. Scott.
- THE (s. from Thebes) A famous heroic poem written by Statius on the civil war of the Thebans.
- THE (adj. from Thebes) Belonging to Thebes.
- THE (s. from the adj.) An inhabitant of Thebes, a native of Thebes.
- THE (s. in geography) An ancient and famous city of Egypt, the name of several other cities of less note.
- THE (s. from the Heb. signifying muddy) The name of a city.
- THE (s. from the Lat.) A case, a covering.
- THE (adj. an old word) Plain, smooth. Bailey.
- THE (adj. obsolete) Smooth, sleek. Chaucer.
- THE (adj. an old word) Such. Bailey.
- THE (s. an old word) Growth, success. Chaucer.
- THE (pron. from thou, the case governed by a verb or preposition) The person addressed, the person spoken to in the oblique case. "I have loved thee." "May I speak a few words to thee."
- THE (s. in old records) A young plant, a set.
- THE (adj. obsolete) Like a thief. Chaucer.
- THE (s. obsolete) A thief. Chaucer.
- THE (s. from thief) The act of stealing, the thing stolen.
- THE (s. from theft, and bote) The act of receiving stolen goods, the act of harbouring a thief.
- THE (s. from theft, and hold) The theftbote, the act of harbouring a thief.
- THE (pron. obsolete) They. Chaucer.
- THE (adj. obsolete) Plain, smooth. Chaucer.
- THE (pron. from the Sax. theora) Belonging to them, belonging to those who have been spoken of before.
- THE (pron. from their used without the substantive) Belonging to them; that which belongs to them, the things which belong to them. "We have our faults, they have theirs."
- THE (s. from the Greek θεος God) Natural religion, the mere belief of a God, deism.
- THE (s. from theism) An unitarian, an antitrinitarian, a deist.
- THE (s. from the Heb. signifying heap) The ancient name of a part of Syria.
- THE (s. in botany) The thelygonum, a genus of plants.
- THE (s. a law term) Toll.
- THE (s. in old records) The tollman, the officer who collected the tolls.
- THE (s. in botany) The thelygonum.
- THE (s. in botany, from the Greek θελησθαι a female, and γένος a birth) The name of an herb, so called because of its supposed virtue to promote the conception of a female child.
- THE (s. in botany, from the Greek θελησθαι a female, and φονη to kill) The name of an herb supposed to be fatal to animals of the female sex.
- THE (s. in botany, from the Greek) The female fern, the sea fern.
- THE (pron. from they, the case which is governed by a verb or preposition) The persons spoken of before in the oblique case. "He called them and spoke friendly to them."
- THE (s.) The name of a place. Bar. 3.
- THE (s. in architecture, from the Greek θεματισμος) The decorum or graceful appearance of a building.
- THE (s. from the Greek θεμα) The subject on which any one speaks or writes, a short dissertation on any subject made by boys at school, an original word in Greek.

THE

Greek from which others are derived; a horoscope in astrology.

Theme (s. a different spelling) The theam. Phillips.

THEMIS (s. in beathen mythology) The deity or invisible power which was supposed to preside over right and justice; the daughter of Cœlus and Terra.

THEMISON (s.) The name of a man, a famous physician of antiquity.

THEMIS/TIUS (s.) A man's name, a philosopher and orator among the Romans.

THEMIS/TOCLES (s.) A man's name, a famous Athenian commander.

Themma'gium (s. in old records) A duty heretofore paid by inferior-tenants in a manor towards defraying the expenses of the court called the theam.

Themselves (pron. from them, and selves) The very persons, the persons spoken of before.

THEN (adv. from the Sax. than) At that time, in that case, at another time.

Then (s. from the adv.) That time. "Till then who knew the force of these dire arms."

THE/NAR (s. in anatomy) The abductor of the thumb, the muscle that draws back the thumb.

Thence (adv. supposed to be a contraction from there hence) From that place, from that time, from that season; it has sometimes from before it: as, "All must from thence purge and disperse." But this construction is judged tautological and improper. Milton.

Thenceforth (adv. from thence, and forth) From that time; it has sometimes from before it: as, "And which from henceforth be never questions." But this is judged tautological and barbarous. Locke.

Thencefor'ward (adv. from thence, and forward) On from that time.

THE/OBALD (s.) A man's name.

THEOB/ROMA (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the chocolate nut tree.

THEOCATAGNOS/TES (s. in church history, from the Greek θεος God, and καταγιγνωσκω to reprehend) A kind of deist, a sect who found fault with words and actions applied to God in the scriptures.

THEOC/RACY (s. from the Greek θεος God, and κρατειν to govern) A government like that of the Jews under the immediate direction of the Divine Being.

Theoc'raiy (s. a different spelling) A theocracy. Scott.

Theocratic (adj. from theocracy) Belonging to a theocracy.

Theocratical (adj. from theocratic) Relating to a theocracy.

THEOC/RITUS (s.) A man's name, the name of a Greek poet.

THEOD/AMAS (s.) A man's name, a favourite of Hercules.

THEODEC/TES (s.) A man's name, an ancient poet and orator.

THE/ODEN (s. from the Sax.) An ancient thane, a freeholder; a husbandman, an inferior tenant.

THEOD/OLITE (s. in surveying) An instrument to take heights and distances.

THE/ODORE (s.) A man's name.

THE/ODORUS (s.) A man's name, Theodore.

THEODO/SIA (s.) A woman's name.

Theodo'fian (s. from Theodosius) Belonging to a famous code of the civil law drawn up by order of the emperor Theodosius.

THEODO/SIUS (s.) A man's name.

THEODO/TUS (s.) A man's name, a rhetorician, master to the last of the Ptolemies.

THE/ODUM (s. from the Sax. thedom) Servitude. Sc.

THE/OGNIS (s.) A man's name, a Greek poet.

THEOGO/NIA (s. from the Greek θεος God, and γονη an offspring) The supposed generation of the gods.

Theog'ony (s. from theogonia) The supposed generation of the gods.

Theo'logaster (s. from theology) A low or mean writer in divinity. Cole.

Theo'loger (s. from theology) A theologian, a divine. Bailey.

Theo'logian (s. from theology) A divine, a professor of divinity.

Theologic (adj. from theology) Belonging to the science of divinity.

Theological (adj. from theologic) Belonging to the science of divinity.

Theologically (adv. from theological) According to the principles of theology.

THEOLO/GIUM (s. from the Lat.) A small stage or place in the theatre where the ordinary actors appeared; the place and machines on which the gods were supposed to descend when they visited the earth; the place in the ancient theatres where the machinery the gods was disposed.

THE

Theol'ogist (s. from theology) A divine, one skilled in the science of divinity.

Theo'logize (v. int. from theology) To act the part of a divine.

Theo'logizing (p. a. from theologize) Acting the part of a divine.

THE/OLOGUE (s. from the Greek θεος God, and λογος word) A divine, one studious in the science of divinity.

THEOL/OGY (s. from the Greek θεος God, and λογος description) Divinity, the science of divinity.

THEOMA/CHIA (s. from the Greek θεος God, and μάχη a fight) The supposed fight of the giants against the gods.

The'omachist (s. from theomachy) One who fights against the gods.

The'omachy (s. from theomachia) The supposed fight of the giants against the gods.

THEOMA/GI (s. from the Greek θεος God, and γυναιξω wife) Persons remarkably endued with divine wisdom.

Theomag'ic (adj. from theomagi) Belonging to the wisdom of God.

Theomag'ical (adj. from theomagic) Belonging to the divine wisdom, divinely wise.

THEOM/ANCY (s. from the Greek θεος God, and μαντια prophecy) The gift of prophecy.

THEOMBRO/TIOS (s. in botany) The name of an herb which was supposed to be a preservative against all dispositions of body and mind.

THEOME/NIA (s. from the Greek) The divine anger.

THEOM/INY (s. from the Greek θεος God, and ιναι to threaten, but not used) The wrath of the Divine Being.

THE/ON (s.) A man's name, a carping grammarian.

THEONOM/ANCY (s. from the Greek θεος God, and μαντια magic) A divination performed by invoking the name of God.

THEONOM/ANTIST (s. from the Greek θεος God, and μαντια magic) One who pretended to divination by invoking the name of God.

THEOPAS/CHITES (s. in church history, from the Greek θεος God, and πασχω to suffer) A sect who held that the whole Trinity suffered in the person of Christ.

THEOPH/ANES (s.) A man's name, a Roman historian.

THEOPH/ILUS (s.) A man's name.

THEOPH/RASTA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

Theophras'tici (s. from Theophrastus) The disciples of Theophrastus.

THEOPHRAS/TUS (s.) A man's name, a famous peripatetic philosopher who succeeded Aristotle.

THEOPOL/EMUS (s.) A man's name, one of the two brothers who robbed the temple of Apollo.

THEOR/BO (s. from the Italian tiorba) A musical instrument, a large lute.

THE/OREM (s. from the Greek θεωρημα) A position laid down as an acknowledged or manifest truth.

Theoremat'ic (adj. from theorem) Comprised in theorems, consisting of theorems.

Theoremat'ical (adj. from theoremat'ic) Consisting of theorems, comprised in theorems.

Theore'matist (s. from theorem) One who invents theorems.

Theore'mic (adj. from theorem) Theoremat'ical.

Theoret'ic (adj. from theory) Speculative, depending on theory.

Theoret'ica (s. from theoretic) The speculative parts of a subject.

Theoret'ical (adj. from theoretic) Speculative, belonging to theory as distinguished from practice.

Theoret'ically (adv. from theoretic) In theory, in speculation.

Theoret'ics (s. from theoretic) The speculative parts of a science.

Theo'ric (adj. from theory) Speculative, belonging to theory.

Theo'ric (s. from the adj.) One who takes up with the theory of any art or science.

Theo'rical (adj. from theoric) Speculative, consisting in theory.

Theo'rically (adv. from theoretical) Speculatively, in speculation only.

Theo'rike (s. obsolete) Theory, speculation.

Theo'rique (adj. from theory) Theoretical.

ORIST (s. from theory) One who takes up with the theory of any art or science.

ORY (s. from the Greek θεωρεω, a spectator) Speculation as distinguished from practice; the plan or scheme subsisting only in the mind.

OXENNA (s.) The name of a woman, a Grecian lady remarkable spirit and fortitude.

OXENIA (s. in beaten mythology) The sacrifices which were offered to all the gods.

There (adv. an old spelling) There, in that place. Chaucer.

Their (pron. an old spelling) Their, belonging to Cbaucer.

THAME/NES (s.) A man's name, an Athenian philosopher who was a good speaker and an excellent politician.

THOSOPHICAL (adj. from the Greek θεος God, and σοφία wisdom) Divinely wise. Cole.

THAPEU'TÆ (s. in church history) An ancient society of christians who were wholly employed in the service of religion.

THAPEU'TES (s. from therapeutæ) One wholly employed in the services of religion.

THAPEU'TIC (adj. from the Greek θεραπευω to heal) Restoring health, curative.

therapeutica (s. from therapeutic) That part of physic which intends the cure of diseases.

therapeutice (s. from therapeutic) That part of physic which intends the cure of diseases.

therapeutics (s. from therapeutic) The therapeutice, that part of physic which intends the cure of diseases.

teraphim (s. a different spelling) The teraphim.

There (adv. from the Sax. thær) In that place, in opposition to this place; at that time, in that place with the degree of emphasis. "There was a man whose name was Job."

There (pron. obsolete) Their, belonging to them. Ch.

thereabout (adv. from there, and about) Near that place, near that number, concerning.

thereabouts (adv. from thereabout, but not so common word) Thereabout. Davies.

thereafter (adv. from there, and after) According to that. Milton.

thereas (adv. obsolete) Whereas. Cbaucer.

thereat (adv. from there, and at) At that, at that place, on that account.

thereby (adv. from there, and by) By that, in consequence of that.

therefore (adv. from there, and fore) For that, for this, in return for this, in consequence.

therefrom (adv. from there, and from) From that, from this.

therein (adv. from there, and in) From that, from this.

thereinto (adv. from there, and into) Into that.

therein (s. in medicine) The oriental manna.

thereof (adv. from there, and of) Of that, of this.

thereon (adv. from there, and on) On that.

thereout (adv. from there, and out) Out of that; without. Cbaucer.

thereto (adv. from there, and to) To that.

thereunder (adv. from there, and under) Under that.

thereunto (adv. from there, and unto) Thereto.

thereupon (adv. from there, and upon) Upon that, in consequence of that, immediately.

therewith (adv. from there, and with) With that, at the same time, immediately.

therewithal (adv. from there, and withal) Over and above, at the same time, with that.

therfro (adv. obsolete) Thence, from them. Chau.

Theriaca (s. from the Greek θηρ a wild beast, and ακεω to cure) A medicine to cure the bite of poisonous animals, treacle.

theriacal (adj. from theriaca) Medicinal; physical, having the virtue of treacle.

theriace (s. in physic) The theriaca, the treacle.

Therivama (s. in surgery) A wide ragged ulcer, the venereal disease, a shanker.

Theriaria (s. in botany) The dyerweed.

Thericles (s.) A man's name, a famous Greek potter.

therine (adv. an old spelling) Therein. Cbaucer.

Therionaria (s. in botany) The name of a shrub.

Thermæ (s. in antiquity) Artificial hot baths among the Romans.

Thermantica (s. with physicians) Medicines to cure heat.

thermantics (s. from thermantica) Medicines to promote heat.

Thermefy (v. t. from the Greek θερμη heat, and the Lat. facio to make, but not used) To heat by eating hot things. Cole.

Thermes (s. from terminus) The busts of men or women set up by the ancients as land-marks; a kind of busts to support an entablature.

Thermid (adj. an old word) Therewith. Cole.

THERMOCANTH'ARUS (s. in the history of insects) The bath fly.

THERMOM'ETER (s. from the Greek θερμη heat, and μετροω to measure) An instrument to ascertain the different degrees of heat.

Thermomet'rical (adj. from thermometer) Belonging to a thermometer, relating to the measure of heat.

THERMOM'ETRON (s. with physicians) The natural heat as measured by the pulse.

THERMOP'OLIST (s. from the Greek θερμη heat, and πωλεω to sell, but not used) One who sells hot things. Co.

THER'MOPOTE (s. from the Greek θερμος hot, and πωω to drink) A drinker of hot liquor. Scott.

THERMOP'YLÆ (s. in geography) A famous range of mountains in Greece.

THER'MOSCOPE (s. from the Greek θερμη heat, and σκοπεω to view) An instrument by which the degrees of heat are discovered.

THERODA'MUS (s.) A man's name, a Scythian king who fed lions with human flesh.

THER'ON (s.) A man's name; one of Adæon's dogs. Ov.

THERSAND'RUS (s.) A man's name, one of the Grecian captains shut up in the Trojan horse.

THERSIL'CHUS (s.) A man's name, the son of Antenor slain at the Trojan war.

THERSI'TES (s.) A man's name, a deformed and ill-bred fellow in the Grecian army. Homer.

Therto (adv. an old spelling) Thereto. Cbaucer.

Ther'ys (s. obsolete) Doves. Cole.

THE'SAURER (s. from the Greek θησαυρος treasure, but not used) A treasurer. Cole.

THE'SAURIZE (v. t. from the Greek θησαυρος treasure, but not used) To treasure up. Bailey.

These (pron. plu. of this) The persons last mentioned, the things last mentioned.

Theseia (s. from Theseus) The feast celebrated in honour of Theseus.

THE'SEUS (s.) A man's name, a famous hero of antiquity.

THESI'DES (s.) A man's name, the son of Theseus.

THE'SIS (s. from the Greek) A position, a proposition laid down.

THESIUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

THESMOPH'ORIA (s. in antiquity) The festivals celebrated in honour of Ceres.

THESMOPH'ORY (s. from the Greek θεσμος a law, and φερω to produce) The act of legislation, the act of making laws.

THES'MOTHETE (s. from the Greek θεσμος a law, and τιθημι to put) A lawgiver. Johnson.

THES'PIS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian poet, the inventor of tragedy.

THESPRO'TI (s. from Thesprotia) The inhabitants of Thesprotia.

THESPRO'TIA (s. in ancient geography) A port of Epirus. Pliny.

Thespro'tian (adj. from Thesprotia) Belonging to Thesprotia.

Thespro'tian (s. from the adj.) An inhabitant of Thesprotia. Ainsworth.

Thessal'ian (adj. from Thessalia) Belonging to Thessaly.

Thessal'ian (s. from the adj.) A native of Thessaly.

Thessal'onian (adj. from Thessalonica) Belonging to Thessalonica.

Thessal'onians (s. from Thessalonian) The inhabitants of Thessalonica; the title of two of Paul's epistles.

THESSALONICA (s. in ancient geography) The metropolis of Macedon.

THES'SALY (s. in ancient geography) A district or province of the ancient Greece.

THESTIA'DÆ (s. in the mythology of the poets) The two sons of Thestius and brothers of Althea.

THESTIA'DES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The fifty daughters of Thestius who were all said to have been gotten with child by Hercules in one night.

THES'TIAS (s.) Althea the daughter of Thestius.

THES'TIUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The father of the fifty daughters mentioned in a foregoing article.

THE'TA (s. from the Greek) The eighth letter of the Greek alphabet, the first letter of the Greek word θανατος death, a note of condemnation.

THET'FORD (s.) The county town of Norfolk; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 80 miles from London.

Thet'ford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thetford, made at Thetford.

THI

Theth'ing (s. an old word) A tithing.
Theth'inga (s. an old word) A tithing.
Theth'ingman (s. an old word) A tithing man. Phil.
Thet'ic (adj. from theta) Belonging to the theta, marked for condemnation. Cole.
THE/TIS (s. in heathen mythology) The daughter of Neptune, a goddess of the sea.
Theu (adv. obsolete) Though. Cole.
THEU/DAS (s.) A man's name. Acts.
THEUE/TIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Theuis (s. obsolete) Thieves. Chaucer.
THE/URGY (s. from the Greek deos, God, and epyon, work) The power of working miracles by means of prayer to God. Johnson.
THEW (s. from the Sax. theaw, but now grown obsolete) Quality, manners, customs; brawn, bulk. Shakspeare.
Thew'ed (adj. from thew, but now grown obsolete) Habituated, accustomed, educated. Spenser.
Thew'is (s. a different spelling) Thews, qualifications, manners. Chaucer.
THEY (pron. from the Sax. this) The men, the women, the persons spoken of before; these men, those women as opposed to others; men, women indefinitely.
THI/BET (s. in geography) One of the most powerful kingdoms of Tartary.
THIB'LE (s. the etymology is not noted) A slice, a scum-mer, a spatula.
THICK (adj. from the Sax. thioce) Opposed to thin, gross, dense; muddy, feculent; large, great in circumference; close, crowded; compact, not easily penetrated; frequent, done with frequent succession.
Thick (s. from the adj.) The thickest part, the time when any thing is thickest.
Thick (adv. from the adj.) Frequently, with quick successions; closely, compactly; to a great depth, with thickness. Thick and threefold, in quick succession, in great numbers. Thick and thin, through all difficulties, whatever is in the way.
Thick'beating (adj. from thick, and beat) Beating in quick succession.
Thick'bodied (adj. from thick, and body) Having a thick body.
Thick'coated (adj. from thick, and coat) Having a thick rind.
Thick'en (v. t. from thick) To make thick, to make close, to concretize, to make frequent, to make numerous, to strengthen, to confirm.
Thick'en (v. int.) To grow thick, to grow muddy, to grow quick, to grow numerous.
Thick'ened (p. from thick'en) Made thick, condensed.
Thick'ening (p. a. from thick) Making thick, condensing.
Thick'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making thick, that which makes thick.
Thick'er (adj. comp. of thick) Thick in a greater degree.
Thick'est (adj. sup. of thick) Thick in the greatest degree.
Thick'et (s. from thick) A close tuft of trees, a close copse, a place overgrown with bushes.
Thick'eyed (adj. from thick, and eye) Dim-sighted.
Thick'headed (adj. from thick, and head) Having a thick head, having a head as a tree thick set with branches; dull, stupid.
Thick'ish (adj. from thick) Somewhat thick.
Thick'leaved (adj. from thick, and leaf) Having thick leaves.
Thick'legged (adj. from thick, and leg) Having great legs.
Thick'lippped (adj. from thick, and lip) Having thick lips.
Thick'ly (adv. from thick) Deeply, to a great degree, to a great quantity.
Thick'necked (adj. from thick, and neck) Having a thick neck.
Thick'neis (s. from thick) The state of being thick.
Thick'planted (adj. from thick, and planted) Planted thick together.
Thick'scull (s. from thick, and scull) A dull stupid fellow.
Thick'scull'd (adj. from thick'scull) Dull, stupid.
Thick'set (adj. from thick, and set) Close planted.
Thick'set (s. in commerce) A kind of ribbed stuff.
Thick'skin (s. from thick, and skin) A coarse fellow; a blockhead.
Thick'sown (adj. from thick, and sown) Thickly sown.
Thick'spread (adj. from thick, and spread) Thickly spread.
Thick'sprung (adj. from thick, and sprung) Sprung up close to each other. Dryden.

THI

Thick'stuff (s. a sea term) A thick kind of timber used in framing to strengthen a joint.
THIEF (s. from the Sax. theif) One who clandestinely takes away another man's property; an excrement in the snuff of a candle.
Thief'catcher (s. from thief, and catch) One who makes it his business to discover thieves and bring them to justice.
Thief'leader (s. from thief, and lead) A thiefcatcher.
Thief'taker (s. from thief, and take) A thiefcatcher.
Thieve (v. int. from thief) To practice thievery.
Thievery (s. from thieve) The practice of stealing; that which is stolen.
Thiev'ing (p. v. from thieve) Practicing thievery.
Thiev'ing (s. from the part.) The practice of thievery.
Thiev'ish (adj. from thieve) Addicted to thievery; craft, sly.
Thiev'ishly (adv. from thiev'ish) In a thievish manner, with thievery.
Thiev'ishness (s. from thiev'ish) A habit of stealing, inclination to thievery.
THIGH (s. from the Sax. theoh) That part which extends from the buttock to the knee.
Thigh (v. t. from the sub. with carvers) To cut up a pigeon or woodcock.
Thigh'bone (s. from thigh, and bone) The bone of the thigh, it is the longest bone in the body.
Thigh'ed (s. in carving, from thigh) Cut up as a pigeon or woodcock.
Thigh'ing (p. a. from thigh) Cutting up as a pigeon or woodcock.
Thight (adj. an old word) Tight, well jointed. Phil.
Thike (adj. an old spelling) Thick. Chaucer.
Thik (pron. obsolete) That, the same. Chaucer.
Thike (pron. obsolete) That, the same. Spenser.
THILL (s. from the Sax. thille) The shafts of a cart or waggon.
Thiller (s. from thill) The horse that draws in the shafts.
Thill'horse (s. from thill, and horse) The thiller, the horse that draws in the shafts.
THIM'BLE (s. of doubtful etymology) A metal cover to defend the finger in sewing.
Thim'ble (s. a sea term) A kind of ring having the outward circumference made hollow to receive rope.
THIME (s. in botany, from the Lat. thymus, but not correct a spelling) Thyme, a fragrant herb.
THIN (adj. from the Sax. thinna) Opposed to thick, dilated; uncompact, having large spaces between small, slender; lean, slim.
Thin (adv. from the adj.) Thinly.
Thin (v. t. from the adj.) To attenuate, to rarify, to make more volatile.
Thin'bodied (adj. from thin, and body) Having a thin body; weak, having no great strength.
Thin'clad (adj. from thin, and clad) Thinly clothed.
THINE (pron. from the Sax. thin) Belonging to thee, thy before a vowel; belonging to thee, thy without a substantive. "Glorify thine own name." "Thine."
THING (s. from the Sax.) Any kind of matter, any kind of being distinguished from a person; any matter of production in contempt; a person in contempt; a person in honour: "That holy thing which was born of her." "Thou noble thing." Shakspeare.
Thing'um (s. a silly cant word) Such an one. "The Thingum." Shakspeare.
THING'US (s. from the Sax. an old word) A thane, a nobleman.
Thin'lippped (adj. from thin, and lip) Having thin lips.
THINK (v. int. from the Sax. thencean) To employ the thoughts, to have ideas, to perform any mental operation; to judge, to conclude, to determine; to intend, to design; to imagine, to fancy; to muse, to meditate; to recollect, to observe; to hesitate, to doubt.
Think (v. t.) To imagine, to conceive; to believe, to esteem; To think much, or much of, to grudge, to think light of, to despise, to disregard. To think just, to disdain; but this construction is nearly obsolete. Johnson.
Think'e (v. int. obsolete) To seem.
Think'er (s. from think) One that thinks, one who thinks in a particular manner.
Think'ing (p. a. from think) Employing the thoughts, imagining.
Think'ing (s. from the part.) Judgment, imagination, opinion, cogitation.
Thin'ly (adv. from thin) With large distances between in a small degree. Thinly.

THI

ned (p. from thin) Made thin.
 ner (adj. comp. of thin) Thin in a greater degree.
 ness (s. from thin) The state of being thin.
 nest (adj. from thin) Thin in the greatest degree.
 ning (p. a. from thin) Making thin.
 ning (s. from the part.) The act of making thin.
 tha (s. a different feeling) The theorba. D. of A.
 th (adj. from the Sax. thridd) Next after the second.
 th (s. from the adj.) The next after the second, the third part; an interval in music; the sixtieth part of a second of time. Holder.
 thorough (s. from third, and borough) An under officer, the deputy to the constable.
 thorough (s. a different spelling) A third borough.
 thearing (s. in agriculture) A third crop on the same ground; the third ploughing.
 thendal (s. an old sword) A liquid measure containing about three pints.
 things (s. from third) The third part of the grain which goes to the lord on the death of a tenant.
 thly (adv. from third) In the third place.
 thpenny (s. a law term) The third part of the fines arising from law suits.
 thpoint (s. in architecture) The vertex of an arch meeting either of two curves or two right lines.
 thRL (v. t. from the Sax. thirlan) To pierce, to perforate. Ainsworth.
 th (v. t. obsolete) To pierce, to stab. Chaucer.
 th (p. from thirl, but not much used) Pierced, perforated.
 thing (p. a. from thirl, but not much used) Piercing, perforating.
 thsk (s.) A borough town in the North Riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Monday, sends two members to parliament, and is 220 miles from London.
 thsk (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thirsk, made Thirsk.
 thST (s. from the Sax. thyrt) The pain suffered for want of drink, the want of drink; eagerness, vehement desire.
 th (v. int. from the sub.) To feel the want of drink, to be thirsty; to have a vehement desire; with for, and after: as, "My soul thirsteth for the living God." Blessed are they that thirst after righteousness.
 th (v. t.) To want to drink. Prior.
 thier (adj. comp. of thirsty) Thirsty in a greater degree.
 thiest (adj. sup. of thirsty, but not much used) Thirsty in the greatest degree.
 thiness (s. from thirsty) The state of being thirsty.
 thing (p. a. from thirst) Feeling the want of drink, thirsting greatly.
 thing (s. from the part.) The desire of drinking, a vehement desire.
 thly (adj. from thirst) Suffering the want of drink, thirsting for want of drink; having a vehement desire.
 threen (adj. from three, and ten) Ten and three.
 threen (s. from the adj.) The number three and ten, thirteen persons, thirteen things.
 threen (adj. from thirteen) Next above twelve.
 threen (s. from the adj.) The next above twelve, the part in thirteen.
 thirtieth (adj. from thirty) Next above the twenty-ninth.
 thirtieth (s. from the adj.) The next to the twenty-ninth, one part in thirty.
 thIRTY (adj. from the Sax. thrittig) Twenty and ten.
 thirty (s. from the adj.) The number twenty and ten; thirty persons, thirty things (spoken of before).
 thIS (pron. from the Sax.) Nearest at hand, mentioned first, distinguished from the other; opposed to that; the thing proposed; the present time.
 thISBE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of a beautiful young lady; she was courted by Pyramus, and the mutual passion which subsisted between them from their cradle, had, as the poets relate, a most affecting and tragical issue.
 thISTLE (s. from the Sax. thistel) The name of a plant, a prickly weed which frequently grows in corn fields; an order of knighthood. thistle (s. from thistle, and take) A tax of one penny heretofore paid in some manors for every head of cattle driven over and suffered to graze, though it were but a thistle, on a common; the sum of a penny paid to the lord for every (wine of a year old killed by a cottager). Phillips.

THO

Thistly (adj. from thistle) Overgrown with thistles.
 THITHER (adv. from the Sax. hither) To that place, in opposition to hither; to that end, to that point.
 Thitherto (adv. from thither, and to) To that end, so far.
 Thith'erward (adv. from thither, and ward) Towards that place.
 Thiv'el (s. a local word) A thible. Bailey.
 THLAP'SI (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 THLIP'SIS (s. from the Greek) A pressure on the vessels of a human body; affliction, trouble.
 THNETOP'SYCHITES (s. in church history, from the Greek θνῆτος dead, and ψυχή the soul) A sect who held that the soul died with the body.
 Tho (adv. a contraction not much used of late) Though.
 Tho (adv. obsolete) Then. Spenser.
 Tho (pron. obsolete) Those. Chaucer.
 THO'AS (s.) A man's name, the son of Bacchus and Ariadne.
 Tho'forth (adv. obsolete) Thenceforth. Chaucer.
 Thokes (s. an old word) Fish with broken bellies. Phil.
 THOLE (v. int. the derivation is not noted) To wait a while. Ainsworth.
 Thole (v. int. obsolete) To suffer. Chaucer.
 Thole (s. a sea term) One of the pins driven into the edge of a boat to keep the oar steady.
 Tholled (adj. a local word) Suffered. Bailey.
 Tholling (p. a. from thole, not much used) Waiting a while.
 THO'LUS (s. in architecture) The roof of a temple, the centre or knot in the middle of an arched roof, the cupola of a public hall.
 THO'LUS (s. in surgery) A kind of bandage.
 THOMÆ'ANS (s. in church history) A people of the east whose ancestors were said to have received the gospel from Thomas the Apostle.
 THOM'AS (s.) A man's name.
 Thombe (s. obsolete) A ring worn on the thumb. Chau.
 Thome'ans (s.) The Thomæans.
 Thomism (s. from Thomas) The doctrines of Thomas Aquinas a school divine.
 Thomist (s. from Thomas) A follower of Thomas Aquinas who held the doctrines of predestination and effectual grace, a kind of Calvinist.
 THOMY'RIS (s.) The name of a woman, a queen of the Scythians, who subdued the army of Cyrus, cut off his head and threw it into a vessel of blood.
 Thon'der (s. an old spelling) Thunder. Chaucer.
 Thon'dering (s. obsolete) Thunder. Chaucer.
 Thon'dering (p. obsolete) Thundering. Chaucer.
 Thone (adj. a local word) Damp, moist. Bailey.
 THONG (s. from the Sax.) A strap of leather, a string of leather.
 Thonke (s. obsolete) Favour. Chaucer.
 THOR (s. from the Sax.) The name of an idol worshipped by the Teutones and other northern nations.
 THO'RA (s. in botany) The wolfsbane.
 Thorach'ique (adj. an old spelling) Thoracic. Cole.
 Thorac'ic (adj. from thorax) Belonging to the breast.
 THORA'CICA (s. from thorax) Medicines good in disorders of the breast.
 THORA'CICA (s. in anatomy) A branch of the subclavian vein.
 THORA'CICUS (s. in anatomy) A duct which conveys the chyle and lymph to the thorax and thence by the veins to the heart.
 THO'RAL (adj. from the Lat. thorax a bed) Belonging to the bed. Ascham.
 Tho'ral (adj. in palmistry) Belonging to the line of Venus.
 Tho'ral (s. from the adj.) The line of Venus.
 THO'RAX (s. in anatomy, from the Greek) The breast, the chest.
 Thore (adv. an old word) Before. Cole.
 THORE (s. in architecture) The torus. Phillips.
 THOREX'IS (s. from the Greek) The act of drinking a generous wine to warm and strengthen the breast.
 THORN (s. from the Sax.) The name of a well known prickly shrub; a prickle growing on the thornbush; any thing stimulating, any thing troublesome and vexatious.
 Thorn'apple (s. from thorn, and apple) The name of a plant.
 Thorn'back (s. in ichthyology) The name of a sea-fish.
 THORN'BURY (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 119 miles from London.
 Thorn'bury (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thornbury, made at Thornbury.
 Thorn'bush (s. from thorn, and bush) The thorn.
 Thorn'but (s. in ichthyology) A burt, a turbot. Ainsw.
 THORNE

THO

THORNE (s.) A town in Yorkshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 167 miles from London.
Thorne (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thorne, made at Thorne.
Thorn/hedge (s. from thorn, and hedge) A fence or hedge of thorn.
Thorn/ier (adj. comp. of thorny) Thorny in a greater degree.
Thorn/iest (adj. sup. of thorny) Thorny in the greatest degree.
Thorn/y (adj. from thorn) Full of thorns, rough, prickly; difficult, vexatious.
THOR/OUGH (adj. from the Sax. thrun) Complete, full, perfect, passing through.
THOR/OUGH (prep. from the Sax. thrun) By way of penetration, by means of; through.
Thor/oughbass (s. from thorough, and bass) That part in which tones pass through and fill up the music.
Thor/oughfare (s. from thorough, and fare) A passage through, a passage without any stop.
Thor/oughlighted (adj. from thorough, and lighted) Having windows at each end.
Thor/oughly (adv. from thorough) Fully, completely.
Thor/oughpaced (adj. from thorough, and pace) Perfect in what is undertaken, complete generally in a bad sense.
Thor/oughsped (adj. from thorough, and sped) Perfect in what is undertaken, thoroughpaced.
Thor/oughstitch (adv. from thorough, and stitch) Completely, fully. IEstrange.
Thor/oughtoll (s. from thorough, and toll) A duty formerly paid to the earl of Richmond.
Thor/oughwax (s. in botany) The name of an herb supposed to be good in ruptures.
Thor/ow (adj. a different spelling) Thorough. Cole.
Thor/owtoll (s. a different spelling) The thoroughtoll. Co.
Thorpe (s. obsolete) A village. Cbaucer.
Thor/ruck (s. an old word) A heap. Cole.
Thor/ruke (prep. obsolete) Through. Lidgate.
Thor/ruke (s. obsolete) A thoroughfare. Cbaucer.
Thor/uk (s. an old word) A heap. Bailey.
THOS (s. in zoology) The lynx.
Those (pron. plu. of that) Most distant of two companies mentioned before, most distant of any two parcels of things mentioned before; the farthest off of two companies, the first mentioned parcel of things.
THOU (pron. from the Sax. used now only in familiar or in very solemn style) The person addressed, the person spoken to by another.
Thou (v. t. from the pron.) To treat with familiarity, to address in disrespectful language. Shakespeare.
Thou'ed (p. from thou) Treated with familiarity, addressed in plain or disrespectful language.
THOUGH (conj. from the Sax. theah) Although, notwithstanding; however, yet. As though, as if.
Thought (v. t. pret. of think) Did think.
Thought (p. from think) Supposed, imagined.
Thought (s. from the part.) The act of thinking, the operation of the mind; an idea, an image formed in the mind; sentiment, opinion; conception, imagination; meditation, contemplation; solicitude, concern; a small degree, a small quantity. Swift.
Thought/ful (adj. from thought) Full of thought, contemplative; attentive, careful; anxious, solicitous.
Thought/fully (adv. from thoughtful) With thoughtfulness, with solicitude.
Thought/fulness (s. from thoughtful) Deep meditation, solicitude.
Thought/less (adj. from thought) Void of thought, negligent, careless; stupid, dull.
Thought/lessly (adv. from thoughtless) Without thought, carelessly, stupidly.
Thought/lessness (s. from thoughtless) The want of thought, the absence of thought.
Thoughts (s. a sea term) The seats in a boat on which the rowers sit.
Thought/sick (adj. from thought, and sick) Uneasy with reflection.
Thought/y (adj. obsolete) Thoughtful, full of thought. Ch.
Thou'ing (p. a. from thou) Treating with familiarity, addressing in plain or disrespectful language. Cole.
THOU'URY (s. a different spelling) Theurgy. Cole.
THOU'SAND (adj. from the Sax. thusend) Ten hundred.
Thou/sand (s. from the adj.) The number ten hundred, ten hundred persons, ten hundred things; a number indefinitely large.
Thou/sandth (adj. from thousand) Next to the nine hundred and ninety-ninth.
Thou/sandth (s. from the adj.) The next to the nine hundred and ninety-ninth, one part in a thousand.

THR

Thowl (s. a sea term) The pin or piece of timber which an oar is kept steady in rowing.
THRACE (s. in geography) A province of the ancient Greece.
THRA/CIA (s. in geography) Thrace.
Thra/cian (adj. from Thracia) Belonging to Thracia, born at Thrace.
Thra/cian (s. from the adj.) A native of Thrace.
Thrack/scot (s. with chymists) Metal in the mine.
Thra/ges (s. obsolete) Busy matters. Chaucer.
Thraile (s. obsolete) A slave, a servant. Chaucer.
Thral/dom (s. from thral) Slavery, servitude.
THRALL (s. from the Sax. thræl) Bondage, slavery; slave, one who is in the power of another.
Thral (v. t. from the sub.) To enslave, to bring into the power of another. Shakespeare.
Thralldom (s. not so common a spelling) Thralldom.
Thraile (s. obsolete) A slave, a servant. Chaucer.
Thralld (p. from thral) Enslaved, brought under the power of another; with to: as, "The Author of nature is not thralled to the laws of nature." Drummond.
Thral/ing (p. a. from thral) Enslaving, bringing into bondage.
THRAP/PLE (s. in the Scotch dialect) The wind pipe of an animal.
THRAP/STON (s.) A town in Northamptonshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 73 miles from London.
Thrap/ston (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Thrapston, made at Thrapston.
THRAS/CIAS (s.) The northwest wind, so called by the ancients because it blew from Thrace.
THRA/SEA (s.) A man's name; a Roman senator who was a great advocate for civil liberty.
THRA/SEUS (s.) A man's name, a noted soothsayer.
THRASH (v. t. from the Sax. tharshian) To beat corn free it from the straw; to beat, to drub.
Thra/h (v. int.) To labour, to drudge at any thing.
Thra/h'ed (p. from thra/h) Beaten as corn out of sheaves, beaten, drubbed.
Thra/h'er (s. from thra/h) One that thrashes, one employed in thrashing corn.
Thra/h'er (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish remarkable for its enmity against the whale.
Thra/h'el (s. from thra/h) The instrument with which corn is thrashed.
Thra/h'ing (p. a. from thra/h) Beating out corn; beating, drubbing.
Thra/h'ing (s. from the part.) The act of clearing corn from the straw by beating it.
Thra/h'ingfloor (s. from thrashing, and floor) The floor on which corn is thrashed.
THRA/SO (s.) The name of a man, a blustering fellow in Terence.
Thra/sical (adj. from Thrafo) Boasting, ostentatious.
Thraft (p. obsolete) Thrust, crowded. Chaucer.
THRASYB/ULUS (s.) A man's name, a celebrated Athenian.
THRAVE (s. from the Sax. thraf) Twenty-four sheaves, twelve sheaves.
THRAVE (s. from the Sax. thraf, but now grown obsolete) A herd, a drove. Chaucer.
Thre (adj. an old spelling) Three.
THREAD (s. from the Sax. thræd) A small line, a fine twist; any thing continued in a regular course, a uniform tenor.
Thread (v. t. from the sub.) To put thread into a needle, to string on a thread; to pierce through.
Thread/bare (adj. from thread, and bare) Worn down to the threads, shabby, nearly worn out; hackneyed, trite.
Thread/dle (v. t. from thread) To thread.
Thread/ded (p. from thread) Furnished as a needle with thread, string upon a thread, passed through with a thread.
Thread/en (adj. from thread) Made of thread.
Thread/ing (p. a. from thread) Putting thread into a needle, passing through with a thread.
Thread/ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting thread into a needle.
Thread/lace (s. from thread, and lace) Lace made of thread.
Threap (v. t. a local word) To affirm positively, to contend, to argue. Airfour.
Threat (v. t. from threaten, used chiefly by the poets) To threaten.
Threat (s. from the verb) A menace, a threatening.
THREAT/EN (v. t. from the Sax. threatian) To menace, to terrify by threats.
Threat/ened (p. from threaten) Menaced, terrified by threats.
Threat'ener (s. from threaten) One who threatens. Threat'ener.

T H R

Menacing (p. a. from threaten) Menacing, terrifying threats.
 Menacing (s. from the part.) The act of terrifying by threats.
 Menacingly (adv. from threatening) In a threatening manner.
 Menacingful (adj. from threat) Full of threats.
 Thrave (s. a different spelling) A thrave. DiEt. of Arts.
 Thrice (adj. from the Sax. thrice) Two and one.
 Thrice (s. from the adj.) The number two and one; three things; the three persons in the God-head.
 Threecornered (adj. from three, and corner) Having three corners.
 Threecord (adj. from three, and cord) Consisting of three, repeated.
 Threecornered (adj. from three, and head) Having three heads.
 Threecornered (adj. from three, and leaf) Having three leaves.
 Threecornered (adj. from three, and leg) Having three legs.
 Threepence (s. from three, and pence) A small silver coin valued at a penny thrice told; a penny thrice told.
 Threepenny (adj. from three, and penny) Having the value of threepence; mean, vulgar. Johnson.
 Threepile (s. in commerce) A kind of stout velvet.
 Threepiled (adj. from threepile) Set with a thick pile; piled one upon another.
 Threescore (adj. from three, and score) Sixty, twenty times repeated.
 Threescore (s. from the adj.) The number sixty, sixty times repeated.
 Threesquare (adj. from three, and square) Having three square corners.
 Threewheeled (adj. from three, and wheel) Having three wheels.
 Thrive (v. t. obsolete) To thrust. Chaucer.
 Thrive, Thre'mote (s. obsolete) The blast of a horn. Chaucer.
 Threne (s. from the Greek, but not used) Lamentation. Cole.
 Threnick (adj. from threne, but not used) Mournful. Cole.
 Threnodia (s. from the Greek θρηνω lamentation, and an ode) A funeral song.
 Threnody (s. from threnodia) A song of lamentation.
 Thrive (v. t. a local word) To affirm positively, to stand for, to argue, to blame, to rebuke. Cole.
 Thrive (v. t. not so correct a spelling) To thrash.
 Thrive (p. from thrash) Thrashed.
 Thrive (s. a different spelling) The instrument with which corn is thrashed.
 Thrive (s. from thrash) A thrasher, one that thrashes; a thrasher, the name of a fish.
 Thriving (p. a. from thrash) Thrashing.
 Thriving (s. from the part.) The act of thrashing.
 Thriving floor (s. from thrashing, and floor) The floor on which corn is thrashed.
 Threshold (s. from the Sax. threswaid) The step before a door, the ground under a door; the entrance into a house; a gate, a door; the beginning of a court, an entrance.
 Thrive (v. int. obsolete) To thirst, to thrust, to press forward. Chaucer.
 Thrive (v. t. an old spelling) To threaten, to threaten. Ch.
 Thrive (v. t. pret. of throw) Did throw.
 Thrive (s. from the verb) A throw, a sudden cast. Cole.
 Thrive (adv. from three) At three times, with three repetitions; very, eminently. "Thrice noble Lord."
 Thre'echus (s. in zoology) The sea cow.
 Thrive (v. t. from thread) To slide through a narrow passage. Pope.
 Thrive (s. a different spelling) A third borough. Cole.
 Thrive (v. t. obsolete) To pass through, to thread. Ch.
 Thrive (p. from thrid, but not much used) Threaded, threaded through.
 Thrive (v. a. from thrid, but not used) Threading, threading through.
 Thrive (adj. an old spelling) Three. Chaucer.
 Thrive (adv. an old spelling) Thrice. Chaucer.
 Thrive (v. int. an old word) To thrive. Cole.
 Thrive (s. from thrive) A state of growth, profit, gain; simony, frugality; prudence, discretion. Chau.
 Thrive (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Thrive (adj. comp. of thrifty) Thrifty in a greater degree.
 Thrive (adj. sup. of thrifty) Thrifty in the greatest degree.
 Thrive (adv. from thrifty) Frugally, parsimoniously.
 Thrive (s. from thrifty) Frugality, parsimony; a state of promising growth.

T H R

Thriftless (adj. from thrift) Profuse, extravagant. Sp.
 Thriftily (adj. from thrift) Frugal, sparing, well husbanded; having a promising appearance for growth.
 Thrill (v. t. from the Sax. thrilia) To pierce, to bore, to penetrate.
 Thrill (v. int.) To feel a tingling sensation, to pass with a tingling sensation.
 Thrilliant (adj. from thrill) Piercing. Spenser.
 Thrilled (p. from thrill) Pierced, bored; thrust through. Chaucer.
 Thrilling (p. a. from thrill) Piercing, boring, penetrating.
 Thrilling (s. from the part.) The act or operation of piercing; a sharp tingling sensation.
 Thrimsa (s.) An old coin valued at three shillings.
 Thring (v. int. an old word) To thirst. Bailey.
 Thringe (v. t. obsolete) To thrust, to throng, to crowd. Chaucer.
 Thrip (v. t. a local word) To beat. Bailey.
 Thrip (s. a different spelling) The crooked piece that comes over the wheel in an ox team.
 Thrip (s. a local word) To beat. Cole.
 THRIPIPLE (s. with wheelwrights) The crooked piece of timber that projects over the wheel in an ox team.
 THRIPT (s. in the history of insects) A little worm that breeds in timber.
 Thrift (v. t. pret. obsolete) Did thrust. Chaucer.
 Thriftid (v. t. pret. obsolete) Thrifted, did thrift. Chau.
 Thrithing (s. an old spelling) A tithing; a third part of a county; the court held in a tithing, a court leet.
 Thrithingreeve (s. from thrithing, and reeve) The governor of a thrithing. Scott.
 THRIVE (v. int. the etymology is doubtful) To prosper, to grow, to become rich.
 Thrived (v. int. pret. of thrive, but not so much used) Thrive; did thrive.
 Thriven (v. int. participial form, from thrive) To have prospered, to have grown. "They have thriven and prospered."
 Thriven (p. from thrive) Grown, increased, become rich. "The thriven calves in meads their food forsake." Dryden.
 Thriven (s. from thrive) One that thrives, one that grows rich.
 Thriving (p. a. from thrive) Prospering, growing fat, growing rich.
 Thriving (s. from the part.) The act or circumstance of coming forward in growth or substance.
 Thrivingly (adv. from thriving) In a prosperous way. Johnson.
 Thro (prep. a barbarous and unnecessary contraction of) Through. Dryden.
 THROAT (s. from the Sax. throte) The forepart of the neck, the common passage from the mouth to the lungs and intestines; the main road of any place, that part of an instrument through which any thing has a constant passage. To cut the throat, to murder.
 Throatpipe (s. from throat, and pipe) The windpipe.
 Throatwort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 THROB (v. int. the etymology is uncertain) To heave, to beat, to palpitate, to rise as the breast with sorrow.
 Throb (s. from the verb) A heave, a beat, a stroke of palpitation.
 Throbbing (p. a. from throb) Beating, heaving, palpitating.
 Throbbing (s. from the part.) The act of heaving, a palpitation, the rising of the breast with sorrow.
 Throdden (v. int. a local word) To thrive, to grow. Ba.
 THROE (s. from the Sax. throvian) A throw, the pain of child birth; any extreme agony.
 Throe (v. t. from the sub.) To put in agonies. Shakesp.
 Throft (p. int. an old preter.) Did thrive. Chaucer.
 THROMBASIS (s. from the Greek) A disease of the breast which makes the milk curdle.
 THROMBOS (s. from the Greek) A lump, a clot; a small swelling in the arm after blood letting.
 THRONE (s. from the Greek θρονος) The seat of a king, a royal seat; the seat of a bishop.
 Throne (v. t. from the sub.) To enthrone, to set on a throne.
 Throned (p. from throne) Set on a throne.
 THRONG (s. from the Sax. thrang) A crowd, a multitude pressing one against another in order to see or hear.
 Throng (v. t. from the sub.) To press upon with numbers, to incommode with a crowd of people.
 Thronged (p. from throng) Pressed with a multitude, filled with numbers, incommoded with a crowd of people.
 Thronging

THR

Throng'ing (p. a. from throng) Crowding, filling with numbers, incommoding with a multitude.
Throng'ing (s. from the part.) The act of crowding together.
Thro'ning (p. a. from throne) Setting on a throne.
Thro'ning (s. from the part.) The act of setting on a throne.
Throp (s. obsolete) A village. Chaucer.
Throp (s. a local word) A fish. Chaucer.
Throp'is (s. plu. obsolete) Villages. Chaucer.
Throp'ple (v. t. corrupted from throttle) To throttle, to strangle. Scott.
Throp'ple (s. a local word) The windpipe. Cole.
Throp'pled (p. from thropple, but not used) Throttled, strangled.
Throp'pling (p. a. from thropple, not used) Throttling, strangling.
Thros'ter (s. an old word) A quail. Cole.
Thros'til (s. a different spelling) The throttle. Walton.
Thros'tilcock (s. obsolete) A thrush. Chaucer.
Thros'tle (s. in ornithology) The thrush.
Throt (s. an old spelling) The throat. Chaucer.
Throt'tle (v. t. from throat) To strangle, to kill by stopping the breath. Swift.
Throt'tle (s. from the verb) The windpipe.
Throt'tled (p. from throttle) Strangled, choaked, killed by having the breath stopped.
Throt'tling (p. a. from throttle) Strangling, choaking.
Throt'tling (s. from the part.) The act of strangling.
Throve (v. int. pret. of thrive) Did thrive.
THROUGH (prep. from the Sax. thruh) From end to end, by transmission; by means of.
Through (adv. from the prep.) From one side to the other, to the end.
Through'bred (adj. from through, and bred) Thorough bred, completely educated.
Through'girt (adj. obsolete) Pierced through, stabbed. Ch.
Through'lighted (adj. from through, and lighted) Lighted on both sides.
Throughout (adv. from through, and out) Quite through, in every part.
Through'paced (adj. from through, and pace) Thorough paced. Scott.
Through'wax (s. in botany) The thoroughwax, the name of an herb.
THROW (v. t. from the Sax. throwan) To fling, to cast; to toss, to put out of hand with haste or violence; to strip off, to cast off; to lay in haste, to lay without care; to drive, to send by force; to bring to the ground, to overturn in wrestling; to cast out, to emit; to repose, to rest upon; to turn in a lathe, to form by turning in a lathe; but this sense is local. To throw away, to lose, to spend in waste; to reject. To throw by, to lay aside, to reject. To throw down, to overturn, to subvert. To throw off, to expel, to reject. To throw out, to emit, to exert, to leave behind; to eject, to expel; to reject, to exclude. To throw up, to resign; to emit, to cast up, to bring up.
Throw (v. int.) To perform the act of throwing, to cast dice. To throw about, to try expedients.
Throw (s. from the verb) The act of throwing, a cast, a cast of the dice, the space to which any thing is thrown; a stroke, a blow; an effort, a violent tally; a throe, an agony of childbirth.
Throw (s. obsolete) Anger, haste. Cole.
Throve (s. an old spelling) A cast, a stroke, a blow. Chau.
Throve (p. an old spelling) Thrown. Chaucer.
Throw'er (s. from throw) One who throws; a twifter of silk.
Throw'ing (p. a. from throw) Casting, tossing, turning.
Throw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of casting.
Thrown (p. from throw) Cast, tossed; wound, twisted as silk.
Throw'fter (s. from throw) One whose business is to twist silk, one who winds silk.
Thruht (p. a local word) Thruft. Bailey.
Thruh (prep. obsolete) Through. Chaucer.
THRUM (s. from the Islandick thraum) The ends of weavers threads; any coarse yarn.
Thrum (v. t.) To grate, to play unskillfully on an instrument of music.
Thrum'med (p. from thrum) Played coarsely.
Thrum'ming (p. a. from thrum) Playing coarsely on a musical instrument.
Thrum'ming (s. from the part.) The act of playing coarsely on a musical instrument.
THRUSH (s. in ornithology) The name of a well known bird.
Thrush (s. probably from thrust) The round superficial ulcerations which frequently affect the mouth of infant, and sometimes extend to every part of alimentary duct.

THU

THRUST (v. t. from the Lat. trufito) To push, to move with violence; to push any thing into man to stab, to pierce; to compress, to compel; to trude.
Thrust (v. int.) to make a hostile push, to squeeze, to assault with a pointed weapon; to push forward to intrude.
Thrust (v. t. pret. of the verb) Did thrust.
Thrust (p. from the verb) Pushed, stabbed, compelled, impelled.
Thrust (s. from the verb) An hostile attack with a pointed weapon, an assault, an attack.
Thrust (s. obsolete) Thirst.
Thrust'er (s. from thrust) One who thrusts.
Thrustes (s. obsolete) Thirst.
Thrust'ing (p. a. from thrust) Assaulting with a pointed weapon, pushing, impelling.
Thrust'ing (s. from the adj.) The act of assaulting with a pointed weapon, the act of impelling.
Thrust'ing (p. a. obsolete) Thirsting.
Thrust'le (s. from thrush) The thrush.
Thrusty (adj. obsolete) Thirsty.
THRYA/LIS (s. in botany) The rosecampan.
Thrye (adv. obsolete) Thrice.
Thry'fallow (v. t. from thrice, and fallow) To give third plowing in summer.
Thry'fallowed (p. from thryfallow) Ploughed a third time in summer.
Thry'fallowing (p. a. from thryfallow) Ploughing a third time in summer.
Thry'fallowing (s. from the part.) The act of ploughing a third time.
Thryis (s. Thrys adv. obsolete) Thrice. Chau.
Thry'on (s. in botany) The nightshade.
THUCYDIDES (s.) A man's name, a celebrated Athenian historian.
THU'LE (s. in old geography) The name of a north island which the old poets supposed to have been the farthest part of the world.
THUMB (s. from the Sax. thuma) The short finger of the hand.
Thumb (v. t. from the sub.) To handle awkwardly.
Thumb'band (s. from thumb, and band) A twist of thing made thick as a man's thumb.
Thumb'ed (p. from thumb) Handled awkwardly.
Thumb'ing (p. a. from thumb) Handling awkwardly.
Thumbs'breadth (s. from thumb, and breadth) Breadth of the thumb, an inch in measure.
Thumb'stall (s. from thumb, and stall) A thimble sheath of leather to put on the thumb.
THUM'MIM (s. from the Heb. signifying perfection) apparatus of the breast plate worn by the Jewish priests.
THUMP (s. from the Italian thumb) A hard death blow, a blow with something blunt.
Thump (v. t. from the sub.) To beat with dull blows.
Thump (v. int.) To fall or strike with a dull heavy blow.
Thump'ed (p. from thump) Beaten with dull blows.
Thump'er (s. from thump) The person that thumps, thing that thumps.
Thump'ing (p. a. from thump) Beating with a heavy blow.
Thump'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating with a heavy blow; the sound of dull heavy blows.
THUNDER (s. from the Sax.) A sudden discharge of sulphureous matter collected in the air, a loud blinding noise occasioned by a discharge of sulphureous matter collected in a cloud; a loud noise, a sudden multuous noise.
Thun'der (v. int. from the sub.) To discharge sulphureous matter from a cloud; to make a loud, sudden, terrible noise.
Thun'der (v. t.) To emit with noise and terror, publish a threat, to denounce with vengeance.
Thun'derbolt (s. from thunder, and bolt) The flame discharged from a cloud in thunder, lightning, the arrows of heaven; a fulmination, a denunciation of vengeance.
Thun'derclap (s. from thunder, and clap) An explosion of thunder.
Thun'dered (p. from thunder) Emitted with noise, terror, published as a denunciation of vengeance.
Thun'derer (s. from thunder) The power that produces thunder.
Thun'dering (p. a. from thunder) Discharging matter from the clouds, making a loud noise ouncing threats.

dering (s. from th part.) The emission of thunder, act of denouncing vengeance, a loud and sudden e of terror.

deringbarrel (s. from thundering, and barrel) A el filled with grenades or other combustibles to rolled down a breach to annoy the enemy.

deringly (adv. from thundering) After the mandering of thunder, with a loud and sudden noise. Scott.
derous (adj. from thunder) Producing thun-Milton.

derhower (s. from thunder, and shower) A hasty accompanied with thunder.

derstone (s. from thunder, and stone) A thunder a stone supposed to have been emitted by der.

derstorm (s. from thunder, and storm) A thunder ver, a gust of thunder.

derstrike (v. t. from thunder, and strike) To strike lightening. Johnson.

derstricken (p. from thunderstrike) Struck with der, struck with lightning.

derstruck (p. from thunderstrike) Struck with der, blasted with lightning.

INUS (s. in ichthyology) The tunny.

IBULUM (s. from the Lat.) A censor, a pot to incense in.

IFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. thus frankincense, fero to bear) Bearing frankincense.

ILEGIOUS (adj. from the Lat. thus frankincense, lego to gather) Gathering frankincense. Scott.

day (s. from thor, and day) The fifth day of the week.

dayevening (s. from Thursday, and evening) The ing of a Thursday.

daymorning (s. from Thursday, and morning) morning of a Thursday.

daynight (s. from Thursday, and night) The t of a Thursday.

elouse (s. from thor, and louse) The name of an
A.

(s. from the Lat.) Frankincense, incense.
(adv. from the Sax.) In this manner, to this deto this quantity.

far (adv. from thus, and far) To this place, to degree, to this quantity.

much (adv. from thus, and much) To this quan-
to this degree.

ACK (v. t. from the Sax. thaccian) To strike with thing dull and heavy, to beat, to bang.

ck (s. from the verb) A heavy hard blow.

cked (p. from thwack) Beaten, banged.

cking (p. a. from thwack) Beating, banging.

cking (s. from the part.) The act of beating hard and heavy blows.

cking (adv. colloquial) Large, strong, lusty.

ART (adj. from the Sax. thwir) Transverse, lying ; perverse.

rt (v. t. from the sub.) To cross, to come across thing, to traverse; to oppose, to contravene.

rt (v. int.) To interfere, to be opposite; with as, "That shall at all thwart with these natural Locke.

rted (p. from thwart) Crossed, opposed.

rting (p. a. from thwart) Crossing, opposing.

rting (s. from the part.) The act of opposing the ations of another.

rtingly (adv. from thwarting) With opposi-
Johnson.

rtships (adv. a sea term) In a cross direction, one side of the ship to the other.

rtell (s. obsolete) A knife. Cbaucer.

rtthwack (s. from the sound) The noise occasion-the smack of a whip. Scott.

rtthwack (adv. from the sub.) With the smack of hip.

rt (v. t. a local word) To cut, to make white by Bailey.

rtu (p. obsolete) Cut, made white with cut-Cbaucer.

rtell (s. obsolete) A knife. Ch.

rtell (s. obsolete) A knife. Ch.

rtan. from the Sax. thyn) Belonging to thee, being to you.

rt (s. obsolete) Therefore. Cole.

rt (s. in botany) A kind of cypress, the lignum vitae.

rt (s.) A woman's name; a priestess of Bac-

THYATIRA (s.) A city in the Lesser Asia

THYES/TES (s.) A man's name; he defiled his brother's bed, who invited him to a feast, and in revenge served up the child which was the produce of his adultery, as the chief dish at the table.

THYINE (s. in ancient commerce) A precious kind of wood.

Thy/inewood (s. from thyine, and wood) A kind of precious wood. Rev.

THYM/BRA (s. in botany) The savory.

THYME (s. in botany, from the Lat. thymus) The name of an herb.

THYMEL/E/A (s. in botany) The daphne.

Thyme/leaf (s. from thyme, and leaf) The leaf of thyme.

Thyme/leaves (s. plus of thyme/leaf) The leaves of thyme.

THYME/LIA (s. in botany) The spurgeflax.

THYMA/MA (s. from the Greek) Incense.

THYME/LICAL (adj. from the Lat. thymelicus, but not used) Belonging to thymus, belonging to players. Cole.

Thymic (adj. in anatomy, from thymus) Belonging to the subclavian vein.

THY/MION (s. from thyme) A kind of ragged wart resembling the leaves of thyme.

Thymites (s. from thyme) Wine made of thyme.

THY/MIUM (s. a different spelling) The thymion, a kind of ragged wart.

THY/MOM/ANCY (s. from the Greek θυμος the mind, and μαντεία magic) A preface drawn from the impressions of one's own mind. Cole.

Thymous (adj. from thyme) Full of thyme, abounding with thyme. Cole.

THY/MUS (s. in botany) The thyme, a genus of plants.

THY/MUS (s. in anatomy) A remarkable gland situate in the upper part of the thorax; it is largest in new born infants and gradually decreases till quite absorbed in old age.

THY/MUS (s. with physicians) A kind of wart, the con-dyloma.

THYN/NUS (s. in ichthyology) The tunny.

THYONE/US (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.

THYROARYTENOI/DES (s. in anatomy) A pair of large muscles which proceed from the cartilages of the scutiformis.

Thyroid/e (adj. from thyroides) Belonging to the thyroides.

THYROI/DE/E (s. in anatomy) The two glands situate at the lower part of the larynx.

THYROI/DES (s. in anatomy, from the Greek θυρα a door, and ειδος a shape) The scutiformis, a cartilage of the larynx; the hole of the scapula bone.

Thyrse (s. from thyrus) A stalk, the javelin of Bacchus wrapped about with ivy.

THYR/SIS (s.) The name of a man, an Arcadian shepherd.

THYR/SUS (s. in botany) The upright stalk of a plant.

THYR/SUS (s. with the poets) The scepter of Bacchus, a staff bound about with ivy.

Thyself (pron. from thy, and self) The person spoken to, the very person spoken to. "These goods thyself can on thyself bestow" Dryden.

THYSEL/IUM (s. in botany) The selinum.

Thytter (adv. an old spelling) Thither. Cbaucer.

TIVAR (s. from tiara) A dress for the head, a diadem;
the papal crown.

TIA/RA (s. from the Lat.) The tiar, a dress for the head, a cap of state worn by the Persian kings, a diadem,
the papal crown.

Tib (s. a cant word) A poor sorry woman. Tib of the buttery, a goose. Bailey.

TIBALD (s.) A man's name.

TIBER (s. in geography) A great river of Italy; it runs by Rome, and falls into the Tuscan sea, about fifteen miles below that city.

TIBE/RIAS (s.) The name of a city in the land of Canaan.

TIBE/RIUS (s.) A man's name, the third emperor of Rome.

TIB/IA (s. in anatomy) The inner and larger bone of the leg.

TIB/IAL (adj. from the Lat. tibia a pipe) Belonging to a pipe. Cole.

TIB/IALIS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the leg.

TIB/ICEN (s. in ichthyology) A species of trigla.

TID

TIBICINATE (v. int. from the Lat. tibicen a piper, but not used) To pipe, to play on a pipe. Cole.
TIB'UI (s. from the Heb. signifying straw) A man's name.
TIBUL/LUS (s.) A man's name, an elegiac poet contemporary with Horace and Ovid.
Tice (v. t. from entice) To draw, to allure.
Ti'ced (p. from tice) Drawn, enticed.
Ti'che (v. t. a local word) To set up turf to dry.
Tich'ed (p. from tiche) Set up as turf to dry in the sun.
Tich'ing (p. a. from tiche) Setting up turf to dry in the sun.
Tich'ing (s. from the part.) The method of setting up turf to dry in the sun. Phillips.
Tic'ing (p. a. from tice) Drawing, enticing.
Ti'cing (s. from the part.) The act of enticing.
Tick (s. from ticket) A score, an account on trust.
TICK (s. from the French tique) An insect which fastens on the skin and sucks the blood of an animal.
Tick (s. in commerce) A kind of stout check or linen cloth for beds; the case in which the feathers of a bed are put.
Tick (v. int. from the sub.) To run on score, to go on account of trust.
Tick (s. from the sound) A small quick noise like that of a watch.
Tick (v. int. from the sub.) To make a small quick noise like that of a watch.
Tick'en (s. from tick) Tick, a strong linen cloth for bedding.
TICK'ET (s. from the French etiquette) A token in writing, a bit of paper with some token of right or claim impressed on it, a token on delivery of which admission is granted or a claim acknowledged.
Tick'et (v. t. from the sub.) To distinguish a mark by affixing a ticket.
Tick'eted (p. from ticket) Marked by a ticket.
Tick'eting (p. a. from ticket) Marking by a ticket.
Tick'eting (s. from the part.) The act or method of marking by a ticket.
TICK'HILL (s.) A town in the west riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 156 miles from London.
Tick'hill (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tickhill, made at Tickhill.
Tick'ing (p. a. from tick) Scoring, going on account, trusting.
Tick'ing (s. from tick) Strong linen cloth for bedding.
Tick'ing (p. a. from tick) Making a small quick noise like that of a watch.
Tick'ing (s. from the part.) The sound made by the movement of a clock or watch.
TICK'LE (v. t. from the Lat. titillo) To affect by slight touches; to please by slight gratifications.
Tick'le (v. int.) To feel titillation.
Tick'le (adj. probably from the verb) Tottering, unstable, easily overturned; ticklish, slippery.
Tick'led (p. from tickle) Affected with a titillation, affected by slight touches, pleased with slight gratifications.
Tick'ler (s. from tickle) One that tickles. Scott.
Tick'ling (p. a. from tickle) Affecting with a titillation, affecting by slight touches; pleasing with slight gratifications.
Tick'ling (s. from the part.) A titillation, the act of affecting by slight touches.
Tick'lish (adj. from tickle) Susceptible of titillation, easily tickled; tottering, unsteady; difficult, nice.
Tick'lishly (adv. from ticklish) In a ticklish manner. Scott.
Tick'lishness (s. from ticklish) The state or quality of being ticklish.
Tick'rum (s. a local word) A licence. Bailey.
Tick'tack (s. from tick, and tack) A game at tables.
Tick'tack (adv. from tick, and tack) With a noise resembling the movement of a watch.
TID (adj. from the Sax. tidder) Tender, delicate, soft, nice.
Tid (v. int. an old word) Happened, did happen. Co.
TID'DAL (s. from the Heb. signifying a breaker of the yoke) A man's name.
Tid'de (v. int. pret. obsolete) Happened, did happen. Chaucer.
Tid'der (v. t. from tid) To use fondly, to use tenderly. Johnson.
Tid'dered (p. from tidder) Fondled, used tenderly.
Tid'dering (p. a. from tidder) Tiddling, fondling.
Tid'de (v. t. from tid) To fondle, to use tenderly.

TIG

Tid'dled (p. from tiddle) Fondled, used tenderly.
Tid'dling (p. a. from tiddle) Fondling, using tenderly.
Tid'dling (s. from the part.) The act of fondling; a fondled child, the youngest child; a lamb brought by hand.
TIDE (s. from the Sax. tyd) Time, season; the alternate ebb and flow of the sea; a stream, a course, a flood, a rapid stream.
Tide (v. t. from the sub.) To drive with the stream.
Tide (v. int.) To pour a flood, to be agitated by the sea.
Tid'ded (p. from tide) Driven with the stream.
Tid'degate (s. from tide, and gate) The gate through which the tide passes into the basin.
Tid'der (adj. a local word) Soon, quickly; sooner.
Tid'deman (s. from tide, and man) A tidewater.
Tid'demen (s. plu. of tidewater) More than one tide man.
TID'SWELL (s.) A town in Derbyshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 158 miles from London.
Tid'deswell (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tidewater, made at Tidewater.
Tid'dewaiter (s. from tide, and waiter) A custom house officer.
Tid'dier (adj. comp. of tidy) Tidy in a greater degree.
Tid'diest (adj. sup. of tidy) Tidy in the greatest degree.
Tid'dife (s. obsolete) The name of a bird supposed to be the titmouse.
Tid'dily (adv. from tidy) Readily, neatly.
Tid'diness (s. from tidy) Neatness, readiness.
Tid'ding (p. a. from tide) Driving with the tide.
TID'DINGS (s. from the Sax. tidan to happen) News, an account of something which has happened.
TID'DY (adj. from the Islandick tidt) Neat, ready; reasonable, timely.
TIE (v. t. from the Sax. tian) To bind, to fasten with a knot; to knit, to complicate; to hold, to fasten; to oblige, to constrain; to hinder, to obstruct, to tie up, to fasten firmly. To tie down, to fasten down firmly.
Tie (s. from the verb) A knot, a fastening; a bond, an obligation; one of the ropes on which the yards of a sail hang.
Tied (p. from tie) Bound, fastened with a knot, complicated, obliged, confined.
Tier (s. from tie) One that ties.
TIER (s. from the French tiers) A row, a rank, a row of guns on board a ship.
TIERCE (s. from the French tiers) A vessel holding the third part of a pipe.
TIERCE (s. at piquet) A sequence of three cards.
TIERCE (s. from the French tiers) The number three, a leath; one of the canonical hours with the psalm, a thrust in fencing; a third in music.
TIERCE (adj. in heraldry) Having the field divided into three equal parts and depicted of different colours.
Tierc'ed (adj. in heraldry, from tierce) Having the field divided into three equal parts and depicted of different colours.
TIERC'EL (s. in falconry) The male hawk.
Tierce'major (s. from tierce, and major) A sequence of the three best cards.
TIERC'ET (s. from the French tiers) A triplet, a stanza of three lines in poetry.
Tiff (s. a low cant word) Drink, liquor, a small quantity of liquor, a pet, a fit of peevishness.
Tiff (v. int. a low word) To quarrel, to be in a pet.
TIFF'ANY (s. in commerce) A very thin kind of silk.
Tiff'eler (s. obsolete) A trifler.
Ti'fle (v. t. a local word) To disorder any thing by moving it, to entangle.
TIGE (s. in architecture) The shaft of a column.
TIGEL/LINUS (s.) A man's name, a base creature of the emperor Nero.
TIG'ER (s. in zoology) The name of a wild beast of the lion kind.
Tig'erfooted (adj. from tiger, and foot) Hasty to devour the prey, advancing with speedy and voracious intention. Shakespeare.
Tig'ershell (s. in natural history) A beautiful species of voluta.
Tigh (s. in old records) A close, an inclosure.
TIGHT (adj. from the Dutch dicht) Close, free from

T I M

Tillyvalley (adj. as the foregoing) Trifling, delivered as mere chat. Sb.

Till'man (s. from till, and man) A husbandman, one who tills the ground.

TILT (s. from the Sax. tyld) A tent, a covering of cloth or canvas, the cover of a boat, the cover of a waggon or cart; a military game in which the combatants run against each other with lances on horseback; a thrust, a sudden push.

Tilt (v. t. from the sub.) To cover with cloth or canvas; to carry as in tilts, to point as in tilts and tournaments; to turn up any vessel so as to make it run over, to turn up with a sudden motion.

Tilt (v. int.) To run in tilts, to rush as in combat; to play unsteadily; to fall on one side as a cart or waggon; with over, and forward; "The cart tilted over." "Take care, it will tilt forward."

Tilt'boat (s. from tilt, and boat) A boat covered with a tilt.

Tilt'ed (p. from tilt) Covered with cloth or canvas, turned up on one side.

Tilt'er (s. from tilt) One who tilts, one who contends in tilts.

Tilth (s. from till) Culture, husbandry.

Tilth (adj. from the sub.) Arable, tilled.

Tilthe (s. an old spelling) Tilt, tillage. Cb.

Tilthe (v. t. obsolete) To till. Cb.

TIM (s. contracted from) Timothy, a man's name.

TIMÆUS (s.) A man's name, a philosopher of antiquity.

TIMAG/ENES (s.) A man's name, a famous historian and rhetorician of antiquity.

TIMAN/THES (s.) A man's name, a famous painter of antiquity. Pliny.

TIMAR (s. in Turkey) A lordship, the estate of a spahi.

TIMAR/CHIDES (s.) A man's name, a famous engraver of antiquity. Pliny.

Tima'riat (s. from timar) One who is possessed of a timar.

TIM'BER (v. t. from the Sax. timbrian to build) To furnish with beams, to furnish with timbers.

Tim'ber (s. from the verb) Wood fit for building; the main trunk of a tree; the main beams of a fabric; materials in droll style.

Tim'ber (v. int. a cant word) To light as a bird on a tree.

Tim'ber (s. with furriers) The number of forty skins.

Tim'ber (adj. a local word) Slender, small. Bailey.

Tim'bered (p. from timber) Furnished with timbers.

Tim'bered (adj. from timber) Built, formed, contrived: "Many beads that undertake learning were never squared and timbered for it." Brown.

Tim'bering (p. a. from timber) Furnishing with timbers.

Tim'bering (s. from timber) The act of furnishing with timbers.

Tim'bermeasure (s. from timber, and measure) The measure or method by which the quantity of timber is computed.

Tim'bermerchant (s. from timber, and merchant) One who deals largely in timber.

Tim'berlaw (s. in the history of insects) A kind of worm that breeds in timber.

Tim'berlar (s. an old word) One who plays on a timbrel, Cbaucer.

Tim'bertrade (s. from timber, and trade) Traffick in timber, the trade of a timber merchant.

Tim'bertree (s. from timber, and tree) A tree fit for timber, a tree the wood of which is fit for building.

Tim'beryard (s. from timber, and yard) The yard or place where timber is laid up and prepared for building.

TIMBRE (s. in heraldry) The crest, a coronet, that which is placed on the top of an escutcheon to distinguish the degree or dignity of the person that bears it.

Tim'bre (s. obsolete) A small bell. Cb.

Tim'bred (adj. a different spelling) Built, formed, timbered. Scott.

TIMBREL (s. from the Lat. tympanum) A kind of musical instrument.

TIMBU'RIOUS (s. from the Spanish) A musical instrument. Bailey.

TIME (s. from the Sax. tima) The measure of duration; a season, an interval; a proper season; a considerable space of duration, an age; a particular point in duration; the hour of childbirth; a musical measure.

T I N

Time (v. t. from the sub.) To adapt to the circumstance of time, to regulate as to time, to measure harmonically.

Timed (p. from time) Adjusted as to time, regulated as to time, measured harmonically; with with: as, "While every motion was timed with dying cries."

Timely (adj. from time) Seasonable, timely, early.

Timekeeper (s. from time, and keeper) A time piece, a clock to shew the time.

Timeless (adj. from time) Unseasonable, done at an improper time, immature, done before the time.

Timelier (adj. comp. of timely) Timely in a greater degree.

Timeliest (adj. sup. of timely) Timely in the greatest degree.

Timeliness (s. from timely) The state or circumstance of being timely. S. Ott.

Timely (adv. from time) Seasonable, sufficiently early.

Timely (adv. from the adj.) Soon, early, in proper time.

Timenote (s. from time, and note) The measure note.

Timepiece (s. from time, and piece) A clock to shew the time, a clock that keeps good time.

Timepleaser (s. from time, and pleaser) One who complies with the times, one who accommodates his notions to those of the present times.

Time-serving (adv. from time, and serve) Meekly complying with the modes of the present times, meanly complying with the measures of people in power, meanly submitting to serve a turn.

TIME/US (s.) A man's name.

TIMID (adj. from the Lat. timidus) Fearful, timorous, wanting courage.

Timidity (s. from timid) The want of courage, timoroufness.

Timmer (s. in heraldry) The timbre. D. of A.

TIM/NATH (s. from the Heb. signifying an image) The name of a place.

TIMOC/RACY (s. from the Greek $\tau\mu\kappa\alpha$ dignity, and $\rho\alpha\kappa\epsilon\iota\omega$ to govern) The government in which the richest people have the chief power. Cole.

TIMON (s.) A man's name; a famous Athenian.

TIMONEER (s. a sea term) The man who manages the helm, the person who directs the course of the ship.

TIMORO/SO (adv. in music books) With fear, with caution.

TIMOROUS (adj. from the Lat. timor) Fearful, full of fear, scrupulous.

Tim'rously (adv. from timorous) With much fear, with timoroufness.

Tim'roufness (s. from timorous) The state of being timorous.

Timothean (s. in church history) One of a sect who held that Christ became incarnate only for the benefit of our bodies.

TIMOTHEUS (s.) A man's name, Timothy.

TIMOTHY (s.) A man's name.

Tim'ous (adj. from time) Early, timely. Bacon.

TIN (s. from the Dutch ten) One of the primitive metals; thin plates of iron covered with tin.

Tin (v. t. from the sub.) To cover over with tin.

Tin (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to tin, producing tin, made of tin.

TINARIA (s. in botany) The mothwort.

TIN/CA (s. in ichthyology) The tench.

TIN/CAL (s. in natural history) A kind of mineral, the chryfocolla.

Tincanifter (s. from tin, and canifter) A canifter made of tin.

Tin'car (s. a different spelling) The tincal. Scott.

Tinck'erman (s. an old word) One who destroys the young fry of fish by violence or foul means.

Tinck'ermen (s. plu. of tinckerman) More than one tinckerman.

Tincov'er (s. from tin, and cover) A cover made of tin.

Tin'cup (s. from tin, and cup) A cup made of tin.

TINCT (v. t. from the Lat. tingo to tinge) To stain, to colour; to spot, to die; to imbue with a taste.

Tinct (s. from the verb) A colour, a stain, a spot.

Tinct'd (p. from tinct) Stained, coloured; imbued with a taste.

Tinctile (adj. from tinct) Giving a tinct.

T I N

Tinct'ing (p. a. from tinct) Staining, colouring, tinging with a taste.

Tinct'ure (s. from tinct) A colour superadded, a superadded; an infusion, the extract of some drug.

Tinct'ure (v. t. from the sub.) To impregnate with quality or taste, to imbue with some tinct or colour to imbue the mind.

Tinct'ured (p. from tincture) Impregnated with adventitious quality or taste, imbued.

Tinct'uring (p. a. from tincture) Impregnating with some adventitious quality or taste.

Tinct'uring (s. from the part) The act of impregnating with some adventitious quality or taste, the act of communicating a tinct or colour.

TIND (v. t. from the Sax. tendan nearly obsolete) To kindle, to set on fire.

Tind'ed (p. from tind, but not much used) Kindled.

Tind'er (s. from tind) Linen burnt and extinguished before it is reduced to ashes in order to receive spark from the flint and steel, any thing remarkably inflammable.

Tind'erbox (s. from tinder, and box) The box in which tinder is kept.

Tind'ing (p. a. from tind, but not used) Kindling, tinging on fire.

TINE (s. from the Islandick tinne) The tooth of a harrow, the spike of a fork; trouble, distress.

TINE (v. t. from the Sax. tynan, but now grown obsolete or colloquial) To kindle, to set on fire.

TINE (v. t. from the Sax. tinnan to shut, but now grown obsolete or colloquial) To shut, to close as a door.

Tine (v. int. obsolete) To rage, to smart; to fight.

TINE (s. in geography) The name of a river; it divides the counties of Durham and Northumberland, and empties itself into the German sea.

TIN/EA (s. in the history of insects) The moth.

TIN/EA (s. in surgery) The anchor, a kind of itching scab.

TINEA/RIA (s. in botany) The mothwort.

Tin'd (p. from tine, but now grown obsolete or colloquial) Kindled, set on fire; shut, closed as a door.

Tin'eman (s. from tine, and man) An officer of the forest who was to take care of the meat and venison in the night time.

Tinet'tum (s. in old records) Brushwood, underwood cut at length and not taggoted.

TIN/EWALD (s.) The yearly meeting of the states in the isle of Man.

Tin'en'der (s. from tin, and fender) A fender made of tin.

Ting (s. from the sound) The noise of a bell, the sound of a bell.

Ting (v. int. from the sub.) To sound as a bell.

TINGE (v. t. from the Lat. tingo) To impregnate with a colour; to imbue with a taste.

Ting'd (p. from tinge) Impregnated with a colour or taste; coloured, dyed lightly.

Ting'ent (adj. from tinge) Having the power to tinge.

Ting'ible (adj. from tinge) Capable of being tinged.

Ting'ing (p. a. the g hard, from ting) Sounding as a bell.

Ting'ing (s. the g is hard, from the part.) The noise of a bell.

Ting'ing (p. a. from tinge) Colouring lightly, imbuing with a slight colour or taste.

Ting'ing (s. from the part.) The act of colouring lightly.

Ting'lais (s. from tin, and glais) Bismuth.

TING/LE (v. int. from the Dutch tingelen) To feel a sharp quick kind of pain with a sensation of motion, to feel a continued sound in the ear; to tinkle.

Ting'ling (p. a. from tingle) Feeling a kind of sharp pain with a sensation of motion, feeling a continued kind of noise in the ears.

Ting'ling (s. from the part.) A kind of sharp quick pain with a sensation of motion; a continued sound in the ears.

Ting'tang (s. from the sound) The ringing of a bell, the sound of the bell; the bell which is rung to call people to church.

Ti'nier (adj. comp. of tiny) Tiny in a greater degree.

Ti'niest (adj. sup. of tiny) Tiny in the greatest degree.

TINK (v. int. from the Lat. tinnio) To make a sharp shrill noise.

TIP

(v. int. a local word) To make many words to a rain.
(s. in chymistry) Borax, gold solder.
(s. from tink) One who mends old brags.
(v. t. from the sub.) To mend old vessels of red (p. from tink) Mended as old brazen vessels, shed up by the tink.
(p. a. from tink) Mending old brags, act
the part of a tink.
(s. from the part.) The act of mending old LE (v. int. from the Lat. tinnio) To make a sharp noise; to hear a sharp quick noise as though thing moved in the ears.
(p. a. from tinkle) Making a sharp quick ing (s. from the part.) A kind of sharp quick on (s. from tin, and man) A manufacturer of tin, who makes or deals in tin.
(s. from tin, and mine) A mine which produces tin.
(p. from tin) Covered over with tin.
(s. from tin) One who works in the tin ts.
MENT (s. from the Lat. tinnio, but not used) king noise. Cole
(p. a. from tin) Covering over with tin.
(s. from the part.) The act or process of covering with tin; the tin laid on.
TUS (s. from the Lat.) A tingling noise, a tingling in the ear.
NCULUS (s. in ornithology) A kind of hawk.
ny (s. from tin, and penny) A customary duty before paid to the tithing man.
L (s. from the French etincelle) A kind of ing cloth, any thing shining with false lustre.
(v. t. from the sub.) To decorate with cheap ornaments, to adorn with false lustre.
(adj. from the sub.) Shining with false ed (p. from tinsel) Decorated with cheap ornaments.
ing (p. a. from tinsel) Decorating with cheap
ments.
ing (s. not so analogical a spelling) A border of ments. Scott.
(s. from the French teinte) A die, a colour.
MAR (s. supposed to be from tinnitus, and Mars) med noise, a hideous outcry.
tion (s. from tinnitus) The sound of bells, a ing. Cole.
ne (s. an incorrect spelling) Tentwine.
(s. in botany) The laurustinus, a genus of tree (s. in the history of insects) The name of a red worm, a kind of millipede.
ally (s. from the Danish tint, rather a droll word) little, puny. Swift.
(s. from the Dutch) Thetop, the end, the extremity;
a gentle stroke.
(s. from the sub.) To top, to end, to cover on ed; to tap, to strike slightly.
H (s. from the Heb. signifying a passage) The of a place. 1 Kings.
(s. a man's name; the pilot in the Argonautic
tion.
SMY (s. from the Greek τυμος a type, and the world, but not much used) A figure or type of old. Cole.
(p. from tip) Topped, covered on the top;
struck gently; with with: as, "Tipped
all."
RY (s.) A county in Ireland in the principality of Munster.
(s. from tip) Something worn about the neck, a ornamental covering for the neck.
(p. a. from tip) Topping, covering on the topping, striking gently.
(s. from the part.) The act of covering on the top which forms the top; the act of striking an item.
(v. int. from the Teutonic tepel a dug) To ten and much, to waste time and life over it.
(v. t.) To drink to excess.
(s. from the verb) Drink, liquor.
(p. from tippie) Drunk in luxury or excess.
(adj. from tippie) Tiply, drunk.

TIT

Tippler (s. from tippie) A sottish fellow, a drunkard.
Tippling (p. a. from tippie) Drinking to excess.
Tippling (s. from the part.) The act of drinking in luxury or excess.
Tipstaff (s. from tip, and staff) An officer with a staff tipped with metal; the staff born by the officer.
Tipstaves (s. plu. of tipstaff) More than one tipstaff. Bai.
Tipsty (adj. from tippie) Drunk, intoxicated, overpowered with liquor.
Tip (v. t. pret. of tip) Did tip.
Tip (p. from tip) Tipped.
Tip/toe (s. from tip, and toe) The end of the toe, the state of being raised on the toes.
TIPULA (s. in the history of insects) A kind of long legged spider that runs on the water.
TIRCONNEL (s.) A country in Ireland.
TIRE (s. from the Dutch tuur) A rank, a row, a tier.
Tire (s. from tiara) A head dress; furniture, apparatus;
the iron for a wheel.
TIRE (v. t. from the Sax. tirian) To fatigue, to make weary, to harass; with out by way of emphasis: as,
"She tired me quite out."
Tire (v. t. from the sub.) To dress the head.
TIRE (v. int. from the Sax. teorian) To fail through weariness.
Tired (p. from tire) Wearied; worn out with exercise; dressed, furnished with a head dress.
Tiredness (s. from tire) The state of being tired. Hakerwell.
Tiren (v. t. an old word) To tear, to lacerate. Co.
TIRESIAS (s.) A man's name, a famous soothsayer said to have been struck blind by Juno, for deciding against her in favour of her husband. Ovid.
Tiresome (adj. from tire) Wearisome, tedious.
Tiresomeness (s. from tiresome) The state or quality of being tiresome.
Tirewoman (s. from tire, and woman) A woman who makes dresses for the head.
Tirewomen (s. plu. of tirewoman) More than one tire woman.
TIRHAKAH (s. from the Heb. signifying an enquirer)
A man's name. 2 Kings.
TIRIDATES (s.) The name of a man.
Tirin (v. t. obsolete) To tear, to lacerate. Chaucer.
Tiring (p. a. from tire) Fatiguing, making weary;
growing weary; dressing the head.
Tiring (s. from the part.) The act of making weary;
the act of dressing the head.
Tiring (s. in falconry) The act of giving a hawk the leg of a fowl to pick; the leg of a fowl given to a hawk to pick.
Tiringhouse (s. from tiring, and house) The room in which players dress for the stage.
Tiringroom (s. from tiring, and room) The room in which players dress for the stage.
TIRO (s.) A man's name, a freed man and favourite of Cicero, and a great scholar.
Tiromancy (s. a different spelling) Tyromancy. Co.
TIRSHATHA (s. from the Heb. signifying one that holds the year) A governor, an officer in the Persian empire.
TIRWIT (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the lapwing.
Tis (v. neut. a contraction for) It is.
TIRZA (s. from the Heb. signifying benevolent) The name of a woman; the name of a city.
TISHBITE (s. from the Heb. signifying a dweller) The cognomen of Elisha. 1 Kings.
Tistic (s. the less formal spelling) The phthitic, the consumption.
Tistical (adj. from tific, the less formal spelling) Phthi-cal, consumptive.
Tistic (adj. from tific) Tifical, consumptive. Scott.
Ty'ing (p. a. obsolete) Enticing. Chaucer.
TISIPHONE (s. in heathen mythology) One of the Furies whose head was said to have been covered with snakes instead of hair.
Tis'fical (adj. an incorrect spelling) Phthifical, tifical. Pb.
Tis'fick (s. an incorrect spelling) The phthitic. Phillips.
TIS'SUE (s. from the French) Cloth interwoven with gold or silver.
Tis'sue (v. t. from the sub.) To interweave, to variegate.
Tis'sued (p. from tis'sue) Interwoven, variegated.
Tis'suing (p. a. from tis'sue) Interweaving, variegating.
Tis'suing (s. from the part.) The act of interweaving with various colours.
TIT (s. the etymology is not noted) A small horse; a tomtit; a woman in droll style.
TITAN (s. in heathen mythology) The elder brother of Saturn the father of the giants; one of the giants who

TIT

- who, according to the poets, made war with Saturn and Jupiter to recover their lost empire.
- TITANIA (s.) A daughter of Titan.
- Titanian (adj. from Titan) Belonging to Titan. Co.
- TITANIS (s.) A daughter of Titan.
- Tit-bit (s. from tit, and bit) A tid bit, a nice bit, delicate food.
- Tite (adj. a sea term) Tight, close, having no leaks.
- Tite (v. int. third person, obsolete) Betideth, happeneth. C.
- Tit-thable (adj. not so correct a spelling) Titheable. Ph.
- TITHE (s. from the Sax. teotha) The tenth part, the part assigned to the maintenance of the clergy; the tenth part of any thing; a small part, a small portion.
- Tithe (v. t. from the sub.) To take the tenth part, to exact tithes.
- Tithe (v. int.) To pay tithes. Tuffer.
- Titheable (adj. from tithe) Capable of being tithed, liable to pay tithes.
- Tithed (p. from tithe) Taxed to the tenth part.
- Tithgatherer (s. from tithe, and gather) One that collects the tithes.
- Tithen (v. int. obsolete) To pay tithes. Chaucer.
- Tither (s. from tithe) One who gather tithes.
- Tithing (p. a. from tithe) Exacting tithes, gathering tithes.
- Tithing (s. from the part.) The act of exacting or gathering tithes.
- Tithing (s. from tithe) The number of ten families who were heretofore bound to the king for each others good behaviour; the district of a tithing man.
- Tithingcourt (s. from tithing, and court) The court in which the tithing man formerly presided.
- Tithingman (s. from tithing, and man) A petty peace officer, an under constable.
- Tithingmen (s. plu. of tithingman) More than one tithing man.
- Tithingpenny (s. from tithing, and penny) A customary duty paid to the sheriff by the tithingcourts.
- TITHONUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A man's name, who was supposed to have been so beautiful that Aurora fell in love with him, and made him immortal, but being weary of old age he was transformed into a grasshopper.
- TITHYMA (s. in botany) The milk thistle.
- TITHYMAL (s. from tithyma) The spurge, the milkthistle.
- TITHYMAL/LUS (s. a different spelling) The tithymalus, the milkthistle.
- TITHYMAL/LUS (s. in botany) The tithymal, the spurge, the milkthistle.
- TITII (s. in antiquity) The priests of Apollo.
- TITILLATE (v. int. from the Lat. titillo) To tickle.
- Titillating (p. a. from titillate) Tickling.
- Titillation (s. from titillate) The act of tickling, the state of being tickled; any slight or petty pleasure.
- Titimyk (s. an old word) A talebearer. Phillips.
- Titlark (s. in ornithology) A small kind of lark.
- TITILE (s. from the Lat. titulus) A name, an appellation, an appellation of honour; the first page of a book, the name of a book; a claim of right.
- Title (v. t. from the sub.) To entitle, to name, to call.
- Titled (p. from title) Named, called.
- Titilefs (adj. from title) Void of a title, wanting a title. Shakespeare.
- Titilepage (s. from title, and page) The page which contains the title of a book.
- Titling (p. a. from title) Giving a title, naming.
- Titling (s. from the part.) The act of giving a title.
- Titling (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
- TITMOUSE (s. in ornithology) The name of a small bird, the tomtit.
- TITS (s.) Small cattle. Scott.
- TIT'TER (v. int. perhaps from the sound) To laugh without much noise, to laugh with restraint.
- Tit'ter (s. from the verb) A restrained laugh; a kind of weed in corn.
- Tit'ter (adj. a local word) Soon, quickly. Bailey.
- Tit'tering (p. a. from titter) Giggling, laughing without much noise.
- Tit'tering (s. from the part.) The act of laughing without much noise, a suppressed laugh.
- Tit'tle (s. probably from tit) A small particle, a point, a dot.
- Tit'tletattle (s. a droll word, from tattle) Prattle, empty or insignificant talk.
- Tit'tletattle (v. int. from the sub.) To prate, to talk idly.
- Tit'tletattling (p. a. from tittletattle) Prating, talking to little purpose.
- Tit'tletattling (s. from the part.) The act of talking much to little purpose.

TOB

- TITUBANCY (s. from the Lat. titubo to stammer) The act of stammering, an impediment in articulation.
- TITUBATION (s. from the Lat. titubo to stumble) The act of stumbling; the act of staggering; a vibration sometimes observed in the motion of heavenly bodies.
- TITULAR (adj. from the Lat. titulus) Naming only a title.
- Titularity (s. from titular) The state of being titular.
- Tit'ulary (adj. from titular) Consisting in a title, being a title.
- Tit'ulary (s. from the adj.) One that has a right to a title.
- TITUS (s.) A man's name; the title of one of the epistles.
- TITYRUS (s.) The name of a shepherd.
- TITYRUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of a vast giant, the son of Terra, struck by a thunderbolt to hell where he was supposed to cover his land.
- TIVERTON (s.) A borough town in Devonshire, has a market on Tuesday, sends two members of parliament, and is 166 miles from London.
- Tiv'erton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tiverton, made at Tiverton.
- TIV'IOT (s.) The name of a range of hills between England and Scotland.
- Tiv'iothills (s. from Tiviot, and hill) The hills between England and Scotland.
- Tiv'iotmountain (s. from Tiviot, and mountain) The hills between England and Scotland.
- Tiv'y (adv. from tantivy) With speed. "Tiv'y, we mount and we fly."
- TLEPOL'EMUS (s.) A man's name, a supposed Hercules.
- TMA'RUS (s.) A man's name, a soldier in Virgil.
- TME/SIS (s. from the Greek) A figure in grammar, which the parts of a compound word are divided into, some other word put between them.
- TMO'LUS (s.) A famous mountain in the Phrygia.
- TO (prep. from the Sax.) Unto, at, towards, company with, in agreement with; in company as far as, in respect of, in the presence of. To the present day. To-morrow, the day following, this night.
- TO (adv. from the Sax. the sign of the infinitive) In order to; in fact, in reality. "To see the faint."
- To (adv.) Forward. "To and fro." "To and fro."
- To (v. t. elliptically for) To go to. "I'll to the among the happier brutes."
- To (s. an old spelling) A toe.
- To (pron. obsolete) This. "To year."
- TOAD (s. from the Sax. tathie) The name of a small animal much like a frog.
- Toad/fish (s. from toad, and fish) The name of a fish.
- Toad/flax (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
- Toad/spotted (adj. from toad, and spotted) Coloured like a toad.
- Toad/stone (s. from toad, and stone) A stone or tumour supposed to be found in the head of a toad.
- Toad/stool (s. from toad, and stool) A kind of mushroom plant like a mushroom.
- TOAST (v. t. from the Lat. torreo to toast) To toast the fire, to scorch at the fire; to name when one is drunk, to propose a lady as a health to be drunk.
- Toast (s. from the verb) Bread dried before the fire, bread dried at the fire and put into liquor; whose health is often drunk.
- Toasted (p. from toast) Dried at the fire, dried at the fire and put into liquor; named as a lady's health is drunk.
- Toaster (s. from toast) One who toasts, an one toasting any thing at the fire.
- Toasting (p. a. from toast) Drying at the fire, at the fire and putting into liquor; proposing health to be drunk.
- Toasting (s. from the part.) The act of drying at the fire; the act of proposing a lady as a health to be drunk.
- TOB (s. from the Heb. signifying good) The name of a country.
- TOBACCO (s. in botany and commerce, from the Span. tobacco) An American plant much used for smoking.
- Tobac'cobox (s. from tobacco, and box) A box for tobacco in the pocket.
- Tobac'conist (s. from tobacco) One who deals in tobacco.
- Tobac'copipe (s. from tobacco, and pipe) The pipe which tobacco is smoked.

TOL

TOLE (s. from tobacco, and pouch) A small bag to carry tobacco in the pocket.

TOPPER (s. from tobacco, and stopper) An instrument used to stuff the tobacco into a pipe when to fall out in smoking.

TOPIAH (s. from the Heb. signifying my good man's name. 2 Chro.)

(s. in geography) One of the Caribbee islands which tobacco was first imported.

(s. from the Heb. signifying the goodness of man's name. 1 Mac.)

(s. from the Heb.) A man's name. 1 Mac. Tobit.

(s.) The name of a place.

(s.) A man's name.

(s.) A man's name; the title of one of the apocryphal books.

(s.) A man's name.

TOGA (s. from the Italian) An overtune, a voluntary.

TOUGH (s.) An American root.

TOUGH (s. from the German totte a lock) A bush, a thick certain weight of wool, twenty-eight pounds.

(s. an old spelling) The other. Cole.

(s. in commerce) The vegetable juice from which distilled.

TOE (s. from the Sax. ta) One of the divided extremities of a foot.

TOET (s. a local word) The tovet, a measure of two feet. Phillips.

TOET (adv. obsolete) Heretofore, formerly. Chaucer.

TOET (adv. obsolete) Formerly, before. Chaucer.

TOET (s. from the low Lat. toetum) The place where a dog has stood.

TOET (s. from toet, and man) The owner of a toet.

TOET (s. from the Lat.) A kind of cloak or loose garment without sleeves worn by the Roman people.

TOET (s. from the Heb. signifying all bone) A name.

TOET (adj. from toga) Wearing a toga, dressed in a toga.

TOET (adj. from toga) Togated, dressed in a gown.

TOET (adv. an old spelling) Together. Cole.

TOET (adv. from the Sax. togathere) In common in the same place, at the same time, in common continuity, without intermission. Together.

TOET (s. a sea term) A small wooden pin tapered from middle towards the extremities used in confining.

TOET (s. from the Heb. signifying one that lives) The name of a man. 1 Sam.

TOET (s. from the Heb. signifying a wanderer) A man's name.

TOET (s. int. from the Sax. tilian) To labour, to labour hard, to work hard at.

TOET (s. t.) To labour through, to work hard; to labour, to fatigue.

TOET (s. from the verb) Labour, fatigue.

TOET (s. from the Lat. tela) A snare, a net.

TOET (s. from toil) Laboured, overlaboured, wearied; with: "Toiled with works of war."

TOET (s. from the French toilette) A dressing table.

TOET (s. p. a. from toil) Labouring, working hard, toiling, wearying.

TOET (s. from the part.) The act of working hard.

TOET (adj. from toil) Laborious, requiring great labour, wearisome, fatiguing.

TOET (s. from toilsome) The state of being toilsome.

TOET (s. from the French) A fathom.

TOET (s. in heraldry) A fleece.

TOET (s. from the Sax. tacn) A mark, a sign; a mark of friendship, an evidence of friendly remembrance.

TOET (s. v. t. from the sub.) To betoken, to make known; to: as, "May token to the future our past."

TOET (s. p. from token, but not used) Betokened.

TOET (s. p. a. from token, but not used) Betokening.

TOET (s. obsolete) A token, signification, imitation. Ch.

TOET (s. from the Heb. signifying a worm) A man's name.

TOET (s. t. pret. of tell) Did tell.

TOET (s. p. from tell) Related in words, declared, made known.

TOET (s. t. a provincial word) To train, to lead on by a rein.

TOET (s. an obsolete spelling) A tool. Chaucer.

TOL

TOLE (s. obsolete) A clout, a toy. Chaucer.

TOLED (p. from tole, a local word) Trained, led on by degrees.

TOLEDO (s.) A town in Spain famous for the manufacture of sword blades.

TOLEDO (s.) A sword of the best sort.

TOLERABILITY (s. from tolerable) The state of being tolerable. Scott.

TOLERABLE (adj. from the Lat. tolero to suffer) Supportable, capable of being endured; having a medium, passable.

TOLERABLENESS (s. from tolerable) The state of being tolerable.

TOLERABLY (adv. from tolerable) In a manner that may be supported, in a manner that may be endured; moderately well, passably.

TOLERANCE (s. from the Lat. tolero to endure) The power of enduring, the act of enduring.

TOLERATE (v. t. from the Lat. tolero) To permit, to allow so as not to hinder, to permit by legal authority.

TOLERATED (p. from tolerate) Permitted, suffered so as not to hinder, permitted by legal authority.

TOLERATING (p. a. from tolerate) Permitting, suffering so as not to hinder, permitting by legal authority.

TOLERATING (s. from the part.) The act of permitting, toleration.

TOLERATION (s. from tolerate) A permission, an allowance of that which is not thoroughly approved; the act or law by which a dissent from the established church is authorized.

TOLERATION (s. from toleration, and act) The act of parliament by which a dissent from the established church is authorized.

TOLITE (s. from Tola) A descendant of Tola.

TOLK (s. in ornithology) A species of the tringa.

TOLL (s. perhaps from the Lat. tollo to lift up) A seizure of some part for permission of the rest, an excise or custom on goods sold in a market; a tribute or custom paid for passage; the miller's fee for grinding corn.

TOLL (v. t. from the sub.) To take a part for permission of the rest, to exact a tribute; to ring a bell, to make a bell sound with solemn pauses.

TOLL (v. int. from the sub.) To pay tollage or custom; to take tollage or custom; to sound as a bell.

TOLL (v. t. a law term, the o is short) To take away, to vacate, to annul.

TOLL (v. t. the o short) To take away; but this sense is now become obsolete. Bacon.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and booth) A prison; a place where goods are weighed to ascertain the toll or duty to be paid on them. Answorth.

TOLLBOOTH (v. t. from the sub.) To imprison. Carbet.

TOLLBOOTHED (p. from tollbooth, but not much used) Imprisoned.

TOLLBOOTHING (p. a. from tollbooth, but not used) Imprisoning.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and corn) Corn taken as toll.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and dish) The vessel by which the toll of corn is measured.

TOLLBOOTH (p. from toll) Diminished by having the toll taken out; made to sound as a bell.

TOLLBOOTH (p. from toll, a law term, with the o short) Taken away, annulled.

TOLLBOOTH (s. in military affairs) An engine by which soldiers were raised to attack the walls of a town.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and gather) The officer that collects the toll.

TOLLBOOTH (p. a. from toll) Taking toll, paying toll; sounding a bell with solemn intervals.

TOLLBOOTH (p. a. a law term, with the o short) Taking away, annulling.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from the part.) The act of taking toll, the act of paying toll; the sound of a bell when tolled.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and hop) A toll dish. Scott.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and man) The man who collects toll.

TOLLBOOTH (s. plu. of tollman) More than one tollman.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and through) A toll for passing through.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and traverse) An acknowledgment for passing through a man's ground.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and tray) A toll dish, the toll taken by the tollish.

TOLLBOOTH (s. from toll, and turn) A toll paid at the return of cattle from a fair or market.

TOLLBOOTH (s. an old word) A tribute anciently paid to the lord of a manor for liberty to brew and sell ale.

TOLLBOOTH (s. a different spelling) The tollmaster.

Tol'ey

Tol'ley (s. from toll) A kind of market, a place where people meet to buy and sell, a tollbooth.

TOLT (s. a law term) A writ by which a cause is removed from a court baron to the county court.

Tol'ta (s. an old law term) An extortion, a wrong.

TOLUI'ERA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TOLUM'NIUS (s.) A man's name.

TOLUTATION (s. from the Lat. toluto to pace) The act of pacing, the act of ambling.

TOLUTIL'OUENCE (s. from the Lat. toluto to pace, and loquor to speak) Smooth speech. Cole.

TO'MAN (s.) A kind of imaginary money used by the Persians in making up their accounts.

TOMB (s. from the Lat. tomba) A monument in which the dead are enclosed.

Tomb (v. t. from the sub.) To entomb, to bury.

Tomb'ed (p. from tomb) Entombed, buried.

Tomb'ing (p. a. from tomb) Entombing.

Tomb'ing (s. from the part. not much used) The act of sepulture, the act of putting into a tomb.

Tomb'less (adj. from tomb) Wanting a tomb, void of a tomb.

Tomb'lesters (s. obsolete) Tumblers. Chaucer.

Tomb'lynge (adj. obsolete) Unsteady, inconstant. Chau.

Tomb'boy (s. from tomb, and boy) A wild giddy girl; a mean silly fellow.

Tomb'stone (s. from tomb, and stone) A stone laid over the dead, a stone set up at the head of a grave to remember the dead.

Tomb'yfere (s. obsolete) A tumbler, one that tumbles.

TOME (s. from the Greek τομος) A book, a volume, one volume of many.

To'medis (adv. obsolete) To hoot, into the bargain. Ch.

Tomentit'ious (adj. from tomentum) Made of wool, made of down.

Tomen'tose (adj. from tomentum) Consisting of down, covered with down.

Toment'ous (adj. from tomentum) Made of wool, consisting of down.

TOMEN'TUM (s. from the Lat.) A kind of short wool, flocks; the down with which the leaves and fruit of some plant is covered.

TOMETICA (s. with physicians, from the Greek τεμνω to cut) Medicines to open the pores and disperse viscous humours.

TO'MICE (s. from the Greek τεμνω to cut) The act of carving.

TO'MICI (s. in anatomy, from the Greek τεμνω to cut) The fore teeth.

TO'MIN (s. with lapidaries) A weight of about three carats.

Tom'ine (v. t. an old word) To mind, to mean. Cole.

TOMINE'SO (s. in ornithology) The American humming bird.

Tom'kin (s. n gunnery) The stopple of a great gun, the tompon.

TOMPION (s. in gunnery) The stopple of a mortar or piece of ordnance, a kind of bung to stop the mouth of a cannon.

TOMOTO'CIA (s. from the Greek τεμνω to cut, and τόνος a birth) The hysterotomotocia, the act of cutting a child out of the womb.

TOMTIT (s. in ornithology) The name of a small bird.

TON (s. from the French tonne) A measure of four hogf heads, a weight of twenty hundred.

TON (s. from the Italian) A tone.

Ton (s. obsolete) The one. Chaucer.

TONDINO (s. in architecture) A round moulding representing a ring.

TONE (s. from the Greek τεμνω to stretch) A note, a sound; an accent, a sound of the voice; a whine, a mournful cry; a particular or affected sound in speaking; the state as to tightness, elasticity.

Tone (v. int. from the sub.) To sound in an affected manner, to sound as an instrument of music.

Tone (s. obsolete) The one. Chaucer.

Tone (s. obsolete) Toes, claws. Chaucer.

To'neless (adj. from tone) Having no tone. Kenrick.

TONG (s. probably from the Sax. tang, a reckoned a correct spelling) The catch of a buckle.

TONGS (s. from the Sax. tang) An instrument of two parts, moving on a pivot, to lay hold on any thing.

TONGUE (s. from the Sax. tung) The instrument of speech, the organ by which animals lick; speech, language; a nation distinguished by their language; a small point, the catch of a buckle, a tong. To hold the tongue, to be silent.

Tongue (v. t. from the sub.) To chide, to scold.

Tongue (v. int.) To talk, to prate.

Ton'gued (p. from tongue) Scolded.

Ton'gued (adj. from tongue) Having a tongue.

Tongue'debate (s. from tongue, and debate) A debate.

Tongue'doughty (adj. from tongue, and doughty) In speech.

Tongue'less (adj. from tongue) Wanting a tongue, less; unnamed, not mentioned.

Tongue'hurt (adj. from tongue, and hurt) Hurt in the tongue.

Tongue'hurt (s. from the adj.) A hurt or wound in the tongue of a beast.

Tongue'pad (s. from tongue, and pad) A great tal.

Tonguetied (adj. from tongue, and tied) Having tongue too much confined by the ligature, having impediment in the speech.

Ton'guing (p. a. from tongue) Exercising the tongue.

Ton'guing (s. from the part.) A scolding; a particular method of inferring a graat.

TO'NIC (adj. from the Greek τόνος a tone) Belonging to a tone, belonging to a sound; extended, elastic.

To'nica (s. from tonic) Medicines to strengthen tone.

Ton'ical (adj. from tonic) Belonging to sounds; having a proper tone.

TONIT'RUATE (v. int. from the Lat. tonare to thunder but not used) To thunder.

Tonn (s. an incorrect spelling) A tone, a sound.

Ton'nage (s. from ton) A duty on goods computed the ton.

Tonne (s. an old spelling) A ton. Chau.

Ton'neler (s. a sea term) One employed in filling a with water.

Tonne'tight (s. in old writings) The quantity of in the freight of a ship.

TON'SIL (s. in anatomy, from the Lat. tonsilla) One of the round glands placed on each side of the tongue.

TONSIL'LAE (s. in anatomy) The tonsils.

TON'SOR (s. from the Lat.) A barber, one that shaves.

Ton'sorious (adj. from tonsor) Belonging to barber.

TON'SURE (s. from the Lat. tonsura) The act of clipping the hair, the state of being shorn, a particular manner of shaving as practised by the religious among the papists.

Too (adv. from the Sax. to) Over and above, in quantity more than enough, to a degree more than enough; likewise, also.

Too (adj. an old spelling) Two. Chau.

Took (v. t. pret. of take) Did take.

Took (p. from took, not so much used) Taken.

TOOL (s. from the Sax. tol) Any instrument of manual operation, an instrument used by artificers; a hireling, a mean wretch who acts at the command of another.

Toom (adj. a local word) Empty.

Toon (s. an old spelling) A ton.

Toos (s. an old spelling) The toes.

Toot (v. int. from the sound) To blow a horn, to make a noise like the sound of a horn.

Toot (v. t.) To trumpet forth, to celebrate in triumph.

Toot (v. int. obsolete, or provincial) To pry, to peep to search for.

Tooted (p. from toot) Trumpeted forth, celebrated in a contemptuous manner.

TOOTH (s. from the Sax. toth) One of the bones of the mouth with which the act of mastication is performed; a tine, a prong; one of the prominent parts which form the indentures of a wheel or taste, palate. Tooth and nail, with the utmost violence. To the teeth, in open opposition. To cast the teeth, to insult openly. In spite of the teeth, notwithstanding all opposition.

Tooth (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with teeth, to lock in each other.

Tooth'ach (s. from tooth, and ach) The pain of the teeth.

Tooth'drawer (s. from tooth, and drawer) One whose business it is to draw teeth.

Tooth'drawing (s. from tooth, and drawing) The practice of drawing teeth.

Tooth'ed (p. from tooth) Furnished with teeth, having teeth.

Tooth'ing (p. a. from tooth) Furnishing with teeth.

Tooth'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with teeth; the indentures of mason's work left with a design to be wrought into a further building.

TOP

less (adj. from tooth) Deprived of teeth, want-teeth.

pick (s. from tooth, and pick) An instrument to the teeth.

picker (s. from toothpick) A toothpick.

some (adj. from tooth) Palatable.

someless (s. from toothsome) The state or quality being toothsome.

wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

wrest (s. from tooth, and wrest) An instrument drawing teeth.

ing (p. a. from toot) Blowing a horn, making a like the sound of a horn; peeping, prying. Spenser.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of blowing a horn, noise of a horn.

(s. from the Sax.) The highest part of any thing, highest place; the highest person, the utmost degree; the crown of the head, the fore lock; the head plant; the surface, the superficies.

(s. from the Danish) A bit of wood turned with a for boys to play with.

(s. a sea term) A kind of platform surrounding the head.

(adj. from the sub.) Uppermost, lying on the surface.

(v. int. from the sub.) To rise aloft, to be eminent; predominate, to do the best.

(v. t.) To tip, to cover the upper part; to rise above, to surpass, to go beyond; to crop, to cut off the upper part; to rise to the top, to perform eminently; but this sense only occurs on trivial occasions.

ARCH (s. from the Greek τῶπος a place, and ἀρχος) The chief man of a place, a lord or governor of small country.

ARCHIA (s. from the part.) A toparchy, a district of a toparchy.

archy (s. from toparch) The district of a toparch, a small state, a petty country.

armor (s. a sea term) A screen for the men who are stationed in the time of action on the tops.

PAZ (s. in natural history) A precious stone or gem of a yellow colour.

PAZ (s. in heraldry) The yellow colour in the coats of arms.

block (s. a sea term) The block which raises or lowers the top mast.

chain (s. a sea term) A chain to sling the top masts.

LE (s. in ichthyology) A kind of squalus.

LE (v. int. from the German topf) To drink much, to drink to excess.

er (s. from tope) A drunkard, one that drinks to excess.

ful (adj. from top) Full to the top, full to the brim.

gallant (s. from top, and gallant) The highest sail; by thing elevated.

gallant (adj. from the sub.) High, elevated.

H (s. in surgery) A kind of swelling in the bones.

aceous (adj. from tophus) Gritty, sandy, stony.

heavy (s. from top, and heavy) Having the upper part too weighty for the lower.

PHEL (s. from the Heb. signifying ruin) The name of a place. Deut. 1.

PHET (s. from the Heb. signifying a drum) The name of a place near Jerusalem, where dead carcasses and other filth were committed to the flames, the place where they sacrificed to Moloch.

PHUS (s. from the Greek τῶπος) The petrification of mineral waters; a chalky substance or stony concretion in any part of an animal body, the chalky substance formed in the joints of persons much afflicted with the gout.

PIARIA (s. from the Lat.) The act of forming boughs and images from the branches of trees by binding them into proper forms. Phillips.

piarius (s. from topiaria) One skilled in forming decorations from the branches of trees as they grow. Pb.

piary (adj. from topiaria) Belonging to an arbour or other devices formed from the branches of trees as they grow. Cole.

IC (s. from the Greek τῶπος a place) A general name; an external medicament to be applied to some particular part.

ica (s. in logic, from topic) The act of inventing and managing all kinds of probable arguments.

ical (adj. from topic) Relating to some general head; local, confined to some particular place; applied as a medicament to some particular part.

TOR

Topically (adv. from topical) With application to some particular part.

To'pice (s. in logic) The topica, the invention of arguments.

TOPINA'RIA (s. in zoology) The mole.

To'ping (p. a. from tope) Drinking to excess.

To'ping (s. from the part.) The act of drinking to excess.

Top'ing (s. a sea term) The act of putting one of the extremities of a yard higher than the other.

Top'inglift (s. from toping, and lift) A large strong tackle to suspend the end of a gaff or yard.

Top'knot (s. from top, and knot) A tuft of feathers on the top of the head; a knot worn by ladies on the top of the head.

Top'lanthorn (s. a sea term) A large lanthorn placed on the top of a ship's mast.

Top'less (adj. from top) Having no top.

Top'man (s. from top, and man) The sawer who stands on the top of the pit and guides the saw. Moxon.

Top'mast (s. from top, and mast) The second division of a mast.

Top'most (adj. from top, and most) Highest, uppermost.

Topog'rapher (s. from topography) One who describes particular places.

Topograph'ic (adj. from topography) Belonging to topography, describing particular places.

Topograph'ical (adj. from topographic) Describing particular places, belonging to topography.

TOPOG'RAPHY (s. from the Greek τῶπος a place, and γραφω to write) A description of particular places.

TO'POS (s. from the Greek) A place. Cole.

Top'ping (p. a. from top) Forming to a top, forming to a point; rising above, surpassing; cropping; cutting off the top.

Top'ping (s. from the part.) The act of covering over, the act of surpassing.

Top'ping (adj. from top, a low or droll word) Fine, gallant; rich, wealthy.

Top'pingcheat (s. a cant word) The gallows. Cole.

Top'pingcove (s. a cant word) A hangman. Cole.

Top'pingly Top'pinglie (adj. from topping) Fine, gay. Tusser.

Top'ple (v. int. from top) To fall forward, to tumble down. Sb.

Top'pling (p. a. from topple, but not used) Falling forward, tumbling down.

TOPOTH'ESY (s. from the Greek τῶπος a place, and τίθεσθαι to put) The description of a place.

Top'proud (adj. from top, and proud) Proud in the highest degree. Sb.

Top'rope (s. a sea term, from top, and rope) A rope used in striking the sails.

Top'sail (s. a sea term, from top, and sail) The highest sail.

Top'sailyard (s. a sea term, from top'sail, and yard) The yard of the top'sail.

TOP'SHAM (s.) A town in Devonshire; it is situated on the river Ex, has a market on Saturday, and is 173 miles from London.

Top'sham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Topsham, made at Topsham.

Top'sytur'vy (adv. from top) With the bottom upwards.

Top'sy tur'vy (adj. from the adv.) Having the bottom upwards. "Man is but a topsyturvy creature."

TOR (s. from the Sax.) A tower, a turret, a high pointed rock. Johnson.

TORCE (s. in heraldry) A wreath.

Torcen'cious (adj. obsolete) Using extortion. Ch.

TORCH (s. from the French torche) A wax light longer than a candle.

Torch'bearer (s. from torch, and bearer) One that carries a torch.

Torch'enes (s. in the manage) An instrument to pinch and confine the nose of a horse. Scott.

Torch'er (s. from torch) One that gives light.

Torch'light (s. from torch, and light) The light of a torch, light kindled to supply the light of the sun.

Torch'royal (s. a hunting term) The start on the stag's head which is next above the royal.

Torch'thistle (s. in botany, from torch, and thistle) The name of a plant, the castus.

Torch'weed (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Tor'cious (adj. obsolete) Using extortion. Chaucer.

TOR

TOR/CULAR (adj. in anatomy, from torqueo to twist) Belonging to the vein which goes up by the inside of the skull to the brain.

Tor/cular (s. in surgery) The tourniquet, an instrument to compress any part so as to stop the circulation of the blood; it is chiefly used in amputations.

TORCULARIOUS (adj. from the Lat. torqueo to press, but not much used) Belonging to a wine press.

TORCULARIS (s. in surgery) The torcular.

TORDIL/IUM (s. in botany) A genus or class of umbelliferous plants.

TORDYL/ON (s. in botany) The hartwort.

TORE (s. probably from tear) The dead kind of grass that remains on the ground in winter.

Tore (v. t. pret. of tear) Did tear.

Tore (p. from tear, but not so common) Torn.

Tore (s. in architecture) The torus, a member or moulding resembling a ring.

TOREU/MA (s. from the Greek) Embossed work.

TOREUMATOGRAPHY (s. from the Greek τρευμα sculpture, and γραφω to write) The science of sculpture.

TOREUTICE (s. from the Greek τρευμα sculpture) The art of embossing, the art of forming in sculpture.

TORMENT (s. from the French) Any thing that gives pain, pain, anguish, torture.

Torment (v. t. from the sub.) To put to pain, to excruciate; to put into great agitation; to tease, to vex.

Torment'ed (p. from torment) Put to great pain; teased, vexed.

Torment'er (s. from torment) One that torments, a tormentor.

TOR/MENTIL (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the fetfoil.

TORMENTIL/LA (s. in botany) The tormentil.

Tor'mentilroot (s. in medicine) The root of the tormentil.

Torment'ing (p. a. from torment) Putting to great pain; teasing, vexing.

Torment'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to great pain.

Torment'ingness (s. from tormenting) The quality or power which induces torment. Scott.

Torment'or (s. from torment) A tormenter, one that inflicts torment.

TOR/MINA (s. with physicians) Great pain, the wind colic, the pain of childbirth.

Torn (p. from tear) Broken, rent, lacerated.

TORNA/DO (s. from the Spanish) A hurricane, a whirlwind.

Tor'natil (adj. from tornatile) Tornatile, made with a wheel. Cole.

TOR/NATILE (adj. from the Lat. tornatilis) Turned, made with a wheel.

To'nis (s. obsolete) A turn in wrestling. Chaucer.

TOR/NISOL (s. in botany) The sunflower.

TOROS/ITY (s. from the Lat. torosus brawny, but not used) Brawniness. Cole.

TORPE/DO (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish which is said to benumb the hand that touches it while alive, but when dead is eaten with safety.

TOR/PENT (adj. from the Lat. torpeo to benumb) Benumbed, incapable of motion.

TOR/PID (adj. from the Lat. torpidus) Benumbed, void of motion; sluggish, inactive.

To'pidness (s. from torpid) The state of being torpid.

To'pitude (s. from torpid) The state of being torpid.

TOR/POR (s. from the Lat.) Dulness numbness: inactivity, incapacity for motion; stupidity.

TORQUA/TA (s. in zoology) The natrix, the water snake.

TORQUA/TED (adj. from the Lat. torquatus, but not used) Wearing a collar, wearing a chain. Cole.

TOR/QUE (s. in heraldry) A twisted roll of cloth about the head.

TORQUIL/LA (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the wryneck.

Tor'ra (s. in old records) A mount, a hill.

Torrefac'tion (s. from torrefy) The act of drying by the fire; the method of rendering any thing pliable by exposing it to the heat of the fire.

Tor'refied (p. from torrefy) Dried by the fire.

TOR/REFY (v. t. from the Lat. torreo to roast, and facio to make) To dry by the fire.

Tor'refying (p. a. from torrefy) Drying by the fire.

TOR

Tor'refying (s. from the part.) the act or process of drying by the fire.

TOR'RENT (s. from the Lat. torrens) A sudden rain raised by summer showers, a violent and frequent stream, a tumultuous current.

Tor'rent (adj. from the sub.) Rolling in a stream.

Tor'retes (s. obsolete) Rings, the rings that fasten a collar.

Torricel'lian (adj. from Torricellius) Belonging to barometer in which the different weight of atmosphere is determined by the rise or fall of quicksilver.

TORICEL/LIUS (s.) A man's name, an Italian who invented the method of determining the weight of atmosphere by the rise or fall of the quicksilver in the common barometer.

TOR/RID (adj. from the Lat. torreo to roast) Partly dried with heat, belonging to the regions between the tropics.

Torrid'ity (s. from torrid) Driness, the state of being parched.

Tor'ridness (s. from torrid) Driness, the state of being parched.

Tor'rified (p. from torrify, but not so correct a spelling) Torrefied.

Tor'rify (v. t. not so correct a spelling) To torrefy.

TOR/RINGTON (s.) A town in Devonshire; it has market on Saturday, and is 195 miles from London.

Tor'rington (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Torrington, made at Torrington.

Tor'rit (s. an old spelling) A turret.

TOR/ROCK (s. in ornithology) A kind of larva.

TOR/SEL (s. from the French torse) A piece of wood laid into a wall for the end of a timber or beam on.

Tor'sil (s. in building, a different spelling) A torse.

TOR/SION (s. from the Lat. torqueo to twist, but now grown obsolete) Torment, pain.

TORT (s. obsolete, from the French) Hurt, mischief, calamity.

TORTIAU/X (s. in heraldry) A pellet, a roundel.

Tort'peafor (s. a law term) One who does wrong, trespasser.

TOR/TILE (adj. from the Lat. tortilis) Twisted, wreathed.

TORTIL/OQUY (s. from the Lat. tortus crooked, loquor to speak) Rough language.

TORTION (s. from the Lat. tortus twisted, but now obsolete) Torment, pain.

TOR/TINE (adj. from the Lat. tortus twisted) Twisted, wreathed.

Tort'itious (adj. obsolete, from tort) Injurious.

Tort'ness (s. from tort) Tightness, the tension of rope when pulled hard; the state of being wreathed.

TOR/TOISE (s. in zoology) The name of an animal covered with a hard shell.

Tort'oise (s. from the foregoing) The form in which soldiers were wont to defend themselves by lying down and holding their shields over their heads.

Tort'oiseshell (s. from tortoise, and shell) The shell of a tortoise.

Tort'oiseshell (adj. from the sub.) Made of the shell of a tortoise.

TOR/TOR (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Apollo.

Tortuos'ity (s. from tortuous) A flexure, a crook.

TOR/TUOUS (adj. from the Lat. tortus) Twisted; mischievous, perverse.

Tort'uousness (s. from tortuous) The state of being twisted.

Tort'urable (adj. from torture) Capable of being tortured.

TORTURE (s. from the Lat. tortura) Pain, anguish, torments judicially inflicted, the pain by which confession is extorted.

Torture (v. t. from the sub.) To punish with torment, to vex, to torment, to keep on the rack, to hold in uneasy suspense.

Tortured (s. from torture) Put on the rack, tormented, vexed.

Torturer (p. from torture) One that tortures.

Torturing (p. a. from torture) Putting to the rack, tormenting, vexing.

TOT

ring (s. from the part.) The act of putting to VID (adj. from the Lat. torvus stern) Cruel. ty (s. from torvid) Sternness, severity of coun-VOUS (adj. from the Lat. torvus) Sour, se-US (s. from the Lat.) A bed, a wreath; a member architecture encompassing the base of a pillar be-the plint and the list.
 (s. a cant word) One of the banditti in Ireland, before so called by the Protestants in that king-one of the adherents of Charles the First, so by the whigs; one who has high notions of government in church and state.
 (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the toris, being to that party which entertains high notions government in church and state.
 (v. t. from teste) To comb wool.
 (v. t.) To comb, to toze, to separate the parts as comb.
 (p. from tose) Combed, separated as with a
 (p. a. from tose) Combing, separating wool, ving out as with a comb.
 (s. from the part.) The act of drawing out as a comb.
 (v. t. of uncertain etymology) To throw, to throw violence; to agitate, to keep in play; to make ists, to disquiet.
 (v. int.) To wince, to be in violent motion. To up, to throw money up into the air to see which will fall uppermost by way of chance.
 (s. from the verb) The act of tossing, that which iced; an affected manner of raising the head; a a passion; but this sense is colloquial.
 (p. from tois) Thrown, thrown with violence;
 up from one to another.
 (s. a different spelling) A tassel, a knot in which y short loose threads are united.
 (s. from tois) One that tosses.
 (p. a. from tois) Throwing, throwing with ence, throwing from one to another.
 (s. from tois) The act of throwing, a violent
 w.
 (s. from tois, and pot) A man who is too fond ink, a drunkard.
 (v. t. pret. of tois) Tossed, did tois.
 (p. from tois) Tossed.
 (s. not so common a spelling) A toast. Scott.
 (v. t. not so common a spelling) To toast. Scott.
 (s. not used) Totality. Cole.
 (adj. from the Lat. totus) Whole, full, com-
 (s. from the adj.) The whole, the whole sum.
 ty (s. from total) The total, the complete sum.
 y (adv. from total) Wholly, fully, completely.
 NUS (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the wit.
 (v. int. third pers. obsolete) Looketh, prieth. Ch.
 (pron. contracted from) The other.
 ESQUOTIES (adv. from the Lat.) So often as, in manner.
 NESS (s.) A borough town in Devonshire; it has market on Saturday, sends two members to parlia-and is 107 miles from London.
 (s. from the sub.) Belonging to Totness, made totness.
 (s. obsolete) A prater. Cbaucer.
 PED (adj. in the Exchequer, from the Lat. tot so ) Marked in the books as due to the king.
 TER (v. int. from the Dutch toteren) To shake as gh ready to fall.
 ray (s. a corruption from tollray) A customary of fourpence heretofore paid on every bushel and of corn sold at Maldon in Essex.
 ing (p. a. from totter) Shaking as though ready to fall.
 ring (s. from the part.) The act or circumstance of ing as though ready to fall.
 ty (adj. from totter) Shaking, unsteady. Johnf.
 (adj. from totter, but now become obsolete or collo-) Shaking, unsteady, dizzy. Spenser.
 (adj. comp. of totty, colloquial) Totty in a greater degree.
 (adj. sup. of totter, colloquial) Totty in the test degree.
 (adj. from totty, but now become obsolete or collo) shaking, unsteady, dizzy.

TOU

TO/TUM (s. a logical term) A whole, a whole consisting of distinct parts.
 TO/TUM (s. from the Lat.) A kind of die that turns round to called because the appearance of one lucky side entitles the player that turned it to the whole stake.
 TOU/CAN (s. in ornithology) The name of a remarkable bird; it is a species of ramphastos, and has a bill longer than its whole body.
 TOU/CAN (s. in astronomy) A constellation in the southern hemisphere.
 TOUCH (v. t. from the French toucher) To reach so as to be in contact, to come to, to attain; to delineate, to mark out; to infect, to seize in a slight manner; to affect, to move, to melt; to censure, to animadvert on; to try, to bring to the touchstone; to strike a musical instrument, to play on an instrument gracefully. To touch up, to repair, to improve by slight emendations.
 Touch (v. int.) To be in contact, to fasten on. To touch at, to put into a port without any intention of stay.
 To touch on or upon, to mention slightly, to touch at.
 Touch (s. from the verb) The state of being in contact, the act of touching, the sense of feeling; a test, a proof, an examination by a touchstone; the single stroke of a pencil on a picture; a feature, a lineament; an animadversion, a censure; the act of the hand on a musical instrument; a hint, a slight notice; a small quantity intermingled; a slight essay; a close adherence to any agreement or business; the state of the keys in a musical instrument.
 Touchable (adj. from touch) Tangible, capable of being touched.
 Touch'd (p. from touch) Felt as in contact, affected as by a touch.
 Touch'hole (s. from touch, and hole) The small aperture by which the fire is conveyed to the powder in the gun.
 Touch'ier (adj. comp. of touchy) Touchy in a greater degree.
 Touch'iest (adj. sup. of touchy) Touchy in the greatest degree.
 Touch'iness (s. from touchy) Peevishness, the state or quality of being touchy.
 Touch'ing (p. a. from touch) Placing in contact, affecting as with a touch; respecting, having respect to.
 "Touching our person."
 Touch'ing (adj. from the part.) Pathetic, affecting, moving.
 Touch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing in contact, the act of affecting as with a touch.
 Touch'ingly (adv. from touching) Pathetically. Garth.
 Touch'menot (s. in botany) The name of an herb. Ainsl.
 Touch'needle (s. with assayers) A small bar of metal used to prove the comparative fineness of gold.
 Touch'stone (s. from touch, and stone) The stone by which metals are proved; a test, a criterion.
 Touch'wood (s. from touch, and wood) Rotten wood used to catch the spark struck from the flint and steel.
 Touch'y (adj. from touch, reckoned a low word) Peevish, apt to take fire.
 Tow'et (s. a local word) The measure of half a bushel. Ph.
 TOUGH (adj. from the Sax. toh) Tenacious, yielding without breaking; viscous, clammy.
 Tough'en (v. t. from tough) To make tough.
 Tough'en (v. int.) To grow tough.
 Tough'ened (p. from toughen) Made tough.
 Tough'ening (p. a. from toughen) Making tough; growing tough.
 Tough'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making tough.
 Tough'er (adj. comp. of tough) Tough in a greater degree.
 Tough'est (adj. sup. of tough) Tough in the greatest degree.
 Tough'ly (adv. from tough) With toughness.
 Tough'ness (s. from tough) The state of being tough.
 Tough't (adj. an old spelling) Tough, tight. Cbaucer.
 Tough'ted (adj. an old word) Ducked, put under water. Ch.
 TOUPEE' (s. from the French) A toupet, a curl, an artificial lock of hair.
 TOUPE'T (s. from the French) A curl, an artificial lock of hair.
 TOUR (s. from the French the ou is pronounced as oo)
 A ramble, a roving journey; a turn, a revolution.
 Toure (s. an old spelling) A tower. Cbaucer.
 TOURFRETTE' (s. from the French) Curls for a lady's forehead. Cole.
 Tourn (s. a law term) The sheriff's court held twice in the year.

TOW

TRA

Town/naies (s. obsolete) Tournaments. Chaucer.
TOURNAMENT (s. from the low Lat. tournamentum) A tilt, a just, a military sport, a mock fight; an encounter, the shock of battle. Milton.
TOURNEFOR/TIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
TOURNEQUET (s. in surgery) An instrument to compress a wounded part so as to prevent an hæmorrhage. Dict. of Arts.
Tournet (s. an old word) A turret. Cole.
TOURNEY (s. from the French tourner to turn, but not so common a word) A tournament. Dryden.
Tourney (v. int. from the sub.) To tilt in the lists. Sp.
TOURNIQUET (s. from the French) A bandage straightened or relaxed by the turn of a handle and used in amputations; a turnstile.
TOURTAUX (s. in heraldry) A pellet, a roundle.
TOURTE (s. in cookery) A kind of pastry baked in a pan, a pie. Phillips.
TOURTEE (s. in cookery) A pie. Bailey.
Toufe (v. t. a different spelling, from teafe) To tose, to pull, to haul, to drag. Johnson.
Toufled (p. from toufe) Pulled, hauled, dragged.
Toulier (s. from toufe) The name of a dog.
Tou'ling (p. a. from toufe) Pulling, hauling.
Tou'ling (s. from the part.) The act of dragging.
Tout (s. obsolete) The breech, the tail. Chaucer.
TOUT (s. from the French, but not used) The whole. Co.
Tout (v. int. a local word) To look out, to look upon. Cole.
Tout'ingken (s. a cant word) The bar of a tavern. Cole.
Touze (v. t. from teafe) To pull, to drag, to haul.
Tou'zed (p. from touze) Pulled, hauled.
Tou'zer (s. from touze) The name of a dog.
Tou'zing (p. a. from touze) Pulling, hauling.
Tou'zing (s. from the part.) The act of hauling, the act of pulling.
Tou'zle (v. t. from touze, colloquial) To touze. Scott.
Tou'zled (p. from touzle, colloquial) Touzed.
Tou'zling (p. a. from touzle, colloquial) Touzing.
TOW (s. from the Sax.) Flax or hemp reduced to filaments; the coarser part of flax or hemp reduced to filaments; a kind of rope, a kind of chain used in hauling.
Tow (v. t. from the sub.) To draw by a rope, to draw by a rope through the water; to draw by a tow.
Tow'age (s. from tow) The act of towing, the money paid for towing.
TO'WARD (adj. from the Sax.) Ready, apt, docile.
TO'WARD (prep. from the Sax.) In a direction to, with a tendency to, with respect to.
To'ward (adv. from the adj.) At hand, in a state of preparation, nearly.
To'wardliness (s. from towardly) Readiness, docility.
To'wardly (adj. from toward) Ready, apt, docile.
To'wardness (s. from toward) Readiness, docility.
To'wards (prep. from toward) Toward, in a direction to, near to, with respect to.
To'wards (adv. from toward) Toward, at hand, nearly, in a state of preparation.
TOW'CESTER (s.) A town in Northamptonshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 59 miles from London.
Tow'cester (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Towcester, made at Towcester.
Tow'ed (p. from tow) Drawn by a rope, drawn through the water.
TOW'EL (s. from the French touaille) The cloth on which the hands are wiped.
Tow'el (s. obsolete) The tail. Chaucer.
Tow'er (s. from tow) One who tows.
TOWER (s. from the Sax. tor) A high building, a building raised above the rest of the edifice; a fortress, a citadel; a high headress; a high flight, an elevation.
Tow'er (v. int. from the sub.) To soar, to rise high.
Tow'ered (adj. from tower) Adorned with towers, defended by towers.
Tow'ering (p. a. from tower) Soaring, rising high.
Tow'ering (s. from the part.) The act of soaring, the act of rising high.
Tow'ernustard (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Tow'ery (adj. from tower) Adorned with towers, guarded by towers.
Tow'her (s. a local word) A dowry. Cole.
Tow'ing (p. a. from tow) Pulling, pulling through the water.
Tow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing, the act of drawing through the water.
Tow'line (s. from tow, and line) The rope with which any thing is towed.

TOWN (s. from the Sax. tun) A collection of houses surrounded with a wall, a collection of houses more than a village; a collection of houses where a market is held; the people who live in a town, people who live in the capital.
Town'bull (s. from town, and bull) A bull belonging to a parish; a noisy rude fellow.
Town'clerk (s. from town, and clerk) An officer who manages the business of a town or city.
Town'ditch (s. from town, and ditch) The moat or ditch by which a town has been defended.
Town'house (s. from town, and house) The hall of a town or city where public business is transacted.
Town'major (s. from town, and major) The third officer in the garrison of a town.
Town'ship (s. from town) The district belonging to a town; the corporation of a town.
Town'sman (s. from town, and man) An inhabitant of the same place, one of the same town.
Towns'men (s. from town'sman) More than one town'sman.
Towns'woman (s. from town, and woman) A woman who is an inhabitant of the same place, a woman of the same town.
Towns'women (s. plu. of town'swoman) More than one town'swoman.
Town'talk (s. from town, and talk) The common talk of a town, something talked of by the whole town.
TOWR (s. from the Sax. tor a tower) A lofty flight.
Towr (v. int. from the sub.) To soar, to tower.
Tow'ring (p. a. from tower) Soaring, towering.
Tow'rope (s. from tow, and rope) The rope by which any thing is towed.
TOW'RUS (s. a hunting term) The state of a race-horse citing the male.
Towz (v. t. a different spelling) To tose, to comb wool to prepare wool for spinning; to tug, to pull.
Towze (v. t. a different spelling) To touze, to pull, to haul.
Tow'zed (p. from touze) Pulled, tugged.
Tow'zer (s. from towze) The name of a dog.
Tow'zing (p. a. from towze) Touzing.
TOXICA (s. supposed to be from the Greek toxos, a bow) A kind of poison in which the Indians were wont to dip their arrows.
Toxical (adj. from toxica) Venomous, poisonous.
TOXICODEN'TRON (s. in botany) The poisonous species of fumach.
TOX'ICUM (s. from the Lat.) Poison.
TOY (s. from the Dutch toyen, to dress with ornaments) A petty commodity, a trifle; a plaything, a bauble, folly, play, sport, amorous dalliance; a frolic, a fancy.
Toy (v. int. from the sub.) To trifle, to play, to play amorously.
Toy'ing (p. a. from toy) Playing, trifling, playing amorously.
Toy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of playing amorously.
Toy'ish (adj. from toy) Wanton, trifling.
Toy'ishness (s. from toyish) Playfulness, wantonness.
Toyil'odus (s. in old records) A ram, a weather.
Toy'man (s. from toy, and man) One who deals in toys.
Toy'shop (s. from toy, and shop) A shop where toys are sold.
Toze (v. t. a different spelling) To tose, to pull apart to separate as with a comb. Shakspeare.
To'zed (p. from toze) Pulled, pulled by violence, combed as wool.
To'zing (p. a. from toze) Pulling, hauling, separating as with a comb.
To'zing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling by violence, the act of preparing wool for spinning.
To'ziness (s. from tozy) Softness, the state of wool.
To'zy (adj. from toze) Soft, like tozed wool.
TOZ'ZIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
TRA'BAL (s. from the Lat. trabs a beam) Belonging to a beam.
TRA'BEA (s.) A man's name, a comic poet.
TRAB'EATED (adj. from the Lat. trabs a beam) Having an entablature.
TRABEA'TION (s. from the Lat. trabs a beam) An entablature.
TRABS (s. from the Lat. in meteorology) A meteor the air resembling a beam.
TRA'CAS (s. from the French but not used) A bustling.
TRACE (s. from the French) The mark left by any thing.

T R A

T R A

ing, footsteps; the remains, the appearance of at has been.
 CE (s. from the French tirasse) The harness for of draught, the rope or chain by which horses are drawn.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To follow by the footsteps, follow with exactness; to walk over, to mark out.
 (p. from trace) Followed by the footsteps, followed with exactness, walked over, marked out.
 (s. from trace) One who traces.
 CH'ALUS (s.) A man's name, an excellent orator.
 CHEA (s. in anatomy) The windpipe.
 CHELA'GUA (s. from the Greek τραχηλος the neck, and αγχα the gout) The gout in the neck.
 CHE'LUM (s. in botany) The throatwort.
 CHEOT'OMY (s. from the Greek τραχηλος the neck, and τομή to cut) The operation of opening the windpipe, bronchotomy.
 CHI'NA (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish,
 the hantile.
 CHI'NUS (s. in ichthyology) A genus of fishes.
 CHO'MA (s. from the Greek) A kind of scab or roughness in the inner part of the eye.
 cho'mia (s. from trachoma) The trachoma. Phil.
 thomat'icum (s. from trachoma) A medicine for the eyes, a medicine for the trachoma.
 CHON'ITIS (s.) A district of Palestine.
 thot'omy (s. not so correct a spelling) The tracheomy. Bailey.
 CHO'RUS (s. in ichthyology) A fish resembling a herring, the mother of the anchovy.
 (p. a. from trace) Following by the steps, following with exactness, marking out.
 (s. from the part.) The act of following the footsteps, the act of following with exactness, the act of marking out.
 (s. from tracing, and line) A small cord generally passing through a block and used to raise a thing to a higher station.
 ACK (s. from the old French trac) A mark impressed by passing a road, a beaten path.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To follow by the footsteps, to follow by the marks left in the way.
 (v. t. a sea term) To draw up or down a river by a rope extended to the shore.
 (p. from track) Followed by the footsteps, followed by the marks left in the way; drawn along a river by a rope extended to the shore.
 (p. a. from track) Following by the footsteps, following by the marks left in the way; drawing a rope a river by a rope extended to the shore.
 (s. from the part.) The act of following by the marks in the way; the act of drawing any thing through the water with a rope. Falconer.
 (s. a sea term) A vessel employed to carry goods or passengers, and drawn by a rope extended to the shore.
 ACT (s. from the Lat. traho tractus to draw) Any kind of extension, a continuity, any thing protracted; a course, a manner of proceeding; a treatise, a small book.
 ACT'ABLE (adj. from the Lat. traho tractus to draw) Compliant, docile, manageable; palpable, capable of being felt or handled.
 act'ableness (s. from tractable) The state of being tractable.
 act'ably (adv. from tractable) Obsequiously, with ready compliance.
 ac'tate (s. from tract) A treatise, a tract, a small book. Hale.
 ACT'ILE (adj. from the Lat. traho tractus to draw) Ductile, capable of being drawn out.
 act'il'ity (s. from tractile) Ductility.
 ac'tion (s. from tract) The act of drawing, the state of being drawn.
 ACT'ITIOUS (adj. from the Lat. traho tractus to draw, but not used) Handling, using, treating of. Cole.
 ACT'RIX (s. in geometry) A kind of curve, the cata-maria.
 (s. an old spelling) Traces, the ropes or chains
 by which a horse draws. Chaucer.
 ADE (s. from the French traite) An occupation, a particular employment; habitual exercise; the instruments of any occupation; traffic, commerce.
 (v. int. from the sub.) To deal, to traffic, to carry on commerce; to act merely for money; to give in to some habitual exercise.
 (v. t. not much used) To sell, to exchange in commerce.
 (p. from trade) Varied, practised. Ezek. 27.

Tra'deful (adj. from trade) Commercial, busy in trade.
 Tra'der (s. from trade) One who trades, a merchant.
 TRADESCAN'TIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Trades'folk (s. from trade, and folk) People employed in trade; people who live on trade.
 Trades'man (s. from trade, and man) A man in trade, one employed in buying and selling, a shopkeeper,
 one skilled in trade.
 Trades'men (s. plu. from tradesman) More than one tradesman.
 Trades'woman (s. from trade, and woman) A woman employed in trade, a woman skilled in trade.
 Trades'women (s. plu. from tradeswoman) More than one tradeswoman.
 Tra'dewind (s. from trade, and wind) A wind which blows the same way all the year; a wind that blows the same way for a stated time.
 Tra'ding (p. a. from trade) Buying and selling, carrying on trade.
 Tra'ding (s. from the part.) The act of carrying on trade.
 TRADITION (s. from the Lat. trado to deliver) A verbal account of any thing delivered from one age to another, that which has been handed down by oral relation from one generation to another.
 Tradit'ional (adj. from tradition) Delivered down by tradition from one age to another, descending by oral communication; adhering to tradition, observant of traditions. Shakespeare.
 Tradit'ionally (adv. from traditional) By tradition, from tradition.
 Tradit'ionary (adj. from tradition) Delivered by tradition.
 Tradit'ionist (s. from tradition) One who adheres to tradition.
 TRADIT'IVE (adj. from the Lat. trado to deliver) Transmitted from one age to another, transmissible from one generation to another.
 TRADITO'RES (s. in church history) The reproachful appellation given by the primitive christians to those who in time of persecution delivered up their bibles to escape punishment.
 TRADUCE (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and duco to lead) To censure, to condemn, to calum-niate; to propagate, to increase by deriving one from another.
 Tradu'ced (p. from traduce) Calumniated, blamed, censured.
 Tradu'cement (s. from traduce) Censure, obloquy. Sb.
 Tradu'cent (adj. from traduce) Traducing, tending to censure. Shakespeare.
 Tradu'cer (s. from traduce) One who traduces.
 Tradu'cian (s. in church history, from traduce) One who holds that original sin is transmitted from the parents to their children.
 Tradu'cible (adj. from traduce) Capable of being derived. Hale.
 Tradu'cing (p. a. from traduce) Calumniating, cen-suring.
 Tradu'cing (s. from the part.) The act of calumniating.
 Tradu'cingly (adv. from traducing) Slandrously. Bai.
 Tradu'ction (s. from traduce) A derivation from one of the same kind, a propagation; a transmission from one to another; a transition, a conveyance.
 TRAFFIC (s. the modern spelling) Traffick, commerce.
 TRAF'FICK (s. from the French traffiquer) Commerce, merchandise; commodities, the subject of commerce.
 Traffick (v. int. from the sub.) To practise commerce, to exchange commodities; to trade meanly, to trade mercenarily; with with, and for: as, "And traffick with thee for a prince's fortune."
 Trafficker (s. from traffick) One who trafficks, a trader.
 Trafficking (p. a. from traffick) Practising commerce, trading.
 Trafficking (s. from traffick) The act of trading.
 TRAF'INE (s. with surgeons) The trepan.
 TRAG'ACANTH (s. in botany, and medicine) The name of a plant, the gum produced from the plant.
 TRA'GEA (s. in pharmacy) A kind of aromatic powder taken as a carminative.
 Trage'dian (s. from tragedy) A writer of tragedy, an actor of tragedy.
 TRAGEDIOP'RAPHER (s. from the Greek τραγωδια a tragedy, and γραφω to write, but not used) A writer of tragedy. Cole.
 TRAG'EDY (s. from the Greek τραγωδια) The dramatic representation of a serious action, a dramatic piece of a more serious turn; a mournful event, a dreadful catastrophe.
 Trag'elaph

T R A

- Trag'elaph (s. from tragelaphus) A beast between a goat and a deer.
- TRAGELAPHUS (s. in zoology from the Greek τραγός a goat, and ελαφος a hart) A beast found in the woods of Bohemia between a goat and a deer.
- TRAGEMATOPOLIST (s. from the Greek τραγμια a confession, and πωλεω to sell, but not used) A confessor. Cole.
- Trag'etor, Trag'etour (s. obsolete) An impostor. Chaucer.
- TRA'GIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
- Trag'ic (adj. from tragedy) Belonging to tragedy; mournful, calamitous.
- Trag'ical (adj. from tragic) Belonging to tragedy, mournful, disastrous.
- Trag'ically (adv. from tragical) In a tragical manner; mournfully, calamitously.
- Trag'icalness (s. from tragical) The state of being tragical.
- Tragicom'edy (s. from tragedy, and comedy) A drama composed of merry and serious events.
- Tragicom'ic (adj. from tragedy, and comedy) Relating to tragicomedy.
- Tragicom'ical (adj. from tragicomic) Belonging to tragicomedy.
- Tragicom'ically (adv. from tragicomic) With a mixture of merry and serious events.
- TRA'GIUM (s. in botany) The white dittany; a shrub resembling the juniper which in autumn is said to have the smell of a goat.
- TRAGON'ATUM (s. in botany) The wild campion.
- TRAGON'IA (s. in botany) The tarragon.
- TRAGO'POGON (s. in botany) The goats beard; a genus of plants.
- TRAGOP'YRUM (s. in botany) A kind of buck wheat.
- TRAGOR'CHIS (s. in botany) The ragwort.
- TRAGORIG'ANUM (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
- TRA'GOS (s. in botany) The woodbind.
- TRAGOSEL'IMUM (s. in botany) The pimpinella.
- TRA'GUS (s. in anatomy) The protuberance of the auricle next the temple.
- TRA'JAN (s.) A man's name, the fourteenth emperor of Rome.
- Traie (v. t. obsolete) To betray. Chaucer.
- TRAJECT (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and jacio to throw) To throw, to cast through.
- Traject (s. from the verb) A ferry, a passage over a water.
- Traject'ed (p. from traject) Thrown.
- Traject'ing (p. a. from traject) Throwing, throwing through.
- Traject'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing, a trajection.
- Traject'ion (s. from traject) The act of darting through, an emission.
- Traject'itious (adj. from traject) Carried over, carrying over. Cole.
- Traject'ory (s. from traject) The orbit of a comet; an elliptical orb.
- TRAIL (v. t. from the French trailler) To hunt by the track, to draw along the ground; to drag, to haul.
- Trail (v. int.) To be drawn out in length.
- Trail (s. from the verb) The scent left on the ground, the track followed by the hunter; any thing drawn to length, that which is drawn behind.
- Trail (s. obsolete) An harbour. Chaucer.
- Trail'board (s. a sea term) A carved board on each side of the beak of a ship.
- Trail'ed (p. from trail) Hunted by the track, drawn along the ground.
- Trail'ing (p. a. from trail) Following by the track, drawing along the ground, drawing after in undulations on the ground.
- Trail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing along on the ground, the act of hanging on the ground.
- Trail'ingly (adv. from trailing) In a trailing manner. Bz.
- TRAIN (v. t. from the French traîner) To draw along, to draw, to entice, to draw by degrees, to bring up, to breed, to form to any thing, to educate; with up: as, "To train them up."
- Train (s. from the verb) A series, a consecution; a process, a method; the part of a garment that falls behind and hangs on the ground; the tail of a bird; a retinue, a number of followers; an orderly company, a procession; the line of powder reaching to the mine in order to blow it up; artifice, stratagem. Train of artillery, the cannon accompanying an army.
- Train'bands (s. from train, and band) The trained bands, the militia, the part of the people trained to martial exercise.

N R A

- Traine (v. t. obsolete) To betray.
- Train'ed (p. from train) Drawn along, enticed; brought up, educated, formed to any thing by degrees.
- Train'edbands (s. from train, and band) The militia, part of the common people trained to arms.
- Train'elnet (s. an incorrect spelling) A trammel-net.
- Train'er (s. from train) One who trains up, an instructor.
- Train'ing (p. a. from train) Forming to any thing by degrees, bringing up, educating; pursuing a vein of ore.
- Train'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming to any thing by frequent exercise, a process of education for any particular employment; the act of pursuing a vein of ore.
- Train'oil (s. from train, and oil) Oil drawn from the blubber of a whale.
- Trainy (adj. from trainoil, reckoned a bad word) Belonging to trainoil.
- Traipse (s. a trape, or droll word) A trapes, a woman negligent in dress.
- Traipse (v. int. from the sub.) To walk in a careless, fluttish manner.
- Traips'ing (p. a. from traipse) Walking in a careless, fluttish manner.
- Traie (s. obsolete) The traces by which horses draw.
- Trais'ounce (s. an old spelling) Treason, treachery.
- TRAIT (s. from the French) A stroke, a touch. Brown.
- Trait'erie (s. obsolete) Treachery.
- TRAIT'OR (s. from the Lat. trado to deliver) One who being intrusted betrays; with to: as, "He was a traitor to his king and country."
- Trait'orie (s. an old word) Treachery.
- Trait'orily (adj. from traitor) Treacherous, perfidious. Shakespeare.
- Trait'orous (adj. from traitor) Treacherous, perfidious.
- Trait'orously (adv. from traitorous) Perfidiously, treacherously.
- Trait'orousness (s. from traitorous) Perfidiousness, treachery.
- Trait'ourie (s. obsolete) Treachery.
- Trait'refs (s. from traitor) A woman who betrays.
- TRALATIT'IOUS (adj. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and fero latus to bring) Metaphorical, figurative.
- Tralatit'iously (adv. from tralatitious) Metaphorically, figuratively.
- TRALINE'ATE (v. int. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and linea a line) To deviate from any direction; with from: as, "If you tralineate from your father's mind." Shakespeare.
- TRALU'CENT (adj. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and luceo to shine) Shining through.
- Tram'bling (s. in tin works) A method of cleaning the ore from filth, a method of washing ore.
- TRAMEL (s. from the French trammel) A net in which birds or fish are caught, any kind of net; a kind of shackles in which horses are taught to pace.
- Tram'elnet (s. from trammel, and net) A net in which birds or fish are caught; the hooks on which a pot is hung over the fire.
- TRAM'MEL (s. a different spelling) A trammel.
- Tram'mel (v. t. from the sub.) To catch, to intercept. Shakespeare.
- Tram'meled (p. from trammel, but not much used) Caught, intercepted.
- Tram'meled (adj. in the manage) Having two white feet on the same side, having two white feet one before and one on the opposite side behind.
- Tram'melnet (s. from trammel, and net) A trammel, a net to catch birds or fish.
- Tram'meling (p. a. from trammel, but not much used) Catching, intercepting.
- Tramontain (adj. a different spelling) Tramontane.
- TRAMONTANE (adj. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and mons a mountain) Situate on the other side of a mountain, living on the other side of the mountains, applied by the Italians to those who live on the other side of the Alps.
- Tramontane (s. from the adj.) The north wind so called by the Italians because it blows from the other side of the Alps.
- TRAMPLE (v. t. from the Danish trampe) To tread under foot; to tread with contempt.
- Tram'ple (v. int.) To tread in contempt, to tread quick and loud. Tram'pled

TRA

Trampled (p. from trample) Trodden under foot; tread with contempt.
Trampler (s. from trample) One that tramples.
Trampling (p. a. from trample) Treading under foot, treading with a kind of contempt.
Trampling (s. from the part.) The act of treading under foot, the act of treating with contempt, the noise of quick and loud steps.
Tran (s. from the Lat. trano to swim over) The act of swimming over.
Trance (s. from the Lat. transeo to pass over) An absence, a temporary absence of the soul from the body, a state in which the soul is rapt into visions of purity.
Tranced (adj. from trance) Lying in a trance, lying in ecstasy.
Trancer (s. an old word) A man employed in husbandry.
Tranche (adj. in heraldry) Countercharged in a particular manner.
Trane (s. from train) Train oil.
Trane (s. from trane, and oil) Train oil.
Trangle (s. in heraldry) A bar, the diminutive of trangle.
Tram (s. a cant word) A conundrum, a gimcrack.
Trammel (s. with mechanics) A sharp pin, a nail ground to a sharp point.
Tranquil (adj. from the Lat. tranquillus) Peaceful, undisturbed.
Tranquility (s. from tranquil) Quiet, peace of mind, calmness.
Tranquillize (v. t. from tranquil, but not much used) To make tranquil, to cause tranquillity.
Tranquillized (p. from tranquillize, but not used) Made tranquil.
Tranquillizing (p. a. from tranquillize, but not used) Making tranquil.
Tranquillous (adj. from tranquil, but not used) Tranquil, peaceful.
Tranquillousness (s. from tranquillous, but not used) Tranquillity.
Transact (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and ago adus to do) To manage, to negotiate, to conclude a treaty; to perform, to do, to carry on.
Transacted (p. from transact) Managed, negotiated, carried on.
Transacting (p. a. from transact) Managing, negotiating, doing, carrying on.
Transacting (s. from the part.) The act of negotiating, transacting.
Transaction (s. from transact) A thing done, a thing managed, a negotiation.
Transactor (s. from transact) One who transacts, one who negotiates.
Transalpine (adj. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and alps) Situate beyond the Alps.
Transanimation (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and anima the soul) The conveyance of the soul from one body to another, a transmigration.
Transcend (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and scando to climb) To surpass, to excel, to surmount.
Transcended (v. int. but not used) To climb.
Transcending (p. from transcend, but not much used) Surpassing, excelling.
Transcendence (s. from transcend) Excellence, supereminence.
Transcendency (s. from transcend) Transcendence, excellence.
Transcendent (adj. from transcend) Excellent, supereminent.
Transcendental (adj. from transcendent) Supereminent, surpassing others; general, running through many particulars.
Transcendently (adv. from transcendent) Excellently, supereminently.
Transcending (p. a. from transcend) Surpassing, excelling.
Transcending (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing others.
Transcolate (v. t. a scientific word, from the Lat. trans through, and colo to strain) To strain through a sieve.
Transcolated (p. from transcolate) Strained through a sieve.
Transcolating (p. a. from transcolate) Straining through a sieve.
Transcolation (s. from transcolate, a scientific word) The act of straining through a sieve.

TRA

Transcribe (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and scribo to write) To write from an exemplar, to copy.
Transcribed (p. from transcribe) Copied, written from an exemplar.
Transcriber (s. from transcribe) One who transcribes.
Transcribing (p. a. from transcribe) Copying, writing from an exemplar.
Transcribing (s. from the part.) The act of copying.
Transcript (s. from transcribe) A copy, any thing written from an exemplar.
Transcription (s. from transcript) The act of copying.
Transcriptive (adj. from transcript) Copying, done as from a copy.
Transcriptively (adv. from transcriptive) In the manner of a copy.
Transcur (v. int. from the Lat. trans through, and curro to run) To rove, to run to and fro.
Transcurrence (s. from transcur) The act of roving, a transcurfion.
Transcuring (p. a. from transcur, but not used) Roving, running from one place to another.
Transcurfion (s. from transcur) A ramble, the act of roving from one place to another.
Transduction (s. from the Lat. trans, on the other side, and duco to lead) The act of leading over.
Transe (s. a correct, but not so common a spelling, from the French transe) A trance, a kind of temporary absence of the soul from the body.
Transelementation (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and elementum an element) A change of the elements or principles of one body into another.
Transexion (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and sexus a sex) A change from one sex to another.
Transfeminate (v. int. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and femina a woman) To pass from woman to man.
Transfer (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and fero to bring) To make over from one to another, to convey; to remove, to transport.
Transfer (s. from the verb) The act of conveying from one to another, the instrument or writing by which property is conveyed from one to another.
Transferred (p. from transfer) Made over from one to another; conveyed from one place to another.
Transference (s. from transfer, but not used) The act of transferring.
Transferring (p. a. from transfer) Making over from one to another; conveying from one place to another.
Transferring (s. from the part.) The act of conveying from one to another.
Transfiguration (s. from transfigure) A change of form; the miraculous change in the appearance of our Saviour on the mount.
Transfigure (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and figura a figure) To change the form, to transform.
Transfigured (p. from transfigure) Changed in form, changed in appearance.
Transfiguring (p. a. from transfigure) Changing the form, changing the appearance.
Transfiguring (s. from the part.) The act of changing the form or appearance.
Transfix (v. t. from the Lat. trans through, and figo to fix) To pierce through.
Transfixed (p. from transfix) Pierced through.
Transfixing (p. a. from transfix) Piercing through.
Transfixing (s. from the part.) The act of piercing through.
Transfixion (s. from transfix) The act of piercing through.
Transforate (v. t. from the Lat. trans through, and foro to bore) To bore through, to make a hole through anything.
Transforated (p. from transforate) Bored through, having a hole bored through.
Transforating (p. a. from transforate, but not much used) Boring through, making a hole through.
Transform (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and forma a form) To change the external form, to metamorphose.
Transform (v. int.) To put on a different form.
Transformation (s. from transform) A change of form; the

- the act of changing the form, the state of being changed as to the outward form.
- Transfor'med (p. from transform) Changed in the external appearance, metamorphosed.
- Transfor'ming (p. a. from transform) Changing the form, metamorphosing.
- Transfor'ming (s. from the part.) The act of changing the external form, a transformation.
- TRANSFRETATION (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and fretum an arm of the sea) Passage over the sea. Davies.
- TRANSFULGID (adj. from the Lat. trans through, and fulgeo to shine) Shining through.
- TRANSFUME (v. int. from the Lat. trans through, fumo to smoke) To smoke through. Cole.
- Transfu'ming (p. a. from transume, but not much used) Smoking through.
- TRANSFUSE (v. t. from the Lat. trans through, and fundo fufus to pour) To pour out of one thing into another; with from, to and into: as, "To transfuse from himself into others."
- Transfus'ed (p. from transfuse) Poured out of one into another; with on: as, "Transfused on thee his ample spirit rests."
- Transfu'sing (p. a. from transfuse) Pouring out of one into another.
- Transfu'sing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out of one into another, a transfusion.
- Transfus'ion (s. from transfuse) The act of pouring out of one into another.
- TRANSGRESS (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and gradior gressus to go) To pass over, to pass beyond; to violate, to break, to offend, to sin against.
- Transgre'ss (v. int.) To offend by violating a law.
- Transgre'ssed (p. from transgress) Violated, broken; passed over.
- Transgre'ssing (p. a. from transgress) Violating, breaking, passing over, going beyond.
- Transgre'ssing (s. from transgress) The act of exceeding due bounds, the act of violating a law, a violation.
- Transgre'ssion (s. from transgress) A violation of law; an offence, a crime, a sin against God.
- Transgre'ssive (adj. from transgress) Faulty, culpable; tending to transgression.
- Transgre'ssor (s. from transgress) One that transgresses, a violator of the law, one that commits a crime, a sinner against God.
- Transjection (s. from the Lat. trans over, and jacio to throw) The act of casting over. Cole.
- TRANSIENT (adj. from the Lat. trans over, and eo to go) Passing, short, momentary; temporary, continuing but for a time.
- Tran'siently (adv. from transient) In a transient manner.
- Tran'siency (s. from transient) The state of being transient.
- TRANSILIENCE (s. from the Lat. trans over, and salio to leap) A leap from one thing to another.
- Transil'ency (s. from transilience) A leap from one thing to another.
- TRANSILVANIA (s. in geography) A principality of the ancient Dacia.
- Transilva'nian (adj. from Transilvania) Belonging to Transilvania.
- Transilva'nian (s. from the adj.) A native of Transilvania.
- TRANSIRE (s. from the Lat.) A custom house warrant. Cole.
- TRANSIT (s. from the Lat. trans over, and eo to go) The passage of one heavenly body over another.
- TRANSITION (s. from the Lat. trans over, and eo to go) A removal, a passage, a change; the act of passing from one part or subject to another.
- TRANSITIVE (adj. from the Lat. trans over, and eo itus to go) Having the power of passing; belonging to a verb which has respect to some object which is influenced or governed by it, passing over to some object.
- Tran'sitively (adv. from transitive) In a transitive manner.
- Tran'sitiveness (s. from transitive) The state of being transient. Scott.
- Tran'sitorily (adv. from transitory) In a transitory manner, with short continuance.
- Tran'sitoriness (s. from transitory) The state of being transitory.
- TRANSITORY (adj. from the Lat. trans over, and eo itus to go) Continuing but for a short time, passing away.
- TRANSLATE (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and latus to bring) To transport, to remove; to remove a bishop from one see to another; to transfer from one to another; to change, to render into a different language.
- Transla'ted (p. from translate) Changed, removed, into a different language.
- Transla'ting (p. a. from translate) Removing, transferring, removing a bishop from one see to another, rendering into a different language.
- Transla'ting (s. from the part.) The act of rendering into a different language; the act of removing from one to another.
- Transla'tion (s. from translate) A removal, the removing; the removal of a bishop from one see to another; the act of rendering into a different language that which has been rendered into a different language.
- Transla'tor (s. from translate) One who renders something into a different language.
- Transla'tory (adj. from translate) Transferring.
- TRANSLOCATION (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and loco to place) A reciprocal removal, a transposition.
- Translu'cency (s. from translucent) Transparency.
- TRANSLUCENT (adj. from trans through, and luo to shine) Shining through, transparent.
- TRANSLUCID (adj. from the Lat. trans through, and lucidus shining) Shining through, transparent.
- TRANS'MARINE (adj. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and mare the sea) Lying on the other side of the sea, found beyond sea.
- TRASME'ABLE (adj. from the Lat. trans through, and meo to ooze) Capable of being passed through.
- TRANSME'ATE (v. t. from the Lat. trans through, and meo to ooze) To pass through.
- Transme'ated (p. from transmeate) Passed through.
- Transme'ating (p. a. from transmeate, but not much used) Passing through.
- TRANSME'W (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and meo to ooze) To transmute, to transform.
- Transmew'ed (p. from transmew, but now grown obsolete) Transmuted.
- Transmew'in (v. t. obsolete) To transform.
- Transmew'ing (p. a. from transmew, but now obsolete) Transmuting.
- Trans'migrant (adj. from transmigrate) Passing into another state, passing into another country.
- TRANS'MIGRATE (v. int. from the Lat. trans over, and migro to wander) To pass from one country to another, to pass from one state to another, to pass the soul, according to the notion of some ancient philosophers, from one body to another.
- Trans'migrating (p. a. from transmigrate) Passing from one state to another, passing from one country to another; passing as the soul from one body to another.
- Trans'migrating (s. from the part.) The act of passing from one state or country to another.
- Transmigra'tion (s. from transmigrate) A passage from one state or place into another; the passage of the soul, according to the opinion of some ancient philosophers, from one body into another.
- TRANSMIS'SIBLE (adj. from the Lat. trans through, and mitto to send) Capable of being transmitted.
- Transmis'sion (s. from transmit) The act of sending from one place to another.
- Transmis'sive (adj. from transmit) Derived from another.
- TRANSMIT (v. t. from the Lat. trans through, and mitto to send) To send from one person or place to another.
- Transmit'tal (s. from transmit) The act of transmitting a transmission.
- Transmit'ted (p. from transmit) Sent from one person or place to another; with to: It was transmitted to the king.
- Transmit'ting (p. a. from transmit) Sending from one person or place to another.
- Transmog'raphy (v. t. a low barbarous word) To transform, to metamorphose.
- TRANSMOTION (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and moveo to move, but not used) The act of moving anything from one's self to another; a figure in rhetoric.
- Transmounta'ne (adj. a different spelling) Transmontane, situate on the other side of the mountains.

transmutable (adj. from transmute) Capable of being changed, convertible to some other substance.

transmutability (s. from transmutable) The state or quality that admits of transmutation.

transmutably (adv. from transmutable) With possibility of being converted into some other substance.

transmutation (s. from transmute) The act of changing one substance, the state of being changed into another substance.

transmute (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other, and muto to change) To change from one nature or substance to another.

transmuted (p. from transmute) Changed from one substance to another.

transmuter (s. from transmute) One who transmutes.

transmutid (p. an old spelling) Transmuted, transmuted. Cb.

transmutin (v. t. an old spelling) To transmute, to transmute. Cbaucer.

transmuting (p. a. from transmute) Changing from one nature or substance to another.

transmuting (s. from the part.) The act of changing from one nature or substance to another, a transmutation.

transnation (s. from the Lat. trans over, and nato from) The act of swimming over.

transnomination (s. from the Lat. trans on the other, and nomino to name) The act of changing one name to another. Bailey.

transom (s. from the Lat. transenna) A thwart beam, lintel over a door, the vane of the cross staff.

transomwindow (s. from transom, and window) A window with a cross piece.

transpare (v. int. from the Lat. trans on the other, and pareo to appear, but not used) To appear through. Cole.

transparency (s. from transparent) The power or quality of transmitting light, clearness, diaphaneity.

transparent (s. from transpare) Pervious to the light, admitting light, diaphanous, pellucid.

transparency (s. from transparent) The state or quality of being transparent.

transpare (v. t. from the Lat. trans beyond, and as a step, but not used) To pass beyond. Cole.

transpeciate (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and species a kind) To change from one species to another. Scott.

transpeciated (p. from transpeciate, but not much used) Changed from one species to another.

transpeciating (p. a. from transpeciate, but not used) Changing from one species to another.

transpious (adj. from the Lat. trans through, and specio to look) Transparent, pervious to the light.

transpierce (v. t. from the French transpercer) To penetrate, to make way through, to permeate.

transpierced (p. from transpierce) Penetrated, pierced through, permeated.

transpiercing (p. a. from transpierce) Penetrating, passing through.

transpiercing (s. from the part.) The act of penetrating.

transpiration (s. from transpire) An emission of vapour, out of which is emitted in vapour.

transpire (v. t. from the Lat. trans through, and spiro to breathe) To emit in vapour.

transpire (v. int.) To emit in vapour, to pass off by sensible vapour, to escape from secrecy, to become public.

transpired (p. from transpire) Emitted in vapour.

transpiring (p. a. from transpire) Emitting in vapour; escaping from secrecy.

transpiring (s. from the part.) The act of emitting in vapour.

transplace (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and place a wide place) To remove, to put into a new place.

transplaced (p. from transplace) Removed, put into a different place.

transplacing (p. a. from transplace) Removing, putting into a different place.

transplacing (s. from the part.) The act of removing to a new place.

transplant (v. t. from the Lat. trans on the other, and planto to plant) To plant in a fresh place, to move.

Transplantation (s. from transplant) The act of transplanting, the act of removing people from one country to another; a conveyance from one to another.

Transplanted (p. from transplant) Removed and planted in a different place, removed from one place or country to another.

Transplanter (s. from transplant) One who transplants.

Transplanting (p. a. from transplant) Removing and planting in a different place, removing people from one country to another.

Transplanting (s. from the part.) The act of planting in a different place, the act of removing people from one country to another.

TRANSPORT (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and porto to carry) To convey by carriage from one place to another; to carry into banishment, to sentence, to banish as a felon; to put into extacy, to hurry with violence of passion.

Transport (s. from the verb) A vessel for carriage, a vessel in which soldiers are conveyed; carriage, conveyance; rapture, extacy.

Transportable (adj. from transport) Capable of being transported. Scott.

Transportance (s. from transport) Conveyance, carriage. Shakespeare.

Transportation (s. from transport) A removal, a conveyance; the act of banishing, the banishment of a felon; violence of passion. South.

Transported (p. from transport) Conveyed by carriage, banished as a felon, ravished with passion or pleasure.

Transporter (s. from transport) One who transports.

Transporting (s. from the part.) Conveying by carriage from one place to another, banishing as a felon, ravishing with passion or pleasure.

Transporting (s. from the part.) The act of conveying by carriage from one place to another, the act of banishing a felon, the act of ravishing with passion or pleasure.

Transportship (s. from transport, and ship) A ship employed in conveying soldiers.

Transportvessel (s. from transport, and vessel) A vessel employed in conveying soldiers.

Transposal (s. from transpose) A transposition.

TRANSPOSE (s. from the Lat. trans over, and pono to put) To put one in the place of the other; to put out of place.

Transposed (p. from transpose) Put one in the place of the other.

Transposing (p. a. from transpose) Putting one in the place of another.

Transposing (s. from the part.) The act of putting one in the place of the other, a transposition.

Transposition (s. from transpose) The act of putting one thing in the place of the other, the state of being put out of one place into the other.

Transprose (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and profe to turn out of verse into prose) To turn out of verse into prose. Cole.

Transshape (v. t. not much used) To transform. Sh.

TRANSVASATE (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and vas a vessel) To pour out of one vessel into another. Bailey.

Transvasated (p. from transvasate, but not used) Poured from one vessel to another.

Transvasating (p. a. from transvasate, but not used) Pouring from one vessel to another.

TRANSUBSTANTIATE (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, sub under, and sto to stand) To change to another substance.

Transubstantiated (p. from transubstantiate) Changed from one substance to another.

Transubstantiating (p. a. from transubstantiate) Changing from one substance to another.

Transubstantiating (s. from the part.) The act of changing from one substance to another.

Transubstantiation (s. from transubstantiate) The act of changing from one substance to another; the supposed change of the elements in the eucharist into the real body and blood of Christ as held by the papists.

Transubstantiator (s. from transubstantiate) One who transubstantiates, one who holds the doctrine of transubstantiation.

Transudation (s. from transude) The act of passing in sweat, the perspirable vapour which passes through any integument.

TRANSUDE (v. int. from the Lat. trans through, and sudo to sweat) To pass through in vapour.

Transuding (p. a. from transude) Passing through in vapour.

T R A

Transu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of passing through in vapour.

TRANSVÉCTION (s. from the Lat. trans through, and veho to carry) The act of carrying over. Cole.

Transvers (v. t. obsolete) To cross, to thwart. Ch.

Transversal (adj. from transverse) Running crosswise.

TRANSVERSA'LIS (s. in anatomy) The name of several muscles distinguished by the several parts in which they are situate.

Transvers'ally (adv. from transversal) In a cross direction.

TRANVERSE (adj. from the Lat. trans over, and vertere to turn) Lying in a cross direction, thwart.

Transverse (s. from the adj.) The longest diameter of an ellipsis.

Transver'sely (adv. from transverse) In a transverse direction.

Transver'sion (s. from transverse) The act or quality of turning transversely. Cole.

TRANSULT (v. t. from the Lat. trans over, and salto to leap) To leap over. Cole.

TRANSUMPTION (s. from the Lat. trans on the other side, and sumo sumptus to take) The act of taking from one place to another.

Transumptive (adj. from transumption) Taking from one place to another.

TRANSVOLATION (s. from the Lat. trans over, and volo to fly) The act of flying over.

Tran'ster (s. a local word) One who carries fish from the sea coasts to sell them in the inland countries. Bailey.

Tran'tery (s. the derivation is not noted) The money arising from fines on alehouse keepers. Scott.

TRAP (s. from the Sax. trappe) A snare set for thieves or vermine, an ambush, a stratagem; a play among boys in which a ball is driven with a stick.

Trap (v. t. from the sub.) To insnare, to catch in a trap.

TRAP (v. t. supposed to be from the French drap cloth) To adorn, to decorate. Sp.

TRA'PA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

Trapa'n (v. t. a different spelling) To trepan. Cole.

Trap'door (s. from trap, and door) A door opening and shutting unexpectedly, a door opening and shutting in the floor of a room to let down any thing occasionally.

Trape (v. int. a different spelling) To traipse, to walk about as a woman carelessly and fluttishly.

Trapes (s. from trape) A flatternly woman.

TRAPEZIUM (s. in geography) A plain figure with four unequal sides and angles.

TRAPEZIUS (s. in geometry) A muscle of the shoulder-blade.

TRAPEZOID (s. in geometry) A trapezium.

Trap'ped (p. from trap) Caught in a snare, caught in a trap; dressed in trappings.

Trap'ping (p. a. from trap) Catching in a trap.

Trap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of catching in a trap.

Trap'pingly (adv. from trapping) In an insinuating manner. Bailey.

Trap'pings (s. plu. from trap) Ornaments appendent to the saddle of a horse; ornaments, dregs, finery.

Trap'stick (s. from trap, and stick) A stick used by boys in playing at trap.

Trapt (v. t. pret. of trap) Did trap.

Trapt (p. from trap) Trapped, dressed; with with: as, "Four milk white horses trapt in silver." Sb.

Trap'ures (s. an old spelling) Trappings. Chaucer.

TRASH (s. from the Islandick tros) Dregs, dregs, any thing worthless; any crude thing eaten by girls, unripe fruit; a worthless person.

TRASH (v. t. the etymology is not noted) To lop, to crop; to crush, to humble. Shakespeare.

Trash'ed (p. from trash, but now grown obsolete) Cut, lopped.

Trash'ed (adj. obsolete) Deceived. Cole.

Trash'id (adj. obsolete) Betrayed, deceived. Chaucer.

Trash'ing (p. a. from trash, but now grown obsolete) Lopping, crushing, humbling.

Trash'y (adj. from trash) Worthless, vile, useless.

Tras'ioning (s. an old hunting term) The doubling of a roebuck before the hounds.

Tras'four (s. an old word) Treasure. Cole.

Trate (s. an old word) An old trot. Cole.

TRAVA'DO (s. from the French travade) A kind of whirlwind, a sudden and violent storm at sea.

TRAVAIL (v. int. from the French travailler) To labour, to toil; to be in labour, to suffer the throes of childbirth.

T R A

TRAVAIL (v. t.) To harass, to tire.

Trav'ail (s. from the verb) Labour, toil; the throes of childbirth.

Trav'ailed (p. from travail) Harassed, fatigued.

Trav'ailing (p. a. from travail, but not used of labouring, toiling, harassing, fatiguing.)

Trav'al (v. int. obsolete) To travail, to labour. Chaucer.

TRAV'ALLY (s. from the French reveiller to awaken) The beat of the drum to call the soldiers up in morning.

Trav'as (v. t. a different spelling) To traverse, to traverse a piece of ordnance.

Trav'ased (p. from travas, a different spelling) Traversed.

Trav'asing (p. a. from travas, a different spelling) Traversing.

Trave (s. a different spelling) The travise.

Travee' (s. in architecture) A lay of joists, the space between two beams.

Trav'el (v. int. from travail) To make journey, journey by land or water; to go, to pass; to travel, to labour, but this sense is now nearly obsolete.

Trav'el (v. t.) To pass over, to force, to journey.

Trav'el (s. from the verb) The act of passing from place to another, a journey, a journey of currying travail, labour, the throes of childbirth; but this is now nearly obsolete.

Trav'el (s. in the manage) A travise, a frame to the unruly horse in.

Trav'eler (s. a sea term) A kind of thimble formed several turns of a rope which moves backward and forward on the part to which it is applied.

Trav'elled (p. from travel) Passed over, obliged journey.

Trav'eller (s. from travel) One that travels, one who goes a journey; one who visits foreign countries.

Trav'ellersjoy (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Trav'elling (p. a. from travel) Passing from one place to another, performing a journey; obliging journey.

Trav'elling (s. from the part.) The act of passing from place to place, the act of performing a journey.

Trav'els (s. plu. from travel) The act of visiting foreign countries; an account of occurrences or observations on a journey into foreign parts.

Trav'eltainted (adj. from travel, and taint) Fatigued with travelling.

TRAVERS (adv. from the French, but not used) Across.

Travers (s. obsolete) A curtain. Shakespeare.

TRAV'ERSE (adj. from the Lat. traversus) Lying across, lying athwart.

Traverse (s. from the adj.) Any thing laid across; any thing that thwarts, a cross accident.

Traverse (v. t. from the adj. heretofore accented on the last syllable) To cross, to lay athwart; to oppose, thwart with obstacles; to wander over, to cross, survey, to examine minutely.

Traverse (v. t. a law term) To oppose with an intention to annul, to oppose so as to annul; to counter so as to invalidate.

Traverse (v. int.) To use a posture of opposition in fencing.

Traverse (prep. from the adj.) Through, crosswise.

Traverse (s. in fortification) A trench with a little parapet on each side.

Traverse (s. in heraldry) A partition crossing the field.

Traverse (s. a sea term) A winding or rising current.

Traverse (s. in gunnery) To remove a cannon so as to bring it to bear on the point intended.

Traverseboard (s. a sea term) A board on which all the points of the compass are set down.

Traversed (p. from traverse) Crossed, thwarted with objections, wandered over, surveyed; opposed, contradicted; made to bear as a cannon on the point intended.

Traversehorse (s. from traverse, and horse) A horse which has two white feet one on each side.

Traversefable (s. in navigation) The paper on which the ship's traverses are set down.

Traversing (p. a. from traverse) Crossing, wandering over, surveying; opposing, contradicting; bringing to bear as a cannon on the point intended.

Traversing (s. from the part.) The act of crossing, the act of opposing an indictment; the act of passing over the act of pursuing a winding or zigzag course.

TRE

of bringing a cannon to bear on the point inded.
verfly (adv. from traverse) In the manner of a verle.
es (s. plu. from trave) Shackles with which horses taught to pace.
left'd (adj. from travesti) Dressed so as to appear iculously, turned into burlesque.
VESTI (adj. from the French) Travested, turned to burlesque.
vestile (adj. from travesti) Travested, burlesqued.
vesty (adj. from travesti) Travested, burlesqued.
VISE (s. in the manage) A frame in which unruly ries are put to be shod.
ULISMUS (s. from the Greek τραυλισμὸς to stammer) stammering repetition of the first letter or syllable a word.
ULOTES (s. from the Greek τραυλος) The act of mme-ing; a hesitation in pronouncing some parti-lar letters.
UMA (s. from the Greek) A wound.
matic (adj. from trauma) Vulnerary, belonging to ounds, fit to be applied to wounds.
matic (s. from the adj.) A vulnerary, a medicament to be applied to wounds.
UMAT'ICAE (s. with physicians) Medicaments fit be applied to wounds, medicines suited to dilute e blood and promote the healing of wounds.
wler (s. perhaps from trall) A fisherman who uses lawful means to destroy the fish in the river ames.
wlerman (s. from trawler, and man) A man who es unlawful means to catch or destroy fish in the er Thames.
wlermen (s. plu. from trawlerman) More than one awlerman.
Y (s. from the Swedish) A shallow vessel in which eat or fish is carried.
y (v. t. obsolete) To betray. Chaucer.
ybaton, Trayl'baton (s. an old word) A judge etefore appointed to make inquisition on all offices roughout the realm.
trip (s. from tray, and trip) A kind of play. Sb.
s. from the Lat. tres) The number three. Bailey.
s. an old spelling) A tree. Chaucer.
A (s. from the French trois) The three at dice.
ch'rous (adj. from treachery) Perfidious, faithless, fity of treachery.
ch'rously (adv. from treacherous) Perfidiously, fely, with treachery.
ch'rousef (s. from treacherous) The state or quay of being treacherous.
ACHERY (s. from the French tricherie) Perfidy, each of faith.
ch'etor, Treach'etour (s. obsolete) A traitor. Spenser.
ch'our (s. obsolete) A traitor. Spenser.
ACLE (s. from the Lat. theriaca) Molosses, the spume fugar; a medicine made up of many ingredients.
ele (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
eleball (s. from treacle, and ball) A kind of cordial ll to be given to cattle.
AD (v. int. from the Sax. tredan) To set the t, to trample, to walk in state; to copulate as rds.
d (v. t.) To walk on, to trample under the foot, to t, to track; to crush under foot; to put in action the foot, to perform the act of copulation as a le bird on a female; to walk on in state. d (s. from the verb) Footing, a step with the foot; way, a track, a path; the sperm of the cock in the egg.
der (s. from tread) One who treads.
ding (p. a. from tread) Fixing the foot, trampling derfoot, walking in state, copulating as birds.
ding (s. from the part.) The act of setting the foot, e act of trampling under foot, the act of copulation birds.
dle (s. from tread) That part of a machine which is t in motion by the action of the foot; the sperm of the cock in the egg.
f (adj. a local word) Peevish, froward. Bailey.
gue (s. obsolete) Agreement, intrigue. Spenser.
ASON (s. from the French trahison) An offence mitted against the person of majesty, an offence aint the dignity of a commonwealth; infidelity to lawful sovereign.
onable (adj. from treason) Having the nature of ason, treasonous.
onableness (s. from treasonable) The state or quay of being treasonable.

TRE

Trea'sonably (adv. from treasonable) In a treasonable manner, with treason.
Trea'sonous (adj. from treason) Having the nature of treason, guilty of treason.
TREAS'URE (s. from the Lat. thesaurus) Wealth hoarded up, riches accumulated.
Treas'ure (v. t. from the sub.) To hoard, to lay up, to deposit.
Treas'ured (p. from treasure) Hoarded, laid up, deposited.
Treas'urehouse (s. from treasure, and house) A place where treasure is laid up.
Treas'urer (s. from treasure) One who has charge of treasure, one who has care of money.
Treas'urership (s. from treasurer) The office of treasurer.
Treas'uretrove (s. a law term) Money which is found and not owned.
Treas'uring (p. a. from treasure) Laying up, hoarding, depositing.
Treas'uring (s. from the part.) The act of laying up treasure.
Treas'ury (s. from treasure) The place in which public money is laid up, the place where riches are accumulated.
Treas'urybench (s. from treasury, and bench) The officers belonging to the treasury; the seat on which the lords of the treasury sit in the house of commons.
Treas'uryboard (s. from treasury, and board) The board at which the lords of the treasury sit, the lords of the treasury.
TREAT (v. t. from the Lat. traho to handle) To negociate, to settle; to handle, to manage, to use in any manner; to discourse on; to feast, to entertain.
Treat (v. int.) To discourse, to practice negotiation, to come to terms of accommodation; to make gratuitous entertainments; with of, upon, and with as,
"Of love they treat." "The king treated with them." "Come I will treat with you on that affair."
Treat (s. from the verb) A gratuitous entertainment, something given at an entertainment.
TREAT (adj. from the Lat. traho to draw) Taken out, withdrawn. Scott.
Treatable (adj. from treat) Capable of being treated with, moderate. Temple.
Treaté (adj. a different spelling, from treat) Taken out, withdrawn. Scott.
Treat'ing (p. a. from treat) Discouring, negotiating, accommodating with gratuitous entertainments.
Treat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of negotiating, the act of discoursing on any subject, the act of accommodating with gratuitous entertainments.
Treat'inghouse (s. from treat, and house) An house of entertainment.
TREA'TISE (s. from the Lat. traho to handle) A discourse, a written discourse, a small work of an author.
Treat'ise (adj. an old word) Attractive. Cole.
Treat'ment (s. from treat) Usage, the manner of conducting.
Treat'y (s. from treat) The act of treating, a negotiation, a compact relating to public offices; an intreaty, a supplication; but this sense is now grown obso- lete. Shakespeare.
TREBA'TIUS (s.) A man's name, an illustrious Roman.
Treb'ellian (adj. from trebellianica) Belonging to the trebellianica.
TREBELLIAN'ICA (s. with the Romans) The fourth part of a testator's estate to which the heir, instituted by will, had a legal claim.
TREBEL'LIUS (s.) A man's name, the name of several celebrated Romans.
TREB'LE (adj. from the Lat. triplex) Threefold triple;
sharp of sound, belonging to the upper part in music.
Treb'le (s. from the adj.) The upper part in music, the smallest of a ring of bells, a sharp sound.
Treb'le (v. t. from the adj.) To multiply by three, to make three times as much.
Treb'le (v. int.) To become threefold.
Treb'led (p. from treble) Multiplied by three, made three times as much.
Treb'leness (s. from treble) The state of being threefold.
Treb'ling (p. a. from treble) Multiplying by three.
Treb'ling (s. from treble) The act of multiplying by three.
Treb'ly (adv. from treble) Thrice, told, in a threefold quantity.
TREBO'NIUS (s.) A man's name, one of the conspirators who assassinated Julius Caesar.
TREBU'CK (s. from the barbarous Lat. trebichetum) A ducking stool; a tumbrel. Bailey.
Tre'bucket

TRE

Tre'bucket (s. from trebuck) A ducking stool, a tumble.
Trech'our (s. an old spelling) A traitor. Chaucer.
Trech'our (adj. obsolete) Treacherous. Chaucer.
Trec'tis (s. an old spelling) A treatise. Chaucer.
Tred'dle (s. a different spelling) A treadle, that part of a machine which is put in motion by the foot.
TREDE/CILE (s. in astronomy) The aspect which includes three times thirty-six or one hundred and eight degrees.
Tred'foule (s. obsolete) A cock. Chaucer.
Tred'les (s. a local word) The ordure of sheep. Bailey.
TREE (s. from the Danish) A large vegetable rising with one woody stem to a considerable height; any thing branching out; the wood frame of a saddle; the stem, the support of any thing; one of the timbers of a ship.
Treeger'mander (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Treek (s. a local word) One of the iron hoops about the nave of a cart wheel.
Treen (adj. from tree, but now grown obsolete) Wooden, made of wood. Camden.
Treen (s. the old plu. of tree) Trees. Ben. Johnson.
Tree'nail (s. a sea term) One of the wooden pins which connect the planks to the corresponding timbers.
Treen'el (s. a sea term) A treenail.
Treen'ware (s. an old word) Earthen vessels. Bailey.
Treeprim'rose (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
TREET (s. from the Lat. tretum, an old word) Wheat. Sc.
TREFOIL (s. in botany, from the Lat. trefolium) A kind of grass, it has generally three leaves on one common footstalk.
TREG'ARRON (s.) A town in Cardiganshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 202 miles from London.
Treg'arron (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tregarron, made at Tregarron.
Treg'et (s. an old word) Deceit. Bailey.
Treg'etor, Treg'etour (s. obsolete) A jugler, an impostor. Chaucer.
Treg'etry, Treg'ettry (s. obsolete) Imposture, tricking. Chaucer.
Treg'ette (s. obsolete) Imposture, deceit. Chau.
TREG'ONY (s.) A borough town in Cornwall; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 256 miles from London.
Treg'ony (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tregony, made at Tregony.
TREIL/LAGE (s. from the French) A contexture of pales to support an espallier and form a distinct part of a garden.
TREL/LIS (s. from the French) A structure of parts crossing each other at small and equal distances, a lattice; a kind of frame to support wall-trees.
Trellis (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with a lattice, to fit up with a kind of network. Scott.
Trellised (p. from trellis) Furnished with a trellis.
Trellising (p. a. from trellis) Fitting up with a trellis, furnishing with a lattice or grate.
Trellisse (s. a different spelling) A trellis. Cole.
Trellised (p. a. different spelling, Trellised.) Cole.
Trem'ulum (s. in old records) The season for sowing barley or summer corn.
TREMBLE (v. int. from the Lat. tremo) To shake, to shiver as with fear or cold, to totter, to quiver; to quaver, to shake as a note in music.
Trem'ble (s. colloquial, from the verb) A tremor.
Trem'bling (p. a. from tremble) Quaking, shivering; quavering, shaking as a note in music.
Trem'bling (s. from the part.) The act of quaking as with fear or cold, a tremor, a tremulous motion.
Trem'blingly (adv. from trembling) With tremor, with trembling.
TREMEL/LA (s. from the Lat. tremo to tremble) The hopper of a mill.
TREMEND'OUS (adj. from the Lat. tremo to tremble) Dreadful, horrible, astonishingly important.
Tremend'ously (adv. from tremendous) Dreadfully, awfully.
Tremendousness (s. from tremendous) The state or quality of being tremendous. Scott.
TREMEN'TA (s. from the Lat. tremo to tremble) The hopper of a mill.
Trem'num (s. in old records) The time for sowing summer corn.
TREMOLA (s. from the Italian) The snake, a grace in music; the treble.
TREMOR (s. a modern and correct spelling, from the Lat.) A tremour, a tremulous motion. Newton.
Trem'our (s. the old modern spelling) A tremor, the state of trembling, a quivering motion.

TRE

TREM'ULOUS (adj. from the Lat. tremo to tremble) Trembling, fearful; quivering, vibratory.
Trem'ulously (adv. from tremulous) With tremulousness.
Trem'ulousness (s. from tremulous) The state of being tremulous.
TREN (s. the derivation is not noted) A spear for fishing.
TRENCH (v. t. from the French trencher) To cut, to cut into ditches.
Trench (s. from the verb) A ditch, a kind of long earth thrown up for military defence.
TRENCH'ANT (adj. from the French) Cutting, sharp.
Trench'aunt (adj. an old spelling) Trenchant.
TRENCH' (adj. in heraldry) Counterchanged, transverse. Dict. of Art.
Trench'eator (s. in old records) A carver.
Trench'ed (p. from trench) Cut, cut into trenches, thrown up as earth for military defence.
Trench'er (s. from trench) A piece of wood on which meat is cut and eaten at table, the table on which meat is eaten; food, the pleasures of the table.
Trench'erfly (s. from trencher, and fly) A parasite, that lives at other men's tables. D'Eg.
Trench'erman (s. from trencher, and man) A man who eats much, a man who eats voluptuously.
Trench'ermate (s. from trencher, and mate) A partner, a table companion.
Trench'ia (s. in old records) A trench.
Trench'ing (p. a. from trench) Cutting, cutting ditches, throwing up earth by way of military defence.
Trench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making trenches.
Trench'ingplough (s. from trench, and plough) A kind of plough used in cutting down the sides of trenches.
Trench'ingspade (s. from trench, and spade) A spade used in making trenches.
TREND (v. int. perhaps from the Sax. trendan) To tend, to lie in any particular direction. Johnson.
TREND'EL (s. from the Sax.) Any thing that turns round; a vessel, a keever.
Trend'ing (p. a. from trend, but not much used) Tending, lying in any particular direction.
Trend'ing (s. from the part.) A particular direction.
Trendle (s. from trendel) Any thing that turns round; a keever.
TRENE (s. from the French treves) A truce.
Tren'nel (s. a sea term, and a different spelling) A trench, a wooden pin used in ship building.
TRENT (s.) A large river which takes its rise in the north, divides that county nearly into two parts, enters Derbyshire, runs the whole length of Nottinghamshire, and continues its course till it joins the river Ouse, and with it falls into the German sea a little below Hull in Yorkshire.
TRENT (s.) A bishoprick or province in Germany, situated on the Alps; the capital city of that bishoprick famous for the council held there in the sixteenth century in which the infallibility of the pope, transubstantiation and other doctrines of the Roman church were confirmed.
TRENTAL (s. from the French trentie) An office of the dead in the church of Rome.
TREPA'N (s. from the French) An instrument used by the surgeon in trepanning; a snare, a stratagem.
Trepa'n (v. t. from the sub.) To separate the skull, to enslave, to take by stratagem.
Trepan'diron (s. from trepan, and iron) The trepan.
Trepan'ned (p. from trepan) Perforated by the trepan, ensnared, taken by stratagem.
Trepan'ner (s. from trepan) One who perforates the skull by the trepan; one who ensnares, one who takes by stratagem.
Trepan'ning (p. a. from trepan) Perforating the skull with the trepan; ensnaring, taking by stratagem.
Trepan'ning (s. from the part.) The operation performed by the trepan; the act of taking by stratagem.
Trepan'ningly (adv. from trepanning) By the trepan.
Trep'et (s. an old word) A military engine formerly used in casting stones.
TREPH'NE (s. in surgery) A small trepan, an instrument for perforating the skull more simple than the trepan.
TREP'ID (adj. from the Lat. trepido to shake) Trembling, quaking for fear.

TRI

Triad (s. from trepid) The state of trembling, a state of terror.

Triadity (s. from trepid) The state of quaking for fear.

Triadness (s. from trepid) The state of trembling for fear.

Tripass (v. int. from the French trespasser) To transgress, to offend; with against: as, "But trespass against all logic." To enter unlawfully on another man's ground; with on, or upon: as, "Nor trespassed on the other's ground."

Tripass (s. from the verb) A transgression, an offence; unlawful entry on another man's ground.

Tripassant (s. an old word) A trespasser.

Tripasser (s. from trespass) One that trespasses, an offender, one who unlawfully enters another man's ground.

Tripassing (p. a. from trespass) Transgressing, entering unlawfully on another man's ground.

Tripassing (s. from the part.) The act of transgressing, the act of entering unlawfully on another man's ground.

Tripassmoney (s. from trespass, and money) The fine compensation for trespass.

Tripassoffering (s. from trespass, and offering) An offering to atone for a trespass.

Tripped (adj. from tressies, but now grown obsolete) Tossed, curled.

Tripsel (s. from the French tresteau) A support for a table, a kind of moveable form by which any thing is supported.

Triptree (s. a sea term) A trestletree. Scott.

Tripses (s. plu. wanting the singular, from the French tresse) A knot, a curl of hair; the long flowing hair of a lady's head.

Tripsure (s. in heraldry) The diminutive of an orle.

Triptle (s. from the French tresteau) The frame of a table, a kind of moveable form to support any thing.

Triptree (s. a sea term) One of the strong bars of timber fixed horizontally on each side of the lower mast head to support the frame of the top.

Tripture (v. t. in old records) To turn land into a different way of culture.

Trips (s. a cant word) Threepence. Cole.

Tript (s. probably from the Lat. tritus worn) An allowance on some goods of a certain weight in the hundred.

Triptable (adj. obsolete) Tractable, mild, gentle. Chau.

Triptable (adv. obsolete) Mildly, gently. Chaucer.

Tript (v. int. obsolete) To treat with, to enter into treaty. Chaucer.

Tript (s. obsolete) A treaty. Chaucer.

Tript (s. an old spelling) A treatise. Chaucer.

Tript (s. an old spelling) A tract, a treatise. Chaucer.

Tript (s. an old word) A tax, an impost. Scott.

Tript (s. an old spelling) A treatise. Chaucer.

Tript (s. a local word) The dung of sheep.

Tript (s. from the Sax. treefet) A tripod, any thing that stands on three legs.

Tript (s. in old records) A truce.

Tript (s. a different spelling) A travise, a frame of wood to shoe an unruly horse in.

Tript (s. an old word) A truce, a treaty of peace. Ba.

Tript (adj. an old spelling) True. Chaucer.

Tript (s. an old word) A coward, a mean spirited fellow. Bailey.

Tript (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

Tript (adv. obsolete) Truly. Chaucer.

Tript (s. from the Lat. tres three) A three at cards. Chaucer.

Tript (s. obsolete) A tree.

Tript (s. from the Lat. tres three) A piece of music in three parts.

Tript (adj. from try) Capable of being tried, capable of judicial examination.

Tript (s. an old spelling) Treacle; a medicine, a cure. Chaucer.

Tript (s. from the Lat. tres three) The number three, three united.

Tript (s. from try) A list, an examination; an experiment, experience; judicial examination; the state of being tried, temptation, a test of virtue.

Tript (s. in botany, from the Greek τρεις three, and a male) A genus of plants comprehending those that have hermaphrodite flowers with the three stamens.

Tript (s. from the Lat. tres three, and angulus a corner) A plain figure consisting of three sides and angles; a constellation of the northern hemisphere.

Tript (adj. from triangle) Having three angles, having the form of a triangle.

Tript (s. in anatomy) The name of several muscles distinguished by the parts in which they are situate.

TRI

Triangularly (adv. from triangular) In a triangular form.

Triangularness (s. from triangle) The state of being triangular.

Triangulation (s. in astrology) A planet that lies in the triplicity.

Triangulus (s. in astronomy) A constellation of the northern hemisphere.

Triaprima (s. with the chymists) The three hypostatical principles, salt, sulphur, and mercury.

Triarch (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and αρχος chief) A master of a vessel with three benches of oars.

Triarchy (s. from triarch) A government by three.

Triarian (s. from triarii) One of the triarii. Cole.

Triarii (s. with the Romans) A kind of infantry so called because they made the third line of battle.

Trias (s. from the Lat.) A triad in music, a compound of three radical sounds.

Tribe (s. from the Lat. tribus) A family, a body of the people distinguished by family or fortune; a family or body of people in contempt.

Triplet (s. with goldsmiths) A tool for making rings.

Triboulet (s. a different spelling) A tribulet.

Tribraichus (s. from tribrachys) The tribrachys.

Tribrachys (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and βραχυσ short) A poetical foot consisting of three short syllables.

Tribucion (s. an old word) Retribution, reward. Chau.

Tribulas'trum (s. in botany) The neurada; a genus of plants.

Tribulation (s. from the Lat. tribulo to thrash) Distress, disturbance of life, persecution.

Tribuloides (s. in botany) The trapa.

Tribulus (s. in botany) A bramble; a thistle.

Tribunal (s. from tribune) The seat of a judge, a court of justice.

Tribune (s. from the Lat. tribunus) A Roman officer chosen by the people; the commander of a Roman legion.

Tribuneship (s. from tribune) The office or dignity of a tribune.

Tribunit'ial (adj. from tribune) Relating to a tribune, sitting as tribune.

Tribunit'ious (adj. from tribune) Belonging to a tribune.

Tribus (s. from the Lat.) A tribe. Bailey.

Tributary (adj. from tribute) Paying tribute, paid in tribute; subject, subordinate.

Tributary (s. from the adj.) One who pays a stated sum as an acknowledgement of subjection.

Tribute (s. from the Lat. tributum) A tax, a payment, an acknowledgement of subjection.

Tributemoney (s. from tribute, and money) Money paid as tribute.

Tribution (s. from tribute) A retribution. Bailey.

Tribut'ious (adj. from tribute) Belonging to tribute; distributive.

Tricap'sula (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and cap'sula a chest) Having a seed vessel divided into three partitions.

Trice (s. supposed to come from the French trait) An instant, a short time, a stroke.

Trice (v. t. obsolete) To thrust. Chaucer.

Trice (v. t. an old word) To convey. Cole.

Tricen'arious (adj. from the Lat. tricenarius, not used) Belonging to the number thirty.

Tricenna'lia (s. from the Lat.) The masses said for the dead during the thirty days after their decease.

Tricen'ial (adj. from the Lat. tricennalis) Belonging to the number thirty. Scott.

Triceps (adj. from the Lat.) Having three heads.

Triceps (s. from the adj.) A muscle of the ear; a muscle of the thigh, so called because it has three beginnings.

Trichecus (s. a different spelling) The trichechus, the sea cow. Dict. of Arts.

Triche'ria (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils; a kind of gypsum.

Triches'trum (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, a class of the selenites.

Trich'asis (s. from the Greek) The growth of much hair, a double row of hairs on the eyelids, a filamentous urine.

Trich'ing (s. an old word) The third part of a shire or county. Bailey.

Trichis'mus (s. from the Greek τριχισμος) A small fracture of a bone resembling an hair.

Trich'lich

TRI

Trich'lich (adv. an old word) Neatly, richly. Cole.
TRICHOMANES (s. in botany) The maiden hair.
TRICHOPHYLLON (s. from the Greek, τριχων hair, and φλλον a leaf) A plant with leaves resembling hair.
TRICHORON (s. in architecture, from the Greek) A building with three stories.
TRICHOSANTHES (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
TRICHOSTEMA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
TRICHOTOMY (s. from the Greek τριχα in three parts, and τεμνω to cut) A division into three parts.
TRICK (s. from the Dutch treck) A fly fraud, a dexterous artifice; a juggle, an antick; a practice, a habit; an unexpected effect; a number of cards laid regularly up in play, the cards produced in one round of play.
Trick (v. t. from the sub.) To cheat, to impose upon; to dress, to decorate; to perform by flight of hand, to perform by a touch.
Trick (v. int.) To practise fraud.
Trick'ed (p. from trick) Cheated, defrauded by fly artifice.
Trick'er (s. a different spelling) A trigger, the catch which discharges the cock of a gun.
Trick'ing (p. a. from trick) Cheating, defrauding by artifice; dressing up, making fine.
Trick'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defrauding by artifice; the act of dressing up, dress, ornament.
Trick'ish (adj. from trick) Knavishly artful, fraudulently cunning.
TRICK'LE (v. int. the derivation is doubtful) To fall in drops, to run down in a small stream.
Trick'ling (p. a. from trickle) Falling in a quick succession of drops.
Trick'ling (s. from the part.) The act of falling in a quick succession of drops, a small stream.
Trick'ster (s. from trick) One who tricks, a sharper, a bite.
Trick'sy (adj. from trick) Pretty, implying endearment.
TRICLINIARCH (s. from the Greek τρικλινιον a dining room, and αρχος chief, but not used) The usher of the dining room. Cole.
Triclin'iary (adj. from triclinium) Belonging to a dining room. Cole.
TRICLINIUM (s. from the Greek τρικλινιον) A dining room. Cole.
TRICOC'COUS (adj. from the Greek τρεις three, and κοκος a grain) Having three grains or kernels.
TRICORNIGEROUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, cornu a horn, and gero to bear) Bearing three horns, having three horns.
TRICORPORAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and corpus a body) Having three bodies.
TRICOTERIE (s. from the French, but not used) The act of cheating in law suits. Cole.
Tricot'omy (s. not so correct a spelling) Trichotomy, a division into three parts. Cole.
TRICUSPIDES (s. in anatomy) The three valves of a triangular form situate at the mouth of the right ventricle of the heart.
TRI'DAX (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
TRIDE (adj. a hunting term, from the French) Short, swift, ready.
TRIDE (s. in the manage) The time marked short and ready by the haunches.
TRI'DENT (s. from the Lat. tres three, and dens a tooth) The three forked sceptre of Neptune.
Tri'dent (adj. from the sub.) Having three teeth.
TRI'DENT (s. in geometry) A kind of parabola, a curve used in the construction of equations of six dimensions.
TRIDENTIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. tridens a trident, and fero to bear) Bearing a trident.
Trident'ine (adj. from Trent) Belonging to Trent, belonging to the council of Trent.
TRID'ING (s. an old word, from the Sax. trithinga) The third part of a county. Johnson.
Trid'ingmot, Tri'dingmote (s. from triding, and mote) The court held for a triding, the court leet.
TRI'DUAN (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and dies a day) Lasting three days, happening every third day.
Trie (p. obsolete) Tried; refined. Chaucer.
Tri'ed (p. from try) Proved, examined, examined in a court of judicature.
TRIEDROSTYLA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.
TRIEMMERIS (s. in poetry) A kind of cæfura in Latin verse in which after the first foot there remains a syllable to make up the next foot.

TRI

TRIEN'NALS (s. in antiquity) The feasts of Bacchus celebrated every three years.
TRIEN'NIAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and annus a year) Lasting three years, happening every third year.
TRI'ENS (s. from the Lat. tres three) The third of a pound troy.
TRIEN'TAL (s. not much used) Half a pint.
TRIENTALIS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Tri'er (s. from try) One that tries, one who examines judicially, a test, that which brings to the test.
TRIVERARCH (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and αρχος chief, but not much used) The master of a ship with three benches of oars.
TRIET'ERIC (adj. not much used, from the Greek τρεις three, and ετος a year) Happening every third year.
TRIETE'ERICA (s. from the Greek) The triennials, feasts of Bacchus celebrated every three years.
TRIEXAHE'DRIA (s. in natural history) A genus of perfect and transparent spars.
TRIFAL'LOW (v. t. from the Lat. tres three, and Sax. fealga a barrow) To plough land a third time before sowing.
Trifal'low (s. from the verb) The state of land ploughed three times before sowing.
Trifal'lowed (p. from trifallow) Ploughed three times before sowing.
Trifal'lowing (p. a. from trifallow) Ploughing land three times before sowing.
Trifal'lowing (s. from the part.) The act or process of ploughing land three times before sowing.
TRIFA'RIOUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and to be spoken) Threefold, having three different manners.
TRIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and fero to bear) Producing fruit three times in the year.
TRIFID (adj. in botany, from the Lat. tres three, and findo to cleave) Divided into three parts, cut into three large segments.
TRIFIS'TULARY (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and fistula a pipe) Having three pipes.
TRIFLE (v. int. from the Dutch triffelen) To add levity, to talk to little purpose; to indulge in amusements, to be of little use; to mock, to play the fool; with with: as, "He trifled with me all the day."
Tri'fle (v. t. but not used) To make of no importance. Shakespeare.
Tri'fle (s. from the verb) A thing of no moment, a matter of no consequence.
Tri'fled (p. from tri'fle, but not much used) Treated in a trifling manner, made of no importance.
Tri'flier (s. from tri'fle) One who trifles, one who talks to little purpose.
Tri'fing (p. a. from tri'fle) Acting with levity, talking to little purpose; wanting importance, wanting worth.
Tri'fing (s. from tri'fle) The act of being busy about trifles.
Tri'fingly (adv. from tri'fing) Without weight, without dignity.
TRIFLO'ROUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and floris a flower) Having three flowers.
Tri'folie, Tri'folie (s. in botany, from trifolium) The trefoil.
TRIFO'LIATED (adj. in botany, from the Lat. tres three, and folium a leaf) Having three leaves on the same foot stalk.
TRIFO'LIUM (s. in botany, from the Lat.) The trefoil, the three leaved grass.
TRIFORM (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and forma a form) Having three forms, having three shapes.
Triform'ity (s. from triform) The state of being triform.
TRIFUR'CATED (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and furca a fork) Having three forks or prongs.
TRIFUR'COUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and furca a fork) Having three forks, having three prongs.
TRIG (v. int. from the Danish tricker to prick) To make a mark to stand at in playing at nine pins.
Trig (v. t. from the foregoing) To stop a wheel, to catch a wheel so as to prevent it from going forward or backward.
TRI'GA (s. in antiquity) A kind of car, a chariot drawn with three horses.
Trig'amist (s. from trigamy) One who has three wives. TRIG'AMIST

TRI

TRIM (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and γαμος a marriage) The state of being married three times; rate of having three husbands or wives at one time.

TRIMINOUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and trinus to double) Threefold. Cole.

TRIMINUM (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the head.

TRIMINUS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the head, trigeminum.

TRIMMEN (s. a local word) A pole to stop a waggon from going down a hill. Bailey.

TRIMMED (p. from trig) Stopped as a wheel, prevented from going forward by means of a trigger.

TRIGGER (s. from trig) The catch that holds a wheel, catch that loosens the cock of a gun.

TRIPPING (p. a. from trig) Stopping, preventing from going forward by means of a trigger.

TRIPPING (s. from the part.) The act of stopping by means of a trigger.

TRIMMID (s. an old word) The angild, a mullet, a fine. Ph.

TRINITALS (s. with the papists) The number of forty masses, an office for the dead in the church of Rome.

TRINIA (s. in ichthyology) A genus of fishes.

TRINACHIN (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TRINYLPH (s. in architecture) A member of the Doric order; it consists of two channels cut to right angles.

TRINUS (s. a different spelling) The trismus, the grinding of the teeth. Scott.

TRIGON (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and γωνια a corner) A triangle; an aspect comprehending a third part of the heavens.

TRIGONAL (adj. from trigon) Belonging to a trigon, angular.

TRIGONELLA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TRIGONOCRATORY (s. in astrology) The planet which is the superior or lord of a trigon.

TRIGONOMETRICAL (adj. from trigonometry) Belonging to trigonometry.

TRIGONOMETRICALLY (adv. from trigonometrical) According to the rules of trigonometry.

TRIGONOMETRY (s. from the Greek τρεις three, γωνια corner, and μετροω to measure) The act of measuring triangles.

TRINOUS (adj. in botany, from the Greek τρεις three, γωνια a female) Having three pistils.

TRINUM (s. in old records) The jurisdiction of three hundreds.

TRILATERAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and latus side) Having three sides.

TRILATERALNESS (s. from trilateral) The quality of having three sides. Scott.

TRILLO (s. in music) A short trill.

TRILLION (s. from the French) A trillion.

TRILL (s. from the Italian trillo) A shake, a tremulous motion of the nerve or instrument on a note in music.

TRILL (v. t. from the sub.) To shake, to move with a tremor of the voice or instrument on a note in music.

TRILL (v. int.) To play in tremulous vibrations on a note in music; to trickle, to fall in a trickling stream.

TRILL (v. t. obsolete) To turn, to thrust. Chaucer.

TRILLED (p. from trill) Shaken, moved with a tremor of the voice or instrument on a note in music.

TRILLING (p. a. from trill) Moving with a tremor of the voice or instrument on a note in music; trickling, falling in a trickling stream.

TRILLING (s. from the part.) The act of moving on a note with a tremor of the voice or instrument.

TRILLION (s. from the French trillion) A million multiplied into itself. Locke.

TRILLION (s. a different spelling) A trillion. Scott.

TRILOBED (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and lobus lobe) Having three lobes.

TRILOGY (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and λογος a word) A discourse in three parts. Cole.

TRILUMINAR (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and lumen light) Having three lights. Johns.

TRILUMINOUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and lumen light) Having three lights. Johns.

TRIMMING (v. t. from the Sax. trimman to build) To fit out, to dress, to decorate; to shave, to clip, to poise, to trim a vessel.

TRIMMING (v. int.) To balance, to fluctuate between two parties.

TRIMMED (s. from the verb) The state of being dressed, trimmed, or ornaments.

TRIMMED (adj. from the verb) Nice, smug, dressed.

TRIMMER (s. a different spelling) The trimmer. Dict. of Arts.

TRI

TRIMA'CRUS (s. in poetry) A metrical foot consisting of three long syllables.

TRIM'E'RIAN (s. a different spelling) The trimorion. Phillips.

TRIME'RUS (s. in the history of insects) A kind of fly which lives but three days.

TRI'METER (s. in poetry) A verse consisting of three measures.

TRIME'TRUM (s. in poetry) The trimeter, an iambic of six feet.

TRIMEN'STRUOUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and mensis a month) Consisting of three months. Cole.

TRIMIL'CHI (s. an old word) The month of May so called by the Saxons because in that month they milked their cows three times a day.

TRIM'LY (adv. from trim) Sprucely, neatly.

TRIM'med (p. from trim) Fitted out, dressed, decorated; shaven, clipped; poised, balanced as a vessel on the water.

TRIM'mer (s. from trim) One who trims, one who dresses, one who shaves; one who fluctuates between two parties in order to please or gain by both.

TRIM'mer (s. in building) A piece of timber framed at right angles with the joists.

TRIM'mer (adj. comp. of trim) Trim in a greater degree.

TRIM'mest (adj. sup. of trim) Trim in the greatest degree.

TRIM'ming (p. a. from trim) Fitting out, dressing, decorating; clipping, shaving; balancing, fluctuating between two parties.

TRIM'ming (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up, the ornamental appendages to a garment, that with which any thing is trimmed; the act of balancing, the act of fluctuating between two parties.

TRIM'NESS (s. from trim) Neatness, spruceness.

TRIMO'DIAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and modius a bushel) Containing three bushels. Cole.

TRIMONEER (s. a sea term, corrupted from timoneer) The timoneer.

TRIMOR'IAN (s. not so correct a spelling) The trimorion.

TRIMO'RION (s. in astrology, from the Greek) The junction of three signs in calculating a nativity which was supposed to cut the thread of life.

TRINAC'RIA (s. in geography) The Latin name of Sicily.

TRINAC'RIAN (adj. from Trinacria) Belonging to Sicily.

TRIN'AL (adj. from the Lat. trinus) Threefold.

TRINE (adj. from the Lat. trinus) Threefold.

TRINE (s. from the adj.) An aspect comprehending the third part of the heavens; an aspect of planets in a trigon supposed by the ancient astrologers to have been remarkably benign.

TRINE (v. t. from the adj.) To place in a trigon, to put in a trine aspect.

TRINE (s. a cant word) The gallows.

TRIN'NECOMPAS (s. an old word) The Trinity. Chaucer.

TRIN'ED (p. from trine) Placed in a trine aspect.

TRING (s.) A town in Hertfordshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 31 miles from London.

TRING (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tring, made at Tring.

TRINGA (s. in ornithology) A genus of birds.

TRIN'GLE (s. in architecture) A small member, the ringlet, the listel.

TRINITARIAN (adj. from Trinity) Belonging to the Trinity, acknowledging the Trinity.

TRINITARIAN (s. from the adj.) One who holds the doctrine of the Trinity; one of an order of monks who hold that all churches ought to be dedicated to the Holy Trinity.

TRINITARIANISM (s. from Trinitarian) The doctrine of a Trinity of persons in the Godhead.

TRINITI'ECUMPAS (s. an old word) The Trinity. Chaucer.

TRINITY (s. from the Lat. trinitas) The number three; the union of the three persons in the incomprehensible Godhead.

TRINITY (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the heartsease.

TRINITY-day (s. from Trinity, and Sunday) The first Sunday after Whitsuntide.

TRINIUMGELD (s. from the Sax.) An ancient compensation for certain crimes in which the fine was to be paid nine times over.

TRINK, TRINKE (s.) An old kind of engine or net for catching fish. Cole.

TRINK'ET (s. the derivation is not noted) Ornaments of dress, superfluous decorations, toys; things of no great value; tackle, small tools.

Trink-

- Trink'et'ail (s. a sea term) The highest sail, the top gallant.
- TRI'NOBANTES (s. in the ancient geography of England) The old inhabitants of Middlesex and Suffex.
- TRINOC'TIAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and nox noctis night) Containing the space of three nights.
- TRINOC'TILE (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and nox noctis night) Belonging to that aspect which includes three eighths of the heavens.
- Trinoc'tile (s. from the adj. in astrology) The aspect which includes three eighths of the heavens or 135 degrees.
- Trino'da (s. in old records) Three perches of land.
- TRINO'DAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and nodus a knot) Containing three knots.
- Trino'dia (s. in old records) A quantity of land containing three perches.
- TRINOM'IAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and nomen a name) Having three names.
- Tri'net (s. a sea term) The top gallant. Cole.
- TRI'O (s. in music) A musical composition of three parts.
- Triob'olar (adj. from triobolum) Vile, mean, worthless.
- TRIOB'OLUM (s. from the Lat.) The weight of half a dram; the value of three halfpence.
- TRIO'CIUS (s. in botany) A kind of marygold.
- TRIOC'TILE (s. in astronomy) An aspect comprehending three eighths of the heavens or 135 degrees.
- TRI'ONES (s. in astronomy) A constellation of the northern hemisphere, the assemblage of stars in the great bear.
- TRIO'NUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
- TRI'OPAS (s.) A man's name, the father of Erifichthon.
- TRIOPE'IS (s.) The name of a woman, the daughter of Erifichthon.
- TRIOPH'THALMUS (s. in natural history) A kind of precious stone, so called from its having the figure of three eyes.
- TRIOPT'ERIS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
- TRIOR'CHES (s. in botany) The ragwort.
- TRIOR'CHES (s. in ornithology) A kind of hawk, the buzzard.
- TRIOR'CHUS (s. in botany) A kind of medlar having three kernels.
- TRIOSTEOSPER'MUM (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
- Tri'our (s. a law term) One appointed by a court of judicature to examine whether an exception made to a juror be just and reasonable.
- TRIP (v. t. from the Dutch trippen) To strike the feet from under the body; to catch, to detect; to supplant; to remove an anchor from the bottom by its cable.
- Trip (v. int.) To fall by loosing the hold of the feet, to stumble; to run lightly, to take a short voyage.
- Trip (s. from the verb) A stroke or catch by which a wrestler supplants his antagonist, a stumble, a false step; a failure, a mistake; a short voyage, a short journey.
- Trip (s. an old word) A small piece, a few sheep; a large herd of goats. Cole.
- TRIPART'IENT (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and pars a part) Divided into three parts.
- TRIPARTITE (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and pars a part) Having three parts, done in three parts.
- Tripartition (s. from tripartite) A division into three parts.
- TRIPE (s. from the French) The edible intestines of an animal; the belly in droll style.
- TRI'PEDAL (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and pes a foot) Having three feet.
- TRIPEDA'NEOUS (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and pes a foot) Having three feet. Cole.
- Tri'pehouse (s. from tripe, and house) A house where tripe is sold.
- TRIP'ELAS (s. in natural history) A kind of earths in smaller particles and more coherent than ochres.
- Tri'pemadam (s. in botany) The name of an herb sometimes used in fallads. Bailey.
- Tri'pery (s. from tripe) A tripe house, a place where tripe is sold; the various sorts of tripe.
- TRIPETALO'DES (s. in botany) The plants which have their leaves deeply cut into three parts.
- TRIPET'ALOUS (adj. from the Greek τρεις three, and πεταλον a leaf) Having a flower consisting of three leaves, having three petals.
- TRIPH'ALUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Priapus.
- TRIPH'THONG (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and
- φθγγος a sound*) The coalition of three vowels in syllable.
- TRIPH'THON'GUS (s. from the Lat.) A triphthong.
- TRIPHYL'LON (s. in botany, from the Greek) trefoil.
- TRIPHYL'LOS (s. in botany) A plant whose leaves are divided into three principal parts.
- TRIPHYL'LOUS (adj. in botany) Having leaves consisting of three principal parts.
- TRIP'LE (adj. from the Lat. triplex) Threefold, three times repeated.
- Triple (v. t. from the adj.) To make three times much; to make threefold.
- Tripl'ecrown (s. from triple, and crown) The tiara of the pope.
- Tripl'ed (p. from triple) Trebled, made threefold.
- Tripl'edip'afon (s. in music) The fifteenth.
- Tripl'et (s. from triple) Three of a kind, three rhyming together.
- Tripl'etree (s. a cant word) The gallows.
- TRI'PLICATE (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and plicare to fold) Having a cubical ratio, having a ratio to other as the cubes.
- Tripl'icated (adj. from triplicate) Made or done three times.
- Tripl'ication (s. from triplicate) The act of trebling, act of adding three together.
- Tripl'icity (s. from triple) The state of being threefold; the division of the signs of the zodiac according to the elements.
- TRIPLO'IDES (s. in surgery) An instrument to raise large depression of the skull.
- Tripl'madam (s. in botany) The name of an herb used in fallads.
- TRIP'OD (s. from the Greek τρεις three, and πους a foot) A seat with three feet; the seat from which the priests of Apollo delivered their oracles.
- Trip'ode (s. a different spelling) The tripod.
- Trip'o'dial (adj. from tripod) Belonging to a tripod, a tripod.
- TRIP'OLI (s. in geography) One of the African states.
- Trip'oli (s. in natural history) A kind of tripelas.
- Trip'oline (adj. from Tripoli) Belonging to Tripoli.
- TRIP'OLIS (s.) The name of a city.
- TRIPOLIUM (s. in botany) The hartwort.
- TRIP'OLY (s. in botany) The turbit.
- TRIP'OLY (s. in natural history) A stone used in polishing.
- TRIP'OS (s. from tripod) A tripod.
- TRIP'OS (s.) The prevaricator in the university of Cambridge.
- Trip'pant (adj. in heraldry) Tripping.
- Trip'ped (p. from trip) Having the legs struck under the body; supplanted; removed from the bottom as an anchor by its cable.
- Trip'per (s. from trip) One who trips.
- Trip'ping (p. a. from trip) Striking the legs from under the body, stumbling; supplanting; making short voyage, passing nimbly along.
- Trip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of striking legs from under the body, the act of passing nimbly and lightly; the act by which an anchor is removed from the bottom by its cable.
- Trip'pingly (adv. from tripping) With a light and quick movement, with agility. Shakespeare.
- Tript'hong (s. not so correct a spelling) A triphthong.
- TRIPTOL'EMUS (s.) A man's name, supposed to have been sent in a miraculous manner to teach the people of every country to plough and sow; one of the natural judges.
- TRIP'TOTE (s. in grammar, from the Greek τρεις three, and πτωσις a case) A noun which has but three cases.
- TRIPU'DIARY (adj. from the Lat. tripudium) formed by dancing.
- TRIPUDIA'TION (s. from the Lat. tripudium) The act of dancing, the act of tripping on the toes in dance.
- TRIPYR'ENOUS (adj. in botany) Having three kernels.
- Tri'quet (adj. not used, from triquetra) Triangular.
- TRIQUET'RA (s. not used) A triangle, a three angled figure.
- Triquet'rous (adj. from triquetra) Triangular.
- TRI'REME (s. from the Lat. tres three, and remus a oar) A galley with three benches of oars on a side.
- TRI'REMIS (s. from the Lat.) A galley with three benches of oars on a side.
- Triro'da (s. in old records) A parcel of land containing three perches.

CRAMENTA/LES (s. in church history) Those admit three sacraments and no more.

TRIGIUM (s. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and γίγνομαι to be) The name of a particular hymn used in the church so called from its having the word αγίος repeated three times.

TRIFAGO (s. a different spelling) The trifago. Ph.

TRIPASON (s. in music) The fifteenth.

TRITON (s. a sea term) To hale up any thing.

TRITON (s. from the Lat. tres three, and seco to divide) A division into three equal parts.

TRITON (p. from trite) Haled up.

TRITON (s. in old geography) The Latin name of the northern parts of the United Provinces.

TRITON (adj. from Trifia) Belonging to Trifia.

TRITON (s. from the adj.) The language of the Trifii.

TRITON (adj. the less modern spelling) Trifii.

TRITON (s.) The inhabitants of the ancient Trifia.

TRITON (p. a. from trite, a sea term) Haling up.

TRITON (s. from the part.) The act of haling up.

TRITON (s. from Trifia) Trifia.

TRITON (s. from Trifland) An inhabitant of Trifia.

TRITON (s.) A man's name; a famous Egyptian philosopher cotemporary with Moses.

TRITON (s. from the Greek τριῶν to grind) The grind of the teeth.

OLYMPICO/NICA (s. in antiquity) A person who thrice borne away the prize at the Olympic games.

OLYMPION/NICES (s. a different spelling) One who borne away the prize three times in the Olympic games.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and πᾶς all) An engine with three pullies.

TRIPAST (adj. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and πᾶς all) Bearing three seeds.

TRIPAST (adj. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and πᾶς all) Composed of three spheres.

TRIPAST (s. in botany) The germander.

TRIPAST (s. a different spelling) A trifyllable. D. of A.

TRIPAST (s. an old word) Trust, charge; a mark, a sign. Ch.

TRIPAST (s. in old records) The privilege of not being obliged to attend the lord of a forest in hunting, a or post in hunting.

TRIPAST (s. in old records) The trifta.

TRIPAST (adj. an old word) Sad, sorrowful. Shakespeare.

TRIPAST (adj. from the Lat. tristis sad, and facio make) Making sorrowful. Cole.

TRIPAST (s. in old records) The trifta. Cole.

TRIPAST (s. in old records) The trifta. Scott.

TRIPAST (s. in old records) The trifta. Scott.

TRIPAST (adj. from the Lat. tristis sad, and fount found) Having a sorrowful found.

TRIPAST (v. t. from the Lat. tristis sad, but not to make sorrowful) To make sorrowful.

TRIPAST (s.) A man's name.

TRIPAST (s. from the Lat. trifidulus) A kind of pike with three prongs, any thing with three points.

TRIPAST (s. a different spelling) A trifidul. Cole.

TRIPAST (adj. from the sub.) Having three points. Cole.

TRIPAST (adj. from trifyllable) Consisting of three syllables.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and ὅλον a syllable) A word consisting of three syllables.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τριταῖα) A tertian.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τριταῖα) The tertian.

TRIPAST (s.) A man's name; a gladiator of prodigious strength.

TRIPAST (adj. from the Lat. tero to wear) Common, worn out.

TRIPAST (adv. from trite) In a trite manner.

TRIPAST (s. from trite) The state or quality of being trite.

TRIPAST (adj. comp. of trite) Trite in a greater degree.

TRIPAST (adj. sup. of trite) Trite in the greatest degree.

TRIPAST (s. in botany) The name of an herb, and that flowers thrice a year.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and θεός God) The doctrine of three absolute and distinct Gods.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and θεός God) One who holds that there are three distinct Gods.

TRIPAST (s. from the Greek τρεῖς three, and θεός God) A tritheist.

TRIPAST (s. an old word) The third part of a county, jurisdiction of three hundreds; the court.

Phillips.

TRITIA/NA (s. in botany) A kind of large cabbage.

TRITICE/A (s. in botany) The triticum.

TRITICE/AN (adj. from triticum) Belonging to wheat. Co.

TRITICUM (s. from the Lat.) Wheat; wheat in the blade; a class of plants.

TRITON (s. in heathen mythology) The son of Neptune, a sea god, Neptune's trumpeter.

TRITON (s. in ichthyology) A genus of fishes.

TRITON (s.) A vane, a weathercock. Scott.

TRITONE (s. from the Lat. tres three, and tonus a tone) An imperfect concord, an interval of three tones.

TRITONIA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Minerva.

TRITURABLE (adj. from triturate) Capable of being pounded, capable of being comminuted.

TRITURATE (v. t. from the Lat. trituro, but not much used) To pound, to comminute, to reduce to powder. Johnson.

TRITURATED (p. from triturate, but not much used) Reduced to powder, comminuted.

TRITURATING (p. a. from triturate, but not much used) Reducing to powder, comminuting.

TRITURATION (s. from triturate) The reduction of any substance to powder by pounding, a levigation. Br.

TRIVET (s. not so common a word) A trevet, any thing supported on three feet.

TRIVIA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.

TRIVIAL (adj. from the Lat. trivialis) Vile, worthless; light, trifling.

TRIVIALLY (adv. from trivial) Lightly, in a trifling manner; commonly, vulgarly.

TRIVIALNESS (s. from trivial) Unimportance, lightness; commonness, vulgarity.

TRIUMPET/TA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

TRIUMPH (s. from the Lat. triumphus) The pomp with which a victory is celebrated, joy for success; victory, conquest; the state of being victorious; a conquering card, a trump; but this sense is now become obsolete.

TRIUMPH (v. int. in poetry, sometimes accented on the last syllable) To obtain a victory, to celebrate a victory, to rejoice for victory, to exult upon an advantage gained, to insult upon gaining the victory.

TRIUMPHAL (adj. from triumph) Used in celebrating victory, belonging to triumph.

TRIUMPHAL (s. but not used) A triumph. Milton.

TRIUMPHALIS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Hercules.

TRIUMPHANT (adj. from triumph) Victorious, crowned with conquest; celebrating a victory, rejoicing for victory.

TRIUMPHANTLY (adv. from triumphant) With triumph, with insolent exultation.

TRIUMPHER (s. from triumph) One that triumphs.

TRIUMPHING (p. a. from triumph) Celebrating victory, exulting on account of victory.

TRIUMPHING (s. from the part.) The act of celebrating a victory, exultation on account of success.

TRIUMVIR (s. from the Lat. tres three, and vir a man) One who is joined with two others in any post or office.

TRIUMVIRATE (s. from triumvir) The dignity or office of the triumviri, the concurrence of three men in any office or employment.

TRIUMVIRI (s. plu. of triumvir) Three men joined in any post or office.

TRIUMVIRI (s. not so common a word) A triumvirate. Shakespeare.

TRIUNCIS (s. in antiquity) A weight of three ounces, a coin of that weight.

TRIVUNE (adj. from the Lat. tres three, and unus one) Three in one.

TRIXA/GO (s. in botany) A kind of vervain.

TROAD (s. obsolete) A place for the feet. Sp.

TROAS (s.) The name of a city in the Lesser Asia.

TROAT (v. int. a hunting term) To cry as a buck at rutting time.

TROB/ELID (adj. an old spelling) Troubled. Chaucer.

TROCAR (s. in surgery) An instrument used in the operation of tapping for the dropsy.

TROCE (s. an old word) A willow, a wreath. Cole.

TROCHÆ/US (s. in poetry) The trochee.

TROCHÆIC (adj. from trochæus) Consisting of trochees.

TROCHÆIC (s. from the adj.) A verse consisting of trochees.

TROCHÆICAL (adj. from trochæic) Consisting of trochees.

TROCHAN/TER (s. in anatomy) One of the two processes of the thigh bone.

TRO'CHE, TRO'CHEE (s. from the Lat. trochæus) A metrical foot consisting of a long and short syllable.

Tro'chile (s. in architecture, from trochilus) The trochilus, the cavity that surrounds the column next to the tore.

TROCH'ILICE, TROCH'ILICS (s. from the Greek τροχος a wheel) The art of wheel work.

TROCHI'LUS (s. in architecture) The cavity that surrounds the column next to the tore.

Troch'ings (s. a hunting term) The small branches on the top of a deer's head.

TROCHIS'CUS (s. in medicine) A kind of medical lozenge, the trochisk.

TROCH'ISK (s. from the Greek τροχισκος) A kind of lozenge, a kind of nutritive sweetmeat. Bacon.

TROCHI'TÆ (s. in natural history) A kind of figured fossil stone, resembling a plant.

TROCH'LEA (s. from the Greek τροχω to run) One of the mechanical powers, the pulley.

TROCHLEA'RIS (s. in anatomy) One of the oblique muscles of the eye.

TROCHLOID (s. in geometry) The cycloid.

TROCH'OLICS (s. from the Greek τροχος a wheel) The art of wheel work. Phillips.

TRO'CHUS (s. from the Greek τροχος) A wheel, a small round lump of any thing.

TROCH'TA (s. in ichthyology) The trout.

TROC'ULUS (s. in ornithology) A kind of American swallow.

Trod (p. from tread) Pressed under the foot, trodden.

Trod'den (p. from tread) Pressed under the foot.

Trode (v. t. pret. of tread) Did tread.

Trode (s. obsolete, from tread) A tread, a place for the foot. Spenser.

TROG'LODYTE (s. from the Greek τρογλοδύτης) One who inhabits a cave of the earth; one of a people of Ethiopia, who, it is said, had scarcely the faculty of speech, and lived on serpents.

Trog'lodyte (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to one who inhabits the caves of the earth. "A troglodyte footman." Pope.

TROGY'LUM (s.) A city of Samos.

TRO'JA (s. in antiquity) The Trojan games said to be instituted by the son of Æneas and kept by the Romans with great solemnity.

Tro'jan (adj. from Troy) Belonging to Troy.

Tro'jan (s. from the adj.) A native of Troy, an inhabitant of Troy.

TRO'ILUS (s.) A man's name, one of the sons of Priam.

TROLL (v. t. from the Dutch trollen) To move circularly, to drive about.

Troll (v. int.) To roll, to run round; to fish for pike with a rod and reel.

Troll'ed (p. from troll) Moved in a circular direction, driven round.

Troll'er (s. from troll) One that trolls, one that fishes for pike with a rod and reel.

Troll'flower (s. in botany) The crowfoot.

Troll'ing (p. a. from troll) Moving in a circular direction, rolling; fishing for pike with a rod and reel.

Troll'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rolling, the act of moving in a kind of circular direction; the method of fishing for pike with a rod and reel.

Troll'madam (s. from troumadame) A play in which a bowl is thrown through a range of holes which are numbered for the game.

Troll'lop (s. a low or aroll word of uncertain etymology) A flattern, a woman loosely dressed; a loose dress for a lady.

Trol'madame (s. a different spelling, supposed to be the same with) The troumadame, a kind of play. Scott.

Trol'mydam (s. a different spelling) The troumadame, a kind of play. Shakespeare.

TRO'MA (s. from the Greek) A wound, a wound occasioned by some external cause.

TROMO'ESIS (s. from tromos) A trembling; a privation of sensation.

TROMOS (s. from the Greek) A trembling, the state of being deprived of sensation.

Trompe (s. an old spelling) A trumpet. Cole.

TROM'PERIE (s. from the French, but not used) Deceit, fraud. Cole.

TROM'PIS (s. obsolete) Trumpets. Cbaucer.

TRO'NA (s. an old word) The beam of a scale, a weigh beam.

Tre'nage (s. from trona) An ancient custom or toll taken for the weighing of wool; the act of weighing wool in a public market.

Trona'tor (s. from trona) An officer who was formerly appointed to weigh the wool that was brought to the city of London.

Tronconnee' (adj. in heraldry) Cut in pieces and moved a little out of place.

Trone (s. an old spelling) A throne.

Tro'ned (adj. obsolete) Inthroned.

Tro'neweight (s. an old word from trona, and weight) Troyweight.

Tro'num (s. the derivation is not noted) Dew.

TROOP (s. from the French troupe) A company, a number; a body of soldiery, a small body of horse.

Troop (v. int. from the sub.) To march in a body, march in company, to march in haste.

Troop'er (s. from troop) A soldier who serves on horse back.

Troop'ing (p. a. from troop) Marching in a body, marching in company, marching in haste.

Troop'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marching in company.

Troops (s. from troop, wanting the singular) Soldiers on horse and foot soldiers.

TROPÆ'OLUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants, Indian creis.

TROPE (s. from the Greek τροπεω to turn) The change of a single word from a literal to a figurative sense.

TRO'PER (s. from the Greek τροπεω to turn) A book of responses in saying mass.

Tro'phied (adj. from trophy) Adorned with trophies.

TROPHI'MUS (s.) A man's name.

TROPHO'NIUS (s.) A man's name, a Boeotian who pretended to inspiration, and had divine honours paid to him.

TRO'PHY (s. from the Greek τροπεω to turn) The spoils of an enemy taken in battle, and preserved in token of victory, a monument to commemorate victory.

TRO'PHY (s. in architecture) An ornament representing the trunk of a tree encompassed with wreaths of war.

Tro'phymoney (s. from trophy, and money) A tax of fourpence formerly paid by every household for the colours, drums, and other implements of militia.

TROP'IC (s. from the Greek τροπεω to turn) One of imaginary circles, drawn at the distance of two three degrees and twenty nine minutes from the equinoctial, from which the sun recedes immediately after the longest day in the summer, and is shortest in winter.

Trop'ical (adj. from tropic) Belonging to the tropics, placed near the tropics.

Trop'ical (adj. from trope) Rhetorically changed from the literal to a figurative meaning.

TROP'ICI MOR'BI (s. from the Lat. tropicus belonging to the tropics, and morbus a disease) The diseases which the inhabitants within the tropics are liable to.

Trop'ick (s. the less modern spelling) The tropic, one of the tropics.

Trop'ist (s. from trope) One who deals in tropes, one who explains the scriptures by tropes and figures.

Tropolog'ic (adj. from tropology) Varied by tropes.

Tropolog'ical (adj. from tropologic) Varied by tropes, changed from a literal to a figurative sense.

Tropolog'ically (adv. from tropological) With tropes, with the change of a word from the literal to a figurative sense.

TROPOL'OGY (s. from the Greek τροπων a trope, λογος a word) A rhetorical mode of speech, the change of a word from the literal to a figurative sense.

TROPOSCHEMATOL'OGY (s. from the Greek τροπος a manner, σχημα a scheme, and λογος a word) A treatise on the method of drawing schemes.

TROS (s.) A man's name, the third king of Phrygia, which from him was called Troy.

Tros'que (s. an old word) The trochisk.

TROS'SERS (s. from the French trousses) Breeches.

TROT (v. int. from the French trotter) To move on horse with a high jolting pace; to walk fast in droll sense.

Trot (v. t.) To put a horse on the pace between a trot and a gallop.

Trot (s. from the verb) The jolting high pace of a horse, a hasty walk in droll style; an old woman in a droll manner.

TROTH (s. from the old English trowth) Truth, fidelity; a petty oath. Trotter.

T R O

less (adj. from troth) Faithless, treacherous. plight (adj. from troth, and plight) Betrothed, Shakespeare.

tro (p. from trot) Put on a trot.

troter (s. from trot) One that trots, a trotting horse; troter's foot.

trot (p. a. from trot) Moving as a horse on a trot, trotting a horse on a trot; walking fast in droll style. Gay.
 trot (s. from the part.) The pace of a horse between a walk and a gallop, the act of putting a horse on a trot, the act of moving on a trot.

trown (s. from trot, and town) One that gads about, a gadabout.

trouble (adj. obsolete) Troublesome. Chaucer.

trouble (v. t. from the French troubler) To disturb, perplex; to afflict, to grieve; to busy, to engage; to much; to reize, to vex; to disorder, to put into agitation; to mind with anxiety; to give occasion of quarrel; to sue for a debt; but this is colloquial.

trouble (s. from the verb) Disturbance, perplexity; affliction, calamity; molestation, obstruction; uneasiness, vexation.

troubled (p. from trouble) Disturbed, perplexed; troubled, gnawed; disordered, put into agitation; troubled, vexed; sued for a debt; but this sense is colloquial.

troubler (s. from trouble) One that troubles, a disturber.

troublesome (adj. from trouble) Vexatious, afflictive; troublesome, wearisome; giving uneasiness, slightly harassing; importunate, teasing.

troublesomely (adv. from troublesome) Vexatiously, unreasonably.

troublesomeness (s. from troublesome) The state of being troublesome, unreasonable importunity.

troustate (s. from trouble, and state) One who disturbs a community, a public makebate.

trouble (adj. obsolete) Troublesome. Chaucer.

troubling (p. a. from trouble) Disturbing, vexing, troubling.

troubling (s. from the part.) The act of giving trouble, the act of putting into agitation.

troublous (adj. from trouble) Tumultuous, confused, disordered.

trouver (s. a law term, from the French) An action instituted against a man who detains the goods of another.

trough (s. from the Sax. troh) Any thing longitudinal, hollow and open on the upper side; the vessel in which pigs are usually served; the hollow between the waves at sea.

trou (v. t. from the Dutch trollen) To move volubly, to utter volubly.

troued (p. from trou) Moved volubly, uttered volubly.

trouing (p. a. from trou) Moving volubly, uttering volubly.

trouing (s. from the part.) The act of moving volubly, the act of uttering volubly.

troumadame (s. from the French) A play in which a bowl is thrown to pass through a range of holes at a distance properly numbered for the game.

trou (v. t. supposed to be from the French tronfon) To punish by an information, to punish by an indictment; to punish severely.

trou (p. from trou) Punished by an information, punished by an indictment, punished severely.

trouing (p. a. from trou) Punishing by an information or indictment, punishing severely.

trouing (s. from the part.) The act of punishing by information or indictment, the act of punishing severely.

trouse (s. from the French troussé, but now grown obsolete) Trousers, breeches, hose. Wifeman.

trousers (s. from troussé) Breeches, long breeches, said to be from the French troussé.

trou (s. in the manage) A cover for the head of a horse.

trou (adj. an old word) Dressed as an eel. Cole.

trou (s. in the manage) A piece of wood cut into a wedge and raised above the hinder bow of the boat.

trout (s. in ichthyology) The name of a delicate fish.

trout (s. a cant word) An honest fellow, a silly fellow.

trout (coloured (adj. from trout, and colour)) Having the colour of a trout, variegated with spots like a trout.

trout (s. from trout, and fishing) The method of fishing for trout.

truth (s. an old word) Truth. Cole.

trout (s. from trout, and hook) A hook for catching trout.

T R U

Trouts (s. a local word) Curds taken off the whey when boiled. Bailey.

Trout's stream (s. from trout, and stream) A fine stream of water in which trouts live.

TROW (v. int. from the Sax. treothian, now used in droll style) To think, to conceive, to imagine. Gay.

Trow, Trowe (v. t. obsolete) To believe, to trust. Chau.

Trow'and (p. obsolete) Loitering, strolling about. Ch.

Trow'andise (s. obsolete) The act of strolling about. Ch.

TROW'BRIDGE (s.) A town in Wiltshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 98 miles from London.

Trow'bridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Trowbridge, made at Trowbridge.

TROW'EL (s. from the Lat. trulla) The instrument with which the mason applies the mortar.

Trowes (s. obsolete) Throws, pains. Chaucer.

Trow'il (s. a different spelling) A trowel. Bailey.

Trow'in (v. t. obsolete) To believe, to trust. Chaucer.

Trowth (s. obsolete) Truth. Chaucer.

Trowl (v. int. a different spelling) To troul, to wander about. Scott.

Trow'ling (p. a. from trowl) Trouling, wandering about. Scott.

TROX (s. in the history of insects) The worm that breeds in peas and beans.

TROXA'LIS (s. in zoology) The cricket.

TROY (s. from Tros) A city of the Lesser Asia famous for holding out a siege of ten years against the united power of the Grecian states; the country of which this city was the capital.

TROY (s. from Troyes, a city in France) A denomination of weight in which twenty-four grains make one pennyweight, twenty pennyweights one ounce, and twelve ounces one pound.

Troy (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the denomination of weight mentioned in the foregoing article.

Troy'weight (s. from troy, and weight) The denomination of weight mentioned in the two foregoing articles.

TRUA (s. from the Lat.) A tray, a kind of shallow wooden vessel.

Tru'a (s. in old records) A sow, a swine.

Tru'and (p. obsolete) Playing truant. Chaucer.

Tru'andise (s. obsolete) The act of playing truant; beggary. Chaucer.

TRU'ANT (s. from the French truand a vagabond) An idler, one who neglects his duty or employment.

Tru'ant (adj. from the sub.) Idle, loitering, neglectful of business.

Tru'ant (v. int. from the sub.) To loiter, to be lazy, to play the truant.

Truant'dise (s. not used) The act of playing truant. Sc.

Tru'anting (s. from the part.) The act of playing truant.

Tru'anting (p. a. from truant) Playing the truant, idling.

Tru'antship (s. from truant) Idleness, negligence. Asch.

TRUBS (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Trub'tail (s. a cant word) A short squat woman. Ains.

TRUCE (s. from the low Lat. truga) A cessation of hostilities, a temporary peace, a suspension of arms; an intermission, a short repose.

TRUCH'MAN (s. from the French trucheman) A linguist, an interpreter.

TRUCIDATE (v. & from the Lat. trucidare to kill, but not much used) To murder, to kill. Bailey.

Tru'cidated (p. from trucidate, but not used) Killed.

Tru'cidating (p. a. from trucidate, but not used) Killing.

Trucida'tion (s. from trucidate) The act of killing.

TRUCK (v. int. from the French troquer) To traffick by exchange, to give one commodity for another.

Truck (v. t.) To give in exchange, to exchange.

Truck (s. from the sub.) Traffick by exchange, exchange.

TRUCK (s. from the Greek τροχος a wheel) A kind of carriage for heavy weights with low wheels.

Truck'ed (p. from truck) Bartered, exchanged as one commodity for another.

Truck'ing (p. a. from truck) Bartering, exchanging one commodity for another.

Truck'ing (s. from the part.) The method of traffic by exchanging one commodity for another.

TRUCK'LE (s. from the Greek τροχος a wheel) A small wheel, the moveable part of a pulley.

Truck'le (v. int. from the sub.) To run on low wheels; to yield, to creep, to be in a state of subjection.

Truck'le (v. t.) To throw any thing so as to make it bowl on the ground.

Truck'lebed (s. from truckle, and bed) A bed moving on two wheels, a low bed to move under another bed.

Truck'led (p. from truckle) Bowled on the ground, made to roll on the ground.

Truck/ling (p. a. from truckle) Rolling on the ground, moving on low wheels; yielding, submitting with meanness.

Truck/ling (s. from the part.) The act of moving as on low wheels, the act of submitting with meanness.

Trucks (s. plu.) A carriage for great weights with low wheels on which the carriage of a cannon moves.

Truc'ulence (s. from truculent) Savageness of manners, terribleness of aspect.

TRUC'ULENT (adj. from the Lat. truculentus) Savage, cruel, barbarous; terrible of aspect, frightful to look on.

Truc'ulentness (s. from truculent) Savageness, cruelty. Sc.

TRUDGE (v. int. from the Italian truggolare) To jog on, to march heavily, to travel with labour.

Trudg'ing (p. a. from trudge) Jogging on, marching heavily.

Trudg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marching heavily, the act of travelling laboriously.

Trud'mouldy (s. a cant word) A dirty drab, a flat-tern. Scott.

TRUE (adj. from the Sax. truwa) Agreeable to truth; faithful, steady; honest; genuine, pure; right, exact.

True'born (adj. from true, and born) Having a right by birth, distinguished by genuine birth.

Truebre'd (adj. from true, and bred) Proceeding from a right breed, genuine. Cbauer.

True'fastist (adj. obsolete) Sincerest, truest. Cbauer.

Trueheart'ed (adj. from true, and heart) Honest, faithful.

Trueheart'edness (s. from truehearted) Honesty, fidelity. Boyer.

True'love (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

True'loveknot (s. from true, love, and knot) Lines drawn with many circumvolutions.

Truelow'ersknot (s. from true, lover, and knot) Lines drawn with many circumvolutions, an emblem of interwoven affections.

True'ness (s. from true) The state of being true, the state of being genuine.

True'penny (s. from true, and penny, a cant word, in familiar style) An honest fellow.

Tru'er (adj. comp. of true) True in a greater degree.

Tru'est (adj. sup. of true) True in the greatest degree.

Tru'ets (s. a local word) Pattens, a kind of clogs to be worn in dirty weather. Bailey.

TRUFF'LE (s. in botany) A kind of subterraneous mushroom.

Trug (s. an old word) The third part of two bushels, a hod for mortar. Cole.

Trug/corn (s. from trug, and corn) Corn paid to the clergy for officiating at some chapels of ease.

Trugg (s. from trug) A hod for mortar. Ainsw.

TRULL (s. from the Lat. trulla) A girl, a lass; a low prostitute.

Trull (v. t. a local word) To trundle. Cole.

TRULLISSA'TION (s. from the Lat. trulla) The act of plaistering, trullization. Cole.

TRULLIZA'TION (s. a different spelling, in ancient architecture) A kind of ouches or layers of mortar wrought with the trowel in the inside of vaults.

Trully (adv. from true) According to truth, really, exactly, indeed.

TRUMP (s. from the Dutch trompe) A trumpet, an instrument of martial music; a triumph; but this sense is now become obsolete.

Trump (s. from triumph) A winning card, a card that has particular privilege in a game. To be put to one's trumps, to be put to the last shift.

Trump (v. t. from the sub.) To win with a privileged card; to devise, to forge: with up: as, "He trumped up that story."

Trump'ed (p. from trump) Won with a trump; devised, forged; with up: as, "It was trumped up."

Trump'ery (s. from the French tromperie) Something of no value, falsehood, something fallaciously blended.

TRUMP'ET (s. from the French trompette) An instrument of martial music; a trumpeter in the army; one who praises, one who celebrates.

Trump'et (v. t. from the sub.) To publish by sound of trumpet, to proclaim.

Trump'eted (p. from trumpet) Published with sound of trumpet, proclaimed.

Trump'eter (s. from trumpet) One who sounds a trumpet; one who publishes abroad, one who proclaims.

Trump'etflower (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Trump'eting (p. a. from trumpet) Blowing a trumpet, proclaiming with sound of trumpet; publishing, proclaiming.

Trump'eting (s. from the part.) The act of sounding a trumpet, the act of proclaiming as with sound of trumpet.

Trum'petmarine (s.) A kind of manochord resembling the sound of a trumpet.

Trum'petshaped (adj. from trumpet, and shape) Shaped like a trumpet.

Trum'petshell (s. from trumpet, and shell) The cinum.

Trum'pettongued (adj. from trumpet, and tongue) Having a loud voice, having a tongue as vociferous as a trumpet.

TRUN'CATE (v. t. from the Lat. trunco) To cut short, crop, to maim.

Trun'cated (p. from truncate) Cut short, lopped, maimed.

Trun'cating (p. a. from truncate) Cutting short, lopping, maiming.

Trun'cating (s. from the part.) The act of lopping, the act of maiming.

Trunca'tion (s. from truncate) The act of lopping, the act of maiming.

TRUNCH'EON (s. from the French troncon) A staff, a club, a cudgel; a staff of command.

Trunch'eoned (p. from truncheon) Beaten with truncheon.

Trunch'onee'r (s. from truncheon) One armed with truncheon.

Trunch'oning (p. a. from truncheon) Beating with truncheon.

Trunch'oning (s. from the part.) The act of beating with a truncheon.

TRUN'CUS (s. from the Lat.) The main stem or trunk of a tree; a part of the pedestal of a pillar; the part of the great artery and vena cava which descend to the iliac vessels.

TRUN'DLE (v. int. from the Sax. treudl) To roll, to bowl along.

Trun'dle (v. t.) To twirl, to turn round as a mop.

TRUN'DLE (s. from the Sax. treudl) Any round rolling thing.

Trun'dlebed (s. from trundle, and bed) A truckle-bed.

Trun'dled (p. from trundle) Turned round, rolled.

Trun'dlers (s. a cant word) Pease.

Trun'detail (s. from trundle, and tail) Roundtail, the name of a dog. Shakespeare.

Trun'dlehot (s. from trundle, and shot) A kind of shot.

Trun'dling (p. a. from trundle) Rolling, bowling about, turning round, twirling.

Trun'dling (s. from the part.) The act of rolling about, the act of twirling.

TRUNK (s. from the Lat. truncus) The body of a man, the body of any thing erect.

TRUNK (s. from the French tronc) A small chest, chest for cloaths.

TRUNK (s. from the French trompe) The proboscis of an elephant or other animal; a long tube.

TRUNK (v. t. from the Lat. trunco, but now grown obsolete) To truncate, to lop, to maim.

Trunk'breeches (s. from trunk, and breeches) Large breeches formerly wore.

Trunk'ed (p. obsolete) Truncated.

Trunk'ed (adj. from trunk) Having a trunk.

Trunk'hose (s. from trunk, and hose) Large breeches formerly worn.

Trunk'hosen (s. plu. of trunkhose) Large breeches.

Trunk'ing (p. a. obsolete) Truncating.

Trunk/root (s. from trunk, and root) A root growing out of the trunk of a plant.

TRUN'NION (s. from the French trognons) One of the knobs of a cannon which support it on the carriage.

Trun'nionring (s. from trunnion, and ring) The ring moulding which surrounds a cannon next the trunnions.

Tru'phat (s.) The occult virtue of minerals.

Truphe'ra (s. a different spelling) The tryphera, a plant with a caustic.

TRURO (s.) A borough town in Cornwall; it has a market on Wednesday and Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 251 miles from London.

Tru'ro (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Truro, of Truro.

TRURION (s. from the Lat. trudo to thru) The act of thrusting.

TRUSS (s. from the French trouffe) A bandage by which ruptures are restrained; a bundle, any thing packed up in a tight bundle; one of the ropes fastened to the pannels of the yard; trousers, breeches; but this sense is now become obsolete.

Truss (v. t. from the sub.) To pack up close together, to prepare a fowl for the spit; to snatch up as a prey.

T U B ed (p. from trufs) Packed up in a trufs, prepared fowl for the spit, snatching up as by a bird of fel (s. a different spelling) A tressel, a kind of Phillips.

ing (p. a. from trufs) Packing up in a trufs, pre-ing a fowl for the spit, snatching up as a bird of ing (s. from the part.) The act of packing up in a the act of preparing a fowl for the spit, the act snatching up as a bird of prey.
T (s. from the Runic trauft) Confidence, credit en without examination; a deposit, something mitted to one's charge; a person intrusted, the of one to whom any thing is intrusted.
(v. t. from the jub.) To place confidence, to con-in; to believe, to credit; to commit with confi-ce; to sell upon credit.
(v. int.) To have confidence, to be credulous, to ect: with in, and to; as, "The Lord is a buckler all that trust in him." "I will trust to him for
,"
(s. obsolete) Thirst. Chaucer.
ed (p. from trust) Confided in, credited.
eel (s. from trust) One in trust, one to whom some-ing is committed for the use of another.
ship (s. from trustee) The office of a trustee.
er (s. from trust) One who trusts.
ier (adj. comp. of trusty) Trusty in a greater dee. iest (adj. sup. of trusty) Trusty in the greatest dee.
ily (adv. from trusty) With fidelity. Scott.
iness (s. from trusty) Fidelity; faithfulness, holy. ing (p. a. from trust) Confiding in, crediting,
ing on credit.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of confiding in, the of selling on credit.
leis (adj. from trust) Unfaithful, inconstant. Spens.
ly (adj. from trust) Honest, faithful; strong, stout.
ty (s. a colloquial word) One who is faithful.
TA (s. in ichthyology) The trout.
TH (s. from the Sax. treawtha) That which is true, contrary to falsehood; an exact conformity of ords and thoughts, a true declaration; purity, fide-reality, exactness. Of a truth, in reality.
TH (s. in heathen mythology) The daughter of Sa-rn and Time, the mother of Virtue.
TINA (s. from the Lat.) A large pair of scales.
TINATE (v. t. from the Lat. trutin) To weigh, examine. Cole.
tinated (p. from trutinate, but not used) Weighed, aminated.
tinating (p. a. from trutinate, but not used) Weigh-g, examining.
ination (s. from trutinate) The act of weighing, examination by weight. Brown.
tine (s. in astrology) A certain method of rectifying nativity.
TTA (s. in ichthyology) The trout.
(v. t. from the French trier) To examine, to make periment of, to essay, to attempt; to purify, to ree; to bring to a test, to bring to a decision; to exane as a judge, to bring before a judicial tribunal.
(v. int.) To endeavour, to attempt.
al (s. a different spelling) A trial. Phillips.
CH/NOS (s. in botany) The nightshade.
GON (s. in ichthyology) The poison fish, a kind of fish.
GON (s. in ornithology) The turtle dove.
ing (p. a. from try) Proving, examining, bringing a trial; attempting, endeavouring.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to the t, a trial.
NGA (s. in ornithology) The water thrush.
PHE/NA (s. in medicine) A gentle caustic.
PHEO/DORUS (s.) A man's name, a famous Egyp-grammarian.
PHE/RA (s.) The name of a woman.
PHON (s.) A man's name; a Jewish writer; an Egyptian grammarian.
PHO/SA (s.) The name of a woman.
XALIS (s. in the history of insects) The troxalis, e cricket.
ANT (adj. from the French) Sharp, biting, kill-ng. Scott.
B (s. from the Sax. tubbe) A large wooden vessel en at the top; a certain quantity; a state of saliva-on.

T U C

TU/BA (s. in anatomy) A canal, a vessel of communication.
TU/BÆ (s. plu. of tuba) Canals, the Fallopiian vessels.
TU/BAL (s. from the Heb. signifying the earth) The name of a man.
TU/BALCAIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
TUBE (s. from the Lat. tubus) A pipe, a siphon, a long-hollow body.
TU/BER (s. in botany) A round turgid root; a knot in a tree.
TU/BER (s. in surgery) A kind of tumour or swelling in an animal body.
TUBE/RA (s. in botany) The truffle.
TU/BERCLE (s. from the Lat. tuberculum) A small swelling, a pimple; an excrescence in the lungs.
TUBER/CULA (s. plu. in surgery) Small tumours frequently found in the lungs.
TUBER/CULA (s. in palmistry) The muscular or knobby parts under the fingers, the montes.
TUBER/CULES (s. in surgery) The tubercula, a kind of tumours.
TU/BERO (s.) A man's name, the name of several Romans.
TUBERO/SA, TU/BEROSE (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the flower of the plant.
Tu/berose (adj. from tuber) Tuberous.
Tuberos/ity (s. from tuberos) A knot or tumour which grows naturally and does not appear to be occasioned by any accident or disease.
Tu/berous (adj. from tuber) Having prominences, having knots.
Tu/berousness (s. from tuberos) Tuberosity, the state of abounding with excrescences.
Tub/fast (s. from tub, and fast) The ancient method of cure from the venereal disease by sweating and fasting. Shakespeare.
TU/BI (s. plu. of tubus) Tubes, small pipes or vessels in an animal body.
TUBIC/INATE (v. int. from the Lat. tubicen a trumpeter, but not used) To trumpet. Bailey.
TUBILUS/TRUM (s. in Roman antiquity) The festival at the purification of their sacred trumpets.
TUBIP/ORA (s. in botany) The tubularia, a genus of submarine plants.
Tu/bular (adj. from tube) Resembling a tube, consisting of a tube, large and hollow, fistular.
Tu/bulated (adj. from tube) Fistular, long and hollow, like a tube.
TUBULA/RIA (s. in botany) A genus of submarine plants.
Tubula/tion (s. from tubulus) The act of making hollow, the formation of a tube. Bailey.
Tu/bule (s. from tubulus) A small pipe, a small tube.
TU/BULI, TUBULUS (s.) Small winding cavities.
Tu/bulous (adj. from tubulus) Fistular, consisting of a tube, longitudinally hollow.
TU/BULUS (s. from the Lat.) A tube; a genus of shells.
TUCA/NA (s. in ornithology) The toucan.
TUC/CA (s.) A man's name, a Roman poet.
TUCK (s. from the Brit. tweca) A long narrow sword;
a kind of fishing net; a kind of fold.
Tuck (s. a sea term) That part of the ship where the ends of the bottom planks are collected together.
TUCK (v. t. from the German tuckea) To keep from spreading, to draw up, to crush together; to inclose by folding up loose parts; to fall.
Tuck (v. t. a local word) To full cloth.
Tuck (v. int. not used) To contract. Sharp.
Tuck'ed (p. from tuck) Hindered from spreading, inclosed by folding up loose parts.
Tuck'ed (p. from tuck, a local word) Cleansed as cloth from grease and dirt.
Tuck'er (s. from tuck) A strip or ornament of linen worn by women at the uppermost verge of the flays.
Tuck'er (s. a local word) A fuller of cloth; one that dresses and packs woolen goods for the foreign markets.
TUCK/ET (s. from the Italian toccata) A prelude, a voluntary in music. Shakespeare.
TUCK/ETSONANCE (s. supposed to be of French derivation, but not used) A term in martial music not well understood. "Let the trumpets sound the tucketsonance and to note to mount." Shakespeare.
Tuck'ing (p. a. from tuck) Hindering from spreading, inclosing by folding up loose parts; fulling cloth.
Tuck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing by folding up loose parts; the act of fulling or dressing cloth.
Tuck'fels (s. in the manage) The grinders; the large teeth of an horse.

TUD/DING.

TUM

TUD/DINGTON (s.) A town in Bedfordshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 39 miles from London.
Tud'dington (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tuddington, made at Tuddington.
TUDIC/ULATE (v. t. from the Lat. tudicula a little hammer) To pound, to work with a hammer. Cole.
Tudic'ulated (p. from tudiculate, but not used) Pounded, formed by the hammer.
Tudic'ulating (p. a. from tudiculate, but not used) Pounding, working with the hammer.
TU'EL (s. from the French tuyau) The anus, the fundament of a beast.
TUES/DAY (s. from the Sax. Tuisco Mars, and dæg a day) The third day of the week.
Tues'dayevening (s. from Tuesday, and evening) The evening of a Tuesday.
Tues'daymorning (s. from Tuesday, and morning) The morning of a Tuesday.
Tues'daynight (s. from Tuesday, and night) The night of a Tuesday.
Tu'fa (s. an old word) A tanner. Cole.
Tu'faffety (s. from tuft, and taffety) A villous kind of silk. Donne.
TUFT (s. from the French tuffe) A bunch of feathers, a lock of hair, a number of small things joined together, a cluster, a clump.
Tuft (v. t. from the sub.) To adorn with a tuft. Thomson.
Tuft'a s. in old records) A cottage.
Tuft'ed (p. from tuft) Adorned with a tuft.
Tuft'ing (p. a. from tuft, but not used) Adorning with tufts.
Tuft'y (adj. from tuft, but not much authorized) Abounding with tufts. Thomson.
TUG (v. t. from the Sax. tigan) To pull with continued violence, to pull, to pluck.
Tug (v. int.) To labour, to contend, to struggle, to pull, to draw.
Tug (s. from the verb) A pull performed with the utmost effort.
Tug'gæ (s. in old records) Harness, traces for drawing.
Tug'ged (p. from tug) Pulled with continued violence; plucked.
Tug'ger (s. from tug) One that tugs, one that pulls hard.
Tug'ging (p. a. from tug) Pulling with continued violence, plucking.
Tug'ging (s. from the part.) The act of pulling with continued effort.
Tug'gingly (adv. from tugging) With difficulty. Bai.
TUIS/CO (s. in heathen mythology) The supreme deity of the Teutones, the deified ancestor of the ancient Germans.
TUITION (s. from the Lat. tueor to guard) Guardianship, the care of a tutor, instruction.
Take (s. a local word) A fore top. Bailey.
Tul (s. an old word) A tile. Cole.
Tul (v. t. an old word) To allure. Cole.
TU'LIP (s. in botany) The name of a plant with a bulbous root, the flower of the plant.
Tu'lipleaf (s. from tulip, and leaf) The leaf of a tulip.
TU'LIPOUT (s.) A wreath or sash worn by the Indians instead of a hat.
Tu'liproot (s. from tulip, and root) The root of a tulip.
Tu'lipmadness (s. from tulip, and madness) An extravagant fondness for tulips. Scott.
TU'LIPMANIA (s.) Tulipmadness. Scott.
Tulipman'y (s. from tulipmania) An extravagant fondness for tulips.
Tu'lip-tree (s. in botany) The name of a tree, the circædaedrum.
Tull (v. t. obsolete) To allure, to lure. Chaucer.
TUL/LIA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Tully.
TULLIO/LA (s.) A woman's name, the diminutive of Tullia.
TUL/LY (s.) A man's name; a famous Roman orator.
Tul'furlike (adj. obsolete) Red, having the colour of a burnt tile. Chaucer.
Tum (v. t. a local word) To mix, to mix wool.
TUM/BLE (v. int. from the French tomber) To fall, to come suddenly to the ground; to fall in great quantities, to fall tumultuously; to roll about, to roll over and over, to play tricks by various librations of the body.
Tum'ble (v. t.) To turn over, to discompose; to throw down, to throw by chance or violence.
Tum'ble (s. from the verb) A fall.
Tum'bled (p. from tumble) Turned over, discomposed; thrown down, thrown so as to tumble on the ground.
Tum'bler (s. from tumble) One who tumbles, one who plays tricks by various librations of the body.

TUN

Tum'bling (p. a. from tumble) Falling down, tumbling over, discomposing, throwing down, throwing to cause a tumble, rolling over and over.
Tum'bling (s. from the part.) The act of falling, the act of turning over, the act of rolling over, the actions of a tumbler.
Tum'blinghome (s. a sea term) That part of a ship's hull which falls inward from the extreme breadth.
TUM/BREL (s. from the French tombereau) A tumbril.
Tum'bril (s. a different spelling) A tumbril.
Tumefaction (s. from tumefy) A swelling.
Tu'mefied (p. from tumefy) Swollen, made to swell.
TU'MEFY (v. t. from the Lat. tumescere to swell, and to make) To make to swell.
Tu'mefying (p. a. from tumefy) Making to swell.
Tu'mefying (s. from the part.) A tumefaction.
TU'MID (adj. from the Lat. tumescere to swell) Swollen up, protuberant; pompous, bombastic.
TU'MOR (s. the modern and correct spelling, from the Lat.) A tumour, a morbid swelling; a false eminence, an affected pomp.
Tu'morous (adj. from tumor) Swelling, protuberant, vainly pompous, falsely magnificent.
TU'MOUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French tumeur) A tumor.
Tump (v. t. in gardening) To fence a tree with earth thrown up at the roots.
Tump (s. from the verb) The hillock of earth thrown up at the root of a plant; a little rising ground, hillock.
Tump'ed (p. from tump) Defended with a tump of earth at the root.
Tump'ing (p. a. from tump) Defending a plant by throwing up earth at the root.
Tump'ing (s. from tump) The act or process of defending a plant or tree by throwing up earth at the root.
TU'MULATE (v. int. from the Lat. tumulo) To swell, to swell.
Tu'mulating (p. a. from tumulate, but not much used) Swelling, intombing.
TU'MULOSE (adj. from the Lat. tumulo to swell) Of hills.
Tumulos'ity (s. from tumulose) The state of abounding with hills.
TU'MULT (s. from the Lat. tumultus) A promiscuous commotion, a multitude put into commotion; a riot, a wild commotion.
Tumult'uarily (adv. from tumultuary) In a tumult with tumult.
Tumult'uariness (s. from tumultuary) The state of being tumultuous, an inclination to tumult.
Tumult'uary (adj. from tumult) Disorderly, confused, restless, put into wild commotion.
TUMULT/UATE (v. int. from the Lat. tumultuare) To make a tumult, to join in tumult.
Tumult'uating (p. a. from tumultuate) Making a tumult, joining in tumult.
Tumult'uation (s. from tumultuate) A tumultuous commotion.
Tumult'uous (adj. from tumult) Disposed to tumult, turbulent, violent.
Tumult'uously (adv. from tumultuous) In a tumultuous manner, with noise and violence.
Tumult'uousness (s. from tumultuous) The state of being tumultuous.
TUN (s. from the Sax. tunne) A large cask, a pipe; a weight of twenty hundred, the space in a ship containing that weight; a large quantity; a drum in droll style; a circular measure as large as a tun.
Tun (v. t. from the verb) To put into a cask, to barrel.
TU'NA (s. in botany) The name of an American tree.
Tu'nable (adj. from tune) Harmonious, musical.
Tu'nableness (s. from tunable) Harmony, melody.
Tu'nably (adv. from tunable) Harmoniously, melodiously.
TU'NAL (s. in botany) The tuna, the tree which produces the insects used in dying scarlet which we call cochineal.
Tun'bellied (adj. from tunbelly) Having a large belly having a belly as big as a tun.
Tun'belly (s. from tun, and belly, a droll word) One who has a belly remarkably prominent.
TUN'BRIDGE (s.) A village in Kent remarkable for its mineral waters; it is 30 miles from London.
Tun'bridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tunbridge, made at Tunbridge.
Tun'dish (s. from tun, and dish) A vessel used in putting liquor into a bottle or cask.
TUNE (s. from the Lat. tonus a sound) A sound, a combination of notes, a short composition or piece.

TUR

TUR (adj. from tune) Harmonious, musical.
TUR (adj. from tune) Unmusical, unharmonious.
TUR (s. from tune) One who tunes.
TUR (s. an old word) The bailiff of a town or village.
TUR (s. a different spelling) The bailiff of a town or village.
TUR (s. in botany) The ground ivy.
TUR (s. from the Lat. tunica) The part of the Roman dress which answers to our waistcoat; a covering or tegument.
TUR (s. from the Lat.) The tunic, the garment worn under the toga; a membrane, a thin skin; one of the coats of the eye.
TUR (s. from tunic) An integument, a covering.
TUR (adj. from tunica) Consisting of several tunics involved one over another.
TUR (p. a. from tune) Putting into tune; singing in tune, singing.
TUR (s. from the part.) The act or method of putting into tune; the act of singing in a tune.
TUR (s. in geography) One of the states of Africa on the Barbary coast.
TUR (adj. from Tunis) Belonging to Tunis, imported from Tunis.
TUR (s. from the adj.) A native of Tunis.
TUR (s. from tun) The contents of a vessel measured by the tun; a tax laid on any commodity by the tun.
TUR (p. from tun) Put into a tun, put into a cask.
TUR (s. from the French tonnelle) The shaft of a chimney, the passage for the smoke through a chimney; a pipe by which liquor is poured into a vessel, a funnel; a kind of net wide at the mouth and ending in a point.
TUR (v. t. from the sub.) To form like a tunnel; to dig in a tunnel; to make network, to reticulate.
TUR (p. from tunnel) Formed like a tunnel, shaped like a tunnel.
TUR (s. from tunnel) One that catches birds in a tunnel.
TUR (p. a. from tunnel) Forming like a tunnel, shaped like a tunnel.
TUR (s. from the part.) The act of forming like a tunnel, the act of catching in a tunnel.
TUR (s. from tunnel, and net) A net wide at the mouth and narrowing to a point by degrees.
TUR (s. in zoology, from the Lat. thynnus) The name of a sea-fish.
TUR (p. a. from tun) Pouring into a cask, putting into a barrel.
TUR (s. from the part.) The act of putting liquor into a cask.
TUR (s. a local word, of uncertain derivation) A ram.
TUR (v. int. from the sub.) To butt like a ram.
TUR (v. t. from the sub.) To cover as a ram.
TUR (p. from tup) Covered as a ewe by a ram.
TUR (p. a. from tup) Butting as a ram, covering as a ram.
TUR (s. from the part.) The act of butting as a ram, the act of generation applied to a ram.
TUR (s. from the Turkish) The cover worn by the Turks on their heads.
TUR (s. a different spelling) The turban.
TUR (adj. from turban) Wearing a turban.
TUR (s. from turban, and shell) A kind of centipede, the sea hedgehog.
TUR (s. a different spelling) A turban.
TUR (s. an old word) The right of digging.
TUR (adj. from the Lat. turbo to disturb) Thick, turbid.
TUR (s. from turbid) The state of being turbid.
TUR (v. t. from the Lat. turbo a top) To form a top, to form to a point.
TUR (adj. from turbinate) Twisted, formed into a spiral, formed like a top, made conical.
TUR (p. a. from turbinate, but not much used) Turning to a point like a top.
TUR (s. from turbinate) The act of spinning to a top.

TUR

TUR (s. in botany) The name of a plant; it is a violent purgative.
TUR (s. from the Lat. turpethus) The yellow precipitate.
TUR (s. from turbith, and mineral) The turbith, the yellow precipitate.
TUR (s. in natural history) A genus of shells; a spiral shell.
TUR (s. in ichthyology) The name of a delicate fish.
TUR (s. from turbulent) Tumult, confusion, the state of being turbulent.
TUR (s. from turbulence) Turbulence, the state of being turbulent.
TUR (adj. from the Lat. turbo to disturb) Tumultuous, violent, producing commotion, liable to agitation.
TUR (adv. from turbulent) Tumultuously, violently.
TUR (s. a different spelling) The turbot.
TUR (s. in natural history) The Turkey earth, a fine kind of bole used in medicine.
TUR (s. from the Lat. Turcismus) The religion of the Turks.
TUR (s. in natural history) A kind of copperas; a kind of precious stone.
TUR (adj. from Turcomania) Belonging to Turcomania.
TUR (s. from the adj.) An inhabitant of Turkestan.
TUR (s. in geography) A province of Asiatic Turkey.
TUR (s. from the Sax.) Excrements; human ordure; the dung of an animal.
TUR (s. in ornithology) A genus of birds, the thrush kind.
TUR (adj. not used) Bad, wicked, uncivil.
TUR (s. from the Sax. tyrf) A clod covered with grass; the grassy surface of the ground; peat, clods of earth cut up to be burnt.
TUR (v. t. from the sub.) To cover with turfs.
TUR (p. from turf) Covered with turfs.
TUR (adj. comp. of turfy) Turfy in a greater degree.
TUR (adj. sup. of turfy) Turfy in the greatest degree.
TUR (s. from turfy) The state of being covered with turfs.
TUR (p. a. from turf) Covering with turfs.
TUR (s. from the part.) The act of covering with turfs, the turf with which any thing is covered.
TUR (s. from turfing, and iron) A turfing spade, an instrument used in cutting turfs.
TUR (s. from turfing, and spade) A spade used in cutting turfs.
TUR (adj. from turf) Full of turfs.
TUR (adj. from the Lat. turgeo to swell) Swelling, tumid.
TUR (s. from the Lat. turgesco to swell) The act of swelling, the state of being swelled.
TUR (s. from turgescence) Turgescence.
TUR (adj. from turgescence) Swelling, growing big.
TUR (adj. from the Lat. turgeo to swell) Swelling, bloated; pompous, bombastic.
TUR (s. from turgid) The state of being turgid.
TUR (s. in geography) The capital of the king of Sardinia's dominions in Italy.
TUR (s. in botany) The first young shoot which a plant puts forth annually out of the ground.
TUR (s. from the French Turc) A native of Turkey.
TUR (s. in old geography) The land of the Turks; it borders on Persia.
TUR (s. from Turkestan, and born) Born in Turkestan.
TUR (s. in geography) The empire of the Grand Signior.
TUR (s. in ornithology, from the foregoing) A large domestic fowl.
TUR (s. from turkey, and chick) A young turkey, a turkey just hatched.
TUR (s. plu. of turkeychick) More than one turkeychick.
TUR (s. from turkey, and cock) The cock or male of the turkey kind.
TUR (s. in natural history) A fine kind of bole used in medicine.
TUR (s. from turkey and hen) The hen or female of the turkey kind.
TUR (s. from turkey, and kind) A genus of fowls comprehending all kinds of turkeys.
TUR (s. from turkey, and pout) A young turkey.

TUR

Turk's (s. a different spelling) The turcois, a kind of precious stone. Chaucer.
Turk'ish (adj. from Turk) Belonging to Turkey, belonging to the Turks.
TUR'KOIS (s. in natural history) A kind of precious stone.
Tur'koistone (s. from turkois, and stone) The turkois.
Turks'cap (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the flower of the plant, the martagon.
Turk'y (s. a different spelling) Turkey; the empire of the Turks; a large domestic fowl. D. of A.
Turk'yearth (s. a different spelling) Turkey earth. D. of A.
TUR'LOPINS (s. from the French) The turlupines.
TUR'LUPINES (s. from the old French) A sect of people who paid no regard to modesty in dress or manners.
TUR'LURU (s. from the Italian) A crackbrain, a fool. Shakespeare.
TURM (s. from the Lat. turma a troop, but not used) A troop. Milton.
Tur'mentise (s. obsolete) Torment. Chaucer.
TUR'MERIC (s. in botany and commerce) An Indian root used in dying.
Turmoil (s. probably from moil) Trouble, disturbance. Denham.
Turmoil (v. t. from the sub.) To harass with commotion; to weary; to keep in uneasiness. Dry.
Turmoil'ed (p. from turmoil) Wearied, harassed with commotion; with with: as, "Turmoiled with their unballasted wits." Milton.
Turmoil'ing (p. a. from turmoil, but not much used) Wearying with commotion, harassing. Bailey.
Turmoil'ingly (adv. from turmoiling) Toilsomely. Ba.
TURN (v. t. from the Sax. turnan) To put into a circular motion, to revolve; to put the upper side downwards, to change sides; to bring the inside outward; to change with respect to position; to change the state of a balance, to make to preponderate; to form, to shape, to form as in a lathe; to transform, to transmute, to change milk to curds; to change, to alter; to make of a different colour; to make a reverse of fortune; to change to another opinion, to change with regard to temper; to make to nauseate, to make giddy; to infatuate, to make mad; to direct to, to have recourse to; to double in, to blunt; to put out, to expell; to apply, to adapt to; to reverse, to repeal, to retort, to throw back; to transfer, to fall upon. To turn away, to dismiss, to discard. To turn back, to come back, to decline a contest. To turn off, to dismiss with contempt; to give over, to resign; to reflect, to turn to something else. to turn over, to change the sides; to transfer; to examine one leaf after another, to refer, to throw off the ladder. To turn to, to have recourse to some particular passage in a book.
Turn (v. int.) To move round, to have a circular motion; to change posture, to have a particular direction; to deviate, to go out of the way; to change sides; to become different; to become acid, to become curdled; to depend on as a chief point; to grow giddy, to have an unexpected event. To turn away, to deviate; to return, to recoil. To turn off, to divert ones course.
Turn (s. from the verb) The act of turning, a meander; a walk to and fro; a change, a vicissitude; a manner of proceeding; a time in which any thing is to be done, a spell, a rotation; an act of kindness, an act of unkindness; a chance, an incidental occasion; a step off the ladder at the gallows; a form, a cast, a manner; the manner of adjusting the words of a sentence. By turns, one after another.
Turn (s. a law term) The county court.
TURNADO (s. a different spelling) A tornado.
Tur'nament (s. a different spelling) A tournament, a tilting. Scott.
Turn'bench (s. from turn, and bench) A small kind of iron lathe.
Turn'coat (s. from turn, and coat) One who forsakes his party.
Turn'ed (p. from turn) Moved round, moved out of place, changed as to sides, changed, made acid, curdled, made to nauseate, formed in a lathe.
Tur'nep (s. a different spelling) A turnip. D. of A.
Turn'er (s. from turn) One whose business it is to turn in a lathe.
TURN'E'RA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Turn'e'tun (s. in old records) A tax paid to the sheriff for holding the county court.
Tur'ney (s. from the verb, obsolete) A tournament.

TUR

Tur'ney (v. int. obsolete) To tilt, to joust. Chaucer.
Turn'ing (p. a. from turn) Moving round, changing sides, making acid, making to nauseate, forming in a lathe.
Turn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of revolving, the act of curdling, the act of changing sides, the act of forming in a lathe, the nausea of the stomach, a flexure, a winding, a meander.
Turn'ingevil (s. in farriery) A disease incident to the sturdy.
Turn'ingness (s. from turning) The state or quality of turning, a subterfuge.
Turn'ingstrait (s. in the manage) One of the artificial movements of a managed horse.
TUR'NIP (s. in botany, probably from turn) The name of a plant, the edible root of the plant.
Tur'nipbread (s. from turnip, and bread) Bread which there is a mixture of turnips.
Tur'nipbroth (s. from turnip, and broth) Broth which turnips have been boiled.
Tur'nipcrop (s. from turnip, and crop) A crop of turnips.
Tur'nipfield (s. from turnip, and field) A field for turnips.
Tur'nipground (s. from turnip, and ground) Turnip land, land fit for turnips.
Turn'ipland (s. from turnip, and land) Land fit for turnips, a light soil.
Turn'ipleaf (s. from turnip, and leaf) The leaf of a turnip.
Tur'nipleaves (s. plu. of turnipleaf) The leaves of turnips.
Tur'nipseed (s. from turnip, and seed) The seed of turnips.
Turn'pike (s. from turn, and pike) A cross of bars armed with spikes to keep the horses from passing; a gate erected on the road to collect tolls to defray the expence of repairing.
Turn'pike (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a turnpike, repaired by the money collected at a turnpike.
Turn'pick (adj. from turn, and sick) Giddy.
TURN'SOL (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the flower of the plant; the heliotropium.
Turn'sole (s. a different spelling) The turnsol.
Turn'spit (s. from turn, and spit) One who turns the spit; a dog that turns the spit.
Turn'stile (s. from turn, and stile) A turnpike, a bar turning on a pin to let foot passengers through and prevent horses.
Turn'stile (s. a different spelling) A turnstile.
TUR'NUS (s.) A man's name, the rival of Aeneas.
TUR'PENTINE (s. from the Greek τερεβινθος) The resin of the pine.
Tur'pentinetree (s. from turpentine, and tree) The tree that produces turpentine; a species of pistachia.
Tur'pethroot (s. in botany and medicine) The turpethroot.
Tur'pished (p. from turpify, but not used) Made vile, made base.
TUR'PIFY (v. t. from the Lat. turpis vile, and facere) To make vile, to make unclean, to make base.
Tur'pifying (p. a. from turpify, not used) Making vile, making base.
TUR'PITUDE (s. from the Lat. turpis vile) Vileness, baseness.
Tur'quoise (s. a different spelling) The turkois, a kind of precious stone.
Tur'rel (s.) A kind of tool used by coopers.
TUR'RET (s. from the Lat. turris) A small tower, the eminence raised above the rest of a building.
Tur'reted (adj. from turret) Having a turret, like a little tower.
Turrib'ulum (s. not so correct a spelling) - The turret.
TURRIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. turris a tower, fero to bear) Bearing towers.
TUR'RITIS (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the mustard.
TUR'TLE (s. in ornithology) A species of dove.
TUR'TLE (s. in ichthyology) A tortoise, the sea turtle.
Tur'tledove (s. from turtle, and dove) A species of pigeon.
Tur'tlefeast (s. from turtle, and feast) A feast in which turtle is the principal dish.
TUR'TUR (s. in ornithology) The turtle dove.
Turves (s. the old plu. of turf) Turfs.
Tur'vis (s. an old word) Turfs.
TURUN'DA (s. in surgery) A tent to be put in a wound or ulcer.

T U Z

TUDULA (s. in surgery) A small tent.
(s. a different spelling) Tutian. Pb.
TUSCANY (adj. from Tuscany) Belonging to Tuscany; distinguishing one of the orders of architecture.
(s. from the adj.) A native of Tuscany; one of the orders of architecture; it is the most simple of the five.
TUSCULAN (s. in natural history) A kind of fine bole in medicine.
TUSCANY (s. in geography) A dutchy of Italy, situated on the land side by the territories of the Tuscans.
TUSCULANUM (s. from Tusculanum) Belonging to Tusculum, composed at Tusculanum, distinguishing the divisions in philosophy which Cicero composed at Tusculanum.
TUSCULANUM (s.) A villa or country seat in Italy, where Cicero composed his Tusculan disquisitions.
(interj. the derivation is uncertain) Expressive of contempt.
TUSK (s. from the Sax. tuxas) One of the large teeth of a boar; one of the fore teeth of an horse.
(s. in carving) To cut up a barbel. Bailey.
TUSKS (s. plu. from tusk) The large teeth of a boar, the teeth of an horse.
TUSK (s. from the Sax. tyfos) A fang, the holding tooth of a fighting animal.
TUSK (adj. from tusk) Furnished with tusks.
TUSK (adj. from tusk) Having tusks.
TUSK (adj. from tusk) Dressed as a barbel. Cole.
TUSK (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the foot.
TUSK (s. from the Lat.) The cough.
TUSK (s. from tuzz) A tuft of grass, a collection of grass. Greiv.
TUSK (s. a low colloquial or droll word) A bustle. Sc.
(interj. the derivation uncertain) Expressing contempt.
TUSK (s.) An imperial ensign, the mond.
TUSK (s. from the Chinese) The spelter; a kind of pewter.
TUSK (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Priapus.
TUSK (s.) A town in Staffordshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 128 miles from London.
TUSK (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tutbury, as at Tutbury.
TUTELAGE (s. from the Lat. tutela defence) Guardianship, the state of being under a guardian.
TUTELAR (adj. from the Lat. tutela defence) Guardian, defensive, protecting.
TUTELAR (adj. from tutelar) Guardian, defensive, protecting.
TUTELAR (s. obsolete) Defence, protection; a guardian, a tutor. Chaucer.
TUTELA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to preserve the corn after it was gathered into the barn.
TUTELA (s.) The name of a woman, one of the vestal virgins.
TUTELA (s. a different spelling) Tutty. Cole.
TUTOR (s. from the Lat.) A teacher, an instructor, who has the care of the learning and morals of a scholar.
TUTOR (v. t. from the sub.) To instruct, to teach; to instruct, to treat with superiority.
TUTOR (s. from tutor) The office of a tutor, the dignity of a tutor.
TUTOR (p. from tutor) Taught, instructed.
TUTOR (s. from tutor) A woman who tutors.
TUTOR (p. a. from tutor) Instructing, teaching.
TUTOR (s. from the part.) The act of instructing, instruction.
TUTS (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the leaves.
TUTS (s. from the low Lat. tutia) A sublimate of calamine collected in a furnace; a tut, a nosegay.
TUTS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Priapus.
TUTS (s. a different spelling) Tutty.
TUTS (s.) A town in Nottinghamshire; it has a market on Monday, and is 136 miles from London.
TUTS (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Tuxford, as at Tuxford.
TUTS (s. a different spelling) Tutseo, the idol of the Tuts.
TUTS (s. perhaps of cant derivation) A lock of hair, a tuft of hair. Dryden.

T W E

TUZ'ZIMUZ'ZY (s. a cant word) A possey, a nosegay; the female pudendum. Bailey.
TWA (adj. obsolete) Two. Chaucer.
TWAIN (adj. now used only in droll style) Two.
TWAIN (adj. the old spelling) Twain, both. Chaucer.
TWAITE (s. an old law term) Woodland turned into arable.
TWANG (v. t. from the sound) To make to sound sharply.
TWANG (v. int.) To sound with a sharp quick noise as the string of a bow.
TWANG (adv. from the verb) With a sharp quick sound. Prior.
TWANG (s. from the verb) A sharp quick sound; an affected modulation of the voice.
TWANG'ED (p. from twang) Made to sound with a twang.
TWANG'ING (p. a. from twang) Making a sharp quick sound.
TWANG'ING (s. from the part.) The act of sounding sharply and quickly, the sound of a bow string.
TWANG'ING (adj. from twang) Contemptibly noisy. Shakespeare.
TWANIGHTGESTE (s. an old word) A lodger for two nights during which time if he did any harm his host was not answerable for it.
TWANK (v. t. from twang) To make to sound.
TWANK'ING (p. a. from twank) Making to sound.
TWANK'ING (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise. Addison.
TWAT'TLE (v. int. from the German schwatzen) To prate, to chatter.
TWAT'TLEBASKET (s. a cant word) One who is continually talking. Scott.
TWAT'TLING (p. a. from twattle) Prating, chattering.
TWAT'TLING (s. from the part.) The act of prating, trifling discourse.
TWAY (adj. an old word) Twain, two. Sp.
TWAY'BLADE (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
TWEAG (s. a different spelling) To tweak, to pinch. Skin.
TWEAG (s. from the verb) Perplexity, trouble, distress in droll style.
TWEAG'ED (p. from tweag) Tweaked, pinched between the fingers.
TWEAG'ING (p. a. from tweag) Tweaking, pinching between the fingers.
TWEAG'ING (s. a different spelling) A tweak, perplexity in droll style.
TWEAK (v. t. from the German tweak) To pinch, to squeeze between the fingers.
TWEAK (s. from the verb) Perplexity, distress in droll style.
TWEAK'ED (p. from tweak) Pinched, perplexed in droll style.
TWEAK'ING (p. a. from tweak) Pinching, squeezing between the fingers.
TWEAK'ING (s. from the part.) The act of pinching with the fingers.
TWEED (s.) A river which takes its rise in Scotland, and dividing the two kingdoms falls into the German ocean at the town of Berwick.
TWEED'ALE (s.) A county in Scotland.
TWEED'LE (v. t. of uncertain derivation) To handle lightly.
TWEED'LED (p. from tweedle) Handled lightly.
TWEEDLEDEE' (s. a cant word from tweedle) The act of playing on a musical instrument, a musician in contempt. Swift.
TWEEDLEDUM (s. from tweedle, a cant word) One who plays on a musical instrument, a musician in contempt.

"Strange all this difference should be "Twixt tweedledum and tweedledee." Sw.

TWEED'LING (p. a. from tweedle) Handling lightly.
TWEED'LING (s. from the part.) The act or circumstance of handling lightly.
TWEE'ZERS (s. from the French etui) Nippers, small pinchers to pluck off hairs.
TWEHENDMAN (s. an old Saxon law term) A husbandman, one of the order who were valued at two hundred shillings.
TWEHENDMEN (s. plu. of twehendman) The order of peasants who were valued at two hundred shillings.
TWELF'HIND, TWELF'HINDI (s. a Saxon law term) The order valued at two hundred shillings.
TWELF'MEN (s. an old word) The jury. Cole.
TWELFTH (adj. from the Sax. twelfta) Next to the eleventh, filling the order next above the eleventh. Twelfth

T W I

Twelfth (s. from the adj.) The next to the eleventh; one part of twelve.
Twelfth/day (s. from twelfth, and day) The twelfth day exclusive from Christmas day.
Twelfth/tide (s. from twelfth, and tide) The festival held on the twelfth day after Christmas, the epiphany.
TWELVE (adj. from the Sax. twelf) Two and ten, twice six.
Twelve (s. from the adj.) The number ten and two, twelve persons, twelve things; the twelve judges, the twelve apostles.
Twelve/month (s. from twelve, and month) The space of twelve months, a year.
Twelve/pence (s. from twelve, and pence) Twenty four halfpence, one shilling.
Twelve/penny (adj. from twelve, and penny) Valued at one shilling, sold at one shilling.
Twelve/score (adj. from twelve, and score) Twelve times twenty, two hundred and forty.
Twelve/score (s. from the adj.) The number two hundred and forty, two hundred and forty persons, two hundred and forty things.
Twene (adj. obsolete) Twain, both. Chaucer.
Twen'tieth (adj. from twenty) Next in order above the nineteenth.
Twen'tieth (s. from the adj.) The next in order above the nineteenth, one part of twenty.
TWENTY (adj. from the Sax. twentig) Ten twice told; indefinitely many. "Upon twenty respects."
Twenty (s. from the adj.) The number twice ten, twenty persons, twenty things.
Twey (adj. obsolete) Two. Chaucer.
Tweyne (adj. obsolete) Twain, both. Chaucer.
Twil'bil (s. from twey, and bill) A halbert. Ains.
Twil'blade (s. in botany) The ophris. D. of Arts.
TWICE (adj. from the Sax. twigith) At two times, doubly.
Twice/horn (s. from twice, and born) Born twice.
Twice/conquered (adj. from twice, and conquered) Conquered a second time.
Twice/told (adj. from twice, and told) Told twice over.
Twich'grafs (s. not so common a spelling) Couch-grafs. Bailey.
Twid'le (v. t. a different spelling) To tweedle. Wileman.
Twifal'low (v. t. from twey, and fallow) To plough a second time before sowing.
Twifal'lowed (p. from twifallow) Ploughed a second time before sowing.
Twifal'lowing (p. a. from twifallow) Ploughing a second time before sowing.
Twifal'lowing (s. from the part.) The act of ploughing a second time before sowing.
Twifold (adj. obsolete) Double. Chaucer.
TWIG (s. from the Sax.) The small shoot of a branch, a long switch.
Twig'gen (adj. from twig) Made of twigs.
Twig'gier (adj. comp. of twiggy) Twiggy in a greater degree.
Twig'giest (adj. sup. of twiggy) Twiggy in the greatest degree.
Twig'gy (adj. from twig) Full of twigs, abounding with twigs.
Twight (p. obsolete) Plucked, pulled. Cb.
Twigh'd (s. an old word) The angild, a mulst, a fine. Phillips.
Twihind (s. an old law term) One of that class of the people who were valued at two hundred shillings.
Twihin'di (s. an old Sax. law term) The class of people who were valued at two hundred shillings.
Twihund'ueman (s. an old Sax. law term) A twihind.
Twihund'uemen (s. plu. of twihundueman) That class of the people who were valued at two hundred shillings.
Twild (s. a local word) A quill to wind yarn on, a spool. Bailey.
TWILIGHT (s. from the Sax. twyleaht) The faint light before the rising and after the setting of the sun, an obscure light, an uncertain view.
Twilight (adj. from the sub.) Seen by the obscure light before the rising or after the setting of the sun; deeply shaded, obscure.
TWIN (s. from the Sax. twina) One of two children born at a birth.
Twin (v. int. from the sub.) To bring two at a birth, to come two at a birth.
Twin (v. t.) To pair, to match as twins.
Twin (v. int. obsolete) To depart, to separate. Cb.

T W I

Twin/horn (adj. from twin, and born) Born at birth.
TWINE (v. t. from the Sax. twinan) To twist, to unite, to unite by twisting, to adhere to, to unite itself.
Twine (v. int.) To wind, to bend, to make, to unite by interposition of parts, to convolve.
Twine (s. from the verb) A twisted thread, a cord; a twist, a convolution; an embrace.
Twine (adj. obsolete) Twain, both.
Twined (p. from twine) Twisted, wound about.
Twining (p. a. from twine) Twisting, convolving, making flexures.
Twining (s. from the part.) The act of twisting, convolution.
Twiningly (adv. from twining) In a twist, with convolution.
TWINGE (v. t. from the German twingen) To torment with sudden and violent pain, to pinch, to tweak.
Twinge (s. from the verb) A sudden sharp pain, a pinch, a tweak.
Twing'ed (p. from twinge) Affected with a sudden pain, pinched.
Twing'ing (p. a. from twinge) Affecting with a sudden sharp pain, pinching.
Twing'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pinching, sudden sharp pain.
Twink (s. from twinkle, but not much used) The motion of the eye; a moment, a very short space of time.
Twink (v. int. from the sub. but not used) To wink.
Twink'in (v. int. obsolete) To wink, to twinkle, to eye.
Twink'ing (p. a. from twink, but not used) Winking.
Twink'ingly (adv. from twinkling) With frequent twinklings.
TWINK'LE (v. int. from the Sax. twincian) To flash, to flash with intermitted light; to quiver; to open and shut the eye; to move or play irregularly.
Twink'le (s. from the verb) The motion of the eye, shutting and opening, a short space of time.
Twink'ling (p. a. from twinkle) Sparkling, flashing with intermitted light, shutting and opening the eye.
Twink'ling (s. from the part.) The act of flashing with intermitted light, a sparkling light; a motion of the eye, a very short space of time.
Twink'light (s. an old spelling) Twilight. Chaucer.
Twin'ling (s. the diminutive of twin) A twin lamb, one of two lambs brought at a birth.
Twinn (v. int. obsolete) To depart, to separate. Chaucer.
Twinn'ed (p. from twin) Paired, suited to each other as twins:
 "The twinned stones
 "Upon the humbled beath."
Dryden.
Twin'ner (s. from twin) One that brings two at a birth.
Twin'ning (p. a. from twin) Bringing two at a birth.
Twin'ning (s. from the part.) The act of bringing two at a birth.
Twins (s. plu. of twin) Two brought forth at a birth, Gemini, one of the signs of the zodiac.
Twin'ters (s. a local word) Cattle two winters old.
Twir'ith (v. int. third person obsolete) Whispers, sings.
Twirl (v. t. from whirl) To move round, to move in a quick rotation.
Twirl (s. from the verb) A rotation, a twist, a convolution.
Twirl'ed (p. from twirl) Twisted, turned round with a swift motion.
Twirl'ing (p. a. from twirl) Moving with a quick rotation.
Twirl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting, quick rotation.
Twife (adv. a different spelling) Twice. L. Ryff.
TWIST (v. t. from the Sax. getwisan) To form by convolution, to form by twisting; to writhe, to contort, to form, to weave; to unite, to insinuate.
Twist (v. int.) To become contorted, to wind itself as a cord in twisting.
Twist (s. from the verb) A convolution, any thing made by winding two or more bodies together; a string of a cord; a cord, a string; a writh, a contortion; the manner of twisting; a twig, a bough of a tree; but this sense is now become obsolete.
Twist'ed (p. from twist) Convolved, wound together, united by twisting.
Twist'er (s. from twist) One who twisteth, the instrument by which any thing is twisted; a ropemaker. Twisting.

TYC

ing (p. a. from twist) Convolving, winding together, uniting by a twist.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of convolving, the act of being twisted, an union or contortion formed by twisting.
 ingly (adv. from twisting) With a convolution, with a twist. Bailey.
 T (v. t. from the Sax. edwitan) To sneer at, to reproach; with with: as, "She twits me with my falsehood to my friend."
 ch (v. t. from the Sax. twiccian) To pull with a jerk motion, to snatch, to vellicate.
 ch (s. from the verb) A quick pull; a painful contraction of the fibres.
 ched (p. from twitch) Pulled with a sudden motion.
 ch'grafs (s. a different spelling) The couchgrafs.
 ch'ing (p. a. from twitch) Pulling with a sudden motion.
 ch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling with a sudden motion; a painful contraction of the fibres.
 en (v. t. the old spelling) To twit. Spenser.
 ted (p. from twit) Reproached, sneered at on account of something supposed to be disgraceful or criminal.
 ter (s. from twit) One that twits, one that throws something in the teeth of another.
 TTER (v. int. the derivation is not noted) To make sharp tremulous intermitting noise, to make a noise like a swallow; to be suddenly moved with any inclination; but this is a low or droll sense. L'Estrange.
 ter (s. from the verb) A motion of passion, a fit of anger, a fit of fretting.
 ter (v. t. a local word) To spin any thing unevenly. Bailey.
 tered (s. from twitter, a local word) Spun unevenly.
 tering (p. a. from twitter, a local word) Spinning unevenly.
 tering (p. a. from twitter) Making a sharp tremulous intermitting noise as a swallow or other small bird.
 tering (s. from the part.) The act of making a sharp tremulous noise as a swallow or other bird; a sharp tremulous noise; a sudden inclination, a fit of anger or other emotion.
 ting (p. a. from twit) Reproaching, sneering at on account of something criminal or disgraceful.
 ting (s. from the part.) The act of reproaching on something supposed to be criminal or disgraceful.
 tingly (adv. from twitting) Upbraidingly. Bailey.
 tletwattle (s. from twattle, a low or droll word) Talk, gabble. L'Estrange.
 tletwattle (v. int. from the sub.) To prate, to chatter. Scott.
 el (s. with carpenters) A tool used in making a hole for a mortise.
 t (prep. a contraction of) Betwixt.
 (adj.) One and one.
 (s. from the adj. put absolutely) The number one and one, two persons, two things.
 edged (adj. from two, and edge) Having two edges, having a double edge.
 fold (adj. from two, and fold) Double, double in quantity.
 fold (adv. from the adj.) Doubly.
 handed (adj. from two, and hand) Large, bulky, strong, able.
 headed (adj. from two, and head) Having two heads.
 leaved (adj. from two, and leaf) Having two leaves.
 legged (adj. from two, and leg) Having two legs.
 pence (s. from two, and pence) A small coin valued at twice a penny.
 penny (adj. from two, and penny) Valued at twice a penny, worth twopence.
 penny (s. from the adj.) Beer sold at twopence a pint.
 pennygrafs (s. in botany) The cant name of an herb.
 (adv. an old word) Twice. Cole.
 ter (v. int. an old word) To sing. Phillips.
 es (adv. an old spelling) Twice. Cbaucer.
 fold (adj. from two, and fold, obsolete) Twofold. Cole.
 nt (s. obsolete) A jot, a tittle. Cbaucer.
 ft (p. obsolete) Pinched, thrust. Cole.
 ten (p. obsolete) Carved. Cole.
 CHE (s.) A woman's name, one of the daughters of Atlas.

TYP

TYCH'IUS (s.) A man's name; a companion of the Apostle Paul; a curious artist in metal, who was said to have made the shield of Ajax.
 TY'CHO (s.) A man's name, a Danish nobleman famous for his skill in astronomy.
 Tycho'nian (adj. from Tycho) Belonging to the system invented by Tycho.
 Tycho'nic (adj. from Tycho) Belonging to the system of the heavens invented by Tycho.
 TYD'DER (s. a contraction from) Theodore, a man's name.
 TYE (s. a different spelling) A tie, a knot, a bond of obligation.
 Tye (v. t. a different spelling) To tie, to bind.
 Tye (s. a sea term) A runner of thick rope to transfer the effort of any tackle to a yard or gaff.
 Tygen'dis (s. an old word) A flock of magpies. Cole.
 Tye'top (s. a local word) A garland. Cole.
 TY'GER (s. in zoology) A tiger, the name of a wild beast.
 Ty'gershell (s. a different spelling) The tigershell.
 Tyht'lan (s. an old Saxon law term) An impeachment, a charge for an offence or trespass.
 Tyke (s. a different spelling) A tike, a dog in the Scotch dialect, a worthless fellow.
 Tyle (s. a different spelling) A tile. Dict. of Arts.
 Ty'ler (s. from tyle) A tiler, one who lays tiles on houses. Dict. of Arts.
 TYLO'MA (s. from the Greek τυλος a callus) A callus, the substance that unites fractured bones.
 TY'LUS (s. from the Greek τυλος a callus) The hardness of the skin in any part occasioned by hard labour.
 TY'LUS (s. in the history of insects) The cheslip, the hoghouse or millepe.
 TYL'WITH (s. in heraldry) A tribe, a descent; the second or third house.
 TYM'BAL (s. from the French) A kind of kettle drum.
 Tymbo'rel'la (s. an old law term) A ducking stool; a dung cart.
 TYM'PAN (s. from the Greek τυμπανον) A timbrel, a drum.
 TYM'PAN (s. in anatomy) The drum of the ear, the tympanum.
 TYM'PAN (s. in architecture) The die of a pedestal, the pannel of a door, that part of the bottom of the frontous placed between the cornices, a kind of ornament in the corner of an arch.
 TYM'PAN (s. with printers) A frame of wood with a parchment drawn over it on which the sheets are placed to be printed.
 Tym'pane (s. from tympan) A kind of drum. Phillips.
 TYMPA'NIAS (s. with physicians) The tympany; a kind of dropsy.
 TYMPANI'TES (s. with physicians) That kind of dropsy which swells the belly like a drum.
 Tympan'ity (s. from tympan) The tympany. Baxter.
 TYMPA'NO (s.) The drum used in a concert of music.
 Tympanism (s. from tympan) A mode of punishment among the Jews in which the offender was beaten to death.
 Tympanist (s. from tympan) A drummer; one affected with a tympany. Cole.
 Tympanit'ical (adj. from tympan) Tending to a tympany, afflicted with a tympany. Cole.
 Tympanize (v. int. from tympan) To act the part of a drummer. Cole.
 TYM'PANUM (s. from the Greek τυμπανον) A drum, the part of the ear which is supposed to be the immediate organ of hearing so called from its resemblance to a drum.
 TYM'PANUM (s. in mechanics) A kind of wheel fixed to a short cylinder for raising weights.
 Tym'pany (s. from tympan) A kind of flatulent obstruction which swells the belly like a drum.
 TYNDARIDÆ (s. from Tyndaris) The sons of Tyndaris.
 TYNDA'RIS (s.) The name of a woman, the wife of Tyndarus and mother of Castor and Pollux.
 TYNDA'RUS (s.) A man's name, the husband of Leda, and father of Castor, twin brother to Pollux, who was supposed to have been begotten by Jupiter in the form of a swan.
 Tynt (adj. an old word) Shut up. Cole.
 Ty'ny (adj. the derivation is not noted) Small, small in contempt. Shakespeare.
 TYPE (s. from the Greek τυπος) An emblem, that by which any thing future is prefigured; a printing letter; a mark, a stamp. Shakespeare.
 TY'PHA (s. in botany) The typh wheat, a kind of grain resembling rye; the water orchis.
 TYPH'LOPS (s. in zoology) The blind worm.

TYR

TYPHO'DES (s. from the Greek) A continued burning fever.

TYPHÆ'US (s. in the mythology of poets) A huge giant, the son of Titan and Terra.

TYPHO'DEA (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the phleum.

TYPOMANIA (s. from the Greek) A disorder of the brain, the combination of a frenzy and lethargy.

TY'PHON (s. in the mythology of the poets) A huge giant, the son of Terra.

TY'PHON (s. from the Greek) A whirlwind, a hurricane; a fiery meteor, an impression on the air.

TY'PHOS (s. from the Greek) An inflation, a swelling; pride, arrogance.

Typh'wheat (s. in botany) A kind of grain resembling rye.

Typ'ic (adj. from type) Belonging to a type, containing a type.

Typ'ical (adj. from typic) Belonging to a type, containing a type.

Typ'ically (adv. from typical) In a typical sense.

Typ'icalness (s. from typical) The state of being typical.

Typified (p. from typify) Prefigured, shewn by a type.

Ty'pify (v. t. from type) To figure, to shew as by a type.

Typifying (p. a. from typify) Figuring; shewing as by a type.

Typifying (s. from the part.) The act of prefiguring, the act of shewing by a type.

TY'POCOSMY (s. from the Greek τυπος a type, and κοσμος the world) A figure or representation of the world.

Typog'rapher (s. from typography) A printer.

Typog'raphic (adj. from typography) Emblematical, figurative; belonging to the art of printing, done in printing.

Typog'raphical (adj. from typographic) Done in types, figurative, belonging to the art of printing.

Typog'raphically (adv. from typographical) In types, with types; emblematically, after the manner of printers.

TYPOG'RAPHY (s. from the Greek τυπος a type, and γραφω to write) An emblematical representation, the act of printing.

TY'PUS (s. from the Greek τυπος) A type, a letter, a character; the order of an intermitting fever.

Tyrann'ess (s. from tyrant) A female tyrant. Spenser.

TYRAN'NIC (adj. from the Greek τυραννικος) Despotic, imperious, cruel; befitting a tyrant, suited to a tyrant.

Tyrann'ical (adj. from tyrannic) Despotic, imperious, cruel, suited to a tyrant.

Tyrann'ically (adv. from tyrannical) In a tyrannical manner, with despotism, with tyranny.

Tyrann'icalness (s. from tyrannical) The state or quality of being tyrannical.

TYRAN'NICIDE (s. from the Lat. tyrannus a tyrant, and cædo to kill) The act of killing a tyrant.

TYRAN'NION (s.) The name of a man, a famous grammarian who taught at Rome.

TYR'ANNISE (v. int. from the French tyranniser) To act the tyrant, to act with imperiousness; with over: as, "He tyrannises over his own mind."

Tyr'annising (p. a. from tyrannise) Acting the part of a tyrant.

Tyr'annising (s. from the part.) The act of playing the tyrant, despotism.

TY'RANNIZE (v. int. a different, but not less correct spelling, from the Greek τυραννισω) To play the tyrant.

Ty'rannizing (p. a. from tyrannize) Playing the tyrant.

Ty'rannizing (s. from tyrannize) The act of playing the tyrant.

Tyr'annous (adj. from tyrant) Tyrannical, despotical.

TYRAN'NUS (s.) A man's name. Acts.

TYR'ANNY (s. from the Greek τυραννις) The rule of a tyrant, a despotic and imperious government; power cruelly exerted; severity, rigor, inclemency.

Ty'rant (s. from the Greek τυραννος a ruler) An absolute monarch governing imperiously, a despot; an oppressor, a hard cruel master.

TYRCON'EL (s.) A county in Ireland.

Tyre (s. a different spelling) Tire, a headdress. Hazewell.

TYRE (s.) The ancient capital of Phœnicia.

Ty'rets (s. from tyre) A kind of ornament for the harness of an horse.

Tyr'ian (adj. from Tyre) Belonging to Tyre; purple.

Tyrian (s. from the adj.) A native of Tyre, an inhabitant of Tyre; the purple dye, the purple colour for which Tyre was famous.

VAC

Tyrian/thine (adj. from Tyrian) Having a purple colour.

TYR'ASIS (s. from the Greek) A kind of leprosy.

TY'RO (s. a different spelling) A tiro, a fresh water fish; a young practitioner, an apprentice, one in his novitiate.

Tyrocin'ium (s. from the Lat.) A noviciate, the novitiate of an art; the state of a tiro.

Ty'rociny (s. from tyrocinium) A noviciate, the novitiate of an art; the want of mature skill.

TYROM'ANCY (s. from the Greek τυρος cheese, and μαντι magic) Divination drawn from the appearance of cheese.

TY'NONE (s.) A county in Ireland situate in the province of Ulster.

TY'ROS (s. from the Greek) Cheese.

TYRO'SIS (s. from the Greek) The curdling of milk into a substance like cheese in the stomach.

TYROTAR'ICHUS (s. from the Greek) A kind of mite made of powdered flesh and cheese; an old cheese of mites.

Tyr'rhone (adj. from Tyrrhenia) Belonging to Tyrrhenia, belonging to Tuscany.

TYRRHE'NIA (s.) The ancient name of Tuscany.

TYRRHE'US (s.) The name of a man, the hermit king Latinus.

TYRTÆ'US (s.) A man's name, an ancient Athenian poet.

TYRUN'ULUS (s. from the Lat.) A tyro, a young learner, a beginner in any art.

TY'RUS (s.) Tyre, the ancient capital of Phœnicia.

TYS'IAS (s.) A man's name, one of the most ancient orators.

TY'SIO (s. in ichthyology) The porpoise, a sea fish.

TY'SIPH'ONE (s. not so common a spelling) Tisiphone, one of the infernal furies.

Tyte (adj. a local word) Quite.

Tythe (s. not so common a spelling) Tithe, the tenth to the clergy.

Ty'thing (s. not so common a spelling) A titling.

U. V.

U. (s.) The fifth vowel of the English alphabet.

V. (s.) Ve; it is a consonant and proper makes the twenty-second letter of the English alphabet; as a numeral it stands for five.

Va'cancy (s. from vacant) An empty space, a vacant post or employment not filled up; a time of idleness; a relaxation; listlessness, want of thought.

VACANT (adj. from the Lat. vaco to make void) Empty; free, uncrowded; void of an incumbent; void of a possessor; disengaged, thoughtless, void of concern.

VACATE (v. t. from the Lat. vaco) To make void, to make vacant, to quit possession of; to annul, to feast.

Va'cated (p. from vacate) Made void; annulled, feasted.

Va'cating (p. a. from vacate) Making void, annulling.

Va'cating (s. from the part.) The act of making void, annulling.

Vaca'tion (s. from vacate) A recess, an intermission, recess of courts or senates; leisure, a state free from trouble or perplexity.

VACATU'RA (s. a law term) A vacancy, the void of a spiritual living.

VAC'CA (s. in old records) A cow.

VAC'CAMARIA (s. in zoology) The sea cow.

VACCA'RIA (s. in botany) The name of an herb, cow basil.

Vaccarius (s. in old records) A cowherd, a cowman.

Vac'ary (s. from vacca) A cowhouse, a pasture for cows.

Vac'chary (s. a different spelling) A vaccary; a dairy.

Vacchi'via (s. in old records) A vaccary, a cowhouse, a dairy.

VACCIN'IUM (s. in botany) The hyacinth, the flower of the hyacinth.

Vac'cula (s. from vacca) A little cow.

VAC'CUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman conspirator to death by order of the senate and his house demolished.

Vacillancy (s. from vacillate) Inconstancy, vacillation.

VACILLATE (v. int. from the Lat. vacillo) To stagger.

V A I

illating (p. a. from vacillate, but not used) Reeling, staggering.
 Vacillation (s. from vacillate) The act or state of flagging.
 Vacillating (adj. from the Lat. vacivus, but not used) Void, empty.
 Vacuity (s. from vacive) Emptiness.
 Vacuation (s. from vacuum) The act of emptying, an evacuation.
 Vacuist (s. from vacuum) A philosopher who contends for a vacuum, one opposed to the plenists.
 Vacuity (s. from vacuum) Emptiness; space unfilled, space unoccupied; inanity, the want of reality.
 VAINA (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed goddess of rest to whom the Roman husbandmen sacrificed after the harvest.
 Vainous (adj. from vacuum) Empty, unfilled.
 VACUUM (s. from the Lat.) Empty space, space quite void of matter.
 VADO (v. int. from the Lat. vado to go, but not used) To vanish, to pass away.
 Vade (p. from vade, but not used) Gone, passed away.
 Valet (s. an old word) A valet.
 VAGABOND (s. from the Lat. vado to go, and mecum sub me) A pocketbook; a book in constant use.
 Vagabond (v. t. in old records) To claim, to challenge.
 VAGABONDUM (s. a Roman law term) A recognition, a bond or promise for appearance.
 Vagabonding (p. a. from vade, but not used) Going, passing away.
 VAGABONDUM (s. from the Lat. in old records) Wages, a reward for service according to agreement or covenant.
 VAGARITY (s. from the Lat. vafra crafty) Craft. Bailey.
 VAGROUS (adj. from the Lat. vafer) Crafty, subtle. Bai.
 VAGTHRIOTES (s. with physicians) The wandering out.
 VAGABOND (s. from the French) A vagrant, one who wanders from place to place without a legal settlement.
 Vagabond (adj. from the sub.) Wandering, roaming about without a legal settlement.
 Vagabond (adj. not so common a spelling) Vagabond, wandering, vagrant.
 VAGRY (s. from the Lat. vagus vague) A wild freak, capricious frolic.
 VAGTION (s. from the Lat. vagus vague, but not used) The act of wandering.
 VAGINA (s. from the Lat.) A scabbard, a sheath.
 VAGINA (s. in anatomy, from the Lat.) The neck of the womb.
 Vaginal (adj. from vagina) Belonging to the membrane which immediately covers the testicles.
 VAGINALIS (s. in anatomy) The membrane which immediately covers the testicles.
 VAGINIPENNOSUS (adj. from the Lat. vagina a sheath, and penna a wing) Having the wings covered with sheath or hard case.
 Vagrancy (s. from vagrant) The state of a vagrant.
 VAGRANT (adj. from the Lat. vago to wander) Wandering, unsettled; vagabond, wandering from place to place without a settled habitation.
 Vagrant (s. from the adj.) A vagabond, one who wanders from place to place without a legal settlement; a sturdy beggar.
 Vagrance (s. from vagrant) Vagrancy, the state of a vagrant.
 VAGUE (adj. from the Lat. vagus) Wandering, vagrant, mixed, indefinite.
 VAGUM (s. in anatomy) The eight pair of nerves, so called because distributed to divers parts of the body.
 Vail (v. t. a different, and less common spelling) To veil, to cover.
 Vail (v. t. from the French avaller) To let fall, to suffer to descend, to let fall in token of respect; to let, to let any thing sink in fear.
 Vail (v. int.) To yield, to give place.
 Vailable (adj. obsolete) Available, useful. Chaucer.
 Vailed (v. int. pret. obsolete) Aailed, did avail. Chaucer.
 Vailed (p. from vail) Let fall, suffered to descend, let fall in token of respect.
 Vailing (p. a. from vail) Letting fall, suffering to descend, letting fall in token of respect.
 Vailing (s. from the part.) The act of letting fall, the act of letting fall in token of respect.
 Vails (s. reckoned not so correct a spelling) Vales, money given by guests to servants.
 VAIN (adj. from the Lat. vanus) Empty, shadowy; fruitless, ineffectual; shewy, ostentatious; idle, worthless, unimportant; false, deceitful; proud, meanly proud. In vain, to no purpose, without effect.

V A L

 Vain'er (adj. comp. of vain) Vain in a greater degree.
 Vain'est (adj. sup. of vain) Vain in the greatest degree.
 Vainglorious (adj. from vain, and glorious) Empty pride, boasting beyond performances.
 Vaingloriously (adv. from vainglorious) In a vainglorious manner.
 Vaingloriousness (s. from vainglorious) The state or quality of being vainglorious. Scott.
 Vainglory (s. from vain, and glory) Empty pride, pride above merit.
 Vainly (adv. from vain) Without effect, to no purpose; proudly, arrogantly; idly, foolishly.
 Vainness (s. from vain) The state of being vain, empty pride.
 VAIR (s. from the Lat. varius) A kind of variegated furr white and blue.
 VAIR (s. in heraldry) A kind of chequer work in the form of little bells argent and azure, chequer work in the form of little bells.
 Vaire (s. a different spelling) Vair, vary. D. of Arts.
 Vairry (s. from vair) Vair, a kind of chequered work argent and azure, a kind of chequer work in the form of little bells.
 Vairry (adj. from the sub. in heraldry) Variegated in the form of little bells.
 Vairycopy (adj. in heraldry) Variegated in the form of the heads of crutches, counterpotent.
 Vairycopy (s. from the adj. in heraldry) A kind of chequer work in the form of the heads of crutches.
 Vairrytofy (adj. in heraldry) Vairycopy.
 Vairrytofy (s. in heraldry, from the adj.) The vairycopy.
 VAI'VODE (s. from waiwod) A Dacian prince, the governor of one of the Dacian provinces.
 Valance (s. from Valencia) The fringe or drapery hanging round the tester and head of a bed.
 Valance (v. t. from the sub. but not used) To decorate with drapery. Johnson.
 Valance (s. obsolete) Value. Chaucer.
 Valanced (p. from valance) Decorated with drapery. Sb.
 Valancing (p. a. from valance, but not used) Decorating with drapery.
 VALAN'TIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the creffwort.
 VAL'DIA (s. in botany) The ovieda.
 VALE (s. from the Lat. vallis) A valley, a low ground.
 Vail (s. a sea term) A kind of trough, the trough through which the water runs from the pump.
 VALEDICTION (s. from the Lat. vale farewell, and dico to say) A farewell.
 Valedictory (adj. from the Lat. valedico) Bidding farewell.
 Va'leet (s. a different spelling) A valet, a man servant.
 Valence (s. a different spelling) Valance, the fringe or drapery hanging about the tester and head of a bed.
 Valence (v. t. a different spelling) To ornament with drapery. Scott.
 Valences (s. a different spelling) Valance, the fringe or drapery hanging at the tester and head of a bed. Sc.
 VALEN'CIA (s.) A province in Spain.
 VA'LENS (s.) A man's name, one of the Roman emperors, a cruel persecutor of the christians.
 VALEN'TIA (s.) The ancient name of Rome; a city in Spain.
 VALEN'TIA (s. in heathen mythology) The name of a Roman goddess.
 VAL'ENTINE (s.) A man's name, the name of several illustrious Romans; a bishop of Rome.
 Val'entine (s. from Valentine's day) A sweetheart chosen on the fourteenth day of February.
 Val'entine's day (s. from Valentine, bishop of Rome, and day) The fourteenth day of February, dedicated by the papists to the memory of Saint Valentine.
 VALENTINIAN (s.) A man's name.
 Valentinian (s. from the foregoing) One of an ancient sect of the Gnostics so called from Valentinian their leader.
 VALE'RIA (s.) The name of a woman.
 VALE'RIAN (s.) A man's name, the name of several illustrious Romans.
 VALE'RIAN (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the fetwall.
 VAL'ERIE (s. an old word) Valerius, a man's name. Ch.
 VALE'RIOUS (s.) A man's name, the name of several Romans.
 VALES'IAN (s. in church history) One of a christian sect who who admitted none but eunuchs, so called from Valens their leader.

VAL

VAL'ERY (s.) A man's name.

VA'LET (s. from the French) A man-servant, a footman, one who attends on the person of his master.

Va'let (s. in the manage) A stick with a short point to stimulate and aid a leaping horse.

VA'LETDECHAM'BRE (s. from the French) One who waits on a person of quality in his bedchamber.

VA'LETUDE (s. from the Lat. valeo to be well) A good state of health. Bailey.

Valetudina'rian (adj. from valetude) Infirm of health, weakly, sickly.

Valetudina'rian (s. from the adj.) One who has an infirm state of health, one of a sickly and delicate constitution.

Valetu'dinary (adj. from valetude) Infirm of health, sickly.

VAL'GIUS (s.) A man's name; one of the most famous of the ancient poets.

VAL'GUS (s.) One who is bowlegged. Phillips.

Val'iance (s. obsolete, from valiant) Valour, personal courage, bravery. Spenser.

VAL'IA'NT (adj. from the Lat. valeo to be well) Stout, brave, courageous.

Val'iantly (adv. from valiant) With personal bravery, with personal strength.

Val'iantness (s. from valiant) Valour, personal bravery.

VAL'ID (adj. from the Lat. valeo to be able) Powerful, prevalent, efficacious; having force, conclusive.

Valid'ity (s. from valid) The state of being valid, power to convince, certainty.

Val'idness (s. from valid) The state of being valid, validity. Scott.

Val'ing (p. a. from vale) Letting down, suffering to descend, letting down in token of respect, uncovering in token of respect or reverence.

Val'lancy (s. from valance) A large wig that almost covers the face.

Val'lancy (adj. from the sub.) Large, covering the face as a wig. Dryden.

VAL'LAR (adj. in heraldry) Belonging to a crown given to the first man who should break through the palliade or entrenchment of an enemy, having palliades rising above the circle.

VAL'LEY (s. from the Lat. vallis) A low ground, a hollow between two hills; the gutter in the roof of a building.

VALLISNE'RIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

Val'lor (s. a local word) A vate, the mould in which new cheese is pressed.

Val'low (s. a different spelling) The vallon, the vate in which new cheese is pressed. Phillips.

VALOM'BREUX (s. in church history) A certain order of monks.

VAL'OR (s. a modern and correct spelling, from the Lat.) Valour, personal courage, bravery.

Val'orous (adj. from valor) Brave, stout, valiant.

Val'orously (adv. from valor) Valiantly, bravely, with personal courage.

Val'oroufness (s. from valorous) Bravery, personal courage. Scott.

VAL'OUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French valeur) Valor, personal bravery.

Val'uable (adj. from value) Precious, having worth; worthy, deserving regard.

Val'uableness (s. from valuable) The state or quality of being valuable.

Val'ubles (s. plu. from valuable) Things of value.

Val'va'ior (s. a different spelling) A vava'ior. Scott.

Valua'tion (s. from value) The value set on any thing; the act of setting a value, an appraisement.

Valua'tor (s. from value) An appraiser, one who sets a value on any thing.

VAL'UE (s. from the Lat. valor) Price, worth, a rate, a high rate.

Val'ue (v. t. from the sub.) To rate at a certain price, to appraise, to estimate, to reckon at, to hold important, to equal in value, to raise to estimation.

VALVE (s. from the Lat. valva) A folding door, any thing that opens and shuts over the mouth of a vessel.

Val'ued (p. from value) Rated, set at a price, held in estimation.

Val'uer (s. from value) One that values.

Val'ueless (adj. from value) Having no value. Shakesp.

Val'uing (p. a. from value) Setting a value, estimating, holding in estimation.

Val'uing (s. from the part.) The act of setting a price, the act of holding in estimation.

VAN

VAL/VULA (s. in anatomy) A valve, a membrane which opens in certain vessels to admit the blood, and to prevent its reflux.

Val'vule (s. from valve) A small valve.

Vam'brace (s. an old word) A defence for the arm, armour for the arm.

VAMP (s. supposed to be from the French avant) The upper leather of a shoe.

Vamp (v. t. from the sub.) To piece an old thing with some new part.

Vamp'ed (p. from vamp) Pieced out with some new part; with up: as, "This opinion has been vamp'd up."

Vamp'er (s. from vamp) One who vamps; one who pieces out an old thing with some new part.

Vam'peys (s. an old word) A kind of short hose, breeches reaching down to the calf of the leg.

Vamp'ing (p. a. from vamp) Piecing out some thing with a new part.

Vamp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of piecing out some new part.

Vam'plate (s. an old word) A plate or piece of steel to be put on a tilting spear to defend the hand; a gauntlet, a kind of iron glove.

Vam'plet (s. a different spelling) The vamplate.

VAN (s. from the French avant before) The front of an army, the first line of an army.

VAN (s. from the Lat. vannus) A fan, any thing wide and moved to give motion to the air; a vane with which the air is beaten.

Van (v. t. from the sub. but not now in use) To sift, to winnow.

VANCOUR'IER (s. from the French avantcourier) A runner, a harbinger.

VAND'AL (s.) One of a barbarous and fierce people descended from the Goths.

VANDA'LI (s. in old geography) The Vandals.

VANDA'LIA (s.) The country of the Vandals, a part of Sweden, a part of Germany.

VANE (s. from the Lat. vannus) A kind of weathercock, a thin plate made to turn on a pin to see which way the wind blows; a fight that moves on the cross of a wing with which the air is beaten, a van.

VANEL'US (s. in ornithology) The lapwing.

VAN'FOSS (s. in fortification) A ditch without the counterescarp.

Vang (v. t. a local word) To take, to receive.

Van'ga (s. in old records) A spade, a mattock.

Van'guard (s. from van, and guard) The front or line of an army.

VANIL'LA (s. in botany) A kind of epidendrum.

Vanil'quence (s. from vaniloquy) Vain talk.

VANIL'OQUY (s. from the Lat. vanus vain, and loquor to speak) Vain talking.

VAN'ISH (v. int. from the Lat. vaneſco) To pass from the sight, to disappear; to lose perceptible existence; to pass away, to be lost.

Van'ishing ((p. a. from vanish) Passing from the sight, disappearing; passing away.

Van'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of passing from the sight in a sudden and unexpected manner.

Van'ity (s. from vain) A fruitless endeavour, an empty enjoyment, a vain pursuit; ostentation, arrogance, petty pride, pride discovering itself on small occasions.

Van'ned (p. from van) Sifted, winnowed.

Van'ning (p. a. from van) Sifting, winnowing.

Van'ning (s. from the part.) The act of winnowing.

VAN'NUS (s. in old records, from the Lat.) A weathercock.

VAN'QUISH (v. t. from the Lat. vinco to overcome) To conquer, to subdue; to confute, to subdue by argumentation.

Van'quished (p. from vanquish) Conquered, subdued, overcome.

Van'quished (s. from the part.) One who is overcome, those who are subdued.

Van'quisher (s. from vanquish) One who subdues, who overcomes.

Van'quishing (p. a. from vanquish) Conquering, subduing.

Van'quishing (s. from the part.) The act of conquering.

Van'tage (s. from advantage) Gain, profit; superiority, preference; opportunity, convenience.

Van'tage (v. t. from the sub.) To profit.

Van'taged (p. from vantage) Profited.

Van'taging (p. a. from vantage, but not much used) Profiting.

various (s. in old records) The king's footman.
 brace (s. an old word) Defensive armour for the Shakespeare. brass (s. a different spelling) The vanbrace, armour Milton.
 the arms.
 CHEMISE (s. from the French) A fore shirt. Cole.
 courier (s. a different spelling) A vancourier, a fore
Phillips.
 ID (adj. from the Lat. vapidus) Flat, spiritless, and, having the spirit evaporated.
 idleness (s. from vapid) The state of being spirit-less.
 POR (s. the modern and common spelling, from the Lat.) Vapour. or (v. int. from the sub.) To boast, to brag.
 ORARIUM (s. from the Lat.) A hothouse. orary (s. from vaporarium) A kind of hothouse; a kind of vapour bath.
 oration (s. from vapor) The act of escaping in vapour.
 orer (s. from vapor) A boaster, a vain blustering fellow.
 ORIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. vapor a vapour, and fero to bring) Producing vapours. oriferousness (s. from vaporiferous) The state or quality which produces vapours. Scott.
 oring (p. a. from vapor) Boasting, bragging.
 oring (s. from the part.) The act of boasting.
 orish (adj. from vapor) Splenetic, humourfome;
 morous.
 OROSUM (s. from the Lat.) A kind of vapour bath.
 ors (s. the modern spelling) Diseases occasioned by flatulence, melancholy.
 orous (adj. from vapor) Full of vapours, fummy;
 stinky, flatulent.
 POUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French vapeur) A vapor, an exhalation, fume, steam; any thing that mixes with the air; wind, flatulence; a mental fume, a mere imagination.
 our (v. int. from the sub.) To pass in vapour, to sit fumes; to bully, to brag.
 our (v. t.) To scatter in fumes.
 ourbath (s. from vapour, and bath) A kind of bath in which the patient is enveloped in steam or vapour.
 oured (p. from vapour) Emitted in vapours.
 ouring (p. a. from vapour) Passing in vapour, sitting in vapour; bragging, boasting.
 ouring (s. from the part.) The act of boasting.
 ours (s. plu. from vapor) Diseases caused by flatu-lence, nervous complaints, hypochondriacal ma-ladies.
 id (adj. an incorrect spelling) Vapid. Scott.
 idity (s. from vappid, an incorrect spelling) Vapidity. Scott.
 ULATION (s. from the Lat. vapulo to beat) The act of beating, the state of being beaten. Cole.
 inggal (s. a different spelling) A farthingale. Scott.
 I (s. with physicians) A kind of small hard ruddy spots about the face and neck.
 IABLE (adj. from the Lat. variabilis) Changeable, inconstant.
 ableness (s. from variable) Changeableness, muta-bility; levity, inconstancy.
 ably (adv. from variable) Changeably, mutably, inconstantly.
 ance (s. from vary) Discord, dissention, disagreement.
 tion (s. from vary) A change, a mutation, a difference, a successive change; a change of termination in grammar; a deviation, the deviation of the magnetic needle from an exact parallel with the meridian;
 a method of varying a piece of music by the addition of notes or graces.
 tionchart (s. from variation, and chart) A chart of the lines of variation.
 unt (adj. obsolete) Varying, inconstant. Chaucer.
 AZONE (s. from the Italian) A variation, the manner of singing or playing a tune with an addition of notes or graces.
 CIFORMES (s. in anatomy) Two of the seminal vessels so called from their several windings.
 es (s. in anatomy) The great veins of the hips, thighs, and testes.
 ound (adj. from various, and colour) Having many colours.
 COSE (adj. from the Lat. varicosus) Having the veins distended with a morbid affection of the blood.
 COSUM (s. in anatomy) The contexture of the seminal vessels at their entrance into the testes.

Varicous (adj. from varicose) Having the veins distended.
 Varied (p. from vary) Changed, diversified.
 VARIEGATE (v. t. from the Lat. varius diversus) To diversify, to stain with different colours.
 Variegated (p. from variegated) Diversified, stained with different colours.
 Variegating (p. a. from variegated) Diversifying, staining with different colours.
 Variegating (s. from variegated) The act of diversifying, variegation.
 Variegation (s. from variegated) A diversity of colours.
 Variety (s. from vary) Change, intermixture; a variation, a deviation; a difference, a dissimilitude.
 VARIIFORM (adj. from the Lat. varius different, and forma a shape) Having different shapes. Bailey.
 Varin (v. t. obsolete) To vary. Ch.
 VARIOLÆ (s. from the Lat.) The small pox.
 Variolous (adj. from variolæ) Belonging to the small pox, afflicted with the small pox, producing the small pox.
 VARIO/RUM (s.) An addition of a classic author with notes and criticisms.
 Various (adj. from vary) Different, several; changeable, uncertain; variegated, diversified.
 Variously (adv. from various) In different manners, with variety.
 Variæ (s. in farriery) A disease incident to a horse, an imperfection on the inside of the ham.
 Varius (s. in ichthyology) The minnow, a small river fish.
 VARIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman poet.
 VARIIX (s. in surgery) A dilated vein.
 VARLET (s. from the old French) A valet; anciently a man servant, a footman; a scoundrel, a rascal.
 Varletry (s. from varlet) A rabble, a croud; the populace.
 VAR/NISH (s. from the Lat. varnix) A matter laid on wood or other bodies to make them shine; a cover, a palliation.
 Varnish (v. t. from the sub.) To cover with something shining; to cover, to palliate.
 Varnished (p. from varnish) Covered with something shining; palliated.
 Varnisher (s. from varnish) One who varnishes, a dis-guiser.
 Varnishing (p. a. from varnish) Covering with something shining, palliating.
 Varnishing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with varnish, a palliation.
 VAR/RO (s.) A man's name, the name of several Romans.
 VAR/VELS (s. from the French varvelles) Silver rings about the legs of a hawk on which the name of the owner was wont to be engraven.
 VAR/RUS (s.) A man's name, the name of several Romans.
 VARY (v. t. from the Lat. vario) To change, to diversify, to variegated, to make of different kinds.
 Vary (v. int.) To appear in different forms, to become unlike itself; to deviate, to depart; to change colours; to disagree; to be at variance.
 Vary (s. from the verb, but not used) A change, an alteration. Shakespeare.
 Vary (s. a different spelling, in heraldry) The vary. Sc.
 Varying (p. a. from vary) Changing, altering, diversifying.
 Varying (s. from the part.) The act of diversifying.
 VAS (s. from the Lat.) A vessel, a vessel chiefly for ornament generally made of porcelain; a vase.
 VAS/A (s. plu. in anatomy) The vessels through which the blood and juices are conveyed.
 Vascular (adj. from vas) Consisting of vessels, full of vessels.
 VASCULIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. vas a vessel, and fero to produce) Having a seed vessel.
 Vase (s. from vas) A vessel, an ornamental vessel generally made of porcelain.
 VASE (s. in architecture) An ornament above the cornice.
 VASH/NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name, the son of Samuel.
 VASH/TI (s. from the Heb. signifying one that drinks)
 The name of a woman.
 VASIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. vas a vessel, and fero to bear) Bearing a vessel. Bailey.
 VAS/SAL (s. from the French) One who holds at the will of a superior lord; a subject, a dependant, a servant,
 a slave, a low wretch.
 Vassalage (s. from vassal) The state of a vassal, tenure at will; slavery, dependance.

Vassal^{erie} (s. in old records) Vassalage, slavery.

Vassal^{us} (s. in old records) A vassal, a slave.

VAST (adj. from the Lat. vastus) Large, great; enormously extensive.

Vast (s. from the adj.) An empty waste.

Vastation (s. from vast) Depopulation, waste.

VAS^{TEL} (s. from the Sax.) The vessel or bowl in which the Saxons use to drink healths at their public entertainments.

Vas^{teibowl} (s. from vastel, and bowl) The bowl in which the Saxons drank healths at their public entertainments.

VASTEL^{LUM} (s. in old records) The bowl in which the Saxons drank healths at their public entertainments.

Vast^{er} (adj. comp. of vast) Vast in a greater degree.

Vast^{est} (adj. sup. of vast) Vast in the greatest degree.

VAS^{TI} (s. in anatomy) The muscles which help to stretch out the leg.

Vastity (s. from vast, but not used) Vastness. Phillips.

Vastly (adv. from vast) Greatly, to a great degree.

Vastness (s. from vast) Immenity, enormous greatness.

VAST^{US} (s. in anatomy) The name of a muscle, one of the vasti.

Vas^{ty} (adj. from vast) Vast, enormously large. Sb.

VAT (s. from the Sax. fat) A fat, a vessel in which liquors are kept in the immature state.

VATE^{RIA} (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

VATICAN (s.) One of the hills on which Rome is built, a palace at Rome belonging to the pope.

Vat^{ican} (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the vatican, kept in the vatican.

VAT^{ICIDE} (s. from the Lat. vates a prophet, and caedo to kill) A murderer of poets, a murderer of prophets.

VATICINATE (v. int. from the Lat. vaticinor) To prophesy, to practice prediction. Howell.

Vaticinating (p. a. from vaticinate, but not used) Prophefying, practising prediction.

Vaticin^{ian} (adj. from vaticinate) Prophefying, foretelling. Cole.

Vat^{iciny} (s. from vaticinate) Prophefying, the practice of prediction. Cole.

Vatin^{ian} (adj. from Vatinus) Belonging to Vatinus.

VATIN^{IUS} (s.) A man's name, the name of an abusive Roman nobleman.

VAVASOR (s.) An ancient title, a nobleman next in dignity to a baron, a lord who held under a superior.

Vav^{asorie} (s. from vavasor) The estate or dignity of a vavasor. Cole.

Vav^{asour} (s. a different spelling) A vavasor.

VAU^{DEVIL} (s. from the French vaudeville) A low vulgar song, a ballad.

VAUDEVIL^{LE} (s. from the French) A vulgar song, a ballad. Cole.

VAULT (s. from the French vaulte) A continued arch, a cellar, a cave, a cavern, a repository for the dead.

Vault (v. t. from the sub.) To arch, to cover with an arch.

VAULT (v. int. from the French voltiger) To leap, to jump; to play the tumbler.

Vault (s. from the verb) A leap, a jump.

Vault^{age} (s. from vault, but not used) An arched cellar. Shakespeare.

Vault^{ed} (p. from vault) Arched, formed after the manner of a vault.

Vault^{er} (s. from vault) A leaper, a jumper, a tumbler.

Vault^{ing} (p. a. from vault) Arching, forming in the manner of a vault.

Vault^y (adj. from vault) Arched, concave. Sb.

Vau^{mer} (s. not used) A bulwark. Cole.

VAUN^{MURE} (s. from the French avant before, and mur a wall) A false wall, a work raised before the main wall.

VAUNT (v. t. from the French vaunter) To boast, to display with ostentation.

Vaunt (v. int.) To boast, to talk with ostentation.

Vaunt (s. from the verb) A boast, a vain ostentation.

Vaunt (s. from the French avant, but not used) The first part. Shakespeare.

Vaunt^{ed} (p. from vaunt) Boasted, shewn with ostentation.

Vaunt^{er} (s. from vaunt) A boaster, a man given to vain ostentation.

Vaunt^{ful} (adj. from vaunt) Boastful. Sb.

Vaunt^{ing} (p. a. from vaunt) Boasting, shewing vain ostentation.

Vaunt^{ing} (s. from the part.) The act of boasting, vain ostentation.

Vaunt^{ingly} (adv. from vaunting) Boastfully, ostentatiously.

Vaunt^{lay} (s. a hunting term) The method of setting dogs at a place where the chase is to pass to be called before the others come in.

Vaunt^{our} (s. an old spelling) A vaunter, a boaster.

Vau^{mure} (s. a different spelling) The vaunmure.

Va^{ward} (s. from van, and ward) The fore part.

Vay^{vode} (s. a different spelling) A vaivode, a Decal prince.

U^{BERATE} (v. t. from the Lat. uber an udder) To make plenty.

U^{berated} (p. from uberate, but not used) Made plenty.

U^{berating} (p. a. from uberate, but not used) Making plenty.

U^{BEROUS} (adj. from the Lat. uber an udder) Plenty, abounding.

U^{BERTY} (s. from the Lat. uber an udder) Plenty, fruitfulness, abundance.

UBICA^{TION} (s. from the Lat. ubi where, a (feminine) word) A local relation, the place where.

UBI^{ETY} (s. from the Lat. ubi where) Ubication, the circumstance of place.

U^{BIQUIST} (s. from the Lat. ubique) A doctor of divinity in France who belongs to no particular college.

UBIQUITA^{RIAN} (s. in church history) One who held that the body or humanity of Christ, as well as his divinity, was every where present.

Ubiquita^{rian} (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the Ubiquitarians.

UBIQUITA^{RY} (adj. from the Lat. ubique every where) Existing every where.

Ubiquita^{ry} (s. from the adj.) One that exists every where.

UBIQUITA^{TY} (s. from the Lat. ubique every where) Omnipresence, existence at the same time in all places.

UCAL^{EGON} (s.) A man's name, the name of a famous Trojan.

U^{CAL} (s. from the Heb. signifying power) A man's name.

UD^{DER} (s. from the Sax. uder) The dugs of a cow or other large animal.

Ud^{dered} (adj. from udder) Having an udder.

VE (s.) The u consonant the twenty second letter of the English alphabet.

Ve^a (s. a sea term) The cry made by sailors when they pull or heave together.

VEAL (s. from the French veau a calf) The flesh of a calf killed for the table.

Veal^{broth} (s. from veal, and broth) Broth made of veal.

Veal^{cutlet} (s. from veal, and cutlet) A veal steak, small slice of veal dressed in the frying pan.

Veal^{money} (s. from veal, and money) The rent paid by a tenant in lieu of veal anciently given in kind.

Veal^{noble} (s. from veal, noble, and money) The veal money.

Veal^{pie} (s. from veal, and pie) A pie made of veal.

Veal^{stake} (s. from veal, and stake) A thin slice of veal dressed in the frying pan, a veal cutlet.

Ve^{chones} (s. an old word) Hedgehogs.

Vecke (s. an old word) An old woman in abusive language, an old trot, an old hag.

Ve^{cordy} (s. not used) Dotage, stupidity.

VECTA^{RIOUS} (adj. from the Lat. vectarius) Belonging to a carriage.

VEC^{TIBLE} (adj. from the Lat. vectibilis) Capable of being carried.

VEC^{TIGAL} (adj. from the Lat. vectigalis, but not used) Paying tithes.

VEC^{TION} (s. from the Lat. veho to carry) The act of carrying, the state of being carried.

VEC^{TIS} (s. in mechanics, from the Lat.) The lever.

Vec^{titation} (s. from vention) The act of carrying, the state of being carried.

VEC^{TIUS} (s.) The name of a man, the name of a Roman.

VEC^{TOR} (s. in astronomy) A line drawn from a point in an elliptical orb to the focus of that orb.

Vec^{torian} (adj. from the Lat. veho vectus to carry, but not used) Apt to carry.

VEC^{TURE} (s. from the Lat. vectura) Carriage.

VEDEL^{LE} (s. in the military) A sentinel on horseback to observe the motions of the enemy.

VEJ

v. int. from the French virer) To turn about.
(t.) To let out as a rope; to turn, to change.
(p. from veer) Let out as a rope in running; edged, turned.
(p. a. from veer) Turning about, letting out.
(s. from the part.) The act of coming about as wind, the act of letting out as a rope.
(obsolete) The voice, speech; a hasty speaker.
billity (s. from vegetable) The state of being vegetable.
TABLE (adj. from the Lat. vegetabilis) Belonging to plants, growing as plants, having the nature of plants.
table (s. from the adj.) A plant, any thing that grows without sensation. al (adj. not so common a word) Vegetable. Cole.
STATE (v. int. from the Lat. vegeto) To grow as, to shoot out, to grow without sensation.
ating (p. a. from vegetate) Growing as a plant.
ating (s. from the part.) The state or act of growing like plants.
tion (s. from vegetate) The growth of plants, power of growth without sensation.
ative (adj. from vegetate) Having the power of sensation.
ativeness (s. from vegetative) The quality of sensation.
TE (adj. from the Lat. vegetus) Vigorous, active, lively. South.
FIVE (adj. from the Lat. vegeto) Vegetable. Tu.
ive (s. from the adj.) A vegetable.
TIUS (s.) A man's name, the name of a Roman or.
ence (s. from vehement) Violence, force, r.
ency (s. from vehemence) Vehemence, force, ur, violence.
MENT (adj. from the Lat. vehemens) Violent, ble, ardent, eager.
mently (adv. from vehement) Forcibly, urgently, etically.
CLE (s. from the Lat. veho to carry) That in which thing is carried, that by means of which any g is conveyed, that part of medicine which contains the more principal ingredients.
ular (adj. from vehicle) Belonging to a vehicle. Cole.
(s.) The name of a famous witch. Horace.
(s. an obsolete spelling) Vain. Chaucer.
(v. t. from the Lat. velo) To cover with a veil; to r, to invest; to hide, to conceal.
(s. from the verb) A cover to conceal the face; a r, a disguise.
(p. from veil) Covered with a veil; covered, ealed.
(p. a. from veil) Covering with a veil; cover- concealing.
(s. from veil) The act of concealing the with a veil, the act of drawing a veil over any g.
(s. from the Lat. vena) One of the vessels by h the blood is conveyed from the capillary arte- to the heart; a hollow, a cavity; a course of l in the mine; humour, temper; a strain, a ty; a current, a continued production; a streak, negation.
(v. t. from the sub. but not used) To variegate, to with streaks.
(s. the old spelling) A vein. Chaucer.
(p. from vein) Streaked, variegated, marked veins.
(adj. from vein) Veiny, full of veins.
(adj. obsolete) Disappointed. Chaucer.
(adj. comp. of veiny) Veiny in a greater de-
(adj. sup. of veiny) Veiny in the greatest de-
(s. from veiny) The state of abounding with
(p. a. from vein) Variegating; marking with
(s. from the part.) The act of marking with a variegation.
(adj. from vein) Full of veins, abounding with
(s. in beaten mythology) Jupiter depicted out a beard.
(s. a law term) One of a number of persons sent by a court of judicature to take a view of any thing for the more certain determination of right.

VEN

Veju'piter (s. in beaten mythology) Jupiter depicted without a beard.
Vel (adj. obsolete) Well, very. Chaucer.
VELA'MEN (s. from the Lat.) The bag or cist of an imposthume.
VELAMEN'TUM (s. with surgeons) A membrane, the membrane that covers the intestines, the bag or cist of an imposthume.
Vela'rii (s. plu. of velarius) A kind of ushers in the court of the Roman emperors.
VELA'RIOUS (s. from the Lat.) A kind of usher who stood behind the curtain of the prince's apartment in the palace of the Roman emperor.
VELIF'EROUS (adj. from the Lat. vela a sail, and fero to bear) Bearing sails. Cole.
VELIF'IC (adj. from the Lat. vela a sail, and facio to do) Done with sails, performed with sails.
Velific'al (adj. from velific) Done with sails, performed with sails. Cole.
Velifica'tion (s. from velific) The act of hoisting the sails. Cole.
Velita'tion (s. from velites) A skirmishing; a contest in words. Bailey.
VELI'TES (s. from the Lat.) A kind of light armed soldiers in the Roman army.
VELIV'OLANT (adj. from the Lat. vela a sail, and volo to fly) Passing under full sail. Cole.
VEL'LA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Vel'lan (s. a different spelling) Vellum, a kind of fine parchment. Scott.
VELLE'ITY (s. a school term, from the Lat. velle to be willing) The lowest degree of desire.
VEL'PLICATE (v. t. from the Lat. vellico) To twitch, to pluck, to stimulate.
Vel'licated (p. from vellicare) Plucked, twitched, stimulated.
Vel'licating (p. a. from vellicare) Twitching, plucking, stimulating.
Vel'licating (s. from the part.) The act of twitching, a vellication.
Vellica'tion (s. from vellicare) A twitching, a stimulation.
Vel'ling (s. a local word) The act of ploughing up the turf to be burnt as manure for the land.
VEL'LUM (s. from the Lat. velamen) A fine kind of parchment.
VELO'CE (adv. in music books) Quick, with a quick movement.
VELO'CEMENT (adv. in music books) With a quick movement.
VELOCIS'SIMO, VELOCISSIMAMEN'TE (adv. in music books) Very quick, with a very quick movement.
VELOC'ITY (s. from the Lat. velocitas) Swiftnefs, quickness of motion.
VELOU'RS (s. from the French) A kind of velvet brush for a hat. Phillips.
Veltra'ria (s. in old records) The office of a dog courier.
Veltra'rius (s. in old records) A dog courser, one who leads hunting dogs.
VEL'VET (s. from the French velours) A kind of silk with a short fur or pile upon it.
Vel'vet (adj. from the sub.) Made of velvet; soft, delicate.
Vel'vet (v. int. from the sub.) To paint in imitation of velvet.
Vel'vetflower (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the flower of the plant, the floramour.
Vel'veting (p. a. from velvet) Painting in imitation of velvet.
Vel'veting (s. from the part.) The act of painting in imitation of velvet.
Vel'vetrunner (s. in ornithology) The name of a water fowl with feathers soft and black as velvet.
Vel'vure (s. obsolete) Velvet. Shakespeare.
VE'NA (s. from the Lat.) A vein.
VE'NACU'VA (s. in anatomy) The large vein through which the blood pass's immediately to the heart.
VE'NÆ (s. plu. of vena) Veins.
Ve'nal (adj. from vena) Belonging to the veins, contained in the veins.
VE'NAL (adj. from the Lat. vendo to sell) Capable of being bought or sold, done for gain; meanly base, mercenary, prostitute.
Venali'tious (adj. from venal, but not used) Tending to venality. Cole.
Venal'ity

VEN

Venality (s. from venal) The state or quality of being venal.

VENAPOR'TÆ (s. in anatomy) The vessel which conveys the blood to the liver which it enters through several gates or passages.

VENAPULMO'NICA (s. in anatomy) The little vein that creeps along the bronchia in the lungs.

Ven'arie (s. an old spelling) Venery, the diversion of hunting.

VENAT'IC (adj. from the Lat. venor to hunt) Belonging to hunting.

VENATION (s. from the Lat. venor to hunt) The act or practice of hunting.

VENA'TOR (s. from the Lat.) A huntsman.

Venato'rious (adj. from venator) Belonging to hunting.

VEND (v. t. from the Lat. vendo) To sell, to put off, to offer to sale.

Vend'ed (p. from vend) Sold, put off, offered to sale.

Vendee' (s. from vend) The person to whom any thing is sold.

Vend'er (s. from vend) One that sells.

Vend'ible (adj. from vend) Capable of being sold.

Vend'ibleness (s. from vendible) The state of being vendible.

Ven'dicate (v. t. not so common or correct a spelling) To vindicate, to claim.

Vendica'tion (s. from vendicate, but not so common or correct a spelling) A vindication.

Vend'ing (p. a. from vend) Selling, putting off on sale.

Vend'ing (s. from the adj.) The act of selling.

VENDITA'TION (s. from the Lat. vendito to boast) A boastful display.

Vendition (s. from vend) The act of selling, a sale.

VENEE'R (v. int. with cabinet makers) To inlay in wood, to fasten or glue thin pieces of wood of different quality or colour on a common ground.

Venee'r (s. from the verb) The thin pieces of inlaid wood.

Veneer'ed (p. from veneer) Inlaid in wood, covered with thin pieces of ornamental wood.

Veneer'ing (p. a. from veneer) Inlaying in wood, covering with thin pieces of ornamental wood.

Veneer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inlaying in wood, the act of covering with thin pieces of ornamental wood, thin pieces of wood for inlaying.

VENEF'IC (adj. from the Lat. venenum venom, and facio to make) Venemous, poisoning; bewitching.

Venef'ical (adj. from venefic) Poisonous, venomous; bewitching.

Ve'nefic (s. from venefic) Sorcery; the act or art of poisoning.

Venef'ical (adj. from venefic) Venomous, poisoning; bewitching.

Venef'icious (adj. from venefic) Poisoning, bewitching.

Venef'iciously (adv. from veneficious) By poison, by witchcraft.

VENEMOUS (adj. from the Lat. venenum poison) Poisonous, conveying venom.

Ven'emus (adj. obsolete) Venomous.

VENE'NATE (v. t. from the Lat. veneno) To poison, to infect with poison.

Vene'nate (p. from the verb) Venenated, poisoned.

Vene'nated (p. from venenate, but not much used) Poisoned.

Vene'nating (p. a. from venenate, but not much used) Poisoning.

Venena'tion (s. from venenate) Poison, venom; the act of poisoning.

VENE'NE (adj. from the Lat. venenum venom) Poisonous, venomous.

VENENIF'EROUS (adj. from the Lat. venenum poison, and fero to bear) Producing poison, bringing poison.

Vene'nose (adj. from venene) Poisonous, venomous.

Venenos'ity (s. from venenose) The state of being poisonous.

Vene'nous (adj. from venenose) Poisonous, venomous.

Vene'nousness (s. from venenous) The state of being poisonous.

VEN'ERABLE (adj. from the Lat. venerabilis) Worthy of veneration, worthy of being regarded with awe.

Ven'erableness (s. from venerable) The state of being venerable.

Ven'erably (adv. from venerable) In a manner worthy of veneration.

VEN'ERATE (v. t. from venero) To reverence, to treat with reverence, to regard with awe.

Ven'erated (p. from venerare) Treated with reverence.

VEN

Ven'erating (p. a. from venerare) Treating with reverence, regarding with awe.

Ven'erating (s. from the part.) The act of regarding with awe.

Venera'tion (s. from venerare) An awful religious regard.

Venera'tor (s. from venerare) One who venerates.

Vene'real (adj. from Venus the goddess of beauty) Relating to love, belonging to the sexes.

Vene'real (adj. a chymical term) Consisting of copper impregnated with copper.

Vene'reous (adj. from venery) Libidinous, incontinent.

Ven'ery (s. from Venus) The pleasures of the love, commerce of the sexes.

VENERY (s. from the French vener to hunt) The diversion of hunting.

VENESECT'ION (s. from the Lat. vena a vein, and sec to cut) The act of opening a vein, the act of blood.

VENETA (s. in natural history) The Venetian, a fine kind of red earth used in painting.

Venetian (adj. from Venice) Belonging to Venice.

Venetian (s. from the adj.) A native of Venice.

VEN'EW (s. a law term) A neighbouring venue, a place near where any thing to be tried has been done.

Ve'ney (s. the derivation is not noted) A bout, a turn.

VENGE (v. t. from the French venger) To avenge, to punish.

Ven'geable (adj. from venge) Revengeful, main.

Ven'geance (s. from venge) Avengement, punishment; vehemence in familiar style.

Ven'ged (p. from venge, but not used) Avenged.

Ven'geful (adj. from venge) Revengeful, vindictive.

Ven'gefully (adv. from vengeful) Revengefully, vindictively.

Ven'gefulness (s. from vengeful) The state or disposition of being revengeful.

VENIABLE (adj. from the Lat. venia pardon) Able, excusable; permitted, allowed.

VENIAL (adj. from the Lat. venia pardon) Pardonable, excusable; permitted, allowed.

Ve'nialness (s. from venial) The state of being venial.

VENICE (s. in geography) A republic in Italy, the capital of that republic.

Ven'iceglass (s. from Venice, and glass) Fine glass, a fine glass vessel, a drinking glass first imported from Venice.

VENIL'IA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Neptune.

Ven'im (s. obsolete) Venom.

VEN'ISON (s. from the French venaison) The deer; game, beasts of chase.

VENITARIUM (s. from the Lat.) The hymn book, psalter with the notes on the 95th psalm as sung in cathedrals at the beginning of matins.

VENNO'NIUS (s.) A man's name, the name of a historian.

VEN'OM (s. from the Lat. venenum) Poison.

Ven'om (v. t. from the sub.) To infect with poison.

Ven'omed (p. from venom) Infected with poison.

Ven'oming (p. a. from venom) Infecting with poison.

Ven'oming (s. from the part.) The act of infecting with venom.

Ven'omous (adj. from venom) Poisonous.

Ven'omously (adv. from venomous) With venomous poison.

Ven'omousness (s. from venomous) The state of being venomous; malignity.

VE'NOUS (adj. from the Lat. vena a vein) Venous.

Ve'nousness (s. from venous) The state of being venous.

VENT (s. from the French sente) A small aperture, a hole, a spiracle; emission, discharge; a passage, opening.

Vent (v. t. from the sub.) To let out at a small aperture, to give way to, to utter, to emit, to pour out, to publish.

Vent (v. int.) To snuff.

VENT (v. t. from the Lat. vendo) To sell, to dispose of.

Vent (s. from the verb) A sale.

VENT'AIL (s. from the French) That part of a window which is made to lift up.

VENTAN'NA (s. from the Italian) A window.

VEN

(s. obsolete) The forepart.
Chaucer.
 (p. from vent) Let out at a small aperture, uttered, emitted.
 (s. from the Lat.) Any cavity of the body, abdomen, the womb; a mother; the middle or part of a muscle.
 (adj. in music books) Twenty.
 (s. from vent, and hole) A small aperture to let out the air, a spiracle, a hole to let out the wind.
 (s. from the Lat. ventus the wind, and a passage) A passage for the wind.
 (s. from vent) A passage for air. Shakesp.
 (v. t. from the Lat. ventilo) To fan with air, to winnow; to examine, to discuss.
 (p. from ventilate) Fanned with wind;
 winnowed, examined, discussed.
 (p. a. from ventilate) Fanning with wind, winnowing; examining, discussing.
 (s. from the part.) The act of fanning with air.
 (s. from ventilate) The act of fanning, the act of being fanned; refreshment, refrigeration;
 utterance; but this sense is not used. Wotton.
 (s. from ventilate) An instrument to supply a place with fresh air.
 (p. a. from vent) Letting out at a small aperture, uttering, emitting.
 (s. from the part.) The act of giving vent.
 (s. in old records) A fan to winnow corn.
 (adj. from the Lat. ventus wind, but not used) Windy, flatulent. Scott.
 (s. in surgery) A cupping glass. Scott.
 (s. from ventose) The state of being windy,
 flatulence. Scott.
 (s. not used) Cupping. Cole.
 (s. from ventose) The state of being windy,
 flatulence. Scott.
 (s. obsolete) Cupping. Chaucer.
 (s. not used) A fan. Cole.
 (s. from the Lat. ventriculus) The stomach, any small cavity of an animal body, one of the cavities of the heart.
 (s. plu. of ventriculus) Any small cavity of an animal body, the cavities of the brain;
 two larger cavities of the heart.
 (s. in anatomy) The stomach, a ventricle.
 (s. in surgery) The core of a boil.
 (s. from ventriloquy) One who speaks in a manner as though the sound proceeded from the belly.
 (adj. from ventriloquy) Speaking as though the sound proceeded from the belly.
 (s. from the Lat. venter the belly, and auctor to speak) The act of speaking in such a manner
 though the sound proceeded from the belly.
 (adj. from the Lat. venter the belly, and potens powerful) Having a great belly. Cole.
 (s. from the French aventure) A hazard, a chance, an undertaking of chance or danger, the thing to hazard, the stake.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To expose to hazard, to run on a chance, to lend on a venture.
 (v. int.) To dare, to run a hazard. To venture at, to engage in, to make an attempt without the security of success.
 (p. from venture) Put to hazard, sent on a venture.
 (s. from venture) One who ventures. Scott.
 (adj. from venture) Venturous. Scott.
 (s. from venturous) Venturousness. Sc.
 (s. with jacobins and embroiderers) The gold wire, powder made of gold wire.
 (s. in natural history) A kind of transparent stone brought from Italy powdered with a kind of gold dust.
 (p. a. from venture) Putting to hazard, running on a venture.
 (s. from the part.) The act of putting to hazard.
 (adj. from venture) Daring, bold, ready to hazard.
 (adv. from venturous) Daringly, boldly,
 with hazard.
 (s. from venturous) Boldness, readiness to run hazards.
 (s. a law term) A neighbouring place, the place near to that in which any thing litigated happened to be done.
 (s. in fencing) A push, a thrust.

VER

VENUNDATE (v. t. from the Lat. vendo to sell, but not used) To buy and sell. Cole.
 VENUS (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed goddess of beauty and love.
 VENUS (s. in astronomy) One of the planets.
 VENUS (s. in heraldry) The green colour in the coats armorial of sovereign princes.
 VENUS (s. in chymistry) Copper.
 Venusba'fin (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Ve'nuscomb (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Ve'nuscuage (s. from Venus, and escuage) Knights service to ladies.
 Ve'nushair (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Ve'nuslookingglass (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Ve'nusnavelwort (s. in botany) The name of an herb,
 the kidneywort.
 Venus'tate (v. t. from Venus) To beautify. Cole.
 VEPRES (s. in botany) The briar.
 Vep'ricole (adj. from vepres) Full of briars.
 VER (s. from the Lat.) The spring, the first quarter of the year. Chaucer.
 VERA'CIOUS (adj. from the Lat. verax) True, observant of truth. Johnson.
 VERACITY (s. from the Lat. verax true) Truth, honesty of report.
 Ver'ament (adv. obsolete) Truly, in truth. Chaucer.
 VERA'TRUM (s. in botany) The hellebore.
 Ver'ay (adj. an old spelling) Very, true, real.
 VERB (s. from the Lat. verbum a word) A part of speech signifying action, passion, or being, a word that points out the acting, suffering or being of any person, place or thing.
 Ver'bal (adj. from the verb) Spoken, uttered by the mouth; consisting in mere words; belonging to a verb, derived of a verb, verbose; but this sense is not used. Shakespeare.
 Verbal'ity (s. from the verb) Mere words.
 Ver'bally (adv. from verbal) In words, in words only,
 word for word.
 Verbalize (v. int. from the verb) To use many words, to protract discourse. Scott.
 Verbalizing (p. a. from verbalize, not much used) Using many words.
 VERBAS'CULUM (s. in botany) The cowslip, the primrose.
 VERBA'SCUM (s. in botany) The longwort.
 VERBA'TIM (adv. from the Lat.) Word for word.
 VERBE'NA (s. in botany) The vervain.
 Ver'berable (adj. from the Lat. verbero to beat) Worthy of being beaten. Bailey.
 Ver'berate (v. t. from the Lat. verbero) To beat, to strike.
 Ver'berated (p. from verberate) Beaten, struck.
 Ver'berating (p. a. from verberate) Beating, striking.
 Ver'berating (s. from the part.) The act of beating, a verberation.
 Verbera'tion (s. from verberate) The act of beating, blows.
 VERBES'INA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Ver'biage (s. from verb) Mere verbal expression. Evens.
 VERBIGERATE (v. t. from the Lat. verbum a word, and gero to carry) To nois abroad. Bailey.
 Verbo'se (adj. from verb) Tedious in words, full of words, prolix.
 Verbo'sely (adv. from verbo'se) With many words,
 with prolixity.
 Verbo'sity (s. from verbo'se) Prolixity in discourse, abundance of words.
 Verd (adj. a different spelling) Verb. Phillips.
 VERD'ANT (adj. from the Lat. viridis) Green, having a green colour.
 Verd'antness (s. from verdant) Greenness, verdure. Sc.
 VER'DEA (s. from the Italian) A kind of white wine.
 VERDEBIL'LO (s. in natural history) A kind of greenish marble used as a touchstone.
 VERDEE' (s.) A pleasant sort of Italian wine.
 Ver'degrease (s. not so correct a spelling) The verdigrise.
 VER'DERER (s. from the French verdier) An officer in the forest to preserve the pasturage.
 VER'DERET (s. in natural history) A kind of verdigrise.
 Ver'deror (s. a different spelling) A verderer.
 Ver'deter (s. a different spelling) The verditure.
 Ver'dgrease (s. an old spelling) Verdigrise. Cole.
 VER'DICT (s. from the Lat. verus true, and dico to say)
 A declaration, a decision, the determination of a jury.
 Ver'dig (s. an old spelling) Verdigrise. Cole.
 VER'DIGRISE

VER

VER'DIGRISE (s. in natural history) The green rust of brass.

Ver'dite (s. an old spelling) A verdict. Chaucer.

VER'DITER (s. in natural history) A kind of mineral used by painters for a blue or green colour.

VER'DITURE (s. with painters) A kind of green colour.

VER'DOUR (s. from the French verdeur, but not used) Verdure.

VER'DOY (s. in heraldry) The border of a coat armorial charged with flowers.

VER'DURE (s. from the French verdeur) The greenness of vegetables, greenness.

Ver'durous (adj. from verdure) Green, covered with green.

VERADEPTUS (s. from the Lat. verus true, and adeptus an adept) One who is entered into the fraternity of the Rosicrucians.

Vere'bot (s. an old word) A packet boat, a transport vessel.

Verectum (s. in old records) A fallow ground.

VER'ECUND (adj. from the Lat. verecundus) Modest, bashful.

Verecun'dum (s. in old records) An injury, a trespass.

Veredic'tum (s. in old records) A verdict.

Ver'edus (s. an old word) A posthorne; a hunter.

VEREN'DA (s. from the Lat.) A man's privy parts.

VERE'TRUM (s. from the Lat.) A man's yard.

VERGE (s. from the Lat. virga) A rod, something in the form of a rod.

VERGE (s. from the Lat. vergo) The brink, the edge, the utmost border; the compass about the king's court.

Verge (v. int. from the sub.) To tend, to bend downwards.

Verg'er (s. from verge) He that carries the mace before the dean.

Ver'ger, Ver'gere (s. obsolete) A garden. Chaucer.

Vergette (adj. in heraldry) Paley, having the field divided by several small pales.

VERGIL'IAE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The seven daughters of Atlas, the Pleiades.

VERGIL'IAE (s. in astronomy) A constellation of the northern hemisphere so called because its appearance denotes the approach of spring, the Pleiades.

VERID'ICAL (adj. from the Lat. verus true, and dico to say) Speaking truth. Scott.

Ver'iest (adj. sup. of very) Greatest, having perfection in a bad sense. "The veriest fool that ever existed."

VER'IFICATE (v. t. from the Lat. verus true, and facio to make, but not used) To prove, to prove a thing to be true. Bailey.

Verificated (p. from verificate, but not used) Proved, proved to be true.

Verificating (p. a. from verificate, but not used) Proving a thing to be true.

Verification (s. from verificate) The act of proving a thing to be true. Boyle.

Ver'ified (p. from verify) Confirmed, proved, justified against a charge of falsehood.

VER'IFY (v. t. from the Lat. verus true, and facio to make) To confirm, to prove true; to justify against a charge of falsehood.

Ver'ifying (p. a. from verify) Confirming, proving to be true, justifying against a charge of falsehood.

Ver'ifying (s. from the part.) A confirmation, a proof, a justification against a charge of falsehood.

Ver'ilays (s. obsolete) A rustic song, a rustic dance. Ch.

Ver'ily (adv. from very) In truth, with certainty, with great confidence.

VERISIM'ILAR (adj. from the Lat. verus true, and similis like) Probable, likely.

VERISIMIL'ITUDE (s. from the Lat. verus true, and similitudo likeness) A resemblance of truth, probability.

VERISIMIL'ITY (s. from the Lat. verus true, and similis like) An appearance of truth, probability.

VER'ITABLE (adj. from the Lat. veritas truth) True, agreeable to fact. Shakespeare.

VER'ITAS (s. from the Lat. in beaten mythology) The daughter of Saturn, the bright patroness of truth.

Ver'itrate (s. obsolete) A very trot, an old trot. Chaucer.

VER'ITY (s. from the Lat. verus true) Truth, an agreement with the reality of things; an agreement of the words with the thoughts.

VER'JUICE (s. from the French verjus) The acid liquor expressed from the fruit of the crabtree.

Verm'ile (adj. obsolete) Having the colour of vermilion. Chaucer.

VERMICEL'LI (s. in cookery) A kind of paste made up in threads like small worms; a kind of soup made with such paste.

VER

VERMIC'ULAR (adj. from the Lat. vermiculus a worm) Like a worm, belonging to a worm, acting like a worm.

VERMICULA'RIS (s. in botany) The worm grub, stone crop.

VERMIC'ULATE (v. t. from the Lat. vermiculus a worm) To work in chequer or pieces of divers colours to inlay.

Vermic'ulated (p. from vermiculate) Inlaid, wrought in chequerwork.

Vermic'ulating (p. a. from vermiculate) Inlaying, working in chequer or divers colours.

Vermic'ulating (s. from the part.) The art or act of inlaying.

Vermicula'tion (s. from vermiculate) A continuous motion from one part to another, a motion resembling that of a worm.

VER MICULE (s. from the Lat. vermiculus a worm) A small worm, a grub.

Vermic'ulose (adj. from vermiculus) Vermiculous, full of small worms.

Vermic'ulous (adj. from vermiculus) Full of small worms, full of grubs.

VERMIC'ULUS (s. from the Lat.) A worm.

VER'MIFORM (adj. from the Lat. vermis a worm, and forma a shape) Having the shape of a worm.

Vermi'tormis (s. in anatomy, from vermiform) A process of the cerebellum so called from its resemblance to a worm.

VER'MIFUGO (s. from the Lat. vermis a worm, and fugo to fly) A medicine to expel worms.

Vermi'fugous (adj. from vermifuge) Destroying worms, expelling worms.

VER'MIL (s. from the French vermeil) Vermilion.

VERMIL'ION (s. from the French vermillion) Cinab sulphur mixed with mercury; any beautiful red colour; the cochineal, a kind of grub or insect used in dyeing grain colours.

Vermil'ion (v. t. from the sub.) To dye red.

Vermil'ioned (p. from vermillion) Dyed red.

Vermil'ioning (p. a. from vermillion) Dying red.

Vermil'hion (s. a different but correct spelling) Vermilion.

Vermil'iontincture (s. from vermillion, and tincture) A fine red on the face, a cherry red.

VER'MIN (s. from the Lat. vermis a worm) Any noxious insect; any small noxious animal; low minded people.

Ver'minate (v. int. from vermin) To breed vermin.

Ver'minating (p. a. from verminate) Breeding vermin.

Vermi'nation (s. from verminate) The generation of vermin.

VER'MINE (s. not so common a spelling, from the Lat. vermin, any noxious insect or small animal) A vermin.

Ver'minous (adj. from vermin) Tending to verminate, disposed to breed vermin.

Verm'inousness (s. from verminous) The state of abounding with worms.

VERMIP'AROUS (adj. from the Lat. vermis a worm, and pario to bring forth) Producing worms.

Vermip'arousness (s. from vermiparous) The state or quality of breeding worms.

VER'MIS (s. from the Lat.) A worm, vermin.

Vermiv'orous (adj. from the Lat. vermis a worm, and voro to devour) Devouring worms, feeding on worms.

VERNAC'LIA (s. from the Italian) A kind of wine brought from Italy.

Vernac'ulous (adj. not so common a word) Vernacular.

VERNAC'ULAR (adj. from the Lat. vernaculus) Belonging to one's own country.

Vernac'ularness (s. from vernacular) The state of being vernacular.

Ver'nage (s. obsolete) A kind of sweet Italian wine.

VER'NAL (adj. from the Lat. ver the spring) Belonging to the spring, produced in the first quarter of the year.

VER'NANT (adj. from the Lat. ver the spring) Flowering as in the spring.

VER'NICLE (s. in botany) The veronica, the blue flower.

VER'NICLE (s. with the papists) A cloth or cap which the face of Christ is depicted.

VER'NICONES (s. in old geography) The ancient inhabitants of Fife in Scotland.

VERNIL'ITY (s. from the Lat. verna a slave) Servitude, the submission of a slave.

Ver'nish (v. t. an old spelling) To varnish.

Vern'ishid (p. obsolete, from vernish) Varnished.

VER'NIX (s. in botany) The rhus, the sumach, the

VER

the juniper, a varnish made of the gum of the per.
 OUS (adj. from the Lat. ver the spring) Coming in the spring, distinguishing the leaves of plants which come up in the spring.
 VNICA (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the lin.
 VNICA (s. with the papists) The name of a virgin
 p, it is said, gave her handkerchief to our Saviour on going to be crucified to wipe his face, and received it with a striking impression of his countenance on it; the cloth or napkin on which the face of Christ was depicted.
 y (adv. an old spelling) Very, truly.
 y (adj. from the adv. obsolete) True, very. Chau.
 (s. obsolete) Glafs. Chaucer.
 REL (s. from the French verrole, but not so common.
 (s. obsolete) A ferrule. Scott.
 RES (s.) A man's name, a Roman prætor who was ed for male administration.
 RES (s. in zoology) A tame boar.
 ey (s. in heraldry, a different spelling) Vairy. Cole.
 ICULAR (adj. in anatomy) Belonging to one of coats of the eye, belonging to the retina.
 ll (s. a different spelling) A ferrule. Scott.
 RUCA (s. in surgery) A wart, a small hard swelling the skin.
 UCA'RIA (s. in botany) The wartwort, the turnuose (adj. from verruca) Full of warts, abounding with warts.
 ucoleneis (s. from verrucoſe) The state of abounding with warts.
 uous (adj. from verruca) Full of warts, abounding with warts. Cole.
 y (s. in heraldry, a different spelling) The vairy. Sc.
 ility (s. from verſable) Aptneſs to turn.
 SABLE (adj. from the Lat. verto verſus to turn) ible of being turned.
 ableneis (s. from verſable) Verſability, aptneſs to turned about.
 al (adj. a kind of droll contraction from univerſal)
 al, whole. Hudibras.
 ATILE (adj. from the Lat. verto verſus to turn) ible of being turned, changeable, variable; eaſily ily to a new thing.
 atileneis (s. from verſatile) The ſtate or quality of
 ing verſatile.
 ility (s. from verſatile) The ſtate or quality of
 ing verſatile.
 ATION (s. from the Lat. verto verſus to turn, but uſed) A turning, a winding. Cole.
 SE (s. from the Lat. verſus) A line in poetry; poetry, trical language; a piece of poetry; a ſection or dion of a book.
 (v. t. from the ſub.) To tell in poetry, to relate etically.
 ed (p. from verſe, but not much uſed) Told in verſe, into verſe.
 ed (adj. from the Lat. verſor, to be acquainted with) lled in, acquainted with; belonging to that ſegment of the diameter of a circle which lies between the interſection of the right ſine and the correſponding arch; with in: as, "Not verſed in their mes."
 ing (p. a. from verſe, but not uſed) Telling in ſe, putting into verſe, verſifying.
 man (s. from verſe, and man) A poet, a writer in ſe.
 ſcour (s. obsolete) A verſifier. Chaucer.
 ſicle (s. from verſe) A little verſe.
 ICOLOUR (s. from the Lat. verſicolor) A varie-ed or changeable colour.
 icoloured (adj. from verſicolor) Having ſundry ours, changeable in colour. Scott.
 IFICATE (v. int. from the Lat. verſus a verſe, and ſo to make) To make verſes. Bailey.
 ificating (p. a. from verſificate, but not uſed) Making verſes.
 ification (s. from verſificate) The act or practice of making verſes.
 ificator (s. from verſify) A verſifier, one that makes ſes.
 ified (p. from verſify) Turned into verſe, put into trical language.
 ifier (s. from verſify) One who verſifies, one who kes verſes, a minor poet.
 IFY (v. t. from the Lat. verſus a verſe, and facio make) To relate in verſe, to put into verſe.
 IFY (v. int.) To make verſes.

VER

Verſifying (p. a. from verſify) Making verſes, relating in verſe.
 Verſifying (s. from the part.) The act or practice of making verſes.
 VER/SION (s. from the Lat. verto to turn) A change, a transformation; a change of direction; the act of tranſlating out of one language into another, a tranſlation.
 VERST (s. in Ruſſia) Three quarters of an English mile.
 VERSULIL/OQUENT (adj. from the Lat. verſula a turn- ing, and loquor to ſpeak) Speaking craftily. Bailey.
 VERT (adj. in heraldry, from the French) Green, having a green colour.
 Vert (s. in heraldry, from the adj.) The green colour in the coats armorial of all below the degree of nobility.
 VERT (s. from the French) Every thing that grows in a foreſt and bears a green leaf.
 VERTA/GUS (s. from the Lat.) A kind of hound which hunts by itſelf and brings home the game.
 VERT'E (v. t. imperative mode, in muſic books, from the Lat.) Turn over.
 VER'TEBRA (s. in anatomy, from the Lat.) A ſingle articulation of the backbone.
 VER'TEBRÆ (s. plu. of vertebra) The joints of the backbone.
 Ver'tebral (adj. from vertebra) Belonging to the vertebra.
 VERTEBRA/LES (s. in anatomy) The muſcles which ſerve to extend the vertebræ.
 Ver'tebre (s. from vertebra) A joint of the backbone.
 Ver'tewe (s. an old ſpelling) Virtue. Chaucer.
 VER'TEX (s. from the Lat.) The zenith, the point in the heavens which is over one's head, the top of a hill, the upper part of any thing tapering.
 Vert'greece (s. an incorrecſt ſpelling) Verdigris. Phil.
 VER'TIBLE (adj. from the Lat. verto to turn, but not uſed) Capable of being turned.
 Ver'tibleneis (s. from vertible) Aptneſs to turn. Scott.
 Vertical (adj. from vertex) Belonging to the vertex, placed in the zenith, placed in a direction perpendicular to the horizon.
 Verticality (s. from vertical) The ſtate of being vertical.
 Vertically (adv. from vertical) In the point of the heavens over one's head, in a direction perpendicular to the horizon.
 Verticalneis (s. from vertical) The ſtate of being vertical.
 VERTICALU'RE (s. in aſtronomy) The meridian ſo called becauſe it paſſes through the vertical point.
 VERTICIL/LATE (adj. in botany, from the Lat. verticel- lum) Belonging to thoſe plants which bear flowers with an intermixture of ſmall leaves round the ſtalk.
 Verticil'lated (adj. from verticillate) Knit together as a joint, apt to turn.
 Verticity (s. from vertex) The power of turning, a rotation particularly obſerved in the loadſtone.
 Vert'ige (s. not ſo common a word) The vertigo. Scott.
 Vertiginous (adj. from vertigo) Turning round, rotary, giddy, afflicted with a giddineis in the head.
 Vertiginouſneis (s. from vertiginous) Giddineis, the ſtate of being vertiginous.
 VER'TIGO (s. from the Lat.) A giddineis, a ſenſe of giddineis in the head.
 VER/TILLAGE (s. from the Lat. verto to turn) The pro-ceſs of turning land in order to prepare it to receive ſeed.
 Ver'tue (s. not ſo common a ſpelling) Virtue; valour, proweſs. Chaucer.
 Ver'tueſs (adj. obsolete) Void of virtue. Chaucer.
 VERTUMNA/LIA (s. from Vertumnus) The feſtivals celebrated in honour of Vertumnus.
 Vertumnals (s. from Vertumnus) The vertumnalia.
 VERTUM'NUS (s. in beathen mythology) A ſuppoſed deity worſhipped under a variety of forms, the god of change.
 Vertuoſi (s. not ſo common a ſpelling) Virtuouſi.
 Vertuoſo (s. not ſo common a ſpelling) A virtuouſo. Sc.
 Ver'tuous (adj. not ſo common a ſpelling) Virtuouſ.
 Ver'tuouſneis (s. not ſo common a ſpelling) The ſtate of being virtuous. Scott.
 VE/RU (s. in aſtronomy) A kind of comet reſembling a ſpit.
 Ver'vac'tum (s. in old records) Fallow, land ploughed in the ſpring to be ſown the next year.
 VER/VAIN (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 VER/VAINMALLOW (s. in botany) The name of a plant, a kind of mallow.
 VERVE/CEAN (adj. from the Lat. vervex, but not much uſed) Belonging to a wether. Cole.
 Ver'vecine

Ver'vecine (adj. from vervex) Belonging to a we-ther. Cole.
VER'VEL (s. a different spelling) Varvel, a kind of labels fastened with rings to the legs of a hawk. Johnson.
VER/VEX (s. from the Lat.) A castrated sheep.
VERVILA'GO (s. in botany) The chamelion thistle.
Ver/vite (s. in commerce) A kind of coarse woollen cloth.
VERUMONTA'NUM (s. in anatomy) A little valve where the ejaculatory ducts enter the urethra.
VER'Y (adj. from the French vray) True, real, having qualities in a great degree; same, same with emphasis.
Ver'y (adv. from the adj.) In a great degree, in an eminent degree.
VESA'NIA (s. from the Lat.) Madness, fury.
Ves'neus (adj. from vesania, but not used) Mad, furious. Cole.
VES'CULENT (adj. from the Lat. vescor to eat, but not used) Eatable. Cole.
VES'ICA (s. in anatomy, from the Lat.) A bladder, the bladder, a membranous part in which any humour is contained.
VES'ICAE (s. plu. of vesica) Bladders, small bladders.
VESIC'ARIA (s. in botany) The alkakengi, the wintercherry; bladder-nut.
VES'ICATE (v. t. from the Lat. vesica) To blister, to raise in blisters.
Ves'icated (p. from vesicate) Raised in blisters.
Ves'icating (p. a. from vesicate) Raising in blisters.
Ves'icating (s. from the part.) The act of raising blisters, a vesication.
Ves'ication (s. from vesicate) The separation of the cuticle, the act of raising blisters.
VES'ICLE (s. from the Lat. vesicula) A small bladder, a small part of the cuticle filled or inflated.
Ves'icatory (s. from vesica) A medicine to raise a blister.
VESICATO'RIMUM (s. in surgery) A vesicatory; a medicament to raise a blister; a cupping glass.
VESIC'ULA (s. from the Lat.) A vesicle, a small bladder.
VESIC'ULAR (adj. from the Lat. vesicula) Hollow; full of small interstices.
VESIC'ULAE (s. plu. of vesicula) Small bladders.
VESICULA'RIS (s. in anatomy) The lowest part of the windpipe.
VES'PA (s. in the history of insects) The wasp.
VESPA'SIAN (s.) The name of a man; one of the Roman emperors.
VES'PER (s. in astronomy) The evening, the evening star, Venus when she sets after the sun.
Ves'peral (adj. from vesper, but not used) Western, belonging to the evening. Cole.
Ves'perals (s. from vesperal) Vespers. Cole.
VES'PERIES (s. in the Sorbonne) The last act for taking the degree of doctor.
VES'PERS (s. in the church of Rome) The evening service, devotions performed in the evening.
VESPERTIL'IO (s. in zoology) The bat.
VESPERTILIONUMA'LÆ (s. in anatomy) The two broad ligaments which connect the uterus to the ilium so called from their resemblance to the wings of a bat.
Ves'pertine (adj. from vesper) Belonging to the evening, happening in the evening; setting after the sun.
Ves'pertone (s. not used) One who carries off the dead by night in the time of a plague. Cole.
VES'SEL (s. from the Lat. vas) A cask, a ship, that which is made to contain something; a part of an animal body which contains some juice or humour; any vehicle for carriage on the water.
Ves'sel (v. t. from the sub.) To put into a vessel.
Ves'sel (s. obsolete) Plate, utensils made of silver. Chau.
Ves'selage (s. obsolete) Vasselage. Chaucer.
Ves'ses (s. in commerce) A kind of cloth.
Ves'sets (s. in commerce) A kind of cloth, creases.
Ves'signon (s. with borjemen) A wind gall, a loft swelling on either side of the hough. DiEt. of Arts.
Ves'son (s. a different spelling) The vessignon, a kind of windgall. DiEt. of Arts.
VEST (s. from the Lat. vestis) An outer garment, a kind of coat for a boy.
Vest (v. t. from the sub.) To dress, to dress in long garments; to place in possession, to intrust with, to invest with.
Vest (s. a law term) The crop on the ground.
VES'TA (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed daughter of Jupiter and goddess of the earth; the daughter of Saturn and Ops, or, as some would have it, the wife of Caelus and mother of Saturn, the goddess of fire.

Ves'ta (s. in old records) The crop on the ground.
Ves'tal (adj. from Vesta) Belonging to Vesta; to pure virginity.
Ves'tal (s. from the adj.) A virgin devoted to the deities Vesta, a pure virgin.
Vesta'lia (s. from Vesta) Festivals on the fifth of June in honour of Vesta.
Veste (s. a different spelling) A vest, a garment.
Vest'ed (p. from vest) Dressed, dressed in any put in possession, invested with.
Ves'tiary (s. from vest) A dressing room, the wardrobe of a monastery.
Ves'tible (s. not so correct a spelling) A vestibule.
VES'TIBULE (s. from the Lat. vestibulum) The first entrance of a house.
VESTIB'ULUM (s. from the Lat.) A porch, an entrance into a house; a hollow bone in the ear.
Vest'igate (v. t. from vestigia, but not used) To investigate, to trace by the footsteps.
Ves'tigated (p. from vestigate, not used) Investigated.
Ves'tigating (p. a. from vestigate, but not used) Investigating, tracing out by the footsteps.
Vest'igation (s. from vestigate) An investigation.
Ves'tige (s. from vestigia) A footprint, a mark behind in passing.
Ves'tiges (s. plu.) Vestigia, footsteps.
VESTIG'IA (s. from the Lat. vestigium) Footsteps, left behind in passing; little cavities in the tendons.
Ves'timent (s. an old spelling) A vestment, clothing.
VESTIS'PICI (s. among the ancient Romans) The who were appointed to take care of their male cloaths.
VES'TITOR (s. not used) A taylor.
Vestitu'ra (s. a law term) The delivery of possession by spear or staff.
VEST'IMENT (s. from the Lat. vestimentum) The outward garment, a part of dress.
VEST'RY (s. from the Lat. vestrarium) A room or apartment adjoining to a church, in which the sacred garments are usually kept; a room adjoining to the place of worship among the dissenters; a place of assembly.
Vest'ryclerk (s. from vestry, and clerk) One who keeps parish accounts.
Vest'rykeeper (s. from vestry, and keeper) The officer who looks after the vestry.
Vest'ryman (s. from vestry, and man) One who has right to vote at the vestry.
Vest'rymeeting (s. from vestry, and meeting) The parish assembly.
Vest'rymen (s. plu. of vestryman) The men who have right to vote at the vestry meeting.
VES'TU (adj. in heraldry) Having an ordinary divided by lines as though some garment were thrown over it.
Vestu'ra (s. in old records) The crop on the ground; certain allowance of the produce of an estate to an officer or servant for his livery or maintenance; delivery of possession by a spear or staff; actual possession of an estate.
VES'TURE (s. from the Lat. vestura) A garment, robe; a dress, a habit; an admittance to possession; the vest, the crop on the ground; an allowance out of the produce of an estate to an officer or his servant for his maintenance.
VESU'VIUS (s.) The name of a famous volcano in the kingdom of Naples.
VETA'TION (s. from the Lat. veto to forbid) A prohibition.
VETCH (s. in botany) The name of a plant, a pulse, the fruit of the plant.
Vetch'y (adj. from vetch) Full of vetches, abounding with vetches.
VET'ERAN (adj. from the Lat. vetus veteris old) Practised, long experienced.
Vet'eran (s. from the adj.) An old soldier, one long tried in any art or profession.
VETERATO'RIAN (adj. from the Lat. veteratorius, not used) Crabby, experienced.
VETERINA'RIA (s. from the Lat.) Medicine for cattle.
Veterina'rian (adj. from veterinaria) Belonging to medicine for cattle.
Veterina'rian (s. from the adj.) One skilled in the cure of cattle.
VETERINA'RIUS (s. from the Lat.) A farrier, one led in the diseases of cattle.
VETER'NUS (s. with physicians) Drowsiness, a drowsy

V I A

a lethargy, a morbid affection which induces a continued drowsiness.
REMNAMMIUM (s. a law term) An unlawful report or concealment of goods and chattles to prevent a replevy.
RINICA (s. in botany) The betony.
RIPINO (s. from the Italian) One in Italy who lets horses to hire and provides a guide to direct the traveller and return with the horses.
RUST (adj. from the Lat. vetus, but not used) Old,
 Cole.
ST (s. from vetust) The state of being
 Scott.
nefs (s. from vetust) The state of being Chaucer.
adj. obsolete Bereaved.
v. t. from the Lat. vexo To plague, to torment, harass; to disturb, to disquiet; to trouble with provocations.
tion (s. from vex) The act of vexing, the state of being vexed; the cause of trouble, a teasing provocation.
ious (adj. from vex) Troublesome, afflictive; full of trouble, full of uneasiness.
iously (adv. from vexatious) With vexation.
iousness (s. from vexatious) The state or quality of being vexatious.
ed (p. from vex) Troubled, tormented, harassed, disturbed, disquieted with slight provocations.
(s. from vex) One that vexes.
tion (s. from vexillum) A company under one standard.
LUM (s. from the Lat.) A banner; the banner of an army.
g (p. a. from vex) Troubling, tormenting, vexing.
g (s. from the part.) The act of teasing, the act of teasing with slight provocations.
A (s.) A man's name, the first king of the East Angles.
s (s. an old word) A kind of large ships. Cole.
s (s. from Uffa) The descendants of king Uffa. er (adj. comp. of ugly) Ugly in a greater degree.
est (adj. sup. of ugly) Ugly in the greatest degree.
ly (adv. from ugly) With deformity, in a manner to cause dislike.
nefs (s. from ugly) Deformity, the contrary to beauty; turpitude, moral deformity.
Y (adv. of uncertain derivation) Deformed, offensive to the sight.
m (adj. an old word) Terrible.
nefs (s. from ugium, an old word) Terrible.
 Cole.
ale, U'gualment (adv. in music books) Equally. Bailey.
(s. from the Lat.) A way, a passage, a road.
COMBUST'A (s. from the Lat. via a way, and combustus burnt) The space of forty five degrees comprehending the whole of Scorpio and the half of Libra, so called by the astrologers on account of several malignant stars situate in this tract.
(s. plu. of via) Passages, ways.
(s. an old spelling) A voyage, a journey. Ch.
(s. from the Greek φαλα) A small transparent vessel.
(v. t. from the sub.) To inclose in a vial.
ACTEA (s. from the Lat. via a way, and lac milk)
 the milky way, the galaxy.
ed (p. from vial) Inclosed in a vial.
ing (p. a. from vial) Inclosing in a vial.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing in a vial.
ND (s. from the French viande) Food, food ready dressed.
REGIA (s. from the Lat. via a way, and rex regis)
 the common road, the king's highway.
SOLIS (s. from the Lat. via a way, and sol solis)
 the ecliptic, the path of the sun.
(adj. from via, but not much used) Belonging to a Cole.
(adj. from via) Belonging to a journey.
ated (adj. from viatic) Furnished with necessaries for a journey. Scott.
VICUM (s. from the Lat.) Provision for a journey; last rites with the papists to prepare the soul of a dying person for a departure to another world.
TOR (s. from the Lat.) A traveller; one who was supposed to have obtained a sight of God. Cole.
rian (adj. from viator) Belonging to a traveller,

V I C

pertaining to one who was supposed to have obtained a sight of God. Cole.
VIBEX (s. in surgery) A black or blue spot occasioned by a flux of extravasated blood, the mark of a stripe or blow.
VIBIUS (s.) A man's name, one of the twenty seven Roman senators who embraced each other, drank poison and died, that they might not live to see the city taken and themselves fall into the hands of the enemy.
VIBO (s. in botany) The flower of the britannica.
VIBRATE (v. t. from the Lat. vibro) To brandish, to make to quiver.
Vibrate (v. int.) To play up and down, to play to and fro, to quiver.
Vibrated (p. from vibrate) Brandished, made to quiver.
Vibrating (p. a. from vibrate) Playing up and down, playing to and fro, brandishing, quivering.
Vibrating (s. from the part.) The act of moving to and fro, the act of brandishing.
Vibration (s. from vibrate) The act of moving with swift and frequent reciprocations, the act of being moved with frequent returns.
VIBRIS'SÆ (s. with anatomists) The hairs that grow in the nostrils.
VIBRIS'SANT (adj. from the Lat. vibro to quiver) Having a tremulous motion, quivering; quivering.
VIBRIS'SATION (s. from the Lat. vibro to vibrate) The act of shaking the voice in singing.
VIBUR/RUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
VICAR (s. from the Lat. vicarius) The incumbent of an impropriated benefice; one who performs the office of another, a substitute.
Vic'age (s. from vicar) The benefice of a vicar; an ecclesiastical living from which the great tithes have been alienated.
Vic'argeneral (s. from vicar, and general) An officer who is to overlook the clergy and regulate the affairs of the church.
Vic'arial (adj. from vicar) Belonging to a vicar.
Vic'arious (adj. from vicar) Acting in the place of another, done in the place of another; deputed, delegated.
Vic'arship (s. from vicar) The office of a vicar.
Vic'ary (s. an old word) A vicar. Chaucer.
VICE (s. from the Lat. vitium) A depravity of manners, a course of action opposite to virtue; a fault, an offence, an habitual fault; the fool, the punchinello of old shows.
VICE (s. from the Dutch vijs) A kind of large pinchers or small pries with screws to hold any thing while under the operation of the artificer; a grasp, a gripe; the nuel of a winding staircase.
Vice (v. t. from the sub.) To draw as with a vice. Sb.
VICEADMIRAL (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of,
 and the French admiral) The second commander in a fleet, a naval officer in the second rank.
Vicead'miralty (s. from viceadmiral) The office of a viceadmiral.
VICEAGENT (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and ago to do) One who acts in the place of another.
VICECHAMBERLAIN (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and the French chambre) A great officer under the lord chamberlain.
VICECHANCELLOR (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and cancelli) One who is chosen annually to perform the office of chancellor in the universities.
Vic'ed (adj. from vice) Vicious, corrupt. Sb.
Vic'ed (p. from vice, but not much used) Drawn as with a vice.
VICEDOMINUS (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of,
 and dominus a lord) An official commissary, one who acts under an abbot or bishop.
Vicegerency (s. from vicegerent) The office or authority of a vicegerent.
VICEGERENT (adj. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and gero to govern) Acting as a substitute, having a delegated power.
Vicegerent (s. from the adj.) A lieutenant, one who exercises the power of a superior.
VICENAL (s. from the Lat. vicenalia) Solemn games or vows for twenty years. Cole.
Vicenarious (adj. from vicenary) Belonging to twenty. Cole.
VICENARY (adj. from the Lat. vicenarius) Belonging to twenty.
VICEROY (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and the French

VID

French roy a king) One who governs in the place of a king.
Vi'ceroyalty (s. from viceroy) The office or dignity of a viceroy.
VICES/SIS (s.) A Roman coin in value about one shilling and three pence.
VICETY (s. of uncertain etymology, and now out of use) Exactness. Ben Johnson.
VI'CEVER'SA (adv. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and verito to turn) On the contrary, with inversion.
VIC'IA (s. in botany) The vetch.
Vic'iate (v. t. not so common a spelling) To vitiate. Sc.
VI'CINAGE (s. from the Lat. vicinia) Neighbourhood, the places adjoining.
VI'CINAL (adj. from the Lat. vicinia a neighbourhood) Neighbouring, near.
Vic'ine (adj. from vicinal) Vicinal, neighbouring. Gl.
Vicine'tum (s. a law term) A venue, a neighbouring place.
VICIN'ITY (s. from the Lat. vicinia) Neighbourhood, nearness.
Vi'cious (adj. not so common a spelling) Vitious. Mil.
Vic'iously (adv. from vicious, but not so common a spelling) Vitiously. Scott.
Vic'iousness (s. from vicious, but not a common spelling) Vitiousness.
VICIS/SITUDE (s. from the Lat. vicissitudo) A regular change, a revolution; a change.
Vicis'sity (s. not much used) A vicissitude. Scott.
Vicon'tiel (adj. a law term) Belonging to a sheriff.
Vicon'tiel (s. from the adj.) A rent belonging to the sheriff, a farm on which the sheriff pays a fixed rent to the king and makes what he can of it.
VIC'COUNT (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and comes an earl) A viscount, a nobleman next in dignity to an earl.
Vi'countess (s. from vicount) The wife of a viscount, a viscountess.
Vi'county (s. from vicount) The jurisdiction of a viscount, a viscounty.
Vicow'ntiel (s. a different spelling) A vicountiel. Sc.
VIC'TIM (s. from the Lat. victima) A sacrifice, something slain for sacrifice; something destroyed.
Vic'timate (v. int. from victim) To offer a sacrifice. Ba.
VIC'TOR (s. from the Lat.) A conqueror, one who gains an advantage in a single contest.
VICTO'RIA (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess of victory.
VICTORIA/CUS (s.) A Roman coin worth about three pence three farthings.
VICTORIO'LA (s. in botany) A kind of laurel.
Vict'orious (adj. from victory) Conquering, superior in contest; betokening conquest, producing conquest.
Vict'oriously (adv. from victorious) With conquest, with triumph.
Vict'oriousness (s. from victorious) The state of being victorious.
VICTORY (s. from the Lat. vinco victus to conquer) Conquest, success in contest, triumph.
Vict'refs (s. from victor) A female who conquers.
VICTRIA/CUS (s. a different spelling) The victoriacus, a Roman coin stamped with the image of victory.
VICTUAL (s. not much used of late in the singular, from the Lat. victus food) Provisions, stores for the support of life; meat, sustenance.
Vict'ual (v. t. from the sub.) To store with provisions, to store with food.
Vict'ualed (p. from victual) Stored with provisions for the support of life, stored with food.
Vict'ualing (p. a. from victual) Storing with victuals, storing with food.
Vict'ualing (s. from the part.) The act of laying in store of provisions; the act of supplying the navy with provisions.
Vict'ualer (s. from victual) One who provides victuals, one who lays in store of provisions for the naval power; a small ship to carry provisions; one who keeps an alehouse.
Vict'ualing (p. a. a common but not so analogical a spelling) Victualing.
Vict'ualingoffice (s. from victualing, and office) The office where provisions are prepared for the use of the royal navy.
VIC'TUS (s. from the Lat.) Food.
VI'DAM (s. in France) The judge in the temporal jurisdiction of a bishop, a vicedominus.
VIDEL'ICET (adv. from the Lat. video to see, and licet it is lawful) To wit, namely.
VIDUA'TION (s. from the Lat. vidua a widow) A deprivation. Cole.

VIL

VIDU'ITY (s. from the Lat. vidua a widow) Widowhood.
VIE (v. t. of uncertain etymology) To show in emulation, to practice in competition.
Vie (v. int.) To contest, to contend, to strive for superiority; with with: as, "To vie with the best families."
Vie (s. in cards) A challenge, an invitation.
Vle (v. t. from the sub.) To challenge, to invite cards.
Vi'ed (p. from vie) Challenged, invited at cards.
Vi'ing (p. a. from vie) Showing in competition, vying for superiority.
Vi'ing (s. from the part.) The act of striving for superiority.
VIE/MALIM (s. in ornithology) The name of a small American bird supposed to live on dew and the leaves of flowers.
Vi'ended (adj. an old word) Provided with provisions.
Vi'ndid (adj. obsolete) Furnished with provisions.
VIEN'NA (s. in geography) The capital of the German empire.
VIE/TOR (s. from the Lat. but not used) A cooper.
VIEW (v. t. from the French veu) To look on, to survey; to see, to perceive by the eye.
VIEW (s. from the verb) A prospect, a sight; the act of seeing, the act of seeing; an appearance, a display, an exhibition; a prospect of interest, intention, a design.
View'ed (p. from view) Surveyed, looked on, perceived.
View'er (s. from view) One who views.
Viewing (p. a. from view) Beholding, surveying, perceiving.
View'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surveying, the act of looking on.
View'less (adj. from view) Unseen, incapable of being discerned by the sight.
Vig'e'simal (adj. from the Lat. vigesimalis) Twentieth next to the nineteenth.
Vig'e'simal (s. from the adj.) The twentieth, the next to the nineteenth.
Vigesimal'tion (s. from vigesimal) The act of putting every twentieth man to death.
VIG'IL (s. from the Lat. vigilia) Watch, forbearance of sleep; a fast kept before a holiday, a religious vice used on the evening before a holiday.
Vig'ilance (s. from vigilant) Watchfulness, guard.
Vig'ilancy (s. from vigilance) Forbearance of sleep, watchfulness.
Vig'ilant (adj. from the Lat. vigilo to watch) Watchful, circumspect, diligent, attentive.
Vig'ilantly (adv. from vigilant) Watchfully, attentively, circumspectly.
Vig'ilantness (s. from vigilant) The state of being vigilant.
Vig'ile (s. a different spelling) A vigil: the act of watching the dead till interred.
VIGIL'Æ (s. plu. from the Lat.) The eves of fasts, vigils.
Vig'illis (s. an old spelling) Vigils, festivals on the eves of a holiday.
Vigintiv'rate (s. from vigintiviri) The office or dignity of the vigintiviri.
VIGINTIVIRI (s. from the Lat. viginti twenty, vir viri a man) The twenty Roman magistrates who were judges in all criminal and civil causes.
VIG'NETTE (s. from the French) A picture of flowers and flowers, a kind of flourish of leaves and flowers.
VIGO'NE (s. from the French vigogne) A sort of Spanish wool, a hat made of the wool.
VIG'OR (s. the modern and correct spelling, from the Lat.) Force, strength, energy, efficacy.
Vig'orous (adj. from vigor) Forceable, full of life, of strength.
Vig'orously (adv. from vigorous) With force, with strength.
Vig'orousness (s. from vigorous) The state of being vigorous.
VIG'OUR (s. the less modern spelling, from the French vigueur) Vigor.
Vile (adj. an obsolete spelling) Vile, base.
VILE (adj. from the Lat. vilis) Base, mean, contemptible; impure, wicked.
Vil'ed (adj. from vile) Abusive, scurrilous.
Vil'ely (adv. from vile) Basely, meanly.
Vil'eness (s. from vile) The state or quality of being vile.

V I N

r (adj. comp. of vile) Vile in a greater degree.
st (adj. sup. of vile) Vile in the greatest degree.
ed (p. from vilify) Rendered base, defamed.
IFY (v. t. from the Lat. vilis vile, and facio to make) To debase, to defame, to render contemptible.
ying (p. a. from vilify) Defaming, rendering contemptible.
ying (s. from the part.) The act of defaming.
PEND (v. t. from the Lat. vilis vile, and pendo to esteem) To esteem.
ty (s. from vile) Baseness.
LA (s. from the Lat. villa) A village; a part of a village.
LA (s. from the Lat.) A country seat.
age (s. from villa) A small collection of houses, a small town in the country where there is no market.
age (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a village, done in a village.
ager (s. from village) An inhabitant of a village.
gery (s. from village) The district of a village.
LAIN (s. from the low Lat. villanus) One who held a base tenure, one who held by servile tenure; a fellow, a wicked wretch.
infleece (s. from villain, and fleece) A fleece shorn from a scabbed sheep.
inous (adj. not so common a spelling) Villanous. Co.
inous (adj. not so common a spelling) Villanous. Sc.
inously (adv. not so common a spelling) Villanously. Scott.
inously (s. not so common a spelling) Villanousness. Scott.
age (s. from villain) The state of a villain, the nature of a villain; baseness, infamy.
ni (s. in old records) A kind of servile tenants; farmers, villagers.
nize (v. t. from villain) To debase, to degrade, to demean.
nized (p. from villanize) Debased, defamed, demeaned. nizing (p. a. from villanize) Debasement, demeaning.
nizing (s. from the part.) The act of defaming.
nous (adj. from villain) Base, vile, wicked; sorry, mean.
nous (adv. from the adj.) With emphasis, very.
inous low. Shakespeare.
nously (adv. from villanous) Basely, wickedly.
nousness (s. from villanous) Baseness, wickedness.
ANY (s. from villain) Wickedness, baseness, depravity; a wicked action, a crime, the conduct of a villain.
ic (adj. from villa) Belonging to a village.
age (s. a less common spelling) Villanage, a servile tenure.
nous (adj. a different spelling) Degrading, rendering unlawful to appear at the king's court; villanous.
l (s. in botany) A kind of down like coarse hairs which appears on some plants.
l (s. in anatomy) Fibres.
tion (s. from the Lat. villico to manage a farm) A rule of husbandry under the lord of a manor. Cole.
OSE (adj. from the Lat. villosus) Hairy, rough, shaggy.
s (adj. from villose) Befet with hairs, rough, shaggy.
y, Vilony (s. an old spelling) Villany. Chaucer.
NAL (adj. from the Lat. vimen an osier) Made of osiers, belonging to twigs. eous (adj. from the Lat. vimen an osier) Belonging to twigs, made of twigs.
CEA (s. from the Lat.) A grape stone.
eous (adj. from vinacea) Belonging to a vine, having taste, or likeness to wine.
LIA (s. from the Lat.) The feasts held by the Romans when they first broached their new wines.
le (s. obsolete) A vineyard.
IOUS (adj. from the Lat. vinum wine) Belonging to wines. Cole.
ian (adj. not used) Belonging to a vine. Cole.
A (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the periwinkle.

V I N

VIN/CENT (s.) A man's name.
VINCETOX'ICUM (s. in botany) The swallow wort, the asclepias.
VIN/CIBLE (adj. from the Lat. vinco to overcome) Capable of being subdued.
Vin/cible (s. from vincible) The state of being conquerable.
VINC'TURE (s. from the Lat. vindura) A band, a binding.
VIN'CULUM (s. from the Lat.) A band, a chain; a mark or line to denote a connection in algebraical quantities.
VINDE'MIA (s. from the Lat.) A vintage, the season of gathering grapes and making wines.
Vinde'mial (adj. from vindemia) Belonging to vintage.
Vinde'miate (v. int. from vindemia) To gather in the vintage.
Vinde'miating (p. a. from vindemiate) Gathering in the vintage.
Vinde'miating (s. from the part.) The act of gathering in the vintage.
Vindemia'tion (s. from vindemiate) The act of gathering the grapes, a vintage.
VINDEMIAT'OR (s. in astronomy) A fixed star of the third magnitude in Virgo.
VINDEMIAT'RIX (s. in astronomy) A fixed star in the constellation of Virgo, vindemiator.
VINDICATE (v. t. from the Lat. vindico) To justify, to support; to assert, to claim with efficacy; to clear, to protect: to avenge, to revenge: with to, on, from, and upon: as, "And vindicate the ways of God to man." "To vindicate on Athens thy disgrace."
Vin'dicated (p. from vindicate) Justified, supported, cleared, protected, asserted, claimed; avenged, revenged; with from, on, and upon: as, "Vindicated from our neglect."
Vin'dicating (p. a. from vindicate) Justifying, supporting, clearing; asserting, claiming; avenging, revenging.
Vin'dicating (s. from the part.) The act of justifying, the act of claiming, the act of avenging.
Vindica'tion (s. from vindicate) A justification, a defence, an assertion.
Vin'dicative (adj. from vindicate) Avengeful, revengeful.
Vin'dicator (s. from vindicate) One who vindicates, an avenger.
Vin'dicatory (adj. from vindicate) Containing a vindication, inflicting vengeance.
VINDICTA (s. from the Lat.) Vengeance, punishment; the rod with which the pretor touched the head of a slave when he was made free; liberty freedom.
Vindictive (adj. from vindicta) Given to revenge, revengeful.
Vindictively (adv. from vindictive) Revengefully.
Vindictiveness (s. from vindictive) The state or quality of being vindictive.
VINE (s. from the Lat. vinea) The plant that bears the grape.
Vine'dresser (s. from vine, and dresser) One employed in the culture of vines.
Vine'fretter (s. in the history of insects) The vine grub, a kind of worm which destroys vines.
VINEGAR (s. from the French vinaigre) Wine grown sour; a sharp acid liquor; any thing sour.
Vine'gar (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to vinegar, used in vinegar; sour, crabbed.
Vinegarbar'rel (s. from vinegar, and barrel) A barrel in which vinegar is kept.
Vinegarbot'tle (s. from vinegar, and bottle) A bottle used for vinegar.
Vinegarcru'et (s. from vinegar, and cruet) A vessel in which vinegar is brought to table.
Vine'grub (s. from vine, and grub) The vine fretter an insect that destroys vines.
Vine'harvest (s. from vine, and harvest) the vintage, Co.
Vine'leaf (s. from vine, and leaf) The leaf of the vine.
Vine'leaves (s. plu. of vineleaf) More than one vine leaf.
Vine'pear (s. from vine, and pear) A kind of pear ripe in October.
Vine'prop (s. from vine, and prop) A prop to a vine.
Vin'erous (adj. a local word) Hard to be pleased. Bailey.
VINE'W (s. of doubtful etymology, a local word) Mouldiness. Bailey.
Vine'w.

VIO

Vin'ewinefs (s. from vinewy, a local word) Mouldiness.
 Vin'ewy (adj. a different spelling, and a local word) Vinewed, mouldy.
 Vine'yard (s. from vine, and yard) A ground planted with vines.
 VINIPOTE (s. from the Lat. vinum wine, and pote to drink) A wine bibber.
 Vin'net (s. from vignette) A kind of border or flourish of flowers at the beginning of a book or fection.
 Vin'new (s. a different spelling) Vinew, mouldiness. Jo.
 Vin'new (v. int. from the sub. a local word) To grow mouldy.
 Vin'new (v. t. a local word) To make mouldy.
 Vin'newed (p. from vinnew, a local word) Grown mouldy.
 Vin'newing (p. a. from vinnew, a local word) Making mouldy, growing mouldy.
 Vin'newing (s. from the part. a local word) The act of making mouldy, the state of being mouldy.
 Vin'ney (v. int. a local word) To grow mouldy. Johns.
 Vin'ney (v. t. a local word) To make mouldy.
 Vin'neyed (p. from vinney, a local word) Made mouldy, grown mouldy; become humourfome as an indulged child.
 Vin'neying (p. a. from vinney, a local word) Making mouldy, growing mouldy.
 Vin'neying (s. from the part. a local word) The act of making mouldy, the state of being mouldy.
 Vin'nied (p. from vinny, a local word) Grown mouldy.
 Vin'ny (v. int. a different spelling) To grow mouldy. Sc.
 Vin'nying (p. a. from vinny, a local word) Growing mouldy.
 Vin'nying (s. from the part. a local word) The act or state of growing mouldy.
 VINOLENT (adj. from the Lat. vinum wine, and oleo to smell) Given to wine, smelling of wine. Chaucer.
 VINOSE (adj. from the Lat. vinum wine) Vinous.
 Vinos'ity (s. from vinose) The state or quality of being vinous.
 VINOUS (adj. from the Lat. vinum wine) Having the qualities of wine, consisting of wine; made of fruit.
 Vinouliness (s. from vinous) The state or quality of being vinous.
 VIN'TAGE (s. from the French vinage) The produce of the vine for one year, a crop of grapes, the time of gathering grapes and making wines.
 Vin'tager (s. from vintage) One employed in gathering the vintage.
 VINT'NER (s. from the Lat. vinum wine) One who sells wine.
 VINT'RY (s. from the Lat. vinum wine) The place where wine is sold.
 VINUM (s. from the Lat.) Wine, the liquor expressed from the grape.
 VIOL (s. from the French viole) A stringed instrument of music.
 Vi'ol (s. on board a ship) A device of ropes to facilitate the weighing of an anchor.
 VIO'LA (s. from the Italian) A viol, a stringed instrument of music.
 VIO'LA (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the violet.
 VIOLABLE (adj. from the Lat. violo to violate) Capable of being violated, liable to a violation.
 Viola'ceous (adj. from viola) Resembling a violet.
 VIOLATE (v. t. from the Lat. violo) To injure, to hurt; to infringe, to break; to ravish, to deflower.
 Violated (p. from violate) Injured, hurt; infringed, broken; ravished, deflowered.
 Violating (p. a. from violate) Injuring, hurting; infringing, breaking; ravishing, deflowering.
 Violating (s. from the part.) The act of infringing, a violation.
 Viola'tion (s. from violate) An infringement of something found; the act of deflowering, a rape.
 Viola'tor (s. from violate) One who violates; a ravisher.
 Violence (s. from violent) Force, strength; an assault, an outrage; an injury, an infringement; eagerness, vehemence; a forcible violation of chastity.
 VIOLENT (adj. from the Lat. violentus) Forcible, acting with strength, produced by force, extorted by force; unseasonably vehement, unjustly assailing, murderous.
 VIOLENTIA (s. in beaten mythology) A kind of allegorical divinity.
 Violently (adv. from violent) With violence, with force.
 Violentness (s. from violent) The state of being violent.
 VIOLET (s. in botany) The name of a humble plant, the flower of the plant remarkable for the sweetness of its smell.

VIR

Vi'oletapple (s. from violet, and apple) The name of an apple.
 Violetcolour (s. from violet, and colour) The colour of the violet.
 Vi'oletmar'ion (s. in botany) The Canterbury bells.
 VIOLET'TA (s. from the Italian) A small violin.
 VI'OLIN (s. from viol) A fiddle, a stringed instrument of music.
 Violinis'ta (s. from violin) One who plays on the violin.
 VIOLINO (s. from the Italian) A violin, a fiddle.
 Vi'olist (s. from viol) One well skilled in playing on the violin.
 VIOLONCEL'LO (s. from the Italian) A stringed instrument of music, a small bass viol.
 VIOLO'NE (s. from the Italian) A large bass viol.
 VIOR'NA (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the vellers'joy.
 VIPER (s. from the Lat. vipera) A serpent which produces its young alive; any thing mischievous.
 VIPERA (s. in zoology) The viper, the adder.
 VIPERA'LIS (s. in botany) The name of an herb, rue.
 VIPERA'RIA (s. in botany) The viperwort.
 VIPER'NA (s. in botany) The name of an herb, viper's bugloss.
 Vi'perine (adj. from viper) Belonging to a viper.
 Vi'perous (adj. from viper) Having the qualities of a viper.
 Vi'persbug'loss (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Vi'perigrais (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 VIRA'GO (s. from the Lat.) A female warrior, a woman with masculine qualities; a turbulent woman.
 VI'RALAY (s. from the French veralay) A kind of poem among the French.
 Vir'afon (s.) A cool gale of wind in Hispaniola.
 VIR'BIUS (s.) A man's name, a descendant of Hippolitus.
 VIRE (s. from the French) An arrow for a crossbow.
 VI'RELAY (s. from the French) A kind of song, a delay.
 Vi'rent (adj. from the Lat. virens) Green, unfaded.
 VIRE'O (s. in ornithology) The Canary bird.
 VIR'GA (s. in old records) A rod, a white staff; a rod.
 VIR'GAU'REA (s. in botany) The solidago, the golden rod.
 VIR'GÆ (s. in meteorology) A lucid appearance in the heavens resembling a bundle of rods.
 VIR'GASANGUI'NEA (s. in botany) The cornus.
 Virga'ta (s. from virga) A yardland.
 Vir'gate (s. from virga) A yardland.
 Virge (s. a different spelling) A verge, a mace carried before a dean.
 VIR'GIL (s.) A man's name, a celebrated Latin poet.
 VIR'GIN (s. from the Lat. virgo) A man, a woman; a state of virginity; any thing pure and unmarred; one of the signs of the zodiac.
 Vir'gin (adj. from the sub.) Befitting a virgin, due to a virgin; pure, unmixed; untouched, undecorated.
 Vir'gin (v. int. from the sub.) To play the virgin.
 Vir'ginal (s. from virgin, but not so common in the vulgar) A musical instrument so called because decorated by young ladies.
 Vir'ginal (adj. from virgin) Belonging to a virgin maiden.
 Vir'ginal (v. int. an old word, from the sub.) To play strike as on the virginals.
 Vir'ginalling (p. a. from virginal) Patting, striking with a gentle stroke.
 VIRGIN'IA (s. in geography) One of the colonies of North America subject to the English.
 Virgin'ia (adj. from the sub.) Virginian, belonging to Virginia.
 Virgin'iafrog (s. in zoology) A monstrous frog found in Virginia whose croaking is said to be nearly as loud as the bellowing of a bull.
 Virgin'ian (adj. from Virginia) Belonging to Virginia, produced in Virginia.
 Virgin'ian (s. from Virginia) A native of Virginia.
 Virgin'ianight'ingale (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, a native of Virginia.
 Virgin'iatobacco (s. from Virginia, and tobacco) Tobacco, the produce of Virginia.
 Vir'ginit'y (s. from virgin) The state of being a virgin, the state of being a maid.
 Vir'insbower (s. in botany) The name of a woody plant, the climates.
 Vir'ginmilk (s. in chymistry) A kind of chymical preparation.
 Vir'ginthread (s. from virgin, and thread) A kind of thread.

V I S

cobweb which floats in the air like untwisted

VO (s. in astronomy, from the Lat.) A constellation, of the signs of the zodiac.

VOLEUSE (s.) A kind of pear.

VULA (s. in grammar, from the Lat.) A point in writing, a comma.

VULADIVINA (s. from the Lat.) A hazle rod in form of the letter V used in some countries by credulous people for discovering mines, springs, or other things under ground.

VULADIVINATORIA (s. from the Lat.) The virgula, the rod described in the foregoing article.

VULE (s. from virgula) A bundle of rods, a stool of shooting from a tree.

VULTUM (s. in old records) A plantation of oaks.

VATUS (s.) A man's name, a Spaniard who from shepherd was advanced to the command of the army, and routed many Roman generals.

VLE (s. from the Lat. vir, a man) Belonging to a man, manly.

VIA (s. from the Lat.) The genitals of a man, the penis and testes.

VITY (s. from virile) Manhood, the power of procreation.

VLA/CA (s. in heathen mythology, from the Lat. vir husband, and piaco to appease) A Roman goddess, whose temple men and their wives used to resort to accommodate their differences.

VOTENT (adj. from the Lat. vir a husband, and ensable) Marriageable, fit for marriage.

VLE (adj. in heraldry) Having the mouth, as of a living hare, of a different tincture.

VION (s. a different spelling) Vermilion.

VSE (adj. from the Lat. vir a man) Desirous of a band; manly, robust.

VUR/IAN (adj. from virtusfungus) Belonging to the creative duct.

SUN/GUS (s.) A man's name, an anatomist who discovered the pancreatic duct.

AL (adj. from virtue) Having the efficacy without material part.

VITY (s. from virtual) Efficacy, the state or quality of being virtual.

VALLY (adv. from virtual) In effect though not really.

VATE (v. t. from virtue) To make efficacious.

VATED (p. from virtuate) Made efficacious. Harv.

VATING (p. a. from virtuate, but not sufficiently authorized) Making efficacious.

VUE (s. from the Lat. virtus) Moral goodness, a singular moral excellence; efficacy, power; secret efficacy, efficacy with material force; bravery, valour; excellence, that which gives excellence; one of the orders of the celestial hierarchy; medicinal efficacy.

VLEIS (adj. from virtue) Wanting virtue; deprived of virtue; having no efficacy, having no operative qualities.

VO/SI (s. plu. of virtuoso) More than one virtuoso.

VO/SO (s. from the Italian) A man skillful in natural or ancient curiosities, a man studious of painting or architecture.

VIOUS (adj. from virtue) Morally good, done in consequence of moral goodness; chaste, modest as related to women; efficacious, powerful; having wonderful or eminent qualities; having medicinal qualities.

VIOUSLY (adv. from virtuous) In a virtuous manner, according to the rules of virtue.

VIOUSNESS (s. from virtuous) The state or quality of being virtuous.

VUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the Roman deities, the patroness of virtue.

VENCE (s. from virulent) Mental poison, malignity; perversity of temper.

VENCY (s. from virulence) Malignity, bitterness of temper.

VLENT (adj. from the Lat. virus poison) Poisonous; venomous; malignant, bitter.

VLENTLY (adv. from virulent) With malignity, with bitterness.

VLENTNESS (s. from virulent) The state or quality of being virulent.

VLENTS (s. from the Lat.) Poison, venom; the malignant discharge of an ulcer, the sanies of an indigested food.

VLENT (s. from the Lat.) Might, power, force.

VLE (s. from the French) The face, the look, the countenance in disgrace.

V I S

Vi/sar (s. a different spelling) A visor.

Johnson.

Vis'ard (s. a different spelling) A vizard.

Scott.

VIS/CAGO (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the filene.

VISCA/TA (s.) A name of Fortune.

VIS/CATED (adj. from the Lat. viscus birdlime) Caught with birdlime.

Bailey.

VIS/CERA (s. from the Lat.) The intrails, the bowels.

Vis'cerate (v. t. from viscera) To embowel, to take out the bowels.

Vis'ceral (adj. from viscera) Belonging to the bowels.

Vis'cerated (p. from viscera) Embowelled.

Vis'cerating (p. a. from viscerate) Embowelling; depriving of the intrails.

Vis'cerating (s. from the part.) The act of embowelling.

Vis'ceration (s. from viscera) The act of embowelling.

Vis'cerous (adj. from viscera) Belonging to the bowels.

VIS/CID (adj. from the Lat. viscus birdlime) Glutinous, tenacious.

Viscid/ity (s. from viscid) Glutinousness, tenacity; a glutinous concretion.

VISCO/SA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Fortune.

Vis'cose (adj. not so common a word) Viscous.

Viscos/ity (s. from viscose) Glutinousness, tenacity; a glutinous substance.

VIS/COUNT (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and comes an earl, the s is not sounded) A nobleman next in dignity to an earl.

Vis'countness (s. from viscount, the s is not sounded) The wife of a viscount, a peeress of the fourth order.

Vis'county (s. from viscount, the s is not sounded) The territories of a viscount.

VIS/COUS (adj. from the Lat. viscosus) Glutinous, tenacious.

VIS/CUM (s. in botany) The mistletoe, a genus of plants.

Vise (s. obsolete) A voice.

Chaucer.

Vi'ser (s. not so common a spelling) A visor.

Vis'ibility (s. from visible) The state of being visible.

VIS/IBLE (adj. from the Lat. video visus to see) Capable of being seen, discovered to the eye; apparent, open, conspicuous.

Vis'iblence (s. from visible) Visibility, the state of being exposed to sight.

Vis'ibly (adv. from visible) In a manner perceptible to the eye.

Vi'sier (s. a different spelling) A vizier.

VIS/ION (s. from the Lat. video visus to see) The sight, the power of seeing, the act of seeing; a supernatural appearance, a spectre; a dream, something represented in a dream.

Vis'ionary (adj. from vision) Affected by phantoms, imaginary, perceived only by the imagination.

Vis'ionary (s. from the adj.) One whose imagination is disturbed, a visionist.

Vis'ionist (s. from vision) One whose imagination is disturbed.

VIS/IT (v. t. from the Lat. visito) To go to see; to salute with a present; to come to a survey; to send good or evil; with with: as, "Whenever God shall visit us with so fatal an event." "Samson visited his wife with a kid."

Vis'it (v. int.) To keep up a friendly intercourse at each other's houses; to send evil or good.

Vis'it (s. from the verb) The act of going to see another.

Vis'itable (adj. from visit) Liable to be visited.

Vis'itant (s. from visit) One that visits.

VIS/ITATION (s. from visit) The act of visiting; the object of visits; a visit by way of survey or perambulation; an afflictive dispensation, a general sickness; a communication of good from heaven.

VIS/ITATORIAL (adj. from visit) Belonging to a judicial visitor.

Vis'ited (p. from visit) Resorted to by visitors, surveyed by a visitor; afflicted with evil, favoured with good.

Vis'iter (s. from visit) One who visits, an occasional judge, one who regulates the disorders of a society.

Vis'iting (p. a. from visit) Going to see another by way of friendly intercourse, keeping up a friendly intercourse by visits; going to survey and regulate; sending good, inflicting evil.

Vis'iting (s. from the part.) The act of paying visits, the act of sending good or evil.

Vis'itor (s. from visit) One who visits, one who visits judicially.

VIS/IVE (adj. from the Lat. visus the sight) Belonging to the power of seeing, formed in the act of seeing.

VISMA/THUM (s. in natural history) The bismuth.

VISNA/GA (s. in botany) A species of daucus.

VIT

VISNE (s. in commerce) A kind of cherry brandy; tent wine mixed with brandy.
Visne (s. a law term) A neighbouring place, a place near at hand.
Visno'my (s. from physiognomy, but not used) The face, the countenance. Spenser.
VISOR (s. from the Lat. visus an appearance) A mask, something used to disguise or disfigure.
Visored (adj. from visor) Masked.
VISO'RII (s. in anatomy) The optic nerves.
VISO'RIMUM (s. in the printing office) An instrument on which a leaf of copy is placed before the compositor.
VIS'ITA (s. from the Italian) A view, a prospect through an avenue.
VISTAMEN'TE (adv. in music books) Very quick.
VIS'TO (adv. in music books) With great swiftness.
VIS'UAL (adj. from the Lat. visus sight) Belonging to the sight.
VIS'US (s. from the Lat.) The sight, the sense of seeing; an inspection, a view.
VITA (s. from the Lat.) Life, operative existence.
Vital (adj. from vita) Belonging to life, contributing to life, containing life; essential, chiefly necessary.
Vitality (s. from vital) The power of subsisting in life; the spirit of life.
Vitally (adv. from vital) In such a manner as to give life.
Vitals (s. plu. from vital) The parts essential to life. Chaucer.
VITATION (s. from the Lat. vito to foun, but not used) The act of avoiding. Cole.
Vite (s. obsolete) A vine. Chaucer.
Viteille (s. an old spelling) Victuals. Chaucer.
VITEL'ARY (s. from the Lat. vitellus) The place where the yolk of the egg swims in the white.
VITEL'LIA (s.) The name of a woman, the wife of Paurns.
VITELLIA'NA (s.) A kind of pocket book in which the ancients wrote down their trifling conceits and occurrences.
VIT'ELLINE (adj. from the Lat. vitellus) Consisting of yolk, belonging to the yolk, like the yolk of an egg.
VITEL'LIUS (s.) A man's name, the ninth Roman emperor.
VITEX (s. in botany) The chaste tree, a genus of plants.
VIT'iate (v. t. from the Lat. vitio) To deprave, to spoil, to contaminate.
Vitiated (p. from vitiate) Depraved, spoiled, contaminated.
Vit'iating (p. a. from vitiate) Depraving, spoiling, contaminating.
Vit'iating (s. from the part.) The act of depraving, a contamination.
Vitiation (s. from vitiate) A depravation, a corruption.
VITICEL'LA (s. in botany) The name of a plant, a species of clematis.
VITIF'EROUS (adj. from the Lat. vitis a vine, and fero to bear) Bearing vines, producing vines.
VITIGIN'EOUS (adj. from the Lat. vitigenus) Coming from a vine.
VITIL'IGO (s. from the Lat.) A kind of leprosy, the morpew.
VITILITIGATE (v. int. from the Lat. vitium vice, and litigo to contend) To contend in law.
Vitilitigating (p. a. from vitilitigate, but not used) Contending in law.
Vitilitigation (s. from vitilitigate) Contention, litigation. Hud. bras.
Vitios'ity (s. from vitious) Depravity, corruption.
VIT'IOUS (adj. from the Lat. vitium vice) Corrupt, wicked, opposed to virtue; physically corrupt.
Vit'iously (adv. from vitious) With vice, with corruption.
Vit'iousness (s. from vitious) Corruptness, the state of being vitious.
VIT'REAL (adj. from the Lat. vitreus) Consisting of glass.
VIT'REAN (adj. from the Lat. vitreus) Consisting of glass, like glass.
VIT'REOUS (adj. from the Lat. vitreus) Consisting of glass, resembling glass.
Vitreousness (s. from vitreous) The state or quality of being vitreous.
Vit'rificable (adj. from vitrify) Capable of being converted into glass.
VITRIF'ICATE (v. t. from the Lat. vitrum glass, and facio to make) To change into glass.
Vitrified (p. from vitrificate) Changed into glass.
Vitrificating (p. a. from vitrificate) Changing into glass.

VIV

Vitrificating (s. from the part.) The act of changing into glass.
Vitrification (s. from vitrificate) The act of changing into glass, the production of glass.
Vitrified (p. from vitrify) Changed into glass.
VIT'RIFY (v. t. from the Lat. vitrum glass, and facio to make) To change into glass.
Vitrify (v. int.) To become glass.
Vitrifying (p. a. from vitrify) Changing into glass.
Vitrifying (s. from the part.) The act of changing into glass.
VITRIOL (s. from the Lat. vitriolum) A kind of mineral salt.
Vitriolate (adj. from vitriol) Impregnated with vitriol, consisting of vitriol.
Vitriolated (adj. from vitriolate) Impregnated with vitriol.
Vitriolic (adj. from vitriol) Belonging to vitriol, consisting of vitriol, resembling vitriol.
Vitriolous (adj. from vitriol) Impregnated with vitriol, consisting of vitriol.
Vit'rious (adj. a different spelling) Vitreous. D. of Vit'rose (adj. from vitrum) Glassy, abounding with glass.
VIT'RUM (s. in natural history) Glass.
VIT'RUM (s. in botany) The wood.
VITRUVIUS (s.) A man's name, a famous Roman engineer.
VITTA (s. from the Lat.) A fillet, a hair lace; the part of the amnion which sometimes sticks to the head of a newborn infant.
VITULA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess of joy and mirth.
Vituline (adj. from vitulus) Belonging to a calf.
VITULUS (s. from the Lat.) A calf; the sea calf.
VITUPERABLE (adj. from the Lat. vitupero to blame) Blameworthy.
VITUPERATE (v. t. from the Lat. vitupero) To blame, to censure.
Vituperated (p. from vituperate, but not much used) Blamed, censured.
Vituperating (p. a. from vituperate, but not much used) Blaming, censuring.
Vituperation (s. from vituperate) The act of blaming, blame, censure.
VITUS (s.) A man's name.
Vit'utenance (s. in medicine) St. Vitus's dance, a disorder of the nerves attended with very odd gesticulations.
VIVA'CE (adv. in music books) With life, with sprightliness.
Viva'cement (adv. in music books) With life, with sprightliness.
VIVA'CIOUS (adj. from the Lat. vivax) Sprightly, gay; long lived.
Viva'ciousness (s. from vivacious) Sprightliness, brightness; length of life.
VIVACES'SIMO (adv. in music books) With much brightness, with great sprightliness.
Vivacity (s. from vivacious) Liveliness, sprightliness, longevity, length of life.
VIVAP'ECU'NIA (s. in old records) Live cattle.
VIVARY (s. from the Lat. vivarium) A warren.
VIVAVO'CE (adv. from the Lat. viva vox, a voice) By word of mouth.
VIVE (adj. from the Lat. vivus) Lively, forcible.
VIVENCY (s. from the Lat. vivo to live) The manner of supporting life, the manner of continuing growth or vegetation.
VIVER (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, the dragon.
VIVER'RA (s. in zoology) The ferret.
VIVES (s. in farriery) A distemper incident to horses.
VIVIAN (s.) A man's name.
VIVID (adj. from the Lat. vividus) Lively, striking; sprightly, active.
Vividly (adv. from vivid) With life, with spirit.
Vividness (s. from vivid) The state of being vivid.
VIVIFIC (adj. from the Lat. vivus alive, and facio to make) Giving life.
Vivific (adj. from vivific) Giving life.
Vivificate (v. t. from vivific) To make alive, to mate, to recover from a languid state.
Vivificated (p. from vivificate) Made alive, animated, recovered from languor.
Vivificating (p. a. from vivificate) Making alive, mating, recovering from languor.
Vivificating (s. from the part. but not used) The act of making alive, recovering from languor.
Vivification (s. from vivificate) The act of giving life.
Vivificative (adj. from vivificate) Making alive, mating.

U L T

(p. from vivify) Made alive, animated, endured life.
(v. t. from the Lat. vivus alive, and facio to make alive, to animate, to endue with life.
To make alive, to animate, to endue with life.
ing (p. a. from vivify) Making alive, animating.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of making alive, of communicating life.
AROUS (adj. from the Lat. vivus alive, and pario bring forth) Bringing forth the young alive.
(s. in architecture) The shaft or naked part of a column.
(s. of uncertain derivation) A scolding woman, a quarrelsome child.
(v. int. from the sub.) To rave, to bawl, to rant.
ing (p. a. from vixen) Scolding, raving, brawling.
(v. from videlicet) To wit, namely.
DISGUISE (s. from the French visier) A mask, a disguise.
(v. t. from the sub.) To mask.
DISGUISED (p. from vizard) Masked, disguised in a disguise.
ing (p. a. from vizard, but not much used)
PRIME MINISTER (s. from the Turkish) The prime minister of a state.
ULCER (s.) A man's name.
ULCER (s. from the Lat. ulcus) A sore of long continuance; a sore in such a state as not easily to admit of cure.
ULCER (s. in botany) The borehound.
(v. t. from ulcer) To disease with sores, to infect with an ulcer.
ated (p. from ulcerate) Diseased with an ulcer.
ating (p. a. from ulcerate) Diseasing with an ulcer.
ing (s. from the part) The formation of an ulcer, a tendency to an ulcer, the act of breaking out into ulcers.
tion (s. from ulcer) An ulcer, a sore; the act or process of breaking out into ulcers.
ed (adj. from ulcer) Become ulcerous, ulcerated.
ous (adj. from ulcer) Afflicted with ulcers.
ousness (s. from ulcerous) The state of being ulcerous.
ULCER (s. from the Lat.) A sore, an ulcer.
(s. an old word, retained in the Scotch dialect)
ULCER (s. from ule, and games) The games or sports usually practised at Christmas.
ULCER (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
ULCER (adj. from the Lat. uliginosus) Slimy, boggy, fenny.
(s. in gauging) The quantity which a cask wants to be full.
ULCER (s. in botany) The meadowweet, the meadow-sweet.
ULCER (s. in botany) The elm, a genus of plants.
ULCER (s. from the Lat.) An ell, the length of forty-five inches.
ULCER (s. in anatomy) The greater bone between the wrist and the wrist.
(s. not to correct a spelling) Alnage, the act of gauging by the ell.
ULCER (s. in anatomy) The name of two muscles the hand distinguished by the epithets interior and exterior.
ULCER (s. from the Greek ὄλος whole, and ἰαερός member) The soundness of any member of an animal; the soundness of all the members.
(s. from ulophonon) The chameleon thistle.
ULCER (s. in botany, from the Greek) The name of a plant, the chameleon thistle.
ULCER (s.) The name of a man, an excellent lawyer in the time of Alexander Severus.
ULCER (s. in botany) The great wild garlick.
ULCER (s.) The most northern of the four provinces of Ireland.
ULCER (s. in old records) An outrage, a violence.
ULCER (adj. from the Lat.) Lying on the farther side, situate on the other side.
ULCER (s. in painting) The last touches of the picture.
ULCER (adj. from the Lat. ultimus) Last, last in train of consequences.
ately (adv. from ultimate) In the last resort, in the last consequence.
ne (adj. from ultimate) Ultimate, last.
ULCER (s. from the Lat. ultimus) The last consequence, the last state.

U M B

ULTION (s. from the Lat. ultio) Revenge. Scott.
ULTRAMARINE (adj. from the Lat. ultra beyond, and mare the sea) Foreign, situate beyond the sea.
ULTRAMARINE (s. from the adj.) One of the finest blue colours used in painting.
ULTRAMONTANE (adj. from the Lat. ultra beyond, and mons a mountain) Situate beyond the mountains.
ULTRAMONTANE (s. from the adj.) One of the people on this side the Alps so called by the Italians.
ULTRAMUNDANE (adj. from the Lat. ultra beyond, and mundus the world) Situate beyond the world, lying beyond that part of the world which is visible to us.
ULTRONEOUS (adj. from the Lat. ultroneus) Spontaneous, willing, coming of itself.
ULVA (s. in botany) The reed, the sea grafs.
ULVERSTON (adj. from the Lat.) A town in Lancashire; it has a market on Monday, and is 265 miles from London.
ULVERSTON (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Ulverston, made at Ulverston.
ULUGI (s.) A kind of inferior Turkish horse who serve in the army of the Grand Signior.
ULULA (s. in ornithology) The whooping owl.
ULULATE (adj. from ululate, but not used) Howling, yelling.
ing.
ULULATE (v. int. from the Lat. ululo) To howl. Cole.
ulating (p. a. from ululate, but not used) Howling.
ULULATION (s. from ululate) The howling of the wolf or dog kind.
ULVOSÉ (adj. from ulva) Full of reeds, full of weeds.
ULYSSES (s.) A man's name, a Grecian prince who signified himself at the Trojan war.
UMBEL (s. in botany) The extremity of a stalk or branch divided into several rays issuing from a point and forming an inverted cone.
UMBELLA (s. from the Lat.) A little shadow; an umbrella.
UMBELLÆ (s. plu.) The round tufts or heads of some plants which rise from a common base to an equal height.
UMBELLATE (adj. from umbella) Disposed in the form of an umbrella, having a flower resembling an umbrella.
UMBELLIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. umbella, and fero to bear) Bearing umbellated flowers.
UMBER (s.) A kind of dark yellow colour used in painting.
UMBER (s. in ichthyology) The grayling.
UMBER (s. in zoology) An animal bred between a goat and a sheep.
UMBERED (adj. from umber) Painted with a dark yellow colour; shaded, coloured.
UMBILIC (adj. from umbilicus) Belonging to the navel.
UMBILICAL (adj. from umbilic) Belonging to the navel.
UMBILICALIS (s. in anatomy) The epigastrum.
UMBILICATED (adj. from umbilicus) Having a navel, having some appearance of the calyx on the point or top as in some fruits, such as the apple and pomegranate.
UMBILICUS (s. from the Lat.) The navel; the focus, the centre point.
UMBILICUSMARI/NUS (s. in botany) The sea navelwort.
UMBILICUSTER/Æ (s. in botany) The sowbread.
UMBILICUSVEN/ERIS (s. in botany) The navelwort.
UMBILISE/CÆ (s. from the Lat. umbilicus the navel, and seco to cut) Midwives, those who cut the navel strings.
UMBLA (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, the salmon trout.
UMBLES (s. from the French) The intrails of a deer.
UMBO (s. from the Lat.) The prominent part of a buckler.
UMBONE (s. from umbo) The style or pistil in the middle of a flower.
UMBRA (s. from the Lat.) A shadow, a shade; a friend or stranger who is brought by one invited to a feast or entertainment.
UMBRAGE (s. from the Lat. umbra a shadow) Shade, a screen of trees or branches; a shadow, an appearance; a suspicion of injury, an offence, resentment.
UMBRA/GEous (adj. from umbrage) Shady, yielding shade.
UMBRA/GEousness (s. from umbrageous) Shadiness, the shade of trees or branches.
UMBRA/ICAL (adj. from umbra, but not used) Umbra-geous. Cole.
UMBRA/TILE (adj. from the Lat. umbratilis) Shady, lying in the shade.

Umbrayed

Um'brayed (adj. an old sword) Uphrained. Cole.
Um'bre (s. a different spelling) The umber, a kind of dark yellow colour. Dict. of Arts.
Um'bril (s. from umbrella) An umbrella.
UMBREL'LA (s. from the Lat.) A screen used in hot countries to keep off the sun; a circular screen to be carried over the head to keep off the rain or the heat of the sun.
UMBREL'LA (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the umbrella tree.
Umbrel'latree (s. in botany) The name of a plant so called because the leaves at the extremity of the branch are disposed in the form of an umbrella.
Umbrel'lo (s. a different spelling) The umbrella.
Umbrie're (s. obsolete) The visor of an helmet. Spenser.
UMBRI'FEROUS (adj. from the Lat. umbra a shadow, and fero to bring) Casting a shadow. Cole.
UMBRI'NO (s. in ichthyology) A kind of variegated sciaena.
Um'brosant (adj. from umbrose) Shady. Cole.
UM'BROSE (adj. from the Lat. umbrosus) Shady, screened from the light.
Umbros'ity (s. from umbrose) Shadiness, the exclusion of light.
Um'pirage (s. from umpire) An arbitration, a friendly decision of a controversy.
UM'PIRE (s. the derivation is not certain) An arbitrator, one who as a common friend decides a controversy.
Um'ple (s. obsolete) Fine lawn. Chaucer.
Um'quile, Um'quell (adv. obsolete) Heretofore. Cole.
Um'frid (adj. a local word) Astride. Cole.
UN (adv. from the Sax. used only in composition) Not.
Unabaf'ed (adj. from un, and abase) Not abased, unhumbled.
Unabash'ed (adj. from un, and abashed) Not abashed, void of shame.
Unabat'ed (adj. from un, and abated) Not abated, having as much force as ever.
Unabat'ing (adj. from un, and abating) Not abating, continuing with as much force as ever.
Unabbrev'iated (adj. from un, and abbreviated) Not abbreviated.
Unab'dicated (adj. from un, and abdicated) Not abdicated.
Unabet'ted (adj. from un, and abetted) Not abetted, unassisted.
Unabhor'red (adj. from un, and abhor) Not abhorred.
Unabi'ding (adj. from un, and abide) Not abiding, transient.
Unability (s. from unable) Inability, incapacity. Sc.
Una'ble (adj. from un, and able) Not able, weak, impotent.
Unabol'ishable (adj. from un, and abolishable) Incapable of being abolished.
Unabol'ished (adj. from un, and abolished) Not abolished, continuing in force.
Unabridg'ed (adj. from un, and abridged) Not abridged.
Unat'rogated (adj. from un, and abrogated) Not abrogated.
Unabso'lved (adj. from un, and absolved) Not absolved.
Unabso'rb'ed (adj. from un, and absorbed) Not absorbed.
Unabu's'ed (adj. from un, and abused) Not abused.
Unaccent'ed (adj. from un, and accented) Not accented.
Unacceptabil'ity (s. from un, and acceptability) The state of being unacceptable.
Unaccept'able (adj. from un, and acceptable) Not acceptable, unpleasing.
Unaccept'ableness (s. from unacceptable) The state of being unacceptable.
Unaccept'ed (adj. from un, and accepted) Not accepted.
Unacces'sible (adj. from un, and accessible) Not accessible.
Unacces'sibleness (s. from inaccessible) The state of being inaccessible.
Unacci'ted (adj. from un, and accited) Not summoned.
Unacom'modable (adj. from un, and accommodable) Not accommodable.
Unacom'modated (adj. from un, and accommodated) Not accommodated.
Unacom'paniable (adj. from un, and accompaniable) Unfit for company.
Unaccomp'anied (adj. from un, and accompanied) Not accompanied.
Unacom'plished (adj. from un, and accomplished) Not accomplished.

Unaccest'able (adj. from un, and accostable) Unaccosted.
Unaccount'able (adj. from un, and accountable) Incomprehensible, not reducible to rules; uncontrolled, not subject to.
Unaccount'ableness (s. from un, and accountable) The state of being unaccountable.
Unaccount'ably (adv. from un, and accountable) Strangely, in a manner not to be accounted for.
Unaccou'tred (adj. from un, and accounted) Not counted.
Unaccu'mulated (adj. from un, and accumulated) Not accumulated.
Unac'curacy (s. from un, and accuracy) The want of accuracy, unaccuracy.
Unac'curate (adj. from un, and accurate) Not accurate.
Unac'curateness (s. from inaccurate) The state of being inaccurate.
Unaccu'sable (adj. from un, and accusable) Not liable to accusation.
Unaccus'tomed (adj. from un, and accustomed) Unusual.
Unachie'ved (adj. from un, and achieved) Not achieved.
Unacid'ulated (adj. from un, and acidulated) Not acidulated.
Unacknow'ledged (adj. from un, and acknowledged) Not acknowledged.
Unacquaint'ance (s. from un, and acquaintance) Want of knowledge, want of familiarity.
Unacquaint'ed (adj. from un, and acquainted) Not acquainted, unusual, unknown.
Unacquaint'edness (s. from unacquainted) The state of being unacquainted.
Unacqui'rable (adj. from un, and acquire) Not acquirable.
Unacqui'red (adj. from un, and acquired) Not acquired.
Unacquitt'ed (adj. from un, and acquitted) Not acquitted.
Unactive (adj. from un, and active) Not active, lively; out of employment, idle; having no efficacy.
Unact'iveness (s. from unactive) The state of being unactive.
Unact'ively (adv. from unactive) In an unactive manner.
Unact'ivity (s. from unactive) Inactivity, the want of activity.
Unactuated (adj. from un, and actuated) Not actuated.
Unadapt'ed (adj. from un, and adapted) Not adapted.
Unad'ded (adj. from un, and added) Not added.
Unad'dible (adj. from un, and addible) Not addible.
Unaddict'ed (adj. from un, and addicted) Not addicted.
Unaddict'edness (s. from unaddicted) The state of being unaddicted.
Unaddres'sed (adj. from un, and addressed) Not addressed.
Unad'equate (adj. from un, and adequate) Inadequate.
Unad'equateness (s. from inadequate) Inadequateness.
Unadjourn'ed (adj. from un, and adjourn) Not adjourned.
Unadjudg'ed (adj. from un, and adjudge) Not adjudged.
Unadjust'ed (adj. from un, and adjusted) Not adjusted.
Unadmi'ted (adj. from un, and admired) Not admired.
Unadmit'table (adj. from un, and admissible) Not admissible.
Unadmit'ted (adj. from un, and admitted) Not admitted.
Unadmon'ished (adj. from un, and admonished) Not admonished.
Unadopt'ed (adj. from un, and adopted) Not adopted.
Unado'red (adj. from un, and adored) Not adored.
Unadorn'ed (adj. from un, and adorned) Not adorned.
Unadven'tured (adj. from un, and adventured) Not ventured.
Unadven'turous (adj. from un, and adventurous) Not adventurous.
Unadvertis'ed (adj. from un, and advertised) Not advertised.
Unadvise'able (adj. from un, and advisable) Not advisable.
Unadvise'd (adj. from un, and advised) Done without due consideration, imprudent, indiscreet.

U N A

Unadvisedly (adv. from unadvised) Without due consideration, imprudently, indiscreetly.
 Unadvisedness (s. from unadvised) Indiscretion.
 Unadulterated (adj. from un, and adulterated) Not adulterated, genuine.
 Unaffable (adj. from un, and affable) Unsociable.
 Unaffected (adj. from un, and affected) Void of affectation, not moved, not touched; real, void of hypocrisy.
 Unaffectedly (adv. from unaffected) Really, without affectation.
 Unaffectedness (s. from unaffected) The state of being unaffected.
 Unafflicting (adj. from un, and afflicting) Producing no affliction, not suited to move the affections.
 Unaffiliated (adj. from un, and affiliated) Not affiliated.
 Unaffirmed (adj. from un, and affirmed) Not affirmed.
 Unaffixed (adj. from un, and affixed) Not affixed.
 Unafflicted (adj. from un, and afflicted) Free from affliction.
 Unagreeable (adj. from un, and agreeable) Not agreeable, disagreeable.
 Unagreeableness (s. from unagreeable) Unsuitableness.
 Unagreeably (adv. from unagreeable) Disagreeably.
 Unaidable (adj. from un, and aidable) Incapable of being assisted.
 Unaided (adj. from un, and aided) Not aided, unassisted.
 Unaimed (adj. from un, and aimed) Not aimed.
 Unaiming (adj. from un, and aiming) Having no particular direction.
 Unaired (adj. from un, and aired) Not exposed to the air.
 Unaking (adj. from un, and aking) Not aking, feeling no pain.
 Unalarmed (adj. from un, and alarmed) Not alarmed.
 Unalcoholized (adj. from un and alcoholize) Not alcoholized.
 Unaldermanly (adj. from un, and aldermanly) Unlike an alderman.
 Unalienable (adj. from un, and alienable) Not alienable, intransmissible.
 Unalienated (adj. from un, and alienated) Not alienated.
 Unallayed (adj. from un, and allay) Not allayed, not allayed by base mixtures.
 Unalleged (adj. from un, and alleged) Not alleged.
 Unalleviated (adj. from un, and alleviated) Not alleviated.
 Unallied (adj. from un, and allied) Not allied.
 Unallotted (adj. from un, and allotted) Not allotted.
 Unallowable (adj. from un, and allowable) Not allowable.
 Unallowed (adj. from un, and allowed) Not allowed.
 Unallowing (adj. from un, and allowing) Not allowing.
 Unallured (adj. from un, and allured) Not allured.
 Unalluring (adj. from un, and alluring) Not alluring.
 Unalphabetical (adj. from un, and alphabetical) Not alphabetical.
 Unalterable (adj. from un, and alterable) Admitting no alteration.
 Unalterableness (s. from unalterable) The state of being unalterable.
 Unalterably (adv. from unalterable) Unchangeably, immutably.
 Unaltered (adj. from un, and altered) Not altered.
 Unamassed (adj. from un, and amassed) Not amassed.
 Unamazed (adj. from un, and amazed) Not amazed.
 Unambitious (adj. from un, and ambitious) Not ambitious.
 Unamenable (adj. from un, and amenable) Not amenable.
 Unamendable (adj. from un, and amendable) Incapable of amendment.
 Unamended (adj. from un, and amended) Not amended.
 Unamerced (adj. from un, and amerced) Not amerced.
 Unamiable (adj. from un, and amiable) Not amiable.
 Unamiableness (s. from unamiable) The state of being unamiable.
 Unamplified (adj. from un, and amplified) Not amplified.
 Unanalyzed (adj. from un, and analyzed) Not analyzed.
 Unanchored (adj. from un, and anchored) Not anchored.
 Unprepared (adj. an old word) Unprepared. Shakespeare.

U N A

Unanelled (adj. from un, and knell) Having no bell rung. Shakespeare.
 Unanimated (adj. from un, and animate) Not animated, not vivified.
 Unanimating (adj. from un, and animating) Flat, insipid.
 Unanimity (s. from unanimous) Agreement in design, agreement in opinion.
 UNANIMOUS (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and animus the mind) Having one mind, agreeing in opinion, agreeing in a design.
 Unanimously (adv. from unanimous) With one mind, with one voice, with one consent.
 Unanimousness (s. from unanimous) The state of being unanimous.
 Unannealed (adj. from un, and anneal) Not annealed, not tempered, not prepared.
 Unannexed (adj. from un, and annexed) Not annexed.
 Unannihilated (adj. from un, and annihilated) Not annihilated.
 Unannounced (adj. from un, and announced) Not announced.
 Unannoyed (adj. from un, and annoyed) Not annoyed.
 Unannoy'led (adj. an old word) Unannointed.
 Unannulled (adj. from un, and annulled) Not annulled.
 Unanointed (adj. obsolete) Unwearing.
 Unanointed'ed (adj. from un, and anointed) Not anointed.
 Unanswerable (adj. from un, and answerable) Not answerable.
 Unanswerableness (s. from unanswerable) The state of being unanswerable.
 Unanswerably (adv. from unanswerable) In a manner which admits of no confutation.
 Unanxious (adj. from un, and anxious) Not anxious.
 Unapostrophized (adj. from un, and apostrophize) Not apostrophized.
 Unappalled (adj. from un, and appall) Not appalled, not daunted.
 Unappareled (adj. from un, and appareled) Not appareled.
 Unapparent (adj. from un, and apparent) Not apparent, not visible.
 Unapparently (adv. from unapparent) Without appearance, invisibly.
 Unappealable (adj. from un, and appealable) Incapable of being appealed.
 Unappealableness (s. from unappealable) The state of being implacable.
 Unappealed (adj. from un, and appealed) Not appealed.
 Unapplauded (adj. from un, and applauded) Not applauded.
 Unapplicable (adj. from un, and applicable) Incapable of being applied; with to: as, "Unapplicable to their purposes."
 Unapplicableness (s. from unapplicable) The state of being unapplicable.
 Unapplied (adj. from un, and applied) Not applied.
 Unappointed (adj. from un, and appointed) Not appointed.
 Unapportioned (adj. from un, and apportioned) Not apportioned.
 Unappraised (adj. from un, and appraised) Not appraised.
 Unapprehended (adj. from un, and apprehended) Not apprehended, not understood.
 Unapprehensive (adj. from un, and apprehensive) Unready of comprehension, unsuspecting.
 Unapprenticed (adj. from un, and apprenticed) Not apprenticed.
 Unapprized (adj. from un, and apprized) Not apprized.
 Unapproachable (adj. from un, and approachable) Incapable of being approached.
 Unapproachableness (s. from unapproachable) The state of being inaccessible.
 Unapproached (adj. from un, and approach) Inaccessible.
 Unappropriable (adj. from un, and appropriable) Incapable of being appropriated.
 Unappropriated (adj. from un, and appropriated) Not appropriated.
 Unaproned (adj. from un, and apron) Not wearing an apron.
 Unapt (adj. from un, and apt) Unready, unapprehensive; unfit, unqualified; improper, unsuitable.
 Unap-

U N A

Unaptitude (s. from un, and aptitude) Unfitness, indisposition.
 Unaptly (adv. from unapt) Unfitly.
 Unaptness (s. from unapt) Dulness, want of apprehension; unfitness, unsuitableness.
 Unarac'id (adj. obsolete) Not plucked asunder. Chaucer.
 Unaray'ed (adj. from un, and aray) Undressed, not arrayed.
 Unarch'ed (adj. from un, and arched) Not arched.
 Unare (v. t. in old records) To get hay or corn fit to be brought in.
 Unargued (adj. from un, and argue) Not argued, not disputed, not censured.
 Unarm'ed (adj. from un, and arm) Not armed.
 Unaromatized (adj. from un, and aromatized) Not perfumed with aromatics.
 Unarraigned (adj. from un, and arraigned) Not arraigned.
 Unarranged (adj. from un, and arranged) Not arranged.
 Unarray'ed (adj. from un, and arrayed) Undressed.
 Unarrest'ed (adj. from un, and arrested) Not arrested.
 Unarriv'ed (adj. from un, and arrived) Not arrived.
 Unartful (adj. from un, and artful) Not artful, void of cunning, void of skill.
 Unartfully (adv. from unartful) Without art, unskillfully.
 Unarticled (adj. from un, and articulated) Not drawn up in an article.
 Unarticulate (adj. from un, and articulate) Inarticulate.
 Unartificial (adj. from un, and artificial) Contrary to the rules of art.
 Unartificially (adv. from unartificial) In a manner contrary to the rules of art.
 Unaserv'ed (adj. obsolete) Not deserved. Chaucer.
 Unask'ed (adj. from un, and ask) Not asked.
 Unasperated (adj. from un, and asperated) Not asperated.
 Unaspers'ed (adj. from un, and aspered) Not aspered.
 Unaspirated (adj. from un, and aspirated) Not aspirated, not marked with an asper.
 Unaspiring (adj. from un, and aspiring) Not aspiring.
 Unassail'able (adj. from un, and assailable) Incapable of being attacked.
 Unassail'ed (adj. from un, and assailed) Not assailed.
 Unassart'ed (adj. from un, and assarted) Not assarted.
 Unassault'ed (adj. from un, and assaulted) Not assaulted.
 Unassay'ed (adj. from un, and assayed) Unattempted.
 Unassert'ed (adj. from un, and asserted) Not asserted.
 Unassess'ed (adj. from un, and assessed) Not assessed.
 Unassign'able (adj. from un, and assignable) Incapable of being assigned.
 Unassign'ed (adj. from un, and assigned) Not assigned.
 Unassimilated (adj. from un, and assimilated) Not assimilated.
 Unassimulated (adj. from un, and assimulated) Not assimulated.
 Unassist'ed (adj. from un, and assisted) Not assisted.
 Unassisting (adj. from un, and assisting) Not assisting.
 Unassociated (adj. from un, and associated) Not associated.
 Unasort'ed (adj. from un, and assorted) Not assorted.
 Unassuage'ed (adj. from un, and assuage) Not assuaged.
 Unassumed (adj. from un, and assumed) Not assumed.
 Unassuming (adj. from un, and assuming) Not assuming.
 Unassured (adj. from un, and assured) Not assured, not confident.
 Unastrict'ed (adj. from un, and astricted) Not astricted.
 Unatoned (adj. from un, and atoned) Not atoned for.
 Unattach'ed (adj. from un, and attached) Not attached.
 Unattack'ed (adj. from un, and attacked) Not attacked.
 Unattain'able (adj. from un, and attainable) Not attainable.
 Unattainableness (s. from unattainable) The state of being unattainable.
 Unattain'ed (adj. from un, and attained) Not attained.
 Unattaint'ed (adj. from unattaint) Not attainted.
 Unattemper'ed (adj. from un, and attempered) Not attempered.
 Unattempt'ed (adj. from un, and attempted) Not attempted.
 Unattendant (adj. from un, and attendant) Not in waiting.
 Unattended (adj. from un, and attended) Not attended.
 Unattending (adj. from un, and attending) Not attending.
 Unattentive (adj. from un, and attentive) Inattentive.
 Unattenuated (adj. from un, and attenuated) Not attenuated.

U N B

Unatto'ned (adj. from un, and attoned) Not attoned.
 Unattest'ed (adj. from un, and attested) Not attested.
 Unattit'ed (adj. from un, and attired) Not attired.
 Unattracted (adj. from un, and attracted) Not attracted.
 Unattractive (adj. from un, and attractive) Unattractive.
 Unattributed (adj. from un, and attributed) Not attributed.
 Unattuned (adj. from un, and attuned) Not attuned.
 Unavail'able (adj. from un, and available) Not available.
 Unavailableness (s. from unavailable) The state of being unavailable.
 Unavail'ing (adj. from un, and availing) Not availing.
 Unaveng'ed (adj. from un, and avenged) Not avenged.
 Unaver'ed (adj. from un, and averred) Not averred.
 Unavert'ed (adj. from un, and averted) Not averted.
 Unaugmented (adj. from un, and augmented) Not augmented.
 Unavoid'able (adj. from un, and avoidable) Inevitable, being avoided.
 Unavoidableness (s. from unavoidable) The state of being unavoidable.
 Unavoid'ably (adv. from unavoidable) In a manner to be avoided.
 Unavoid'ed (adj. from un, and avoid) Not avoided.
 Unavouch'able (adj. from un, and avouchable) Incapable of being avouched.
 Unavouch'ed (adj. from un, and avouched) Not avouched.
 Unavow'able (adj. from un, and avowable) Incapable of being avowed.
 Unavow'ed (adj. from un, and avowed) Not avowed.
 Unauthor'ized (adj. a different spelling) Unauthorized.
 Unauthor'ized (adj. from un, and authorized) Unauthorized.
 Unawakeable (adj. from un, and awakeable) Incapable of being awakened.
 Unawake'ed (adj. from un, and awaked) Not awakened.
 Unawaken'ed (adj. from un, and awakened) Not awakened.
 Unaward'ed (adj. from un, and awarded) Not awarded.
 Unaware (adv. from un, and aware) Without previous notice.
 Unaware (adv. from unaware) Without previous notice.
 Unaw'ed (adj. from un, and awed) Not awed.
 Unback'ed (adj. from un, and backed) Not backed.
 Unback'ed (adj. from un, and backed) Not backed.
 Unbag'ged (adj. from un, and bagged) Not bagged.
 Unbail'able (adj. from un, and bailable) Not bailable.
 Unbail'ed (adj. from un, and bailed) Not bailed.
 Unbait'ed (adj. from un, and bait) Not baited.
 Unbalanced (adj. from un, and balanced) Not balanced.
 Unbal'ast (v. t. from un, and balast) To discharge ship from its balast.
 Unbal'asted (p. from unbalast) Freed from the balast.
 Unbal'asting (p. a. from unbalast) Discharging balast.
 Unbal'asting (s. from the part.) The act of discharging the balast.
 Unbal'asted (adj. from un, and ballasted) Not ballasted.
 Unbanded (adj. from un, and banded) Wanting a band.
 Unbank'ed (adj. from un, and banked) Not banked with a bank.
 Unbaptiz'ed (adj. from un, and baptized) Not baptized.
 Unbar' (v. t. from un, and bar) To unpolish, to remove the bar.
 Unbarb (v. t. from un, and barb) To relieve a horse from his harness or trappings; to uncover.
 Unbarb'ed (p. from unbarb) Relieved as a horse from the harness or trappings; not shaved, bare, uncovered.
 Unbarb'ing (p. a. from unbarb) Relieving from harness or trappings.
 Unbar'ed (adj. from un, and bark) Stripped of bark.
 Unbar'ed (p. from unbar) Unbolted, opened by moving the bar.
 Unbar'el (v. t. from un, and barrel) To take out of a barrel.
 Unbar'elled (p. from unbarrel) Taken out of a barrel.
 Unbar'elling (p. a. from unbarrel) Taking out of a barrel.
 Unbar'elling (s. from the part.) The act of taking out of a barrel.

U N B

ca'ded (adj. from un, and barricaded) Unbarred, opened.
ca'doed (adj. from un, and barricadoed) Unbarred, unstopped.
ing (p. a. from unbar) Unbolting, opening by unbarring the bar.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening by unbarring the bar.
ful (adj. from un, and bashful) Not bashful, immodest.
ing (v. t. from un, and baste) To draw out the threads from any thing that has been slightly stitched together.
ed (p. from unbaste) Cleared from the basting threads.
ing (p. a. from unbaste) Drawing out the threads from which any thing has been slightly stitched together.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing out threads with which any thing has been basted.
ed (adj. from un, and bate) Not repressed, not restrained.
ed (adj. from unbathe) Not bathed.
ered (adj. from un, and batter) Not battered.
ing (v. t. from un, and bay) To set open, to free from the restraint of mounds.
ed (p. from unbay) Set open, freed from the restraint of mounds.
ing (p. a. from unbay) Setting open, freeing from the restraint of mounds.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting open, of delivering from the restraint of mounds.
able (adj. from un, and bearable) Not bearable.
ing (adj. from un, and bearing) Barren, producing no fruit.
en (adj. from un, and beaten) Not beaten, not with blows; unfrequented, untrodden.
me (v. t. from un, and become) To suit ill.
ing (adj. from un, and become) Indecent, unbecomely.
ingly (adv. from unbecoming) Indecently, unbecomingly.
ingness (s. from unbecoming) Indecency, indecency.
ing (v. t. from un, and bed) To raise from a bed.
bled (adj. from un, and bedabbled) Not bedabbled.
gled (adj. from un, and bedaggled) Not bedaggled.
hed (adj. from un, and bedash) Not bedashed.
wb'd (adj. from un, and bedawbed) Not bedawbed.
ed (p. from unbed) Raised from a bed.
ing (p. a. from unbed) Raising from a bed.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of raising from a bed.
ck'd (adj. from un, and bedeck) Not bedecked.
w'd (adj. from un, and bedewed) Not bedewed.
m'd (adj. from un, and bedimmed) Not bedimmed.
ened (adj. from un, and bedizened) Not bedizened.
gled (adj. from un, and bedraggled) Not bedraggled.
ing (adj. from un, and besitting) Unbecoming, unbecomely.
nd'd (adj. from un, and befriended) Not befriended.
g'd (adj. from un, and besfringed) Not besfringed.
t (v. t. from un, and beget) To deprive of existence. Dryden.
d'd (adj. from un, and begirded) Not girded.
t (adj. from un, and begirt) Not girt.
t (adj. from unbeget) Having no beginning, not begotten, not yet generated.
ten (adj. from unbegot) Having no beginning, not begot, not yet generated.
as'd (adj. from un, and begreased) Not begreased.
med (adj. from un, and begrimed) Not begrimed.
le (v. t. from un, and beguile) To undeceive.
led (p. from unbeguile) Not beguiled.
ing (p. a. from unbeguile) Undeceiving.
n (adj. from un, and begun) Not begun.
d (adj. from un, and beheld) Not beheld.
d (adj. from un, and belie) Cleared of a false opinion.

U N B

Unbelie'f (s. from un, and belief) Incredulity, infidelity, irreligion, the want of divine faith.
Unbelie've (v. t. from un, and believe) To discredit, not to believe.
Unbelie'ved (p. from unbelieve) Discredited, not believed.
Unbelie'ver (s. from unbelieve) An infidel, one who disbelieves divine revelation.
Unbelie'ving (p. d. from unbelieve) Discrediting, not believing.
Unbelov'ed (adj. from un, and beloved) Not beloved.
Unbemir'ed (adj. from un, and bemired) Not soiled with mire.
Unbemo'urn'd (adj. from un, and bemo'urn) Not lamented.
Unbend (v. t. from un, and bend) To relax, to remit, to ease.
Unbend'able (adj. from unbend) Incapable of being bent.
Unbend'ed (p. from unbend) Relaxed, eased.
Unbend'ing (p. a. from unbend) Relaxing, easing.
Unbend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of relaxing.
Unben'e'ficed (adj. from un, and benefited) Not possessed of a benefice.
Unben'e'fited (adj. from un, and benefited) Not benefited.
Unbenet'ted (adj. from un, and benetted) Not ensnared, not caught in a net.
Unbenev'olent (adj. from un, and benevolent) Not benevolent, not kind.
Unbenight'ed (adj. from un, and benighted) Not benighted.
Unbeni'gn (adj. from un, and benign) Unkind, malevolent.
Unben't (adj. from un, and bent) Not bent, relaxed.
Unbenum'm (v. t. from un, and benum) To take away numbness.
Unbenum'm'd (adj. from un, and benumbed) Not benumbed, recovered from numbness.
Unbenum'm'ing (p. a. from unbenum) Recovering from numbness.
Unbenum'm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from numbness.
Unbequea'thed (adj. from un, and bequeath) Not bequeathed.
Unbe'tide (adj. an old spelling) Unbarred. Chaucer.
Unbese'e'm (v. t. from un, and beseem) To unbecome, to suit ill.
Unbese'e'm'ing (adj. from un, and beseem) Unbecoming.
Unbese'e'm'ingly (adv. from unbeseeming) Indecently.
Unbese'e'm'ingness (s. from unbeseeming) Indecency.
Unbese't (adj. from un, and beset) Not yet set on, not yet besieged.
Unbesmea'r'd (adj. from un, and besmeared) Not besmeared.
Unbeimirc'h'd (adj. a droll word, from un, and besmirched) Not beimirched, not soiled.
Unbesmut'ted (adj. from un, and besmuttered) Not besmuttered.
Unbesou'ght (adj. from un, and besought) Not intreated, unasked.
Unbespo'ke (adj. from un, and bespoke) Not bespoken.
Unbespo'ken (adj. from un, and bespoken) Not bespoken.
Unbesprink'led (adj. from un, and besprinkled) Not besprinkled.
Unbestow'ed (adj. from un, and bestowed) Not bestowed, not disposed of.
Unbethi'nk, Unbethink'en (v. t. a local word) To bethink. Cole.
Unbeti'de (v. int. obsolete) To fail of taking place. Ch.
Unbetray'ed (adj. from un, and betrayed) Not betrayed.
Unbetroth'ed (adj. from un, and betrothed) Not betrothed.
Unbewall'ed (adj. from un, and bewailed) Not bewailed.
Unbewild'ered (adj. from un, and bewildered) Not bewildered.
Unbewi'tch (v. t. from un, and bewitch) To deliver from the power of witchcraft.
Unbewitch'ed (p. from unbewitch) Delivered from the power of witchcraft.
Unbewitch'ing (p. a. from unbewitch) Delivering from the power of witchcraft.
Unbewitch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of delivering from the power of witchcraft.
Unbi'ass (v. t. from un, and bias) To free from prejudice, to deliver from undue influence.
Unbi'ass'd (p. from unbiass) Freed from undue influence, freed from prejudice.
Unbi'ass'dly (adv. from unbiass) Without prejudice, without bias.

U N B

Unbiassing (p. a. from unbias) Freeing from undue influence.
 Unbiassing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from prejudices.
 Unbiass'd (adj. from unbias) Not influenced by prejudices.
 Unbid'd (adj. from un, and bid) Uninvited, not bidden.
 Unbid'den (adj. from unbid) Not invited, spontaneous, not commanded.
 Unbi'de (v. int. obsolete) To abide. Chaucer.
 Unbiggoted (adj. from un, and bigoted) Not bigoted.
 Unbiggotted (adj. a different spelling) Unbigoted, not bigoted. Addison.
 Unbilletted (adj. from un, and billeted) Not billeted.
 Unbind (v. t. from un, and bind) To loose, to untie.
 Unbind'ing (p. a. from unbind) Loosing, untying.
 Unbind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unloosing, the act of untying.
 Unbish'op (v. t. from un, and bishop) To deprive of episcopal orders.
 Unbish'oped (adj. from un, and bishop) Not confirmed by the bishop; deprived of episcopal orders.
 Unbish'oping (p. a. from unbishop) Depriving of episcopal orders.
 Unbish'oping (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of episcopal orders.
 Unbish'opped (adj. a different spelling) Unbishoped, deprived of episcopal functions. South.
 Unbit' (v. t. from un, and bit) To move from off the bits; to take the bit out of the mouth.
 Unbit'ed (p. from unbit, not so analogical) unbitted.
 Unbit'ing (p. a. from unbit, but not so analogical) Unbitting.
 Unbit'ing (s. not so analogical a spelling) The act of unbitting, the act of taking from off the bits on board a ship.
 Unbit'ted (adj. from un, and bitted) Unbridled, unrestrained; moved from off the bits.
 Unbit'ting (p. a. from unbit) Taking from off the bits; taking the bit out of the mouth.
 Unbit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the bits; the act of taking the bit out of the mouth.
 Unblameable (adj. from un, and blameable) Not blameable, not culpable.
 Unblameableness (s. from unblameable) The state of being innocent.
 Unblameably (adv. from unblameable) In a manner not worthy of blame.
 Unblamed (adj. from un, and blame) Not blamed.
 Unblanch'ed (adj. from un, and blanch'd) Not blanch'd.
 Unblasphem'd (adj. from un, and blasphemed) Not blasphemed.
 Unblast'ed (adj. from un, and blast'd) Not blast'd.
 Unblazon'd (adj. from un, and blazon'd) Not blazon'd.
 Unbleach'ed (adj. from un, and bleach'd) Not bleach'd.
 Unblemish'd (adj. from un, and blemish'd) Not blemish'd, free from reproach, free from blemish.
 Unbleach'ed (adj. from un, and bleached) Not disgraced, not injured by any spot or stain.
 Unblend'ed (adj. from un, and blend'd) Not blended, unmingled.
 Unbles'ed (adj. from un, and bles'd) Not blessed, wretched, unhappy.
 Unble'st (adj. from unblest) Unbless'd, miserable, unhappy.
 Unblind'd (v. t. from un, and blind) To restore to sight, to take off a blind.
 Unblind'ed (p. from unblind) Restored to sight, delivered from blindness.
 Unblind'ing (p. a. from unblind) Restoring to sight, freeing from a blind.
 Unblind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of removing a blind, the act of restoring to sight.
 Unblister'd (adj. from un, and blister'd) Not blister'd.
 Unblood'ed (adj. from un, and blood'd) Not blood'd, not stained with blood.
 Unblood'ied (adj. from un, and bloodied) Not stained with blood.
 Unblood'y (adj. from un, and bloody) Not cruel, not bloodthirsty, not stained with blood.
 Unblot'ted (adj. from un, and blot) Not blotted.
 Unblow'n (adj. from un, and blown) Not yet blown.
 Unblunt'ed (adj. from un, and blunted) Not blunted.
 Unbod'ie (v. int. from un, and body, obsolete) To leave the body. Chaucer.
 Unbod'ied (p. from unbodie) Freed from the body, having no body.
 Unboil'ed (adj. from un, and boil) Not boiled.
 Unbo'kle (v. t. an old spelling) To unbuckle. Chaucer.
 Unboiled (adj. from un, and boiled) Not boiled, not raised in a stalk.

U N B

Unbol'ster'd (adj. from un, and bolster'd) Not bolster'd.
 Unbol't (v. t. from un, and bolt) To unbar, to loose by loosing the bolt.
 Unbolt'ed (p. from unbolt) Unbarred.
 Unbolt'ed (adj. from un, and bolted) Not bolted, separated by fitting.
 Unbolt'ing (p. a. from unbolt) Unbarring, unfastening the bolt.
 Unbolt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unbarring, the act of loosening the bolt.
 Unbo'ne (v. t. from un, and bone) To take out the bones.
 Unbo'ned (p. from unbone) Freed from bones.
 Unbo'ning (p. a. from unbone) Taking out the bones.
 Unbo'ning (s. from the part.) The act of taking out the bones.
 Unbon'neted (adj. from un, and bonnet) Wanting a bonnet, wanting a hat.
 Unbook'ish (adj. from un, and bookish) Not bookish, inclined to study, uncultivated by learning.
 Unboot'ed (adj. from un, and boot) Not furnished with boots.
 Unborder'd (adj. from un, and bordered) Not bordered.
 Unbo're'd (adj. from un, and bored) Not bored, pierced.
 Unbo'rn (adj. from un, and born) Not yet born.
 Unbor'rowed (adj. from un, and borrowed) Not borrowed, genuine.
 Unbo'som (v. t. from un, and bosom) To lay open the secrets of the breast, to vent the troubles of the heart, to open, to disclose.
 Unbo'somed (p. from unbosom) Laid open, known.
 Unbo'soming (p. a. from unbosom) Laying open the secrets of the breast.
 Unbo'soming (s. from the part.) The act of laying open the secrets of the breast.
 Unbotan'ical (adj. from un, and botanical) Contrary to the rules of botany.
 Unbottom'd (adj. from un, and bottom) Having no bottom, having no solid foundation.
 Unbought (adj. from un, and bought) Obtained without money; not sold, not bought.
 Unboul'ted (adj. from un, and bould) Not bouldered, fitted.
 Unbound (p. from unbind) Untied, relaxed, loose.
 Unbound'ed (adj. from un, and bound) Having no restraint.
 Unbound'edly (adv. from unbounded) Without limits, without limits.
 Unbound'edness (s. from unbounded) The state of being unbounded.
 Unbow'd (adj. from un, and bow) Unbent.
 Unbow'el (v. t. from un, and bowel) To eviscerate, to take out the bowels.
 Unbow'el'd (p. from unbowel) Eviscerated, deprived of the bowels.
 Unbow'eling (p. a. from unbowel) Eviscerating, taking out the bowels.
 Unbow'eling (s. from the part.) The act of taking out the bowels.
 Unbo'x (v. t. from un, and box) To take out of a box.
 Unbox'ed (p. from unbox) Taken out of a box.
 Unbox'ing (p. a. from unbox) Taking out of a box.
 Unbox'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking out of a box.
 Unbra'ce (v. t. from un, and brace) To loose, to unfold.
 Unbra'ced (p. from unbrace) Loose, relaxed.
 Unbra'cing (p. a. from unbrace) Loosing, relaxing.
 Unbra'cing (s. from the part.) The act of loosening, the act of relaxing.
 Unbra'id (v. t. from un, and braid) To unweave, to untangle.
 Unbra'id'ed (p. from unbraid) Unwoven, unweaved, fresh.
 Unbra'id'ing (p. a. from unbraid) Unweaving, untangling.
 Unbra'id'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unweaving, the act of disentangling.
 Unbrand'ed (adj. from un, and branded) Not branded, not marked for infamy.
 Unbra'ze (v. t. from un, and braze) To unbraid.
 Unbra'zed (p. from unbraze) Unfolded as braided.
 Unbra'zing (p. a. from unbraze) Unfolding, unbraiding.
 Unbra'zing (s. from the part.) The act of unbraiding, the act of unbraiding.

U N B

shed (adj. from un, and breathed) Not ex-not breathed.
thing (adj. from un, and breathing) Unani-
- (adj. from un, and bred) Not taught, not ed in civilities.
hed (adj. from un, and breeched) Having no es.
mid (adj. obsolete) Unburnt. Chaucer.
t (adj. obsolete) Unburnt. Chaucer.
ed (adj. from un, and brewed) Not brewed.
did (adj. obsolete) Unbraided, not braided.
ed (adj. from un, and bribe) Not bribed, not need by gifts.
le (v. t. from un, and bridle) To take a bridle off a horse.
led (p. from unbridle) Freed from the restraint of a bridle; not restrained, licentious.
ling (p. a. from unbridle) Taking off the bridle.
ling (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the hed (adj. from un, and broach) Not broached, pped, not divulged.
dered (adj. from un, and broidered) Not broidin (adj. obsolete) Unbraided. Chaucer.
ed (adj. from un, and broil) Not broiled.
ke (adj. from un, and broke) Unbroken.
ken (adj. from un, and broken) Not violated, ubdued, not tamed.
ched (adj. from un, and brooched) Not adorned jewels.
ded (adj. from un, and brood) Not brooded.
therlike (adj. from un, brother, and like) Unbe-ng a brother, unbrotherly.
therly (adj. from un, and brotherly) Unbecom-brother.
hed (adj. from un, and bruise) Not bruise-d.
hed (adj. from un, and brushed) Not brushed.
kle (v. t. from un, and buckle) To loose the le, to free from the tension of the buckle.
led (p. from unbuckle) Freed from the tension
the buckle, loosed from the buckle.
ling (p. a. from unbuckle) Loosing the buckle, ng from the tension of the buckle.
ling (s. from the part.) The act of loosing the le.
ded (adj. from un, and budded) Not budded, not lated.
led (adj. from un, and buddied) Not buddied, ained as ore from the filth.
geted (adj. from un, and budgeted) Not bud-feted (adj. from un, and buffeted) Not buffeted.
ld (v. t. from un, and build) To take down what been built.
ded (p. from unbuild) Taken down as a build-not yet built.
ding (p. a. from unbuild) Taking down as a
ing.
lt (adj. from un, and built) Not yet built.
led (adj. from un, and bull) Not bulled.
dle (v. t. from un, and bundle) To open a le.
dled (p. from unbundle) Opened as a bundle,
out of a bundle.
dling (p. a. from unbundle) Opening a bundle,
ng out of a bundle.
dling (s. from the part.) The act of opening a le.
ng (v. t. from un, and bung) To take out a g.
ged (p. from unbung) Freed from the bung.
ging (p. a. from unbung) Taking out the bung.
ging (s. from the part.) The act of taking out bung.
den (v. t. from un, and burden) To throw off, of a load; to disclose what lies heavy on the d. dened (p. from unburden) Thrown off, rid of a eased of a burden on the mind.
dening (p. a. from unburden) Throwing off, ng of a load, disclosing what lies heavy on the d. dening (s. from the part.) The act of casting off a the act of disclosing what lies heavy on the d. ied (adj. from un, and bury) Not buried.
led (adj. from un, and buried) Not buried.
ned (adj. from un, and burned) Not burned.

U N C

Unburn'ing (adj. from un, and burning) Not consumed by fire. Shakespeare.
Unburn'ished (adj. from un, and burnished) Not burnished.
Unbu'rnt (adj. from un, and burnt) Not burnt.
Unbu'rst (adj. from un, and burst) Not burst.
Unbur'then (v. t. the more formal spelling) To unburden.
Unbur'thened (p. from unburthen) Unburdened.
Unbur'thening (p. a. from unburthen) Unburdening.
Unbur'thening (s. from the part.) The act of unbur-dening.
Unbus'kined (adj. from un, and buskined) Not dressed in buskins.
Unbut'tered (adj. from un, and buttered) Not buttered.
Unbut'ton (v. t. from un, and button) To loose any thing buttoned.
Unbut'toned (p. from unbutton) Loosed from the buttons.
Unbut'toning (p. a. from unbutton) Loosing any thing buttoned.
Unbut'toning (s. from the part.) The act of loosing any thing buttoned.
Uncal'ged (adj. from un, and caged) Not put into a cage.
Uncal'cined (adj. from un, and calcined) Not calcined.
Uncalk'ed (adj. from un, and calk) Not calked.
Uncal'led (adj. from un, and call) Not called, not invited.
Uncal'm (v. t. from un, and calm) To disturb.
Uncalm'ed (p. from uncalm) Disturbed.
Uncalm'ing (p. a. from uncalm) Disturbing.
Uncalum'niated (adj. from un, and calumniated) Not calumniated.
Uncam'rated (adj. from un, and camerated) Not came-rated, not arched.
Uncam'phorated (adj. from un, and camphorated) Not impregnated with camphire.
Uncan'celled (adj. from un, and cancelled) Not cancelled.
Uncan'did (adj. from un, and candid) Not candid.
Uncan'died (adj. from un, and candied) Not candied.
Uncan'ed (adj. from un, and caned) Unbeaten, not beaten with a cane.
Uncan'kered (adj. from un, and cankered) Not cankered.
Uncanon'ical (adj. from un, and canonical) Not canonical.
Uncanon'ically (adv. from uncanonical) In a manner not agreeable to the canons.
Uncanon'icalneis (s. from uncanonical) The state or quality of being uncanonical.
Uncanon'ized (adj. from un, and canonized) Not canonized.
Uncan'opied (adj. from un, and canopied) Not canopied.
Uncan'toned (adj. from un, and cantoned) Not cantoned.
Uncan'tonized (adj. from un, and cantonized) Not cantonized.
Uncan'vassed (adj. from un, and canvassed) Not canvassed.
Uncap'able (adj. from un, and capable) Incapable.
Uncap'ableness (s. from incapable) Incapableness.
Uncap'ar'foned (adj. from un, and caparifoned) Not caparifoned.
Uncap'ped (adj. from un, and cap) Deprived of a cap,
having no cap.
Uncard'ed (adj. from un, and carded) Not carded.
Uncar'ed (adj. from un, and cared) Not regarded, not attended to; with for: as, "it was uncared for." Sc.
Uncar'oled (adj. from un, and caroled) Not praised, not celebrated.
Uncar'nate (adj. an uncommon word) Not carnal, not fleishly. Brown.
Uncar'peted (adj. from un, and carpeted) Not furnished with carpets.
Uncar'ried (adj. from un, and carried) Not carried.
Uncart'ed (adj. from un, and carted) Not exposed in a cart; not used with carts.
Uncarv'ed (adj. from un, and carved) Not carved.
Uncas'ie (v. t. from un, and case) To disengage from a case or covering; to flay.
Uncas'ed (p. from uncase) Disengaged from a case or covering.
Uncas'ing (p. a. from uncase) Disengaging from a case or covering.
Uncas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disengaging from a case or covering.
Uncas'keted (adj. from un, and casket) Not put up in a casket.
Uncas't (adj. from un, and cast) Not cast.

U N C

Uncas'tle (v. t. from un, and castle) To drive out of a castle.

Uncast'led (adj. from un, and castled) Not furnished with castles, driven out of a castle.

Uncast'ling (p. a. from uncastle) Driving out of a castle.

Uncas'trated (adj. from un, and castrated) Not castrated.

Uncatch'ed (adj. from un, and catched) Not caught.

Uncat'echised (adj. from un, and catechised) Not catechised.

Uncau'ght (adj. from un, and caught) Not caught.

Uncau'fed (adj. from un, and caufed) Not caused, having no precedent cause.

Uncau'terized (adj. from un, and cauterized) Not cauterized.

Uncau'tious (adj. from un, and cautious) Incautious, not wary.

Uncea'ring (adj. from un, and ceasing) Not ceasing.

Uncei'led (adj. from un, and ceiled) Not ceiled.

Unce'l'ibrated (adj. from un, and celebrated) Not celebrated.

Unce'men'ted (adj. from un, and cemented) Not cemented.

Unce'n'surable (adj. from un, and censurable) Not censurable.

Unce'n'sured (adj. from un, and censured) Not censured.

Unce'n'tred (adj. from un, and centred) Not fixed on a centre.

Unce'r'tain (adj. from un, and certain) Not certain, dubious.

Unce'r'tained (adj. from uncertain) Made uncertain. Ral.

Unce'r'tainly (adv. from uncertain) With uncertainty; with doubt.

Unce'r'tainness (s. from uncertain) Uncertainty.

Unce'r'tainty (s. from uncertain) The state of being uncertain, the want of certainty, something unknown.

Unce'r'tified (adj. from un, and certified) Not certified.

Unce's'sant (adj. from un, and cessant) Incessant.

Unce's'santly (adv. from unce's'sant) Incessantly.

Unce's'sed (adj. from un, and cessed) Not cessed, not assessed.

Uncha'f'ed (adj. from un, and chafed) Not chafed.

Unchai'n (v. t. from un, and chain) To free from chains, to loose a chain.

Unchai'n'ed (p. from unchain) Freed from chains.

Unchai'n'ing (p. a. from unchain) Freeing from chains.

Unchai'n'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from chains.

Unchai'r'ed (adj. from un, and chair) Not chaired.

Unchai'ked (adj. from un, and chalked) Not marked with chalk, not manured with chalk.

Unchal'l'enged (adj. from un, and challenged) Not challenged.

Uncham'bered (adj. from un, and chambered) Not shut up in a chamber, not made hollow.

Uncham'bered (adj. from un, and chamfered) Not chamfered, not sloped off at the edge.

Unchan'geable (adj. from un, and changeable) Not subject to change, immutable.

Unchan'geableness (s. from unchangeable) Immutability.

Unchan'geably (adv. from unchangeable) Immutably, without change.

Unchan'ged (adj. from un, and changed) Not changed.

Unchan'ging (adj. from un, and changing) Stable, not changing.

Unchan'nelled (adj. from un, and channelled) Not cut into channels.

Unchant'ed (adj. from un, and chanted) Not chanted, not celebrated in song.

Unchar'acterized (adj. from un, and characterized) Not characterized.

Uncha'r'ge (v. t. from un, and charge) To draw a charge, to retract an accusation.

Uncha'r'ged (p. from uncharge) Freed from a charge, unloaded as a gun; not impressed with any bearing in heraldry.

Uncha'r'ging (p. a. from uncharge) Extrading a charge, retracting an accusation.

Uncha'r'ging (s. from the part.) The act of drawing a charge.

Unchar'itable (adj. from un, and charitable) Void of charity, unkind; censorious.

Unchar'itableness (s. from uncharitable) The want of charity, the state of being uncharitable.

Unchar'itably (adv. from uncharitable) Without charity, ungenerously, censoriously.

Unchar'ked (adj. from un, and charked) Not charked.

Uncha'r'm (v. t. from un, and charm) To deliver from the influence of a charm.

Unchar'm'ed (p. from uncharm) Delivered from the influence of a charm.

Unchar'm'ing (p. a. from uncharm) Delivering from the influence of a charm; not charming.

U N C

Uncharm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the influence of a charm.

Unchar're'd (adj. from un, and ehar) Not charred.

Uncha'r'ry (adj. from un, and chary) Not wary, cautious.

Uncha's'ed (adj. from un, and chase) Not chased, pursued.

Uncha's'te (adj. from un, and chaste) Not chaste, continent; not pure.

Uncha's'tened (adj. from un, and chastened) Not chastened.

Uncha's'tif'ed (adj. from un, and cha's'tifed) Not cha's'tifed.

Uncha's'tity (s. from unchaste) Incontinence, the want of chastity.

Uncha's'tly (adv. from unchaste) Without chastity.

Uncha's'tness (s. from unchaste) The want of chastity.

Unche'ck'ed (adj. from un, and checked) Not checked, unrestrained.

Unchee'r'ed (adj. from un, and cheered) Not cheered.

Unchee'r'ful (adj. from un, and cheerful) Not cheerful, melancholy.

Unchee'r'fulness (s. from uncheerful) The want of cheerfulness, melancholy.

Unche'r'ished (adj. from un, and cherished) Not cherished.

Unchev'roned (adj. from un, and chevroned) Not adorned with a chevron.

Unchev'ron (adj. from un, and chewed) Not chewed.

Unchid'den (adj. from un, and chidden) Not chidden.

Unchil'd (v. t. from un, and child) To deprive of children.

Unchil'd'ed (p. from unchild) Deprived of children.

Unchil'd'ing (p. a. from unchild) Depriving of children.

Unchil'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of children.

Unchil'd'like (adj. from un, and childlike) Unchildlike, unbecoming a child.

Uncho'ke (v. t. from un, and choke) To unstop, to move obstructions.

Uncho'ked (p. from unchoke) Unstopped.

Uncho'king (p. a. from unchoke) Unstopping, removing obstructions.

Uncho'king (s. from the part.) The act of unstopping, the act of removing obstructions.

Uncho'p'ed (adj. from un, and chopped) Not chopped.

Unchris't'ened (adj. from un, and christened) Not christened.

Unchris't'ian (adj. from un, and christian) Contrary to christianity, unbecoming a profession of christianity, infidel, unconverted.

Unchris't'ian (v. t. from the adj.) To judge as destitute of christianity, to treat as destitute of christianity.

Unchris't'ianed (p. from unchristian) Judged as destitute of christianity.

Unchris't'ianing (p. a. from unchristian) Judging as destitute of christianity, treating as destitute of christianity.

Unchris't'ianize (v. t. from un, and christianize) To judge as destitute of christianity, to shut out from the privileges of the christian religion.

Unchris't'ianized (p. from unchristianize) Judged as destitute of christianity, shut out from the privileges of christianity.

Unchris't'ianizing (p. a. from unchristianize) Judging as destitute of christianity, shutting out from the privileges of christianity.

Unchris't'ianizing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting out from the privileges of christianity.

Unchris't'ianly (adv. from unchristian) In a manner befitting a christian.

Unchris't'ianness (s. from unchristian) The want of christianity, a contrariety to the christian religion.

Unchron'icled (adj. from un, and chronicled) Not chronicled.

Unchur'ch (v. t. from un, and church) To excommunicate, to deprive of the privileges of the church.

Unchur'ched (p. from unchurch) Excommunicated, deprived of the privileges of the church; not churching.

Unchur'ching (p. a. from unchurch) Excommunicating, depriving of the privileges of the church.

Unchur'ching (s. from the part.) The act of excommunicating.

Unchurn'ed (adj. from un, and churn) Not churned.

UN'CIA (s. from the Lat.) An ounce, the twelfth part of a pound; a number prefixed to any quantity in algebraical notations.

UN'CIÆ (s. plu. from uncia) The numbers prefixed to algebraical quantities.

Un'cial (adj. from uncia) Belonging to letters of a size anciently used in inscriptions.

U N C al (s. from the adj.) A letter of a larger size formerly used in inscriptions.

 atrized (adj. from un, and cicatrized) Not cicatrized.
 ulated (adj. from un, and circulated) Not circulated.
 umcised (adj. from un, and circumcised) Not circumcised.
 umcisation (s. from un, and circumcission) The action of circumcising, people uncircumcised.
 umscribed (adj. from un, and circumscribed) Not circumscribed.
 umscript (adj. from un, and circumscribed) Not circumscribed, unlimited. Chaucer.
 umspect (adj. from un, and circumspect) Not circumspect.
 umstantial (adj. from un, and circumstantial) Not circumstantial. Brown.
 umstantial (adj. from un, and circumstantial) Not placed in particular circumstances, not described in particular circumstances.
 is (s. plu. an old spelling) Ounces. Chaucer.
 ted (adj. from un, and cited) Not cited, not summoned.
 vil (adj. from un, and civil) Uncomplaisant, unpolite, not civil.
 vil'ity (s. from uncivil) Incivility.
 vilized (adj. from un, and civilized) Not civilized, indecent.
 villy (adv. from uncivil) Without civility, without complaisance.
 ad (adj. from un, and clad) Not clad.
 aimed (adj. from un, and claimed) Not claimed.
 ammed (adj. from un, and clammed) Freed from obstruction of glutinous matter.
 amped (adj. from un, and clamped) Not fastened with a clamp.
 ap'ped (adj. from un, and clapped) Not clapped, unapplauded.
 apt (adj. from un, and clapt) Unclapped, unapplauded.
 ar'ified (adj. from un, and clarified) Not clarified.
 asp (v. t. from un, and clasp) To open what is fastened with a clasp.
 al'ped (p. from unclasp) Freed from the confinement of a clasp.
 asp'ing (p. a. from unclasp) Opening what is shut with a clasp.
 asp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening what fastened with a clasp.
 as'ic (adj. from un, and clastic) Not clastic.
 as'ical (adj. from unclastic) Not clastic.
 as'ically (adv. from unclastic) In a manner opposed to that of the clastics.
 aw'ed (adj. from un, and clawed) Not torn with claws.
 ay' (v. t. from un, and clay) To free from clay.
 ay'ed (p. from unclay) Freed from clay.
 ay'ing (p. a. from unclay) Freeing from clay, taking off clay.
 ay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from clay.
 CLE (s. from the French uncle) The father's brother, the mother's brother.
 ear'n (adj. from un, and clean) Foul, dirty; impure, unchaste.
 ear'linefs (s. from uncleanly) The want of cleanliness.
 ear'ly (adv. from unclean) With foulness, with impurity.
 ear'ly (adj. from unclean) Foul, dirty; impure, indecent, unchaste.
 ear'nefs (s. from unclean) Want of cleanliness, nastiness; the want of ceremonial purity; incontinence, wickedness; sin, wickedness.
 ear'ied (adj. from un, and cleaned) Not cleaned.
 ear'r (adj. from un, and clear) Not clear, muddy.
 ear'ed (adj. from un, and cleared) Not cleared.
 it (adj. from un, and clift) Not cleaved, not split.
 e'ment (adj. from un, and clement) Not clement, clement.
 en'ch (v. t. from un, and clench) To open the closed hand, to raise the point of a bended nail.
 en'ched (p. from unclench) Opened as the closed hand, raised as the point of a bended nail.
 en'ching (p. a. from unclench) Opening the closed hand, raising the point of a bended nail.
 en'ching (s. from the part.) The act of opening the closed hand, the act of raising the point of a bended nail.
 er'ical (adj. from un, and clerical) Not suited to the clergy.
 ew'er (adj. from un, and clever) Not clever.

U N C

Unclew'ernefs (s. from unclever) The state of being unclever.
 Unclew' (v. t. from un, and clew) To undo. Shakefp.
 Unclew'ed (p. from unclaw) Undone.
 Unclew'ing (p. a. from unclaw) Undoing.
 Unclew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of undoing.
 Uncli'ented (adj. from un, and cliented) Not cliented, not provided with a client.
 Uncli'mbed (adj. from un, and climbed) Not climbed.
 Uncli'nch (v. t. from un, and clinch) To open the closed hand, to raise the point of a bended nail.
 Unclin'ched (p. from unclinch) Opened as the closed hand, raised as the point of a bended nail.
 Unclin'ching (p. a. from unclinch) Opening the closed hand, raising the point of a bended nail.
 Unclin'ching (s. from the part.) The act of opening the closed hand, the act of raising the point of a bended nail.
 Unclip'ped (s. from un, and clipped) Not clipped.
 Uncloak' (v. t. from un, and cloak) To take off a cloak, to free from the incumbrance of a cloak.
 Uncloak'ed (p. from uncloak) Freed from the incumbrance of a cloak, having no cloak.
 Uncloak'ing (p. a. from uncloak) Taking off the cloak.
 Uncloak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the cloak.
 Uncloath' (v. t. from un, and cloath) To strip, to make naked.
 Uncloath'ed (p. from uncloath) Stripped, made naked.
 Uncloath'ing (p. a. from uncloath) Stripping, making naked.
 Uncloath'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping off the cloaths.
 Unclog' (v. t. from un, and clog) To rid from obstructions, to disencumber, to set at liberty.
 Unclog'ged (p. from unclog) Set at liberty, freed from obstructions.
 Unclog'ging (p. a. from unclog) Setting at liberty, freeing from obstructions.
 Unclog'ging (s. from the part.) The act of setting at liberty, the act of freeing from obstructions.
 Unclois'ter (v. t. from un, and cloister) To set at liberty, to free from a cloister. Johnson.
 Unclois'tered (adj. from un, and cloistered) Not cloistered, not shut up in a cloister; delivered from a cloister.
 Unclois'tering (p. a. from uncloister) Freeing from a cloister.
 Unclois'tering (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from a cloister.
 Unclo'ie (v. t. from un, and close) To open.
 Unclo'ied (p. from unclosed) Opened, not separated by inclosures.
 Unclo'id (adj. an old spelling) Unclosed, untied. Chau.
 Unclo'ing (p. a. from uncloise) Opening, laying open.
 Unclo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying open.
 Unclo'ted (adj. from un, and clotted) Not clotted, not formed into clots.
 Unclo'ud'ed (adj. from un, and clouded) Not clouded.
 Unclo'ud'ednefs (s. from unclouded) The state of being unclouded.
 Unclo'ud'y (adj. from un, and cloudy) Free from clouds.
 Unclo'ven (adj. from un, and cloven) Not cloven.
 Unclo'u't (v. t. from un, and clout) To free from clouts.
 Unclo'u'ted (p. from unclout) Freed from clouts, not clouted, not clotted.
 Unclo'u'ting (p. a. from unclout) Freeing from clouts.
 Unclo'u'ting (s. from unclout) The act of freeing from clouts.
 Unclo'u'y (v. t. from un, and cloy) To unstop as a piece of ordnance that has been spiked up.
 Uncloy'ed (p. from unclay) Unstopped; freed from obstructions.
 Uncloy'ing (p. a. from unclay) Unstopping, freeing from obstructions.
 Uncloy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unstopping.
 Unclu'tch (v. t. from un, and clutch) To open, to open the closed hand.
 Unclut'ched (p. from unclutch) Opened as the closed hand.
 Unclut'ching (p. a. from unclutch) Opening the closed hand.
 Unclut'ching (s. from the part.) The act of opening the closed hand.
 Uncoa'ch (v. t. from un, and coach, a colloquial word) To take out of a coach, to force out of a coach.
 Uncoag'ulated (adj. from un, and coagulated) Not coagulated.
 Uncoa't (v. t. from un, and coat) To strip off the coat, to uncover, to lay bare.
 Uncoat'ed (p. from uncoat) Stripped of the coat, laid bare, uncovered.
 Uncoat'ing

UNC

Uncoat'ing (p. a. from uncoat) Stripping off the coat, uncovering.
Uncoat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping off the coat.
Uncock (v. t. from un, and cock) To let down as the brim of a hat, to let down the hammer of a gun.
Uncock'ed (p. from uncock) Let down as a cock, not cocked.
Uncock'ing (p. a. from uncock) Letting down the cock, taking down the cock of a hat or gun.
Uncock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of letting down the cock.
Uncod'ded (adj. from un, and cod) Not formed in cods.
Uncod'ded (adj. from un, and codle) Not codled.
Uncossered (adj. from un, and cossered) Not cossered, not laid up in a cosser.
Uncosined (adj. from un, and cosined) Not put into a coffin.
Uncogged (adj. from un, and cogged) Not furnished with cogs.
Uncohesive (adj. from un, and cohesive) Not cohesive.
Uncohabited (adj. from un, and cohabited) Not cohabited.
Uncoiff (v. t. from un, and coif) To deprive of a headdress, to pull off the cap.
Uncoiffed (p. from uncoiff) Deprived of a headdress, having the cap pulled off.
Uncoiffing (p. a. from uncoiff) Pulling off the headdress, pulling off the cap.
Uncoiff'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling off the headdress.
Uncoil (v. t. from un, and coil) To open a coil, to open a part which is coiled or wrapped over another.
Uncoiled (p. from uncoil) Opened from a coil.
Uncoiling (p. a. from uncoil) Opening a coil.
Uncoiling (s. from the part.) The act of opening a coil.
Uncoined (adj. from un, and coined) Not coined.
Uncollar (v. t. from un, and collar) To take off a collar, to free from a collar.
Uncollared (p. from uncollar) Freed from a collar.
Uncollaring (p. a. from uncollar) Freeing from a collar.
Uncollaring (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the collar.
Uncollated (adj. from un, and collated) Not collated.
Uncollected (adj. from un, and collected) Not collected.
Uncolonized (adj. from un, and colonized) Not colonized.
Uncoloured (adj. from un, and coloured) Not coloured.
Uncombed (adj. from un, and combed) Not combed.
Uncome (s. an old word in farriery) A felon, a whitlow.
Uncomeatable (adj. from un, and comeatable) Unattainable.
Uncomeat'ableness (s. from uncomeatable) The state of being unattainable.
Uncomelier (adj. comp. of uncomely) Uncomely in a greater degree.
Uncomeliest (adj. sup. of uncomely) Uncomely in the greatest degree.
Uncomeliness (s. from uncomely) The want of comeliness.
Uncomely (adj. from un, and comely) Not comely.
Uncomfortable (adj. from un, and comfortable) Not comfortable, gloomy, melancholy.
Uncomfortableness (s. from uncomfortable) The state of being uncomfortable.
Uncomfortably (adv. from uncomfortable) Without comfort, without cheerfulness.
Uncomforted (adj. from un, and comforted) Not comforted.
Uncommanded (adj. from un, and commanded) Not commanded.
Uncommem'orated (adj. from un, and commemorated) Not commemorated.
Uncommend'ed (adj. from un, and commended) Not commended.
Uncommensurability (s. from uncommensurable) The state of being uncommensurable; incommensurability.
Uncommensurable (adj. from un, and commensurable) Incommensurable.
Uncommensurableness (s. from uncommensurable) Incommensurableness.
Uncommensurate (adj. from un, and commensurate) Not commensurate.
Uncomm'inated (adj. from un, and comminuted) Not comminuted.
Uncommiserated (adj. from un, and commiserated) Not commiserated.
Uncommis'sioned (adj. from un, and commissioned) Not commissioned.
Uncommitt'ed (adj. from un, and committed) Not committed.

UNC

Uncommo'dious (adj. from un, and commodious) Incommo'dious.
Uncommon (adj. from un, and common) Not common.
Uncommoner (adj. comp. of uncommon) Uncommoner in a greater degree.
Uncommonest (adj. sup. of uncommon) Uncommonest in the greatest degree.
Uncommonly (adv. from uncommon) In an uncommon manner, to an uncommon degree.
Uncommonness (s. from uncommon) The state or circumstance of being uncommon.
Uncommunicability (s. from uncommunicable) Incommunicability.
Uncommunicable (adj. from un, and communicable) Incommunicable.
Uncommunicated (adj. from un, and communicated) Not communicated.
Uncommunicative (adj. from un, and communicative) Not communicative.
Uncommutable (adj. from un, and commutable) Incommutable.
Uncompact (adj. from un, and compact) Not compact.
Uncompact'ed (adj. from un, and compacted) Not compacted.
Uncomp'panied (adj. from un, and companied) Having no companion.
Uncom'parable (adj. from un, and comparable) Incomparable, not comparable.
Uncompa'red (adj. from un, and compared) Not compared.
Uncompas'sed (adj. from un, and compassed) Not compassed.
Uncompassionate (adj. from un, and compassionate) Incompassionate.
Uncompat'ible (adj. from un, and compatible) Incompatible.
Uncompel'able (adj. from un, and compellable) Not compellable.
Uncompel'led (adj. from un, and compelled) Not compelled.
Uncompens'able (adj. from un, and compensable) Incomparable of being compensated.
Uncom'petent (adj. from un, and competent) Incompetent.
Uncomplaining (adj. from un, and complaining) Incomplaining.
Uncomplaisance (s. from un, and complaisance) The want of complaisance.
Uncomplaisant (adj. from un, and complaisant) Incomplaisant.
Uncomplex't (adj. not so common a spelling) Uncomplex.
Uncomplete (adj. from un, and complete) Not complete, incomplete.
Uncomplete'd (adj. from uncomplete) Not completed.
Uncomplicated (adj. from un, and complicated) Uncomplicated.
Uncom'plimented (adj. from un, and complimented) Not complimented.
Uncomply'ing (adj. from un, and complying) Not complying.
Uncompos'ed (adj. from un, and composed) Not composed.
Uncompounded (adj. from un, and compounded) Simple, not compounded.
Uncompoundedness (s. from uncompounded) The state of being uncompounded.
Uncompre'hensible (adj. from un, and comprehensible) Incomprehensible.
Uncompre'hensive (adj. from un, and comprehensive) Incomprehensive.
Uncompressed (adj. from un, and compressed) Not compressed.
Uncompress'ible (adj. from un, and compressible) Incompressible.
Uncompress'ed (adj. from un, and compressed) Not compressed.
Uncompre'st (adj. from un, and compressed) Not compressed.
Uncomprised (adj. from un, and comprised) Not comprised.
Uncom'promised (adj. from un, and compromised) Not compromised.
Uncompul'sive (adj. from un, and compulsive) Not compulsive.
Uncomput'ed (adj. from un, and computed) Not computed.
Unconcam'rated (adj. from un, and concamerated) Not concamerated, not vaulted.
Unconcatenated (adj. from un, and concatenated) Unconcatenated.
Unconceal'ed (adj. from un, and concealed) Not concealed.
Unconced'ed (adj. from un, and conceded) Not conceded.
Unconceit'ed (adj. from un, and conceited) Not conceited.
Unconceiv'able (adj. from un, and conceivable) Unconceivable, inconceivable.

U N C

Unconceivableness (s. from unconceivable) The state of being inconceivable.
 Unconceivably (adv. from unconceivable) Inconceivably.
 Unconceived (adj. from un, and conceived) Not conceived.
 Unconcern (s. from un, and concern) Negligence, unconcernedness.
 Unconcerned (adj. from unconcern) Negligent, having interest, unanxious.
 Unconcernedly (adv. from unconcerned) Without concern, without anxiety.
 Unconcernedness (s. from unconcerned) The state of being unconcerned.
 Unconcerning (adj. from unconcern) Not interesting, affecting.
 Unconcernment (s. from unconcern) The state of having no concern or interest.
 Unconcluded (adj. from un, and concluded) Not concluded.
 Unconcludent (adj. from un, and conclude) Inconcludent.
 Unconcluding (adj. from un, and concluding) Inconcluding, not decisive.
 Unconcludingness (s. from unconcluding) The state of being inconclusive.
 Unconclusive (adj. from un, and conclusive) Inconclusive.
 Unconcocted (adj. from un, and concocted) Not concocted.
 Unconcordant (adj. from un, and concordant) Not concordant.
 Unconcreted (adj. from un, and concreted) Not concreted.
 Unconcurrent (adj. from un, and concurrent) Not concurrent.
 Uncondemnable (adj. from un, and condemnable) Not condemnable.
 Uncondemned (adj. from un, and condemned) Not condemned.
 Uncondensated (adj. from un, and condensated) Not condensated.
 Uncondited (adj. from un, and condited) Not condited, not preserved in pickle.
 Unconditional (adj. from un, and conditional) Not conditional.
 Unconditionally (adv. from unconditional) Without conditions.
 Unconditioned (adj. from un, and conditioned) Not conditioned, having no stipulation.
 Unconsoled (adj. from un, and consoled) Not consoled.
 Unconducted (adj. from un, and conducted) Not conducted.
 Unconfederated (adj. from un, and confederated) Not confederated.
 Unconferred (adj. from un, and conferred) Not conferred.
 Unconfessed (adj. from un, and confessed) Not confessed.
 Unconfined (adj. from un, and confine) Unbounded.
 Unconfined (adj. from un, and confine) Not confined, free from restraint; having no limits, unbounded.
 Unconfirmed (adj. from un, and confirmed) Not confirmed; weak, irresolute; not confirmed by the bishop.
 Unconform (adj. from un, and conform) Unlike, dissimilar.
 Unconformable (adj. from unconform) Not conformable, inconsistent.
 Unconformed (adj. from unconform) Not conformed.
 Unconformity (s. from unconform) Incongruity, inconsistency.
 Unconfounded (adj. from un, and confounded) Not confounded.
 Unconfronted (adj. from un, and confronted) Not confronted.
 Unconfused (adj. from un, and confused) Not confused.
 Unconfusedly (adv. from unconfused) Without confusion.
 Unconfutable (adj. from un, and confutable) Not capable of refutation, irrefragable.
 Uncongealed (adj. from un, and congealed) Not congealed, not congealed by cold.
 Uncongenial (adj. from un, and congenial) Not congenial.
 Unconglobed (adj. from un, and conglobated) Not conglobated.
 Unconglomerated (adj. from un, and conglomerated) Not conglomerated.
 Unconglutinated (adj. from un, and conglutinated) Not conglutinated.
 Uncongratulated (adj. from un, and congratulated) Not congratulated.

U N C

Uncongregated (adj. from un, and congregated) Not congregated.
 Uncongruous (adj. from un, and congruous) Incongruous.
 Unconjoined (adj. from un, and conjoined) Not conjoined.
 Unconjugal (adj. from un, and conjugal) Unbefitting the marriage relation.
 Unconjured (adj. from un, and conjured) Not conjured.
 Unconnected (adj. from un, and connected) Not connected.
 Unconnectedly (adv. from unconnected) Without connection.
 Unconquering (s. obsolete) Ignorance. Chaucer.
 Unconquering (adj. obsolete) Ignorant, unskillful. Ch.
 Unconquering (adj. from un, and conquering) Not conquering. Milton.
 Unconquerable (adj. from un, and conquerable) Not conquerable, invincible.
 Unconquerableness (s. from unconquerable) The state of being unconquerable.
 Unconquerably (adv. from unconquerable) In a manner not to be conquered.
 Unconquered (adj. from un, and conquered) Not conquered, not subdued.
 Unconscientious (adj. from un, and conscientious) Not conscientious.
 Unconscionable (adj. from un, and conscionable) Exceeding the bounds of a good conscience, exceeding the bounds of right or justice; enormous, vast; but this is a colloquial or droll sense.
 Unconscionableness (s. from unconscionable) The state or quality of being unconscionable.
 Unconscionably (adv. from unconscionable) Unreasonably.
 Unconscious (adv. from un, and conscious) Not conscious.
 Unconsecrated (adj. from un, and consecrated) Not consecrated.
 Unconsented (adj. from un, and consented) Not yielded. Wake.
 Unconsequential (adj. from un, and consequential) Not consequential.
 Unconsiderable (adj. from un, and considerable) Inconsiderable.
 Unconsiderate (adj. from un, and considerate) Not considerate.
 Unconsidered (adj. from un, and considered) Not considered.
 Unconsigned (adj. from un, and consigned) Not consigned.
 Unconsociated (adj. from un, and consociated) Not consociated.
 Unconsoleable (adj. from un, and consolable) Inconsoleable.
 Unconsolidated (adj. from un, and consolidated) Not consolidated.
 Unconsonant (adj. from un, and consonant) Not consonant, not fit.
 Unconsonous (adj. from un, and consonous) Not consonous.
 Unconstant (adj. from un, and constant) Not constant, inconstant.
 Unconstituted (adj. from un, and constituted) Not constituted.
 Unconstitutional (adj. from un, and constitutional) Not constitutional, not agreeable to the constitution of the state.
 Unconstrainable (adj. from un, and constrainable) Incapable of being constrained.
 Unconstrained (adj. from un, and constrained) Free, not constrained.
 Unconstrainedly (adv. from unconstrained) Without constraint.
 Unconstraint (s. from un, and constraint) Ease, freedom, the state of being unconstrained.
 Unconstricted (adj. from un, and constricted) Not constricted.
 Unconstructed (adj. from un, and constructed) Not constructed.
 Unconsulted (adj. from un, and consulted) Not consulted.
 Unconsulting (adj. from un, and consulting) Imprudent, rash, not taking advice. Sidney.
 Unconsumed (adj. from un, and consumed) Not consumed.
 Unconsuming (adj. from un, and consuming) Not consuming.
 Unconsummate (adj. from un, and consummate) Not consummated.

Uncon-

U N C

Unconsummated (adj. from un, and consummated) Not consummated.
Uncontaminated (adj. from un, and contaminated) Not contaminated.
Uncontemned (adj. from un, and contemned) Not contemned.
Uncontempered (adj. from un, and contempered) Not contempered.
Uncontended (adj. from un, and contended) Not contended.
Uncontented (adj. from un, and contented) Not contented, discontented.
Uncontenting (adj. from un, and contenting) Not giving content.
Uncontentingness (s. from uncontenting) The want of power to give content. Boyle.
Uncontestable (adj. from un, and contestable) Incontestable.
Uncontestably (adv. from uncontestable) In a manner not to be contested.
Uncontested (adj. from un, and contested) Not contested.
Uncontinence (s. from un, and continence) Incontinence.
Uncontinent (adj. from un, and continent) Incontinent.
Uncontracted (adj. from un, and contracted) Not contracted.
Uncontradicted (adj. from un, and contradicted) Not contradicted.
Uncontrasted (adj. from un, and contrasted) Not contrasted.
Uncontrite (adj. from un, and contrite) Not contrite.
Uncontrollable (adj. from un, and controllable) Not controllable.
Uncontrollably (adv. from uncontrollable) Without control.
Uncontrolled (adj. from un, and controlled) Not controlled.
Uncontroverted (adj. from un, and controverted) Not controverted.
Uncontrollable (adj. from un, and controulable) Uncontrollable.
Uncontrouled (adj. from un, and controuled) Uncontroled.
Uncontroulably (adv. from uncontroulable) Without control, uncontrollably.
Uncontrouledly (adv. from uncontrouled) Without control.
Unconvened (adj. from un, and convened) Not convened.
Unconvenient (adj. from un, and convenient) Inconvenient.
Unconversable (adj. from un, and conversable) Not conversable.
Unconverted (adj. from un, and converted) Not converted.
Unconveyed (adj. from un, and conveyed) Not conveyed.
Unconvicted (adj. from un, and convicted) Not convicted.
Unconvincing (adj. from un, and convinced) Not convinced.
Unconvoyed (adj. from un, and convoyed) Not convoyed.
Uncooked (adj. from un, and cooked) Not cooked, not dressed for table.
Uncoop (v. t. from un, and coop) To take out of a coop, to set at liberty.
Uncooped (p. from uncoop) Taken out of a coop, set at liberty.
Uncooping (p. a. from uncoop) Taking out of a coop, setting at liberty.
Uncooping (s. from the part.) The act of taking out of a coop, the act of setting at liberty.
Uncopied (adj. from un, and copied) Not copied.
Uncord (v. t. from un, and cord) To loose from the bandage of a cord.
Uncorded (p. from uncord) Loosed from the bandage of a cord, not bound with cords, not furnished with cords.
Uncord'ing (p. a. from uncord) Freeing from the bandage of a cord, taking off the cords.
Uncord'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the bandage of cords.
UNCORE (s. a law term) A plea in which a tender of payment is alledged.
Uncork (v. t. from un, and cork) To draw the cork, to free from the cork.
Uncorked (p. from uncork) Freed from the cork.

U N C

Uncork'ing (p. a. from uncork) Drawing the cork.
Uncork'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing the cork.
Uncor'porate (adj. from un, and corporate) Not in a body.
Uncorpo'real (adj. from un, and corporeal) Imporeal.
Uncorrec't (adj. from un, and correct) Not correct, incorrect.
Uncorrected (adj. from uncorrect) Not corrected.
Uncorrectly (adv. from uncorrect) Incorrectly.
Uncorroborated (adj. from un, and corroborated) Not corroborated.
Uncorroded (adj. from un, and corroded) Not corroded.
Uncorrupt (adj. from un, and corrupt) Not corrupt, honest, upright, not tainted, not influenced by motives.
Uncorrupted (adj. from uncorrupt) Not corrupted, unvitiated.
Uncorruptibility (s. from uncorruptible) The state of being incorruptible.
Uncorruptible (adj. from un, and corruptible) Incorruptible.
Uncorruption (s. from un, and corruption) Incorruption.
Uncorrupt'ness (s. from uncorrupt) Integrity, uprightness.
Uncovenable (adj. obsolete) Inconvenient, troublesome.
Uncovenanted (adj. from un, and covenanted) Not covenanted, not confirmed by covenant.
Uncover (v. t. from un, and cover) To divest of a covering, to deprive of cloaths; to strip off the roof, to take off the hat.
Uncovered (p. from uncover) Divested of a covering, deprived of a cover, laid bare.
Uncovering (p. a. from uncover) Divesting of a covering, laying bare.
Uncovering (s. from the part.) The act of removing a cover, the act of laying bare.
Uncoveted (adj. from un, and coveted) Not coveted.
Uncounselable (adj. from un, and counselable) Incapable of being advised.
Uncounselled (adj. from un, and counselled) Not counselled.
Uncountable (adj. from un, and countable) Innumerable.
Uncounted (adj. from un, and counted) Not counted.
Uncountenanced (adj. from un, and countenanced) Not countenanced, not encouraged.
Uncounterfeit (adj. from un, and counterfeit) Not counterfeit.
Uncounterfeited (adj. from un, and counterfeited) Not counterfeited.
Uncouple (v. t. from un, and couple) To loose from couples.
Uncouple (v. int.) To loose dogs from their couples.
Uncoupled (adj. from uncouple) Loosed from couples.
Uncouplid (adj. an old word) Uncoupled.
Uncoupling (p. a. from uncouple) Looking from couples.
Uncoupling (s. from the part.) The act of looking from couples.
Uncourted (adj. from un, and courted) Not courted.
Uncourteous (adj. from un, and courteous) Not courteous, uncivil.
Uncourteously (adv. from uncourteous) Uncivilly, impolitely.
Uncourteousness (s. from uncourteous) The state of being uncourteous.
Uncourtliness (s. from uncourtly) The state of being uncourtly.
Uncourtly (adj. from un, and courtly) Not courtly, uncivil, inelegant of manners.
UNCOUTH (adj. from the Sax. uncouth) Odd, unusual.
Uncouthly (adv. from uncouth) Oddly, strangely.
Uncouthness (s. from uncouth) The state or quality of being uncouth.
Uncrazed (adj. from un, and crazed) Not crazed.
Uncreated (adj. from un, and created) Not created, not folded in a crease.
Uncreate (v. t. from un, and create) To reduce to a state of nonexistence.
Uncreated (adj. from uncreate) Not yet created, not produced by creation.
Uncreatedness (s. from uncreated) The state of not being created.

UNC

ing (p. a. from uncreate) Reducing to a state of nonexistence.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to a state of nonexistence.
 ible (adj. from un, and credible) Incredible.
 ible (adj. from un, and creditable) Not creditable.
 itableness (s. from uncreditable) The want of credit.
 itably (adv. from uncreditable) Without credit, creditably.
 ulous (adj. from un, and credulous) Incredible.
 ed (adj. from un, and crested) Not crested.
 le (v. t. from un, and crinkle) To free from folds, to free from folds.
 led (p. from uncrinkle) Freed from crinkles, freed from folds.
 ling (p. a. from uncrinkle) Freeing from crinkles, freeing from folds.
 ling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from crinkles.
 k (v. t. from un, and crook) To reduce from crookedness.
 ked (p. from uncrook) Reduced from crookedness.
 k'ing (p. a. from uncrook) Reducing from crookedness.
 k'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing from crookedness.
 pped (adj. from un, and cropped) Not cropped.
 pt (adj. from un, and crop) Uncropped.
 ed (adj. from un, and crossed) Not crossed, not crossed.
 ed (adj. from un, and crowded) Not crowded.
 wn (v. t. from un, and crown) To divest of a crown, to deprive of sovereignty.
 wn'ed (p. from uncrown) Deprived of a crown.
 wn'ing (p. a. from uncrown) Depriving of a crown.
 wn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of a crown.
 ched (adj. from un, and crucify) Not crucified.
 d'ed (adj. from un, and cruddled) Not cruddled.
 mbled (adj. from un, and crumbled) Not crumbled.
 mbled (v. t. from un, and crumple) To free from crumpling.
 m'led (p. from uncrumple) Freed from folds.
 m'pling (p. a. from uncrumple) Freeing from folds.
 m'pling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from crumpling.
 d'ed (adj. from un, and crushed) Not crushed.
 d'ed (adj. from un, and crufted) Not crufted.
 TION (s. from the Lat. unguo to anoint) The act of anointing, an ointment, any thing lenitive; that which is conducive to piety or devotion.
 rian (adj. not used) Unctuous. Cole.
 osity (s. from unctuous) The state or quality of being unctuous.
 TUOUS (adj. from the Lat. unguo unctus to anoint) clammy, oily.
 ousness (s. from unctuous) The state or quality of being unctuous.
 bed (adj. from un, and cubbed) Not cubbed.
 k'olded (adj. from un, and cuckolded) Not cuckolded.
 g'elled (adj. from un, and cudgelled) Not cudgelled.
 led (adj. from un, and culled) Not culled.
 pable (adj. from un, and culpable) Not culpable.
 ivated (adj. from un, and cultivated) Not cultivated.
 ured (adj. from un, and cultured) Not cultivated.
 umbered (adj. from un, and cumbered) Not cumbered.
 uinge (s. obsolete) Ignorance. Cb.
 uinge (adj. from the sub. obsolete) Ignorant. Cb.
 ible (adj. from un, and curable) Incurable.
 ible (s. from the adj.) An incurable, one who cannot be cured.
 ibility (s. from incurable) Incurableness. Scott.
 b (v. t. from un, and curb) To free from the curb.
 ible (adj. from un, and curbable) Incapable of being curbed. Shakespeare.
 ed (p. from uncurb) Freed from the curb, uncurbed.
 ing (p. a. from uncurb) Freeing from the curb, freeing from restraint.

UND

Uncurb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the curb.
 Uncurd'led (adj. from un, and curdled) Not curdled.
 Uncu'ed (adj. from un, and cured) Not cured.
 Uncu'rious (adj. from un, and curious) Not curious.
 Uncu'il (v. t.) To fall out of curl.
 Uncu'le (v. t. from un, and curl) To untwist, to put out of curl.
 Uncurl'ed (p. from uncurl) Untwisted, put out of curl.
 Uncurl'ing (p. a. from uncurl) Untwisting, putting out of curl.
 Uncurl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of curl.
 Uncur'rent (adj. from un, and current) Not current.
 Uncur'ried (adj. from un, and curried) Not curried.
 Uncu'rf (v. t. from un, and curse) To free from a curse.
 Uncurs'ed (p. from uncurs) Freed from a curse.
 Uncurs'ing (p. a. from uncurs) Freeing from a curse.
 Uncurs'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from execration.
 Uncu'rst (adj. from un, and curse) Not cursed, not execrated.
 Uncurtail'ed (adj. from un, and curtailed) Not curtailed.
 Uncurtained (adj. from un, and curtained) Not curtained, not inclosed with curtains.
 Uncush'ioned (adj. from un, and cushioned) Not cushioned.
 UN/CUS (s. from the Lat.) A hook; an instrument in surgery to extract a dead child from the womb.
 Uncus'tomable (adj. from un, and customable) Not liable to pay custom.
 Uncus'tomed (adj. from un, and customed) Not liable to pay custom.
 Uncut (adj. from un, and cut) Whole, not cut.
 Uncuth (s. an old Saxon law term) A guest who lodges but one night in a house. D. of A.
 Undab'bled (adj. from un, and dabbled) Not dabbled.
 Undag'gle (adj. from un, and daggled) Not daggled.
 Unda'm (v. t. from un, and dam) To open, to free from restraint.
 Undam'aged (adj. from un, and damaged) Not damaged.
 Undam'med (p. from undam) Opened, freed from the restraint of a dam.
 Undam'ming (p. a. from undam) Opening a dam, freeing from the restraint of a dam.
 Undam'ming (s. from the part.) The act of opening a dam.
 Undam'nified (adj. from un, and damified, but not used of late) Not damaged.
 Undand'led (adj. from un, and dandled) Not dandled.
 Undaung'ered (adj. obsolete) Not endangered. Ch.
 Undaunted (adj. from un, and daunted) Not daunted.
 Undauntedly (adv. from undaunted) Boldly, intrepidly.
 Undazz'led (adj. from un, and dazzled) Not dazzled.
 Unde' (adj. in heraldry, a different spelling) Undee, waved.
 Undeaf'f (v. t. from un, and deaf) To free from deafness. Shakespeare.
 Undeaf'ed (p. from undeaf, but not much used) Freed from deafness.
 Undeaf'ing (p. a. from undeaf, but not used) Freeing from deafness.
 Undeba'fed (adj. from un, and debased) Not debased.
 Undeba'ted (adj. from un, and debated) Not debated.
 Undebauch'ed (adj. from un, and dabauched) Not debauched.
 Undebilitated (adj. from un, and debilitated) Not debilitated.
 UNDE/CAGON (s. from the Greek ενδεκα eleven, and γωνια an angle) A plain figure consisting of eleven equal sides and angles.
 Undecay'ed (adj. from un, and decayed) Not decayed.
 Undecay'ing (adj. from un, and decaying) Not decaying.
 Undeceiv'able (adj. from undeceive) Not liable to be deceived.
 Undeceiv'e (v. t. from un, and deceive) To set right, to free from the influence of a false representation.
 Undeceiv'ed (p. from undeceive) Set right, freed from the influence of a false representation.
 Undeceiv'ing (p. a. from undeceive) Freeing from the influence of a false representation.
 Undeceiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the influence of a false representation.
 UN/DECEMVIR (s. from the Lat. undecim eleven, and vir a man) A magistrate who had ten colleagues joined in the same commission.

UND

Undecem'virate (s. from undecemvir) The office or dignity of the undecemviri.
UNDECIMVIRI (s. plu. of undecemvir) Eleven magistrates joined in one commission.
 Unde'cent (adj. from un, and decent) Indecent.
 Unde'cently (adv. from undecent) Indecently.
 Unde'centness (s. from undecent) The state of being indecent. Scott.
 Undeci'ded (adj. from un, and decided) Not decided.
 Undeci'sive (adj. from un, and decisive) Not decisive.
 Unde'ck (v. t. from un, and deck) To deprive of ornaments.
 Undeck'ed (p. from undeck) Deprived of ornaments.
 Undeck'ing (p. a. from undeck) Depriving of ornaments.
 Undeck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of ornaments.
 Undecla'red (adj. from un, and declared) Not declared.
 Undecli'nable (adj. from un, and declinable) Not admitting a change of termination, undeclined.
 Undecli'ned (adj. from un, and declined) Not declined, not varied in the termination.
 Undeco'cted (adj. from un, and decocted) Not decocted.
 Undeco'yed (adj. from un, and decoyed) Not decoyed.
 Undecree'd (adj. from un, and decreed) Not decreed.
 Undecri'ed (adj. from un, and decried) Not decried.
 Undedicated (adj. from un, and dedicated) Not dedicated.
 Undedu'cible (adj. from un, and deducible) Not deducible.
 Undedu'sted (adj. from un, and dedusted) Not dedusted.
 UNDEE' (adj. in heraldry) Waved, resembling waves.
 Undeed'ed (adj. from un, and deed) Not signalized by actions. Shakespeare.
 Undefa'ceable (adj. from un, and deface) Incapable of being defaced. Scott.
 Undefa'ced (adj. from un, and defaced) Not defaced.
 Undefa'tigable (adj. from un, and defatigable) Indefatigable.
 Unde'fensible (adj. from un, and defeasible) Not defeasible.
 Unde'fated (adj. from un, and defeated) Not defeated.
 Unde'fectible (adj. from un, and defensible) Not defensible.
 Unde'fend'ed (adj. from un, and defended) Not defended, not forbidden. Chaucer.
 Unde'fensible (adj. from un, and defensible) Indefensible.
 Unde'fer'ed (adj. from un, and deferred) Not deferred.
 Unde'fied (adj. from un, and defied) Not defied, not challenged.
 Unde'fied (adj. from un, and defiled) Not defiled.
 Unde'fied (s. from the adj.) One who is not defiled, those who are not defiled.
 Unde'fiable (adj. from un, and definable) Not definable.
 Unde'fined (adj. from un, and defined) Not defined.
 Unde'flour'ed (adj. from un, and defloured) Not defloured.
 Unde'form'ed (adj. from un, and deformed) Not deformed.
 Unde'fraud'ed (adj. from un, and defrauded) Not defrauded.
 Unde'fray'ed (adj. from un, and defrayed) Not defrayed.
 Unde'graded (adj. from un, and degraded) Not degraded.
 Unde'jected (adj. from un, and dejected) Not dejected.
 Unde'ified (p. from undeify) Not deified.
 Unde'ify (v. t. from un, and deify) To divest of divinity.
 Unde'ifying (p. a. from undeify) Divesting of divinity.
 Unde'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of divesting of divinity.
 Unde'lay'ed (adj. from un, and delayed) Not delayed.
 Unde'lib'erated (adj. from un, and deliberated) Not deliberated.
 Unde'licate (adj. from un, and delicate) Indelicate.
 Unde'light'ed (adj. from un, and delighted) Not delighted.
 Unde'light'ful (adj. from un, and delightful) Not delightful.
 Unde'line'ated (adj. from un, and delineated) Not delineated.
 Unde'liv'ered (adj. from un, and delivered) Not delivered.
 Unde'lu'ded (adj. from un, and deluded) Not deluded.
 Unde'lv'ed (adj. from un, and delved) Not delved.
 Unde'mand'ed (adj. from un, and demanded) Not demanded.
 Unde'mised (adj. from un, and demised) Not demised.
 Unde'molished (adj. from un, and demolished) Not demolished.

UND

Undemon'strable (adj. from un, and demonstrable) demonstrable.
 Unde'næ (s.) Earthly spirits.
 Undeni'able (adj. from un, and deniable) Incontestable, not to be denied.
 Undeni'ably (adv. from undeniable) In a manner to be denied.
 Undenoun'ced (adj. from un, and denounced) Not denounced.
 Unde'part'able (adj. from un, and depart) Inseparable.
 Unde'pend'ent (adj. from un, and dependent) Independent.
 Unde'pic'ted (adj. from un, and depicted) Not depicted.
 Unde'plo'ed (adj. from un, and deplored) Not deplored.
 Unde'posed (adj. from un, and deposed) Not deposed.
 Unde'pr'aved (adj. from un, and depraved) Not depraved.
 Unde'pre'cated (adj. from un, and deprecated) Not deprecated.
 Unde'pri'ved (adj. from un, and deprived) Not deprived.
 Unde'put'ed (adj. from un, and deputed) Not deputed.
 UN'DER (prep. from the Gothic) In a state of subordination; in the next stage of subordination, in a state of inferiority; in a state that requires protection; below; in some particular state or circumstance; respect to; represented by, attested by.
 Un'der (adj. from the prep.) Inferior.
 Un'der (adv. from the prep.) In a less degree.
 Under'a'ft (v. t. from under, and aft) To perform in a manner below what is required or expected.
 Under'a'ft (p. from undera'ft) Performed in a manner below what is required or expected.
 Under'a'fting (p. a. from undera'ft) Performing in a manner below what is required or expected.
 Under'a'fting (s. from the part.) The act of performing below what is required or expected.
 Under'a'ction (s. from undera'ft) A subordinate action, an action not essential to the main story.
 Underbea'r (v. t. from under, and bear) To support, endure; to line, to guard by something additional.
 Underbea'r (s. from under, and bearer) One who sustains the weight of the corps at funeral, distinguished from those who hold up the pall.
 Underbea'ring (p. a. from underbear) Supporting during.
 Underbea'ring (s. from the part.) The act of supporting that which supports.
 Underbi'd (v. t. from under, and bid) To offer any thing less than it is worth.
 Underbi'd (v. int.) To offer too low a price.
 Underbi'd'ing (p. a. from underbid) Offering too low a price.
 Underbi'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bidding low a price.
 Underbi'nd (v. t. from under, and bind) To bind underneath.
 Underbi'nding (p. a. from underbind) Binding underneath.
 Underbi'nd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of binding underneath.
 Underbo'rn, Underbo'rne (p. from underbear) Supported, endured; lined, guarded with something additional.
 Underbou'nd (p. from underbind) Bound underneath.
 Undercham'berlain (s. from under, and chamberlain) An officer in the exchequer who cleaves the tallies by the clerk.
 Underclerk (s. from under, and clerk) A subordinate clerk.
 Underdo' (s. from under, and do) To act below abilities, to do less than is required or expected.
 Underdo'ing (p. a. from underdo) Acting below abilities, doing less than is required or expected.
 Underdo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of doing less than is required or expected.
 Underdo'ne (adj. from underdo) Done less than requisite.
 Undere'schea'tor (s. from under, and escheator) A subordinate escheator.
 Underfac'tion (s. from under, and faction) A subordinate faction, the subdivision of a faction.
 Underfel'low (s. from under, and fellow) A mean, a sorry wretch.
 Underfil'ling (s. from under, and filling) The part of an edifice.
 Underfo'ng (v. t. obsolete) To take in the hand.
 Underfoo't (adv. from under, and foot) Under the foot, to a disadvantage, for less than it is worth.
 Underfur'nish (v. t. from under, and furnish) To furnish with less than enough.
 Underfur'nished (p. from under, and furnish) Supplied with less than enough.

UND

nothing (p. a. from underfurnish) Supplying less than enough.
 nothing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing less than enough.
 under (v. t. from under, and gird) To bind below,
 at the bottom.
 under (p. from undergird) Bound below, girded
 at the bottom.
 under (p. a. from undergird) Binding below,
 at the bottom.
 under (s. from the part.) The act of binding below.
 under (v. t. from under, and go) To suffer, to suffer to pass through, to support under.
 under (p. a. from undergo) Suffering, sustaining, through.
 under (s. from the part.) The act of sustaining.
 under (p. from undergo) Born, sustained.
 under (s. from under, and ground) A space under.
 under (adv. from the sub.) In a place under the ground.
 under (adj. from undergrow) Undergrown, low stature. Chaucer.
 under (adj. from under, and grown) Not grown usual size, low of stature.
 under (s. from under, and growth) That which grows under the tall wood.
 under (adj. from under, and hand) Clandestine, secretly, secret, fly.
 under (adv. from the adj.) Clandestinely, with secret secrecy.
 under (adj. from un, and derided) Not derided.
 under (adj. from un, and derived) Not derived.
 under (s. from under, and labourer) A subordinate labourer.
 under (p. from underlay) Strengthened by something laid under.
 under (v. t. from under, and lay) To strengthen with something laid under.
 under (s. from underlay) That which is laid under to bear up any thing.
 under (p. a. from underlay) Strengthening by something under.
 under (s. from the part.) The act of strengthening something under.
 under (s. from under, and leaf) The name of an under-leaf.
 under (v. t. from under, and line) To mark with lines below the words.
 under (p. from underline) Marked with lines under the words.
 under (s. from under) An inferior agent, a mean agent.
 under (p. a. from underline) Marking with lines under the words.
 under (s. from the part.) The act of marking with lines under the words.
 under (adj. from under, and masted) Low masted.
 under (v. t. from under, and mine) To dig under,
 to injure by clandestine means.
 under (p. from undermine) Dug under, fapped,
 by clandestine means.
 under (s. from undermine) One who undermines.
 under (p. a. from undermine) Digging under, injuring by clandestine means.
 under (s. from the part.) The act of digging under the act of injuring by clandestine means.
 under (adj. from under, and most) Lowest in condition.
 under (s. from the Sax, but now grown obsolete or)
 The third hour of the day; the afternoon, the evening. Chaucer.
 under (adv. from under, and neath) Below, beneath.
 under (prep. from the adv.) Under.
 under (v. t. obsolete) To undertake; to receive. Ch.
 under (p. obsolete, from undernane) Received.
 under (v. t. obsolete) To receive. Chaucer.
 under (s. from under, and officer) An inferior officer, subordinate officer.
 under (adj. from un, and derogatory) Not derogatory.
 under (s. from under, and part) A subordinate part,
 not essential.
 under (v. from under, and petticoat) The petticoat worn next to the shift.
 under (v. t. from under, and pin) To prop, to support.
 under (p. from underpin) Propped, supported.

UND

Underpinning (p. a. from underpin) Propping, supporting.
 Underpinning (s. from the part.) The act of propping, the act of supporting by something placed under.
 Underplot (s. from under, and plot) A series of events subordinate to the main design; a clandestine scheme.
 Underpraise (v. t. from under, and praise) To praise below what is deserved.
 Underpraised (p. from underpraise) Praised below what is deserved.
 Underpraising (p. a. from underpraise) Praising below what is deserved.
 Underpraising (s. from the part.) The act of praising below what is deserved.
 Underprize (v. t. from under, and prize) To prize at less than the value.
 Underprized (p. from underprize) Prized at less than the value.
 Underprizing (p. a. from underprize) Prizing at less than the value.
 Underprizing (s. from the part.) The act of prizing at less than the value.
 Underprop (v. t. from under, and prop) To support,
 to sustain.
 Underproportioned (adj. from under, and proportioned)
 Having too little proportion, below the due proportion.
 Underproped (p. from underprop) Supported, sustained.
 Underpropping (p. a. from underprop) Sustaining, supporting.
 Underpropping (s. from the part.) The act of supporting.
 Underpuller (s. from under, and puller) One who pulls under another, a mean strudge. Collier.
 Underput (adj. from under, and put) Put under, subject. Chaucer.
 Underputting (s. from underput, obsolete) Subjection. Ch.
 Underrate (v. t. from under, and rate) To rate too low.
 Underrated (s. from the verb) A price below what is common.
 Underrating (p. from underrate) Rated too low.
 Underrating (p. a. from underrate) Rating too low.
 Underrating (s. from the part.) The act of rating too low.
 Underrun (v. t. a sea term) To examine a cable or rope to see if it be damaged or tangled.
 Underrun (p. from the verb) Passed or examined as a rope to see if it be sound and clear from entanglements.
 Underrunning (p. a. from underrun) Examining a rope to see if it be in a proper state.
 Underrunning (s. from the part.) The act of examining a rope to see if it be fit for use.
 Underlay (v. int. from under, and lay, but not used) To speak diminutively of any one. Spenser.
 Undersecretary (s. from under, and secretary) An inferior secretary.
 Underfell (v. t. from under, and sell) To sell cheaper than another.
 Underfelling (p. a. from underfell) Selling at a less price than another.
 Underfervant (s. from under, and servant) The inferior servant, a servant under another.
 Underfett (v. t. from under, and fet) To prop, to support.
 Underfett (p. from the verb) Propped, supported.
 Underfetter (s. from underfett) A prop, a support, a pedestal.
 Underfetting (p. a. from underfett) Propping, supporting.
 Underfetting (s. from the part.) The act of propping.
 Underfether (s. from under, and fether) The deputy of the sheriff.
 Underfether (s. from underfether) The business or office of an under sheriff.
 Underfoot (adj. from under, and shoot) Moved as a wheel by water passing under it.
 Underfhrub (s. from under, and shrub) A small kind of woody plant.
 Underfitter (s. a law term) An inmate, a lodger.
 Underfoid (p. from underfoid) Sold at a less price than common, defeated by having commodities sold at a less price by others.
 Underfong (s. from under, and fong) A chorus, the burden of a song.
 Underfort (s. from under, and fort) An inferior fort,
 the lower fort of people. Scott.
 Underfand (v. t. from under, and fand) To conceive, to comprehend, to have knowledge of.
 Underfand (v. int.) To have the use of the intellects, to receive information.
 Underfand (p. a. from underfand) Conceiving, comprehending, having knowledge of, receiving information.

UND

Understand'ing (s. from the part.) The intellectual powers; skill, intelligence.

Understand'ingly (adv. from understanding) With understanding.

Understo'nd (v. t. obsolete) To bear, to support. Milton.

Understo'o'd (v. t. pret. of understand) Did understand.

Understo'o'd (p. from understand) Conceived, known by the intellect, known by intelligence.

Understrap'per (s. from under, and strap) A petty agent. Swift.

Underta'ke (v. t. from under, and take) To attempt, to engage in; to have the charge of; to attack, to encounter.

Underta'ke (v. int.) To assume any business or province; to venture, to hazard; to promise, to stand bound; with for: as, "Undertake for me."

Underta'ken (p. from undertake) Attempted, engaged with.

Underta'ker (s. from undertake) One who engages in any project, one who undertakes to build at an estimated price; one who manages funerals.

Underta'king (p. a. from undertake) Attempting, engaging in, venturing, promising, standing bound for another.

Underta'king (s. from the part.) The act of engaging in any affair; an attempt, an enterprise.

Underten'ant (s. from under, and tenant) A tenant, a tenant who holds under another tenant.

Undertide (s. an obsolete or local word) Eventide. Pb.

Undertoo'k (v. t. pret. of undertake) Did undertake.

Undertoo'k (p. from undertake) Undertaken.

Undertreas'urer (s. from under, and treasurer) A subordinate treasurer.

Undervalua'tion (s. from undervalue) An estimate below the value.

Undervalue (v. t. from under, and value) To estimate below the value.

Undervalue (s. from the verb) A rate below the value, a low price.

Undervalued (p. from undervalue) Estimated below the value, valued at a low price; despised.

Undervaluer (s. from undervalue) One who undervalues.

Undervaluing (p. a. from undervalue) Estimating below the value, despising.

Undervaluing (s. from the part.) The act of estimating below the value.

Underwe'nt (v. t. pret. of undergo) Did undergo.

Underwood (s. from under, and wood) The low wood that grows among timber trees.

Underwo'rk (v. t. from under, and work) To injure by clandestine measures; to labour less than enough.

Underwork'ed (p. from underwork) Injured by clandestine measures; not sufficiently wrought.

Underwork'ing (p. a. from underwork) Injuring by clandestine measures; labouring for less than enough.

Underwork'ing (s. from the part.) The act of injuring by clandestine measures, the act of labouring for less than enough.

Underwork'man (s. from under, and workman) An inferior labourer.

Underwrite (v. t. from under, and write) To write under; to sign a policy, to insure.

Underwri'ter (s. from underwrite) An insurer, one that writes his name under certain conditions.

Underwrit'ing (p. a. from underwrite) Writing under, insuring, writing the name under certain conditions.

Underwrit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of insuring by writing the name under certain conditions.

Underwrit'ten (p. from underwrite) Subscribed.

Underwro'te (v. t. pret. of underwrite) Did underwrite.

Underwroug'ht (p. from underwork) Underworked, injured by clandestine measures, not sufficiently wrought.

Undescrib'ed (adj. from un, and described) Not described.

Undescrib'ed (adj. from un, and deseri'd) Not deseri'd.

Undescrip't (adj. from un, and descript) Indescript, not described.

Undesert'ed (adj. from un, and deseri'd) Not deseri'd.

Undeserv'ed (adj. from un, and deserv'd) Not deserv'd.

Undeserv'edly (adv. from undeserv'd) Without desert.

Undeserv'er (s. from undeserve) One who has no merit.

Undeserv'ing (adj. from un, and deserv'ing) Not deserv'ing.

Undeserv'ingly (adv. from undeserv'ing) In a manner not deserv'd.

Undesign'ed (adj. from un, and design'd) Not designed.

Undesign'edly (adv. from undesign'd) In a manner not designed, without design.

UND

Undesign'ing (adj. from un, and design'ing) Done out design, having no artful schemes, sincere.

Undesir'able (adj. from un, and desire) Not desired.

Undesir'ed (adj. from un, and desire) Not desired.

Undesir'ing (adj. from un, and desir'ing) Negligent, ing no desire.

Undespatch'ed (adj. from un, and despatch'd) Not despatch'd.

Undespi'sed (adj. from un, and despi'sed) Not despi'sed.

Undestroy'able (adj. from un, and destroy) Not destroy'd.

Undestroy'ed (adj. from un, and destroy'd) Not destroy'd.

Undestru'ctible (adj. from un, and destruc'tible) Indestructible.

Undetatch'ed (adj. from un, and detatch'd) Not detatch'd.

Undetec'ted (adj. from un, and detec'ted) Not detec'ted.

Undeter'minable (adj. from un, and deter'minable) Indeterminable.

Undeter'minate (adj. from un, and deter'minate) Undetermined, not fixed.

Undeter'minateness (s. from undeter'minate) The quality of being undetermined, undetermination.

Undeter'mination (s. from undeter'minate) The act of being undetermined, uncertainty.

Undeter'mined (adj. from un, and deter'mined) Undetermined, undecided.

Undeter're'd (adj. from un, and deter're'd) Not deter're'd.

Undetes'ted (adj. from un, and detes'ted) Not detes'ted.

Undevil'ed (adj. from un, and devil'ed) Not devil'ed.

Undevoted (adj. from un, and devoted) Not devoted.

Undevour'ed (adj. from un, and devour'd) Not devour'd.

Undevou't (adj. from un, and devout) Not devout.

Undevout'ly (adv. from undevout) Without devotion.

Undiaph'anous (adj. from un, and diaphanous) Not diaphanous, not transparent.

Undi'd (v. t. pret. of undo) Did undo.

Undiet'ed (adj. from un, and dieted) Not dieted.

Undiffus'ed (adj. from un, and diffus'd) Not diffus'd.

Undiffus'ive (adj. from un, and diffus'ive) Not diffus'ive.

Undigest'ed (adj. from un, and digest'd) Not digest'd.

Undigest'ible (adj. from un, and digest'ible) Not digest'ible.

Undi'ght (v. t. obsolete) To put off.

Undi'ght (v. t. pret. obsolete) Put off.

Undight'ed (p. from undight, obsolete) Undressed.

Undign'ified (adj. from un, and dign'ified) Not dign'ified.

Undilat'ed (adj. from un, and dilat'd) Not dilat'd.

Undilig'ent (adj. from un, and diligent) Not diligent.

Undilut'ed (adj. from un, and dilut'd) Not dilut'd.

UNDIM'IA (s. from the Lat.) A kind of swelling, oedema.

Undimin'ishable (adj. from un, and dimin'ish) Not diminish'd.

Undimin'ished (adj. from un, and dimin'ished) Not diminish'd.

Undim'med (adj. from un, and dimm'd) Not dimm'd.

Undim'pled (adj. from un, and dimpl'd) Not dimpl'd.

Undint'ed (adj. from un, and dint'd) Not dint'd.

Undip'ped (adj. from un, and dip'ped) Not dip'ped.

Undirect'ed (adj. from un, and direct'd) Not direct'd.

Undisfong'en (p. obsolete) Undertaken.

Undisfong'ith (v. t. third person sing. obsolete) Undisfong'eth.

Undim'melis (s. obsolete) Afternoon, evening.

Undispos'e (v. t. obsolete) To heave up by pole under.

Undiscern'ed (adj. from un, and discern'd) Not discern'd.

Undiscern'edly (adv. from undiscern'd) In a manner not to be discern'd.

Undiscern'ible (adj. from un, and discern'ible) Indiscernible.

Undiscern'ibly (adv. from undiscern'ible) Indiscernibly.

Undiscern'ing (adj. from un, and discern'ing) Not discern'ing, injudicious.

Undischarg'able (adj. from un, and discharg'd) Not discharg'd.

Undischarg'ed (adj. from un, and discharg'd) Not discharg'd.

Undisciplin'd (adj. from un, and disciplin'd) Not disciplin'd, not taught.

UND

undisclosed (adj. from un, and disclosed) Not disclosed.
undiscord'ing (adj. from un, and discording) Not discording.
undiscoverable (adj. from un, and discoverable) Incapable of being discovered.
undiscover'ed (adj. from un, and discovered) Not discovered.
undiscreet (adj. from un, and discreet) Indiscreet.
undiscreet'ly (adv. from undiscreet) Indiscreetly.
undiscretion (s. from undiscreet) Indiscretion.
undiscriminated (adj. from un, and discriminated) Not discriminated, not distinguished.
undiscuss'ed (adj. from un, and discussed) Not discussed.
undiseas'ed (adj. from un, and diseased) Not diseased.
undisgor'ged (adj. from un, and disgorged) Not disgorged.
undisgrac'ed (adj. from un, and disgraced) Not disgraced.
undisguis'ed (adj. from un, and disguised) Not disguised, open, sincere.
undisgust'ed (adj. from un, and disgusted) Not disgusted.
undishevel'led (adj. from un, and dishevelled) Not dishevelled.
undishonour'ed (adj. from un, and dishonoured) Not dishonoured.
undislocated (adj. from un, and dislocated) Not dislocated.
undislodg'ed (adj. from un, and dislodged) Not dislodged.
undismant'led (adj. from un, and dismantled) Not dismantled.
undismay'ed (adj. from un, and dismayed) Not dismayed.
undismember'ed (adj. from un, and dismembered) Not dismembered.
undismiss'ed (adj. from un, and dismissed) Not dismissed.
undisoblig'ing (adj. from un, and disobliging) Not disobliging, inoffensive. Brown.
undisparag'ed (adj. from un, and disparaged) Not disparaged.
undispell'ed (adj. from un, and dispelled) Not dispelled.
undispens'ed (adj. from un, and dispensed) Not dispensed.
undispers'ed (adj. from un, and dispersed) Not dispersed.
undisput'ous (adj. obsolete) Not spiteful. Chaucer.
undisplay'ed (adj. from un, and displayed) Not displayed.
undispos'ed (adj. from un, and disposed) Not disposed, not bestowed; indisposed.
undisprovable (adj. from un, and disprovable) Not capable of being disproved. Scott.
undispro'ved (adj. from un, and disproved) Not disproved.
undisputable (adj. from un, and disputable) Indisputable.
undisput'ed (adj. from un, and disputed) Not disputed.
undissect'ed (adj. from un, and diseased) Not diseased.
undisseiz'ed (adj. from un, and diseized) Not diseized.
undissemb'led (adj. from un, and disesembled) Not disesembled.
undisseminated (adj. from un, and diseminated) Not diseminated.
undisfever'ed (adj. from un, and disevered) Not disevered.
undissipat'ed (adj. from un, and dissipated) Not dissipated.
undissol'vable (adj. from un, and dissolvable) Indissoluble.
undissoluble (adj. from un, and dissoluble) Indissoluble.
undissolv'ed (adj. from un, and dissolved) Not dissolved.
undissol'vible (adj. from un, and dissolvable) Not dissolvable.
undissolv'ing (adj. from un, and dissolving) Not dissolving.
undissuad'ed (adj. from un, and dissuaded) Not dissuaded.
undistemper'ed (adj. from un, and distempered) Not distempered; undisturbed in the intellects.
undistill'ed (adj. from un, and distilled) Not distilled.
undistinct (adj. from un, and distinct) Indistinct.
undistinct'ly (adv. from undistinct) Indistinctly.
undistinguishable (adj. from un, and distinguishable) Not distinguishable.
undistinguish'ed (adj. from un, and distinguished) Not distinguished, wanting distinction.
undistinguish'ing (adj. from un, and distinguishing) Not distinguishing, making no difference.
undistort'ed (adj. from un, and distorted) Not distorted.
undistract'ed (adj. from un, and distracted) Not distracted, not perplexed by contrary thoughts or desires.

UND

undistract'edly (adv. from undistracted) Without distraction.
undistract'edness (s. from undistracted) The state or quality of being undistracted, freedom from distraction.
undistrain'ed (adj. from un, and distrain) Not distrained.
undistribut'ed (adj. from un, and distributed) Not distributed.
undisturb'ed (adj. from un, and disturbed) Not disturbed.
undisturb'edly (adv. from undisturbed) Without disturbance.
unditch'ed (adj. from un, and ditch) Not ditched, not furnished with a ditch.
undiver'sified (adj. from un, and diversified) Not diversified.
undivert'ed (adj. from un, and diverted) Not diverted.
undivest'ed (adj. from un, and divested) Not divested.
undividable (adj. from un, and dividable) Incapable of being divided.
undivided (adj. from un, and divided) Not divided.
undividable (adj. from un, and divine) Not capable of being known by divination. Scott.
undivisible (adj. from un, and divisible) Not divisible.
undivorc'ed (adj. from un, and divorced) Not divorced.
undivulg'ed (adj. from un, and divulged) Not divulged.
undo (v. t. from un, and do) To loose any thing fastened, to unravel; to reduce to a former state, to recall; to ruin, to bring to destruction; to explain. Chaucer.
undo'ing (p. a. from undo) Loosing, unravelling; reducing to a former state; ruining, bringing to destruction.
undo'ing (s. from the part.) Ruin, destruction; the act of unloosing.
undo'ne (p. from undo) Loosened, reduced to a former state; ruined, destroyed; not done, not performed.
undoom'ed (adj. from un, and doomed) Not doomed.
undouble (v. t. from un, and double) To unfold, to take out of a fold or double.
undoubled (p. from undouble) Unfolded, taken out of a fold or double.
undoubt'ing (p. a. from undouble) Unfolding, taking out of a fold or double.
undoubt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding, that which is undoubted.
undoubt'ed (adj. from un, and doubted) Free from doubt, unquestionable.
undoubtedly (adv. from undoubted) Without doubt, without question.
undoubt'ing (adj. from un, and doubting) Admitting no doubt.
undoubt'ous (adj. obsolete) Undoubted. Chaucer.
undown'ed (p. obsolete) Undone. Chaucer.
undrain'able (adj. from un, and drainable) Not capable of being drained. Scott.
undrain'ed (adj. from un, and drained) Not drained.
undraw (v. t. from un, and draw) To draw back.
undraw'ing (p. a. from undraw) Drawing back.
undraw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing any thing back.
undraw'n (p. from undraw) Drawn back; not drawn by any external force.
undread'ed (adj. from un, and dreaded) Not dreaded.
undream'ed (adj. from un, and dream) Not thought on. Shakespeare.
undredg'ed (adj. from un, and dredge) Not dredged.
undren (s. obsolete) The afternoon. Chaucer.
undrench'ed (adj. from un, and drenched) Not drenched.
undres (s. in old deeds) Minors, persons under age.
undres's (v. t. from un, and dress) To strip, to take off the cloaths; to divest of ornaments.
undres's (s. from the verb) A loose dress, a negligent dress.
undres'sed (p. from undress) Stripped of cloaths, not prepared for use, not ornamented.
undres'sing (p. a. from undress) Stripping off the cloaths, divesting of ornaments.
undres'sing (s. from the part.) The act of putting off the cloaths.
undress't (adj. from un, and dress) Not dressed.
undried (adj. from un, and dried) Not dried.
undrill'ed (adj. from un, and drill) Not drilled.
undriv'en (adj. from un, and driven) Not impelled, not driven.
undross'y (adj. from un, and droffy) Not droffy, free from dross.
undrown'ed (adj. from un, and drowned) Not drowned.
undrub'bed (adj. from un, and drubbed, a droll word) Not drubbed, not beaten.
undub'bed (adj. from un, and dubbed) Not dubbed.
undubitable (adj. from un, and dubitable) Undoubted, unquestionable.

U N E

Undue (adj. from un, and due) Not right, not lawful; not agreeable to duty.
Undue'ly (adv. from undue) In an undue manner.
Undue'ness (s. from undue) Unmeetness, unfitness.
UNDULARY (adj. from the Lat. undulo to rise in waves) Rising in succession on waves, playing like waves.
UNDULATE (v. t. from the Lat. undulo) To drive backwards and forwards, to make to play as waves.
Undulate (v. int.) To play as waves.
Undulated (p. from undulate) Made to play like waves.
Undulating (p. a. from undulate) Playing like waves.
Undulating (s. from the part.) The act of moving like waves.
Undulation (s. from undulate) The rising of waves, the motion of waves, a tremulous motion.
Undulatory (adj. from undulate) Moving like waves.
Undulled (adj. from un, and dulle) Not dulle.
Unduly (adv. a different spelling) Unduely.
Unduped (adj. from un, and duped) Not duped.
Undusted (adj. from un, and dusted) Not dusted.
Undutious (adj. from un, and dutious) Undutiful.
Undutiful (adj. from un, and dutiful) Not dutiful, disobedient, irreverent.
Undutifully (adv. from undutiful) In a manner not consistent with duty.
Undutifulness (s. from undutiful) The want of respect, disobedience.
Undyed (adj. from un, and dyed) Not dyed, not coloured.
Undying (adj. from un, and dying) Not dying, not perishing.
Uneaned (adj. from un, and eaned) Not eaned.
Uneared (adj. from un, and eared) Not eared.
Unearned (adj. from un, and earned) Not earned.
Unearth (v. t. from un, and earth) To drive from a hold in the earth.
Unearthed (p. from unearth) Driven from a hold in the earth.
Unearth'ing (p. a. from unearth) Driving from a hold in the earth.
Unearth'ing (s. from the part.) The act of driving from a hold in the earth.
Unearth'ly (adj. from unearth) Not earthly.
Uneased (adj. from un, and eased) Not eased, not freed from pain.
Uneasier (adj. comp. of uneasy) Uneasy in a greater degree.
Uneasiest (adj. sup. of uneasy) Uneasy in the greatest degree.
Uneasily (adv. from uneasy) With uneasiness.
Uneasiness (s. from uneasy) The state of being uneasy.
Uneasy (adj. from un, and easy) Not easy, painful, disturbed; restless, peevish, difficult to please.
Uneatable (adj. from un, and eatable) Not eatable.
Uneaten (adj. from un, and eaten) Not eaten, not devoured.
Uneath (adv. obsolete) With difficulty, with uneasiness; beneath. Spenser.
Unebbing (adj. from un, and ebbing) Not ebbing.
Unechoed (adj. from un, and echoed) Not echoed.
Uneclipsed (adj. from un, and eclipsed) Not eclipsed.
Uneclipsed (adj. from un, and edified) Not edified.
Unedifying (adj. from un, and edifying) Not edifying.
UNE'DO (s. from the Lat.) The fruit of the arbutus.
Uneffable (adj. from un, and effable) Ineffable.
Uneffaced (adj. from un, and effaced) Not effaced.
Uneffected (adj. from un, and effected) Not effected.
Uneffectual (adj. from un, and effectual) Ineffectual.
Uneffectuated (adj. a formal word from un, and effectuated) Not effected.
Uneffeminated (adj. from un, and effeminated) Not effeminated.
Unefficacious (adj. from un, and efficacious) Not efficacious.
Uneffused (adj. from un, and effused) Not poured out.
Unelectric (adj. from un, and electric) Not electric.
Unelected (adj. from un, and elect) Not elected.
Unelected (adj. from unelect) Not elected.
Unelectric (adj. from un, and electric) Not electric.
Unelegant (adj. from un, and elegant) Inelegant.
Unelevated (adj. from un, and elevated) Not elevated.
Unelegible (adj. from un, and eligible) Not eligible.
Uneloquent (adj. from un, and eloquent) Not eloquent.
Une'loquently (adv. from uneloquent) Without eloquence.
Unelucidated (adj. from un, and elucidated) Not elucidated.
Uneluded (adj. from un, and eluded) Not eluded.

U N E

Unelut'riated (adj. from un, and elut'riated) Not elut'riated.
Unelux'ated (adj. from un, and eluxated) Not eluxated.
Unema'ciated (adj. from un, and emaciated) Not emaciated.
Uneman'cipated (adj. from un, and emancipated) Not emancipated.
Unemar'ginated (adj. from un, and emarginated) Not emarginated.
Unemas'culated (adj. from un, and emasculated) Not emasculated.
Unembalm'ed (adj. from un, and embalmed) Not embalmed.
Unembar'assed (adj. from un, and embarrassed) Not embarrassed.
Unemba'ied (adj. from un, and embased) Not embased.
Unembat'tled (adj. from un, and embattled) Not embattled.
Unembay'ed (adj. from un, and embayed) Not embayed.
Unembell'ished (adj. from un, and embellished) Not embellished.
Unembezz'led (adj. from un, and embezzled) Not embezzled.
Unembla'zoned (adj. from un, and emblazoned) Not emblazoned.
Unembos'sed (adj. from un, and embossed) Not embossed.
Unembow'elled (adj. from un, and embowelled) Not embowelled.
Unembra'ced (adj. from un, and embraced) Not embraced.
Unembroid'ered (adj. from un, and embroidered) Not embroidered.
Unembroil'ed (adj. from un, and embroiled) Not embroiled.
Unemit'ted (adj. from un, and emitted) Not emitted.
Unempan'nelled (adj. from un, and empannelled) Not empannelled.
Unempas'sioned (adj. from un, and empas'sioned) Not empas'sioned.
Unemploy'ed (adj. from un, and employed) Not employed.
Unempoison'ed (adj. from un, and empoisoned) Not empoisoned.
Unempov'erished (adj. from un, and impoverished) Not impoverished.
Unempow'ered (adj. from un, and empowered) Not empowered.
Unempt'iable (adj. from un, and empty) Incapable of being emptied.
Unempt'ied (adj. from un, and emptied) Not emptied.
Unenam'elled (adj. from un, and enamelled) Not enamelled.
Unenam'oured (adj. from un, and enamoured) Not enamoured.
Unencamp'ed (adj. from un, and encamped) Not encamped.
Unenca'ved (adj. from un, and encaved) Not encaved.
Unenchaf'ed (adj. from un, and encha'ed) Not encha'ed.
Unenchain'ed (adj. from un, and enchained) Not enchained.
Unenchanted (adj. from un, and enchanted) Not enchanted.
Unenchaf'ed (adj. from un, and encha'ed) Not encha'ed.
Unencirc'led (adj. from un, and encircled) Not encircled.
Unenclo'sed (adj. from un, and enclosed) Not enclosed.
Unencom'passed (adj. from un, and encompassed) Not encompassed.
Unenco'red (adj. from un, and encored) Not encored.
Unencount'ered (adj. from un, and encountered) Not encountered.
Unencour'aged (adj. from un, and encouraged) Not encouraged.
Unencroach'ed (adj. from un, and encroached) Not encroached.
Unencumb'ered (adj. from un, and encumbered) Not encumbered.
Unencumb'ering (adj. from un, and encumbering) Not encumbering.
Unencyc'led (adj. from un, and encyc'led) Not encyc'led.
Unendam'aged (adj. from un, and endamaged) Not endamaged.
Unendan'gered (adj. from un, and endangered) Not endangered.
Unendea'led (adj. from un, and endeared) Not endeared.
Unend'ed (adj. from un, and ended) Not ended.
Unend'ing (adj. from un, and ending) Not ending.

U N E

dors'ed (adj. from un, and endorsed) Not endorsed.
 dowed'ed (adj. from un, and endowed) Not endowed.
 du'ed (adj. from un, and endued) Not endued.
 du'ring (adj. from un, and enduring) Not enduring.
 er'vated (adj. from un, and enervated) Not enervated.
 fee'bled (adj. from un, and enfeebled) Not enfeebled.
 feter'ed (adj. from un, and fettered) Not fettered.
 flila'ded (adj. from un, and enfiladed) Not enfiladed.
 fi're'd (adj. from un, and enfi'ed) Not enkindled.
 for'ced (adj. from un, and enforced) Not enforced.
 franch'ised (adj. from un, and enfranchised) Not enfranchised.
 ga'ged (adj. from un, and engaged) Not engaged.
 ga'ging (adj. from un, and engaging) Not engaging.
 gen'ered (adj. from un, and engendered) Not engendered.
 gra've'd (adj. from un, and engraved) Not engraved.
 gra'ven (adj. from un, and engraven) Not engraven.
 gros'sed (adj. from un, and engrossed) Not engrossed.
 han'ced (adj. from un, and enhanced) Not enhanced.
 join'ed (adj. from un, and enjoined) Not enjoined.
 joy'ed (adj. not so common a spelling) Uninjoyed. Sc.
 joy'ing (adj. a different spelling) Uninjoying. Sc.
 kind'led (adj. from un, and enkindled) Not enkindled.
 lar'ged (adj. from un, and enlarged) Not enlarged.
 row, contracted.
 light'ened (adj. from un, and enlightened) Not enlightened.
 li'vened (adj. from un, and enlivened) Not enlivened.
 bled (adj. from un, and enobled) Not enobled.
 pa'troned (adj. from un, and enpatroned) Not enpatroned.
 ra'ged (adj. from un, and enraged) Not enraged.
 rap'tured (adj. from un, and enraptured) Not enraptured.
 rich'ed (adj. from un, and enriched) Not enriched.
 ro'bed (adj. from un, and enrobed) Not enrobed.
 rol'led (adj. from un, and enrolled) Not enrolled.
 ro'oted (adj. from un, and enrooted) Not deeply rooted.
 sched'uled (adj. from un, and enscheduled) Not scheduled.
 seam'ed (adj. from un, and enseamed) Not enclosed with a seam.
 shr'ined (adj. from un, and enshrined) Not enshrined.
 sla'ved (adj. from un, and enslaved) Not enslaved.
 su'ed (adj. from un, and ensured) Not ensured.
 tail'ed (adj. from un, and entailed) Not entailed.
 tang'led (adj. from un, and entangled) Not entangled.
 ter'ed (adj. from un, and entered) Not entered.
 ter'prised (adj. from un, and enterprised) Not enterprised.
 tertain'ing (adj. from un, and entertaining) Giving no entertainment; affording no pleasure.
 thro'ned (adj. from un, and enthroned) Not enthroned.
 ticed (adj. from un, and enticed) Not enticed.
 ticing (adj. from un, and enticing) Not enticing.
 t're (adj. from un, and entire) Not entire.
 tilled (adj. from un, and entitled) Not entitled.
 tom'bed (adj. from un, and entombed) Not entombed.
 tran'ced (adj. from un, and entranced) Not entranced.
 rap'ped (adj. from un, and entrapped) Not entrapped.
 treat'ed (adj. from un, and entreated) Not entreated.
 vel'oped (adj. from un, and enveloped) Not enveloped.
 ven'omed (adj. from un, and envenomed) Not envenomed.
 vied (adj. from un, and envied) Not envied.
 vironed (adj. from un, and environed) Not environed.
 merated (adj. from un, and enumerated) Not enumerated.

U N E

Unen'vying (adj. from un, and envying) Not envying.
 Unepit'omised (adj. from un, and epitomised) Not epitomised.
 Une'quable (adj. from un, and equable) Not equable.
 Une'qual (adj. from un, and equal) Not equal, not even, not regular.
 Une'qualable (adj. from un, and equal) Incapable of being equaled. Boyle.
 Une'qualified (adj. from unequal) Not equalled, unparalleled.
 Une'qually (adv. from unequal) With inequality, with different degrees.
 Une'qualness (s. from unequal) The state of being unequal.
 Unequib'rated (adj. from un, and equilibrated) Not equally poised.
 Unequip'ped (adj. from un, and equipped) Not equipped.
 Unequ'itable (adj. from un, and equitable) Not equitable.
 Unequ'itably (adv. from unequitable) In a manner not equitable.
 Unequiv'alent (adj. from un, and equivalent) Not equivalent.
 Unequiv'ocal (adj. from un, and equivocal) Not equivocal, plain.
 Unera'ed (adj. from un, and erased) Not erased.
 Unere'ct'ed (adj. from un, and erected) Not erected.
 Uner'mined (adj. from un, and ermined) Not clothed in ermine.
 Uner'able (adj. from un, and errable) Incapable of error.
 Uner'ableness (s. from unerrable) An incapacity of error.
 Uner'ring (adj. from un, and erring) Not erring.
 Uner'ringly (adv. from unerring) Without error, without mistake.
 Unerupt'ed (adj. from un, and erupted) Not broken.
 Unerupt'ive (adj. from un, and eruptive) Not eruptive.
 Unescheat'ed (adj. from un, and escheated) Not escheated.
 Uneschew'able (adj. from un, and eschew) Unavoidable. Carew.
 Uneschw'able (adj. obsolete) Unavoidable. Chaucer.
 Unescort'ed (adj. from un, and escorted) Not escorted.
 Une'se (s. obsolete) Uneasiness. Ch.
 UNES'E'RA (s. in botany) The lesser centaury.
 Unesp'ied (adj. from un, and espied) Not espied, not discovered.
 Unespous'ed (adj. from un, and espoused) Not espoused.
 Unessay'ed (adj. from un, and essayed) Not essayed.
 Unessen'tial (adj. from un, and essential) Not essential; void of real being.
 Unestab'lished (adj. from un, and established) Not established.
 Unesteem'ed (adj. from un, and esteemed) Not esteemed.
 Unes'timable (adj. from un, and estimable) Not estimable.
 Unes'timated (adj. from un, and estimated) Not estimated.
 Unestrang'ed (adj. from un, and estranged) Not estranged.
 Unetch'ed (adj. from un, and etched) Not etched.
 Uneter'nal (adj. from un, and eternal) Not eternal.
 Unetern'ized (adj. from un, and eternized) Not eternized.
 Un'eth (adv. obsolete) Scarcely, hardly. Chaucer.
 Unethe'rial (adj. from un, and ethereal) Not ethereal.
 Un'ethes (adv. obsolete) Scarcely, hardly. Ch.
 Un'ethis, Un'eths (adv. obsolete) Hardly, scarcely. Ch.
 Unevac'uated (adj. from un, and evacuated) Not evacuated.
 Uneva'ded (adj. from un, and evaded) Not evaded.
 Unevangeli'zed (adj. from un, and evangelized) Not evangelized.
 Unevap'orated (adj. from un, and evaporated) Not evaporated.
 Une'ven (adj. from un, and even) Not even, not level, not equal.
 Une'venness (s. from un, and even) An inequality of surface, a want of smoothness; a turbulent state, a fluctuation of mind.
 Unevert'ed (adj. from un, and everted) Not overthrown.
 Unevid'enced (adj. from un, and evidenced) Not evidenced.
 Unev'ident (adj. from un, and evident) Not evident. Urevin.

U N E

Unevin'ced (adj. from un, and evinced) Not evinced.
 Unev'rated (adj. from un, and evirated) Not evirated, not deprived of manhood.
 Unevis'cerated (adj. from un, and eviscerated) Not eviscerated, not deprived of the bowels.
 Unev'itable (adj. from un, and evitable) Inevitable, unavoidable.
 Unev'itably (adv. from unavoidable) Unavoidably.
 Unevol'ved (adj. from un, and evolved) Not evolved.
 Unexac'ted (adj. from un, and exacted) Not exacted.
 Unexagg'erated (adj. from un, and exaggerated) Not exaggerated.
 Unexalt'ed (adj. from un, and exalted) Not exalted.
 Unexam'ined (adj. from un, and examined) Not examined.
 Unexamp'led (adj. from un, and exempld) Not exam-pled.
 Unexas'perated (adj. from un, and exasperated) Not exasperated.
 Unexcar'nated (adj. from un, and excarnated) Not cleared from flesh.
 Unexca'vated (adj. from un, and excavated) Not excavated.
 Unexcept'ed (adj. from un, and excepted) Not excepted.
 Unexcept'ionable (adj. from un, and exceptionable) Not liable to exception.
 Unexcept'ionably (adv. from unexceptionable) In a manner not liable to exception.
 Unexchang'ed (adj. from un, and exchanged) Not exchanged.
 Unexcis'ed (adj. from un, and excised) Not excised.
 Unexcit'ed (adj. from un, and excited) Not excited.
 Unexcog'itable (adj. from un, and excogitable) Incapable of being found out. Raleigh.
 Unexcog'itated (adj. from un, and excogitated) Not found out.
 Unexcommu'nicated (adj. from un, and excommunicated) Not excommunicated.
 Unexco'riated (adj. from un, and excoriated) Not excoriated.
 Unexcul'pated (adj. from un, and exculpated) Not exculpated.
 Unexcu'sable (adj. from un, and excusable) Not excu-sable, inexcusable.
 Unexcus'ed (adj. from un, and excused) Not excused.
 Unex'ecuted (adj. from un, and executed) Not executed.
 Unexem'plified (adj. from un, and exemplified) Not exemplified.
 Unexe'mpt (adj. from un, and exempt) Not exempt. Milton.
 Unex'ercised (adj. from un, and exercised) Not exercised.
 Unexert'ed (adj. from un, and exerted) Not exerted.
 Unexha'lable (adj. from un, and exhalable) Not capable of being exhaled.
 Unexha'led (adj. from un, and exhaled) Not exhaled.
 Unexhaust'ed (adj. from un, and exhausted) Not exhausted.
 Unexhib'ited (adj. from un, and exhibited) Not exhibited.
 Unexhil'arated (adj. from un, and exhilarated) Not exhilarated.
 Unexhort'ed (adj. from un, and exhorted) Not exhorted.
 Unexon'erated (adj. from un, and exonerated) Not exonerated.
 Unex'orcised (adj. from un, and exorcised) Not exorcised.
 Unexpan'ded (adj. from un, and expanded) Not expanded.
 Unexpect'ed (adj. from un, and expected) Not expected.
 Unexpect'edly (adv. from unexpected) In a manner not expected.
 Unexpect'edness (s. from unexpected) The state or circumstance of not being expected. Watts.
 Unexpect'orated (adj. from un, and expectorated) Not expectorated.
 Unexpe'dient (adj. from un, and expedient) Inexpedient.
 Unexped'itated (adj. from un, and expeditated) Not expeditated.
 Unexpedit'ed (adj. from un, and expeditd) Not expedited.
 Unexpel'led (adj. from un, and expelled) Not expelled.
 Unexpend'ed (adj. from un, and expended) Not expended.
 Unexper'ience (s. from un, and experience) Inexperience.

U N F

Unexper'ienced (adj. from un, and experienced) Inexperienced.
 Unexper'imental (adj. from un, and experimental) Inexperimental.
 Unexper'imented (adj. from un, and experimented) Inexperimented.
 Unexper't (adj. from un, and expert) Not expert.
 Unexpert'neis (s. from unexpert) The want of expertise.
 Unexp'iated (adj. from un, and expiated) Not expiated.
 Unexpi'red (adj. from un, and expired) Not expired.
 Unexplain'ed (adj. from un, and explained) Not explained.
 Unexp'licable (adj. from un, and explicable) Inexplic-cable.
 Unexplic'it (adj. from un, and explicit) Not explicit.
 Unexplo'ded (adj. from un, and exploded) Not exploded.
 Unexplo'red (adj. from un, and explored) Not explored, out, not tried, not known.
 Unexport'ed (adj. from un, and exported) Not exported.
 Unexpo'sed (adj. from un, and exposed) Not exposed.
 Unexpound'able (adj. from un, and expounded) Incapable of being expounded.
 Unexpound'ed (adj. from un, and expounded) Not expounded.
 Unexpres'sed (adj. from un, and expressed) Not expressed.
 Unexpres'sible (adj. from un, and expressible) Inexpressible.
 Unexpres'sive (adj. from un, and expressive) Not expressive.
 Unexpres't (adj. from un, and exprest) Not exprest.
 Unexpung'ed (adj. from un, and expunged) Not expunged.
 Unextend'ed (adj. from un, and extended) Not extended.
 Unexter'minable (adj. from un, and exterminate) Incapable of being exterminated.
 Unexter'minated (adj. from un, and exterminated) Not exterminated.
 Unexting'uishable (adj. from un, and extinguishable) Incapable of being extinguished.
 Unexting'uished (adj. from un, and extinguished) Not extinguished.
 Unextir'pated (adj. from un, and extirpated) Not extirpated.
 Unextol'led (adj. from un, and extolled) Not extolled.
 Unextort'ed (adj. from un, and extorted) Not extorted.
 Unextra'cted (adj. from un, and extracted) Not extracted.
 Unextrav'asated (adj. from un, and extravasated) Not extravasated.
 Unex'tricated (adj. from un, and extricated) Not extricated.
 Unextru'ded (adj. from un, and extruded) Not ex-truded.
 Unfab'led (adj. from un, and fabled) Not fabled.
 Unfa'ce (v. t. from un, and face) To take off a covering.
 Unfa'ced (p. from unface) Deprived of a covering front.
 Unfa'cing (p. a. from unface) Taking off a front covering.
 Unfa'cing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off front covering.
 Unfa'ded (adj. from un, and faded) Not faded.
 Unfa'ding (adj. from un, and fading) Not fading, ding.
 Unfag'oted (adj. from un, and fagoted) Not fagoted.
 Unfail'ing (adj. from un, and failing) Not failing.
 Unfa'i'r (adj. from un, and fair) Not fair.
 Unfair'ly (adv. from unfair) Dishonestly, disingerously.
 Unfair'ness (s. from unfair) Dishonesty, dising-erousness.
 Unfaith'ful (adj. from un, and faithful) Not faithful, treacherous, infidel.
 Unfaith'fully (adv. from unfaithful) Treacherously, infidiously.
 Unfaith'fulness (s. from unfaithful) Treachery, infidelity.
 Unfal'lible (adj. from un, and fallible) Infallible.
 Unfal'lowed (adj. from un, and fallowed) Not fallowed.
 Unfal'sified (adj. from un, and falsified) Not falsified.
 Unfal'tering (adj. from un, and faltering) Not faltering.
 Unfa'med (adj. from un, and famed) Not famed.
 Unfami'liar (adj. from un, and familiar) Not familiar.

U N F amous (adj. from un, and famous) Infamous.

 avied (adj. from un, and fancied) Not fancied.
 ng'ed (adj. from un, and fanged) Not furnished
 h fangs.
 n'ed (adj. from un, and fanned) Not fanned.
 ntastical (adj. from un, and fantastical) Not fan-tical.
 'ced (adj. from un, and farced) Not farced, not fed.
 m'ed (adj. from un, and farmed) Not farmed, not at a certain rent.
 'rowed (adj. from un, and farrowed) Not farrowed.
 'ciated (adj. from un, and fasciated) Not fasciated.
 'ciated (adj. from un, and fascinated) Not fasciated.
 'hionable (adj. from un, and fashionable) Not ionable, grown out of fashion.
 'hionableness (s. from unfashionable) The state or umberance of being unfashionable. Locke.
 'hionably (adv. from unfashionable) Out of fashion,
 a manner not agreeing with the fashion.
 'hioned (adj. from un, and fashioned) Not fashion-not formed by art.
 'ven (v. t. from un, and fasten) To loose, to unfix.
 'vened (p. from unfasten) Loosed, unfixing.
 'vening (p. a. from unfasten) Loosing, unfixing.
 'vening (s. from the part.) The act of loosing.
 'thered (adj. from un, and fathered) Having no father, fatherless.
 'h'omable (adj. from un, and fathomable) Incapable being fathomed.
 'h'omably (adv. from unfathomable) In a manner to be fathomed.
 'h'omed (adj. from un, and fathomed) Not fa-thomed.
 'gured (adj. from un, and fatigued) Not fatigued.
 'fied (adj. from un, and fatted) Not fatted.
 't'y (adj. from un, and faulty) Not faulty.
 'vorable (adj. a modern spelling) Unfavourable.
 'vourably (adv. from unfavourable) Unfavourably.
 'vourable (adj. from un, and favourable) Not favourable.
 'vourably (adv. from un, and favourably) Unpro-piously, unkindly.
 'voured (adj. from un, and favoured) Not favoured.
 've (adj. obsolete) Unfown. Chaucer.
 'ved (adj. from un, and feared) Not feared.
 'ful (adj. from un, and fearful) Not fearful.
 'fible (adj. from un, and feasible) Not feasible, impossible.
 'fied (adj. from un, and feasted) Not feasted.
 'thered (adj. from un, and feathered) Not feathered.
 'tured (adj. from un, and featured) Deformed, lating regularity of features. Dryden.
 'undated (adj. from un, and fecundated) Not fe-dated.
 'd (adj. from un, and fed) Not fed.
 'ed (adj. from un, and feed) Unpaid, not gratified in a fee.
 'ing (adj. from un, and feeling) Insensible, void mental feeling.
 'ingly (adv. from unfeeling) In an unfeeling
 manner.
 'igned (adj. from un, and feigned) Sincere, not feigned.
 'n'edly (adv. from unfeigned) Sincerely.
 'n'edness (s. from unfeigned) Sincerity, reason. Scott.
 'citated (adj. from un, and felicitated) Not felicitated, not congratulated.
 'lled (adj. from un, and felled) Not felled.
 'lled (adj. from un, and fellowed) Not fellowed.
 't (adj. from un, and felt) Not felt.
 'ced (adj. from un, and fenced) Not fenced.
 'fied (adj. from un, and feoffed) Not put in possession.
 'ment'ed (adj. from un, and fermented) Not fermented.
 'ried (adj. from un, and ferried) Not ferried.
 'tile (adj. from un, and fertile) Not fertile, barren.
 'tilized (adj. from un, and fertilized) Not fertilized.
 'lish (adj. obsolete) Sad, sorrowful. Chaucer.
 'shed (adj. from un, and fetched) Not fetched.
 'ter (v. t. from un, and fetter) To unchain, to from fetters.

U N F

Unfettered (p. from unfetter) Unchained, freed from fetters; with from: as, "Unfettered from the body."
 Unfettering (p. a. from unfetter) Unchaining, freeing
 from fetters.
 Unfettering (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from fetters.
 Unfig'ured (adj. from un, and figured) Not figured.
 Unfil'ed (adj. from un, and filed) Not filed.
 Unfil'ial (adj. from un, and filial) Not becoming a child, unbefitting a son.
 Unfil'led (adj. from un, and filled) Not filled.
 Unfil'leted (adj. from un, and filleted) Not filleted.
 Unfil'tered (adj. from un, and filtered) Not filtered.
 Unfil'trated (adj. from un, and filtrated) Not filtrated.
 Unfin'ed (adj. from un, and fined) Not fined, not mulcted.
 Unfin'ished (adj. from un, and finished) Not finished.
 Unfirm (adj. from un, and firm) Infirm, weak, feeble.
 Unfit (v. t. from un, and fit) To disqualify.
 Unfit (adj. from the verb) Improper, unsuitable, unqualified.
 Unfit'ted (p. from unfit) Disqualified.
 Unfit'tly (adv. from unfit) Improperly, unsuitably.
 Unfit'ness (s. from unfit) The state of being unfit, the want of propriety.
 Unfit'ting (p. a. from unfit) Disqualifying.
 Unfit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of disqualifying.
 Unfix (v. t. from un, and fix) To loosen, to make less fast; to make fluid, to liquify.
 Unfix'ed (adj. from unfix) Loosened, made less fast;
 not determined, wandering.
 Unfix'edness (s. from unfix) The state of being un-fixed.
 Unfix'ing (p. a. from unfix) Loosening, making less fast; undetermining, liquifying.
 Unfix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosening.
 Unflank'ed (adj. from un, and flanked) Not flanked.
 Unflat'tened (adj. from un, and flattened) Not flattened.
 Unflaw'ed (adj. from un, and flawed) Not flawed.
 Unflay'ed (adj. from un, and flayed) Not flayed.
 Unfledg'ed (adj. from un, and fledged) Not fledged.
 Unfleet'ing (adj. from un, and fleeting) Not fleeting.
 Unflesh'ed (adj. from un, and fleshed) Not seasoned to blood, not used to slaughter; raw, untrained to kill and destroy.
 Unflex'ible (adj. from un, and flexible) Inflexible.
 Unfogg'ed (adj. from un, and fogged) Not fogged.
 Unfounc'ed (adj. from un, and founced) Not founced, not ornamented with founces.
 Unflour'ed (adj. from un, and floured) Not floured, not sprinkled with flour.
 Unflour'ished (adj. from un, and flourished) Not flourished.
 Unflower'ed (adj. from un, and flower) Not flowered, not ornamented with flowers.
 Unflow'ing (adj. from un, and flowing) Not flowing.
 Unflow'n (adj. from un, and flown) Not flown.
 Unfluctuating (adj. from un, and fluctuating) Not fluctuating.
 Unflush'ed (adj. from un, and flushed) Not flushed.
 Unfluted (adj. from un, and fluted) Not fluted, not cut into hollows.
 Unflutter'ed (adj. from un, and fluttered) Not fluttered.
 Unfoal'ed (adj. from un, and foal) Not foaled.
 Unfoiled (adj. from un, and foiled) Not foiled.
 Unfoist'ed (adj. from un, and foisted) Not foisted.
 Unfold (v. t. from un, and fold) To expound, to open;
 to tell, to declare; to discover, to reveal; to set forth, to display.
 Unfold'ed (p. from unfold) Expanded, opened, spread;
 told, declared; discovered, revealed; displayed, set to view.
 Unfold'ing (p. a. from unfold) Expanding, spreading, opening; telling, declaring; displaying, setting to view; discovering, revealing.
 Unfold'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening a fold, the act of displaying, the act of discovering a secret.
 Unfollow'ed (adj. from un, and followed) Not followed.
 Unfoment'ed (adj. from un, and fomented) Not fomented.
 Unfool (v. t. from un, and fool) To restore from folly. Shakespeare.
 Unfool'ed (p. from unfool) Reduced from folly.
 Unfool'ing (p. a. from unfool) Reducing from folly.
 Unfool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing from folly.

U N F

Unfor'aged (adj. from un, and foraged) Not foraged.
 Unfor'ced (adj. from un, and forced) Not forced.
 Unforbid'd (adj. from un, and forbid) Not prohibited.
 Unforbid'denness (s. from unforbidden) The state of being unprohibited. Boyle.
 Unfor'cible (adj. from un, and forcible) Wanting efficacy, weak.
 Unford'ed (adj. from un, and forded) Not forded.
 Unforebo'ding (adj. from un, and foreboding) Giving no omens, not foreboding.
 Unforeknow'n (adj. from un, and foreknown) Not foreknown.
 Unforelay'ed (adj. from un, and forelaid) Not forelaid.
 Unforesee'n (adj. from un, and foreseen) Not foreseen.
 Unforeski'ned (adj. from un, and foreskin) Not circumcised. Milton.
 Unforestal'led (adj. from un, and forestalled) Not forestalled.
 Unforeto'ld (adj. from un, and foretold) Not foretold.
 Unforewarn'ed (adj. from un, and forewarned) Not forewarned.
 Unfor'feited (adj. from un, and forfeited) Not forfeited.
 Unfor'ged (adj. from un, and forged) Not forged.
 Unforgiv'en (adj. from un, and forgiven) Not forgiven.
 Unforgiv'ing (adj. from un, and forgiving) Not disposed to forgiveness; unrelenting, implacable.
 Unforgo't (adj. from un, and forgot) Unforgotten.
 Unforlo'tn (adj. from un, and forlorn) Not forlorn, not forsaken.
 Unfor'mal (adj. from un, and formal) Not formal, unobservant of forms.
 Unform'ed (adj. from un, and formed) Not formed, not reduced to any particular shape.
 Unfor'midable (adj. from un, and formidable) Not formidable.
 Unfor'saken (adj. from un, and forsaken) Not forsaken.
 Unfor'wo'tn (adj. from un, and forsworn) Not forsworn.
 Unfor'tified (adj. from un, and fortified) Not fortified.
 Unfor'tunate (adj. from un, and fortunate) Not fortunate, unprosperous, unhappy.
 Unfor'tunately (adv. from unfortunate) Without prosperity, unhappily.
 Unfor'tunateness (s. from unfortunate) The state of being unfortunate. Sidney.
 Unfor'tuned (adj. from un, and fortune) Unprovided with a fortune, unportioned.
 Unfor'warded (adj. from un, and forwarded) Not forwarded.
 Unfos'tered (adj. from un, and fostered) Not fostered.
 Unfoth'ered (adj. from un, and fothered) Not fothered.
 Unfought (adj. from un, and fought) Not fought.
 Unfou'led (adj. from un, and fouled) Not fouled.
 Unfound (adj. from un, and found) Not found.
 Unfram'able (adj. from un, and framable) Incapable of being framed. Hooker.
 Unfram'ed (adj. from un, and framed) Not framed.
 Unfran'chised (adj. from un, and franchised) Not franchised.
 Unfrank'ed (adj. from un, and franked) Not franked, not exempt from the charge of postage.
 Unfray'ed (adj. from un, and frayed) Not frayed.
 Unfre'ed (adj. from un, and freed) Not freed.
 Unfreight'ed (adj. from un, and freighted) Not freighted.
 Unfre'quent (adj. from un, and frequent) Not frequent, uncommon.
 Unfreque'nt (v. t. from the adj. but not used) To cease to frequent. Phillips.
 Unfrequent'ed (adj. from unfrequent) Not frequented.
 Unfre'quently (adv. from un, and frequently) Not often, uncommonly.
 Unfre'quentness (s. from unfrequent) The state of being unfrequent, uncommonness.
 Unfret'ted (adj. from un, and fretted) Not fretted.
 Unfri'ed (adj. from un, and fried) Not fried.
 Unfriend'ed (adj. from un, and friended) Unbefriended.
 Unfriend'lineis (s. from unfriendly) The state or quality of being unfriendly.
 Unfriend'ly (adj. from un, and friendly) Not friendly.
 Unfright'ed (adj. from un, and frightened) Not frightened, not terrified.
 Unfringed (adj. from un, and fringed) Not fringed.
 Unfriz'ed (adj. from un, and frized) Not frized, not curled.
 Unfriz'led (adj. from un, and frizled) Not frizled.
 Unfront'ed (adj. from un, and fronted) Not fronted.
 Unfrosted (adj. from un, and frosted) Not frosted.

U N G

Unfrou'ced (adj. from un, and frounced) Not frounced.
 Unfrow'ard (adj. from un, and froward) Not froward.
 Unfro'zen (adj. from un, and frozen) Not frozen.
 Unfruct'ified (adj. from un, and fructified) Not fructified, not made fruitful.
 Unfru'gal (adj. from un, and frugal) Not frugal.
 Unfru'galness (s. from unfrugal) The state or quality of being unfrugal, the want of frugality.
 Unfruit'ful (adj. from un, and fruitful) Not fruitful, barren.
 Unfruit'fulness (s. from unfruitful) The state or quality of being unfruitful, barrenness.
 Unfrus'trable (adj. from un, and frustrable) Not frustrable.
 Unfrus'trated (adj. from un, and frustrated) Not frustrated.
 Unfud'dled (adj. from un, and fuddled) Not fuddled.
 Unfulfil'led (adj. from un, and fulfilled) Not fulfilled.
 Unful'led (adj. from un, and fuled) Not fuled.
 Unful'minated (adj. from un, and fulminated) Not fulminated.
 Unfu'med (adj. from un, and fumed) Not fumed.
 Unfu'migated (adj. from un, and fumigated) Not fumigated.
 Unfund'ed (adj. from un, and funded) Not funded.
 Unfur'belowed (adj. from un, and furbelowed) Not belowed.
 Unfur'bished (adj. from un, and furnished) Not furnished.
 Unfur'l (v. t. a sea term) To spread out the sails, to expand, to unfold.
 Unfur'l'ed (p. from unfurl) Expanded, unfolded.
 Unfur'l'ing (p. a. from unfurl) Expanding, unfolding.
 Unfur'ling (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding sails.
 Unfur'nish (v. t. from un, and furnish) To strip, to leave naked.
 Unfur'nished (p. from unfurnish) Stripped of furniture, left naked.
 Unfur'nishing (p. a. from unfurnish) Stripping of furniture, leaving naked.
 Unfur'nishing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping any thing of its furniture, the act of leaving naked.
 Unfur'ned (adj. from un, and furred) Not furred, furnished with fur.
 Unfur'rowed (adj. from un, and furrowed) Not furrowed.
 Unfus'ed (adj. from un, and fused) Not fused, not into a state of fusion.
 Ungag'ed (adj. from un, and gage) Not gaged.
 Ungain' (adj. from un, and gain) Unbackward, ungain'ness (s. from ungain) The state or quality of being ungain.
 Ungain'ed (adj. from un, and gained) Not gained.
 Ungain'ful (adj. from un, and gainful) Not gainful, profitable.
 Ungain'ly (adj. from ungain) Awkward, uncouth.
 Ungall'ed (adj. from un, and galled) Not galled.
 Ungan'and (adj. an old word) Ungainly, awkward.
 Ungangre'ned (adj. from un, and gangrened) Not gangrened.
 Ungarb'led (adj. from un, and garbled) Not garbled.
 Ungarg'led (adj. from un, and gargled) Not gargled.
 Ungar'isoned (adj. from un, and garisoned) Not garisoned.
 Ungar'nished (adj. from un, and garnished) Not garnished.
 Ungar'ter (v. t. from un, and garter) To take off the garter, to strip off the garter.
 Ungar'tered (p. from ungarter) Stripped of the garter, deprived of a garter.
 Ungar'tering (p. a. from ungarter) Taking off the garter.
 Ungar'tering (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the garters.
 Ungash'ed (adj. from un, and gashed) Not gashed.
 Ungath'ered (adj. from un, and gathered) Not gathered.
 Ungau'ged (adj. from un, and gauged) Not gauged.
 Ungea'r (v. t. from un, and gear) To unharne'ss, to live from the gears.
 Ungea'rd (p. from ungear) Unharnessed, stripped of gears.
 Ungea'ring (p. a. from ungear) Taking off the harness.
 Ungea'ring (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the harness.
 Un'geld (adj. an old word) Not redeemable by a monetary compensation.
 Ungeld'ed (adj. from un, and gelded) Not gelded.

U N G

t (adj. from un, and gelt) Ungelded.
 dered (adj. from un, and gendered) Not gendered.
 erated (adj. from un, and generated) Not generated.
 erative (adj. from un, and generative) Begetnothing.
 erical (adj. from un, and generical) Not generical.
 erous (adj. from un, and generous) Not generous.
 erously (adv. from ungenerous) Without generously.
 erousness (s. from ungenerous) The want of generosity.
 enial (adj. from un, and genial) Not genial, unfriendly to natural productions.
 enialness (s. from ungenial) The state or quality of being unfriendly to natural productions.
 teel (adj. from un, and genteel) Not genteel.
 teel (adv. from ungentle) Without gentility, manner unlike a gentleman.
 te (adj. from un, and gentle) Harsh, rude, red.
 tlemanlike (adj. from un, and gentlemanlike) like a gentleman.
 tlemanly (adj. from un, and gentlemanly) Illiberal, not becoming a gentleman.
 tleness (s. from ungentle) Harshness, rudeness, rity; unkindness, incivility.
 tly (adv. from ungentle) Harshly, rudely, felly.
 graphical (adj. from un, and geographical) Not ording to the rules of geography.
 metrical (adj. from un, and geometrical) Contrary to the laws of geometry.
 bated (adj. from un, and gibbeted) Not gibbeted.
 ed (adj. from un, and gifted) Not gifted.
 ed (adj. from un, and gilded) Not gilded.
 t (adj. from un, and gilt) Ungilded.
 ty (adj. obsolete) Guiltless, innocent. Chaucer.
 gled (adj. from un, and gingled) Not gingled.
 d (v. t. from un, and gird) To loose any thing
 and with a girdle.
 d (p. from ungird) Loosened, set free from the girdle.
 d (p. a. from ungird) Loosening any thing
 and with a girdle.
 d (s. from the part.) The act of loosing what is
 and with a girdle.
 d (v. t. from un, and girdle) To loose any thing bound with a girdle.
 d (p. from ungirdle) Loosened from the bandle of a girdle.
 d (p. a. from ungirdle) Loosening the dle.
 d (s. from the part.) The act of loosing the dle.
 t (adj. from un, and girt) Loosely dressed.
 ing (adj. from un, and giving) Not giving. Dry.
 ze (v. t. from un, and glaze) To take the glass of a window.
 d (p. from unglaze) Not glazed.
 d (p. a. from unglaze) Taking the glass out.
 d (s. from the part.) The act of taking the glass of a window.
 aned (adj. from un, and gleaned) Not gleaned.
 merated (adj. from un, and glomerated) Not merated.
 rified (adj. from un, and glorified) Not glorified.
 d (adj. from un, and glossed) Not glossed.
 d (adj. from un, and gloved) Not furnished with gloves.
 e (v. t. from un, and glue) To loose any thing cemented with glue, to loose.
 d (p. from unglue) Freed from cohesion, freed from the cohesion of any glutinous matter.
 d (p. a. from unglue) Loosing any thing glued, from cohesion.
 d (s. from the part.) The act of loosing any thing cemented.
 gn (adj. from un, and gnawn) Not gnawn.
 d (adj. from un, and goaded) Not goaded.
 d (v. t. from un, and god) To divest of divinity.
 d (p. from ungod) Divested of divinity.
 d (p. a. from ungod) Divesting of divinity.
 d (s. from the part.) The act of divesting of divinity, the act of undeifying.
 dely (adj. obsolete) Uncivil. Chaucer.

U N G

Ungod'dely (adv. obsolete) Dishonourably. Ch.
 Ungod'lily (adv. not much used, from ungodly) Im-piously, wickedly.
 Ungod'linefs (s. from ungodly) The state of being un-godly.
 Ungod'ly (adj. from un, and godly) Irreligious, wicked.
 Ungod'ly (s. from the adj.) Wicked people, persons void of religion.
 Ungor'ed (adj. from un, and gored) Not gored, not hurt with a horn.
 Ungor'ge (v. t. from un, and gorge) To empty, to ease
 satiety.
 Ungor'ed (p. from ungorge) Emptied, eased of satiety, not filled, not sated.
 Ungor'ing (p. a. from ungorge) Emptying, easing
 satiety.
 Ungor'ing (s. from the part.) The act of emptying, the act of easing satiety.
 Ungos'pelized (adj. from un, and gospelized) Not gospelized. Hill.
 Ungot (adj. from un, and got) Ungotten.
 Ungot'ten (adj. from un, and gotten) Not gotten, not gained; not begotten.
 Ungov'ernable (adj. from un, and governable) Incapable of being governed, licentious, wild, unruly.
 Ungov'ernableness (s. from ungovernable) The state of being ungovernable.
 Ungov'erned (adj. from un, and governed) Not governed, not regulated; licentious, unbridled.
 Ungown'ed (adj. from un, and gowned) Not dressed in a gown.
 Ungra'ced (adj. from un, and graced) Not graced, not beautified.
 Ungra'ceful (adj. from un, and graceful) Not graceful;
 wanting elegance.
 Ungra'cefully (adv. from ungraceful) Without gracefulness, inelegantly.
 Ungra'cefulness (s. from ungraceful) The want of gracefulness, inelegancy.
 Ungra'cious (adj. from un, and gracious) Not gracious; unacceptable, displeasing, offensive.
 Ungra'ciously (adv. from ungracious) In an ungracious
 manner.
 Ungra'ciousness (s. from ungracious) The state of being ungracious.
 Ungrad'uated (adj. from un, and graduated) Not graduated.
 Ungraft'ed (adj. from un, and grafted) Not grafted.
 Ungrain'ed (adj. from un, and grained) Not grained.
 Ungrammat'ical (adj. from un, and grammatical) Not grammatical, contrary to the rules of grammar.
 Ungrant'ed (adj. from un, and granted) Not granted.
 Ungran'ulated (adj. from un, and granulated) Not granulated.
 Ungrap'ple (v. t. from un, and grapple) To free from the grapple.
 Ungrap'pled (p. from ungrapple) Freed from the grapple.
 Ungrap'pling (p. a. from ungrapple) Freeing from the grapple.
 Ungrap'pling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the grapple.
 Ungras'ped (adj. from un, and grasped) Not grasped.
 Ungrat'ed (adj. from un, and grated) Not grated.
 Ungrat'eful (adj. from un, and grateful) Not grateful.
 Ungrat'efully (adv. from ungrateful) With ingratitude, with unacceptableness.
 Ungrat'efulness (s. from ungrateful) The want of gratitude, the want of acceptableness.
 Ungrat'ified (adj. from un, and gratified) Not gratified.
 Ungrat'itude (s. from un, and gratitude) Ingratitude.
 Ungrat'ulated (adj. from un, and gratulated) Not congratulated.
 Ungra'velled (adj. from un, and gravelled) Not gravelled.
 Ungra'vely (adv. from un, and gravely) Without gravity.
 Ungra'ven (adj. from un, and graven) Not graven.
 Ungraz'ed (adj. from un, and grazed) Not grazed.
 Ungre'able (adj. obsolete) Disagreeable. Ch.
 Ungreas'ed (adj. from un, and greased) Not greased.
 Ungreet'ed (adj. from un, and greeted) Not greeted.
 Ungriev'ed (adj. from un, and grieved) Not grieved.
 Ungri'med (adj. from un, and grimed) Not grimed.
 Ungrip'ped (adj. from un, and gripped) Not gripped.
 Ungroov'ed (adj. from un, and grooved) Not grooved.
 Unground'nd (adj. from un, and ground) Not ground.
 Unground'ed (adj. from un, and grounded) Having no foundation.

Unground'edly (adv. from ungrounded) Without sufficient ground. Janeway.
 Ungroup'ed (adj. from un, and grouped) Not grouped.
 Ungrub'bed (adj. from un, and grubbed) Not grubbed.
 Ungrud'ged (adj. from un, and grugged) Not grugged.
 Ungrud'ging (adj. from un, and grudging) Not grudging.
 Ungrud'gingly (adv. from ungrudging) Willingly, cheerfully.
 Unguar'antied (adj. from un, and guaranteed) Not guaranteed.
 Unguard'ed (adj. from un, and guarded) Not guarded.
 Un'guent (s. from the Lat. unguentum) An ointment.
 UNGUENTARIA (s. from the Lat.) The act of compounding ointment.
 UNGUENTUM (s. from the Lat.) A sweet ointment, a perfume, a salve.
 Unguess'ed (adj. from un, and guessed) Not guessed.
 UNGUIC'ULUS (s. in botany) A speck of a different colour on the flower of a plant.
 Unguid'ed (adj. from un, and guided) Not guided.
 UN'GUIS (s. from the Lat.) The nail of the finger or toe.
 UN'GULA (s. from the Lat.) The hoof of a beast; the oblique section of a cylinder comprehending a part of the plane of the base; an instrument for extracting a dead child from the womb.
 UNGULUS (s. in botany) A speck of a different colour on the flower leaf of a plant.
 Ungull'ed (adj. from un, and gulled) Not gulled, not tricked.
 Ungulp'ed (adj. from un, and guiped) Not gulped, not swallowed with eagerness.
 Ungum'med (adj. from un, and gummed) Not gummed.
 Unguzzl'ed (adj. from un, and guzzled) Not guzzled.
 Unhab'itable (adj. from un, and habitable) Not habitable.
 Unhab'itableness (s. from unhabitable) The state of being unhabitable.
 Unhabit'uated (adj. from un, and habituated) Not habituated.
 Unhack'ed (adj. from un, and hacked) Not hacked.
 Unhack'neyed (adj. from un, and hackneyed) Not hackneyed.
 Unhackt (adj. from un, and hackt) Not hacked.
 Unha'ft (v. t. from un, and haft) To deprive of a haft. Scott.
 Unha'fted (adj. from un, and hafted) Not hafted.
 Unhag'gled (adj. from un, and haggled) Not haggled.
 Unhailed (adj. from un, and hailed) Not hailed, not saluted.
 Unhailed (adj. from un, and haled) Not haled, not dragged along.
 Unhailed (adj. from un, and hailed) Not haled, not pulled by violence.
 Unhalloo'ed (adj. from un, and hallooed) Not hallooed.
 Unhal'low (v. t. from un, and hallow) To prophane.
 Unhal'lowed (p. from unhallow) Not hallowed, not consecrated, prophaned.
 Unha'lowing (p. a. from unhallow) Prophaning.
 Unhal'lowing (s. from the part.) The act of prophaning.
 Unhalt'er (v. t. from un, and halter) To free from the halter.
 Unhalt'ered (p. from unhalter) Not halted, not bound with a halter; freed from the halter.
 Unhalt'ering (p. a. from unhalter) Freeing from the halter.
 Unhalt'ering (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the halter.
 Unhalv'ed (adj. from un, and halved) Not halved, not divided into two parts.
 Unham'mered (adj. from un, and hammered) Not hammered, not wrought with the hammer.
 Unhamper (v. t. from un, and hamper) To entangle.
 Unhamper'ed (p. from unhamper) Unentangled.
 Unhamper'ed (adj. from un, and hamper) Not put up in hampers.
 Unhamper'ing (p. a. from unhamper) Unentangling.
 Unhamper'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unentangling.
 Unhand (v. t. from un, and hand) To loose from the hand.
 Unhand'ed (p. from unhand) Loosed from the hand.
 Unhand'ily (adv. from unhandy) Awkwardly.
 Unhand'iness (s. from un, and handy) The state or quality of being unhandy.
 Unhand'ing (p. a. from unhand) Loosing from the hand.

Unhand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing from the hand.
 Unhand'led (adj. from un, and handled) Not handled.
 Unhand'some (adj. from un, and handsome) Not handsome, ungraceful, awkward.
 Unhand'somely (adv. from unhandsome) Ungracefully, awkwardly.
 Unhand'someness (s. from unhand'some) The want of beauty, the want of gracefulness, the want of elegance.
 Unhand'y (adj. from un, and handy) Not handy, awkward.
 Unhang'ed (adj. from un, and hanged) Not hanged, freed from an embarrassment.
 Unhap'p (s. from un, and hap) A mistake, a mishap.
 Unhap'p (adj. an old spelling) An unhap.
 Unhap'pied (adj. from un, and happy) Made unhappy.
 Unhap'pier (adj. comp. of unhappy) Unhappy in a greater degree.
 Unhap'piest (adj. sup. of unhappy) Unhappy in the greatest degree.
 Unhap'pily (adv. from unhappy) Without happiness, with misery.
 Unhap'piness (s. from unhappy) The state of being unhappy, misfortune, calamity, misery.
 Unhap'py (adj. from un, and happy) Not happy, distressed, miserable.
 Unhar'assed (adj. from un, and harassed) Not harassed.
 Unhar'bour (v. t. from un, and harbour) To drive from shelter.
 Unhar'oured (p. from unharbour) Driven from shelter.
 Unhar'ouring (p. a. from unharbour) Driving from shelter.
 Unhar'ouring (s. from the part.) The act of driving from shelter.
 Unhard'ened (adj. from un, and hardened) Not hardened.
 Unhar'dy (adj. from un, and hardy) Not hardy.
 Unharm'ed (adj. from un, and harmed) Not hurt, not injured.
 Unharm'ful (adj. from un, and harmful) Innocent.
 Unharm'o'nical (adj. from un, and harmonical) Not harmonical, unharmonious.
 Unharm'o'nious (adj. from un, and harmonious) Not proportionate, wanting symmetry, unmusical, not in harmony.
 Unharm'o'niously (adv. from unharmonious) Without harmony.
 Unharm'o'niousness (s. from unharmonious) The want of harmony, a defect in harmony.
 Unhar'monized (adj. from un, and harmonized) Not harmonized.
 Unhar'ness (v. t. from un, and harness) To loose the harness; to disarm, to divest of armour.
 Unhar'nessed (p. from unharness) Looked from harness, disarmed.
 Unhar'nessing (p. a. from unharness) Looking from harness, disarming.
 Unhar'nessing (s. from the part.) The act of looking from the harness, the act of disarming.
 Unhar'rowed (adj. from un, and harrowed) Not harrowed.
 Unhatched (adj. from un, and hatched) Not hatched.
 Unha'sp (v. t. from un, and hasp) To free from the fastening of a hasp.
 Unhasp'ed (p. from unhasp) Freed from the confinement of a hasp.
 Unhasp'ing (p. a. from unhasp) Freeing from the confinement of a hasp.
 Unhasp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unloosing the hasp.
 Unhast'ened (adj. from un, and hastened) Not hastened.
 Unhast'y (adj. from un, and hasty) Not hasty.
 Unhatch'ed (adj. from un, and hatched) Not hatched.
 Unhatch'elled (adj. from un, and hatchelled) Not hatchelled.
 Unhated (adj. from un, and hated) Not hated.
 Unhaul'ed (adj. from un, and hauled) Not hauled, pulled.
 Unhaunt'ed (adj. from un, and haunted) Not haunted.
 Unhawk'ed (adj. from un, and hawked) Not hawked, not carried about for sale.
 Unhaz'arded (adj. from un, and hazarded) Not hazarded, not put to an adventure.
 Unheal'ed (adj. from un, and healed) Not healed.
 Unhealth'ful (adj. from un, and healthful) Unwholesome, sickly.
 Unhealth'fulness (s. from unhealthful) The state of being unhealthful.
 Unhealth'ier (adj. comp. of unhealthy) Unhealthy in a greater degree.

U N H

Un'leest (adj. sup. of unhealthy) Unhealthy in the least degree.
 Un'lineis (s. from unhealthy) The state of being unhealthy.
 Un'ly (adj. from un, and healthy) Not healthy.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and heaped) Not heaped.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and heard) Not heard.
 Un'rt (v. t. from un, and heart) To discourage, to shorten. Shakespeare.
 Un'rted (p. from unheart, but not used) Disheartened.
 Un'ring (p. a. from unheart, but not used) Disheartening.
 Un'ry (adj. from un, and hearty) Not hearty; inactive.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and heated) Not heated.
 Un'enly (adj. from un, and heavenly) Not heavenly.
 Un'ored (adj. from un, and heftored) Not heftored.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hedged) Not hedged.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and heeded) Not heeded.
 Un'ful (adj. from un, and heedful) Not heedful.
 Un'fulness (s. from unheedful) The state or quality of being unheedful.
 Un'ing (adj. from un, and heeding) Careless, neglectful.
 Un'y (adj. from un, and heedly) Rash, precipitate.
 Un'pieced (adj. from un and heelpieced) Not heelpieced.
 Un'tened (adj. from un, and heightened) Not heightened.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and heired) Not heired, not inherited by an heir.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and held) Not held.
 Un' (s. obsolete) The want of health, misfortune. Ch.
 Un' (v. t. from un, and hele) To uncover, to expose to view. Shakespeare.
 Un'ed (p. from unhele, obsolete) Uncovered, exposed to view.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and helmed) Not helmed, not armed with an helmet.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and helped) Not helped.
 Un'ful (adj. from un, and helpful) Affording no help.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and helved) Not fitted with a helve.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hemmed) Not hemmed.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and herded) Not herded, not put into herds.
 Un'ical (adj. from un, and heretical) Not heretical.
 Un'itable (adj. from un, and heritable) Not heritable.
 Un'itical (adj. from un, and hermitical) Unlike a hermit.
 Un'ic (adj. from un, and heroic) Not heroic.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hewed) Not hewed, uncut.
 Un'n (adj. from un, and hewn) Not hewn.
 Un' (adj. from un, and hid) Not hid.
 Un'en (adj. from un, and hidden) Not hidden.
 Un' (v. t. obsolete) To lay open, to discover. Chau.
 Un'bound (p. from un, and hidebound) Not hidebound.
 Un'ered (adj. from un, and hindered) Not hindered.
 Un'ge (v. t. from un, and hinge) To throw from the hinges, to take off the hinges; to displace, to disengage.
 Un'ed (p. from unhinge) Thrown off the hinges, disengaged, thrown out of place.
 Un'ing (p. a. from unhinge) Throwing off the hinges, disordering, throwing into confusion.
 Un'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing off the hinges, the act of throwing into disorder.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hipped) Not hipped; not armed with a hip.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hired) Not hired.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hissed) Not hissed, not excited by hissing.
 Un' (adj. from un, and hit) Not hit.
 Un' (v. t. from un, and hitch) To disengage from a hitch.
 Un'ed (p. from unhitch) Disengaged from a hitch.
 Un'ed (adj. from un, and hiteched) Not hiteched, not armed with a hitechel.
 Un'ing (p. a. from unhitch) Disengaging from a hitch.
 Un'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disengaging from a hitch.
 Un' (adj. from un, and hive) Not hived, not put into a hive.
 Un' (v. t. from un, and hoard) To take from a hoard, to disclose, to steal.
 Un'ed (p. from unhoard) Taken out of a hoard.

U N H

Unhoard'ing (p. a. from unhoard) Taking out of a hoard.
 Unhoard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking out of a hoard.
 Unho'ed (adj. from un, and hoed) Not hoed, not cut up with a hoe.
 Unhoist'ed (adj. from un, and hoisted) Not hoisted.
 Unho'ide (adj. obsolete) Held in no account. Chaucer.
 Unho'lier (adj. comp. of unholy) Unholy in a greater degree.
 Unho'liest (adj. sup. of unholy) Unholy in the greatest degree.
 Unho'lily (adv. from unholy) Without holiness, with impiety.
 Unho'linefs (s. from unholy) The state or quality of being unholy.
 Unho'llowed (adj. from un, and hollowed) Not hollowed.
 Unho'ly (adj. from un, and holy) Not holy, prophane, impious, wicked.
 Unhon'est (adj. from un, and honest) Dishonest.
 Unhon'eyed (adj. from un, and honeyed) Not honeyed, not sweetened with honey.
 Unhon'ied (adj. from un, and honied) Not sweetened with honey.
 Unhon'ored (adj. the modern spelling) Not honoured, unhonoured.
 Unhon'oured (adj. the less modern spelling) Not honoured.
 Unho'od (v. t. from un, and hood) To divest of the hood.
 Unho'od'ed (p. from unhood) Divested of the hood.
 Unho'od'ing (p. a. from unhood) Divesting of the hood.
 Unho'od'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the hood.
 Unho'od'wink (v. t. from un, and hoodwink) To remove what obstructs the light. Scott.
 Unho'od'winked (p. from unhoodwink) Freed from any thing that obstructs the light.
 Unho'od'winking (p. a. from unhoodwink) Removing any thing that obstructs the light.
 Unho'od'winking (s. from the part.) The act of removing any thing that obstructs the light.
 Unho'ok (v. t. from un, and hook) To disengage from a hook.
 Unhook'ed (p. from unhook) Disengaged from a hook.
 Unhook'ing (p. a. from unhook) Disengaging from a hook.
 Unhook'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disengaging from a hook.
 Unho'op (v. t. from un, and hoop) To divest of hoops, to take off a hoop.
 Unhoop'ed (p. from unhoop) Divested of hoops.
 Unhoop'ing (p. a. from unhoop) Taking off the hoops, divesting of a hoop.
 Unhoop'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the hoops.
 Unho'ot'ed (adj. from un, and hoat) Not hoated.
 Unho'ped (adj. from un, and hope) Not expected, not hoped for.
 Unho'peful (adj. from un, and hopeful) Not hopeful, unpromising.
 Unho'pefulness (s. from unhopeful) The state or quality of being unhopeful.
 Unhorn'ed (adj. from un, and horned) Not horned, not furnished with horns.
 Unho'rle (v. t. from un, and horle) To beat from the horse, to throw from the saddle.
 Unhors'ed (p. from unhorse) Beaten from the horse, thrown from the saddle.
 Unhors'ing (p. a. from unhorse) Beating from the horse, throwing from the saddle.
 Unhors'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dismounting from a horse, the act of throwing off the saddle.
 Unho'se (v. t. from un, and hote) To pull off the stockings.
 Unho'ed (p. from unhose) Stripped of the stockings, deprived of stockings.
 Unho'ing (p. a. from unhose) Stripping off the stockings.
 Unho'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling off the hose.
 Unhos'pitable (adj. from un, and hospitable) Void of hospitality, affording no entertainment to strangers.
 Unhos'tile (adj. from un, and hostile) Not hostile.
 Unhough'ed (adj. from un, and houghed) Not houghed, not hamstringed.
 Unhou'se (v. t. from un, and house) To drive out of a habitation, to drive from a habitation.
 Unhous'ed (p. from unhouse) Driven from a habitation, deprived of a home.
 Unhous'eled (adj. from un, and houseled) Not having received the sacrament. Shakespeare.
 Unhous'elled

U N I

Unhous'elled (adj. from un, and houseled) Not houseled, not admitted to the sacrament, not prepared by the sacrament. Shakespeare.
 Unhous'ing (p. a. from unhouse) Driving from a habitation.
 Unhous'ing (s. from the part.) The act of driving from a habitation.
 Unhox'ed (adj. from un, and hoxed) Not hoxed, not hamstringed.
 Unhug'ged (adj. from un, and hugged) Not hugged.
 Unhu'man (adj. from un, and human) Inhuman.
 Unhu'mahized (adj. from un, and humanized) Not humanized.
 Unhu'manly (adv. from unhuman) Inhumanly.
 Unhum'bled (adj. from un, and humbled) Not humbled.
 Unhu'moured (adj. from un, and humoured) Not humoured.
 Unhu'ng (adj. from un, and hung) Not hung, not hanged.
 Unhunted (adj. from un, and hunted) Not hunted.
 Unhur'led (adj. from un, and hurled) Not hurled.
 Unhur'ried (adj. from un, and hurried) Not hurried.
 Unhu'rt (adj. from un, and hurt) Not hurt; free from harm.
 Unhurt'ful (adj. from un, and hurtful) Harmless, innocent.
 Unhurt'fully (adv. from unhurtful) Without harm, innocently.
 Unhus'banded (adj. from un, and husbanded) Not husbanded, not well managed; not provided with a husband.
 Unhu'sk (v. t. from un, and husk) To free from the husk.
 Unhusk'ed (p. from unhusk) Freed from the husk.
 Unhusk'ing (p. a. from unhusk) Freeing from the husk.
 Unhusk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the husk.
 Unhust'led (adj. from un, and hustled) Not hustled, not shook together.
 Unhuzza'ed (adj. from un, and huzzaed) Not huzzaed.
 Unhizable (adj. obsolete) Smooth, plain, exact. Chaucer.
 Unjaded (adj. from un, and jaded) Not jaded, not tired.
 Unjag'ged (adj. from un, and jagged) Not jagged.
 Unjam'b (v. t. from un, and jamb) To free from a pressure between two bodies.
 Unjam'bed (p. from unjamb) Delivered from the pressure of two bodies.
 Unjam'bing (p. a. from unjamb) Freeing from the pressure of two hard bodies.
 Unjam'bing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from the pressure of two hard bodies.
 Unjapan'ed (adj. from un, and jappanned) Not jappanned.
 Unjaun'diced (adj. from un, and jaundiced) Not affected with the jaundice.
 UNICAP'SULAR (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and capsula a seed vessel) Having but one seed vessel.
 U'nick (adj. from unique, not used) Only. Cole.
 UNICORN (s. from the Lat. unus one, and cornu a horn) A beast with one horn now supposed to be fabulous; the name of a bird; the name of a fish.
 Unicornbir'd (s. from unicorn, and bird) The name of a bird so called from a remarkable protuberance or horn on its forehead.
 Unicornfish (s. from unicorn, and fish) The name of a fish so called from a remarkable horn or spike growing out of its snout.
 Unicornfos'sil (s. in natural history) A kind of crustaceous spar.
 UNICORNOUS (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and cornu a horn) Having one horn.
 Unicornwhale (s. from unicorn, and whale) The name of a large fish said to have a head resembling that of a horse, and a horn nine foot long growing out of its forehead.
 Unidel (adv. an old word) In vain. Cole.
 Unidol'ized (adj. from un, and idolized) Not idolized.
 UNIFORM (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and forma a shape) Having the same form, agreeing together; keeping one course, conforming to one rule.
 Unifor'mity (s. from uniform) The state or quality of being uniform.
 Unifor'mly (adv. from uniform) With the same form, without variation, without disagreement, in an even course.
 UNIFY (v. t. from the Lat. unus one, and facio to make, but not used) To make one. Cole.
 Unig'nited (adj. from un, and ignited) Not kindled, not set on fire.

U N I

UNILAB'IATED (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and labium a lip) Having one flowercup.
 Unillu'minated (adj. from un, and illuminated) Not illuminated.
 Unillu'mined (adj. from un, and illumined) Not illuminated.
 Unillus'trated (adj. from un, and illustrated) Not illustrated.
 Unimag'ed (adj. from un, and imaged) Not imaged, not formed in the imagination.
 Unimag'inable (adj. from un, and imaginable) Incapable, incapable of being imagined.
 Unimag'inably (adv. from unimaginable) To a degree not to be imagined.
 Unimag'ined (adj. from un, and imagined) Not imagined.
 Unimbank'ed (adj. from un, and imbanked) Not imbanked.
 Unimbel'lished (adj. from un, and imbellished) Not imbellished.
 Unimbez'zled (adj. from un, and imbezzled) Not imbezzled.
 Unimbi'bed (adj. from un, and imbibed) Not imbibed.
 Unimbit'tered (adj. from un, and imbittered) Not imbittered.
 Unimbod'ied (adj. from un, and imbodied) Not imbodied.
 Unimbold'ened (adj. from un, and imboldened) Not imboldened.
 Unimbor'dered (adj. from un, and imbordered) Not imbordered.
 Unimbo'somed (adj. from un, and imbofomed) Not imbofomed.
 Unimbow'ed (adj. from un, and imbowed) Not imbowed.
 Unimbow'elled (adj. from un, and imbowelled) Not imbowelled.
 Unimbow'ered (adj. from un, and imbowered) Not imbowered.
 Unimbro'odered (adj. from un, and imbroidered) Not imbroidered.
 Unimbroil'ed (adj. from un, and imbroiled) Not imbroiled.
 Unimbrown'ed (adj. from un, and imbrowned) Not imbrowned.
 Unimbru'ed (adj. from un, and imbrued) Not imbrued.
 Unimbu'ed (adj. from un, and imbued) Not imbued.
 Unim'itable (adj. from un, and imitable) Incapable of imitation, inimitable.
 Unim'itably (adv. from unimitable) Inimitably.
 Unim'itated (adj. from un, and imitated) Not imitated.
 Unimmer'ged (adj. from un, and immersed) Not immersed.
 Unimmer'sed (adj. from un, and immersed) Not immersed.
 Unimmit'ted (adj. from un, and immitted) Not immitted.
 Unimmor'tal (adj. from un, and immortal) Not immortal.
 Unimmortali'zed (adj. from un, and immortalized) Not immortalized.
 Unimmo'veable (adj. from un, and immovable) Not immovable.
 Unimmu'ed (adj. from un, and immured) Not immured.
 Unimpair'able (adj. from un, and impairable) Incapable of being impaired.
 Unimpaired (adj. from un, and impaired) Not impaired.
 Unimpar'adised (adj. from un, and imparadised) Not imparadised, not made happy.
 Unimpar'lance (s. a law term) The want of balance.
 Unimpark'ed (adj. from un, and imparked) Not imparked.
 Unimpart'ed (adj. from un, and imparted) Not imparted.
 Unimpawn'ed (adj. from un, and impawned) Not impawned.
 Unimpeach'ed (adj. from un, and impeached) Not impeached.
 Unimpearl'ed (adj. from un, and impearled) Not impearled.
 Unimpe'ded (adj. from un, and impeded) Not impeded, not hindered.
 Unimpe'led (adj. from un, and impelled) Not impelled.
 Unimpen'etrable (adj. from un, and impenetrable) Not impenetrable.
 Unimpe'rious (adj. from un, and imperious) Not imperious.
 Unimper'tinent (adj. from un, and imperinent) Not imperinent.
 Unimplant'ed (adj. from un, and implanted) Not implanted.

UNI

implied (adj. from un, and implied) Not implied.
 implored (adj. from un, and implored) Not implored.
 employed (adj. from un, and employed) Not im-ployed.
 impoisoned (adj. from un, and impoisoned) Not im-poisoned.
 important (adj. from un, and important) Not important.
 imported (adj. from un, and imported) Not imported.
 importuned (adj. from un, and importuned) Not importuned.
 imposed (adj. from un, and imposed) Not imposed.
 impoethumated (adj. from un, and impoethumated) Not im-poethumated.
 impoverished (adj. from un, and impoverished) Not im-impoverished.
 imprecated (adj. from un, and imprecated) Not imprecated.
 impregnated (adj. from un, and impregnated) Not impregnated.
 impregnated (adj. from un, and impregnated) Not impregnated.
 impressed (adj. from un, and impressed) Not impressed.
 imprinted (adj. from un, and imprinted) Not imprinted.
 imprisoned (adj. from un, and imprisoned) Not imprisoned.
 impropriated (adj. from un, and impropriated) Not im-propriated.
 improvable (adj. from un, and improvable) Not im-proveable.
 improveableness (s. from un, and improveable) The quality of not being improveable.
 improved (adj. from un, and improved) Not improved.
 impugned (adj. from un, and impugned) Not impugned.
 impulsive (adj. from un, and impulsive) Not impulsive.
 impurpled (adj. from un, and impurpled) Not im-purpled.
 imputed (adj. from un, and imputed) Not imputed.
 inamoured (adj. from un, and inamoured) Not inamoured.
 incaged (adj. from un, and incaged) Not incaged.
 incanted (adj. from un, and incanted) Not incanted.
 incarcerated (adj. from un, and incarcerated) Not im-carcated.
 incarned (adj. from un, and incarned) Not incarned.
 incased (adj. from un, and incased) Not incased.
 incensed (adj. from un, and incensed) Not incensed.
 incircled (adj. from un, and incircled) Not incircled.
 incited (adj. from un, and incited) Not incited.
 inclined (adj. from un, and inclined) Not inclined.
 inclosed (adj. from un, and inclosed) Not inclosed.
 incompassed (adj. from un, and incompassed) Not in-compassed.
 incrassated (adj. from un, and incrassated) Not incrassated.
 increased (adj. from un, and increase) Admitting increase. Boyle.
 increased (adj. from un, and increased) Not increased.
 incrustated (adj. from un, and incrustated) Not incrustated.
 incrufted (adj. from un, and incrufted) Not incrufted.
 inculcated (adj. from un, and inculcated) Not inculcated.
 incumbered (adj. from un, and incumbered) Not incumbered.
 indeared (adj. from un, and indeared) Not indeared.
 indebted (adj. from un, and indebted) Not indebted.
 indemnified (adj. from un, and indemnified) Not indemnified.
 indented (adj. from un, and indented) Not indented.
 indicated (adj. from un, and indicated) Not indicated.
 indicted (adj. from un, and indicted) Not indicted.
 indifferent (adj. from un, and indifferent) Not indifferent.
 indited (adj. from un, and indited) Not indited.
 indorsed (adj. from un, and indorsed) Not indorsed.
 indowed (adj. from un, and indowed) Not indowed.
 induced (adj. from un, and induced) Not induced.
 indused (adj. from un, and indused) Not indused.
 indued (adj. from un, and indued) Not indued.
 indulged (adj. from un, and indulged) Not indulged.

UNI

undurated (adj. from un, and indurated) Not indur-ated.
 undustrious (adj. from un, and industrious) Not industrious.
 unbriated (adj. from un, and inebriated) Not inebriated.
 unfatuated (adj. from un, and infatuated) Not infatuated.
 uninfected (adj. from un, and infected) Not infected.
 uninfested (adj. from un, and infested) Not infested.
 uninfixed (adj. from un, and infixed) Not infixed.
 uninfamed (adj. from un, and inflamed) Not inflamed.
 uninflam'mable (adj. from un, and inflammable) Not inflammable.
 uninfated (adj. from un, and infated) Not infated.
 uninflected (adj. from un, and inflected) Not inflected.
 uninflicted (adj. from un, and inflicted) Not inflicted.
 uninfluenced (adj. from un, and influenced) Not influenced.
 uninfolded (adj. from un, and infolded) Not infolded.
 uninformed (adj. from un, and informed) Not informed.
 uninfacted (adj. from un, and infacted) Not infacted.
 uninfinged (adj. from un, and infringed) Not infringed.
 uninfused (adj. from un, and infused) Not infused.
 uningen'uous (adj. from un, and ingenuous) Not ingenuous.
 uningulphed (adj. from un, and ingulphed) Not ingulphed.
 uninhab'itable (adj. from un, and inhabitable) Not habitable.
 uninhab'itableness (s. from uninhabitable) The state or quality of being uninhabitable.
 uninhab'ited (adj. from un, and inhabited) Not inhabited.
 uninher'itable (adj. from un, and inheritable) Not inheritable.
 uninher'ited (adj. from un, and inherited) Not inherited.
 uninhersted (adj. from un, and inhersted) Not inhersted.
 uninhib'ited (adj. from un, and inhibited) Not inhibited.
 uninhum'ed (adj. from un, and inhumed) Not inhumed.
 uninjected (adj. from un, and injected) Not injected.
 uninjoined (adj. from un, and injoined) Not injoined.
 uninjoyed (adj. from un, and injoyed) Not injoyed.
 uninitiated (adj. from un, and initiated) Not initiated.
 uninjured (adj. from un, and injured) Not injured.
 uninkind'led (adj. from un, and inkindled) Not inkin-dled.
 uninlay'ed (adj. from un, and inlayed) Not inlayed.
 uninlarged (adj. from un, and inlarged) Not inlarged.
 uniligh'tened (adj. from un, and enlightened) Not inlightened.
 uninlist'ed (adj. from un, and inlisted) Not inlisted.
 uninoculated (adj. from un, and inoculated) Not inoculated.
 uninrailed (adj. from un, and inrailed) Not inrailed.
 uninrich'ed (adj. from un, and inriched) Not inriched.
 unincribed (adj. from un, and inscribed) Not inscribed.
 uninculped (adj. from un, and inculped) Not inculped.
 uninfamed (adj. from un, and infeed) Not in-feed.
 uninsert'ed (adj. from un, and inserted) Not inserted.
 uninstrined (adj. from un, and instrined) Not instrined.
 uninfuated (adj. from un, and inuated) Not in-uated.
 uninfaved (adj. from un, and inaved) Not inaved.
 uninfared (adj. from un, and inared) Not inared.
 uninspected (adj. from un, and inspected) Not inspected.
 uninspired (adj. from un, and inspired) Not inspired.
 uninspir'ited (adj. from un, and inspirited) Not in-spirited, not animated.
 unispis'ated (adj. from un, and inispisated) Not in-spisated.
 uninstal'led (adj. from un, and installed) Not installed.
 uninstated (adj. from un, and instated) Not instated.
 uninstitigated (adj. from un, and instigated) Not instigated.
 uninstilled (adj. from un, and instilled) Not instilled.
 uninstituted (adj. from un, and instituted) Not instituted.
 uninstru'cted (adj. from un, and instructed) Not instructed.
 uninstru'ctive (adj. from un, and instructive) Not instructive.
 uninfult'ed (adj. from un, and insulted) Not insulted.
 unintel'ligent (adj. from un, and intelligent) Not intelligent.

Unintel-

UNI

Unintelligibil/ity (s. from unintelligible) The state or quality of being unintelligible.
Unintelligible (adj. from un, and intelligible) Not intelligible.
Unintelligibleness (s. from unintelligible) The state of being unintelligible.
Unintelligibly (adv. from unintelligible) In a manner not to be understood.
Unintend'ed (adj. from un, and intended) Not intended.
Unintentional (adj. from un, and intentional) Not intentional.
Unintercal'ated (adj. from un, and intercalated) Not intercalated.
Unintercept'ed (adj. from un, and intercepted) Not intercepted.
Uninterdict'ed (adj. from un, and interdicted) Not interdicted.
Uninterested (adj. not so common a word) Uninterested.
Uninterested (adj. from un, and interested) Not interested.
Uninteresting (adj. from un, and interesting) Not interesting.
Uninterlaced (adj. from un, and interlaced) Not interlaced.
Uninterlard'ed (adj. from un, and interlarded) Not interlarded.
Uninterlea'ved (adj. from un, and interleaved) Not interleaved.
Uninterlined (adj. from un, and interlined) Not interlined.
Uninterlink'ed (adj. from un, and interlinked) Not interlinked.
Unintermingled (adj. from un, and intermingled) Not intermingled.
Unintermit'ted (adj. from un, and intermitted) Not intermitted.
Unintermix'ed (adj. from un, and intermixed) Not intermixed.
Uninterplead'ed (adj. from un, and interpleaded) Not interpleaded.
Uninterpolated (adj. from un, and interpolated) Not interpolated.
Uninterpo'sed (adj. from un, and interposed) Not interposed.
Uninterpre'ted (adj. from un, and interpreted) Not interpreted.
Uninterred (adj. from un, and interred) Not interred.
Uninterrogated (adj. from un, and interrogated) Not interrogated.
Uninterrupt'ed (adj. from un, and interrupted) Not interrupted.
Uninterrupt'edly (adv. from uninterrupted) Without interruption.
Unintersect'ed (adj. from un, and intersected) Not intersected.
Unintervol'ved (adj. from un, and intervolved) Not intervolved.
Uninterwoven (adj. from un, and interwoven) Not interwoven.
Uninthrall'ed (adj. from un, and inthrall) Not inthrall.
Uninthrone'd (adj. from un, and inthrone) Not inthrone.
Unintimated (adj. from un, and intimated) Not intimated.
Unintimidated (adj. from un, and intimidated) Not intimidated.
Unintire (adj. from un, and intire) Not intire.
Unintitled (adj. from un, and intitled) Not intitled.
Unintomb'ed (adj. from un, and intombed) Not intombed.
Unintoxicated (adj. from un, and intoxicated) Not intoxicated.
Unintrap'ped (adj. from un, and intrapped) Not intrapped.
Unintrench'ed (adj. from un, and intrenched) Not intrenched.
Unintroduced (adj. from un, and introduced) Not introduced.
Unintru'ded (adj. from un, and intruded) Not intruded.
Unintru'sted (adj. from un, and intrusted) Not intrusted.
Unintwined (adj. from un, and intertwined) Not intertwined.
Uninva'ded (adj. from un, and invaded) Not invaded.
Uninveig'led (adj. from un, and inveigled) Not inveigled.
Uninvent'ed (adj. from un, and invented) Not invented.
Uninvert'ed (adj. from un, and inverted) Not inverted.
Uninvest'ed (adj. from un, and invested) Not invested.
Uninvestigable (adj. from un, and investigable) Not investigable.

UNI

Uninvestigated (adj. from un, and investigated) Not investigated.
Uninvigorated (adj. from un, and invigorated) Not invigorated.
Uninvi'ted (adj. from un, and invited) Not invited.
Uninvok'ed (adj. from un, and invoked) Not invoked.
Uninvol'ved (adj. from un, and involved) Not involved.
Uninur'ed (adj. from un, and inured) Not inured.
Uninurn'ed (adj. from un, and inurned) Not inurned.
Uninwea'ved (adj. from un, and inweaved) Not weaved.
Uninwo'ven (adj. from un, and inwoven) Not inwoven.
Uninwrap'ped (adj. from un, and inwrapped) Not wrapped.
Uninwreath'ed (adj. from un, and inwreathed) Not wreathed.
Unjog'ged (adj. from un, and jogged) Not jogged.
Unjoin (v. t. from un, and join) To disunite, to disjoin.
Unjoin'ed (p. from unjoin) Disunited, disjoined.
Unjoin'er (v. t. obsolete) To disjoin.
Unjoin'ing (p. a. from unjoin) Disuniting, disjoining.
Unjoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disjoining.
Unjoin't (v. t. from un, and joint) To disjoin, to out of joint.
Unjoint'ed (p. from unjoint) Disjointed, disunited.
Unjoint'ing (p. a. from unjoint) Disjoining, disjoining.
Unjoint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disjoining.
Unjoint'ured (adj. from un, and jointured) Not jointured.
UNIO'LA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Unjoll'ed (adj. from un, and jollied) Not jollied.
Unjolt'ed (adj. from un, and jolted) Not jolted.
UNION (s. from the Lat. unus one) The act of joining as to make one, a conjunction, a connection; an agreement, concord; a combination, a consolidation; pearls; but this sense is now grown obsolete.
Unionpearls (s. from union, and pearls) Pearls that grow together or in pairs, and are reckoned the most valuable.
Unjoy'ous (adj. from un, and jeyous) Not gay, cheerful.
UNIPEROUS (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and pro to bring forth) Producing one at a birth.
Unique (s. an old word) A unite.
Unironed (adj. from un, and ironed) Not ironed.
UNISON (s. from the Lat. unus one, and sonus a sound) A single unvaried note, an exact agreement of sound.
Unison (adj. from the sub.) Sounding alone.
UNIT (s. from the Lat. unus one) The number of the first number, the least number, the root of numbers.
Unitable (adj. from unite) Capable of being united.
Unitarian (s. from unite) One who believes there is but one God; one who rejects the distinction of the equal persons in the Godhead.
Unitarian (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the Unitarians, comprising the doctrine of the Unitarians.
Unit'e (v. t. from unite) To join two or more into one; to make to agree, to make to adhere; to join, to unite in interest.
Unit'e (v. int.) To concur, to act in concert; to conjoin to grow into one.
Unite (s. not so common a spelling) An unit.
Unit'ed (p. from unite) Joined in one; agreed, united to agree; joined together, joined in interest.
Unit'edly (adv. from united) With union, with one sentiment.
Unit'er (s. from unite) One who unites, anything that unites.
Unit'ing (p. a. from unite) Joining, joining two or more into one; coalescing, adhering.
Unit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining.
Unit'ion (s. from unite) The act of uniting, the process of uniting; a conjunction, a coalition.
Unitive (adj. from unite) Having the power of uniting.
Unity (s. from unite) The state of being one; agreement, uniformity; uniformity of design, a combination of circumstances to illustrate the main design; joint possession under several titles.
UNIVALVE (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and valva folding doors) Having one shell.
Unjudg'ed (adj. from un, and judged) Not judged, judicially determined.
Unjudic'ious (adj. from un, and judicious) Injudicious.
Univers'al (adj. from universe) General, extending to all; total, whole; comprising all particulars.
Univers'al (s. from the adj. but not used of the whole; the universe.)

U N K

universal/ity (s. from universal) The state of being universal.
 univer'sally (adv. from universal) With universality, in manner comprising the whole.
 UNIVERSE (s. from the Lat. unus one, and verito verus to turn) The general system of things, the system of creation taken together.
 univer'sitie (s. obsolete) The universe. Chaucer.
 UNIVER'SITY (s. from the Lat. unus one, and verito verus to turn) A school where all the arts and sciences are taught; a society or corporation instituted for the privilege of conferring honorary degrees for the encouragement of literature.
 univer'sity (s. with civilians) A society, a body corporate.
 jumb'led (adj. from un, and jumbled) Not jumbled.
 UNIVOCAL (adj. from the Lat. unus one, and voco to call) Having one meaning, certain, regular. univocally (adv. from univocal) In one sense, in one term, in one tenour.
 UNVOCATION (s. from the Lat. unus one, and voco to call) An agreement both in manner and sense.
 unjust (adj. from un, and just) Not just, contrary to justice; iniquitous, contrary to equity.
 unjust (s. from the adj. put absolutely) Unjust persons.
 unjustifiable (adj. from un, and justifiable) Not justifiable.
 unjustifiableness (s. from unjustifiable) The state or quality of not being justifiable.
 unjustifiably (adv. from unjustifiable) In a manner not to be justified.
 unjustified (adj. from un, and justified) Not justified.
 unjustled (adj. from un, and justled) Not justled.
 unjustly (adv. from unjust) In a manner contrary to justice.
 unjustness (s. from unjust) The state or quality of being unjust.
 UNXIA (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Juno. un'ked (adj. a local word) Solitary, dull. Phillips.
 unkempt (adj. obsolete) Not combed. Spenser.
 unkennel (v. t. from un, and kennel) To drive as a dog from his fold; to rouse from secrecy, to drive from a retreat.
 unkenneled (p. from unkennel) Driven from a retreat from a lurking place. unkenneled (p. a. from unkennel) Driving from a lurking place.
 unkenneled (s. from the part.) The act of driving from a lurking place.
 unkent (adj. obsolete) Unknown. Spenser.
 unkept (adj. from un, and kept) Not kept, not retained;
 not observed, not obeyed.
 unkerchiefed (adj. from un, and kerchiefed) Not ker-chiefed, not dressed.
 unkerchiefed (adj. from un, and kerchiefed) Not ker-chiefed, not dressed.
 unkerchiefed (adj. from un, and kerchiefed) Not dressed in a kerchief.
 unkerneled (adj. from un, and kernal) Not kernal.
 unkibed (adj. from un, and kibed) Not kibed.
 unkicked (adj. from un, and kicked) Not kicked.
 unkidded (adj. from un, and kidded) Not kidded.
 unkidnaped (adj. from un, and kidnapped) Not kidnapped.
 unkilled (adj. from un, and killed) Not killed.
 unkind (adj. from un, and kind) Not kind, wanting kindness.
 unkind (adj. comp. of unkind) Unkind in a greater degree.
 unkind (adj. sup. of unkind) Unkind in the greatest degree.
 unkindly (adv. from unkind) Without kindness, without affection.
 unkindly (adj. from unkind) Unnatural, unfavourable, malignant.
 unkindness (s. from unkind) Malignity, illwill, the want of affection.
 unking (v. t. from un, and king) To deprive of kingly authority. Shakespeare.
 unkinged (p. from unking) Deprived of royalty.
 unkinging (p. a. from unking) Depriving of royalty.
 unkinging (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of kingly authority.
 unkissed (adj. from un, and kissed) Not kissed.
 unkist (adj. from un, and kist) Not kissed, unkissed.
 unkitten (adj. from un, and kitted) Not kitted.
 unkitten (s. an incorrect spelling) An unkle. Scott.
 unknabbed (adj. from un, and knabbed) Not knabbed.
 unknaded (adj. from un, and kneaded) Not kneaded.

U N L

Unkne'd (adj. from un, and kneed) Not furnished with knees.
 Unknightly (adj. from un, and knightly) Unbefitting a knight.
 Unkni't (v. t. from un, and knit) To unweave, to open,
 to separate.
 Unknit'ted (p. from unknit) Unwoven, opened.
 Unknit'ting (p. a. from unknit) Unweaving, opening.
 Unknit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of unweaving, the act of opening.
 Unknob'bed (adj. from un, and knobbed) Not set with knobs.
 Unknol'led (adj. from un, and knolled) Not knolled, not tolled.
 Unknot't (v. t. from un, and knot) To clear from knots;
 to untie.
 Unknot'ted (p. from unknot) Freed from knots, untied.
 Unknot'ting (p. a. from unknot) Freeing from knots, untying.
 Unknot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from knots, the act of untying.
 Unknow' (v. t. from un, and know) To cease to know. Smith.
 Unknow'able (adj. from un, and knowable) Not know-able.
 Unknow'ing (p. a. from unknow) Ceasing to know.
 Unknow'ing (adj. from un, and knowing) Not knowing, ignorant.
 Unknow'ingly (adv. from unknowing) Ignorantly.
 Unknow'n (adj. from un, and known) Not known, greater than is known; with to: as, "Unknown to Sir Roger."
 Unknub'bled (adj. from un, and knubbed) Not knub-bled, not beaten.
 Unkon'ning (s. obsolete) Ignorance. Chaucer.
 Unkun'ning (s. obsolete) Ignorance. Chaucer.
 Un'kward (adj. a local word) Solitary, dull. Phillips.
 Unlaboured (adj. from un, and laboured) Not laboured, not forced.
 Unlace (v. t. from un, and lace) To loose any thing fastened with strings, to loose a lady's dress; to loosen;
 to cut up a rabbit.
 Unlaced (p. from unlace) Freed from the confinement of a lace, unloosed.
 Unlacerated (adj. from un, and lacerated) Not lacerated.
 Unlacid (adj. obsolete) Opened. Chaucer.
 Unlacing (p. a. from unlace) Loosing the lace, untying.
 Unlacing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing the lace.
 Unlack'ered (adj. from un, and lackered) Not lackered.
 Unlade (v. t. from un, and lade) To unload.
 Unladed (p. from unlade) Unloaded.
 Unlading (p. a. from unlade) Unloading.
 Unlading (s. from the part.) The act of unloading.
 UNLAGE (s. obsolete, from the Sax.) An unjust law. Sc.
 Unlaid (adj. from un, and laid) Not laid as a ghost;
 not placed, not excluded as an egg.
 Unlamed (adj. from un, and lamed) Not lamed.
 Unlamented (adj. from un, and lamented) Not lamented.
 Unlampo'ned (adj. from un, and lampooned) Not lampooned.
 Unlanced (adj. from un, and lanced) Not lanced.
 Unlanch'ed (adj. from un, and lanchd) Not lanchd.
 Unlancinated (adj. from un, and lancinated) Not lan-cinated.
 Unland'ed (adj. from un, and landed) Not landed, not set on shore.
 Unlan'iated (adj. from un, and laniated) Not laniated.
 Unlap (v. t. from un, and lap) To unfold, to unwrap, to free from a bandage.
 Unlapped (p. from unlapped) Unfolded.
 Unlapp'ing (p. a. from unlapped) Unfolding, unwrapping.
 Unlapp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding, the act of taking off a bandage.
 Unlapped (adj. from un, and lapped) Not lapped.
 Unlard'ed (adj. from un, and larded) Not larded.
 Unlath (v. t. a sea term) To loose what has been tied down.
 Unlash'ed (p. from unlath) Unloosed from being tied down, untied.
 Unlashing (p. a. from unlath) Loosing any thing tied down.
 Unlashing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing any thing that has been tied down, untying.
 Unlatch (v. t. from un, and latch) To open by lifting up the latch.
 Unlatched (p. from unlatch) Opened by having the latch lifted up.

- Unlatch'ing (p. a. from unlatch) Opening by lifting up the latch.
- Unlatch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lifting up the latch.
- Unlath'ed (adj. from un, and lathed) Not lathed.
- Unlath'ered (adj. from un, and lathered) Not lathered.
- Unlatinized (adj. from un, and latinized) Not latinized.
- Unlau'dable (adj. from un, and laudable) Not commendable.
- Unlau'dably (adv. from un, and laudable) In a manner not to be commended.
- Unlav'ed (adj. from un, and laved) Not laved.
- Unlaunched (adj. from un, and launched) Not launched.
- Unlaw'ed (adj. from un, and lawed) Not lawed, not expediated.
- Unlaw'ful (adj. from un, and lawful) Not lawful, illegal.
- Unlaw'fully (adv. from unlawful) In a manner contrary to law; illegitimately.
- Unlaw'fulness (s. from unlawful) The state or quality of being contrary to law.
- Unlead'ed (adj. from un, and leaded) Not fitted with lead.
- Unleagu'ed (adj. from un, and leagued) Not leagued.
- Unlea'rn (v. t. from un, and learn) To forget, to lose what has been learned.
- Unlearn'ed (p. from unlearn) Forgotten, uninstruced.
- Unlearn'ed (adj. from un, and learned) Not learned, ignorant, not suited to a learned man.
- Unlearn'edly (adv. from unlearned) In an illiterate manner.
- Unlearn'edness (s. from unlearned) The want of learning. Scott.
- Unlearn'ing (p. a. from unlearn) Forgetting, losing what has been learned.
- Unlearn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forgetting what has been learned.
- Unlea'rn't (adj. from un, and learnt) Unlearned. Scott.
- Unleas'ed (adj. from un, and leashed) Not set on lease.
- Unlea'sh (v. t. from un, and leash) To free from a leash, to loose from a leash.
- Unleash'ed (p. from unleash) Loosed from a leash.
- Unleash'ing (p. a. from unleash) Loosing from a leash.
- Unleash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing from a leash.
- Unlea'sht (adj. from unleash) Loosed from a leash.
- Unleav'ened (adj. from un, and leavened) Not leavened, not raised with leaven.
- Unlect'ured (adj. from un, and lectured) Not lectured.
- Unle'd (adj. from un, and led) Not led.
- Unleis'ured (adj. from un, and leisure, but not used) Wanting time, wanting leisure.
- Unleis'uredness (s. from unleisured, but not used) The want of time, the want of leisure. Boyle.
- Unlen'ised (adj. from un, and lenised) Not lenised.
- Unle'nt (adj. from un, and lent) Not lent.
- UNLESS (conj. the etymology is doubtful) Except, if not, but.
- Unles'soned (adj. from un, and lesson) Untaught.
- Unlet'tered (adj. from un, and lettered) Unlearned, not learned, not marked with letters.
- Unlet'tid (adj. obsolete) Uninterrupted. Chaucer.
- Unlev'el (adj. from un, and level) Not level.
- Unlev'elled (adj. from unlevel) Not cut even, not made even.
- Unlev'ied (adj. from un, and levied) Not levied, not raised by way of levy.
- Unlev'igated (adj. from un, and levigated) Not levigated.
- Unli'able (adj. from un, and liable) Not liable.
- Unli'belled (adj. from un, and libelled) Not libelled.
- Unlib'eral (adj. from un, and liberal) Illiberal.
- Unlibid'inous (adj. from un, and libidinous) Not libidinous.
- Unli'cenced (adj. from un, and licenced) Not licenced.
- Unlicen'siated (adj. from un, and licen'siated) Not encouraged by license.
- Unli'ch (adj. obsolete) Unlike. Spenser.
- Unli'cked (adj. from un, and licked) Not licked.
- Unli'ftable (adj. from un, and lift, a droll word) Incapable of being lifted. M. Gowan.
- Unli'fted (adj. from un, and lift) Not lifted.
- Unlight'ed (adj. from un, and lighted) Not kindled, not delivered, not directed by light.
- Unlight'some (adj. from un, and light'some) Not light'some, dark, gloomy.
- Unli'ke (adj. from un, and like) Not like, having no resemblance; improbable, unlikely. Bacon.
- Unli'kelier (adj. comp. of unlikely) Unlikely in a greater degree.
- Unli'keliest (adj. sup. of unlikely) Unlikely in a greatest degree.
- Unli'kelihood (s. from unlikely) Improbability.
- Unli'keliness (s. from unlikely) Improbability.
- Unli'kely (adj. from unlike) Improbable, unpromising.
- Unli'kely (adv. from the adj.) Improbably.
- Unli'med (adj. from un, and lime) Not limed.
- Unli'mitable (adj. from un, and limit) Incapable of limitation.
- Unli'm'ited (adj. from un, and limited) Not limited, bounded, unconfined; undefined.
- Unli'm'itedly (adv. from unlimited) Without limitation.
- Unli'ne (v. t. from un, and line) To strip of the lining to take out the lining.
- Unli'neal (adj. from un, and lineal) Not lineal, not following the direct order of succession.
- Unli'ned (adj. from un, and lined) Not lined.
- Unli'ned (adj. from unline) Stripped of the lining.
- Unli'ning (p. a. from unline) Stripping of the lining.
- Unli'ning (s. from the part.) The act of taking out lining.
- Unli'nk (v. t. from un, and link) To disjoin, to open, break the order of a regular series.
- Unli'nk'ed (p. from unlink) Disjoined, opened.
- Unli'nk'ing (p. a. from unlink) Disjoining, opening.
- Unli'nk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disjoining a regular series.
- Unli'qu'ified (adj. from un, and liquefied) Not liquified.
- Unli'qu'idated (adj. from un, and liquidated) Not liquidated.
- Unli'qu'ified (adj. from un, and liquified) Not liquified, not melted.
- Unli'qu'ored (adj. from un, and liquored) Not liquored, not drenched with liquor.
- Unli'fted (adj. from un, and lifted) Not lifted.
- Unli'gated (adj. from un, and litigated) Not litigated.
- Unli'ttered (adj. from un, and littered) Not littered.
- Unli'vely (adj. from un, and lively) Not lively.
- Unloa'd (v. t. from un, and load) To disburden, to off any thing burdensome.
- Unload'ed (p. from unload) Disburdened, freed from any thing burdensome.
- Unloa'ding (p. a. from unload) Disburdening, freeing from any thing burdensome.
- Unload'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disburdening.
- Unloath'ed (adj. from un, and loath) Not loathed.
- Unloath'some (adj. from un, and loath'some) Not loath'some.
- Unlo'ck (v. t. from un, and lock) To open what is with a lock; to open, to free from a close embrace.
- Unlock'ed (p. from unlock) Freed from the fastening of a lock, opened, freed from a close embrace.
- Unlock'ed (adj. from unlock) Not locked.
- Unlock'ing (p. a. from unlock) Opening what is with a lock, opening.
- Unlock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening what shut with a lock, the act of freeing from a close embrace.
- Unlo'ckt (adj. a different spelling) Unlocked, not locked.
- Unlodg'ed (adj. from un, and lodged) Dislodged.
- Unlook'ed (adj. from un, and looked) Unexpected, unforeseen; with for: as, "She comes unlooked for." She comes at all.
- Unloos'able (adj. from un, and loose) Incapable of being loosed.
- Unloo'se (v. t. from un, and loose, reckoned a bad word) To loose.
- Unloo'se (v. int.) To fall asunder.
- Unloo'sed (p. from unloose) Loosed.
- Unloo'sing (p. a. from unloose) Loosing.
- Unloo'sing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing.
- Unlop'ped (adj. from un, and lopped) Not lopped.
- Unlov'ed (adj. from un, and loved) Not loved.
- Unlov'elier (adj. comp. of unlovely) Unlovely in a greater degree.
- Unlov'elieft (adj. sup. of unlovely) Unlovely in a greatest degree.
- Unlov'eliness (s. from unlovely) The state of being unlovely.
- Unlov'ely (adj. from un, and lovely) Not lovely, incapable of exciting love.
- Unlov'in (v. t. obsolete) To cease to love.
- Unlov'ing (adj. from un, and loving) Not loving, fond, unkind.
- Unlow'ly (adj. from un, and lowly) Not lowly.
- Unloy'al (adj. from un, and loyal) Not loyal, in loyalty.
- Unlu'bricated (adj. from un, and lubricated) Not lubricated.

luck/ier (adj. comp. of unlucky) Unlucky in a greater degree.
 luck/iest (adj. sup. of unlucky) Unlucky in the greatest degree.
 luck/ily (adv. from unlucky) Unfortunately, with ill luck.
 luck/iness (s. from unlucky) The state or quality of being unlucky.
 lucky (adj. from un, and lucky) Not lucky, unfortunate; inauspicious, ill omened; waggish, slightly mischievous.
 lugged (adj. from un, and lugged) Not lugged.
 lumped (adj. from un, and lumped) Not lumped, not taken in the gross.
 lured (adj. from un, and lured) Not lured.
 lute (adj. obsolete) Dislike, unwillingness.
 lustie (adj. obsolete) Not lusty. Cbauer.
 lustrous (adj. from un, and lustre) Wanting splendour, wanting lustre. Shakespeare.
 lusty (adj. from un, and lusty) Not lusty. Urry.
 lute (v. t. from un, and lute) To take off the loam or clay with which any thing has been luted.
 luted (p. from the verb) Freed from a chymical cement.
 luted (adj. from unlute) Not luted.
 luting (p. a. from unlute) Taking off the clay with which any thing has been luted.
 luting (s. from the part.) The act of separating vessels closed with chymical cement.
 luxated (adj. from un, and luxated) Not luxated.
 macerated (adj. from un, and macerated) Not macerated. madded (adj. from un, and madded) Not madded.
 made (adj. from un, and made) Not made, not created; deprived of form, reduced to a state of nonentity.
 madded (adj. from un, and madded) Not madded.
 magnified (adj. from un, and magnified) Not magnified.
 maid/enly (adj. from un, and maidenly) Unbecoming a maid.
 majestic (adj. from un, and majestic) Not majestic, wanting dignity.
 mail (v. t. from un, and mail) To strip of armour; to open a mail.
 mailed (p. from unmail) Stripped of armour; opened a mail.
 mailing (p. a. from unmail) Stripping of armour; opening a mail.
 mailing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of armour; the act of opening a mail or bundle.
 maimed (adj. from un, and maimed) Not maimed.
 main/pried (adj. from un, and mainpried) Not mainpried, not set at liberty on bail.
 maintainable (adj. from un, and maintainable) Incapable of being supported.
 maintained (adj. from un, and maintained) Not maintained.
 makeable (adj. from un, and make) Incapable of being made. Grev.
 make (v. t. from un, and make) To deprive of essential form; to reduce to a state of nonentity.
 making (p. a. from unmake) Depriving of essential form, reducing to a state of nonentity.
 making (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of essential form, the act of reducing to a state of nonentity.
 malevolent (adj. from un, and malevolent) Not malevolent.
 malign'd (adj. from un, and malign'd) Not malign'd.
 malled (adj. from un, and malled) Not malled, not eaten with a mail.
 malted (adj. from un, and malted) Not malted, not made into malt.
 mammeated (adj. from un, and mammeated) Not mammeated, having no breasts.
 man (v. t. from un, and man) To deprive of the essential qualities of the human nature; to emasculate; to dispirit; to deject; to degrade by acting a part inconsistent with the fortitude and resolution of a man.
 manacle (a. j. from un, and manacle) To deliver the hands from shackles.
 manacled (p. from unmanacle) Freed from manacles.
 manacled (adj. from un, and manacled) Not manacled.
 manacled (p. a. from unmanacle) Freeing the hands from shackles.
 manacled (s. from the part.) The act of freeing the hands from chains or manacles.

unmanageable (adj. from un, and manageable) Not manageable.
 unmanageableness (s. from unmanageable) The state or quality of being unmanageable.
 unmanaged (adj. from un, and managed) Not managed.
 unmanicipated (adj. from un, and manicipated) Not manicipated, not enslaved.
 unmanducated (adj. from un, and manducated) Not manducated, not chewed.
 unmaned (adj. from un, and maned) Not maned, having no mane. unmaneged (s. from un, and maneged) Not maneged, not trained as a horse.
 unmangled (adj. from un, and mangled) Not mangled.
 unman/hode (s. obsolete) The want of manhood. Cham.
 unmanifest (adj. from un, and manifest) Not manifest.
 unmanifested (adj. from un, and manifested) Not manifested.
 unman/ier (adj. comp. of unmanly) Unmanly in a greater degree.
 unman/iest (adj. sup. of unmanly) Unmanly in the greatest degree.
 unman/like (adj. from un, and manlike) Unmanly, unsuitable to manhood, effeminate.
 unman/liness (s. from unmanly) The state or quality of being unmanly.
 unman/ly (adj. from un, and manly) Unbecoming a man, unsuitable to man, effeminate.
 unman/ned (p. from unman) Deprived of the essential qualities of the human nature; emasculated; rendered effeminate, dispirited, dejected, deprived of manly fortitude.
 unman/nered (adj. from un, and manner) Rude, uncivil, brutal.
 unman/nerliness (s. from unmannerly) The state or quality of being unmannerly.
 unman/nerly (adj. from un, and mannerly) Defective in modes of civility.
 unman/ning (p. a. from unman) Depriving of the essential properties of the human nature, emasculating, rendering effeminate.
 unman/ning (s. from the part.) The act of rendering unmanly.
 unman/tled (adj. from un, and mantle) Not mantled.
 unmanufactured (adj. from un, and manufactured) Not manufactured.
 unmanu/ured (adj. from un, and manured) Not manured.
 unmarginated (adj. from un, and marginated) Not marginated.
 unmarinated (adj. from un, and marinated) Not marinated.
 unmarked (adj. from un, and marked) Not marked.
 unmarketable (adj. from un, and marketable) Not marketable.
 unmaried (adj. from un, and maried) Not maried, not manured with marl.
 unmarred (adj. from un, and marred) Not marred.
 unmarriageable (adj. from un, and marriageable) Not marriageable.
 unmarried (adj. from un, and married) Not married.
 unmarry (v. t. from un, and marry) To dissolve the matrimonial contract.
 unmarrying (p. a. from unmarry) Dissolving the marriage contract.
 unmarrying (s. from the part.) The act of dissolving the matrimonial contract.
 unmarshalled (adj. from un, and marshalled) Not marshalled.
 unmarttyred (adj. from un, and martyred) Not martyred.
 unmasked (adj. from un, and masked) Not masked.
 unmask (v. t. from un, and mask) To strip of a mask, to strip of any disguise.
 unmask (v. int.) To put off a mask.
 unmasked (p. from unmask) Stripped of a mask, stripped of a disguise.
 unmasking (p. a. from unmask) Stripping of a mask, stripping of a disguise.
 unmasking (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of a mask.
 unmassacred (adj. from un, and massacred) Not massacred.
 unmailed (adj. from un, and mailed) Not mailed.
 unmasterable (adj. from un, and master) Incapable of being mastered. Scott.
 unmastered (adj. from un, and mastered) Not mastered.
 unmatch/able (adj. from un, and match) Incapable of being matched.
 unmatch/ed (adj. from un, and matched) Not matched, matchless.

U N M

Unmatric'ulated (adj. from un, and matriculated) Not matriculated.
 Unmatted (adj. from un, and matted) Not matted.
 Unmatur'ed (adj. from un, and matured) Not matured.
 Unmauled (adj. from un, and mauled) Not mauled.
 Unmean'ing (adj. from un, and meaning) Void of meaning, insipid, expressing no meaning.
 Unmeant (adj. from un, and meant) Not meant.
 Unmeas'urable (adj. from un, and measurable) Incapable of being measured.
 Unmeas'urableness (s. from unmeasurable) The state or quality of being unmeasurable.
 Unmeas'urably (adv. from unmeasurable) In a manner not to be measured.
 Unmeat'ed (adj. from un, and meated) Not fed.
 Unmed'dled (a. j. from un, and meddle) Not touched.
 Unmediated (adj. from un, and mediated) Not mediated.
 Unmed'icable (adj. from un, and medicable) Not medicable, incapable of being healed.
 Unmed'icated (adj. from un, and medicated) Not medicated.
 Unmedic'inal (adj. from un, and medicinal) Not medicinal, unfriendly to the constitution.
 Unmed'itated (adj. from un, and meditated) Not meditated.
 Unmed'led (adj. from un, and medled) Unmeddled, not touched; with with: as, "Continuing other ten days unmeddled with." Carew.
 Unmeet (adj. from un, and meet) Not meet, unfit.
 Unmeet'ness (s. from unmeet) Unfitness.
 Unme'ke (adj. obsolete) Uncivil, rude. Chaucer.
 Unme'liorated (adj. from un, and meliorated) Not meliorated.
 Unmellowed (adj. from un, and mellowed) Not mellowed.
 Unmelod'ious (adj. from un, and melodious) Not melodious.
 Unmelt'ed (adj. from un, and melted) Not melted.
 Unmen'aced (adj. from un, and menaced) Not menaced.
 Unmend'ed (adj. from un, and mended) Not mended.
 Unmens'urable (adj. from un, and mensurable) Not mensurable.
 Unmentioned (adj. from un, and mentioned) Not mentioned.
 Unmer'chantable (adj. from un, and merchantable) Not merchantable.
 Unmer'chantlike (adj. from un, and merchantlike) Unlike a merchant.
 Unmer'chantly (adj. from un, and merchantly) Not like a merchant.
 Unmer'ciful (adj. from un, and merciful) Not merciful, void of mercy.
 Unmer'cifully (adv. from unmerciful) Without mercy, without compassion.
 Unmer'cifulness (s. from unmerciful) The state or quality of being unmerciful.
 Unmer'itable (adj. from un, and merit, but not used) Having no merit. Shakespeare.
 Unmer'ited (adj. from un, and merited) Not merited.
 Unmer'itedness (s. from unmerited) The state or quality of being unmerited.
 Unmerito'rious (adj. from un, and meritorious) Not meritorious.
 Unmer'ry (adj. from un, and merry) Not merry.
 Unmetamor'phosed (adj. from un, and metamorphosed) Not metamorphosed.
 Unmetaphys'ical (adj. from un, and metaphysical) Contrary to metaphysics.
 Unme'te (adj. obsolete) Unmeet, improper. Chaucer.
 Unmet'ed (adj. from un, and meted) Not meted.
 Unmetho'dical (adj. from un, and methodical) Not methodical.
 Unmethod'ically (adv. from un, and methodical) Without method.
 Unmeth'odized (adj. from un, and methodized) Not methodized.
 Unmeth'odized (adj. a different spelling) Unmethodized.
 Unmew'ed (adj. from un, and mewed) Not mewed, not confined as in a mew.
 Unmight'ye (adj. obsolete) Unable. Chaucer.
 Unmil'dewed (adj. from un, and mildewed) Not touched with mildew.
 Unmilk'ed (adj. from un, and milked) Not milked.
 Unmilt'ed (adj. from un, and milted) Not impregnated by the male fish.
 Unmim'icked (adj. from un, and mimicked) Not mimicked.
 Unmin'ced (adj. from un, and minced) Not minced.

U N M

Unmind'ed (adj. from un, and minded) Not minded.
 Unmind'ful (adj. from un, and mindful) Not mindful, heedless.
 Unmind'fully (adv. from unmindful) Heedlessly, carelessly.
 Unmind'fulness (adj. from unmindful) The state or quality of being unmindful, heedlessness.
 Unmin'gle (v. t. from un, and mingle) To separate things mixed.
 Unming'leable (adj. from un, and mingle, but not used) Incapable of mixture.
 Unming'led (p. from unmingle) Separated from mixture.
 Unming'led (adj. from unmingle) Not mingled, pure, unmixed.
 Unming'ling (p. a. from unmingle) Separating from mixture.
 Unming'ling (s. from the part.) The act of separating ingredients which have been mixed.
 Unmint'ed (adj. from un, and minted) Not minted, coined.
 Unmin'uted (adj. from un, and minuted) Not minuted.
 Unmired (adj. from un, and mired) Not mired.
 Unmir'y (adj. from un, and miry) Not miry.
 Unmis'cible (adj. from un, and miscible) Incapable of being mingled.
 Unmit'igated (adj. from un, and mitigated) Not mitigated.
 Unmit'ed (adj. from un, and mitred) Not mitred.
 Unmix'ed (adj. from un, and mixed) Not mixed, pure.
 Unmix't (adj. from un, and mixt) Unmixed.
 Unmoan'ed (adj. from un, and moaned) Not moaned, not lamented.
 Unmoat'ed (adj. from un, and moat) Not moated, defended by a moat.
 Unmoh'bed (adj. from un, and mobbed) Not mobbed.
 Unmob'ble (v. t. from un, and mobble) To divest of inelegant drefs.
 Unmob'bled (p. from unmobble) Divested of an inelegant drefs.
 Unmob'bling (p. a. from unmobble) Divesting of an elegant drefs.
 Unmob'bling (s. from the part.) The act of putting on an inelegant drefs.
 Unmock'ed (adj. from un, and mocked) Not mocked.
 Unmod'ernised (adj. from un, and modernised) Modernised.
 Unmod'est (adj. from un, and modest) Immodest.
 Unmod'ified (adj. from un, and modified) Not modified.
 Unmo'dish (adj. from un, and modish) Not modish.
 Unmoil'ed (adj. from un, and moiled) Not moiled.
 Unmoist (adj. from un, and moist) Not moist, wet.
 Unmoist'ened (adj. from un, and moistened) Not moistened.
 Unmole'st'ed (adj. from un, and molested) Not molested.
 Unmol'lifiable (adj. from un, and mollifiable) Incapable of being mollified.
 Unmol'lified (adj. from un, and mollified) Not mollified.
 Unmonar'chical (adj. from un, and monarchical) Monarchical.
 Unmon'eyed (adj. from un, and moneyed) Not moneyed.
 Unmonopol'ized (adj. from un, and monopolized) Monopolized.
 Unmoor (v. t. from un, and moor, a sea term) Loose from land by taking up the anchor.
 Unmoor'ed (p. from unmoor) Loosed from the land by taking up the anchor.
 Unmoor'ing (p. a. from unmoor) Loosing from the land by taking up the anchor.
 Unmoor'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing the land by taking up the anchor.
 Unmoor'ed (adj. from un, and mooted) Not mooted.
 Unmop'ped (adj. from un, and moped) Not moped.
 Unmop'ped (adj. from un, and mopped) Not mopped.
 Unmor'alized (adj. from un, and moralized) Not moralized, not tutored in the principles of morality.
 Unmort'ared (adj. from un, and mortared) Not mortared, not supplied with mortar.
 Unmort'gaged (adj. from un, and mortgaged) Not mortgaged.
 Unmort'ified (adj. from un, and mortified) Not mortified.
 Unmort'ified (adj. from un, and mortified) Not mortified.

U N N

motherly (adj. from un, and motherly) Not like a mother.

moveable (adj. from un, and moveable) Not moveable.

moveableness (s. from unmoveable) The state or quality of being unmoveable.

moveably (adv. from unmoveable) In a manner not to be moved.

moved (adj. from un, and moved) Not moved, not effected.

moving (adj. from un, and moving) Having no motion; having no power to affect.

movingly (adv. from unmoving) In a manner not fitted to affect.

mould (v. t. from un, and mould) To change the form.

mould'ed (p. from unmould) Changed in form.

mould'ed (adj. from unmould) Not moulded.

mould'ered (adj. from un, and mouldered) Not mouldered.

mould'ing (p. a. from unmould) Changing the form.

mould'ing (s. from the part.) The act of changing the form.

mound (v. t. from un, and mound) To deprive of a mound, deprived of a fence.

mound'ed (p. from unmound) Deprived of a fence.

mound'ing (p. a. from unmound) Destroying the fence, removing a fence.

mound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of removing a fence.

mount (v. t. from un, and mount) To dismount.

mount'ed (p. from unmount) Dismounted, not mounted.

mount'ing (p. a. from unmount) Dismounting.

mount'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dismounting.

mourn'ed (adj. from un, and mourn) Not deplored, not lamented.

mowed (adj. from un, and mowed) Not mowed, not cut up in a mow.

mowed (adj. the w not founded, from un, and mowed) Not mowed, not cut with a scythe.

mown (adj. from un, and mown) Not mown.

mucronated (adj. from un, and mucronated) Not mucronated.

muddied (adj. from un, and muddied) Not muddied.

muddy (adj. from un, and muddy) Not muddy.

muffle (v. t. from un, and muffle) To put off a covering from the face.

muffled (adj. from un, and muffled) Not muffled.

muffling (p. a. from unmuffle) Putting off a covering from the face.

muffling (s. from the part.) The act of putting off a covering from the face.

muffled (adj. from un, and muffled) Not muffled.

mulled (adj. from un, and mulled) Not mulled.

multiplied (adj. from un, and multiplied) Not multiplied.

mundified (adj. from un, and mundified) Not mundified.

murdered (adj. from un, and murdered) Not murdered.

musical (adj. from un, and musical) Not musical.

musically (adv. from unmusical) Without music, in a rough unpleasing manner.

musicalness (s. from unmusical) The state or quality of being unmusical.

musk'ed (adj. from un, and musked) Not permeated with musk.

must'ed (adj. from un, and musted) Not grown up.

must'ered (adj. from un, and mustered) Not mustered.

mutable (adj. from un, and mutable) Immutable.

mutilated (adj. from un, and mutilated) Not mutilated.

muttered (adj. from un, and muttered) Not muttered.

muzzle (v. t. from un, and muzzle) To loose from a muzzle.

muzzled (p. from unmuzzle) Loosed from a muzzle.

muzzling (p. a. from unmuzzle) Loosing from a muzzle.

muzzling (s. from the part.) The act of loosing from a muzzle.

nailed (v. t. from un, and nail) To draw the nails out of any thing.

nailed (p. from unnail) Freed from the fastening of nails.

U N N

Unnailed (adj. from un, and nail) Not nailed.

Unnail'ing (p. a. from unnail) Drawing nails, unfastening what was fixed with nails.

Unnail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing nails, the act of unfastening what was fixed with nails.

Unnamed (adj. from un, and named) Not named, not mentioned.

Unnarrated (adj. from un, and narrated) Not narrated.

Unnarrowed (adj. from un, and narrowed) Not narrowed.

Unnatural (adj. from un, and natural) Not natural, contrary to nature; forced, not agreeing with the real state.

Unnaturalized (adj. from un, and naturalized) Not naturalized.

Unnaturally (adv. from unnatural) With opposition to nature.

Unnaturalness (s. from unnatural) The state of being unnatural, a contrariety to nature.

Unnavigable (adj. from un, and navigable) Not navigable.

Unnavigated (adj. from un, and navigated) Not navigated.

Unneaped (adj. from un, and neaped) Not neaped.

Unnecessarily (adv. from unnecessary) Without necessity, needlessly.

Unnecessariness (s. from unnecessary) The state or quality of being unnecessary.

Unnecessary (adj. from un, and necessary) Not necessary, needless.

Unnecessitated (adj. from un, and necessitated) Not necessitated.

Unneeded (adj. from un, and needed) Not needed.

Unneedful (adj. from un, and needful) Not needful.

Unneed'y (adj. from un, and needy) Not needy.

Unnegotiable (adj. from un, and negotiable) Not negotiable.

Unnegotiated (adj. from un, and negotiated) Not negotiated.

Unneighbourliness (s. from unneighbourly) The state or quality of being unneighbourly.

Unneighbourly (adj. from un, and neighbourly) Not neighbourly, unkind, unlike a neighbour.

Unneighbourly (adv. from the adj.) In a manner not suited to a neighbour.

Unnerve (adj. from un, and nerve, but not used) Weak, feeble.

Unnerve (v. t. from un, and nerve) To weaken, to enfeeble.

Unnerved (p. from unnerve) Weakened, made feeble.

Unnerved (adj. from un, and nerve) Weak, feeble.

Unnerv'ing (p. a. from unnerve) Weakening, enfeebling.

Unnerv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enfeebling.

Unnerved (adj. from un, and nestled) Not nestled.

Unneth (adv. obsolete) Scarcely, hardly. Spenser.

Unnethes (adv. obsolete) Scarcely, hardly, not without difficulty. Spenser.

Unnerved (adj. from un, and nettled) Not nettled, not irritated.

Unnibbed (adj. from un, and nibbed) Not nibbed.

Unnibbled (adj. from un, and nibbled) Not nibbled.

Unnick'ed (adj. from un, and nicked) Not nicked, not cut in notches.

Unnicknamed (adj. from un, and nicknamed) Not nicknamed.

Unnipped (adj. from un, and nipped) Not nipped.

Unnobilitated (adj. from un, and nobilitated) Not ennobled.

Unnoble (adj. from un, and noble) Not noble, mean, ignoble.

Unnominated (adj. from un, and nominated) Not nominated.

Unnoosed (adj. from un, and noosed) Not tied with a noose.

Unnoised (adj. from un, and noised) Not noised.

Unnotched (adj. from un, and notched) Not notched.

Unnotcht (adj. from un, and notched) Not notched.

Unnot'ed (adj. from un, and noted) Not noted.

Unnoticed (adj. from un, and noticed) Not noticed, not observed.

Unnotified (adj. from un, and notified) Not notified.

Unnotted (adj. from un, and notted) Not notted, not thorn.

Unnourished (adj. from un, and nourished) Not nourished.

Unnubbled (adj. a colloquial word) Not nubbled, not beaten.

Unnulled (adj. from un, and nulled) Not annulled.

Unnulled

U N O

Unnullified (adj. from un, and nullified) Not nullified.
 Unnumbered (adj. from un, and numbered) Not numbered.
 Unnumbered (adj. from un, and numbered) Not numbered, not counted.
 Unnumerable (adj. from un, and numerable) Innumerable.
 Unnursed (adj. from un, and nursed) Not nursed.
 Unnurtured (adj. from un, and nurtured) Not nurtured.
 Unnutritious (adj. from un, and nutritious) Not nutritious.
 Unnutritive (adj. from un, and nutritive) Not nutritive.
 Unnuzzled (adj. from un, and nuzzled, not much used) Not nuzzled.
 Unoared (adj. from un, and oared) Not oared.
 Unobduced (adj. from un, and obduced) Not obduced.
 Unobdurate (adj. from un, and obdurate) Not obdurate.
 Unobedient (adj. from un, and obedient) Disobedient.
 Unobeyed (adj. from un, and obeyed) Not obeyed.
 Unobjected (adj. from un, and objected) Not charged as a fault.
 Unobjurgated (adj. from un, and objurgated) Not objurgated.
 Unobligated (adj. from un, and obligated) Not obligated.
 Unobliged (adj. from un, and obliged) Not obliged.
 Unobliterated (adj. from un, and obliterated) Not obliterated.
 Unobnoxious (adj. from un, and obnoxious) Not obnoxious.
 Unobscured (adj. from un, and obscured) Not obscured.
 Unobsequious (adj. from un, and obsequious) Not obsequious.
 Unobsequiousness (s. from un, and obsequious) The want of obsequiousness.
 Unobservable (adj. from un, and observable) Not observable.
 Unobservant (adj. from un, and observant) Not observant.
 Unobserved (adj. from un, and observed) Not observed.
 Unobserving (adj. from un, and observing) Inattentive, unheeding.
 Unobstructed (adj. from un, and obstructed) Not obstructed.
 Unobstructive (adj. from un, and obstructive) Not obstructive, not causing impediments.
 Unobstruent (adj. from un, and obstruent) Not obstruent, not blocking up.
 Unobtainable (adj. from un, and obtainable) Not obtainable.
 Unobtained (adj. from un, and obtained) Not obtained.
 Unobtruded (adj. from un, and obtruded) Not obtruded.
 Unobtunded (adj. from un, and obtunded) Not obtunded, not blunted.
 Unobverted (adj. from un, and obverted) Not obverted, not turned up to the air.
 Unobviated (adj. from un, and obviated) Not obviated.
 Unobvious (adj. from un, and obvious) Not obvious.
 Unoccluded (adj. from un, and occluded) Not occluded, not shut up.
 Unoccupied (adj. from un, and occupied) Not occupied.
 Unobumbrated (adj. from un, and obumbrated) Not obumbrated, not covered with shade.
 Unoffending (adj. from un, and offending) Not offending, innocent, harmless.
 Unoffensive (adj. from un, and offensive) Inoffensive.
 Unoffered (adj. from un, and offered) Not offered.
 Unofficered (adj. from un, and officered) Not officered, not furnished with officers.
 Unofficial (adj. from un, and officious) Not officious.
 Unogled (adj. from un, and ogled) Not ogled, not viewed with a side glance.
 Unoil (v. t. from un, and oil) To free from oil.
 Unoiled (adj. from un, and oiled) Not oiled, not smeared with oil.
 Unoil (p. from unoil) Freed from oil.
 Unoil (p. a. from unoil) Freeing from oil.
 Unoil (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from oil.
 Unomened (adj. from un, and omened) Not omened, not predicted by signs.

U N P

Unominous (adj. from un, and ominous) Not ominous.
 Unopen (adj. from un, and open) Not open.
 Unopened (adj. from un, and opened) Not opened.
 Unopening (adj. from un, and opening) Not opening.
 Unoperative (adj. from un, and operative) Not operative.
 Unopinionated (adj. from un, and opinionated) Not opinionated.
 Unoppignorated (adj. from un, and oppignorated) Not oppignorated, not pawned.
 Unopposed (adj. from un, and opposed) Not opposed.
 Unoppressed (adj. from un, and oppressed) Not oppressed.
 Unoppreft (adj. from un, and opprest) Not opprest.
 Unoppugned (adj. from un, and oppugned) Not oppugned, not opposed.
 Unordained (adj. from un, and ordained) Not ordained.
 Unordered (adj. from un, and ordered) Not ordered.
 Unorderly (adj. from un, and orderly) Not orderly, irregular.
 Unordinary (adj. from un, and ordinary) Not ordinary, not common.
 Unorgan'ic (adj. from un, and organic) Not organic.
 Unorganical (adj. from un, and organic) Not organic.
 Unorganically (adv. from unorganical) Without organs.
 Unorganicalness (s. from unorganical) The state of being without organs.
 Unorganized (adj. from un, and organized) Not organized, having no parts instrumental to the management of the rest.
 Unoriginal (adj. from un, and original) Having birth, unoriginated.
 Unoriginated (adj. from un, and originated) Not originated.
 Unornamental (adj. from un, and ornamental) Not ornamental.
 Unornamented (adj. from un, and ornamented) Not ornamented.
 Unorthodox (adj. from un, and orthodox) Not orthodox, not holding pure doctrine.
 Unossified (adj. from un, and ossified) Not ossified, turned into bone.
 Unostensible (adj. from un, and ostensible) Not ostensible.
 Unostentatious (adj. from un, and ostentatious) Not ostentatious.
 Unoutlawed (adj. from un, and outlawed) Not outlawed.
 Unowed (adj. from un, and owed) Not owed.
 Unowned (adj. from un, and owned) Not owned, having no owner.
 Unpaced (adj. from un, and paced) Not paced.
 Unpatience (s. from un, and patience) Impatience.
 Unpack (v. t. from un, and pack) To open any thing packed up; to disburden, to free from a load.
 Unpacked (p. from unpack) Opened from a pack, burdened.
 Unpacked (adj. from un, and packed) Not packed, collected by illegal artifices.
 Unpacking (p. a. from unpack) Opening from a pack, disburdening.
 Unpacking (s. from the part.) The act of opening a pack.
 Unpadded (adj. from un, and padded) Not padded.
 Unpaid (adj. from un, and paid) Not paid.
 Unpained (adj. from un, and pained) Not pained.
 Unpainful (adj. from un, and painful) Not painful, giving no pain.
 Unpainted (adj. from un, and painted) Not painted.
 Unpaired (v. t. from un, and pair) To separate things to put out of sorts.
 Unpaired (p. from unpair) Separated, disjointed, rated so as not to be in pairs.
 Unpairing (p. a. from unpair) Separating pairs.
 Unpairing (s. from the part.) The act of separating pairs.
 Unpalatable (adj. from un, and palatable) Not palatable.
 Unpaled (adj. from un, and paled) Not enclosed, pales.
 Unpalisaded (adj. from un, and palisaded) Not palisaded.
 Unpalled (adj. from un, and palled) Not invetted, a pall.
 Unpalliated (adj. from un, and palliated) Not palliated.
 Unpalpable (adj. from un, and palpable) Not palpable.

U N P

Unpaved (p. from unpave) Stripped of a pavement.
 Unpaved (adj. from un, and paved) Not paved.
 Unpavilioned (adj. from un, and pavilioned) Not pavilioned.
 Unpaving (p. a. from unpave) Taking up a pavement.
 Unpaving (s. from the part.) The act of taking up a pavement.
 Unpaunched (adj. from un, and paunched) Not paunched.
 Unpawed (adj. from un, and pawed) Not pawed.
 Unpawed (adj. from un, and pawed) Not pawed.
 Unpay (v. t. a droll word, from un, and pay) To undo. Shakespeare.
 Unpaid (adj. a different spelling) Unpaid.
 Unpeaceable (adj. from un, and peaceable) Unquiet, troublesome, turbulent, quarrelsome.
 Unpeaceableness (s. from unpeaceable) Unquietness.
 Unpeaceably (adv. from unpeaceable) Unquietly.
 Unpeaceful (adj. from un, and peaceful) Not peaceful.
 Unpeeled (adj. from un, and peeled) Not peeled, not flunned with noise.
 Unpearled (adj. from un, and pearled) Not pearled, not set with pearls.
 Unpebbled (adj. from un, and pebbled) Not stoned with pebbles.
 Unpeace (s. from un, and peace) The want of peace. Ch.
 Unpecked (adj. from un, and pecked) Not pecked.
 Unpeeled (adj. from un, and peeled) Not peeled.
 Unpeg (v. t. from un, and peg) To open by drawing a peg.
 Unpegged (p. from unpeg) Opened by drawing a peg.
 Unpegged (adj. from un, and pegged) Not pegged, not fastened with a peg.
 Unpegging (p. a. from unpeg) Opening by drawing a peg.
 Unpegging (s. from the part.) The act of opening by drawing a peg.
 Unpelted (adj. from un, and pelted) Not pelted.
 Unpenciled (adj. from un, and penciled) Not touched with a pencil.
 Unpenetrable (adj. from un, and penetrable) Impenetrable.
 Unpenetrated (adj. from un, and penetrated) Not penetrated.
 Unpenitent (adj. from un, and penitent) Impenitent.
 Unpenned (adj. from un, and penned) Not penned.
 Unpensioned (adj. from un, and pensioned) Not pensioned.
 Unpeople (v. t. from un, and people) To depopulate, to deprive of inhabitants.
 Unpeopled (p. from unpeople) Depopulated, deprived of inhabitants.
 Unpeopling (p. a. from unpeople) Depopulating, depriving of people.
 Unpeopling (s. from the part.) The act of depopulating.
 Unperambulated (adj. from un, and perambulated) Not perambulated.
 Unperceivable (adj. from un, and perceivable) Not perceivable.
 Unperceivableness (s. from unperceivable) The state of being unperceivable.
 Unperceivably (adv. from un, and perceivable) In a manner not to be perceived.
 Unperceived (adj. from un, and perceived) Not perceived.
 Unperceivedly (adv. from un, and perceived) In a manner not to be perceived. Boyle.
 Unperceptible (adj. from un, and perceptible) Imperceptible.
 Unperched (adj. from un, and perched) Not perched.
 Unpercolated (adj. from un, and percolated) Not percolated.
 Unperigall (adj. obsolete) Unequal. Chaucer.
 Unperfect (adj. from un, and perfect) Imperfect.
 Unperfectly (adv. from unperfect) Imperfectly.
 Unperfidious (adj. from un, and perfidious) Not perfidious.
 Unperforated (adj. from un, and perforated) Not perforated.
 Unperformable (adj. from un, and performable) Incapable of being performed.
 Unperformed (adj. from un, and performed) Not performed.
 Unperforming (adj. from un, and performing) Not performing.
 Unperficated (adj. from un, and perficated) Not perficated.
 Unperfumed (adj. from un, and perfumed) Not perfumed.

U N P

Unpuffed (adj. from un, and puffed) Not affected with puffy.
 Unpampered (adj. from un, and pampered) Not pampered.
 Unpapered (adj. from un, and papered) Not papered.
 Unparagoned (adj. from un, and paragoned) Unequalled, unmatched.
 Unparalleled (adj. from un, and paralleled) Not paralleled.
 Unparalleled (adj. a different spelling) Unparalleled. Sb.
 Unparaphrased (adj. from un, and paraphrased) Not paraphrased.
 Unparboiled (adj. from un, and parboiled) Not parboiled.
 Unparceled (adj. from un, and parceled) Not parceled.
 Unparched (adj. from un, and parched) Not parched.
 Unpardonable (adj. from un, and pardonable) Not pardonable.
 Unpardonableness (s. from unpardonable) The state or quality of being unpardonable.
 Unpardonably (adv. from unpardonable) Beyond forgiveness, in a manner not to be forgiven.
 Unpardoned (adj. from un, and pardoned) Not pardoned; not forgiven.
 Unpardoning (adj. from un, and pardoning) Not forgiving.
 Unpared (adj. from un, and pared) Not pared, not cut from the extremities.
 Unpargeted (adj. from un, and pargeted) Not pargeted.
 Unpark (v. t. from un, and park) To convert from a park to common ground.
 Unparked (p. from unpark) Turned from a park into common ground.
 Unparking (p. a. from unpark) Converting from a park to common ground.
 Unparking (s. from the part.) The act of converting from a park to common ground.
 Unparliamentariness (s. from unparliamentary) The state of being unparliamentary.
 Unparliamentary (adj. from un, and parliamentary) Not agreeable to the rules of parliament.
 Unparodied (adj. from un, and parodied) Not parodied.
 Unparrel (v. t. a sea term, from un, and parrel) To take away the parrels which surround the mast.
 Unparreled (p. from unparrel) Stripped of the parrels.
 Unparreling (p. a. from unparrel) Taking off the parrels.
 Unparreling (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the parrels.
 Unparried (adj. from un, and parried) Not parried.
 Unparted (adj. from un, and parted) Not parted.
 Unpartial (adj. from un, and partial) Impartial.
 Unpartially (adv. from unpartial) Impartially.
 Unparticularized (adj. from un, and particularized) Not particularized.
 Unpassed (adj. from un, and passed) Not passed, not rushed by some violent blow.
 Unpassible (adj. from un, and passible) Impassible.
 Unpassed (adj. from un, and passed) Not passed.
 Unpassionate (adj. from un, and passionate) Dispassionate.
 Unpassionated (adj. from un, and passionate) Not passionate. Granville.
 Unpassionately (adv. from unpassionate) Without passion. King Charles.
 Unpast (adj. from un, and past) Not passed.
 Unpaste (v. t. from un, and paste) To free from paste.
 Unpasted (p. from unpaste) Freed from paste.
 Unpasting (p. a. from unpaste) Freeing from paste.
 Unpasting (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from paste.
 Unpastured (adj. from un, and pastured) Not pastured.
 Unpatched (adj. from un, and patch) Not patched.
 Unpathed (adj. from un, and path) Having no path, untracked.
 Unpathetic (adj. from un, and pathetic) Not pathetic.
 Unpatient (adj. from un, and patient) Impatient.
 Unpatriotic (adj. from un, and patriotic) Not patriotic.
 Unpatrolled (adj. from un, and patrolled) Not patrolled.
 Unpatronized (adj. from un, and patronized) Not patronized.
 Unpatted (adj. from un, and patted) Not patted.
 Unpatterned (adj. from un, and patterned) Not patterned.
 Unpave (v. t. from un, and pave) To take up a pavement.

Unper-

Unperfused (adj. from un, and perfused) Not perfused.

Unperiodical (adj. from un, and periodical) Not periodical.

Unperiphrased (adj. from un, and periphrased) Not expressed by a periphrasis.

Unperishable (adj. from un, and perishable) Not perishable.

Unperished (adj. from un, and perished) Not perished.

Unperishing (adj. from un, and perishing) Not perishing, not decaying.

Unperjured (adj. from un, and perjured) Not perjured.

Unperked (adj. from un, and perked) Not dressed up.

Unpermeable (adj. from un, and permeable) Not permeable.

Unpermeated (adj. from un, and permeated) Not permeated.

Unpermisable (adj. from un, and permissible) Not permissible.

Unpermitted (adj. from un, and permitted) Not permitted.

Unperpendicular (adj. from un, and perpendicular) Not perpendicular.

Unperpetuated (adj. from un, and perpetuated) Not perpetuated.

Unperplexed (adj. from un, and perplexed) Not perplexed.

Unpersecuted (adj. from un, and persecuted) Not persecuted.

Unpersisted (adj. from un, and persisted) Not persisted in, not insisted on.

Unpersonal (adj. from un, and personal) Not personal, impersonal.

Unpersonified (adj. from un, and personified) Not personified.

Unperspicuous (adj. from un, and perspicuous) Not perspicuous.

Unperspirable (adj. from un, and perspirable) Not perspirable.

Unpersuadable (adj. from un, and persuadable) Not persuadable.

Unpersuaded (adj. from un, and persuaded) Not persuaded.

Unpertinent (adj. from un, and pertinent) Impertinent.

Unpervaded (adj. from un, and pervaded) Not pervaded.

Unperverted (adj. from un, and perverted) Not perverted.

Unpervious (adj. from un, and pervious) Impervious.

Unperuked (adj. from un, and peruked) Not dressed in a peruke.

Unperused (adj. from un, and perused) Not perused.

Unpestered (adj. from un, and pestered) Not pestered.

Unpestilential (adj. from un, and pestilential) Not pestilential.

Unpetitioned (adj. from un, and petitioned) Not petitioned.

Unpetrified (adj. from un, and petrified) Not petrified.

Unpewed (adj. from un, and pewed) Not pewed.

Unphantastic (adj. from un, and phantastic) Not phantastic.

Unphantastical (adj. from un, and phantastical) Not phantastical.

Unpharisaic (adj. from un, and pharisaic) Not pharisaic.

Unpharisaical (adj. from unpharisaic) Not pharisaical.

Unphilological (adj. from un, and philological) Not philological.

Unphilosophic (adj. from un, and philosophic) Not philosophic.

Unphilosophical (adj. from unphilosophic) Not philosophical.

Unphilosophically (adv. from unphilosophical) In a manner contrary to the rules of philosophy.

Unphilosophicalness (s. from unphilosophical) The state or quality of being unphilosophical.

Unphilosophize (v. t. from un, and philosophize) To degrade from the dignity or character of a philosopher.

Unphilosophized (p. from unphilosophize) Degraded from the dignity or character of a philosopher.

Unphilosophizing (p. a. from unphilosophize) Degrading from the dignity or character of a philosopher.

Unphilosophizing (s. from the part.) The act of degrading from the dignity or character of a philosopher.

Unphiltered (adj. from un, and philtered) Not philtered.

Unphlebotomized (adj. from un, and phlebotomized) Not phlebotomized.

Unphrased (adj. from un, and phrased) Not phrased.

Unphysical (adj. from un, and physical) Not physical.

Unphysiced (adj. from un, and physiced) Not physiced.

Unphysiological (adj. from un, and physiological) Not physiological.

Unpick (v. t. from un, and pick) To undo the seams, stitching of any thing.

Unpick'ed (p. from unpick) Pulled to pieces by picking out the stitches.

Unpick'ed (adj. from un, and picked) Not picked.

Unpick'ing (p. a. from unpick) Picking out stitches.

Unpicking (s. from the part.) The act of picking out stitches of a garment.

Unpick'led (adj. from un, and pickled) Not pickled.

Unpic'tured (adj. from un, and pictured) Not pictured.

Unpieced (adj. from un, and pieced) Not pieced.

Unpier'ced (adj. from un, and pierced) Not pierced.

Unpig'ged (adj. from un, and pigged) Not browned forth as a pig.

Unpi'led (adj. from un, and piled) Not piled.

Unpilfered (adj. from un, and pilfered) Not pilfered.

Unpil'aged (adj. from un, and pillaged) Not pillaged.

Unpil'lared (adj. from un, and pillared) Not pillared.

Unpil'lories (adj. from un, and pillories) Not pillories.

Unpil'lowed (adj. from un, and pillowed) Not pil'lowed.

Unpi'loted (adj. from un, and piloted) Not piloted.

Unpimp'led (adj. from un, and pimped) Not pimped.

Unpi'n (v. t. from un, and pin) To open what fastened with a pin.

Unpinch'ed (adj. from un, and pinched) Not pinched.

Unpi'ned (adj. from un, and pinned) Not pinned, starved.

Unpin'ioned (adj. from un, and pinioned) Not pinioned.

Unpink'ed (adj. from un, and pinked) Not pinked.

Unpin'ed (p. from unpin) Freed from the hold of a pin.

Unpin'ned (adj. from un, and pin) Not pinned.

Unpin'ning (p. a. from unpin) Loosening what fastened with a pin, drawing out pins.

Unpin'ning (s. from the part.) The act of loosening what was fastened with a pin, the act of drawing out pins.

Unpi'ped (adj. from un, and piped) Not piped.

Unpi'qued (adj. from un, and pique) Not piqued.

Unpi'queted (adj. from un, and piqueted) Not piqueted.

Unpis'sed (adj. from un, and pissed) Not voided urine.

Unpis'toled (adj. from un, and pistoled) Not pistoled.

Unpitch'ed (adj. from un, and pitched) Not pitched.

Unpit'iable (adj. from un, and pitiable) Not pitiable.

Unpit'ied (adj. from un, and pitied) Not pitied.

Unpit'iful (adj. from un, and pitiful) Not pitiful.

Unpit'ifully (adv. from unpitiful) Without pity.

Unpi'tous (adj. obsolete) Impious, void of pity.

Unpit'ted (adj. from un, and pitted) Not pitted.

Unpit'ying (adj. from un, and pity) Not pitying.

Unplac'able (adj. from un, and placable) Implacable.

Unplac'ated (adj. from un, and placated) Not placated.

Unplac'ed (adj. from un, and placed) Not provided with a place.

Unplac'ued (adj. from un, and plagued) Not plagued, not tormented.

Unplain'ed (adj. from un, and plained) Not plained.

Unplait'ered (adj. from un, and plaitered) Not plaitered.

Unplait't (v. t. from un, and plait) To unfold.

Unplait'ed (adj. from un, and plaited) Not plaited.

Unplait'ed (p. from unplait) Unfolded.

Unplait'ing (p. a. from unplait) Unfolding.

Unplait'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding.

Unplanch'ed (adj. from un, and planced) Not planned.

Unplanc'ed (adj. from un, and planed) Not planned.

Unplank'ed (adj. from un, and planked) Not planked.

Unplan'ned (adj. from un, and planned) Not planned.

Unplant'ed (adj. from un, and planted) Not planted.

Unplash'ed (adj. from un, and plashed) Not plashed.

Unplaster'ed (adj. from un, and plastered) Not plastered.

U N P

plated (adj. from un, and plated) Not plated.
 plat'ed (adj. from un, and platted) Not platted.
 plau'sible (adj. from un, and plausible) Not plausible.
 plau'sibleness (s. from unplausible) The state of being unplausible.
 plau'sive (adj. from un, and plausible) Not approving, not applauding.
 play'ed (adj. from un, and played) Not played.
 pleach'ed (adj. from un, and pleached) Not pleached.
 plead'able (adj. from un, and pleadable) Not pleadable.
 plead'ed (adj. from un, and pleaded) Not pleaded.
 pleas'ant (adj. from un, and pleasant) Not pleasant.
 pleas'antly (adv. from unpleasant) Without pleasantness.
 pleas'antness (s. from unpleasant) The state of being unpleasant.
 pleas'ed (adj. from un, and pleased) Not pleased.
 pleas'ing (adj. from un, and pleasing) Not pleasing, affording no pleasure, offensive.
 pledg'ed (adj. from un, and pledged) Not pledged.
 plia'ble (adj. from un, and pliable) Not pliable.
 plia'bleness (s. from unpliant) The state of being unpliant.
 pliant (adj. from un, and pliant) Not pliant.
 plied (adj. from un, and plied) Not plied.
 plighted (adj. from un, and plighted) Not plighted.
 plite (v. t. obsolete) To explain. Cole.
 plot'ed (adj. from un, and plotted) Not plotted.
 plough'ed (adj. from un, and ploughed) Not ploughed.
 plow'ed (adj. a different spelling) Unploughed.
 pluck'ed (adj. from un, and plucked) Not plucked.
 pluck't (adj. from un, and plucked) Not plucked, un-plucked.
 plug (v. t. from un, and plug) To open what has been stopped with a plug.
 plug'ed (p. from unplug) Opened by having the plug drawn out.
 plug'ed (adj. from un, and plugged) Not plugged.
 plug'ing (p. a. from unplug) Opening what has been stopped with a plug.
 plug'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening what has been stopped with a plug.
 plumb'ed (adj. from un, and plumbed) Not plumbed.
 plume (v. t. from un, and plume) To strip of plumes, to degrade.
 plum'ed (p. from unplume) Stripped of plumes.
 plum'ed (adj. from un, and plumed) Not plumed.
 plum'ing (p. a. from unplume) Stripping of plumes.
 plum'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of plumes.
 plump'ed (adj. from un, and plumped) Not fat-
 tered.
 plunder'ed (adj. from un, and plundered) Not plundered.
 plung'ed (adj. from un, and plunged) Not plunged.
 ply'ed (adj. from un, and plyed) Not plyed.
 poach'ed (adj. from un, and poached) Not poached.
 pocket'ed (adj. from un, and pocketed) Not pocketed.
 podd'ed (adj. from un, and podded) Not podded.
 poetic (adj. from un, and poetic) Not poetic.
 poetical (adj. from unpoetic) Not poetical.
 poetically (adv. from unpoetical) In a manner not consistent with the rules of poetry.
 point'ed (adj. from un, and pointed) Not pointed.
 pois'ed (adj. from un, and poised) Not poised.
 poison'ed (adj. from un, and poisoned) Not poisoned.
 pois'ed (adj. a different spelling) Unpoised.
 poled (adj. from un, and poled) Not furnished with poles.
 policed (adj. from un, and policed) Not policed.
 polished (adj. from un, and polished) Not polished.
 polishedness (s. from unpolished) The state of being unpolished. Scott.
 polite (adj. from un, and polite) Not polite, not polite in manners.
 politic (adj. from un, and politic) Impolitic.
 political (adj. from un, and political) Not political.
 politically (adv. from unpolitical) In a manner contrary to sound politics.
 polled (adj. from un, and polled) Not polled.
 pollut'ed (adj. from un, and polluted) Not polluted.
 ponder'ed (adj. from un, and pondered) Not pondered.
 pontifical (adj. from un, and pontifical) Unbecoming, un-
 pontiff,

U N P

Unpop'ular (adj. from un, and popular) Not popular.
 Unpop'ulous (adj. from un, and populous) Not populous.
 Unport'able (adj. from un, and portable) Not portable.
 Unportend'ed (adj. from un, and portended) Not por-tended.
 Unportion'ed (adj. from un, and portioned) Not por-tioned.
 Unport'ly (adj. from un, and portly) Not portly.
 Unpor'trayed (adj. from un, and portrayed) Not portrayed.
 Unpos'ed (adj. from un, and posed) Not posed.
 Unpossess'ed (adj. from un, and possessed) Not possessed.
 Unpossess'ing (adj. from un, and possessing) Having no possession.
 Unpos'sible (adj. from un, and possible) Impossible.
 Unpossibility (s. from un, and possibility) An impossibility.
 Unpost'ed (adj. from un, and posted) Not posted.
 Unpostpo'ned (adj. from un, and postponed) Not postponed.
 Unpot'ted (adj. from un, and potted) Not potted.
 Unpouch'ed (adj. from un, and pouched) Not pouched.
 Unpoul'ticed (adj. from un, and poulticed) Not poul-ticed.
 Unpounc'ed (adj. from un, and pounced) Not pounced.
 Unpound'ed (adj. from un, and pounded) Not pounded.
 Unpoured' (adj. from un, and poured) Not poured.
 Unpow'ered (adj. from un, and powdered) Not powdered.
 Unpower (s. obsolete) The want of power. Chaucer.
 Unpracticability (s. from unpracticable) The state of quality of being impracticable, impracticability.
 Unpracticable (adj. from un, and practicable) Not practicable, impracticable.
 Unpracticableness (s. from unpracticable) The state of being impracticable.
 Unpracticably (adv. from unpracticable) Impracticably.
 Unpractised (adj. from un, and practised) Not practised, not used.
 Unprais'ed (adj. from un, and praised) Not praised.
 Unprank'ed (adj. from un, and pranked) Not pranked.
 Unpreach'ed (adj. from un, and preached) Not preached.
 Unpreca'rious (adj. from un, and precarious) Not precarious.
 Unprecedented (adj. from un, and preceded) Wanting a precedent, having no precedent.
 Unprecipitated (adj. from un, and precipitated) Not precipitated.
 Unpreci'se (adj. from un, and precise) Not precise.
 Unpreclud'ed (adj. from un, and precluded) Not precluded.
 Unpredestinated (adj. from un, and predestinated) Not predestinated.
 Unpredicated (adj. from un, and predicated) Not predicated.
 Unpredi'ct (v. t. from un, and predict) To retract a prediction. Milton.
 Unpredi'cted (p. from unpredi'ct) Retracted as a prediction.
 Unpredi'cted (adj. from un, and predicted) Not predicted.
 Unpredi'cting (p. a. from unpredi'ct) Retracting a prediction.
 Unpredi'cting (s. from the part.) The act of retracting a prediction.
 Unpreen'ed (adj. from un, and preened) Not preened.
 Unprefaced (adj. from un, and prefaced) Not prefaced.
 Unprefer'ed (adj. from un, and preferred) Not preferred.
 Unprefig'ured (adj. from un, and prefigured) Not prefigured.
 Unpre'fined (adj. from un, and pre'fined) Not pre'fined.
 Unpre'fix'ed (adj. from un, and pre'fix'ed) Not pre'fix'ed.
 Unpreg'nant (adj. from un, and pregnant) Not pregnant, unprolific.
 Unprejud'ged (adj. from un, and prejudged) Not prejudged.
 Unpreju'dicated (adj. from un, and prejudicated) Not prejudicated.
 Unprelat'ical (adj. from un, and prelat'ical) Unlike a prelate, unbecoming a bishop.
 Unpremeditated (adj. from un, and premeditated) Not premeditated.
 Unpremi'sed (adj. from un, and premised) Not premised.
 Unpremon'ished (adj. from un, and premonished) Not premonished.
 Unpremon'itrat'ed (adj. from un, and premonstrated) Not shewed beforehand.

Unpre-

U N P

Unprenom'inated (adj. from un, and prenominated) Not prenominated, not named beforehand.
 Unpreoc'cupied (adj. from un, and preoccupied) Not preoccupied.
 Unpreom'inated (adj. from un, and preominated) Not preominated, not toreshewn by omens.
 Unpreordai'ned (adj. from un, and preordained) Not preordained.
 Unprepa'red (adj. from un, and prepared) Not prepared.
 Unprepa'redness (s. from unprepared) The state of not being prepared.
 Unprepond'rated (adj. from un, and preponderated) Not preponderated.
 Unprepos'sed (adj. from un, and prepos'sed) Not prepos'sed.
 Unpres'a'ged (adj. from un, and presaged) Not presaged.
 Unprescind'ed (adj. from un, and prescinded) Not prescinded.
 Unprescri'bed (adj. from un, and prescribed) Not prescribed.
 Unpresent'ed (adj. from un, and presented) Not presented.
 Unpreserv'ed (adj. from un, and preserved) Not preserved.
 Unpress'ed (adj. from un, and pressed) Not pressed.
 Unpresu'mable (adj. from un, and presumable) Not presumable.
 Unpresu'med (adj. from un, and presumed) Not presumed.
 Unpresu'ming (adj. from un, and presuming) Not presuming.
 Unpresump'tuous (adj. from un, and presumptuous) Not presumptuous.
 Unpresuppo'sed (adj. from un, and presupposed) Not supposed beforehand.
 Unpretend'ed (adj. from un, and pretended) Not pretended.
 Unpretend'ing (adj. from un, and pretending) Not pretending.
 Unpretermitt'ed (adj. from un, and pretermitted) Not pretermitted.
 Unpreterna'tural (adj. from un, and preternatural) Not preternatural.
 Unpretyp'ified (adj. from un, and pretypified) Not pretypified.
 Unprevail'ing (adj. from un, and prevailing) Not prevailing.
 Unprevent'ed (adj. from un, and prevented) Not prevented.
 Unprick'ed (adj. from un, and pricked) Not pricked.
 Unpriest'ly (adj. from un, and priestly) Unlike a priest, unbecoming a priest.
 Unprim' (adj. from un, and prim) Not prim, not formal.
 Unprim'ed (adj. from un, and primed) Not primed.
 Unprim'med (adj. from un, and primmed) Not primmed, not dressed up.
 Unprim'ness (s. from unprim) The want of formality, the want of primness.
 Unprinc'ely (adj. from un, and princely) Unlike a prince, unbecoming a prince.
 Unprin'ciple (adj. from un, and principled) Not principled, void of good principles.
 Unprint'ed (adj. from un, and printed) Not printed.
 Unpri'stable (adj. from un, and prise) Not valued, having little value. Shakespeare.
 Unpris'oned (adj. from un, and prisoned) Not prisoned.
 Unpri'zed (adj. from un, and prized) Not prized.
 Unprob'able (adj. from un, and probable) Improbable.
 Unpro'bed (adj. from un, and probed) Not probed.
 Unproclaim'ed (adj. from un, and proclaimed) Not proclaimed.
 Unprocras'tinated (adj. from un, and procrastinated) Not procrastinated, not delayed.
 Unpro'created (adj. from un, and procreated) Not procreated.
 Unprocu'able (adj. from un, and procurable) Not procurable.
 Unprocu'ed (adj. from un, and procured) Not procured.
 Unprodu'ced (adj. from un, and produced) Not produced.
 Unprofa'ned (adj. from un, and profaned) Not profaned.
 Unprofer'ed (adj. from un, and profered) Not profered.
 Unprofes'sed (adj. from un, and professed) Not professed.
 Unproffer'ed (adj. a different spelling) Unprofered.
 Unprofitable (adj. from un, and profitable) Not profitable, useless.
 Unprofitableness (s. from unprofitable) The state or quality of being unprofitable.

U N P

Unprofitably (adv. from unprofitable) Without fit, without use.
 Unprofit'ed (adj. from un, and profited) Not profited.
 Unprofu'se (adj. from un, and profuse) Not profuse.
 Unprofu'seness (s. from unprofuse) The want of profuseness.
 Unprognos'ticated (adj. from un, and prognosticated) Not prognosticated.
 Unprogres'sive (adj. from un, and progressive) Not progressive.
 Unprohib'ited (adj. from un, and prohibited) Not prohibited.
 Unproject'ed (adj. from un, and projected) Not projected.
 Unproli'fic (adj. from un, and prolific) Not prolific.
 Unproli'x (adj. from un, and prolix) Not prolix.
 Unpro'logued (adj. from un, and prologued) Not prologued.
 Unprolong'ed (adj. from un, and prolonged) Not prolonged.
 Unprom'ised (adj. from un, and promised) Not promised.
 Unprom'ising (adj. from un, and promising) Not promising.
 Unpromot'ed (adj. from un, and promoted) Not promoted.
 Unprompt'ed (adj. from un, and prompted) Not prompted.
 Unpromulgated (adj. from un, and promulgated) Not promulgated, not published.
 Unpromul'ged (adj. from un, and promulged) Not promulged, not published.
 Unpronoun'ced (adj. from un, and pronounced) Not pronounced.
 Unprop'agated (adj. from un, and propagated) Not propagated.
 Unpropel'led (adj. from un, and propelled) Not propelled, not driven forward.
 Unprop'er (adj. from un, and proper) Improper.
 Unprop'erly (adv. from unproper) Improperly.
 Unpro'phesied (adj. from un, and prophesied) Not prophesied, not foretold in prophecy.
 Unprophet'ic (adj. from un, and prophetic) Not prophetic.
 Unpropit'iable (adj. from un, and propitiable) Not propitiable.
 Unpropit'iated (adj. from un, and propitiated) Not propitiated.
 Unpropit'ious (adj. from un, and propitious) Not propitious.
 Unpropor'tionable (adj. from un, and proportionable) Not proportionable.
 Unpropor'tionably (adv. from unproportionable) Not out due proportion.
 Unpropor'tionableness (s. from unproportionable) The state of being unproportionable.
 Unproportional (adj. from un, and proportional) Not proportional.
 Unpropor'tionate (adj. from un, and proportionate) Not proportionate.
 Unpropor'tionated (adj. from unproportionate) Not proportionated.
 Unpropor'tioned (adj. from un, and proportioned) Not proportioned.
 Unpropo'sed (adj. from un, and proposed) Not proposed.
 Unpropound'ed (adj. from un, and propounded) Not propounded.
 Unprop'ped (adj. from un, and propped) Not propped.
 Unpro'pt (adj. from un, and propt) Not propped.
 Unpropug'ned (adj. from un, and propugned) Not propugned.
 Unpro'rogued (adj. from un, and prorogued) Not prorogued.
 Unproscri'bed (adj. from un, and proscribed) Not proscribed.
 Unpros'ecuted (adj. from un, and prosecuted) Not prosecuted.
 Unpros'elyted (adj. from un, and proselyted) Not proselyted.
 Unpros'pered (adj. from un, and prospered) Not prospered.
 Unpros'perous (adj. from un, and prosperous) Not prosperous.
 Unpros'perously (adv. from unprosperous) Not prosperously, without success.
 Unprostituted (adj. from un, and prostituted) Not prostituted.
 Unprostrated (adj. from un, and prostrated) Not prostrated.

U N Q

otested (adj. from un, and protested) Not protested.
 otested (adj. from un, and protested) Not protested.
 otracted (adj. from un, and protracted) Not protracted.
 otruded (adj. from un, and protruded) Not protruded.
 oved (adj. from un, and proved) Not proved.
 ovided (adj. from un, and provided) Not provided.
 ovident (adj. from un, and provident) Not provi-dent.
 ovidently (adv. from unprovident) Without foresight.
 ooked (adj. from un, and provoked) Not provoked.
 udent (adj. from un, and prudent) Imprudent.
 udently (adv. from unprudent) Imprudently.
 ured (adj. from un, and pruned) Not pruned.
 ublic (adj. from un, and public) Not public, private. Taylor.
 ublished (adj. from un, and published) Not published.
 ucker (v. t. from un, and pucker) To draw out of pucker.
 ucked (p. from unpucker) Drawn out of folds or pucker.
 ucked (adj. from un, and puckered) Not puckered.
 ucking (p. a. from unpucker) Drawing out of folds or pucker.
 ucking (s. from the part.) The act of drawing out
 folds or pucker.
 uddled (adj. from un, and puddered) Not puddered, not perplexed.
 uddled (adj. from un, and puddled) Not puddled, soiled with dirt.
 uffed (adj. from un, and puffed) Not puffed.
 icked (adj. from un, and puked) Not brought up from the stomach.
 ulled (adj. from un, and pulled) Not pulled.
 ulverable (adj. from un, and pulverable) Not capable of being reduced to powder.
 ulverized (adj. from un, and pulverized) Not pulverized.
 ulvinated (adj. from un, and pulvinated) Not pulvinated.
 umicated (adj. from un, and pumicated) Not pumi-cated.
 umped (adj. from un, and pumped) Not pumped.
 unched (adj. from un, and punched) Not punched, perforated with a punch.
 unished (adj. from un, and punished) Not punished.
 upped (adj. from un, and pupped) Not pupped, brought forth as a puppy.
 urchaseable (adj. from un, and purchasable) Not purchasable.
 urchased (adj. from un, and purchased) Not purchased.
 ure (adj. from un, and pure) Impure.
 ursed (adj. from un, and purged) Not purged.
 urified (adj. from un, and purified) Not purified.
 urled (adj. from un, and purled) Not purled.
 urloined (adj. from un, and purloined) Not purloined.
 urpled (adj. from un, and purpled) Not purpled, tinged with purple.
 urposed (adj. from un, and purposed) Not purposed.
 ursed (adj. from un, and purged) Not purged, not into the purse.
 ursuable (adj. from un, and pursuable) Not pursuable.
 ursed (adj. from un, and pursued) Not pursued. urveiled (adj. obsolete) Unforeseen, unexpected. Ch.
 uthed (adj. from un, and pushed) Not pushed.
 utrefied (adj. from un, and putrefied) Not putrefied.
 utrified (adj. a different spelling) Unputrefied.
 uttied (adj. from un, and puttied) Not puttied.
 uzzled (adj. from un, and puzzled) Not puzzled.
 uashed (adj. from un, and quashed) Not quashed.
 ualified (p. from unqualify) Disqualified.
 ualified (adj. from un, and qualified) Not qualified.
 uality (v. t. from un, and qualify) To disqualify.
 ualifying (p. a. from unqualify) Disqualifying.
 ualifying (s. from the part.) The act of disqualifying.
 uarrelable (adj. from un, and quarrel) Incapable being oppugned. Brown.
 uartered (adj. from un, and quastered) Not quartered.

U N R

Unquashed (adj. from un, and quashed) Not quashed.
 Unqueen (v. t. from un, and queen) To divest of the dignity of a queen.
 Unqueen'ed (p. from unqueen) Divested of the dignity of a queen.
 Unqueen'ing (p. a. from unqueen) Divesting of the dignity of a queen.
 Unqueen'ing (s. from the part.) The act of divesting of the dignity of a queen.
 Unquell'ed (adj. from un, and quelled) Not quelled.
 Unquench'able (adj. from un, and quenchable) Not quenchable.
 Unquench'ableness (s. from unquenchable) The state of being unquenchable.
 Unquench'ed (adj. from un, and quenched) Not quenched.
 Unquer't (adj. obsolete) Undeserved. Chaucer.
 Unques'tionable (adj. from un, and questionable) Not questionable, certain.
 Unques'tionableness (s. from unquestionable) The state or quality of being unquestionable.
 Unques'tionably (adv. from unquestionable) Indubita-bly, without dispute.
 Unques'tioned (adj. from un, and questioned) Not questioned.
 Unquic'ck (adj. from un, and quick) Not quick, motionless.
 Unquick'ened (adj. from un, and quickened) Not quickened.
 Unquic'cksilvered (adj. from un, and quicksilvered) Not quicksilvered.
 Unqui'et (adj. from un, and quiet) Not quiet.
 Unqui'etly (adv. from unquiet) Without rest, without quiet.
 Unqui'etness (s. from unquiet) The want of quiet, per-turbation, uneasiness.
 Unquilt'ed (adj. from un, and quilted) Not quilted.
 Unquip'ped (adj. from un, and quipped) Not quipped.
 Unquit'ed (adj. from un, and quitted) Not quitted.
 Unquiver'ed (adj. from un, and quivered) Not quivered, not furnished with a quiver.
 Unquoil'ed (adj. from un, and quoiled) Not quoiled, not furnished with a headdress.
 Unquoil'ed (adj. a sea term, from un, and quoiled) Not coiled, not laid up as a rope in rounds.
 Unquoted (adj. from un, and quoted) Not quoted.
 Unquo'ted (adj. from un, and quoted) Not quoted.
 Unrab'beted (adj. in joinery) Not rabbeted, not joined with a rabbet.
 Unrack (v. t. from un, and rack) To take from the rack.
 Unrack'ed (p. from unrack) Taken as cloth from the rack.
 Unrack'ed (adj. from un, and racked) Not racked, not poured from the lees.
 Unrack'ing (p. a. from unrack) Taking from the rack.
 Unrack'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking cloth from the rack.
 Unradi'ated (adj. from un, and radiated) Not radiated.
 Unradi'cated (adj. from un, and radiated) Not radi-cated.
 Unraff'led (adj. from un, and raffled) Not raffled.
 Unrafter'ed (adj. from un, and rafted) Not rafted, not furnished with rafters.
 Unrail'ed (adj. from un, and railed) Not railed, not inclosed with rails.
 Unrais'ed (adj. from un, and raised) Not raised.
 Unrake (v. t. from un, and rake) To uncover the fire.
 Unrake'ed (p. from unrake) Uncovered as the fire after it has been raked up.
 Unrake'ed (adj. from un, and raked) Not raked, not covered as the fire.
 Unrake'ing (p. a. from unrake) Uncovering.
 Unrake'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uncovering the fire.
 Unrall'ied (adj. from un, and rallied) Not rallied, not brought again into order.
 Unram'ified (adj. from un, and ramified) Not ramified.
 Unram'med (adj. from un, and rammed) Not rammed.
 Unramp'ed (adj. from un, and ramped) Not ramped.
 Unranch'ed (adj. from un, and ranched) Not wrenched, not sprained.
 Unrang'ed (adj. from un, and ranged) Not ranged.
 Unrank'ed (adj. from un, and ranked) Not ranked.
 Unran'facked (adj. from un, and ranfacked) Not ran-facked.
 Unran'fomed (adj. from un, and ranfomed) Not ranfomed.
 Unrapt'ured (adj. from un, and raptured) Not raptured.
 Unrare'fied (adj. from un, and rarefied) Not rarefied.
 Unrais'ed (adj. from un, and raised) Not raised.

U N R

Unrasped (adj. from un, and rasped) Not rasped.
 Unrated (adj. from un, and rated) Not rated.
 Unrational (adj. from un, and rational) Irrational.
 Unrattled (adj. from un, and rattled) Not rattled.
 Unravaged (adj. from un, and ravaged) Not ravaged.
 Unravel (v. t. from un, and ravel) To disentangle, to extricate; to clear up.
 Unraveled (p. from unravel, a more analogical spelling) Disentangled, unravelled.
 Unravelled (p. from unravel) Disentangled, cleared up.
 Unravelling (p. a. from unravel) Disentangling, clearing up.
 Unravelling (s. from the part.) The act of disentangling, the act of disentangling.
 Unravished (adj. from un, and ravished) Not ravished.
 Unrayed (adj. from un, and rayed) Not rayed, not fitted.
 Unrazed (adj. from un, and razed) Not razed.
 Unrazored (adj. from un, and razor) Unshaven. Shakespeare.
 Unreached (adj. from un, and reached) Not reached.
 Unread (adj. from un, and read) Not read, not learned in books.
 Unready (adj. comp. of unready) Unready in a greater degree.
 Unreadyest (adj. sup. of unready) Unready in the greatest degree.
 Unreadiness (s. from unready) The state of being unready.
 Unready (adj. from un, and ready) Not ready; not prepared, not apt.
 Unreal (adj. from un, and real) Not real, unsubstantial.
 Unrealized (adj. from un, and realized) Not realized.
 Unreaped (adj. from un, and reaped) Not reaped.
 Unreared (adj. from un, and reared) Not reared, not raised up.
 Unreasonable (adj. from un, and reasonable) Not reasonable, not agreeable to reason.
 Unreasonableness (s. from unreasonable) The state or quality of being unreasonable.
 Unreasonably (adv. from unreasonable) In a manner contrary to reason; in a degree more than enough.
 Unreave (v. t. from un, and reave) To unravel. Spenser.
 Unreaved (p. from unreave) Unravelled.
 Unreaving (p. a. from unreave) Unravelling.
 Unreaving (s. from the part.) The act of unravelling.
 Unrehabited (adj. from un, and rebated) Not rebated, not blunted.
 Unrebutable (adj. from un, and rebukable) Not rebukable.
 Unrebutted (adj. from un, and rebuked) Not rebuked.
 Unrecallable (adj. from un, and recallable) Not recallable.
 Unrecallably (adv. from unrecallable) In a manner not to be recalled.
 Unrecalled (adj. from un, and recalled) Not recalled.
 Unrecanted (adj. from un, and recanted) Not recanted.
 Unreceived (adj. from un, and received) Not received.
 Unreciprocal (adj. from un, and reciprocal) Not reciprocal.
 Unrecited (adj. from un, and recited) Not recited.
 Unreckoned (adj. from un, and reckoned) Not reckoned.
 Unreclaimed (adj. from un, and reclaimed) Not reclaimed.
 Unreclined (adj. from un, and reclined) Not reclined.
 Unrecognized (adj. from un, and recognized) Not recognized.
 Unrecoined (adj. from un, and recoined) Not recoined.
 Unrecompensed (adj. from un, and recompensed) Not recompensed.
 Unreconcilable (adj. from un, and reconcilable) Not reconcilable.
 Unreconcilableness (s. from unreconcilable) The state or quality of being unreconcilable.
 Unreconciled (adj. from un, and reconciled) Not reconciled.
 Unrecorded (adj. from un, and recorded) Not recorded.
 Unrecoverable (adj. from un, and recoverable) Not recoverable.
 Unrecovered (adj. from un, and recovered) Not recovered.
 Unrecounted (adj. from un, and recounted) Not recounted.
 Unrecreated (adj. from un, and recreated) Not recreated.
 Unrecruitable (adj. from un, and recruitable) Incapable of being recruited.
 Unrecruited (adj. from un, and recruited) Not recruited.
 Unredressed (adj. from un, and redressed) Not redressed.
 Unrecurring (adj. from un, and recurring) Irremediable. Sb.
 Unredeemable (adj. from un, and redeemable) Not redeemable.

U N R

Unredeemed (adj. from un, and redeemed) Not redeemed.
 Unredressed (adj. from un, and redressed) Not redressed.
 Unreduced (adj. from un, and reduced) Not reduced.
 Unreducible (adj. from un, and reducible) Not reducible.
 Unreefed (adj. from un, and reefed) Not reefed.
 Unreeled (adj. from un, and reeled) Not reeled.
 Unreeve (v. t. from un, and reeve) To pull a rope out of a block.
 Unreeved (p. from unreeve) Pulled out of a block.
 Unreeving (p. a. from unreeve) Pulling a rope out of a block.
 Unreeving (s. from the part.) The act of pulling a rope out of a block.
 Unrefected (adj. from un, and refected) Not refected, refreshed.
 Unrefelled (adj. from un, and refelled) Not refelled, refuted.
 Unreferred (adj. from un, and referred) Not referred.
 Unrefined (adj. from un, and refined) Not refined.
 Unrefitted (adj. from un, and refitted) Not refitted.
 Unreflected (adj. from un, and reflected) Not reflected.
 Unreformable (adj. from un, and reformable) Not reformable, not admitting reformation.
 Unreformed (adj. from un, and reformed) Not reformed.
 Unrefracted (adj. from un, and refracted) Not refracted.
 Unrefrangible (adj. from un, and refrangible) Not refrangible.
 Unrefreshed (adj. from un, and refreshed) Not refreshed.
 Unrefrigerated (adj. from un, and refrigerated) Not refrigerated.
 Unrefunded (adj. from un, and refunded) Not refunded.
 Unrefused (adj. from un, and refused) Not refused.
 Unrefuted (adj. from un, and refuted) Not refuted.
 Unregained (adj. from un, and regained) Not regained.
 Unregaled (adj. from un, and regaled) Not regaled.
 Unregarded (adj. from un, and regarded) Not regarded.
 Unregardful (adj. from un, and regardful) Not regardful.
 Unregardfully (adv. from unregardful) Without regard, negligently.
 Unregenerate (adj. from un, and regenerate) Not regenerate.
 Unregenerate (s. from the adj.) Persons unregenerated.
 Unregenerated (adj. from un, and regenerated) Not regenerated.
 Unregistered (adj. from un, and registered) Not registered.
 Unregretted (adj. from un, and regretted) Not regretted.
 Unregulated (adj. from un, and regulated) Not regulated.
 Unregurgitated (adj. from un, and regurgitated) Not regurgitated.
 Unrehabilitated (adj. from un, and rehabilitated) Not rehabilitated.
 Unrehearsed (adj. from un, and rehearsed) Not rehearsed.
 Unrejectable (adj. from un, and rejectable) Not rejectable.
 Unrejected (adj. from un, and rejected) Not rejected.
 Unreimbodied (adj. from un, and reimbodied) Not reimbodied.
 Unreined (adj. from un, and reined) Not reined, restrained by a bridle.
 Unrejoined (adj. from un, and rejoined) Not rejoined.
 Unreiterated (adj. from un, and reiterated) Not reiterated, not repeated.
 Unrelated (adj. from un, and related) Not related.
 Unrelaxed (adj. from un, and relaxed) Not relaxed.
 Unreleased (adj. from un, and released) Not released.
 Unrelented (adj. from un, and relented) Not relented.
 Unrelenting (adj. from un, and relenting) Not relenting.
 Unrelievable (adj. from un, and relievable) Not relievable.
 Unrelieved (adj. from un, and relieved) Not relieved.
 Unreligious (adj. from un, and religious) Irreligious.
 Unrelinquished (adj. from un, and relinquished) Not relinquished.
 Unrelished (adj. from un, and relished) Not relished.
 Unremanded (adj. from un, and remanded) Not remanded.
 Unremarkable (adj. from un, and remarkable) Not remarkable.
 Unremarked (adj. from un, and remarked) Not remarked.
 Unremediable (adj. from un, and remediable) Not remediable.

U N R

remedied (adj. from un, and remedied) Not remedied.
 remembrance (s. from un, and remembrance) The remembrance. Watts. remembered (adj. from un, and remembered) Not remembered.
 remembering (adj. from un, and remembering) Not remembering.
 reminded (adj. from un, and reminded) Not reminded.
 remissible (adj. from un, and remissible) Incapable being remitted.
 remitted (adj. from un, and remitted) Not remitted.
 removeable (adj. from un, and removeable) Not removeable.
 removeably (adv. from un, and removeable) In a manner not to be removed.
 removed (adj. from un, and removed) Not removed.
 remounted (adj. from un, and remounted) Not re-mounted.
 remunerated (adj. from un, and remunerated) Not remunerated, not rewarded.
 murmured (adj. from un, and murmured) Not murmured.
 navigated (adj. from un, and navigated) Not renavigated.
 rendered (adj. from un, and rendered) Not rendered.
 renewable (adj. from un, and renewable) Not renewable.
 renewed (adj. from un, and renewed) Not renewed.
 renovated (adj. from un, and renovated) Not renovated.
 renounced (adj. from un, and renounced) Not renounced.
 renowned (adj. from un, and renowned) Not renowned.
 rented (adj. from un, and rented) Not rented.
 repaid (adj. from un, and repaid) Not repaid.
 repairable (adj. from un, and repairable) Not re-pairable.
 repaired (adj. from un, and repaired) Not repaired.
 repairable (adj. from un, and repairable) Not repairable.
 reparted (adj. from un, and reparted) Not reparted, but put on as a horse to the next pace.
 repealed (adj. from un, and repealed) Not repealed.
 repeated (adj. from un, and repeated) Not repeated.
 repelled (adj. from un, and repelled) Not repelled.
 repentant (adj. from un, and repentant) Not repenting, impenitent.
 repented (adj. from un, and repented) Not repent of.
 repenting (adj. from un, and repenting) Not repenting.
 repining (adj. from un, and repining) Not repining.
 requied (adj. from un, and requied) Not requied.
 replenished (adj. from un, and replenished) Not replenished.
 repleviable (adj. from un, and repleviable) Not re-veviable.
 replevied (adj. from un, and replevied) Not reple-vied.
 replevined (adj. from un, and replevined) Not revevined.
 replevished (adj. from un, and replevished) Not added to bail.
 reported (adj. from un, and reported) Not reported.
 reprehended (adj. from un, and reprehended) Not reprehended.
 represented (adj. from un, and represented) Not resented.
 repressed (adj. from un, and repressed) Not repressed.
 repleviable (adj. from un, and repleviable) Not re-veviable.
 replevied (adj. from un, and replevied) Not re-vevied.
 reprimanded (adj. from un, and reprimanded) Not reprimanded.
 reprinted (adj. from un, and reprinted) Not reprinted.
 reproachable (adj. from un, and reproachable) Not reproachable.
 reproached (adj. from un, and reproached) Not reproached.
 reprobated (adj. from un, and reprobated) Not reprobated.
 reproveable (adj. from un, and reproveable) Not re-
 veviable.
 reproved (adj. from un, and reproved) Not reproved.
 repruned (adj. from un, and repruned) Not repruned.
 repudiable (adj. from un, and repudiable) Not repudiable.

U N R

Unrepudiated (adj. from un, and repudiated) Not repudiated.
 Unrepugnant (adj. from un, and repugnant) Not repugnant.
 Unrepulsed (adj. from un, and repulsed) Not repulsed.
 Unrepurged (adj. from un, and repurged) Not purged again.
 Unreputable (adj. from un, and reputable) Not reputable.
 Unrequafied (adj. from un, and requafied) Not re-quafied.
 Unreques'ted (adj. from un, and requested) Not re-ques'ted.
 Unrequick'ened (adj. from un, and requickened) Not requickened.
 Unrequi'ed (adj. from un, and required) Not required.
 Unrequisite (adj. from un, and requisite) Not requisite.
 Unrequitable (adj. from un, and requitable) Incapable of being requited. Boyle.
 Unrequi'ted (adj. from un, and requited) Not requited.
 Unrescind'ed (adj. from un, and rescinded) Not rescinded.
 Unrescued (adj. from un, and rescued) Not rescued.
 Unresent'ed (adj. from un, and resented) Not resented.
 Unrefer'ved (adj. from un, and reserved) Not reserved, open, free.
 Unrefer'vedly (adv. from unreserved) Without reserve.
 Unrefer'vedness (s. from unreserved) The state of being unreserved.
 Unreset'ted (adj. from un, and resetted) Not resetted.
 Unresign'ed (adj. from un, and resigned) Not resigned.
 Unresist'ed (adj. from un, and resisted) Not resisted.
 Unresist'ing (adj. from un, and resisting) Not resisting, not opposing.
 Unresolvable (adj. from un, and resolvable) Not resolvable.
 Unresolved (adj. from un, and resolved) Not resolved.
 Unresolv'ing (adj. from un, and resolving) Not resolving.
 Unreson (s. obsolete) Unreasonableness. Chaucer.
 Unresounded (adj. from un, and resounded) Not resounded.
 Unrespect'ed (adj. from un, and respected) Not respected.
 Unrespect'ful (adj. from un, and respectful) Not respect'ful, disrespectful.
 Unrespect'fully (adv. from unrespectful) Disrespectfully.
 Unrespect'fulness (s. from unrespectful) The state of being disrespectful. Scott.
 Unrespect'ive (adj. from un, and respective) Inattentive, taking little notice.
 Unrespited (adj. from un, and respited) Not respited.
 Unresplend'ent (adj. from un, and resplendent) Not resplendent.
 Unrespons'ible (adj. from un, and responsible) Not respons'ible.
 Unresponsive (adj. from un, and responsive) Not responsive.
 Unrest' (s. from un, and rest) Disquiet, want of rest, want of tranquillity.
 Unrest'ed (adj. from un, and rested) Not rested.
 Unrest'ie (adj. obsolete) Causing uneasiness. Chaucer.
 Unresto'ed (adj. from un, and restored) Not restored.
 Unrestrain'able (adj. from un, and restrainable) Not re-strainable.
 Unrestrained (adj. from un, and restrained) Not restrained.
 Unrestrain'edly (adv. from unrestrained) Without restraint.
 Unrestrain'edness (s. from unrestrained) The state of being without restraint.
 Unrestricted (adj. from un, and restricted) Not restricted.
 Unresum'ed (adj. from un, and resumed) Not resumed.
 Unretain'ed (adj. from un, and retained) Not retained.
 Unretaliated (adj. from un, and retaliated) Not retaliated.
 Unretard'ed (adj. from un, and retarded) Not retarded.
 Unreten'tive (adj. from un, and retentive) Not retentive.
 Unreti'ed (adj. from un, and retired) Not retired.
 Unretort'ed (adj. from un, and retorted) Not retorted.
 Unretract'ed (adj. from un, and retracted) Not retracted.
 Unretrench'ed (adj. from un, and retrenched) Not re-trench'ed.
 Unretriev'able (adj. from un, and retrievable) Not retrievable.
 Unretriev'ed (adj. from un, and retrieved) Not retrieved.
 Unreturn'able (adj. from un, and returnable) Not returnable.
 Unreturn'ed (adj. from un, and returned) Not returned.
 Unreveal'ed (adj. from un, and revealed) Not revealed.
 Unreveil'ed (adj. from un, and revelled) Not revelled.
 Unre-

U N R

Unrevenged (adj. from un, and revenged) Not revenged.
 Unreverberated (adj. from un, and reverberated) Not reverberated.
 Unreversed (adj. from un, and revered) Not revered.
 Unreverenced (adj. from un, and reverenced) Not reverenced.
 Unreverend (adj. from un, and reverend) Disrespectful, irreverent.
 Unreverent (adj. not used) Not reverent.
 Unreverently (adv. from unreverent) Disrespectfully, without due reverence.
 Unreversed (adj. from un, and reversed) Not reversed.
 Unreversible (adj. from un, and reversible) Not reversible.
 Unreverted (adj. from un, and reverted) Not reverted.
 Unrevertible (adj. from un, and revertible) Not revertible.
 Unrevested (adj. from un, and revested) Not revested.
 Unreviewed (adj. from un, and reviewed) Not reviewed.
 Unreviled (adj. from un, and reviled) Not reviled.
 Unrevived (adj. from un, and revived) Not revived.
 Unrevokable (adj. from un, and revokable) Not revokable.
 Unrevoked (adj. from un, and revoked) Not revoked.
 Unrevolted (adj. from un, and revolted) Not revolted.
 Unrevolved (adj. from un, and revolved) Not revolved.
 Unrevomited (adj. from un, and revomited) Not revomited.
 Unrewarded (adj. from un, and rewarded) Not rewarded.
 Unrewarded (adj. from un, and rewarded) Not rewarded.
 Unrhetorical (adj. from un, and rhetorical) Not rhetorical, not consistent with the rules of rhetoric.
 Unrhetorically (adv. from unrhetorical) In a manner not consistent with the rules of rhetoric.
 Unrhetoricalness (s. from unrhetorical) The state or quality of being unrhetorical.
 Unribbed (adj. from un, and ribbed) Not ribbed.
 Unricked (adj. from un, and ricked) Not ricked, not put up in a rick.
 Unrid'den (adj. from un, and ridden) Not ridden.
 Unrid'die (v. t. from un, and riddle) To unfold a riddle, to unfold a mystery, to solve a problem.
 Unrid'died (p. from unriddle) Solved, unfolded.
 Unrid'dling (p. a. from unriddle) Solving a riddle, unfolding a mystery.
 Unrid'dling (s. from the part.) The act of solving a riddle, the act of explaining a mystery.
 Unridged (adj. from un, and ridged) Not ridged.
 Unridiculed (adj. from un, and ridiculed) Not ridiculed.
 Unridiculous (adj. from un, and ridiculous) Not ridiculous.
 Unrifled (adj. from un, and rifled) Not rifled.
 Unrifsted (adj. from un, and rifsted) Not rifsted.
 Unrig (v. t. from un, and rig) To strip of the rigging.
 Unrigged (p. from unrig) Stripped of the rigging.
 Unrigging (p. a. from unrig) Stripping of the tackle.
 Unrigging (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of the rigging.
 Unright (adj. from un, and right) Not right, wrong. Sp.
 Unrighted (adj. from un, and righted) Not righted.
 Unrighteous (adj. from un, and righteous) Not righteous.
 Unrighteously (adv. from unrighteous) In a manner contrary to right.
 Unrighteousness (s. from unrighteous) The state or quality of being unrighteous.
 Unrightful (adj. from un, and rightful) Not rightful.
 Unrimpled (adj. from un, and rimpled) Not rimpled.
 Unring (v. t. from un, and ring) To deprive of a ring.
 Unringled (p. from unring) Deprived of a ring.
 Unringling (p. a. from unring) Depriving of a ring.
 Unringing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of a ring.
 Unrinsed (adj. from un, and rinsed) Not rinsed, not washed.
 Unrip (v. t. reckoned improper, from un, and rip) To rip. Bacon.
 Unripe (adj. from un, and ripe) Not ripe.
 Unripened (adj. from unripe) Not ripened.
 Unripeness (s. from unripe) The state of being unripe. Collier.
 Unripped (adj. from unrip) Ripped.
 Unripping (p. a. from unrip) Ripping.
 Unripping (s. from the part.) The act of ripping.
 Unrippled (adj. from un, and rippled) Not rippled.
 Unris'en (adj. from un, and risen) Not risen.
 Unrivalled (adj. from un, and rivalled) Not rivalled.
 Unrived (adj. from un, and rived) Not rived.
 Unriveled (adj. from un, and riveled) Not riveled.
 Unrivet (v. t. from un, and rivet) To disengage from a rivet.

U N R

Unriveted (p. from unrivet) Disengaged from a rivet.
 Unriveted (adj. from un, and riveted) Not riveted.
 Unriveting (p. a. from unrivet) Disengaging from rivet.
 Unriveting (s. from the part.) The act of disengaging from a rivet.
 Unroasted (adj. from un, and roasted) Not roasted.
 Unrobbed (adj. from un, and robbed) Not robbed.
 Unrobed (adj. from un, and robed) Not robed.
 Unrobust (adj. from un, and robust) Not robust.
 Unrocked (adj. from un, and rock) Not rocked.
 Unroll (v. t. from un, and roll) To open what is rolled together.
 Unroll (v. t. a different spelling) To unroll.
 Unrolled (p. from unroll) Opened by unrolling.
 Unrolled (adj. from un, and rolled) Not rolled.
 Unrolling (p. a. from unroll) Opening what is rolled together.
 Unrolling (s. from the part.) The act of opening what is rolled together.
 Unromanized (adj. from un, and romanized) Not romanized.
 Unromantic (adj. from un, and romantic) Not romantic.
 Unroof (adj. from un, and roof) To strip of a roof.
 Unroofed (p. from unroof) Stripped of a roof.
 Unroofed (adj. from un, and roofed) Not roofed.
 Unroofing (p. a. from unroof) Stripping of the roof.
 Unroofing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping the roof.
 Unroof (v. t. from un, and roof) To drive from a roof.
 Unroofed (p. from unroof) Driven from the roof.
 Unroofing (p. a. from unroof) Driving from a roof.
 Unroofing (s. from the part.) The act of driving from the roof.
 Unroot (v. t. from un, and root) To extirpate, to drive from the root.
 Unrooted (p. from unroot) Extirpated, torn up by roots.
 Unrooting (p. a. from unroot) Extirpating, tearing by the roots.
 Unrooting (s. from the part.) The act of extirpating the act of tearing up by the roots.
 Unrosed (adj. from un, and rosed) Not rosed.
 Unrosined (adj. from un, and rosined) Not rosined.
 Unrostrated (adj. from un, and rostrated) Not rostrated.
 Unroted (adj. from un, and roted) Not roted, not in the memory.
 Unrotten (adj. from un, and rotten) Not rotten.
 Unrough (adj. from un, and rough) Not rough, smooth.
 Unroughened (adj. from un, and roughened) Not roughened.
 Unrounded (adj. from un, and rounded) Not rounded.
 Unroufed (adj. from un, and roused) Not roused.
 Unrouted (adj. from un, and routed) Not routed.
 Unrouzed (adj. a different spelling) Unrouled.
 Unrowed (adj. from un, and rowed) Not rowed.
 Unroyal (adj. from un, and royal) Not royal, wanting royalty.
 Unroyalized (adj. from un, and royalized) Not royalized.
 Unrubbed (adj. from un, and rubbed) Not rubbed.
 Unrubified (adj. from un, and rubified) Not rubified.
 Unruddled (adj. from un, and ruddled) Not ruddled.
 Unruffed (adj. from un, and ruffed) Not ruffed.
 Unruffle (v. int. from un, and ruffle) To cease commotion.
 Unruffled (adj. from un, and ruffled) Not ruffled.
 Unrugged (adj. from un, and rugged) Not rugged.
 Unruined (adj. from un, and ruined) Not ruined.
 Unruled (adj. from un, and ruled) Not ruled.
 Unruly (adv. from unruly) In an unruly manner.
 Unruliness (s. from unruly) The state of being unruly.
 Unruly (adj. from un, and rule) Turbulent, ungovernable.
 Unruminated (adj. from un, and ruminated) Not ruminated.
 Unrummaged (adj. from un, and rummaged) Not rummaged.
 Unrumpled (adj. from un, and rumpled) Not rumpled.
 Unruptured (adj. from un, and ruptured) Not ruptured.
 Unrusted (adj. from un, and rusted) Not rusted.

U N S

unflickered (adj. from un, and ruflicated) Not ruflicated.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sack) Not sacked.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sacrificed) Not sacrificed.
 unflick'ed (adj. obsolete) Fickle, uncertain. Ch.
 unflick'ed (v. t. from un, and saddle) To free from the saddle.
 unflick'ed (p. from unflick'ed) Freed from the saddle.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and saddle) Not saddled.
 unflick'ing (p. a. from unflick'ed) Taking off the saddle, freeing from the saddle.
 unflick'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the saddle.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and safe) Not safe, not secure.
 unflick'ed (adv. from unsafe) Without safety, without security.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sagacious) Not sagacious.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and said) Not said.
 unflick'ed (v. t. pret. of unfay) Did unfay.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and fainted) Not fainted, not fainted like a faint.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and faintlike) Not faintlike.
 unflick'ed (ad. from un, and saleable) Not saleable.
 unflick'ed (s. from unflick'ed) The state of being unflick'ed.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and salivated) Not salivated.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and salted) Not salted.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and salvable) Not salvable.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and saved) Not saved, not cured by medicated applications.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and saluted) Not saluted.
 unflick'ed (adj. a local word) Not fammed, not curded.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sanable) Not sanable.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sanctified) Not sanctified.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sapped) Not sapped.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and farcled) Not farcled, not weeded.
 unflick'ed (adj. a sea term) Not farved, not strengthened with a bandage.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and fashed) Not fashed.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and fated) Not fated.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satiable) Incapable of being satiated. Raleigh.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satiated) Not satiated.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satirical) Not satirical.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satirized) Not satirized.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satisfactory) Not satisfactory.
 unflick'ed (adv. from unsatisfactory) In a manner not affording satisfaction.
 unflick'ed (s. from unsatisfactory) The state or quality of being unsatisfactory.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satisfy) Incapable of being satisfied. Scott.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satisfied) Not satisfied.
 unflick'ed (s. from unsatisfied) The state of being unsatisfied. Boyle.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and satisfying) Not satisfying.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and saturable) Not saturable.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and fauced) Not fauced, not dressed up with fauce.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and saved) Not saved.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and favored) Not favored.
 unflick'ed (adv. from unfavory) Without favor.
 unflick'ed (s. from unfavory) The state or quality of being unfavory.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and favory) Not favory.
 unflick'ed (adj. a different spelling) Unfavoured.
 unflick'ed (adv. from unfavoury) Unfavorily.
 unflick'ed (s. from unfavoury) Unfavorineis.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and favoury) Unfavory.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and sawed) Not sawed.
 unflick'ed (v. t. from un, and say) To retract, to recall, to deny what has been said.
 unflick'ed (p. a. from unfay) Retracting, denying what has been said.
 unflick'ed (s. from the part.) The act of denying what has been said.
 unflick'ed (adj. from un, and scabbed) Not scabbed.

U N S

Unscalloped (adj. from un, and scaffolded) Not scaffolded.
 Unscald'ed (adj. from un, and scalded) Not scalded.
 Unscale (v. t. from un, and scale) To free from scales, to strip off scales. Scott.
 Unscal'ed (adj. from un, and scaled) Not scaled.
 Unscal'ed (p. from unscale) Stripped of scales.
 Unscal'ing (p. a. from unscale) Stripping of scales.
 Unscal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of scales.
 Unscal'oped (adj. from un, and scalloped) Not scalloped.
 Unscal'ped (adj. from un, and scalped) Not scalped.
 Unscandalized (adj. from un, and scandalized) Not scandalized.
 Unscan'ed (adj. from un, and scanned) Not scanned.
 Unscar'ed (adj. from un, and scarfed) Not scarfed.
 Unscar'ified (adj. from un, and scarified) Not scarified.
 Unscar'ed (adj. from un, and scarred) Not scarred, not marked with wounds.
 Unscat'tered (adj. from un, and scattered) Not scattered.
 Unscented (adj. from un, and scented) Not scented.
 Unsept'red (adj. from un, and sceptred) Not sceptred.
 Unscholastic (adj. from un, and scholastic) Not scholastic.
 Unschool'ed (adj. from un, and schooled) Not schooled, not taught at school.
 Unscience (s. obsolete) Ignorance, want of knowledge. Chautau.
 Unscientific (adj. from un, and scientific) Not scientific.
 Unscientific (adj. from unscientific) Not scientific.
 Unscientifically (adv. from unscientific) In a manner not suited to the rules of science.
 Unscold'ed (adj. from un, and scolded) Not scolded.
 Uncon'ced (adj. from un, and iconced) Not iconced, not mulcted.
 Unscop'ed (adj. from un, and scooped) Not scooped.
 Unscorch'ed (adj. from un, and scorched) Not scorched.
 Unscore'd (adj. from un, and scored) Not scored.
 Unscor'ified (adj. from un, and scorified) Not scorified.
 Unscotch'ed (adj. from un, and scotched) Not scotched.
 Unscour'ed (adj. from un, and scoured) Not scoured.
 Unscour'ged (adj. from un, and scourged) Not scourged.
 Unscrap'ed (adj. from un, and scraped) Not scraped.
 Unscrach'ed (adj. from un, and scratched) Not scratched.
 Unscreen'ed (adj. from un, and screened) Not screened.
 Unscrew' (v. t. from un, and screw) To loosen what was fastened with a screw.
 Unscrew'ed (p. from unscrew) Loosened from the hold of a screw.
 Unscrew'ed (adj. from un, and screwed) Not screwed.
 Unscrew'ing (p. a. from unscrew) Loosening what was fastened with a screw.
 Unscrew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosening a screw.
 Unscrib'ed (adj. from un, and scribed) Not scribed.
 Unscriptural (adj. from un, and scriptural) Not scriptural.
 Unscrub'ed (adj. from un, and scrubbed) Not scrubbed.
 Unscrup'led (adj. from un, and scrupled) Not scrupled.
 Unscrutable (adj. from un, and scrutable) Not scrutable.
 Unscrutinized (adj. from un, and scrutinized) Not scrutinized.
 Unsculpt'ured (adj. from un, and sculptured) Not sculptured.
 Unscum'ed (adj. from un, and scummed) Not scummed.
 Unseal (v. t. from un, and seal) To open any thing sealed, to break the seal.
 Unseal'ed (p. from unseal) Opened by breaking the seal.
 Unseal'ed (adj. from un, and sealed) Not sealed.
 Unseal'ing (p. a. from unseal) Opening any thing sealed.
 Unseal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking open the seal.
 Unseam (v. t. from un, and seam) To rip, to cut open a seam.
 Unseam'ed (p. from unseam) Ripped, cut open as a seam.
 Unseam'ed (adj. from un, and seamed) Not seamed.
 Unseam'ing (p. a. from unseam) Ripping, cutting open as a seam.
 Unseam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ripping open a seam.
 Unsear'ed

U N S

Unfear'ced (adj. from un, and feared) Not feared, not fisted.
Unsearch'able (adj. from un, and searchable) Not searchable, incapable of being found out.
Unsearch'ableness (s. from unsearchable) The state of being unsearchable.
Unsearch'ed (adj. from un, and searched) Not searched.
Unsear'ed (adj. from un, and seared) Not seared.
Unsea'sonable (adj. from un, and seasonable) Not seasonable.
Unsea'sonableness (s. from unseasonable) The state of being unseasonable.
Unsea'sonably (adv. from unseasonable) In an unseasonable manner, to an unseasonable degree.
Unsea'soned (adj. from un, and seasoned) Not seasoned.
Unseat'ed (adj. from un, and seated) Not seated.
Unsecern'ed (adj. from un, and secerned) Not secerned,
not separated.
Unsecl'uded (adj. from un, and secluded) Not secluded.
Unsecl'uded (adj. from un, and secl'uded) Not secl'uded.
Unse'cret (v. t. from un, and secret) To disclose, to divulge.
Unse'cret (adj. from un, and secret) Not close, not trusty.
Unse'creted (p. from unsecret) Disclosed, divulged.
Unse'creted (adj. from un, and secrete) Not secreted,
not separated.
Unse'creting (p. a. from unsecret) Disclosing, divulg-ing. Bacon.
Unse'cularized (adj. from un, and secularized) Not se-cularized.
Unse'cure (adj. from un, and secure) Not secure.
Unse'dit'ious (adj. from un, and se'dit'ious) Not se'ditious.
Unse'duc'ed (adj. from un, and seduced) Not seduced.
Unse'd'ed (adj. from un, and seeded) Not seeded.
Unse'e'ing (adj. from un, and seeing) Wanting the power of sight.
Unse'e'l (v. t. from un, and seel) To unclothe the eyelids of a hawk by drawing out the thread with which they were closed.
Unse'e'led (p. from unseel) Opened as the eyes of a hawk by drawing out the thread with which they were closed.
Unse'e'led (adj. from un, and seeled) Not seeled, not closed as the eyes of a hawk by drawing a thread through the eyelids.
Unse'e'ling (p. a. from unseel) Opening the eyes of a hawk by drawing out the thread with which they were closed.
Unse'e'ling (s. from the part.) The act of opening the eyes of a hawk by drawing out the thread with which they were closed.
Unse'e'm (v. int. from un, and seem, but not used) Not to seem.
Unse'e'm'ing (p. a. from unseem) Not seeming. Sh.
Unse'e'm'lier (adj. comp. of unseemly) Unseemly in a greater degree.
Unse'e'm'liest (adj. sup. of unseemly) Unseemly in the greatest degree.
Unse'e'm'liness (s. from unseemly) The state or quality of being unseemly.
Unse'e'm'ly (adj. from un, and seemly) Not seemly, not decent.
Unse'e'm'ly (adv. from the adj.) Indecently, in an unbecoming manner.
Unse'e'n (adj. from un, and seen) Not seen, invisible;
not skilled, inexperienced.
Unse'e'th'ed (adj. from un, and seethed) Not seethed.
Unse'g'regated (adj. from un, and seg'regated) Not seg're-gated, not separated.
Unse'ized (adj. from un, and seized) Not seized.
Unse'lect'ed (adj. from un, and selected) Not selected.
Unse'lf'ing (adj. from un, and self) Pulling down self. Dorney.
Unse'lf'ish (adj. from un, and selfish) Not selfish, not governed by selfish motives.
Unse'liness (s. an old word) Unhappiness. Cole.
Unse'ly (adj. obsolete) Unhappy, unfortunate. Chaucer.
Unse'lyn'ess (s. obsolete) Misfortunes. Chaucer.
Unse'n'sible (adj. from un, and sensible) Insensible.
Unse'n'sibleness (s. from unsensible) Insensibility.
Unse'n'sibly (adv. from unsensible) Insensibly.
Unse'n'sualized (adj. from un, and sensualized) Not sensualized.
Unse'nt (adj. from un, and sent) Not sent.
Unse'nt'enced (adj. from un, and sentenced) Not sentenced.
Unse'ntent'ious (adj. from un, and sententious) Not sententious.

U N S

Unse'parable (adj. from un, and separable) Not separable.
Unse'parableness (s. from unseparable) The state of inseparable.
Unse'parably (adv. from unseparable) Inseparably.
Unse'pos'ited (adj. from un, and sepos'ited) Not pos'ited.
Unse'quest'ered (adj. from un, and sequestered) Not sequestered.
Unse'raph'ical (adj. from un, and seraph'ical) Not raph'ical, not like a seraph.
Unse'rena'ded (adj. from un, and serenaded) Not renaded.
Unse'r'ved (adj. from un, and served) Not served.
Unse'r'veiceable (adj. from un, and serviceable) Not viceable.
Unse'r'veiceableness (s. from unseviceable) The state quality of being unseviceable.
Unse'r'veiceably (adv. from unseviceable) Without worthlessly.
Unse'r'vile (adj. from un, and servile) Not servile.
Unse's'ed (adj. from un, and se'sed) Not se'sed, affected.
Unse't (adj. from un, and set) Not set, not appointed.
Unse'ttle (v. t. from un, and settle) To make untain, to move from place to place, to overthrow.
Unse'ttled (adj. from un, and settled) Made uncertain, put of place, overthrown.
Unse'ttled (adj. from un, and settled) Not settled.
Unse'ttledness (s. from unsettled) The state of being settled.
Unse'ttling (p. a. from unsettle) Making uncertainty, putting out of place, overthrowing.
Unse'ttling (s. from the part.) The act of making untain, the act of putting out of place.
Unse've'ered (adj. from un, and severed) Not severed.
Unse'w' (v. t. from un, and sew) To undo what has been sewed.
Unse'wed (p. from unsew) Undone as a seam that has been sewed.
Unse'wed (adj. from un, and sewed) Not sewed.
Unse'wing (p. a. from unsew) Undoing what has been sewed.
Unse'wing (s. from the part.) The act of undoing
what has been sewed.
Unse'x (v. t. from un, and sex) To make otherwise than the sex commonly is.
Unse'x'ed (p. from unsex) Made otherwise than the sex commonly is.
Unse'x'ing (p. a. from unsex) Making otherwise than the sex commonly is.
Unse'x'ing (s. from the part.) The act of altering from what it commonly is.
Unshack'le (v. t. from un, and shackle) To free from shackles.
Unshack'led (p. from unshackle) Freed from shackles.
Unshack'led (adj. from un, and shackled) Not shackled.
Unshack'ling (p. a. from unshackle) Freeing
from shackles.
Unshack'ling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing
from shackles.
Unsha'ded (adj. from un, and shaded) Not shaded.
Unshad'owed (adj. from un, and shadowed) Not shadowed.
Unsha'dy (adj. from un, and shady) Not shady.
Unsha'keable (adj. from un, and shake, but not used) capable of being shaken. Shakes.
Unsha'ked (adj. from un, and shake, but not used) shaken.
Unsha'ken (adj. from un, and shaken) Not shaken.
Unsha'med (adj. from un, and shamed) Not shamed.
Unshamefaced (adj. from un, and shamefaced) shamefaced.
Unsham'med (adj. from un, and shammed) shammed.
Unshank'ed (adj. from un, and shanked) Not shank-ing, having no shank.
Unsha'ped (adj. from un, and shaped) Not shaped.
Unsha'pely (adj. from un, and shapely) Not shapely.
Unsha'pen (adj. from un, and shapen) Not shapen.
Unsha'ped (adj. from un, and shared) Not shared.
Unsharp'ed (adj. from un, and sharpened) Not sharpened.
Unsharp'ened (adj. from un, and sharpened)
sharpened.
Unshat'tered (adj. from un, and shattered) Not shattered.
Unsha'ved (adj. from un, and shaved) Not shaved.
Unsha'ven (adj. from un, and shaven) Not shaven.
Unshear'ed (adj. from un, and sheared) Not sheared.
Unshea'th (v. t. from un, and sheath) To draw a sheath. Unsheath.

U N S

U N S

*un*sheath'ed (*p. from un*sheath) Drawn out of a sheath.
*un*sheath'ed (adj. from un, and sheathed) Not sheathed.
*un*sheath'ing (*p. a. from un*sheath) Drawing out of a sheath.
*un*sheath'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing from a sheath.
*un*shed'ed (adj. from un, and shed) Not shed, not spilt.
*un*sheet'ed (adj. from un, and sheeted) Not sheeted, not furnished with sheets.
*un*shel'ed (adj. from un, and shelled) Not shelled, not taken out of the shell.
*un*shelter'ed (adj. from un, and sheltered) Not sheltered.
*un*shut'ed (adj. obsolete) Unshut, opened. Ch. *un*shew'ed (adj. from un, and shewed) Not shewed, not shewn.
*un*shield'ed (adj. from un, and shielded) Not shielded.
*un*shift'ed (adj. from un, and shifted) Not shifted.
*un*ship' (v. t. from un, and ship) To take out of a ship.
*un*ship'ped (adj. from un, and shipped) Not shipped.
*un*ship'ped (*p. from un*ship) Taken out of a ship.
*un*ship'ping (*p. a. from un*ship) Taking out of a ship.
*un*ship'ping (s. from the part.) The act of taking out of a ship.
*un*shirt'ed (adj. from un, and shirted) Not shirted.
*un*shiver'ed (adj. from un, and shivered) Not shivered.
*un*shoat'ed (adj. from un, and shoated) Not shoated, not propped.
*un*shock'ed (adj. from un, and shocked) Not shocked.
*un*shod' (adj. from un, and shod) Not shod.
*un*shoe' (v. t. from un, and shoe) To take off the shoes from a horse, to deprive of shoes.
*un*shoe'ed (*p. from un*shoe) Deprived of shoes.
*un*shoe'ed (adj. from un, and shod) Not shod.
*un*shoe'ing (*p. a. from un*shoe) Taking off the shoes.
*un*shoe'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the shoes.
*un*shog'ged (adj. from un, and shogged) Not shogged.
*un*shook' (adj. from un, and shook) Not shook.
*un*shop'ped (adj. from un, and shopped) Not furnished with a shop.
*un*shore'ed (adj. from un, and shored) Not shored, not dropped.
*un*shorn' (adj. from un, and shorn) Not shorn.
*un*short'ened (adj. from un, and shortened) Not shortened.
*un*shot' (adj. from un, and shot) Not shot, not hit by shot.
*un*shotten' (adj. from un, and shotten) Not shotten.
*un*shoved' (adj. from un, and shoved) Not shoved, not pushed.
*un*shoveled' (adj. from un, and shoveled) Not shoveled.
*un*shoven' (adj. from un, and shoven) Not shoven, not pushed.
*un*should'ered (adj. from un, and shouldered) Not shouldered.
*un*shout' (v. t. from un, and shout, but not much used) To retract a shout. Shakespeare.
*un*shouted' (adj. from un, and shouted) Not shouted.
*un*showed' (adj. from un, and showed) Not showed.
*un*showered' (adj. from un, and showered) Not showered.
*un*shown' (adj. from un, and shown) Not shown.
*un*shrined' (adj. from un, and shrined) Not shrined, inshrined.
*un*shrink'ing (adj. from un, and shrinking) Not shrinking.
*un*shrive' (adj. from un, and thrive, obsolete) Not confessed. Chaucer.
*un*shrived' (adj. from un, and shrived, but not used of) Not confessed by a priest.
*un*shriveled' (adj. from un, and shriveled) Not shriveled.
*un*shriven' (*adj. from un*shrive) Not confessed. Ch.
*un*shrouded' (adj. from un, and shrouded) Not shrouded.
*un*shuffled' (adj. from un, and shuffled) Not shuffled.
*un*shun'able (adj. from un, and shun) Inevitable, not to be shunned. Shakespeare.
*un*shunned' (adj. from un, and shunned) Not shunned.
*un*shut' (adj. from un, and shut) Not shut.
*un*siccated' (adj. from un, and siccated) Not siccated, not dried up.
*un*sick' (adj. obsolete) Not sick. Chaucer.
*un*sifted' (adj. from un, and sifted) Not sifted.
*un*sight' (adj. from un, and sight, a lot or colloquial) Unseen.

*un*sight'ed (adj. from un, and sighted) Not seen, invisible.
*un*sight'lier (adj. comp. of unsightly) Unsightly in a greater degree.
*un*sight'liest (adj. sup. of unsightly) Unsightly in the greatest degree.
*un*sight'liness (s. from unsightly) The state of being unsightly.
*un*sight'ly (adj. from un, and sightly) Not sightly, disagreeable to the sight.
*un*signalized' (adj. from un, and signalized) Not signalized.
*un*signed' (adj. from un, and signed) Not signed.
*un*significant' (adj. from un, and significant) Insignificant.
*un*significantly' (adv. from insignificant) insignificantly.
*un*signified' (adj. from un, and signified) Not signified.
*un*silenced' (adj. from un, and silenced) Not silenced.
*un*silvered' (adj. from un, and silvered) Not silvered.
*un*sincere' (adj. from un, and sincere) Not sincere.
*un*sincerely' (adv. from unsincere) Without sincerity.
*un*sincereness' (s. from unsincere) The state or quality of being unsincere.
*un*sincerity' (s. from un, and sincerity) Infincerity. Boyle.
*un*sinew' (v. t. from un, and sinew) To deprive of sinews, to deprive of strength.
*un*sinewed' (adj. from un, and sinewed) Not sinewed.
*un*sinewed' (*adj. from un*sinew) Deprived of sinews, deprived of strength.
*un*sinewing' (*p. a. from un*sinewing) Depriving of sinews, depriving of strength.
*un*sinewing' (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of sinews.
*un*singed' (adj. from un, and singed) Not singed.
*un*singled' (adj. from un, and singled) Not singled, not separated from others.
*un*sinning' (adj. from un, and sinning) Not sinning, incapable of sinning.
*un*sipped' (adj. from un, and sipped) Not sipped, not tasted with the lips.
*un*sir'named (adj. from un, and sirnamed) Not sirnamed.
*un*sizeable' (adj. from un, and sizeable) Not sizeable.
*un*sizeableness' (*s. from un*sizeable) The state or quality of being unsizeable.
*un*sized' (adj. from un, and sized) Not sized.
*un*skain'ed (adj. from un, and skained) Not skained.
*un*skanned' (adj. an incorrect spelling) Unscanned. Scott.
*un*skarfed' (adj. a sea term, from un, and skarfed) Not skarfed.
*un*sketch'ed (adj. from un, and sketched) Not sketched.
*un*skilled' (adj. from un, and skilled) Not skilled.
*un*skilful' (adj. from un, and skilful) Not skilful.
*un*skilfully' (*adv. from un*skilful) Without skill, without art.
*un*skilfully' (adv. obsolete) Unreasonably, unjustly. Ch. *un*skilfulness' (*s. from un*skilful) The state of being unskilful.
*un*skim'ed (adj. from un, and skimmed) Not skimmed.
*un*skinned' (adj. from un, and skinned) Not skinned.
*un*skirt'ed (adj. from un, and skirted) Not skirted.
*un*skreen'ed (adj. from un, and skreened) Not skreened.
*un*slack'ed (adj. from un, and slacked) Not slacked.
*un*slack'ened (adj. from un, and slackened) Not slackened.
*un*slain' (adj. from un, and slain) Not killed, not slain.
*un*slaked' (adj. from un, and slaked) Not slaked.
*un*slam'ed (adj. from un, and slammed) Not slammed.
*un*sland'ered (adj. from un, and slandered) Not slandered.
*un*slapped' (adj. from un, and slapped) Not slapped.
*un*slashed' (adj. from un, and slashed) Not slashed.
*un*slate' (v. t. from un, and slate) To uncover a roof that has been slated.
*un*slated' (*p. from un*slate) Uncovered as a roof that has been slated.
*un*slated' (adj. from un, and slated) Not slated.
*un*slating' (*p. a. from un*slate) Uncovering a roof that has been slated.
*un*slating' (s. from the part.) The act of uncovering a roof that has been slated.
*un*slaugh'tered (adj. from un, and slaughtered) Not slaughtered.

Unslaved

Unleaved (adj. from un, and leaved) Not leaved.
 Unsleep'ing (adj. from un, and sleeping) Not sleeping, always wakeful.
 Unsleeved (adj. from un, and sleeved) Not sleeved.
 Unslacked (adj. obsolete) Unslacked. Cb.
 Unsleep't (adj. obsolete) Having had no sleep. Cb.
 Unslayed (adj. from un, and slayed) Not slayed.
 Unsl'iced (adj. from un, and sliced) Not sliced.
 Unslight'ed (adj. from un, and slighted) Not slighted.
 Unslip'ped (adj. from un, and slipped) Not slipped.
 Unslip'ping (adj. from un, and slipping) Not slipping, fast, not liable to slip.
 Unslived (adj. from un, and slived) Not slived.
 Unsl'oped (adj. from un, and sloped) Not sloped.
 Unsl'opped (adj. from un, and stopped) Not stopped.
 Unsl'oth'ful (adj. from un, and slothful) Not slothful.
 Unslough (v. t. from un, and slough) To rouse a wild boar from the slough.
 Unslough'ed (p. from unslough) Driven as a wild boar from its lodge.
 Unslough'ing (p. a. from unslough) Driving a wild boar from its lodge.
 Unslough'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dislodging a wild boar.
 Unslub'bered (adj. from un, and slubbed) Not slubbed.
 Unslued (adj. a sea term, from un, and slued) Not slued.
 Unsluic'ed (adj. from un, and sluiced) Not sluiced.
 Unslung (adj. from un, and slung) Not slung.
 Unslur'ed (adj. from un, and slurred) Not slurred.
 Unsmack'ed (adj. from un, and smacked) Not smacked.
 Unsmear'ed (adj. from un, and smeared) Not smeared.
 Unsmell'ed (adj. from un, and smelled) Not smelled, not perceived by the nose.
 Unsmirch'ed (adj. from un, and smirched) Not smirched.
 Unsmitten (adj. from un, and smitten) Not smitten.
 Unsmok'ed (adj. from un, and smoked) Not smoked.
 Unsmooth (adj. from un, and smooth) Not smooth.
 Unsmooth'ed (adj. from un, and smoothed) Not smoothed.
 Unsmother'ed (adj. from un, and smothered) Not smothered.
 Unsmuggled (adj. from un, and smuggled) Not smuggled.
 Unsmutch'ed (adj. from un, and smutched) Not smutched.
 Unsmutt'ed (adj. from un, and smutted) Not smutted.
 Unsnaff'ed (adj. from un, and snaffed) Not snaffed.
 Unsnag'gled (adj. from un, and snagged) Not snagged.
 Unsnap'ped (adj. from un, and snapped) Not snapped.
 Unsnared (adj. from un, and snared) Not snared.
 Unsnar'led (adj. from un, and snarled) Not snarled, not entangled.
 Unsnatch'ed (adj. from un, and snatched) Not snatched.
 Unsnip'ped (adj. from un, and snipped) Not snipped.
 Unsnit'ed (adj. from un, and snited, but not used of late) Not snited.
 Unsnout'ed (adj. from un, and snouted) Not snouted.
 Unsnub'bed (adj. from un, and snubbed) Not snubbed.
 Unsnuff'ed (adj. from un, and snuffed) Not snuffed.
 Unsnugg'led (adj. from un, and snuggled) Not snuggled.
 Unsoak'ed (adj. from un, and soaked) Not soaked.
 Unsoap'ed (adj. from un, and soaped) Not soaped.
 Unsob'bed (adj. from un, and sobbed) Not sobbed, not soaked.
 Unsociability (s. from un, and sociability) The state or quality of being unsociable.
 Unso'ciable (adj. from un, and sociable) Not sociable.
 Unso'ciableness (s. from unsociable) The state or quality of being unsociable.
 Unso'ciably (adv. from un, and sociable) In an unsociable manner.
 Unso'cial (adj. from un, and social) Not social.
 Unso'dden (adj. from un, and sodden) Not sodden.
 Unso'der (v. t. from un, and soder) To take off soder, to free from soder.
 Unso'dered (p. from unsoder) Freed from soder.
 Unso'dered (adj. from un, and sodered) Not sodered.
 Unso'dering (p. a. from unsoder) Taking off soder.
 Unso'dering (s. from the part.) The act of taking off soder.
 Unsoft'ened (adj. from un, and softened) Not softened.
 Unsoil'ed (adj. from un, and soiled) Not soiled.
 Unsol'aced (adj. from un, and solaced) Not solaced.
 Unsol'd (adj. from un, and sold) Not sold.
 Unsol'der (v. t. not so common a spelling) To unsoder.

Unsol'dered (p. from unsolder) Unsol'dered.
 Unsol'dering (p. a. from unsolder) Unsol'dering.
 Unsol'dering (s. from the part.) The act of unsoldering.
 Unsol'dierlike (adj. from un, and soldierlike) Not soldierlike.
 Unsol'leated (adj. from un, and soled) Not soled, not furnished with shoes.
 Unsol'led (adj. from un, and soled) Not soled.
 Unsolemn'ized (adj. from un, and solemnized) Not solemnized.
 Unsol'empne (adj. obsolete) Uncommon, unusual.
 Unsol'faed (adj. from un, and solfaed) Not solfaed.
 Unsol'ic'ited (adj. from un, and solicited) Not solicited.
 Unsol'ic'itous (adj. from un, and solicitous) Not solicitous.
 Unsol'id (adj. from un, and solid) Not solid.
 Unsol'ic'ited (adj. an incorrect spelling) Unsol'ic'ited.
 Unsol'v'able (adj. from un, and solvable, not so common a spelling) Unsol'v'ible.
 Unsol'uble (adj. from un, and soluble) Not soluble.
 Unsol'ved (adj. from un, and solved) Not solved.
 Unsol'vible (adj. from un, and solvable) Not solvable.
 Unsol'nable (adj. from un, and sonable, but not used) Not sonable, not capable of being founded.
 Unsoot' (adj. obsolete) Unsweet.
 Unsoot'ed (adj. from un, and footed) Not footed.
 Unsooth'ed (adj. from un, and soothed) Not soothed.
 Unsophis'tical (adj. from un, and sophistical) Not sophistical.
 Unsophis'ticated (adj. from un, and sophisticated) Not sophisticated.
 Unso'porated (adj. from un, and soaporated) Not soaporated.
 Unso'rt (v. t. from un, and sort) To put out of sorts, put out of order.
 Unso'rted (p. from unsort) Put out of sorts, put out of order.
 Unso'rted (adj. from un, and sorted) Not sorted.
 Unso'rt'ing (p. a. from unsort) Putting out of sorts, putting out of order.
 Unso'rt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of sorts.
 Unso't'ed (adj. from un, and sotted) Not sotted.
 Unso'ul'ed (adj. from un, and souled) Not souled, preserved in pickle.
 Unso'ught (adj. from un, and sought) Not sought.
 Unso'und (adj. from un, and sound) Not sound; orthodox, not free from cracks; sickly, want health; rotten, corrupted; not true, not upright; not sincere, not faithful; not solid, not material; not fast under foot.
 Unso'und'ed (adj. from un, and founded) Not founded, not uttered in sound, not tried by the plummet.
 Unso'und'ness (s. from un, and soundness) The want of soundness.
 Unso'ured (adj. from un, and soured) Not soured.
 Unso'used (adj. from un, and soufed) Unso'used.
 Unso'wed (adj. from un, and sowed) Unso'wn, sown.
 Unso'w'n (adj. from un, and sown) Not sown.
 Unso'pang'led (adj. from un, and spangled) Not spangled.
 Unso'pan'ned (adj. from un, and spanned) Not spanned.
 Unso'pared (adj. from un, and spared) Not spared.
 Unso'paring (adj. from un, and sparing) Not sparing.
 Unso'park'ling (adj. from un, and sparkling) Not sparkling.
 Unso'par'ed (adj. from un, and sparred) Not sparred, shut.
 Unso'pat'tered (adj. from un, and spattered) Not spattered.
 Unso'paw'ned (adj. from un, and spawned) Not spawned.
 Unso'pay'ed (adj. from un, and spayed) Not spayed.
 Unso'peak' (v. t. from un, and speak) To retract, to cant.
 Unso'peak'able (adj. from un, and speakable) Not speakable, inexpressible.
 Unso'peak'ably (adv. from unspeakable) In a manner not to be expressed.
 Unso'peak'ing (p. a. from unspeak) Retracting, canting.
 Unso'peak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of retracting what has been said.
 Unso'pear'ed (adj. from un, and speared) Not speared, pierced with a spear.
 Unso'pec'ificated (adj. from un, and specified) Not specified.
 Unso'pec'ified (adj. from un, and specified) Not specified.
 Unso'peck'ed (adj. from un, and specked) Not specked.
 Unso'peck'led (adj. from un, and speckled) Not speckled.
 Unso'pec'ulated (adj. from un, and speculated) Not speculated.

U N S

speculative (adj. from un, and speculative) Not speculative.
sped (adj. from un, and sped) Not sped.
spedfall (adj. obsolete) Unsuccessful, ineffective. Chaucer.
speedy (adj. from un, and speedy) Not speedy.
spelled (adj. from un, and spelled) Not spelled.
spent (adj. from un, and spent) Not spent.
spere, Unspere (adj. obsolete) Unlocked, unlocked. Chaucer.
spewed (adj. from un, and spewed) Not spewed.
sphacelated (adj. from un, and sphacelated) Not sphacelated, not affected with a gangrene.
sphere (v. t. from un, and sphere) To move from the orb. Milton.
sphere (p. from *un*sphere) Moved from the orb.
sphere (p. a. from *un*sphere) Moving from the orb.
sphere (s. from the part.) The act of moving from the orb.
spiced (adj. from un, and spiced) Not seasoned with spice.
spied (adj. from un, and spied) Not spied.
spiked (adj. from un, and spiked) Not spiked, not studded with spikes.
spilled (adj. from un, and spilled) Not spilled.
spilt (adj. from un, and spilt) Not spilt.
spired (adj. from un, and spired) Not spired, having no spire.
spirit (v. t. from un, and spirit) To dispirit.
spirited (p. from *un*spirit) Dispirited.
spiriting (p. a. from *un*spirit) Dispiriting.
spiriting (s. from the part.) The act of dispiriting.
spiritual (adj. from un, and spiritual) Not spiritual.
spiritualized (adj. from un, and spiritualized) Not spiritualized.
spirted (adj. from un, and spirted) Not spirted.
spirtled (adj. from un, and spirtled) Not spirtled.
spisated (adj. from un, and spisated) Not spisated.
spited (adj. from un, and spited) Not spited.
splashed (adj. from un, and splashed) Not splashed.
spliced (adj. from un, and spliced) Not spliced.
splinted (adj. from un, and splinted) Not splinted.
splintered (adj. from un, and splintered) Not splintered.
split (adj. from un, and split) Not split.
spoiled (adj. from un, and spoiled) Not spoiled.
spoken (adj. from un, and spoken) Not spoken.
spoken (p. from *un*speak) Retrailed, unpaid.
sponged (adj. from un, and sponged) Not sponged.
spooled (adj. from un, and spooled) Not spooled.
spotted (adj. from un, and spotted) Not spotted.
spoused (adj. from un, and spoused) Not spoused.
spouted (adj. from un, and spouted) Not spouted.
sprained (adj. from un, and sprained) Not sprained.
spread (adj. from un, and spread) Not spread.
sprigged (adj. from un, and sprigged) Not sprigged.
sprightliness (s. from *un*sprightly) The state of being sprightly.
sprightly (adj. from un, and sprightly) Not sprightly.
sprinkled (adj. from un, and sprinkled) Not sprinkled.
spruced (adj. from un, and spruced) Not spruced.
spun (adj. from un, and spun) Not spun.
spurned (adj. from un, and spurned) Not spurned.
sputtered (adj. from un, and sputtered) Not sputtered.
spied (adj. from un, and spied) Not spied.
squandered (adj. from un, and squandered) Not squandered.
squared (adj. from un, and squared) Not squared, not squared in a regular manner.
squashed (adj. from un, and squashed) Not squashed.
squeezed (adj. from un, and squeezed) Not squeezed.
squired (adj. from un, and squired) Not squired.
squirted (adj. from un, and squirted) Not squirted.
stabbed (adj. from un, and stabbed) Not stabbed.
stability (s. from *un*stable) Instability.
stable (adj. from un, and stable) Not stable, not steady, inconstant, irresolute.
stability (s. from *un*stable) The state of being stable.
stacked (adj. from un, and stacked) Not stacked.
stadled (adj. from un, and stadled) Not stadled, not stabled with a stable.
staid (adj. from un, and staid) Not staid, unsteady.
staidness (s. from *un*staid) Levity, indiscretion. Sc.
stained (adj. from un, and stained) Not stained.

U N S

Unstaked (adj. from un, and staked) Not staked.
Unstalled (adj. from un, and stalled) Not stalled.
Unstamped (adj. from un, and stamped) Not stamped.
Unstanch'd (adj. from un, and stanch'd) Not stanch'd.
Unstarch'd (adj. from un, and starch'd) Not starch'd.
Unstarred (adj. from un, and starred) Not starred.
Unstart'd (adj. from un, and start'd) Not start'd.
Unstart'led (adj. from un, and start'led) Not start'led.
Unstarved (adj. from un, and starved) Not starved.
Unstate (v. t. from un, and state) To put out of state.
Unstat'd (p. from *un*state) Put out of state.
Unstat'd (adj. from un, and stat'd) Not stat'd.
Unstat'ing (p. a. from *un*state) Putting out of state.
Unstat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of state.
Unstationed (adj. from un, and stationed) Not stationed.
Unstat'ued (adj. from un, and stat'ued) Not stat'ued, not placed as a statue.
Unstat'utable (adj. from un, and stat'utable) Not stat'utable, not agreeable to statute.
Unstaved (adj. from un, and staved) Not staved.
Unstaunch'eable (adj. obsolete) Insatiable. Chaucer.
Unstaunch'd (adj. from un, and staunch'd) Unstanch'd. Shakespeare.
Unstay'd (adj. from un, and stay'd) Not stay'd, not hindered.
Unstead'fast (adj. from un, and steadfast) Not steadfast.
Unstead'ier (adj. comp. of unsteady) Unsteady in a greater degree.
Unstead'iest (adj. sup. of unsteady) Unsteady in the greatest degree.
Unstead'ily (adv. from unsteady) Without certainty, without constancy.
Unstead'iness (s. from unsteady) The want of constancy, mutability.
Unstead'y (adj. from un, and steady) Inconstant, mutable, unfixed.
Unsteamed (adj. from un, and steamed) Not steamed, not moistened with steam.
Unstef'fast (adj. from un, and stef'fast) Unsteadfast. Scott.
Unstepped (adj. from un, and stepped) Not stepped.
Unsteered (adj. from un, and steered) Not steered.
Unsteved (adj. from un, and steved) Not steved.
Unstiff'ened (adj. from un, and stiff'ened) Not stiff'ened.
Unstem'med (adj. from un, and stemmed) Not stemmed.
Unstented (adj. from un, and stented) Not stented, not bounded; unstinted.
Unster'ilized (adj. from un, and sterilized) Not sterilized.
Unstewed (adj. from un, and stewed) Not stewed.
Unstiff'ened (adj. from un, and stiff'ened) Not stiff'ened.
Unstiff'ed (adj. from un, and stiff'ed) Not stiff'ed.
Unstigmatized (adj. from un, and stigmatized) Not stigmatized.
Unstilled (adj. from un, and stilled) Not stilled, not quieted.
Unstim'ulated (adj. from un, and stimulated) Not stimulated.
Unsting (v. t. from un, and sting) To disarm of a sting.
Unsting'ing (p. a. from *un*sting) Disarming of a sting.
Unsting'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disarming of a sting.
Unstinted (adj. from un, and stinted) Not stinted, not limited.
Unstir'ed (adj. from un, and stirred) Not stirred.
Unstitch (v. t. from un, and stitch) To open by picking the stitches.
Unstitched (adj. from un, and stitched) Not stitched.
Unstitch'ed (p. from *un*stitch) Opened by picking the stitches.
Unstitch'ing (p. a. from *un*stitch) Opening by picking the stitches.
Unstitch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening by picking the stitches.
Unstock (v. t. from un, and stock) To deprive of a stock.
Unstock'ed (adj. from un, and stocked) Not stocked.
Unstock'ed (p. from *un*stock) Deprived of a stock.
Unstock'ing (p. a. from *un*stock) Depriving of a stock.
Unstock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of a stock.
Unstock'inged (adj. from un, and stockinged) Not stockinged, not furnished with stockings.
 6 Q 2 Unsto'lem

U N S

Unsto'len (adj. from un, and stolen) Not stolen.
Unsto'ned (adj. from un, and stoned) Not stoned.
Unstoom'ed (adj. from un, and stoomed) Not stoomed.
Unstoo'ping (adj. from un, and stooping) Not stooping.
Unsto'p (v. t. from un, and stop) To open, to free from obstruction.
Unstop'ped (p. from unstop) Opened, freed from obstructions.
Unstop'ped (adj. from un, and stopped) Not stopped.
Unstop'ping (p. a. from unstop) Opening, freeing from obstructions.
Unstop'ping (s. from the part.) The act of opening, the act of freeing from obstructions.
Unsto're'd (adj. from un, and stored) Not stored, not stocked.
Unsto'ried (adj. from un, and storied) Not related in story.
Unsto'ved (adj. from un, and stoved) Not stoved, not dried in a stove.
Unstow'ed (adj. from un, and stowed) Not stowed.
Unstraight'ened (adj. from un, and straightened) Not straightened.
Unstrain'ed (adj. from un, and strained) Not strained.
Unstrait'ened (adj. from un, and straitened) Not straitened.
Unstroud'ed (adj. from un, and strouded) Not strouded.
Unstrang'ered (adj. from un, and strangered) Not strangered.
Unstrat'ified (adj. from un, and stratified) Not stratified, not laid in beds or strata.
Unstreak'ed (adj. from un, and streaked) Not streaked, not variegated with streaks.
Unstrenght'ened (adj. from un, and strengthened) Not strengthened.
Unstretch'ed (adj. from un, and stretched) Not stretched.
Unstrew'ed (adj. from un, and strewed) Not strewed.
Unstrick'en (adj. from un, and stricken) Not stricken.
Unstri'ke (v. t. from un, and strike) To untie as the head of a hawk.
Unstri'ng (v. t. from un, and string) To loose, to untie; to slacken the strings, to free from a string.
Unstring'ed (p. from unstring) Untied, freed from a string.
Unstring'ed (adj. from un, and stringed) Not stringed, not furnished with a string.
Unstring'ing (p. a. from unstring) Untying, freeing from a string.
Unstring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of untying, the act of freeing from a string.
Unstripped (adj. from un, and stripped) Not stripped.
Unstri'pt (adj. from un, and strip) Not stripped.
Unstro'ked (adj. from un, and stroked) Not stroked.
Unstrow'ed (adj. from un, and strowed) Not strowed.
Unstru'ck (adj. from un, and struck) Not struck.
Unstru'ng (adj. from un, and strung) Not strung.
Unstub'bed (adj. from un, and stubbed) Not stubbed.
Unstud'ded (adj. from un, and studded) Not studded, not ornamented with studs.
Unstud'ied (adj. from un, and studied) Not studied.
Unstu'ff (v. t. from un, and stuff) To take out the stuffing from any thing.
Unstuffed (p. from unstuff) Emptied of the stuffing.
Unstuffed (adj. from un, and stuffed) Not stuffed.
Unstuffing (p. a. from unstuff) Emptying of the stuffing.
Unstuffing (s. from the part.) The act of emptying of the stuffing.
Unstu'ft (adj. from un, and stuf) Not stuffed.
Unstum'med (adj. from un, and stummed) Not stummed.
Unstun'ned (adj. from un, and stunned) Not stunned.
Unstu'ped (adj. from un, and stupe) Not stupe, not fomented.
Unstu'pished (adj. from un, and stupished) Not stupished.
Unstup'rated (adj. from un, and stuprated) Not stuprated.
Unsty'ed (adj. from un, and styed) Not styed, not put up in a sty.
Unsty'led (adj. from un, and styled) Not styled.
Unsubde'legated (adj. from un, and subdelegated) Not subdelegated.
Unsubdivided (adj. from un, and subdivided) Not subdivided.
Unsubdu'ed (adj. from un, and subdued) Not subdued.
Unsubdu'ed (adj. from un, and subdued) Not subdued.

U N S

Unsubject'ed (adj. from un, and subjected) Not subjected.
Unsubjoin'ed (adj. from un, and subjoined) Not subjoined.
Unsubjugated (adj. from un, and subjugated) Not subjugated.
Unsub'limable (adj. from un, and sublimable) Incapable of sublimation.
Unsub'limated (adj. from un, and sublimated) Not sublimated.
Unsubli'med (adj. from un, and sublimed) Not sublimed.
Unsubmis'sive (adj. from un, and submissive) Not submissive.
Unsubmit'ted (adj. from un, and submitted) Not submitted.
Unsuborn'ed (adj. from un, and suborned) Not suborned.
Unsubpoe'naed (adj. from un, and subpoenaed) Not subpoenaed.
Unsubscrib'ed (adj. from un, and subscribed) Not subscribed.
Unsubstan'tial (adj. from un, and substantial) Not substantial.
Unsubstan'tiated (adj. from un, and substantiated) Not substantiated.
Unsub'stituted (adj. from un, and substituted) Not substituted.
Unsubstra'ed (adj. from un, and substrated) Not substrated.
Unsubtend'ed (adj. from un, and subtended) Not subtended.
Unsub'tilized (adj. from un, and subtilized) Not subtilized.
Unsubtra'ed (adj. not so common a spelling) Unsubtracted.
Unsubvers'ive (adj. from un, and subversive) Not subversive.
Unsubvert'ed (adj. from un, and subverted) Not subverted.
Unsucc'eeded (adj. from un, and succeeded) Not succeeded.
Unsucc'ess'ful (adj. from un, and successful) Not successful.
Unsucc'ess'fully (adv. from unsuccessful) Without success.
Unsucc'ess'fulness (s. from unsuccessful) The want of success.
Unsucc'es'sive (adj. from un, and successive) Not successive.
Unsuc'coured (adj. from un, and succoured) Not succoured.
Unsuc'ked (adj. from un, and sucked) Not sucked.
Unsuc'kled (adj. from un, and suckled) Not suckled.
Unsu'fferable (adj. from un, and sufferable) Not sufferable.
Unsu'fferableness (s. from unsufferable) The state or quality of being unsufferable.
Unsu'fferably (adv. from unsufferable) In a manner to be endured.
Unsu'ffered (adj. from un, and suffered) Not suffered.
Unsu'fficient (adj. from un, and sufficient) Not sufficient, insufficient.
Unsu'fficiency (s. from un, and sufficiency) Insufficiency.
Unsu'fflated (adj. from un, and sufflated) Not sufflated.
Unsu'ffocated (adj. from un, and suffocated) Not suffocated.
Unsu'ffused (adj. from un, and suffused) Not suffused.
Unsu'gared (adj. from un, and sugared) Not sugared.
Unsu'ggest'ed (adj. from un, and suggested) Not suggested.
Unsu'gilated (adj. from un, and suggilated) Not suggilated.
Unsu'itable (adj. from un, and suitable) Not suitable, disagreeable.
Unsu'itableness (s. from unsuitable) The state of being unsuitable.
Unsu'itably (adv. from unsuitable) In an unsuitable manner.
Unsu'ited (adj. from un, and suited) Not suited.
Unsu'iting (adj. from un, and suiting) Not suiting.
Unsu'lied (adj. from un, and sullied) Not sullied.
Unsum'med (adj. from un, and summed) Not summed, not computed; not flush, not having the sum fully grown.
Unsum'mered (adj. from un, and summered) Not summered.
Unsum'moned (adj. from un, and summoned) Not summoned.

U N S ing (adj. from un, and sung) Not sung, not celebrated in song.

 Unk (adj. from un, and sunk) Not sunk.
 Unned (adj. from un, and sunned) Not sunned, not exposed to the beams of the sun.
 Unperable (adj. from un, and superable) Not supe-rable.
 Unperfluous (adj. from un, and superfluous) Not superfluous.
 Unpercribed (adj. from un, and supercribed) Not su-percribed.
 Unperished (adj. from un, and superseded) Not superseded.
 Unpped (adj. from un, and supped) Not supped, not eaten with a supper.
 Unplanted (adj. from un, and supplanted) Not supplanted.
 Unpled (adj. from un, and supplied) Not supplied.
 Unplified (adj. from un, and supplied) Not supplied.
 Unportable (adj. from un, and supportable) Not sup-portable.
 Unportableness (s. from unsupportable) The state of being unsupportable.
 Unportably (adv. from unsupportable) In a manner not to be supported.
 Unported (adj. from un, and supported) Not supported.
 Unposible (adj. from un, and supposable) Not to be supposed.
 Unpossed (adj. from un, and supposed) Not supposed.
 Unpressed (adj. from un, and suppressed) Not suppressed.
 Unpurated (adj. from un, and suppurated) Not sup-purated.
 Unrecharged (adj. from un, and furcharged) Not fur-charged.
 Unre (adj. from un, and sure) Not sure, not certain.
 Unreness (s. from unfure) The state or quality of being unfure.
 Unrest (adj. obsolete) Not certain, most uncertain. Ch
 Unseited (adj. from un, and surfeited) Not surfeited.
 Unsmiled (adj. from un, and surmised) Not surmised.
 Unmountable (adj. from un, and surmountable) Not surmountable.
 Unmounted (adj. from un, and surmounted) Not surmounted.
 Unnamed (adj. from un, and furnamed) Not fur-named.
 Unpassable (adj. from un, and surpassable) Not surpassable.
 Unpassed (adj. from un, and surpassed) Not surpassed.
 Unprised (adj. from un, and surprised) Not surprised.
 Unrendered (adj. from un, and surrendered) Not surrendered.
 Unrounded (adj. from un, and surrounded) Not fur-rounded.
 Unveyed (adj. from un, and surveyed) Not surveyed.
 Unceptibility (s. from unsusceptible) The state of being unsusceptible.
 Unceptible (adj. from un, and susceptible) Not susceptible.
 Unceptibleness (s. from unsusceptible, but not used)
 The state of being unsusceptible.
 Unceptibly (adv. from unsusceptible, but not used) In manner not suited to receive.
 Unpect (adj. from un, and suspect) Not suspected. Mil
 Unpected (adj. from un, and suspected) Not suspected.
 Unpecting (adj. from un, and suspecting) Not suspecting.
 Unspended (adj. from un, and suspended) Not suspended.
 Unspicious (adj. from un, and suspicious) Not suspicious.
 Unsustained (adj. from un, and sustained) Not sustained.
 Unswabbed (adj. from un, and swabbed) Not swabbed.
 Unswaddle (v. t. from un, and swaddle) To unloose, to free from swaddling cloths.
 Unswaddled (p. from unswaddle) Freed from swaddling cloths.
 Unswaddled (adj. from un, and swaddled) Not swaddled.
 Unswaddling (p. a. from unswaddle) Freeing from swaddling cloths.
 Unswaddling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from swaddling cloths.
 Unswaled (adj. from un, and swaled) Not swaled, not swallowed.
 Unswallowed (adj. from un, and swallowed) Not swallowed.
 Unswathe (v. t. from un, and swathe) To loose from swathe.

U N T

Unswathed (p. from unswathe) Loosed from the swathe.
 Unswathed (adj. from un, and swathed) Not swathed.
 Unswathing (p. a. from unswathe) Loosing from the convolutions of the swathe.
 Unswathing (s. from the part.) The act of loosing the swathe.
 Unswayable (adj. from un, and sway) Inscapable of being swayed. Shakespeare.
 Unswayed (adj. from un, and swayed) Not swayed.
 Unswaled (adj. from un, and swealed) Not swealed, unswaled.
 Unswear (v. t. from un, and swear) To recant what has been sworn.
 Unswearing (p. a. from unswear) Recanting what has been sworn.
 Unswearing (s. from the part.) The act of recanting what has been sworn.
 Unsweat (v. t. from un, and sweat) To cool after exercise.
 Unsweated (p. from unswear) Cooled after exercise.
 Unsweated (adj. from un, and sweated) Not sweated.
 Unswearing (p. a. from unswear) Cooling after exercise.
 Unswearing (s. from the part.) The act of cooling after exercise.
 Unsweet (adj. from un, and sweet) Not sweet.
 Unsweetened (adj. from un, and sweetened) Not sweetened.
 Unswell (v. int. obsolete) To sink down, to fall after swelling. Chaucer.
 Unswelled (adj. from un, and swelled) Not swelled.
 Unsweltered (adj. from un, and sweltered) Not sweltered.
 Unswept (adj. from un, and swept) Not swept.
 Unswete (adj. obsolete) Not sweet. Chaucer.
 Unswilled (adj. from un, and swilled) Not swilled.
 Unswingled (adj. from un, and swingled) Not swingled.
 Unswitched (adj. from un, and switched) Not switched.
 Unswopped (adj. from un, and swopped, a low or droll word) Not exchanged.
 Unsworn (p. from unswear) Retracted as an oath.
 Unsworn (adj. from un, and sworn) Not sworn.
 Unswote (adj. an old word) Not sweet. Cole.
 Unswung (adj. from un, and swung) Not swung.
 Unsyllogistical (adj. from un, and syllogistical) Not syllogistical.
 Unsymbolized (adj. from un, and symbolized) Not symbolized.
 Unsympathizing (adj. from un, and sympathizing) Not sympathizing.
 Unsyringed (adj. from un, and syringed) Not syringed.
 Unsystematic (adj. from un, and systematic) Not systematic.
 Untabbied (adj. from un, and tabbied) Not tabbied, uncalendered.
 Untabified (adj. from un, and tabified) Not tabified, not wasted by disease.
 Untabled (adj. from un, and tabled) Not tabled.
 Untabulated (adj. from un, and tabulated) Not tabulated.
 Untachy (adj. an old word) Dressed as a bittern.
 Untack (v. t. from un, and tack) To loosen what was fastened with tacks; to cut up a curlew.
 Untacked (p. from untack) Loosed from tacks.
 Untacked (adj. from un, and tacked) Not tacked.
 Untacking (p. a. from untack) Loosing what was tacked.
 Untacking (s. from the part.) The act of loosing what was fastened with tacks.
 Untackle (v. t. from un, and tackle) To free from tackling.
 Untackled (p. from untackle) Freed from tackle, un-dressed.
 Untackled (adj. from un, and tackled) Not tackled, not dressed.
 Untackling (p. a. from untackle) Freeing from tackling, undressing.
 Untackling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from tackling, the act of undressing.
 Untagged (adj. from un, and tagged) Not tagged.
 Untainted (adj. from un, and tainted) Not tainted.
 Untaken (adj. from un, and taken) Not taken.
 Untalked (adj. from un, and talked) Not talked of.
 Untall (adj. obsolete) Not tall. Chaucer.
 Untallied (adj. from un, and tallied) Not tallied.
 Untallowed (adj. from un, and tallowed) Not tallowed.
 Untameable (adj. from un, and tameable) Not tameable.
 Untameableness (s. from untameable) The state or quality of being untameable. Scott.
 Untamed (adj. from un, and tamed) Not tamed.
 Untangibility (s. from un, and tangibility) The state of being untangible.
 Untangle (adj. from un, and tangible) Not tangible.
 Untangle (v. t. from un, and tangle) To loose from an intanglement.

Untangled

UNT

Untan'gled (p. from untangle) Loosed from intanglement.
 Untan'gled (adj. from un, and tangled) Not tangled.
 Untan'gling (p. a. from untangle) Loosing from intanglement.
 Untan'gling (s. from the part.) The act of loosing from intanglement.
 Untan'ned (adj. from un, and tanned) Not tanned.
 Untan'talized (adj. from un, and tantalized) Not tantalized.
 Untapered (adj. from un, and tapered) Not tapered.
 Untap'ped (adj. from un, and tapped) Not tapped.
 Untar'nished (adj. from un, and tarnished) Not tarnished.
 Untar'ned (adj. from un, and tarred) Not tarred.
 Untar'tarized (adj. from un, and tartarized) Not tartarized.
 Untask'ed (adj. from un, and tasked) Not tasked.
 Untas'feled (adj. from un, and tasseled) Not tasseled.
 Untas'ted (adj. from un, and tasted) Not tasted.
 Untas'ting (adj. from un, and tasting) Not tasting.
 Untat'tered (adj. from un, and tattered) Not tattered.
 Untax'able (adj. from un, and taxable) Not taxable.
 Untax'ed (adj. from un, and taxed) Not taxed.
 Untau'ght (adj. from un, and taught) Not taught.
 Untau'ght (p. from unteach) Made to forget what has been learned.
 Untea'ch (v. t. from un, and teach) Made to forget what has been taught.
 Unteach'able (adj. from un, and teachable) Not teachable.
 Unteach'ableness (s. from un, and teachable) The state of being unteachable.
 Unteach'ing (p. a. from unteach) Making to forget what has been taught.
 Unteach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making to forget what has been taught.
 Untea'm (v. t. from un, and team) To take off a team from a waggon or cart.
 Unteam'ed (p. from unteam) Freed from the team.
 Unteam'ing (p. a. from unteam) Taking off a team.
 Untea'ming (s. from the part.) The act of taking off a team.
 Unteas'ed (adj. from un, and teased) Not teased, not combed as wool or flax.
 Unteas'eled (adj. from un, and teaeled) Not teaeled.
 Unted'ded (adj. from un, and tedded) Not tedded.
 Unteem'ing (adj. from un, and teeming) Not teeming.
 Untemp'erate (adj. from un, and temperate) Not temperate, intemperate.
 Untemp'ered (adj. from un, and tempered) Not tempered.
 Untempt'ed (adj. from un, and tempted) Not tempted.
 Unten'able (adj. from un, and tenable) Not tenable.
 Unten'antable (adj. from un, and tenantable) Not tenantable.
 Unten'antableness (s. from untenantable) The state of being untenantable.
 Unten'anted (adj. from un, and tenanted) Not tenanted.
 Untend'ed (adj. from un, and tended) Not tended.
 Untend'er (adj. from un, and tender) Not tender.
 Untend'ered (adj. from un, and tendered) Not tendered.
 Untent'ed (adj. from un, and tented) Not tented.
 Untent'ered (adj. from un, and tentered) Not tentered.
 Unter'brated (adj. from un, and terebrated) Not terebrated, not bored.
 Unterm'ed (adj. from un, and termed) Not termed, not called.
 Unterm'inated (adj. from un, and terminated) Not terminated.
 Unterr'aced (adj. from un, and terraced) Not terraced.
 Unterr'ised (adj. from un, and terrified) Not terrified.
 Untert'iated (adj. from un, and tertiated) Not tertiated, not done the third time.
 Untes'tellated (adj. from un, and tessellated) Not tessellated.
 Untest'ed (adj. from un, and tested) Not tested, not proved.
 Unteth'er (v. t. from un, and tether) To loose from a tether.
 Unteth'ered (p. from untether) Loosed from the tether.
 Unteth'ered (adj. from un, and tethered) Not tethered.
 Unteth'ering (p. a. from untether) Loosing from a tether.
 Unteth'ering (s. from the part.) The act of loosing from a tether.
 Untew'ed (adj. from un, and tewed) Not tewed.
 Untew'tawed (adj. from un, and tewtawed) Not tewtawed.
 Untha'nk, Unthanke (s. obsolete) Ill will; mischance. Ob.
 Unthank'ed (adj. from un, and thanked) Not thanked.
 Unthank'ful (adj. from un, and thankful) Not thankful.
 Unthank'fully (adv. from unthankful) Without gratitude.
 Unthank'fulness (s. from unthankful) The want of thankfulness.

UNT

Unthatch'ed (adj. from un, and thatched) Not thatched.
 Unthaw'ed (adj. from un, and thawed) Not thawed.
 Untheat'rical (adj. from un, and theatrical) Not theatrical.
 Untheolog'ical (adj. from un, and theological) Not theological, not agreeable to the rules of theology.
 Unthrew'ed (adj. an old word) Unmannerly.
 Unthick'ened (adj. from un, and thickened) thickened.
 Unthi'nk (v. t. from un, and think) To recall a thought to dismiss a thought.
 Unthink'ing (p. a. from unthink) Recalling a thought.
 Unthink'ing (adj. from un, and thinking) Not thinking.
 Unthink'ing (adj. from the part.) The act of recalling a thought.
 Unthink'ingness (s. from unthinking) The state of being thoughtless.
 Unthin'ned (adj. from un, and thinned) Not thinned.
 Unthirst'y (adj. from un, and thirsty) Not thirsty.
 Unthorn'y (adj. from un, and thorny) Not thorny.
 Unthou'ght (p. from unthink) Retracted as a thought.
 Unthou'ght (adj. from un, and thought) Not thought.
 Unthought'ful (adj. from un, and thoughtful) thoughtful.
 Unthral'led (adj. from un, and thrall'd) Not thrall'd.
 Unthras'h'ed (adj. from un, and thrashed) Not thrashed.
 Unthrea'd (v. t. from un, and thread) To free from thread.
 Unthread'ed (p. from unthread) Freed from the thread as a needle.
 Unthread'ed (adj. from un, and threaded) Not threaded.
 Unthread'ing (p. a. from unthread) Freeing from thread.
 Unthread'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from thread.
 Unthreat'ened (adj. from un, and threatened) threatened.
 Unthres'h'ed (adj. a different spelling) Unthrashed.
 Unthri'ft (s. from un, and thrift) A prodigal, a spendthrift.
 Unthri'ft (adj. from the sub.) Profuse, wasteful, extravagant.
 Unthri'ftier (adj. comp. of unthrift) Unthriftier in greater degree.
 Unthri'fkest (adj. sup. of unthrift) Unthriftiest in greatest degree.
 Unthri'ftily (adv. from unthrift) In a wasteful, extravagant manner.
 Unthri'ftiness (s. from unthrift) The state of being unthrift.
 Unthri'ft'y (adj. from un, and thrifty) Not thrifty, wasteful, prodigal.
 Unthri'll'ed (adj. from un, and thrilled) Not thrilled.
 Unthri've (s. obsolete) Ill success, misfortune.
 Unthriv'en (adj. from un, and thriven) Not thriven.
 Unthri'ving (adj. from un, and thriving) Not thriving.
 Unthro'ne (v. t. from un, and throne) To dethrone, pull from a throne.
 Unthro'ned (p. from unthrone) Dethroned, pulled from a throne.
 Unthro'ned (adj. from un, and throned) Not throned.
 Unthro'ning (p. a. from unthrone) Dethroning.
 Unthro'ning (s. from the part.) The act of dethroning, the act of pulling down from a throne.
 Unthrong'ed (adj. from un, and thronged) Not thronged.
 Unthrot'tled (adj. from un, and throttled) Not throttled.
 Unthrow'n (adj. from un, and thrown) Not thrown.
 Unthru'ft (adj. from un, and thrust) Not thrust.
 Unthumb'ed (adj. from un, and thumb'd) Not thumb'd.
 Unthump'ed (adj. from un, and thumped) Not thumped.
 Unthund'ered (adj. from un, and thunder'd) Not thunder'd, not emitted with noise and terror.
 Unthwack'ed (adj. from un, and thwacked) Not thwacked.
 Unthwart'ed (adj. from un, and thwarted) Not thwarted.
 Untic'ed (adj. from un, and ticed) Not ticed, unticketed.
 Untick'eted (adj. from un, and ticketed) Not ticketed.
 Untick'led (adj. from un, and tickled) Not tickled.
 Untid'died (adj. from un, and tid'dled) Not tid'dled.
 Untid'ded (adj. from un, and tid'd) Not driven with tide.
 Untid'y (adj. comp. of untidy) Untidy in a greater degree.
 Untid'y (adj. sup. of untidy) Untidy in the greatest degree.
 Untid'y (adv. from untidy) In an untidy manner.
 Untid'iness (s. from untidy) The state of being untidy.
 Untidy (adj. from un, and tidy) Not tidy.
 Untie (v. t. from un, and tie) To loose, to unbind, free from bonds; to solve, to clear.
 Untied (p. from untie) Loosed, unbound, freed from obligation.

UNT

ed (adj. from un, and tied) Not tied.
 en (v. t. from un, and tighten) To loosen, to less tight.
 ened (p. from untighten) Loosed, made less tight.
 ened (adj. from un, and tightened) Not tightened.
 ening (p. a. from untighten) Loosing, making less tight.
 ening (s. from the part.) The act of making less tight.
 ness (s. from un, and tightness) The want of tightness.
 (adv. from un, and till) Till; to the time that,
 the place that.
 e (v. t. from un, and tile) To uncover a tiled place, to take off the tiles.
 ed (p. from untile) Uncovered, stripped of the tiles.
 ed (adj. from un, and tiled) Not tiled.
 ing (p. a. from untile) Uncovering, stripping off
 the tiles.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping off
 the tiles.
 (prep. obsolete) To, unto. Chaucer.
 ed (adj. from un, and tilted) Not tilted.
 t (v. t. from un, and tilt) To strip off the tilt.
 ed (p. from untilt) Stripped of the tilt.
 ed (adj. from un, and tilted) Not tilted.
 ing (p. a. from untilt) Stripping off the tilt.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping off the tilt.
 ured (adj. from un, and timbered) Not timbered, not furnished with timbers.
 ed (adj. from un, and timed) Not timed, not reated as to time. elier (adj. comp. of untimely) Untimely in a lower degree.
 eliest (adj. sup. of untimely) Untimely in the latest degree.
 eliness (s. from untimely) The state of being untimely.
 ely (adj. from un, and timely) Happening before the time.
 ed (adj. from un, and tinied) Not tinied, not tined.
 ured (adj. from un, and tintured) Not tintured.
 ed (adj. from un, and tinged) Not tinged.
 ered (adj. from un, and tinkered) Not tinkered.
 ned (adj. from un, and tinned) Not tinned.
 eled (adj. from un, and tinseled) Not tinseled.
 ped (adj. from un, and tipped) Not tipped.
 pled (adj. from un, and tippled) Not tippled.
 t (adj. from un, and tipt) Not tipt.
 able (adj. from un, and tirable) Incapable of being tired.
 ed (adj. from un, and tired) Not tired.
 ued (adj. from un, and tissued) Not tissued.
 heable (adj. from un, and titheable) Not titheable.
 ed (adj. from un, and tithed) Not tithed.
 ed (adj. from un, and titled) Not titled.
 (prep. not so much used by late writers) To.
 (adv. obsolete) Until. Chaucer.
 ed (adj. from un, and toasted) Not toasted.
 ed (adj. from un, and told) Not told.
 erable (adj. from un, and tolerable) Not tolerable, intolerable.
 erableness (s. from intolerable) The state of being intolerable.
 erably (adv. from intolerable) Intolerably.
 erated (adj. from un, and tolerated) Not tolerated.
 ed (adj. from un, and tolled) Not tolled, not dismissed by the toll; not made to sound as a bell on any occasions.
 ed (adj. a law term, with the o short) Not taken away.
 ed (adj. from un, and tombled) Not buried.
 gued (adj. from un, and tongued) Not tongued, furnished with a tongue; not scolded, not treated with scurrilous language.
 ured (adj. from un, and toothed) Not toothed, furnished with teeth.
 esome (adj. from un, and toothsome) Not tooth-some.
 (v. t. from un, and top) To take off the top, to take away the top.
 ped (p. from untop) Deprived of a top.
 ped (adj. from un, and topped) Not topped.
 ping (p. a. from untop) Depriving of a top.
 ping (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of

U N T

Untorment'ed (adj. from un, and tormented) Not tormented.
 Unto'r'n (adj. from un, and torn) Not torn.
 Untortur'ed (adj. from un, and tortured) Not tortured.
 Unto's'ed (adj. from un, and tossed) Not tossed.
 Untouch'ed (adj. from un, and touched) Not touched.
 Untow'ard (adj. from un, and toward) Froward, perverse; awkward, ungraceful.
 Untow'ardliness (s. from untowardly) The state or quality of being untowardly.
 Untow'ardly (adj. from untoward) Awkward, ungraceful; perverse, froward.
 Untow'ardly (adv. from the adj.) Perversely; frowardly; awkwardly, ungracefully.
 Untow'ardness (s. from untoward) The state of being untoward.
 Untra'ceable (adj. from un, and trace) Not to be traced. South.
 Untra'ced (adj. from un, and traced) Not traced.
 Untra'c'ible (adj. from un, and tractable) Not tractable, not compossible.
 Untra'c'ibleness (s. from untractable) The state or quality of being untractable.
 Untra'd'ing (adj. from un, and trading) Not trading, not engaged in commerce.
 Untradu'ced (adj. from un, and traduced) Not traduced.
 Untrail'ed (adj. from un, and trailed) Not trailed.
 Untrain'ed (adj. from un, and trained) Not trained.
 Untram'me'led (adj. from un, and trammelled) Not caught in a trammel.
 Untramp'led (adj. from un, and trampled) Not trampled.
 Untranscrib'ed (adj. from un, and transcribed) Not transcribed.
 Untransfer'able (adj. from un, and transferrable) Not transferrable.
 Untransfer'red (adj. from un, and transferred) Not transferred.
 Untransfig'ured (adj. from un, and transfigured) Not transfigured.
 Untransfix'ed (adj. from un, and transfixed) Not transfixed.
 Untransform'ed (adj. from un, and transformed) Not transformed.
 Untransfus'ed (adj. from un, and transfused) Not transfused.
 Untransi'tive (adj. from un, and transitive) Intransitive.
 Untransi'tory (adj. from un, and transitory) Not transitory.
 Untransla'ted (adj. from un, and translated) Not translated.
 Untransmiss'able (adj. from un, and transmissible) Not transmissible.
 Untransmit'ted (adj. from un, and transmitted) Not transmitted.
 Untransmu'table (adj. from un, and transmutable) Not transmutable.
 Untransmu'ted (adj. from un, and transmuted) Not transmuted.
 Untranspa'rent (adj. from un, and transparent) Not transparent.
 Untranspi'red (adj. from un, and transpired) Not transpired.
 Untransplant'ed (adj. from un, and transplanted) Not transplanted.
 Untransport'ed (adj. from un, and transported) Not transported.
 Untranspo's'ed (adj. from un, and transposed) Not transposed.
 Untransubstan'tiated (adj. from un, and transubstantiated) Not transubstantiated.
 Untrapp'ed (adj. from un, and trapped) Not entrapped.
 Untrah'ed (adj. from un, and trashed) Not trashed, not lopped.
 Untrav'elled (adj. from un, and travelled) Not travelled.
 Untrav'er'sed (adj. from un, and traversed) Not traversed.
 Untrea'd (v. t. from un, and tread) To tread back, to go back in the same steps.
 Untread'ing (p. a. from untread) Treading back.
 Untread'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treading back.
 Untrea'sured (adj. from un, and treasured) Not treasured.
 Untreat'able (adj. from un, and treatable) Not practicable.
 Untreat'ed (adj. from un, and treated) Not treated.
 Untrench'ed (adj. from un, and trenched) Not trenched.
 Untre'nd, Untre'nde (adj. obsolete) Not torn, not rent. Cb.
 Untrepan'ned (adj. from un, and trepanned) Not trepanned.
 Untrep'id (adj. from un, and trepid) Intrepid.

UNT

Untret'able (adj. an old spelling) Untractable. Chaucer.
Untrib'utary (adj. from un, and tributary) Not tributary.
Untrick'ed (adj. from un, and trick) Not tricked.
Untri'ed (adj. from un, and tried) Not tried.
Untrig (v. t. from un, and trig) To free a wheel from the trigger.
Untrig'ged (p. from untrig) Freed as a wheel from the trigger.
Untrig'ged (adj. from un, and trig) Not trigged, not stopped by a trigger.
Untrig'ging (p. a. from untrig) Delivering a wheel from the trigger.
Untrig'ging (s. from the part.) The act of delivering a wheel from the trigger.
Untri'm (v. t. from un, and trim) To strip of trimming.
Untrim'med (adj. from un, and trimmed) Not trimmed; not ornamented with lace.
Untrim'med (p. from untrim) Stripped of trimming.
Untrim'ming (p. a. from untrim) Stripping of trimming.
Untrim'ming (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of trimmings.
Untrip'ped (adj. from un, and trip) Not tripped.
Untrip'ping (adj. from un, and tripping) Not tripping.
Untri'ft (v. int. obsolete) To be mistrustful. Chaucer.
Untriumph'able (adj. from un, and triumph) Allowing no triumph. Hudibras.
Untro'd (adj. from un, and trod) Untrodden.
Untrod'den (adj. from un, and trodden) Not trodden.
Untroll'ed (adj. from un, and trolled) Not trolled.
Untrot'ted (adj. from un, and trotted) Not trotted.
Untroub'led (adj. from un, and troubled) Not troubled, not disturbed.
Untroun'ced (adj. from un, and trounced) Not trounced.
Untrou'the (s. obsolete) Falsehood. Chaucer.
Untruck'led (adj. from un, and truckled) Not truckled.
Untru'e (adj. from un, and true) Not true, false, unfaithful.
Untru'ly (adv. from untrue) Falsely, unfaithfully.
Untrump'ed (adj. from un, and trump) Not trumped.
Untrump'eted (adj. from un, and trumpeted) Not trumpeted.
Untrund'led (adj. from un, and trundled) Not trundled.
Untru'is (v. t. from un, and trufs) To open a trufs, to open what has been truffed.
Untru'is'ed (p. from untru'is) Opened from a trufs.
Untru'is'ed (adj. from un, and truffed) Not truffed.
Untru'is'ing (p. a. from untru'is) Opening a trufs.
Untru'is'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening a trufs.
Untru'ist (s. obsolete) Uncertainty. Chaucer.
Untru'ist'ed (adj. from un, and trusted) Not trusted.
Untru'ist'ineis (s. from untru'ist) Unfaithfulness.
Untru'ist'y (adj. from un, and trusty) Unfaithful.
Untru'ith (s. from un, and truth) A falsehood, a false assertion; treachery, want of fidelity.
Untu'ck (v. t. from un, and tuck) To unfold, to undo a tuck.
Untuck'ed (p. from untuck) Unfolded, taken out of a tuck.
Untuck'ed (adj. from un, and tucked) Not tucked.
Untuck'ered (adj. from un, and tuckered) Not furnished with a tucker. Addison.
Untuck'ing (p. a. from untuck) Unfolding, undoing a tuck.
Untuck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding, the act of undoing a tuck.
Untug'ged (adj. from un, and tugged) Not tugged.
Untum'bled (adj. from un, and tumbled) Not tumbled.
Untum'mes'ed (adj. from un, and tumes'ed) Not tumes'ed.
Untumult'u'ous (adj. from un, and tumultuous) Not tumultuous.
Untu'nable (adj. from un, and tunable) Not tunable.
Untu'ne (v. t. from un, and tune) To put out of tune, to disorder, to disorder the harmony.
Untu'ned (adj. from untune) Put out of tune, disordered.
Untu'ned (adj. from un, and tuned) Not tuned.
Untu'ning (p. a. from untune) Putting out of tune, disordering.
Untu'ning (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of tune, the act of disordering.
Untu'neful (adj. from un, and tune'ful) Not harmonious.
Untun'ned (adj. from un, and tunned) Not tunned, not put into a cask.
Untup'ped (adj. from un, and tupp'd) Not tupp'd, not covered by a ram.
Untur'led (adj. from un, and turled) Not turled.

UNV

Unturn'ed (adj. from un, and turned) Not turned.
Untur'pised (adj. from un, and turpised) Not turpised.
Untu'tored (adj. from un, and tutored) Not tutored.
Untweag'ed (adj. from un, and tweaged) Not tweaged.
Untwi'ne (v. t. from un, and twine) To open what has been wound together, to open what is wrapped itself.
Untwi'ned (p. from untwine) Unwrapped, unwound.
Untwi'ned (adj. from un, and twined) Not twined.
Untwi'ning (p. a. from untwine) Opening what has been wound together.
Untwi'ning (s. from the part.) The act of opening what has been wound together.
Untwi'r'l (v. t. from un, and twirl) To untwirl.
Untwi'r'led (p. from untwirl) Untwisted.
Untwi'r'led (adj. from un, and twirled) Not twirled, turned round.
Untwi'r'ling (p. a. from untwirl) Untwisting.
Untwi'r'ling (s. from the part.) The act of untwisting.
Untwi'ft (v. t. from un, and twist) Separating what has been twisted together.
Untwi'ft'ed (p. from untwi'ft) Freed from an involution, unwound.
Untwi'ft'ed (adj. from un, and twisted) Not twisted.
Untwi'ft'ing (p. a. from untwi'ft) Unwinding, from an involution.
Untwi'ft'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unwinding, the act of freeing from an involution.
Untwitch'ed (adj. from un, and twitched) Not twitched.
Unty' (v. t. a different spelling) To untie.
Unty'ed (p. from unty) Untied.
Unty'ing (p. a. from untie) Loosening what is tied.
Unty'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosening what is tied.
Untyran'nic (adj. from un, and tyrannic) Not tyrannic.
Untyran'nical (adj. from untyrannic) Not tyrannical.
Unvai'l (v. t. from un, and veil) To uncover, to unveil.
Unvail'ed (p. from unvail) Stripped of a veil.
Unvail'ed (adj. from un, and veiled) Not veiled.
Unvail'ing (p. a. from unvail) Uncovering, stripping a veil.
Unvail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uncovering, the act of stripping of a veil.
Unvail'idate (v. t. from un, and validate) To invalidate.
Unvail'idated (p. from unvail'idate) Invalidated.
Unvail'idating (p. a. from unvail'idate) Invalidating.
Unvail'u'able (adj. from un, and valuable) Incapable of being valued.
Unvail'ued (adj. from un, and valued) Not valued.
Unvamp'ed (adj. from un, and vamped) Not vamped.
Unvan'quished (adj. from un, and vanquished) Not vanquished.
Unva'riable (adj. from un, and variable) Invariable, mutable.
Unva'riably (adv. from unvariable) Invariably.
Unva'ried (adj. from un, and varied) Not varied.
Unvar'nished (adj. from un, and varnished) Not varnished.
Unva'rying (adj. from un, and varying) Not varying.
Unvault'ed (adj. from un, and vaulted) Not vaulted.
Unveil' (v. t. from un, and veil) To uncover, to unveil.
Unveil'ed (p. from unveil) Uncovered, unveiled.
Unveil'ed (adj. from un, and veiled) Not veiled.
Unveil'edly (adv. from unveil) Plainly, without disguise.
Unveil'ing (p. a. from unveil) Uncovering, unveiling.
Unveil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unveiling, the act of unveiling.
Unvend'ed (adj. from un, and vended) Not vended.
Unvend'ible (adj. from un, and vendible) Not vendible.
Unvener'ed (adj. from un, and venerated) Not venerated.
Unven'erated (adj. from un, and venerated) Not venerated.
Unve'niable (adj. from un, and veniable) Unpardonable.
Unven'al (adj. from un, and venial) Not venial, pardonable.
Unven'omed (adj. from un, and venomous) Not venomous.
Unvent'ed (adj. from un, and vented) Not vented.
Unven'tilated (adj. from un, and ventilated) Not ventilated.
Unver'ified (adj. from un, and verified) Not verified.
Unver'itable (adj. from un, and veritable) Not veritable.
Unvers'ed (adj. from un, and verfed) Not versed, skilled.

U N W

versified (adj. from un, and verified) Not ver-sified.
 versist (adj. from un, and verist) Not versed. Scott.
 vested (adj. from un, and vested) Not vested, not vested.
 vexed (adj. from un, and vexed) Not vexed, not troubled.
 vibrated (adj. from un, and vibrated) Not vibrated.
 visualized (adj. from un, and visualized) Not victualized.
 viewed (adj. from un, and viewed) Not viewed.
 vigilant (adj. from un, and vigilant) Not vigilant.
 vincible (adj. from un, and vincible) Not vincible.
 vindictive (adj. from un, and vindictive) Not vindictive.
 violable (adj. from un, and violable) Inviolable.
 violated (adj. from un, and violated) Not violated.
 virtuous (adj. from un, and virtuous) Not virtuous. Shakespeare.
 visible (adj. from un, and visible) Invisible.
 invisibly (adv. from unvisible) Invisibly.
 visited (adj. from un, and visited) Not visited.
 vitiated (adj. from un, and vitiated) Not vitiated.
 vitrified (adj. from un, and vitrified) Not vi-trified.
 vivified (adj. from un, and vivified) Not vivified.
 ulcerated (adj. from un, and ulcerated) Not ulce-rated.
 uniform (adj. from un, and uniform) Not uniform.
 voided (adj. from un, and voided) Not voided.
 voyageable (adj. from un, and voyage) Not capable of being passed over. Milton.
 voluntarily (adv. from un, and voluntary) Involuntarily.
 untariness (s. from unvoluntary) Involuntari-ness.
 untary (adj. from un, and untary) Involuntary.
 vomited (adj. from un, and vomited) Not vomited.
 voted (adj. from un, and voted) Not voted.
 vouched (adj. from un, and vouched) Not vouched.
 vowed (adj. from un, and vowed) Not vowed.
 upright (adj. from un, and upright) Not upright.
 urged (adj. from un, and urged) Not urged.
 urgent (adj. from un, and urgent) Not urgent.
 usage (s. obsolete) Diffuse. Chaucer. useful (adj. the s is sharp, from un, and useful) Not useful.
 ushered (adj. from un, and ushered) Not ushered.
 usufructuated (adj. from un, and usufructuated) Not usufructuated, burnt.
 usual (adj. from un, and usual) Not usual.
 usually (adv. from unusual) Not usually.
 unaliveness (s. from unusual) The state or quality of being unusual.
 utterable (adj. from un, and utterable) Not utter-able.
 uttered (adj. from un, and uttered) Not uttered.
 vulnerable (adj. from un, and vulnerable) Invulnerable, incapable of being wounded.
 wadded (adj. from un, and wadded) Not wadded.
 waited (adj. from un, and waited) Not waited.
 waged (adj. from un, and waged) Not waged.
 waincoted (adj. from un, and waincoted) Not waincoted.
 waited (adj. from un, and waited) Not waited.
 waked (adj. from un, and waked) Not awaked.
 wakened (adj. from un, and wakened) Not wakened.
 walled (adj. from un, and walled) Not walled.
 wanted (adj. from un, and wanted) Not wanted.
 warbled (adj. from un, and warbled) Not warbled.
 warded (adj. from un, and warded) Not warded.
 unawares (adv. obsolete) Unawares. Chaucer.
 unexpecting (adv. from un, and aware) Unexpectedly. Spenser.
 unwary (adv. from unwary) Without due caution, rashly.
 want (s. from unwary) The want of caution, want.
 warrantable (adj. from un, and warrantable) Not warrantable.

U N W

Unwarrantably (adv. from unwarrantable) In an unwarrantable manner.
 Unwarranted (adj. from un, and warranted) Not warranted.
 Unwarlike (adj. from un, and warlike) Not warlike.
 Unwarm'd (adj. from un, and warmed) Not warmed.
 Unwarned (adj. from un, and warned) Not warned.
 Unwarped (adj. from un, and warped) Not warped.
 Unwary (adj. from un, and wary) Not wary, not cautious; unexpected; but this sense is obsolete. Sp.
 Unwashed (adj. from un, and washed) Not washed.
 Unwasheden (adj. from un, and wash) Not washed. Mat.
 Unwasted (adj. from un, and wasted) Not wasted.
 Unwasteful (adj. from un, and wasteful) Not wasteful.
 Unwasting (adj. from un, and wasting) Not wasting.
 Unwatched (adj. from un, and watched) Not watched.
 Unwatchful (adj. from un, and watchful) Not watchful.
 Unwatered (adj. from un, and watered) Not watered.
 Unwattled (adj. from un, and wattled) Not wattled.
 Unwaved (adj. from un, and waved) Not waved.
 Unwavered (adj. from un, and wavering) Not waver-ing, steady.
 Unwaxed (adj. from un, and waxed) Not waxed.
 Unway'd (adj. from un, and way) Not used to the road, not used to travel. Suckey.
 Unweakened (adj. from un, and weakened) Not weakened.
 Unweaned (adj. from un, and weaned) Not weaned.
 Unweaponed (adj. from un, and weapon) Not furnished with weapons.
 Unwearable (adj. from un, and wearable) Not wearable, not fit to be worn.
 Unwearable (adj. from un, and wearable) Not wearable, incapable of being wearied.
 Unwearied (adj. from un, and wearied) Not wearied.
 Unwearied (p. from unwearied) Refreshed after wearing.
 Unweariedness (s. from unwearied) The state of being unwearied.
 Unweary (v. t. from unwearied) To refresh after wearing.
 Unweary (adj. from un, and weary) Not weary.
 Unwearying (p. a. from unwearied) Refreshing after weariness.
 Unwearying (s. from the part.) The act of refreshing after weariness.
 Unweathered (adj. from un, and weathered) Not weathered.
 Unweather (s. from un, and weather) A tempest, a storm. Scott.
 Unweatherwise (adj. from un, and weatherwise) Not weatherwise.
 Unweave (v. t. from un, and weave) To undo what has been woven.
 Unweaving (p. a. from unweave) Undoing what has been woven.
 Unweaving (s. from the part.) The act of undoing what has been woven.
 Unwed'd (adj. from un, and wed) Not wedded, not married.
 Unwedded (adj. from un, and wedded) Not wedded.
 Unwedgable (adj. from un, and wedge) Not cloven. Shakespeare.
 Unwedged (adj. from un, and wedged) Not wedged.
 Unweeded (adj. from un, and weeded) Not weeded.
 Unweep'd (adj. from un, and weeped) Unwept. Jo.
 Unweet'ing (adj. from un, and weet) Ignorant, not knowing. Spenser.
 Unweet'ingly (adv. from unweeting) Unwittingly. Scott.
 Unweighed (adj. from un, and weighed) Not weighed.
 Unweighing (adj. from un, and weighing) Not weighing, not considering.
 Unwelcome (adj. from un, and welcome) Not welcome.
 Unwelcomeness (s. from unwelcome) The state of being unwelcome.
 Unwel'd (adj. obsolete) Unwieldy. Chaucer.
 Unweld'd (adj. from un, and welded) Not welded.
 Unwell (adj. local, from un, and well) Not well.
 Unwelt'd (adj. from un, and welt) Not furnished with a welt.
 Unwenn'd (adj. an old word) Unspotted. Cole.
 Unwenn'd (adj. obsolete) Pure, unspotted. Ch.
 Unwept

U N W

Unwe'pt (adj. from un, and wept) Not wept, not lamented.
 Unwe't (adj. from un, and wet) Not wet.
 Unwe'tingly (adv. from unwet) Unwettingly, unknowingly. Chaucer.
 Unwet'ted (adj. from un, and wetted) Not wetted.
 Unwheed'led (adj. from un, and wheedled) Not wheedled.
 Unwheel'ed (adj. from un, and wheeled) Not wheeled.
 Unwhelm'ed (adj. from un, and whelmed) Not whelmed.
 Unwhelp'ed (adj. from un, and whelped) Not whelped.
 Unwher'etted (adj. from un, and wherreted) Not wherreted.
 Unwhet'ted (adj. from un, and whetted) Not whetted.
 Unwhi'pt (adj. from un, and whipt) Not whipt.
 Unwhirl'ed (adj. from un, and whirled) Not whirled.
 Unwhisk'ed (adj. from un, and whisked) Not whisked.
 Unwhist'led (adj. from un, and whistled) Not whistled.
 Unwhit'ed (adj. from un, and whited) Not whited, not bleached.
 Unwhit'ened (adj. from un, and whitened) Not whitened, not bleached.
 Unwho'lesome (adj. from un, and wholesome) Not wholesome.
 Unwho'lesomeness (s. from unwholesome) The state or quality of being unwholesome.
 Unwid'ened (adj. from un, and widened) Not widened.
 Unwid'owed (adj. from un, and widowed) Not widowed.
 Unwiel'dily (adv. from unwieldy) In an unwieldy manner.
 Unwiel'diness (s. from unwieldy) The state of being unwieldy.
 Unwield'y (adj. from un, and wieldy) Not wieldy.
 Unwilder'ed (adj. from un, and wildered) Not wildered.
 Unwilled (adj. from un, and willed) Not willed.
 Unwilling (adj. from un, and willing) Not willing.
 Unwillingly (adv. from unwilling) With unwillingness.
 Unwillingness (s. from unwilling) The state or quality of being unwilling.
 Unwily (adj. from un, and wily) Not wily.
 Unwind (v. t. from un, and wind) To separate what has been wound; to disengage.
 Unwind (v. t.) To admit of a revolution, to separate after winding.
 Unwind'ing (p. a. from unwind) Separating what has been wound, disentangling.
 Unwind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of separating what has been wound.
 Unwin'dowed (adj. from un, and windowed) Not furnished with windows.
 Unwing'ed (adj. from un, and winged) Not furnished with wings.
 Unwin'nowed (adj. from un, and winnowed) Not winnowed.
 Unwip'ed (adj. from un, and wiped) Not wiped.
 Unwife (adj. from un, and wife) Not wife.
 Unwisely (adv. from unwise) Not wisely.
 Unwish (v. t. from un, and wish) To wish what is not to be.
 Unwished (p. from unwish) Wished not to be.
 Unwished (adj. from un, and wished) Not wished.
 Unwish'ful (adj. from un, and wishful) Not wishful.
 Unwishing (p. a. from unwish) Wishing what is not to be.
 Unwishing (s. from the part.) The act of wishing what is not to be.
 Unwis't (adj. from un, and wist) Not known, not thought of.
 Unwis'tful (adj. from un, and wistful) Not wistful.
 Un'wit (s. from un, and wit, but not used) Folly. Cole.
 Unwit (v. t. from un, and wit, but not used) To deprive of understanding. Sb.
 Unwitt'ed (p. from unwit, but not used) Deprived of understanding.
 Unwit'ting (p. a. from unwit, but not used) Depriving of understanding.
 Unwithdraw'ing (adj. from un, and withdrawing) Not withdrawing.
 Unwithdraw'n (adj. from un, and withdrawn) Not withdrawn.

U N W

Unwith'erable (adj. from un, and wither) Not withering, un fading.
 Unwith'ered (adj. from un, and withered) Not withered.
 Unwithhe'ld (adj. from un, and withheld) Not withheld.
 Unwithstoo'd (adj. from un, and withstood) Not withstood.
 Unwit'nessed (adj. from un, and witnessed) Not witnessed.
 Un'wit (s. obsolete) Folly.
 Unwit'ting (adj. obsolete) Ignorant.
 Unwit'tingly (adv. from un, and wittingly) Not wittingly.
 Unwit'ty (adj. from un, and witty) Not witty.
 Unwi'ved (adj. from un, and wived) Not furnished with a wife.
 Unwood'ed (adj. from un, and wooded) Not wooded.
 Unwom'anized (adj. from un, and womanized) Not womanized.
 Unwom'anish (adj. from un, and womanish) Not womanish.
 Unwond'erful (adj. from un, and wonderful) Not wonderful.
 Unwont'ed (adj. from un, and wonted) Not usual.
 Unwont'edness (s. from unwonted) The state of being unusual.
 Unwoo'ed (adj. from un, and wooed) Not wooed, not courted.
 Unword'y (adj. from un, and wordy) Not wordy.
 Unwork'ing (adj. from un, and working) Not working.
 Unwork'manlike (adj. from un, and workmanlike) Not like a workman.
 Unwo'rn (adj. from un, and worn) Not worn.
 Unwor'ried (adj. from un, and worried) Not worried.
 Unwor'shiped (adj. from un, and worshiped) Not worshiped.
 Unwor'shipped (adj. not so analogical) Unworshiped.
 Unwor'thier (adj. comp. of unworthy) Unworthy to a greater degree.
 Unwor'thiest (adj. sup. of unworthy) Unworthy to a greatest degree.
 Unwor'thily (adv. from unworthy) In an unworthy manner.
 Unwor'thiness (s. from unworthy) The state of being unworthy.
 Unwor'thy (adj. from un, and worthy) Not worthy.
 Unwo'te (v. t. third person, obsolete) Knoweth not.
 Unwo'ven (p. from unwove) Undone from a woven.
 Unwo'ven (adj. from un, and woven) Not woven.
 Unwou'nd (p. from unwind) Loosened from a wound.
 Unwou'nd (adj. from un, and wound) Not wound, being wounded.
 Unwound'ed (adj. from un, and wounded) Not wounded.
 Unwra'p (v. t. from un, and wrap) To undo what has been wrapped together.
 Unwra'ppe (v. t. obsolete) To lay open, to discover.
 Unwrap'ped (p. from unwrap) Undone as what has been wrapped together.
 Unwrap'ped (adj. from un, and wrapped) Not wrapped.
 Unwrap'ping (p. a. from unwrap) Undoing what has been wrapped together.
 Unwrap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of undoing what has been wrapped together.
 Unwrath'ful (adj. from un, and wrathful) Not wrathful.
 Unwreath (v. t. from un, and wreath) To unwind.
 Unwreath'ed (p. from unwreath) Untwined.
 Unwreath'ed (adj. from un, and wreathed) Not wreathed.
 Unwreath'ing (p. a. from unwreath) Untwining.
 Unwreath'ing (s. from the part.) The act of untwining.
 Unwreck'ed (adj. from un, and wrecked) Not wrecked.
 Unwrench'ed (adj. from un, and wrenched) Not wrenched.
 Unwrest'ed (adj. from un, and wrested) Not wrested.
 Unwri'e (v. t. an old word) To uncover.
 Unwrig'gled (adj. from un, and wriggled) Not wriggled.

VOI

rinkle (v. t. from un, and wrinkle) To lay smooth in wrinkles.
rink'led (p. from un, and wrinkle) Laid smooth from wrinkles.
rink'led (adj. from un, and wrinkled) Not wrinkled.

rink'ling (p. a. from un, and wrinkle) Laying smooth in wrinkles.

rink'ling (s. from the part.) The act of laying smooth from wrinkles.

rit' (adj. from un, and writ) Unwritten.

riting (adj. from un, and writing) Not writing, assuming the character of an author.

ritten (adj. from un, and written) Not written.

rong (adj. from un, and wrong) Not wrong.

rought (adj. from un, and wrought) Not wrought, manufactured.

ur'ship (s. obsolete) Disgrace, dishonour. Ch.

ycleped (adj. an old word, from un, and ycleped) Not ycleped.

ed (adj. obsolete) United. Chaucer.

ean'ed (adj. from un, and yeaned) Not yeaned.

earn'ed (adj. from un, and yeaned) Not yeaned.

ield'ed (adj. from un, and yielded) Not yielded.

ield'ing (adj. from un, and yielding) Not yielding.

oke (v. t. from un, and yoke) To deliver from the yoke, to free from the yoke; to part, to disjoin.

oked (p. from unyoke) Loosed from the yoke.

oked (adj. from un, and yoked) Not yoked.

oking (p. a. from unyoke) Loosing from the yoke; untying, disjoining.

oking (s. from the part.) The act of delivering from the yoke.

olden (adj. an old word) Not yielded. Ch.

oned (adj. from un, and zoned) Not bound with a girdle.

ADICIA (s.) A woman's name; a British queen who obtained a great victory over the Romans.

CABLE (s. from the Lat. vocabulum) A word, Jones.

CABULARY (s. from the Lat. vocabulum a word) A dictionary, a lexicon, a book in which words are collected.

CAL (adj. from the Lat. vocalis) Uttered by the voice, having a voice.

CALE (s. from the Italian) Vocal music.

ality (s. from vocal) The power of utterance, the quality of speaking.

alize (v. t. from vocal) To form into voices, to make vocal.

alized (p. from vocalize) Made vocal.

alizing (p. a. from vocalize) Making vocal.

alizing (s. from the part.) The act of making vocal.

ally (adv. from vocal) In words, with a voice.

alness (s. from vocal) The state or quality of being vocal. Scott.

ATION (s. from the Lat. voco to call) The act of calling, a summons; a trade, an employment.

ATIVE (adj. from the Lat. voco to call) Belonging to that state of a noun which is used in calling.

ative (s. from the adj.) That state or case of a noun which is used in calling or speaking to any one.

CE (s. from the Italian, in music books) The voice, the human voice.

IFERATION (s. from the Lat. vox vocis a voice, ad ferro to bring) A clamour, an outcry.

IFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. vox vocis a voice, ad ferro to bring) Clamorous, noisy.

ULA'TION (s. from the Lat. voculatio, but not used) The proper method of accenting a word. Cole.

UE (s. from the French voguer to fly at large) A vision, a mode.

CE (s. from the Lat. vox vocis) The sound emitted from the mouth, a sound made by the breath; a vote, suffrage, an opinion observed.

ce (v. t. from the sub. but out of use) To murmur; to vote. Shakespeare.

ce (v. int. obsolete) To clamour, to make outcries. Scott.

ed (p. from voice) Murmured, voted.

ed (adj. from voice) Furnished with a voice.

ing (p. a. from voice) Murmuring, voting. Dan.

D (adj. from the Lat. viduus) Empty, vacant; vain, ineffectual; unsubstantial, not real; unsupplied, unoccupied; wanting, unfurnished; with of: as, "Void understanding."

(v. t. from the adj.) To quit, to leave empty; to vacate, to nullify; to emit; to pour out; to emit as one of excrements.

VOL

Void'able (adj. from void) Capable of being voided.

Void'ance (s. from void, a law term) The state of being void; the want of an incumbent on a benefice.

Voide (v. t. obsolete) To empty, to make void. Ch.

Voide (v. int. obsolete) To depart, to remove. Ch.

Void'ed (p. from void) Emptied, emitted, poured out.

Void'ed (adj. in heraldry) Having the inside cut out, having only the out lines.

Void'er (s. from void) The basket in which broken meat is carried from the table; a vessel to hold services of sweet meats at table.

Void'er (s. in heraldry) A kind of lask or flask, an ordinary not so much bent as a planet.

Void'in (v. t. obsolete) To empty, to make void. Ch.

Void'ing (p. a. from void) Making void, emitting.

Void'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making void, the act of emitting as excrements.

Void'ness (s. from void) The state or quality of being void. Hakewell.

VOI'SINAGE (s. from the French) Neighbourhood. Sc.

VOI'TURE (s. from the French, but not used) Conveyance, carriage. Arbutnot.

VOL (s. in heraldry) A wing, the two wings of a fowl.

VO'LA (s. from the Lat.) The palm of the hand.

VOLA'CIOUS (adj. from the Lat. volo to fly) Apt to fly, fit to fly. Pbillips.

Vol'age (adj. obsolete) Fickle, light, rash, inconstant. Chaucer.

VO'LANT (adj. from the Lat. volo to fly) Flying; nimble, active.

VO'LARY (s. from the Lat. volo to fly) A large cage in which birds may fly.

VOLAT'IC (adj. from the Lat. volo to fly) Flying, fleeting, inconstant.

Volat'ica (s. from volatic) A witch, a hag supposed capable of flying in the air.

Volat'ica (s. in surgery) A kind of tetter or ringworm.

VOL'ATILE (adj. from the Lat. volo to fly) Flying, passing through the air; passing off by spontaneous evaporation; lively, full of spirits; fickle, changeable.

Volatile (s. from the adj.) A winged animal.

Volatileness (s. from volatile) The state or quality of being volatile.

Volatilization (s. a different spelling) Volatilization. Dict. of Arts.

Volatility (s. from volatile) Volatileness, the quality of flying off in evaporation; mutability.

Volatilization (s. from volatile) The act of making volatile.

Volatilize (v. t. from volatile) To make volatile.

Volatilized (p. from volatilize) Made to fly off in vapour.

Volatilizing (p. a. from volatilize) Making volatile, causing to fly off in vapour.

Volatilizing (s. from the part.) The act of volatilization.

VOL'CÆ (s.) An ancient people of Gaul.

VOLCA'NO (s. from Vulcan) A burning mountain.

VOLE (s. from the French) A deal at cards.

VO'LENSNO'LENS (adv. from the Lat. volens willing, and nolens unwilling) With resolution, without consideration, by force.

VO'LERY (s. from the Lat. volo to fly) A flight of birds.

VOLGIV'ACANT (adj. from the Lat. vulgus common, and vagus vague) Passing among the common people.

Vol'ipere (s. obsolete) A kerchief, a wrapper for the head. Chaucer.

VOL'ITATE (v. int. from the Lat. volito) To flutter. Sc.

Vol'itating (p. a. from volitate) Fluttering.

Volitation (s. from volitate) The act of fluttering, the power of fluttering.

Volit'ily (s. obsolete) Wild fowl. Ch.

VOLIT'ION (s. from the Lat. volo to will) The act of willing, the power of choice exerted.

VOL'ITIVE (adj. from the Lat. volo to will) Having the power to will.

VOLKAME'RIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

VOL'LEY (s. from the Lat. volo to fly) A flight of shot; a burst; an emission of many at once.

Vol'ley (v. int. from the sub.) To throw out. Sb.

Vol'leyed (p. from volley) Disploded, discharged with a volley. Milton.

Vol'lied (p. a different spelling) Disploded; discharged with a volley. Johnson.

Vol'low (s. a local word) Fallow. Bailey.

Vol'low (v. t. a local word) To fallow.

- Volume (s. an old spelling) A volume. Chaucer.
VOLOSITY (s. from the Lat. volo to fly, but not used) The act of flying. Cole.
VOLO'SUS (s.) A man's name; an infamous proconsul of Asia who caused three hundred people to be beheaded in one day.
VOL'SCI (s.) A people of Latium.
Vol'scian (adj. from Volsci) Belonging to the Volsci.
Vol'scian (s. from the adj.) One of the Volsci.
VOLSEL/LA (s. from the Lat.) A pair of tweezers, instruments to pluck out hairs.
VOLT, VOLTE (s. in the manage) A circular tract, a round.
VOLU'BILIS (s. in botany) The withwind, a species of convolvulus.
Volubility (s. from voluble) The act or power of rolling; mutability; activity of tongue, fluency of speech.
VOLUBLE (adj. from the Lat. volvo to roll) Turned so as to roll, rolling; nimble, active; fluent of words.
Volubleness (s. from voluble) The state of being voluble, volubility.
Volubly (adv. from voluble) In a rolling easy manner, with volubility.
VOL'UME (s. from the Lat. volumen) Something rolled; the fold of a serpent, a wave of water; a book so called because anciently rolled together.
Voluminous (adj. from volume) Consisting of many complications, consisting of many volumes, copious, diffusive.
Voluminously (adv. from voluminous) In many volumes, in many books.
Voluminousness (s. from voluminous) The state or quality of being voluminous.
VOLUM'NA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to determine the will.
VOLUM'NUS (s. in heathen mythology) The god who was supposed to determine the power of willing.
VOLUM'US (s. from the Lat. volo to will) A kind of letters patent.
Vol'und (s. an old word) The will. Cole.
VOLUNT (s. a late term) The will of the lord, a tenure at the will of the lord.
Vol'untarily (adv. from voluntary) In a voluntary manner, freely.
Vol'untariness (s. from voluntary) The state of being voluntary.
VOL'UNTARY (adj. from the Lat. volo to will) Acting freely, acting by choice; willing, spontaneous.
Vol'untary (s. from the adj.) A volunteer, one who engages of his own accord; a piece of music played at will, a piece of music played without any rule.
VOL'UNTATIVE (adj. from the Lat. volo to will, but not used) Proceeding from the will. Cole.
Vol'unte (s. obsolete) Will, pleasure. Chaucer.
Vol'unte (adv. obsolete) Wilfully, on purpose. Chau.
VOLUNTEER (s. from the Lat. volo to will) A soldier who serves of his own accord.
Volunteer (v. int. a cant word, from the sub.) To go for a soldier.
Volunteer (s. a different spelling) A volunteer. Scott.
VOL'VOX (s. in the history of insects) The vinefretter.
Vol'uper (s. an old word) A kerchief. Cole.
VOLU'PIA (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed goddess of pleasure.
VOLU'PIABLE (adj. from the Lat. voluptas pleasure) Delightful, pleasant. Scott.
Voluptableness (s. from voluptable) Pleasantness. Sc.
VOLUPTIF'IC (adj. from the Lat. voluptas pleasure, and facio to do) Causing pleasure. Scott.
VOLUPTUARY (s. from the Lat. voluptas pleasure) A person given up to sensual pleasures.
VOLUPTUOUS (adj. from the Lat. voluptas pleasure) Given to excess of pleasure, luxurious.
Voluptuously (adv. from voluptuous) With indulgence to excessive pleasures.
Voluptuousness (s. from voluptuous) The state of being given up to excess of pleasure.
VOLU'SIA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to preside over the closing of the pods to preserve the corn.
VOLUSIUS (s.) A man's name; a silly poet among the Romans.
VOLU'TA (s. in natural-history) A genus of univalve shells.
VOLU'TA (s. in architecture) One of the principal ornaments of the Ionic capital, a kind of wreath or scroll.
VOLUTA'TION (s. from the Lat. volutatio) The act of rolling. Scott.
VOLU'TE (s. in architecture) The voluta.
VOLVULUS (s. from the Lat. volvo physicians) The iliac passion, a kind of colic in which the intestines are convulsed or twisted.
VO'MER (s. from the Lat.) A ploughshare, a culter.
VO'MER (s. in anatomy) A bone of the nose.
Vo'mes (s. obsolete) Spume, foam. Chaucer.
VO'MIC (adj. in medicine and botany) Belonging to the nut or fruit of the snakewood.
Vo'mic (s. from the adj.) The fruit of the snakewood.
VO'MICA (s. with physicians) An impostume or boil, an impostume in the lungs.
VO'MICA (s. in medicine) A kind of poison which is by excessive vomiting.
VOM'IT (v. t. from the Lat. vomo) To throw up from the stomach; to throw up with violence.
Vom'it (v. int.) To cast, to bring up the contents of the stomach.
Vom'it (s. from the verb) A medicine to cause vomiting, the matter thrown up from the stomach.
Vom'ited (p. from vomit) Thrown up, thrown out from the stomach.
Vom'iting (p. a. from vomit) Throwing up the contents of the stomach, throwing up with violence.
Vom'iting (s. from the part.) The act of throwing the contents of the stomach.
Vom'ition (s. from vomit) The act or power of vomiting.
Vom'itive (adj. from vomit) Causing a vomit.
Vom'itiveness (s. from vomitive) The quality which causes vomits.
Vom'itory (adj. from vomit) Procuring vomits, emetic.
Vom'itory (s. from the adj.) A vomit, a medicine to cause vomiting.
Voor (s. a local word) A furrow. Phil.
VOPH'SI (s. from the Heb. signifying a fragment) A name.
VOPIS'CUS (s. with physicians) The twin child who comes to the natural birth after the other has been lost by a miscarriage.
VOPIS'CUS (s.) A man's name, a biographer who wrote the lives of several of the Roman emperors.
VORA'CIOUS (adj. from the Lat. vorax) Greedy to eat, ravenous.
Voraciously (adv. from voracious) Greedily, ravenously.
Voraciousness (s. from voracious) Greediness in eating, ravenousness.
VORAC'ITY (s. from the Lat. vorax) Greediness in eating, ravenousness.
VORAG'INOUS (adj. from the Lat. voraginosus) Full of gulphs.
VORATION (s. from the Lat. vorax, but not used) The act of eating voraciously.
VORTEX (s. from the Lat.) A whirlpool, any thing that turns round like a whirlpool.
Vor'tial (adj. from vortex) Having a vortex, having a whirling motion.
VO'TARESS (s. from the Lat. votum a vow) A woman devoted, a woman bound by solemn vows.
VO'TARIST (s. from the Lat. votum a vow) One who is vowed, a votary.
VO'TARY (s. from the Lat. votum a vow) One devoted, one who is under a vow to some particular purpose.
Vot'ary (adj. from the sub.) Consequent to a vow.
VOTE (s. from the Lat. votum) A suffrage, a voice given and numbered, a determination of parliament.
Vote (v. t. from the sub.) To chuse by suffrage, to give by a vote.
Vote (v. int.) To give the suffrage; with for: as, "I voted for Sir Harry."
Vo'ted (p. from vote) Chosen by suffrage, given by vote.
Vo'ter (s. from vote) One who votes, one who has the right of suffrage.
Votes (s. plu. of vote) More than one vote, the accounts of the proceedings in the House of Commons as published by authority.
Vo'ting (p. a. from vote) Giving a suffrage, giving a vote.
Vo'ting (s. from the part.) The act of choosing by suffrage, the act of giving a vote.
Vo'tive (adj. from vote) Given by a vow, done in consequence of a vow.
VOUCH (v. t. from the French voucher) To call to witness, to obtest: to warrant, to attest, to maintain.
Vouch (v. int.) To bear witness, to appear as witness to give testimony; with for: as, "I will vouch the truth of what she hath affirmed."
Vouch (s. from the verb) A voucher, a warrant, an attestation.
Vouch'ed (p. from vouch) Attested, confirmed by witness; called to witness.
Vouchee' (s. from vouch) The person called to attest the truth of any thing. Vouch.

U P B

Uphier (s. from vouch) One who gives testimony to anything, a writing by which any thing is avouched, receipt for money paid on account of another.

Uphol'd (v. int. obsolete) Vouchsafes. Chaucer.

Uphol'd (adj. obsolete) Vouchsafed. Chaucer.

Uphring (p. a. from vouch) Calling to witness; giving testimony on behalf of another.

Uphring (s. from the part.) The act of giving testimony on behalf of another.

Uphrife (v. t. from vouch, and safe) To permit anything to be done, to condescend, to grant.

Uphrife (v. int.) To deign, to condescend.

Uphrife (p. from vouchsafe) Permitted as a favour, granted as an act of condescension.

Uphriment (s. from vouchsafe) A grant, a condescension.

Uphring (p. a. from vouchsafe) Permitting to be done, condescending to grant.

Uphring (s. from the part.) The act of granting in condescension.

Uphrison (s. obsolete) Freestone. Chaucer.

UPSA'VE (s. in building) The stones that form an arch.

UP (s. from the Lat. votum) A solemn promise; a promise made to a superior power; an act of devotion.

UP (v. t. from the sub.) To consecrate by a solemn declaration, to give to a divine power.

UP (v. int.) To make solemn promises.

UP (p. from vow) Solemnly promised, consecrated by a solemn declaration.

UP (s. from the Lat. voco to call) A letter which can be uttered by itself.

UP (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a vowel, belonging to a letter which can be sounded of itself.

UP (s. from vow, and fellow) One bound in the same vow.

UP (p. a. from vow) Making a solemn promise, consecrating by a solemn declaration.

UP (s. from the part.) The act of consecrating by a solemn declaration.

UP (s. from the French) A journey by sea; the office of travelling; a course, an attempt; but this is reckoned low.

UP (v. t. from the sub.) To pass over, to travel.

UP (v. int.) To travel by sea.

UP (p. from voyage) Passed over, travelled.

UP (s. from voyage) One who travels by sea.

UP (p. a. from voyage) Passing over, travelling, travelling by sea.

UP (s. from the part.) The act of travelling by sea.

UP (s. a sea term) A large rope used in weighing the anchor.

UP (s. from the French) Veils, the veils with which nuns cover their faces. Cole.

UP (adv. from the Sax.) On high, aloft; out of bed, on legs; in a state of being built, in a state of exaltation; in a state of climbing; above the horizon; from a remoter place, to a place of greater consequence; from younger to elder years; to one sum and down, backward and forward, here and there. Up to, to an equal height, to an equal degree; equate to. Up with, raising to give a blow.

UP (prep. from the adv.) From a lower to a higher place; upon; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Chaucer.

UP (v. int. used only in the imperative mode) Rise. "Up, for honour's sake."

UP (v. t. from up, and hear) To support in elevation, to sustain aloft, to raise aloft; to keep from falling.

UP (p. a. from upbear) Supporting aloft, raising aloft.

UP (s. from the part.) The act of raising aloft, the act of supporting aloft.

UP (p. from upbear) Supported aloft, raised aloft, kept from falling.

UP (v. t. from the Sax. up, and gebrædan) To charge with any thing disgraceful, to object as matter of reproach, to urge with reproach, to bring reproach upon; to treat with contempt; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Spenser.

UP (p. from upbraid) Charged with something disgraceful, urged with reproach.

UP (p. a. from upbraid) Charging with something disgraceful, urging with reproach.

UP (s. from the part.) The act of charging with something disgraceful, the act of urging with reproach.

UP (adv. from upbraid) With upbraidings, by way of reproach.

UP (v. t. from upbraid, but not used) To upbraid, to shame. Spenser.

U P P

Upbray'd (p. obsolete) Upbraided. Chaucer.

Upbra'y's (s. obsolete) Reprôaches, upbraidings. Spenser.

Upbring (v. t. from up, and bring) To bring up, to educate. Johnson.

Upbring'ing (p. a. from upbring) Bringing up, educating.

Upbrou'ght (p. from upbring) Brought up, educated.

Upca'st (v. t. from up, and cast, but not used) To throw upwards. Johnson.

Upca'st (p. from the verb) Thrown upward.

Up'cast (s. from the verb, used at bowls) A throw, a cast.

Upca'st'ing (p. a. from upcast, not used) Throwing upwards.

Upgather'er (v. t. from up, and gather) To contract, to gather up.

Upgather'ed (p. from upgather) Contracted, gathered up.

Upgather'ing (p. a. from upgather) Contracting, gathering up.

Upgather'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering up, a contraction.

Uphe'ave (adj. obsolete) Heaved, lifted up. Chaucer.

Uphe'and (adj. from up, and hand) Lifted with the hand. Moxon.

Uphe'ap (adv. obsolete) Perhaps. Chaucer.

UPHAR'SIN (s. from the Heb. signifying expansion) A part of the denunciation against Belshazzar which appeared in the hand-writing on the wall. Dan. 5.

UPHAZ (s. from the Heb. signifying the finest gold) The name of a place.

Uphe'ld (v. t. pret. of uphold) Did uphold.

Uphe'ld (p. from uphold) Sustained, maintained.

Uphe'nt (adj. obsolete) Taken up, lifted. Chaucer.

Uphe'll (adj. from up, and hill) Difficult, like the labour of climbing a hill.

Uphe'ard (v. t. from up, and hoard) To hoard up, to store.

Uphe'ard'ed (p. from uphe'ard) Hoarded up, stored up.

Uphe'ard'ing (p. a. from uphe'ard) Hoarding up, storing up.

Uphe'ard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hoarding up.

Uphe'ld (v. t. from up, and hold) To lift on high, to support, to sustain, to keep from falling, to keep from being lost; to continue, to keep from defeat, to continue in being.

Uphe'd'en (p. from uphold) Upheld, supported, maintained.

Uphe'd'er (s. from uphold) One who upholds; an undertaker, one who provides for funerals; one who makes beds and furniture for rooms, an upholsterer.

Uphe'd'ing (p. a. from uphold) Lifting on high, supporting, sustaining.

Uphe'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supporting.

Uphe'd'erer (s. a corruption of upholder) One who fits up rooms with beds and furniture, an upholder.

Uphe'd (p. from uplay) Laid up, hoarded.

Up'land (s. from up, and land) High ground.

Up'land (adj. from the sub.) Lying high, situate out of the way of a flood.

Up'lander (s. from upland) A highlander.

Up'landish (adj. from upland) Mountainous, inhabiting the high lands.

Upplay' (v. t. from up, and lay) To lay up, to hoard.

Upplay'ing (p. a. from uplay) Laying up, hoarding.

Upplay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying up.

Up'lift (v. t. from up, and lift) To lift up, to raise aloft.

Up'lift'ed (p. from uplift) Lifted up, raised aloft.

Up'lift'ing (p. a. from uplift) Raising aloft.

Up'lift'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lifting aloft.

Up'most (adj. from up, and most) Topmost, highest.

Up'most (s. from the adj.) The topmost, the highest person or thing.

Up'o'n (prep. from up, and on) On, over, on the surface, on the top, in a state of view, in immediate consequence of; with respect to, in consideration of; with reliance on, on supposition of; by, near to; with exactness, according to.

Up'per (adj. from up) Superior, higher. Chaucer.

Up'perest (adj. obsolete) Uppermost. Chaucer.

Up'perha'nd (s. from upper, and hand) The advantage.

Up'permost (adj. from upper, and most) Highest, pre-dominant, most powerful.

Up'permost (s. from the adj.) The person or thing that fills the highest place.

Up'pay'ne (adv. obsolete) On pain of. Chaucer.

UP'PINGHAM (s.) A town in Rutlandshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 90 miles from London.

Up'pingham

U P T

Upp'ingham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Uppingham, made at Uppingham.

Uppish (adj. from up, a low word) Proud, arrogant. Johnson.

Uppishness (s. from upish) Pride, arrogance. Sc.

Uppraise (v. t. from up, and raise) To raise up, to exalt.

Uppraised (p. from upraise) Raised up, exalted.

Uppraising (p. a. from upraise) Raising up, exalting.

Uppraising (s. from the part.) The act of raising up.

Upprear (v. t. from up, and rear) To rear up, to raise on high.

Uppreared (p. from uprear) Raised on high.

Upprearing (p. a. from uprear) Raising on high, rearing up.

Upprearing (s. from the part.) The act of raising on high.

Upprised (adj. obsolete) Extolled, raised up. Chaucer.

Uppright (adj. from up, and right, the accent is placed indifferently on the first or last syllable by the poets) Strait up, quite erect; erected, pricked up; honest, strictly just.

Upprightly (adv. from upright) Perpendicularly; in an erect posture; honestly, with strict justice.

Upprightness (s. from upright) The state or quality of being upright; perpendicularity; honesty.

Uprise (v. int. from up, and rise) To rise from a reclined posture, to come up from below the horizon, to ascend with acclivity or steepness.

Uprise (s. from the verb) An appearance above the horizon.

Uprising (p. a. from uprise) Rising from an inclined posture, rising from below the horizon.

Uprising (s. from the part.) The act of rising from an inclined posture.

Uprised (adj. obsolete) Risen, risen up. Chaucer.

UP/ROAR (s. from the Dutch oproer, in prose it is always accented on the first syllable, but in poetry on the first or last indifferently) A tumult, a bustle, a disturbance.

UP/roar (v. t. from the sub. but not used) To throw into confusion. Shakespeare.

Uproot (v. t. from up, and root) To extirpate, to tear up by the roots.

Uprooted (p. from uproot) Torn up by the roots.

Uprooting (p. a. from uproot) Tearing up by the roots.

Uprooting (s. from the part.) The act of tearing up by the roots.

Uprose (v. t. pret. of uprise) Did uprise.

Uprouse (v. t. from up, and route) To awaken from sleep, to excite to action.

Uproused (p. from uprouse) Awakened from sleep, excited to action.

Uprousing (p. a. from uprouse) Awaking from sleep, exciting to action.

Uprising (s. from the part.) The act of rousing up.

Upshot (s. from up, and shot) A conclusion, an end, the final event.

Upside (s. from up, and side) The upper side. Upside down, with an entire reversion, in confusion.

Upsitting (s. from up, and sitting) The act of sitting up.

Upspring (v. int. from up, and spring) To spring up. Scott.

Upspring (s. from the verb) An upstart, a man suddenly exalted.

Upspringing (p. a. from upspring) Springing up.

Upstaid (p. from upstay) Sustained, supported.

Upstaid (v. int. from up, and stand) To be erect.

Upstanding (p. a. from upstand) Standing upright.

Upstart (s. from up, and start) One suddenly exalted.

Upstart (v. int.) To spring up suddenly.

Upstartling (p. a. from upstart) Springing up suddenly.

Upstartling (s. from the part.) The act of springing up suddenly.

Upstay (v. t. from up, and stay) To sustain, to support.

Upstaying (p. a. from upstay) Sustaining, supporting.

Upstaying (s. from the part.) The act of sustaining.

Upswall (adj. obsolete) Swelled, swelled up. Ch.*

Upswarm (v. t. from up, and swarm, but not used) To raise in a swarm. Shakespeare.*

Upswarmed (p. from upswarm, but not used) Raised in a swarm.

Upswarming (p. a. from upswarm, but not used) Raising in a swarm.

Uptake (v. t. from up, and take) To take up, to take in the hand.

Uptaken (p. from uptake) Taken up, taken up in the hand.

Uptaking (p. a. from uptake) Taking up, taking in the hand.

U R E

Upta'king (s. from the part.) The act of taking up.

UP/TON (s.) A town in Worcestershire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 110 miles from London.

Up'ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Upton, made at Upton.

Uptrain (v. t. from up, and train, but not used) Brought up, educated.

Uptrained (p. from uptrain, but not used) Brought up, educated.

Uptraining (p. a. from uptrain, but not much used) Bringing up, educating.

Upturn (v. t. from up, and turn) To turn up, to throw.

Upturned (p. from upturn) Thrown up, furrowed.

Upturning (p. a. from upturn) Throwing up, throwing.

Upturning (s. from the part.) The act of throwing up.

UP/PUPA (s. in ornithology) A genus of birds, hoopal.

Upward (adj. from up, and ward) Directed to a high part.

Upward (adv. from up, and ward) Towards a high place, towards heaven; more than, with respect to the higher part, towards the source.

Upward (s. from the adj. but not used) The top.

Upwards (adv. from upward) Upward.

Upwhirl (v. t. from up, and whirl) To whirl upwards.

Upwhirled (p. from upwhirl) Whirled upwards.

Upwhirling (p. a. from upwhirl) Whirling upwards.

Upwhirling (s. from the part.) The act of whirling upwards.

Upwind (v. t. from up, and wind, but not much used) To wind up, to convolve.

Upwinding (p. a. from upwind) Winding up, convolving.

Upwinding (s. from the part. but not used) The act of convolving.

Upwound (p. from upwind) Convolved, wound up.

UR (s. from the Heb. signifying fire) The name of a place.

URACHUS (s. in anatomy) A membranous canal which the foetus receives nourishment from its mother.

URick (s. in the isle of Jersey) A kind of sea weed used for fuel.

URAGUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Pluto.

URA'NIA (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the nine muses, the supposed patroness of astronomy.

URANOS/COPIST (s. from the Greek $\alpha\rho\alpha\nu\sigma\kappa\omicron\pi\iota\sigma\tau\eta\varsigma$ and $\sigma\kappa\omicron\pi\omega$ to view) An astronomer, one who is attentive to the course of the heavenly bodies.

URANOSCO/PUS (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, the stargazer, so called from the position of the eyes which are placed on the top of the head.

URANOS/COPY (s. from the Greek $\alpha\rho\alpha\nu\sigma\kappa\omicron\pi\omega$ to view) Astronomy, the contemplation of the heavenly bodies.

UR/BAN (s.) A man's name.

UR/BANIST (s.) One of a particular order of monks.

URBAN/ITY (s. from the Lat. urbanus courtly) Politeness, civility.

Urbanize (v. t. from urban) To make courteous, to render polite.

Urbanized (p. from urbanize) Made courteous, rendered polite.

Urbanizing (p. a. from urbanize) Rendering courteous, making courteous.

Urbanizing (s. from the part. not much used) The act of making civil.

URCEOLA/RIS (s. in botany) The feverfew.

UR/CHIN (s. in zoology) The hedgehog.

Urchinlike (adj. from urchin, and like) Like an urchin, resembling the prickles of the urchin.

UR/DÆ (adj. in heraldry) Terminating in the middle of a lozenge.

Urde', Urdee' (adj. in heraldry) Terminating in the manner of a lozenge, cleche.

URE (s. from the Lat. usura, but now grown obsolete) Use, custom, habit.

URE (s.) A river in Yorkshire.

Ure (s. obsolete) Fate, destiny.

Ure (s. a local word) An udder.

U'red (adj. obsolete) Fortunate.

URE/DO (s. from the Lat.) The blasting of trees, the burning of the skin.

URE/NA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

U R S

UR (adj. from the Lat. uro to burn, but not used) Burning, parching.
 URTICA (s. from the Lat.) Hot burning medicines.
 URUS (s. A wild ox, the buffalo).
 UTER (s. in anatomy) One of the two ducts which convey the urine from the kidneys to the bladder.
 URETHRA (s. in anatomy) The tube or passage by which the urine is discharged from the bladder.
 URICA (s. in medicine) Diuretics.
 URGE (v. t. from the Lat. urgeo) To incite, to push, to provoke, to exasperate; to press, to enforce; to importune, to solicit.
 URGE (v. int.) To press forward.
 URGED (p. from urge) Incited, pressed, importuned, solicited.
 URGENCY (s. from urgent) The state of being urgent.
 URGENT (adj. from urge) Pressing, violent; importunate, vehement in solicitation.
 URGENTLY (adv. from urgent) In an urgent manner.
 URGENTNESS (s. from urgent, but not much used) The state of being urgent.
 URGER (s. from urge) One who urges.
 URGEON (s. in agriculture) A kind of barley.
 URGING (p. a. from urge) Pressing, inciting, importuning.
 URGING (s. from the part.) The act of pressing any thing with more than common importunity.
 UR (s. from the Heb. signifying my light) A man's name.
 UR (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the naff.
 UR (s. from the Heb. signifying the light of the word) A man's name.
 UR (s. from the Heb. signifying the Lord is my light) A man's name.
 UR (s. from the Heb. signifying God is my light) A man's name.
 UR (s. from the Heb. signifying lights) An appendage of the breast plate worn by the high priest of the Jews.
 UR (s. from urine) A bottle in which urine is kept for inspection.
 UR (s. in anatomy) The urethra.
 UR (adj. from urine) Belonging to urine.
 UR (s. from urine) Provoking urine, working by urine.
 URATOR (s. from the Lat.) A diver, one who arches under water.
 URATRIX (s. in ornithology) The diver.
 URINE (s. from the Greek urōn) Animal water, the water separated by the kidneys and discharged from the bladder.
 URINE (v. int. from the sub.) To make water.
 URINES (s. in falconry) Nets to catch hawks.
 URINING (p. a. from urine, but not used) Making water.
 URINOUS (adj. from urine) Partaking of urine, impregnated with urine.
 URIS (s. a local word) The etherings of a hedge. Bayley.
 URIS (adj. a local word) Stopped in the growth. Bayley.
 URIS (s. a local word) A dwarf. Bayley.
 URIS (s. from the Lat. urna) Any vessel with a mouth narrower than the body, a water pot, the vessel in which the remains of burnt bodies were deposited.
 URNA (s. from the Lat.) An urn.
 URICRITERIUM (s. with physicians) The judgement given from the inspection of urine.
 URICRITICA (s. with physicians) The prognostics drawn from the inspection of urine.
 URICULUS (s. in ornithology) The heathcock.
 URINANCY (s. from the Greek urōn urine, and urōn magic) The judgement of a disease from the inspection of urine.
 URINOMANTIA (s. from the Greek urōn urine, and urōn magic) Uromancy, the inspection of urine.
 URINOGIUM (s. in anatomy) The narrowest part of the chine.
 URINOSCOPIA (s. from the Greek urōn urine, and urōn view) Uroscopy.
 URINOSCOPY (s. from the Greek urōn urine, and urōn view) The inspection of urine.
 URIS (s. in coal mines) A kind of blue clay which lies at the coal.
 URIS (s. a different spelling) The urray, a kind of blue clay dug out of coal mines.
 URIS (s. in zoology) A bear.
 URIS (s. in astronomy) The bear, a constellation of the northern hemisphere distinguished by the greater and lesser.
 URULA (s.) The name of a woman.
 URULINE (s.) One of a particular order of nuns.
 URUS (s. in zoology) The bear.

U S U

UR/TICA (s. in botany) The nettle.
 UR/TICAMARI/NA (s. in ichthyology) A species of medusa, the sea nettle.
 Urticose (adj. from urtica) Abounding with nettles.
 URUS (s. in zoology) The buffalo, a kind of wild bull.
 US (pron. plu.) The oblique case of we, the persons speaking in the oblique case.
 USAGE (s. from use, the s is flat) Treatment, custom, practice long continued; manners, behaviour; but this sense is now grown obsolete.
 USAGER (s. from usage) One who has the use of any thing in trust for another.
 USANCE (s. from use) Use, proper employment; usury, interest of money; the space of a month usually allowed for the payment of a bill of exchange after it has been accepted.
 USAUNT (adj. obsolete) Using, wont, accustomed. Ch.
 USAUNCE (s. an obsolete spelling) Usance, custom, use. Chaucer.
 USE (s. from the Lat. utor to use, the s is sharp) The act of employing any thing; usage, custom; practice, habit; interest, money paid for the loan of money.
 USE (v. t. from the sub. the s is flat) To employ, to accustom, to habituate; to practice, to treat; to behave; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Shakespeare.
 USE (v. int. the s is flat) To practice habitually, to be wont, to frequent; but this sense is obsolete. Milton.
 USED (p. from use) Employed to some purpose, accustomed, treated.
 USEFUL (adj. from use, the s is sharp) Profitable, convenient, helpful.
 USEFULLY (adv. from useful) In an useful manner.
 USEFULNESS (s. from useful) The state or quality of being useful.
 USELESS (adj. from use) Answering no purpose, having no use.
 USELESSLY (adv. from useless) In an useless manner.
 USELESSNESS (s. from useless) The state or quality of being useless.
 USEN (v. t. obsolete) To use, to enjoy. Ch.
 USER (s. from use) One who uses. Chaucer.
 USERE (s. obsolete) A usurer.
 USHER (s. from the French huissier) One who introduces strangers to a person of rank; an under teacher, one who introduces young scholars to the higher parts of learning.
 USHER (v. t. from the sub.) To introduce, to introduce as an harbinger; with in, and unto: as, "And with due honours usher in the May."
 USHERED (p. from usher) Introduced; with in, and unto: as, "The earth is to be ushered in."
 USHERING (p. a. from usher) Introducing.
 USHERING (s. from the part.) The act of introducing.
 USHERSHIP (s. from usher) The office of an usher.
 USK (s.) A river in Wales.
 USK (s.) A town in Monmouthshire; it has a market on Monday, and is 141 miles from London.
 USK (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Usk, made at Usk.
 USNEA (s. in botany) A genus of mosses.
 UQUEBAUGH (s. a different spelling) The uquebaugh.
 USQUEBAUGH (s. from the Erie signifying the water of life) The whisky, a kind of compound distilled spirit.
 USTION (s. from the Lat. uro to burn) The act of burning, the state of being burnt.
 USTORIOUS (adj. from the Lat. uro ustus to burn) Having the power or quality of burning.
 USTRIGO (s. from the Lat.) The blating of corn; the heat or burning of a sore or ulcer.
 USTRINA, USTRINUM (s. from the Lat.) The place where dead bodies were burnt.
 USUAL (adj. from use) Common, customary, frequent.
 USUALLY (adv. from usual) Commonly, frequently.
 USUALNESS (s. from usual) Commonness, frequency.
 USUCAPTION (s. from the Lat. usus use, and capio to take, a law term) The acquisition of property by possession and enjoyment for a number of years prescribed by law.
 USUFRUCT (s. from the Lat. usus use, and fructus to enjoy) The temporary use of any thing, the enjoyment of property without power to alienate.
 USUFRUCTUARY (s. from usufruct) One who has the use or temporary enjoyment of any thing without the power of alienation.
 USUFRUCTUUS (s. a law term) The usufruct.
 USUFRUIT (s. a different spelling) The usufruct. Scott.
 USUNCHAS/AN (s.) A man's name; the sixth and greatest prince of the Turcoman family.
 USURA

- USURA (s. from the Lat.) Usury. Phillips.
USURE (v. int. from the Lat. usura usury) To practise usury.
Usurer (s. from usury) One who puts money to interest; one who takes exorbitant interest for money.
Usurious (adj. from usury) Practising usury, exorbitantly greedy of profit.
Usurioulness (s. from usurious) The state or quality of being exorbitantly greedy of profit.
USURP (v. t. from the Lat. usurpo) To possess by force, to possess without right, to seize.
Usurpation (s. from usurp) A forcible and unjust possession, an illegal seizure of possessions or power.
Usurped (p. from usurp) Possessed by force, possessed without right, seized.
Usurper (s. from usurp) One who usurps, one who seizes a possession without right.
Usurping (p. a. from usurp) Possessing by force, possessing without right, seizing.
Usurping (s. from the part.) The act of seizing a possession without right.
Usurpingly (adv. from usurping) Without just right, with usurpation.
USURY (s. from the Lat. usura) Interest, money paid for the use of money; the practice of taking interest, interest of money in contempt.
UT (s. in music) The first note so called in some scales of music.
UTAS (s. a law term) The eighth day following any term or festival.
UTCH/UNQUOIS (s. in zoology) A kind of wild cat in the West Indies.
UTEN/SIL (s. from the Lat. utensile) An instrument for any use, a tool.
UTERIASCENSIO (s. with physicians) The rising of the womb.
UTERINE (adj. from the Lat. uterinus) Belonging to the womb; born of the same mother but having a different father.
UTERIPROCEDENTIA (s. with physicians) The prolapsion of the womb.
UTERUS (s. in anatomy) The womb.
Utlag'thesf, Utlag'these (s. an old word) The privilege which the lord of the manor formerly had of punishing theft within the liberty of his fee.
UTILE (adj. from the Lat.) Profitable. Dict. of Arts.
Utility (s. from utile) Usefulness, profit; convenience, advantage.
U'tis (s. an old word) A stir, something more than common, a kind of bustle. Shakespeare.
Utlaga'tion (s. an old law term) An outlawry.
Utlag'h (s. an old word) An outlaw, a person outlawed.
Utlaw'ry (s. an old word) Outlawry.
Utle'pe (s. an old law term) The escape of a thief or robber.
UTMOST (adj. from the Sax. utmest) Extreme, placed at the extremity, being in the highest degree.
Ut'most (s. from the adj. put absolutely) The extremity, the most that can be made of any thing, the highest degree.
UTOPIA (s.) A fictitious well governed country.
Utopian (adj. from Utopia) Belonging to Utopia; chimerical, theoretical.
UTTER (adj. from the Sax.) Situated on the outside, extreme; complete, irrevocable.
Ut'ter (v. t. from the adj.) To speak, to pronounce; to disclose, to discover; to sell, to vend; to disperse, to emit at large.
Ut'terable (adj. from utter) Capable of being uttered, expressible.
Ut'terance (s. from utter) Pronunciation, vocal expression; extremity. Shakespeare.
Ut'terbarrister (s. a different spelling) An outer barrister. Scott.
Ut'tered (p. from utter) Spoken, pronounced; vended, dispersed.
Ut'terer (s. from utter) One who utters.
Ut'terest (adj. from utter, but not used) Most distant, most extreme. Chaucer.
Ut'tering (p. a. from utter) Speaking, pronouncing, vending, selling.
Ut'tering (s. from the part.) The act of pronouncing, the act of vending.
Ut'terliche (adv. obsolete) Utterly. Chaucer.
Ut'terly (adv. from utter) Fully, completely.
Ut'termost (adj. from utter) Extreme, most remote.
Ut'termost (s. from the adj.) The greatest degree.
Ut'tir (adj. obsolete) Outward, external. Chaucer.
U'VA (s. from the Lat.) The uvula.
UVAUR/SI (s. in botany) A species of the arbutus.
- U'VEA (s. in anatomy) The third tunic or coat of eye.
U'veous (adj. from uvea) Belonging to the uvea.
U'VID (adj. from the Lat. uvidus) Moist, wet.
UVIFEROUS (adj. from the Lat. uva a grape, and to bear) Bearing grapes.
UVIGENNA (s. in anatomy) The little piece of flesh that hangs down from the roof of the mouth, uvula.
UVIGENNA (s. in anatomy) The uvigena.
VULCAN (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed of fire, the blacksmith of Jupiter.
VULCANALIA (s. from Vulcan) The feasts which were celebrated in honour of Vulcan.
Vulca'nian (adj. from Vulcan) Belonging to Vulcan.
VULCA/NO (s. from Vulcan) A burning mountain, volcano.
VULGAR (adj. from the Lat. vulgus the common people) Belonging to the common people, done among common people; mean, low; public, commonly put.
Vul'gar (s. from the adj.) The common people.
Vulgar'ity (s. from vulgar) The state of being vulgar, meanness, a particular specimen of meanness.
Vulgarization (s. from vulgar, but not used) The act of making common or vulgar.
Vul'garly (adv. from vulgar) Commonly, among common people.
Vul'gariness (s. from vulgar) The state of being vulgar.
VULGATE (adj. from the Lat. vulgo to publish) Belonging to a noted Latin version of the Old and New Testament.
VULGATE (s. from the adj.) A noted Latin version of the Old and New Testament; this is the only version which the Roman church acknowledges as authentic.
VULGO (adv. from the Lat. but not used) Commonly.
Vul'ned (adj. in heraldry) Wounded.
VULNERABLE (adj. from the Lat. vulnus a wound) Capable of being wounded, susceptible of external injuries.
Vul'nerableness (s. from vulnerable) The state of being vulnerable.
VULNERARIA (s. in botany) The anthyllis.
VULNERARY (adj. from the Lat. vulnus a wound) Used in the cure of wounds, good for wounds.
Vul'nerary (s. from the adj.) An herb used in healing wounds, a healing medicament.
VULNERATE (v. t. from the Lat. vulnero) To wound to hurt.
Vul'nerated (p. from vulnerate) Wounded, hurt.
Vul'nerating (p. a. from vulnerate) Wounding, hurting.
Vul'nerating (s. from the part.) The act of wounding.
VULNEROSE (adj. from the Lat. vulnero to wound) Full of wounds.
VULNIFIC (adj. from the Lat. vulnus a wound, facio to make) Causing wounds.
Vul'nific (adj. from vulnific) Causing wounds.
Vul'ning (adj. in heraldry) Wounding, wounding as the pelican.
VULNUS (s. from the Lat.) A wound.
VULPANSER (s. in ornithology) The bergander, a kind of the goose kind.
VULPECULA (s. in zoology) A young fox.
VULPES (s. in zoology) The fox.
Vul'pinariness (s. from vulpinary) Craftiness.
Vul'pinary (adj. from vulpine) Crafty, subtle, like a fox.
VULPINE (adj. from the Lat. vulpes a fox) Belonging to a fox.
VULSION (s. from the Lat. vello to pull) The pulling.
Vul'tuous (adj. from the Lat. vultus the countenance) Having a grave countenance.
VULTUR (s. a correct spelling, from the Lat.) The vulture.
VULTURE (s. in ornithology) A large and very voracious bird of prey.
Vul'turine (adj. from vulture) Belonging to a vulture.
VULTURIUS (s. in ornithology) The vulture.
VULTURIUS (s. from the foregoing) An extortioner, an unlucky chance at dice.
VULTUR'NUS (s.) An easterly wind, the north wind, the south east wind.
VULVA (s. from the Lat.) The womb, the matrix, neck of the womb, the female pudenda.
VULVACEREBRI (s. in anatomy) A kind of furrow between the protuberances of the brain.
VULVARIA (s. in botany) A kind of motherwort.
U'VULA (s. in anatomy) A round soft spongy bit of flesh which hangs down from the back part of the roof of the mouth.
UVULARIA (s. in botany) The horsetail.

W A D

Uvula (s. from uvula, and spoon) An instrument in surgery used in stimulating the uvula.
UXBRIDGE (s.) A town in Middlesex; it has a market on Thursday, and is 18 miles from London.
Uxbridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Uxbridge, made at Uxbridge.
UXOR (s. from the Lat.) A wife.
UXORIOUS (adj. from uxor) Submissively fond of a wife, given to connubial dotage.
UXORIOUSLY (adv. from uxorious) With connubial dotage, with submissive fondness to a wife.
UXORIOUSNESS (s. from uxorious) Connubial dotage, submissive fondness to a wife.
UXORIUM (s. from the Lat.) A mulct or forfeit among the Romans for not marrying.
VIE (v. int. a different spelling) To vie, to strive to equal or excel another. Scott.
VIRIL (s. an incorrect spelling) A ferril.
VIRIL (s. from the Heb. signifying counsel) The name of a country; the name of a man.
UZBEK (s.) A man's name; the prince of a district in Tartary; the name of a country, a dynasty in Tartary.
Uzbekian (adj. from Uzbek) Belonging to Uzbek.
Uzbekian (s. from the adj.) A native of Uzbek, an inhabitant of Uzbek.
UZIFIR (s. in chymistry) The cinnabar made of sulphur and mercury.
UZIFUR (s. in chymistry) The uzifir.
UZIFUR (s. a different spelling) The uzifir.
UZH (s. from the Heb. signifying strength) A man's name.
UZENSHERAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
UZIEL (s. from the Heb. signifying my strength) A man's name.
UZIAH (s. from the Heb. signifying the strength of the Lord) A man's name.
UZIEL (s. from the Heb. signifying the strength of God) A man's name.
Uzziel (s. from Uzziel) A descendant of Uzziel.

W.

W (s.) The twenty-first letter of the English alphabet; it has the power both of a vowel and a consonant.
W (s. a local word) Sea weed, any thing thrown up the sea. Cole.
WAG (v. t. a local word, supposed to be from the Dutch waggellen) To move from side to side, to totter.
Wagging (p. a. from wabble) Moving from side to side, tottering.
Wagging (s. from the part.) The act of moving from side to side.
Waggingly (adv. from wabbling) With a motion from side to side. Bailey.
Waggy (adj. obsolete) Sky coloured. Chaucer.
Waggy (s. from the part. obsolete) The sky colour. Bailey.
Waggy (adj. obsolete) Sky coloured. Bailey.
Waggy (s. from the Sax. wead hay) A small loose bundle, a quantity of hay or straw; woad, a plant used in dyeing; black lead. Woodward.
Waggy (v. t. from the sub.) To make up in small quantities to make into small cocks of hay or corn.
Waggy (s. in natural history) Black lead. Woodw.
Waggy (p. from wad) Made up in wads.
Waggy (s. in commerce) A kind of coarse stuff used in the collars of horses.
Waggy (s. a different spelling) The waggy.
Waggy (s. in gunnery) A rod with a worm at the end to draw the charge of a gun.
Waggy (p. a. from wad) Making up in wads.
Waggy (s. from the part) The act of making up in wads, that which is made up in wads; that which is forced into a gun to keep the powder close.
Waggy (v. int. from the Dutch waggelen) To shake, to deviate from a right line.
Waggy (s. a different spelling) Wattles, the testicles of a cock. Bailey.
Waggy (p. a. from waddle) Moving from side to side, waggling, deviating from a right line.
Waggy (s. from the part.) The act of moving from side to side in walking.

W A G

Wad'dlingly (adv. from waddling) With a motion from side to side.
WADE (v. int. from the Lat. vado to go) To walk through water, to pass without swimming; to pass with difficulty.
Wading (p. a. from wade) Walking through the water; passing with difficulty.
Wading (s. from the part.) The act of walking through the water, the act of passing with difficulty. Spenser.
Waes (s. obsolete) Waves.
Wafe (s. a different spelling) A waif.
WAFER (s. from the Dutch wafel) A thin cake, a kind of paste to inclose letters; the bread given in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper by the papists.
Wafferer (s. obsolete) A wayfaring man; a vagabond.
Waft (v. t. probably from wave) To carry through the air, to carry on the surface of the water, to beckon, to inform by a moving sign.
Waft (v. int.) To float.
Waft (v. int. obsolete) To wander about. Chaucer.
Waft (s. from the verb) A floating body; the motion of a streamer.
Waftage (s. from waft) Carriage in the air or by water. Shakespeare.
Wafted (p. from waft) Carried with an easy motion through the air or on the water.
Wafter (s. from waft) A light built ship, a frigate, one of the officers who take care of the fishery on the coast of Norfolk and Suffolk.
Wafting (p. a. from waft) Carrying through the air, carrying on the surface of the water.
Wafting (s. from the part.) The act of carrying through the air, the act of carrying on the surface of the water.
Wafture (s. from waft, but not used) The act of wafting. Shakespeare.
WAG (v. t. from the Sax. wagian) To move lightly, to shake slightly.
Wag (v. int.) To be in quick motion, to be in ridiculous motion, to go, to move.
WAG (s. from the Sax. wægan to cheat) A merry fellow, one ludicrously mischievous.
Wagga (s. in old records) A weight, a quantity of wool, a quantity of cheese; two hundred and fifty-six pounds.
WAGE (v. t. perhaps from the German wagea to attempt something arduous) To attempt, to venture; to make war, to carry on war.
Wage (v. t. a law term) To come as a defendant with others on oath that he owes nothing to the plaintiff as has been declared.
Wage (v. t. obsolete) To set to hire, to take to hire.
Wage (s. from the verb, obsolete or local) Wages; a wage, a pledge. Spenser.
Waged (p. from wage) Attempted, ventured, carried on as war.
Wager (s. from wage) A bett, a pledge; an offer to make oath as a defendant that he owes the plaintiff nothing.
Wager (v. t. from the sub.) To lay, to pledge as a bett, to pledge on some casual event.
Wagered (p. from wager) Betted, laid on some casual event.
Wagering (p. a. from wager) Laying a wager.
Wagering (s. from the part.) The act of laying a wager.
Wagges (s. from wage, and now used only in the plu.) Pay given for service; the hire of a servant.
Wag'gery (s. from wag) Sarcastical merriment, the tricks of a wag.
Wag'gish (adj. from wag) Frolicsome, given to mischievous merriment.
Wag'gishly (adv. from waggish) With Sarcastical merriment, with waggery.
Wag'gishness (s. from waggish) The state or quality of being waggish.
WAG'GLE (v. int. from the Dutch waggelen) To waddle, to move from side to side.
Wag'gling (p. a. from waggie) Waddling, moving from side to side.
Wag'gling (s. from the part.) The act of moving from side to side.
WAG'GON (s. from the Sax. wægan) A carriage with four wheels for heavy burdens, a chariot; but this sense is now grown out of use. Shakespeare.
Waggonage (s. from waggon) Money paid for the hire of waggons.
Waggonbed (s. from waggon, and bed) The bed of a waggon.
Waggoner (s. from waggon) One who drives a waggon.
Waggonmoney (s. from waggon, and money) Money paid for the hire of waggons. Scott.
Waggonrope

W A I

- Waggonrope (s. from waggon, and rope) A cartrope, the rope by which the load is tied to a waggon.
- Waggonshafts (s. from waggon, and shafts) The shafts of a waggon.
- Waggonwheel (s. from waggon, and wheel) The wheel of a waggon.
- Waggonwhip (s. from waggon, and whip) A long whip used in driving a waggon, a cartwhip.
- Wag'tail (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the water wagtail.
- Waid (adj. obsolete) Crushed, hurt with weight. Shake.
- Waif (s. from wave) Weif, goods found and not owned.
- Waifaring (adj. a different spelling) Wayfaring. Scott.
- WAIL (v. t. from the Italian gualare) To bewail, to bemoan, to lament.
- WAIL (v. int.) To grieve, to express sorrow.
- Wail (s. from the verb) An audible expression of sorrow. Thomson.
- Wailed (p. from wail) Bewailed, lamented.
- Wail'd (adj. obsolete) Old; changed; choice, picked out, collected. Chaucer.
- Wail'ful (adj. from wail) Sorrowful, mournful.
- Wailing (p. a. from wail) Bewailing, lamenting, expressing sorrow.
- Wailing (s. from the part.) The act of lamenting, lamentation.
- Waimenting (adj. obsolete) Lamenting, bewailing. Ch.
- Wain (s. from waggon) A kind of wheel carriage for heavy burdens, a kind of cart.
- Wain (v. t. not so modern or correct a spelling) To wane.
- Wain'able (adj. from wain, an old word) Capable of being tilted.
- Wain'age (s. from wain) The furniture of a wain or cart.
- Wain'bote (s. from wain, and bote) Timber or wood necessary for the construction of wheel carriages for heavy burdens.
- Wain'cope (s. from wain, and cope) The pole or shaft by which a wain is drawn.
- Wain'ed (p. from wain, but not so correct a spelling) Waned, decreased as the moon. Shakespeare.
- Wain'ing (p. a. from wain, but not so correct a spelling) Waning, decreasing as the moon.
- Wain'ing (s. from the part, but not so correct a spelling) A waning, the decrease of the moon. Hakewell.
- Wain'rope (s. from wain, and rope) A cart rope, the rope by which the burden is tied to a cart or waggon.
- WAIN'SCOT (s. from the Dutch wain'scot) The woodwork with which a room is fitted up, the wooden covering of a wall on the inside.
- Wain'scot (v. t. from the sub.) To line walls with framed wood work, to line.
- Wain'scoted (p. from wain'scot) Lined as a room or wall with framed wood work.
- Wain'scoting (p. a. from wain'scot) Lining rooms with framed wood work.
- Wain'scoting (s. from the part.) The act of covering with framed wood work.
- Wain'scotnail (s. from wain'scot, and nail) A kind of spike or nail with which wain'scot is fastened.
- Wain'scotted (p. a common but not so analogical a spelling) Wain'scoted.
- Wain'scoting (p. a. a common but not so analogical a spelling) Wain'scoting.
- WAINS/FLEET (s.) A town in Lincolnshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 134 miles from London.
- Wains'fleet (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wainsfleet, made at Wainsfleet.
- WAIR (s. in building) A piece of timber two yards long and a foot broad.
- WAIST (s. from the Brit. gwofen to bind) The smallest part of the body, the part just below the ribs; the middle deck, the middle floor of a ship.
- Waist'coat (s. from waist, and coat) A garment worn about the waist, the garment worn by men under the coat.
- Waist'coatbutton (s. from waistcoat, and button) A button of a smaller size, the button of a waistcoat.
- Waist'coatsleeve (s. from waistcoat, and sleeve) The sleeve of a waistcoat.
- WAIT (v. t. from the Dutch wachten) To stay for, to expect; to attend, to accompany.
- Wait (v. int.) To stay, to stay in expectation, to attend, to attend as a consequence; to look watchfully, to lie in ambush; with for, on, and upon: as, I will wait on you to-morrow. "She waited for him a whole day."
- Wait (s. from the verb) Ambush.
- Wait'ed (p. from wait) Stayed for, expected, attended; with for, on, and upon: as, "It was wait'ed for with

W A L

- great impatience.* "He was waited on with much assiduity."
- Wait'er (s. from wait) An attendant, one who attends for the accommodation of others; a kind of plate waiter, which any thing is placed to be handed to company.
- Waiter (s. from wait) An officer who is to take care that no goods be landed from a ship till the duty is secured.
- Waites (s. from wait) A kind of music, a set of musicians who attend at the door or go about the town on particular occasions.
- Waiting (p. a. from wait) Staying for, expecting, tending.
- Waiting (s. from the part.) The act of staying for the act of attending.
- Waitingboy (s. from waiting, and boy) A boy in livery who waits on a gentleman or lady.
- Waitinggentleman (s. from waiting, and gentleman) An upper servant who waits on a person of rank.
- Waitinggentlewoman (s. from waiting, and gentlewoman) An upper servant who attends on a lady.
- Waitingman (s. from waiting, and man) A footman, a man servant in livery who waits on a gentleman or lady.
- Waitingmen (s. plu. from waitingman) More than one waiting man.
- Waitingmaid (s. from waiting, and maid) A maid servant who attends on a lady.
- Waitingwoman (s. from waiting, and woman) A waiting maid, a maid servant who waits on a lady.
- Waitingwomen (s. plu. from waitingwoman) More than one waiting woman.
- WAIVE (v. t. a law term, from the Sax. wæfen leave) To pass, to refuse to accept; to outlaw as applied to a woman.
- Waive (adj. a law term, from the verb) Outlawed as applied to a woman; passed, refused.
- Waive (s. from the adj. a law term) A woman who forfeited the protection of the laws.
- Waiv'ed (p. from waive) Passed, left, refused to be accepted; deprived as a woman of the protection of laws.
- Waiv'er (s. from waive, a law term) The act of passing a refusal to accept.
- Waiv'ing (p. a. from waive, a law term) Passing, refusing to accept; depriving a woman of the protection of the laws.
- Waiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refusing, the act of depriving a woman of the benefit of the laws.
- Waiv'ard (a j. a different spelling) Wayward.
- Waiv'ardness (s. a different spelling) Waywardness.
- WAKE (v. t. from the Sax. wacian) To raise from sleep, to excite, to put in motion; to bring to life again.
- Wake (v. int.) To keep awake, to cease to sleep, to be on the alert.
- Wake (s. from the verb) A vigil, the state of being awake; an annual festival to commemorate the dedication of a church formerly kept by watching all night; the print or track formed on the water by the course of the ship.
- Wa'ked (p. from wake) Roused from sleep, excited to action.
- WAKEFIELD (s.) A town in Yorkshire; it has a market on Friday, and 187 miles from London.
- Wa'kefield (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wakefield, made at Wakefield.
- Wa'keful (adj. from wake) Vigilant, forbearing.
- Wa'kefully (adv. from wakeful) Vigilantly, with forbearance of sleep.
- Wa'kefulness (s. from wakeful) The state of being awake; want of sleep, forbearance of sleep.
- Wa'ken (v. t. from wake) To rouse from sleep, to cite to action; to bring forth.
- Wa'ken (v. int.) To rise from sleep, to cease from sleeping.
- Wa'kened (p. from waken) Roused from sleep, cited to action.
- Wa'kening (p. a. from waken) Rousing from sleep, ceasing from sleep, exciting to action.
- Wa'kening (s. from the part.) The act of rousing from sleep.
- Wa'kerobin (s. in botany) The name of an herb, cuckoo-pintle.
- WALA'CHIA (s.) A province of Turkey in Europe, part of the ancient Dacia.
- WAL/BURG (s.) The name of a woman.
- WALD (s. from the Sax. walda) A ground overgrown with bushes and trees, a wood.
- Walden'ses (s. from Waldo) The disciples or followers of Waldo.
- WAL'DO (s.) A man's name, a native of Lyons, France who denied the real presence in the the Lord's Supper in opposition to the transubstantiation of the papists.

W A L

WALDON (s.) A town in Essex; it has a market on Saturday, and is 43 miles from London.

Waldon (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Waldon, made at Waldon.

WALDWIN (s.) A man's name.

WALE (s. from the Sax. well) A rising part on the surface of any thing; a timber in the side of a ship which projects beyond the rest.

Waleknot (s. a sea term) A kind of knot which will not slip.

Waleared (adj. a sea term) Built straight up after the extremity of the bulge, walefided.

Wales (s. supposed to be from Gaul) A principality adjoining to England and comprehending twelve counties.

Walefided (adj. a sea term) Built without any incurvature as a ship in the upper part.

Waleiscus (s. in old records) A servant, a military officer.

WALK (v. t. from the Sax. wealcon) To pass over, to lead out for air or exercise.

WALK (v. int.) To move by deliberate steps, to move for exercise or amusement; to appear as a spectator; to be in motion, to range, to move off; to travel; to act in any particular manner.

Walk (s. from the verb) The act of walking, a gate, a step; a length of space through which one walks, an avenue set with trees, a way, a road; the slowest pace of an horse.

Wale (v. t. obsolete) To welk, to obscure. Spenser.

Walel (p. from walk, obsolete) Welked, obscured. Sp.

Waleled (p. from walk) Passed through, made to walk.

Waleker (s. from walk) One that walks; a forester. Cole.

Waleker (s. a local word) A fuller.

Waleking (p. a. from walk) Moving by deliberate steps; making to walk.

Waleking (adj. from the part.) Used in walking.

Waleking (s. from the part.) The act of moving by deliberate steps.

Walekingcane (s. from walking, and cane) A cane to walk with.

Walekingstaff (s. from walking, and staff) A stick to walk with.

Walekingstick (s. from walking, and stick) A staff to walk with.

Walemill (s. from walk, and mill, a local word) A fulling mill. Bailey.

WALL (s. perhaps from the Lat. vallum) A fence of brick or stone laid one upon another, the side of a building; a fortification. To take the wall, to take the upper place.

Wall (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a wall.

Wall (v. t. from the sub.) To inclose with walls, to defend by walls.

Wallia (s. in old records) A wall.

Wallcreeper (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

Walled (p. from wall) Inclosed with walls, defended by walls.

WALLET (s. from the Sax. weallian to travel) A bag in which the necessities for travelling are put, a nap-sack; any thing protuberant and swagging.

Walleye (s. from wall, and eye) An eye variegated with white.

Walleyed (adj. from walleye) Having eyes variegated with white.

Wallflower (s. from wall, and flower) A species of stock-gillflower.

Wallfruit (s. from wall, and fruit) The fruit of trees which grow against a wall.

Wallia (s. in old records) A wall, a bank.

Walling (p. a. from wall) Inclosing with a wall, fencing with a wall.

Walling (s. from the part.) The act of raising walls; a defence of walls.

Walling (adj. a local word) Boiling. Bailey.

WALLINGFORD (s.) A borough town in Berkshire; it has a market on Tuesday and Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 46 miles from London.

Wallingford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wallingford, made at Wallingford.

Wallhouse (s. from wall, and house) The name of an infected. Answorth.

Wallnewt (s. from wall, and newt) A newt which harbours in a wall.

WALLOON (s.) One of the ancient inhabitants of that part of the Low Countries now subject to the house of Austria; the language of the Walloons.

Walloon (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the Walloons.

W A N

WAL/LOP (v. int. from the Sax. wealen, a low or droll word) To boil.

Wal/lop (s. a cant word) A roll as of fat.

Wal/loping (p. a. from wallop, a droll word) Boiling.

Wal/louse (s. a different spelling) A wall louse. Johns.

WAL/LOW (v. int. from the Sax. walwian) To move heavily, to roll as in filth or mire; to live in a state of gross vice.

Wal/low (s. from the verb) A kind of rolling walk.

Wal/lowing (p. a. from wallow) Moving heavily, rolling in filth, living in gross vice.

Wal/lowing (s. from the part.) The act of rolling in filth, the act of living in gross vice.

WAL/LOWISH (adj. from the Sax. walgen to loath) In-spid, untasteful.

Wal/lowithness (s. from wallow) Insipidness, unfavorableness.

Wal/peper (s. in botany) The houseleek.

Wal/ue (adj. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wal/wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Wal/ly (v. t. a local word) To fondle, to indulge. Bai.

Walm (s. not used) The act of boiling gently. Bailey.

Wal/note (s. an obsolete spelling) The walnut. Chaucer.

WAL/NUT (s. in botany) The name of a tree, the wood of the tree; the fruit of the tree.

Wal/nut (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the walnut, made of the wood of the walnut.

Wal/nutleaf (s. from walnut, and leaf) The leaf of the walnut.

Wal/nutleaves (s. plu. of walnutleaf) The leaves of the walnut.

Wal/nutshell (s. from walnut, and shell) The shell of a walnut.

Wal/nuttree (s. from walnut, and tree) The tree which produces the walnut.

Wal/worth (v. t. third person sing.) Vomiteth. Chau.

WAL/RUS (s. in zoology) The phoca, a kind of sealow.

WAL/SAL (s.) A town in Staffordshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 116 miles from London.

Wal/sal (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Walsal, made at Walsal.

WAL/SHAM (s.) A town in Norfolk; it has a market on Thursday, and is 123 miles from London.

Wal/sham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wal/sham, made at Wal/sham.

WAL/SINGAAM (s.) A town in Norfolk; it has a market on Friday, and is 116 miles from London.

Wal/singham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wal/singham, made at Wal/singham.

Walt (v. int. a sea term) To roll for want of ballast.

WAL/TER (s.) A man's name.

Wal/ter (v. int. an old spelling) To welter. Bailey.

Wal/ter (s. an old word) A woodman, a pilgrim. Bailey.

WAL/THAM (s.) A town in Hampshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 73 miles from London.

WAL/THAM (s.) A town in Essex; it has a market on Tuesday; and is 12 miles from London.

WAL/THAM (s.) A town in Leicestershire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 111 miles from London.

WAL/THAM (s.) A town in Hertfordshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 11 miles from London.

Wal/tham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Waltham, made at Waltham.

WALTHERIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

Wal/tring (adj. an old spelling) Weltering. Chaucer.

WAL/TRON (s. in zoology) The morie, the sea horse.

Wal/come (adj. obsolete) Loathsome. Chaucer.

Walvia/ria (s. a law term) The state of a woman who has forfeited the protection of the laws.

WAM/BLE (v. int. from the Dutch wemmelen) To roll as the stomach with a nausea.

Wam/bling (p. a. from wamble) Rolling as the stomach with a nausea.

Wam/bling (s. from the part.) The rolling of the stomach with a nausea.

WAN (adj. from the Sax. wann) Pale as with sickness, languid of look.

Wan (v. t. the old pret. of win) Did win. Sp.

WAND (s. from the Danish vaand) A small long rod, a rod used in feats of magic, a staff of authority.

Wand/ed (adj. from wand) Furnished with a wand; made of twigs.

WAND/ER (v. int. from the Sax. wandrian) To rove, to ramble; to deviate, to go astray; with from: as "She wandered from her home." Gay.

Wand/er (v. t.) To travel over, to rove over. Mil.

Wand/er (s. from wander) One that wanders a rambler.

Wand/ering (p. a. from wander) Roving, rambling, travelling over without any certain course.

Wand/ering (s. from the part.) The act of roving, u certain peregrination, a deviation from the right course; uncertainty, want of direction.

W A P

WANE (v. int. from the Sax. wanian) To grow less, to decrease as the moon; to decline, to sink.

Wane (s. from the verb) The decrease of the moon; a decline.

Waned (p. from wane) Decreased as the moon, declined.

WANG (s. from the Sax. wong) An iron instrument with teeth.

Wan'ga (s. from wang) An iron instrument with teeth.

WANG'ER (s. from the Sax.) A nail, a budget.

Wang'is (s. obsolete) The eyeteeth. Chaucer.

Wang'teeth (s. plu. of wangtooth) The canini, the jaw teeth.

Wang'tooth (s. from wang, and tooth) The jaw tooth, one of the canini.

Wang'toeth (s. obsolete) The eyeteeth. Cb.

Wan'hope (s. an old word) The want of hope, despair. Bailey.

Wan'isheth (v. int. the third person, an old spelling) Vanisheth. Chaucer.

Wan'kle (adj. a local word) Flaccid, pliable, fickle. Bailey.

Wan'lafs (s. a hunting term) The state of a deer when driven to a stand.

Wanna'gium (s. in old records) Wainage, money paid for carriage in carts or waggons.

Wan'ned (adj. from wan) Turned pale.

Wan'ner (adj. comp. of wan) Wan in a greater degree.

Wan'nefs (s. from wan) Paleness, languor of countenance.

Wan'neft (adj. fup. of wan) Wan in the greatest degree.

Wan'nish (adj. from wan) Somewhat wan.

WANT (v. i. from the Sax. wana) To need, to have need of, to lack; to wish for, to long for.

Want (v. int.) To be deficient, to fail.

Want (s. from the verb) Need, deficiency; poverty, penury.

WANT'AGE (s.) A town in Berkshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 60 miles from London.

Want'age (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wantage, made at Wantage.

Want'ed (p. from want) Needed, wished for, longed for.

Want'ey (s. a different spelling) A wanty. Bailey.

Want'ing (p. a. from want) Needing, wishing for, longing for.

Want'ing (adj. from the part.) Deficient, not found, not enjoyed.

Want'ing (s. from the part.) The act of longing for, the state of being deficient.

Want'loufe (s. in the history of insects) A wall louse, a bug.

WANT'ON (adj. of doubtful origin) Lascivious, libidinous; licentious, dissolute; frolicksome, gay, sportive; luxuriant, superfluous.

Want'on (s. from the adj.) A strumpet, a libidinous person; a trifter, an insignificant flatterer; a word of slight endearment. "Peace, my wanton, he will do."

Want'on (v. int. from the sub.) To play libidinally, to revel; to move nimbly and irregularly.

Want'oning (p. a. from wanton) Playing the wanton, moving nimbly and irregularly.

Want'oning (s. from the part.) The act of playing the wanton.

Want'only (adv. from wanton) Libidinally, frolicksome, gayly, carelessly.

Want'onness (s. from wanton) The state of being wanton, libidinousness, licentiousness, sportiveness.

Want'rust (s. obsolete) Distrust, jealousy. Cb.

Want'wit (s. from want, and wit) A silly fellow, a fool.

WANT'Y (s. of uncertain etymology) A broad leather girth with which a load is fastened to the saddle, a surcingle. Tusser.

Wanze (v. int. a local word) To waste. Bai.

Wan'wred (adj. a local word) Hard, severe, unlucky. Cole.

Waped (adj. an old word) Dejected, crushed by misery. Shakespeare.

WAP'ENTAKE (s. from the Sax. wapen armour, and take) A division of a county, a hundred.

Wap'id (adj. obsolete) Troubled, sorrowful. Cb.

Wapp (s. a sea term) A rope with which the shrouds are set.

W A R

Wapfe (s. a local word) The wasp.

WAR (s. from the Dutch werre) A state of open hostility between two or more people or nations; the exercise of violence against opposers by sovereign command; a state of opposition, an act of opposition; instruments of hostility, forces, armies; the possession of arms.

War (v. t. from the sub. but not now used) To make war upon.

War (v. int.) To make war, to be in a state of hostility.

War (adj. obsolete) Wore.

War (adj. obsolete) Wary, cautious.

War'antife (s. obsolete) Guaranty, assurance.

WAR'BLE (v. t. from the Teut. warbeln) To shake sound, to utter musically, to quaver a musical sound.

War'ble (v. int.) To sing, to utter melodiously, to shake a note in singing.

War'bler (s. from warble) A singer, a songster, who warbles.

War'bling (p. a. from warble) Shaking a musical note, uttering melodiously.

War'bling (s. from the part.) The act of shaking a musical note, the act of shaking melodiously.

WARCH (v. int. from the Sax. wark) To ache; work.

WARD (v. t. from the Sax. wardian) To guard, watch, to defend, to protect; to fence off, to prevent striking.

Ward (v. int.) To keep guard, to act on the defensive.

Ward (s. from the verb) The act of watching, the act of guarding; guardianship, the state of a child under guardian; one in the hands of a guardian; a person, a fortress; custody, confinement; the division of a town; the division of an hospital; the part of a lock corresponding with the divisions of a key.

Ward'a (s. in old records) The custody of a town or castle.

Ward'age (s. from ward) Money paid for keeping guard.

Ward'gium (s. in old records) The custody of a town or fortress.

Ward'ain (s. obsolete) A guardian, a keeper.

WARD'BRIDGE (s.) A town in Cornwall; it has a market on Saturday, and is 242 miles from London.

Ward'bridge (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wardbridge, made at Wardbridge.

Ward'ecorn (s.) An ancient duty for watching and blowing a horn at a castle on a surprise.

Ward'ecorps (s. obsolete) One of the body guards.

Ward'ed (p. from ward) Guarded, protected, defended.

Ward'ein (s. an old spelling) A warden.

Ward'en (s. from ward) A guardian, a keeper; a head officer in some towns.

WARD'EN (s.) The name of a pear.

Ward'enpear (s.) The warden, a species of pear.

Ward'enship (s. from warden) The office of a warden.

Ward'er (s. from ward) One who wards, a keeper, a guard; a truncheon.

Ward'fega (s. an old word) The money formerly paid to the lord of the fee for the redemption of a ward.

Ward'fegh (s. a different spelling) The wardfega.

Ward'feoh (s. a different spelling) The wardfega, the money paid to the lord of the fee for the redemption of a ward, the value of a person under age.

Ward'in (s. an old spelling) A warden, a keeper, an arbitrator. Chaucer.

Ward'ing (p. a. from ward) Keeping, guarding, protecting, defending.

Ward'ing (s. from the part.) The act of guarding, the act of defending.

Ward'mote (s. from ward, and mote) The assembly of a ward, the court held in each distinct ward of the city of London.

Ward'money (s. from ward, and money) Money paid for keeping watch and ward.

Ward'penny (s. from ward, and penny) The money paid for maintaining watch and ward.

WARD'ROBE (s. from the French garderobe) A room where cloaths are kept, the cloaths or garments of a person of rank.

Ward'robe, Ward'rope (s. obsolete) A house of office, a jeaks. Chaucer.

Ward'ship (s. from ward) Guardianship; pupillage, the state of being under ward.

Ward'staff (s. from ward, and staff) The constable's staff.

W A R

WARD/WITE (s. from the Sax. weard a ward, and wite a fine) The money paid for keeping watch; an exemption from that payment.
WE (v. t. pret. of wear) Wore, did wear.
WARE (s. from the Sax. warn) Something to be sold, commodities.
WARE (adj. from the Sax. woer) Wary, cautious, divided against; with of, as, "He is not ware of
" (v. t. from the adj.) To take heed of, to be Dryden.
WARE (s.) A town in Hertfordshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 21 miles from London.
WAR (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Ware, made at Ware.
WARE (v. t. in old records) To fallow, to plough up ground to let it lie the summer.
WAR (s. in old records) Fallow, ground ploughed in summer.
WARE (adj. from ware) Cautious, timorously cautious. Johnson.
WAREFUL (s. from wareful) Cautiousness. Sid.
WAREHAM (s.) A borough town in Dorsetshire; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 115 miles from London.
WAREHAM (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wareham, made at Wareham.
WAREHOUSE (s. from ware, and house) A storehouse, a place where merchandize is kept.
WAREHOUSEKEEPER (s. from warehouse, and keeper) One who keeps a warehouse.
WAREHOUSEMAN (s. from warehouse, and man) A man who keeps a warehouse, one who sells goods wholesale.
WARE (adj. from ware) Uncautious, unwary. Sp.
WARILY (adv. from ware) Warily, cautiously. Sp.
WAR (s. from war, and fare) Military service, military life; a conflict, a state of war.
WAR (v. int. from the sub.) To lead a military
war.
WAR (p. a. from warfare) Leading a military war. Camden.
WAR (adj. from war, and the Lat. habilis apt)
Fit for war, military. Sp.
WAR (s. obsolete or local) A kind of bird supposed to take its prey and fix it to a thorn in order to eat it to pieces.
WAR (v. t. obsolete) To curse. Ch.
WAR (v. int.) To grow weary of. Ch.
WAR (v. t. obsolete) To worry. Ch.
WAR (adj. comp. of wary) Wary in a greater degree.
WAR (adj. sup. of wary) Wary in the greatest degree.
WAR (adj. obsolete) Wared, cautioned. Ch.
WAR (s.) A man's name.
WAR (v. t. an old word) To save, to defend. Chaucer.
WAR (v. t. pret. obsolete) Secured, conquered, won. Cole.
WAR (s. an old word) Reward. Ph.
WAR (s. from the Sax. weorc) A building-house. Sp.
WAR (adj. from war, and like) Fit for war, disposed to war, military, relating to war.
WAR (s. from war) One often quarrelled with.
WAR (s. from war) One often quarrelled with.
WAR (s. from war) One often quarrelled with.
WAR (s. from the Sax. warlog) A wizzard.
WAR (s. a different spelling, in the Scotch dialect) A wizzard.
WAR (adj. from the Sax. wearan) Heated to a small degree; zealous, ardent; violent, furious, fanciful, hasty.
WAR (v. t. from the adj.) To heat in a small degree;
to be vehement, to impassion.
WAR (p. from warm) Made warm.
WAR (adj. comp. of warm) Warm in a greater degree.
WAR (adj. sup. of warm) Warm in the greatest degree.
WAR (p. a. from warm) Heating in a small degree, making warm.
WAR (s. from the part.) The act of making warm.
WAR (s. from warming, and pan) An utensil for warming beds, a pan for coals to warm a bed.
WAR (s. from warming, and stone) A stone being heated is used to convey heat to any body.

W A R

Warmly (adv. from warm) With gentle heat; eagerly, ardently.
WARMINSTER (s.) A town in Wiltshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 97 miles from London.
Warminster (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Warminster, made at Warminster.
Warmness (s. from warm) Gentle heat; the state of being warm; passion, enthusiasm.
Warmth (s. from warm) Warmness, gentle heat; eagerness, passion, enthusiasm.
WARN (v. t. from the Sax. wernian) To caution against, to give notice of any thing approaching, to admonish of any duty.
Warne (v. t. obsolete) To encourage, to assure; to hinder, to forbid; to refrain, to forbear. Ch.
Warned (p. from warn) Cautioned, admonished.
WAR'NEL (s. in farriery) A worm within the skin of a horse's back.
War'nelworm (s. from warnel, and worm) The warnel, a kind of worm frequently found within the skin of a horse's back.
Warn'ing (p. a. from warn) Cautioning, admonish-
ing.
Warn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving notice of something approaching, an admonition; notice given to quit service.
Warn'ingwheel (s. in clock work) The wheel which gives the notice of striking.
War'nishe (v. t. obsolete) To guard. Chaucer.
War'nishe (s. obsolete) A guard. Chaucer.
War'nisu'ra (s. in old records) Furniture, provision.
War'noth (s.) The custom by which a tenant who fails of payment on a set day is to pay double, and on a second failure treble.
War'nflore (v. t. obsolete) To fortify, to defend. Chau.
War'old (adj. obsolete) Old in war. Spencer.
WARP (v. t. from the Sax. wearpan) To contract, to turn from the true direction; to prepare threads for weaving.
Warp (v. int.) To change from the true direction, to lose a proper course, to turn.
WARP (s. from the Sax. wearp) The threads which cross the woof in any thing woven.
Warp, Warpe (s. a sea term) A hawser.
Warp (v. t. a sea term) To hale by means of a hawser.
Warp'ed (p. from warp) Contracted, turned from the proper direction, prepared as threads for weaving;
haled by means of a hawser.
WAR'PEN (s. from the Sax. war, and pennig) A contribution for war among the Saxons.
Warp'ing (p. a. from warp) Contracting, deviating from the proper direction; preparing threads for the weavers warp; haling as a ship by means of a hawser.
Warp'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of deviating from the proper direction, the act of the weaver in preparing the warp; the act of haling by means of a hawser.
Warra'id (p. obsolete, from warray) exposed to war, affected by war, molested. Spencer.
Warra'id (v. t. obsolete, part. of warray) Did make war upon. Spencer.
War'ran (s. an old word) A wary design. Cole.
WAR'RANT (v. t. from the French, garantir) To support, to maintain, to attest, to declare upon surety, to justify, to give authority; to exempt, to privilege, to secure.
War'rant (s. from the verb) A writ conferring some right or authority, a writing which gives the officer of justice the power of caption; a justificatory testimony or commission; right, legality; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Shakespeare.
War'rantable (adj. from warrant) Capable of being warranted, defensible.
War'rantableness (s. from warrantable) The state or circumstance of being warrantable.
War'rantably (adv. from warrantable) In a manner to be warranted; justifiably.
War'rant (p. from warrant) Attested, declared upon surety, justified.
War'rant (s. from warrant) One who warrants, one who gives authority, one who gives security.
War'ranting (p. a. from warrant) Attesting, declaring on surety, justifying.
War'ranting (s. from the part.) The act of attesting, the act of giving authority.
War'rantise (s. from warrant, but not used of late) Warranty, security. Shakespeare.
War'rantize

War'rantize (s. a different spelling) Warrantise, security. Scott.
War'rantize (v. t. from warrant) To give warranty.
War'rantized (p. from warrantize) Secured by warranty.
War'rantizing (p. a. from warrantize) Giving warranty.
War'rantizing (s. from the part.) The act of giving warranty. Scott.
War'rantofficer (s. from warrant, and officer) An officer authorized by warrant.
Warrantus (s. in old records) One who gives warranty.
War'ranty (s. from warrant) The covenant in which one man warrants any thing to another, a security, authority, a justificatory mandate.
Warray' (v. t. obsolete, from war) To make war upon, to molest. Spenser.
Warra'yed (p. obsolete, from warray) Exposed to war, affected by war, molested. Spenser.
Warray'ing (p. a. obsolete, from warray) Making war upon, molesting, warring.
Warre (adj. obsolete) Worse. Spenser.
War'ried (p. from war) Exposed to war, molested, warried. Spenser.
Warre'tum (s. in old records) Land which has lain long uncultivated.
WAR'REN (s. from the Dutch, wearande) An inclosure for rabbits, a park for rabbits.
War'rener (s. from warren) One who takes care of a warren.
War'renkeeper (s. from warren, and keeper) A warren-keeper.
Warre'y (v. t. an old and different spelling) To warray, to make war upon. Cb.
War'riangle (s. a different spelling) A wariangle. Cb.
Warri'ere (v. t. an old word and different spelling) To warray. Chaucer.
War'rier (s. not so common a spelling) A warrior. Scott.
WARRINGTON (s.) A town in Lancashire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 182 miles from London.
Warrington (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Warrington, made at Warrington.
Warrior (s. from war) A soldier, a military man, a man who has done feats of arms.
Warrior (adj. from the sub.) Military, used in war.
Warriour (s. a different spelling) A warrior.
Warriour (adj. from the sub.) Military, used in war. "A warrior dame." Dryden.
WARSAW (s.) The chief city of Poland.
War'icot (s. from war, and foot) A contribution for war.
WART (s. from the Sax. weart) A small protuberance on the flesh, a kind of cornuous excrescence.
Warth (s. an old word) The customary payment towards keeping watch and ward.
Wartier (adj. comp. of warty) Warty in a greater degree.
Wart'iest (adj. sup. of warty) Warty in the greatest degree.
Wart'wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the spurge.
Wart'y (adj. from wart) Full of warts.
WARWICK (s.) The chief town in Warwickshire; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 93 miles from London.
Warwick (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Warwick, made at Warwick.
WARWICKSHIRE (s.) One of the inland counties of England; its soil is rich and its air salubrious; it contains one city and sixteen market towns, and sends eight members to parliament, two for the county, two for the city of Coventry, and two for each of the boroughs Warwick and Tamworth.
War'wickshire (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Warwick; produced in the county of Warwick.
War'wite (s. an old word) The wardwite, an exemption from the tax levied for keeping watch and ward.
War'worn (adj. from war, and worn) Worn with war.
WA'RY (adj. from the Sax. wear) Cautious, scrupulous, timorously prudent.
Wa'ryangle (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, a kind of magpie.
Wa'rybreed (s. in farriery) The wanel. Ba.
Was (v. n. the pret. of am) Did exist.
Wase (s. a local word) A roll put on the head for the convenience of carrying any thing on it. Ba.
Wase (s. obsolete) A wisp. Chaucer.

WASH (v. t. from the Sax. wascan) To cleanse, washing, to affect by washing; to moisten; to cleanse by washing.
Wash (v. int.) To perform the act of washing, to cleanse by washing.
Wash (s. from the verb) The act of washing, the acts of cleaning cloaths by washing; a lotion, a cosmetic; a stain, a colour; any thing collected or thrown up by water; a bog, a marsh; the food for swine gathered from washing dishes and other slops in the kitchen; the fermented liquor used by malt distillers, one of the rings of the end of the axle-tree cart.
Wash'ball (s. from wash, and ball) A ball made of soap and used in washing the hands.
Wash'bowl (s. from wash, and bowl) A bowl to wash in.
Wash'brew (s.) Flummery.
Wash'ed (p. from wash) Cleaned by washing; discoloured.
Wash'er (s. from wash) One who washes.
Wash'erwoman (s. from washer, and woman) A woman who washes cloaths for hire.
Wash'erwomen (s. plu. of washerwoman) More than one washerwoman.
Wash'house (s. from wash, and house) The house or room in which cloaths are washed.
Wash'ier (adj. comp. of washy) Washy in a greater degree.
Wash'iest (adj. sup. of washy) Washy in the greatest degree.
Washing (adj. from the part.) Used in washing.
Washing (p. a. from wash) Cleansing cloaths by washing; giving a superficial colour.
Washing (s. from the part.) The act of cleansing by ablution; the act of giving a superficial colour.
Wash'tub (s. from wash, and tub) The tub in which wash is kept for pigs.
Wash'um (s. in old records) A shallow or fordable part of a river.
Was'y (adj. from wash) Watery, damp; weak, unable to endure fatigue.
WASKITE (s. in ornithology) A kind of hawk.
Wasme (intery. a local word) Wo is me.
WASP (s. from the Lat. vespa) A well known insect.
Waspe (v. t. a local word) To wash.
Wasp'fly (s. in the history of insects) The animal which swarms in the autumn.
Wasp'ish (adj. from wasp) Peevish, malignant, spiteful.
Wasp'ishly (adv. from waspish) Peevishly.
Wasp'ishness (s. from waspish) Peevishness, spitefulness.
WAS'SAIL (s. from the Sax. was year, and had) A compound liquor heretofore made use of by sailors; a drunken bout.
Was'sailbowl (s. from was'sail, and bowl) The bowl of which the Saxons were wont to drink during their entertainments.
Was'sailbread (s. from was'sail, and bread) The bread which was sopped in the was'sail bowl.
Was'sailer (s. from was'sail) A toper, a drunkard.
Was'sel (s. a different spelling) The was'sail.
Was'selbowl (s. a different spelling) The was'sail bowl.
Was'selbread (s. a different spelling) The was'sail bread.
Wast (v. n. second pers. pret. of am) Didst exist.
Wast (s. not so common a spelling) Waste.
Wa'scoat (s. a different spelling) A waistcoat.
WASTE (v. t. from the Sax. weston) To diminish, to destroy, to delocate; to squander, to spend; to consume.
Waste (v. int.) To grow less, to dwindle.
Waste (s. from the verb) Luxurious, destruction, expense, a desolated region, uncultivated land, mischief, destruction; that part of a ship between the two masts.
Waste (adj. from the verb) Desolate, uncultivated, destroyed, ruined; superfluous, exuberant; having no value.
Wa'steboard (s. from waste, and board) A board on the edge of a boat or other vessel to keep it from striking.
Wastecloths (s. a sea term) Any thing hung up to dry, to send the men in a fight.
Wast'ed (p. from waste) Wantonly destroyed, diminished, decayed, worn out, desolated.

W A T

Waste (adj. from waste) Destructive, ruinous, prodigal, desolated, uncultivated. Sp.
Wastefully (adv. from wasteful) With wanton extravagance, with waste.
Wastefulness (s. from wasteful) Needless expense, profligacy.
Wastel (s. a different spelling) The wastail.
Wastelbread (s. an old word) The wastailbread; a kind of cake, the finest bread.
Wastel (s. from waste) Desolation; solitude.
Waster (s. from waste) A prodigal, one who wasteth by needless expense.
Wastetree (s. from waste, and tree) One of the timbers which line the waste of a ship.
Wastebread (s. a different spelling) The wastelbread, the best sort of bread. Bailey.
Wastor (s. from waste, but not so common a spelling) A thief, a kind of robber.
Wastrel (s. from waste) Ground not inclosed. Carew.
WATCH (s. from the Sax. wæcce) The forbearance of sleep; attendance without sleep; close observation, heed, attention; a watchman, watchmen, men set to watch, the place where a guard is set, the post or office of a watchman; a portion or period of the night; a small timepiece for the pocket.
Watch (v. t. from the sub.) To observe, to observe in ambush; to tend, to attend; to guard, to keep.
Watch (v. int.) To keep awake, to keep ground; to look with expectation, to be attentive, to be diligent, to be industriously attentive.
Watched (p. from watch) Observed, guarded, kept.
Watcher (s. from watch) One that watches, a diligent server.
Watchet (adj. from the Sax. wæced) Blue, pale blue. D.
WATCHET (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 158 miles from London.
Watchet (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Watchet, made at Watchet.
Watchful (adj. from watch) Vigilant, attentive, cautious, nicely observant.
Watchfully (adv. from watchful) Vigilantly, attentively.
Watchfulness (s. from watchful) Vigilance, close observation; inability to sleep.
Watchglass (s. from watch, and glass) A glass with which to measure time which takes four hours in running out; the glass which covers the face of a watch.
Watchhouse (s. from watch, and house) The place where the watch is set.
Watching (p. a. from watch) Observing, carefully serving, guarding, keeping, keeping awake, attending by night.
Watching (s. from the part.) The act of observing with diligence, the act of attending by night, the act of keeping awake.
Watchlight (s. from watch, and light) A candle with a wick to burn in the night; a lantern set up at the poop of a ship to prevent accidents in the night.
Watchmaker (s. from watch, and maker) An artificer employed in making watches.
Watchman (s. from watch, and man) A guard, a man set to keep ward.
Watchmen (s. plu. of watchman) More than one watchman.
Watchtower (s. from watch, and tower) A tower on which a sentinel is placed to keep watch.
Watchword (s. from watch, and word) The word given to a sentinel to know his friends.
Watchwork (s. from watch, and work) The inner parts of a watch.
Watch (v. t. obsolete) To know. Cbaucer.
WATER (s. the a is broad, from the Sax. woeter) One of the four elements; the sea; urine; the lustre of a diamond. To hold water, to be sound, to be tight; to be of effect, to take effect.
Water (adj. from the sub. much used in composition) Belonging to the water, growing in the water.
Water (v. t. from the sub.) To supply with water, to supply with moisture; to diversify as with waves.
Water (v. int.) To shed moisture, to take in water. To water, at the teeth or mouth, to long, to have a great desire.
Waterage (s. from water) Money paid for passing by water.
Watercher (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Waterhaill (s. from water, and haill) An officer who collects the toll arising from the river Thames in the city of London; an officer for inspecting the harbour and shipping of a port town.

W A T

Waterbear (s. from water, and bear) A bear which lives by what it catches in the sea.
Waterborne (adj. from water, and borne) Having water just sufficient to float.
Waterbony (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Waterbrook (s. from water, and brook) A small stream of water.
Waterbudget (s. from water, and budget) A kind of budget in which the soldiers formerly fetched water to the camp.
Watercarriage (s. from water, and carriage) Carriage by water.
Watercart (s. from water, and cart) A cart employed in carrying water.
Watercolour (s. from water, and colour) A paint or colour made up with water.
Watercourse (s. from water, and course) A channel for water.
Watercrefs (s. from water, and crefs) The name of an herb much used in the spring as a salad.
Waterdock (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Waterdog (s. from water, and dog) A dog that will take the water, a water spaniel.
Waterdrop (s. from water, and drop) A tear, a drop of sweat.
Watered (p. from water) Supplied with water, refreshed with water.
Waterer (s. from water) One who waters.
Waterfall (s. from water, and fall) A fall of water, a cascade, a cataract.
Waterflood (s. from water, and flood) An inundation of water.
Waterfurn (s. in farriery) A disease incident to horses.
Waterfowl (s. from water, and fowl) A fowl that takes the water; fowls that live in the water.
Waterfox (s. from water, and fox) The carp, so called for his cunning. Walton.
Watergage (s. from water, and gage) An instrument for measuring the depth and quantity of water.
Watergang (s. from water, and gang) A trench to carry water.
Watergavel (s. from water, and gavel) A rent anciently paid for fishing in some river or water.
Watergermander (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Watergod (s. from water, and god) A divinity supposed to preside over the water, a seagod, a river god.
Watergruel (s. from water, and gruel) A kind of spoon meat made of oatmeal boiled in water.
Waterier (adj. comp. of watery) Watery in a greater degree.
Wateriest (adj. sup. of watery) Watery in the greatest degree.
Wateriness (s. from watery) The state or quality of being watery.
Watering (p. a. from water) Supplying with water, refreshing with water; giving a kind of glois to silk.
Watering (s. from the part.) The act of supplying with water, the act of refreshing with water; the act of giving a kind of glois to silk.
Waterish (adj. from water) Resembling water, moist, insipid.
Waterishness (s. from waterish) The state or quality of being waterish.
Waterleaf (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Waterlily (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Waterline (s. from water, and line) The line on the side of a ship to which the water rises when she is properly loaded.
Waterlock (s. from water, and lock) A fenced watering place; a lock by which the water is raised in a navigable river.
Waterman (s. from water, and man) A ferryman, a man who plies with a boat.
Watermark (s. from water, and mark) The highest mark to which a flood rises.
Watermeasure (s. from water, and measure) A kind of measure for coals.
Watermelon (s. from water, and melon) A plant.
Watermen (s. plu. of waterman) More than one waterman.
Watermill (s. from water, and mill) A mill moved by water.
Watermint (s. from water, and mint) The name of a plant.
Watermurrain (s. in farriery) A disease incident to black cattle.
Waternewt (s. from water, and newt) A newt which lives in the water.

Water-

W A V

Wa'terordeal (s. from water, and ordeal) A method of trial or purgation among the Saxons in which the accused person was to put his hand into scalding water.

Wa'terpeper (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wa'terpipe (s. from water, and pipe) A lymphæduct.

Wa'terpoise (s. from water, and poise) An instrument to try the strength of liquors.

Wa'terpot (s. from water, and pot) A pot or earthen vessel for water.

Wa'terradiuh (s. in botany) A kind of watercress.

Wa'terracket (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wa'terrat (s. from water, and rat) A rat that frequents the water.

Wa'tersaphire (s. in natural history) A kind of saphire.

Wa'terscope (s. an old word) An aqueduct, a watercourse.

Wa'terscorpion (s. in zoology) The papa.

Wa'tersheep (s. a cant word) A roach so called on account of its simplicity. Wotton.

Wa'tershoot (s. from water, and shoot) A young sprig which shoots out at the root of a tree.

Wa'tershot (adj. a sea term) Crossing the tide at an angle of 45 degrees.

Wa'terspaniel (s. from water, and spaniel) A spaniel that takes the water.

Wa'tersnake (s. from water, and snake) A snake that takes the water.

Wa'terspring (s. from water, and spring) A spring of water.

Wa'terspout (s. from water, and spout) A prodigious fall of water from a cloud.

Wa'terswallow (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

Wa'tertable (s. from water, and table) A kind of ledge left in a stone or brick wall from which the thickness of the wall begins to abate.

Wa'tertrefoil (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wa'terviolet (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wa'terway (s. a sea term) A small ledge of timber close by the sides of the deck to keep the water from running down.

Wa'terwheel (s. from water, and wheel) A wheel driven by water, an engine for raising water out of a deep well.

Wa'terwillow (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wa'terwith (s. from water, and with) The name of a plant which yields a plentiful juice resembling water.

Wa'terwork (s. from water, and work) A machine by which water is raised; artificial spouts of water, the play of fountains.

Wa'tery (adj. from water) Full of water, abounding with water, thin like water.

WATFORD (s.) A town in Hertfordshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 14 miles from London.

Wat'ford (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Watford, made at Watford.

WAT'LINGTON (s.) A town in Oxfordshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 45 miles from London.

Wat'lington (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Watlington, made at Watlington.

WAT'TLE (s. from the German waghelen) One of the bars or bits of red flesh which hang below the bill of a cock; a hurdle.

Wat'tle (v. t. from the sub.) To form by plating twigs one in another, to bind with twigs.

Wat'tled (p. from wattle) Platted as a wattle, bound with twigs.

Wat'tling (p. a. from wattle) Plating with twigs, making wattles, binding with twigs.

Wat'tling (s. from the part.) The act of plating twigs, the act of making wattles.

WAT'TON (s.) A town in Norfolk; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 90 miles from London.

Wat'ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Watton, made at Watton.

WAVE (s. from the Sax. wæge) A swell of water raised above the even surface, a hollow; unevenness, inequality.

Wave (v. t. from the sub.) To raise into inequalities on the surface, to move loosely, to waft; to put off, to put aside for the present.

Wave (v. int.) To float, to move in undulations, to play loosely, to move as a signal, to fluctuate.

Wave (v. t. the old pret. of weave) Wove. Chaucer.

Wa'ved (p. from wave) Raised into inequalities on the surface, moved loosely; put off, put off for the present.

Wa'veloaf (s. from wave, and loaf) One of the loaves offered by the Jews as the first fruits of the increase of any year.

W A Y

Wa'veloaves (s. plu. of waveloaf) More than one loaf.

Wa'veoffering (s. from wave, and offering) A sacrifice among the Jews by agitation or waving towards four cardinal points of the heavens.

WA'VER (v. int. from the Sax. wafare) To play to fro, to move loosely; to be unfettered, to fluctuate.

Wa'verer (s. from waver) One that wavers.

Wa'vering (p. a. from waver) Playing to and moving loosely, fluctuating.

Wa'vering (s. from the part.) The act of playing to fro, the state of being unfettered.

Wa'veson (s. in the maritime law) Any wreck swimmable on the sea.

Wa'vey (adj. a different spelling) Wavy. D.

Wa'ving (p. a. from wave) Undulating, rising in waves, moving loosely; putting off, putting off for the present.

Wa'ving (s. from the part.) The act of rising in waves, the state of rising in waves; the act of putting off the present; the act of moving to and fro.

Waulm'ish (adj. a different spelling) Walmish.

Waum'ish (adj. probably from qualmish) Sickish at stomach.

Wa'vy (adj. from wave) Resembling the waves of sea, playing to and fro in undulations.

Wa'vy (adj. in heraldry) Representing the waves of sea.

Waves (s. an old word) Waves; woes.

WAWL (v. int. from the Sax. wa gief) To cry, to howl.

Wawl'ing (p. a. from wawl, but not much used) Crying, howling.

Wawm'ish (adj. not used) Sickish at the stomach.

Wa'wy (adj. obsolete) Waving.

WAX (s. from the Sax. waxe) The matter gathered from the bees and formed into cells for the reception of honey; any tenacious mass; a kind of concrete of the flesh; the substance which exudes from the ear.

Wax (v. t. from the sub.) To smear with wax, to with wax.

WAX (v. int. from the Sax. weaxan) To grow, to create; to pass into any state, to become.

Wax (s. obsolete) An increase. Ch.

Wax'candle (s. from wax, and candle) A candle made of wax.

Wax'ed (p. from wax) Smeared with wax; increased, grown, become.

Wax'en (p. from wax) Grown, increased, become.

Wax'en (adj. from wax) Made of wax.

Wax'ing (p. a. from wax) Smearing with wax; creating, becoming.

Wax'ing (s. from the part.) The act of smearing with wax; the state of increasing.

Wax'scot (s. from wax, and scot) A duty anciently levied for defraying the expence of wax candles in churches.

Wax'shot (s. from wax, and shot) The waxscot.

WAY (s. from the Sax. wæg) The road, a road made by passengers; a length of journey, a course, a direction of motion, a progression of motion; a local tendency; a passage; a vacancy by recession, the situation, proper place of a thing; access, means of admission; a method, a mode, a manner. By the way, an immediate connection with the main design.

Way (v. t. from the sub.) To put in the way, to lead a horse to go in the way.

Way (s. in commerce) A certain weight, a measure different in different places. Dict. of Com.

Way'bit (s. from way, and bit, a local word) A way, a small space.

Way'bread (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the same as Way.

Way'farer (s. from way, and fare to go) A passenger, a traveller.

Way'faring (adj. from way, and fare) Travelling, passing.

Way'faringtree (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Way'in (v. t. obsolete) To weigh.

Waylai'd (p. from waylay) Beset by ambush.

Waylay'y (v. t. from way, and lay) To watch in order to beset by ambush.

Waylay'ed (p. from waylay) Waylaid, beset by ambush.

Waylay'er (s. from waylay) One that waylays.

Waylay'ing (p. a. from waylay) Besetting by ambush.

Waylay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of besetting by ambush.

Way'led (adj. an old word) Stricken in years, old.

Way'less (adj. from way) Pathless, having no way.

mark (s. from way, and mark) A mark or notice guide travellers in the way.

WEMENT (v. t. from the Sax. wa woe, but now grown obsolete) To lament. Spenser.

Wined (adj. an old word) Put back. Bailey.

Wtree (s. an old word) The money paid for keeping arch and ward.

Wvin (v. int. obsolete) To depart, to return. Chau.

WWARD (adj. from the Sax. wa woe, and weard) Froward, peevish, morose.

Wwarde (adj. an old spelling) Wayward, froward, Chaucer.

Wwardly (adv. from wayward) Frowardly, peevishly.

Wwardness (s. from wayward) Frowardness, peevishness.

Wwise (adj. from way, and wise) Expert in choosing the road.

Wwiler (s. from wav, and wise) An instrument to show how far any one travels in a day.

WWOOD (s.) The governor of some chief place in Poland and Muscovy. Scott.

Wwood (s. a different spelling) A waywood. Phillips.

Wz (s. a local word) A bundle of straw. Bailey.

Wzgoole (s. from wayz, and goole) A stubble goole; entertainment given to journeymen at the beginning of winter. Bailey.

W (pron. from the Sax.) The plural of I, the persons taking; us; but this is improper. "To poor we." Sh.

W (s. an old word) Woe. Bailey.

WAK (s. from the Sax. wac) Feeble, infirm; soft; low of sound; wanting spirit, wanting discernment; not potent, not heady; not well supported, conclusive; unfortified.

Waken (v. t. from weak) To enfeeble, to deprive of strength.

Wakened (p. from weaken) Enfeebled, made weak.

Wakening (p. a. from weaken) Enfeebling, making weak.

Wakening (s. from the part.) The act of making weak.

Waker (adj. comp. of weak) Weak in a greater degree.

Wkeft (adj. sup. of weak) Weak in the greatest degree.

Wklinefs (s. from weakly) The state of being weakly.

Wkling (s. from weak) A feeble person.

Wkly (adv. from weak) Feebly, indiscreetly.

Wkly (adj. from weak) Infirm, unhealthy.

Wknefs (s. from weak) The want of strength, the want of judgement, the want of cogency; defect, deficiency.

Wkide (s. from weak, and fide) A foible, an infirmity, deficiency.

Wkly (adj. a local word) Moist, wet. Bailey.

Wkly (s. from the Sax. welan) Prosperity, happiness; commonwealth, public interest.

Wkly (s. from the Sax. welan) The mark of a stripe.

Wkway (interj. obsolete) Alas! Spenser.

WLD (s. an old word, from the Sax.) A wood, a grove.

Wlraf (s. an old word) The act of robbing the dead of the grave.

Wlth (s. from the Sax. weleth) Riches, money, goods.

Wlthier (adj. comp. of wealthy) Wealthy in a greater degree.

Wlthier (adj. sup. of wealthy) Wealthy in the greatest degree.

Wlthly (adv. from wealthy) Richly.

Wlthnefs (s. from wealthy) The state of being rich, riches.

Wlthly (adj. from wealth) Rich, opulent, abundant.

W (v. t. from the Sax. wenan) To put from the habit; to withdraw from any habit or custom.

W (p. from wean) Put from the breast, taken from the dug; withdrawn from some habit or custom.

W (s. from wean) A child newly weaned, an animal newly taken from the dam.

W (p. a. from wean) Putting from the breast, taking from the dug; withdrawing from some habit or custom.

W (s. from the part.) The act of putting from the breast, the act of taking from the dam, the act of withdrawing from some habit or custom.

W (s. from wean) A child newly weaned, an animal newly taken from the dam.

W (s. from the Sax.) An instrument of offence, a thing with which one is armed to hurt another.

W (adj. from weapon) Furnished with a weapon, armed with a weapon.

W (adj. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

W (s. from weapon) Having no weapon, unarmed.

Weap'onsalve (s. from weapon, and salve) A salve which was supposed to cure the wound by applying it to the weapon with which it was made.

WEAR (v. t. from the Sax. weran) To waste with use or time, to consume gradually; to use as cloaths, to carry appendant to the body; to exhibit in appearance, to effect by degrees; to bring a ship to a different tack. To wear out, to harass, to destroy by use.

Wear (v. int.) To decay by use or time, to pass by degrees, to be spent tediously.

Wear (s. from the verb) The state of being worn, the act of wearing; a dam to shut up the water.

Wear (v. t. a local word) To cool as a pot over the fire. Bailey.

Wea'rer (s. from wear) One that wears any thing.

Wea'ried (p. from weary) Tired, fatigued, harassed with labour.

Wea'rier (adj. comp. of weary) Weary in a greater degree.

Wea'riest (adj. sup. of weary) Weary in the greater degree.

Wea'rinefs (s. from weary) The state of being weary.

Wea'ring (p. a. from wear) Wasting with use or time, consuming gradually, decaying; using as cloaths, carrying appendant to the body.

Wea'ring (s. from the part.) The act of wasting, the state of wasting; the act of using as cloaths; cloaths.

WEA'RISH (s. supposed to be from the Sax. wær a bog) Buggy, watery. Carew.

Wea'risome (adj. from weary) Tedious, troublesome, fatiguing.

Wea'risomely (adv. from wearisome) In a tedious manner, with fatigue.

Wea'risomeness (s. from wearisome) The state of being wearisome, the quality of being wearisome.

WEA'RY (adj. from the Sax. warig) Tired, fatigued with labour; impatient, desirous of discontinuing; causing weariness, tiresome; with of; as, "Weary of herself."

Wea'ry (v. t. from the adj.) To tire, to fatigue, to harass; to make impatient of continuance.

Wea'ryed (p. from weary, a different spelling) Wea'ried.

Wea'rying (p. a. from weary) Tiring, fatiguing with labour, tiring with continuance.

Wea'rying (s. from the part.) The act of making weary.

WEAS'AND (s. from the Sax. wasen) The windpipe.

WEA'SEL (s. in zoology) The weasel, a small animal which lives chiefly on mice.

Weas'le (adj. now grown obsolete or local) Small, little. Johnson.

Weat (v. t. a local word) To look the head, to search the head as for lice. Cole.

WEATH'ER (s. from the Sax. wedir) The state of the air; the change of the air; tempest, storm.

Weather (v. t. from the sub.) To be exposed to the air, to pass with difficulty. To weather a point, to gain a point against the wind, to accomplish against opposition. To weather out, to endure.

Weather (s. not so correct a spelling) A wether, a castrated sheep.

Weatherbeaten (adj. from weather, and beaten) Beaten with the weather, harassed by hard weather.

Weatherboard (s. from weather, and board) A board put up to keep off the weather; the windward side of a ship.

Weatherboarding (s. from weather, and board) The act of nailing boards against the outside of a building to keep off the weather; the boards so nailed up.

Weatherbow (s. a sea term) The windward side of the ship.

WEATH'ERBY (s.) A town in Yorkshire; it has a market on Thursday; and is 192 miles from London.

Weatherby (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Weatherby, made at Weatherby.

Weathercock (s. from weather, and cock) An artificial cock or vane set up on the top of a building to shew which way the wind blows; any thing fickle or inconstant.

Weathercoiling (s. a sea term) The method of turning the head of a vessel without losing the sail.

Weatherdriven (adj. from weather, and driven) Forced by forces of weather.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathergage (s. from weather, and gage) The advantage of the wind; any thing that shews the weather.

Weatherglass (s. from weather, and glass) A barometer, an instrument to shew the different state of the air.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

Weathered (p. from weather) Exposed to the weather, passed with difficulty.

W E D

Weath'erhog (s. not so correct a spelling) A wetherhog, a male lamb of the first year. Bailey.
Weath'ering (p. a. from weather) Exposing to the air, passing with difficulty.
Weath'ering (s. from the part.) The act of exposing to the air, the act of passing with difficulty.
Weath'erman (s. with archers) One who carefully observes the wind or weather in shooting.
Weath'erispy (s. from weather, and spy) A stargazer, one who foretells the weather.
Weath'erisheep (s. not so correct a spelling) A wether-sheep, a gelded sheep. Scott.
Weath'ertile (v. t. from weather, and tile) To secure the wall of a house against the weather by placing tiles against it.
Weath'ertiled (p. from weathertile) Secured with tiles as the wall of a house.
Weath'ertiling (p. a. from weathertile) Securing the side of a house from the weather by placing tiles against it.
Weath'ertiling (s. from the part.) The act of securing the wall of a house by placing tiles against it, the tiles fixed against the side of a wall to preserve it from the weather.
Weath'erwise (adj. from weather, and wise) Skillful in foretelling the weather.
Weath'erwiser (s. from weatherwise) One skillful in foretelling the weather, any thing that shews the weather.
WEAVE (v. t. from the Sax. wefan) To form by texture; to unite by intermixture; to interpose, to insert.
Weave (v. int.) To work in the loom.
Weav'ed (p. from weave) Woven, formed by texture.
Weav'er (s. from weave) One who weaves; the weaverfish.
Weav'ersfish (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish.
Weav'ing (p. a. from weave) Forming by texture, uniting by intermixture.
Weav'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming by texture.
Weav'ingloom (s. from weaving, and loom) The loom, a machine for weaving.
Wea'worth (v. int. a local word) Woe be to. Cole.
Weaz'on (s. an incorrect spelling) The weasand. Dryd.
WEB (s. from the Sax. webba) A texture, any thing woven, a kind of film that hinders the sight; some part of a sword; but this sense is obsolete. Fairfax.
Webbe (s. obsolete) A weaver. Chaucer.
Web'bed (adj. from web) Joined by a web, joined by a film.
Web'foot (s. from web, and foot) The foot of a water-towl having the claws united by a web.
Web'footed (adj. from webfoot) Having the claws united by a web.
WEB/LEY (s.) A town in Herefordshire, it has a market on Tuesday, and is 143 miles from London.
Web'ley (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Webley, made at Webley.
Web'fter (s. from web, but now grown obsolete) A weaver. Camden.
WED (v. t. from the Sax. wedian) To marry, to take for a husband or wife, to join in marriage; to unite forever, to take forever; to unite by love or fondness.
Wed (v. int.) To contract matrimony.
Wed, Wedde (s. obsolete) A pardon, a pledge. Chau.
Wed'bedrip (s. an old word) A covenant by which a tenant was bound to reap for his lord as often and as much as he should require.
Wed'ded (p. from wed) Married, joined in matrimony.
Wed'ding (p. a. from wed) Marrying, taking in marriage.
Wed'ding (s. from the part.) The act of taking in marriage, a marriage, the nuptial ceremony.
Wede (s. obsolete) Weeds, apparel. Chaucer.
WEDGE (s. from the Danish wegge) One of the mechanical powers, a solid body tapered on the opposite sides till it comes to an edge; a mass of metal, any thing in form of a wedge.
Wedge (v. t. from the sub.) To fasten with wedges, to stop, to obstruct.
Wedg'ed (p. from wedge) Fastened with wedges, stopped, obstructed.
Wedg'ing (p. a. from wedge) Fastening with wedges, stopping, obstructing.
Wedg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with wedges.
WED/LOCK (s. from the Sax. wed a marriage, and lac a gift) The marriage state, matrimony.

W E I

WED/NESDAY (s. from the Sax. waden the name of the idol, and dag a day) The fourth day of the week.
Wed'nesdayevening (s. from Wednesday, and evening) The evening of Wednesday.
Wed'nesdaymorning (s. from Wednesday, and morning) The morning of a Wednesday.
Wed'nesdaynight (s. from Wednesday, and night) The night of a Wednesday.
WEE (adj. from the German wenig) Little, small. Shakespeare.
Weech'elm (s. a different spelling) The witch elm, a species of elm.
WEED (s. from the Sax. wead tares) An useless plant, noxious plant.
WEED (s. from the Sax. weoda) A garment, clothing, dress, the mourning dress of a widow.
Weed (v. t. from the sub.) To rid of noxious plants, to take away hurtful plants; to root out vice, to free from any thing hurtful.
Weed'ed (p. from weed) Cleared from weeds.
Weed'er (s. from weed) One that weeds.
Weed'hook (s. from weed, and hook) A hook or instrument used in weeding.
Weed'ier (adj. comp. of weedy) Weedy in a greater degree.
Weed'iest (adj. sup. of weedy) Weedy in the greatest degree.
Weeding (p. a. from weed) Freeing from noxious plants.
Weeding (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from weeds, the act of destroying weeds.
Weed'less (adj. from weed) Void of weeds, free from weeds.
Weed'ly (adj. from weed) Full of weeds, abounding with weeds.
WEEK (s. from the Sax. weoc) The space of seven days.
Week (adj. obsolete) Wicked. Chaucer.
Week'day (s. from week, and day) Any day of the week Sunday excepted.
Week'ly (adj. from week) Happening once a week, every week.
Week'ly (adv. from the adj.) Once a week, by week periods.
WEE/ (s. from the Sax. woel) A whirlpool; a kind of wicker trap for fish.
Weel'ful (adj. obsolete) Healthful, prosperous, happy.
WEEN (v. int. from the Sax. wean, but now grown obsolete, or used in droll style) To imagine. Chaucer.
Ween'ed (p. from ween, now obsolete) Thought, supposed.
Ween'en (v. int. obsolete) To think, to suppose.
Ween'ing (p. a. from ween, but now obsolete) Imagining, supposing.
WEEP (v. t. from the Sax. weopan) To bewail, to moan.
WEEP (v. int.) To shed tears, to sorrow, to complain to shed moisture, to abound with wet.
Weep'ed (p. from weep) Bewailed, bemoaned.
Weep'er (s. from weep) One that weeps; a white der on the sleeve of a mourning coat.
Weep'ing (p. a. from weep) Shedding tears, shedding moisture; bemoaning, lamenting.
Weep'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shedding tears, a lamentation; moisture exuding.
Weep'ingly (adv. from weeping) With weeping.
Weer (s. a local word) The weeds or filth thrown into the sea.
Weer (s. obsolete) Doubt, delay.
Weer'ish (adj. an old word) Wearish, impatient; washy; sour, crabbed.
WEET (v. int. from the Sax. witan, but now grown obsolete, or used only in droll style) To know, to have knowledge of.
Weet'en (v. int. obsolete) To know. To sweeten wit.
Weet'less (adj. from weet, obsolete) Unknowing.
WEE/VIL (s. from the Sax. wifel) A kind of grub, a pest injurious to corn.
Weez'el (s. an incorrect spelling) The weasel.
WEFT (s. from the Sax. wefta) The wool of cloth.
WEFT (s. from the Lat. vagus vague) A stray, wandering without an owner; a gentle blast.
West (adj. obsolete) Waved, avoided.
West (v. t. the old pret. of weave) Wove, did weave.
West (p. obsolete) Woven.
West'age (s. from west) A texture.
Weg'ing (adj. obsolete) Moving.
WEIGH (v. t. from the Sax. weegan) To examine weight, to pay or take by weight; to raise, to pull up the anchor; to examine in the mind.

Weigh (v. int.) To have weight; to press, to bear heavily; to take up the anchor.

Weigh (s. from the verb) A certain measure, a certain weight different in different places, a way. D. of A.

Weighed (p. from weigh) Examined by weight, raised up as an anchor, considered in the mind.

Weigher (s. from weigh) One that weighs.

Weighing (p. a. from weigh) Examining by weight, raising the anchor, examining in the mind.

Weighing (s. from the part.) The act of examining by weight, the act of raising the anchor, the act of considering in the mind.

WEIGHT (s. from the Sax. wigt) Quantity determined by the balance, a mass by which other bodies are examined, a stone or other substance by which any thing is weighed; a ponderous substance, a heavy mass; gravity, tendency to the centre of the earth; pressure, burden; importance, power, influence, efficacy.

Weightier (adj. comp. of weighty) Weighty in a greater degree.

Weightiest (adj. sup. of weighty) Weighty in the greatest degree.

Weightily (adv. from weighty) With weight, with ponderosity, with importance.

Weightiness (s. from weighty) The state of being weighty, ponderosity; importance.

Weightless (adj. from weight) Light, having no weight.

Weights (s. from weight) A beam and scales, apparatus for weighing.

Weighty (adj. from weight) Heavy, ponderous; important, momentous; rigorous, severe; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Shakespeare.

Weikid (adj. obsolete) Wicked. Chaucer.

Weild (v. t. an incorrect spelling) To wield. Scott.

Weilth (v. t. third person obsolete) Waileth. Chaucer.

Weine (v. int. obsolete) To wane, to decrease. Chau.

Weird (s. retained in the Scotch dialect) A wizard, a witch. Shakespeare.

Weive, Weivin (v. t. obsolete) To wave, to put off. Ch.

Weikid (p. from wekin, obsolete) Weakened. Chau.

Weikin (v. t. an old spelling) To weaken. Chaucer.

Welaway (interj. from the Sax. welawa woe upon woe) Alas! Spenser.

WEL/COME (adj. from the Sax. wilcome) Admitted gladly, admitted willingly; gratefully pleasing.

Welcome (v. int. used in salutation for) You are welcome.

Welcome (s. from the adj.) The salutation to a new comer, a kind reception.

Welcome (v. t. from the adj.) To salute with kindness, to bid welcome.

Welcomed (p. from welcome) Saluted with kindness, received with kindness.

Welcomeness (s. from welcome) Gratefulness.

Welcomer (s. from welcome) One who bids welcome.

Welcomer (adj. comp. of welcome) Welcome in a greater degree.

Welcomest (adj. sup. of welcome) Welcome in the greatest degree.

Welcoming (p. a. from welcome) Bidding welcome, receiving with kindness.

Welcoming (s. from the part.) The act of receiving with kindness.

WELD (s. in botany) The luteola, the dyerweed.

Weld (v. t. a different spelling) To wield. Sp.

Weld (v. t. from wield) To beat one mass of metal into another, to join two pieces of iron by heating them very hot and hammering them together.

Welded (p. from weld) Incorporated into one mass as two pieces of iron by heating and hammering.

Welder (s. in the Irish dialect) An under tenant, a rack renter.

Weldin (v. t. obsolete) To wield. Ch.

Welding (p. a. from weld) Incorporating metals by heating and hammering; welding.

Welding (s. from the part.) The act of joining metal by heating and hammering.

Weldingheat (s. from welding, and heat) The heat by which two pieces of iron are united to each other.

WEL/DON (s.) A town in Northamptonshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 48 miles from London.

Weldon (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Weldon, made at Weldon.

Weldy (adj. obsolete) Nimble, active. Ch.

Wele (s. obsolete) Health. Chaucer.

Welshul (adj. obsolete) Happy, prosperous, blessed. Ch.

Welshulness (s. obsolete) Happiness, prosperity. Ch.

Welness (s. obsolete) Prosperity, health, happiness. Ch.

Wellfare (s. from well, and fare) Health, happiness, prosperity.

Wellful (adj. obsolete) Prosperous, happy. Ch.

Welk (v. t. of doubtful etymology and meaning) To cloud, to obscure. Spenser.

WELK (s. in ichthyology) A kind of sea fish. Scott.

Welke (v. t. pret. obsolete) Walked, did walk. Ch.

Welk'ed (p. from welk) Clouded, obscured. Sp.

Welk'ed (adj. from welk) Wrinkled, wreathed. Sb.

Welk'id (adj. obsolete) Withered, wrinkled. Ch.

WELK'IN (s. from the Sax. welcen clouds, now used only in poetry) The sky, the regions of the air.

Welk'in (adj. from the sub.) Blue, having the colour of the sky. Shakespeare.

Welking (p. a. from welk, obsolete) Clouding, obscuring.

Well'king (adj. obsolete) Languishing, faint. Sb.

Well'nith (v. int. third person, obsolete) Formeth, changeth. Chaucer.

WELL (s. from the Sax. wael) A spring, a fountain, a source; a deep narrow pit of water; the cavity in which the stair case is placed.

Well (v. t. from the sub.) To pour forth as a spring.

Well (v. int. from the sub.) To spring, to issue as from a spring.

WELL (adj. from the Sax.) Having health, not sick; convenient, happy; recovered from sickness, recovered from misfortune.

Well (adv. from the adj. much used in composition) Properly, happily; not ill, not amiss; in a proper degree, to a degree that gives pleasure.

Wellabridg'ed (adj. from well, and abridged: The parts in this, and many of the following compounds, have been usually joined by the hyphen; they likewise frequently occur in the distinct, which, after all, in most of them seems to be the best form) Properly abridged.

Wellaccepted (adj. from well, and accepted) Well received.

Wellaccommodated (adj. from well, and accommodated) Properly accommodated.

Wellaccompanied (adj. from well, and accompanied) Properly accompanied.

Wellaccomplished (adj. from well, and accomplished) Properly accomplished, endowed with suitable accomplishments.

Wellaccord'ed (adj. from well, and accorded) Properly attuned.

Wellaccount'ed (adj. from well, and accounted) Properly accounted, well esteemed.

Wellaccoup'led (adj. from well, and accoupled) Properly accoupled, suitably joined.

Wellaccus'tomed (adj. from well, and accustomed) Much frequented, much used.

Wellacquaint'ed (adj. from well, and acquainted) Intimately acquainted.

Wellacquir'ed (adj. from well, and acquired) Acquired with reputation.

Wellact'ed (adj. from well, and acted) Properly performed.

Welladay (interj. from welaway) Alas!

Welladapt'ed (adj. from well, and adapted) Properly adapted.

Wellad'ded (adj. from well, and added) Properly added, pertinently added.

Welladjoin'ed (adj. from well, and adjoined) Properly adjoined.

Welladjudg'ed (adj. from well, and adjudged) Properly adjudged.

Welladjusted (adj. from well, and adjusted) Properly adjusted.

Welladmon'ished (adj. from well, and admonished) Properly admonished.

Welladopt'ed (adj. from well, and adopted) Properly adopted, well chosen.

Welladorn'ed (adj. from well, and adorned) Properly adorned, sufficiently adorned.

Welladvanc'ed (adj. from well, and advanced) Advanced with propriety.

Welladventur'ed (adj. from well, and adventured) Happily adventured.

Welladv'ised (adj. from well, and advised) Properly advised.

Wellaff'ected (adj. from well, and affected) Properly affected, closely attached.

Wellaff'ected (s. from the adj.) People closely attached.

Wellaffianced (adj. from well, and affianced) Happily affianced.

W E L

Wellaffixed (adj. from well, and affixed) Properly affixed.
 Wellafford'ed (adj. from well, and afforded) Afforded with sufficient advantage.
 Wellaged (adj. from well, and aged) Advanced in age.
 Wellagree'd (adj. from well, and agreed) Thoroughly agreed.
 Wellaid'ed (adj. from well, and aided) Properly aided, sufficiently aided.
 Wellaim'ed (adj. from well, and aimed) Properly aimed.
 Wellair'ed (adj. from well, and aired) sufficiently aired.
 Wellallay'ed (adj. from well, and allayed) Properly allayed.
 Wellallegd'ed (adj. from well, and alleged) Sufficiently affirmed.
 Wellalli'ed (adj. from well, and allied) Properly allied, happily allied.
 Wellallot'ted (adj. from well, and allotted) Properly allotted.
 Wellallow'ed (adj. from well, and allowed) Properly allowed, fitly allowed.
 Wellalloy'ed (adj. from well, and alloyed) Properly alloyed.
 Wellalt'ered (adj. from well, and altered) Properly altered.
 Wellamend'ed (adj. from well, and amended) Properly amended.
 Wellamplified (adj. from well, and amplified) Properly amplified.
 Wellanalyf'd (adj. from well, and analysed) Properly analysed.
 Wellannex'ed (adj. from well, and annexed) Properly annexed.
 Wellanoint'ed (adj. from well, and anointed) Sufficiently anointed.
 Wellan'fwered (adj. from well, and answered) Properly answered, fitly answered.
 Wellappar'eled (adj. from well, and appareled) Properly appareled.
 Wellappli'ed (adj. from well, and applied) Properly applied, fitly applied.
 Wellappoint'ed (adj. from well, and appointed) Properly appointed, fitly appointed.
 Wellappr'i'ed (adj. from well, and apprised) Well informed, fitly apprised.
 Wellappropriat'ed (adj. from well, and appropriated) Fitly appropriated.
 Wellapproved (adj. from well, and approved) Much approved.
 Wellarch'ed (adj. from well, and arched) Properly arched.
 Wellargued (adj. from well, and argued) Properly argued.
 Wellarm'ed (adj. from well, and armed) Properly armed.
 Wellarrang'ed (adj. from well, and arranged) Properly arranged.
 Wellarray'ed (adj. from well, and arrayed) Properly dressed, properly ordered.
 Wellarri'ved (adj. from well, and arrived) Happily arrived.
 Wellartic'ulated (adj. from well, and articulated) Properly articulated.
 Wellascertain'ed (adj. from well, and ascertained) Properly ascertained.
 Wellassert'ed (adj. from well, and asserted) Properly asserted.
 Wellassign'ed (adj. from well, and assigned) Properly assigned.
 Wellassist'ed (adj. from well, and assisted) Properly assisted.
 Wellassociat'ed (adj. from well, and associated) Properly associated.
 Wellasfort'ed (adj. from well, and assorted) Properly assorted.
 Wellassu'med (adj. from well, and assumed) Properly assumed.
 Wellassu're'd (adj. from well, and assured) Properly assured.
 Wellattend'ed (adj. from well, and attended) Properly attended, sufficiently attended.
 Wellattend'ing (adj. from well, and attending) Properly attending.
 Wellattest'ed (adj. from well, and attested) Properly attested.
 Wellback'ed (adj. from well, and backed) Well supported.

W E L

Wellbait'ed (adj. from well, and baited) Sufficiently baited.
 Wellbak'ed (adj. from well, and baked) Properly baked.
 Wellbal'anced (adj. from well, and balanced) Properly balanced.
 Wellbar'ed (adj. from well, and barred) Properly barred, well secured.
 Wellbaste'd (adj. from well, and basted) Properly basted, sufficiently basted.
 Wellbeat'en (adj. from well, and beaten) Properly beaten, sufficiently beaten.
 Wellbecom'ing (adj. from well, and becoming) Suitable becoming.
 Wellbed'ded (adj. from well, and bedded) Properly bedded.
 Wellbegu'n (adj. from well, and begun) Properly begun.
 Wellbeha'ved (adj. from well, and behaved) Courteously civil.
 Wellbe'ing (s. from well, and being) Prosperity, happiness.
 Wellbeseem'ing (adj. from well, and befitting) Becoming, suitable.
 Wellbestow'ed (adj. from well, and bestowed) Properly bestowed.
 Wellbi'assed (adj. from well, and biased) Properly biased.
 Wellblack'ed (adj. from well, and blacked) Sufficiently blacked.
 Wellblanch'ed (adj. from well, and blanched) Properly blanched.
 Wellbleach'ed (adj. from well, and bleached) Properly bleached.
 Wellboil'ed (adj. from well, and boiled) Properly boiled.
 Wellbolt'ed (adj. from well, and bolted) Properly bolted.
 Wellborn (adj. from well, and born) Descended from reputable parents.
 Wellbought (adj. from well, and bought) Bought worth the money.
 Wellbound (adj. from well, and bound) Properly bound.
 Wellbraced (adj. from well, and braced) Sufficiently braced.
 Wellbraided (adj. from well, and braided) Properly braided.
 Wellbreath'ed (adj. from well, and breathed) Properly breathed, having good breath.
 Wellbred (adj. from well, and bred) Properly educated.
 Wellbrew'ed (adj. from well, and brewed) Properly brewed.
 Wellbridled (adj. from well, and bridled) Properly bridled, kept within due bounds.
 Wellbuilt (adj. from well, and built) Properly built, strongly built.
 Wellburnished (adj. from well, and burnished) Well polished.
 Wellburnt (adj. from well, and burnt) Properly burnt.
 Wellbuttered (adj. from well, and buttered) Sufficiently buttered.
 Wellcalked (adj. from well, and calked) Properly calked.
 Wellcard'ed (adj. from well, and carded) Properly carded.
 Wellcarved (adj. from well, and carved) Properly carved.
 Wellcased (adj. from well, and cased) Properly cased.
 Wellcatch'ed (adj. from well, and caught) Properly caught.
 Wellcement'ed (adj. from well, and cemented) Properly cemented.
 Wellcentred (adj. from well, and centred) Properly centred.
 Wellchang'ed (adj. from well, and changed) Properly changed.
 Wellchant'ed (adj. from well, and chanted) Well sung.
 Wellcharg'ed (adj. from well, and charged) Properly charged.
 Wellchecked (adj. from well, and checked) Properly checked.
 Wellcherish'ed (adj. from well, and cherished) Properly cherished.
 Wellchimed (adj. from well, and chimed) Properly chimed.

W E L

chop'ped (adj. from well, and chopped) Properly chop'ped.
 cho'sen (adj. from well, and chosen) Properly chosen.
 chur'ned (adj. from well, and churned) Properly churned.
 clas'ped (adj. from well, and clasped) Properly clasped.
 cleans'ed (adj. from well, and cleansed) Properly cleansed.
 cloaked (adj. from well, and cloaked) Sufficiently cloaked.
 clo'sed (adj. from well, and closed) Properly closed.
 clout'ed (adj. from well, and clouted) Properly clouted, sufficiently clouted.
 coat'ed (adj. from well, and coated) Properly coated, sufficiently coated.
 cog'ged (adj. from well, and clogged) Properly clogged.
 coin'ed (adj. from well, and coined) Properly formed, happily formed, happily invented.
 collar'ed (adj. from well, and collared) Properly collared.
 collat'ed (adj. from well, and collated) Properly collated.
 collect'ed (adj. from well, and collected) Properly collected.
 colour'ed (adj. from well, and coloured) Properly coloured.
 compact'ed (adj. from well, and compacted) Properly put together.
 compar'ed (adj. from well, and compared) Properly compared.
 compil'ed (adj. from well, and compiled) Properly compiled, judiciously compiled.
 compos'ed (adj. from well, and composed) Properly composed.
 compound'ed (adj. from well, and compounded) properly compounded.
 conceal'ed (adj. from well, and concealed) Properly concealed.
 conceiv'ed (adj. from well, and conceived) Properly conceived, happily conceived.
 conclu'ded (adj. from well, and concluded) Properly concluded.
 concre'ted (adj. from well, and concreted) Properly concreted.
 condition'ed (adj. from well, and conditioned) Good conditioned.
 conduct'ed (adj. from well, and conducted) Properly conducted.
 congregat'ed (adj. from well, and congregated) Properly congregated.
 connect'ed (adj. from well, and connected) Properly connected.
 constitut'ed (adj. from well, and constituted) Properly constituted.
 construct'ed (adj. from well, and constructed) Properly constructed.
 construd'ed (adj. from well, and construed) Properly construed.
 conten'ted (adj. from well, and contented) Easy in mind, well satisfied.
 contest'ed (adj. from well, and contested) Properly contested.
 contin'ued (adj. from well, and continued) Properly continued.
 contract'ed (adj. from well, and contracted) Properly contracted.
 contrast'ed (adj. from well, and contrasted) Properly contrasted.
 contriv'ed (adj. from well, and contrived) Properly contrived.
 cop'ied (adj. from well, and copied) Truly copied.
 cord'ed (adj. from well, and corded) Sufficiently corded.
 cork'ed (adj. from well, and corked) Properly corked.
 corn'ed (adj. from well, and corned) Properly corned, sufficiently corned.
 correct'ed (adj. from well, and corrected) Properly corrected.
 cover'ed (adj. from well, and covered) Properly covered.
 coupl'ed (adj. from well, and coupled) Properly coupled.
 cram'med (adj. from well, and crammed) Thoroughly crammed.

W E L

Wellcramp'ed (adj. from well, and cramped) Well secured with cramps.
 Wellcrop'ped (adj. from well, and cropped) Properly cropped.
 Wellcroud'ed (adj. from well, and crouded) Sufficiently crouded.
 Wellcroup'ed (adj. from well, and crouped) Having good buttocks.
 Wellcrush'ed (adj. from well, and crushed) Properly crushed.
 Wellcrust'ed (adj. from well, and crusted) Sufficiently crusted.
 Wellcurb'ed (adj. from well, and curbed) Properly curbed.
 Wellcud'led (adj. from well, and curdled) Properly curdled.
 Wellcured'ed (adj. from well, and cured) Properly cured.
 Wellcut' (adj. from well, and cut) Properly cut.
 Welldag'gled (adj. from well, and dagged) Sufficiently dagged.
 Welldark'ened (adj. from well, and darkened) Properly darkened.
 Welldecant'ed (adj. from well, and decanted) Properly decanted, well cleared from dregs.
 Welldecoat'ed (adj. from well, and decoated) Properly decoated.
 Welldeduct'ed (adj. from well, and deducted) Properly deducted.
 Welldefend'ed (adj. from well, and defended) Properly defended.
 Welldefin'ed (adj. from well, and defined) Properly defined.
 Welldepict'ed (adj. from well, and depicted) Properly depicted.
 Wellderiv'ed (adj. from well, and derived) Derived from a good origin.
 Welldescend'ed (adj. from well, and descended) Well born, descended from reputable parents.
 Welldescrib'ed (adj. from well, and described) Properly described.
 Welldeserv'ed (adj. from well, and deserved) Much deserved.
 Welldeserv'ing (s. from well, and deserve) One who deserves respect.
 Welldeserv'ing (adj. from well, and deserving) Deserving, meritorious.
 Welldesign'ed (adj. from well, and designed) Well meant, rightly intended.
 Welldevi'sed (adj. from well, and devised) Properly devised.
 Welldied' (adj. from well, and died) Properly died, made of a good colour.
 Welldiet'ed (adj. from well, and dieted) Properly di-eted.
 Welldirect'ed (adj. from well, and directed) Properly directed.
 Welldischarg'ed (adj. from well, and discharged) Properly discharged.
 Welldisciplin'ed (adj. from well, and disciplined) Properly disciplined.
 Welldiscuss'ed (adj. from well, and discussed) Properly discussed.
 Welldispers'ed (adj. from well, and dispersed) Properly dispersed.
 Welldisplay'ed (adj. from well, and displayed) Properly displayed.
 Welldispos'ed (adj. from well, and disposed) Properly disposed, charitable.
 Welldissemb'led (adj. from well, and dissembled) Artfully dissembled.
 Welldissolv'ed (adj. from well, and dissolved) Properly dissolved, quite dissolved.
 Welldisting'uish'ed (adj. from well, and distinguished) Properly distinguished.
 Welldistort'ed (adj. from well, and distorted) Properly distorted.
 Welldivid'ed (adj. from well, and divided) Properly divided.
 Welldo'ne (adj. from well, and done) Properly done.
 Welldo'ne (interj. from well, and done) Implying commendation.
 Welldouble'ed (adj. from well, and doubled) Properly doubled.
 Welldrain'ed (adj. from well, and drained) Properly drained.
 Welldraw'n (adj. from well, and drawn) Properly drawn.
 Welldress'ed (adj. from well, and dressed) Richly ap-pareled; sufficiently done as meat for the table.
 Welldriv'ed

W E L

Well-dried (adj. from well, and dried) Properly dried.
Well-dug (adj. from well, and dug) Properly dug.
Well-dunged (adj. from well, and dunged) Properly dunged, plentifully dunged.
Well-eared (adj. from well, and eared) Properly eared, having plenty of good ears as corn.
Well-enclosed (adj. from well, and enclosed) Properly enclosed.
Well-endowed (adj. from well, and endowed) Richly endowed.
Well-endured (adj. from well, and endured) Properly endured.
Well-engraved (adj. from well, and engraved) Properly engraved.
Well-engrossed (adj. from well, and engrossed) Properly engrossed.
Well-epitomized (adj. from well, and epitomized) Properly epitomized.
Well-erected (adj. from well, and erected) Properly erected.
Well-escorted (adj. from well, and escorted) Properly escorted.
Well-established (adj. from well, and established) Properly established.
Well-esteemed (adj. from well, and esteemed) Greatly esteemed.
Well-examined (adj. from well, and examined) Properly examined.
Well-explained (adj. from well, and explained) Properly explained.
Well-expressed (adj. from well, and expressed) Properly expressed, happily expressed.
Well-eyed (adj. from well, and eyed) Having well eyes.
Well-fabricated (adj. from well, and fabricated) Well made.
Well-fancied (adj. from well, and fancied) Properly imagined.
Well-fashioned (adj. from well, and fashioned) Properly formed.
Well-fattened (adj. from well, and fattened) Properly fattened.
Well-favoured (adj. from well, and favoured) Beautiful, pleasing to the eye.
Well-feasted (adj. from well, and feasted) Luxuriously feasted.
Well-feathered (adj. from well, and feathered) Quite flush, abounding with feathers.
Well-fed (adj. from well, and fed) Properly fed, rightly fed.
Well-fenced (adj. from well, and fenced) Properly fenced, defended by good fences.
Well-fermented (adj. from well, and fermented) Properly fermented.
Well-filled (adj. from well, and filled) Thoroughly filled.
Well-filtered (adj. from well, and filtered) Properly filtered.
Well-finished (adj. from well, and finished) Properly finished, highly finished.
Well-fitted (adj. from well, and fitted) Properly fitted.
Well-fixed (adj. from well, and fixed) Properly fixed.
Well-flanked (adj. from well, and flanked) Properly flanked.
Well-flavoured (adj. from well, and flavoured) Having a good flavour.
Well-fleshed (adj. from well, and fleshed) Having plenty of flesh, plump, full in flesh.
Well-flogged (adj. from well, and flogged) Thoroughly flogged.
Well-folded (adj. from well, and folded) Properly folded.
Well-forged (adj. from well, and forged) Properly forged.
Well-formed (adj. from well, and formed) Properly formed.
Well-founded (adj. from well, and founded) Properly founded.
Well-framed (adj. from well, and framed) Properly framed.
Well-fraught (adj. from well, and fraught) Fully fraught.
Well-fraughted (adj. from well, and fraughted) Fully laden.
Well-frequented (adj. from well, and frequented) Much frequented.
Well-fried (adj. from well, and fried) Sufficiently fried.
Well-fruited (adj. from well, and fruited) Well stored with fruit trees.

W E L

Well-furbelowed (adj. from well, and furbelowed) Sufficiently furbelowed.
Well-furbished (adj. from well, and furbished) Properly furbished, sufficiently furbished.
Well-furnished (adj. from well, and furnished) Properly furnished, fully furnished.
Well-furred (adj. from well, and furred) Having a lot of fur, much ornamented with furs.
Well-furrowed (adj. from well, and furrowed) Properly tilled, properly ploughed.
Well-gained (adj. from well, and gained) Honestly gained.
Well-garnished (adj. from well, and garnished) Properly garnished, richly garnished.
Well-gilded (adj. from well, and gilded) Properly gilded.
Well-gilt (adj. from well, and gilt) Properly gilt.
Well-girded (adj. from well, and girded) Properly girded.
Well-girt (adj. from well, and girt) Properly girt.
Well-girthed (adj. from well, and girthed) Properly girthed.
Well-glazed (adj. from well, and glazed) Properly glazed.
Well-gleaned (adj. from well, and gleaned) Properly gleaned.
Well-glossed (adj. from well, and glossed) Thoroughly glossed, much embellished.
Well-glued (adj. from well, and glued) Strongly glued.
Well-gorged (adj. from well, and gorged) Thoroughly glutted.
Well-governed (adj. from well, and governed) Properly governed.
Well-grafted (adj. from well, and grafted) Properly grafted.
Well-graven (adj. from well, and graven) Properly graven.
Well-grounded (adj. from well, and grounded) Properly grounded, well supported.
Well-grown (adj. from well, and grown) Much grown, come to maturity.
Well-guarded (adj. from well, and guarded) Properly guarded, strongly guarded.
Well-gummed (adj. from well, and gummed) Properly gummed, thoroughly gummed.
Well-habited (adj. from well, and habited) Properly habited.
Well-haired (adj. from well, and haired) Furnished with sufficiency of hair.
Well-hammered (adj. from well, and hammered) Properly hammered, sufficiently hammered.
Well-handled (adj. from well, and handled) Properly handled, with propriety.
Well-hanged (adj. from well, and hanged) Properly hanged.
Well-hardened (adj. from well, and hardened) Properly hardened.
Well-harnessed (adj. from well, and harnessed) Properly harnessed.
Well-harrowed (adj. from well, and harrowed) Properly harrowed, sufficiently harrowed.
Well-hashed (adj. from well, and hashed) Properly hashed, sufficiently hashed.
Well-hatchelled (adj. from well, and hatchelled) Properly hatchelled.
Well-headed (adj. from well, and headed) Properly headed.
Well-healed (adj. from well, and healed) Properly healed.
Well-hedged (adj. from well, and hedged) Properly hedged, well secured by a hedge.
Well-hemmed (adj. from well, and hemmed) Properly hemmed.
Well-hipped (adj. from well, and hipped) Properly hipped, sloped as the corners of a roof in a manner.
Well-hived (adj. from well, and hived) Properly hived, in a hive.
Well-hoed (adj. from well, and hoed) Properly hoed.
Well-hole (s. with builders) The space left in a wall.
Well-honeyed (adj. from well, and honeyed) Well mixed with honey.
Well-hooped (adj. from well, and hooped) Well mixed with hoops.
Well-horsed (adj. from well, and horsed) Well mixed with horses.
Well-housed (adj. from well, and housed) Properly housed, as corn or hay without damage.
Well-hugged (adj. from well, and hugged) Properly hugged, braced.

W E L

humbled (adj. from well, and humbled) Greatly hunted (adj. from well, and hunted) Closely husbanded (adj. from well, and husbanded) Fruly managed.
 jaded (adj. from well, and jaded) Thoroughly jilted (adj. from well, and jilted) Sufficiently jilted, ly deceived in love.
 illuminated (adj. from well, and illuminated) Pro-y illuminated.
 illustrated (adj. from well, and illustrated) Pro-y illustrated.
 imagined (adj. from well, and imagined) Properly
 y imagined.
 embellished (adj. from well, and embellished) Pro-y embellished.
 imbued (adj. from well, and imbued) Properly im-y imbued.
 imposed (adj. from well, and imposed) Properly
 y imposed.
 impregnated (adj. from well, and impregnated)
 oughly impregnated.
 impregnated (adj. from well, and impregnated)
 oughly impregnated.
 impressed (adj. from well, and impressed) Pro-y impressed.
 improved (adj. from well, and improved) Properly
 y improved.
 in (v. int. obsolete) To power out as a well or ng, to flow. Chaucer.
 inclined (adj. from well, and inclined) Well dis-y, having good inclinations.
 incorporated (adj. from well, and incorporated) Pro-y incorporated.
 indented (adj. from well, and indented) Properly
 y indented.
 indited (adj. from well, and indited) Properly
 y indited.
 informed (adj. from well, and informed) Properly
 y informed.
 ing (p. a. from well) 'Pouring forth as a well,
 y ing.
 WELLSBOROUGH (s.) A town in Northampton-e; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 69 miles n London.
 Wellingborough (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wellington, made at Wellingborough.
 WELINGTON (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a et on Thursday, and is 152 miles from Lon-
 n.
 WELINGTON (s.) A town in Shropshire; it has a et on Thursday, and is 142 miles from Lon-
 n.
 Wellington (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Welling-ington, made at Wellington.
 injected (adj. from well, and injected) Properly iny injected.
 inked (adj. from well, and inked) Sufficiently y inked with ink.
 inlightened (adj. from well, and inlightened) Pro-y inlightened.
 inspected (adj. from well, and inspected) Properly
 y inspected.
 instituted (adj. from well, and instituted) Properly
 y instituted.
 instructed (adj. from well, and instructed) Properly
 y instructed.
 intended (adj. from well, and intended) Done with y od design.
 intentioned (adj. from well, and intentioned) Hay good intentions.
 interpreted (adj. from well, and interpreted) Pro-y interpreted.
 intrenched (adj. from well, and intrenched) Pro-y intrenched.
 introduced (adj. from well, and introduced) Pro-y introduced.
 invented (adj. from well, and invented) Properly
 y ived, plausibly represented.
 joined (adj. from well, and joined) Properly joined,
 y united.
 judged (adj. from well, and judged) Properly
 y judged.
 kept (adj. from well, and kept) Properly prey ed.
 kissed (adj. from well, and kissed) Much kissed.
 known (adj. from well, and known) Commonly y n.

W E L

Well-laded (adj. from well, and laded) Deeply laden.
 Well-laden (adj. from well, and laden) Deeply freighted.
 Well-laid (adj. from well, and laid) Properly laid.
 Well-lathed (adj. from well, and lathed) Properly
 y lathed.
 Well-lathered (adj. from well, and lathered) Properly
 y lathered.
 Well-lighted (adj. from well, and lighted) Properly
 y lighted.
 Well-liquored (adj. from well, and liquored) Sufficiently y drenched.
 Well-loaded (adj. from well and loaded) Properly loaded, y sufficiently loaded.
 Well-looking (adj. from well, and looking) Having a y good appearance.
 Well-loved (adj. from well, and loved) Much loved.
 Well-made (adj. from well, and made) Properly made,
 y properly constructed.
 Well-malted (adj. from well, and malted) Made with a y sufficiency of malt.
 Well-manned (adj. from well, and manned) Furnished
 y with a sufficient number of men.
 Well-mannered (adj. from well, and mannered) Observing y good manners, well behaved.
 Well-manufactured (adj. from well, and manufactured)
 y Properly manufactured.
 Well-manured (adj. from well, and manured) Suffiy ciently manured.
 Well-marked (adj. from well, and marked) Properly
 y marked, prettily marked.
 Well-marled (adj. from well, and marled) Sufficiently y manured with marl.
 Well-married (adj. from well, and married) Married to y advantage, happily married.
 Well-matched (adj. from well, and matched) Properly
 y matched.
 Well-matured (adj. from well, and matured) Thoroughly
 y ripened.
 Well-mauled (adj. from well, and mauled) Thoroughly
 y beaten.
 Well-mean'er (s. from well, and mean) One who means y well.
 Well-meaning (adj. from well, and meaning) Having
 y good intentions.
 Well-meant (adj. from well, and meant) Designed for y good.
 Well-mended (adj. from well, and mended) Properly
 y mended.
 Well-met (adj. from well, and met) Happily met, fitly
 y met.
 Well-me't (interj. from the adj.) Implying congratula-y tion on meeting.
 Well-milked (adj. from well, and milked) Properly
 y milked.
 Well-minced (adj. from well, and minced) Properly
 y minced.
 Well-minded (adj. from well, and minded) Well dis-y posed.
 Well-mingled (adj. from well, and mingled) Properly
 y mingled.
 Well-missed (adj. from well, and missed) Happily missed.
 Well-mixed (adj. from well, and mixed) Properly
 y mixed.
 Well-moistened (adj. from well, and moistened) Suffiy ciently moistened.
 Well-mopped (adj. from well, and mopped) Sufficiently y mopped, properly mopped.
 Well-mortised (adj. from well, and mortised) Properly
 y mortised.
 Well-moulded (adj. from well, and moulded) Properly
 y moulded.
 Well-mounted (adj. from well, and mounted) Properly
 y mounted, mounted on a good horse.
 Well-mouthed (adj. from well, and mouth) Having a y good mouth, having a good voice. "Well-mouthed y bounds." Dryden.
 Well-mowed (adj. from well, and mowed) Properly
 y mowed.
 Well-mown (adj. from well, and mown) Properly
 y mown.
 Well-mucked (adj. from well, and mucked) Sufficiently y manured.
 Well-mulled (adj. from well, and mulled) Properly
 y mulled.
 Well-nailed (adj. from well, and nailed) Properly nailed,
 y securely nailed.
 Well-natured (adj. from well, and natured) Good nay tured, kind.
 Well-navigated (adj. from well, and navigated) Properly
 y navigated.

Well-natured

W E L

Wellnea'r (adj. from well, and near) At hand, not far off.
 Wellnigh (adv. from well, and nigh) Almost.
 Wellnoted (adj. from well, and noted) Properly noted.
 Wellnourished (adj. from well, and nourished) Properly nourished.
 Wellnursed (adj. from well, and nursed) Properly nursed.
 Wellobserved (adj. from well, and observed) Pertinently observed.
 Welloccupied (adj. from well, and occupied) Properly occupied.
 Wellofficered (adj. from well, and officered) Properly officered, furnished with a sufficient number of officers.
 Welloiled (adj. from well, and oiled) Properly oiled.
 Wellomened (adj. from well, and omended) Having good omens.
 Wellordained (adj. from well, and ordained) Properly ordained.
 Wellordered (adj. from well, and ordered) Properly ordered.
 Wellorganed (adj. from well, and organed) Furnished with proper organs.
 Wellover (adj. from well, and over) Quite over, quite gone.
 Wellout (adj. from well, and out) Quite out, quite finished, quite exhausted.
 Wellpaced (adj. from well, and paced) Properly paced.
 Wellpacked (adj. from well, and packed) Properly packed.
 Wellpadded (adj. from well, and padded) Properly padded.
 Wellpainted (adj. from well, and painted) Properly painted.
 Wellpaired (adj. from well, and paired) Properly paired.
 Wellpampered (adj. from well, and pampered) Sufficiently pampered.
 Wellpapered (adj. from well, and papered) Properly papered.
 Wellparaphrased (adj. from well, and paraphrased) Properly paraphrased.
 Wellparted (adj. from well, and parted) Properly parted.
 Wellpaved (adj. from well, and paved) Properly paved.
 Wellpeeled (adj. from well, and peeled) Properly peeled.
 Wellpensioned (adj. from well, and pensioned) Accommodated with a handsome pension.
 Wellpeopled (adj. from well, and peopled) Well stored with people.
 Wellpeppered (adj. from well, and peppered) Sufficiently peppered.
 Wellperformed (adj. from well, and performed) Properly performed.
 Wellperfumed (adj. from well, and perfumed) Properly perfumed, richly perfumed.
 Wellpersonated (adj. from well, and personated) Properly personated.
 Wellpersuaded (adj. from well, and persuaded) Fully persuaded.
 Wellpiled (adj. from well, and piled) Properly piled.
 Wellpillaged (adj. from well, and pillaged) Sufficiently pillaged.
 Wellpiloted (adj. from well, and piloted) Properly piloted.
 Wellpinned (adj. from well, and pinned) Properly pinned.
 Wellpiped (adj. from well, and piped) Properly piped.
 Wellplaced (adj. from well, and placed) Properly placed.
 Wellplained (adj. from well, and plained) Properly plained.
 Wellplastered (adj. from well, and plastered) Properly plastered.
 Wellplaited (adj. from well, and plaited) Properly plaited.
 Wellplanch'd (adj. from well, and planched) Properly planched.
 Wellplaned (adj. from well, and planed) Properly planed.
 Wellplanned (adj. from well, and planned) Properly planned.
 Wellplanted (adj. from well, and planted) Properly planted, thickly planted.
 Wellplashed (adj. from well, and plashed) Properly plashed.

W E L

Wellplastered (adj. from well, and plastered) Properly plastered.
 Wellplated (adj. from well, and plated) Properly plated.
 Wellplatted (adj. from well, and platted) Properly platted.
 Wellplayed (adj. from well, and played) Properly played, judiciously played.
 Wellpleaded (adj. from well, and pleaded) Properly pleaded, judiciously pleaded.
 Wellpleased (adj. from well, and pleased) Properly pleased.
 Wellpleasing (adj. from well, and pleasing) Giving pleasure, giving satisfaction.
 Wellplugged (adj. from well, and plugged) Properly plugged.
 Wellplyed (adj. from well, and plyed) Properly plyed.
 Wellpoached (adj. from well, and poached) Properly poached.
 Wellpodded (adj. from well, and podded) Thick with pods.
 Wellpointed (adj. from well, and pointed) Properly pointed.
 Wellpoised (adj. from well, and poised) Properly poised.
 Wellpolished (adj. from well, and polished) Properly polished, highly polished.
 Wellpondered (adj. from well, and pondered) Manly considered.
 Wellportraied (adj. from well, and portraied) Properly portraied.
 Wellpotted (adj. from well, and potted) Properly potted.
 Wellpounded (adj. from well, and pounded) Properly pounded.
 Wellpowdered (adj. from well, and powdered) Properly powdered.
 Wellpractised (adj. from well, and practised) Properly observed.
 Wellpressed (adj. from well, and pressed) Properly pressed.
 Wellprimed (adj. from well, and primed) Properly primed.
 Wellprinted (adj. from well, and printed) Properly printed, nearly printed.
 Wellprobed (adj. from well, and probed) Thoroughly probed.
 Wellprojected (adj. from well, and projected) Properly contrived.
 Wellpronounced (adj. from well, and pronounced) Properly pronounced, gracefully pronounced.
 Wellproportioned (adj. from well, and proportioned) Properly proportioned.
 Wellproposed (adj. from well, and proposed) Properly proposed.
 Wellpropounded (adj. from well, and propounded) Judiciously propounded.
 Wellpropped (adj. from well, and propped) Sufficiently propped.
 Wellprotected (adj. from well, and protected) Properly protected.
 Wellproved (adj. from well, and proved) Sufficiently proved.
 Wellprovided (adj. from well, and provided) Sufficiently provided.
 Wellpruned (adj. from well, and pruned) Properly pruned.
 Wellpulled (adj. from well, and pulled) Properly pulled.
 Wellpurchased (adj. from well, and purchased) Properly chafed to advantage.
 Wellpurified (adj. from well, and purified) Properly purified.
 Wellpurposed (adj. from well, and purposed) Well tended, done with a good intention.
 Wellqualified (adj. from well, and qualified) Properly qualified.
 Wellquilted (adj. from well, and quilted) Properly quilted.
 Wellrabbeted (adj. from well, and rabbeted) Properly rabbeted.
 Wellracked (adj. from well, and racked) Properly racked.
 Wellraftered (adj. from well, and raftered) Properly raftered.
 Wellrailed (adj. from well, and railed) Properly railed.
 Wellraised (adj. from well, and raised) Properly raised.

W E L

Wellmarked (adj. from well, and raked) Properly raked, well marked.
 Wellread (adj. from well, and read) Much read, well instructed by reading.
 Wellreaped (adj. from well, and reaped) Properly reaped.
 Wellreceived (adj. from well, and received) Received with approbation.
 Wellreclaimed (adj. from well, and reclaimed) Properly reclaimed.
 Wellrefined (adj. from well, and refined) Properly refined.
 Wellregaled (adj. from well, and regaled) Plentifully regaled.
 Wellregarded (adj. from well, and regarded) Much regarded.
 Wellremarked (adj. from well, and remarked) Properly remarked.
 Wellrendered (adj. from well, and rendered) Properly rendered.
 Wellrented (adj. from well, and rented) Rented cheap.
 Wellrepaid (adj. from well, and repaid) Sufficiently compensated.
 Wellrepaired (adj. from well, and repaired) Sufficiently repaired.
 Wellreported (adj. from well, and reported) Spoken of
 with approbation.
 Wellrequited (adj. from well, and requited) Sufficiently requited.
 Wellreserved (adj. from well, and reserved) Properly reserved.
 Wellrespected (adj. from well, and respected) Much respected.
 Wellrestrained (adj. from well, and restrained) Properly restrained.
 Wellrestricted (adj. from well, and restricted) Properly restricted.
 Wellrevised (adj. from well, and revised) Carefully revised.
 Wellrewarded (adj. from well, and rewarded) Sufficiently rewarded.
 Wellribbed (adj. from well, and ribbed) Properly ribbed.
 Wellricked (adj. from well, and ricked) Properly ricked.
 Wellrigged (adj. from well, and rigged) Properly rigged, finely dressed.
 Wellrinsed (adj. from well, and rinsed) Cleanly rinsed.
 Wellripened (adj. from well, and ripened) Thoroughly ripened.
 Wellriveted (adj. from well, and riveted) Securely riveted.
 Wellroasted (adj. from well, and roasted) Properly roasted.
 Wellrolled (adj. from well, and rolled) Properly rolled.
 Wellroofed (adj. from well, and roofed) Properly roofed.
 Wellrooted (adj. from well, and rooted) Sufficiently rooted, having good roots.
 Wellrotten (adj. from well, and rotten) Thoroughly rotten.
 Wellrubbed (adj. from well, and rubbed) Properly rubbed.
 Wellrunning (adj. from well, and running) Running smoothly as verse.
 Wells (s.) A city in Somersetshire; it makes with the see of a bishop, sends two members to parliament, has a market on Wednesday and Saturday, is 120 miles from London.
 Wells (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the city of Wells, made in the city of Wells.
 Wellpacked (adj. from well, and packed) Properly packed, well put up in sacks.
 Wellpaid (adj. from well, and paid) Properly paid.
 Well (interj. from the adj. a colloquial word) Imploring an approbation of what has been said.
 Wellfarved (adj. a sea term) Properly farved.
 Wellfatisfied (adj. from well, and satisfied) Thoroughly satisfied.
 Wellfaved (adj. from well, and faved) Saved at the proper time, faved just in time.
 Wellfavored (adj. from well, and favored) Palatable, highly favored.
 Wellfawed (adj. from well, and fawed) Properly fawed.

W E L

Wellsealed (adj. from well, and sealed) Properly sealed, furnished with scales.
 Wellscolded (adj. from well, and scolded) Thoroughly scolded.
 Wellscoured (adj. from well, and scoured) Properly scoured.
 Wellscraped (adj. from well, and scraped) Properly scraped.
 Wellscreened (adj. from well, and screened) Properly screened.
 Wellscrowed (adj. from well, and screwed) Properly screwed.
 Wellscribed (adj. from well, and scribed) Properly scribed, exactly scribed.
 Wellscummed (adj. from well, and scummed) Thoroughly scummed.
 Wellsealed (adj. from well, and sealed) Properly sealed, well secured with a seal.
 Wellseasoned (adj. from well, and seasoned) Properly seasoned, thoroughly seasoned.
 Wellseated (adj. from well, and seated) Properly seated, seated to satisfaction.
 Wellseconded (adj. from well, and seconded) Properly supported.
 Wellsecreted (adj. from well, and secreted) Properly secreted.
 Wellsecured (adj. from well, and secured) Properly secured.
 Wellseethed (adj. from well, and seethed) Properly seethed.
 Wellselected (adj. from well, and selected) Properly selected.
 Wellferved (adj. from well, and ferved) Properly ferved.
 Wellfett (adj. from well, and fet) Well made, thickly fet.
 Wellsewed (adj. from well, and sewed) Properly sewed, strongly sewed.
 Wellshaded (adj. from well, and shaded) Properly shaded.
 Wellshaped (adj. from well, and shaped) Properly shaped.
 Wellshapen (adj. from well, and shapen) Properly shapen.
 Wellsharpened (adj. from well, and sharpened) Properly sharpened.
 Wellshaved (adj. from well, and shaved) Properly shaved, closely shaved.
 Wellshaven (adj. from well, and shaven) Properly shaven, closely shaven.
 Wellsheared (adj. from well, and sheared) Properly sheared.
 Wellsheltered (adj. from well, and sheltered) Properly sheltered.
 Wellshoared (adj. from well, and shoared) Properly shoared, well secured by props.
 Wellshod (adj. from well, and shod) Properly shod.
 Wellshoed (adj. from well, and shoed) Properly shoed.
 Wellshook (adj. from well, and shook) Properly shook, thoroughly shook.
 Wellsilvered (adj. from well, and silvered) Properly silvered.
 Wellfinewed (adj. from well, and finewed) Having large sinews.
 Wellskilled (adj. from well, and skilled) Properly skilled.
 Wellstated (adj. from well, and stated) Properly stated.
 Wellsteyed (adj. from well, and steyed) Properly steyed.
 Wellslung (adj. from well, and slung) Properly slung.
 Wellsmearied (adj. from well, and smeared) Properly smeared.
 Wellsmoked (adj. from well, and smoked) Thoroughly smoked.
 Wellsmoothed (adj. from well, and smoothed) Properly smoothed.
 Wellsoaked (adj. from well, and soaked) Thoroughly soaked.
 Wellsoaped (adj. from well, and soaped) Thoroughly soaped.
 Wellfodden (adj. from well, and fodden) Thoroughly fodden.
 Wellsoftened (adj. from well, and softened) Thoroughly softened.
 Wellfold (adj. from well, and fold) Sold for a good price.
 Wellfoiled (adj. from well, and foiled) Properly foiled.
 Well-

W E L

Wellfoot'ed (adj. from well, and footed) Thoroughly footed.
 Wellfort'ed (adj. from well, and sorted) Properly sorted.
 Wellfou'ed (adj. from well, and fouced) Thoroughly fouced.
 Wellfour'ed (adj. from well, and soured) Thoroughly soured.
 Wellfow'n (adj. from well, and sown) Properly sown, thickly sown.
 Wellspe'nt (adj. from well, and spent) Virtuously spent.
 Wellspo'ken (adj. from well, and spoken) Properly spoken, cautious, kind in speech.
 Wellspool'ed (adj. from well, and spooled) Properly spooled.
 Well'spring (s. from well, and spring) A fountain, a source.
 Wellspu'n (adj. from well, and spun) Properly spun, finely drawn.
 Wellsquar'ed (adj. from well, and squared) Properly squared.
 Wellstock'ed (adj. from well, and stocked) Properly stocked.
 Wellstain'ed (adj. from well, and stained) Properly stained.
 Wellstamp'ed (adj. from well, and stamped) Properly stamped.
 Wellstarch'ed (adj. from well, and starched) Properly starched.
 Wellstay'ed (adj. from well, and stayed) Properly stayed.
 Wellsteam'ed (adj. from well, and steamed) Properly steamed.
 Wellsteel'ed (adj. from well, and steeled) Properly steeled.
 Wellsteep'ed (adj. from well, and steeped) Properly steeped.
 Wellsteer'ed (adj. from well, and steered) Properly steered.
 Wellstew'ed (adj. from well, and stewed) Properly stewed.
 Wellstiffened (adj. from well, and stiffened) Properly stiffened.
 Wellstir'ed (adj. from well, and stirred) Properly stirred.
 Wellstitch'ed (adj. from well, and stitched) Properly stitched.
 Wellstock'ed (adj. from well, and stocked) Properly stocked, plentifully stocked.
 Wellstor'ed (adj. from well, and stored) Plentifully stored.
 Wellstov'ed (adj. from well, and stoved) Properly stoved.
 Wellstrew'ed (adj. from well, and strewed) Properly strewed.
 Wellstrick'en (adj. from well, and stricken) Far advanced as in years.
 Wellstud'ied (adj. from well, and studied) Properly studied, judiciously composed.
 Wellstuffed (adj. from well, and stuffed) Sufficiently stuffed, thoroughly stuffed.
 Wellfue'led (adj. from well, and suckled) Properly suckled.
 Wellfug'ared (adj. from well, and fugared) Thoroughly fugared.
 Wellfuit'ed (adj. from well, and suited) Properly suited.
 Wellfuing (adj. from well, and sung) Properly sung, judiciously sung.
 Wellfup'pled (adj. from well, and supplied) Thoroughly supplied.
 Wellfupport'ed (adj. from well, and supported) Properly supported.
 Wellfurvey'ed (adj. from well, and surveyed) Properly surveyed.
 Wellfustai'ned (adj. from well, and sustained) Properly sustained.
 Wellfwab'bed (adj. from well, and fwabbed) Cleanly fwabbed.
 Wellfwad'dled (adj. from well, and fwaddled) Properly fwaddled, tightly fwaddled.
 Wellfwath'ed (adj. from well, and fwathed) Properly fwathed, tightly fwathed.
 Wellfweat'ed (adj. from well, and fwated) Profusely fwated.
 Wellfwest'ened (adj. from well, and fwetened) Thoroughly fwetened, properly fwetened.
 Wellfwep't (adj. from well, and fwep't) Thoroughly fwep't.
 Wellfwill'ed (adj. from well, and fwilled) Properly fwilled, thoroughly fwilled.

W E L

Wellfwing'led (adj. from well, and fwingled) Properly fwingled.
 Wellfwyr'inged (adj. from well, and fwyringed) Properly fwyringed, thoroughly fwyringed.
 Welltack'ed (adj. from well, and tacked) Properly tacked, securely tacked.
 Welltaken (adj. from well, and taken) Taken in good part.
 Welltall'ied (adj. from well, and tallied) Properly tallied.
 Welltallow'ed (adj. from well, and tallowed) Properly tallowed.
 Welltamed (adj. from well, and tamed) Thoroughly tamed.
 Welltanned (adj. from well, and tanned) Properly tanned.
 Welltar'ed (adj. from well, and tarred) Properly tarred, thoroughly tarred.
 Wellta'sted (adj. from well, and tasted) Having a good taste.
 Welltax'ed (adj. from well, and taxed) Thoroughly taxed, highly taxed.
 Welltau'ght (adj. from well, and taught) Properly taught, properly educated.
 Wellteas'ed (adj. from well, and teafed) Thoroughly teafed.
 Wellteas'eled (adj. from well, and teafeled) Properly teafeled.
 Welltedd'ed (adj. from well, and tedded) Properly tedded.
 Welltem'pered (adj. from well, and tempered) Properly tempered.
 Wellten'anted (adj. from well, and tenanted) Having good tenants, held by a good tenant.
 Welltend'ed (adj. from well, and tended) Properly tended, carefully tended.
 Welltent'ed (adj. from well, and tented) Properly tented.
 Welltenter'ed (adj. from well, and tentered) Properly tentered.
 Wellter'minated (adj. from well, and terminated) Properly terminated.
 Wellterraced (adj. from well, and terraced) Properly terraced.
 Wellteth'ered (adj. from well, and tethered) Properly tethered.
 Welltew'ed (adj. from well, and tewed) Properly tewed.
 Welltew'tawed (adj. from well, and tewtawed) Properly tewtawed, roughly tewtawed.
 Wellthatch'ed (adj. from well, and thatched) Properly thatched, having the thatching in good repair.
 Wellthick'ened (adj. from well, and thickened) Properly thickened, thoroughly thickened.
 Wellthin'ned (adj. from well, and thinned) Properly thinned.
 Wellthou'ght (adj. from well, and thought) Opposely thought of.
 Wellthread'ed (adj. from well, and threaded) Properly threaded.
 Wellthresh'ed (adj. from well, and threshed) Properly threshed.
 Wellthriv'en (adj. from well, and thriven) Properly thriven.
 Wellthrong'ed (adj. from well, and thronged) Properly thronged, roughly thronged.
 Welltied (adj. from well, and tied) Properly tied, securely tied.
 Welltight'ened (adj. from well, and tightened) Properly tightened.
 Welltiled (adj. from well, and tiled) Properly tiled.
 Welltill'ed (adj. from well, and tilled) Properly tilled.
 Welltilt'ed (adj. from well, and tilted) Properly tilted.
 Welltim'ed (adj. from well, and timed) Properly timed, well accommodated to the circumstances.
 Welltin'ured (adj. from well, and tinctured) Properly tinctured.
 Wellting'ed (adj. from well, and tinged) Properly tinged.
 Welltin'ned (adj. from well, and tinned) Properly tinned.
 Welltipt (adj. from well, and tipt) Properly tipt.
 Welltired (adj. from well, and tired) Thoroughly tired.
 Welltoast'ed (adj. from well, and toasted) Properly toasted.
 Welltook (adj. from well, and took) Properly taken.

W E L

Welltooth'ed (adj. from well, and toothed) Properly toothed.
 Welltop'ped (adj. from well, and topped) Properly topped.
 Welltrained'ed (adj. from well, and trained) Properly trained.
 Welltravers'ed (adj. from well, and traversed) Properly traversed.
 Welltreat'ed (adj. from well, and treated) Properly treated, kindly treated.
 Welltrench'ed (adj. from well, and trenched) Properly trenched.
 Welltrig'ged (adj. from well, and trigged) Properly trigged.
 Welltrim'med (adj. from well, and trimmed) Properly trimmed, fully trimmed.
 Welltro'd (adj. from well, and trod) Thoroughly trodden.
 Welltrodden' (adj. from well, and trodden) Thoroughly trodden.
 Welltruss'ed (adj. from well, and trussed) Properly trussed.
 Welltuck'ed (adj. from well, and tucked) Properly tucked.
 Welltug'ged (adj. from well, and tugged) Thoroughly tugged.
 Welltuned' (adj. from well, and tuned) Properly tuned.
 Welltunn'ed (adj. from well, and tunned) Properly tunned.
 Wellturf'ed (adj. from well, and turfed) Properly turfed.
 Wellturn'ed (adj. from well, and turned) Properly turned.
 Welltutor'ed (adj. from well, and tutored) Properly tutored, well taught.
 Welltwist'ed (adj. from well, and twisted) Properly twisted.
 Wellvail'ed (adj. from well, and vailed) Properly vailed.
 Wellvamp'ed (adj. from well, and vamped) Properly vamped.
 Wellvar'ied (adj. from well, and varied) Properly varied.
 Wellvarnish'ed (adj. from well, and varnished) Properly varnished.
 Wellveil'ed (adj. from well, and veiled) Properly veiled.
 Wellvene'ered (adj. from well, and veneered) Properly veneered.
 Wellventilat'ed (adj. from well, and ventilated) Properly ventilated.
 Wellvers'ed (adj. from well, and versed) Properly versed.
 Wellvial'ed (adj. from well, and vialled) Properly vialled.
 Wellview'ed (adj. from well, and viewed) Properly viewed.
 Wellvoted' (adj. from well, and voted) Properly voted.
 Wellvouch'ed (adj. from well, and vouched) Properly vouched.
 Wellurg'ed (adj. from well, and urged) Properly urged.
 Wellus'ed (adj. from well, and used) Kindly used.
 Wellutter'ed (adj. from well, and uttered) Properly uttered.
 Wellwadd'ed (adj. from well, and wadded) Properly wadded.
 Wellwain'scotted (adj. from well, and wainfscotted) Properly wainfscotted.
 Wellwalled' (adj. from well, and walled) Properly walled, well secured by a wall.
 Wellwarn'ed (adj. from well, and warned) Properly warned.
 Wellwarp'ed (adj. from well, and warped) Properly warped.
 Wellwarrant'ed (adj. from well, and warranted) Sufficiently warranted.
 Wellwashed' (adj. from well, and washed) Properly washed, cleanly washed.
 Wellweigh'ed (adj. from well, and weighed) Properly weighed.
 Wellwatch'ed (adj. from well, and watched) Properly watched, thoroughly watched.
 Wellwater'ed (adj. from well, and watered) Plentifully watered.
 Wellwattled' (adj. from well, and wattled) Properly wattled.
 Wellwax'ed (adj. from well, and waxed) Properly waxed, thoroughly waxed.
 Wellwed'ed (adj. from well, and wedded) Happily wedded.

W E N

Wellwedg'ed (adj. from well, and wedged) Properly wedged.
 Wellweed'ed (adj. from well, and weeded) Thoroughly weeded.
 Wellweigh'ed (adj. from well, and weighed) Properly weighed.
 Wellwet'ed (adj. from well, and wetted) Thoroughly wetted.
 Wellwhet'ted (adj. from well, and whetted) Properly whetted.
 Wellwhit'ed (adj. from well, and whited) Properly whited.
 Wellwhit'ened (adj. from well, and whitened) Properly whitened.
 Wellwill'er (s. from well, and will) One who means well, one who intends kindly.
 Wellwill'y (adj. obsolete) Wishing well, favourable. Ch.
 Wellwin'owed (adj. from well, and winnowed) Properly winnowed.
 Wellwip'ed (adj. from well, and wiped) Properly wiped.
 Wellwish' (s. from well, and wish) A good wish, a wish of happiness. Addison.
 Wellwish'er (s. from well, and wisher) One who wishes well.
 Wellwishing' (adj. from well, and wishing) Wishing well.
 Wellwishing' (s. from the adj.) The act of wishing well.
 Wellwoad'ed (adj. from well, and woaded) Properly woaded.
 Wellword'ed (adj. from well, and worded) Properly worded.
 Wellworn' (adj. from well, and worn) Much worn.
 Wellwound' (adj. from well, and wound) Properly wound.
 Wellwrap'ped (adj. from well, and wrapped) Properly wrapped.
 Wellwreath'ed (adj. from well, and wreathed) Properly wreathed.
 Wellwritten' (adj. from well, and written) Fairly written, properly composed.
 Wellwrought' (adj. from well, and wrought) Properly wrought.
 Well'y (adv. a local word) Almost, nearly. Bailey.
 Wellyearn'ed (adj. from well, and yearned) Properly yearned.
 Well'yoked (adj. from well, and yoked) Properly yoked.
 Well'yling (p. a. obsolete) Flowing, pouring out. Ch.
 Well'yith (v. int. third pers. obsolete) Rieth. Chauc.
 Welny' (adv. an obsolete spelling) Well nigh, almost. Ch.
 Well'yish (adj. obsolete) Whelpish, like a whelp. Ch.
 Welsh (adj. from Gaulish) Belonging to Wales, made in Wales, produced in Wales.
 Welsh (s. from the adj.) The people of Wales, the language spoken in Wales.
 WELSHPOOL (s.) A town in Montgomeryshire; it has a market on Monday, and is 169 miles from London.
 Welsh'pool (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Welshpool, made at Welshpool.
 WELT (v. a. from the Sax. weitan, to roll) To sow with a border.
 Welt (s. from the verb) A border, an edging, a guard.
 Welte (adj. obsolete) Governed, ruled, having in command. Chauc.
 Welt'ed (p. from welt) Secured with a border.
 WELT'ER (v. int. from the Sax. weitan) To roll in water or mire, to wallow.
 Welt'er'ing (p. a. from welter) Rolling in water or mire, wallowing.
 Welt'er'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rolling in water or mire, the act of wallowing.
 Welth'ed (adj. obsolete) Wealthy. Chaucer.
 Welthew'ed (adj. obsolete) Having good qualities, virtuous. Chauc.
 Welt'ing (p. a. from welt) Sewing with a hem or border.
 Welt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sewing with a welt.
 WEM (s. from the Sax.) A spot, a scar, a fault, a damage. Chauc.
 WEM (s.) A town in Shropshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 166 miles from London.
 Wem (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wem, made at Wem.
 Wem (s. a different spelling) A wen, a spot, a scar.
 Wemb (s. retained in the Scotch dialect) The belly.
 Wem'leis (adj. from wem) Spotless, innocent.
 Wemme (s. an old spelling) A wen.
 WEN (s. from the Sax.) A fleshy excrescence, a callous protuberance in the flesh.

Wence (s. a local word) A place where four roads meet. Scott.

WENCH (s. from the Sax. wench) A young woman, a girl, a young woman in contempt, a strumpet.

Wench (v. int. from the sub.) To follow the wenches, to follow women of ill fame.

Wencher (s. from wench) One who follows wenches, one who follows women of ill fame.

Wench'ing (p. a. from wench) Following the wenches, following young women of ill fame.

Wench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of following young women of ill fame.

WEND (v. int. from the Sax. wendan, but now obsolete) To go, to pass from, to turn round. Arbutnot.

WEND (s. from the Sax.) A large tract of land. Scott.

Wende (v. int. obsolete) To turn. Chauc.

Wende (s. obsolete) A guess, a conjecture. Chau.

Wend'en (v. int. obsolete) To go, to turn, to revolve. Ch.

WEN'DOVER (s.) A borough town in Buckinghamshire; it has a market on Thursday, sends two members to parliament, and is 35 miles from London.

Wen'dover (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wendover, made at Wendover.

Wene (v. t. obsolete) To imagine, to suppose. Chau.

Wene (s. obsolete) A supposition, a doubt. Chau.

Wen'geresse (s. obsolete) Revenge. Chau.

WEN'LOCK (s.) A borough town in Shropshire; it has a market on Monday, sends two members to parliament, and is 146 miles from London.

Wen'lock (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wenlock, made at Wenlock.

Wen'nel (s. from weanling) An animal just taken from the dam.

Wen'ny (adj. from wen) Having the nature of a wen.

Wens'tow (v. int. obsolete) Didst thou go.

Went (v. int. pret. from weand) Did go. Scott.

WEOLD (s. from the Sax.) A wild, a forest. Philips.

Weorth (s. obsolete) A farm, a country house. Chaucer.

We'pelie (adj. obsolete) Weeping, mourning. Chaucer.

We'pen, We'pin (s. obsolete) Weapons. Chaucer.

Wept (v. t. pret. of weep) Did weep.

Wept (p. from weep) Bewailed, lamented.

Wer (s. an old spelling) War. Chaucer.

We'ra (s. from were) The fine heretofore paid for killing a man.

We'rbelles (s. obsolete) Warblings. Chaucer.

Werch, Werch'in (v. t. obsolete) To work, to do. Ch.

Werd (s. obsolete) A word. Chaucer.

Were (v. s. pret. of am) Did exist.

Were (s. a different spelling) A wear, a dam. Sidney.

WERE (s. from the Sax. wert, but now obsolete) A man, the fine for killing a man.

Wer'egelt (s. an old Saxon law term) The fine for killing a man, the price paid for the redemption of a man.

Wer'egelt'heff (s. from weregelt, and theff) A thief that might be redeemed. Scott.

Wer'egelt'thief (s. a different spelling) A thief that might be redeemed. Bailey.

Wer'egild (s. an old Saxon law term) The fine set on a man who had committed murder.

Wergia'das (s. an old law term) A manner of purgation on the oath of other men.

We'ren, We'rin (v. n. obsolete) Were. Chaucer.

We'rewolf (s. from were, and wolf) One who was supposed to have a power by enchantment to turn himself into the nature and form of a wolf.

Wergh (v. t. an old word) To work. Bailey.

Werg'in (v. t. obsolete) To make war upon. Chaucer.

Wer'ie (adj. an old spelling) Weary. Chaucer.

Wer'ish (adj. an old word) Unfavoury. Bailey.

Werke (s. an old spelling) Work. Chaucer.

Werke (v. int. an old spelling) To work. Chaucer.

Werne (v. n. obsolete) Were. Chaucer.

Wern'in (v. t. obsolete) To encourage, to assume, to hinder, to forfeit, to deny, to refuse. Chaucer.

Wer'nish (adj. an old spelling) Unfavoury. Scott.

Werre (s. an old spelling) War. Chaucer.

Wer'rey (v. t. obsolete) To make war upon. Chaucer.

Wer'rien (v. t. obsolete) To make war upon. Chaucer.

Wers (adj. obsolete) Worse. Chaucer.

Wert (v. n. pret. second person sing. of am) Wast, didst exist. Dryden.

Wer'ta (s. an old law term) The fine for the redemption of a murderer.

Werth (s. an old spelling) Worth, deserving. Chaucer.

Werva'gicam (s. in old records) Wharfage.

WER'VANCE (s. in the West Indies) A great lord.

Wes'and (s. a different spelling) the wealand, the wind-pipe. Bacon.

We'sel (s. a different spelling) The weasand, the wind-pipe.

Wesh (adj. obsolete) Washed.

WEST (s. from the Sax.) That part of the heavens where the sun sets when in the equinox; that quarter of the heavens in which the sun sets, the part of country lying towards the setting of the sun.

West (adj. from the sub.) Situate towards the setting of the sun, coming from that quarter of the heavens where the sun sets.

West (adv. from the adj.) To the west of any place.

WEST'BURY (s.) A borough town in Wiltshire; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 101 miles from London.

West'bury (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Westbury, made at Westbury.

West'el (s.) The torteaux. Phillips.

WEST'ERHAM (s.) A town in Kent; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 21 miles from London.

West'erham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Westham, made at Westerham.

West'erlinels (s. from westerly) The state of being westerly.

West'erling (adj. from west) Passing to the west. Middle.

West'erly (adj. from west) Lying towards the west, tending to the west; coming from the west, blowing from the west.

West'iv (adj. a local word) Decently, godly. Bailey.

WESTMEATH (s.) A county in Ireland in the province of Leinster.

WEST'MINSTER (s.) A city in Middlesex; it was once the see of a bishop, one mile from London, but now joined to it, sends two members to parliament, and is generally the residence of the court.

West'minster (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Westminster, situate in Westminster, made at Westminster.

WEST'MORELAND (s.) One of the northern counties of England situate on the Irish channel; it contains eight market towns, and sends four members to parliament, two for the county, and two for Appleton.

West'moreland (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Westmoreland, produced in Westmoreland.

West'rin (v. int. obsolete) To draw nigh the west.

West'rith (v. int. third person obsolete) Setteth as the sun.

West'ia'lonlage (s. an old word) The laws of the West Saxons.

West'ward (adv. from west, and ward) Towards west.

West'ward (s. from the adv.) The parts that lie towards the west.

West'wardly (adv. from westward) With a tendency to the west.

WET (adj. from the Sax. woet) Humid, moist, rainy, watery.

Wet (s. from the adj.) Water, humidity, moisture, weather.

Wet (v. t. from the sub.) To moisten, to drench with moisture, to drench with drink. Chau.

Wetche (s. an old spelling) A watch. Chau.

Wete, We'ten (v. t. obsolete) To know, to understand.

Wet'glover (s. from wet, and Glover) One who dresses leather for gloves.

Wet'shod (adj. from wet, and shod) Having the feet wet. Chau.

WETHER (s. from the Sax. weder) A castrated sheep.

Weth'er (s. an old spelling) The weather; a wether.

WETH'ERBY (s.) A town in the west riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 178 miles from London.

Weth'erby (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wetherby, made at Wetherby.

Weth'erhog (s. from wether, and hog) A castrated sheep of the first year.

Weth'er'sheep (s. from wether, and sheep) A castrated sheep.

Wet'nels (s. from wet) The state of being wet.

Wet'ted (p. from wet) Moistened, made wet.

Wet'ter (adj. from wet) Wet in a greater degree.

Wet'test (adj. sup. of wet) Wet in the greatest degree.

Wet'ting (p. a. from wet) Moistening, making wet.

Wet'ting (s. from the part.) The act of making wet, quantity of barley wetted to make malt.

Wet'tish (adj. from wet) Somewhat wet.

Weve (v. t. obsolete) To wave, to defer, to put off.

Wex (v. int. corrupted from wax) To wax, to increase.

Wexa'cious (s. an old spelling) Vexatious.

WEX'FORD (s.) A county in Ireland in the province of Munster; the capital of the county.

Wex'ing (p. a. from wex) Waxing, increasing.

W H E

W (v. int. pret.) Did wax, did increase. Chaucer.
W (s. a different spelling) A way, a certain weight, a certain measure different in different places. Phil.
W (adj. obsolete) Lamenting, bewailing. Ch.
W (s.) A borough town in Dorsetshire; it is a market on Tuesday and Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 133 miles from London.
W (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Weymouth, made at Weymouth.
W (v. t. obsolete) To wave, to put off, to deny, to refuse. Chaucer.
W (s. a different spelling) The weafand, the wind. Dryden.
W (adv. a cant, a local word) As good as, by way of retaliation. "Whicket for whacker." Bailey.
W (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish supposed to be the largest animal that inhabits the globe.
W (s. a different spelling) A weal, a mark made by a stroke.
W (adj. from whale, and bone) The fin of a whale, the fin of a whale cut and used in making bone.
W (adj. from whale) Marked with streaks.
W (s. in the history of insects) The burrell fly, the burrell.
W (s. a local word) A road for horses only, not for wheel carriages. Bailey.
W (adv. an old spelling) Where, in what place. Ch.
W (s. not so correct a spelling) A warf.
W (s. from wharf) Warfage.
W (s. from wharf) One that attends a wharf.
W (v. int. a local word) To flutter.
W (s. with flourish) A row of flowers set at small distances about the spike.
W (v. int.) To pronounce the letter r with too much force. Johnson.
W (s. from the Sax. wheorwa) A spin. Scott.
W (pron. from the Sax. hwat) That which, which is one of several, something indefinite conceived in the mind.
W (interj. from the pron.) Implying a question of size.
W (adv. from the pro.) Partly, in part. "What by what, and what by fraud."
W (adv. from what, and day) On the day.
W (pron. from what, and ever) Any thing, any body; having one nature or another, being one or another.
W (adv. from what, and ho) Implying a call.
W (pron. from what, and so, but now out of use) However. Spenser.
W (pron. from whatso, and ever) Whatever.
W (adv. from what, and time) At the time.
W (s. a different spelling) Whey. Scott.
W (v. t. a different spelling) To wheedle. Cole.
W (s. a local word) Tedious. Bailey.
W (s.) The perambulator. Bailey.
W (s. a different spelling) A weal, a puffie. Wifeman.
W (s.) The name of an insect. Bailey.
W (adj. a local word) Close so as not to admit the least convenient. Bailey.
W (adj. a local word) Nimble. Bailey.
W (s. from the Sax. wheate) The fine grain of wheat, bread is chiefly made, the most valuable of corn.
W (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to wheat, wheat.
W (s. from wheat, and crop) A crop of wheat, wheat produced in one year.
W (s. from wheat, and ear) An ear of wheat.
W (s. in ornithology) The name of a small delicate bird.
W (adj. from wheat) Belonging to wheat, made of wheat.
W (s. from wheat, and field) A field sown with wheat.
W (s. from wheat, and harvest) The time in which the wheat is reaped and gathered in.
W (s. from wheat, and land) Land tithed to the use of wheat.
W (s.) A sort of plum.
W (s. a different spelling) The wheat-plum. Scott.
W (s. from wheat, and sowing) The time when wheat is sown, the act of sowing wheat.

W H E

W (s. a local word) A silly fellow. Bailey.
W (s. a local word) A heifer, a young cow. Phillips.
W (v. t. of uncertain etymology) To flatter, to entice by soft words.
W (s. from the verb) A flattering expression.
W (p. from wheedle) Flattered, enticed by soft words.
W (p. a. from wheedle) Flattering, enticing by soft words.
W (s. from the part.) The act of enticing by soft words.
W (adv. from wheedling) With flattery. Bailey.
W (s. from the Sax. wheel) A circular body turning round on an axis; the instrument of spinning, an instrument of torture; a circular body, a carriage that runs upon wheels; a rotation, a circular motion, a compass about.
W (v. t. from the sub.) To put into a rotatory motion, to make to turn round.
W (v. int.) To move on wheels, to turn on an axis, to roll forward, to fetch a compass.
W (s. from wheel) A duty formerly paid for the passage of waggons and carts.
W (s. from wheel, and animal) The name of an insect, a very small animalcule in the form of a wheel.
W (adj. from wheel, and barrow) A carriage driven forward by hand on one wheel.
W (s. from wheel, and carriage) A carriage that moves on wheels.
W (p. from wheel) Made to turn round as a wheel.
W (s. from wheel) One who makes wheels, one who makes any thing turn round.
W (s. from wheel, and fire) The fire in which the melting pot or vessel is encompassed with fire.
W (p. a. from wheel) Turning round, taking a compass.
W (s. from the part.) The act of taking a compass.
W (s. from wheel, and wright) One who makes wheels and wheel carriages.
W (adj. from wheel) Circular, resembling a wheel.
W (s. obsolete) The female of an animal, a hen fowl. Cole.
W (s. a local word) A she cat. Cole.
W (v. int. from the Sax. wheefan) To breathe with noise.
W (p. a. from wheeze) Breathing with noise.
W (s. from the part.) The act of breathing with noise.
W (adj. a local word) Fine, clever as a lad ironically. Cole.
W (s. a different spelling) A welk, an inequality, a protuberance; a weal, a puffie.
W (v. t. from the Sax. awhilan) To cover with something on all sides, to bury.
W (p. from whelm) Covering on all sides, overwhelmed, buried.
W (v. t. obsolete) To overwhelm. Chaucer.
W (p. a. from whelm) Covered on all sides, overwhelming, burying.
W (s. from the part.) The act of covering on all sides, the act of burying.
W (s. from the Dutch welp) The young of a dog, a puppy; the young of any beast of prey; a son in contempt, a young fellow in contempt.
W (v. int. from the sub.) To bring forth as a dog or beast of prey.
W (s. a sea term) One of the pieces joined to the body of the capstern, to enlarge the compass and take up more rope at each turn.
W (p. from whelp) Brought forth as the young of a dog or beast of prey.
W (p. a. from whelp) Bringing forth young as a dog or beast of prey.
W (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth as a beast of prey.
W (v. t. a local word) To cover, to whelm, to turn the open side of a vessel downwards.
W (p. from whelve, a local word) Covered, turned as an open vessel upside down.
W (p. a. from whelve, a local word) Covering, turning the open side of a vessel downwards.
W (s. from the part.) The act of turning upside down.
W (adv. from the Gothic, whan) At the same time, at which time, at what time, after the time that. Spenser.
W (s.) When as, at the time when. Whence

W H E

Whence (adv. from where) From what place, from what person, from what source, for which cause. From whence, whence, a kind of tautology. Shakespeare. Of whence, whence, a vitious mode of expression. Dryden.

Whencesoever (adv. from whence, and soever) From what place soever.

When/ever (adv. from when, and ever) At what time soever.

Whensoever (adv. from when, and soever) At what-soever time.

Where (adv. obsolete) Whether, wheresoever. Chaucer.

WHERE (adv. from the Sax. hwoer) At which place, at what place, at the place in which.

Where (s. from the adv.) Place, state, space. "Any where." "A better where to find." Shakespeare.

Where (adv. obsolete) Whether, wheresoever. Chaucer.

Whereabout (adv. from where, and about) Near what place, near which place, concerning which.

Whereabouts (adv. not so common a word) Where-about.

Whereas (adv. from where, and as) Where on the contrary, for as much as, at which place; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Spenser.

Whereat (adv. from where, and at) At which.

Whereby (adv. from where, and by) By which.

Where'er (adv. from where, and ever) At whatever place.

Wherefore (adv. from where, and fore) For which reason, for what reason.

Wherein (adv. from where, and in) In which.

Wherein'to (adv. from where, and into) Into which.

Wherein's (s. from where) The state of having some place, the state of being some where.

Whereof (adv. from where, and of) Of which.

Whereon (adv. from where, and on) On which.

Wherefo (adv. from where, and fo) In what place soever. Milton.

Wheresoever (adv. from where, and soever) In what place soever.

Wherethrough (adv. obsolete) By which. Chaucer.

Whereto (adv. from where, and to) To which; wherefore, to what end.

Whereunto (adv. from where, and unto) To which.

Whereupon (adv. from where, and upon) Upon which.

Wherewith (adv. from where, and with) With which.

Wherewithal (adv. from where, and withal) With which.

Wherken'd (adj. a local word) Choaked. Bailey.

Whericoat (s. an old word) A kind of open chariot used before the invention of coaches.

Whern (s. a different spelling) The wheel, the hollow piece of wood put on the spindle of a spinning wheel. Philips.

Wherret (v. t. perhaps from ferret, a colloquial word) To hurry, to tease; to give a box on the ear. Ainsworth.

Wherret (s. from the verb) A box on the ear.

Wherreted (s. from wherret) Hurried, teased, struck with the fist on the ear.

Wherretting (p. a. from wherret) Hurrying, teasing, giving a box under the ear.

Wherretting (s. from the part.) The act of teasing; a box on the ear.

Wherried (p. from wherry) Conveyed in a wherry.

WHERRY (s. of uncertain etymology) A light boat used on rivers for passengers.

Wherry (v. t. from the sub.) To carry in a light boat, to convey in a boat.

Wherrying (p. a. from wherry) Conveying in a wherry.

Wherrying (s. from the part.) The act of conveying in a wherry.

Wherof (adv. obsolete) Wherefore, to what end. Ch.

WHET (v. t. from the Sax. hwetten) To sharpen by rubbing; to edge, to make angry.

Whet (s. from the verb) The act of sharpening; any thing that sharpens the appetite.

WHETHER (adv. from the Sax. hwoether) One way or other, on this side or that.

Whether (pron. from the adv.) Which of two.

Whetstone (s. from whet, and stone) The stone with which any thing is whetted.

Whetted (p. from whet) Sharpened by rubbing, brought to an edge by rubbing.

Whetter (s. from whet) One that whets.

Whetting (p. a. from whet) Sharpening, bringing to an edge by rubbing.

Whetting (s. from the part.) The act of sharpening by attrition, the act of bringing to an edge.

W H I

WHEY (s. from the Sax. hwoeg) The thin part of milk separated from the curd; any thing white and any thing resembling the serous part of milk.

Whey/ey (adj. from whey) Partaking of whey, resembling whey.

Whey'ish (adj. from whey) Partaking of whey, resembling whey.

WHICH (pron. from the Sax. hwile) The thing spoken of before; the person spoken of before; who; of two, one or more of many persons or things, not used in this sense of late. Lord's Prayer.

Which (s. an old word) An ark, a chest.

Whiche (pron. obsolete) Who, what; what sort or number.

Whiche'er (pron. from which, and ever) Whether one or the other.

Whichsoever (pron. from which, and soever) Whether the one or the other.

Whick'et (adv. a cant and local word) As good a way of retaliation. "Whick'et for whack'et."

Whids (s. a cant word) Words.

WHIFF (s. from the Brit. chwyth) A blast, a puff of wind.

Whiff'le (v. int. from whiff) To move inconstantly, move as though driven by the wind.

Whiff'le (s. from whiff) A file.

Whiff'ler (s. from whiffle) One that blows strongly, who plays on a fife, one who goes before in a procession; one of no consequence, one who is moved with every puff of wind.

Whiff'ling (p. a. from whiffle) Moving with inconstancy.

Whiff'ling (s. from the part.) The act of moving inconstantly, uncertain conduct.

WHIG (s. from the Sax. hwoeg) Whey.

WHIG (s. from whiggam) One of the party opposed to the Tories, one who has moderate notions of government in church and state, a friend to civil and religious liberty.

Whig (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the whigs, consisting of whigs.

WHIG'GAM (interj. in the Scotch dialect) A term used in driving horses.

Whig'gamor (s. from whiggam) One employed in driving horses, one who attends a drove of horses.

Whig'gish (adj. from whig) Inclined to the whigs, longing to the whigs.

Whig'gism (s. from whig) The principles of whigs.

Whiggs (s. from whiggam) The whiggamors; a name in Scotland, who were chiefly employed in driving large droves of horses with corn and other produce from one part of that kingdom to another; and in the year 1648, instigated by the clergy and headed by the marquis of Argyll, they marched in great numbers to Edinburgh, to oppose the designs of king and the duke of Hamilton; from which circumstance the party adverse to the court were tempted called whigs; since that the term has acquired reputation in England, and is still retained in the sense explained under that article.

Whight (adj. an old spelling) White.

WHILE (s. from the Sax. hwile) Time, space of time.

While (adv. from the sub.) As long, as long as, same time that.

While (v. int. from the sub.) To loiter, to stay.

While're (adv. obsolete) Some time ago, some time before.

Whiles (adv. from while, but now grown obsolete) While.

Whiling (p. a. from while) Loitering, staying.

Whil'is (adv. obsolete) While.

Whilk (v. int. a local word) To yelp, to bark, to shrill bark as a dog.

Whilke (pron. obsolete) Which.

WHILOM (adv. from the Sax. hwilom) Formerly, old, once.

Whilome (adv. the old spelling) Whilom, formerly.

Whilist (adv. from while) As long as, at the same time that.

WHIM (s. of doubtful etymology) A freak, an odd, an irregular motion of desire.

WHIM'PER (v. int. from the German, wimen) To cry without making a loud noise.

Whim'pering (p. a. from whimper) Crying without a loud noise.

Whim'pering (s. from the part.) The act of crying out a loud noise, the supposed note of weeping.

Whimpl'd (adj. supposed to be from whimper) Distorted with crying.

whimsy (s. from whim) A whim, a freak.
 whimsical (adj. from whimsy) Freakish, capricious, given to whims.
 whimsicality (s. from whimsical) The state or quality of being whimsical.
 whimsically (adv. from whimsical) With whim, with caprice.
 whimsicalness (s. from whimsical) The state or quality of being whimsical.
 whimsy (s. a different spelling) A whimsy, a freak. Scott.
 whim (s. from whim) A gewgaw, a toy, a bauble, an odd device.
 WHIN (s. in botany) The name of a shrub, the knee-tree, the furze.
 WHINCHAT (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 whindle (v. int. from whine) To whine, to cry in a low voice, to cry meanly.
 whindling (p. a. from whindle) Crying in a low tone, whining.
 whindling (s. from the part.) The act of whining, a whine.
 whine (v. int. from the Sax. wenian) To cry in a low tone, to cry meanly, to make a plaintive noise, to use one in speaking.
 whining (s. from the verb) A plaintive noise, a tone in making, a mean complaint, an affected complaint.
 whinyard (s. a different spelling) A whinyard. Scott.
 whining (p. a. from whine) Crying meanly, making a plaintive noise. whining (s. from the part.) The act of crying meanly, whining in speaking.
 whinny (s. a local word) A pail to carry milk. Bailey.
 whinnyard (s. a different spelling) A whinnyard.
 whinny (s. a local cant word) A thin man with a large face. Bailey.
 whinny (v. t. an old word) To bend, to make crooked.
 whinny (p. from whinny) Crooked. Minshew.
 whinny (v. int. from the Lat. hinnio) To make a noise like a colt.
 whinnying (p. a. from whinny) Making a noise like a colt or colt.
 whinnying (s. from the part.) The neighing of a colt.
 whinny (s. in botany) The furze.
 WHINYARD (s. the etymology is doubtful, a droll word) A sword in contempt, a sword in droll.
 whip (v. t. from the Sax. hwoepan) To strike with something flexible, to lash, to drive with lashes, to correct with lashes; to lash with sarcasms; to sew slightly; to inwrap; to take away nimblely.
 whip (v. int.) To move nimblely.
 whip (s. from the verb) Any tough and pliable instrument of correction.
 whipcord (s. from whip, and cord) The cord of which whips are made.
 whipping (s. in gardening) The method of grafting which the graft is bound on to the stock.
 whiphand (s. from whip, and hand) An advantage.
 whiplash (s. from whip, and lash) The lash of a whip.
 whipped (p. from whip) Corrected with a whip, beaten with a whip.
 whiper (s. from whip) One that whips.
 whipping (p. a. from whip) Correcting with a whip, lashing with a whip, correcting; taking away slightly, moving nimblely, sewing slightly.
 whipping (s. from the part.) Correction, correction with a whip, the act of correcting with lashes; the act of sewing slightly, that which is sewed slightly.
 whippingpost (s. from whipping, and post) The pillar to which criminals are tied when whipped.
 whiplaw (s. from whip, and law) The long saw used by two men in cutting timber into boards and other pieces.
 whiplaw (s. a sea term) A piece of wood fastened to the ship which the steerman holds in his hand in guiding the ship.
 whiplaw (s. from whip) A shuffling fellow, a sharper; a shuffling fellow. Shakespeare.
 whiplaw (s. from whip, and stock) The handle of a whip, that part of a whip which is held in the hand.
 whiplaw (v. t. pret. of whip) Whipped, did whip.
 whiplaw (p. from whip) Whipped.
 whiplaw (adj. a local word) Choked. Bailey.
 whiplaw (v. t. from the Sax. hwyrtan) To turn round with rapidity.

Whirl (v. int.) To move or go round with rapidity.
 Whirl (s. from the verb) A quick rotation, a circular motion, any thing moved round with rapidity; the round piece of wood put on the spindle of a spinning wheel.
 Whirlbat (s. from whirl, and bat) The ancient cestus; any thing moved round with rapidity in order to give a blow.
 Whirlbone (s. from whirl, and bone) The patella, the round bone of the knee.
 Whirlie (s. a different spelling) The whirl, the round piece of wood put on the spindle of a spinning wheel. Bailey.
 Whirl'd (p. from whirl) Moved round with rapidity.
 Whirl'igig (s. from whirl, and gig) A play thing for children made to turn round with great rapidity.
 Whirl'ing (p. a. from whirl) Turning round with rapidity.
 Whirl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning round with rapidity.
 Whirl'pit (s. from whirl, and pit) A whirlpool.
 Whirl'pool (s. from whirl, and pool) A vortex, a place where the water turns round and draws in what comes within the verge of its motion.
 Whirl'wind (s. from whirl, and wind) A stormy wind agitated with a circular motion.
 Whirl'worm (s. from whirl, and worm) The name of a small worm frequently found twisted about the roots of plants.
 Whirl'ring (s. from the sound) The noise made by partridges or pheasants in rising.
 WHISK (s. of uncertain derivation) A kind of brush made of twigs, a kind of besom; the quick motion of a twig; a kind of covering or dress for the neck.
 Whisk (v. t. from the sub.) To brush with a whisk, to give a slight brush; to sweep with a small besom, to move nimblely.
 Whisk (v. int.) To pass with a sweeping and swift motion.
 Whisk'ed (p. from whisk) Swept with a whisk, moved nimblely.
 Whisk'er (s. from whisk) The hair growing on the cheek unshaven; one that sweeps with a whisk.
 Whisk'et (s. a local word) A scuttle, a basket. Bailey.
 Whisk'ing (p. a. from whisk) Sweeping with a whisk, passing nimblely.
 Whisk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sweeping with a whisk, the act of passing nimblely.
 Whisk'ing (adj. from whisk, a kind of cant word) Great, larger than common. "A whisking lie." Bailey.
 Whisk'io (adv. obsolete) Why so. Chaucer.
 WHISPER (v. int. from the Dutch, whisperen) To speak in a low voice, to speak so as to be heard at no great distance.
 Whis per (v. int.) To address in a low voice, to prompt secretly.
 Whis'per (s. from the verb) A low soft voice, a voice that can be heard at no great distance.
 Whis'per'd (p. from whisper) Addressed in a low voice, secretly prompted.
 Whis'perer (s. from whisper) One that whispers.
 Whis'pering (p. a. from whisper) Speaking so as not to be heard at any great distance, addressing in a low voice, secretly prompting.
 Whis'pering (s. from the part.) The act of speaking in a low voice, the act of secretly prompting.
 Whis'peringgallery (s. from whispering, and gallery) A gallery or circular place which conveys the lowest whisper to a great distance.
 Whis'peringplace (s. from whispering, and place) A whispering gallery, a place where a whisper is conveyed to a considerable distance.
 WHIST (interj. from the Danish, huiſte) Commanding silence.
 Whist (v. int. from the interj.) To be silent, to be still. Shakespeare.
 Whist (adj. from the interj.) Silent, still. Milton.
 Whist (s. from the interj.) A well known game at cards requiring great attention and silence.
 WHISTLE (v. int. from the Sax. hwiſſan) To sound shrill, to make a kind of musical sound by an inarticulate modulation of the breath issuing from the mouth; to make a sound with a small kind of pipe.
 Whistle (v. t.) To call by whistling.
 WHISTLE (s. from the Sax. hwiſſe) A small wind instrument of music; the mouth, the organ of whistling; the

W H E

Whence (adv. from where) From what place, from what person, from what source, for which cause. From whence, whence, a kind of tautology. Shakespeare. Of whence, whence, a vitious mode of expression. Dryden.

Whence/soever (adv. from whence, and soever) From what place soever.

When/ever (adv. from when, and ever) At what time soever.

When/soever (adv. from when, and soever) At what-soever time.

Where (adv. obsolete) Whether, wheresoever. Chaucer.

WHERE (adv. from the Sax. hwoer) At which place, at what place, at the place in which.

Where (s. from the adv.) Place, state, space. "Any where." "A better where to find." Shakespeare.

Where (adv. obsolete) Whether, wheresoever. Chaucer.

Whereabout (adv. from where, and about) Near what place, near which place, concerning which.

Whereabouts (adv. not so common a word) Whereabouts.

Whereas (adv. from where, and as) Where on the contrary, for as much as, at which place; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Spenser.

Whereat (adv. from where, and at) At which.

Whereby (adv. from where, and by) By which.

Where'er (adv. from where, and ever) At whatever place.

Wherefore (adv. from where, and fore) For which reason, for what reason.

Wherein (adv. from where, and in) In which.

Wherein/to (adv. from where, and into) Into which.

Whereof (s. from where) The state of having some place, the state of being some where.

Whereof (adv. from where, and of) Of which.

Whereon (adv. from where, and on) On which.

Wherefo (adv. from where, and fo) In what place soever. Milton.

Wherefo'er (adv. from where, and soever) In what place soever.

Wherethrough (adv. obsolete) By which. Chaucer.

Whereto (adv. from where, and to) To which; wherefore, to what end.

Whereunto (adv. from where, and unto) To which.

Whereupon (adv. from where, and upon) Upon which.

Wherewith (adv. from where, and with) With which.

Wherewithal (adv. from where, and withal) With which.

Wherken'd (adj. a local word) Choaked. Bailey.

Whericoat (s. an old word) A kind of open chariot used before the invention of coaches.

Whern (s. a different spelling) The wheel, the hollow piece of wood put on the spindle of a spinning wheel. Philips.

Wherret (v. t. perhaps from ferret, a colloquial word) To hurry, to tease; to give a box on the ear. Ainsworth.

Wherret (s. from the verb) A box on the ear.

Wherreted (p. from wherret) Hurried, teased, struck with the fist on the ear.

Wherreting (p. a. from wherret) Hurrying, teasing, giving a box under the ear.

Wherreting (s. from the part.) The act of teasing; a box on the ear.

Wherried (p. from wherry) Conveyed in a wherry.

WHERRY (s. of uncertain etymology) A light boat used on rivers for passengers.

Wherry (v. t. from the sub.) To carry in a light boat, to convey in a boat.

Wherrying (p. a. from wherry) Conveying in a wherry.

Wherrying (s. from the part.) The act of conveying in a wherry.

Whet (adv. obsolete) Wherefore, to what end. Ch.

WHET (v. t. from the Sax. hwetten) To sharpen by rubbing; to edge, to make angry.

Whet (s. from the verb) The act of sharpening; any thing that sharpens the appetite.

WHETHER (adv. from the Sax. hwoether) One way or other, on this side or that.

Whether (pron. from the adv.) Which of two.

Whetstone (s. from whet, and stone) The stone with which any thing is whetted.

Whetted (p. from whet) Sharpened by rubbing, brought to an edge by rubbing.

Whetter (s. from whet) One that whets.

Whetting (p. a. from whet) Sharpening, bringing to an edge by rubbing.

Whetting (s. from the part.) The act of sharpening by attrition, the act of bringing to an edge.

W H I

WHEY (s. from the Sax. hwoeg) The thin part of milk separated from the curd; any thing white and any thing resembling the serous part of milk.

Whey/ey (adj. from whey) Partaking of whey, resembling whey.

Whey'ish (adj. from whey) Partaking of whey, resembling whey.

WHICH (pron. from the Sax. hwile) The thing of before; the person spoken of before; who; of two, one or more of many persons or things not used in this sense of late. Lord's Prayer.

Which (s. an old word) An ark, a chest.

Whiche (pron. obsolete) Who, what; what fort or person.

Whiche'er (pron. from which, and ever) Whether one or the other.

Which/soever (pron. from which, and soever) Whether the one or the other.

Whicket (adv. a cant and local word) As good a way of retaliation. "Whicket for whacket."

Whids (s. a cant word) Words.

WHIFF (s. from the Brit. chwyth) A blast, a puff of wind.

Whiff'le (v. int. from whiff) To move inconstantly, move as though driven by the wind.

Whiff'le (s. from whiff) A fife.

Whiff'ler (s. from whiffle) One that blows strongly, who plays on a fife, one who goes before in a procession; one of no consequence, one who is moved with every puff of wind.

Whiff'ling (p. a. from whiffle) Moving with inconstancy.

Whiff'ling (s. from the part.) The act of moving inconstantly, uncertain conduct.

WHIG (s. from the Sax. hwoeg) Whey.

WHIG (s. from whiggam) One of the party opposite the Tories, one who has moderate notions of government in church and state, a friend to civil and religious liberty.

Whig (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the whigs, consisting of whigs.

WHIG'GAM (interj. in the Scotch dialect) A term in driving horses.

Whig'gamor (s. from whiggam) One employed driving horses, one who attends a drove of horses.

Whig'gish (adj. from whig) Inclined to the whigs, belonging to the whigs.

Whig'gism (s. from whig) The principles of whigs.

Whiggs (s. from whiggam) The whiggamors; in Scotland, who were chiefly employed in large droves of horses with corn and other produce from one part of that kingdom to another; and year 1648, instigated by the clergy and headed by the marquis of Argyll, they marched in great numbers to Edinburgh, to oppose the designs of king and the duke of Hamilton; from which circumstance the party adverse to the court were termed called whigs; since that the term acquired reputation in England, and is still retained in the sense explained under that article.

Whight (adj. an old spelling) White.

WHILE (s. from the Sax. hwile) Time, space of time.

While (adv. from the sub.) As long, as long as, same time that.

While (v. int. from the sub.) To loiter, to stay.

Whilere (adv. obsolete) Some time ago, formerly.

Whiles (adv. from while, but now grown obsolete) While.

Whiling (p. a. from while) Loitering, staying.

Whil'is (adv. obsolete) While.

Whiik (v. int. a local word) To yelp, to shrill bark as a dog.

Whilke (pron. obsolete) Which.

WHIL'OM (adv. from the Sax. hwilom) Formerly, old, once.

Whil'ome (adv. the old spelling) Whilom, formerly.

Whilist (adv. from while) As long as, at the same time that.

WHIM (s. of doubtful etymology) A freak, an odd, an irregular motion of desire.

WHIM'PER (v. int. from the German, wimmen) To cry without making a loud noise.

Whim'pering (p. a. from whimper) Crying without a loud noise.

Whim'pering (s. from the part.) The act of crying out a loud noise, the supposed note of weeping.

Whimp'led (adj. supposed to be from whimper) Distorted with crying.

Whimsey (s. from whim) A whim, a freak.
 Whimsical (adj. from whimsy) Freakish, capricious, given to whims.
 Whimsicality (s. from whimsical) The state or quality of being whimsical.
 Whimsically (adv. from whimsical) With whim, with whim.
 Whimsicalness (s. from whimsical) The state or quality of being whimsical.
 Whimsy (s. a different spelling) A whimsy, a freak. Scott.
 Whim (s. from whim) A gewgaw, a toy, a bauble, an odd device.
 Whin (s. in botany) The name of a shrub, the knee-tree, the furze.
 Whinchat (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 Whine (v. int. from whine) To whine, to cry in a low voice, to cry meanly.
 Whinling (p. a. from whindle) Crying in a low tone, whining.
 Whining (s. from the part.) The act of whining, a whine.
 Whine (v. int. from the Sax. wenian) To cry in a low voice, to cry meanly, to make a plaintive noise, to use one in speaking.
 Whining (s. from the verb) A plaintive noise, a tone in making, a mean complaint, an affected complaint.
 Whinnyard (s. a different spelling) A whinnyard. Scott.
 Whining (p. a. from whine) Crying meanly, making a plaintive noise.
 Whining (s. from the part.) The act of crying meanly, whining in speaking.
 Whinny (s. a local word) A pail to carry milk. Bailey.
 Whinnyard (s. a different spelling) A whinnyard.
 Whinny (s. a local cant word) A thin man with a pale face.
 Whinny (v. t. an old word) To bend, to make crooked. Minsheu.
 Whinnyed (p. from whinnie) Crooked. Shakespeare.
 Whinny (v. int. from the Lat. hinnio) To make a noise like a colt.
 Whinnying (p. a. from whinny) Making a noise like a colt.
 Whinnying (s. from the part.) The neighing of a horse.
 Whinny (s. in botany) The furze.
 Whinnyard (s. the etymology is doubtful, a droll word) A sword in contempt, a sword in droll.
 Whinny (v. t. from the Sax. hwoepan) To strike with something flexible, to lash, to drive with lashes, to fret with lashes; to lash with farcasins; to sew slightly; to inwrap; to take away nimblely.
 Whinny (v. int.) To move nimblely.
 Whinny (s. from the verb) Any tough and pliable instrument of correction.
 Whinny (s. from whip, and cord) The cord of which whips are made.
 Whinny (s. in gardening) The method of grafting which the graft is bound on to the stock.
 Whinny (s. from whip, and hand) An advantage.
 Whinny (s. from whip, and lash) The lash of a whip.
 Whinnyed (p. from whip) Corrected with a whip, beaten with a whip.
 Whinny (s. from whip) One that whips.
 Whinnying (p. a. from whip) Correcting with a whip, beating with a whip, correcting; taking away slightly, moving nimblely, sewing slightly.
 Whinnying (s. from the part.) Correction, correction with a whip, the act of correcting with lashes; the sewing slightly, that which is sewed slightly.
 Whinnypost (s. from whipping, and post) The pillar which criminals are tied when whipped.
 Whinny (s. from whip, and saw) The long saw used by two men in cutting timber into boards and other uses.
 Whinny (s. a sea term) A piece of wood fastened to the ship which the steerer holds in his hand in guiding the ship.
 Whinny (s. from whip) A shuffling fellow, a sharper; a shuffling fellow. Shakespeare.
 Whinny (s. from whip, and stock) The handle of a whip, that part of a whip which is held in the hand.
 Whinny (v. t. pret. of whip) Whipped, did whip.
 Whinny (p. from whip) Whipped.
 Whinnyed (adj. a local word) Choaked. Bailey.
 Whinny (v. t. from the Sax. hwyrcan) To turn round with rapidity.

Whirl (v. int.) To move or go round with rapidity.
 Whirl (s. from the verb) A quick rotation, a circular motion, any thing moved round with rapidity; the round piece of wood put on the spindle of a spinning wheel.
 Whirlbat (s. from whirl, and bat) The ancient cestus; any thing moved round with rapidity in order to give a blow.
 Whirlbone (s. from whirl, and bone) The patella, the round bone of the knee.
 Whirlie (s. a different spelling) The whirl, the round piece of wood put on the spindle of a spinning wheel. Bailey.
 Whirlled (p. from whirl) Moved round with rapidity.
 Whirligig (s. from whirl, and gig) A play thing for children made to turn round with great rapidity.
 Whirling (p. a. from whirl) Turning round with rapidity.
 Whirling (s. from the part.) The act of turning round with rapidity.
 Whirlpit (s. from whirl, and pit) A whirlpool.
 Whirlpool (s. from whirl, and pool) A vortex, a place where the water turns round and draws in what comes within the verge of its motion.
 Whirlwind (s. from whirl, and wind) A stormy wind agitated with a circular motion.
 Whirlworm (s. from whirl, and worm) The name of a small worm frequently found twisted about the roots of plants.
 Whirling (s. from the sound) The noise made by partridges or pheasants in rising.
 Whisk (s. of uncertain derivation) A kind of brush made of twigs, a kind of besom; the quick motion of a twig; a kind of covering or dress for the neck.
 Whisk (v. t. from the sub.) To brush with a whisk, to give a slight brush; to sweep with a small besom, to move nimblely.
 Whisk (v. int.) To pass with a sweeping and swift motion.
 Whisked (p. from whisk) Swept with a whisk, moved nimblely.
 Whisker (s. from whisk) The hair growing on the cheek unshaven; one that sweeps with a whisk.
 Whisket (s. a local word) A scuttle, a basket. Bailey.
 Whisking (p. a. from whisk) Sweeping with a whisk, passing nimblely.
 Whisking (s. from the part.) The act of sweeping with a whisk, the act of passing nimblely.
 Whisking (adj. from whisk, a kind of cant word) Great, larger than common. "A whisking lie." Bailey.
 Whisk (adv. obsolete) Why so. Chaucer.
 Whis (v. int. from the Dutch, whisperen) To speak in a low voice, to speak so as to be heard at no great distance.
 Whis (v. int.) To address in a low voice, to prompt secretly.
 Whis (s. from the verb) A low soft voice, a voice that can be heard at no great distance.
 Whis (p. from whisper) Addressed in a low voice, secretly prompted.
 Whis (s. from whisper) One that whispers.
 Whis (p. a. from whisper) Speaking so as not to be heard at any great distance, addressing in a low voice, secretly prompting.
 Whis (s. from the part.) The act of speaking in a low voice, the act of secretly prompting.
 Whis (s. from whispering, and gallery) A gallery or circular place which conveys the lowest whisper to a great distance.
 Whis (s. from whispering, and place) A whispering gallery, a place where a whisper is conveyed to a considerable distance.
 Whist (interj. from the Danish, huiſte) Commanding silence.
 Whist (v. int. from the interj.) To be silent, to be still. Shakespeare.
 Whist (adj. from the interj.) Silent, still. Milton.
 Whist (s. from the interj.) A well known game at cards requiring great attention and silence.
 Whistle (v. int. from the Sax. hwiſtan) To sound shrill, to make a kind of musical sound by an inarticulate modulation of the breath issuing from the mouth; to make a sound with a small kind of pipe.
 Whistle (v. t.) To call by whistling.
 Whistle (s. from the Sax. hwiſtle) A small wind instrument of music; the mouth, the organ of whistling;

W H I

the sound made in whistling; the noise of winds; a call by whistling.

Whistled (p. from whistle) Played on a whistle, called by a whistle.

Whistlefish (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, a kind of gaudus.

Whistler (s. from whistle) One who whistles.

Whistling (p. a. from whistle) Playing on a whistle, making a kind of musical sound by an inarticulate modulation of the breath, making a shrill sound, calling by a whistle.

Whistling (s. from the part.) The act of playing on a whistle, the sound of a whistle, the call of a whistle.

WHIT (s. from the Sax. wihit) A point, a jot, a bit.

Whit (s. a cant word) A prison, Newgate. Bailey.

WHITBY (s.) A town in the north riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 247 miles from London.

Whitby (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Whitby, made at Whitby.

WHIT'CHURCH (s.) A borough town in Hampshire; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 58 miles from London.

WHIT'CHURCH (s.) A town in Shropshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 161 miles from London.

Whit'church (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Whit'church, made at Whit'church.

WHITE (adj. from the Sax. hwit) Having that colour which is opposed to black, having that colour which is compounded of the most perfect mixture of all other colours; pale, having the colour of fear; having the colour expressive of innocence, gray with age; pale, unblemished; fair; soft. Chaucer.

White (s. from the adj.) The colour opposite to black, whiteness, any thing white; a part which is white.

White (v. t. from the adj.) To make white, to whiten.

White (v. t. a local word) To blame; to requite. Bailey.

Whit'ecob (s. in ornithology) The name of a sea bird, the mew.

Whit'ed (p. from white) Made white.

Whit'efaced (adj. from white, and face) Having a white face.

Whit'efooted (adj. from white, and foot) Having white feet.

Whit'efriars (s. from white, and friar) The several orders of monks who were distinguished by a white habit.

Whit'egloved (adj. from white, and glove) Wearing white gloves.

Whit'ehaired (adj. from white, and hair) Having white hair.

Whit'ehanded (adj. from white, and hand) Having white hands.

WHITEHA'VEN (s.) A town in Cumberland; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 300 miles from London.

Whiteha'ven (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Whiteha'ven, made at Whitehaven.

Whit'heat (s. from white, and heat) That degree of heat in which iron appears white, a degree of heat less than that of a welding heat.

Whit'ehorse (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, a kind of raia.

Whit'elead (s. in natural history) The ceruse; a white substance much used in house painting.

Whit'eleather (s. from white, and leather) Leather dressed with alum remarkable for its toughness.

Whit'eline (s. from white, and line) The void space between two lines in printing.

Whit'eline (s. in anatomy) The linea alba, a concourse of tendons proceeding from the muscles of the abdomen.

Whit'elivered (adj. from white, and liver) Envious. Scott.

Whit'ely (adj. from white) Coming near to white.

Whit'emeat (s. from white, and meat) The food prepared from milk, a milky diet; the flesh of chickens, veal, rabbits, fish.

Whit'en (v. t. from white) To make white.

Whit'ened (p. from whiten) Made white.

Whit'ener (s. from whiten) One who makes white.

Whit'eness (s. from white) The state or quality of being white; paleness; purity, cleanness.

Whit'ening (p. a. from whiten) Making white.

Whit'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making white, the process of making any thing white.

Whit'enoled (adj. from white, and nose) Having a white nose.

Whit'eoakam (s. from white, and oakam) A kind of tow to drive into the seams of a ship.

W H I

Whit'epot (s. from white, and pot) A composition of eggs and other ingredients baked in a pot.

Whiter (adj. comp. of white) White in a greater degree.

Whit'erent (s. from white, and rent) A duty annexed by the tanners in Cornwall and Derbyshire.

Whit'erobed (adj. from white, and robe) Wearing white robe.

Whites (s. from white) The fluor albus, a diseased state of the menies.

Whit'efauce (s. from white, and sauce) A sauce made of blanched almonds and other ingredients.

WHIT'ESSEA (s. in geography) A bay, a gulph of frozen ocean.

Whit'espur (s. from white, and spur) An esquire before made by the king so called from the white spur which he received at his creation.

Whit'est (adj. sup. of white) White in the greatest degree.

Whit'estraits (s. in commerce) A kind of coarse narrow cloth.

Whit'ethorn (s. from white, and thorn) A species of thorn, the hawthorn.

Whit'ewash (s. from white, and wash) A wash to make the skin look fair; the white lime with which the walls of a room are washed, the wash put on a wall to make it white; the means used to clear up a character.

Whit'ewash (v. t. from the sub.) To make white by applying a wash for the surface; to give a fair or plausible representation of a bad character.

Whit'ewashed (p. from whitewash) Made white by application of a wash to the surface.

Whit'ewashing (p. a. from white, and wash) Making white by the application of a wash to the surface.

Whit'ewashing (s. from the part.) The act of making white by the application of a wash to the surface.

Whit'ewine (s. from white, and wine) Wine of a transparent colour, the wine produced from the white grape.

Whit'ewining (s.) The name of an apple.

Whit'ewort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

WHIT'IER (adv. from the Sax. hwyder) To what place, to which place, to the place which; to what degree, but this sense is obsolete. Ben Jonson.

Whit'erfoev'er (adv. from whither, and foev'er) To whatever place.

Whit'in (v. int. an old word) To grow white, to clear.

Whit'ing (p. a. from white) Making white.

Whit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making white, whitening.

Whit'ing (s. in ichthyology) The name of a sea fish.

Whit'ing (s. from the adj.) A substance made of chalk.

Whit'inghullock (s. in ichthyology) A species of fish.

Whit'ish (adj. from white) Tending to a whitish colour.

Whit'ishness (s. from whitish) A tendency to a whitish colour.

Whit'le (v. t. a local word) To make white by tinging.

WHIT'LOW (s. probably from the Sax. whit'eloh) A swelling, a flame, a swelling at the end of the finger, swelling between the two skins; the paronychia.

Whit'lowgrais (s. in botany) The name of an herb reputed good for the whitlow.

Whit'lier (s. from white) A whitener, one that whiteneth cloth.

Whit'son (adj. a different spelling) Whit'sun, belonging to Whit'sundae.

Whit'sontide (s. a different spelling) Whit'sundae.

Whit'sour (s.) The name of an apple.

Whit'sul (adj. a local word) Produced from milk, long to milky diet.

Whit'sun (s. from Whit'sunday) Belonging to Whit'sundae.

Whit'sunday (s. from whit, and Sunday) The day apart by the church to commemorate the descent of the Holy Ghost, so called because the candidate for baptism appeared on that day in white robes.

Whit'sundae (s. from Whit'sunday, and tide) The sun holidays, the festival to commemorate the descent of the Holy Ghost.

WHIT'TAIL (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.

Whit'ten (s. in botany) The name of a tree.

Whit'tentree (s. in botany) The whit'ten, a kind of tree.

WHIT'TLE (v. t. from the Sax. hwettan, retaining the Scotch dialect) To make white by cutting; to sharpen.

W H O

WHITTLE (s. from the Sax. wital white) A small kind of blanket to cover a child; a coarse kind of cloak worn by women; a woman's white dress; but this is now grown obsolete.

WHITTLE (s. from the Sax. hwytel) A knife. Shakes.

WHITTLE (v. t. from the sub.) To dress in a whittle, to dress as a child in a kind of blanket.

WHITTLED (p. from the verb) Dressed in a whittle; made white by cutting.

WHITTLING (p. a. from whittle) Dressing in a whittle; making white by cutting.

WHITTLING (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in a whittle; the act of making white by cutting.

WHIZZ, WHIZZ (v. int. from the found) To make a loud humming noise.

WHIZZ (s. from the verb) A loud humming noise.

WHIZZING (p. a. from whizz) Making a loud humming noise.

WHIZZING (s. from the part.) The act of making a loud humming noise, a loud humming noise like that of a cannon ball, or some other body in swift motion.

WHO (pron. from the Sax. hwa) The person referred to, the person referred to as spoken of before; what person; the persons spoken of before.

WHO (adv. obsolete) Now, at this time. Chaucer.

WHO (v. t. a local word) To cover, to overhelm.

WHOEVER (pron. from who, and ever) Any one, any person indefinitely.

WHOLE (adj. from the Sax. walg) All, containing all, unimpaired, unimpaired; solid, well, not sick.

WHOLE (s. from the adj.) The total, the complete sum, the parts.

WHOLE (adj. from whole, and chafed) Belonging to a particular kind of boots.

WHOLE (s. from whole, and sale) Sale in the shop.

WHOLE (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to sale in the shop, dealing in commodities by the lump.

WHOLE (adj. from the Sax. hael health) Sound, consistent with truth, orthodox; contributing to health, promoting health; preserving, salutary; kind-pleasing; rather a droll sense.

WHOLE (adv. from wholesome) In a wholesome manner, in a manner conducive to health.

WHOLE (s. from wholesome) The state or quality conducive to health, salubrity.

WHOLE (adv. from whole) Completely, perfectly, totally, in all parts.

WHO (pron. the accusative or oblique case of who) A person referred to as spoken of before, the persons referred to as spoken of before.

WHOEVER (pron. the accusative case of whosoever) Any person, any person spoken of before.

WHUB (s. a different spelling) A hubbub. Shakespeare.

WHUB (s. a sea term) One of the planks in a ship which are fastened along the sides of the upper deck.

WHO (v. int. a local word) Shook, did shake in every way. Bailey.

WHO (s. in ornithology, from the Lat. upupa) The name of a bird, the pewee.

WHO (s. perhaps from the foregoing) A shout of pursuit.

WHO (v. int. from the sub.) To shout with malignity; with at: "Admiration did not whoop at me."

WHO (v. t.) To insult with shouts.

WHO (p. from whoop) Insulted with shouts.

WHO (p. a. from whoop) Shouting with malignity, insulting with shouts.

WHO (s. from the part.) The act of shouting, the act of insulting with shouts, the shout of joy or triumph, the noise made in calling or shouting.

WHO (s. from whoop) A whoop, the shout of joy or triumph. Scott.

WHO (s. from the Sax. hor) A woman of ill fame, a prostitute, an adulteress.

WHO (v. int. from the sub.) To have unlawful converse with a female, to follow women of ill fame.

WHO (v. t.) To corrupt by violating chastity. Johns.

WHO (p. from whore, but not much used) Corrupted chastity.

WHO (s. from whore) The state of being a whore, prostitution, adultery.

WHO (s. from whore, and master) One who follows women of ill fame, one who follows women of ill fame, a fornicator, an adulterer.

W I C

Who'remonger (s. from whore, and monger) A whore-master.

Who'reson (s. from whore, and son, used chiefly in droll style) The son of a whore, a bastard.

Who'ring (p. a. from whore) Having unlawful commerce with the other sex, following whores, practicing whoredom.

Who'ring (s. from the part.) The act of following women of ill fame, the practice of whoredom.

Who'rish (adj. from whore) Unchaste, given to whoredom.

Who'rishly (adv. from whorish) With unchastity.

Who'rishness (s. from whorish) The state of being whorish.

Whorl'bat (s. a different spelling) The whirlbat. D. of A. ts.

WHORT (s. from the Sax. weort) The name of a shrub, the whortle, the fruit of the whortle.

Whort'le (s. from whort) The name of a shrub, the fruit of the shrub.

Whort'leberry (s. from whortle, and berry) The fruit of the whortle.

Whort'lebrush (s. from whortle, and brush) The whortle.

Whort'pie (s. from whort, and pie) A pie made of whorts.

Whose (pron. the genitive case of who) Belonging to a person spoken of before, belonging to a thing spoken of before.

Who'fo (pron. from who, and fo) Any one, any person.

Whofoev'er (pron. from who, and soever) Any one, any person.

Who'wiskin (s. a local word) A large black drinking pot. Bailey.

Whur, Whurr (s. from the found) The noise made by the wings of birds in more than common agitation.

Whur, Whurr (v. int.) To make a noise as the wings of a bird in rising; to snarl as a dog.

Whur'ring (p. a. from whur) Making a noise as the wings of a bird in more than common agitation.

Whur'ring (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise like that of partridges in rising, the noise made by the wings of a bird in more than common agitation.

Whurt (s. not so correct a spelling) The whort, the whortle. Carew.

Whuz (s. not so common a spelling) A whur, the noise of a partridge or other birds in rising. Bailey.

WHY (adv. from the Sax. hwi) For what reason, for which reason; truly, indeed: "Why, you must not speak that yet." Shakespeare.

Why'le (s. an old spelling) While, time, space. Chaucer.

Why'not (adv. from why, and not) For what cause should it not.

Why'not (s. from the adv. a cant word) A violent procedure. "They did it with a why not." Di. of Arts.

Wiar (s. a different spelling) Wire. Di. of Arts.

WIC (s. from the Sax. an old word) A place on the sea shore, a village, a fortress.

Wic (s. a different spelling) A wick, that part of a candle which burns. Scott.

WIC'CI (s.) The ancient inhabitants of a part of Worcester-shire.

WIC'CIA (s. in old geography) A part of Worcester-shire.

Wic'cian (adj. from Wiccia) Belonging to Wiccia.

Wic'cian (s. from the adj.) One of the Wicci.

WIC'COMB (s.) A borough town in Buckinghamshire; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 29 miles from London.

Wic'comb (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wiccomb, made at Wiccomb.

WICH'ACAN (s. in medicine) A Virginian root reputed a powerful vulnerary.

Wiche (s. an old word) A kind of chest. Chaucer.

Wich'encraf (s. an old word) Witchcraft. Phillips.

WICK (s. from the Sax. weace) The inust of a candle, that part of a candle which burns.

Wicke (adj. obsolete) Wicked, bad. Chaucer.

WICK'ED (adj. of obscure etymology) Given to vice, immoral, flagitious, baneful, pernicious; roughish, ludicrously mischievous.

Wick'eder (adj. comp. of wicked) Wicked in a greater degree.

Wick'edest (adj. sup. of wicked) Wicked in the greatest degree.

Wick'edly (adv. from wicked) With criminality, with bad intention.

Wick'edness (s. from wicked) The state or quality of being wicked.

WICK'ER (adj. from the Danish vigre a twig) Made of twigs.

WICKET (s. from the Dutch) A small gate.

WICKLIFF (s.) A man's name; a noted reformer in the reign of Edward the Third; he was professor of divinity in the university of Oxford, and greatly opposed the doctrines and usurpations of the church of Rome; he translated the Bible into English, and wrote an excellent book, in two volumes, which contributed not a little to forward the reformation, which took place in England about two hundred years after his death.

Wickliff'ian (adj. from Wickliff) Belonging to the followers or principles of John Wickliff. Cole- Wickliff'ian (s. from the adj.) A Wickliffite.

Wickliffite (s. from Wickliff) One of the followers of John Wickliff the famous reformer mentioned in the foregoing article.

Wickliffite (s. from Wickliff) A follower of John Wickliff.

WICK'WARE (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Monday, and is 111 miles from London.

Wick'ware (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wickware, made at Wickware.

Wid'dle (v. int. a local word) To fret. Bailey.

Wid'dlewaddle (v. int. a droll word) To waddle. Ba.

WIDE (adj. from the Sax.) Extended on either side, broad; deviating, remote.

Wide (adv. from the adj. sometimes used in composition) At a distance, with great extent; with from and of: as, "Wide from the truth." "Wide of the mark."

Wideho'vering (adj. from wide, and hovering) Hovering with wide extent.

Wid'ely (adv. from wide) With great extent, far, remotely.

Wid'en (v. t. from wide) To extend in breadth, to make wide.

Wid'en (v. int.) To grow wide.

Wid'ened (p. from wide) Made wide, extended in breadth.

Wid'eness (s. from wide) Breadth, large extent every way.

Wid'ening (p. a. from widen) Making wide, extending in breadth.

Wid'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making wide.

Wid'er (adj. comp. of wide) Wide in a greater degree.

Wid'est (adj. sup. of wide) Wide in the greatest degree.

Wideskirt'ed (adj. from wide, and skirted) Having large skirts, having large borders.

Wid'epread'ing (adj. from wide, and spreading) Spreading to a large extent.

Widewast'ing (adj. from wide, and wafting) Wafting with wide extent.

Widewa'ving (adj. from wide, and waving) Waving with wide extent.

Widewhere (adv. obsolete) Every where, in all places. Chaucer.

WID'GEON (s. in ornithology) A watersowl not quite so large as a duck.

Wid'gin (s. not so common a spelling) The widgeon.

WID'OW (s. from the Sax. widwa) A woman whose husband is dead and not married again.

Wid'ow (v. t. from the sub.) To deprive of a husband, to make a widow; to endow with the right or privilege of a widow; to deprive of good.

Wid'owbench (s. from widow, and bench) The share allowed to a widow out of her husband's estate besides her jointure.

Wid'owed (p. from widow) Made a widow, deprived of a husband.

Wid'ower (s. from widow) A man whose wife is dead and is not married again.

Wid'owhood (s. from widow, and hood) The state or condition of a widow, the privilege of a widow, the life estate settled on a widow.

Wid'owhunter (s. from widow, and hunter) One who courts widows for the sake of their jointure.

Wid'owing (p. a. from widow) Making a widow.

Wid'owing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving a woman of her husband.

Wid'owmaker (s. from widow, and maker) One who deprives women of their husbands, one who spreads desolation.

Wid'owwail (s. from widow, and wail) The name of a plant.

Width (s. from wide) Breadth, wideness. Dry.

Wie (s. not so common a word) The wick of a candle.

Wieg (s. a local word) A leaver, a wedge.

WIELD (v. t. from the Sax. wealdan) To use with command, to sway in the hand with ease.

Wield'ed (p. from wield) Swayed in the hand with ease and command.

Wield'ing (p. a. from wield) Swaying with ease in the hand.

Wield'ing (s. from the part.) The act of swaying in the hand with ease.

Wield'y (adj. from wield) Manageable, capable of being wielded.

Wier (s. a different spelling) Wire.

Wierdy (s. an old word) The fates, the destinies. D. of Wi'ery (adj. from wire) Like wire, made of wire drawn into wire.

WI'ERY (adj. from the Sax. waer a pool) A moir.

WIFE (s. from the Sax. wif) A woman that has a husband; a woman of low employment.

Wif'hode (s. obsolete) The state of being a wife.

Wif'ely (adj. from wife) Becoming a wife.

Wig (s. contracted from periwig) False hair worn on the head; a sort of cake.

WIG'AN (s.) A borough town in Lancashire; it has a market on Monday and Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 195 miles from London.

Wig'an (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wigan, made at Wigan.

Wig'block (s. from wig, and block) The block on which a wig is made.

Wig'caul (s. from wig, and caul) The network in the inside of a wig.

Wig'ger (s. a local word) Strong.

WIGHT (s. from the Sax. wiht nearly obsolete, or only in droll style) A person, a being.

Wight (adj. obsolete) Swift, nimble.

WIGHT (s. in geography) An island in the Bristol channel on the coast of Hampshire from which it is supposed to have been divided by the agitation of the sea.

Wight'ly (adv. from wight, obsolete) Swiftly, quickly.

WIGHT'ON (s.) A town in the east riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 11 miles from London.

Wight'on (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wighton, made at Wighton.

WIG'TON (s.) A town in Cumberland; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 305 miles from London.

Wig'ton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wigton, made at Wigton.

Wik, Wike (adj. obsolete) Wicked, bad.

Wike (s. obsolete) A week. Cham.

Wikk (adj. obsolete) Wicked, bad.

WILD (adj. from the Sax.) Untamed, uncultivated, desert, uninhabited; savage, uncivilized; licentious, ungoverned; inconstant, mutable; inordinate, lawless, uncouth, strange; irregular, luxuriant; fanciful, merely imaginary.

Wild (s. from the adj.) A desert, an uncultivated tract of country uninhabited.

Wildbas'il (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Wildcu'cumber (s. in botany) The name of a plant.

Wid'er (adj. comp. of wild) Wild in a greater degree.

Wid'er (v. t. from wild) To lose, to puzzle, to perplex.

Wid'ered (p. from wilder) Puzzled as in a labyrinth.

Wid'ering (p. a. from wilder) Puzzling as in a labyrinth.

Wid'ering (s. from the part.) The act of puzzling in a labyrinth.

Wid'erness (s. from wild) A desert, an uninhabited tract of country; the state of being wild and uncultivated.

Wid'est (adj. sup. of wild) Wild in the greatest degree.

Wid'fire (s. from wild, and fire) A composition of flammable materials easy to be kindled, and hard to be extinguished.

Wid'fowl (s. from wild, and fowl) Wild ducks and fowls of the like kind.

Wid'goosechace (s. from wildgoose, and chase) A pursuit, a pursuit of something which is never to be obtained.

Wid'ing (s. from wild) A wild four apple, a tree that has not been grafted.

Wid'ly (adv. from wild) Without cultivation, without order, without attention.

W I L

Wildness (s. from wild) The state of being wild, the quality of being wild.
Wildolive (s. in botany) The name of a tree.
Wildservice (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Wildwilliams (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Wile (s. from the Sax.) A cunning trick, a deceit, a fraud.
WILFRED (s.) A man's name.
Willful (adj. from will) Stubborn, inflexible, done with design, suffered by design.
Willfully (adv. from the adj.) Obstinately, stubbornly, by design, on purpose; willingly. Cb.
Willfulness (s. from willful) Obstinateness, stubbornness, perverseness.
Willfulness, Willfulness (s. obsolete) A moderate desire of revenge. Chaucer.
Willily (adv. from wily) By stratagem, by fraud.
Williness (s. from wily) Cunning, subtilty, craft, fraud.
Will (s. from the Sax. willa) The power of determining in the mind, choice, arbitrary determination; disposition, inclination, desire; government, direction, command; a testament, the disposition of a man's estate to take place after his death. Will with wip, the ignis fatuus.
Will (v. t. from the Sax. willan) To desire that any thing may take place; to command, to direct.
Will (v. int.) To exercise the power of volition.
Will (s. a familiar contraction) A man's name, William.
Will (v. int. a sign of the future tense) To be determined at some future time, to be hereafter inclined to.
Will'd (p. from will) Determined by the will, commanded, directed.
Will'er (s. from will) One that wills, a rash person, a wily person. Cb.
Will'er (adj. a local word) Willful, peevish. Cole.
Willful (adj. a different spelling) Willful. Cole.
Willi (s. an old Saxon word) Many, many persons. Johnson.
William (s.) A man's name.
Will (s. a cant word) A sorry fellow; an heremadite. Scott.
Will'ing (p. a. from will) Exercising the power of volition.
Will'ing (adj. from the part.) Desirous, consenting; ready, disposed to comply, disposed to do.
Will'ing (s. from the part.) Volition, the act of willing.
Will'ingly (adv. from willing) With one's own desire, by one's own consent.
Will'ingness (s. from willing) Desire, ready compliance, consent.
Willow (s. in botany) The name of a tree; the branch of the tree worn as an emblem of loss.
Willow (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the willow, made of willow.
Willowherb (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Willowth (adj. from willow) Resembling the colour of the willow.
Willowplant (s. in botany) A young willow.
Willowplat (s. from willow, and plat) A place where willows grow. Scott.
Willowweed (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Willowwort (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Will'y (adj. obsolete) Willing, favourable.
Will'y (s. a local word) A kind of wicker basket.
Will'y (v. t. an old spelling) To will. Cb.
Will'y (v. int. second person sing. of will) Art determined hereafter, mayest be inclined to hereafter.
Wilton (s.) The county town of Wiltshire; it has a market on Wednesday, sends two members to parliament, and is 85 miles from London.
Wilton (adj. from Wilton) Belonging to Wilton, made of Wilton.
Wiltshire (s.) Wiltshire. "In the county of Wilts."
Wiltshire (s.) One of the inland counties of England; is remarkable for its fine downs and number of sheep; the cloathing trade is here carried on to a great extent and perfection perhaps than in any other county; it contains one city and twenty three market towns, and sends thirty four members to parliament, two for the county, two for the city of Salisbury, and two for each of the boroughs, Wilton, Hinton, Heytesbury, Westbury, Cricklade, Calne, Devizes, Chippenham, Malmesbury, Eton, Eddisbury, Luggershall, Old Sarum, Wootton Bassett, and Marlborough.

W I N

Wiltshire (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Wilts, produced in the county of Wilts, manufactured in the county of Wilts.
Wily (adj. from wile) Cunning, sly, full of stratagem.
WIMBLE (s. from the Dutch wemelan to bore) An instrument with which holes are bored.
Wimble (v. int. from the sub.) To bore.
Wimble (adj. obsolete) Nimble, sliding to and fro. Sp.
Wimbled (p. from wimble) Bored with a wimble.
Wimbling (p. a. from wimble) Boring with a wimble.
Wimbling (s. from the part.) The act of boring with a wimble.
WIMBORN (s.) A town in Dorsetshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 105 miles from London.
Wimb'orn (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wimb'orn, made at Wimb'orn.
Wimm (v. t. a local word) To winnow. Ba.
Winmed (p. from wim, a local word) Winnowed.
Winming (p. a. from wimm, a local word) Winnowing.
Winming (s. from the part. a local word) The act of winnowing.
WIMPLE (s. from the French guimpe) A hood, a veil. Isai.
Wimple (v. t. from the sub.) To draw down as a hood or veil.
Wimpled (p. from wimple) Drawn as a hood or veil, covered as with a hood or veil. Sp.
Wimpling (p. a. from wimple) Drawing down as a hood or veil, covering as with a hood or veil.
Wimpling (s. from the part.) The act of covering as with a hood or veil.
WIMMUND (s.) A man's name.
WIN (v. t. from the Sax. winna) To get, to gain, to obtain.
Win (v. int.) To gain the victory, to gain ground, to get at play.
WINCAUNT'ON (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 113 miles from London.
Wincaunt'on (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wincaunt'on, made at Wincaunt'on.
Wince (v. int. from the Brit. gwingo) To kick as impatient of a rider, to kick as impatient of pain.
WINCH (s. from the French guincher to twist) A wind-lace.
Winch (v. int. from the sub.) To kick as with impatience, to writhe the body as impatient of pain.
WINCH'COMB (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 93 miles from London.
Winch'comb (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Winch'comb, made at Winch'comb.
WIN'CHELSEY (s.) A town in Suffex, it is one of the cinqueports, has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 67 miles from London.
Win'chelsey (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Winchelsey, made at Winchelsey.
WIN'CHESTER (s.) A city in Hampshire; it is the see of a bishop, has a market on Wednesday and Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 67 miles from London.
Win'chester (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Winchester, made at Winchester.
Win'chestergoose (s. a cant word with physicians) A bubo. Phil. Trans.
Winch'ing (p. a. from winch) Kicking with impatience, writhing the body as in pain.
Winch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of kicking as impatient of pain.
Win'cing (p. a. from wince) Kicking as impatient of a rider, starting suddenly as in pain.
Win'cing (s. from the adj.) The act of kicking as impatient of a rider, the act of starting as with pain.
Win'coppe (s. in botany) The name of a small plant and flower, which, if open in the morning, is said to prognosticate a fine day.
WIND (s. from the Sax.) The motion of the air; air caused by any action; the breath, the power of respiration; breath modulated by an instrument; fluctuation, windiness; any thing light and insignificant. To go down the wind, to decay. To take the wind, to gain an advantage.
Wind (v. t. from the sub. the i is sounded long) To blow, to make to sound by inflation; to turn round, to twist; to turn by shifts, to introduce by insinuation; to change, to incircle, to unfold. To wind out, to excrete. To wind up, to draw up as a weight or spring.

WIN

Spring in clockwork, to bring to a small compass, to raise by degrees, to streighten a string.

Wind (v. t. the i is short) To nose, to follow by the scent.

Wind (v. int.) To turn, to change, to move round, to proceed in turnings; to become disentangled.

Wind'age (s. in gunnery) The difference between the diameter of the bore and that of the ball.

Wind'ais (s. a hunting term) The method of driving the chace to some place where one is ready with a bow or gun to shoot it.

Wind'beam (s. in building) The collarbeam.

Wind'berry (s.) The whortleberry, the bilberry.

Wind'bound (adj. from wind, and bound) Confined by contrary winds.

Wind'broken (adj. from wind, and broken) Hurt as a horse in the wind, breathing with difficulty.

Wind'colic (s. from wind, and colic) A painful disorder in the stomach.

Wind'cholic (s. a different and less correct spelling) The windcolic. Scott.

Wind'driven (adj. from wind, and driven) Forced by the wind.

Winde (v. int. obsolete) To go. Ch.

Wind'ed (p. from wind) Nosed, followed by the scent.

Wind'ed (p. from wind, the i long) Blown, sounded by inflation; turned round, twisted; directed, introduced by insinuation.

Wind'egg (s. from wind, and egg) An egg not impregnated, an egg that has no principle of life.

Wind'er (s. from wind) One that winds, an instrument that winds; a plant that winds itself about other plants.

Wind'ermob (s. in ornithology) A species of larus.

Wind'fall (s. from wind, and fall) Fruit blown down by the wind; any thing blown down by the wind.

Wind'furnace (s. from wind, and furnace) A melting furnace.

Wind'flower (s. from wind, and flower) The anemone.

Wind'gall (s. from wind, and gall) A flatulent tumour on the leg of a horse about the fetlock.

Wind'gun (s. from wind, and gun) A gun which discharges a ball by means of compressed air.

WIND'HAM (s.) A town in Norfolk; it has a market on Friday, and is 90 miles from London.

Wind'ham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Windham, made at Windham.

Wind'hatch (s. from wind, and hatch) The opening where the ore is taken out of the mine.

Wind'ier (adj. comp. of windy) Windy in a greater degree.

Wind'iest (adj. sup. of windy) Windy in the greatest degree.

Wind'iness (s. from windy) The state of being windy.

Wind'ing (p. a. from wind) Blowing, sounding by inflation; turning round, involving, turning by snits, introducing by insinuation.

Wind'ing (p. a. from wind, the i short) Nosing, following by the scent.

Wind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sounding by inflation, the act of turning round; a flexure, a turning.

Wind'ing (s. from the part. the i short) The act of following by the scent.

Wind'ing (adj. from the part.) Having flexures, serpentine.

Windingsheet (s. from winding, and sheet) Grave cloaths, the dress of the dead.

Wind'ir (v. t. obsolete) To trim, to adorn. Ch.

Wind'instrument (s. from wind, and instrument) An instrument of music sounded by wind.

Wind'lace (s. from wind, and lace) A windlass, a machine to raise weights, in which a rope or chain is wound about a cylindrical body; a handle by which any thing is turned.

Wind'lass (s. the old spelling) A windlass. Ch.

Wind'lass (s. the more common spelling) A windlace.

Wind'less (s. a different spelling) The windlass. Sc.

Wind'le (s. from wind, A spindle; a machine or reel on which yarn is wound. Ainsworth.

Wind'mill (s. from wind, and mill) A mill for grinding corn turned by the wind.

Wind'month (s. from wind, and month) November so called by the Saxons because remarkable for high westerly winds.

Wind'ow (s. probably from wind, and door) An opening in a building by which light and air are conveyed into a room, the frame of glass or other materials which cover an aperture in a wall, any thing resembling a window.

WIN

Win'dow (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with window to place at a window.

Win'dowbench (s. from window, and bench) A window seat.

Win'dowed (p. from window) Furnished with window formed into the appearance of windows.

Win'dowframe (s. from window, and frame) The frame of wood or other materials belonging to window.

Win'dowglass (s. from window, and glass) The glass used in glazing windows.

Win'dowing (p. a. from window) Furnishing windows.

Win'dowing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with windows, the frame work of windows.

Win'dowlight (s. from window, and light) A window the light transmitted by a window.

Win'dowpeeper (s. from window, and peeper) One who is appointed to examine the number of windows to see if they are duly assessed to the window tax.

Win'dowseat (s. from window, and seat) The seat connected with the window.

Win'dowshutter (s. from window, and shutter) The frame of wood which occasionally shuts or secures window.

Win'dowtax (s. from window, and tax) The tax or duty laid on windows.

Win'dowpipe (s. from wind, and pipe) The trachea, the passage through which the air passes to and from the lungs in respiration.

Win'drow (s. from wind, and row) Hay or grass raised up into a row in order to be cocked.

Wind'sail (s. a sea term) An apparatus of sail cloth convey fresh air into the ship.

Wind'shaken (adj. from wind, and shaken) Shaken with the wind.

Wind'shock (s. from wind, and shock) A shiver crack in the body of a tree supposed to be occasioned by high winds.

WIND'SOR (s.) A borough town in Berkshire; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 21 miles from London.

Wind'sor (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Windsor, made at Windsor.

Wind'swift (adj. from wind, and swift) Very swift as the wind.

Wind'tackle (s. a sea term) The tackle by which a thing is hoisted into the ship.

Wind'tackleblocks (s. a sea term) The double blocks which any thing is hoisted into the ship.

Wind'taught (adj. a sea term) Stiff in the wind, holding the wind.

Wind'thrush (s. in ornithology) The redwing, a kind of thrush which makes its appearance in the beginning of winter.

Wind'ward (adv. from wind, and ward) Towards wind.

Wind'ward (adj. from the adv.) Lying towards wind.

Wind'wardtide (s. from windward, and tide) The tide which runs against the wind.

Wind'y (adj. from wind) Consisting of wind, next to the wind, tempestuous, molested with the wind, flatulent, puffed up with wind; empty, airy.

WINE (s. from the Sax. win) The fermented juice of the grape; a liquor made by steeping fruit or vegetables in water and sweetened with sugar.

Wineape (s. an old word) A kind of wine, the cadel.

Winebibber (s. from wine, and bibber) A great drinker of wine.

Winecask (s. from wine, and cask) A cask in which wine has been kept.

Winecellar (s. from wine, and cellar) A wine vault cellar for wine.

Winecooper (s. from wine, and cooper) One who is in wines, one who prepares wines for sale.

WINEFRED (s.) The name of a woman.

Wine measure (s. from wine, and measure) A kind of liquid measure; the pint contains 231 cubic inches.

Wine merchant (s. from wine, and merchant) One who deals largely in wines.

Wine month (s. from wine, and month) October, the month in which the vintage was gathered in.

Winer (s. from wine) The branch of a vine.

Winerain (s. from wine, and rain) The shepard of liquor made of raisins and other ingredients.

W I N

 rope (s. from wine, and rope) The state of wine copy.
 spirit (s. from wine, and spirit) The spirit drawn wine by distillation.
 (s. an old word) The branch of a vine. Ba.
 trade (s. from wine, and trade) The trade of ing in wine.
 vault (s. from wine, and vault) A vault or cellar wine.
 vessel (s. from wine, and vessel) A cask in which has been kept.
 (s. from the Sax. gewing) One of the limbs which a bird flies; a fan, any thing resembling wing of a bird; a flight, passage by the wing, a ve of fight; the side of an army, any side piece mbling a wing.
 (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with wings, to ly with side bodies.
 (v. int.) To pass by flight.
 (p. from wing) Furnished with wings, hav-wings.
 ed pea (s. in botany) The name of a plant. ed plant (s. in botany) A plant whose stalk is furall the way with a kind of membranous ed seed (s. in botany) A seed furnished with a kind own by which it is easily conveyed from place to by the wind.
 ing (p. a. from wing) Furnishing with wings;
 g.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with gs, the act of flying.
 shell (s. from wing, and shell) The shell that rs the wing of an insect, a sheath wing.
 y (adj. from wing) Having wings.
 (s.) The name of an apple.
 (v. int. from the Sax. winctan) To shut the to close and exclude the light, to connive at, erate; to direct by the motion of the eyelids, to with at; as, "Better content with one that will at their faults."
 (s. from the verb) The act of closing the eye, a by the motion of the eye.
 er (s. from wink) One that winks.
 ing (p. a. from wink) Closing the eye, giving at by closing the eye.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of closing the ngly (adv. from winking) With the eyes nearly
 d.
 (s. an old spelling) A windlass. Ch.
 (adv. a local word) Quietly. Bailey.
 (v. int. a local word) To complain. Cole.
 er (s. from win) One who wins.
 ing (p. a. from win) Gaining, obtaining, getting advantage.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of getting some ad-ge; that which is won.
 ing (adj. from the part.) Charming, attrac-OW (v. t. from the Sax. windwian) To separate and, to part the grain from the chaff; to fan, at as with wings; to separate, to part; to sift, amine.
 ow (v. int.) To part corn from chaff.
 owed (p. from winnow) Parted as corn from fanned, separated by means of wind; sifted, ined.
 wer (s. from winnow) One who winnows.
 wing (p. a. from winnow) Separating by means nd, separating as corn from chaff; sifting, ex-
 ing.
 wing (s. from the part.) The act of separating ra from the chaff by means of wind.
 OW (s.) A town in Buckinghamshire; it market on Tuesday, and is 51 miles from n.
 w (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Winflow, at Winflow.
 ER (s.) A town in Derbyshire; it has a market urday, and is 146 miles from London.
 (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Winster, at Winster.
 ER (s. from the Sax.) The cold season of the that season of the year in which the days are ; that part of a printing press which sustains riage.
 (v. int. from the sub.) To pass the winter.

W I R

Win'ter (v. t.) To feed in the winter, to manage in the winter.
 Win'ter (adj. from the sub. often used in composition) Belonging to the winter, produced in winter, used in winter.
 Win'terbeaten (adj. from winter, and beaten) Harassed by severe weather, injured by the winter.
 Win'tercherry (s. in botany) The alkekengy, the name of a plant.
 Win'tercitron (s. in botany) A kind of pear.
 Win'tered (p. from winter) Fed in winter, managed in winter.
 Win'tercefs (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Win'terfallow (v. t. from winter, and fallow) To fallow in the winter.
 Win'terfallowed (p. from winterfallow) Fallowed in winter.
 Win'terfallowing (p. a. from winterfallow) Fallowing in winter.
 Win'terfallowing (s. from the part.) The act of fallowing in the winter.
 Win'terfiner (s. in botany) A kind of pear.
 Win'tergreen (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Win'terheyne (adj. from winter, and heyne) Heyne in winter.
 Win'terheyning (s. from winter, and heyning) The method of letting ground lie without cattle in winter. Scott.
 Win'tering (p. a. from winter) Passing the winter; feeding in winter, managing in winter.
 Win'tering (s. from the part.) The act of passing the winter, the act of feeding in the winter.
 Win'terlemon (s. in botany) A kind of pear.
 Win'terly (adj. from winter) Suited to winter, like winter.
 Win'termarvel (s. in botany) A kind of pear, the win-terlemon.
 Win'termonth (s. from winter, and month) December;
 one of the months in winter.
 Win'terquarters (s. from winter, and quarters) Quarters for the winter, the place in which soldiers are quartered for the winter.
 Win'terrig (v. t. a local word) To fallow or till land in the winter. Scott.
 Win'terrigged (p. from win'terrig) Fallowed in winter.
 Win'terrigging (p. a. from win'terrig) Fallowing in winter.
 Win'terruffelet (s. in botany) A kind of pear.
 Win'terfolstice (s. from winter, and folstice) The point of time when the sun enters the tropic of Capricorn;
 that time when the days are at the shortest.
 Win'terthorn (s. in botany) A kind of pear.
 Win'tertime (s. from winter, and time) The time of winter.
 Win'trid (adj. obsolete) Hoary, wrinkled. Ch.
 Win'try (adj. from winter) Suited to winter, like winter.
 Win'ny (adj. from wine) Having some taste or quality of wine.
 WIPE (v. t. from the Sax. wipan) To clean by rubbing with something soft, to strike off gently, to clear away; to cheat, to defraud. To wipe out, to efface.
 Wipe (s. from the verb) The act of wiping; a blow, a stroke, a sarcasm.
 WIPE (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 Wiped (p. from wipe) Cleaned by wiping, cleared away.
 Wiper (s. from wipe) One that wipes, that with which any thing is wiped.
 Wiping (p. a. from wipe) Cleaning by rubbing, striking off gently.
 Wiping (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning by rubbing with something soft.
 Wirch (v. int. obsolete) To do work, to work. Ch.
 WIRE (s. from the French virer to draw) A small round bar of metal, metal drawn into small threads.
 Wire (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to wire, made of wire.
 Wiredraw (v. t. from wire, and draw) To draw into wire, to draw out into length, to draw by art or violence.
 Wiredrawer (s. from wire, and draw) One who draws wire, one who makes wire.
 Wiredrawing (p. a. from wiredraw) Drawing wire, making wire; drawing out into length.
 Wiredrawing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing wire, the act of drawing out into length.
 Wiredrawn (p. from wiredraw) Drawn as wire; drawn out into length.

Wl'rid

WIT

Wit (v. t. pret. obsolete) Did make war upon. Ch.
Wirry (v. t. obsolete) To worry. Ch.
WIRKS'WORTH (s.) A town in Derbyshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 138 miles from London.
Wirksworth (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wirksworth, made at Wirksworth.
Wirry (adj. from wire) Wiery, belonging to wire, like wire.
Wis (v. int. obsolete) To know. Sp.
Wis (adv. obsolete) Verily, truly. Ch.
Wis'ard (s. a different spelling) A wizard. Sc.
WIS'BEACH (s.) A town in Cambridgeshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 89 miles from London.
Wis'beach (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wisbeach, made at Wisbeach.
WIS'DOM (s. from the Sax.) The power or faculty of judging rightly, the pursuit of what is just and proper.
WISE (adj. from the Sax. wis) Capable of judging rightly, having practical knowledge; skillful, dexterous; grave, becoming a man of wisdom.
Wise (v. t. obsolete) To direct.
WISE (s. from the Sax.) A manner, a method of acting.
Wiseacre (s. from wise, a droll word) A fool, a dunce; a wise man, a sententious man; but this sense is now grown obsolete.
Wit'ed (p. from wise, a local word) Directed.
Witely (adv. from wise) With wisdom; with prudence.
Witelyer (adv. from witely) With a greater degree of wisdom. Patrick.
Wit'eness (s. from wise) The state of being wise, wisdom. Spenser.
Wit'er (adj. comp. of wise) Wise in a greater degree.
Wit'est (adj. sup. of wise) Wise in the greatest degree.
WISH (v. t. from the Sax. wisian) To desire, to long for, to recommend by wishing, to imprecate, to ask.
With (v. int.) To have strong desire, to be disposed, to be inclined.
With (s. from the verb) A longing desire, the thing desired, desire expressed.
Wish'e (adj. obsolete) Washed. Ch.
Wish'ed (p. from wish) Desired, longed for, recommended by wishing.
Wish'edly (adv. from wished, not used) With desire. Knolls.
Wish'er (s. from wish) One who wishes.
Wish'ful (adj. from wish) Longing, shewing desire.
Wish'fully (adv. from wishful) Earnestly, with longing desire.
Wish'fulness (s. from wishful) The state of shewing desire.
Wish'in (v. t. obsolete) To wash; to wish. Ch.
Wish'in (p. obsolete) Washed. Ch.
Wish'ippers (s. an old word) Astrologers. Bailey.
Wisht (p. obsolete) Washed. Ch.
Wis'ill (s. an old spelling) A weasel.
Wis'ket (s. a local word) A kind of basket, a scuttle.
Wis'ly (adv. obsolete) Certainly, verily, truly. Ch.
Wit'ed (adj. a local word) Withered, wasted.
WISP (s. from the Swedish) A small bundle as hay or straw.
Wise (v. t. obsolete) To direct, to instruct.
Wis'ely (adv. obsolete) Certainly, truly.
Wish'e, Wish'in (p. obsolete) Washed. Ch.
Wit'ly (adv. obsolete) Certainly, verily. Ch.
Wit (v. int. pret. of wis) Knew, did know. Sc.
Wit (s. from wista) Half a hide of land.
Wis'ta (s. in old records) Half a hide of land.
WIS'TAN (s.) A man's name.
WIST'FUL (adj. from the Sax.) Attentive, earnest, full of thought.
Wit'fully (adv. from wistful) Attentively, earnestly.
Wit'fulness (s. from wistful) The state of being wistful.
Wit'in (v. int. obsolete) Knew, did know. Ch.
Wit'ly (adv. from wis) Attentively, earnestly. Sh.
WISTON (s.) A town in Pembrokeshire; it has a market on Saturday, and is 236 miles from London.
Wiston (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wiston, made at Wiston.
WIT (s. from the Sax. witan to know) The powers of the mind, the mental faculties, the intellects; quickness of fancy, imagination; sentiments produced by quickness of imagination; sense, judgment; contrivance, stratagem; a man of quick imagination, a man of genius.

WIT

Wit (v. int. from the Sax. witan) To know. To that is to say. Wu ye, know ye.
Wit (v. t. obsolete) To blame, to censure.
WITCH (s. from the Sax. wicca) An enchanted woman supposed to practise unlawful arts.
WITCH (s. from the Sax. wic) A winding bank.
Witch (v. t. from the sub.) To bewitch, to enchant.
Witch'craft (s. from witch, and craft) The practice of witches, the supposed power of witches.
Witch'ed (p. from witch) Bewitched, exposed to power of witchcraft.
Witch'elm (s. from witch, and elm) A kind of elm.
Witch'er (s. a cant word) Silver.
Witch'erbubber (s. a cant word) A silver bowl.
Witch'erfully (s. a cant word) A silvermith.
Witch'ertiler (s. a cant word) A sword with a hilt.
Witch'ery (s. from witch) Witchcraft, enchantment.
Witch'ing (p. a. from witch) Bewitching, enchanting.
Witch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enchanting.
Witch'hazle (s. from witch, and hazle) A kind of tree.
Witch'hazletree (s. from witchhazle, and tree) witchhazle.
Wit'craft (s. from wit, and craft, but now grown obsolete) Contrivance, invention.
Wit'cracker (s. from wit, and cracker) A jester.
WITE (v. t. from the Sax. witan) To blame, to reproach.
Wite (s. obsolete) Blame, reproach, a fine, a penalty.
Wite (v. int. obsolete) To know.
Wit'en (v. t. obsolete) To blame, to reproach.
Wit'free (adj. from wit, and free) Free from blame, free from punishment.
WITH (prep. from the Sax.) By, for, on the side of, opposition to, in competition; in company, partnership; in connection, in consequence of; among.
Withal (adv. from with, and all) At the same time, along with the rest; with.
WITH'AM (s.) A town in Essex; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 67 miles from London.
With'am (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Witham, made at Witham.
Withch'ld (adj. from with, and child) Pregnant, "was withchild."
Withdraw' (v. int. from with, and draw) To retract, to retract.
Withdraw' (v. t.) To recall, to retract.
Withdraw'ing (p. a. from withdrawing) Retiring, retreating; recalling, retracting.
Withdraw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of retracting, the act of retracting.
Withdraw'ingroom (s. from withdrawing, and room) A room behind another for retirement.
Withdraw'n (p. from withdraw) Retired, retreated.
WITHE (s. from the Sax.) A willow twig, a band of twigs.
WITH'ER (v. int. from the Sax. gewitherad) To grow dry, to fade, to waste, to pine.
With'er (v. t.) To make to fade, to cause to shrivel.
With'erband (s. from wither, and band) A band of iron to strengthen a saddle in that part which is just over the withers.
With'ered (p. from wither) Faded, wasted, dried up.
With'eredness (s. from withered) The state of being withered.
With'ering (p. a. from wither) Fading, decaying, withering up.
With'ering (s. from the part.) The act of fading, the state of being faded.
With'ernam (s. a law term) A writ which lies against a distress is driven out of the county and impounded, sheriff to take a second distress till the first is brought back and delivered.
With'erung (adj. from wither, and rung) Hurt in the withers.
With'erung (s. from the adj.) A hurt in the withers.
WITH'ERS (s. in farriery) The juncture of the ribs, the bones just behind the mane of a horse.
With'erlake (s. in old records) An apostate, a renegade.
With'erwrung (adj. from withers, and wrung) Hurt in the withers.
With'erwrung (s. from the adj.) A hurt in the withers.

WIT

withheld (v. t. pret. of withhold) Did withhold.
 withheld (p. from withhold) Refrained, refused, kept back.
 withheld (v. t. from with, and hold) To refrain, to keep back.
 withheld (p. from withhold) Refrained, refused, kept back.
 withhold'er (s. from withhold) One who withholds.
 withhold'ing (p. a. from withhold) Refraining, reg, holding back.
 withhold'ing (s. from the part.) The act of keeping back.
 within (prep. from with, and in) In the inner part of, in the reach of, in the compass of, in the space of, in the bounds of.
 within (adv. from the prep.) Inwardly, internally, in the inner parts, in the mind.
 within-board (adv. from within, and board) Within a board.
 within-side (adv. from within, and side) In the interior parts.
 withhold (v. t. a different spelling) To withhold. Johns.
 without (prep. from with, and out) On the outside of, without; beyond, not within the compass of, in the absence of, in a state of absence from.
 without (adv. from the prep.) Externally, outwardly; on the inside, out of doors.
 without (conj. from the prep.) Unless, except.
 without-board (adv. a sea term) Without the ship, not on the ship.
 without'en (prep. from without, but now grown obsolete) Without.
 without (adv. obsolete) Without. Chaucer.
 without (p. from withsay, but not used) Contradicted.
 without (v. t. obsolete) To withsay, to contradict. Ch.
 without (v. t. from with, and say, but not much used) To withsay, to contradict. Scott.
 without'ing (p. a. from withsay, but not used) Contradicting.
 without'en (adj. obsolete) Opposed. Chaucer.
 without (v. t. obsolete) To withsay, to contradict. Ch.
 without (v. t. obsolete) To oppose, to contradict. Ch.
 without (v. t. from with, and stand) To oppose, to resist.
 without'er (s. from withstand) One who opposes, one who withstands.
 without'ing (p. a. from withstand) Opposing, contradicting.
 without'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing.
 without'd (v. t. pret. of withstand) Did withstand.
 without'd (p. from withstand) Opposed, contradicted.
 without'te (v. t. obsolete) To withstand, to hinder.
 without'ind, Withwinde (s. in botany) The bindwillow.
 without' (s. in botany, from the Sax. withig) The willow, a shoot of a willow, the wood of a willow.
 without' (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the willow, of willow.
 without' (v. t. second pers. sing. obsolete) Blamest. Ch.
 without' (adj. from wit) Void of wit, void of understanding.
 without' (v. t. from wit) A man who sets up for a wit, a pretender to wit.
 without' (s. from the Sax. witneffe) One who gives testimony, the testimony given. With a witness, in a great degree, to a great degree.
 without' (v. t. from the sub.) To attest, to affirm on oath.
 without' (v. int.) To give testimony, to bear testimony.
 without' (p. from witness) Attested, confirmed by witness.
 without' (adv. obsolete) With better proof. Ch.
 without' (p. a. from witness) Attesting, bearing witness.
 without' (s. from the part.) The act of bearing witness, the act of attesting.
 without' (s. from the Sax. witneffe) A town in Oxfordshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 69 miles from London.
 without' (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Witney.
 without' (s. from the Sax. wittan to know) One who knows that his wife is unfaithful to him; a contented husband.
 without' (adj. from wit) Endued with wit.
 without' (an old spelling) Wit, sense, knowledge, a good opinion of mind. Chaucer.

WOF

Wit'ten (v. t. obsolete) To blame. Ch.
 WITTENAGE'MOT (s. from the Sax. wittena wisdom, and gemot an assembly) An assembly of wise men, a parliament among the Saxons.
 Wit'tenamot (s. a different spelling) The wittenagemot, the great council of the nation. D. of A.
 Wit'terly (adv. obsolete) Certainly. Ch.
 Wit'ticism (s. from wit) A little device of wit, a mean attempt at wit.
 Wit'tier (adj. comp. of witty) Witty in a greater degree.
 Wit'tiest (adj. sup. of witty) Witty in the greatest degree.
 Wit'tily (adv. from witty) With wit, with ingenuity, with a flight of imagination.
 Wit'tiness (s. from witty) The state of being witty, the quality of being witty.
 Wit'ting (adj. obsolete) Knowing, skillful. Chaucer.
 Wit'ting (s. obsolete) Knowledge, understanding. Ch.
 Wit'tingly (adv. from witting) Knowingly, on purpose, with design.
 Wit'ty (adj. from wit) Full of wit, full of imagination, abounding with sarcasm; judicious, ingenious.
 Wit'tol (s. a different spelling) A wittal, a contented cuckold.
 Wit'tolly (adj. from wittal) Cuckoldly. Shakespeare.
 WIT'WAL (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 Wive (v. t. from wife) To match to a wife, to take for a wife.
 Wive (v. int.) To marry, to take a wife.
 Wiv'ed (p. from wive) Married, taken as a wife.
 Wiv'ehode (s. from wive, obsolete) The state of being a wife.
 Wiv'ely (adj. from wive, obsolete) Befitting a wife, becoming a wife. Chaucer.
 WIV'ELSCOMB (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 159 miles from London.
 Wiv'elcomb (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wiv'elcomb, made at Wiv'elcomb.
 Wiv'ere (s. an old spelling) The vivern. Chaucer.
 WIV'ERN (s. in heraldry) A kind of serpent, an imaginary animal having the head and wings of a bird but the tail like a serpent.
 Wives (s. plu. of wife) More than one wife, married women.
 Wiz'ard (s. from wife) A conjurer, an enchanter.
 Wiz'zle (v. t. a local word) To get any thing away slyly. Bailey.
 Wlate (v. t. obsolete) To hate, to loath. Chaucer.
 WO (s. from the Sax. wa) Grief, sorrow, misery; a denunciation of misery, a curse. "Wo is me," wo is to me.
 Wo (adj. from the sub. but not much used) Miserable, accursed. "Wo are we, Sir." Shakespeare.
 Wo (v. int. by carriers to their horses) Stop, stand still.
 Wo (s. from the verb.) A stop. Shakespeare.
 Wo (v. t. obsolete) To plague, to torment. Chaucer.
 WOAD (s. in botany, from the Sax. wad) The name of a plant much used in dying a blue colour.
 Woad (v. t. from the sub.) To die with woad.
 Woad'ed (p. from woad) Died with woad.
 Woad'ing (p. a. from woad) Dying with woad.
 Woad'ing (s. from the part.) The act or process of dying with woad.
 Woad'mel (s. a local word) A kind of coarse cloth.
 Wo'begone (adj. obsolete) Lost in woe. Shakespeare.
 WO'BURN (s.) A town in Bedfordshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 42 miles from London.
 Wo'burn (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Woburn, made at Woburn.
 Wodde (s. an old spelling) Woad. Chaucer.
 Wodd'ith (v. int. obsolete) Groweth mad. Chaucer.
 Wode (adj. obsolete) Mad, wrong. Chaucer.
 Wodebinde (s. an old spelling) The woodbind. Chaucer.
 Wo'dely (adv. from wode, obsolete) Madly, furiously. Ch.
 WOD'EN (s. from the Sax. signifying furious) The principal idol of the ancient Teutones.
 Woden (v. int. from the sub.) To rage, to grow mad.
 Wo'dewale (s. an old spelling) The witwal, a bird of the thrush kind. Chaucer.
 Woe (s. a different and common spelling) Wo, misery, grief.
 Woe'begon (adj. a different spelling, obsolete) Lost in woe. Spenser.
 Wolt (v. t. the old pret. of waft) Did waft. Shakespeare.
 Wo'ful (adj. from wo) Sorrowful, mournful, calamitous, wretched; paltry, sorry.
 Wo'fully

W O M

Wo'fully (adv. from woful) Sorrowfully, wretchedly.

Wo'fulness (s. from woful) Wretchedness, sorrowfulness.

Wogh (s. a local word) A wall; wool. Bailey.

WO'KING (s.) A town in Surry; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 28 miles from London.

Wo'king (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Woking, made at Woking.

Wol (s. obsolete) Wool, the will. Chaucer.

WOLD (s. from the Sax.) A down, a plain open country.

WOLF (s. from the Sax. wulf) A kind of wild dog, the name of a beast of prey.

Wolf (s. in surgery) An eating ulcer.

Wolf (s.) A kind of net so called because it is very destructive to fish.

Wolf'bane (s. in botany) The name of an herb, the aconite.

Wolf'colour (s. from wolf, and colour) A colour resembling that of a wolf.

Wolf'colour (adj. from the sub.) Having a colour resembling that of a wolf.

Wolf'coloured (adj. from wolfcolour) Having a colour resembling that of a wolf.

Wolf'dog (s. from wolf, and dog) A dog of a large breed, a dog bred between a wolf and a bitch.

Wolf'hunting (s. from wolf, and hunting) The method or diversion of hunting the wolf.

Wolf'ish (adj. from wolf) Having the qualities of a wolf, resembling the qualities of a wolf.

Wolf'ishly (adv. from wolfish) With the quality of a wolf.

Wolf'ishness (s. from wolfish) The quality of a wolf.

Wolf'man (s. from wolf, and man) A were wolf, a man supposed to have the ferocity of a wolf.

Wolf'month (s. from wolf, and month) January so called because in that month the wolfs were most ravenous.

Wolfs'bane (s. in botany) The name of a poisonous herb, the aconite.

Wolfs'milk (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

Wolfs'tooth (s. from wolf, and tooth) One of the grinders of a horse shot out to an uncommon length so as to interrupt his feeding.

WOLGA (s. in geography) A large river of Russia which empties itself into the Caspian sea after a course of between two and three thousand miles.

Woll (s. obsolete) Wool, the will. Chaucer.

Wol'lin (s. obsolete) The will. Chaucer.

WOL'VERHAMPTON (s.) A town in Staffordshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 123 miles from London.

Wol'verhampton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wolverhampton, made at Wolverhampton.

Wolves (s. plu. from wolf) More than one wolf.

Wolve'thede (s. an old word) An outlaw so called from the price formerly set on the heads of wolves and other beasts of prey.

Wol'vish (adj. from wolf, but not so proper a spelling) Wolfish. Scott.

Wol'vishly (adv. from wolvish, but not so proper a spelling) Wolfishly.

Wol'vishness (s. from wolvish, but not so proper a spelling) Wolfishness.

WOMAN (s. from the Sax. wif a wife, and man, the o is sounded narrow) A female of the human race, a marriageable female; a female servant attending on a lady of rank.

Wo'man (v. t. from the sub.) To make effeminate, to make like a woman.

Wo'maned (p. from woman) Made like a woman; accompanied with a woman.

Wo'manhater (s. from woman, and hater) One who has an aversion to women.

Wo'manhead (s. not so common a word) Womanhood. Donne.

Wo'manhede (s. a more obsolete spelling) Womanhood. Ch.

Wo'manhood (s. from woman, but nearly obsolete) The state of a woman, the collective qualities of the female sex.

Wo'maning (p. a. from woman) Making like a woman.

Wo'maning (s. from the part.) The act of making like a woman.

Womani'fe (v. t. from woman, but not used) To effeminate, to soften. Johnson.

Womani'fed (p. from womanise) Womanized.

Womani'fing (p. a. from womanise) Womanizing.

W O N

Womani'fing (s. from the part.) The act of womanizing.

Wo'manish (adj. from woman) Suitable to a woman; effeminate.

Wo'manishly (adv. from womanish) With the qualities of a woman.

Wo'manishness (s. from womanish) The state or qualities of being womanish.

Womani'ze (v. t. from woman) To effeminate, to soften.

Womani'zed (p. from womanize) Effeminated, softened.

Womani'zing (p. a. from womanize) Effeminating.

Womaniz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of softening down to the qualities of a woman.

Womanki'nd (s. from woman, and kind) The female race of women.

Wo'manly (adv. from woman) Becoming a woman; not girlish, not childish.

Wo'manly (adv. from the adj.) In the manner of a woman.

WOMB (s. from the Sax. wamb) The place of the mother; the place whence any thing is produced.

Womb (v. t. from the sub.) To inclose, to breed, to cress.

Womb'y (adj. from womb) Capacious, resembling a womb.

Wo'men (s. plu. of woman, the o is sounded like i) More than one woman.

Won (v. t. pret. of win) Did win.

Won (p. from win) Gained, obtained, gotten at.

Won (s. obsolete) Usage, custom, a dwelling, a nation.

Won (v. int. obsolete) To dwell, to frequent.

Wonde (v. int. obsolete) Did dwell, did inhabit; back.

WON'DER (v. int. from the Sax. wondrian) To be struck with admiration, to be pleased or surprised; astonishment; with at: as, "I could not wonder at the intrepidity of these diminutive talts."

Won'der (s. from the verb) Surprise, amazement by something uncommon or unexpected; the state of amazement, something strange, uncommon, surprising; something mentioned as surprising.

Won'dered (p. from wonder) Viewed with wonder; with at: as, "And wondered at in other tries."

Won'derful (adj. from wonder) Strange, amazing, nothing.

Won'derful (adv. from the adj. but not proper) Wonderfully, to a wonderful degree.

Won'derfully (adv. from wonderful) To a wonderful degree, in a wonderful manner.

Won'derfulness (s. from wonderful) The state of being wonderful.

Won'dering (p. a. from wonder) Admiring, with surprise.

Won'dering (s. from the part.) The act of viewing with wonder.

Won'derment (s. from wonder, a low or dramatic) Astonishment with surprise.

Won'derous (adj. from wonder) Surprising, wonderful.

Won'derously (adv. from wonderful) To a wonderful degree.

Won'derstruck (adj. from wonder, and struck) Struck with wonder.

Won'dir (adj. obsolete) Wondrous.

Won'dirliche (adv. obsolete) Wonderfully.

Won'dirly (adv. obsolete) Wonderfully.

Won'dirfly (adv. obsolete) Wonderfully.

Won'drous (adj. a different, and common) Wonderful.

Won'drously (adv. from wondrous, a different mon spelling) Wonderously.

Wone (s. obsolete) A home, a habitation; a country.

Won'ed (adj. obsolete) Wont, accustomed.

Wong (s. an old word) A field, a meadow.

Wonn (v. int. obsolete) To dwell, to abide.

Wonne (v. int. obsolete) To dwell, to inhabit.

Wonne (s. obsolete) A remedy; a dwelling.

Won'ning (s. obsolete) A dwelling.

WONT (v. int. from the Sax. wunian) To use, to be accustomed.

Wont (v. int. pret. of the foregoing) Was used, was accustomed.

(p. from the verb) Used, accustomed.
 (s. from the verb, but now grown nearly obsolete) from, habit, use. Milton.
 (v. int. a contraction of) Will not. Johnson.
 (p. from wont) Accustomed, used, usual.
 (s. from wonted, but not used) The state of being accustomed to. King Charles.
 (adj. from wont) Unaccustomed, unused. Spenser.
 (s. a local word) The young of any catfish. Scott.
 (v. t. from the Sax. wogan) To court, to sue to love; to court solicitously, to invite with importunity.
 (v. int.) To court, to make love.
 (s. from the Sax. wude) A large and thick plan-tion of trees; the substance of trees, timber; the produce of trees for the fire. "Wood and wood," in the language, joined so as to have the wood of one tree close to that of the other.
 (adj. from the Sax. wod, but now grown obsolete) mad, furious, raging. Spenser.
 (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to wood, made of wood, produced in woods.
 (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 (s. from wood, and ashes) The ashes of wood.
 (s. in botany) The honeysuckle, the honeysuckle.
 (s. in botany) The woodbine, the honeysuckle.
 (s.) A town in Suffolk; it has a market
 Wednesday, and is 76 miles from London.
 (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Woodbridge, made at Woodbridge.
 (s. in gunnery) A case made of two pieces of slow wood to put into the bore of a cannon.
 (s. in ornithology) A bird of passage; it has a remarkably long bill, and is delicate food.
 (s. a cant word) A stupid fellow, a dunce.
 (s. from woodcock, and colour) A colour resembling that of a woodcock. Dict. of Arts.
 (s. in natural history) A kind of purra.
 (s. from woodcock, and soil) A bar-ringy soil so called because it has a colour resembling that of a woodcock; a soil suited to wood-cocks.
 (s. from wood, and coppice) A plan-tion of young wood, a coppice where young wood grows.
 (s.) Corn heretofore given by the tenant to the lord for leave to gather up wood.
 (s. in ornithology) The wood pigeon.
 (s. from wood, and drink) A decoction of medicinal woods; cider or perry.
 (adj. from wood) Furnished with wood, having plenty of wood.
 (adj. from wood) Made of wood; clumsy, awkward.
 (s. from wood, and fire) A fire made of wood.
 (s. from wood, and fretter) A kind of insect, a kind of woodworm.
 (s. from wood, and geld) The money paid for cutting wood in the king's forest; an exemption from that payment.
 (s. in old records) The woodgeld.
 (s. from wood, and hole) A place where wood is laid up for the fire.
 (s. from wood, and house) A house or place where wood is kept.
 (adj. comp. of woody) Woody in a greater degree.
 (adj. sup. of woody) Woody in the greatest degree.
 (s. from woody) The state or quality of being woody.
 (s. from wood, and land) Land covered over with woods; woods.
 (s. in ornithology) A kind of lark remarkable for its perching on wood, and its fine song.
 (s. from wood, and louse) The name of an insect, the millipede.
 (s. from wood, and man) A man who takes care of woods; a hunter, a sportsman.
 (s. obsolete) A mad man. Chaucer.
 (s. plu. of woodman) More than one woodman.
 (s. from wood, and monger) One who deals in wood.
 (s. an old law term) The forest court, the court of attachment.

Wood'nests (s. obsolete) Madness. Chaucer.
 Wood'note (s. from wood, and note) Wild music.
 Wood'nut (s. from wood, and nut) A nut that grows wild in the woods.
 Wood'nymph (s. from wood and nymph) A dryad.
 Wood'offering (s. from wood, and offering) The wood burnt on the altar.
 Wood'pecker (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 Wood'pigeon (s. in ornithology) The woodcreeper, a kind of wild pigeon.
 Wood'pile (s. from wood, and pile) A pile of wood laid up for the fire.
 Wood'rick (s. from wood, and rick) A woodpile.
 Wood'roof (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 WOOD'SAGE (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 WOOD'SARE (s. the derivation is not noted) The froth resembling spittle which is found on plants in the beginning of summer, the sperm of the grasshop-
 per.
 Wood'sare (s. from wood, and fare) The time when there is no sap in the wood.
 Wood'scare (s. a different spelling) The woodfare. Bailey.
 Wood'seller (s. from wood, and seller) One who sells wood, one who deals in wood.
 Wood'shaw (s. a local word) The side of a wood. Bailey.
 Wood'snipe (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
 Wood'sorrel (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 WOOD'STOCK (s.) A borough town in Oxfordshire; it has a market on Tuesday, sends two members to parliament, and is 63 miles from London.
 Wood'stock (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Woodstock, made at Woodstock.
 Wood'want (s. a local word) A hole or deficiency in timber. Bailey.
 Wood'ward (s. from wood, and ward) A forester, one who keeps woods from waste and injury.
 WOOD'WAX (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Wood'wife (s. an old word) A wild man, a satyr. Cole.
 Wood'y (adj. from wood) Belonging to wood, ligneous, consisting of wood, abounding with wood, full of woods.
 Wood'ed (p. from woo) Courted.
 Woole'r (s. from woo) One that woos, a lover, one who courts a woman.
 Woof (s. from wove) The set of threads which cross the warp, the weft; texture, cloth.
 Woof (s. obsolete) A wolf. Chaucer.
 Woo'ing (p. a. from woe) Courting, making love to a woman.
 Woo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making love to a woman, a solicitous invitation.
 Woo'ingly (adv. from wooing) Pleasingly, so as to invite a stay.
 WOOL (s. from the Sax. wul) The covering of sheep,
 the fleece of a sheep; any short thick hair.
 Wool'blade (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Wool'comb (s. from wool, and comb) The instrument with which wool is combed.
 Wool'comber (s. from wool, and comber) One whose business is to comb wool.
 Wool'combing (adj. from wool, and comb) Employed in combing wool, combing wool.
 Wool'combing (s. from wool, and combing) The act or process of combing wool.
 Wool'driver (s. from wool, and driver) One who buys wool in one country and sells it in another.
 WOOL'ER (s.) A town in Northumberland; it has a market on Thursday, and is 317 miles from London.
 Wool'w' (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wooler, made at Wooler.
 Wool'fel (s. from wool, and fel) A sheep's skin not stripped of the wool.
 Wool'feshed (s. an old word) The state of an outlaw, an outlaw. Phillips.
 Wool'jobber (s. from wool, and jobber) One who buys up small parcels of wool and sells them again.
 Wool'blade (s. a different spelling) The woolblade, the name of a plant. Phillips.
 Wool'driver (s. a different spelling) A wooldriver. Phillips.
 Wool'len (adj. from wool) Made of wool, belonging to wool; made of wool not finely dressed; coarse, rough.
 Wool'len (s. from the adj.) Cloth made of wool.
 Wool'lendrap'er (s. from woollen, and draper) One who deals in woollen goods.
 Wool'lier (adj. comp. of woolly) Woolly in a greater degree.
 Wool'liest (adj. sup. of woolly) Woolly in the greatest degree.

Wool'lines

Wool/linefs (s. from woolly) The state of being woolly.
Wool/ly (adj. from wool) Consisting of wool, clothed with wool, resembling wool.
Wool/man (s. a local word) A man who deals in wool, a wooljobber.
Wool/pack (s. from wool, and pack) A bag of wool, a bundle of wool; the seat of the judges in the house of lords; any thing bulky without weight.
Wool/sack (s. from wool, and sack) A woolpack.
Wool/staple (s. from wool, and staple) A market for wool.
Wool/stapler (s. from woolstaple) One who deals largely in wool, one who buys wool and sorts it, and then sells it to the clothiers.
Wool/trade (s. from wool, and trade) The trade of buying and selling wool.
WOOL/WICH (s.) A town in Kent; it has a market on Friday, and is 10 miles from London.
Wool/wich (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Woolwich, made at Woolwich.
Wool/winder (s. from wool, and winder) A person who binds up fleeces of wool according to statute.
Wool/world (adv. from wool, and world, but now grows obsolete) In wool, with woollen next the skin. Shakespeare.
Woor (s. an old word) Sea weeds, sea wrack. Co. Chaucer.
Woofte (v. t. obsolete) Knowest. Scott.
Woosted (s. a different spelling) Worsted. Ch.
Wo'pen (v. int. pret. obsolete) Wept. Ch.
WORCES'TER (s.) A city in Worcestershire, situate on the river Severn; it is the see of a bishop, has a market on Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday, is a great mart for hops, sends two members to parliament, and is 111 miles from London.
Worces'ter (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the city of Worcester, made in the city of Worcester.
WORCES'TERSHIRE (s. from Worcester, and shire) One of the inland counties of England; the soil is rich, and the air salubrious; it produces great plenty of corn, hops, and salt, contains eleven market towns, and sends nine members to parliament, two for the county, two for the city of Worcester, two for each of the boroughs, Droitwich and Evesham, and one for Bewdley.
Worces'tershire (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of Worcester, produced in the county of Worcester.
Worch, Worch'in (v. int. obsolete) To work. Ch.
Worch/brave (adj. a local word) Intent on work. Col.
WORD (s. from the Sax.) A single part of speech consisting of one or more syllables; a short discourse, a talk, a declaration; language, speech; a promise, an affirmation; a dispute, a contest in words; a solemn declaration; a signal, a token; a message, news; the Scriptures, a particular passage of Scripture; Christ, the second person in the Godhead. Word for word, verbatim, in the very words.
Word (v. t. from the sub.) To express in proper words.
Word (v. int.) To dispute; with with: as, "To word it with a shrew."
Word/book (s. from word, and book) A vocabulary, a small kind of dictionary.
Word'ed (p. from word) Expressed in words.
Word'ier (adj. comp. of wordy) Wordy in a greater degree.
Word'iest (adj. sup. of wordy) Wordy in the greatest degree.
Word'iness (s. from wordy) The state or quality of abounding with words.
Word'ing (p. a. from word) Expressing in words; disputing in words.
Word'ing (s. from the part.) The act of expressing in words; the act of disputing in words.
Word'leis (adj. from word) Speechleis. Ch.
Word'y (adj. from word) Full of words, abounding with words.
Wore (v. t. pret. of wear) Did wear.
Wore (s. a local word) Sea weeds, any thing thrown up by the sea. Col.
WORK (v. int. from the Sax. weorcan) To labour, to toil, to act, to carry on operations; to operate, to have effect; to ferment, to operate as a dose of physic; to be in action, to be in motion; to be agitated.
Work (v. t.) To make, to form by degrees; to manufacture, to produce, to effect; to exercise, to put into motion; to influence by successive impulses; to embroider, to adorn with needle work. To work out, to effect by labour, to efface. To work up, to raise, to excite by repeated impulses.

Work (s. from the verb) Labour, toil, action, any thing done; a fabric, a compilation, the publication of an author; treatment, management, any thing made.
Work/brittle (s. a local word) Intent on work.
Work/day (s. from work, and day) Any day of the week except Sunday.
Work'ed (p. from work) Wrought, done, made; to move; exercised; evacuated, purged.
Work'er (s. from work) One who works.
Work/fellow (s. from work, and fellow) A companion in work.
Work/house (s. from work, and house) A place in which any work is done, a place in which any manufacture is carried on; a house where strolling idle poor people are kept to work.
Work'ing (p. a. from work) Labouring, toiling, putting into motion.
Work'ing (s. from the part.) The act of labouring, act of putting into motion, the state of being put into motion.
Work'ingday (s. from working, and day) Any day of the week except Sunday.
Work'inghouse (s. from working, and house) A house.
Work/man (s. from work, and man) An artificer, maker of any thing; a labourer, a man who works by the day.
Work/manlike (adj. from workman, and like) Like a workman, like a skilful artificer.
Work/manly (adj. from workman) Like a workman, skilful, well performed.
Work/manly (adv. from workman) Skilfully, in a man like manner.
Work/manship (s. from workman) The act of working, the skill of a workman; that which is made by a skilful artificer, a work performed.
Work/master (s. from work, and master) The person who directs any work.
Work'men (s. plu. of workman) More than one workman.
Work/shop (s. from work, and shop) The shop where work is done.
WORK/SOP (s.) A town in Nottinghamshire; it has a market on Wednesday, and is 143 miles from London.
Work'sop (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Work'sop, made at Work'sop.
Work/woman (s. from work, and woman) A woman skilled in needlework; a woman who works by hire.
Work/women (s. plu. of workwoman) More than one work woman.
Work'yday (s. a corruption of) Working day.
WORLD (s. from the Sax.) The earth, the terrestrial globe; an inhabited planet; the system of the universe; mankind, the inhabitants of the earth; many people, a great multitude; a secular life, the concerns of life; the manners of a people; a collection of wonderful things; "World without end."
World'lier (adj. comp. of worldly) Worldly in a greater degree.
World'liest (adj. sup. of worldly) Worldly in the greatest degree.
Worldlimind'ed (adj. from worldly, and mind) Having the mind taken up with the concerns of this world.
Worldlimind'edness (s. from worldlimind'ed) The state of having the mind swallowed up with the concerns of this world.
World'liness (s. from worldly) The state or quality of being worldly.
World'ling (s. from world) A wretch who is taken up with the concerns of this world.
World'ly (adj. from world) Bent on getting the concerns of this world; human, common, belonging to this world.
World'y (adv. from the adj.) With relation to the world.
Worldymind'ed (adj. a different spelling) Worldlimind'ed.
World'wearied (adj. from world, and wearied) Worn out with the world.
WORM (s. from the Sax. wirm) A small harmful insect which lives in the earth; a grub, a caterpillar; an insect that gets into wood and ruins it; an animal bred in the body; a poisonous insect that spins silk; something venomous.

W O R ing spiral; something growing, something torturing.

 (v. int. from the sub.) To work slowly, to work slowly, to work by insinuation.
 (v. t.) To drive by slow and secret means; to drive a dog of some supposed membrane or ligament under the tongue to prevent his going mad.
 eaten (adj. from worm, and eaten) Eaten by worms, destroyed or injured by worms.
 eatenness (s. from worneaten) The state of being worneaten.
 ed (p. from worm) Accomplished by slow and secret means, deprived of a ligament under the tongue as a dog to prevent its going mad.
 igrals (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 hole (s. from worm, and hole) A hole made by worm.
 ing (p. a. from worm) Working by degrees, insinuating.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of accomplishing slow and secret means.
 feed (s. from worm, and feed) A kind of feed supposed to be good for destroying worms in the human body.
 wood (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 y (adj. from worm) Full of worms.
 (p. from wear) Used as cloaths, injured by wearing.
 il (s. a local word) A kind of worm or maggot created just under the skin on the back of a Denham.
 out (adj. from worn, and out) Greatly injured by wearing; trite.
 ed (p. from worry) Torn, mangled, harassed, distressed.
 Y (v. t. from the Sax. wirigen) To tear, to tug; to harass, to persecute.
 ying (p. a. from worry) Tearing, mangling, harassing, persecuting.
 ying (s. from the part.) The act of mangling, the act of harassing.
 E (adj. from the Sax. wirs, the comp. of bad) Bad in a greater degree.
 (adv. from the adj.) In a manner bad in a greater degree.
 (s. from the adj.) The disadvantage, the loss; which is less good.
 (v. t. from the adj.) To put to a disadvantage.
 (adj. a barbarous word) Worse, bad in a greater degree.
 SHIP (s. from the Sax. worthscipe) Adoration, an religious reverence; honour, respect, civil deference; the idolatry of lovers; dignity, eminence, grace; a character of honour, the title of a justice of peace; a term of ironical respect.
 up (v. t. from the sub.) To adore, to honour with religious reverence; to respect, to treat with deference; to honour.
 up (v. int.) To perform acts of divine adoration.
 ped (p. from worship, an analogical, but not so on a spelling) Adored, treated with religious reverence, honoured, treated with civil deference.
 per (s. from worship, the analogical spelling) A worshipper, one that worships.
 pful (adj. from worship) Claiming respect by reason of some dignity or character; implying civil respect.
 pfully (adv. from worshipful) Respectfully.
 pfulness (s. from worshipful) The state of being worshipful.
 ping (p. a. from worship, the analogical spelling) Worshipping, adoring; paying civil respect.
 pped (p. from worship, the common spelling) Worshipped.
 pper (s. from worship) One that worships.
 pping (p. a. from worship, the common spelling) Worshipping, performing an act of divine worship; shewing respect.
 pping (s. from the part.) The act of paying divine worship, the act of treating with civil respect.
 (adj. sup. from worse) Bad in the greatest degree.
 (s. from the adj.) The disadvantage, the loss; which is bad in the highest degree.
 (v. t. from the adj.) To put to the worse, to defeat, to overthrow.
 (p. from worst) Put to the worse, defeated, over-

W O X

Work'ed (s. from Worhead, the name of a town in Norfolk) Yarn spun from combed wool.
 Worst'ed (adj. from the sub.) Made of worsted; belonging to worsted.
 Work'ing (p. a. from work) Putting to the worse, defeating, overcoming.
 Work'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to the worse.
 Wort (s. from the Sax. wirt) The general name of an herb; a plant of the cabbage kind; new beer before the fermentation, new beer in the act of fermentation.
 Wort (s. an incorrect spelling) A wort. Cole.
 WORTH (s. from the Sax. weorth) Price, value; excellence, virtue; importance, weight.
 Worth (adj. from the sub.) Equal in price, equal in value; deserving of.
 Worth (v. n. obsolete) To be, to become. "Wo worth the man." Spenser.
 Worth (v. int. obsolete) To go, to get. Chaucer.
 Worthe (v. n. obsolete) To be, to become. Ch.
 Wor'thie (adj. an old spelling) Worthy. Ch.
 Wor'thied (p. from worthy, obsolete) Honoured, made worthy. Shakespeare.
 Wor'thier (adj. comp. of worthy) Worthy in a greater degree.
 Wor'thiest (adj. sup. of worthy) Worthy in the greatest degree.
 Wor'thily (adv. from worthy) Deservedly, suitably justly, not without cause.
 Wor'thine (s. a local word) A certain quantity of land.
 Wor'thiness (s. from worthy) Desert, worth, excellence, dignity, virtue.
 Worth'less (adj. from worth) Having no worth, having no value, having no excellence.
 Worth'lessness (s. from worthless) The state or quality of being worthless.
 Worthy (adj. from worth) Deserving, valuable, noble, having worth, having virtue; deserving of, suitable to; ironically, unworthy.
 Worthy (s. from the adj.) A man of commendable qualities, a man of valour.
 Worthy (v. t. from the sub. but not used) To render worthy, to aggrandize. Johnson.
 Wot (v. int. obsolete) Knowest. Ch.
 WOT (v. int. from the Sax. witan, but now grown obsolete, or used only in droll style) To know, to be aware of. Shakespeare.
 Wot', Wotte (v. int. obsolete) To know. Ch.
 WOTTON (s.) A town in Gloucestershire; it has a market on Friday, and is 107 miles from London.
 Wotton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wotton, made at Wotton.
 WOT'TONBASSET (s.) A borough town in Wiltshire; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 86 miles from London.
 Wot'tonbasset (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wottonbasset, made at Wottonbasset.
 Wove (v. t. pret. of weave) Did weave.
 Woven (p. from weave) Formed by weaving.
 Would (v. int. a sign of the potential mode) To be willing to; to be consequent upon; to resolve to, to wish to; should, ought to; but this sense is now grown obsolete. Bacon.
 Would (v. int.) To wish, to pray. "I would to God." Chaucer.
 Would (adj. obsolete) Willed, desired; suffered, permitted. Chaucer.
 Would'ing (s. from would) The motion of desire, a propension. Hammond.
 WOUND (s. from the Sax. wund) A hurt given by violence, a cut, a fracture of the skin.
 Wound (v. t. from the sub.) To hurt by violence, to cut or break the skin.
 Wound (v. t. pret. of wind) Did wind.
 Wound (p. from wind) Bound about, circumvolved.
 Wound'ed (p. from wound) Hurt by violence, broken in the skin, cut in the skin or flesh.
 Wound'ing (p. a. from wound) Hurting by violence, cutting the skin, breaking the skin.
 Wounding (s. from the part.) The act of hurting by violence, the act of cutting or breaking the skin.
 Woun'd'less (adj. from wound) Having no wound, exempt from wounds.
 Wound'wort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 Woun'dy (adj. from wound, a bad word) Excessive. L'Estrange.
 Wove (v. t. obsolete) To woo, to court. Ch.
 Wo'with (v. int. obsolete) Waveth. Ch.
 Wox, Woxe (v. int. the old pret. of wax) Waxed, did wax. Spenser.
 Wox'en

W R E

Wox'en (p. from wox, obsolete) Waxen.
Wrack (s. in the Scotch dialect) A sea weed.
Wrack (s. a different spelling) Wreck. Dryden.
Wrack (v. t. a different spelling) To wreck; to rack.
Wrack'ed (p. from wrack, a different spelling) Rack'd, tormented. Corvey.
Wrack'free (adj. from wrack, and free) Exempted from the forfeiture of shipwrecked goods. Scott.
Wrack'ing (p. a. from wrack, a different spelling) Wrecking. Milton.
Wraie (v. t. an old word) To bewray. Ch.
Wrake (s. an old spelling) Wreck, revenge. Ch.
Wral (v. int. obsolete) To wrangle, to brawl. Ch.
Wrang (v. t. the old pret. of wring) Did wring, wrung. Chaucer.
Wrang'land (s. in old records) A tree which grows in such a manner as never to become timber.
Wrangle (v. int. perhaps from wrang) To squabble, to quarrel perversely.
Wrangle (s. from the verb) A quarrel, a perverse dispute.
Wrang'ler (s. from wrangle) A peevish disputant, a perverse disputative man.
Wrang'ling (p. a. from wrangle) Disputing peevishly, disputing perversely, squabbling.
Wrang'ling (s. from the part.) The act of disputing perversely.
WRAP (v. t. from the Sax. hwearfan) To roll together, to complicate, to involve; to comprize, to contain. To wrap up, to involve, to involve totally.
WRAP (v. t. from the Lat. rapio to snatch up, not so much used) To rap, to transport, to put into extacy. Locke.
Wrap'ed (p. from wrap) Raped, transported. Dry.
Wrap'ped (p. from wrap) Involved, complicated, rolled together; rapt, put in an extacy.
Wrap'per (s. from wrap) One that wraps, that in which any thing is wrapped.
Wrap'ping (p. a. from wrap) Rolling together, complicating, putting in an extacy.
Wrap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of rolling together; the act of putting into an extacy.
WRASSE (s. in ichthyology) A species of labrus.
Wrate (v. t. the old pret. of write) Did write. Ch.
WRATH (s. from the Sax.) Anger, fury, rage.
Wrathe (v. t. obsolete) To provoke.
Wrath'ed (p. from wrathe, obsolete) Provoked. Ch.
Wrath'ful (adj. from wrath) Angry, furious, raging.
Wrath'fully (adv. from wrathful) Furiously, passionately.
Wrath'fulness (s. from wrathful) Extreme anger.
Wrath'ip (v. t. obsolete) To provoke. Ch.
Wrath'less (adj. from wrath) Free from anger, free from wrath.
Wrawe (s. obsolete) Wrath, anger. Ch.
Wraw'neis (s. from wrawe, obsolete) Frowardness. Chaucer.
Wray (v. t. obsolete) To bewray. Chaucer.
WREAK (v. t. from the Sax. wræcan) To revenge, to execute any violent design.
Wreak (s. from the verb) Revenge, passion, vengeance, fury.
Wreak (v. int. not used of late) To reckon, to heed, to care for. Shakespeare.
Wreak'ful (adj. from wreak) Revengeful, angry. Sh.
Wreak'ing (p. a. from wreak) Revenging, executing some violent design.
Wreak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of executing some violent design.
Wreak'less (adj. from wreak) Unrevenging; careless. Shakespeare.
WREATH (s. from the Sax. wreath) Any thing curled, any thing twisted; a garland, a chaplet.
Wreath (v. t. from the sub.) To curl, to twist; to interweave, to entwine, to encircle as a garland.
Wreathe (s. not so common a spelling) A wreath.
Wreathe (v. t. not so common a spelling) To wreath. Sc.
Wreath'ed (p. from wreath) Twisted, involved, encircled as with a garland.
Wreath'ing (p. a. from wreath) Twisting, involving, entwining, encircling.
Wreath'ing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting, the act of entwining.
Wreath'y (adj. from wreath) Spiral, curled, twisted.
Wrec'fry (adj. an old word) Exempted from the forfeiture of shipwrecked goods.
Wrech, Wreche (s. obsolete) Revenge. Ch.
Wreche (s. an old spelling) A wretch. Ch.
Wrech'idlice, Wrech'idliche (adv. obsolete) Wretchedly. Chaucer.

W R I

WRECK (s. from the Sax. wræcce a wreck) Destruction by sea; ruin, destruction; dissolution by violence.
Wreck (v. t. from the sub.) To destroy by dashing rocks or sands; to ruin, to destroy.
Wreck (v. int.) To suffer loss.
Wreck'ed (p. from wreck) Destroyed by being dashed on rocks and sands at sea, ruined, destroyed.
Wreck'ing (p. a. from wreck) Destroying by dashing against rocks or sands at sea; ruining, destroying.
Wreck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of destroying by violent means.
Wreed (adj. obsolete) Wroth, very angry.
Wreke (v. t. an old spelling) To wreak, to revenge.
Wreke (v. t. obsolete) To revenge.
Wrek'ere (s. obsolete) One that revenges.
Wrek'erie (s. obsolete) Vengeance, punishment.
Wrene (v. t. an old word) To compass.
WREN (s. in ornithology) The name of a very small bird.
WRENCH (v. t. from the Sax. wringan) To pull by violence, to wrest; to sprain, to distort.
Wrench (s. from the verb) A violent pull, a twist; a sprain; a trap, a slight means to catch.
Wrench'ed (p. from wrench) Pulled with violence, twisted, sprained, distorted.
Wrench'ing (p. a. from wrench) Pulling by violence, twisting, spraining, distorting.
Wrench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting, the act of spraining.
Wrene (v. t. obsolete) To hide.
WREST (v. t. from the Sax. wræstan) To twist by violence, to extort by force; to distort, to writhe.
Wrest (s. from the verb) A distortion, violence, active or moving power.
Wrest'ed (p. from wrest) Twisted by violence, distorted.
Wrest'er (s. from wrest) One who wrests.
Wrest'ing (p. a. from wrest) Twisting by violence, torturing.
Wrest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting, violence, a distortion.
Wrest'le (v. int. from wrest) To contend with, to throw the other down, to struggle, to contend with for and with: as, "They wrestled for the mastery." "To wrestle with desperate contingencies."
Wrest'led (p. from wrestle) Contended for in wrestling for: as, "The bat was wrestled for by youths in the place."
Wrest'ler (s. from wrestle) One that wrestles, contends in wrestling.
Wrest'ling (p. a. from wrestle) Contending with, throw the other; struggling, contending with.
Wrest'ling (s. from the part.) The act of contending with, who shall throw the other; a contention, a struggle for mastery; an athletic exercise in which one throws down the other.
Wretch (s. from the Sax. wræce) A miserable, worthless, sorry creature; a word of slight or contempt.
Wretch'ed (adj. from wretch) Miserable, sorry, worthless; despicable, contemptible.
Wretch'edly (adv. from wretched) Miserably, pitifully, meanly, despicably.
Wretch'edness (s. from wretched) The state of being wretched, misery, despicableness.
Wretch'ing (adj. obsolete) Delaying.
Wretch'less (adv. obsolete) Careless, heedless.
Wretch'lets (adj. from wretch) Careless, void of care.
Wrethe (v. int. obsolete) Worketh, doeth.
WREXHAM (s.) A town in Denbysire; it has a market on Monday and Thursday, and is 184 miles from London.
Wrex'ham (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to, made at Wrexham.
Wrey (v. t. obsolete) To hide, to cover.
Wrey (p. obsolete) Hid, covered.
Wrie, Wrien (v. t. obsolete) To hide, to cover.
Wrie, Wrien (p. obsolete) Covered, hid.
WRIGGLE (v. int. from the Sax. wrigan) To move and fro with quick and short motions.
Wrig'gle (v. int.) To introduce by shifting.
Wrig'gle (s. from the verb) A twist and turn, and fro.
Wrig'gled (p. from wriggle) Introduced by motions.
Wrig'gletail (s. from wriggle, and tail) A tail.

W R I

Wriggling (p. a. from wriggle) Moving to and fro with short and quick motions, insinuating by a shifting motion.
Wriggling (s. from the part.) The act of moving to and fro with short and quick motions.
Wright (adj. obsolete) Covered.
Wright (s. from the Sax. wrihta) A workman, an artificer; a carpenter.
Wright (v. t. obsolete) To hide, to cover.
Wright (p. obsolete) Covered, hid.
Wring (v. t. from the Sax. wringan) To twist, to turn round with violence, to force out of any mass body by squeezing; to squeeze, to press; to force by violence, to extort; to harass, to distress; to wring; to pinch; to persecute with extortion.
Wring (v. int.) To writhe with anguish.
Wring (s. from wring, and cheese) A large stone which presses a cheese.
Wring (p. from wring) Twisted, turned round with violence; forced out of any mass or body by contortion; squeezed, pressed; pinched, harassed, distressed.
Wringer (s. from wring) One that wrings, one who squeezes the water out of cloaths.
Wringing (p. a. from wring) Twisting, turning round with violence; squeezing, pressing; pinching, harassing.
Wringing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting, the act of forcing by contortion.
Wrinkle (s. from the Sax.) A furrow of the skin or face, a corrugation; a fold, a roughness.
Wrinkle (v. t. from the sub.) To contract into furrows, to corrugate; to make rough, to make uneven.
Wrinkle (v. int.) To become wrinkled.
Wrinkled (p. from wrinkle) Drawn up in wrinkles, corrugated, made uneven.
Wrinkling (p. a. from wrinkle) Drawing up in wrinkles, forming into corrugations, making uneven.
Wrinkling (s. from the part.) The act of drawing up in wrinkles.
Wrinton (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 129 miles from London.
Wrinton (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wrinton, made at Wrinton.
Wrist (s. from the Sax. wyrst) The articulation by which the hand is joined to the arm.
Wrist (v. t. from the sub.) To furnish with a wristband.
Wrist (p. from wrist) Furnished with a wristband.
Wrist (p. a. from wrist) Furnishing with a wristband.
Wrist (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a wristband.
Wristband (s. from wrist, and band) The band of a shirt's sleeve at the wrist.
Wristed (adj. from wrist, and luxated) Dislocated at the wrist.
Written (s. from write) Any thing written, the Scripture; writing, a legal instrument; a judicial process.
Written (v. t. the pres. of write, but not so much used) wrote, did write.
Written (p. from write, but not so much used) Wrote.
Written (adj. from write) Inclined to write.
Write (v. t. from the Sax. writan) To express by means of letters, to produce as an author, to tell by letter; to engrave, to impress.
Write (v. int.) To perform the act of writing, to play the author, to tell in books, to send letters, to use the title of.
Writer (s. from write) One that writes; an author.
Writhe (v. t. from the Sax. wrihta) To distort, to twist with violence, to wrest, to force by violence; to twist, to turn aside.
Writhe (v. int.) To be distorted with agony or torture.
Writhe (p. from writhe) Distorted, twisted, forced by violence.
Writhe (p. from writhe) Distorted, twisted, forced by violence.
Writhe (v. t. obsolete) To writhe.
Writhe (p. a. from writhe) Distorting, twisting, forcing by violence.
Writhe (s. from the part.) The act of distorting, a contortion.
Writhe (v. t. from writhe) To corrugate, to wrinkle.
Writhe (p. from writhle) Wrinkled.
Writhe (p. a. from write) Expressing by means of letters, sending letters, playing the author.
Writhe (s. from the part.) The act of expressing by means of letters; any thing written, a deed; a book, a signature; a legal instrument.
Writingbook (s. from writing, and book) A book to be in, a copy book.

W U R

Writingdesk (s. from writing, and desk) A desk to write on.
Writingmaster (s. from writing, and master) A man who teaches to write.
Writingpen (s. from writing, and pen) A pen to write with as distinguished from a drawing pen.
Writing-school (s. from writing, and school) A school where writing is taught.
Writingtable (s. from writing, and table) A table to write on.
Writen (p. from write) Done in writing; inscribed.
Wrizled (adj. a local word) Wrinkled.
Wrizledface (s. from wrizle, and face, a local word) A wrinkled face.
Wrizledfaced (adj. from wrizleface a local word) Having a wrinkled face.
Wro (s. obsolete) Woe, grief, wrath.
Wroke (v. t. pret. of wreak) Did wreak.
Wroken (p. from wreak) Revenged.
Wrong (s. from the Sax. wrange) An injury, a designated injury; an error.
Wrong (adj. from the sub.) Not right, improper; untrue; unfit, unsuitable.
Wrong (adv. from the adj.) Not rightly; amiss.
Wrong (v. t. from the sub.) To injure, to use unjustly.
Wrongdoer (s. from wrong, and doer) One who does wrong.
Wrong (p. obsolete) Wrung.
Wronged (p. from wrong) Injured, used unjustly.
Wrong'er (s. from wrong) One who does wrong.
Wrong'er (adj. comp. of wrong) Wrong in a greater degree.
Wrong'ed (adj. sup. of wrong) Wrong in the greatest degree.
Wrong'ful (adj. from wrong) Injurious, unjust.
Wrong'fully (adv. from wrong'ful) Injuriously, unjustly.
Wrong'head (s. from wrong, and head) One who is perverse in judging, one who has wrong notions.
Wrong'head (adj. from the sub.) Having a perverse understanding.
Wrong'headed (adj. from wrong'head) Having a perverse understanding.
Wrong'headedness (s. from wrong'headed) The state of being wrong'headed.
Wrong'less (adj. from wrong) Void of wrong.
Wrong'lessly (adv. from wrong'less) Without injury, with innocence.
Wrong'ly (adv. from wrong) Unjustly, amiss.
Wrot (adj. an old word) Sorrowful.
Wrote (v. t. pret. of write) Did write.
Wrote (p. from write, not so much used) Written.
Wrote (v. int. obsolete) To wallow in the mire; to work its way as a worm into a tree.
Wroth (adj. nearly obsolete) Angry.
Wrotham (s.) A town in Kent; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 24 miles from London.
Wroth'am (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wrotham, made at Wrotham.
Wroth'ly (adv. obsolete) Wrathfully, angrily.
Wrought (p. from work) Effected, performed; produced, caused; influenced, prevailed on; manufactured, formed; guided, managed; excited; agitated, disturbed.
Wrung (v. t. pret. of wring) Did wring.
Wrung (p. from wring) Twisted, turned round by contortion, squeezed, distorted, distressed.
Wry (adj. from writhe) Crooked, distorted, wrested.
Wry (v. t. obsolete) To hide, to cover.
Wry (v. t. from the adj. but not used) To distort.
Wry (v. int. not used) To deviate.
Wry'ed (p. from wry) Distorted.
Wry'en (v. t. obsolete) To hide, to cover; to change.
Wry'eth (v. t. an old word) Getteth, worketh.
Wrygh (p. obsolete) Hid, covered.
Wryneck (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
Wry'nesked (adj. from wry, and neck) Having the neck turned to one side.
Wryth'eth (v. t. obsolete) Casteth out.
WULFA (s.) A man's name.
Wul'felshed (s. an old word) The condition of an outlaw.
Wul'vesheved (s. an old word) An outlaw.
Wun (v. t. pret. of win) Did win.
Wun (p. from win) Gotten, obtained.
Wun (v. int. an old word) To dwell.
Wurch (v. t. obsolete) To work.
WURSTEAD (s.) A town in Norfolk; it was once famous

X E N

mous for the manufacture of worsted, has a market on Saturday, and is 120 miles from London.
Wurstead (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wurstead, made at Wurstead.
Wurt (s. in botany, a local word) The wortle; a plant. Cole.
Wust (adj. obsolete) Frightened, driven away. Cb.
Wyche (s. an old word) A salt spring.
Wychehouse (s. from wyche, and house) A salt house. Scott.
Wychehouse (s. a different spelling) A wychehouse. Co.
Wycke (adj. obsolete) Bad, wicked. Chaucer.
Wydraught (s. an old word) A watercourse. Scott.
WYE (s.) A town in Kent; it has a market on Thursday, and is 57 miles from London.
Wye (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Wye, made at Wye.
Wyhe (s. an old word) A farm; a little village. Co.
Wyif (s. an old spelling) A wife. Chaucer.
Wyke (s. an old word) A farm, a little village. Pb.
Wyketus (s. in old records) A wicket, a little door.
Wylid (adj. obsolete) Plotted, combined. Cb.
Wyll (s. an old spelling) The will. Chaucer.
Wyll (adj. an old word) Willing. Cb.
Wymple (s. an old spelling) A wimple. Cb.
Wyn'fing (s. an old word) A sweet finger. Cole.
Wyn'tred (s. an old word) Wrinkled. Cole.
Wynyd (adj. obsolete) Whined. Chaucer.
Wyrd, Wyrst (s. an old word) A plant. Scott.
Wyse (s. an old word) A proverb. Cole.
Wyfely, Wyfly (adv. obsolete) Certainly. Chaucer.
Wythe (v. t. obsolete) Washed, did wash. Cole.
WYTA (s. from the Sax. an old law term) A fine, a mulct.
Wy'ten (v. t. an old word) To keep from falling. Co.
Wythes (s. an old word) The fences. Cole.
Wy'ver (s. in heraldry) A kind of flying serpent.
Wynn (s. an old spelling) Wine. Cb.

X.

X. (s.) The twenty second, or, perhaps, more properly the twenty fourth letter of the English alphabet; as a numeral it stands for ten, and, with a dash over it, for ten thousand.
XACA (s. a different spelling) Xanca, a man's name.
XAN'CA (s.) A man's name; a famous Indian philosopher, who founded the sect of the Bonzes and taught the worship of idols.
XANG'TI (s.) The name of the supreme governor of heaven and earth, the name of God among the Chinese.
XANTHE'NES (s. in natural history) A precious stone of an amber colour.
XANTHIP'PE (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Socrates, remarkable for her turbulence and vociferation.
XANTHIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a Spartan commander.
XAN'THUM (s. in botany) The lesser hurdock.
XAN'THO (s. in beaten mythology) The name of a sea nymph, the supposed daughter of Oceanus and Zethis.
XAN'THUM (s. in geography) A province in China, the native country of the great Confucius.
XAN'THUS (s.) Scamander; a river near Troy so called by the gods. Homer.
XAN'THUS (s.) The name of a man; the name of a famous hero belonging to Achilles.
XE'BE (s. a sea term) A small three masted vessel chiefly used in the Mediterranean.
XENAG'ORAS (s.) A man's name; a Rhodian who was a prodigious drinker, and, on that account, generally called the amphora or pitcher.
XE'NIA (s. from the Greek) Presents given to guests or strangers as a token of friendship.
XEN'OCLEA (s.) A woman's name; a priestess of Delphos.
XEN'OCLES (s.) A man's name; a Spartan commander.
XENOC'RATES (s.) A man's name, one of Plato's scholars.
XENODO'CHIUM (s. from the Greek ξενοδοχιον) An inn; an hospital.
XENOD'OCHY (s. from the Greek ξενοδοχια) Hospitality, kindness to strangers.
XENOD'ORUS (s.) A man's name; a famous statuary and engraver of antiquity.

X Y P

XE'NON (s.) A man's name; an ancient historian.
XENOPARA'CHI (s. from the Greek) Officers appointed to provide for strangers.
XENOPH'ANES (s.) A man's name; an ancient philosopher who controverted the history of the gods given by Homer and Hesiod.
XENOPH'ILUS (s.) A man's name; a famous physician who lived to the age of one hundred and fifty without taking physic.
XEN'OPHON (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Socrates famous for religion and virtue, an elegant historian, a profound philosopher, and a valiant commander.
XERAN'TICA (s. in medicine from the Greek) Drugs, a specific or drying quality.
XERA'PHIUM (s. from the Greek ξεραφιον) A medicine to prevent eruptions on the head or chin.
XERA'SIA (s. from the Greek) A disease of the hair, species of alopecia.
XE'RIG (s.) A prime or chief ruler in Barbary.
XEROCOLLY'RUM (s. in medicine) A drying plaster ointment for sore eyes.
XERO'DES (s. from the Greek) A kind of dry tumour or swelling.
XEROMY'RUM (s. from the Greek ξερο; dry, and μυρον an ointment) A drying kind of ointment.
XEROPHAGIA (s. from the Greek ξερος dry, and φαγειν to eat) A regimen of dry meats used by the ancients; a kind of fast among the primitive Christians.
Xeroph'agy (s. from xerophagia) The regimen or described in the foregoing article.
XEROPH'THALMY (s. from the Greek ξερος dry, and οφθαλμος an eye) A disease of the eyes, a kind of sore or humor in the eyes.
XERO'TES (s. from the Greek) A dry habit of body.
XERX'ES (s.) A man's name; the name of a Persian king very haughty, and very unsuccessful.
XEST'A (s. in antiquity) A Grecian measure which contains about twenty ounces of water.
XEST'ES (s.) Another measure containing somewhat more than a pint.
XIME'NIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
XIPH'IAS (s. in ichthyology) The sword fish.
XIPH'IAS (s. from the Greek ξιφος a sword) A cut resembling a sword.
XIPH'ION (s. in botany) The spurge-wort.
XIPHOD'ES (s. in anatomy, from the Greek ξιφος sword, and ειδη; a shape) The pointed cartilage of breast bone.
XIPHOMACHÆ'RA (s. from the Greek) A backsword hanger.
XOA'NA (s. plu. from the Greek ξοανον) Crabs.
XOCHAITO'TOLE (s. in ornithology) An American bird not much unlike a sparrow remarkable for hanging its nest to the branch of a tree.
XO'CHITOTLE (s. a different spelling) The hanged bird described in the foregoing article.
XO'IS (s. from the Greek) An instrument with which any thing is shaved.
XO'KING (s.) The most ancient and established of the Chinese.
XYLAL'OES (s. from the Greek ξυλον wood, and αλοιη The wood of the aloë) The wood of the aloë.
XYLA'RIA (s. in botany) A genus of funguses.
XYLI'NON (s. from the Greek ξυλον) Cotton, a kind of wool or flax growing in little balls.
XYLOBALSA'MUM (s. from the Greek ξυλον wood, and βαλσαμον balsam) The wood of the balsam tree.
XYLOCAS'SIA (s. in botany) A kind of cassia.
XYLOCIN'NAMON (s. from the Greek ξυλον wood, and κινναμωμον cinnamon) The wood of the cinnamon tree.
XYLOCOL'LA (s. from the Greek ξυλον wood, and κολλα glue) Glue for joining wood.
XYLON (s. from the Greek) The cotton tree, the name of a shrub; wood.
XYLOPH'AGUS (s. in the history of insects, from the Greek ξυλον wood, and φαγω to eat) A worm that bores under the bark of trees.
XYLOP'OLIST (s. from the Greek ξυλον wood, and πωλειν to sell) A dealer in wood.
XYLOST'IUM (s. in botany) The laniera.
XYNOE'CIA (s. from the Greek ξυνω to unite) An Athenian festival in commemoration of the union of the petty communities of Attica into a commonwealth.
XYPHOIDES (s. in anatomy, not so correctly as ξιφοειδης) The xiphoides, the pointed cartilage of the breast bone.

Y A R

YARIS (s. in botany) The name of an herb, a genus of plants.
YARCHA (s. from the Greek ἄρχος the place where the athlete performed their exercises, and ἀρχος chief) The master of a fencing school, the master of a wrestling school.
YARCHES (s. from the Greek) The xystarcha.
YARCHUS (s. a different spelling) The xystarcha.
YATER (s. from the Greek ἔσχα) An instrument in surgery for scraping foul bones.
YITI (s. plu. of xyftus) More than one xyftus.
YITICI (s. from xyftus) The athlete who performed the xyfti.
YITIOS (s. in natural history) A stone resembling jasper, a kind of jasper.
YITOS (s. from the Greek ἔω to make smooth) A large portico or gallery where the ancient athlete performed their exercises in the winter season; a walk- ing place, a walk sheltered from the inclemency of the weather; a parterre, a kind of knot in a garden.
YITUM (s. a different spelling) The xyftos.
YITUS (s. a different spelling) The xyftos.

Y.

Y (s.) The twenty third, or perhaps, more properly the twenty-fifth letter of the English alphabet. It has the power both of a vowel and a consonant, an ancient numeral it stands for one hundred and y, and with a dash over it, for one hundred and y thousand. This letter from the Sax. ge was formerly prefixed to the preter tense of the verb, and to passive participle, and in many words distinguishes old from the modern spelling: as, yrent, yhallow- ing, for rent, and hallowed.
YHT (s. from the French) A kind of pleasure boat, small ship with one deck.
Yadv. (a local word) Yea, yes.
Yafe (v. t. the old pret. of give) Gave, did.
Yb. (v. int. obsolete) To yell; to go.
Yb. (s. in botany) A kind of root of which the native Americans make bread.
Yb. (adv. a local word) Once.
YDEN (s. in ornithology) The larger kind of ostridge.
Yd. (adv. a local word) One.
Yd. (s. a little dog.)
Yd. (v. int. obsolete) To jest.
Yd. (s. obsolete) A jester.
Yd. (s. from the Sax. gerd) A measure of three feet; support of a sail; the penis; a rod.
Yd. (s. a sea term, from yard, and arm) That arm of the yard which lies on either side of the mast drawn up across the ship.
Yd. (s. from yard, and falling) A disease in which the yard falls down.
Yd. (s. from yard, and land) A quantity of land present in different places, but not less than fifteen more than forty acres.
Yd. (s. in farriery) A disease incident to horses.
Yd. (s. from yard, and wand) The measure of a wand, a yard.
Yd. (adv. obsolete) Ready, nimble.
Yd. (adv. a local word) Covetous.
Yd. (adv. from yare) Skillfully, readily.
Yd. (v. t. a local word) To prepare.
YOUTH (s.) A borough town in Norfolk; it has a market on Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 123 miles from London.
YOUTH (s.) A borough town in Hampshire; it has a market on Friday, sends two members to parliament, and is 101 miles from London.
Yd. (adv. from the sub.) Belonging to Yarmouth, at Yarmouth.
Yd. (s. from the Sax. gearn) Woollen thread, wool thread.
Yd. (adv. from the sub.) Made of woollen thread.
Yd. (s. from yarn, and hose) Hose made of yarn.
Yd. (s. from yarn, and stocking) A stocking made of woollen thread, a stocking made of wool thread and spun.
Yd. (v. int. from the Lat. hirrio) To growl, to snarl.
Yd. (s. from yare) Growling, snarling.
Yd. (s.) Yarringles.

Y D R

Yar/ringles (s.) An instrument on which skains of yarn are put to be wound off in balls.
YAR/RISH (adj. from the Brit. garw) Having a dry taste, having a rough dry taste.
YAR/ROW (s. in botany) The milfoil.
Yar/row (adj. a local word) Dispirited, cowardly, faint-hearted.
YAR/UM (s.) A town in the north riding of Yorkshire; it has a market on Thursday, and is 238 miles from London.
Yar/um (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Yarum, made at Yarum.
Yas/pin (s. a local word) A handful.
Yas/ping (adj. from yaspin, a local word) Grasping.
Yatch (s. a different spelling) A yacht.
Yate (s. obsolete) A gate.
Yatt (s. a local word) A gate.
YAU (s.) A man's name; the first emperor of China.
Yave (v. t. old pret. of give) Gave, did give.
Yaw (s. a sea term) A kind of zigzag in the motion of a ship.
Yaw (v. int. from the sub.) To make a kind of zigzag motion.
Yaw'ing (p. a. from yaw) Making a kind of zigzag motion.
Yaw'ing (s. from the part.) The motion of a ship when she makes yaws.
Yawl (s. a sea term) A kind of boat, a little vessel belonging to a ship.
Yawl (v. int. a local word) To bawl, to yell.
Yawl'ing (p. a. from yawl, a local word) Bawling, yelling.
YAWN (v. int. from the Sax. gerven) To gape, to open wide, to express desire by yawning.
Yawn (s. from the verb) An occasion, a wide involuntary opening of the mouth; a hiatus.
Yawn'ing (p. a. from yawn) Gaping, opening wide.
Yawn'ing (adj. from the part.) Sleepy, slumbering.
Yawn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gaping.
YAX'LEY (s.) A town in Huntingdonshire; it has a market on Tuesday, and is 76 miles from London.
Yax'ley (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Yaxley, made at Yaxley.
Ybe' (p. obsolete, from y, and be) Been.
Ybel (s.) A man's name.
Ybe't, Ybe'te (v. t. obsolete) To make, to prepare, to make better.
Ybe'nt (p. obsolete) Bent.
Yble'd (p. obsolete) Made to bleed.
Yble'de (v. int. obsolete) To bleed.
Yble'nt (p. obsolete) Blinded, made blind.
Ybo're (v. t. the old pret.) Bore, did bear.
Ybo'rn (p. obsolete) Born, carried.
Ybour'd'id (p. obsolete) Jested.
Ybre'nt (p. obsolete) Burnt.
Ybray'd'id (p. obsolete) Drawn out.
Ycas'se (v. t. obsolete) To cease; to desist.
Yca'ft (p. obsolete from y, and cast) Cast, left.
Ycha'ped (adj. obsolete) Hilted.
Ycla'd (p. obsolete, from y, and clad) Clad.
Ycleap'ed (p. obsolete, a different spelling) Ycleped.
Yclench'ed (p. obsolete) Covered, crossbarred.
Yclep'ed (p. from y, and cleped) Called.
Yclout'ed (p. obsolete, from y, and clouted) Clouted.
Ycon'gered (p. obsolete) Conjured, bewitched.
Ycon'ne (v. t. obsolete) To con, to learn.
Ycon'ned (p. obsolete) Conned, learned.
Ycon'omus (s. in old records) An advocate, a patron.
Yco'rve (v. t. obsolete) To cut, to carve.
Ycor've (p. obsolete) Carved.
Yco'the (v. int. obsolete) Could.
Yco'the (v. t. obsolete) Did understand.
Yco'the (p. obsolete) Understood.
Ycouch'it (p. obsolete) Set.
Ycover'ed (p. obsolete) Covered.
Ycras'd (p. obsolete) Broken, crooked.
Ycreas'ed (adj. obsolete) Broken.
Ydamu'ed (p. obsolete) Damned, condemned.
Yde'ies (v. t. obsolete) Deals, distributeth.
Ydey'd (v. int. obsolete) To die.
Ydi'de (v. int. the old pret.) Died, did die.
Ydi'ght (p. obsolete) Dressed, adorned, finished.
Ydil (adj. obsolete) Idle.
Ydol (p. obsolete) Done.
Ydolafter (s. obsolete) An idolater.
Ydra'd (v. t. the old pret.) Dreaded, did dread.
Ydra'd (p. obsolete) Dreaded, feared.

YEL

Ydrad'de (p. obsolete) Dreaded, feared. Chaucer.
YE (pron. plu. from the Sax. ge) Two or more persons addressed, the persons spoken to.
Ye (adv. obsolete) Yea, yes. Chaucer.
YEA (adv. from the Sax. gea) Yes, surely.
Yead (v. int. obsolete) To go. Spenser.
YEAN (v. int. from the Sax. eanian) To bring forth young as a sheep.
Yean'ed (p. from yeon) Brought forth as a lamb.
Yean'ing (p. a. from yeon) Bringing forth young as a sheep.
Yean'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth young as a sheep.
Yean'ling (s. from yeon) A young sheep, a lamb.
YEAR (s. from the Sax. gear) The space of twelve calendar months, the time in which the earth performs one entire revolution; two or more years. In years, aged, advanced in life.
Yeard'ly (adv. obsolete, or local) Very, exceedingly. Bailey.
Yeare (adj. obsolete) Ready, nimble. Chaucer.
Year'ling (s. from year) An animal a year old.
Year'ling (adj. from the sub.) Being a year old.
Year'ly (adj. from year) Annual, happening every year, lasting a year.
Year'ly (adv. from the adj.) Annually, once a year.
YEARN (v. int. from the Sax. earnon) To feel an emotion of tenderness, to feel compassion.
Yeare (v. int. a local word) To bark as dogs at game. Bailey.
Yeare (v. t.) To grieve, to vex. Shakespeare.
Yeare (adj. an old word) Shrill, sharp in sound. Cole.
Yeare'ing (p. a. from yearn) Feeling emotions of tenderness, moving with compassion.
Yeare'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of being moved with tender compassion.
Yeast (s. a common, but not so correct a spelling) Yest, barm.
Yeav'en (p. obsolete) Gives. Phillips.
Yed'ding (s. obsolete) The noise of mirth, the noise of loud singing. Chaucer.
Yede, Yed'in (v. int. pret. obsolete) Went, did go. Ch.
Yeen'der (s. a local word) The afternoon. Bailey.
Yeep'sen (s. a local word) A handful, as much of any thing as can be taken up in both hands. Bailey.
Yef (conj. obsolete) If. Chaucer.
Yest (s. an old spelling) A gift. Chaucer.
Yelde, Yeld'in (v. t. obsolete) To yield; to give. Ch.
Yeld'hall (s. an old spelling) Guildhall. Cole.
Yeld'ing (adj. an old spelling) Yielding. Cole.
YELK (s. from the Sax. gealkewe yellow) The yellow part of the egg, the yolk.
Yelke (s. obsolete) The same person, the same thing. Chaucer.
YELL (v. int. from the Dutch, ghallon) To cry out with horror or agony.
Yell (s. from the verb) The cry of agony or horror.
Yell'ing (p. a. from yell) Crying out with agony or horror.
Yell'ing (s. from the part.) The cry of agony or horror.
YEL'LOW (adj. from the Sax. yealewe) Having the colour of gold.
Yellow (s. from the adj.) The colour which resembles that of gold.
Yel'lowboy (s. a low cant word) A piece of gold coin. Arbutnot.
Yel'lower (adj. comp. of yellow) Yellow in a greater degree.
Yel'lowest (adj. sup. of yellow) Yellow in the greatest degree.
Yel'lowhammer (s. in ornithology) The name of a small bird.
Yel'lowish (adj. from yellow) Tending to a yellow colour.
Yel'lowishness (s. from yellowish) The quality of approaching to yellow.
Yel'lowness (s. from yellow) The state or quality of being yellow.
Yel'lows (s. from yellow) A disease incident to horses arising from an obstruction of the gall.
YELP (v. int. from the Sax. gealpan) To bark as a beagle after its prey.
Yelp'ing (p. a. from yelp) Barking as a dog after its prey; to talk, to prate. Chaucer.
Yelp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of barking as a dog after its prey.
Yet (s. a local word) A young sow. Phillips.

YEZ

Yelte (v. int. obsolete) Yieldeth.
Yeme (adv. obsolete) At once, altogether. Chaucer.
Yeme (adv. in old records) In the winter.
Yeme (s. in old records) The winter.
YE/MEN (s. in old geography) That part of Arabia which is called the happy.
Yen, Yene (s. plu. obsolete) The eyes. Chaucer.
Yene (adv. an old word) Nigh, nearly, as if.
YEO/MAN (s. most probably from the Frisic german a lager) A man of a small estate in land, a freeholder; a farmer, a gentleman farmer; a soldier; a gentleman's servant; an officer of the king's household in middle rank.
Yeo'many (s. from yeoman) The collective body of yeomen.
Yeo'mantreader (s. from yeoman, and treader) An attendant in a prince's court.
Yeo'manwarder (s. from yeoman, and warder) One of the warders of the tower of London.
Yeo'men (s. plu. of yeoman) More than one yeoman.
Yeo'v'en (p. obsolete) Given, dated. Phillips.
YEOV'ILL (s.) A town in Somersetshire; it has a market on Friday, and is 123 miles from London.
Yeo'v'ill (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Yeovill, at Yeovill.
Ye'pely (adv. a local word) Cunningly, wisely. Bailey.
Yer (adv. obsolete) Sooner, before. Chaucer.
Yerau'ght (adj. obsolete) Full laden.
Yerd, Yerde (s. obsolete) A yard; a rod, a scourge. Ch.
YERK (v. t. the etymology uncertain) To strike out throw out as with a spring; to throw out the legs as a horse in leaping.
Yerk (s. from the verb) A quick motion.
Yerk'ed (p. from yerk) Thrown out as the hinder of a horse in leaping.
Yerk'ing (p. a. from yerk) Throwing out as the hinder legs of a horse in leaping.
Yerk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing out the hind legs as a horse in leaping.
Yern (v. int. a different spelling) To yearn, to feel emotions of tenderness. Shakespeare.
Yerne (adj. obsolete) Earnest, eager, shrill. Ch.
Yern'ing (s. obsolete) Compassion, tenderness. Ch.
Yeroun'ced (adj. obsolete) Frowning.
Yerth (s. an old spelling) The earth. Ch.
YER'VA (s. in medicine) The root of the yerva.
YES (adv. from the Sax. gife) Yea, truly.
YEST (s. from the Sax. gest) Barm, the foam of fermentation; the foam of the troubled sea.
YESTER (adj. from the Lat. hesternus, chiefly a composition) Next before the present day.
Yes'terday (s. from yester, and day) The day before the present day.
Yes'terday (adv. from the sub.) On the day before.
Yes'ternight (s. from yester, and night) The night before the present day, the night before the night.
Yes'ternight (adv. from the sub.) On the night before the present day, the night before the present night.
Yer'y (adv. from yest) Consisting of yest, foamy.
YET (conj. from the Sax. gyt) Nevertheless, notwithstanding, however.
Yet (adv. from the conj.) Beside, over and above; again; still, hitherto; even, after all; at least.
Ye'ten (p. obsolete) Eaten.
Ye'ten, Ye'tin (p. obsolete) Gotten, laid up.
Ye'ten (p. obsolete, a different spelling) Gotten up.
Yeve (v. t. an old spelling) To give.
Yeve (conj. obsolete) If.
Yev'en (p. obsolete) Given.
Yeur (pron. obsolete) Your.
YEW (s. from the Sax. iw) A tree remarkable for the toughness of its wood; eugh.
Yew (s. a different spelling) An ewe, a female sheep.
Yew, Yewe (pron. an old spelling) You.
Yew'ed (p. a local word) Went.
Yew'en (adj. from yew) Made of yew.
Yew'ing (p. a. a local word) Going.
Yex (v. int. an old word, perhaps from the verb, to sob) To sob.
Yex'ing (p. a. from yex) Sobbing.
Yex'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sobbing.
YEZ/DEGIRD (s.) A man's name; the last of Persia.

Y O R

Yezdegirdian (adj. from Yezdegird) Belonging to a chronological era the commencement of which fell the eleventh year of the Hegirah.

Yeth (v. int. obsolete) Filleth.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Fallen.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Falsified.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Painted, beautified with cosme-

Yeth (p. obsolete) Gone.

Yeth (adv. obsolete) Together, at once.

Yeth (v. int. obsolete) Fared, did fare.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Floating, swimming.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Past, removed, transferred.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Fled.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Fostered, bred up.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Asked, examined; restrain-

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Estranged.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Made like fretwork.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Inlaid, made like fretwork.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Devoured.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Wrinkled.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Gotten.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Gone.

Yeth (adv. obsolete) Ago, since.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Graven, carved; dug.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Buried, laid in a grave.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Greater

Yeth (v. t. obsolete) Grindeth.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Hallowed, kept sacred.

Yeth (v. t. obsolete) Holdeth.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Heaving, lifting up.

Yeth (adv. obsolete) On high.

Yeth (p. obsolete) The head.

Yeth (v. t. obsolete) To hear.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Hair.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Heated.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Holden, accounted.

Yeth (adj. obsolete) Obligated, bound; beholden.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Called, be called.

Yeth (p. obsolete) Deceived, imposed upon.

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring

Yeth (v. t. from the Sax. gildan) To produce, to bring chain, a bond; a mark of servitude; slavery; a couple, a pair.

Y O U

Yoke (v. int. from the sub.) To couple in a frame as oxen for drawing, to join with another; to restrain, to confine; to subdue, to enslave.

Yoked (p. from yoke) Joined in a yoke; subdued, enslaved.

Yolkeelm (s. in botany) The name of a tree.

Yolkfellow (s. from yoke, and fellow) A companion in labour, a mate, a fellow; a husband, a wife.

Yolkemate (s. from yoke, and mate) A yolkfellow.

Yolking (p. a from yoke) Joining in a yoke.

Yolking (s. from the part.) The act of joining in a yoke.

Yold, Yolde (p. obsolete) Yielded, delivered up. Sp.

Yolden, Yoldin (p. obsolete) Yielded, delivered up. Ch.

Yolk (s. a different spelling) The yolk, the yellow part of an egg.

YON (adj. from the Sax. geond) Lying at a distance being within view.

Yon (adv. from the adj.) At a distance within view.

YOND (adj. from the Sax. geond) Situate at a distance being in view.

Yond (adv. from the adj.) At a distance within view.

Yond (adj. an old word) Mad, furious. Spenser.

Yond'er (adj. from yend) Situate at a distance being within view.

Yonder (adv. from the adj.) At a distance, within view.

Yong hede (s. obsolete) Youth. Chaucer.

Yonker (s. from young) A youngster. Scott.

Yoon (s. a local word) An oven. Bailey.

YORE (s. from the Sax. geogara) Time past, old time.

Yore (adv. from the sub.) Formerly, heretofore. Ch.

Yore (adj. from the sub.) Long done, done in time past. Spenser.

Yorely (adv. from yore) Anciently, in time past. Ba.

YORK (s.) The second city in England; it is the see of an archbishop and the metropolis of Yorkshire, is pleasantly situate on the river Ouse, has a market on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, sends two members to parliament, and is 107 miles from London.

Yolk (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the city of York, made in the city of York.

YORKSHIRE (s. from York, and shire) The largest county in England; it is divided into three ridings, contains 49 market towns, and sends 30 members to parliament, two for the county, two for the city of York, and two for each of the boroughs, Kingston on Hull, Knaresborough, Scarborough, Ripon, Richmond, Heydon, Boroughbridge, Malton, Thirsk, Aldborough, Beverly, Northallerton, and Pontefract.

Yorkshire (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the county of York, produced in the county of York.

YOU (pron. plu. from the Sax. eow) The persons spoken to in the oblique or accusative case; the persons spoken to in the direct or nominative case. "You nimble lightnings dart your blinding flames" Shakes.

You (pron. in the common civil or complaisant style) The person spoken to in the oblique or accusative case; the person spoken to in the direct or nominative case. "Harry, you will surely do it."

Yove (v. t. the old pret. of give) Gave, did give. Ch.

YOUK (v. int. in falconry) To sleep as a hawk.

Youk'ing (p. a. from youk) Sleeping as a hawk.

Youk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping as a hawk.

YOUNG (adj. from the Sax. yeong) Being in the first part of life, not old; lately grown; tender, weak; ignorant, untaught.

Young (s. from the adj.) Young people; the offspring of animals.

Young'er (adj. comp. of young) Young in a greater degree.

Young'est (adj. sup. of young) Young in the greatest degree.

Young'ish (adj. from young) Somewhat young.

Young'ling (s. from young) A young animal, a creature in the first part of life.

Young'ly (adv. from young) Early in life; weakly, ignorantly.

Young'ster (s. from young) A young person in contempt.

Younth (s. from young, obsolete) Youth. Spenser.

YOUR (pron. from the Sax. eower) Belonging to you; belonging to you or any other indefinitely. "Your wise men."

Your's

Y T H

Your's (pron. an old spelling) Yours. Chaucer.
Yours (pron. from your, used without the sub.) Belonging to you. "It is yours."
Yourself (pron. from your, and self) You, even you.
Yourselves (pron. plu. of yourself) You, you as distinguished from all others.
YOUTH (s. from the Sax. yeogirth) That part of life which succeeds to childhood, the time of life from fourteen to twenty eight; a young man, young men, young people.
Youthful, Youth'ful (s. an old spelling) Youth. Chaucer.
Youthful (adj. from youth) Young, suitable to the first part of life; vigorous.
Youth'fully (adv. from youthful) In a manner suited to youth.
Youthfulness (s. from youthful) The state of being in the first part of life.
Youth'ier (adj. comp. of youthy) Youthy in a greater degree. Spectator.
Youth'iest (adj. sup. of youthy, but not much used)
 Youthy in the greatest degree.
Youth'ly (adj. from youth) Young, early in life. Sp.
Youthwort (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Youth'y (adj. from youth, reckoned a bad word) Young, youthful.
Yow, Yowe (pron. obsolete) You. Chaucer.
Ypeint (adj. obsolete) Painted. Chaucer.
Ypeis'ed (adj. obsolete) Weighed. Chaucer.
Ype'nt (p. obsolete) Pent up. Bailey.
Ypight (p. obsolete) Pitched. Chaucer.
Ypik'ed (adj. obsolete) Picked, having a sharp point. Ch.
Ypi'it (p. obsolete) Beaten. Chaucer.
Yple'gg (p. obsolete) Pledged. Chaucer.
Ypoc'rise (s. obsolete) Hypocrisy. Chaucer.
YPSILOIDES (s. in anatomy, from the Greek υ, and ειδης, a shape) The third suture of the cranium; a small bone of the tongue so called from its resemblance to the Greek unison.
Yquench't (p. obsolete) Quenched, put out. Chaucer.
Yquit't (p. obsolete) Acquitted, paired, requited. Chaucer.
Yra'pt (p. obsolete) Rapt, deprived. Chaucer.
Yras'id (p. obsolete) Shaven. Chaucer.
Yre, Yren (s. an old spelling) Ire, anger. Chaucer.
Yrei'ght (p. obsolete) Reached. Chaucer.
Yreck'ed, Yreck'en (p. obsolete) Raked up. Chaucer.
Yre'nt (p. obsolete) Rent. Chaucer.
Yrob'in (v. t. obsolete) To rob, to plunder. Chaucer.
Yro'ke (p. obsolete) Revenged, wreaked. Spenser.
Yro'n (v. int. obsolete) To run. Chaucer.
Yron'ne (p. obsolete) Coagulated, curdled as milk. Ba.
Yron'ne (v. t. pret. obsolete) Did run. Chaucer.
Yrown'ed (v. int. pret.) Whispered, did whisper. Ch.
Yryv'yn (p. obsolete) Riven, burst asunder. Chaucer.
Ysai'ne (p. obsolete) Seen. Chaucer.
Ysa'ime (adv. obsolete) Together. Spenser.
Yie (s. obsolete) Ice. Chaucer.
Yie'ne (p. obsolete) Seen. Chaucer.
Yies'ed (p. obsolete) Seized. Chaucer.
Yiest't (v. int. obsolete) Ceased, did cease. Chaucer.
Ythe'nd (p. obsolete) Hurt, blamed. Spenser.
Ythe'nt (p. obsolete) Spoiled. Chaucer.
Ythe't (p. obsolete) Shut. Chaucer.
Ythri've, Ythri'ven (p. obsolete) Confessed by a priest. Chaucer.
Ys'CIUS (s. in old records) A kind of pickled salmon.
Ys'le (v. f. pret. obsolete) Did ice. Chaucer.
Y'inges (s. in old records) A kind of pickled salmon. Phillips.
Yla'ke (v. t. obsolete) To flake. Chaucer.
Yslawe (p. obsolete) Slain. Cole.
Yslo' (v. t. obsolete) To slay. Chaucer.
Ysmel'de (p. obsolete) Smelled. Chaucer.
Ysod (p. obsolete) Sudden, boiled. Chaucer.
Ysolv'ed (p. obsolete) Absolved. Chaucer.
Ysolv'id (p. obsolete) Absolved. Chaucer.
Ysot'id (p. obsolete) Beotted. Chaucer.
Ysot'w (p. obsolete) Sown. Chaucer.
Ysprei'nt (p. obsolete) Sprinkled, dispersed. Chaucer.
Ysta'ked (p. obsolete) Stacked up. Chaucer.
Yste'ke (p. obsolete) Confined, stuck. Chaucer.
Ysto'ppe (p. obsolete) Stopped. Cole.
Ysto'rve (p. obsolete) Dead. Chaucer.
Ystre'ght (p. obsolete) Stretched. Chaucer.
Yta'ke (p. obsolete) Taken. Chaucer.
Yte'lle (v. t. obsolete) To tell, to reckon. Chaucer.
Yte'men (v. t. obsolete) To bind, to lay up. Chaucer.
Ythe' (v. int. obsolete) To strive, to prosper. Chaucer.
Y'THEL (s.) A man's name.
Ythew'ed (adj. obsolete) Having qualities, having good qualities.

Z A H

Ytwi'ght (p. obsolete) Drawn, pulled.
Ytwi'ght (p. obsolete) Twitched.
Ytwi'nn (v. int. obsolete) To depart.
Yty'ed (p. obsolete) Tied, bound.
Yu (s. a local word) Yule, Christmas.
YU'BA (s. in botany) An herb of which the make bread.
Yu'hatch (s. an old word) A batch at Christmas.
Yu'block (s. an old word) A Christmas block.
YUC'CA (s. in botany) An American tree, the root of tree, bread made of the root.
YUCK (s. from the Dutch, joken) The itch.
Yuck (v. t. a local word) To prick, to rub scratch.
Y've (s. an old spelling) Ivy.
Yve'lle (s. an old spelling) An evil.
Yue'neis (s. obsolete) Wickedness.
Yvernal'gium (s. in old records) The winter seed time.
Yu'game (s. an old word) A game or gambol at mas.
YULE (s. from the Sax. yehal, retained in the dialect) The time of Christmas; the first of gust.
Yule'block (s. an old word) A Christmas block; a log of wood put behind the fire at Christmas.
Yule'day (s. an old word) Christmas day.
Yule'game (s. obsolete) A game or gambol at mas.
Y'voire (s. obsolete) Ivory.
YUX (s. from the Sax. yeox) The hiccough.
Yux (v. int. from the sub.) To sob, to sigh.
Yux'ing (p. a. from vux) Sobbing, sighing.
Yux'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sobbing.
Ywa'rde (p. obsolete) Worn.
Ywa'rde (v. t. pret. obsolete) Wore, did wear.
Ywa'rne (v. t. obsolete) To deny.
Ywar'ry (v. t. obsolete) To worry, to make upon.
Ywer'id (p. obsolete) Worried.
Ywe'te (v. t. obsolete) To know.
Ywex'ith (v. int. obsolete) Groweth.
Ywi's (adv. obsolete) Verily, truly.
Ywi's (v. t. obsolete) To suppose.
Ywi'rk (v. int. obsolete) To work.
Ywi't (v. t. obsolete) To know.
Ywo'xe (p. an old word) Grown, increased.
Ywra'ken (p. obsolete) Revenged, wreaked.
Ywri'e, Ywri'en, Ywry'en (p. obsolete) Covered.
Ywro'ke (p. obsolete) Revenged, wreaked.
Ywro'ng (p. obsolete) Wrung.

Z.

Z (s.) The last letter in the English alphabet; the numeral it stood for two thousand, and with over it for four million.
ZAB'ARA (s. in geography) Libya; the desert.
ZABDE'US (s.) A man's name.
ZAB'DI (s. from the Heb. signifying a portion) A name.
ZAB'ULON (s. a different spelling) Zebulun.
ZAB'ULUS (s. in old records) The devil.
ZACCHE'US (s. from the Heb. signifying pure) A name.
ZAC'CHO (s. in architecture) The lowest part of a column or pedestal.
ZACHARIAH (s. from the Heb. signifying the of the Lord) A man's name; the title of one of the prophetic books of Scripture.
ZACHARIA'S (s. from Zachariah) A man's name.
ZACH'ARY (s. from Zachariah) A man's name.
ZACH'IN (s. a different spelling) The zackin.
ZACIN'THA (s. in botany) A kind of hawk weed.
Zaco'vin (s. an old word) Satin, fine silk.
ZADOK (s. from the Heb. signifying just) A
 name.
ZAF'AR (s. in natural history) Oker.
ZAF'FER, ZAF'FRE (s. in chymistry) A preparation of cobalt.
Zaf'fran, Zaf'ran (s. different spellings) The zaffre, preparation of cobalt.
ZA'GAYE (s.) A kind of javelin used by the Morians.
ZACKE'US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the Bacchus; Zephyrus, the west wind.
ZA'HAB (s.) A Hebrew coin in value about one one shilling sterling.

Z E C

AM (s. from the Heb. signifying a crime) A man's name.
 (s. from the Heb. signifying little) The name of a man.
 AGIA, ZAIRA/GIAH (s.) A kind of divination performed by a machinery of wheels among the Arabians.
 TES (s.) A man's name; an Armenian name.
 U/CUS (s.) A man's name; a famous legislator of antiquity, who made a law that adultery should be punished with the loss of both eyes, and when his wife was found guilty parted with one of his own eyes, that one of his son's might be spared, and at the same time the law be fully satisfied.
 MON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain in the land of Israel.
 MC'NAH (s. from the Heb.) One of the stations of the children of Israel in their passage through the wilderness.
 MUN'NA (s. from the Heb. signifying a shadow) A man's name.
 PARILLA (s. a different spelling) The farfaparilla. Ph.
 BRI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 ILE (s. in botany) A kind of pine nuts which open the tree and unless plucked off spoil all the fruit.
 OUXIS (s.) A man's name; a Thracian who was sent to Pythagoras and returning to his own country after his master's death civilized the people, and was worshiped as a god.
 MORIN (s.) The title of a sovereign prince in some parts of the East Indies.
 PAG'NI (s.) The whistle, the flute.
 ZUM MIM (s. from the Heb. signifying enormous) The name of the giants. Deut.
 CLES (s.) A man's name; a Samothracian who bred a swarm of teeth at the age of one hundred and twenty.
 CHEL/LIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 OAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Job.
 DR'RIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants; the cornflower.
 Y (s. probably from the Lat. fanna a staff) A husband, a merry andrew; a silly fellow.
 ATA (s.) A kind of festival held in the courts of foreign princes in Italy on Saint Nicholas's day.
 HARA (s. in natural history) A mineral used by pot-makers to make a sky colour.
 HNATHPAA'NEAH (s. from the Heb. signifying a tower of the world) The name which Pharaoh gave to Joseph.
 EH (s. from the Heb. signifying the east) A man's name.
 EPHATH (s. from the Heb. signifying ambush) The name of a place.
 NICH (s. in natural history) A kind of fossil.
 NOB (s. in medicine) A kind of zedoary.
 PARILLA (s. a different spelling) The farfaparilla.
 (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the Indian corn.
 (s. from the Greek ζῆλος) Warmth of passion in a cause; ardour, passionate ardour for any person or cause.
 (s. from zeal) One passionately ardent in any cause, a bigot.
 (s. adj. from zeal) Full of zeal, ardently passionate in any cause.
 (s. adv. from zealous) With zeal, with passionate ardour.
 (s. from zealous) The state of being zealous, the quality of being zealous.
 DPAH (s. from the Heb. signifying the Lord is my father) A man's name.
 AH (s. from the Heb. signifying a victim) A man's name.
 DEE (s. from the Heb. signifying a large portion) A man's name.
 DIM (s. from the Heb. signifying a deer) The name of a place.
 A (s. in zoology) An Indian beast, a kind of ass, carefully marked.
 IL (s. from the Heb. signifying an habitation) A man's name.
 LON (s. from the Heb. signifying a habitation) A man's name, one of the tribes of Israel.
 ARPAH (s. from the Heb. signifying the memory of the Lord) A man's name; one of the prophetic books of the Old Testament.
 ARPAH (s.) A man's name.

Z E T

ZECH'IN (s.) A Venetian gold coin in value about nine shillings sterling.
 Zed (s.) The last letter of the English alphabet.
 ZEDECHI'AS (s.) A man's name.
 ZEDEKI'AH (s. from the Heb. signifying the justice of the Lord) A man's name.
 ZE'DQARY (s. in medicine) A Chinese root.
 ZE'EB (s. from the Heb. signifying a wolf) A man's name.
 ZE'LEK (s. from the Heb. signifying the noise of him that strikes) A man's name.
 ZELO'PHEHAD (s. from the Heb. signifying the shadow of fear) A man's name.
 ZELO'TES (s. from the Greek, ζῆλος zeal) A man's name, the surname of Simon.
 Zelotypy (s. not used) Jealousy. Bailey.
 ZEL'ZAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 1. Sam.
 ZEM'ZEM (s. from the Arabic) The sacred well at Mecca.
 ZE'NAS (s. from the Greek, ζῶω to live) A man's name.
 ZEND (s.) The sacred book of the Magi.
 ZENDAVES'TA (s.) The zend, the sacred book of the Magi.
 ZE'NITH (s. from the Arabic) That point in the heavens which is equally distant from the horizon, that point in the heavens which is directly over our heads.
 Ze'nithdistance (s. from zenith, and distance) The distance from the zenith, the complement of the meridian altitude.
 ZE'NO (s.) A man's name; the founder of the sect of the Stoicks.
 ZENO'BIA (s.) The name of a woman; a heroine who opposed the usurpations of the Roman state and was at last subdued by the emperor Aurelian, her royal seat was at Palmyra.
 ZENOD'OTUS (s.) A man's name; a noted grammarian of Alexandria.
 ZEN'SUS (s. in arithmetic) The second power, the square of a number.
 ZEOPY'RUM (s. in botany) A plant producing grain between spelt and wheat, the grain produced by that plant.
 ZEPHAN'IAH (s. from the Heb. signifying the secret of the Lord) A man's name; the title of one of the prophetic books of the Old Testament.
 ZE'PHATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Ju.
 ZE'PHO (s. from the Heb. signifying one that sees) A man's name.
 ZEPH'YR (s. from zephyrus) The west wind.
 ZEPH'YRITIS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Flora the daughter of Zephyrus.
 ZEPH'YRUS (s. with the poets) The west wind; a soft wind.
 ZE'RAH (s.) A man's name; Zarah.
 ZERE'DA (s. from the Heb. signifying an ambush) The name of a country or district in the land of Israel.
 ZE'RESH (s. from the Heb. signifying misery) The name of a woman.
 ZE'RETH (s. from the Heb.) A span, a measure containing about eleven inches; a third part of a cubit or something more than seven inches.
 ZER'NA (s. in surgery) A tetter, a ring worm.
 ZER'RO (s. in arithmetic) The cypher.
 ZER'ROR (s. from the Heb. signifying a stone) A man's name.
 ZER'ROS (s. in natural history) A kind of crystal.
 ZER'UAH (s. from the Heb. signifying leporous) A woman's name.
 ZERUB BABEL (s. from the Heb. signifying a stranger) A man's name.
 ZERUM'BETH (s. in medicine) A kind of zedoary.
 ZERUP'AH (s. from the Heb. signifying pain) A man's name.
 ZEST (s. the derivation is not noted) The substance which divides the quarters of a walnut; the peel of orange squeezed into liquor; a taste, a relish given by something additional.
 Zest (v. t. from the sub.) To relish, to heighten by an additional relish.
 Zest (s. a local word) A nap in the afternoon; a division in a barn where unthrashed corn is commonly laid.
 Zest'd (s. from zest) Relished by something additional.
 Zest'ing (p. a. from zest) Giving an additional relish.
 Zest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of heightening by an additional relish.
 ZE'TA (s.) The sixth letter in the Greek alphabet.
 ZE'TA (s.) A small withdrawing room with some convenience for conveying cool or warm air; a dining room, a parlour. Old records.

Z I Z

ZETES (s. a different spelling) Zethes.

ZETETIC (adj. from the Greek ζῆτω to enquire) Proceeding by enquiry.

Zetetic (s. from zetetic) An investigation, the method of solving a problem.

ZETHER (s. from the Heb. signifying one that ex-amines) A man's name.

ZETHES (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the sons of Boreas supposed to have been winged and sent in pursuit of the Harpies.

ZETHUS (s.) A man's name, the twin brother of Amphion.

ZETICULA (s.) A small withdrawing room, the zeta.

ZETOS (s. a different spelling) The zeros, a kind of crystal.

ZEUGITES (s. in botany) A kind of reeds.

ZEUGMA (s. from the Greek) An ellipsis or figure in grammar in which a verb is joined with several nominatives or an adjective with several substantives.

ZEUS (s. in ichthyology) A genus of acanthopterygious fishes.

ZEUXES (s.) A man's name; an excellent painter.

ZI'BA (s. from the Heb. signifying an army) A man's name.

ZIBALUNA (s. in zoology) The fable.

ZIB'AN (s. from the Heb. signifying a dwelling) A man's name.

ZIBETHICUM, ZIBETHICUS (s. in zoology) The civet cat.

ZIBETHUM (s. from the Arabic zobad the froth of milk) Civet, a kind of perfume.

ZIB'AH (s. from the Heb. signifying a deer) A woman's name.

ZICH'RI (s. from the Heb. signifying a male) A man's name.

ZIDON (s. from the Heb. signifying hunting) The name of a city, the name of a country.

Zido'nian (adj. from Zidon) Belonging to Zidon.

Zido'nian (s. from the adj.) A native of Zidon, an inhabitant of Zidon.

ZIF (s. from the Heb. signifying this) A Jewish month answering to the moon of our April, the second month among the Jews.

Zig'zag (adj. a word of ludicrous formation) Having many short turns, turning this way and that.

Zig'zag (s. from the adj.) Any thing composed of short turns.

ZIKLAG (s. from the Heb. signifying full measure) The name of a city.

Zil'ist (s. from Zoilus) An ill-natured critic. Col.

ZIL'LAH (s. from the Heb. signifying a shadow) The name of a woman.

ZIL'PAH (s. from the Heb. signifying distillation) The name of a woman.

ZIM'AN (s. from the Heb. signifying a finger) A man's name.

ZIM'RI (s. from the Heb. signifying my field) A man's name.

ZIN (s. from the Heb. signifying a buckler) The name of a wilderness bordering on the land of Canaan.

Zinc (s. a different spelling) Zink.

Zinck (s. a different spelling) Zink. D. of A.

ZINGIBER (s. from the Lat.) Ginger. Pb.

ZINGIBERIS (s. from the Lat.) Ginger.

ZINK (s. in natural history) A fossil substance resembling bismuth.

ZION (s. from the Heb. signifying a monument) A mount or eminence in Jerusalem; the church.

Zi'OR (s. from the Heb. signifying a ship) The name of a city. Josb.

ZIPH (s. from the Heb. signifying this month) The name of a city. Josb.

ZIP'POR (s. from the Heb. signifying a bird) A man's name.

ZIP'PORAH (s. from the Heb. signifying beauty) The name of a woman.

ZIRBUS (s. from the Arabic) The caul that covers the bowels.

ZITH'RI (s. from the Heb. signifying to hide) A man's name.

ZIZ (s. from the Heb.) The name of a hill. 2 Chro.

ZIZANIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

ZIZANIUM (s. in botany) The dandel, a weed growing among corn.

ZIZIRIPHU (s. in medicine) The jujubes.

ZIZYPHUM (s. in medicine) A kind of fruit, the jujubes.

Z O T

ZMI'LACES (s. in natural history) A kind of precious stone.

ZMILAMP'IS (s. in natural history) The zmilaces.

ZO'AN (s. from the Heb. signifying motion) The name of a city.

ZO'AR (s. from the Heb. signifying little) The name of a city.

ZO'BAH (s. from the Heb. signifying an army) The name of a city, the name of a district in the land of Israel.

ZOC'CO (s. in architecture) The socle.

ZOCK (s. in natural history) The spelter.

ZO'CLE (s. in architecture) A small plain pedestal square piece of timber to support a bust, a low member to support a column.

ZO'DIAC (s. from the Greek ζῳδιακος) The line in the heavens through which the sun appears to move in the compass of a year, the space occupied in the heavens by the twelve signs.

ZO'HELETH (s. from the Heb.) the name of a rock.

ZO'LUS (s.) A man's name, a critic who wrote against Homer and other established authors; an ill-natured critic.

ZO'NA (s. from zone) A kind of herpes surrounding the body.

ZONA'RAS (s.) A man's name; a Constantinopolitan historian.

ZONE (s. from the Greek, ζων) A girdle; a circumference; a division of the earth.

ZO'NIGRISM (s. in surgery) An instrument with a neck to convey nauseous medicines into the stomach.

ZON'NET (s.) The antastical body of a fairy.

Zon'nor (s. from zone) A kind of belt which the Christians are obliged to wear in the Levant, to distinguish them from the Turks.

ZOO'GONIA (s. from the Greek, ζῳος living, and γονη offspring) The production of living creatures.

ZOO'GRAPHER (s. from the Greek, ζῳος living, and γραφω to write) One who describes or writes on animals.

Zoo'g'raphist (s. from zoo'ographer) A zoographer.

ZOO'GRAPHY (s. from the Greek, ζῳος living, and γραφω to write) A description of animals, a scientific description of living creatures.

ZOOLOGY (s. from the Greek, ζῳος living, and λογια a description) A scientific description or treatise of animals.

ZOO'PHORIC (adj. in architecture) Having the form of some animal.

ZOO'PHORUS (s. in architecture) The member between the architrave and the cornice so called because sometimes the figures of animals carved on it.

ZOOPT'HALMON (s. in botany) The sea-green house-leek.

ZO'OPHYTE (s. from the Greek, ζῳος living, and φυτε a plant) A substance or creature consisting both of vegetative and animal life.

ZOO'PHYTON (s. from the Greek) A zoophyte.

Zoodomist (s. from zootomy) One who dissects the bodies of animals.

ZOOTOMY (s. from the Greek, ζῳος living, and τομη to cut) The anatomy or dissection of beasts.

ZOPA'TA (s. from the Italian) A festival in the city of sovereign princes in Italy on Saint Nicholas day.

ZO'PHAR (s. from the Heb. signifying drineis) The name of a man.

ZOFIS'SA (s. from the Greek) The best sort of pice.

ZOPYRUM (s. in botany) The name of an herb.

ZOPYRUS (s.) A man's name; a Persian nobleman by a stratagem assisted Darius in the taking of Babylon.

ZO'RAH (s. from the Heb. signifying the leprosy) The name of a city.

ZOROAS'TER, ZOROAS'TRES (s.) A man's name, famous astronomer and magician contemporary with the Great, who is said to have reformed the Magi.

Zoroastrian (adj. from Zoroaster) Belonging to Zoroaster, pertaining to the doctrines of Zoroaster.

ZOROB'ABEL (s. a different spelling) Zerubbabel.

ZORONY'SUS (s. in natural history) A precious stone formerly used by magicians.

ZOSIMUS (s.) A man's name; a freedman of the emperor Pliny.

ZO'STEN (s. in surgery) The shingles, a disease.

ZO'TICA (s. from the Greek, ζῳω to live) The faculty.

Z Y G

ZYG (s. from the Heb. signifying small) A man's name.
ZYG (s. in old records) A dry stock of wood, a withered stump of wood.
ZYG (adj. from Zuinglius) Belonging to the doctrine of Zuinglius.
ZINGLIUS (s. from the adj.) A follower of Zuinglius.
ZINGLIUS (s.) A man's name; a German reformer.
ZIM (s. from the Greek ζυμν) Leaven.
ZIM (s. a local word) Tinder. Cole.
ZIM (s. in medicine) A julep.
ZIM (s. from the Heb. signifying a stone) A man's name.
ZIM (s.) The berry of the whitethorn.
ZIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIM (s. from the Italian) A flageolet.
ZIMBETH (s. in botany) The tree which produces zedoary, the zedoary.
ZIM (s.) A Hebrew coin, the fourth part of a shekel.
ZIMS (s. from the Heb.) The name of a people.
Gen. 14.
ZIMNA (s. in ichthyology) The balance fish.
ZIMNA (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of the goddess of marriage.
ZIMNA (s. in botany) A kind of maple heretofore used for making yokes.
ZIMTI (s. in astrology) Persons born under the sign Taurus.
ZIMMA (s. in anatomy from the Greek) One of the bones of the upper jaw.
ZYGOMATIC (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the face; a muscle which contributes to a pleasing countenance.

Z Y T

ZYGOMATIC (adj. from zygoma) Belonging to the zygoma, belonging to the muscle described in the foregoing article.
ZYGOMATICUM (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the face,
 the zygomatic.
ZYGOMATICUS (s. a different spelling) The zygomaticum.
ZYGOSTATA (s. a different spelling) The zygostates.
ZYGOSTATE (s. from zygostates) The clerk of a market.
ZYGOSTATES (s. from the Greek) The clerk of a market.
ZYGOSTATIC (adj. from zygostates) Belonging to the clerk of a market.
ZYGOSTATICAL (adj. from zygostatic) Belonging to the clerk of the market.
ZYMITES (s. from the Greek, ζυμν leaven) Leavened bread.
ZYMO (s. from the Greek) Leaven, fermentation,
 a ferment of the animal juices.
ZYMOSIMETER (s. from the Greek, ζυμωσις a fermentation, and μετρον to measure) An instrument to measure the degree of heat or fermentation in liquors or animal juices.
ZYMOISIS (s. from the Greek) A fermentation.
ZYTHERSARY (s. from the Greek ζυθος ale) A brew-house. Cole.
ZYTHOGALLA (s. from the Greek ζυθος ale, and γαλα milk) Poffet drink.
ZYTHUM (s. from the Greek ζυθος) A drink made of corn or malt; ale, beer.

THE SUPPLEMENT.

A

A BAD'DIR, ABAD'IR (s. in the mythology of the poets) The stone which Rhea was supposed to have given to Saturn to be devoured instead of her son Jupiter.

ABA'LI (s. in old geography) A people of India.

Aban'doning (s. from the part.) The act of forsaking.

ABAN'TIAS (s. with the poets) Danae and Atalanta, so called because they were the grand daughters of Abas.

ABA'RIAS (s.) A man's name; a Scythian who was scholar to Pythagoras.

A'BAS (s.) A man's name, a king of the Argives; one of the Centaurs; a man who was supposed to have been transformed into a lizard for ridiculing the sacred rites of Ceres.

Ab'a'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing low.

Ab'a'ting (s. from the part.) The act of diminishing.

ABA'ZEA (s. in antiquity) Feasts instituted in honour of Bacchus.

Abbre'viating (s. from the part.) The act of shortening by abbreviation.

Abbrocament'um (s. in old records) The act of forestalling the market.

Abbroach'ed (p. from abbroach) Forestalled.

Abbroach'ing (p. a. from abbroach) Forestalling.

Abbroach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forestalling.

ABDALONYMUS (s.) A man's name; a poor gardener of princely descent made king of Sidon by Alexander the great.

Ab'dicating (s. from the part.) The act of renouncing.

Abdu'ced (p. from abduce) Drawn away.

Abdu'cing (p. a. from abduce) Drawing away.

Abdu'cing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing away.

A'BEL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

ABEL'LION (s. in the mythology of the pagans) A supposed deity worshipped by the ancient Gauls.

Ab'er'ring (s. from the part.) The act of going astray.

Abetta'tor (s. in old records) An abettor.

Abet'ting (s. from the part.) The act of setting on.

AB'GARUS (s.) A man's name; the common name of the toparchs of Edesia.

Abgeto'rrium (s. in old records) The alphabet.

A'BI (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name.

ABI'A (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ABIAS'APH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ABI'HUD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ABI'IGAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.

ABI'LIIUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Romulus by a Sabine lady.

ABI'MAEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ABISA'RES (s.) A man's name; an Indian king who delivered up his kingdom to Alexander while Porus his confederate manfully stood it out against him.

ABISH'AHAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ABISON'TES (s. in old geography) A people of the Alps.

Abju'ring (p. a. from abjure) Renouncing upon oath.

Abju'ring (s. from the part.) The act of renouncing on oath.

Ab'nodated (p. from abnodate) Pruned of buds.

Ab'nodating (p. a. from abnodate) Cutting off the buds and knots of trees.

Ab'nodating (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off the buds or knots of trees.

ABOLA'NI (s. in old geography) A people of Italy.

Abol'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of annulling.

Abom'inating (s. from the part.) The act of detesting.

Abound'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of having abundance.

ABRETA'NUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

ABRETTI'NI (s. in old geography) A people of Mysia. Pl.

ABRIJA'MES (s.) A man's name; the son of Darius who was slain by the Lacedemonians.

Abrid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of abbreviating; the act of shortening.

Ab'rogating (p. a. from abrogate) Annulling, recalling.

Ab'rogating (s. from the part.) The act of annulling.

AB'RON (s.) A man's name; a voluptuous Greek.

ABRUPA'LIS (s.) A man's name; an exiled Greek who became an ally of the Romans.

Abrupt'er (adj. comp. of abrupt) Abrupt in a great degree.

Abrupt'est (adj. sup. of abrupt) Abrupt in the great degree.

Abse'nd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of withdrawing in a clandestine manner.

Abse'nt'ing (p. a. from absent) Withdrawing, declining to be present.

Abse'nt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of withdrawing.

Abso'lv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of acquitting.

Abso'rb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sucking up.

Abstain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refraining.

Abster'ied (p. from absterse, but not much used) Clean.

Abster's'ing (p. a. from absterse, but not much used) Cleaning.

Abster's'ing (s. from the part. but not much used) The act of cleaning.

Abstra'ctedness (s. from abstracted) The state or quality of being abstracted.

Abstra'ct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of separating.

Abstru'er (adj. comp. of abstruse) Abstruse in a great degree.

Abstru'est (adj. sup. of abstruse) Abstruse in the great degree.

Abfu'd'er (adj. comp. of absurd) Absurd in a great degree.

Abfu'd'est (adj. sup. of absurd) Absurd in the great degree.

ABSYR'TES (s. in the mythology of the poets) A man's name; the brother of Medea whom she tore limb from limb and scattered in the way when she fled with him from the pursuit of her father.

ABU'LITES (s.) A man's name; a Persian governor who gave up his country to Alexander.

Abu's'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with abuse.

ABU'TIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of a Roman.

Abut'ting (p. a. from abut) Bordering upon.

Abut'ting (s. from the part.) The act or state of bordering upon.

ABYDE'NI (s. in ancient geography) The people of Abydos who chose rather to perish with their wives than submit to Philip of Macedon.

ABY'DOS (s.) A city of Asia near the Hellespont famous for the firmness of its inhabitants as mentioned in the foregoing article.

ACAL'IPHA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

ACALUS (s.) A man's name; the nephew of Deionides who is said to have invented the saw and compass.

ACA'MAS (s.) A man's name; a Thracian prince who assisted the Trojans.

ACANTHUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A man supposed to have been turned into a flower.

ACAS'TUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Pelias king of Theffaly.

AC'CA (s.) The name of a woman; the sister of the miller.

Acc'e'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming into a scheme or party.

Accel'erating (s. from the part.) The act of hastening.

Accent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing the accent.

Accen'tuated (p. from accentuate, a formal noun pronounced with the proper accent.)

Accen'tuating (p. a. from accentuate, a formal noun pronounced with the proper accent, pronouncing the proper accent.)

Accen'tuating (s. from the part. a formal noun pronounced with the proper accent.)

Accept'ing (s. from the part.) The act of receiving.

Acces's'orious (s. in old records) An accessory.

ACO

ACA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Cæsar.
ACASTUS (s.) A man's name; an old Latin tragedian.
ACCE (s.) The name of a woman; an old filly woman.
ACCOMMODATING (s. from the part.) The act of fitting to purpose, the act of reconciliation.
ACCOMPANYING (s. from the part.) The act of attending a companion.
ACCOMPLISHMENTUM (s. in old records) An accomplishment.
ACCOMPLISHING (s. from the part.) The act of completing.
ACCOMPUTING (s. from the part.) The act of computing.
ACCORDING (s. from the part.) The act of agreeing.
ADDRESSING (p. a. from accost) Addressing, speaking first to any person.
ADDRESSING (s. from the part.) The act of speaking first to any person.
ADJUDICATING (s. from the part.) The act of reckoning.
ADJOINING (s. from the part.) The act of joining two together.
ADJUTING (p. a. from accoutre) Dressing in warlike equipments.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of dressing with like accoutrements.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of arising from.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of heaping up.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of bringing home large, the act of censuring.
ADJUTING (p. a. from accustom) Habituating, using as well to any thing.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of habituating.
ADJUTING (p. from acervate, but not much used) Heaped up.
ADJUTING (p. a. from acervate, but not much used) Heaping up.
ADJUTING (s. from the part. but not much used) The act of heaping up.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; an ignorant physician of antiquity.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; one who kindly entertained Æneas in his travels.
ADJUTING (s. in ancient geography) The people of Greece.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; the first king of Persia; the grandfather of Cyrus.
ADJUTING (s.) A descendant of Achæmenes; one of the companions of Ulysses.
ADJUTING (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; a companion of Æneas.
ADJUTING (s.) One of the Cecropes.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; a voluble orator among the Romans.
ADJUTING (s. in the mythology of the poets) The supposition of Ceres without a father who was transferred into an infernal river.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of performing something great.
ADJUTING (p. a. from ache) Paining, being affected with pain.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of giving pain, the act of being in pain.
ADJUTING (s. in old geography) The people of Greece.
ADJUTING (s. in heathen mythology) A god of the Egyptians; he was supposed to have power to drive away evil spirits.
ADJUTING (s. in surgery) A kind of push, a kind of stroke.
ADJUTING (s.) One of the names of Venus.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of making four.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; a young Sicilian slain by Æneas because he was beloved by Galatea.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; the name of several illustrious Romans.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name, a handsome Sicilian youth slain by Æneas and afterwards, as the poets feign, turned into a river of that name.
ADJUTING (s. from the part.) The act of owning, the act of confessing.
ADJUTING (s.) The name of a woman; the mistress of Æneas.
ADJUTING (s. in heathen mythology) A king of the Titans, the father of Jupiter.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; a famous Arcadian hero and archer.
ADJUTING (s.) A man's name; a youth who gained the prize by an artful device in which he induced her to break a solemn vow to the goddess Diana to be his companion and wife before she was aware of it, and with which she was afterwards obliged to comply.

ADI

ACQUAINTING (s. from the part.) The act of informing.
ACQUIESCING (s. from the part.) The act of tacitly consenting.
ACQUIRING (s. from the part.) The act of getting.
ACQUITANTIA (s. in old records) An acquittance.
ACQUITTING (s. from the part.) The act of discharging.
ACRA (s. in old records) An acre of land.
ACRA'TUS (s. in heathen mythology) The genius of drunkenness at Athens where he was imaged with his mouth only appearing through a wall.
ACRIS'IUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Abas king of the Argives.
A'CRON (s.) The name of a man; an Athenian philosopher.
ACRO'NIUM (s. in anatomy) The upper part of the shoulder blade.
ACROPOLIS (s. from the Greek ακρος a top, and πολις a city) A citadel, a capital fortification.
ACROSPIRING (p. a. from acrospire) Shooting, putting forth a blade.
ACROSPIRING (s. from the part.) The act of putting forth a blade.
AC'TIA (s. from Actius) Games instituted in honour of Apollo.
ACTIAC (adj. in chronology) Distinguishing the fixed year of the Egyptians.
ACTINIA (s. in the history of insects) A species of the gymnarthia.
ACTING (p. a. from act) Doing, performing.
ACTING (s. from the part.) The act of doing, the act of performing.
ACTIUS (s.) One of the names of Apollo; the name of a man, an ancient Roman poet.
ACTOR (s.) A man's name; a companion of Hercules.
ACTORIDES (s.) A man's name; the grandson of Actor.
ACTORIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman historian.
ACTUATING (s. from the part.) The act of putting into motion.
ACUINUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman citizen who would have had it thought that he had a hand in the assassination of Cæsar.
ACUMINATING (p. a. from acuminate) Sharpening, bringing to a point.
ACUMINATING (s. from the part.) The act of sharpening.
ACUSILAUS (s.) A man's name, an Athenian orator.
ACUTIA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Vitellius.
ACUTIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman tribune.
ADA'DAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADALINA (s.) A woman's name.
AD'AM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ADAPTING (s. from the part.) The act of fitting, the act of accommodating.
AD'DAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ADBE'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AD'DAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AD'DAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADDICTING (p. a. from addict) Devoting to, giving up to.
ADDICTING (s. from the part.) The act of giving up to any thing.
ADDING (s. from the part.) The act of putting to, the act of joining.
ADDING (p. a. from addle) Making addle, confusing.
ADDING (s. from the part.) The act of making addle.
ADDRESSING (s. from the part.) The act of preparing for, the act of speaking to, the act of congratulating.
ADDUCE (v. i. from the Lat. ad to, and duco to lead) To lead to, to bring to, to produce.
ADDUCED (p. from adduce) Led to, brought to, produced.
ADDUCING (p. a. from adduce) Leading to, bringing to, producing.
ADDUCING (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to, the act of producing.
ADELIN (s.) A woman's name.
ADEPHAGIA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess of gluttony.
ADEPIA (s. in botany from the Greek αδελφος, a brother) A genus of plants.
A'DER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADHERING (s. from the part.) The act of cleaving to.
ADJECTED (p. from adject) Thrown to.
ADJECTING (p. a. from adject) Throwing to.
ADJECTING (s. from the part.) The act of throwing to.
A'DIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADINA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Æ G I

ADINO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Adjoining (s. from the part.) The act of joining to.
Adjournment/um (s. in old records) An adjournment.
Adjourn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of postponing.
Adjudging (s. from the part.) The act of passing judgment.
Adjuring (p. a. from adjure) Obliging a person to declare on oath.
Adjuring (s. from the part.) The act of obliging a person to declare on oath.
Admeasured (p. a. from admeasure, a formal word) Measured by a standard.
Admeasuring (p. a. from admeasure, a formal word) Measuring by a standard.
Admeasuring (s. from the part. a formal word) The act of measuring by a standard.
Administering (s. from the part.) The act of giving to.
Administred (p. a. different spelling) Administered.
Admir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wondering at.
Admit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of allowing.
Admix'ing (p. a. from admix) Mixing.
Admix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mixing.
Admon'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of warning.
ADNA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADNAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADONIRAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADONIKAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADONIS (s. in beathen mythology) The third in order of the three principal divinities worshipped by the Phœnicians.
Adopt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking that which is another man's as our own.
ADORAUM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ADORAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ADRI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Advancement/um (s. in old records) An advancement.
Advanc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming forward.
Advanc'tive (adj. from advance, not much used) Tending to advance.
Advantaging (p. a. from advantage) Profiting.
Advantaging (s. from the part.) The act of profiting.
Adventured (p. from adventure) Put to the venture.
Adventuring (p. a. from adventure) Venturing.
Adventuring (s. from the part.) The act of putting to the venture.
Advert'ing (p. a. from advert) Turning to.
Advert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning to.
Advis'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving advice.
Adullamite (s. from Adullam) An inhabitant of Adullam.
Adulterine (adj. from adulter) Spurious, bastard, counterfeit.
ADUMMIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ÆA (s.) A woman's name; a famous huntress, said by the poets to have been turned into an island and river of that name.
ÆACIDES (s.) A man's name, a son of Æacus.
ÆACUS (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Jupiter by Ægina.
ÆÆA (s.) The name of an island in the Tyrrhene sea where Circe dwelt.
ÆBUTTIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
ÆDES/SA (s.) The name of a woman.
ÆDON (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Zethus.
ÆETA (s.) A man's name; a king of Colchis.
ÆETIAS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Æeta.
ÆGA (s. in the mythology of the poets) A nymph who was supposed to have been Jupiter's nurse.
ÆGEA (s.) A famous Amazonian said to have been drowned in the Ægean sea.
Æge'an (adj. from Ægeum) Belonging to the Ægeum.
ÆGEON (s. in the mythology of the poets) A huge giant son of Titan and Terra, supposed to have had 100 heads and 150 arms.
ÆGEUM (s. from Ægeus) The Archipelago.
ÆGEUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Athens who was said to have thrown himself into the sea afterwards called by his name.
ÆCIALE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Diomedes.
ÆGIALEUS (s.) A man's name; a governour of Achaia.
ÆGIDES (s.) A man's name; Theseus.
ÆGIDIAS (s.) A man's name; Giles.
ÆGILOPS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

A F F

ÆGIMTUS (s.) A man's name who lived two hundred years.
ÆGINA (s.) The name of a woman.
ÆGINES (s.) A man's name whose thumbs were cut off by the Athenians.
ÆGI'CHUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
ÆGIPODIUM (s. in botany) The gout weed.
ÆGIPONES (s.) A people of Africa.
ÆGIS'THUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Thyestes, his own daughter exposed in the woods, and then have been brought up by a goat.
ÆGLE (s.) One of the Hesperides.
ÆGLES (s.) A man's name; a champion of Samos.
ÆGOBOLUS (s.) One of the names of Bacchus.
ÆGOCAROS (s.) A sea monster into which Prometheus said to have transformed himself.
ÆGON (s.) The Ægean sea; a man's name.
Ægyptianus (s. in old records) A gypsy.
ÆGYPTUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Belus.
Æl'm'e'cia (s. in old records) Eldership.
ÆLIAN (s.) A man's name; the name of several mans.
ÆLIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several mans.
ÆLLO (s.) One of Adæon's dogs.
ÆMILIA (s.) The name of a woman.
ÆMILIUS (s.) A man's name.
ÆMOCHARES (s.) One of the names of Mars.
ÆMON (s.) A man's name.
ÆMONIDES (s.) A man's name; a priest of Apollo Diana.
ÆMUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Thrace, for his pride in assuming the title of Jupiter, was the poets say, turned into a hill of that name.
ÆNEAS (s.) A man's name; a Trojan prince, the hero of Virgil's poem.
Æne'id (s. from Æneas) The heroic poem of Virgil.
Æne'is (s. from Æneas) The heroic poem of Virgil.
ÆNESIDEMUS (s.) A man's name; a valiant captain the Argives.
ÆNON (s.) The name of a place, the name of a river.
ÆOLIA (s.) A country of Asia.
Æolian (adj. from Æolia) Belonging to Æolia.
Æolian (s. from the adj.) A native of Æolia.
ÆOLUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Æolians.
ÆPULO (s.) A man's name; a silly prince who was taken prisoner by the Romans while very young, and when he came to himself, could hardly be persuaded that he was a prisoner.
ÆPYTUS (s.) A man's name, he slew Polyperchus, a usurper.
ÆE'ROPE (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Atreus.
ÆSACUS (s.) A son of Priam, who, as the poets say, was transformed into a monster.
ÆSCHINES (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator.
ÆSCHYLUS (s.) A man's name; the twelfth of the Æschines.
ÆSCHYNOMENE (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
ÆSCULANUS (s. in beathen mythology) A Roman god supposed to have power to make men rich.
ÆSON (s.) A man's name; the father of Jason, as the poets say, was restored to youth by Medea.
ÆSOP (s.) Æsop, an ancient writer of fables.
Æstel (s. an old word) A handle, that by which a thing is held in the hand; a stylus.
ÆTHALIDES (s.) A man's name; the supposed father of Mercury.
ÆTHON (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of the chariot of the Sun.
ÆTHRA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Egeus.
ÆTNEUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Vulcan.
ÆTOLIA (s.) A country or region which lay in the bosom of Greece.
Ætolian (adj. from Ætolia) Belonging to Ætolia.
Ætolian (s. from the adj.) A native of Ætolia.
ÆTOLUS (s.) The supposed son of Mars.
Affect'edness (s. from affected) The state of being affected.
Affect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving to affection, the act of assuming by way of imitation.
Afferato/res (s. in old records) Assurers.
Aff'ancing (p. a. from affiance) Contracting in marriage.
Aff'ancing (s. from the part.) The act of contracting in marriage.

ed (p. from affy) Affianced.
 ming (s. from the part.) The act of declaring positively.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of adding to the id.
 ived (s. from the part.) A person afflicted, persons iled.
 id'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grieving.
 id'ing (s. from the part.) The act of producing.
 r'ament'um (s. in old records) A forcing.
 r'ected (p. from afforett) Turned into forest.
 r'elling (s. from the part.) The act of turning into rest.
 r'illa (s. in old records) An affray.
 r'anchized (p. from affranchise) Made free.
 r'anchizing (p. a. from affranchise) Making free. r'anchizing (s. from the part.) The act of making ee.
 r'ighting (p. a. from affright) Frighting, terrifying.
 r'ighting (s. from the part.) The act of terrifying, the of putting into a fright.
 r'onting (s. from the part.) The act of provoking.
 r'ing (p. a. from affuse) Pouring out.
 r'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out.
 r'ing (p. a. from affy) Affiancing; confiding in. r'ing (s. from the part.) The act of affiancing; the of confiding.
 r'ehand (adv. from afore, and hand) Before the me.
 r'ANIA (s.) A woman's name; a woman of an infarous character.
 r'ANIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman comic poet.
 r'IC (s.) Africa.
 r'ALIS (s.) A woman's name; she was a good gram-rian.
 r'AME/DES (s.) A man's name; an excellent architect, ho having finished the chancel in the temple of pollo, desired, as a reward, that which he knew to e best for man, and three days after was found dead his bed.
 r'AMEM/NON (s.) A man's name; a Greek who was oken captain general in the Trojan war. r'ANIP'PE, AGANIP'PIDES (s. in the mythology of the ets) The Muses. r'ANIP'PE (s.) A famous fountain in Boeotia sacred to pollo and the Muses.
 r'APENOR (s.) A man's name; an admiral of Agarnon's fleet.
 r'ARENI (s.) The ancient inhabitants of Arabia. r'ATHARCHIDES (s.) A man's name; an historian of rces.
 r'ATHARCHUS (s.) A man's name; a boasting painter temporary with Xeuxis. r'ATHENES (s.) A man's name; one of the Grecian plains in the Trojan war. r'ATHIAS (s.) A man's name; a famous lawyer who rote many epigrams in the Greek anthology. r'ATHO (s.) A man's name; a Pythagorean philosopher.
 r'ATHOCLES (s.) A man's name; the son of a Sician potter who became a grievous tyrant.
 r'ATHON (s.) A man's name.
 r'AVE (s.) A woman's name; a daughter of Cadmus, noted Bacchanalian.
 r'EE (p. from the Heb.) A man's name. r'LOSTOS (s.) A man's name; who, it is said, never eathed but once in his life time, and that was when aw an ass eating thistles.
 r'NOR (s.) A man's name; a king of the Phoenians.
 r'NO'RA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess of injury.
 r'rium (s. in old records) The profit of feeding rle.
 r'SANDER (s.) A man's name; a famous statuary of odes.
 r'SIAS (s.) A man's name; a Platonic philosopher, most powerful advocate for the immortality of the soul.
 r'SILAUS (s.) A man's name; the sixth king of the edemians.
 r'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering round man's.
 r'inated (p. from agglutinate) Glued together.
 r'inating (p. a. from agglutinate) Gluing together.
 r'inating (s. from the part.) The act of gluing together.
 r'andizing (s. from the part.) The act of making at.

Aggravating (s. from the part.) The act of exaggerating.
 Aggregating (p. a. from aggregate) Collecting.
 Aggregating (s. from the part.) The act of collecting.
 Aggressing (s. from the part.) The act of beginning a quarrel.
 Aggrieved (p. from aggrieve) Grieved, distressed.
 Aggrieving (p. a. from aggrieve) Grieving, distressing.
 Aggrieving (s. from the part.) The act of grieving.
 AGIOMAG/LAUS (s.) A military order or class among the Turks.
 A/GIS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Lacedemonians who was slain by his own people for endeavouring to revive the laws of Lycurgus.
 Agistament'um (s. in old records) Agistment.
 Agitating (s. from the part.) The act of putting into violent motion.
 AGLAI'A (s. in heathen mythology) One of the three Graces.
 AGLAONICE (s.) A woman's name; a noted force-refs.
 AGLA'OPE (s.) One of the Sirens.
 AGLAOPH'ENA (s.) The name of one of the Sirens.
 AGLA'OPHON (s.) A man's name; a famous painter.
 AGLAU'ROS (s. in the mythology of the poets) An Athenian lady who was supposed to have been turned into a stone.
 AG/LAUS (s.) A man's name; a poor Arcadian whom Apollo judged more happy than Gyges, because he never travelled beyond the limits of his own ground.
 AGNO'DICE (s.) A woman's name; an Athenian virgin who disguised herself in men's cloaths in order to learn the art of physic.
 AGONA/LIA (s.) Roman feasts instituted in honour of Janus.
 AG/ONES (s.) The Grecian games.
 AGO'NIS (s.) A woman's name; an attendant of Venus.
 AGO'NIUS (s. in heathen mythology) A god who was supposed to preside over all kinds of labour and businesses.
 Agonizing (s. from the part.) The act of causing exquisite pain.
 Agotted (adj. in botany) Marbled.
 Agreement'um (s. in old records) An agreement.
 Agree'ing (s. from the part.) The act of accommodating, the act of corresponding.
 AGRIC'OLA (s.) A man's name; one of the Roman governours in Britain.
 AGR/ODOS (s.) One of Adon's dogs.
 AGRIO'NIA (s.) A Grecian festival instituted in honour of Bacchus.
 AGR/OPAS (s.) A man's name; an historian who recorded the victors in the Grecian games.
 AGRIOPH/AGI (s.) A people of Ethiopia who fe- only on wild beasts.
 AGRIPPINA (s.) The name of a woman; the mother of Nero.
 AUGU'SIUS (s.) A man's name; a companion of Cicero in his exile.
 AG/YEUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
 AGYLLE/US (s.) A man's name; a gigantic fellow like Hercules.
 AH/VRAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AHAR'HEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 A/HASAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AHASH'BI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AHASH'TAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AH'BAA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 A'HER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 A'HI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AH/VAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AH/VAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AH/HAN (s. from the Heb.) Abian, a man's name.
 AHIN'ADAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AH/PRAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ahiramite (s. from Ahiram) A descendant of Ahiram.
 AH/SHAHAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AH/LAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AHO'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Aho'ahite (s. from Ahoah) A descendant of Ahoah.
 AHU'MAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AHU'ZAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AHUZ'ZAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AVATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 AIDO'NEUS

ALDO'NEUS (s.) A man's name; one of the names of Pluto.
AL'JA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
A'JAX (s.) A man's name; a valiant warrior in the Grecian army against Troy.
Aid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of helping.
AI'ELETH (s. from the Heb. signifying a hind) A kind of musical instrument.
Aim'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking aim.
AIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city in the land of Israel; the sixteenth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
AI'RA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
A'KAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
A'king (s. from the part.) A continued pain.
AK'KUB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AK'RABBIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Nu.
ALAMA'NI (s.) The Almain, a people of Germany.
AL'AMETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ALAM'MELECH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AL'AMOTH (s. from the Heb. signifying to languish) A kind of musical instrument.
ALA'RICUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Goths who took the city of Rome.
ALAS'TOR (s.) A man's name; the name of one of the four horses in Pluto's chariot.
AL'BA (s.) A city of the Maritians.
ALBEN'SES (s.) A people of Italy.
ALBE'SIA (s.) A kind of shields used by the Albenes.
ALB'INUS (s.) A man's name, the name of several Romans.
AL'BIUS (s.) A man's name; a rich miser.
ALBUCIL'LA (s.) The name of a woman; the name of a notorious strumpet.
ALBU'CIVS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
ALBU'NA (s. in heathen mythology) A Roman goddess.
ALBU'TIUS (s.) A man's name; an ill natured covetous fellow who used to correct his slaves before they had committed a fault lest he should not be at leisure to do it at the time.
AL'CA (s. in ornithology) The alca, a bird of the goose kind.
ALC'E'US (s.) A man's name; the supposed father of Hercules; a famous Greek poet in the 44th Olympiad.
ALCAME'NES (s.) A man's name; a famous statuary.
ALCAN'DER (s.) A man's name; one of the companions of Sarpedon.
ALCA'NOR (s.) A man's name.
AL'CATHOUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Pelops.
AL'CE (s.) One of Actæon's dogs.
ALCES'TE (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Admetus king of Thessaly.
ALCIBI'ADES (s.) A man's name; a nobleman of Athens who would accommodate himself to the manners and tempers of all sorts of people.
ALCID'AMAS (s.) A man's name; a Greek philosopher.
ALCID'ANUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient rhetorician.
ALC'DES (s.) One of the names of Hercules; one of the names of Pallas.
ALCIM'ACHUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter of antiquity.
ALCIM'EDE (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Æson.
ALCIM'EDON (s.) A man's name; a famous carver.
ALCIMIL'LA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
ALCIN'IUS (s.) A man's name.
ALCINOUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Corcyra much commended for his strict justice.
ALCINUS (s.) A man's name; a trifling and tedious author who wrote a play called the Defence of Penelope.
ALCIS'THENE (s.) The name of a woman famous for painting.
ALC'THOE (s.) The name of a woman who, as the poets assert, was turned into a bat for ridiculing the feasts of Bacchus.
ALCM'E'ON (s.) A man's name; one of the first authors of physic.
ALCME'NA (s.) The name of a woman; the supposed mother of Hercules.
ALC'MON (s.) The name of a man; a lyric poet among the Greeks.
Alcohol'ized (p. from alcoholize) Rectified as spirits till wholly dephlegmated.
Alcohol'izing (p. a. from alcoholize) Rectifying.
Alcohol'izing (s. from the part.) The act or process of rectifying spirits.

AL'CON (s.) A man's name; an excellent archer.
AL'CYONE (s.) One of the daughters of Atlas; one of the Pleiades.
ALDERA'MIN (s. in astronomy) A star of the 11th magnitude in Cepheus.
Alderman'nus (s. in old records) An alderman.
ALE'BAS (s.) A man's name; a king of Thessaly slain his guards for his tyrannical government.
ALEC'TO (s. in heathen mythology) One of the Furies.
ALEC'TRYON (s.) The name of a young man who said to keep the door while Mars lay with Venus.
AL'EMETH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
A'LEPH (s.) The first letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
Alephim'nus (s. in old records) A kind of slave.
ALE'THES (s.) A man's name; a companion of Æne.
ALEXIA'RIA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess youth.
ALEX'IO (s.) A man's name; a physician and friend of Cicero.
ALEX'IS (s.) A fine youth who was page to Mecænas.
AL'GÆ (s. pl. of alga) A genus of submarine plants.
AL'GUME (s. from the Heb.) A kind of tree.
Al'gume (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the alga.
Al'gumetree (s. from alga, and tree) A kind of producing fine wood.
AL'IAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AL'IAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Al'lenable (adj. from alien) Capable of being alienated.
Alight'ing (s. from the part.) The act of descending.
ALIMO'NIA (s. in old records) The alimony.
A'LIUS (s. in architecture) A kind of door.
Alka'hous (adj. from alkaline) Alkaline. Di. of.
Alka'lized (p. from alkalize) Made alkaline.
Alka'lizing (s. from the part.) The act or process making alkaline.
AL'LAH (s. in heathen mythology) The first in order the three principal deities worshipped by the Arabs.
Al'laya (s. in old records) The allay.
Allay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of abating any dominant quality.
Allegan'tia (s. in old records) Allegiance.
Alleg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of declaring.
Allegori'zing (s. from allegorize) The act of turning allegory.
ALLEMA'ND (s. from the Italian) A kind of dance.
Alle'viating (s. from the part.) The act of making tolerable.
All'ness (s. from all) The state of containing all things.
Alloda'rius (s. in old records) The lord of a manor.
Allod'ed (p. from allod) Set on as a dog by allod.
Allod'ing (p. a. from allod) Setting on by allod.
Allon'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting crying allod.
Allot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of distributing.
Allow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of admitting.
Alloy' (v. i. from the sub.) To lower by mixing metal.
Alloy'ed (p. from alloy) Lowered in value by a mixture of baser metal.
Alloy'ing (p. a. from alloy) Lowering the value by a mixture of baser metal.
Alloy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lessening value by a mixture of baser metal.
Allot'ent (adj. from all, and potent) All powerful.
Allu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of referring to thing by way of allusion.
Al'um (s. a different spelling) The alum.
Allu'minating (s. from the part.) The act of embellishing.
Alumina'tor (s. in old records) A painter on parchment.
Allu'ring (s. from the part.) The act of enticing.
Ally'ed (p. from ally) Joined together in friendship.
Ally'ing (p. a. from ally) Joining together in friendship.
Ally'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining in or friendship.
AL'MA MA'TER (s.) One of the names of Ceres.
AL'MON (s.) A man's name.
AL'MON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
AL'MONDI'BLATHA'IM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
A'LOA (s.) An Athenian festival after harvest dedicated to Ceres and Bacchus.
ALOE'US (s. in the mythology of the poets) The Titan and Terra.

AMDES (s.) The name of two formidable giants who carried against Jupiter.
AMETHUS (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AMPHI/US (s.) A famous river of Arcadia supposed to run under ground into Sicily to the fountain of Arethusa.
AMPHIA (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.
AMINIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
AMINUS (s.) A man's name; a bombastic poet among the Latins.
AMINEL/IA (s. in botany) The sagina.
AMINIGIUM (s. in old records) Altarage.
AMINCHITH (s. from the Heb.) A title of several of the palms of David.
AMINING (s. from the part.) The act of varying.
AMINIA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Me-net.
AMINUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient king of Egypt.
AMINAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMINAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMINSH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AMINZA (s. in beathen mythology) The second in order the three principal divinities worshipped by the Egyptians.
AMIN (s. with the Mabometans) The son in law of Mamet, the head of a sect among the Turks.
AMIN (s.) A man's name; the father of Cræsus.
AMINOTHOE (s. in beathen mythology) A nymp, the daughter of Æacus by king Priam.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
AMIN (s. from the part.) The act or process of mixing metals with quicksilver.
AMIN (s.) One of the Sibyls; the goat which was supposed to have suckled Jupiter.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
AMINUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A person who after his death was said to have been transformed into the herb sweet marjoram.
AMIN (s. in botany) The amaranth.
AMIN (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
AMIN (s.) The name of a woman; the name of a country girl. Virgil.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s.) A man's name; an Egyptian king buried near the pyramids.
AMIN (s. from the part.) The act of heaping up.
AMIN (s. from the part.) The act of filling with a substance.
AMIN (s. from the adj.) An Amazon.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A solemn procession in honour of Ceres.
AMIN (s.) A kind of pear.
AMIN (s. from the part.) The act of moving on an amble.
AMIN (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Minos.
AMIN (s.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the part.) The act of making a thing.
AMIN (s. from the part.) The act of fining.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s.) A man's name; the father of Melampus.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMIN (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of the gods.
AMIN (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of the gods.
AMIN (s. from Ammon) A descendant of Ammon.
AMIN (s. from Ammonite) A woman descended from Ammon.
AMIN (s.) A man's name; the name of several places.
AMIN (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
AMIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AMIN (s. from the part.) Alienated to a corporate body.

Amortizing (s. from the part.) The act of alienating to a corporate body.
Amounting (p. a. from amount) Rising to, coming to.
Amounting (s. from the part.) The act or state of rising to.
AMPHI/ALUS (s.) A man's name; an excellent leaper.
AMPHIC/TYON (s.) A man's name; an Athenian famous for his interpretation of dreams.
AMPHI/OCHUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher and writer on husbandry; one who was worshipped in Attica as a god.
AMPHIM/EDON (s.) A man's name; a Libyan who was slain by Perseus.
AMPHI/OME (s.) The name of a nymph; the mother of Jason.
AMPHION (s. in the mythology of the poets) A son of Jupiter, a famous musician.
AMPHISTRATUS (s.) The name of a famous statuary.
AMPHITRITE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Nereus and Oceanus, the wife of Neptune.
AMPHITRYO (s.) A man's name; the husband of Alcmena the mother of Hercules.
Amplifying (s. from the part.) The act of enlarging.
Amputated (p. from amputate) Cut off as a limb.
Amputating (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off a limb.
Amramite (s. from Amram) A descendant of Amram.
AM/AMNAHARA/IM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AM/AMZO/BAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AMU/LIUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Numitor and uncle of Romulus.
Amusing (s. from the part.) The act of entertaining with trifles.
AMY/CUS (s.) A supposed son of Neptune who used to invite strangers into a wood under a pretence of shewing them seats of activity in order to destroy them.
AMYGDALÆ (s. in anatomy) The tonsils.
AMY/MOME (s.) A woman's name; one of the fifty daughters of Danaus.
AMYN/TAS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Macedonian kings.
AMYN/TOR (s.) A man's name.
AMYRIS (s.) A Sybarite who foreseeing the destruction of his country retired into the Peloponnesus.
AMYTH/AON (s.) A man's name; the father of Melampus.
AM/ZI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AM/NAB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Anabaptist (adj. from anabaptist) Belonging to the anabaptists, done after the manner of the anabaptists.
ANABLA/TUM (s. in botany) The squamaria.
ANACHAR/SIS (s.) A man's name; a Scythian philosopher cotemporary with Solon.
ANACREON (s.) A man's name; a loose poet of Samos.
ANACZE/LUS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
ANADEIA (s. in Grecian antiquity) The stool on which the defendant stood in the court of the Areopagus.
AN/NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ANAI/TIDES (s. in beathen mythology) A Babylonian deity.
ANAI/TIS (s. in beathen mythology) A goddess worshipped
 by the Armenians.
Analytic (v. t. an incorrect spelling) To analyze. Johns.
Analytic (v. in. an incorrect spelling) To analyze.
Analytic (p. from analise, a different spelling) Analyzed.
Analytic (p. a. from analise, a different spelling) Analyzing.
Analogizing (p. a. from analogize) Illustrating by analogy.
Analogizing (s. from the part.) The act of illustrating by analogy.
AN/AMIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AN/NAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AN/ANI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ANANI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Anapest (s. a different spelling) The anapest.
Anapestic (adj. from anapest) Anapestic.
Anapestic (s. from the adj.) The anapest, an anapestic verse.
AN/NATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Anathematizing (s. from the part.) The act of excom-municating.
AN/ATHOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man;
 the name of a place.
ANA/TIS (s. in beathen mythology) A goddess worshipped
 by the Armenians.
ANATO/LIA (s.) A part of Asia Minor.

ANG

Anat'omizing (s. from the part.) The act of dissecting an animal body.

ANAU'SIS (s.) A man's name; one of Medea's royal suitors.

A'NAX (s.) A man's name; a supposed son of Titan and Terra.

ANAXAG'ORAS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher of high birth.

ANAXAN'DRIDES (s.) A man's name; a comic poet of Rhodes.

ANAXAR'CHUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher of Abdera and follower of Democritus.

ANAXARETE (s.) The name of a woman; a hard hearted maid of Salamis who, as the poets say, was turned into a stone.

ANAXE'NOR (s.) A man's name; a favorite of Mark Antony.

ANAXIMAN'DER (s.) A man's name; a scholar to Thales.

ANAXIM'ENES (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Anaximander.

ANAXIPOLIS (s.) A man's name; a comic poet.

ANBLA'TUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

An'būry (s. in farriery) A kind of bloody wart.

ANCÆ'US (s.) A man's name; a king of the Samians, and supposed son of Neptune.

AN'CALITES (s. in old geography) The inhabitants of Henley in Oxfordshire.

ANCHA'RIOUS (s.) The God of the Jews so called by the heathen; the name of a man.

ANCH'SES (s.) A man's name; the father of Æneas.

An'chored (adj. in heraldry) Composed of anchors.

An'choring (s. from the part.) The act of casting anchor.

ANCHREE' (adj. in heraldry) Composed of anchors.

AN'CHURUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Midas, who being encouraged by the oracle plunged himself into a prodigious gulph which had been formed by an earthquake in order to have it closed. Plutarch.

An'cienster (adj. comp. of ancient) Ancient in a greater degree.

An'cientest (adj. sup. of ancient) Ancient in the greatest degree.

AN'CULI (s. in heathen mythology) The gods and goddesses who were supposed to preside over young people.

And (s. from the conj.) A hesitation, a doubt. "Is and ands." Dorncy.

And'ever (s. in the history of insects) The sphondyle. Pb.

ANDOCIDES (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator.

ANDEMON (s.) A man's name; the father of Thoas.

ANDRAM'YTES (s.) A man's name; a king of the Lydians.

ANDROBIUS (s.) A man's name; an excellent painter.

ANDROCLEA (s.) The name of a woman; one of the daughters of Antipæus who sacrificed herself for the good of her country.

ANDROCLIDES (s.) A man's name; a lame man of Lacedæmon, who being laughed at because he would go to the war, answered, "The army have need of such as would stay, not such as would run away."

ANDROCYDES (s.) A man's name; a physician who cautioned Alexander against drinking of wine.

ANDRODUS (s.) A man's name; a Dacian slave fawned on by a lion, in the circus, whose foot he had before healed in the woods.

ANDROGEOS (s.) A man's name; the son of Minos.

ANDROMACHE (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Hector.

ANDROMACHUS (s.) A man's name.

ANDRON (s.) A man's name; a noted physician of antiquity.

ANDROS'THENES (s.) A man's name; a geographer contemporary with Alexander.

ANDROTION (s.) A man's name; an Attic historian.

A'NEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

Anem'oneroot (s. from anemone, and root) The root of an anemone.

Aneth'othite (s. from Anethoth) An inhabitant of Anethoth.

Anex'tis (prep. obsolete) Before. Wickliffe.

An'gered (p. from anger) Provoked, made angry.

An'gering (p. a. from anger) Provoking, making angry.

An'gering (s. from the part.) The act of making angry.

ANGIOSPERMA (s. in botany, from the Greek ἀγγίον a vessel, and σπέρμα seed) A plant which produces the seed in a pod or vessel.

Angiospermous (adj. from angiosperma) Bearing seed in pods or vessels.

An'gledog (s. a local word) An earthworm.

AN'GLI (s. in old geography) The Angles.

Angling (adj. from angle) Used in angling.

ANT

An'grier (adj. comp. of angry) Angry in a greater degree.

An'griest (adj. sup. of angry) Angry in the greatest degree.

An'griness (s. from angry) The state of being angry.

A'NIAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

A'NIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a town.

Animadverting (s. from the part.) The act of criticizing on any thing.

An'imating (s. from the part.) The act of enlivening.

A'NIUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Delos and son of Apollo.

An'kre (s. obsolete) An anchor.

ANN (s.) The name of a woman.

AN'NA (s. in heathen mythology) The daughter of Jupiter worshipped by the Romans.

ANNAS (s.) A man's name.

Annealing (p. a. from anneal) Tempering in the fire.

Annexing (s. from the part.) The act of joining.

AN'NIBAL (s.) A man's name; a noted Carthaginian commander.

Anni'hilating (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to nothing.

AN'NIUS (s.) The name of several Romans.

Annoo'h (adv. obsolete) Soon. Wickliffe.

Announcing (s. from the part.) The act of making public declaration.

Annoy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of molesting.

ANNUEN'TES (s. in anatomy) A pair of muscles which serve to bring the head forward.

Annu'ling (s. from the part.) The act of making void.

An'ne (adv. an old spelling) Anon. New.

An'nering (s. from the part.) The act of giving answer.

ANTÆ'US (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Neptune and Terra, a giant of prodigious strength.

Ant'edat'ng (s. from the part.) The act of dating at the time.

ANTE'NOR (s.) A man's name, a Trojan nobleman.

ANTE'ROS (s. in heathen mythology) A god who was supposed to avenge slighted love.

ANTHER'MUS (s.) A man's name; a famous carver.

ANTHESTO'RIA (s. in antiquity) A festival in honor of Bacchus.

ANTHYLLIS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

Anticipated (p. from anticipate) Taken up before time.

Anticipating (s. from the part) The act of taking before the time.

ANTICO'NIS (s. in astronomy) The Lesser Dog, a constellation.

ANTI'DOTUS (s.) The name of a woman who was an excellent painter.

Ant'ient (adj. not so common a spelling) Ancient.

Ant'ienter (adj. comp. of antient) Antienter.

Ant'ientest (adj. sup. of antient) Antientest.

ANTI'GENES (s.) A man's name; the name of a philosopher.

ANTIGENIDES (s.) A man's name; an excellent musician.

ANTIG'ONE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Oedipus.

ANTIG'ONUS (s.) The name of several great kings.

ANTI'LOCHUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Menelaus.

ANTIM'ACHUS (s.) A man's name; a Trojan who visited against the restoring of Helen.

ANTIMINIST'ERIAL (adj. from the Lat. anti and ministro to minister) Averse to the ministry, ministration, opposing the ministry.

ANTIN'OUS (s.) A man's name; one of the emperors.

ANTI'OPPA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Lycus king of Thebes.

ANTIP'ATER (s.) A man's name; one of the Athenian captains.

ANTI'PATES (s.) A man's name.

ANTIP'ATRIS (s.) A man's name; the base of the pedon.

ANTIPI'ILUS (s.) A man's name; an excellent rival of Apelles.

ANTIPHON (s.) A man's name; an excellent orator.

ANTI'PÉDOBAPTIST (s. from the Greek ἀντί, a child, and βάπτισμα to baptize) A man who is against the baptism of infants.

ANTIPOE'NUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Clea.

Antiquating (p. a. from antiquate) Making old.

Antipain'oidic (s. from the adj.) A medicine against the cramp.

ANTIS'THENES (s.) A man's name; a philosopher and rhetorician of Rhodes.

APP

TONIA (s.) The name of a woman.
TONINUS (s.) A man's name.
TOTH/JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
TOTHITE (s. from the Heb.) An inhabitant of a certain town or district in the land of Israel.
TUB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
TUBIS (s. in heathen mythology) An Egyptian idol with a dog's head.
TURUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter depicted without a head.
TUTUS (s.) A man's name; one of the three accusers of Socrates. Hicks.
TYRED (p. obsolete) Impaired, corrupted.
TYRNDES (s. in heathen mythology) The Muses.
UL/LA (s.) The name of a famous Jew.
UL/LES (s.) A man's name; an excellent painter.
UNOSED (adj. from ape, and nose) Having a nose like an ape, flat nosed.
UR/EA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.
URSATH/KITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Exra.
URSITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Exra.
UR/KAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
UR/TOR (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
UR/HAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/IK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
UR/RATH (s. from the Heb. signifying) Dust. Mich.
UR/RODITE (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Venus.
UR/SES (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/THONIUS (s.) A man's name; a Greek sophist.
UR/HUA (s. in ichthyology) A species of gobioid.
UR/YA (s. a different spelling) The aphun. D. of A.
UR/CIUS (s.) A man's name; a notorious epicure andutton.
UR/DON (s.) A man's name; a noted grammarian.
UR/STRÆ (s. in naval architecture) An ornament resembling a shield in the poop of a ship.
UR/ALYP/TIC (adj. from apocalypse) Belonging to revelation, apocalyptic.
UR/LOD/ORUS (s.) A man's name; a famous grammarian at Athens.
UR/LOPH/ANES (s.) A man's name; a stoic philosopher; a noted physician.
UR/LOGIZING (s. from the part.) The act of making an apology.
UR/ROPH/IZED (p. from apostrophize) Addressed by an apostrophe; marked with an apostrophe.
UR/ROPH/IZING (s. from the part.) The act of addressing by an apostrophe, the act of contracting by an apostrophe.
UR/PAIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/PALLING (p. a. from appal) Affrighting, striking with sudden fear.
UR/PALLING (s. from the part.) The act of striking with sudden fear.
UR/PARELING (s. from the part.) The act of putting on apparel.
UR/PAREN/TIA (s. in old records) An appearance.
UR/PEALING (s. from the part.) The act of referring to others.
UR/PEALING (s. from the part.) The act of pacifying.
UR/PEL/LUM (s. in old records) An appeal.
UR/PENDITIA (s. in old records) Appendages.
UR/PETIT/LOST (s. from appetite, and lost) A disease incident to cattle. Diët. Rusl.
UR/PADES (s. in heathen mythology) Venus and Pallas called because they had temples near the Appian way.
UR/PAN (adj. from Appia via) Belonging to the Appia via.
UR/PIAS (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Venus.
UR/PIA VIA (s. from the Lat. Appius a man's name, and via a way) A road from Rome to Brundisium 60 miles in length, and paved all the way.
UR/PIUS (s.) A man's name; the emperor Claudius who saved the Appian way.
UR/PRAUDING (s. from the part.) The act of praising.
UR/PRYLING (s. from the part.) The act of making application, the act of putting to.
UR/ROUNTING (s. from the part.) The act of determining.
UR/ROUNAMEN/TUM (s. in old records) A division with all proportions.
UR/ROUNTING (s. from the part.) The act of dealing out shares.
UR/RAING (s. from the part.) The act of setting a price.
UR/RECIATE (v. t. now grown obsolete, from the Lat. to, and pretium a price) To value, to put a price on.

ARE

UR/REHENDING (s. from the part.) The act of taking up; the act of conceiving.
UR/REN/TICED (p. from apprentice) Put out as an apprentice.
UR/RENTICIAMEN/TUM (s. in old records) An apprenticeship.
UR/REN/TICING (p. a. from apprentice) Putting out as an apprentice.
UR/REN/TICING (s. from the part.) The act of putting out as an apprentice.
UR/RENTICIUS (s. in old records) An apprentice.
UR/REACH (v. t.) To draw near to.
UR/REACHABLE (adj. from approach) Capable of being approached.
UR/REACH/ED (p. from approach) Drawn near to.
UR/REACH/ING (s. from the part.) The act of drawing near to.
UR/REAP/RIATING (s. from the part.) The act of setting a part to some particular use.
UR/REAP/RYING (s. from the part.) The act of expressing approbation.
UR/REAP/AMEN/TUM (s. in old records) An approbation.
UR/REAP/ATOR (s. in old records) An approver.
UR/REAP/COCK WINE (s. from apricock, and wine) A kind of made wine.
UR/REAP/LICUS (s.) The name of several Romans.
UR/REAP/QUADUCT (s. not so common a spelling) An aqueduct. Sc.
UR/REAP/RA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/REAP/RAB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
UR/REAP/ABUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Apollo.
UR/REAP/ACH/NE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of a woman skilled in spinning and weaving, supposed to have been transformed into a spider.
UR/REAP/RAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/REAP/RADITE (s. from Arad) A descendant of Arad.
UR/REAP/RAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/REAP/RALIA (s. in old records) Ploughed land.
UR/REAP/RAMITE (s. from Aram) A descendant of Aram.
UR/REAP/RAMITESS (s. from Aramite) A woman descendant of Aram.
UR/REAP/RAT/ZA (s. in old records) Ploughing.
UR/REAP/RAT/FUS (s.) A man's name; an astrologer and poet.
UR/REAP/RAYING (s. from the part.) The act of dressing.
UR/REAP/BAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city, Hebron.
UR/REAP/BATHITE (s. from Arba) A descendant of Arba.
UR/REAP/BITE (s. from the Heb.) One of the inhabitants of a certain district or town in the land of Israel.
UR/REAP/TRATED (p. from arbitrate) Decided by an arbitrator.
UR/REAP/TRATING (p. a. from arbitrate) Deciding as an arbitrator.
UR/REAP/TRATING (s. from the part.) The act of deciding as an arbitrator.
UR/REAP/CA/DIA (s. in geography) An inland country of the Peloponnesus famous for shepherds and horsemen.
UR/REAP/CA/DIAN (adj. from Arcadia) Belonging to Arcadia.
UR/REAP/CA/DIAN (s. from the adj.) A native of Arcadia.
UR/REAP/CAS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Jupiter by Calisto, transformed into the constellation of the Lesser Bear.
UR/REAP/CE/SILAUS (s.) A man's name; an acute but not dogmatical philosopher.
UR/REAP/CE/SIUS (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Jupiter and father of Laertes.
UR/REAP/CH/EVITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Exra.
UR/REAP/CHI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
UR/REAP/CH/IAS (s.) A man's name; a poet of Antioch.
UR/REAP/CHID/AMUS (s.) A man's name; a Spartan king.
UR/REAP/CHIL/OCHUS (s.) A man's name; a poet who is said to have been the inventor of iambic verse.
UR/REAP/CHIM/EDDES (s.) A man's name; a famous geometrician.
UR/REAP/CHING (p. a. from arch) Turning an arch; turning like an arch.
UR/REAP/CHING (s. from the part.) The act of turning an arch.
UR/REAP/CHITE (s. from Archi) An inhabitant of Archi.
UR/REAP/CHYTOS (s.) A man's name; a famous philosopher the master of Plato.
UR/REAP/DICES (s.) A man's name; a painter of antiquity.
UR/REAP/DITE (s. from Ard) A descendant of Ard.
UR/REAP/DON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
UR/REAP/LITE (s. from Areli) A descendant of Areli.
UR/REAP/LIUS (s.) A man's name; a painter who depicted his mistresses as so many goddesses.
UR/REAP/SION (s. in the mythology of the ancients) The name of a woman who was supposed to have been transformed into a man.

ARE/TE

ARK

ARE/TE (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Alcinoüs.

ARETHU/SA (s.) The daughter of Nereus; one of Diana's nymphs, supposed to have been transformed into a fountain; the name of a fountain.

ARE/US (s.) A man's name; a great favourite of Augustus.

ARGÆ/US (s.) The supposed son of Apollo, a companion of Hercules.

ARGANTHON/US (s.) A man's name who lived 150 years. Pliny.

ARGENTI/NUS (s. in beaten mythology) A god of wealth.

AR/GIA (s.) A woman's name; a priestess of Juno.

ARGI/VA (s. in beaten mythology) A name of Juno.

Arguing (s. from the part.) The act of disputing by argument.

ARIAD/NE (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Minos, who fell in love with Theseus, and deserted by him was supposed to have been placed among the stars and made a constellation.

ARIARATHES (s.) The name of several kings of Cappadocia.

ARIDE/US (s.) A man's name; the natural son of Philip king of Macedon and successor to Alexander.

AR/IOAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ARIDA/THA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

AR/VEH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Arriated (p. from arriate) Battered with a ram.

Arriating (p. a. from arriate) Battering with a ram, battering.

Arimas/pi (s. from Arimaspi) The Arimaspians, a people who dwell near the banks of the Arimaspi, and were supposed to have had but one eye.

Arimaspien (adj. from Arimaspi) Belonging to the Arimaspi.

Arimaspien (s. from the adj.) One of the Arimaspi supposed to have had but one eye.

ARIMAS/PUS (s. in ancient geography) The name of a river in Scythia supposed to abound with gold sand. Pliny.

ARIMAZ/ES (s.) A man's name; a haughty Indian king put to death by Alexander.

ARIOBARZANES (s.) A man's name; a king of Cappadocia, an ally of the Romans.

ARI/ON (s.) A man's name; a musician and lyric poet of Lesbos.

AR/ISAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ARISTÆ/US (s.) A man's name; a famous writer of antiquity; a rural deity.

ARISTÆ/US (s.) The supposed son of Apollo, who is said to have found out the use of honey.

ARISTAN/DER (s.) A man's name; a writer on prodigies.

ARIS/TATE (s.) The daughter of Nearchus an excellent painter.

ARISTI/DES (s.) A man's name; a noble Athenian surname the Just.

ARISTIP/PUS (s.) A man's name; a noted philosopher contemporary with Socrates.

ARISTO (s.) A man's name; the name of several philosophers; a noted carver. Pliny.

ARISTO/CRION (s.) A man's name; a noted geographer. Pliny.

ARISTOC/RITUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient author. Pliny.

ARISTODE/MUS (s.) A man's name; the tutor to Pompey's children.

ARISTO/GITON (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator.

ARIS/POLAUS (s.) A man's name; a curious painter. Pliny.

ARISTO/LIMUS (s.) A man's name; a tyrant of Elis.

ARISTOM/ACHUS (s.) A man's name; a great admirer of bees.

ARISTOM/ENES (s.) A man's name; one of Darius's sea commanders.

ARISTON/ICUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Eumenes.

ARISTON/IDAS (s.) A man's name; a statuary. Pliny.

ARISTON/IDUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter. Pliny.

ARISTON/US (s.) A man's name; one of Alexander's commanders.

ARISTOP/HANES (s.) A man's name; a famous comic poet.

ARIS/TOR (s.) A man's name; the father of Argus.

ARISTO/RIDES (s.) Argus, the son of Aristor.

ARISTOX/ENUS (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Aristotle.

ARKITE (s. from the Heb.) A descendant of Canaan, a people descended from Canaan.

ASC

ARMILUS/TRIUM (s. from the Lat.) A festival among the Romans when they reviewed the army.

Arm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking arms that with which any thing is armed.

ARMIN/IUS (s.) A man's name; a warlike and successful commander of the Germans.

ARMO/NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

AR/NA (s.) A woman's name; a princess of Athens said to have been transformed into an owl.

Arna'dia (s. in old records) The alopecia.

ARNO/BITUS (s.) A man's name; an African rhetorician.

AR/OD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ARODI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Ar'odite (s. from Arod) A descendant of Arod.

Aro'erite (s. from Aroer) An inhabitant of Aroer.

Arp'eh (s. an old word) An acre of land.

Arriamen'tum (s. in old records) The impaneling of jury.

Arriat'ors (s. in old records) The commissioners of arraigning.

Arriaign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of accusing.

Arrang'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in proper order.

Array'ing (p. a. from array) Arraying, dressing.

Array'in (s. from the part.) The act of dressing.

Arre'age (s. an old word) The remainder of money paid in due time.

Arres'ting (p. a. from arrest) Seizing for debt, taking into custody.

Arres'ting (s. from the part.) The act of seizing a person for debt; the act of taking into custody.

AR/RIA (s.) The name of a woman; a Roman matron whose husband being condemned plunged a dagger into her own breast and gave it to him to follow example.

ARRIA/NUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman poet.

Arri'strum (s. in old records) An arrest.

Arri'ving (s. from the part.) The act of coming to place.

AR/ROBAS (s. in commerce) A foreign weight from forty pounds.

Ar'rogating (s. from the part.) The act of taking much on one's self.

Arru'ra (s. in old records) Ploughing.

ARSA/CES (s.) A man's name; a king of Parthia.

ARSIN/OE (s.) The name of a woman; the sister of Cepatra.

ARTABA/NUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Darius.

ARTEMID/ORUS (s.) A man's name; a teacher of Greek at Rome.

AR/TEMIS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Diana.

ARTEMISIA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Mausolus who raised a most superb sepulchral monument to the memory of her husband.

AR/TEMON (s.) A man's name; he is said to have invented the battering ram.

ARTHRO/NIA (s. from the Greek arthron a joint) A species of animalcules with visible limbs.

Ar'ticling (p. a. from article) Entering into article agreement.

Ar'ticling (s. from the part.) The act of entering articles of agreement.

Artic'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of pronouncing with distinctness, the act of forming distinct parts.

Art'lessness (s. from artless) The state or quality of artless.

AR/VAD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

Ar'vadite (s. from Arvad) An inhabitant of Arvad people descended from Canaan.

ARVIR/AGUS (s.) A man's name; a British king in reign of Domitian.

ARU/BOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

ARU/MAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

ARUS/PEX (s. from the Lat.) A kind of priest, one was to inspect the entrails of the beast slain in sacrifice.

AR/ZA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

AS (s. from the Lat.) The Roman pound.

ASÆ/LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

AS/AREEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ASARI/NA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

ASA/RUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the bacca.

ASBES/TUS (s. a different spelling) The asbestos.

AS/BOLUS (s.) One of Aclazon's dogs.

ASCAL/APHUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Aclazon who the poets say was turned into an owl.

ASCA/NIUS (s.) A man's name; the supposed ancestor of the ending (s. from the part.) The act of rising upwards.

ASS

A T A

CLEPIA (s.) A festival in honour of Æsculapius.
CLEP/IADES (s.) A man's name; a rhetorician and physician.
CLEPIAD/ORUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter.
CLEPIAS (s. in botany) The vincetoxicum.
CLETARION (s.) A man's name; a famous mathe-matician.
CO/LIA (s.) A feast at Athens in honour of Bacchus.
CO/NIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Cribbing (s. from the part.) The act of attributing.
CRUBAL (s.) A man's name; the name of several notorious Carthaginians.
CUL/LI (s. in astronomy) Two small stars in Cancer intercepted by the prætepe.
CUL/LIO (s.) A man's name; a Roman tribune and historian.
HAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HEA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEBEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hebelle (s. from Athbel) A descendant of Athbel.
Hebelle (s. from Ahdod) An inhabitant of Ahdod.
Hebelle (s. from Ahdod) An inhabitant of Ahd-
Jesh.
Hebelle (s. from Ahdod) The descendants of Ahdod.
HEBILON (s. a different spelling) Askalon.
HEMOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
HEH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
HEHEZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEVEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a Gen.
Hebelle (s. from Ahdod) An inhabitant of Ahd-
Jesh.
HEVATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEVITE (s. from Ahdod) A descendant of Ahdod.
He (s. from the Heb.) A native of Asia.
HE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEAS (s.) A man's name; a skilful toothfayer and war in the army of Æneas.
HEUS (s. in ornithology) The luteola.
HEUS (s. in the history of insects) The waspfly.
HEUS (s. in zoology and ichthyology) The als; the dock.
HEUS (s.) The prænomens of several Romans.
HEUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Hecuba.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of enquiring, the publishing bans of matrimony.
HEUS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEUS (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Heus.
HEUS (s.) A man's name; the grandfather of Heus.
HEUS (s.) The name of a woman; a woman of accomplishments cotemporary with Cyrus.
HEUS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEUS (s.) A man's name; a musician who beat his harp so lightly as not to be heard by any but himself.
HEUS (s.) A Turkish coin of about five farthings in value.
HEUS (p. a. from asperate) Making sharp.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of calumniating.
HEUS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Neptune.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of rising with ambition.
HEUS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HEUS (s. from Alriel) A descendant of Alriel.
HEUS (s. in old records) The examination of weights.
HEUS (p. from asail) Attacked.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of attacking.
HEUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Troas.
HEUS (s.) The twentieth part of the denarius.
HEUS (p. a. from aspart) Plucking up, clearing wood.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of clearing lands of wood.
HEUS (s. in old records) Woodland fitted for tillage.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of murdering in the manner of an assassin.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of attacking with violence.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of making trial of examining metal.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of meeting together.
HEUS (s. from the part.) The act of consenting.

Affert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of affirming.
Affes'ing (s. from the part.) The act of charging at a certain proportion.
Affev'crated (p. from asseverate) Affirmed in a solemn manner.
Affev'crating (p. a. from asseverate) Affirming in a solemn manner.
Affev'crating (s. from the part.) The act of affirming in a solemn manner.
Affev'crated (p. from assever) Affirmed in the most solemn manner.
Affev'cring (p. a. from assever) Affirming in a solemn manner.
Affev'cring (s. from the part.) The act of affirming in a solemn manner.
ASSI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Assign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of appointing.
Assim'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of transform-
ing.
Assim'ulated (p. from assimilate) Assimilated.
Assim'ulating (p. a. from assimilate) Assimilating.
Assim'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of assimilating.
Assi'la (s. in old records) An assize.
Assi'stors (s. in old records) The keepers of assize, assessor.
Assist'ing (s. from the part.) The act of helping.
Associating (s. from the part.) The act of joining in society.
Assol'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discharging from excommunication.
Assort'ed (p. from assort) Put into proper classes.
Assort'ing (p. a. from assort) Putting into proper sorts.
Assort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into proper sorts.
Assu'ging (s. from the part.) The act of mitigating.
Assu'ming (s. from the part.) The act of taking too much to one's self.
Assur'ance (s. in old records) Assurance.
Assu'ring (p. a. from assure) Giving assurance.
Assu'ring (s. from the part.) The act of giving assurance.
AS/SY (s. in familiar style) A woman's name; Alice.
ASTAR/TE (s. in pagan mythology) A goddess of the Sidonians, Asteroth.
ASTER/IA (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Cæon, and mother of Hercules.
ASTER/IAN (s.) A man's name; one of Jason's companions.
Astom'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of filling with astonishment.
ASTAR/IA (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess of justice, the last of the celestial deities who fled from earth to heaven.
ASTRÆ/US (s.) A man's name; a king of Arcadia, the father of Astræa.
ASTRAPÆ/US (s.) One of the poetical names of Jupiter.
Astric'ing (p. a. from astrict) Bracing up, contracting.
Astric'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bracing up.
Astric'ed (p. from astringe) To bind up, to brace up.
Astric'ing (p. a. from astringe) Bracing up.
Astric'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bracing up.
Astric'izing (p. a. from astrologize) Acting the part of an astrologer.
Astric'izing (s. from the part.) The act of playing the astrologer.
ASTUR (s.) A man's name; an ally of Æneas.
ASTYAGES (s.) A man's name; the last king of the Medes.
ASTYANAX (s.) A man's name; the son of Hector.
ASTYDAMUS (s.) A man's name; a tragic poet of Athens.
ASTYLUS (s.) The name of a Centaur.
ASTYPY/LIA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Phoenix.
ASUPPIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ASY/LAS (s.) A man's name; a toothfayer.
ATAB/IRUS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter; the highest mountain in the island of Rhodes.
ATAHAU/TA (s. in pagan mythology) The third in order of the three principal deities worshipped by the native Americans.
ATALANTA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Hippomenes, who, as the poets affirm, were both transformed into lions.
AT'ARAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AT'AROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AT'AROTHAD'DER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ATAS (s.) The name of a boy who ran 75 miles in half a day.
ATE

ATT

A'TE (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess of revenge.
ATER/GATIS (s.) A monstrous idol, half woman, and half fish.
A'THACH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ATHAL'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ATHALI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name. r. Chro.
ATH/AMAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Æolus and king of Thessaly.
ATH'ELSTAN (s. from the Sax.) A man's name.
ATHENÆ/US (s.) A man's name; a philosopher in the time of Augustus.
ATHENAG/O'US (s.) A man's name; one of Darius's commanders.
ATHE'NION (s.) A man's name; an excellent painter.
ATHENOD/ORUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher of Tarsus tutor to Tiberius Cæsar.
ATHERI'NA (s. in ichthyology) The name of a small fish, the heptopus.
ATH LAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ATH/RACIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Athrax.
ATH/RAX (s.) A man's name; a king of Thessaly.
A'tia (s. in old records) Ill will, hatred.
ATLANTI/ADES (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Mercury.
A'TLAS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The brother of Prometheus supposed to have been turned into a mountain at the sight of the Gorgon's head.
At'oned (p. from atone) Expiated; with for: at, "No sin could be atoned for without blood."
At'oning (s. from the part.) The act of atonement.
AT'REUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Pelops who is said to have dressed up the adulterine children of his wife for the entertainment of his brother who had defiled his bed.
ATRI'DES (s.) A man's name; the son of Atreus.
AT'ROPOS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of one of the Fates, she is supposed to cut the thread of life.
AT'ROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AT'TA (s.) A man's name; a comic poet.
Attach'men'tum (s. in old records) An attachment.
Attach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seizing.
Attack'ing (s. from the part.) The act of assaulting with hostile intention.
AT'TAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Attain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of procuring, the act of obtaining.
Attain'ting (p. a. from attain) Finding guilty; tainting, corrupting.
Attain'ting (s. from the part.) The act of finding guilty.
AT'TALUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several kings of Pergamus.
Attam'inated (p. from attaminate) Corrupted, spoiled.
Attam'inating (p. a. from attaminate) Corrupting, spoiling.
Attam'inating (s. from the part.) The act of corrupting.
AT'TEIUS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian rhetorician and grammarian who was made free of Rome.
Attelamen'tum (s. in old records) The rigging of a ship.
Attem'pering (s. from the part.) The act of mixing.
Attempt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making an attempt.
Attend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of regarding with attention.
Atten'uating (s. from the part.) The act of making thin.
At'tercop (s. in the history of insects) The spider. Urry.
Attest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of testifying as a witness.
AT'THAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AT'THIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Pandion used by Martial for a nightingale.
AT'TICA (s.) A country of the ancient Greece.
Att'icizing (p. a. from Atticize) Using Atticisms.
AT'TICUS (s.) A man's name; an intimate friend of Cicero.
Attin'du'ra (s. in old records) An attainder.
Attir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing.
Attornamen'tum (s. in old records) An attournment.
Attorna'tus (s. in old records) An attorney.
Attourn'ed (p. from attourn) Transferred to a new lord.
Attourn'ing (p. a. from attourn) Transferring the homage to a new lord.
Attourn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of transferring homage to a new lord.

AUT

Attract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing by enticements or charms.
Attributing (s. from the part.) The act of ascribing.
Attu'ning (s. from the part.) The act of putting into tune.
A/TYS (s.) A man's name; a beautiful youth, who, the poets affirm, was transformed into a pine.
A'VA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Kings.
Avail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking an advantage.
Au'diting (s. from the part.) The act of settling an account.
Aveng'ing (s. from the part.) The act of revenging.
AVEN'TINE (s. from the Lat. Aventinus) One of the hills on which Rome is built.
Aven'tine (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to one of the hills on which Rome is built.
Aventu'ra (s. in old records) An adventure.
Aventurine (s. a different spelling) The venturine. D. of A.
Ave'ra (s. in old records) A day's work at plough.
Avera'gium (s. in old records) An average.
Ave'ria (s. in old records) The cattle in a man's own possession.
Aver'ing (s. from the part.) The act of affirming.
Averun'cated (p. from averuncate) Rooted up.
Averun'cating (p. a. from averuncate) Rooting up.
Averun'cating (s. from the part.) The act of rooting up.
AVERUN/CUS (s. in heathen mythology) A god among the Romans who was supposed to have power to avert evil.
Avert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning away.
AUFID'IUS (s.) A man's name; a noble historian.
AU'GA, AU'GES (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Telephus.
Au'gean (adj. from Augeas) Belonging to Augeas.
AU'GEAS (s.) A man's name; a king of Elis who is said to have been the first who found out the use of dung in manuring land; he had a stable which he three thousand oxen and which had not been emptied of the dung for thirty years, but Hercules is said to have cleaned it in one night.
Augment'ing (s. from the part.) The act of increasing.
Augurating (s. from the part.) The act of practising augury.
Au'gurizing (p. a. from augurize) Praising augury.
Au'gurizing (s. from the part.) The practice of augury.
AUGUS'TA (s.) A woman's name; the title given to the wives of the Roman emperors.
AVID'IENUS (s.) A man's name; a sordid worthless fellow in Horace.
A'VIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
A'VIMS (s. from the Heb.) The ancient inhabitants of Hazerim.
A'VITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people.
A'VITH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
AUK (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the alca.
AULES'TES (s.) A man's name; a Tyrrhene king.
AUL/OCRENE (s.) A hill and spring in Phrygia, in which the river Meander takes its rise.
AUME (s.) A measure containing about forty gallons.
Aun'gel (s. an old spelling) An angel.
Avoid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shunning.
Avouch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of affirming.
Avowing (s. from the part.) The act of owning.
AU'REA (s.) One of the names of Fortune.
AURE/LIA (s.) A woman's name; the name of several Roman ladies.
AURE/LIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
AU'RESMARI'NÆ (s. in natural history) The earliest of the halcyons.
Au'ricleweight (s.) Ansel weight.
AURIC/ULA (s. in anatomy) The ear.
AU'RISMARI'NA (s. in natural history) The earliest of the halcyons.
AU'SON (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Ulysses and Calypso.
Au'sones (s. from Ausonia) The inhabitants of Ausonia.
AUSO'NIA (s. in ancient geography) Latium, Italy.
Au'sonian (adj. from Ausonia) Belonging to Ausonia, or to Latium.
Au'sonian (s. from the adj.) A native of Ausonia.
Auth'orise (v. t. a different spelling) To authorize.
Auth'orised (p. from authorize) Authorized.
Auth'orising (p. a. from authorize) Authorizing.
Auth'orising (s. from the part.) The act of authorizing.
Auth'orizing (s. from the part.) The act of rendering authentic, the act of establishing by authority.
AUTOL/YCHUS (s.) A man's name; the supposed thief of Mercury, famous for thefts about Parnassus.

B A G

AUTOMATIA (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess of chance.
AUTOMEDON (s.) A man's name, charioteer of Achilles.
AUTO'NOE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Cadmus.
AUTUM'NA (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess of fruits.
Awake'r (s. from awake) One that wakes. L. Russel.
Awake'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising from sleep.
Aw'ing (p. a. from awe) Striking with reverence.
Aw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of striking with reverence.
Awns (s. a different spelling) Anes, the spires of bearded corn.
Aw'vith (adj. a local word) Queer, comical.
Ax (v. t. obsolete) To ask. Wickliffe.
A'ZAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
A'ZAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AZALI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
A'ZAN (s.) A mountain of Arcadia, sacred to Cybele the mother of the gods.
AZANI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
A'ZAPH (s. a different spelling) Afaph, a man's name.
AZAR'ALEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZ'AREEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZARI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZBAK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Aze'n, Aze'nst (adv. obsolete) Again. Sir J. Maud.
AZER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZIEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZIZA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZMA'VETH, AZME'VETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZMON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
A'ZOR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZRI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZRI'KAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZUBAK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
AZZAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AZAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AZUR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

B.

BAAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a place.
BA'ALATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
BA'ALATHBEER (s. from the Heb.) the name of a place. 2 Sam.
BA'ALE (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Sam.
BA'ALITE (s. from Baal) A worshipper of Baal.
BA'ALHANAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name. Gen.
BA'ALHAZOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Sam.
BA'ANA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BA'ARA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
BAASP'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BA (s. in familiar style) A man's name, Baptist; a woman's name, Barbara.
bab'bling (s. from the part.) The act of talking much to little purpose.
BABILI'US (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
AB'ILUS (s.) A man's name; an astrologer cotemporary with Nero.
babylonian (s. from the adj.) A native of Babylon.
ba'ea (s. in old records) A bay in building.
BAC'CHE (s. from Bacchus) Women sacrificing to Bacchus.
BAC'CHIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous sword player.
bach'rite (s. from Becher) A descendant of Becher.
ba'ina (s. in old records) A basin.
back'biting (s. from the part.) The act of reproaching a person behind his back.
back'ing (s. from the part.) The act of training a horse; the act of seconding another.
back'worm (s.) A disease among horses.
badger'hunting (s. from badger, and hunting) The diversion of hunting the badger.
AD'INAGE (s. from the French) A kind of silly play; a kind of frolic. bag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in bags; the stuff of which bags are made.

B A R

BAJ/AZET (s.) A man's name; an emperor of the Turks, who was subdued by Tamerlane.
Bail'ed (p. from bail) admitted to bail.
Bail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing water by hand out of a ship or boat.
Bail'ing (p. a. from bail) Admitting to bail.
Bail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving bail.
Bail'wick (s. a different spelling) A bailiwick. Johnson.
Bait'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a bait.
BAKEBAK'KAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BAK'BUK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BAKBUKI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ba'king (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in an oven, the act of hardening by fire.
BAL'ACRUS (s.) A man's name; a commander of auxiliary forces in the army of Alexander.
BAL'ADAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BA'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Bal'ancing (s. from the part.) The act of making even.
BALIL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a prefect in Egypt under Nero.
BALEA'RES (s. in old geography) The name of two islands in the Mediterranean, the inhabitants of which were famous for the use of the sling.
Balea'ric (adj. from Balears) Belonging to the Balears. Ainsworth.
Ba'led (p. from bale) Put up in a bale.
Bal'ing (p. a. from bale) Putting up in a bale.
Bal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in a bale.
Balk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disappointing.
Bal'lasted (p. from ballast) Furnished with ballast.
Bal'lasting (p. a. from ballast) Furnishing with ballast.
Bal'lasting (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with ballast.
BAL'LIO (s.) A woman's name; the name of a notorious prostitute.
Bal'lotted (p. from ballot) Determined by ballot.
Bal'loting (p. a. from ballot) Determining by ballot.
Bal'loting (s. from the part.) The act of determining by ballot.
Balm'gentle (s. in botany) A kind of balm.
Balt'ic (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the Baltic.
BAMBA'LIO (s.) A man's name; the father of the wife of Mark Antony.
Bambooz'led (p. a droll word, from bamboozle) Imposed upon, cheated.
Bambooz'ling (p. a. from bamboozle) Imposing upon, cheating.
Bambooz'ling (s. from the part.) The act of imposing upon; the act of cheating.
BA'MOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
BA'MOTHBAAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Band'ing (p. a. from band) Binding with a band.
Band'ing (s. from the part.) The act of binding with a band.
BAN'DORA (s. from the Italian) The bandore, a musical instrument resembling a lute.
Band'yng (s. from the part.) The act of agitating.
Ban'cherry (s. in botany) The herb christopher.
Bang'ing (p. a. from bang) Beating.
Bang'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating.
BA'NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ba'ning (p. a. from bane) Poisoning.
Ba'ning (s. from the part.) The act of poisoning.
Ban'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of sending into exile.
Ban'ker (s. at basst) The person that deals the cards.
Bank'fence (s. from bank and fence) A fence made of earth thrown up.
Bank'ing (p. a. from bank) Making a bank.
Bank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing up a bank.
Ban'queting (s. from the part.) The act of feasting.
Ban'stickle (s. a different spelling) The bansticle. Phillips.
Ban'tering (s. from the part.) The act of ridiculing.
BAP'TA (s. in pagan mythology) the goddess of uncleanness.
BAP'TÆ (s.) The priests who assisted at the festival of Cotyto.
BAP'TIST (s.) A man's name.
Baptiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of administering baptism.
BARACHI'A (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Bar'becuing (p. a. from barbecue) dressing whole as a pig.
Bar'becuing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing whole.

BAT

- Barb'ed (p. from barb) Shaved, dressed about the head.
- Bar'bering (p. a. from barber) Dressing up about the head; shaving the face.
- Bar'bering (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up the head; the act of shaving the face.
- BAR'BES (s.) A disease of the mouth incident to cattle.
- Barb'ing (p. a. from barb) Shaving, dressing about the head; furnishing with a beard.
- Barb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shaving; the act of dressing up the head; the act of furnishing with a beard.
- BARBO'TA (s. in pagan mythology) One of the names of Venus; one of the names of Fortune.
- Bar'rer (adj. comp. of bare) Bare in a greater degree.
- Bar'rest (adj. sup. of bare) Bare in the greatest degree.
- Bar'gaining (s. from the part.) The act of making a bargain.
- BAR'HUMITE (s. from the Heb.) The inhabitants of a particular place or district. z Sam.
- BAR'IAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Bar'ring (s. from the part.) The act of making bare.
- Bar'iron (s. from bar and iron) Iron in bars.
- Bark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping trees of the bark.
- BAR'KOS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Barn (s. a local word) A child.
- BAR'RACOL (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
- BAR'RAS (s. in commerce) The juice of the pine of which pitch is made. Scott.
- Bar'relling (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in barrels.
- Bar'rener (adj. comp. of barren) Barren in a greater degree.
- Bar'renest (adj. sup. of barren) Barren in the greatest degree.
- Barricad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fortifying in haste.
- Barricad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of barricading.
- Bar'ring (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a bar, the method of stopping a humour by taking up a vein.
- BAR'SINE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Alexander.
- Bar'stel (s. from bar and steel) Steel in bars.
- Bar'tering (s. from the part.) The act of trafficking by way of barter.
- BAR'YTONE (s. from the Greek βαρυς, heavy, and the Lat. tono, to sound) A grave sound; a word or syllable pronounced with a grave tone.
- BA'SAN (s. from the Heb.) Bashan, the name of a place.
- Ba'saracket (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
- BASIL'IA (s. in old geography) The ancient Scandinavia.
- BASIL'ICUM (s. in pharmacy) The basilicon, a kind of salve.
- BAS'ILIS (s.) A man's name; an Indian historian and geographer.
- BAS'ILUS (s.) A man's name; a commander who assisted Mark Antony.
- Bask'ing (s. from the part) The act of lying at length to receive the heat of the sun or fire.
- BAS'LITH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- BAS'MATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
- BASSAR'IDES (s.) The nymphs of Bacchus.
- BAS'SARIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) Agave; any one of the Bacchæ.
- BAS'SARUS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
- BASSIA'NUS (s.) A man's name; the eldest son of Severus.
- BAS'SUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several illustrious Romans.
- Baste (v. t. at quadrille) To beat the adversary without suffering him to win five tricks.
- Basted (p. from baste, at quadrille) Beaten without getting five tricks.
- Ba'sting (p. a. from baste, at quadrille) Beating the adversary without suffering him to get five tricks.
- Ba'sting (s. from the part, at quadrille) The act of beating the adversary before he has won five tricks.
- Ba'sting (s. from the part.) The act of moistening meat on the spit; the act of beating any one with a stick.
- BAS'TO (s. at quadrille) The ace of clubs.
- BAT (s. in familiar style) Bartholomew.
- Bat'chelor (s. not so common a spelling) A bachelor.

BEC

- Bat'chelor'sbutton (s. a different spelling) The bachelor's button.
- Bate (v. int. in falconry) To flutter as having a mind to be gone.
- Bath'fly (s. from bath, and fly) An insect which frequents hot baths.
- BATH'RABBIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
- Ba'ting (p. a. from bate) Fluttering as uneasy to be gone.
- Ba'ting (s. from the part.) The act of fluttering as uneasy to be gone.
- BATHYL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a Samian youth mentioned to the poet Anacreon.
- BAT'MAN (s. in commerce) A weight used at Smyrna containing about sixteen pounds and a half.
- BATRACHOMYOMA'CHIA (s. from the Greek, batrachos, a frog, μυς, a mouse, and μάχη, a fight) The battle of the frogs and mice.
- Batrachomyom'achy (s. from batrachomyomachia) The battle of the frogs and mice, as humourously presented by Homer.
- Battel'lus (s. in old records) A small boat.
- Bat'ten (v. t.) To make fat.
- Bat'tened (p. from batten) Fattened, made fat.
- Bat'tening (s. from the part.) The act of making fat.
- Bat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of beating; the act of wearing out with service; the state of leaning from the perpendicular.
- BAT'TIS (s.) A woman's name; the mistress of the poet Philetus.
- Battlebarley (s. in botany) The palm-barley.
- Bat'tling (s. from the part.) The act of contending.
- BAT'TON (s. with ribband weavers) That part of the loom which closes the work.
- Bat'tril (s. a local word) A batting staff.
- BAT'TUS (s.) a man's name; the name of several kings of Africa; the name of a man who, as the poets say, was transformed into a touchstone.
- BAU'CIS (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Philemon, who was said to have entertained Jupiter and Mercury in their travels through Phrygia.
- Bau'ler (s. not so common a spelling) A bawler; the name of a dog. Ainsworth
- BA'VAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- BA'VIUS (s.) A man's name; a silly poet.
- Bawl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of crying out with vehemence.
- Bay (s. in botany) The laurus.
- Bay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of banking; the act of surrounding as with a dam.
- BAZ'LUTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Be (prep. obsolete) By. Sir J. M.
- Beak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking by the beak.
- BEA'LIOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- BE'ALOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
- BEAM (s. a hunting term) A part of a deer's head.
- Beam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tending for rays.
- Bear'able (adj. from bear) Capable of being born.
- Bear'hunting (s. from bear, and hunting) The diversion of hunting the bear.
- Bear'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supporting.
- Bear'wort (s. in botany) The bear's wort.
- Beast (v. t. a different spelling in quadrille) To baste beat without suffering the adversary to get tricks.
- Beast'ed (p. a different spelling) Basted; beaten with winning five tricks.
- Beast'ing (p. a. from beast, a different spelling) Basting beating the adversary before he has won five tricks.
- Beast'ing (s. from the part, a different spelling) Basting.
- Beast'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of making haughty.
- Beaut'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting.
- Bea'verhunting (s. from beaver, and hunting) The version of hunting the beaver.
- BE'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Beca'll (v. t. from be, and call) To treat with reproachful language.
- Beca'll'd (p. from becall) Treated with a succession of ill language.
- Beca'll'ing (p. a. from becall) Treating with ill language.
- Beca'll'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with ill language.
- BECK (s. in familiar style) A woman's name, Rebecca.
- BE'CHER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- BE'CHORATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Beck'oned (p. from beckon) Stirred up to attention by a slight motion of the hand or head. Beck'

B E G

Beck'oning (p. a. from beckon) Giving a signal, making a sign.
 Beck'oning (s. from the part.) The act of giving a signal by a slight motion of the hand or head.
 Beck'ip'ing (s. from the part.) The act of clipping, the act of embracing.
 Beda'b'ing (s. from the part.) The act of incommoding with wet and dirt.
 Bedag'gling (s. from bedaggle) The act of soiling with wet and dirt.
 BEDAVAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Bedash'ing (p. a. from bedash) Bemiring by throwing up dirt or water.
 Bedash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bemiring by throwing up dirt or water.
 Bedaw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dawdling over.
 Bedaz'zling (s. from the part.) The act of confounding the sight by too much brightness.
 Bed'ding (s. from the part.) The act of placing in bed.
 Bedec'king (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.
 Bedew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moistening with dew.
 Bedim'ming (s. from the part.) The act of making dim.
 Bediz'ening (s. from the part.) The act of dressing out.
 Bedrag'gling (s. from the part.) The act of soiling the cloaths by wet or dirt.
 Bedrench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of soddening with wet.
 Bedrop'ping (p. a. from bedrop) Sprinkling, marking with drops.
 Bedrop'ping (s. from the part.) The act of marking with drops.
 Bedust'ed (p. from bedust) Covered with dust.
 Bedust'ing (p. a. from bedust) Covering with dust.
 Bedust'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with dust.
 Bedung'ed (p. from bedung) Covered with dung.
 Bedung'ing (p. a. from bedung) Covering plentifully with dung.
 Bedung'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with dung.
 Bedwarf'ing (p. a. from bedwarf) Making little, hindering the growth.
 Bedwarf'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hindering the growth.
 Bee'glue (s. from bee, and glue) Hive drois.
 Bee'ish (adj. from bee) Waipish, peevish. Skinner.
 BEL'ADA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BEE'RA, BEE'RAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Beer'barley (s. in botany) The palm barley; a kind of grain fuller and broader than the common barley.
 BE'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BE'RELIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BE'RELIM (s. from beer and measure) The measure by which beer is computed.
 BE'ROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Beerothite (s. from Beeroth) An inhabitant of Beeroth.
 BE'STERAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Beintment (s. from beetle and ointment) The ointment of beetles.
 Beet'ing (p. a. from beetle) Jutting out; hanging over, a wall.
 Beet'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of jutting out.
 Befall'ing (p. a. from befall) Happening; coming to pass.
 Befall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a fool of one.
 Befoul'ed (p. from be foul) Made foul.
 Befoul'ing (p. a. from be foul) Making foul.
 Befoul'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making foul.
 Befavour'ing (s. from the part.) The act of favouring.
 Befringe'ed (p. from befringe) Ornamented with fringe.
 Befringe'ing (p. a. from befringe) Ornamenting with fringe.
 Befringe'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bedecking with fringe.
 Beggar'ing (p. a. from beggar) Reducing to beggary.
 Beggar'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to beggary.
 Beget'ing (p. a. from beget) Generating; producing.
 Beget'ing (s. from the part.) The act of generating; the act of producing.
 Begird'ing (p. a. from begird) Binding about with a girdle.
 Begird'ing (s. from the part.) The act of binding about with a girdle.

B E N

Begnaw'ing (p. a. from begnaw) Gnawing away.
 Begreass'ing (p. a. from begrease) Smearing with grease.
 Begreass'ing (s. from the part.) The act of smearing with grease.
 Begrim'ing (p. a. from begrim) Deeply soiling with dirt.
 Begrim'ing (s. from the part.) The act of deeply soiling with dirt.
 Beguill'ing (s. from the part.) The act of deceiving.
 Behav'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conducting one's self; the manner of acting.
 Behold'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking on.
 Bejumb'le (v. t. from be, and jumble) To jumble repeatedly.
 Bejumb'led (p. from bejumble) Repeatedly jumbled; sufficiently jumbled.
 Bejumb'ling (p. a. from bejumble) Jumbling with continuance.
 Bejumb'ling (s. from the part.) The act of jumbling repeatedly.
 BE'LA, BE'LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Bel'laite (s. from Bela) A descendant of Bela.
 Belam'ed (p. from belam) Beaten, thumped.
 Belam'ing (p. a. from belam) Beating, thumping.
 Belam'ing (s. from the part. in droll style) The act of beating; a thumping.
 Belch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking wind upwards; the act of throwing out of some hollow place in a disagreeable manner.
 BELE'RUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Corinth, killed by Bellerophon.
 Bel'ieve (s. obsolete) Belief. Wickliffe.
 Believ'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving credit.
 BEL'GIE (s. in old geography) The old inhabitants of Somersetshire, and some neighbouring counties.
 BEL'GIUS (s.) A man's name; a commander of the Gauls.
 BE'RIDES (s.) A descendant from Belus.
 BELI'DES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The fifty daughters of Danaus, all of whom, except two, are said to have murdered their husbands in one night, at the instigation of their father; for which crime, as the poets affirm, they are sentenced in hell to draw water with pitchers full of holes, by which means their labour and punishment are rendered perpetual.
 BELL (s. in familiar style) A woman's name; Arabella.
 BELLE'ROPHON, BELLEROPHON'TES (s.) A man's name; the son of Glaucus, of whom the poets relate many wonderful adventures.
 Bell'flower (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 BEL'LICA (s.) A pillar before the temple of Bellona, over which the hero was wont to throw a spear when he declared war.
 Bell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming like bells; the act of growing full and ripe, as hops.
 Bell'ying (p. a. from belly) Bulging out.
 Bell'ying (s. from the part.) The act or state of bulging out; the state of being prominent.
 Belov'ed (s. from the part.) A person beloved; persons loved. "My beloved is mine, and I am his."
 Below't'ed (p. from belowt, a low sword) Treated with ill language.
 Below't'ing (p. a. from belowt) Treating with ill language.
 Below't'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with ill language.
 BE'LUS (s.) A man's name; a famous king of Assyria.
 BE'LUS (s. in pagan mythology) The first in order of the three divinities worshipped by the Phœnicians.
 Bely'ing (s. from the part.) The act of misrepresenting.
 Bemaad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making mad.
 Bemir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of soiling with mire.
 Bemoan'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lamenting.
 Bemoil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bemiring.
 BEN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ben (s. from Benjamin, in familiar style) A man's name, Benjamin.
 Bench'ing (p. a. from bench) Furnishing with benches.
 Bench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with benches.
 BENE'BE'RAK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Josh.
 BENEDIC'TA (s.) A woman's name.
 Benefit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conferring a benefit.
 BENEJA'AKAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Benet'ing

B E S

Benet'ting (p. a. from benet) Ensnaring.
 Benet'ting (s. from the part.) The act of ensnaring.
 BEN'HAIL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BENHA'NAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BENI'NU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BEN'NUI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BE'NO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Benum'ming (s. from the part.) The act of stupifying.
 BENZO'BETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BE'ON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country. Num.
 Bepaint'ed (p. from bepaint) Covered with paint.
 Bepaint'ing (p. a. from bepaint) Covering with paint.
 Bepaint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with paint.
 Bepinch'ed (p. a. from bepinch) Pinched, marked with pinches.
 Bepinch'ing (p. a. from bepinch) Marking with pinches.
 Bepinch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with pinches.
 Bepis'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wetting with urine.
 Bequeath'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leaving by will.
 BE'RA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BERA'YAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BERACHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Berat'tled (p. from berattle) Scolded.
 Berat'ting (p. a. from berattle) Scolding.
 Berat'ting (s. from the part. a droll word) The act of scolding.
 BER'BERI (s. in ichthyology) The pearl oysters. Dict. of A.
 BER'BES (s. in ichthyology) The berberi; the pearl oysters. Hill.
 Berea'ving (p. a. from bereave) Depriving of.
 Berea'ving (s. from the part.) The act of depriving.
 BEREYN'THIA (s. in beathen mythology) Cybele, the supposed mother of the gods.
 BE'RED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; the name of a place.
 BERENI'CE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Euergetes, who offered her hair to Venus on the return of her victorious husband; this hair was afterwards made a constellation.
 Berhy'ming (s. from the part.) The act of celebrating in doggerel rhymes.
 BE'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Berid' (adj. from be, and rid) Gotten clear of. Janevay.
 Be'ringe (p. obsolete) Bearing. Wickiffe.
 Be'rite (s. from Beri) A descendant of Beri.
 BERKS (s.) Berkshire.
 BER'NACLE (s. in ornithology) A species of anas, fabulously supposed to be produced from a shell fish. Dict. of Arts.
 BER'NACLE (s. in ichthyology) A kind of shell-fish.
 Ber'nacleshell (s. from bernacle, and shell) The shell of the bernacle. Dict. of Arts.
 BERODACHBALA'DAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BE'ROE (s.) A woman's name; the nurse to Semele the mother of Bacchus.
 Bero'gue (v. t. from be, and rogue) To call any one rogue.
 Bero'gued (p. from herogue) Called rogue.
 Bero'guing (p. a. from herogue) Calling rogue.
 Bero'guing (s. from the part.) The act of calling rogue.
 BE'ROTHAI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 BE'ROTHATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Ezek.
 BER'OTHITE (s. from Berothai) An inhabitant of Berothai.
 BE'SAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 RESADAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Bescree'n'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with a screen.
 Beseech'ing (s. from the part.) The act of intreating.
 Besett'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hemming in on all sides.
 Beshi't (v. t. pret. of beshite) Did beshite.
 Beshi't (p. from beshite) Beshitten.
 Beshi'ting (s. from the part.) The act of fouling with excrements.
 Besieg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of carrying on a siege.
 Besmea'ving (s. from the part.) The act of bedawbing.
 Besmurch'ing (p. a. from besmurch, a low word) Soiling.
 Besmurch'ing (s. from the part. a low word) The act of soiling.
 Besmo'ked (p. from besmoke) Fouled with smoke.
 Besmo'king (p. a. from besmoke) Fouling with smoke.

B E T

Be'mo'king (s. from the part.) The act of fouling with smoke.
 Be'mutt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fouling with smut.
 Besot'ting (s. from besot) The act of stupifying.
 Bespang'ling (s. from the part.) The act of adorning with spangles.
 Bepat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of dawbing by throwing up dirt or water; the act of traducing.
 Bespeak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ordering any thing to be made.
 Bespeck'led (p. from bespeckle) Marked with spots.
 Bespeck'ling (p. a. from bespeckle) Marking with spots.
 Bespeck'ling (s. from the part.) The act of marking with spots.
 Bepew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spewing upon.
 Bepic'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seasoning with spice.
 Bepit'ting (p. a. from bespit) Daubing with spittle.
 Bepit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of daubing with spittle.
 Bepot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of marking with spots.
 Bepread'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spreading over.
 Beputt'ering (s. from the part.) The act of daubing with spittle.
 BESS (s. in rustic style) A woman's name, Elizabeth.
 BES'SUS (s.) A man's name; a general who slew Darius after he was defeated by Alexander.
 BES'SY (s. from Bess) A woman's name; Elizabeth.
 Bes'sy (s. from the foregoing) A man who troubles himself about women's affairs.
 Bestain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of staining.
 Bestick'ing (p. a. from bestick) Sticking with darts; appears all over.
 Bestick'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sticking all over with sharp points.
 Bestir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stirring up.
 Bestow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving.
 Bestrew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of strewn over.
 Bestud'ded (p. from bestud) Studded; adorned with studs.
 Bestud'ding (p. a. from bestud) Adorning with studs.
 Bestud'ding (s. from the part.) The act of adorning with studs.
 BE'TA (s.) The second letter in the Greek alphabet.
 Beta'king (s. from the part.) The act of applying to.
 Beteem'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing in plenty.
 BETH (s.) The second letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 BETH'ARAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 BETH'ANAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city; the land of Canaan.
 BETH'ANATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETHAR'ABAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'ARBEL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETHAZMA'VETH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'BAALMEON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'BARAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'CAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place; the name of a mountain.
 BETH'MEK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'GADER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 BETH'HARAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'HAGLAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'JESIMOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETH'LEBAOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETHMA'ACHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETHMAR'CABOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETHME'AN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 BETHNIM'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 BETHO'LAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place; the name of a hill on the border of the Israel.

B I L

TH/PALET (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
TH/PHELET (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
TH/RAPHA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
THRE/HAB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
TH/SHEAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
TH/SHEMITE (s. from Bethshemeth) An inhabitant of Bethshemeth.
THSHIT'TAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
THTOP/PUAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
TH/UEL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
TH/UL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
thump'ed (p. from bethump, in familiar or droll style) Beaten.
thump'ing (p. a. from bethump, in droll style) Beating.
thump'ing (s. from the part.) The act of thumping.
tokened (p. from betoken) Signified by a token.
tokening (p. a. from betoken) Signifying by a token.
tokening (s. from the part.) The act of signifying by a token.
TO/NIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
to'ling (p. a. from betofs) Agitating.
to'ling (s. from the part.) The act of agitating in a violent manner.
traying (s. from the part.) The act of delivering up in a treacherous manner.
trim'ming (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.
troth'ing (s. from the part.) The act of contracting in order to marriage.
tru'fled (p. from betrust) Entrusted.
tru'fing (p. a. from betrust) Entrusting.
tru'fing (s. from the part.) The act of placing confidence.
ETSTON (s. from the Sax.) A man's name.
ETSY (s. the diminutive of Bet.) A woman's name.
ettering (s. from the part.) The act of making better.
etting (s. from the part.) The act of laying wagers.
ewelling (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to a level.
ewailing (s. from the part.) The act of bemoaning.
weep'ing (p. a. from bewweep) Weeping over.
weep'ing (s. from the part.) The act of weeping over.
ewetting (s. from the part.) The act of wetting.
ewil'dering (s. from the part.) The act of perplexing.
ewitch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of exercising the power of witchcraft.
ewray'ing (p. a. from bewray) Discovering; betraying.
ewray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of betraying.
ex (s. plu. not much used) Beaks; the bills of birds. Tusser.
EZAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
EZER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. ezon'd, Bezon'de (prep. obsolete) Beyond. Dr. Leland.
HETH (s. a different spelling) Beth, the second letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
ANOR (s.) A man's name.
AS (s.) A man's name; one of the seven wise men of Greece.
assing (s. from the part.) The act of inclining to one side.
ob'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tippling.
BLIS (s.) A woman's name who was said to be turned into a fountain.
BLULUS (s.) A man's name, a Roman consul joined with Julius Cæsar.
BLCEPS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Janus.
BLIDY (s. in familiar style) Bridget.
BLI (s. a different spelling) The bidale.
BLNIAL (s. in botany, from the adj.) A plant that lives two years.
BLFRONS (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Janus.
BLG (s. in agriculture) A kind of grain.
BLGUA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BLGUAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BLLAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
BLCAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
BLGAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BLHA (s. from the Heb.) Bilhah; a woman's name.
BLking (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.
BL (s. in familiar style) William.

B L E

BLl'berry (s. a different spelling) The bilberry. Sc.
BLl'bowbolt (s. from bilbow, and bolt) The bolt that fastens the bilbows. Diët. of Arts.
BLl'leting (s. from the part.) The act of disposing of quarters by billet.
BLl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of caressing as doves.
BLl'owing (s. from the part.) The act of dwelling as the sea with waves.
BIL'LY (s. in familiar style) William.
BIL'SHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BI'MATER (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Bacchus.
BIM'HAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Bind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a band or fetter; a kind of worked tape.
BIN'EA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BIN'NUI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BI'ON (s.) A man's name; a sophist and ill natured poet.
BIO'TA (s. in zoology) A genus of sea insects.
Bird'ing (s. from the part.) The act of catching birds.
BLR'MA (s. in heathen mythology) The first in order of the three principal deities worshipped by ancient Bramins.
BIR'ZAVITH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Bisan'ual (s. in botany) A plant that flowers the second year.
Bisect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting into two equal parts.
BISH'LAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Bish'op (s. at chess) One of the dignified men entitled to peculiar moves on the chessboard.
Bish'oping (p. a. from bishop) Acting the part of a bishop in confirmation.
Bish'oping (s. from the part.) The act of confirmation by the bishop.
BIST'NOO (s. in heathen mythology) The second in order of the three principal deities worshipped by the ancient Bramins.
BIST'ON (s.) A man's name; a supposed son of Mars.
BITH'LE (s. in fabulous history) Certain women of Scythia who were supposed to have two apples in each eye by which they had power to bewitch or kill. Pli.
BI'TIAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Alcanor.
Bi'ting (s. from the part.) The act of seizing with the teeth.
BI'TON (s.) A man's name; the son of Argia the priestess of Juno, who desired the best thing for him that the gods could give to man, and the next morning he was found dead.
Bitt (s. a sea term) One of the timbers in the fore part of the ship to which the cable is fastened.
Bit'ted (p. from bit) Furnished with a bit, bridled.
Bit'ting (p. a. from bit) Putting the bit into the mouth.
Bit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of putting the bit into the mouth.
BIZDOTHIAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BIZ'THA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Blab'bing (s. from the part.) The act of telling tales.
Black'berryer (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the rubetra.
Black'berrying (s. from blackberry) The act of going to gather blackberries.
Black'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making black, the act of defaming.
Black'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making black.
BLACK'SEA (s. in geography) The Euxine.
Blad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with blades.
Blam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of censuring.
BLANCHE (s. at piquet) A small card, a card below a court card.
Blanch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making white.
Bland'ishing (p. a. from blandish) Smoothing, softening.
Bland'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of smoothing, the act of softening.
BLANK (s.) A coin struck in France by Henry the Fifth of eight pence value; the smallest denomination in troy weight, the twenty-fourth part of a penny weight.
Blar'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bellowing.
Blasphe'ming (s. from the part.) The act of speaking reproachfully of the Divine Being.
Blaz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of flaming.
Blazoning (s. from the part.) The act of describing a coat of arms.
Ble (s. from blea) The inner bark of a tree. Sc.
Bleach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making white.

Bleak-

Bleak/fishing (s. from bleak, and fishing) The method of fishing for bleak, the diversion of fishing for bleak.
Bleat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making dim.
Bleat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise like a sheep.
Blem'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with a blemish.
BLEM'MYES (s. in fabulous history) A people of Ethiopia who were supposed to be without heads and to have their mouth and eyes in the breast.
Blench'ed (p. from blench) Hindered, obstructed.
Blench'ing (p. a. from blench) Hindering, obstructing.
Blench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hindering.
Blend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mixing.
Bles'feder (adj. comp. of blessed) Blessed in a greater degree.
Bles'fedest (adj. sup. of blessed) Blessed in the greatest degree.
Blight'ing (s. from the part.) The act of blighting.
Blind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making blind.
Blink (s. from the verb) A gleam, a faint ray. Dorn.
Blink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of winking with the eyes.
Blis'fomed (p. from blissom) Impregnated as a ewe by a ram.
Blis'foming (s. from the part.) The act or intercourse of a ram with a ewe.
Blift'ering (s. from the part.) The act of applying blisters, the act of raising blisters, the act of rising in blisters.
Blith (adj. a local word) Yielding milk.
Bloat'ing (p. a. from bloat) Making to swell, puffing up the flesh as with wind or unkindly fat.
Blot'bing (s. from the part.) The act of revealing secrets, the act of publishing inadvertently.
Block'ading (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up as in a siege.
Block'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying obstructions.
Blood'ied (p. from bloody) Stained with blood.
Blood'ing (s. from the part.) The act of staining with blood.
Blood'running (adj. from blood, and running) Running with blood.
Blood'staling (s. from blood, and staling) A disease incident to cattle.
Blood'stanching (s. from blood, and stanching) The stopping of blood.
Blood'y (v. i. from blood) To stain with blood.
Blood'ying (p. a. from bloody) Staining with blood.
Blood'ying (s. from the part.) The act of staining with blood.
Bloom'ing (s. from the part.) The act of blossoming.
Blos'foming (s. from the part.) The act of putting forth blossoms.
Blot'ing (p. a. from blote) Drying in the smoke; swelling.
Blot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drying in the smoke, the act or state of swelling.
Blotted (p. from blot) Blurred, defaced, darkened, disgraced.
Blot'ting (p. a. from blot) Effacing, blurring, darkening, disgracing.
Blow'ing (p. a. from blow) Blossoming.
Blow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving as the air, the act of breathing with difficulty, the act of sounding a wind instrument, the act of laying eggs as a fly, the act of blossoming.
Blub'bering (s. from the part.) The act of weeping, the act of disguising the face with weeping.
Blu'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a blue colour.
Blund'ering (s. from the part.) The act of making blunders.
Blunt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making blunt.
Blur'ring (s. from the part.) The act of blotting.
Blush'ing (s. from the part.) The act of betraying shame or confusion by a flush of red on the face.
Blus'tering (p. a. from bluster) Making a bluster.
Blus'tering (s. from the part.) The act of making a bluster.
Boal (s. a different spelling) A boll, the stump of a tree. Di. Ray.
Board'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying or fencing with boards; the act of living at another man's table at a certain rate.
Boat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of carrying in a boat.
Boat'fly (s.) A kind of fly; the notonecta.
Bob (s. with ringers) A kind of peal.

Bob'bing (s. from the part.) The act of playing backward and forwards.
BOC'CHUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Mauritania who delivered Jugurtha in fetters to Sulla.
BOCH'ERN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BCEQ'TIA (s. in geography) A country or district of ancient Greece.
Bceot'ian (adj. from Bceotia) Belonging to Bceotia.
Bceot'ian (s. from the adj.) A native of Bceotia.
Bog'ling (s. from the part.) The act of hesitating.
BO'HAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place; name of a man.
Bo'ken (v. int. a local word) To hold the breath as a child in crying.
Bo'kening (p. a. from boken, a local word) Holding the breath as a child in crying.
BOLI'NA (s.) A nymph who was said to have drowned herself and afterwards to have been made immortal.
Boll'ing (p. a. from boll) Rising in a stalk as corn.
Boll'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising in a stalk.
Bol'stering (s. from the part.) The act of supporting with pillows.
Bombard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of attacking with bombs.
Bomb'proof (adj. from bomb, and proof) Capable of resisting the force of a bomb.
BOMIL'CAR (s.) A man's name; a Carthaginian commander suspected of treachery and crucified in the midst of the city.
BON (s.) A man's name; a king of Tuscany.
BO'NADE'A (s.) A Roman lady remarkable for her fidelity, and consecrated after her death.
BOND'UCK (s. in botany) A kind of acacia.
Boned (p. from bone) Deprived of bones; furnished a stay with bone.
Bo'ning (p. a. from bone) Depriving of bones; furnishing as a stay with bone.
Bo'ning (s. from the part.) The act of taking out bones; the act of putting bone into a stay.
Bon'neted (adj. from bonnet) Furnished with a bonnet.
Book'ing (s. from the part.) The act of entering in book.
Boom'ing (s. a sea term) The act of sailing with great speed.
Boos'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drinking to excess.
Boot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing on boots.
Bord'ering (s. from the part.) The act of making a border; a border, a hem.
BO'REA (s. in natural history) A kind of jasper.
Bo'ring (s. from the part.) The act of making a hole with an auger; the act of pushing the head forward; a method of curing a horse of a wrenched shoulder.
Bo'rrowing (s. from the part.) The act of borrowing.
BORYST'HENES (s. a different spelling) The Boristhenes, one of the largest rivers in Europe.
BOS'CATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Bos'orus (s. in old records) A kind of rustic wind instrument.
BOS'PORUS (s. in geography) The straight opposite to Constantinople; another more northward at the mouth of the Maeotis.
Bo'sfoming (p. a. from bosom) Putting into the bosom.
Bo'sfoming (s. from the part.) The act of putting into the bosom.
BO'SOR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
BOS'RAH (s. from the Heb.) Bozrah.
Botch'ery (s. from botch) The act of mending in a clumsy manner, the state of being joined in a clumsy manner.
Botch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mending in a clumsy manner.
Bot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of putting bottles.
Bot'toming (s. from the part.) The act of putting bottom into any thing.
Botts (s. a different spelling) The bots, a kind of worm.
Bou'ging (p. a. from bouge) Swelling out.
Bou'ging (s. from the part.) The act of swelling out.
Boult'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lifting with a great noise.
Boun'cing (s. from the part.) The act of making great noise.
Boun'cing (adj. a colloquial word) Large, great.
Boundba'l'iff (s. from bound, and bailiff) A bailiff bound to the sheriff for the due execution of his office.
Bound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of limiting.
Bow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bending, the act of bending the body by way of respect.
Bows'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling at the oars; the act of drinking to excess.

B R I

B U G

Bring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a box; the act of fighting with the fist.
 Barberry (s. in botany) The barberry tree.
 Wash (v. t. a local word) To wash.
 BETHLEHEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Babb'ling (s. from the part.) The act of clamouring, a babble.
 Binding (s. from the part.) The act of making tight.
 BACTRIANUM (s. in natural history) A genus of tales.
 Bacc'ing (s. from the verb) A kind of game at cards.
 Boasting (s. from the part.) The act of boasting.
 Bore (v. t. a sea term) To furl.
 Bowed (p. from braid) Furling.
 Bowed (p. a. from braid) Furling.
 Bowed (s. from the part.) The act of furling.
 Bore (s. in botany) The female fern.
 Branching (s. from the part.) The act of shooting out in branches.
 BRANCHIDÆ (s.) The priest of Branchus.
 Branchiote'ge (adj. from branchiostegi) Belonging to the branchiostegi.
 BRANCHUS (s.) The name of a man; a Thessalian youth to whom Apollo was supposed to have given the spirit of divination.
 Branding (p. a. from brand) Burning a criminal with a hot iron.
 Branding (s. from the part.) The act of burning a criminal with a hot iron.
 Brandishing (s. from the part.) The act of flourishing a weapon.
 Brawling (s. from the part.) The act of squabbling.
 BRUMTIAS (s. from the Greek βραμτια an ebullition) A kind of earthquake.
 Broth (s. a different spelling) Broth. Ains.
 Brooding (s. from the part.) The act of desying.
 Brooding (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise as a noise of an ass; the act of beating all as in a mortar.
 Brooding (s. from the part.) The act of behaving with impudence.
 Breaking (p. a. from break) Separating the parts of a thing by force, violating, subduing, putting of office; pulling to pieces, declining, becoming bankrupt.
 Breaking (s. from the part.) The act of separating the parts of any thing by violence, the act of violating, the act of subduing; the act of falling to pieces, the act of becoming a bankrupt.
 Breamed (p. from bream) Cleaned by having the filth cut off.
 Breaming (s. from bream, and fishing) The act or person of fishing for bream.
 Breaming (p. a. from bream) Burning off the filth from the bottom of a ship.
 Breaming (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning by burning off the filth.
 Bream (s. from breast, and apple) The name of an apple, a fruit resembling the human breast, the or-matica.
 Breamed (p. from breast) Met in front, met breast to breast.
 Breaming (p. a. from breast) Meeting in front.
 Breaming (s. from the part.) The act of meeting in front.
 Bream (v. t. a different spelling) To bream. D. of A.
 Bream (s. not so common a spelling) The breeze, the gad-Phillips.
 BRUNUS (s.) A man's name; a commander of the Gauls who invaded Italy and defeated the Romans.
 BRUNUS (s.) One of the giants who warred with Hercules.
 Bribing (s. from the part.) The act of corrupting with bribes.
 Bricking (s. from the part.) The act of laying with bricks; that which is laid with brick.
 Bricking (s. from brick, and work) The part of a building which consists of bricks.
 Bride (s. obsolete) A bride, a marriage. Ben Johns.
 Bridging (p. from bridge) Provided with a bridge.
 Bridging (s. from the part.) The act of providing with a bridge.
 Bridger (s. from bridge, and cutter) One who makes saddles, spurs, and other articles for horsemen. Johns.
 Brightening (p. a. from brighten) Making bright, brightening up.
 Brightening (s. from the part.) The act of making bright.
 Bridget (s.) A woman's name; Bridget.
 BRISAE'US (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.

Bring'ing (p. a. from bring) Conducting, leading, fetching.
 Bring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conducting, the act of fetching.
 BRISAE'US (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
 BRISE'IS (s.) A woman's name; the Trojan lady which occasioned the rupture between Achilles and Agamemnon.
 Brisk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting up the briskies.
 BRITOMAR'TIS (s.) A woman's name; the supposed daughter of Jupiter who threw herself into the sea to avoid the pursuit of Minos.
 BRI'ZO (s. in beathen mythology) The goddess of sleep.
 Broach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting on the spit; the act of tapping, the act of uttering.
 Brog (v. int.) To brogle.
 Brog'ing (p. a. from brog) Brogling.
 Brogues (s. an old word) Breeches.
 Broid'ering (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with needle work.
 Broil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing any thing by laying it on the coals.
 BRO'MIUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
 BRO'MUS (s.) One of the Centaurs.
 BRONT'AIOUS (s.) A name of Jupiter.
 BRON'TEAS (s.) A man's name; a great champion at whirlbat.
 BRON'TES (s.) One of the Cyclops.
 BRON'TEUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
 Brooch'ing (p. a. from brooch) Adorning with jewels.
 Brooch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with jewels.
 Brood'ed (p. from brood) Hatched, cherished.
 Brook'ing (p. a. from brook) Bearing, suffering.
 BRO'THEUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The supposed son of Vulcan so deformed as to be the jest of all the world, for which reason he is said to have plunged himself into the abyss of Mount Aetna.
 Brow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of feeding on branches.
 Bru'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hurting by a bruise.
 Brush'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rubbing with a brush.
 Brush'ing (s. from the part.) The act of vapouring; the act of ruffling.
 Brutalizing (s. from the part.) The act of making brutish.
 Brutian (adj. from Brutium) Belonging to Brutium.
 Brutian (s. from the ad.) An inhabitant of Brutium.
 BRUTID'IUS (s.) A man's name; a famous rhetorician and historian.
 BRUT'IUM (s. in geography) A promontory of Italy.
 BRUTUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several illustrious Romans.
 BRYAX'US (s.) A man's name; a famous statuary.
 BRYSAE'US (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
 BUBAS'TIA (s.) Feasts sacred to Diana.
 BUBAS'TIS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.
 Bubbling (s. from the part.) The act of rising in bubbles; the act of cheating.
 Buck'ling (p. a. from buckle) Fastening with a buckle.
 Buck'ling (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a buckle.
 BUCKS (s.) Buckinghamshire.
 Bud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shooting forth in buds; the method of grafting by the insertion of a bud.
 Bud'et (v. t. from the sub.) To put up in a budget.
 Bud'et'ed (p. from budget) Put up in a budget.
 Bud'et'ing (p. a. from budget) Putting up in a budget.
 Bud'et'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in a budget.
 Bud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stirring off a place.
 Buffeting (s. from the part.) The act of beating.
 Buffing (p. a. from buffle) Puzzling, being at a loss.
 Buffing (s. from the part.) The act of being at a loss.
 Bug'gered (p. from bugger) Defiled by unnatural intercourse.
 Bug'gerer (s. from bugger) One guilty of an unnatural crime.
 Bug'gering (p. a. from bugger) Committing an unnatural crime.
 Bug'ger.

C A B

Bug'gering (s. from the part.) The act of committing an unnatural crime.

Build'en (v. t. obsolete) To build. Sbenston.

BUK'KI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

BUK'KI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Bul'chin (s. a local word) A calf, a little bull.

Bulging (s. from the part.) The act or state of jutting out.

Bull v. t. from the sub. To perform the act of generation as a bull with a cow.

BUL'LA (s.) A golden ornament worn about the necks of the Roman youth.

Bull'ed (p. from bull) Impregnated as a cow by a bull.

Bul'letproof (adj. from bullet, and proof) Capable of resisting the force of a bullet.

Bull'ing (p. a. from bull) Performing the act of generation as a bull on a cow.

Bull'ing (s. from the part.) The act of generation between a bull and a cow.

Bull'ying (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down with noise and tumult.

Bump'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating in a coarse manner.

BUN'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Bunch'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of jutting out in the middle.

Bung'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping with a bung.

Bun'hedge (s. a local word) A dead hedge, a hedge made of twisted sticks.

Bun'horn (s. a local word) A kind of quill on which weavers wind their yarn.

BUN'NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Buoy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing up.

BU'PALUS (s.) A man's name; a statuary who ridiculed the poet Hipponax for which he was so severely lampooned that, as some say, he hanged himself, or, as others, fled his country.

Burche'ta (s. in old records) A kind of gun.

Burd'ening (s. from the part.) The act of laying on burdens.

Bu'rin (s. a different spelling) The burine, a graving tool.

Burles'queing (s. from the part.) The act of turning into a burlesque.

Burft'coat (s. a cant word) Hot roast and butter. D. R.

Burft'ing (p. a. from bur ft) Breaking as any thing hollow with sudden violence.

Burft'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking with sudden violence.

Burth'ening (s. from the part.) The act of laying on burdens.

Bush'en (v. int. an old word) To rush. Sbenston.

Bush'ing (p. a. from bush) Growing thick like a bush.

Bush'ing (s. from the part.) The act of growing thick like a bush.

BUS'IRIS (s.) A man's name; a cruel tyrant supposed to be the son of Neptune.

Bus'iones (s. in old records) The chief or leading men in a country.

Bus'ing (s. from the part.) The act of kissing.

Bus'ling (s. from the part.) The act of making a stir.

BUS'TRIS (s.) A man's name; a cruel tyrant who offered human flesh to Neptune.

Bus'ying (s. from the part.) The act of meddling.

But (s. a different spelling) A butt.

But (s. from the conj.) An exception, "yet not without a but."

Butch'ering (s. from the part.) The act of murdering in a coarse and cruel manner.

BUT'EO (s.) A man's name; an orator among the Romans.

BUT'ES (s.) A man's name; a son of Amycus.

Bur'tering (s. from the part.) The act of moistening with butter.

Buy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of purchasing.

Buz'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making a humming noise.

BYB'LIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Miletus, who fell in love with her own brother, and was, as the poets say, turned into a fountain.

C.

CABAL'LING (s. from the part.) The act of engaging in some close design.

Cab'baging (s. from the part.) The act of forming into a head like cabbage; the act of taking what is left any thing has been cut out.

C A L

Cab'hala (s. not so correct a spelling) The cabala. D.

Cab'bidge (s. a different spelling) Cabbage.

CAB'BON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Cab'ining (p. a. from cabin) Shutting up in a cabin.

Cab'ining (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up a cabin.

Cabli'cia (s. in old records) Brush wood.

CA'BRII (s.) The priests of Cybele.

CAB'RIOLE (s.) A kind of chair.

Cab'riole (adj. from the sub.) Distinguishing a part kind of chair.

CA'EUL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.

CAC'ABI (s. plu. of cacabus) More than one pipkins.

CAC'ABUS (s. from the Lat.) A kettle; a kind of kin.

Cack'ling (s. from the part.) The noise of a goose; a laughing, a giggling.

Cacleat'um (s. in old records) A causeway.

Cacu'minating (p. a. from cacuminate) Sharpening to a sharp point.

Cacu'minating (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to a sharp point.

CA'CUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The Vulcan who was supposed to have had three sons, a notable thief and robber who kept his home on mount Aventine.

CADA'RI (s. with the Mahometans) A sect who the doctrine of absolute decrees.

Cada'rian (s. from Cadari) One of the Cadari.

CA'DESH (s. a different spelling) Kadesh.

CAD'MEIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Cadmus.

CAD'MUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Agenor, said to have taught the Greeks the use of letters.

CA'E'CA (s.) One of the names of Fortune.

CÆCIL'IA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of quin.

CÆCIL'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

CÆ'CULUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of Vulcan whose mother was supposed to be named by a spark of fire which fell into her lap.

CÆDE'CIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

CÆLIA (s.) A woman's name.

CÆLIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several men.

CÆLOS'YRIA (s.) A part of Syria.

CÆLIUS (s. in heathen mythology) An old Roman name.

CÆMENT (s. a different spelling) Cement.

Cæment'ation (s. from cæment) A method of building with steel.

CÆNE'US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter; the name of Cænis after she was supposed to have been transformed into a man.

CÆNIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of a virgin who was supposed first to have been transformed into a man and afterwards into a bird.

CÆSA'RIA (s. a different spelling) Cæsaria, a city in Palestine.

CÆ'SO (s.) A man's name; the name of several men.

CÆSON'IA (s.) A woman's name.

CÆ'YX (s. in the mythology of the poets) A Thracian who was supposed to have been transformed into a halcyon.

CA'FA (s. in commerce) A kind of cotton manufactured in the East Indies.

Caff'ee (s. an uncommon spelling) Coffee.

Ca'ging (s. from the part.) The act of putting in a cage.

CA'IA (s.) A woman's name, mistress with the name of A.

CAIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

Caj'oling (s. from the part.) The act of soothing or flattering.

CAI'US (s.) A man's name; master with the name of Cai.

Ca'king (s. from the part.) The act of hardening a cake.

CALA'BRI (s.) The inhabitants of Calabria.

CALA'BRIA (s. in geography) The most southern part of the kingdom of Naples.

Calab'rian (adj. from Calabria) Belonging to Calabria.

Calab'rian (s. from the adj.) A native of Calabria.

CAL'AMIS (s.) A man's name; an excellent engineer.

CAL'CHAS (s.) A man's name; a famous Greek seer.

CAN

CAP

Can'tium (s. in old records) A kiln.
Can'ting (s. from the part.) The act of burning to a cinder.
CAN'COL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Can'culating (s. from the part.) The act of computing.
CAN'DEA (s. a different spelling) Chaldea.
Can'dean (adj. a different spelling) Chaldean.
Can'dean (s. from the adj.) A Chaldean.
Can'dee (s. a different spelling) A Chaldee.
CAN'LEB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
CAN'DARIS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Juno.
Can'dering (s. from the part.) The act of pressing, or putting a gloss on cloth.
CAN'TES (s. in logic) A kind of syllogism.
Can'tille (s. a different spelling) The calville.
CAN'LIGA (s. in Roman antiquity) A kind of sandal or shoe worn by soldiers.
CAN'LITO (s. in the mythology of the poets) A woman's name; she was supposed to have been ravished by Jupiter, and afterwards turned into a constellation.
CAN'LIAS (s.) A man's name; a comic poet of Athens.
CAN'LITHYS (s. in heathen mythology) The Stromas.
CAN'LICRATES (s.) A man's name; an artist of antiquity, famous for making ants and other insects in wax.
CAN'LIDEMUS (s.) A man's name; the name of an African.
CAN'LIMACHUS (s.) A man's name; a Greek poet.
CAN'LIPASH (s.) One of the edible parts of a turtle.
CAN'LIPIDES (s.) A man's name; a famous Greek geographer.
CAN'LIPES (s.) A delicate part of a turtle.
CAN'LIRHOE (s.) A woman's name; a beautiful damsel, who slew her father, because he repeatedly refused to give her in marriage.
CAN'LISTHENES (s.) A man's name; a philosopher who was intimate with Alexander.
CAN'LITO (s.) A woman's name; one of Diana's nymphs.
CAN'LISTRATUS (s.) A man's name; one of Alexander's counsellors.
CAN'LIXENUS (s.) A man's name; a famous statuary of antiquity.
CAN'LUS (s. in surgery) A kind of phymh.
Can'ling (s. from the part.) The act of quieting.
Can'lum (s. in old records) A kind of large clog.
Can'lie (s. a different spelling) The calville.
Can'ling (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth a child.
Can'lian (adj. from Calvin) Belonging to the doctrine taught by John Calvin; Calvinistic.
Can'liating (s. from caluminate) The act of falsely accusing.
CAN'PSO (s.) A woman's name; a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.
Can'psa (adj. a local word) Awry, crooked.
CAN'PYSES (s.) A man's name; a Persian monarch son of Cyrus.
Can'pyrus (s. in old records) A chamberlain.
CAN'ULA (s.) A woman's name; a heroine of antiquity.
CAN'LUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several places.
CAN'NA (s.) A woman's name.
CAN'NE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The nymph.
CAN'NIA (s.) A pleasant champain country of France.
Can'ulate, Campan'ulated (adj. from campanula) Having the form of a bell.
CAN'ASPE (s.) A woman's name; the beautiful concubine of Alexander.
Can'ap (s. in old records) A champion.
Can'ap (v. int. a local word) To prate saucily.
CAN'DES (s. in botany) A genus or class of plants.
Can'dels (s. from Canaanite) A woman of Canaan.
CAN'CE (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Aeolus, guilty of incest with her own brother.
CAN'HE (s.) The name of one of Aëtion's dogs.
Can'grafs (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Can'weed (s. from canary, and seed) A kind of seed which canary birds are fed.

Canaryweed (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Can'celling (s. from the part.) The act of blotting out; the act of making void.
CAN'DAU'LES (s.) A man's name; a king of Lydia.
Can'didateship (s. from candidate) The state of a candidate.
CAND'IOPE (s.) A woman's name.
CAN'DY (s. from Candia) The modern name of the ancient Crete.
Can'dying (s. from the part.) The act or process of preserving with sugar so as to be encrusted with it.
CAN'NENS (s.) A woman's name; a woman who pined to death for the loss of her husband.
Can'nonproof (adj. from cannon, and proof) Capable of resisting a cannon ball.
CANEPHARIA (s. in antiquity) Sacrifices offered to Bacchus.
CANES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The Furies.
CANID'IA (s.) A woman's name; a famous old witch of Naples.
CANI'NI (s. in anatomy) The eye teeth.
CANIN'IUS (s.) A man's name; a famous consul of Rome.
Can'isfel'lus (s. in old records) A little bucket.
CANIS'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a man famous for the swiftness of his running.
CAN'IUS (s.) A man's name; a famous poet among the Romans.
Can'k (v. int. a local word) To talk.
Can'kering (s. from the part.) The act or state of being cankered.
Cannona'ding (s. from the part.) The act of battering with cannon.
Canon'izing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into the canon of saints.
Canta'ria (s. in old records) A chantry.
CANTH'ARUS (s.) The jug of Silenus.
CANTH'ARUS (s.) A man's name; a famous cheat at Athens.
CANTH'IUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman who being convicted of unlawful commerce with a vestal virgin, was so terribly whipped that he died under the lash.
Can'ting (s. from the part.) The act of talking in a corrupt dialect; the act of turning up with a sudden motion.
Can'tling (s. from the part.) The act of cutting into cantles; a cantle.
Can'toning (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into cantons; the act of parcelling out.
Can'ton'izing (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into cantons.
Can'varring (s. from the part.) The act of sifting; the act of examining into the state of any thing.
CAN'NUCH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.
CANULE'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Ca'pa (s. in old records) The cape of a garment.
Capac'itating (s. from the part.) The act of making capable.
Capar'ifoning (p. a. from caparison) Dressing in caparison.
Capar'ifoning (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in caparison.
Capati'næ (s. in old records) A kind of ordinary boots.
Capella'nia (s. in old records) A chapelry.
Capella'nus (s. in old records) A chaplain.
Capel'lus (s. in old records) A cap, a bonnet.
CAPH'TORIM (s. from Caphtor) A man's name; an inhabitant of Caphtor; a descendant of Caphtor.
Capita'neus (s. in old records) A captain.
Capit'ium (s. in old records) A hood for a hawk.
CA'PITO (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
CAPITOLI'NUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
Capit'ulating (s. from capitulate) The act of drawing up in heads or articles; the act of surrendering by capitulation.
CAP'IVI (s. in botany and medicine) The balsam; the balsam tree.
Cap'lin (s. from cap) The strong cap of leather by which the swipec of a threshing instrument is joined to the hand staff.
Ca'ponet (s. from capon) A young capon.
Capot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of winning every trick in a game at piquet.
Cap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a cap; the act of pulling off the cap; that which forms the cap.

CAP'RIUS

C A S

CAP/RIUS (s.) A man's name; a severe satyrish among the Romans.
CAP/SULÆ (s. plu. of capsula) More than one capsula, seed vessels.
Cap'uchineapers (s. in botany) The nasturces.
Capun'culus (s. in old records) A young capon.
CA/PYS (s.) A man's name; the father of Anchises.
CARACAL/LA (s.) A man's name; one of the Roman emperours.
CARACA/RA (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird.
CARAC/TACUS (s.) A man's name; a British prince subdued by the Romans and carried to Rome in triumph, where, for his manly spirit, he was well treated by the emperor.
CARA/NUS (s.) A man's name; The first king of Macedonia.
CARBIL/IUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman who was said to be the first that put away his wife because she was barren.
CAR/BO (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Carcerat'vum (s. in old records) A jailer's fee.
CARCINUS (s.) A man's name; a tragic poet, remarkable for the obscurity of his style.
Car'co (s. in old records) A cart.
Card'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking wool with cards; the act of playing at cards.
Car'eage (s. in husbandry) The ploughing of ground.
CARE/AH (s. a different spelling) Kareah.
Care'ata (s. in old records) A cart load.
Car'ed (p. from care) Regarded, attended to; with for: as, "it was not cared for."
Car'ee'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refting by a careen.
Car'ee's'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with endearments; the act of treating with peculiar respect.
Car'atigium (s. in old records) Carriage.
CA/R'IAS (s.) A supposed son of Jupiter.
Car'ib (s. from Caribbe) A native of the Caribbes.
Car'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking care.
CAR/NI (s. in old geography) The people of Germany.
Car'k'efs (s. an old spelling) A carcass.
Car'king (s. from the part.) The act of taking too much care.
CAR/LOC (s. in botany, the modern spelling) The carlock, the rapistrum.
CARME'NIA (s. in ancient geography) A country in Asia.
CARMEN/TA (s.) The name of a woman; the mother of Evander.
Carmenta'lia (s. from Carmenta) A festival among the Roman ladies in honour of Carmenta.
Car'mite (s. from Carmi) A descendant of Carmi.
CARNE/ADES (s.) A man's name; a learned philosopher, remarkable for his eloquence.
Car'nifying (p. a. from carnify) Breeding flesh.
Car'nying (s. from the part.) The act or state of breeding flesh.
CAR/NUS (s.) A man's name; a famous musician and poet, supposed to be the son of Jupiter.
Carot'idal (adj. from carotid) Carotid; belonging to the veins of the neck which convey the blood to the brain.
Carou'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drinking too freely.
Carp'ishing (s. from carp and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for carp.
Carp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of finding fault.
Car'relet (s.) A kind of fishing net.
Car'rucha (s. in old records) A kind of large ship.
Car'rying (s. from the part.) The act of conveying from one place to another.
CARSHE/MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name, Esber.
Car'ta (s. a different spelling) A charter.
Cart'bote (s. from cart, and bote) An allowance of timber for the construction of carts and waggons.
Car'teblanche (s. at piquet) A hand destitute of picture cards. Dict. of Arts.
CAR/TELOIS (s.) The habit of our ancient knights on their military exploits.
Cart'ing (s. from the part.) The act of exposing in a cart, the act of driving a cart.
Cart'ladder (s. from cart and ladder) That part of a cart which projects over the wheel.
Cashier'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discharging from office.
CASI (s. in Persia) One of the two judges under the Nadab.

C E L

CA/SIUS (s. in geography) The name of a hill or mountain in Syria.
Cas'keting (p. a. from casket) Putting into a casket.
Cas'keting (s. from the part.) The act of putting in a casket.
CASS (s.) a contraction of Cassandra) A woman's name.
CASSAN/DER (s.) A man's name; a Macedonian who slew Olympias.
CAS/SI (s. in old geography) The people who inhabited a part of Hertfordshire.
CASSI/OPE (s. in astronomy) Cassiopea, a constellation.
CASSI/OPE (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Prometheus.
CAS/SIUS (s. from Casius) One of the names of Jupiter because he had a temple on mount Casius; the name of divers Romans.
CAS/SOLET (s.) A small vessel in which odours burnt; the odours burnt in the vessel.
CAS/SUMUNAR (s. in pharmacy) A root resembling the zedoary.
Cas'sumunarroot (s. from casumunar, and root) root of the cassumunar.
CAR (s. from the verb) A sort, a class.
CASTAL/IDES (s. from Castalia) The Muses.
Castelgar'dum (s. an old word) Casteward.
Cas'tle (s. with ribband weavers) The upper part of loom.
Cas'tle (v. int. at chefs) To fortify the king.
Cas'tle (v. int.) To make a fortification for the king.
Cas'tled (p. from castle, at chefs) Fortified as king.
Cas'tling (p. a. from castle) Fortifying the king.
Cas'tling (s. from the part.) The act of fortifying king at chefs.
Cas'trating (s. from the part.) The act of gelding.
CATADU/PA (s. in geography) The suspended rocks of the river Nile in Ethiopia.
Cat'burnt (s.) A kind of pear.
Catch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seizing.
Catch'weed (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Catch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of instructing way of question and answer.
Cat'erpillar (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Cathe'tuous (adj. in ichthyology, from cathetus) ing the tail in a perpendicular direction.
Catiline'rian (adj. from Catiline) Belonging to Catiline.
CATIL/LUS (s.) A man's name.
CA/TIUS (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman.
CATIVUL/CUS (s.) A man's name; a king of therones who poisoned himself lest he should fall in hands of Caesar.
Cats'mint (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Cat'ter (v. t. a local word) To heap up.
CATUL/LUS (s.) A man's name; a learned but poet.
CATULUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several illustrious Romans.
CATYCUCHLA/NI (s. in old geography) The name of Buckinghamshire, and some neighbouring ties.
Cavalca'ding (p. a. from cavalcade) Skirmishing among men for diversion.
Cavalca'ding (s. from the part.) The act of skimming on horseback by way of diversion.
Ca'vezon (s. a different spelling) The cavezon.
Cau'ing (s. from the part.) The act of producing act of effecting.
Cau'terizing (s. from the part.) The act of applying cautery.
Cau'tingtime (s. in falconry) The time of treading.
Cau'tioning (s. from the part.) The act of giving of approaching danger.
Ceap'gild'a (s. in old records) A payment in cattle.
Ceas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping.
CE/BES (s.) A man's name; a Theban philosopher.
CECIN/NA (s.) A man's name; the name of a knight who took part with Pompey.
CECROP/IDÆ (s. from Cecrops) The people of Athens.
CECRO/PIS (s.) A woman's name; an Athenian lady.
CE/CROPS (s.) A man's name; the first king of Athens.
CEL/ADON (s.) A man's name; one who was the marriage of Perseus and Andromeda. CEL

CELANDINE (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
 CELANO (s.) One of the Harpies; one of the Celades.
 Celebrating (s. from the part.) The act of rendering famous.
 CELIUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Triptolemus.
 Celleratius (s. in old records) A butler.
 CELMIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The fosterfather of Jupiter, who was said to have been turned into an adamant. Ovid.
 CELSUS (s.) A man's name; a famous physician.
 ELTÆ (s. in old geography) A famous people of Gaul.
 Cementer (s. from cement) One that cements; that which cements.
 Cementing (s. from the part.) The act of joining with cement, the act of uniting in closer union.
 CENÆUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Atalanta.
 CENIMAGNI (s. in old geography) The ancient inhabitants of Suffolk, Norfolk, and Cambridgeshire.
 CENSARINUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient author
 among the Romans.
 CENSUS (s. from the Lat.) A taxation; the value of a man's estate.
 CENTAURETUS (s.) A man's name, who, when An-tiochus was slain, mounted his horse which run away with him, and broke his neck.
 CENTAURI (s. in old geography) The people of The-taly, who broke horses for war.
 CENTAURIA (s. in botany) The centaur. Dict. of Art.
 Centenarius (s. plu. of centenarius) More than one centenarius.
 CENTENARIUS (s. from the Lat.) The chief officer of an hundred.
 CENTIPEDE (s. from centipede) The centipede.
 Centring (s. from the part.) The act of fixing on the centre.
 Centuplicating (s. from centuplicate) Making a hundred fold; repeating a hundred times.
 Centuplicating (s. from the part.) The act of making a hundred fold.
 Centuriated (p. from centuriate) Divided into hundreds.
 Centuriating (p. a. from centuriate) Dividing into hundreds.
 Centuriating (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into hundreds.
 CEPHALUS (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Mercury and Hestia, the daughter of Cecrops.
 CEPHEUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Andromeda.
 CERA (s. in ornithology) The membrane which furrounds the base of the beak in birds.
 Cerarium (s. in old records) A tax for burning wax candles in a church.
 CERAUNIA (s. in geography) The high hills on the borders of Epirus.
 Ceraunian (adj. from Ceraunia) Belonging to Ceraunia.
 CEROPES (s. in fabulous history) The inhabitants of Pithecule, who were exceedingly deceitful, and supposed to have been transformed into apes.
 CERYON (s.) A man's name; a noted robber in antiquity.
 CEREREA (s. from Ceres) The sacred rites of Ceres.
 Cerinthianizing (p. a. from Cerinthianize) Advancing the doctrines of Cerinthus.
 Cerinthianizing (s. from the part.) The act of advancing the doctrines of Cerinthus.
 CERNUOUS (adj. from the Lat. cernuus) Hanging down the head.
 Cernuizing (s. from the part.) The act of giving cernuous information.
 Cernuizing (s. from the part.) The act of assailing.
 CERNUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Titus, who made war with Jupiter for ravishing his daughter Latona.
 CERYIAS (s.) A man's name; a famous Athenian general.
 CERYIA (s.) The name of a frolicsome young general. Terence.
 CEROŒNEA (s. in geography) A village in Boeotia, famous for the birth place of Plutarch the historian.
 CeroŒnean (adj. from CeroŒnea) Belonging to CeroŒnea.
 CeroŒnean (s. from the adj.) A native of CeroŒnea.
 Chering (s. from the part.) The act of driving bar-rans.
 Chering (s. from the part.) The act of hearing.
 Chering (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a chain.

CHALCEA (s. in antiquity) Feasts in honour of Vulcan.
 CHALC/OPE (s.) The name of a woman; the sister of Medea.
 Chalk/julep (s. in medicine) A kind of julep.
 Challenging (s. from the part.) The act of calling to combat; the act of claiming.
 Chamfering (s. from the part.) The act of making small channels.
 Cham'pionylechnis (s. in botany) A kind of rose.
 Cham'pions (s.) Land not inclosed. Dict. Agr.
 Champ'ing (s. from the part.) The act of biting with repeated action of the teeth.
 CH'YNA (s. in ichthyology) A kind of sparus.
 CHANADEL'LA (s. in ichthyology) The chana; the spa-rus with a forked tail.
 Changeability (s. from changeable) The state or quality of being changeable.
 Change'less (adj. from change) Not subject to change, permanent.
 Chang'ing (s. from the part.) The act of altering.
 Chant'ing (p. a. from chant) Singing, celebrating in song.
 Chant'ing (s. from the part.) The act of singing, as in the cathedral service; the act of celebrating in song.
 CHA'ONES (s. from Chaonia) The inhabitants of Chaonia.
 CHAONIA (s. in geography) A district of Epirus famous for wings.
 Chaonian (adj. from Chaonia) Belonging to Chaonia.
 Chaplaincy (s. from chaplain) The place or office of a chaplain.
 Chapping (s. from the part.) The act of breaking into small chops.
 Characterism (s. from character, but not used) That which distinguishes a character.
 Characterizing (s. from the part.) The act of pointing out by proper characters.
 CHARASIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a valley. 1 Chron.
 CHARAX'US (s.) A man's name; the brother of Sappho, who spent all his substance on the harlot Rho-dophe, and then turned pirate.
 CHA'RES (s.) A man's name; an Athenian, liberal in promises, but slow in performance.
 Chariet (s. an old spelling) A chariot. Newman.
 Charing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a charge. Ovid.
 CHARICLA (s.) The name of a nymph.
 CHARID'EMUS (s.) A man's name.
 Charing (p. a. from char) Doing work at a house by the day.
 Charing (s. from the part.) The act of doing work at a house by the day, and not as a hired servant.
 CHARIS'IUS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator.
 CHARIS'TIA (s. in Roman antiquity) Feasts for the entertainment of relations and particular friends.
 CHARITES (s. in beaten mythology) The three Graces.
 CHAR'MIDAS (s.) A man's name; a Greek remarkable for the strength of his memory.
 Charm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of influencing by a charm.
 CHAR'MIS (s.) A man's name; a physician who was very liberal in the use of the cold bath.
 Char'nock (s. in botany, not so common a spelling) The charlock. Johnson.
 CHA'ROPS (s.) A man's name; the first archon of Athens.
 Char'ned (p. from char) Burnt to a cinder.
 Char'ring (p. a. from char) Burning to a black cinder.
 Char'ring (s. from the part.) The act or process of burning wood or coal to a black cinder.
 CHARX'DIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A ravenous woman, who was supposed to have been turned into a gulf.
 Cha'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pursuing; the act of driving away.
 Cha'lor (s. in old records) A hunting horse.
 Chast'ing (s. from the part.) The act of correcting.
 Chat'ter (s.) The name of a bird, the stonechatter.
 Chat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise like a pie or a monkey; the noise of a pie or monkey; the act of talking much to little purpose; empty discourse.
 Chance (v. inf. an old spelling) To chance, to happen. Sherwin.
 CHAU'CER (s.) A man's name; the father of English poetry.
 Chaw'ing (p. a. from chew) Champing, chewing.
 Chaw'ing

CHO

Chaw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of chewing.
 Cheap'ening (s. from the part.) The act of asking the price of any thing.
 Check'ering (s. from the part.) The act of diversifying.
 Check'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping; the act of laying restraint.
 Cheek'teeth (s. from cheek and teeth) The hinder teeth or tusks in beasts.
 Cheer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refreshing.
 CHEI'RI (s. in botany) The wall flower.
 CHELCHI'AS (s.) A man's name. Suf.
 CHELIDONIUS (s. in botany) The anemone; the wind flower.
 CHEL'LUB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHEL'ONOPHAGI (s. in ancient geography) A people of India, who fed on tortoises, and covered their huts with the shells. Pliny.
 CHEL'UB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHEL'UBAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHENA'ANAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHENA'NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHE'PHARHAM'ONAI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Job. 18.
 CHEPHI'RATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Cher'uping (s. from the part.) A cheruping.
 Cher'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of nursing.
 CHE'RON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Chero'nean (adj. a different spelling) Charonean.
 Cher'ryred (s. from cherry, and red) The colour of a red cherry.
 Cher'ryred (adj. from the sub.) Having the colour of a red cherry.
 CHE'RUK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Cher'uping (s. from the part.) The act of making a cheerful noise; the cheerful note of a bird or insect.
 CHERSID'AMAS (s.) A man's name, a Trojan slain by Ulysses.
 CHE'SALON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Yo. 15.
 CHE'SIL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Chesh'man (s. from chesh, and man) The round bit of wood used in the game at chesh.
 Chesh'men (s. p. u. of cheshman) More than one cheshman.
 CHETH (s.) The eighth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 CHE'TIB (s. from the Heb. signifying to write) The writing of the Hebrew text when it differed from the reading assigned by the Masorites.
 CHEVIN (s. a different spelling) The cheven, the chub.
 Chev'infishing (s. from chevin and fishing) the act or diversion of fishing for chevin.
 Chick'lingpea (s. in botany) The lathyrus.
 CHI'DON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Child'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing children.
 Chi'lese (adj. from Chili) Belonging to Chili.
 Chi'lese (s. from the adj.) A native of Chili; the inhabitants of Chili.
 CHV'LIAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Chill'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making cold.
 Chi'med (p. from chime) Done in chimes.
 Chi'ming (s. from the part.) The act of agreeing in sound; the act of striking bells in tune; the act of falling in with.
 CHIN'NERETH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Chi'ning (p. a. from chine) Cutting into chines.
 Chi'ning (s. from the part.) The act of cutting into chines.
 Chink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shaking any thing so as to make a sharp repeated sound.
 CHIO'NE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Dædalion, an infamous harlot.
 Chis'elling (s. from the part.) The act of cutting with a chisel.
 CHIS'LON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHIS'LOHTA'BOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Chit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sprouting as corn.
 CHIV'IOT (s. in geography) A range of hills between England and Scotland.
 CHLO'RIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Amphion, the goddess of flowers.
 Chock (s. from the verb) A slight touch under the chin by way of respect.
 Chock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of touching lightly under the chin.
 CHCE'RILUS (s.) A man's name; a silly poet.
 CHOI'RADE (s. in surgery) A cuticular eruption, a kind of pimple.
 Choir'ister (s. from choir) One that sings in a choir.
 Cho'king (s. from the part.) The act of suffocating, the act of stopping up.

CIR

CHO'OS (s.) Coos.
 Choo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of selecting.
 Chop'ping (s. from the part.) The act of cutting with heavy and quick motion.
 Chord'ing (p. a. from chord) Furnishing with strings.
 Chord'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with strings.
 CHORINÆUS (s.) A man's name.
 CHORCE'BUS (s.) A man's name; one who voluntarily offered himself to Apollo to be slain to deliver country from the pestilence.
 CHOROMAN'DÆ (s. in fabulous geography) A people who were supposed not to have learned the art of speech; probably a race of monkeys.
 CHOS'RODES (s.) A man's name; a Persian king famous for his learning and philosophy.
 Chou'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.
 CHO'ZEBÄ (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 CHRE'MES (s.) The name of an old man.
 CHRIS (s. a contraction of Christopher, a man's name) for his learning and philosophy.
 CHRISTIANNA (s.) The name of a woman.
 Christian'izing (s. from the part.) The act of converting to Christianity.
 CHRISTINA (s.) The name of a woman.
 Chris'mascandle (s. from Christmas, and candle) large candle lighted up at Christmas.
 Chris'maspie (s. from Christmas, and pie) A rich kind of pie, usually made at Christmas.
 CHRO'MIS (s.) A man's name; a supposed son of Hercules.
 Chron'icling (s. from the part.) The act of entering in register or chronicle.
 CHRY'SAOR (s. in the mythology of the poets) A supposed son of Neptune.
 CHRYSE'IS (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Chryses.
 CHRYSER'MUS (s.) A man's name; a noted physician.
 CHRY'SES (s.) A man's name; a priest of Apollo, father of Chryseis.
 CHRYSIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a stoic philosopher.
 CHRYSIS (s.) A woman's name; a notorious lot.
 CHRYSOG'ONUS (s.) A man's name; one who was famous for an excellent voice.
 Chub'fishing (s. from chub, and fishing) The act or version of fishing for chub.
 Chuck (v. i. a different spelling) To chock.
 Chuck (s. a different spelling) A chock; a slight touch under the chin, in token of respect.
 Chuck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of calling, when her chickens; the act of touching slightly under the chin, by way of respect.
 CHUN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 1 Ch.
 Chu'ing (p. a. from chuse) Choosing.
 Chu'ing (s. from the part.) The act of choosing.
 CIBDELOPLAT'IUM (s. in natural history) The cibloplatia.
 Cie'atrizing (s. from the part.) The act of healing; the act of skinning over.
 CIM'BRI (s. in old geography) The ancient inhabitants of Jutland a peninsula of Denmark.
 Cim'bric (adj. from Cimbric) Belonging to the Cimbric.
 Cim'bric (s. from the adj.) The language of the Cimbric.
 CI'MON (s.) A man's name; an Athenian famous for his valour and liberality.
 CINCINNA'TUS (s.) A man's name; a famous Roman called from the plough to the dictatorship of Rome.
 CIN'CIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 CINEAS (s.) A man's name; a Thessalian remarkable for the strength of his memory.
 CIN'NA (s.) A man's name; a cruel Roman.
 CIN'NARUS (s.) A man's name; a noted and infamous pimp among the Romans.
 CIN'NERETH (s. a different spelling) Chinnereth.
 CIN'NEROTH (s. a different spelling) Chinneroth.
 CINC'IA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Juno.
 CIN'YRAS (s.) A man's name; the father of donis.
 CI'PUS (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman, who nished himself that he might not be advanced to due power over the rest of his fellow citizens.
 Cir'ca (s. in old records) A watch, a guard.
 Cir'cinating (s. from the part.) The act of turning round; the act of forming a circle.
 CIR'CIUS (s.) a boisterous wind said to be peculiar to Gaul.

CLA

claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of enclaving as in a circle.
claudicating (s. in old records) A watchman.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of going a circuit.
claudicating (adj. from circuit) Belonging to a circuit, going round about.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of moving round about.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of walking round about.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of performing the rite of circumcision.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing within certain limits.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of leading out.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of sailing and.
claudicare (v. t. an old spelling) To circumcise. Wickliffe.
claudicating (p. a. from circumstantiate) Placing particular circumstances.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of placing particular circumstances.
claudicating (p. from circumvallate) Inclosed with a trench.
claudicating (p. a. from circumvallate) Surrounding with a trench.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of surrounding with a trench. claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of devising.
claudicating (p. from circumvest) Covered round with a garment.
claudicating (p. a. from circumvest) Covering round with a garment.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of covering with a garment. claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of rolling and.
claudicating (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Nisus, said to have been transformed into a bird that name.
claudicating (adj. from the Lat. cirrus, a curl) Having a curl at the extremity of the leaf. Dict. of Arts.
claudicating (adv. from cirrhated) With a tendency. Dict. of Arts.
claudicating (s. in ichthyology) The beards of fishes.
claudicating (s. a contraction of Cicely) A woman's name.
claudicating (s. a different spelling) Kish; A man's name.
claudicating (s. from the Lat. cædo, to cut, but not so common spelling) Scissors. Johnson.
claudicating (s.) Hecuba, the wife of Priam, so called by her father.
claudicating (s.) A man's name, the father of Hecuba.
claudicating (s. in the mythology of the poets) The Muses. claudicating (s.) A famous mountain of Boeotia in Greece.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of summoning to appear in a court of judicature; the act of quoting an author.
claudicating (s. from citron, and apple) The fruit of the citron.
claudicare (v. int. not so common a spelling) To civilize.
claudicating (p. a. from civilize) Civilizing.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of civilizing.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of reclaiming from heathenism.
claudicating (s. not so correct a spelling) Scissors. Johnson.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of making a connoise; the act of cutting off the sheep's mark with a scissor.
claudicating (s. in botany) A genus of mosses.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of demanding.
claudicating (s. in ornithology) The barnacle, a kind of shell.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of climbing in an upward manner.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of clogging with glutinous. claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with glue.
claudicating (s. from the part.) The act of making a loud disagreeable noise.
claudicare (p. a. from clank) Making a loud, shrill, disagreeable noise.

CLI

clank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a loud, shrill, disagreeable noise.
CLARANUS (s.) A man's name; a learned grammarian.
CLARE (s.) The name of a woman.
Clar'etapple (s.) A kind of apple which produces excellent cider.
Clar'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of clearing from foulness.
Clashing (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise by striking one thing against another; the act or state of interfering.
Clasp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a clasp.
Clatch (s. a local word) A brood of chickens.
CLAUDIAN (s.) A man's name; an excellent Latin poet.
CLAUDUSE (s.) A man's name.
CLAVIGULA (s. in history) The collar bone.
CLAUSUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Sabines.
Clay (adj. from the part.) Made of clay; consisting of clay.
Clay'ing (p. a. from clay) Covering with clay.
Clay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with clay.
Clean'ing (p. a. from clean) Freeing from dirt; making clean.
Clean'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making clean.
Clean'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making clean.
CLEAN'THES (s.) A man's name; a stoic philosopher, successor to Zeno.
CLEAR'CHUS (s.) A man's name; a Lacedemonian captain.
Clea'ving (s. from the part.) The act of parting by violence.
CLEM (s. a contraction of Clement) A man's name.
CLE/MENS (s.) A man's name.
CLEOBIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A man's name; the son of Argia, the priestess, who, with his brother Biton, drew their mother's chariot to the temple, and upon her desiring the best thing for them that could befall man in this world, they were both found dead in their beds the next morning.
CLEOBUL'NA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Cleobulus, who wrote a book of riddles.
CLEOBULUS (s.) A man's name; one of the seven wise men of Greece.
CLEOC'RITUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Cybele, a person of loose morals.
CLEOMBROTUS (s.) A man's name; a son of Panfanius.
CLEOM'EDES (s.) A man's name; a famous champion, who, being defrauded of the rewards of victory at the Olympic games, was deprived of his senses through excessive grief.
CLEOM'ENES (s.) A man's name; the name of several Grecians.
CLEONYMUS (s.) A man's name; a noted coward.
CLEOPHANTUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Greeks.
CLEOSTRATUS (s.) A man's name.
Clep'den (p. obsolete) Called. Wickliffe.
CLEPSYDRA (s.) The name of a woman; a famous courtesan at Athens, who used to measure out her time to her lovers.
CLEPSIDES (s.) A man's name; a famous painter.
Clept (p. obsolete) Called. Sir J. Mandeville.
CLESIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a dwarf remarkable for his deformity, and yet married to a rich widow of a noble family. Pliny.
Clew'ed (s. from clew) Raised by the clew garnet.
Clew'ing (p. a. from clew) Raising the sails by the clew garnet.
Clew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of raising the sails by the clew garnet.
Clew'kin (s. a local word) A kind of strong twine.
Click'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a small distinctly repeated noise; a small distinctly repeated noise.
Climb'ing (p. a. from climb) Ascending; getting up by the hands and feet.
Climb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ascending by the hands and feet.
Clinch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of holding with the hand clinched; the act of bending the point of a nail; the act of confirming.
Cling'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sticking fast to any thing.
Clink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a sharp successive noise.

Clipping

COA

- Clo'ping (s. from the part.) The act of embracing; the act of diminishing by cutting.
- CLIS'THENES (s.) A man's name; the inventor of the ostracism.
- CLITARCHUS (s.) A man's name; an historian who recorded the exploits of Alexander.
- CLYTI'PHO (s.) The name of a young woman. Terence.
- CLITOM'ACHUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher at Carthage.
- CLITUS (s.) A man's name; an intimate friend of Alexander.
- CLOACINA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Venus.
- CLOANTHUS (s.) A man's name; a companion of Aeneas.
- Cloath'ing (s. from the part, a spelling nearly antiquated) The act of clothing; clothing.
- Clo'ca, Cloe'ca (s. in old records) A cloak.
- Cloca'rium (s. in old records) A house in which a large clock is placed.
- Clodd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering into clods.
- CLO'DIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of divers Romans.
- CLOE'LIA (s.) The name of a woman.
- Clog'ging (s. from the part.) The act of putting on a clog; the act of obstructing.
- CLON'DICUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Gauls.
- Clos'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up in a closet.
- Clo'sing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up.
- Cloth measure (s. from: cloth, and measure) A measure by which the quantity of cloth is computed.
- Cloth'ed (p. from clot) Formed into clots.
- Clothing (s. from the part.) The act of forming into clots.
- Clutch (v. t. obsolete) To clutch, to inclose as in an embrace.
- Cloutch (p. from: clutch) Shut up as in an embrace. Marston.
- Cloy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of satiating.
- CLUACINA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Venus.
- Club (s. at cards) A single card of that suit which is marked with black spots resembling an oak leaf.
- Club'footed (adj. from club and foot) Having the feet resembling the head of a club.
- Clubs (s. at cards) The black suit depicted with a leaf something resembling that of an oak.
- Cluck'ing (s. from the part.) The noise of the hen calling her chickens.
- CLUEN'TIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of an illustrious Roman.
- CLU'SEA (s.) The name of a woman remarkable for her chastity.
- Clust'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering into clusters.
- Clutch'ed (p. from clutch) Gripped, held fast in the hand.
- Clutch'ing (p. a. from clutch) Gripping, holding fast in the hand.
- Clutch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gripping.
- Clut'ered (adj. from clutter) Confused, having all things out of order. Bailey.
- CLUVIENUS (s.) A man's name; a very mean Roman poet.
- CLY'DESDALE (s.) A county in Scotland.
- CLYME'NE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Oceanus and mother of Phaeton.
- CLYTEMNE'ST'RA (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Tyndarus and wife of Agamemnon.
- CLY'TIA (s.) A nymph, daughter of Oceanus and beloved of Apollo.
- CLY'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a youth loved by Cydon.
- CLYTO'RIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of a woman, supposed to have been ravished by Jupiter in the shape of an ant.
- CNE'US (s.) The surname of several Romans.
- Coach'ing (p. a. from coach) Carrying in a coach.
- Coach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of carrying in a coach.
- Coact'ing (p. a. from coact) Acting in concert.
- Coact'ing (s. from the part.) The act of operating in concert.
- Coag'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of forming into coagulations.
- Coal'ed (p. from coal) Sketched out with a coal; burnt to charcoal.

COL

- Coales'cing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting one mass.
- Coal'ing (p. a. from coal) Burning to charcoal; taking out with a coal.
- Coal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of burning to coal; the act of sketching out with a coal.
- Coard (s. a different spelling) A cord of wood. D.
- Coax'ing (s. from the part.) The act of flattering.
- COBA'RES (s.) A man's name; a magician contemporary with Alexander.
- Cob'bling (s. from the part.) The act of mending coarce manner.
- COC'ALUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Sicily.
- COC'CEIUS (s.) A man's name; a friend of Horace.
- Coc'cis (s. a different spelling) The coccy, the scut.
- COC'CUS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
- Cock'feeding (s. from cock, and feeding) The method of feeding fighting cocks.
- Cock'fighter (s. from cock, and fighter) One who practices the barbarous diversion of cockfighting.
- Cock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting up hat; the method of setting up little cocks of corn; the barbarous custom of cockfighting.
- Cock'ling (p. a. from cockle) Contracting into wrinkles.
- Cock'ling (s. from the part.) The act of contracting wrinkles.
- Cock'pitlaws (s. from cockpit, and laws) The laws served by cockfighters.
- Cock'rel (s. from cock) A young fighting cock.
- COC'LES (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman.
- COCOON (s. in natural history) The pod of a worm.
- COCY'TIUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of supposed rivers of hell.
- Cod'ing (s. from the part.) The act of producing cod.
- Cod'ing (s. from the part.) The act of boiling gentle process.
- CO'DRUS (s.) A man's name; the last king of Athens.
- Cod'fswollen (adj. from cod, and swollen) Having cod (swelled).
- COELOS'YRIA (s.) A part of Syria.
- COE'LUS (s. in beaten mythology) The supposed father of Helios and Selene; the heavens.
- COERA'NUS (s.) A man's name; one who was the Unifier.
- Coer'ced (p. from coerce) Restrained, kept in order.
- Coer'cing (p. a. from coerce) Restraining, keeping order.
- Coer'cing (s. from the part.) The act of restraining.
- Coexis'ting (s. from the part.) The act or state of existing together.
- Coexten'ding (s. from the part.) The act of extending the same point with another.
- Coexten'sive (adj. from coextend) Equally extending together.
- Coffer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying up coffer.
- Coff'ing (p. a. from coffin) Putting into a coffin.
- Coff'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a coffin.
- Cog'ging (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a wheel; the act of giving a false bias; the act of flattery; the act of deceiving by false pretenses.
- Cognizant (adj. a law term) Taking cognizance.
- Cognizant (adj. a different spelling) Cognizant.
- Cog'ning (p. a. from cogue) Drinking drams.
- Cog'uing (s. from the part.) The act of drinking.
- Cohabit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dwelling in the same place, the act of living together as man and wife.
- Cohe'ring (p. a. from cohere) Sticking together.
- Cohe'ring (s. from the part.) The act of sticking together.
- Co'lobating (s. from the part.) The act of distilling again.
- Coiling (s. from the part.) The act of winding coils.
- Co'kestole (s. an old word) The cucking stool.
- Cocket'tum (s. in old records) A cocket.
- Cole'bian (adj. from Colebis) Belonging to Colebis.
- Cole'bian (s. from the part.) A native of Colebis.
- COL'EBIS (s. in ancient geography) A country from which Jason and the Argonauts were supposed to have fetched the golden fleece.
- Col'eflower (s. a different spelling) A collyflower.
- Col'eing (s.) The name of an apple.
- COLHO'ZETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Collap'ing (s. from the part.) The act of falling.
- Coll'aring (s. from the part.) The act of putting collar; the act of taking by the collar.

COM ing (s. from the part.) The act of comparing to-ther.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting to-ther in office or employment.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering together.
LEMA (s. in botany) A genus of mosses.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of dashing one thing against another.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of melting together.
ing (s. from the part. a lew word) The act of saying with false words.
ing (p. a. from collude) Playing into each others hands.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of playing into each others hand.
nel'us (s. in old records) A colonel.
izing (s. from the part.) The act of forming colours.
ored (p. from color, the modern spelling) Coloured.
oring (p. a. from color, the modern spelling) Colour-
ing.
ing (s. from the part, the modern spelling) The act of colouring, that with which any thing is coloured.
ians (s. from Cypriote) The title of one of the Epistles of the New Testament.
AGE'NA (s. in old geography) A part of Syria.
AGE'NI (s. from Comagena) The inhabitants of Comagena famous for their skill in magic.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of fighting hand to hand. ing (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning with a brush.
ing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting for some bad purpose.
able (adj. from come, and at) Attainable.
METES (s.) A man's name; one of the Argonauts.
ited (p. from comfit) Made into dry sweetmeat.
iting (p. a. from comfit) Making into dry sweetmeat.
iting (s. from the part.) The act of making into dry sweetmeat.
orting (s. from the part.) The act of making cheerful.
mand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving command, the act of directing with authority.
mand'ement (s. an old spelling) A commandment.
men'orating (s. from the part.) The act of preserving in memory.
men'ced (p. from commence) Begun.
men'cing (s. from the part.) The act of beginning.
mend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of recommending.
ment'ing (s. from the part.) The act of expounding.
migrating (p. a. from immigrate) Removing in a body from one place to another.
migrating (s. from the part.) The act of removing a body from one place to another.
ming'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting in one mass.
minuting (s. from the part.) The act of grinding to powder.
mis'crating (s. from the part.) The act of commisioning.
mis'ionating (s. from the part.) The act of commissioning.
mis'ioning (s. from the part.) The act of giving a commission.
mit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of intrusting;
the act of sending to prison.
mix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of blending together.
MODUS (s.) A man's name; one of the Roman emperors.
moning (s. from the part.) The act of feeding on common; the pasture of a common.
monopol'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming from a common place book.
mon'ne (s. in old records) A common.
municating (s. from the part.) The act of immunicating.
muning (s. from the part.) The act of talking together.
muning (s. from the part.) The act of exchange-
ing.
muning (s. from the part.) The act of joining together.

CON

Com'panying (s. from the part.) The act of associating with.
Compa'ring (s. from the part.) The act of bringing into comparison.
Compart'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into proper parts.
Com'passing (s. from the part.) The act of encircling.
Compass'ionating (s. from the part.) The act of commiserating.
Compel'ling (s. from the part.) The act of constrain-
ing.
Compen'sating (s. from the part.) The act of recom-pensing.
Compi'ling (s. from the part.) The act of collecting from various authors.
COMPITA'LES (s. in heathen mythology) A kind of public Lares.
COMPITA'LIA (s. from compitales) Feasts instituted in honour of the Lares.
Complain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bewailing; a complaint.
Complain'ing (s. from the part. but not used) The act of reducing to an equal surface.
Comple'ting (s. from the part.) The act of perfect-
ing.
Compli'able (adj. from comply) Ready to comply, yield-
ing.
Complicating (p. a. from complicate) Knitting together.
Complicating (s. from the part.) The act of knitting
together.
Compl'o'ring (p. a. from complore) Lamenting together.
Compl'o'ring (s. from the part.) The act of lamenting
together.
Complot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining in a plot.
Comply'ing (s. from the part.) The act of submitting, the act of yielding to solicitation.
Compo'sing (s. from the part.) The act of setting in order, the act of calming.
Compound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a compound.
Comprehend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conceiving; the act of including.
Compress'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pressing closely together.
Compri'sing (s. from the part.) The act of including.
Com'promising (s. from the part.) The act of adjusting a difference.
Compt'ed (p. from compt, nearly obsolete) Counted.
Compt'ing (p. a. from compt, nearly obsolete) Counting, computing.
Comput'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reckoning, the act of numbering.
CONANI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Conceal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hiding, the act of keeping secret.
Conce'ding (s. from the part.) The act of yielding.
Conceiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of receiving into the mind, the act of admitting into the womb.
Concealment'um (s. in old records) A concealment.
Concen'tring (s. from the part.) The act of tending to one common center.
Concert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of contriving beforehand.
CONCET'TI (s. from the Italian) An affected prettiness, a kind of witty device; prettinesses.
Concil'iating (s. from the part.) The act of reconcil-
ing.
Conclu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of finishing.
Conco'ding (s. from the part.) The act of digesting.
CON'CORD (s. from Concordia) Concordia, the patroness of peace and friendship.
CONCOR'DIA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess of peace and friendship.
Concor'porating (s. from the part.) The act of uniting in one mass.
Concre'ting (s. from the part.) The act of forming by concretion.
Concur'ring (s. from the part.) The act of agreeing, the act of going together in any measure or design.
Condu'ed (p. from cond) Guided in a right course.
Condemn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of censuring, the act of consigning to punishment.
Condens'ating (p. a. from condensate) Making dense, becoming dense.
Condens'ating (s. from the part.) The act of making thicker.

Condens'ing

CON

Condens'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making thicker.
Condescend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of submitting to more than right or justice requires.
Cond'ing (p. a. from cond) Guiding in a right course as a ship at sea.
Cond'ing (s. from the part.) The act of guiding a ship at sea.
Condi'ting (s. from the part.) The act of preserving in pickle.
Conditioning (s. from the part.) The act of stipulating.
Condo'led (p. from condole) Bewailed, lamented with another.
Condo'ling (s. from the part.) The act of lamenting with another.
Condu'cing (s. from the part.) The act of tending to some particular purpose.
Condu'cing (s. from the part.) The act of leading, the act of managing.
Con'dyle (s. in anatomy, from condyli) The knob or production of a bone.
Confab'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of conversing together.
Confed'erating (s. from the part.) The act of joining in a confederacy.
Confer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discoursing with seriousness.
Confes'ing (s. from the part.) The act of acknowledging.
Confid'ing (p. a. from confide) Trusting, placing confidence.
Confid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of trusting.
Configured (p. from configure) Disposed into some figure.
Config'uring (p. a. from configure) Disposing into some figure.
Config'uring (s. from the part.) The act of forming into some figure.
Confin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of restraining, the act of putting under confinement.
Confirmer (s. a law term) The party to whom any thing is confirmed.
Confirm'or (s. from confirm) The person who confirms.
Confirm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of establishing by additional proof; the act of strengthening.
Confis'cating (p. a. from confiscate) Transferring to the prince or state, forfeiting to the king.
Confis'cating (s. from the part.) The act of transferring to the prince or state; the act of forfeiting to the king.
Confix'ing (s. from the part. not much used) The act of fastening down.
Conflict'ing (s. from the part.) The act of struggling with difficulties, the act of contending with enemies.
Conform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to some form, the act of complying.
Confound'ing (p. a. from confound) Mingling in a confused mass, perplexing, throwing into confusion.
Confound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mingling; the act of throwing into confusion.
Confront'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing face to face.
Confus'ing (s. from the part.) The act of confounding.
Confut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disproving; the act of convincing of error.
Congea'ling (s. from the part.) The act of turning into congelations.
Congla'ciated (p. from congelate) Turned into ice.
Congla'ciating (p. a. from congelate) Turning into ice.
Congla'ciating (s. from the part.) The act of turning into ice.
Conglo'bating (s. from the part.) The act of gathering into a round ball.
Conglo'bing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering into a round mass.
Conglo'merating (s. from the part.) The act of winding into a ball.
Conglu'tinating (s. from the part.) The act of cementing by means of glue.
Congrat'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of complimenting on any joyful event.
Congree'ing (s. from the part. but not used) The act of agreeing.
Congreet'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reciprocal salutation.
Con'gregating (s. from the part.) The act of gathering together.
Congru'ing (s. from the part.) The act of agreeing; the act of suiting any purpose.

CON

CONICHTYADON'TES (s. in natural history) A genus of fossil teeth.
Conj'uring (s. from the part.) The act of guessing.
Conjoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting; the act of connecting.
Conjugating (s. from the part.) The act of inflecting the act or form of declining a verb; the act of joining together as in a yoke.
Conjuring (s. from the part.) The practice at enchantments.
Conju'ring (s. from the part.) The act of summoning a solemn manner.
Connect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining together.
Connex'ing (s. from the part.) The act of connecting.
Con'ning (s. from the part.) The act of looking on lesson.
Conno'ting (s. from the part.) The act of noting together.
CON'NY (s. in familiar style) Constance, a woman's name.
CO'NON (s.) A man's name; a noted mathematician and astrologer.
CONONIAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
CO'NOPAS (s.) A man's name; a dwarf about four two inches in height.
Conquas'fating (s. from the part.) The act of conquering.
Con'querefs (s. from conquer) A female who has conquered.
Con'quering (s. from the part.) The act of subduing an enemy; the act of obtaining by conquest.
Con'secrating (s. from the part.) The act of making sacred; devoting to sacred uses.
Consent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of yielding the act of complying.
CONSERVA'TRIX (s. from the Lat. conservo, to preserve) A female who preserves; a title of Fortune.
Conserv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of preserving the act of making up in conserve.
Consid'ering (s. from the part.) The act of pondering the mind.
Consign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving to another.
Consist'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of consisting.
Consociating (s. from the part.) The act of uniting society.
Conso'led (p. from console) Cheered, comforted.
Consol'idating (s. from the part.) The act of making solid; the act of uniting into one mass.
Consol'ing (p. a. from console) Cheering, comforting.
Conso'ling (s. from the part.) The act of comforting.
Consort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining company.
Conspiring (s. from the part.) The act of plotting together; the act of forming a conspiracy.
Constel'lating (s. from the part.) The act of joining one splendour.
Constipating (s. from the part.) The act of crowding together.
Constituting (s. from the part.) The act of setting the act of ordaining.
Constrain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of compelling.
Constrict'ing (s. from the part.) The act of binding.
Construct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of constructing.
Construing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in natural order; the act of explaining.
Consub'rating (s. from the part.) The act of uniting in chastity.
Consubstan'tialist (s. from consubstantial) One who maintains the consubstantiality of the Father and the Son.
Consubstan'tiating (s. from the part.) The act of uniting in the same substance.
Consult'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking counsel together; the act of asking advice.
Consum'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wasting.
Consum'mating (s. from the part.) The act of completing.
CON'SUS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the sons of Neptune.
Contab'ulated (p. from contabulate) Laid with boards.
Contab'ulating (p. a. from contabulate) Flooring with boards.
Contab'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of flooring with boards.
Contain'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of containing within bounds.

Contain'ing

contaminating (s. from the part.) The act of de-staining. Newman.
 containing (v. t. an old spelling) To contain.
 contempting (s. from the part.) The act of despising.
 contempting (s. from the part.) The act of tempering.
 contenting (s. from the part.) The act of moderating.
 contenting (s. from the part.) The act of considering with serious attention.
 contenting (s. from the part.) The act of making contemporary.
 contending (s. from the part.) The act of striving for mastery.
 contenting (p. a. from content) Satisfying, giving content.
 contenting (s. from the part.) The act of giving content.
 contented (p. from content) Disputed, contended.
 contenting (p. a. from content) Disputing, contend-
 ing.
 contending (s. from the part.) The act of disputing; the act of contending.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of abiding.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting anything from its natural form.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of importing contraband goods.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing together.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of gainfay-ering.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of distinguishing by opposite qualities.
 continuing (s. from the part.) Pointing out some method of cure, contrary to common practice.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of setting two more things in direct opposition.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of obstructing;
 act of opposing.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of giving to common stock.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of projecting.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of restraining.
 continuing (s. in old records) A contrivance.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of debating;
 act of disputing.
 controlling (v. t. not so correct a spelling) To control.
 controlling (s. not so common a spelling) A control.
 controlling (adj. not so common a spelling) Controlling.
 controlled (p. from controul) Controlled.
 controlling (p. a. from controul) Controlling.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of assembling;
 act of calling together.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of approaching.
 continuing (p. a. from converse) Discouraging familiarly.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of discouraging familiarly.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of turning; the act of producing a change.
 continuing (adj. from convey) Capable of being conveyed. Dorney.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of carrying.
 continuing (adj. a different spelling) Convictible.
 continuing (adj. from convict) Capable of being convicted.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of proving.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of giving content.
 continuing (s. from the part. but not used) The act of continuing.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of calling together.
 continuing (p. a. from convolve) Turning round.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of turning.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of conducting by way of defence.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of giving an irregular motion.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act or process of dressing.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of making more numerous.
 continuing (s. from the part.) The act of working with a tool.

Cooping (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up in a narrow compass.
 CO'OS (s.) An island in the Mediterranean sea.
 Cop'peraswater (s. from copperas and water) A water impregnated with copperas.
 Cops'ing (s. from the part.) The act or method of preserving tender woods.
 Cop'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of generation.
 Cop'ying (s. from the part.) The act of transcribing from an original.
 Coquet'ting (s. from the part.) The act of affecting amorous tenderness; the act of playing the co-quette.
 COR (s.) The homer, an Hebrew measure.
 Cora'gium (s. in old records) A payment of corn to the king.
 CO'RAISCHITE (s. in ecclesiastical history) One of a sect who opposed Mahomet in the establishment of his new religion, and obliged him to flee from Mecca.
 CO'RASHAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 CO'RA'X (s.) A man's name; a master of rhetoric in Sicily.
 CORAX' (s. in old geography) A people of Pontus.
 CORBULO (s.) A man's name; a proconsul of Syria.
 CORCY'RA (s.) The name of an island in the Ionian sea.
 Cord'ing (p. a. from cord) Binding with cords.
 Cord'ing (s. from the part.) The act of binding with cords.
 Cordubona'rius (s. in old records) A cordwainer, a shoemaker.
 CORIN'NA (s.) A woman's name; a famous Theban poetess.
 CORIN'THIAN (s. from Corinth) The title of two of Paul's epistles.
 CORIOLA'NUS (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman.
 CORNA'RH (s. in old geography) A people who inhabited the north of Scotland.
 COR'NAGE (s. from the Lat. cornu, a horn) An ancient duty for watching and blowing a horn on a surprize.
 CORNE'LIA (s.) A woman's name; the sister of Scipio.
 CORNIC'IIUS (s.) A man's name; an excellent Roman poet.
 Corn'ing (p. a. from corn) Sprinkling with salt.
 Corn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sprinkling with salt.
 Corn'parsley (s. in botany) The bishop's weed.
 Cornu'ting (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with horns.
 CORNU'TUS (s.) A man's name; a stoic philosopher.
 CORCE'BUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Magedon, who courted Cassandra the daughter of Priam.
 CORO'NIS (s.) A beautiful nymph beloved of Apollo;
 the name of a goddess.
 Corporeality (s. from corporeal) The state of being corporeal.
 Corpor'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of embody-
 ing.
 Corps'present (s. from corps, and present) A mortuary.
 Corra'ging (s. from the part.) The act of rubbing off.
 Correct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of chastising.
 Correspond'ing (s. from the part.) The act of agreeing;
 the act of having intercourse by letters.
 Corrob'orating (s. from the part.) The act of strengthening.
 Corro'ding (s. from the part.) The act of eating away.
 Corro'dium (s. in old records) A corrad.
 Cor'rugating (s. from the part.) The act of drawing up into folds.
 Corrupt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of growing putrid.
 CORT'INA (s.) The tripod.
 Coryban'tiating (p. a. from corybantiate) Sleeping with the eyes open.
 Coryban'tiating (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping
 with the eyes open.
 CORYBAN'TUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the first attendants of the goddess Cybele.
 CORY'DON (s.) The name of a shepherd. Virgil.
 COSAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 COSMUS (s.) A man's name; a noted Roman perfumer.
 COS'SUS (s.) A man's name; the name of a valiant Roman.
 COSSU'TIA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Julius Cæsar.

Cote'r'rits (s. in old records) A cottager.
 Coth'eth'landa (s. in old records) A cottage, a farm.
 Co'thurn (s. from cothurnus) The tragic buskin.
 Co'thurn (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to that kind of high shoe worn by the ancient tragedians. Peasbarn.
 Cotter, Cotteral (s. a local word) The pin that holds the wheel on the axle-tree.
 Cot'ting (p. a. from cott) Interfering in women's affairs.
 Coe'ting (s. from the part.) The act of interfering in women's affairs.
 COT'ULA (s. in antiquity) A liquid measure; a dry measure containing about ten ounces.
 Co'tula (s. plu. of cotula) More than one cotula.
 COT'YLA (s. a different spelling) The cotula.
 COT'YLÆ (s. plu. of cotyla) More than one cotula.
 CO'TYS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Thracian kings.
 Couch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lying down; the act of operation of suppressing a catarrh.
 Cove'nanting (s. from the part.) The act of entering into a covenant.
 Cove'nantor (s. a law term from covenant) One who enters into covenant, one who covenants to perform any thing.
 Cove'ted (p. from covet) Desired with a criminal ardour.
 Cove'ting (p. a. from covet) Desiring with a criminal ardour.
 Cove'ting (s. from the part.) The act of desiring with criminal ardour.
 Coun'selling (s. from the part.) The act of giving counsel.
 Count'er (s. at ombre) The act of counting the game; the manner in which the game is counted; a single count.
 Counterbal'ance (v. t. from the sub.) To counterpoise.
 Counterbal'anced (p. from counterbalance) Counterpoised.
 Counterbal'ancing (p. a. from counterbalance) Counterpoising.
 Counterbal'ancing (s. from the part.) The act of counterpoising.
 Counterbus'fing (p. a. from counterbuff) Impelling in a direction contrary to a former impulse.
 Counterbus'fing (s. from the part.) The act of impelling in a contrary direction to a former impulse.
 Counterchang'ed (p. from counterchange) Given and received.
 Counterchang'ing (p. a. from counterchange) Giving and receiving.
 Counterchang'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving and receiving.
 Countercharm'ed (p. from countercharm) Destroyed as one charm by another.
 Countercharm'ing (p. a. from countercharm) Destroying one charm by another.
 Countercharm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of destroying one charm by another.
 Countercheck'ed (p. from countercheck) Opposed by a contrary force.
 Countercheck'ing (p. a. from countercheck) Opposing by a contrary force.
 Countercheck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing by a contrary force.
 Counterdraw'n (p. from counterdraw) Traced through some transparent matter.
 Counterfeiting (s. from the part.) The act of imitating with a design to defraud.
 Countermand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ordering in a different manner from what was done before.
 Countermarch'ing (p. a. from countermarch) Marching backwards.
 Countermarch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marching back.
 Countermark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of distinguishing by a countermark.
 Countermin'ed (p. from countermine) Defeated by counterworking.
 Countermin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening a way into the enemies mine; the act of defeating by secret measures.
 Counterplead'ing (s. from the part.) The act of entering a counter plea.
 Counterplot'ted (p. from counterplot) Opposed as one plot by another.

Counterplot'ting (p. a. from counterplot) Opposing plot by another.
 Counterplot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of opposing one plot by another.
 Counterpois'ing (s. from the part.) The act of counterbalancing.
 Counterpow'ered (adj. from counter and power) Opposed as one power to another.
 Counterpro'ved (p. from counterprove) Taken off a design by passing through the rolling press with a blank piece of paper.
 Counterpro'ving (p. a. from counterprove) Taking off a design by passing it through the rolling press with a blank paper.
 Counterpro'ving (s. from the part.) The act of taking off a design by passing it through the rolling press with a blank piece of paper.
 Count'erscent (s. from counter and scent) A scent scented by the double of the hare.
 Counterfign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of signing under another.
 Countervail'ed (p. from countervail) Acted against with equal force.
 Countervail'ing (p. a. from countervail) Acting in a contrary direction with equal force.
 Countervail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing with equal force.
 Counterwork'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fighting by contrary operations.
 Count'ing (s. from the part.) The act of computing.
 Count'wheel (s. in clock work) The latent wheel, wheel that regulates the striking of a clock.
 Cour (v. t. obsolete) To cover.
 Cour'ed (p. from cour, obsolete) Covered.
 Court'esying (s. from the part.) The act of making courtesy.
 Court'card (s.) A picture card.
 Court'py (s. obsolete) A coat, a garment.
 Cowbas'il (s. in botany) The vaccaria.
 Cow'ering (s. from the part.) The act of stooping, act of striking downwards.
 Cow'ing (s. from the part. colloquial) The act of riting with fatigue.
 Cow'parsley (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Cow'pasture (s. from cow and pasture) A pasture for cows; a right of pasture for one cow.
 Cox'comb (s. in botany, a different spelling) The comb.
 Coy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of behaving reservedly.
 Coyte (s. in old records) A quoit.
 Coytes (s. from coyte) Quoits; the game at quoits.
 Coyne (s. an old spelling) Coin, money.
 COZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Coz'en'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.
 Crab'apple (s. from crab and apple) The fruit of the crabtree.
 Crab'bing (s. from the adj.) The fighting of hawks when they stand too near together.
 Crab'tree (s. from crab and tree) A kind of wild tree.
 Crab'tree (adj. from the sub.) Made of a crab tree, belonging to the wild apple tree.
 Crack'ling (s. from the part.) The act of breaking, act of breaking in cracks.
 Crad'dins (s. a local word) Bold tricks.
 Crad'dling (p. a. from cradle) Laying in a cradle.
 Crad'dling (s. from the part.) The act of laying in a cradle.
 Cramp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stuffing, act of eating beyond satiety.
 Cramp'ing (p. a. from cramp) Fastening a cramp.
 Cramp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening a cramp.
 Crank'ling (s. from the part.) The act of running windings.
 CRANTOR (s.) A man's name; a Roman philosopher to Plato.
 CRAS'SIPES (s.) A man's name; a Roman famous for his fine gardens.
 CRAS'SUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several men.
 CRAS'TINUS (s.) A man's name; a man remarkable for his forward disposition.
 CRA'TER (s. from the Lat.) The bowl, or burning mountain.
 CRATERUS (s.) A man's name; a companion of Alexander.

CROATES (s.) A man's name; a philosopher who discovered a contempt for wealth.

CROATINUS (s.) A man's name; a comic poet.

CROATIPUS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian philosopher.

CROATYLUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher contemporary with Plato.

CROVEN (v. int. the word used by the vanquished party in a wager of battle) To yield, to beg for quarter.

CROWLING (s. from the part.) The act of creeping.

CROWLING (s. from the part.) The act of crushing; the act of breaking the intellects.

CROWLING (s. from the part.) The act of making a harsh disagreeable noise.

CREAM-CHEESE (s. from cream and cheese) Cheese in which cream was added to the milk from which it was produced.

CREAMING (s. from the part.) The act of gathering cream.

CREAM-WATER (s.) Water with a kind of oil or scum upon it.

CREASING (s. from the part.) The act of marking by a fold.

CREAST (p. from crease) Doubled, bent, creased.

CREASTLE (s. from creast, and tile) A creast tile. Cole.

CREASTING (s. from the part.) The act of forming; the act of making something out of nothing.

CREASTED (p. from credit) Believed, received as true; trusted, admitted, as a creditor.

CREASTING (p. a. from credit) Believing, receiving as true; trusting, admitting as a creditor.

CREASTING (s. from the part.) The act of giving credit.

CREASTING (s. from the part.) The act of making a harsh disagreeable noise.

CREASTING (s. from the part.) The act of moving on the ground.

CREON (s.) A man's name; a famous king of Thebes.

CREPONCE (s. a different spelling) The creponce.

CRETAN (adj. from Crete) Belonging to Crete.

CRETAN (s. from the adj.) A native of Crete.

CRETHEAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Æolus.

CREUSA (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Creon, and wife of Jason.

CRIB (s. at cribbage) The two best cards laid down in a game at cribbage.

CRIBBING (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up in a confined habitation.

CRIBIFORM (adj. from the Lat. cribrum a sieve, and forma a shape) Having the form of a sieve.

CRIBIFORMIA (s. in anatomy) The spongioidea, the sieve-like bone.

CRICKETER (s. from cricket) One who plays at cricket.

CRIMPING (s. from the part.) The act of shrinking.

CRIPNAS (s.) A man's name; a physician who prescribed physic according to the motion of the planets.

CRIPPLING (s. from the part.) The act of servile flattery.

CRIPNUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Acestes.

CRIPPLING (s. from the part.) The act of making a cripple.

CRISPIANA (s.) A woman's name.

CRISPIANUS (s.) A man's name.

CRISTIAS (s.) A man's name; the captain of the thirty tyrants who reigned at Athens.

CRISTING (s. from the part.) The act of playing the critic.

CRISTO (s.) A man's name; the intimate friend of Socrates.

CRITOBULUS (s.) A man's name; a noted physician.

CRITOLAUS (s.) A man's name; a captain who ruined Athens by his ill conduct, and then poisoned himself.

CROCUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A beautiful youth, who fell in love with Smilax, and pined away into a flower, which bears his name.

CROCIUM (s. in old records) A croit; a small piece of ground adjoining to a house.

CRODIA (s. in antiquity) Feasts in honour of Saturn, in which small presents were sent from one to another.

CROD (s. a local word) A crib for a calf.

CROOKBACK (adj. from crook, and back) Crookbacked.

CROOKING (p. a. from crook) Making crooked.

CROOKING (s. from the part.) The act of making crooked.

CROOKING (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off the ends.

CROOKBEAK (s. in ornithology) The loxia; the cross bill.

CROOKING (s. from the part.) The act of laying one thing over another; the act of passing athwart.

CROSTA (s. an old word) A crowd, a violin.

CROTHENING (s. a different spelling) The dung of a horse.

CROTOPUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Argives.

CROUCHING (s. from the part.) The act of stooping low.

CROWDING (s. from the part.) The act of pressing together; the act of playing coarsely on a violin.

CROWN-SCAB (s. in farriery) A disease incident to horses.

CROWS-BILL (s. in botany) The yellow daffodil.

CRUCIATING (s. from the part.) The act of torturing.

CRUDLING (s. from the part.) The act of coagulating.

CRUIHING (s. from the part.) The act of roving on the sea.

CRULE (v. int. not much used) To draw near the fire shivering as though cramped with cold. Dorsey.

CRULING (p. a. from crule) Drawing near the fire as though cramped with cold.

CRULING (s. from the part. not much used) The act of drawing near the fire as though cramped with cold.

CRUMBLING (s. from the part.) The act of breaking into small pieces.

CRUMPFooted (adj. from crump and foot) Having the foot contracted like the head of a club. Phillips.

CRUMPLING (s. from the part.) The act of drawing into wrinkles.

CRUPPERBUCKLE (s. from crupper and buckle) The buckle by which the crupper is fastened to the saddle.

CRUSHING (s. from the part.) The act of pressing between two bodies.

CRUSTED (p. from crust) Covered with a crust.

CRUSTING (p. a. from crust) Covering with a crust.

CRUSTING (s. from the part.) The act of gathering a crust.

CRYING (p. a. from cry) Weeping, shedding tears, uttering lamentations, making an inarticulate noise, proclaiming, publishing aloud.

CRYING (s. from the part.) The act of weeping, the voice of lamentation; the act of proclaiming.

CRYSTALLIZING (s. from the part.) The act of forming into crystal.

CTESIPHON (s.) A man's name; an excellent architect who built the temple of Diana at Ephesus.

CUBBING (p. a. from cub) Bringing forth young.

CUBBING (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth young.

CUCKOLDING (s. from the part.) The act of making a man a cuckold.

CUD-BEAR (s.) A kind of purple die lately invented.

CUDDLING (s. from the part.) The act of lying close; a close embrace.

CUD/FISH (s. from cud, and fish) The name of a fish, the scarus; it feeds on herbs, and chews the cud.

CUDGELLING (s. from the part.) The act of beating with a cudgel.

CUD/LOST (s. from cud and lost) The loss of the cud, a disease incident to black cattle. Diët. Rus.

CUFFING (s. from the part.) The act of beating; the act of striking obliquely with the fist.

CULLEIS (s.) A kind of expressed liquor from meat, or other things, pounded in a mortar.

CULLIBILITY (s. from cullible) Easiness of temper, the state of being easily imposed upon. Swift.

CULLIBLE (adj. from cully) Capable of being deceived, easily imposed on.

CULLIED (p. from cully) Tricked, imposed upon.

CULLYING (p. a. from cully) Tricking, imposing upon.

CULLYING (s. from the part.) The act of imposing on the good temper of others.

CULMINATING (s. from the part.) The act of rising to the vertical point.

CULTIVATING (s. from the part.) The act of improving; the act of rendering more fruitful.

CULVERTIGIUM (s. in old records) Cowardice.

CUMA (s.) A city of Greece; the country of one of the Sibyls.

CUMÆA (s. from Cuma) The name of one of the Sibyls.

CUMÆAN (adj. from Cuma) Belonging to Cuma; belonging to one of the Sibyls.

CUMBERING (s. from the part.) The act of embarrassing.

CUMMI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

CUMIGIUM (s. in old records) The coinage of money.

CUNEIFORMIA (s. in anatomy) A bone of the foot, so called from its resemblance to a wedge.

CYN

Cunicularium (s. in old records) A borrow for rabbits.

Cup/boarding (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a cupboard.

Cu'ra (s. in old records) A curacy.

Cura'tus (s. in old records) A curate.

Curb'able (adj. from curb) Capable of being restrained by a curb.

Curb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of restraining.

Curd'ling (s. from the part.) The act of coagulating.

CURE'TES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The Corybantes.

Cur'ing (p. a. from cure) Healing, restoring to health; pickling, preserving.

Cur'ing (s. from the part.) The act of healing; the act of restoring to health; the act of preserving with salt.

CUR'IUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman who was twice consul.

Cur'rantwine (s. from currant, and wine) Wine made of currants.

Cur'rying (s. from the part.) The act of dressing leather by rubbing and beating it; the act of cleaning a horse with a curry comb; the act of beating.

Curs'ing (p. a. from curie) Imprecating evil, uttering a malediction, devoting to evil.

Curs'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imprecating evil, the act of uttering maledictions; the act of devoting to evil.

Cur'siorbaron (s. from cur'sitor, and baron) An officer in the Exchequer.

Curtail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off.

Curt'ilage (s.) The yard or ground adjoining to a house. Dict. Rus.

CURTIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

Cur'vetting (p. a. from curvet) Leaping, bounding after the manner of a managed horse.

Cur'vetting (s. from the part.) The act of moving on curvets; the leap of a managed horse.

CUSHANRISHATHAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.

Cust'gium (s. in old records) Cost.

Cust'ardapple (s. in botany) An American fruit.

CUS'TOS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

Custu'ma (s. in old records) A custom.

Custuma'rui (s. in old records) Customary tenants.

CUTH, CUTHAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

CUTHA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Km.

Cut'ter (v. t. a local word) To make much of.

Cut'ty (adj. in the Kirk of Scotland) Belonging to the stool on which penance is done in the public congregation. "The cutty stool." Johnston.

CYA'NE (s.) A Sicilian nymph, who, as the poets feign, was turned into a river of the same name.

CYANE'Æ (s. in geography) The two small islands in the Archipelago which, as the poets feigned, after met, and embraced each other.

CYANEÆ (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Meander.

CY'CLADES (s. in geography) A cluster of islands in the Ægean sea.

Cyclamine (s. a different spelling) The cyclamene. D. Rusf.

CYCLOPES (s. a different spelling) The Cyclops.

CYC'NUS (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed son of Mars, slain by Hercules.

CY'DA (s.) A man's name; a Cretan of bad character.

CYD'IAS (s.) A man's name; a skillful painter.

CYDIP'PE (s.) A woman's name; she was seduced by Acanthus into a solemn promise of marriage, with which she was at length obliged to comply.

CYL'LARUS (s.) One of the Centaurs.

CYLLE'NIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Mercury.

Cym'nel (s. a different spelling) A helmet. Urry.

CYMOD'OCE (s.) A sea nymph, the supposed daughter of Nereus and Doris.

CYMOD'CEA (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the sea nymphs into which the ships of Æneas were said to have been transformed.

CYMO'THOE (s.) A sea nymph, one of the supposed daughters of Nereus and Doris.

CYN'A'GYRUS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian captain remarkable for his strength and valour.

CYNEAS (s.) A man's name; an ambassador sent by Pyrrhus to Rome, remarkable for the strength of his memory.

DAN

CYNICI (s.) The cynic philosophers.

CYNOCEPH'ALI (s. in fabulous geography) A people in India with heads like dogs; a race of monkeys.

CYPARIS'SUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A youth supposed to have been transformed into a cypress tree.

CY'TRIA, CY'PRIS, CYPROC'ENIA (s.) Names of Venus.

CYR'SELUS (s.) A man's name; a tyrant of Corinth.

CYRENA'ICI (s.) A sect of philosophers who accounted pleasure the chief good, and esteemed virtue only a means to obtain an increase of it.

CYRE'NE (s.) A woman's name.

CYREN'IUS (s.) A man's name.

CYR'SILUS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian slain to death as a traitor to his country.

CYTHE'RA (s.) An island on the coast of Peloponnesus near which Venus was supposed to have risen from the froth of the sea.

CYTH'REA, CYTH'ERIS (s. in heathen mythology) Names of Venus.

CYTH'NOS (s. in geography) One of the Cyclades.

Cy'tie (s. an old spelling) A city. Wick.

Cyu'li (s. in old records) A kind of boats used by Saxons.

D.

D'AZE (s. in old geography) The people of Scythia near the Caspian sea.

DA'BARETH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city in Daberah.

Dab'bing (s. from the part.) The act of striking with any thing soft or moist.

Dab'bling (s. from the part.) The act of playing in water; the act of dealing superficially.

DACI (s. from Dacia) The inhabitants of Dacia.

DADU'CHUS (s.) The chief priest of Hercules; a priest of Ceres.

Dad'dle (v. int. a local word) To reel, to walk with motion from side to side.

DÆ'DALUS (s.) A man's name, supposed to have been the most ingenious artist in the world.

DÆMO'NES (s. in Pagan mythology) The genii.

Dagge'r'ius (s. in old records) A dagger.

Dag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of dagging; the act of skirting wool.

Dag'gling (s. from the part.) The act of daubing with wet and dirt.

DAHIPP'US (s.) A man's name; a noble statuary.

DALAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

DA'LETH (s.) The fourth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.

Dall'ying (s. from the part.) The act of trifling.

DAL'PHON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Dal'ius (s. in old records) A dale.

Dam'agefeasant (adj. a law term) Trespassing, doing damage, as cattle on trespass.

Dam'aging (s. from the part.) The act of hurting.

DAMASIP'PUS (s.) A man's name.

Dam'asking (s. from the part.) The act of showering stuff.

DA'MIAS (s.) A man's name; a famous sculptor.

DAM'NI (s. in old geography) The ancient inhabitants of Westmoreland.

Dam'ning (s. from the part.) The act of condemning.

DAMNO'NI (s. in old geography) The ancient inhabitants of Cornwall and Devonshire.

DAMO'CLES (s.) A man's name; a flatterer of Dionysius, a tyrant of Sicily.

DAMOCY'TAS (s.) The name of a shepherd.

DA'MON (s.) A man's name; a Pythagorean philosopher.

DAMOTH'ILUS (s.) A man's name; a lender of a quity.

Damp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making damp.

Dam'oseli (s. an old spelling) A damiel. Newm.

DAM'ROSE (s.) A woman's name; Damaris.

DAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

DAN (s. in familiar style) A man's name; Daniel.

DA'NAE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Danaus, king of the Argives.

DA'NAI (s.) The Grecians.

Da'naides (s. from Danaus) The fifty daughters of Danaus.

DA'NAUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Argives.

DEC

ANDELEION (s. a different spelling) The dandelion.
andling (s. from the part.) The act of fondling.
angulum (s. in old records) Danger.
angling (s. from the part.) The act of hanging loose;
 the act of following humbly and harmlessly.
AN'IAAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ANIEL (s.) The title of one of the prophetic books of scripture.
ante (s. from Dan) A descendant of Dan.
AN'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
APHNIS (s.) The name of a youth supposed to be the son of Mercury.
appling (p. a. from dapple) Variegating.
appling (s. from the part.) The act of variegating.
ARDA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
arus (s. in old records) A dart.
ARES (s.) A man's name; an historian, who wrote the Trojan wars. aring (s. from the part.) The act of challenging.
ARKAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
arkening (s. from the part.) The act of making dark.
arning (s. from the part.) The act of mending in a manner that imitates the texture of the stuff.
ARSIUS (s.) A man's name; a physician of antiquity.
arians (s.) The chin scab.
aring (s. from the part.) The act of throwing as a dart.
aring (s. from the part.) The act of throwing with violence.
aring (p. a. from date) Marking with the time.
aring (s. from the part.) The act of marking with the time; the mark of the time.
aring (s. from the part.) The act of smearing with some glutinous matter; the act of soiling.
aring (s. from the part.) The act of discouraging.
TURNUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Turnus.
AVY (s.) A man's name; David.
avla (s. in old records) A diary.
avnet (s. from day, and net) A kind of net for catching birds.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering with light.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering
 with light.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of making dead.
avizing (p. a. from dead) Deadening, making dead.
avizing (s. from the part. not much used) The act of making dead.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of making deaf.
DEBORAH (s. a contraction of Deborah) a woman's name.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of excluding.
avizing (p. a. from the part.) The act of making safe.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of controverting.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of corrupting by means or excess.
avizing (p. a. from debilitate) Weakening.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of weakening.
DIR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a place.
avizing (s. a law term from debt) One to whom a debt is due, a creditor.
AGYNIA (s. in botany from the Greek, δακτυλός, and αγνία, a female) A genus of plants distinguished by ten stamens or female parts of generation.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of shifting the top; the act of departure.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring off so as to separate the liquor from the lees.
avizing (s. in old records) A dean.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting the head.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of declining.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of imposing.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of counteracting harm.
avizing (adj. from Decius) Belonging to Decius, distinguishing the persecution of the Christians under the Roman emperor.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of determining.
DEMA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the Fates. avizing (s. from the part.) The act of tithing; the act of taking the tenth.
DEMIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
avizing (s. from the part.) The act of explaining.
DEMIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

DEI

Deck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.
Decla'ring (s. from the part.) The act of making known.
Declin'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of bending downwards; the act of turning out of the way; the act or form of changing the ending.
Deco'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of preparing by boiling.
Decompo'und'ing (s. from the part.) The act of compound'ing compounds.
Deco'rating (s. from the part.) The act of adorning.
Decort'icating (s. from the part.) The act of peeling off the rind.
Decoy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ensnaring.
Decreas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of growing less.
Decree'ing (s. from the part.) The act of resolving; the act of establishing by a decree.
Decrep'itating (p. a. from decrepitate) Calcining in fire till it ceases to crinkle.
Decrep'itating (s. from the part.) The act of calcining till it ceases to crinkle.
Decrified (p. from decry) Censured, spoken against.
Decry'ing (s. from the part.) The act of censuring.
DECUMANA (s.) A kind of shields used in antiquity.
Decus'sating (s. from the part.) The act of intersect-
 ing.
Ded'icating (s. from the part.) The act of consecrating.
Dedu'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing from.
Deduct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of subtracting.
Deem'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supposing.
Deep'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making deeper.
Deer'colour (s. from deer, and colour) The colour which resembles that of a deer.
Deer'colour (adj. from the sub.) Having the colour of a deer.
Deer'leap (s. from deer, and leap) A place to keep deer in.
Deer'neck (s. from deer, and neck) The form of the neck in a horse which resembles that of a deer.
Defalc'ating (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off.
Defam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reproaching.
Defeat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of overthrow-
 ing.
Defec'ating (s. from the part.) The act of purifying.
Defend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of protecting from acts of injustice or violence.
Defer'ed (p. from defer) Put off, delayed.
Defer'ring (p. a. from defer) Putting off, delaying.
Defer'ring (s. from the part.) The act of putting off.
Defil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of polluting; the act of marching off file by file.
Defraud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.
Defin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of limiting.
Deflag'rating (s. from deflagrate) Burning off; purifying by fire.
Deflag'rating (s. from the part.) The act of purifying by fire.
Deflect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning aside.
Deflow'ring (s. from the part.) The act of ravishing a virgin.
Deform'ing (p. from deforce) Put out of possession; kept out of possession.
Deformamen'tum (s. in old records) A deforcement.
Deform'ing (p. a. from deforce) Putting out of possession; keeping out of possession.
Deform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting or keeping out of possession.
Deform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disfigur-
 ing.
Defray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discharg-
 ing.
Defy'ing (p. a. from defy) Putting to defiance.
Defy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to defiance.
Deh (v. t. a local word) To wet.
Degen'rating (s. from the part.) The act of growing worse.
Degra'ding (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of office.
DEHA'VITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Ex. 4.
Dehort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dissuading.
DEIAN'RA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of He-cules.

DEIDA'MIA

D E N

DEIDA'MIA (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Lycomedes.
Dejecting (s. from the part.) The act of casting down.
Deifying (s. from the part.) The act of putting among the gods.
DEI'ONE (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Mileses.
DEIOPE'IA (s.) One of the nymphs of Juno.
DEI'OTARUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Galatia, who was accused of conspiracy against the life of Cæsar, but was defended by Cicero.
DEI'PHOBE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Glaucus, and one of the Sibyls.
DEI'PHOBUS (s.) A man's name; one of the sons of Priam.
DE'KAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
DELA'VAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Delant'al (s. in old records) An estate let out on lease. Scot.
Delay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping.
Delled (adj. obsolete) Divided. Hicks.
Deliberating (s. from the part.) The act of pondering.
Delight'ing (p. a. from delight) Giving delight.
Delighting (s. from the part.) The act of giving delight.
Delin'eating (s. from the part.) The act of sketching out; the act of drawing the out lines.
Delites'cence (s. from delitescere) The state of being hid, a concealment.
DELITES'CENT (adj. from the Lat. de from, and lateo to lie hid) Concealed, lying hid. Johnson.
Deliv'ering (s. from the part.) The act of giving; the act of surrendering. Johnson.
DE'LIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
DE'LIUS (s.) A man's name; one of Mark Antony's captains.
DE'LOS (s. in geography) An island in the Ægean sea.
DEL'PHI (s. a different spelling) Delphos.
DEL'PHICUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
DELPHINE'US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
DEL'TA (s.) The fourth letter of the Greek alphabet.
DEL'TOTAN (s. in astronomy) The name of a constellation.
Delu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of deceiving.
Del'uging (s. from the part.) The act of laying under water.
Delv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of digging with a spade.
DEMA'DES (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator.
DEMA'GORAS (s.) A man's name; a Greek historian.
Demand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of claiming.
DEMAR'ATUS (s.) A man's name; a Laedemonian captain.
DE'MEA (s.) An old man in Terence.
Demean'ing (s. from the part.) The act of behaving.
Demer'iting (s. from the part.) The act of deserving blame.
DEMES'NOR (s. a law term) A default.
DEME'TA (s. in old geography) The people of Caermarthenshire and some neighbouring counties.
Demigodd'eis (s. from demi, and goddeis) A heroine of antiquity revered with a kind of divine worship; a half goddeis.
Demis'ing (s. from the part.) The act of letting on lease; the act of bequeathing by will.
Dem'ivill (s. from demi, and vill) A small village, an hamlet, a division of a parish.
DEMIUR'GUS (s.) A title given to the chief magistrate in some parts of ancient Greece.
DEMOCH'ARES (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator nephew to Demosthenes.
DEMOC'RATES (s.) A man's name; a noted physician of antiquity.
DEMOL'ETES (s.) A man's name; one who wrote on the pyramids of Egypt.
Demol'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing down.
DE'MOPHOON (s.) A man's name; the son of Theseus and twelfth king of Athens.
Demur'ring (s. from the part.) The act of delaying.
Dem'igrating (s. from the part.) The act of making black.
Denize'nus (s. in old records) A denizen.
DEN'NIS (s.) A man's name; a woman's name.
Denom'inating (s. from the part.) The act of naming.
Denot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking; the act of pointing out.

D E S

Denounc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of declaring authoritatively.
DENT'EL (s. in architecture) A modillon.
Denu'dating (s. from the part.) The act of laying bare.
Denu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of laying bare.
Deny'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refusing; the act of contradicting.
Deob'struct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of removing obstructions.
Deop'pilating (s. from the part.) The act of removing obstructions.
Depaint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of representing in picture.
Depa'rt (s. in the manage) The action of a horse wading on full speed.
Depart'ing (s. from the part.) The act of going from place; the act of dividing.
Depa'sturing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in a pasture.
Depauper'ating (p. a. from depauperate) Making poor.
Depauper'ating (s. from the part.) The act of impoverishing.
Depend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hanging from the act of relying on.
Dephleg'mating (s. from the part.) The act of clearing from phlegm.
Depict'ing (s. from the part.) The act of painting; the act or method of representing in picture.
Deplo'ring (s. from the part.) The act of lamenting.
Deplu'ming (s. from the part.) The act of stripping feathers.
Depop'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of laying waste.
Deport'ing (p. a. from deport) Demeaning, behaving.
Deport'ing (s. from the part.) The act of behaving oneself.
Depo'sing (s. from the part.) The act of laying down the act of declaring upon oath.
Depos'iting (s. from the part.) The act of laying up.
Depra'ving (s. from the part.) The act of making worse the act of corrupting.
De'precating (s. from the part.) The act of imploring.
De'preciating (s. from the part.) The act of undervaluing.
De'predating (s. from the part.) The act of robbing.
Deprehend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking in the fact.
Depres'sing (s. from the part.) The act of pressing down the act of dispiriting.
Depriv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving.
Deput'ating (p. a. from deputate) Purifying.
Deput'ating (s. from the part. but little used) The act of purifying.
Deput'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sending a putation; the act of appointing to do business in room of others.
DERCE'TES, DERCE'TO (s.) An idol worshipped in Japan; Dagon.
DERELICT (adj.) Left, as land by the sea.
Deri'ding (s. from the part.) The act of laughing at the act of scorning.
Deri'ving (s. from the part.) The act of deducing from some original.
Derogating (s. from the part.) The act of diminishing the value.
Descant'ing (p. a. from descant) Singing in parts accompanying at large.
Descant'ing (s. from the part.) The act or manner of singing in parts; the act of accompanying at large.
Descendib'ility (s. from descendible) The state or circumstance of being descendible. Black.
Descend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming from a higher to a lower place.
Descri'bing (s. from the part.) The act of describing.
Descry'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spying out.
Defecrating (s. from the part.) The act of changing from a sacred to a civil use.
Desert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forsaking.
Desiccating (s. from the part.) The act of drying.
Desir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wishing.

D I B

depriving (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of inhabitants.

giving into (s. from the part.) The act of giving into the air.

performing (s. from the part.) The act of performing in battle.

scorning (s. from the part.) The act of scorning, a show of disrespect.

depriving (s. from the part.) The act of depriving, the act of robbing.

PROSPERINA (s. in the heathen mythology) One of the names of Proserpine.

despairing (s. from the part.) The act of despairing.

scumming (p. a. from despumate) Scumming, throwing off in froth.

throwing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing off in froth, the act of scumming.

appointing (p. a. from destinate) Appointing, doom-
ing.

appointing (s. from the part.) The act of appointing a destination.

dooming (p. a. from destine) Dooming, appointing.

appointing (s. from the part.) The act of appointing, the act of dooming to any place or punishment.

laying (s. from the part.) The act of laying waste; the act of killing.

borrowing (p. a. from defume) Borrowing, taking from another.

taking from (s. from the part.) The act of taking from another.

separating (s. from the part.) The act of separating.

related in particulars (p. from detail) Related in particulars.

relating in particulars (p. a. from detail) Relating in particulars.

relating in particulars (s. from the part.) The act of relating in particulars.

keeping (s. from the part.) The act of keeping back.

discovering (s. from the part.) The act of discovering what another endeavours to conceal.

fixing (s. from the part.) The act of fixing.

discouraging (s. from the part.) The act of discouraging by threats.

abominating (s. from the part.) The act of abominating.

deposing (s. from the part.) The act of deposing a sovereign.

wresting (s. from the part.) The act of wrestling.

calumniating (s. from the part.) The act of calumniating.

thrusting (s. from the part.) The act of thrusting down.

lopping (p. a. from detruncate) Lopping, cutting off a part.

lopping off (s. from the part.) The act of lopping off a part.

disentangling (s. from the part.) The act of disentangling.

VERRA (s. in heathen mythology) A kind of tutelary goddess to breeding women.

stripping (s. from the part.) The act of stripping.

turning out (s. from the part.) The act of turning out of the right way.

contriving (s. from the part.) The act of contriving.

devise (s. in old records) A devise.

descending (s. from the part.) The act of descending in succession.

dedicating (s. from the part.) The act of dedicating; the act of giving up.

consuming (s. from the part.) The act of consuming; the act of eating up.

ANANS (s.) the name of an apple.

DALETH (s. a different spelling) The Daleth, the fourth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.

ADUMENUS (s.) The name of a beautiful boy in art.

GORAS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian philosopher who was banished for contempt of the laws of his time.

dialectic (s. from dialectic) The act of reasoning; logic.

card (s. at cards) A card of that suit which is spotted with red spots, in the form of a square cut out of its natural position.

ULUS (s.) A man's name; one who from a physician became a lexton.

LAIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

LATH (s. from the Heb.) the name of a place.

RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

UTATES (s.) A man's name; a famous Athenian orator.

D I M

DIB/ZAHAB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

DIC/EAR/CHUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient philosopher, who held the succession of the human race from eternity.

Dichot/omized (p. from dichotomize) Divided into two parts.

Dichot/omizing (p. a. from dichotomize) Cutting into two parts.

Dichot/omizing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting into two parts.

DICK (s. in familiar style) Richard.

DICK/ON (s. an old word for) Richard; a man's name.

Dick'y (s. the diminutive of) Dick, Richard; a man's name.

Dic'tating (s. from the part.) The act of giving out orders; the act of prescribing.

DICTYN/NA (s.) A nymph, who is said to have first found out the use of nets in hunting; Diana.

DIC/TYS (s.) A man's name; a fisherman, who is said to have taken up Perseus and his mother, when thrown into the sea.

DID/IMUS (s. a different spelling) Didymus.

DID/IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

DIDRA/CHM (s.) An ancient coin of two drams, the didrachmum.

DIDYMÆ/US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.

DIDY/MEON (s.) A man's name; an expert armmourer.

DID/YMUS (s.) A man's name; a noted grammarian cotemporary with Augustus.

DIE (s.) A woman's name.

DIES (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

DIES/PITER (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

Div'ering (s. from the part.) The act of providing food.

Differencing (s. from the part.) The act of making a difference.

Differing (s. from the part.) The act of quarrelling.

Diffu'sing (p. a. from diffuse) Spreading abroad.

Diffu'sing (s. from the part.) The act of spreading abroad.

Diges'ting (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to order; a consummation.

Dig'ging (s. from the part.) The act of piercing the ground with a spade or pickax.

Dight'ing (p. a. from dight) Dressing.

Dight'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing.

DIGITUS (s.) A Roman measure, containing something more than three fourths of an inch.

Dig'nifying (s. from the part.) The act of advancing to honour.

Digres'sing (s. from the part.) The act of turning out of the way; the act of making a digression.

DIGYN/IA (s. in botany, from the Greek δι, twofold, and γυν, a female) A genus of plants, distinguished by having two pistils.

DIJO/VIS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.

DIK/LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Dilac'erating (p. a. from dilacerate) Rending to pieces.

Dilac'erating (s. from the part.) The act of rending to pieces.

Dilap'idating (s. from the part.) The act of pulling down a building.

Dila'ting (s. from the part.) The act of extending, the act of widening.

DI/LEAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

DILET/TANTI (s. from the Italian) An occasional practitioner in any art.

Dilu'cidating (s. from the part.) The act of making clear.

Dilu'ting (s. from the part.) The act of making thin, an attenuation.

Dimid'iated (adj. from dimidium) Divided into two.

Dimin'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of making less.

Dim'itty (adj. from the sub.) Made of dimitty.

Dim'ining (s. from the part.) The act of making dim.

DIM/NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

DIMO/NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

Dimp'ling (s. from the part.) The act of sinking into dimples.

DI'NAITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Exra 4.

DINAR'CHUS (s.) A man's name; an intimate friend of Pyrrhus.

DINDYM'ENE (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Cybele.

Ding'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dashing with violence; the act of bouncing.

Di'ning (s. from the part.) The act of going to dinner; the act of giving a dinner.

Din'ning (p. a. from din) Stunning with noise.

Din'ning (s. from the part.) The act of stunning with noise; a loud continued noise.

DI'NO (s.) A man's name; a prince of the Rhodians.

DINOC'RATES (s.) A man's name.

DINOC'RATUS (s.) A man's name; a general in the army of Philip of Macedon.

Dint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with a dint.

DI'O (s.) A man's name; a Greek historian.

DIOCH'ARES (s.) A man's name; a freed man of Caesar.

DIOD'ORUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several learned men.

DIOGENIA'NUS (s.) A man's name; a famous grammarian and lexicographer.

DIOGNE'TUS (s.) A man's name; an historian.

DIOME'DES (s.) A man's name; a king of Thrace, who is said to have fed his horses with human flesh.

DI'ON (s.) A man's name; a philosopher in the time of the emperor Trajan.

DI'ONE (s.) A sea nymph; the supposed mother of Venus.

DIONYSID'ORUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several artists in antiquity.

DIOPH'ANES (s.) A man's name; a rhetorician, master of Gracchus.

DIOPH'ANTUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several authors in antiquity.

DIOPH'NUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient statuary. Pliny.

DI'ORES (s.) A man's name; one slain by Turnus.

DIOSCOR'IDES (s.) A man's name; a famous physician.

DIOSCU'Ri (s. in heathen mythology) Castor and Pollux.

DIOXIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; one of Alexander's soldiers.

DIPH'ILUS (s.) A man's name; an architect famous for his slowness.

Dip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of plunging in water.

DIP'SAS (s.) A woman's name; a drunken old bawd.

DIP'TERA (s.) An order of insects, distinguished by having two wings.

DIRE'CE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The wife of Lycus, King of Thebes, who is said to have been transformed into a fountain.

Direct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of aiming in a direct line; the act of ordering.

Dirt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of soiling with dirt.

Dirt'y'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making dirty.

DIS (s. in heathen mythology) Pluto, the supposed god of hell.

Disa'bling (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of power.

Disabu'ling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from mistake.

Disaffect'ing (p. a. from disaffect) Rendering disaffected.

Disaffect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rendering disaffected.

Disagree'ing (s. from the part.) The act of differing.

Disallow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rejecting.

Disan'choring (s. from the part.) The act of forcing from the anchor.

Disan'imating (p. a. from disanimate) Depriving of life, dispiriting.

Disan'imating (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of life; the act of dispiriting.

Disanul'ling (s. from the part.) The act of making void.

Disappear'ing (s. from the part.) The act of vanishing; the act of going out of sight.

Disappoint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defeating the expectations.

Disappro'priate (adj. from dis, and appropriate) Transferred back from the laity to the clergy. Blackstone.

Disappro'ving (s. from the part.) The act of expressing dislike.

Disarm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of arms.

Disarray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing into disorder.

Disavow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disowning.

Disband'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dismissing from military service.

Disbark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of landing from a ship.

Disbelie'ving (s. from the part.) The act of withholding belief.

Disbranch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting branches.

Disburden'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from a burden.

Disburs'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying out money.

Discard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dismissing from service.

Discer'ning (s. from the part.) The act of discovering.

Discharg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discharging; the act of dismissing.

Discipl'ing (p. a. from disciple) Making disciples; teaching.

Discipl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making disciples.

Disciplining (s. from the part.) The act of bringing up; the act of correcting.

Disclaim'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disowning.

Discl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of revealing.

Discol'ouring (s. from the part.) The act of changing the colour.

Discom'fiting (s. from the part.) The act of defeating.

Discom'forting (s. from the part.) The act of grieving.

Discommend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of censuring.

Discompo'ding (s. from the part.) The act of incommoding.

Discompo'ing (p. a. from discompose) Putting out of order.

Discompo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of order.

Disconcert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unsettling.

Discontent'ing (p. a. from discontent) Making discontented.

Discontent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making discontented.

Discontin'ing (p. a. from discontinue) Leaving breaking off.

Discontin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking off; the act of leaving off.

DIS'CORD (s. in heathen mythology) Discordia, the supposed goddess of discord.

DISCOR'DIA (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed goddess of discord.

Discord'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disagreeing.

Discover'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disclosing.

Discountenancing (s. from the part.) The act of discouraging.

Discount'ing (p. a. from discount) Counting in paying back.

Discount'ing (s. from the part.) The act of counting back; the act of paying back; the act of giving for a note or draught.

Discount'aging (s. from the part.) The act of depressing.

Discount'ing (s. from the part.) The act of converting together.

Discred'iting (s. from the part.) The act of disgracing.

Discrim'inating (s. from the part.) The act of distinguishing.

Discomb'ing (p. a. from discomber) Disengaging.

Discomb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disengaging.

Dis'cus (s. in old records) A desk.

Dis'cus'ing (s. from the part.) The act of examining.

Disdain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of scorning.

Disembark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting shore.

Disembitter'ing (p. a. from disemitter) Freeing from bitterness.

Disembitter'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from bitterness.

Disembol'guing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out as a river into the sea.

Disembroil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from perplexity.

Disena'bling (s. from the part.) The act of disabling.

Disenchant'ing (p. a. from disenchant) Freeing from enchantment.

Disenchant'ing (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from enchantment.

encumbering (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from incumbrance.
 engaging (s. from the part.) The act of getting free; the act of setting free.
 entangling (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from impediments.
 entrancing (p. a. from disentrance) Awakening from a trance.
 entrancing (s. from the part.) The act of awakening from a trance.
 espousing (p. a. from disespouse) Divorcing.
 separating (s. from the part.) The act of separating man and wife.
 esteeming (s. from the part.) The act of slighting.
 favouring (p. a. from disfavour) Putting out of favour.
 favouring (s. from the part. not much used) The act of putting out of favour.
 figuring (s. from the part.) The act of changing the form.
 forested (p. from disforest) Reducing from forest to common ground.
 foresting (p. a. from disforest) Reducing from forest to common ground.
 foresting (s. from the part.) The act of reducing forest to common ground.
 franchising (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of freedom.
 gavel (v. t. a laxo term) To deprive of the privilege or custom of gavel kind.
 gaveled (p. from disgavel) Deprived of the privilege or custom of gavel kind.
 gaveling (p. a. from disgavel) Taking away the privilege or custom of gavel kind.
 gaveling (s. from the part.) The act of destroying the tenure of gavel kind.
 gorging (s. from the part.) The act of discharging the mouth.
 grading (s. from the part.) The act of dishonouring.
 grading (s. from the part.) The act of degrading.
 guising (s. from the part.) The act of putting on a false appearance.
 guising (s. from the part.) The act of giving disgust.
 guising (s. from the part.) The act of dispiriting.
 guising (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off an inheritance.
 heveling (p. a. from dishevel) putting the hair in disorder.
 heveling (s. from the part.) The act of putting the hair in disorder.
 heveling (s. from the part.) The act of serving up in a dish.
 honored (p. from dishonor) Disgraced, dishonoured.
 honoring (p. a. from dishonor) Dishonouring, dishonouring.
 honoring (s. from the part.) The act of dishonouring; the act of disgracing.
 honoring (s. from the part.) The act of disgracing.
 inclining (p. a. from disincline) Producing dislike, rendering disaffected.
 inclining (s. from the part.) The act of producing dislike.
 inheriting (s. from the part.) The act of depriving an inheritance.
 interangling (s. from the part.) The act of disentrancing.
 interring (p. a. from disinter) Unburying.
 interring (s. from the part.) The act of taking out the grave.
 overthrowing (p. a. from disinthrone) Dethroning.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of dethroning.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of separating.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of joint.
 overthrowing (p. a. from dislike) Disapproving.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of disapproving.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of joint.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of removing from a place.
 overthrowing (p. a. from dismask) Uncovering; displacing of a mask.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of divesting of a mask.
 overthrowing (p. a. from dismast) Depriving of masts; pulling off the masts.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off the masts.
 overthrowing (s. from the part.) The act of terrifying.

dismembering (s. from the part.) The act of dividing one member from another.
 dismissing (s. from the part.) The act of sending away.
 dismounting (s. from the part.) The act of throwing off a horse; the act of alighting from a horse; the act of throwing off a carriage, as a great gun.
 disnaturalizing (p. a. from disnaturalize) Alienating, depriving of the privileges of birth.
 disnaturalizing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of the privileges of birth.
 disobeying (s. from the part.) The act of transgressing a command.
 disobliging (s. from the part.) The act of offending.
 disordering (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of order.
 disowning (s. from the part.) The act of denying.
 dispadding (s. from the part.) The act of spreading abroad.
 disparaging (s. from the part.) The act of disgracing.
 disparking (p. a. from dispark) Throwing open as a park.
 disparking (s. from the part.) The act of throwing open a park.
 disparting (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into two parts.
 dispelling (s. from the part.) The act of driving away.
 dispeopling (s. from the part.) The act of depopulating.
 dispersing (s. from the part.) The act of scattering.
 dispiriting (p. a. from dispirit) Dejecting, discouraging.
 dispiriting (s. from the part.) The act of discouraging.
 displacing (p. a. from displace) Putting out of place.
 displacing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of place.
 displanting (s. from the part.) The act of removing a plant.
 displaying (p. a. from display) Exposing to view; representing with ostentation.
 displaying (s. from the part.) The act of exposing to view.
 displeasing (s. from the part.) The act of disobliging.
 dispoising (s. from the part.) The act of dispersing with a loud noise.
 dispoising (s. from the part.) The act of robbing.
 disporting (s. from the part.) The act of wantoning.
 disposing (s. from the part.) The act of ordering.
 disposing (s. from the part.) The act of turning out of possession.
 disproportioning (s. from the part.) The act of joining unsuitably.
 disproving (s. from the part.) The act of confuting.
 disputing (s. from the part.) The act of controverting.
 disqualifying (s. from the part.) The act of rendering unfit.
 disquieting (s. from the part.) The act of giving disquietude.
 disregarding (s. from the part.) The act of slighting.
 disrelishing (s. from the part.) The act of disliking.
 disreft (v. t. from dis and rest, but not much used) To drive from a station; to disperse; to displace.
 disrefted (p. from disreft, not much used) Driven from a station; displaced.
 disrefting (p. a. from disreft, not much used) Driving from a station; displacing.
 disrefting (s. from the part. not much used) The act of driving from a station.
 disrobing (s. from the part.) The act of undressing.
 dissatisfying (s. from the part.) The act or state of being dissatisfied.
 dissecting (s. from the part.) The act of dividing with anatomical exactness.
 dissizeing (p. a. from dissize) Dispossessing; depriving of right or property.
 dissizeing (s. from the part.) The act of dispossessing.
 disseminating (s. from the part.) The act of sowing; the act of spreading abroad.
 dissenting (s. from the part.) The act of separating from others in sentiment or practice; the act of separating from the national religion.
 diserved (p. from diserve) Hurt, damaged.
 diserving (p. a. from diserve) Hurting, damaging.
 diserving (s. from the part.) The act of doing a disservice.
 dissettling (p. from disettle) Unsettled, unfixed.
 dissettling (p. a. from disettle) Unsettling, unfixing.
 distertling (s. from the part.) The act of unsettling.
 dissipating (s. from the part.) The act of scattering.

DOG

Dissolv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of melting.
Disuad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of diverting from any thing by reasoning or importunity.
Distain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of staining.
Distast'ing (p. a. from distaste) Disrelishing.
Distast'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disrelishing.
Distem'pering (s. from the part.) The act of disordering.
Distend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of widening.
Disting'uish'ing (s. from the part.) The act of noting the difference.
Distort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting; the act of perverting.
Distract'ing (p. a. from distract) Pulling different ways; depriving of reason.
Distract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of perplexing; the act of depriving of reason.
Distrain'ing (p. a. from distract) Seizing, levying a distress.
Distrain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of levying a distress.
DISTREIN (v. t. a law term) To seize, to take a distress of goods or chattles. Blackstone.
Distrein (v. int.) To levy a distress.
Distrein'able (adj. from distrein) Capable of being distressed.
Distrein'ed (p. from distrein) Seized.
Distrein'ing (p. a. from distrein) Seizing for debt; constraining; distressing.
Distrein'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seizing for debt; the act of constraining.
Distrein'or (s. from distrein) One who takes a distress.
Distres'ing (s. from the part.) The act of harassing; the act of bringing into distress.
Distrib'uting (s. from the part.) The act of dealing out; the act of dividing to many.
Distrust'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discrediting.
Disturb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disquieting.
Disvalu'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting a low price.
Disvel'oping (s. from the part. but little used) The act of displaying.
Disunit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disjoining.
Disu'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking a custom.
Ditch'ing (p. a. from ditch) Making a ditch.
Ditch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a ditch.
DITHYRAMBUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
Ditty (v. t. from the sub. not much used) To sing, to celebrate in song.
Dit'tying (p. a. from ditty) Singing, celebrating in song.
Dit'tying (s. from the part. not much used) The act of celebrating in song.
Divar'icating (s. from the part.) The act of parting into two.
Diverg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tending different ways from one point; the act of departing farther and farther.
Divert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning off, the act of giving diversion.
Dive'sing (s. from the part.) The act of putting off.
Divid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of separating, the act of giving out in shares.
Div'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sinking voluntarily under the water; the act of penetrating deeply.
Divi'ning (p. a. from divine) Uttering prognostications.
Divi'ning (s. from the part.) The act of uttering prognostications; divination.
Divo'rcing (s. from the part.) The act of separating between man and wife, a divorce.
Divul'ging (s. from the part.) The act of publishing abroad.
DI'ZAHAB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Deut. 1.
Di'zening (s. from the part.) The act of making fine.
Diz'zying (s. from the part.) The act of making dizzy.
Dock'piece (s. from dock, and piece) The crupper.
Doc'ter (s. an old spelling) A doctor. Newman.
Documenti'zing (s. from the part.) The act of admonishing with assumed authority.
DO'DAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
DODA'NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
DODA'NIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Dodg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of using craft, the act of playing fast and loose.
DO'DO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
DODONÆUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

DRE

Dog'courser (s. from dog, and courser) One that hunts dogs for hunting.
Doggen'nel (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Dogg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hunting a dog.
Dog'keeper (s. from dog, and keeper) One who keeps dogs, one who breeds or takes care of dogs.
Dog'leader (s. from dog, and leader) One who leads a dog for hunting.
Dogmati'zing (s. from the part.) The act of asserting with confidence.
Dog'tooth (s. from dog, and tooth) An eye tooth, of the canini.
Do'ing (s. from the part.) The act of performing; a thing done.
Do'la (s. in old records) A dole.
DO'LFUM (s. from the Lat.) A large tub, a tun.
DOL'LY (s. in familiar style) A woman's name; a thy.
DO'LON (s.) A man's name; a Trojan noted for swiftness in running.
DOL'OPES (s. in old geography) The people of Epidauria.
Dolt'ed (adj. from dolt) Made a fool of, put out of countenance.
Domicel'la (s. in old records) A damsel.
Domicel'lus (s. in old records) A young master.
DOMID'UGA (s. in heathen mythology) A name of a god.
DOMID'UCUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the gods.
Dom'inating (s. from the part.) The act of ruling with lordly authority.
Domineer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ruling insolently.
DOMIT'IAS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the gods.
Doom'ing (s. from the part.) The act of condemning.
DOPH'KAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
DOR'CEUS (s.) One of Aëteon's dogs.
DO'RIS (s. in heathen mythology) A sea nymph, the posed daughter of Oceanus and Thetis.
DOROTHE'US (s.) A man's name.
DO'RUS (s.) A man's name; a famous bookeller at Rome.
DORYCL'US (s.) A man's name.
DOR'YLAS (s.) A man's name; one of the confidants of Perseus.
DOR'YLAUS (s.) A man's name; a man famous for courage and fidelity.
DOSI'ADES (s.) A man's name; an historian.
Do'sing (p. a. from dose) Proportioning the quantity to be taken at one time.
Do'sing (s. from the part.) The act of proportioning quantity of medicine to be taken at one time.
DOSI'THEUS (s.) A man's name; a famous astronomer.
DO'THIENE (s. in surgery) A kind of cuticular eruption, a kind of pimple.
Dot'ing (s. from the part.) The state or act of doing nothing as void of understanding.
Dot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of marking dots.
DOUCEUR (s. from the French) That which is made any thing more palatable, something to make or make more palatable.
Do'zing (p. a. from doze) Slumbering.
Do'zing (s. from the part.) The act of slumbering.
DRA'CO (s.) A man's name; an ancient Athenian giver.
Drag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of drawing by mere force.
Drag'gling (s. from the part.) The act of making by dragging on the ground.
Drag'onswort (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Drag'onwell (s.) The name of a well.
Dragoon'ing (s. from the part.) The act of harassing soldiers.
Drain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of emptying a drain.
DRAN'CES (s.) A man's name; an orator contemporary with Latinus.
Drawel (s. a law term, from draw) One on whom a bill of exchange is drawn.
Draw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling.
Drawl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of speaking too great deliberation.
Dread'ing (s. from the part.) The state of being afraid.
Dream'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming in the manner of settling about any thing with deliberation.

E.

red-dling (s. from the part.) The act or process of fishing with a dredge.

drunching (s. from the part.) The act of pouring down the throat by violence.

dring (s. in old records) Tenants restored to their estates after the conquest, who held of the king in capite.

dringing (s. from the part.) The act of clothing; the act of applying external medicaments.

dretch (v. t. obsolete) To delay; to trouble. Chaucer.

dretch/el (s. from dretch) An idle wench, a flat-tern. Johnson.

drubbling (s. from the part.) The act of letting fall in drops; that which falls in drops.

drill bow (s. from drill, and bow) A bow to turn a drill.

drilling (s. from the part.) The act of piercing with a drill.

drilling (s. from drill, and string) The string of a drillbow.

drinkableness (s. from drinkable) The state of being drinkable.

drinky (adj. from drink) Abounding with drink. Cole.

drizzling (s. from the part.) The act of letting fall in drops; that which falls in drops.

drivelling (s. from the part.) The act of shedding the spittle; the act of doting.

drizzling (s. from the part.) The act of descending in small drops; that which descends in very small drops.

droit (s.) A denomination in troy weight; the twenty-fourth part of a mite.

dröning (s. from the part.) The act of living in idleness.

drooping (s. from the part.) The act of languishing.

growling (s. from the part.) The act of suffocating in water, the state of being suffocated in water.

rudg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of labouring in mean and servile work.

drumming (s. from the part.) The act of beating a drum, the noise of a drum.

RU'SUS (s.) The name of a man; the name of several Romans.

RYAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Orion.

RY'DEN (s.) A man's name; one of the English poets.

RY'OPE (s. in the mythology of the poets) A nymph who was supposed to have been transformed into a lotetree.

RY'OPEs (s. in old geography) The people of Epirus.

RY'PIS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

rubbing (s. from the part.) The act of conferring some new office or dignity.

ruckoy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enticing into a snare.

UELLO'NA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Bellona.

uelling (s. from the part.) The act of fighting in single combat.

UIL'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

uifcifying (s. from the part.) The act of making sweet.

uifcorating (s. from the part.) The act of sweetening.

uifling (s. from the part.) The act of making dull.

UMAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

UMNO'NI (s. in old geography) The inhabitants of Devonshire and Cornwall.

uncely (adj. from dunce, not common) Like a dunce.

unging (s. from the part.) The act of manuring with dung.

unuing (s. from the part.) The act of soliciting the payment of a debt.

uifping (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.

uifpoint (s. from dull, and point) Cindalism, a kind of children's play.

uifndling (s. from the part.) The act of growing less.

U (s. a contraction for) Diana, a woman's name.

UDINA'US (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Apollo.

UDIMUS (s.) A man's name.

uifing (s. from the part.) The act of losing life; the act or process of giving an artificial colour, the trade of a dyer.

U'NA (s.) A coin in the East Indies of about thirty shillings value.

YONIS'IUS (s.) A man's name.

EAHO'LUS (s. in old records) An alehouse.

Ealho'da (s. in old records) The privilege of keeping an alehouse.

EA'NUS (s. a different spelling) Janus.

EAR'INUS (s.) A man's name; a page to the emperor Domitian.

Earth'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with earth.

Earthlimind'edness (s. from earthliminded) The state of being earthliminded.

Ea'ing (p. d. from ease) Giving ease.

Ea'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving ease.

Ea'ing (s. a local word) The eaves of a house.

Eat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of devouring with the mouth, the act of corroding.

Eavesdrop'ing (s. from eavesdrop) The water that drops from the eaves of a house; the act of listening under a window.

E'BAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Em'bing (s. from the part.) The act of returning towards the sea, the sinking of the tide.

EBRO'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Nu.

EBU'TIUS (s.) A man's name; an old crafty fellow contemporary with Cicero.

ECBATA'NA (s.) The chief city of Media.

ECH'IDNA (s.) A woman's name; a queen of Scythia.

ECH'ION (s.) A man's name; one who assisted Cadmus in building Thebes.

Ech'ing (s. from the part.) The sound of an echo.

Eclips'ing (s. from the part.) The act of darkening.

E'DAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Gen.

Ed'dered (p. from edder) Bound, interwoven as a fence.

Ed dering (p. a. from edder) Binding with an edder.

Ed'dering (s. from the part.) The act of binding with an edder, the part of a fence which is formed by the edder.

E'DEN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.

E'DER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a place.

Edestia (s. in old records) Buildings.

Ed'ger (s. in botany) A plant with a leaf edged with white or yellow.

Ed'grew (s. in old records) The latter math. D. Rust.

E'dia (s. in old records) Aid, help.

EDO'NIS (s. in beaten mythology) A priestess of Bacchus.

EDUCA (s. in beaten mythology) A tutelary goddess to new born infants.

Ed'ucating (s. from the part.) The act of training up youth.

Edu'cing (s. from the part.) The act of producing to view.

Edu'corating (s. from the part.) The act of making sweet.

EDU'SA (s. in beaten mythology) Eudea.

E'DUTH (s. from the Heb. signifying a royal ornament) A kind of musical instrument.

Eel'fishing (s. from eel, and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for eels.

EE'TION (s.) A man's name; the father of Andromache.

Efa'cing (s. from the part.) The act of disfiguring.

Effect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of performing.

Effem'inating (p. a. from effeminate) Making womanish, growing effeminate.

Effem'inating (s. from the part.) The act of making effeminate.

Esform'ing (s. from the part. but not used) The act of forming.

Esfu'ing (p. a. from effuse) Pouring out.

Esfu'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out.

EGE'RIA (s.) Egeria, a nymph who was supposed to give easy labour to women in childbirth.

EGESTA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Hipotes.

Eg'ging (p. a. from egg) Exciting, provoking.

Eg'ging (s. from the part.) The act of exciting, the act of provoking.

EGLECOPO'LA (s. in natural history) A kind of stony blue marl.

EG'LON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

EGNA'TIUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient poet.

E L O

EGNATU'LEIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman questor.
Egotizing (s. from the part.) The act of talking of one's self.
E'HI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ejaculating (s. from the part.) The act of darting out.
Eject'ing (s. from the part.) The act of casting out.
E'K'AR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
E'KIEL (s. a contraction of) Ezekiel.
ELA'DAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
E'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
E'LAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
E'LANBATH'ANAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Elaps'ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing away.
ELA'SAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELATHEUS (s.) One of the Lapithæ.
Elat'ing (p. a. from elate) Puffing up.
Elat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of puffing up.
Elat'us (s.) One of the Lapithæ.
Elbow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pushing with the elbows.
EL'CESAITES (s. in church history) An ancient sect among the Jews, the Essenes.
ELDA'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Eld'er (s. a local word) The udder.
ELEAZ'ARUS (s.) A man's name.
Election'ing (s. from the part.) The act of choosing.
Electioneer'ing (adj. from election) Belonging to an election for members of parliament.
Electioneer'ing (s. from the adj. a colloquial word) The act of choosing representatives for parliament.
ELECTRA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Agamemnon.
ELESEIA (s.) The patroness of elegiac poetry.
ELE'LEIS (s. from Eleleus) A votive of Bacchus.
ELE'LEUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
Elemented (p. from element) Made a first principle.
Elementing (p. a. from element) Making a first principle.
Elementing (s. from the part.) The act of making a first principle.
E'LEPH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Josh.
Elevat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of raising up.
ELEUSIN'IA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Ceres; one of the sacrifices to Ceres and Proserpine.
Eleusin'ian (adj. from Eleusinia) Belonging to the rites of Ceres.
ELEU'ZAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELI (s. an old word) A youth; a man. Shenston.
ELI'LI (s. a different spelling) Eli.
ELI'ADAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELIAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELIAS'APH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELIA'ZAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELI'DAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELIECUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
ELI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELIE'NAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELI'HABA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Elimated (p. from elimate) Polished.
Elimating (p. a. from elimate, not much used) Polishing.
Elimating (s. from the part. but not much used) The act of polishing.
ELI'PHAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELI'PHALEH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
E'LLIS (s.) The name of a country in the Peloponnese; the chief city of that country.
ELISA (s. a different spelling) Eliza; Dido queen of Carthage.
ELIS'HAPHAT (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELI'SOR (s. a law term) A coroner.
ELI'UD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELI'ZAPHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Elk'hunting (s. from elk, and hunting) The diversion of hunting the elk.
EL'KOSITE (s. from the Heb.) The cognomen of Nahum the prophet.
EL'LOSAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. G. 14.
ELNA'AN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELO'HI (s. a different spelling) Eloi.
ELOIDES (s.) The nymphs of Bacchus.
Eloigned (p. from eloign, a law term) Removed, gone to some distant place.
Eloign'ing (p. a. from eloign) Moving to some distant place.
Eloign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving some of distant place.

E M P

Elong'ated (p. from elongate) Lengthened, drawn out.
Elong'ating (s. from the part.) An elongation, the act of going off to some distance.
Elo'ping (p. a. from elope) Escaping from any kind of confinement as a wife from a husband.
Elo'ping (s. from the part.) The act of escaping from confinement.
E'LOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ELPA'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELPA'LET (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELPA'RAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ELPE'NOR (s.) A man's name; one of the companions of Ulysses.
ELTE'KETH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ELTE'KON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
EL'TOLAD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Elucidat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of explaining.
Eluding (s. from the part.) The act of deceiving, the act of escaping by some kind of stratagem.
Elut'ing (p. a. from elure) Washing off.
Elut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of washing off.
Elut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of decanting.
EL'YMUS (s.) A man's name; a friend and companion of Aeschylus.
ELZA'BAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ELZA'PHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Emac'rated (p. from emaciate, but not much used) Wasted, made lean.
Emac'rating (s. from the part.) The act of making lean.
Emancipat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting at liberty.
Emasculat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of castrating.
EMA'THIA (s.) A country bordering on Thrace.
EMA'THION (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Titan.
Embal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making up in bale.
Embark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting on shipboard.
Embar'assing (s. from the part.) The act of perplexing.
Embal'ing (p. a. from embale) Vitiating, making bale.
Embal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making bale.
Embat'tling (p. a. from embattle) Ranging in order of battle.
Embat'tling (s. from the part.) The act of ranging in order of battle.
Embaying (p. a. from embay) Bathing, wetting.
Embaying (s. from the part.) The act of bathing, the act of wetting.
Embel'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of beautifying.
Embez'zling (s. from the part.) The act of appropriating by breach of trust; an embezzlement.
Emblazon'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in splendid ornaments, the act of blazoning.
Embleament (s. a law term) A profit arising from land.
Embleament'a (s. in old records) The profits of land.
Embow'ed (p. not so common a spelling) Imbowed.
Embow'elling (s. from the part.) The act of taking out the bowels.
Embow'ement (s. from embow) A kind of arch or vault.
Embra'cing (s. from the part.) The act of joining in embraces.
Embrocating (s. from the part.) The act of fomenting.
Embroid'ering (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with embroidery.
Embroid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disturbing.
Embrue (v. t. not so common a spelling) To imbue.
Embrued (p. from embrue, but not so common a spelling) Imbued.
Embruing (p. a. from embrue, but not so common a spelling) Imbuing.
Emerg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising from an surrounding element.
Emeril'stone (s. from emeril, and stone) The emeril; the emery.
Emigrat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of removing from one place to another.
EM'PLY (s.) The name of a woman.
Emu'ting (s. from the part.) The act of sending forth.
EMMAN'UEL (s. a different spelling) Immanuel.
EM'ME (s. a different spelling) Emma, a woman's name.
Em'morite (s. from Emmor) A descendant of Emmor.
Emmu'ring (s. from the part.) The act of cooping up.
Empall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fencing.

ENF

the act of putting to death by driving a through the body.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of putting into the list of those who are to serve on a jury. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of covering with plaster.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of keeping to work, the act of furnishing with work. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of tainting with poison.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of making powerful. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of giving power.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of tinging with purple.
 ENPUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The Gorgons.
 ENPUS (s.) A man's name; a rhetorician.
 enpaneling (p. from emulate) Rivalled, imitated.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of rivaling.
 enpaneling (p. a. from enmige) Milking out; stroking milky.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of milking out.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of making able. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of establishing by a law.
 EN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of enlaying, the act of variegating with colours.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of enflaming with love.
 EN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 enpaneling (p. a. from encage) Putting into a cage. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a cage.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of pitching tents, the act of forming a camp.
 enpaneling (p. a. from enchaife) Enraging, provoking.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of intraging.
 enpaneling (p. a. from enchain) Fastening with a chain. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with chain.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of affecting with enchantment.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing on every side.
 enpaneling (p. a. from encore) Desiring a repetition.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of crying encore. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of meeting in what.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of giving encouragement.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of invading right or property of another.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of clogging with incumbrances.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of hurting.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of exposing to derision.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of making dear, the act of engaging by endearments.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of attempting,
 the act of using endeavours.
 enpaneling (s. from the part, not so common a spelling) The act of insulting.
 enpaneling (s. from the part, but not so common a spelling) the act of inditing. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of writing on the wall.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of bestowing, the act of enriching with some endowment. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of enriching with all endowments.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of suffering; the state of continuing.
 ENAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Es. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of all.
 EN (p. from enerve) Deprived of natural force.
 EN (p. a. from enerve) Depriving of natural force.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of natural force.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of weakening. enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of putting into chains.
 enpaneling (s. from the part.) The act of urging, the act of generating.
 enpaneling (p. a. from enfranchise) Making free.

ENR

Enfranchising (s. from the part.) The act of making free.
 Engaging (s. from the part.) The act of laying under an obligation, the act of gaining over, the act of contending in battle.
 Engendering (s. from the part.) The act of begetting between the sexes.
 Englishing (s. from the part.) The act of translating into English.
 Englutting (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing up.
 Engorging (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing up with greediness.
 Engoutted (s. in falconry) Having feathers spotted with black.
 Engrailing (p. a. from engrail) Bruising as with hail.
 Engrailing (s. from the part.) The act of battering, the act of bruising as with hail.
 Engrainling (p. a. from engrain) Dying deep, dying in grain.
 Engrainling (s. from the part.) The act of dying in grain.
 Engrappling (p. a. from engrapple) Closing with each other, engaging in close fight.
 Engrappling (s. from the part.) The act of engaging in close fight.
 Engrosing (s. from the part.) The act of buying up a large quantity to sell again at an advanced price.
 ENHAD'DAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 ENHAK'KORE (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Judg. 15.
 Enhancing (s. from the part.) The act of advancing, the act of raising the price.
 ENHA'ZOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 ENIA'LUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Mars.
 Enjoining (s. from the part.) The act of ordering, the act of commanding.
 ENJOY' (v. t. from the French en joy, and joie joy) To possess, to possess with delight.
 Enjoyed (p. from enjoy) Possessed, possessed with delight.
 Enjoying (p. a. from enjoy) Possessing, possessing with delight.
 Enjoying (s. from the part.) The act of possessing, the act of possessing with delight.
 Enjoyment (s. from enjoy) A possession, that which is enjoyed.
 Enkindling (s. from the part.) The act of enflaming, the act of setting on fire.
 Enlarging (s. from the part.) The act of making great, an amplification.
 Enlightening (s. from the part.) The act of giving light.
 Enlinking (s. from the part.) The act of binding to.
 Enlist (v. t. not so common a spelling) To enlist.
 Enlivening (s. from the part.) The act of making lively.
 EN'NA (s. with the poets) The place where Pluto surprized Proserpine.
 ENNEAN'DRIA (s. in botany, from the Greek εννεα nine, and ανη a male) A genus of plants, comprehending all that have hermaphrodite flowers with nine stamina.
 ENNIUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient poet.
 ENNOSIG'EUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Neptune.
 Ennobling (s. from the part.) The act of raising to the rank of nobility.
 EN'NOSH (s. from the Heb.) Enoch, a man's name.
 Enraging (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a rage.
 Enrapturing (p. a. from enrapt) Throwing into rapture.
 Enrapturing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing into rapture.
 Enrapturing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing into rapture.
 Enraving (p. a. from enravish) Transporting with pleasure.
 Enraving (s. from the part.) The act of transporting with pleasure.
 Enriching (s. from the part.) The act of making rich.
 Enridging (p. a. from enridge) Forming in ridges.
 Enridging (s. from the part.) The act of forming in ridges.
 ENRIM'MON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Enringing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing in a circle.
 Enrobing (p. a. from enrobe) Dressing, investing with robes.
 Enrobing (s. from the part.) The act of investing with robes.

EPI

Enrol'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inserting in a roll.
Enroot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fixing the root.
Enround'ing (p. a. from enround) Environing.
Enround'ing (s. from the part.) The act of environing.
Enseam'ing (p. a. from enseam) Inclosing with a seam.
Enseam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with a seam.
EN'SEINT (adj. a law term) Pregnant, big with child.
Enshri'ning (p. a. from enshrine) Preserving in a shrine.
Enshri'ning (s. from the part.) The act of preservin'g a shrine.
Ensla'ving (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to slavery.
Ensuring (s. from the part.) The act of making sure.
Entail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of settling the descent of an estate.
Entang'ling (s. from the part.) The act of involving.
En'terlaced (p. from enterlace) Interwoven.
En'terlacing (s. from the part.) The act of interweaving.
En'terpenn (v. int. in falconry) To have the feathers curled and entangled.
En'terprising (s. from the part.) The act of undertaking some hazardous affair.
Entertain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating at table, the act of diverting.
Enthron'ing (p. a. from enthrone) Setting on a throne.
Enthro'ning (s. from the part.) The act of setting on a throne.
Entic'ing (s. from the part.) The act of alluring.
Enti'rety (s. from entire) The state of being entire. Blackst.
Entit'ling (s. from the part.) The act of giving a title.
Entomb'ing (p. a. from entomb) Putting into a tomb.
Entomb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a tomb.
Entranc'ing (p. a. from entrance) Putting into a trance.
Entranc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a trance.
Entrap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of catching as in a trap.
Entrap'ping (p. a. from entrap) Catching as in a trap.
Entreat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of requesting, an entreaty.
Envel'oping (s. from the part.) The act of unwrapping.
Enven'oming (s. from the part.) The act of affecting with venom.
Enu'merating (s. from the part.) The act of numbering.
Enun'ciated (p. from enunciate) Proclaimed, declared.
Enun'ciating (p. a. from enunciate) Proclaiming, declaring.
Enun'ciating (s. from the part.) The act of proclaiming.
En'vying (s. from the part.) The act of beholding with envy.
Enwomb'ing (p. a. from enwomb) Making pregnant.
Enwomb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making pregnant.
EN'YO (s. in heathen mythology) The sister of Mars, the goddess of war.
E'OL (s. an old spelling) Æolus. Shenstone.
E'OS (s. in heathen mythology) The morning, the goddess of the morning.
EO'US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the horses of the Sun; Lucifer, the morning star.
EPAMINONDAS (s.) A man's name; a Theban of great learning and bravery.
EP'APHUS (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Jupiter and Io.
E'PEUS (s.) A man's name; the inventor of the battering ram.
E'PHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a woman.
E'PHAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
E'PHER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
EPHE'SIANS (s.) The title of one of Paul's epistles.
EPHI'ALTES (s.) A huge giant. Homer.
EPIÆ'NA (s. in heathen mythology) Sacrifices in honour of Bacchus.
EPICAR'PIA (s. in medicine) A plaster for the arm.
EPICHR'MUS (s.) A man's name; a poet and philosopher.
EPIG'ENES (s.) A man's name; a poet, an astrologer, and historian.
EPILENE'IA (s. in heathen mythology) Public games celebrated at the time of vintage in honour of Bacchus.
Epilene'an (adj. from epilenæa) Belonging to the epilenæa.

ESC

EPIME'THEUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Prometheus.
EPIME'THIS (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Demolion.
EPI'RUS (s.) A district or province of Greece famous for a breed of horses.
E'PISCOPE (s. a droll word, from the Greek, and known to view) A bishop.
EPISTRO'PHIA (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Venus.
Epit'omizing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing in a narrower compass.
EP'ITOS (s.) A man's name; a king of Alba.
EP'ODON (s.) The spade.
EP'SILON (s.) The fifth letter in the Greek alphabet.
EQUES'TRIS (s.) One of the titles of Fortune.
EQUIC'ULUS (s.) A man's name; a famous warrior.
Equilib'rating (s. from the part.) The act of making even.
Equip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of fitting out.
Equiv'ocating (s. from the part.) The act of using words of doubtful meaning.
Erad'icating (s. from the part.) The act of pulling by the roots.
Era'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rubbing out.
ERASIS'TRATUS (s.) A man's name; a noble physician of antiquity.
ERATOS'THENES (s.) A man's name; a poet, historian, philosopher and astronomer.
E'REBUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The night, a river of the infernal regions; hell.
E'RECH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
EREC'THEUS (s.) A man's name; the father of crops.
EREC'THEIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Erectheus.
Erect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting up.
ER'GATES (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Minerva.
ERIC'ETES (s.) A man's name; a Lacedæmonian, by one of the companions of Æneas.
ERICH'THO (s.) A woman's name; a woman of Italy skilled in charms and enchantments.
ERICH'THO'NIUS (s.) A man's name; the fourth king of Athens.
ERIG'ONE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Erichon, who was supposed to have been transformed into the constellation now called Virgo.
E'RIL (s. in old geography) The ancient inhabitants of Ireland.
ERIN'NYS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the Furies.
ERIP'US (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
ERIPH'YLE (s.) A woman's name; the treacherous wife of Amphiaræus.
ERISICH'THON (s.) A man's name; he despised the rites of Ceres, and is said to have eaten his own flesh.
Ero'ding (p. a. from erode) Cankering, corroding.
Ero'ding (s. from the part.) The act of corroding.
E'ROS (s.) A man's name; a servant of Mars.
E'ROS (s.) One of the names of Cupid.
Er'ring (s. from the part.) The act of committing error.
ERSE (adj. perhaps from Eric) Belonging to the island of Scotch.
Erie (s. from the adj.) The language of the island of Scotch.
Eru'ctated (p. from eru'ctate) Belched.
Eru'ctating (p. a. from eru'ctate) Breaking wind from the stomach.
Eru'ctating (s. from the part.) The act of breaking wind from the stomach.
Eru'cted (p. from eru'ct) Belched.
Eru'cting (p. a. from eru'ct) Belching, breaking wind from the stomach.
Eru'cting (s. from the part.) The act of breaking wind from the stomach.
ERYC'INA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Venus.
ERYN'NIS (s. a different spelling) Erinnyes.
E'RYX (s.) A man's name; supposed to have been the uterine brother of Æneas.
Eica'te (s. in old records) An escheat.
Eica'tor (s. in old records) An escheator.
Esca'pement (s. from escape) The act of escaping, movement effected by the wheel and balance work, the parts by which that movement is effected.
Esca'ping (s. from the part.) The act of making an escape.
Escheat'orship (s. from escheator) The office of escheator.

EVI

Evo'ting (s. from the part.) The act of guarding from one place to another.
ESER'NIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous gladiator.
ESH'BAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ESHEON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Josh. 15.
ESHEK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ESH'TAULITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron.
ESHTON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
ESKAL'ONITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Josh. 13.
ESMA'CHIA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ESOU'ES (s. in ichthyology) A genus of fishes.
Espou'ing (s. from the part.) The act of contracting in marriage; the act of defending the cause of another.
Esp'ying (s. from the part.) The act of discovering at a distance.
Es'p'ying (s. from the part.) The act of making a trial.
Essencing (p. a. from essence) Perfuming, scenting.
Essencing (s. from the part.) The act of perfuming.
ESSE'NI (s. in ecclesiastical history) The Essenes.
Estim'ium (s. in old records) An excuse for an appearance.
Estab'lishing (s. from the part.) The act of setting up; the act of making firm.
Estab'ling (p. a. from estate) Settling as a fortune.
Est'ing (s. from the part.) The act of settling, as a fortune, on any one.
Esteem'ing (s. from the part.) The act of valuing highly.
ES'HAOL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Estimating (s. from the part.) The act of computing before hand.
Estop' (v. t. a law term) To stop, to hinder.
Estop'ped (p. from estop) Stopped, hindered from proceeding.
Estop'ping (p. a. from estop) Stopping, hindering.
Estop'ping (s. from the part.) The act of stopping.
ESTO'VEK (s. a law term) A maintenance, an allowance.
Estran'ging (s. from the part.) The act of alienating affection.
ESU'BOPE (s.) A man's name; a king of Colchis.
ETA (s.) The seventh letter in the Greek alphabet.
ETAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place; the name of a rock; a man's name.
ETEO'CLES (s.) A man's name; the elder son of Cepheus.
Eterni'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making eternal.
ETHAL'ION (s.) A man's name, who, as the poets affirm, was transformed into a dolphin.
ETHER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ETH'NAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ETH'NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ETIQUET'TE (s. from the French) A style, a title, a character.
ETRU'RIA (s.) The dukedom of Tuscany.
Etrurian (adj. from Etruria) Belonging to Etruria.
Etrurian (s. from the adj.) A native of Etruria.
Evac'uating (s. from the part.) The act of making empty.
Evad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting off; the act of eluding.
EVAD'NE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Aepus, who when he was killed by thunder, grew melancholy, and threw herself into the funeral pile.
EVAG'ORAS (s.) A man's name; a king of Cyprus.
EVAN (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
EVAN'DER (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Mercury, an Arcadian who settled a colony in Italy.
Evangelizing (s. from the part.) The act of instructing in the Christian religion.
Evap'orating (s. from the part.) The act of flying off in a vapour.
EVE'HUS, EVI'HUS (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Bacchus.
Evened (p. from even) Made even.
Evening (p. a. from even) Making even.
Evening (s. from the part.) The act of making even.
Evidencing (s. from the part.) The act of making evident.
Evinc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making evident.

EXA

Evis'cerating (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of the viscera.
E'VIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
Evol'ving (p. a. from evolve) Unfolding.
Evol'ving (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding.
EU'BIUS (s.) A man's name; a lascivious historian.
EU'BOE (s.) A large island on the coast of Greece.
EU'BULE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Leo the son of Orpheus.
EUBUL'IDES (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Euclid and master of Demosthenes.
EU'BULUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several learned men.
EU'CHIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
EU'CLID (s.) A man's name; a famous geometrician.
EUCRA'TES (s.) A man's name; a man noted for his duplicity.
EUDOX'US (s.) A man's name; an astronomer and geometrician.
EUER'GETES (s.) A surname of one of the Ptolemies.
EUHEME'RUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient historian.
EU'MELIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Eumelus.
EU'MELUS (s.) A man's name; a Corinthian historian.
EU'MENES (s.) A man's name; a king of Pergamus.
EU'MENIDES (s. in heathen mythology) The Furies.
EUMOL'PUS (s.) A man's name; a writer more ancient than Homer.
EUPHOR'BUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Panthus.
EUPHO'RION (s.) A man's name; a poet of Chalcis.
EUPHRA'NOR (s.) A man's name; an excellent statuary.
EURLCE'A (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Venus.
EU'POLIS (s.) A man's name; a comic poet and severe satyrist.
EUPOM'PUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter, master of Apelles.
EU'PORUS (s.) A man's name; the faithful servant of Gracchus.
EURIP'IDES (s.) A man's name; an excellent tragedian.
EURY'ALE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Minos.
EU'RYLUS (s.) A man's name; a Greek who went with eighty ships against Troy.
EURY'BATES (s.) A man's name; the messenger sent by Agamemnon to Achilles to demand Briseis.
EURY'DICE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Orpheus.
EURYLOCHUS (s.) A man's name; one of the companions of Ulysses.
EURYM'ACHUS (s.) A man's name; one of Penelope's suitors.
EURYN'AME (s.) A woman's name.
EURYP'ILUS (s.) A man's name.
EURYS'THEUS (s.) A man's name; an enemy to Hercules.
EURY'TION (s.) A man's name; one of the Argonauts.
EURYTIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Eurytus.
EURYTUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Iole.
EUTER'PIA (s. in the mythology of the poets) Euterpe, one of the Muses.
EUTHYCRATES (s.) A man's name; an excellent painter.
EUTRAP'ELUS (s.) A man's name; a crafty spiteful fellow.
EUTRO'PIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman historian.
EU'TYCHE (s.) A woman's name; she had thirty children.
Ewe (s. not so common a spelling) The yew. Urry.
Exac'ebating (s. from the part.) The act of exasperating.
Exact'ing (s. from the part.) The act of practising extortion.
Exag'gerating (s. from the part.) The act of heightening by exaggeration.
EXAG'ONUS (s.) A man's name, who it is said was thrown into a large vessel full of serpents and received no hurt from them.
Exalt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of raising up, the act of elevating.
Exam'ining (s. from the part.) The act of scrutinizing.
Exas'perating

EXP

Exasperating (s. from the part.) The act of provoking.

Excarnating (s. from the part.) The act of clearing from flesh.

Excavating (s. from the part.) The act of making hollow.

Exceeding (s. from the part.) The act of going too far.

Excelling (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing.

Excepting (s. from the part.) The act of objecting to; the act of leaving out.

Excern'ing (p. a. from excern) Straining, separating by excretion.

Excern'ing (s. from the part.) The act of separating by excretion.

EXCE'TRA (s. in zoology) The hydra, a serpent.

Exchanging (s. from the part.) The act of changing one thing for another.

Excising (s. from the part.) The act of levying by way of excise.

Exciting (s. from the part.) The act of stirring up.

Exclaim'ing (s. from the part.) The act of crying out with vehemence.

Excluding (s. from the part.) The act of thrusting out.

Excogitating (s. from the part.) The act of striking out by dint of thinking.

Excommunicating (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off from the communion of the church.

Excoriating (s. from the part.) The act of stripping off the skin.

EXCRE'TE (v. t. from the Lat. ex out of, and screo, to spit, but not much used) To separate by the glands, to exclude by excretion.

Excreted (p. from excrete) Separated by the glands.

Excreting (p. a. from excrete) Separating by the glands.

Excreting (s. from the part. but not much used) The act of separating by the glands.

Excruciating (s. from the part.) The act of torturing.

Exculpating (s. from the part.) The act of clearing from the imputation of guilt.

Excusing (s. from the part.) The act of making an excuse.

Ex'ecrated (p. from execrate) Cursed, imprecated, abominated.

Ex'ecrating (p. a. from execrate) Cursing, abominating.

Ex'ecrating (s. from the part.) The act of execration.

Ex'ecuting (s. from the part.) The act of putting into execution; the act of putting to death by order of law.

Ex'eltree (s. a different spelling) An axletree.

Ex'eltreed (adj. from exeltree) Furnished with an axletree.

Exemplifying (s. from the part.) The act of confirming by example.

Exempting (s. from the part.) The act of freeing from any thing burdensome.

Exercising (s. from the part.) The act of practising.

Exerting (s. from the part.) The act of putting forth strength.

Exfoliating (s. from the part.) The act of scaling off an injured bone; an exfoliation.

Exhaling (s. from the part.) The act of sending forth in vapour.

Exhausting (s. from the part.) The act of emptying; the act of drawing quite dry.

Exhibiting (s. from the part.) The act of producing to view.

Exhilarating (s. from the part.) The act of cheering; the act of raising the spirits.

Exhorting (s. from the part.) The act of persuading.

Exiling (s. from the part.) The act of banishing.

Existing (p. a. from exist) Being, having a being.

Existing (s. from the part.) The act or state of continuing in existence.

Exorcising (s. from the part.) The act of adjuring.

Expanding (s. from the part.) The act of spreading a broad.

Expatriating (s. from the part.) The act of enlarging on a subject; the act of ranging at large.

Expecting (s. from the part.) The act of waiting; the act or state of having a previous apprehension.

Expectorating (p. a. from expectorate) Ejecting by spittle.

Expectorating (s. from the part.) The act of ejecting by spittle.

FAB

Exped'itating (p. a. from expeditate) Cutting out balls of a dog's feet to prevent his running.

Exped'itating (s. from the part.) The act of cutting the balls of a dog's feet.

Expediting (s. from the part.) The act of hastening.

Expelling (s. from the part.) The act of casting out.

Expend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying out.

Experiencing (s. from the part.) The act of knowing by experience.

Experimentalist (s. from experiment) One versed in experimental part of any science.

Exp'iating (s. from the part.) The act of averting subsequent acts of devotion.

Exp'iring (s. from the part.) The act of breathing out; the act of dying.

Explaining (s. from the part.) The act of illustrating the act of unfolding.

Explicating (s. from the part.) The act of unfolding.

Explo'iding (s. from the part.) The act of driving off.

Explo'ring (s. from the part.) The act of searching out.

Exporting (s. from the part.) The act of carrying out of a country.

Exp'osing (s. from the part.) The act of laying open.

Exp'ostulating (s. from the part.) The act of debating.

Expounding (s. from the part.) The act of explaining.

Express'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pressing out the act of uttering.

Expunging (s. from the part.) The act of blotting out.

Exsic'cating (s. from the part.) The act of drying.

Extens'porizing (s. from the part.) The act of speaking extempore.

Extending (s. from the part.) The act of stretching out.

Extenuating (s. from the part.) The act of making a palliation.

Extenuating (s. from the part.) The act of roasting out.

Extinguishing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out; the act of quenching.

Extirpating (s. from the part.) The act of rooting out.

Extolling (s. from the part.) The act of praising.

Extort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing violence.

Extract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing out.

Extrahu'ra (s. in old records) A stray, a stray beast.

Extrav'asating (p. a. from extravasate) Forcing out the proper vessels.

Extrav'asating (s. from the part.) The act of forcing out of the proper vessels.

Extricated (p. from extricate) Disembarrassed, disentangled.

Extricating (s. from the part.) The act of disembarrassing.

Extruding (s. from the part.) The act of pushing out.

Exul'cerating (s. from the part.) The act of corroding with ulcers.

Exulting (s. from the part.) The act of rejoicing greatly; the act of triumph.

Exul'citated (p. from exulcitate) Stirred up.

Exul'citating (p. a. from exulcitate) Stirring up.

Exul'citating (s. from the part.) The act of stirring up.

Eye'teeth (s. from eye, and teeth) The teeth in upper jaw next the grinders.

Eye-water (s. from eye, and water) A water medicine for the eyes.

Eye'ing (s. from the part.) The act of watching the eye.

Ev'ott (s.) A small island in a river.

EZ'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

EZ'BAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

EZ'LANGA'BER (s. a different spelling) Ezlangeber.

EZ'ZEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

EZ'NITE (s. from the Heb.) Adino, one of David's mighty men.

Ez'rabite (s. from Ezra) A descendant of Ezra.

EZ'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

EZ'RON (s. from the Heb.) Hezion; a man's name.

F.

FAB'ING (s. from the part.) The act of dealing fiction.

Fab'ricating (s. from the part.) The act of raising fabric.

FAU

FAURICUS (s.) A man's name; a noble family among the ancient Romans.
FAURIA (s. in the mythology of the heathens) An allegorical deity, supposed to be the daughter of Somnus and Nox.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of making easy.
FAUR (s. a local word) A small bundle.
FAURING (p. a. from fadge, a droll word) Sulting, fucceeing.
FAURING (s. from the part. a droll word) The act of fulting one's self; the act of succeeding in any business.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act or state of growing languid.
FAUR (s. an old spelling) Father. Wickliffe.
FAUR (s. an old spelling) Father. Wickliffe.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of blinding up in fagots.
FAUR (s. in old records) A feud.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of counterfeiting.
FAUR (s. in old records) A forger of deeds.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of hesitating; the act of falling.
FAURUS'TA (s.) The name of an apple.
FAUR (s.) A poetical deity.
FAURIZING (s. from the part.) The act of making familiar.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of killing with hunger.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of forming in the imagination.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of agitating the air with a fan.
FAURNIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman orator of singular dignity.
FAUR (v. t. a local word) To clip the coarser parts of wool. Diët. Rust.
FAURED (p. from farce) Dressed as wool by having the coarser parts clipped off.
FAURING (p. a. from farce) Clipping off the coarser parts of wool.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of clipping off the coarser parts of wool.
FAURINGAL (s. a different spelling) A farthingale. Scott.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of proceeding in any fair; the act of going on in life.
FAURDALE (s. a different spelling) A farundel, a quarter of an acre. Diët. Rust.
FAUR (adj. a local word) Fair, handsome.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth pigs.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of breaking wind behind.
FAURDEL (s. an old word) A fourth part, and in some places an eighth part of a yard land.
FAURDEL (s. a local word) A small quantity of land, a quarter of an acre.
FAURINA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.
FAURITES (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of bewitching.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of forning.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of abstaining from food.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of receiving as a child; the act of receiving as an offspring.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of sounding the path.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of making weary.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of making fat.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of making fat.
FAURA (s. in heathen mythology) Ops; the women only attended the sacrifices of this goddess.
FAURA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Faurellus.
FAURELLUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Aborigines.
FAURUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Aborigines.
FAURA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of the goddess Ops.
FAURA (s. from Faunus) The feasts kept in honour of Faunus.
FAURUS (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed god of the fields and woods; the patron of fowlers.
FAURINUS (s.) A man's name; a French philosopher.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of shewing favour.

FER

FAURSTITAS (s. in heathen mythology) The name of a goddess who was supposed to make cattle fruitful.
FAURSTUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
FAURING (s. from the part.) The act of courting; the act of flattering by expressing more than common fondness.
FEAR (s. in the mythology of the heathens) The deity who was supposed to produce fear; a female divinity.
FEARING (p. a. from fear) Dreading, living in fear.
FEARING (s. from the part.) The act of dreading; the state of living in fear.
FEARING (s. from the part.) The act of entertaining at feasts; the act of frequenting feasts.
FEATHERING (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with feathers; the upper part of a hedge or fence; the act of laying hay on a cart; but these sentences are local.
FEATUR (adj. from feature) Having features.
FEAZING (s. from the part.) The act of untwisting.
FEBRIS (s. in heathen mythology) A goddess worshipped through fear; the fever.
FEBRUA (s. in antiquity) A kind of lustration, a feast of atonement or purification.
FEBRUALIS, FEBRUATA (s. in heathen mythology) Names of Juno.
FEBRULA (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Juno.
FEBRUUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Pluto.
FEENIDATING (s. from the part.) The act of making fruitful.
FEELER (adj. comp. of feeble) Feeble in a greater degree.
FEELER (adj. sup. of feeble) Feeble in the greatest degree.
FEELING (s. from the part.) The act of giving fees.
FEIGNING (s. from the part.) The act of inventing, the act of dissembling.
FELICITATING (s. from the part.) The act of congratulating, the act of making happy.
FELLING (p. a. from fell) Knocking down, cutting down.
FELLING (s. from the part.) The act of knocking down, the act of cutting down.
FELLOWCITIZEN (s. from fellow, and citizen) One of the same city.
FELLOWING (p. a. from fellow) Fitting one to another, pairing.
FELLOWING (s. from the part.) The act of fitting one to another; the act of pairing.
FELLOWPRISONER (s. from fellow, and prisoner) One confined in prison with another.
FELLOWWORKER (s. from fellow, and worker) One that works with another.
FELON (s. a law term, supposed to be from the Tent, fee a feud, and lon a price) A crime which exposes to forfeiture of goods and chatties; one guilty of such a crime. Blackstone.
FELTERING (s. from the part.) The act of clotting together.
FERMORA (s. in architecture) The interstices which separate the channels of the triglyph.
FERNIGREEK (s. not so correct a spelling) The fenugreek. Diët. Rust.
FENIRA (s. in old records) A fence.
FENWICK (s.) A man's name.
FEOFFOR (s. in old records) A feoffer.
FEOFFING (p. a. from feoff) Putting in possession.
FEOFFING (s. from the part.) The act of putting in possession.
FEOFFMENT (s. in old records) A fee farm.
FEOFFMENT (s. not so common a spelling) A feoffment. Ans.
FERALIA (s. in Roman antiquity) A feast to the infernal gods.
FERTURIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
FERRIA (s. in old records) A ferry.
FERMENTING (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a state of fermentation.
FERNHALL (s. a local word) A house or land held by lease at a yearly rent.
FERONIA (s. in heathen mythology) A goddess of the graces.
FERRER (s. not so common a spelling) A ferule. Scott.
FERRERING (s. from the part.) The act of driving out with a ferret; the act of hunting from lurking places.
FERRYING (s. from the part.) The act of carrying over a water.

FLA

Fertilizing (s. from the part.) The act of making fruitful.

Feruling (p. a. from ferule) Chastising with the ferula.

Feruling (s. from the part.) The act of chastising with the ferula.

FESSONIA (s. in heathen mythology) A tutelar goddess to weary travellers.

Fes'tering (s. from the part.) The act of corrupting; the act of growing virulent.

Fetch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing; the act of going for any thing.

FETECHAMPE'TRE (s. from the French, fete a feast, and champeire the country) A feast or elegant entertainment in the country, at which the company is chiefly accommodated out of doors.

Fetheries (adj. absolute) Void of feathers. Cbauer.

Fet'tering (p. a. from fetter) Binding with fetters.

Fet'tering (s. from the part.) The act of binding with fetters.

Fet'tle (s. a local word) Dress, case, condition.

Few'er (adj. comp. of few) Less in number.

Few'est (adj. sup. of few) Least in number.

Few'est (s. from the adj.) The least number.

Few'ness (s. from the adj.) The state of being few in number.

Fid'dling (s. from the part.) The act of playing on the fiddle; the act of trifling.

Fier'cer (adj. comp. of fierce) Fierce in a greater degree.

Fiercest (adj. sup. of fierce) Fierce in the greatest degree.

Fig'uring (s. from the part.) The act of forming into some certain figure; the act of setting down in figures; the act of making a figure.

Fil'ling (p. a. from fill) Making full.

Filling (s. from the part.) The act of making full.

Fil'liped (p. from fillip) Struck with a sudden motion of the finger.

Fil'liping (p. a. from fillip) Striking with a sudden motion of the finger.

Fil'liping (s. from the part.) The act of striking with a sudden motion of the finger.

Fillyfoal (s. from filly and foal) A mare colt.

Filt'ring (s. from the part.) The act of straining.

Filtrating (p. a. from filtrate) Filtering.

Filtrating (s. from the part.) The act of straining.

FIMBRIA (s.) The name of several Romans.

Find'ing (p. a. from find) Obtaining by seeking; discovering by study; discovering by accident.

Find'ing (s. from the part.) The act of obtaining by searching; the act of discovering by study or accident.

Finee'r (v. t. a different spelling) To veneer.

Fining (s. from the part.) The act of levying a fine; the act of refining.

Fi'ned (p. from fire) Set on fire.

Fire'fly (s. from fire, and fly) The pyrausta.

Fir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting on fire.

Fir'ma (s. in old records) A farm.

Fir'rups (s. a local word) A petty oath.

Fir'wood (s. from fir, and wood) The wood or timber of the fir tree.

Fish'ering (s. in ornithology) A kind of gull.

Fish'er-men (s. plu. of fisherman) More than one fisherman.

Fish'spear (s. from fish, and spear) A spear to strike fish.

Fist'ing (s. from the part.) The act of striking with the fist.

Fitch (s. a different spelling) A vetch; a kind of pulic.

Fit'ted (p. from fit) Suited, accommodated.

Fittedness (s. from fitted) The state of being fitted; suitability.

Fitt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suiting; the act of accommodating; that which is fitted.

Fix'ing (p. a. from fix) Settling; determining.

Fix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of settling; the act of determining.

FLAC'CUS (s.) The cognomen of several Romans.

FLAGEL'LA (s. from the Lat. the plu. of flagellum) A cat of nine tails; a bundle of cords used as a scourge.

FLAGEL'LUM (s. from the Lat.) A scourge.

Flag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of hanging loose.

Flak'ing (p. a. from flake) Parting into thin plates.

Flak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of separating into thin plates.

FLAMIN'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

Flam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of burning with flame; the act of burning with passion.

Planderian (adj. from Flanders) Belonging to Flanders.

FOA

Flank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of attacking one side, the act of securing on the side.

Flan'nel (adj. from the sub.) Consisting of flannel, made of flannel.

Flap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of beating with any thing loose and flat.

Fla'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fluttering with splendid shew.

Flash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of glittering with quick and transient light.

Flatt'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making flat.

Flat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of treating with flattery.

FLA'VIA (s. from Flavius) The name of a woman; the name of several Roman ladies.

Fla'vian (adj. from Flavius) Belonging to a particular family at Rome.

Fla'vius (s.) A man's name; the name of a family at Rome.

Flaunt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making shew of finery.

Flaw'ing (p. a. from flaw) Breaking, damaging with a fissure.

Flaw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of damaging with a fissure.

Flay (v. t. a local word) To frighten.

Play'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of skin.

Fleak (s. a local word) A hurdle.

Fleck'ing (p. a. from fleck) Spotting, streaking.

Fleck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with spots.

Fledg'ing (p. a. from fledge) Furnishing with feathers.

Fledg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with feathers.

Flee'cing (s. from the part.) The act of stripping of fleece; the act of plundering.

Fleet'ing (s. from the part.) The act of flying swiftly.

Fleshcontent'ing (adj. from flesh, and contenting) Giving content to the flesh.

Flesh'd (adj. from flesh) Furnished with flesh, having flesh.

Flick (s. a local word) A sitch of bacon.

Fling'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing with violence.

Flirt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing a thing with a quick motion; the act of playing with a flirt.

Flix (s. an old spelling) The flux.

Flood'ing (s. from the part.) The act of overflowing with water.

Flot'sam (s. an old law term) A wreck swimming on the water.

Flounc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving in water with violence; the act of moving with sonate agitation.

Flound'ershiping (s. from flounder, and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for flounders.

Flour'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sprinkling with flour.

Flour'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of growing with vigour; the act of moving with quick vibration; the act of striking flourishes.

Flour'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mocking; the act of treating with contempt.

Flow'ercup (s. from flower, and cup) The calix, the part which supports the flower leaves.

Flow'ering (s. from the part.) The act or state of shooting out into flowers; the act of ornamenting with flowers.

Flow'erleaf (s. from flower, and leaf) One of the leaves which form the flower of a plant.

Flow'erleaves (s. plu. of flowerleaf) The leaves which form the flower of a plant.

Flow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of running in water; the act of hanging loose.

Fluctuating (s. from the part.) The act of rolling backward and forward.

FLUVIA'LES (s. in heathen mythology) The nymphs who were supposed to frequent rivers.

Flex'ing (s. from the part.) The act of melting.

Fly'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving through the air with wings.

Fly'onhead (s. in falconry) The act of a hawk missing her quarry and betakes herself to the check.

Flyre (v. int. a local word) To laugh scornfully.

Foal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth a foal.

Foal'teeth (s. plu. of foaltooth) The teeth which horse shew at a certain age.

FOR

FR1

foal'tooth (s. from foal, and tooth) one of the foal-teeth.
foam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gathering froth; the act of frothing at the mouth.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.
fool'dering (s. from the part.) The act of feeding cattle with fodder; the fodder with which cattle are fed.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defeating.
fool'ing (p. a. from foim) Pushing in fencing.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pushing in fencing.
fool'ing (p. a. from folit) Inserting by forgery.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inserting by forgery.
fool'right (s. an old law word) The common law; the right of the common people.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with thin plates.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of going after.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of applying a ornamentation; the act of cherishing.
fool'ing (s. not a common spelling) A fund. Dict. Rus.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with more than common indulgence.
fool'ing (s. a different spelling) The feast of fountains; the fontanalia.
fool'ing (s. from foot, and breadth) The breadth of a foot.
fool'ing (s. in old records) One who cleans armour.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of prohibiting.
fool'ing (s. an old word) One who cleans armour.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of compelling; the act of violating female chastity.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing through a water without swimming.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of appointing beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of arming beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of presaging.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of contriving beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of precluding; the act of cutting off the power of redemption.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of designing beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dooming beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of quitting, the act of resigning.
fool'ing (p. a. from foreimagin) Imagining beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imagining beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of judging beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of knowing beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying in both.
fool'ing (s. a law term) An exception.
fool'ing (adj. from foreprise) Excepted, reserved.
fool'ing (s. in old records) A head land.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of raking in the part.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of running fore.
fool'ing (p. a. from foresee) Seeing beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seeing beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of signifying beforehand.
fool'ing (p. a. from forethow) Showing beforehand, predicting.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shewing beforehand.
fool'ing (s. a law term) A stoppage of the way. Ans.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of anticipating market.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of predicting.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of thinking beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of warning beforehand.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of losing by non-observance of some condition.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of losing re-observance.
fool'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming in the act of counterfeiting.
fool'ing (p. a. from forgive) Remitting, pardoning.

Forgiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pardoning; the act of remitting.
Forisfamili'ated (adj. a law term) Provided with land prior to the death of the father. Blackstone.
FOR/MAX (s. in beaten mythology) A goddess of corn.
For'nage (s.) The fornagium.
FOR/NAX (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess who was supposed to preside over ovens.
Forfa'king (p. a. from forsake) Leaving, departing from.
Forfa'king (s. from the part.) The act of leaving, the act of departing from.
Forstala'tor (s. in old records) A forestaller.
Forstaltum (s. in old records) A stoppage of the way.
Forfwear'ing (s. from the part.) The act of renouncing an oath.
For'tifying (s. from the part.) The act of strengthening with fortifications.
For'tulet (s. from fortuletum) A fortified place. Ans.
Fortule'tum (s. in old records) A fortress.
For'warding (s. from the part.) The act of hastening.
For'er (s. a different spelling) A fodder of lead. Dict. Rus.
Found'ering (s. from the part.) The act of making a horses feet tender by over riding; the act of sinking as a ship to the bottom.
Found'ing (p. a. from found) Laying a foundation; casting in moulds.
Found'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying a foundation; the act of building on a foundation.
Fowl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of catching and killing birds.
Fox'whelp (s. from fox, and whelp) The young of a fox.
Franc'hurdum (s. in old records) A free board.
Franchi'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making free.
FRAN'CI (s.) The Franks.
Frank (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
FRANK (s. in familiar style) A man's name, Francis; a woman's name, Frances.
Frank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making free; the act of shutting up a hog to make it fat.
FRATICEL/LA (s.) The Tortosians; a sect who paid no regard to modesty of dress or manners.
Fray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of frightening away.
Fre'ed (p. from free) Made free.
Free'ing (p. a. from free) Making free.
Free'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making free.
Free'men (s. plu. of freeman) More than one freeman.
Free'willoffering (s. from freewill, and offering) A voluntary offering.
Free'zing (s. from the part.) The act of congealing with frost.
Freight'ing (s. from the part.) The act of loading; the act of supplying with a cargo.
French'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of making like the French.
Fresh'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making or growing fresh.
Fret'ting (s. from the part.) The act of wearing away by attrition; the act of vexing; the state of one who frets.
Frib'bling (s. from the part.) The act of trifling; the part of conduct of a fribble.
FRIDS/WID (s.) The name of a woman.
Frid'wit (s. a law term) A fine for breach of the peace.
Friend (s. at ombre) The person who holds the king that is called and becomes the partner of him that called it.
FRIE'ZELAND (s. in geography) The name of two subdivisions or districts of the German Empire, distinguished by East and West.
Frie'zeland (s. from Friezeland) A native of Friezeland.
Fright'ening (s. from the part.) The act of surprizing with sudden fear.
Frim (adj. a local word) Tender, thriving.
Fring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with fringe.
Fri'gian (adj. from Friii) Belonging to the Friii; belonging to Friezeland.
Fri'ic (adj. from Friii) Belonging to the Friii; belonging to Friezeland.
Fri'ic (s. from the adj.) A native of Friezeland; the language of the Friezelanders.
FRISII (s. in old geography) A people of Germany, the people who inhabited Friezeland.
Frit'tering (p. a. from fritter) Cutting into small pieces.
Frit'tering (s. from the part.) The act of cutting into small pieces.
FRIZ (s. the contraction of) Fridswid.
Fri'zing (s. from the part.) The act of curling.

G A L

FRIZ'WITH (s. a different spelling) Fridswid; a woman's name.
Frog'stool (s. a local word) The toad stool; a kind of fungus.
Front'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing in front.
FRON'TO (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Frown'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking stern.
Fruit'fuller (adj. comp. of fruitful) Fruitful in a greater degree.
Fruit'fullest (adj. sup. of fruitful) Fruitful in the greatest degree.
Frun'dal (s. a local word) The fourth part of a bushel.
FRUST'RABLE (adj. from the Lat. frustra in vain) Capable of being frustrated.
Frust'rating (s. from the part.) The act of defeating.
Fry'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in a pan over the fire.
Fud'dling (s. from the part.) The act of drinking to excess.
FUFID'IUS (s.) A man's name; a rich miser. Horace.
FULK (s.) A man's name.
FULMINA'TOR (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
Ful'minating (s. from the part.) The act of thundering.
Ful'vian (adj. from Fulvius) Belonging to a particular Roman family.
FUL'VIUS (s.) A man's name; the head of a great family at Rome.
Fu'mage (s. a local word) Dung; the act of manuring with dung. Dic. Rust.
Fumb'ling (s. from the part.) The act of doing any thing in an awkward manner.
Fu'migating (s. from the part.) The act of perfuming with smoke.
Fu'ming (s. from the part.) The act of passing off in smoke; the act of discovering passion.
Fun'gi (s. plu. of fungus) Excrecences; mushrooms.
Furbel'owing (p. a. from furbelow) Adorning with appendages of dress.
Fur'belowing (s. from the part.) The act of adorning with furbelows.
Fur'bish'ing (s. from the part.) The act of burnishing; the act of rubbing up.
FUR'RIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Fur'nishing (s. from the part.) The act of supplying.
Fur'ling (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with fur.
Fur'rowing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting trenches.
Fur'thering (s. from the part.) The act of promoting.
Fu'sing (s. from the part.) The act of melting.
FU'SIUS (s.) A man's name; an affected orator among the Romans.
Fus'sock (s. a local and low word) A fat idle woman.
Fuz'zing (s. from the part.) The act of flying off as linen or woollen in small parts.

G.

G'VBA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city, Geba.
GAB'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gab'bling (s. from the part.) The act of continued talking; a confused noise of talking.
GABINI'US (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Gab'lock (s. a local word) A crow, an iron bar.
Gad'ding (s. from the part.) The act of rambling from one place to another.
GA'DI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of stopping the mouth with a gag.
GA'HAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
GAHM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gai'ling (s. from the part.) The act of getting.
GA'LAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
GALAN'THIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The handmaid of Alcmena, who was said to have been transformed into a weazel.
GALAT'IE (s. in old geography) A division or race of the ancient Celts.
GALATE'A (s.) The name of a woman; a sea nymph.
GAL'BA (s.) A man's name; one of the Roman emperors.
Gale (s. in botany) The name of a plant; the sweet willow.
GALE'NIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

G E N

GALE'NUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Nicomachus, a geometrician.
GAL/LÆ (s.) The priestesses of Cybele.
GAL/LI (s.) The priests of Cybele.
Gall'pipe (s. from gall, and pipe) The pipe or d which conveys the gall from the bladder to the intestines.
GAL'LUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several mans.
Gan'merlamb (s. a local word) An ewe lamb.
GA'MUL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gan'greening (p. a. from gangreen) Affecting with a gangreen, corrupting with a gangreen.
Gan'greening (s. from the part.) The act or state of corrupting with a gangreen.
Gaol'fever (s. from gaol, and fever) A distemper occasioned by confinement and close air.
Gar'amas (s.) A man's name; a king of Libya; an inhabitant of the interior Libya.
Gardero'ba (s. in old records) A wardrobe.
Garg'ling (s. from the part.) The act of applying gargle.
GAR'LIZ (s. in commerce) A kind of linen cloth imported from Germany.
GAR'MITE (s. from the Heb.) One belonging to a certain district or family.
Gar'nishing (s. from the part.) The act of setting with garnish.
Gar'risoning (p. a. from garrison) Furnishing with garrison.
Gar'risoning (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a garrison.
Garth (s. a local word) A hoop.
Gash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting wide and deep wounds.
Gasp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening mouth wide and catching for breath.
Gast'ing (p. a. from gast) Frighting.
Gat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surprising, sudden fear.
GATH'HEPHER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Gav'elman (s. from gavel, and man) A tenant liable to pay tribute.
Gav'eimen (s. plu. of gavelman) More than one gavelman.
Gaum (v. t. a local word) To understand, to comprehend.
Gaum'less (adj. from gaum, a local word) Stupid.
Gaunt'bellied (adj. from gaunt, and belly) Having thin belly.
Gaz'athite (s. from Gaza) An inhabitant of Gaza.
GA'ZER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
GA'ZEZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gaz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking steadily.
Gaz'ite (s. from Gaza) an inhabitant of Gaza.
GAZ'ZAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
GE'ADES (s. in natural history) A kind of lizard.
Gear'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting harness.
GE'BAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
GE'BER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gede (p. obsolete) Went.
GE'DER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
GED'ERAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Ged'erathite (s. from Gederah) An inhabitant of Gederah.
Ged'erite (s. from Geder) An inhabitant of Gederah.
GED'EROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
GED'EROTHAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
GE'DOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Geer'eagle (s. a different spelling) The gier eagle.
Geef'seathers (s. from geeie, and feathers) The feathers of a goose.
GEFF (s. a contraction of) Geffery.
GELA'SINUS (s.) The supposed god of mirth and laughter; Democritus, the laughing philosopher.
Geld'eum (s. in old records) A fine, a tax, a mercantment.
Geld'ing (s. from the part.) The act of castrating.
GEL'LOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
GEL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a celebrated grammarian.
GELO'NI (s. in old geography) The Getæ; the inhabitants of Scythia.
GEMAL'LI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
GEMARI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Gemo'tus (s. in old records) An assembly.
Gen'dering (s. from the part.) The act of breeding, act of copulation.

GLA

GLAVERA (s. from the Lat.) The several kinds.
 GLAVERING (s. from the part.) The act of propagating.
 GENES/ARET (s. a different spelling) Gennefaret.
 GENNETING (s.) The name of an apple.
 GENNETMOIL (s.) The name of an apple.
 GENNET (s. a different spelling) The genneting.
 GENITOR (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
 GENITIE (s. a different spelling) A gentil.
 GENTOO' (s.) One of a particular sect or class of people in the East Indies.
 GENTOO' (s. in old records) A fine, an amercement.
 GER/ON (s.) The name of a giant slain by Hercules.
 GER/SHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/SHAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/SHURI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country or district in the land of Canaan.
 GER/SHURITE (s. from Gethuri) An inhabitant of Gethuri.
 GER/UEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/ZER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place in the land of Canaan.
 GER/ZERITE (s. from Gezer) An inhabitant of Gezer.
 GER/MEEL (s. a different spelling) Gimel, the third letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 GER/NAJIN (s.) The sixteenth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 GER/NAJIN (s.) The name of an apple.
 GER/IB (s. a contraction for) Gilbert.
 GER/IBAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBETHAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GER/IBETHING (s. from the part.) The act of hanging on a gibbet.
 GER/IBEA, GER/IBAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GER/IBEA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from Gibeath) An inhabitant of Gibeath.
 GER/IBEAHING (s. from the part.) The act of treating with scorn.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Josb. 13. 5.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. in beathen mythology) The giants, the supposed sons of Titan and Tellus.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of tittering, the act of laughing foolishly; a silly laugh.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. in old records) A guild, a fraternity. Mack.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from Gilead) A descendant of Gilead.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s.) The ancient custom of living at free cost on the tenants of a manor so called in contempt.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a particular district or family. 2 Sam.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s.) The third letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. a local word) A ewe lamb.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Chro. 28.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s.) A man's name; a mean Roman who prostituted his wife by connivance.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of investing with a girdle.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of girding with a girdle.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from girdle, and wheel) A small spinning wheel to be hung at the apron string.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of binding on with a girth.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of bestowing gifts.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a particular district or family.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s.) A man's name; a Roman of consular dignity.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of turning into ice.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of making glad.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of making glad.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s.) A man's name; one said to have been remarkable for his debaucheries.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of shooting a sudden ray; the act of flying off in an oblique direction.
 GER/IBEAHITE (s. from the part.) The act of emitting light in so large a quantity, as to overpower the organs of vision.

GRA

GLASS/grinding (s. from glass, and grinding) The act or practice of grinding glass.
 GLASS/maker (s. from glass, and maker) One who makes glass.
 GLASS/making (s. from glass, and making) The act or practice of making glass.
 GLAU/CO/PIS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Minerva.
 GLAU/CUS (s.) A man's name.
 GLAZ/ing (s. from the part.) The act of glazing.
 GLE/beland (s. from glebe, and land) The land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice.
 GLI/ding (s. from the part.) The act of flowing gently and silently.
 GLIS/tening (s. from the part.) The act or state of shining.
 GLIS/tering (s. from the part.) The act or state of shining.
 GLOM/erating (s. from the part.) The act of gathering into a round mass.
 GLO/rifying (s. from the part.) The act of giving glory; the act of praise.
 GLOV/ing (adj. from glove) Belonging to the trade of a Glover.
 GLOV/ing (s. from the adj.) The trade of a Glover.
 GLOV/ing (p. a. from glove) Furnishing with gloves.
 GLOU/ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking fallen.
 GLOW/ing (s. from the part.) The act of shining without flame; the act or state of feeling a warmth of body or mind.
 GLUT/ing (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing in large quantities; the act of overcharging.
 GLYC/ERA (s.) A woman's name; a beautiful but coy mistress to Horace.
 GLYCER/IUM (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Pamphilus. Terence.
 GLY/CON (s.) A man's name; a huge lusty fellow. Hor.
 GNAR/ling (s. from the part.) The act of growling.
 GNAW/ing (s. from the part.) The act of eating with a continued action of the teeth; the act of eating by little and little.
 GNO/SIS (s.) A woman's name; Ariadne.
 GNO/SUS (s. in old geography) The island of Crete; the chief city of that island.
 GOAD/ing (s. from the part.) The act of pricking with a goad.
 GOAD/NIM (s.) A man's name.
 GO/ATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 GOB/bling (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing in a hurry.
 GOFF, Goffe (s. a local word) A geoff, a mow, a rick. Diſt. Ruſt.
 GOG/ling (s. from the part.) The act of looking a-squint.
 GOL/denrod (s.) The name of a shrub.
 GOLD/lin (s. a different spelling) The goldling; the name of a fish. Phillips.
 GOLD/folder (s. from gold, and folder) Borax, tinkar.
 GOO/fe/feathers (s. from gooffe, and feathers) The feathers of a gooffe.
 GO/PHERWOOD (s.) A kind of wood. Gen. 1.
 GORG/ing (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing; the act of satiating.
 GORMANDIZ/ing (s. from the part.) The act of eating with more than common greediness.
 GOSPELIZ/ing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to the terms of the gospel.
 GO/THI (s. in old geography) The Goths.
 GO/THUN/NI (s. in old geography) A mixed people of the Goths and Huns.
 GOV/erning (s. from the part.) The act of ruling.
 GOV/ynge (p. an old spelling) Going. Wickliffe.
 GRAB/bling (s. from the part. not much used) The act of feeling eagerly with the hands.
 GRAC/CHUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 GRADI/VUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Mars.
 GRAD/uating (s. from the part.) The act of marking with degrees.
 GRA/DUS (s.) A Roman measure of about two feet and a half.
 GRÆ/CÆ (s.) The daughters of Phorcys.
 GRÆ/CI (s.) The Greeks.
 GRÆ/CULI (s.) The Greeks.
 GRAN/IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 GRANT/ing (s. from the part.) The act of allowing; the act of executing a grant.
 GRAN/ulating (s. from the part.) The act of breaking into small parts.
 Grape/gatherer

GUT

Gra'pegatherer (s. from grape, and gatherer) One who gathers grapes.
Grap'pling (s. from the part.) The act of contending in close fight.
GRA/TIAE (s. in heathen mythology) The Graces.
GRA'TIAN (s.) A man's name.
Grat'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of pleasing.
GRA'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a Latin poet who wrote of dogs and hunting.
Grat'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of congratulating.
Grav'itating (s. from the part.) The act of tending towards the centre of gravity.
Greasing (s. from the part.) The act of smearing with grease.
Grea'rot (s. a local word) Smallwort.
GRE'CIA (s.) Greece.
Grec'ize (v. int. from Greece) To imitate the manners or language of the Greeks.
Grec'izing (p. a. from Grecize) Imitating the manners or language of the Greeks.
Gree'zing (s. from the part.) The act of imitating the manners or language of the Greeks.
Gree (s.) A borrow for rabbits. Ainsworth.
Green'ing (s.) The name of an apple.
Green'ward (s. a different spelling) The greensward.
Greet'en (p. obsolete) Greeted. Wickliffe.
Gren'adine (s. in cookery) A kind of French dish.
Grid'ding (s. from the part.) The act of cutting.
Grief'en (v. int. an old word) To grieve.
Grie'ving (s. from the part.) The act of affecting with sorrow.
Gri'ming (s. from the part.) The act of dirtying with grime.
Gri'ndstone (s. a different spelling) A grindstone.
Gripe (s. not so common a spelling) A grip, a ditch. Dict. Russ.
Grip'pling (s. a local word) The twilight.
Gris'ones (s. in geography) A people who inhabited a part of Switzerland.
Grit'ling (s. from the part.) The act of grinding in a coarse manner.
Groo'ving (s. from the part.) The act of making grooves.
Gro'ping (s. from the part.) The act of feeling for any thing in the dark.
Gro'veling (s. from the part.) The act of creeping on the ground; the state of acting meanly.
Ground'ing (p. a. from ground) Fixing on the ground, fixing as on a foundation.
Ground'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fixing in the ground; the act of building on a foundation.
Ground'worm (s. from ground, and worm) The apteria.
Group'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming in groups.
Grutch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grudging.
GRYNÆ'US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
Qua'd'gium, Guida'gium (s. in old records) The guidage; money paid to a guide.
Guard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defending against violence and outrage.
Gudgeon'ing (s. from gudgeon, and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for gudgeon.
GUD'UDA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Guer'ra (s. in old records) War.
Gues'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conjecturing.
Gug'gling (s. from the part.) The noise as of liquor running out of a bottle.
GUINEA, GUINEY (s. in geography) A kingdom of Africa.
Gul'ling (s. from the part.) The act of cheating.
Gul'lying (p. a. from gully) Running with a noise as liquor out of a bottle; wearing away by friction.
Gul'lying (s. from the part.) The act of running with a noise as liquor out of a bottle; the act of wearing away by friction.
GU'LO (s. in zoology) A species of mustela.
Gulp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing with eagerness.
Gum'boil (s. from gum, and boil) A swelling of the gums.
GUNDE'LIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Gun'port (s. from gun, and port) One of the ports in a ship through which the cannon is presented.
GUR'BAAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Gur'gites (s. in old records) Wears of a river.
Gurg'ling (s. from the part.) The act of gushing out with noise.
Gut'tering (p. a. from gutter) Cutting in small furrows.

HAL

Gut'tering (s. from the part.) The act of cutting small channels.
Gut'tling (s. from the part. a low word) The act of eating with uncommon greediness.
Guttural'ity (s. from guttural) The state of being guttural.
Guz'zling (s. from the part.) The act of drinking excess.
Gwa'brmerched (s. an old word) A fine paid to the lord of a manor by a tenant on the marriage incontinence of a daughter.
GY'AS (s.) A man's name; A valiant Trojan.
GY'GES (s.) A man's name; a Lydian, to whom Cædæus the king shewed his queen naked, who greatly incensed her and proved his ruin.
GYLIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a valiant Lacedæmonian.
GYMNA'TES (s. in geography) A people of Ethiopia who went quite naked.
GYMNAR'THRIA (s. in the history of insects, from the Greek, γυμνος, naked, and αρθρον a joint) A genus of insects having naked bodies furnished with limbs.
GYMNAS'TES (s.) Those who professed at the public games.
GYM'NOSPHESTES (s.) A sect of Indian philosophers who went for the most part naked.
GYN'OCRACY (s. from the Greek, γυνή a woman, and κρατειν to govern) Female rule, petticoat government.

H.

H'AAM (s. a different spelling) The aam.
HAB (s. a contraction of) Herbert, a man's name.
HABAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Habit'uating (s. from the part.) The act of using one self to any habit.
HA'BOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Hach'ia (s. in old records) A hack, a pickax.
HACH'MONI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hach'monite (s. from Hachmoni) A descendant of Hachmoni.
Hack'ling (s. from the part.) The act or process of sing flax.
Ha'da (s. in old records) A strip of ground at the end of ploughed land.
HA'DAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAD'ASHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Job.
HADAT'TAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Job.
HAD'DID (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hade (s. an old word) A headland; land lying at the head or end of ploughed lands.
Ha'deland (s. an old spelling) A headland. Ainsworth.
HA'DES (s. in heathen mythology) one of the names of Jupiter.
HA'DID (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAD'LAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HÆ'MON (s.) A man's name; a Theban youth who slew himself for love of Antigone.
HÆ'MUS (s.) A high mountain between Thrace and Thessaly.
HÆ'RES (s. in heathen mythology) A deity to whose heirs newly come into possession of their estates were wont to sacrifice.
HA'GAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAGA'BAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hag'ardfalcon (s. from hagar, and falcon) A kind of falcon.
Hag'boat (s.) A kind of small ship.
HAG'GAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAGG'I'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hag'ging (s. from the part.) The act of teasing.
HAG'ISASMA (s. in antiquity) A church, the most sacred part of a church.
HAL (s. from the Heb. a different spelling) Ai; the name of a place.
Hai'a (s. in old records) A hedge, a fence.
Haips (s. a local word) The berries of the white thorn.
HAK'KATON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAK'KOR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAK'UPHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAL (s. in familiar style) Henry, a man's name.
HA'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HA'LAK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain on the borders of the land of Israel. HAL.

H A R

ESUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Agamemnon.
HAL (s. from the Heb.) A city in the land of Eph.
LI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Josb. 19.
LEVTOS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The name of a man, who was supposed to have been transformed into a fowl of that name.
ING (p. a. from hale) Dragging by force, pulling with violence.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of dragging by force.
NOTES (s. in natural history) The earshell.
IA (s. in old records) A manorhouse, a hall.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of pulling by violence.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of pursuing with violence.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of binding with water.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of dividing intoaves.
IA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ATHITE (s. from Hamath) An inhabitant of Hamath.
MATHZO'BAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
EL (v. t. in the forest law) To expediate.
ING (p. a. from hamel) Expediting.
HTALL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
ELIA, Hamletum (s. in old records) A hamlet.
IMA (s. in surgery) A kind of girdle or truss.
MATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Josb. 19.
EDMATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MELECH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ERHEAD (s. from hammer, and head) The head of a hammer.
MOLEKETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
MON (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
ONAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Ezek. 39.
OTHDAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of bringing in complexity; the act of putting up in a hamper.
ICA (s. in old records) The liberty of a man's place.
UEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
AN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of leading by the hand; the act of conveying by the hand.
STAFF (s. from hand and staff) That part of a threshing instrument which is held in the hand.
AVES (p. u. of handstaff) More than one handstaff.
ING (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Isai. 30.
APON (s. from hand and weapon) A weapon of the hand.
PEAR (s.) A kind of pear.
AL (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird also called the manner in which it builds its nest.
AL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ATHAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
AL (s.) The name of a man; a famous Carthaginian.
EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA (s.) A man's name; the name of several Carthaginians.
RA'IM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IA (s. in old records) A breed or stud of horses.
IA (s. from the Heb.) An inhabitant of Hara.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of tiring out with fatigue.
ING (s. from the part.) The act of entertaining with food.
ING (s. from hare, and hunting) The act of hunting the hare.
IA (s. from hare, and net) A net used in catching hares.
IA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA (s. from Hara) An inhabitant of Hara.
IA (p. from harm) Hurt, injured.
IA (p. a. from harm) Hurting, injuring.

H A Z

Harm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of injuring.
HARMODIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous Athenian, who was greatly instrumental in delivering his country from the tyranny of Pisistratus.
HARMONIA (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Mars and Venus, who was supposed to have been transformed into a snake.
HARMONIDES (s.) A man's name; a Trojan beloved by Minerva.
Harmoni'zing (s. from the part.) The act of adapting to each other.
HAR/NEPHER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Har'nessing (s. from the part.) The act of putting on harness; the act of putting on armour.
HAR/OAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Har'rodite (s. from Harod) An inhabitant of Harod.
HA/RORITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Cb. 12.
HAR/PAGUS (s.) A man's name; a friend of Attyages.
HARPAL/ICE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Lysurgus.
Harp'fish (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish, the tibicen.
HAPPY/IE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughters of Pontus and Terra.
Har'rying (s. from the part.) The act of teasing, the act of plundering.
HAR'SHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hart'royal (s.) A hart which has been hunted by the king or queen.
HA/RUM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HARU/MAPH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ha'rumca'rum (adj. a cant or droll word) Precipitate, wild, giddy.
HAR/UPHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Cbron. 12.
HA/RUZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASADI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASEN/NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASHABI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASHAB/NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASHABNI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASH/BADA/NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HA'SHEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASHMO/NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HA/SHUB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HA/SHUM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HASHU/PHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Hast'net (s. a different spelling) The hazienut. Dict. Russ.
Hast'ping (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a hasp.
HAS/RAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Has'tening (s. from the part.) The act of making haste; the act of pushing forward.
Has'ting (s. from the part.) The act of making haste.
Hatch'eling (s. from the part.) The act of dressing with a hatchel.
Has'ting (s. from the part.) The act of detesting.
HATI'TA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAT'tering (s. from the part.) The act of fatiguing.
HAT/TIL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAT'TIPHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAT/TUSH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAV/ILAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAU/RON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Haunt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of frequenting.
Hawms (s. a local word) The hames, the crooked timbers surrounding the horse's collar.
HAZAI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAZARAD/DIA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZARE/NAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZARGAD/DAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZARHAT/TICON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZARSHU'AL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
HAZARSU/SAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
HAZ/ERIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZEZONTA/MAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HA/ZO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
HAZORSHU'SIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
HAZ/UBAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

HE

HER

HE (s.) The fifth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 Head'ed (p. from head) Led or governed by a principal person; furnished with a head.
 Head'ing (p. a. from head) Leading, governing, furnishing with a head.
 Head'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leading or governing; the act of furnishing with a head.
 Heart (s. at cards) A single card of that suit which is marked with red spots in form of a heart.
 Heart'ed (adj. from heart) Having at heart, disposed.
 Heart'shell (s.) A kind of cardia.
 Heat'ing (p. a. from heat) Making hot, putting into a passion.
 Heat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making hot.
 He'betating (s. from the part.) The act of stupifying.
 HE'BRUS (s.) A famous river of Thrace.
 HECA'ERGE (s.) The name of a nymph, a huntress.
 HE'CALE (s.) The name of a woman; a poor old woman who kindly entertained Theseus.
 HECAM'EDA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Arion.
 HEC'UBA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of king Priam.
 He'da (s. in old records) A hithe, a haven.
 Hedge'bote (s. from hedge and bote) The underwood allowed for fences.
 HEDYM'ACLES (s.) A man's name; a spruce young musician. Juvenal.
 Heed'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking heed.
 Heed'y (adj. from heed) Careful, cautious.
 Heel'ed (p. from heel) Darned.
 Heel'ing (p. a. from heel) Darning.
 Heel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of darning.
 Heel'piecing (s. from the part.) The act of putting a piece on the heel of a shoe; the act of repairing.
 Heil (s. an old spelling) Hail. Wickliffe.
 HE'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
 HEL'BATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 HE'LEB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HE'LED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HE'LEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HE'LEPH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 HELE'NUS (s.) A man's name; one of the sons of Priam.
 HE'LEZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HELI'ADES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The supposed daughters of Phoebus and Clymene.
 HELICON'IDES (s. from Helicon) The Muses.
 Hel'ing (p. a. from hele, a local word) Covering.
 Hel'ing (s. from the part, a local word) The act of covering.
 HE'LIOS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The supposed son of Coelus and Vesta; the sun.
 HELIOTROP'PIUM (s. in botany) The heliotrope.
 HEL'KAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 HEL'KAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HEL'KATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 HELLA'DIAN (adj. from the Greek, Ελλην) Belonging to Greece, belonging to the Greeks.
 Hella'dian (s. from the adj.) A Greek.
 HEL'LE (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Athamas king of Thebes, who, with her brother, was drowned in passing the straits since called from her the Hellespont.
 Hel'lier (s. from hele, a local word) One who covers houses with slate.
 Helms'man (s. from helm, and man) The man who stands at the helm, the man who directs the course of the ship.
 HE'LOH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Help'ing (s. from the part.) The act of assisting.
 Helv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sitting with a heave.
 HEMI'NA (s.) A Roman measure containing half a pint.
 Hen'ming (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a hem.
 HE'MOTH (s. from the Heb.) Hamoth.
 HEMY'ARITE (s. in old geography) One of a certain race of Arabian kings.
 HE'NA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 HENA'DAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Hen'house (s. from hen, and house) A place or house for poultry.
 HE'NOCH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HENRIET'TA (s.) The name of a woman.
 HERAC'LITUS (s.) A man's name.
 HERCÆ'US (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

HHE

HERCULA'NEUM (s.) A famous city destroyed by eruption of mount Vesuvius.
 Herd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of running companies.
 Herd'men (s. plu. of herdman) Herdsmen.
 Herds'men (s. plu. of herdsman) More than one herdsman.
 Heremita'gium, Heremitor'ium (s. in old records) hermitage.
 HE'RES (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain.
 HE'RESH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 He'retoch (s. an old word) The leader of a sect.
 HERIL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher placed the chief good in knowledge.
 Her'iotcustom (s. from heriot, and custom) A tribute goods, or chattels, payable to the lord at the death of a tenant or landholder.
 Her'iot'service (s. from heriot, and service) A fine payable to the lord at the death of a tenant; a relief.
 HERMA'GORAS (s.) A man's name; a rhetorician taught at Rome.
 HERMIN'IUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 HERMIN'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of illustrious men.
 HERMI'ONE (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Menelaus and Helen.
 HER'MIT (s. in zoology) A kind of squilla.
 HERMO'CRATES (s.) A man's name; the name of a famous sophist.
 HERMOD'ORUS (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Plato.
 HERMOG'ENES (s.) A man's name; a philosopher of Tarsus.
 HER'MOLAUS (s.) A man's name; a famous rhetorician.
 HERMOT'IMUS (s.) A man's name; a man who was supposed to make frequent sallies, leaving his body half animated.
 Hern'ery (s. from hern) The place where hems are made.
 Hern'hawking (s. from hern, and hawking) The diversion of hawking for hems.
 Hern'thaw (s.) The place where hems breed.
 HE'RO (s.) The name of a woman; a beautiful beloved of Leander, who swimming across the Hellespont to visit her, was drowned, and she herself from a high tower fell on his floating bier.
 HERODIA'NUS (s.) A man's name; the name of a historian.
 Her'ple (v. int. a local word) To halt, to limp.
 Her'ringfishery (s. from herring, and fishery) A fishery for herrings.
 HER'SE (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Cecrops, beloved of Mercury.
 HERSIL'IA (s.) The name of a woman; the name of a woman.
 HE'SEB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
 HESH'MON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 He'sia (s. in old records) An easement.
 HES'ONE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Medon king of Troy.
 Hes'itating (s. from the part.) The act of hesitating; a pause in speaking.
 Hes'ta (s. in old records) A loaf of bread.
 Hes'tha (s. in old records) A young cock, a young hen.
 HETEROPLY'RÆ (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 He'witch (s. from he, and witch) A wizard.
 HEXODROSTY'LA (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 Heyn (v. t. a local word) To clear a ground so that the grass may get a head.
 Heyn'ed (p. from heyn, a local word) Cleared ground of cattle.
 Heyn'ing (p. a. from heyn a local word) Clearing ground of cattle.
 Heyn'ing (s. from the part, a local word) Taking cattle out of a ground that the grass may grow.
 HEZA'KI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HE'ZER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HE'ZION (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HE'ZIR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HEZ'RAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HEZ'RO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HEZ'RON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
 HHETH (s.) The eighth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

HYP

HU'KOK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Hul'ling (s. from the part.) The act of stripping off the husk.
 Humani'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making humane; the act of making soft or tender to the distresses of others.
 Humbling (s. from the part.) The act of making humble; the act of mortifying pride; an act of submission.
 Humectating (s. from the part.) The act of making wet.
 Hu'metty (adj. in heraldry) Plain, having equal length as a cross each way.
 Humming (s. from the part.) The act of making a low protracted noise.
 Hu'moring (s. from the part.) The act of soothing by compliance.
 Hu'mouring (s. from the part. the let's modern spelling) The act of complying with any one's humour.
 HUM/PHREY (s.) A man's name.
 Hund'redor (s. a different spelling) A hundreder. Blackst.
 HUN'NI (s. in geography) An ancient and barbarous people from Scythia.
 HUP'PAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HUP'PIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HU'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Hur'rying (s. from the part.) The act of driving on with haste and confusion.
 Hurt'ing (p. a. from hurt) Harming, doing injury to any thing.
 Hurt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of injuring.
 Hus'banding (s. from the part.) The act of managing with frugality.
 Hus'bandmen (s. plu. of husbandman) More than one husbandman.
 HU'SHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HU'SHAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Hu'shathite (s. from Hushah) A descendant of Hushah.
 HU'SHIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Hush'ing (s. from the part.) The act of quieting.
 HUSS (s. in church history) John Huss, a famous German reformer.
 Hus'site (s. from Huss) A follower of John Huss.
 Hustin'gua (s. in old records) The hustings.
 Hust'ling (s. from the part.) The act of shaking together.
 HUZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 HUZ'ZAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Huzzad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uttering exclamations of joy; an exclamation expressive of approbation.
 Huz'zing (p. a. from huzz) Humming, buzzing.
 Huz'zing (s. from the part.) The act of buzzing; a humming noise.
 HYACIN'THUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A beautiful youth beloved of Apollo and Zephyrus; from whose fractured skull, as the poets feign, grew a flower of the same name.
 HY'ALE (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of Diana's nymphs.
 HY'ALINA (s. in natural history) A species of tulips.
 HY'AS (s.) A man's name; the son of Atlas.
 HY'BRIS (s. in Grecian antiquity) The silver stool on which the plaintiff stood in the court of the Areopagus.
 HYGE'IA (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Eucleapius.
 HYLACTOR (s.) The name of one of Aëæon's dogs.
 HY'LAS (s.) A man's name; a favourite of Hercules.
 HY'LAX (s.) A dog's name. Virgil.
 HYLAX'US (s.) A dog's name. Ovid.
 HYL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a son of Hercules.
 HYLON'OME (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Cyllarus the Centaur.
 HY'MENOPTERA (s. in zoology) A genus of insects distinguished by four membranous wings.
 Hymn (w. t. from the sub.) To celebrate in hymns.
 Hymn'ed (p. from hymn) Celebrated in hymns.
 Hymn'er (s. from hymn, in droll style) A writer of hymns.
 Hymn'i'g (p. a. from hymn) Writing hymns; celebrating in hymns.
 Hymn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of writing hymns; the act of celebrating in hymns.
 HYPALUS (s.) The west wind.
 Hyper'holizing (s. from the part.) The act of using hyperboles.
 HYPERBO'REI (s. in geography) The people supposed to dwell under or near the north pole.

JAM

HYPERIDES (s.) A man's name; a famous Athenian orator.
 HYPER'ION (s.) Phœbus, the sun.
 HYPERMNES'TRA (s.) The name of a woman; one of the fifty daughters of Danaus, who alone spared her husband, when all the rest murdered theirs, at their father's command, on the wedding night.
 Hypoth'ecate (w. t. from hypotheca) To pledge. Blackst.
 Hypoth'ecated (p. from hypothecate) Pledged for the security of a debt.
 Hypoth'ecating (p. a. from hypothecate) Pledging for the security of a debt.
 HYPSE'IA (s.) A woman's name; a Roman lady who had bad eyes.
 HYPSE'US (s.) A man's name; the brother of Æacus.
 HYPsic/RATES (s.) A man's name; a famous grammarian.
 HY'RIE (s. in the mythology of the poets) A woman's name, who was supposed to be turned into a fountain in Beotia.
 HYRTACIDES (s.) A man's name; the son of Hyrtacus.
 HYR'TACUS (s.) A man's name; a Trojan, a companion of Æneas.
 HYSTAS/PES (s.) A man's name; the father of Darius.
 Hysterotomy (s. from hysterotomia) The hysterotomy the Cæsarion operation.

J

JA'AKAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'AKOBAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'ALA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'ANAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAAREOR/EGIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'ASAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAAS'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'AZAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 JAAZANI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'AZER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Jab'bering (s. from the part.) The act of talking unintelligibly.
 JAB'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 IAC'CHUS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.
 JA'CHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Jacobit'ical (adj. from Jacobite) Belonging to the Jacobites.
 Jacobit'ically (adv. from Jacobite) After the manner of the Jacobites.
 JA'DA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'DAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAD'DUA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ja'ding (s. from the part.) The act of tiring.
 JA'DON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'GUR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 JAHALALE'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'LELEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'HATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'ZAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'ZEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'DAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAHDI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'DO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'MAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'ZAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'ZERAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAH'ZEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Jai'rite (s. from Jair) A descendant of Jair.
 JA'KAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'KEH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'KIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JA'LON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JAM/BLICHUS (s.) A man's name; a Pythagorean who was scholar to Porphyry.
 JA'MIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ja'minite (s. from Jamin) A descendant of Jamin.
 JAM/LECH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Jam'med (p. from jam) Confined between two bodies.
 Jam'ming (p. a. from jam) Confining as between hard bodies.
 Jam'ming (s. from the part.) The act of confining between two hard bodies.

I D O

IANA (s.) One of the names of Diana.
IAN'OH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
IAN'OHAI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IAN'THE (s.) A woman's name; the beautiful wife of Iphis.
IAN'NUM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
IAPETONIDES (s.) Prometheus.
IAPE'TUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Titan and Terra.
IA'PHLET (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
IA'PHLETI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IA'PHO (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IA'PIS (s.) A man's name; an excellent physician.
IA'PYX (s.) A man's name; the son of Dædalus.
IA'RAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'RBAS (s.) A man's name; a royal suitor of Dido, who, on being refused, had recourse to arms.
IA'RESI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'RH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'RIB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'RUTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
IA'ROAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'SHEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'SIDES (s.) A man's name; a son or grandson of Jafus.
IA'SPEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'SION'NES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Jupiter and Eleclra.
IA'SIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Jafus.
IA'SIUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Abas.
IA'SO (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Jafon.
IA'SON (s. in the mythology of the poets) The son of Jafon, who engaged in the hazardous enterprise of fetching the golden fleece from Colchis.
IASUBIL'HEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IA'ATHN'VEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'TTIR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'UNT'ING (p. a. from jaunt) Rambling.
IA'UNT'ING (s. from the part.) The act of rambling.
IA'W'bone (s. from jaw and bone) The bone of the jaw.
IA'W'teeth (s. plur.) The grinders.
IA'W'tooth (s. from jaw and tooth) One of the grinders.
IA'ZIEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'ZIR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'Z (s. a contraction of) Isabel.
IA'BAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'BERI (s. in old geography) A people of Spain.
IA'BERIAN (adj. from Iberia) Belonging to Spain.
IA'LEAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'NEIAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'NI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'RYCUS (s.) A man's name; an amorous poet.
IA'ZAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'DIUS (s.) A man's name; a notorious robber of antiquity.
IA'ARIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain.
IA'AR'OTES (s.) Penelope, so called from her father Icarus.
IA'ARIUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Penelope.
IA'ARUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Dædalus.
IA'ING (p. a. from ice) Turning into ice.
IA'ING (s. from the part.) The act of turning to ice.
IA'ELOS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A son of Somnus.
IA'PEAR (s.) A kind of pear.
IA'PHYOPHAGI (s. from ichthyophagy) A people of Arabia, who are said to have lived only on fish.
IA'PI (s.) The priests of Cybele.
IA'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
IA'LIA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Venus.
IA'BASH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IA'OSYNCRAT'IC (adj. from the Greek idios, peculiar, and synkrasis, a constitution) Peculiar in temper or constitution.
IA'IDLE (p. a. from idle) Wasting time in idleness.
IA'IDLE (s. from the part.) The act of wasting time in idleness.
IA'MON (s. in the mythology of the poets) The supposed son of Mars and Alsteria.
IA'OLIZING (s. from the part.) The act of making an idol of any thing.
IA'OME'NEUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Crete.

J E Z

IA'DYA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Medea.
JEAN (s.) A woman's name.
JEATE'RAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JE'BUSI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
JECAM'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JECOL'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEDA'IA, JEDA'IAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEDEI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEDI'AEI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEDI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEER'ING (s. from the part.) The act of scoffing.
JEFF (s. a contraction of) Geffery.
JEGARSAHADU'THA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Gen. 21.
JEHAZI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHDEI'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
JEHERECHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHEZ'EKEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHIE'LI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHISKI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOAD'DAN (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name.
JEHO HADAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOHAN'AN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOVARIB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHON'ATHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOSH'ABAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOSHE'BA, JEHOSHE'BEATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOSH'UAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOZ'ABAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHOZ'ADAK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHUB'BAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHU'CAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEHUD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
JEHU'DI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JE'HUSH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JE'VEI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEKAB'ZEEL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
JEKAM'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEKAM'AM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEKUTH'VEI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEM (s. a contraction of) James.
JEM'MY (s. the diminutive of) James.
JEMU'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Jerahme'elite (s. from Jerahmeel) A descendant of Jerahmeel.
JE'RED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEREMA'I (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JERE'MOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JERI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JERI'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JERI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JERI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JE'RIOTH (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name.
Jer'king (s. from the part.) The act of throwing with a sudden motion.
IER'NE (s. poetical) Ireland.
JERO'AM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JER'RY (s. a contraction of) Jeremy.
Jer'seycomber (s. from jersey, and camber) One who combs jersey.
Jer'seywheel (s. from jersey, and wheel) The wheel with which jersey is spun.
JERU'BESHACH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; Jerubbab.
JERU'EL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Chron. 29.
JESAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JESHA'IAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JESHA'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
JESHARE'LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JE'SHER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JESHI'EBNAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JES'HISHAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JESHOHA'IAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JESI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JESI'MIAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Jes'ses (s.) Ribbands which hang down from a garland or crown.
JETH'ATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JETH'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Jet'sam (s. an old law word) A wreck sunk in the sea.
JE'VEI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JE'UR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEZANI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEZIEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEZLI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JEZRE'ELITESS

IMP

JEZRE/ELITESS (s. from Jezreel) A woman of Jezreel.
 If (s. from the prep.) A doubt, a condition. "Ifs and ands."
 I/GAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 IGE/NI (s. in old geography) The people of Northumberland.
 IGNIGE/NA (s. in beaten mythology) A surname of Bacchus.
 Igniting (s. from the part.) The act of setting on fire.
 I/JAR (s.) The month Zif.
 JIB/SAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 JEABA/RIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Jilting (s. from the part.) The act of deceiving a man in love.
 JIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Jim (adj. a local word) Spruce, neat.
 JIM/LA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Jin (s. a contraction of) Jean; Jane; a woman's name.
 Jin'ny (s. the diminutive of) Jane.
 J/JON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 JIPH/TA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 JIPH/HUHAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 IK/KESH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 I/LAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 IL/IA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Numitor.
 ILIO/NE (s.) A woman's name; the eldest daughter of King Priam.
 ILIONE/US (s.) A man's name; an eloquent Trojan.
 ILLECE/BRUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 ILLITHY/A (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess of child-bearing; Lucina.
 Illu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of deceiving with false hopes.
 Illu'minating (s. from the part.) The act of enlightening.
 Illu'mining (s. from the part.) The act of enlightening.
 Illustrating (s. from the part.) The act of explaining.
 I/LUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Tros.
 Imagining (s. from the part.) The act of forming in the imagination.
 IMA/US (s.) A mountain of the Greater Tartary.
 Imbank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enclosing with banks.
 Imbezzling (s. from the part.) The act of misapplying money or effects.
 Imbib'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drinking in.
 Imbitter'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making bitter.
 Imbold'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making confident.
 Imborder'ing (p. a. from imborder) Furnishing with borders.
 Imborder'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a border.
 Imbo'soming (p. a. from imbo'som) Holding on the bosom.
 Imbo'soming (s. from the part.) The act of putting on the bosom.
 Imbower'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with the shade of trees.
 Imbow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming arches.
 Imitating (s. from the part.) The act of copying.
 IM/MAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 IM/MER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Immerg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting under water.
 Immer/sing (s. from the part.) The act of putting under water.
 Immigrating (s. from the part.) The act of passing into.
 Immut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sending in.
 Im'molated (p. from immolate) Offered in sacrifice.
 Im'molating (p. a. from immolate) Offering in sacrifice.
 Im'molating (s. from the part.) The act of offering in sacrifice; the act of killing for sacrifice.
 Immortalizing (s. from the part.) The act of making immortal.
 Immur'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with walls.
 IM/NA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 IM/NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Impact'ing (p. a. from impact) Driving close together.
 Impact'ing (s. from the part.) The act of driving close together.

INC

Impar/adising (s. from the part.) The act of making happy.
 Impark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing for park.
 Impa'ri (v. int. a law term) To confer with.
 Imparfonce' (adj. a law term) Inducted to an ecclesiastical living.
 Impart'ing (s. from the part.) The act of communicating.
 Impeach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of accusing.
 Impeding (s. from the part.) The act of hindering.
 IMPERA/TOR (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
 Imp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grafting or lengthening out.
 Imping'ing (s. from the part.) The act of striking against another with violence.
 Implant'ing (s. from the part.) The act of infixing.
 Implead'ing (p. a. from implead) Prosecuting by course of law.
 Implead'ing (s. from the part.) The act of prosecuting by a course of law.
 Implicating (p. a. from implicate) Involving, involving.
 Implicating (s. from the part.) The act of involving.
 Implo'ring (s. from the part.) The act of asking with sorrowful solicitations.
 Imply'ing (s. from the part.) The act of comprising.
 Impoison'ing (s. from the part.) The act of corrupting with poison.
 IMPOP/ULAR (adj. from the Lat. in contrary to, unus populus the people) Unpopular, not pleasing to the common people.
 Import'ing (s. from the part.) The act of introducing commodities from abroad; the act or state of conveying a meaning.
 Importu'ning (s. from the part.) The act of harassing with incessant solicitations.
 Impost'ing (s. from the part.) The act of obtruding the act of enjoining.
 Impos'thumating (s. from the part.) The act of forming into an abscess.
 Im'precating (s. from the part.) The act of calling for evil.
 Impreg'nating (s. from the part.) The act of making prolific; the act of saturating.
 Impreg'ning (s. from the part.) The act of making prolific.
 Imprison'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting in prison.
 Impro'priating (s. from the part.) The act of converting to private use.
 Impur'pling (s. from the part.) The act of tinging with a purple colour.
 Impu'ting (s. from the part.) The act of setting that the account of another which does not properly long to him.
 IM/RAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 IM/RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 INA/CHIA (s.) A woman's name; a mistress of the Horace.
 INA/CHIDES (s.) A man's name; the grandson of Inachus.
 IN/ACHIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Inachus; Io.
 IN/ACHUS (s.) A man's name; the first king of the Argives.
 INAM/BLUCLÆ (s. in natural history) A genus of teleutæ.
 INAPPRE/CIABLE (adj. from the Lat. in contrary to, apprecio to value) Incapable of being compared, reducible to a standard.
 Inappre'ciable (s. from the adj.) That which is incapable of being compared.
 Inau'gurated (p. from inaugurate) Set apart to sacred use.
 Inau'gurating (p. a. from inaugurate) Setting apart some sacred use.
 Inau'gurating (s. from the part.) The act of setting apart to sacred use.
 Inau'rated (p. from inaurate) Gilt with gold.
 Inau'rating (p. a. from inaurate) Gilding with gold.
 Inau'rating (s. from the part.) The act of gilding with gold.
 Incag'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in cage.
 Incapac'itating (s. from the part.) The act of rendering incapable.
 Incar'cerating (s. from the part.) The act of imprisoning.
 Incas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with fish.

INF

Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing in a
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of enraging.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of measuring by Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing in a Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of stirring up.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of leaning from a perpendicular direction; the act of turning the de-Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing as in an embrace.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up in a cloister.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting in; the act of fencing round.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of darkening as in a cloud.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of taking in; the act of comprising.
Infusing (adj. not so common a word) Uncomfortable.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to some inconvenience.
Infusing (s. from the part.) The act of incircling.
COMPREHENSIVE (adj. from the Lat. in contrary and comprehendo to comprehend) Not comprehensive.
Comprehensiveness (s. from incompressive) The state of being incompressive.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of uniting in the mass.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of growing.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of covering over with a kind of crust.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of sitting on eggs.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of enforcing by repeated admonitions.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of embarassing.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of becoming li-ble to.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of making crooked.
Comprehending (s. from indefatigable) Indefatigableness.
Comprehending (s. from the part.) The act of securing from loss.
INDENIZON (v. t. an old word) To make free.
Indenizoned (p. from indenizon) Made free.
Indenizoning (p. a. from indenizon) Making free.
Camden.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting with equalities; the act of stipulating by indenture.
Indenizing (s. in geography) The people of India.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of pointing out.
Indenizement (s. in old records) An inditement.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of accusing by due course of law.
DEMIGOTES (s. in beaten mythology) The demigods.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of pointing out.
Indenizing (s. from indorse) The person who indorses a bill of exchange.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of writing on the backside.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of enriching with gifts.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of influencing.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of investing.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of introducing.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of giving too much indulgence.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of making hard.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of continuing;
 the act of supporting under suffering.
Indenizing (s. in geography) The largest river in the eastern part of the Ganges.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of intoxicating.
Indenized (adj. from inevident) Not evidenced.
Janeway.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of understanding.
Indenizing (s. from the part.) The act of hurting by reason.

INR

Infer'ring (s. from the part.) The act of drawing inferences.
Infer'ring (s. from the part.) The act of harassing; the act of frequenting with an ill design.
Infix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fixing deeply.
Infla'ming (s. from the part.) The act of kindling; the act of enraging.
Infla'ting (s. from the part.) The act of distending with wind.
Inflex'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bending.
Inflid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imposing as a punishment.
Influencing (s. from the part.) The act of biasing the temper or conduct.
Infold'ing (s. from the part.) The act of involving.
Informality (s. from informal) The want of formality.
Informa'tor (s. in old records) An informer.
Inform'ing (p. a. from inform) Giving information.
Inform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving information.
Infract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking.
Infring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of violating.
Inful'ing (s. from the part.) The act of infilling.
Ingen'inating (s. from the part.) The act of doubling.
Ingen'dering (s. from the part.) The act of generating;
 the commerce of the sexes.
Ingest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing into the stomach.
Ingraft'ed (p. from ingraft) Grafted in.
Ingraft'ing (p. a. from ingraft) Grafting in.
Ingraft'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grafting.
Ingraft'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grafting in.
Ingrossa'tor (s. in old records) One that ingrosses.
Ingul'ing (s. from the part.) The act of swallowing up as in a gulf.
Inhab'iting (s. from the part.) The act of dwelling in any place.
Inha'ling (s. from the part.) The act of drawing in with the air.
Inher'iting (s. from the part.) The act of possessing by inheritance.
Inher'sing (p. a. from inherse) Putting into a herse.
Inher'sing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a herse.
Inhib'iting (s. from the part.) The act of restraining.
Inhu'ming (s. from the part.) The act of putting into the ground.
Inject'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing in.
Injoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enforcing by authority.
Initi'ating (s. from the part.) The act of instructing in the rudiments of any science; the act of bringing into a new society.
Injur'ing (s. from the part.) The act of doing wrong
 to.
Inkind'ling (s. from the part.) The act of setting on fire.
Ink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with ink.
In'land (s. in old records) The inlandum, land in possession of the lord.
Inland'um (s. in old records) The land in possession or occupation of the lord.
Inlarg'ing (p. a. from enlarge, not so common a spelling)
 Enlarging, making larger.
Inlarg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enlarging.
Inlaw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of clearing from an outlaw.
Inlight'ening (s. from the part.) The act of letting in light.
Inlist'ing (s. from the part.) The act of entering in the military.
INO (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Cadmus.
Innov'ing (s. from the part.) The act of introducing something new.
Inoc'ulating (s. from the part.) The act or process of in-serting the bud of one tree into the stock of another; the act of communicating the small pox or other eruptive diseases by inoculation.
Inos'culating (s. from the part.) The act of uniting by contact.
INPROMP'TU (s. from the Lat.) Something at hand;
 something to be used on a present occasion.
Inpromp'tu (adv. from the sub.) At hand.
Inquir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of asking after any thing; the act of examining.
Inra'il'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with rails.
Inrich'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making rich.
Inscri'bing

INT

Inscribing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with an inscription; the act of dedicating.
Inculpating (s. from the part.) The act of engraving.
Inseaming (s. from the part.) The act of impressing with a seam; the act of making a seam on the inside.
Inserting (s. from the part.) The act of putting in.
Inshell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hiding in a shell.
Inship'ping (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up in a ship.
Inshrine'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a shrine.
Insin'ewing (s. from the part.) The act of strengthening.
Insinuating (s. from the part.) The act of introducing by degrees; the act of getting into favour by flattery or meanness.
Instit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of persisting in.
Insta'ving (s. from the part.) The act of bringing into slavery.
Infna'ring (s. from the part.) The act of bringing into a snare.
Inspect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking into; the act of examining.
Insp'iring (s. from the part.) The act of breathing into.
Inspir'iting (s. from the part.) The act of animating.
Inspis'fating (s. from the part.) The act of making thick.
Install'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing in the seat of office.
Instancing (s. from the part.) The act of producing an instance.
Insta'ting (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a proper state.
Insteep'ing (s. from the part.) The act of soaking; the act of macerating.
In'stigating (s. from the part.) The act of provoking; the act of stirring up.
Infil'ling (s. from the part.) The act of infusing by drops.
In'stituting (s. from the part.) The act of establishing.
Instourament'um (s. in old records) The act of flocking a farm.
Instruct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving instructions.
INSUBSTANTIAL (adj. from the Lat. in contrary to, and substantia substance, but not so common a word) Unsubstantial.
Insul'ting (s. from the part.) The act of treating with insolence.
Intang'ling (s. from the part.) The act of embarrassing.
Intend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of designing.
Inten'rating (s. from the part.) The act of making tender.
Intercede'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mediating.
Intercept'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping in the way.
Interchangeability (s. from interchangeable) The state of being interchangeable.
Interchang'ing (s. from the part.) The act of exchanging.
Interclu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of shutting out by intervention.
Intercom'moning (s. from the part.) The act of eating at the same table; the act of feeding on the same common.
Intercommu'nicating (s. from the part.) The act of communicating with each other.
Interdict'ing (s. from the part.) The act of prohibiting.
INTER'DUCA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Juno.
Inter'esting (s. from the part.) The act of engaging as one interested.
Interla'cing (s. from the part.) The act of intermixing.
Interlard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mixing fat and lean; the act of mixing good and bad.
Interlea'ving (s. from the part.) The act of inserting blank leaves.
Interli'ning (s. from the part.) The act of lining between; that which forms a lining between.
Interlink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining by links.
Intermar'rying (s. from the part.) The act of marrying some of one family into another.

INU

Intermed'dling (s. from the part.) The act of interposing.
Intem'per (s. in falconry) A hawk of the first year.
Interming'ling (s. from the part.) The act of mixing together.
Intermit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of coming to fits; the act of forbearing only for a time.
Intermix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mixing.
Inter'polating (s. from the part.) The act of foisting in the act of renewing.
Interpo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming between; the act of interfering.
Interpre'ting (s. from the part.) The act of explaining.
Inter'ring (p. a. from inter) Burying.
Inter'ring (s. from the part.) The act of burying.
Inter'rogating (s. from the part.) The act of asking questions; the act or process of examining by interrogations.
Interrupt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hindering.
Intersect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting between.
Interpers'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inserting here and there.
Interve'ning (s. from the part.) The act of coming between.
Intervert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning to different course.
Intervolv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of involving one in another.
Interwea'ving (s. from the part.) The act of forming into one regular texture.
Intes'tacy (s. from intestate) The state of dying intestate.
Inthrall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enslaving.
Inthro'ning (s. from the part.) The act of setting on throne.
Intim'ating (s. from the part.) The act of giving intimation.
Intimidating (s. from the part.) The act of daunting by frightful suggestions.
Intit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a title claim.
Intomb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in tomb.
Intort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of twisting.
Intox'icating (s. from the part.) The act of making drunk; the act of depriving of the sober exercise reason.
Intransmutability (s. from intransmutable) The state of being intransmutable.
Intrapp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ensnaring.
Intrench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fortifying with trenches.
Intrig'uing (s. from the part.) The act of carrying intrigues.
Intru'ding (s. from the part.) The act of thrusting in.
Intru'sting (s. from the part.) The act of committing with confidence to another.
Intwin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wreathing together.
Inva'ding (p. a. from invade) Entering with hostile intention.
Inva'ding (s. from the part.) The act of entering with hostile intention.
Invalidating (s. from the part.) The act of weakening.
Inveigh'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uttering invective.
Inventa'rium (s. in old records) An inventory.
Invent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discovering the act of contriving.
In'ventorying (s. from the part.) The act of putting into an inventory.
Invert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of changing order by inversion.
Investigating (s. from the part.) The act of finding by diligent search; the act of discovering by application.
Invest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of clothing the act of putting into some rank or office.
Invig'orating (s. from the part.) The act of making vigorous.
Invit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving invitation.
Invocating (s. from the part.) The act of calling in.
Invok'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imploring.
Invol'ving (s. from the part.) The act of involving.
N'ORES (s.) One of the names of Pan.

JOY

ing (s. from the part.) The act of habituating.
 urning (s. from the part.) The act of putting into an urn; the act of burying.
 wall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with a wall.
 wew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming into one regular texture.
 wood'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking shelter in a wood.
 work'ing (adj. from in and work) Working within.
 Dorney.

wrap'ing (s. from the part.) The act of involving.
 O (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Inachus, supposed to have been transformed by Jupiter into a beautiful heifer.

HAZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AKIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 ATHAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 b'ing (s. from the part.) The act of buying and selling as a jobber; the act of doing jobs.
 CASTA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Creon, who by mistake was married to Oedipus her own son.

CKEY (s.) A man's name.
 ekeying (s. from the part.) The act of tricking; the act of cheating in the manner of jockeys.

CLULATOR (s. an old word) A bard; a poet retained in the service of some great personage.
 D (s.) The tenth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.

JDH (s. a different spelling) The jod.
 ED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 GBE'HAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

g'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a sudden push.

g'ing (s. from the part.) The act of moving from side to side, with a continued motion.

GLI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

HADA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

AKIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ARIB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ILAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

nt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining.

nt'uring (s. from the part.) The act of making a jointure.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of fitting in the small timbers of a floor.

DEAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ETHEAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

KIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

KMEAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

KNEAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

LAS (s.) A man's name; one who assisted Hercules in killing the hydra.

LAUS (s.) The name of a man, who, as the poets sign, was restored to youth when old.

LE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Eurytus much loved by Hercules.

ing (p. a. from joll) Clashing with violence, striking together with a heavy sudden motion.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of clashing by violence; a jolt.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of shaking as a carriage on a rough road.

NA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

NAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

RA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

RAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

UKOAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

(s. a contraction of) Joshua.

VAPHAT (s.) Jehosaphat.

SES (s.) A man's name.

H'ABAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

SHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

H'APHAT (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

HAN'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

HBE/KASHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

VBA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of rushing against.

UAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

BAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

BATH, JOT'BATHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping as a hawk.

neying (s. from the part.) The act of going a journey.

ing (s. from the part.) The act of running in a tilt.

rebound'ing (adj. from joy, and rebounding) Rebounding with joy.

ITH

JOZ'ABAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

JOZ'ACHAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

JOZ'ADAK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

IP'ECA (s. in ornithology) A kind of pica.

IPHIANAS'SA (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Prætus, who preferring herself in beauty to Juno, was struck with a remarkable kind of insanity.

IPH'ICLES (s.) The twin brother of Hercules.

IPHIC'RATES (s.) A man's name; a famous Athenian general.

IPHID'AMAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Antenor, a Trojan.

IPHIME'DIA (s.) A woman's name, the mother of two supposed giants who grew nine inches in height every year.

IPH'INOUS (s.) One of the Centaurs.

I'PHIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A girl who was brought up by her mother as a boy, and her father having espoused his supposed son to Ianthe, she was said to have been transformed into a man on the marriage day.

IPH'ITUS (s.) A man's name, the initiator of the Olympic games.

IR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

I'RAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

I'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

I'RIS (s. in heathen mythology) The daughter of Elestra, the messenger of Juno.

IRIN'GES (s.) A supposed daughter of Pan.

I'ronoar (s. not so correct a spelling) Iron ore. DiEt. Russ.

I'ronore (s. from iron, and ore) The ore which produces iron.

IR'PEAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

Irradiating (s. from the part.) The act of animating with light.

IRREDEEM'ABLE (s. from the Lat. in contrary to, and redimo to redeem) Incapable of being redeemed.

Irreduct'ible (adj. not much used) Irreducible.

Irresist'able (adj. not the common spelling) Irresistible. Johnson.

Irritating (s. from the part.) The act of exasperating.

Irritability (s. from irritable) The state of being irritable.

Irrotulamentum (s. in old records) An inrollment.

IR'SHEMESH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

I'RU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

IR'UHASH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

I'RUS (s.) A man's name; one of Penelope's suitors.

ISÆ'US (s.) A man's name; an Athenian orator, master of Demophenes.

ISAM'BLUCES (s. in natural history) A genus of fossil.

ISCNHAM'BLUCES (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.

ISCOM'ACHE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Prithous who was the occasion of the war between the Centaurs and the Lapithæ.

I'SHAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

I'SHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISH'BAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

I'SHI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISHI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISH'MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISHMAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISHMA'ZAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISH/PAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISH'TOB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISH'UAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISH'UAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISID'ORUS (s.) A man's name; a historian in the time of Augustus.

ISMACHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISMAL'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ISME'NE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Oedipus.

ISME'NIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The supposed daughter of the river Iminus.

ISME'NUS (s.) A river in Bœotia.

ISOC'RATES (s.) A man's name; a famous orator.

I'SOLIC (adj. from the Greek εἰς ὅλον, and ὅλος whole)
 Entire, consisting of one piece.

Is'suing (s. from the part.) The act of sending forth; the act of arising from any stock or fountain.

Is've'nt (v. t. obsolete) To soil, to tarnish, to injure. Chaucer.

ITE'A (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

I'terating (s. from the part.) The act of repeating.

ITH'ACA (s. in old geography) A craggy country of Ionia.

ITHACUS

K A T

ITH'ACUS (s.) Ulysses.
ITH'AI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ITH'MAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ITH'NAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ITH'ONUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Thessaly.
Ith'rite (s. from Ithra) A descendant of Ithra.
ITHYPAL'LUS (s.) A name of Priapus.
ITTAHKA'ZIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IT'TAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
IT'YS (s.) A man's name; the son of Progne, whom she slew and served up at a banquet to his father.
JU'BA (s.) A man's name; a king of Mauritania who took the part of Pompey.
JU'CAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
JUC'CA (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
Ju'daizing (s. from the part.) The act of leaning to Judaism.
Judge'ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing judgment.
JUG'ATINUS (s. in heathen mythology) A nuptial god.
Judge'ship (s. from judge) The office of a judge, a judge in droll style.
Jug'gling (s. from the part.) The act of practising slight of hand.
Jug'ument (s. from jugum) A pair, two united; the double balance of a timepiece. Harrison.
Ju'jubetree (s. from jujube, and tree) The jujube.
JULE (s.) A man's name.
JU'LIAN (s.) Juliana; a woman's name.
JUN'IA (s.) A woman's name. Rom.
JU'NIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Jank'eting (s. from the part.) The act of feasting on delicacies.
JUNO'NIUS (s.) One of the titles of Janus.
Jura'tor (s. in old records) A juror.
JURISINCEPTOR (s. from the Lat.) A student of the civil law.
JUSHAB'HESED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Jus'quame (s. in botany) The jusquiamus, the henbane.
JUS'SLEA, JUS'SIEUA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
Justicia'rius (s. in old records) A justice. Hale.
Jus'tifying (s. from the part.) The act of clearing from imputed guilt.
JUSTITIA (s. in heathen mythology) The daughter of Jupiter and Astræa; the patroness of justice.
Just'ling (s. from the part.) The act of pushing; the act of forcing by a kind of collision.
JUT'TAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Jut'ting (s. from the part.) The act of standing out beyond the rest.
JUTUR'NA (s.) A woman's name; the sister of Turnus.
JUVEN'TAS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Juno.
IX'ION (s. in the mythology of the poets) The father of the Centaurs who boasted that he had violated the chastity of Juno, and for that crime was cast down to hell, where he is said to be racked on a wheel, bound about with snakes, in continual rotation.
IXION'IDES (s.) Pirithous, the son of Ixion.
Iz'harite (s. from Izhar) A descendant of Izhar.
IZRAH'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Iz'rahite (s. from Izrahiah) a descendant of Izrahiah.
IZ'REAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
IZ'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

K.

KADMYEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KAD'MONITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Gen. 15.
Kai'a (s. in old records) A key, a wharf.
Kailage (s. in old records) Wharfage.
KAIN (s. an uncommon spelling) Cain, a man's name.
Kako'logy (s. an affected spelling) Cacology. Wood.
KAL'LAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KAMETS (s.) The point in Hebrew which answers to A long.
KAN'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a river.
KAR'KAS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KAR'KOA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
KAR'KOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
KAR'NAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
KAR'TAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
KAR'TAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
KATE (s. a contraction of) Katherine, a woman's name.
KAT'TAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

K N O

Kayles (s. from kayle) The game at nine pins.
Keck'ling (s. from the part.) The act of making an effort to vomit.
Keck'ling (s. from the part.) The act of making an effort to cast the stomach.
KE'DESH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
KE'DESHNAPH'TALI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Keff'ol (s.) A poor worn out horse. Amworts.
KEHE/LATHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
KELAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
KELI'TA, KELI'TAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KEL'LOM (s.) A man's name, Kenelm.
KE'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
KE'NAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KE'NATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Ken'ezite (s. from Kenaz) A descendant of Kenaz.
KE'NITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Numb.
KEN'IZITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Gen. 1.
Ken'elling (s. from the part.) The act of lying in company as beasts.
Ken'ning (s. from the part.) The act of viewing; the act of epying.
Kei'cher (s. a different spelling) A kerchief. Urr.
Ken'elling (s. from the part.) The act of forming kernels.
KE'ROS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KES'HITAH (s. in Hebrew antiquity) A Jewish coin, the gerah.
KIB'ZAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Kid'ding (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth a kid; the act of making small faggots.
KIDEL'LUS (s. in old records) A kettle.
Kid'napping (s. from the part.) The act of stealing human beings.
Kil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking away life.
KI'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job.
King (s. at chess) The most dignified man.
King'apple (s.) A kind of apple.
King'pear (s.) A kind of pear.
Kink'cough (s. a different spelling) The chincough.
KIRHE'RESH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
KIR'JATHU'ZOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
KE'RIOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Kirk'officer (s. from kirk, and officer) The head of the church of Scotland.
KISH'I (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
KI'SON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a brook. Po.
KIT (s. a contraction of) Christian; Christopher.
KIT'CAT (adj. a cant word) Belonging to the club which met for many years in London, at a tavern kept by one Christopher Cat, of which the celebrated writers Addison, Congreve, Steele and others were members.
Kit'cat (adj. with painters, from the portraits of the tiemen mentioned in the foregoing article, which were done by Sir Godfrey Kneller, and hung up in the room at Christopher Cat's) Drawn something less than a half length.
Kit'cat (s. from the adj.) A painting or portrait drawn something less than the half length.
Kit'tened (adj. from kitten) Brought forth a kitten.
Kitt'ening (p. a. from kitten) Bringing forth young as a cat.
Kitt'ening (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth kittens.
KIT'TY (s. the diminutive of) Catherine.
Knap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of biting; the act of feeding on shrubs.
Kneel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suppling on bended knees; the act of furnishing a ship with knees.
Knight'fee (s. from knight, and fee) Lands to the value of twenty pounds a year.
Knight'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conferring the honour of knighthood.
Knight'service (s. from knight, and service) The military service due to the king for every knight's fee.
Knoll'ing (p. a. from knoll) Ringing a bell, as a bell.

LAH

Lapping (s. from the part.) The act of ringing a bell;
 the sound of a bell.
 Lapping (s. from the part.) The act of tying knots.
 Lapping (s. from the part.) The act of beating.
 Lapping (s. from the part.) The act of beating.
 Lapping (s. from the part.) The act of bending; the act of submitting.
 LA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LAD (s. in botany) The pistia.
 LAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LAD (s. from Kohath) A descendant of Kohath.
 LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LAH (s. from Kohath) A descendant of Kohath.
 LAH (s. from the Heb.) One of a family.
 Numb. 26.
 LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LAH (s. from Kore) A descendant of Kore.
 LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LAH (s. from the Heb.) The point in Hebrew which answers to in our alphabet.
 LAH (s. a different spelling) The cyphonism.
 LAH (s. in old records) A chest, a coffin.
 LAH (s. a different spelling) A cystis.

L

LADAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LADAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LADAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Deut. 1.
 LAD (s. in heathen mythology) One of the baccha-ds.
 LADIDES (s.) A man's name; the son of Labda-
 s.
 LADUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Thebes.
 LAD (s.) A man's name; a good lawyer, and great scholar.
 LADRIUS (s.) A man's name; an excellent mimo-grapher.
 LADNUS (s.) A man's name; one of Cæsar's officers, who revolted to Pompey.
 LAD (s. in old records) Watery land.
 LAD (s. from the part. the modern spelling) The act working hard.
 LAD (s. from the part. the left modern spelling)
 the act of working hard; the act of toiling.
 LAD (p. a. from lace) Fastening with a lace, putting lace.
 LAD (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with lace; the act of furnishing with a lace.
 LAD (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Juno.
 LAD (adj. in botany) Leaves indented or edged.
 LAD (s. in India) One hundred thousand rupees.
 LAD (s. from the part.) The act of varnishing.
 LAD (s. from the part.) The act of attending as a secretary.
 LAD (s. from the part.) The state of being in the act of.
 LADTIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous rhetorician.
 LADUCA, LACTUCINA (s.) A goddess of corn, supposed to have presided over the tender ear.
 LADDES (s.) A man's name, a noted philosopher.
 LAD (s.) A man's name, a footman of Alexander's great swiftness.
 LAD (s.) A kind of apple.
 LAD (s.) A kind of apple.
 LAD (s.) A man's name; a friend of Scipio.
 LADTES (s.) A man's name; the father of Ulysses.
 LADADES (s.) Ulysses, so called from his father Ades.
 LADANNUS (s. in old records) A lawful man, a sufficient man.
 LAD (s. from the part.) The act of loitering.
 LAD (s. an old word) A lawyer.
 LAD (s. plu. of laghman) More than one lagh-
 man.
 LAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LADROI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a well.
 Gen. 24.
 LAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LADAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

LAV

Lah'man (s. an old word) A lawyer.
 Lah'men (s. plu. of lahman) More than one lah-
 man.
 LAH'MI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LA'IS (s.) A woman's name; a famous courtesan.
 LA'KUM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 LA'LAGE (s.) A woman's name; a mistress of the poet Horace.
 Lamb'ing (s. from lamb) The act of bringing forth lambs. Dict. Rust.
 LA/MED (s.) The twelfth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 LA'MIA (s.) One of the Lamiae.
 LA'ming (s. from the part.) The act of making lame.
 LAMPE/DO (s.) A woman's name; a famous Spartan lady.
 Lam'pers (s. a different spelling) The lampas.
 LAMPE/SIA (s.) A woman's name; sister of Phaeton.
 LA'MUS (s.) A man's name; a supposed son of Hercules.
 LANCE (s. a contraction for) Launcelot.
 Lanch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of darting from the hand; the act of pushing off into the water; the act of taking scope on any subject.
 Lan'cinating (s. from the part.) The act of lacerating.
 Land/cheap (s. an old word) A fine on wheat land.
 Land/gravate (s. a different spelling) A landgraviate.
 Lan'guishing (s. from the part.) The act or state of growing weaker and weaker.
 LA'OCOON (s.) A man's name; one of the sons of Priam.
 LAODA/MIA (s.) The name of a woman; the daughter of Bellerophon.
 LAOD'ICE (s.) A woman's name; a daughter of Priam.
 LAOD'OCAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Antenor.
 LAOM'EDON (s.) A man's name; the son of Ilus.
 LAOMEDONTI/ADES (s.) Priam, so called from his father Laomedon.
 LAPHY'RA (s.) One of the names of Minerva.
 LA'PIDEUS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
 LA'PIS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
 LAPISALSID'IANUS (s. in ancient history) A kind of marble.
 LAP'ITHÆ (s.) A people of Thessaly, who were supposed to be the first who rode on horses.
 Laps'ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning to a former state; the act of falling.
 LA'RINA (s.) A man's name; an attendant on a milla.
 Lark'heel (s.) A cockspur.
 LASE/A (s.) The name of a city. Acts.
 LA'SHA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 LASH'ARON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 12.
 Last'a (s. in old records) A last, a certain weight or measure.
 LASTHE'MIA (s.) A woman's name; she was a disciple of Plato.
 Last'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of enduring.
 Latch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening by means of a latch.
 LATERA'NUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman of consular dignity; one of the household gods.
 Lath'ering (s. from the part.) The act of turning into lather; the act of covering with the froth of soap.
 LA'TIA (s. in heathen mythology) The wife of Saturn.
 LATIA'LIS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
 Lat'inizing (s. from the part.) The act of using the idioms peculiar to the Latin.
 LATI'NUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Faunus king of Latium.
 LATIUM (s. in old geography) A country of Italy.
 LATO'IA (s.) One of the names of Diana.
 LATO'NIA (s.) Diana.
 Lat'ticing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with lattice.
 Lavee'ring (s. from the part.) The act of changing a course frequently.
 Lav'ing (p. a. from lave) Bathing, washing in the water.
 Lav'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bathing; the act of washing in the water.
 LAVIN'IA (s.) The name of a woman. Lav'ishing

LEP

Lav'ishing (p. a. from lavish) Wasting in useless expences.
 Lav'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of wasting in useless expences.
 LAVOTE'RA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Laurenta'lia (s. from Laurentia) A festival in honour of Laurentia.
 LAUREN'TIA (s.) A woman's name; the nurse of Romulus and Remus.
 LAUREN'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a Christian martyr, roasted on a gridiron.
 Lau'rutine (s. a different spelling) The laurustine. D. of A.
 Lau'rutine (s. from laurustinus) The laurustinus.
 LAU'SUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Numitor.
 LAWSONIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Lay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing horizontally; the act of extruding eggs.
 Leag'uing (s. from the part.) The act of joining in a league.
 Leak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of letting out contained liquor; the act of letting in water.
 LEAN'DER (s.) A man's name; he was said to have been drowned in swimming across the Hellespont to see his mistress Hero.
 Lean'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reclining.
 LEAR'CHUS (s.) A man's name; he was destroyed by his father in a fit of distraction.
 Leas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gleaning.
 Leas'ing (s. from the part. the s is sounded sharp) The act of letting out on lease.
 Lea'ving (s. from the part.) The act of forsaking.
 LEBANA, LEBANAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LEBA'OTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 LEB'NASH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 LECH'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Lect'uring (s. from the part.) The act of instructing by lectures; the act of scolding.
 LE'DA (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Pin-darus.
 Le'da (s. in old records) A lathe, a part of a county.
 LE'DUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Leek'head (s. in farriery) A disease incident to horses.
 Leer'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking obliquely.
 Lee'wardship (s. from leeward, and ship) The ship lying on that side to which the wind is directed.
 Le'gal (adj. an old spelling) Lawful. Cbaucer.
 Legislat'ois (s. not much used, from legislator) A female lawgiver.
 LE'MING (s. in zoology) The short tailed mouse.
 Lem'nian (s. from the adj.) An inhabitant of Lemnos.
 LEM'NIUS (s.) A name of Vulcan.
 LEMURA'LIA (s. in antiquity) A festival in which they sacrificed to the Lemures.
 LEN (s. a contraction of) Leonard.
 LENÆ'A (s.) The feasts of Bacchus.
 LENÆ'US (s.) One of the names of Bacchus.
 Lend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving the use for a time.
 Len'e'fying (s. from the part.) The act of softening.
 Length'en'ing (s. from the part.) The act of extending in length.
 Len'i'fying (s. from the part.) The act of softening; the act of assuaging.
 LENIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 LENTES (s.) The least denomination of weight among the Romans.
 LEN'TULUS (s.) A man's name; the name of a Roman family.
 LE'OCON (s.) A man's name; a king of Pontus.
 LE'ONALD (s.) A man's name.
 LEON'DAS (s.) A man's name; a famous Spartan general.
 LEON'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous engraver.
 LEPI'DUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 LE'PIUM (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 LEPTA (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 LEPTODECOROM'ES (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, an order of the selenitæ.
 LEPTOPOLYGING'LIMI (s. in natural history) A genus of shells distinguished by a number of minute teeth.
 LEPTURA (s. in zoology) A genus of winged insects.

LIM

LER'NEA (s. in zoology) An insect of the order of the gymnarthria.
 LE'SHEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Le'sia (s. in old records) A lease.
 Les'for (s. a law term) One who grants a lease.
 LET (s. a contraction of) Lettice.
 LETA (s. in old records) A court leet.
 LE'TECH (s.) An Hebrew measure, half an homer.
 Let'tering (s. from the part.) The act of marking with letters.
 Let'ting (s. from the part.) The act of hindering; the act of letting out for rent or hire.
 LETU'SHIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LEVATO'RES (s. in anatomy) The muscles which serve to dilate the thorax.
 Level'la (s. in old records) A level.
 Le'vigating (s. from the part.) The act of reducing an impalpable powder.
 Levi'na (s. in old records) A levee.
 LEUCAS'PIS (s.) A man's name; a companion of Aeneas.
 LEUCIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a philosopher.
 LEUCO'IUM (s. in botany) The choiranthus.
 LEUCO'SIA (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the Sirens.
 LEUCO'THEA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Ino.
 LEUCO'THOE (s. in the mythology of the poets) A woman's name, who was supposed to have been transformed into a frankincense tree.
 LEUM'MIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Lew'isbon (s.) A kind of pear.
 LIBA'NIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous sophist.
 LIBEC'CHIO (s. from the Italian) The Lybian wind, hot wind.
 LIBEL'LA (s.) A Roman coin; the as.
 Libel'lus (s. in old records) A libel.
 LIB'ERA (s.) A name of Proserpine.
 LIBE'THRA (s.) A fountain of Magnesia, sacred to the Muses.
 LIBETH'RIDES (s. from Libethra) The Muses.
 Lib'nite (s. from Libni) A descendant of Libni.
 LI'BIA (s. not so correct a spelling) Lybia.
 Lib'ian (adj. from Libia) Belonging to Lybia.
 Li'b'ian (s. from the adj.) A Lybian; a native of Lybia.
 LIB'NA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 LIB'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 LIB'NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LI'BRA (s.) The Roman pound.
 Li'censing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a license.
 LI'CHAS (s.) The name of the youth by whom Andania sent the poisoned shirt to Hercules.
 LICIN'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 Lift'ing (s. from the part.) The act of raising up.
 Li'gan (s. a law term) Any thing sunk in the water and tied to a cork or buoy with a design to be taken up at a convenient time.
 LIGA'RIOUS (s.) A man's name; a friend of Pompey.
 LI'GEA (s.) A sea nymph.
 LIGE'AS (s. in old records) A liege.
 Light'en'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving light.
 Light'ned (p. not so common a spelling) Lightened.
 Light'ing (s. from the part.) The act of kindling; the act of giving light; the act of settling on a thing.
 Ligna'gium (s. in old records) A right to cut wood for fuel.
 LIGNICEN'SIS (s. in medicine) A kind of fine yew bole.
 LIG'ULA (s.) The least denomination of liquid measure among the Romans.
 Li'kening (s. from the part.) The act of comparing.
 LIK'KI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Lil'y (s. a different spelling) A lily.
 Lil'ywork (s. from lilly, and work) Ornaments resembling lilies.
 Limb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing limbs; the act of tearing limb from limb.
 Li'mehook (s.) A pooler.
 Limenarch'æ (s. plu. of limenarcha) Soldiers in the son; soldiers stationed to prevent disorders.
 LIMEN'ETIS (s.) One of the names of Diana. LIMENTIVUS

AMMENTI'NUS (s.) in beathen mythology The god who was supposed to preside over the threshold.
 Lining (p. a. from lime) Manuring with lime.
 Lining (s. from the part.) The act of manuring with lime.
 Limiting (s. from the part.) The act of setting bounds; the act of restraining.
 LIMNA'DES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The nymphs frequenting lakes and ponds.
 LIMONPADES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The nymphs of the meadows.
 LINA'RIA (s. in ornithology) The linnet.
 LINE (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the flax.
 LINEAL'BA (s. in anatomy, from the Lat. linea a line, and alba white) The complication of tendons in the oblique muscles of the abdomen.
 Linseed (s.) Flax seed.
 Lingering (s. from the part.) The act of delaying; the act of a gradual decline.
 LING'ERA (s.) One of the names of Isis.
 Linking (s. from the part.) The act of joining as with links.
 LINGUS (s.) A man's name; a Theban, who taught music and letters.
 Lip (s. a local word) Half a bushel.
 Liquefying (s. from the part.) The act of melting down; the act of dissolving.
 Liquidamber (s. in botany) The name of a plant; a genus of plants.
 Liquidating (s. from the part.) The act of lessening; the act of melting away.
 Liquefied (p. from liquify) Melted down, dissolved.
 Liquify (v. t. from the Lat. liquo to melt, and facio to make) To melt down, to dissolve.
 Liquifying (p. a. from liquify) Melting down, dissolving.
 Liquefying (s. from the part.) The act of melting down; the act of dissolving.
 LIRIOPE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
 LISA (s. in the mythology of the poets) A fourth fury.
 Listening (s. from the part.) The act of hearkening; the act of attending.
 LITHID'IA (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, including the flint and pebble kinds.
 LITHOGENE'SIA (s. from the Greek lithos a stone, and genesis a generation) The generation of stones.
 LITHOMAR'GA (s. in natural history) A kind of marble.
 LITHOSTROTION (s. in natural history) A species of fossil coral.
 LITHOXYLUM (s. in botany) A kind of heterogeneous substance on sea plants.
 LITHOZU'GIA (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 Littering (s. from the part.) The act of contesting in law.
 Litter (s. in old records) Litter, straw.
 LIVERER (s. in botany) The orpine.
 LIVIA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Augustus.
 LONICATER'RA (s. in natural history) A kind of the bole used in medicine.
 LONIAN (adj. from Livonia) Belonging to Livonia.
 LON'Y (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 Loading (s. from the part.) The act of burdening; that with which any thing is loaded.
 Looming (s. from the part.) The act of spreading over with loam.
 Looming (s. from the part.) The act of letting fall in a sudden manner.
 LUSCATEL'US (s. in pharmacy) A well known medicine.
 Luscating (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a lock.
 Lulus (s. in old records) A coffin.
 LUSITA (s.) A woman's name; she was a vile woman, remarkable for preparing poisons.
 LUSITANIA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city; the name of a man.
 LUSIBAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 LUSITAN (interj. an old spelling) Lo!
 LUSITANIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Lusing (s. from the part.) The act of delaying on a journey.
 Lusing (s. from the part.) The act of lounging.

LONGIMA'NUS (s.) A man's name; Artaxerxes.
 Longipated (adj. from long, and pate) Having a long head; more than commonly discerning. Johnson.
 Loof'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to the wind.
 Loo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting on a dog; the act of beating the adversary so as not to suffer him to get one trick.
 Look'ed (p. from look) Beheld.
 Loo'ing (p. a. from loofe) Unbinding, delivering from something disagreeable.
 Loos'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unbinding; the act of relaxing; the act of delivering from any thing disagreeable.
 LO'RA (s.) A woman's name.
 LORAN'THUS (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Lord'ing (s. from the part.) The act of domineering.
 LO'TAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 LO'TIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A nymph, who flying from Priapus was said to have been changed into the lotus tree.
 Lov'ing (s. from the part.) The act of regarding with tender affection; a long line to call in a hawk.
 Loung'ing (s. from the part.) The act of living in idleness.
 Lous'ing (p. a. from louse) Cleaning from lice.
 Lous'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning from lice.
 LOX'IAS (s.) One of the names of Apollo.
 LU'BIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Lubims (s. from Lubim) The descendants of Lubim.
 Lubricating (s. from the part.) The act of making smooth and slippery.
 LU'CIAN (s.) A man's name; a learned and famous Roman poet.
 LU'CIAN (s.) A man's name; a learned writer, who professed Christianity; but soon apostatized, and was at last devoured by dogs.
 LUCIANUS (s.) A man's name.
 LUCILIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 LUCIUS (s.) The name of several Romans.
 LUCRETIA (s.) A woman's name.
 LUCRETIUS (s.) A man's name.
 LUCULE'AN (adj. in natural history) Belonging to a fine kind of marble.
 LUCUL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a Latin poet; one of the names of a valiant Roman.
 LU'DIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Lugging (s. from the part.) The act of pulling with violence.
 LU'HITH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Lulling (s. from the part.) The act of quieting; the act of laying to sleep.
 Lum'bering (s. from the part.) The act of filling with lumber.
 LUM'ME (s. in ornithology) A kind of columbus.
 Lum'ping (s. from the part.) The act of giving or taking in the lump.
 Lun'atic (s. an old spelling) A lunatic.
 LURCH (v. t. at cribbage) To get the game on the adversary before he has counted forty-five, in which case he loses a double stake.
 Lurch'ed (p. from lurch) Beaten before a count of forty-five.
 Lurch'ing (p. a. from lurch) Beating at cribbage before a count of forty-five.
 Lurch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating the adversary at cribbage before he has counted forty-five; the act of leaving in a state of embarrassment.
 Lur'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enticing.
 Lurk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lying in wait.
 Lux'ating (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of joint.
 Lux'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of joint.
 LYÆ'US (s.) One of the names of Bacchus.
 Lyb'ian (s. from the adj.) A native of Lybia.
 LYCAM'BES (s.) A man's name; the father of Neobule.
 LYCA'ON (s.) A man's name; a king of Arcadia, who was said to have been transformed into a wolf.
 LYCASTE (s.) A woman's name; a famous courtesan of antiquity.
 Lyce (s. a different spelling) Lice.
 LYCE'US (s.) One of the Argonauts.
 LYCIDIAS (s.) One of the Censurs.

M A D

- LYCIM'NIA (s. A woman's name; a mistress of Mæcenæus.
LYCIS'CA (s. A woman's name; a famous prostitute.
LYCOM'EDES (s.) A man's name.
LY'CON (s.) A man's name; a peripatetic.
LYCOPH'RON (s.) A man's name; a famous tragic poet.
LY'CUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Bœotia.
LY'DE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Antimachus.
LYD'IA (s.) An inland country of the Lesser Asia.
Ly'dian (s. from Lydia) An inhabitant of Lydia.
LY'DUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Lydia, from whom the country had its name.
Lye (s. an old spelling) A lie, a falsehood.
LYG'DOMUS (s.) A man's name.
LY'GURE (s. in natural history) A kind of precious stone.
LYM'PHA (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess worshipped by the shepherds when they wanted rain.
LYN'CUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Scythia.
Lyôn (s.) One of the kings at arms.
LYS'IA (s.) A country of the Lesser Asia.
LYSIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a noble statuary.
LY'SIS (s.) A man's name; a Pythagorean philosopher.
LYSISTRAT'US (s.) A man's name; the brother of Lycippus.

M

- MA'ACAH (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name; the name of a place.
MA'ACHAH (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name.
MA'ACHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'ACHATHI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Ma'achathite (s. from Maachathi) An inhabitant of Maachathi.
MA'ADAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'AI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAALE'HACRAB'BIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MA'ARATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
MAASI'A, MAASI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'AZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MACA'REUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Æolus, who committed incest on his sister Canace.
Macaro'nyism (s. from macaroni) The state of a macaroni.
MA'CER (s.) A man's name; a Roman poet cotemporary with Ovid.
Mac'erating (s. from the part.) The act of making lean; the act of steeping almost to dissolution.
MA'CHAON (s.) A man's name, the son of Esculapius.
MACHBA'NAI, MACHBA'NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'CHI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Machiavel'izing (s. from the part.) The act of practising the politics of Machiavel.
MACH'NIS (s. in zoology) The rein deer.
MACH'NADE'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'CRIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Aristeus.
MACRO'BIUS (s.) A man's name; an author of consular dignity.
MAC'ROCERES (s. in zoology) A species of animalcules, whose tails are longer than their bodies.
MACROPY'RENIUM (s. in natural history) A species of septaria.
MACROTELOSTY'LA (s. in natural history) A genus of crystals.
Mac'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of staining with spots.
MA'DAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mad'dening (s. from the part.) The act of making mad.
Mad'ding (p. a. from mad) Making mad.
Mad'ding (s. from the part.) The act of making mad.
Mad'dying (s. from the part.) The act of moistening.
MADGE (s. a contraction of) Margery.
MAD'IAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

M A M

- MAD'IAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.
MADMAN'NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; the name of a city.
MADME'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MA'DON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MÆNA'DES (s.) The women who sacrificed to Bacchus.
MÆ'NIUS (s.) A man's name; a remarkable speaker.
MÆO'NIA (s.) A country of the Lesser Asia.
Mæo'nian (adj. from Mæonia) Belonging to Mæonia; belonging to Homer; descended of Mæon.
MÆO'TIS (s.) A large lake beyond the Euxine into which the river Tanais empties itself.
MÆ'VIUS (s.) A man's name; a sorry poet cotemporary with Virgil.
MAG'BISH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAGDI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mag'get (s. not so common a spelling) A maggot.
MAG'NACAR'TA (s. a different spelling) Magnacharta.
MAGNE'SIA (s.) A country of Macedonia.
Magne'sian (adj. from Magnesia) Belonging to Magnesia.
Mag'nifying (s. from the part.) The act of making great; the act of extolling.
MA'GO (s.) A man's name; the name of several thagians.
MAGOGMIS'SABIB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAGPI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAHA'CAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'HALAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAHA'NEHDAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MA'HATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAHA'VITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people.
MA'H'AZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAHA'ZIOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mahem'mium (s. in old records) A main.
MA'HOL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MA'VA (s. in the mythology of the poets) The mother Mercury.
Maid'child (s. from maid and child) A female child.
MAJES'TA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Vulcan.
MAJES'TAS (s. in beaten mythology) A goddess; daughter of Honor and Reverentia.
Maigna'gium (s. in old records) A brazer's shop.
Mail'd (adj. not much used) Spotted.
Mail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing mail; the act of making up in a mail.
Main'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving some necessary part.
Main'prising (s. from the part.) The act of bailing.
Main'tenance (s. not so common a spelling) Maintenance.
Maintain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supplying.
Ma'ina'da (s. in old records) A family.
Maifu'ra (s. in old records) A house, a mansion.
MA'JUS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
MAK'HELOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MAK'TESH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MA'LA (s.) One of the names of Fortune.
MALANKA'A (s. in botany) The name of a plant that produces the zedoary.
MALCHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MALCHI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Malchi'elite (s. from Malchiel) A descendant of Malchiel.
MALCHI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MALCHI'RAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MALD'MONY (s. in botany) The bearwort.
Malign'ed (p. from malign) Regarded with envy.
Malign'ing (p. a. from malign) Regarding with envy.
Malign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of regarding with envy.
Mal'leating (s. from the part.) The act of hammering.
MAL'LOTHI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MAL'LUCH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Malt'mill (s. from malt, and mill) A mill to malt.
Mal'vady (s. a different spelling) The malvada.
MAMER'TES (s.) A man's name; a Corinthian, slew his brother's son to be his next heir, and torn in pieces as a punishment for the murder.

M A R

Man/mocking (p. a. from mammoth) Breaking into shapeless pieces.
 Man/mocking (s. from the part.) The act of breaking into mammoths.
 MAMMO'SA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Ceres; one of the names of Fortune.
 MAMU'RIOUS (s.) A man's name; an excellent smith.
 MAMUR'RA (s.) A man's name; a Roman of the equestrian order.
 MAN (s. in geography) An island between England and Ireland.
 Man/acting (s. from the part.) The act of chaining the hands.
 Man/aging (s. from the part.) The act of conducting; the act of governing.
 MAN'AHATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MANA'RETHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people.
 Manas'ite (s. from Manasieh) A descendent of Manasieh.
 Manatee (s. a different spelling) The manate.
 MANCI'NUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman of consular dignity.
 Man/cipated (p. from mancipate) Binding to slavery.
 Man/cipating (s. from the part.) The act of enslaving.
 MANDA'NE (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Cyrus.
 Man/ducing (s. from the part.) The act of chewing.
 Man'gle (s. from the verb) A machine or utensil for smoothing house linen.
 Man'gle (v. t. from the sub.) To smooth linen by means of a mangle.
 Man'gled (p. from the verb) Smoothed, calendered.
 Man'gling (p. a. from the verb) Smoothing linen by means of a mangle.
 Man'gling (s. from the part.) The act of smoothing linen in a mangle.
 Man'glewarehouse (s. from mangle, and warehouse) A house where mangles are sold.
 Man'ifesting (s. from the part.) The act of making manifest.
 MANIL'IUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 MANIL'LE (s. at quadrille) The deuce of spades or clubs, the seven of hearts or diamonds.
 MANIS (s. in zoology) A kind of lizard.
 MANIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 MAN'LIUS (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman who defended the Capitol against the Gauls.
 Man'ning (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with men.
 MANCEU'VRE (s. from the French) The skilful management of any affair; an artifice in the conduct of any business.
 Manop'era (s. in old records) A day's work.
 Man'ia, Man'fium (s. in old records) A mansion, a house.
 Man'tling (s. from the part.) The act of fermenting as liquors; a fermentation.
 MAN'TO (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Tiresias, well skilled in divination.
 MAN'TUA (s. in geography) A city of Italy, situate in one of the most fruitful spots of that country.
 Manufactory (s. from manufacture) The process of forming any piece of work by hand; the place where goods are manufactured.
 Manufacturing (s. from the part.) The act or process of making any piece of goods by hand.
 Manumit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of releasing from slavery.
 Man'uscript (adj. from the sub.) Done in writing, as distinguished from what is printed.
 Manuten'tor (s. in old records) A maintainer.
 MA' OCH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ma' onite (s. from Maon) A descendant of Maon.
 Map'ping (s. from the part.) The act of making maps.
 Mar'acock (s. in botany) The passion flower.
 MAR'ALAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Mar'bling (s. from the part.) The act of variegating in resemblance of marble.
 MARCEL'LINUS (s.) A man's name; an historian in the time of Gratian.
 MARCEL'LUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 March'ed (p. from march) Made to march; led in a march.
 Mar'chetum (s. in old records) A fine to the lord on the marriage of a tenant's daughter.

M A T

MAR'ESHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Mar'garetapple (s.) A kind of early apple.
 Ma'rian (adj. from Mary) Belonging to a kind of violets.
 Ma'rigoldapple (s.) A kind of apple.
 MARI'NA (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Venus.
 Mar/inating (s. from the part.) The act or process of preserving in salt or brine.
 MA'RIOUS (s.) A man's name; the name of an illustrious Roman.
 Mark'ing (p. a. from mark) Distinguishing by setting a mark.
 Mark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting a mark.
 Mark/pound (s. from mark and pound) The pound of sixteen ounces.
 Mark/weight (s.) A foreign weight of eight ounces.
 MA'RO (s.) A man's name; the surname of Virgil.
 MARO'NEA (s.) A city of Epirus, famous for excellent wines.
 Maro'nean (adj. from Maronea) Belonging to Maronea.
 MA'ROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 MARPE'SIA (s.) A woman's name; the first queen of the Amazons.
 MARPES'SA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Cleopatra.
 Mar'ring (p. a. from mar) Injuring, spoiling.
 Mar'ring (s. from the part.) The act of injuring; the act of spoiling.
 MARSE'NA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Mar'thaling (s. from the part.) The act of putting into proper order.
 MAR'SYAS (s.) A satyr who challenged Apollo, and was flayed alive.
 MAR'TIA (s.) A woman's name; the name of several Roman ladies.
 MAR'TIUS (s.) A man's name; the fourth king of the Romans; a name of Jupiter.
 Mar'tyring (s. from the part.) The act of putting to death for a testimony to the truth.
 Mar'tyrizing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to death for the testimony of a good conscience in matters of religion.
 MARUL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a famous rhetorician.
 MA'SHAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Mash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating into a confused mass.
 MASHMAN'NA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Mask'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting on a mask.
 Masquera'ding (s. from the part.) The act of appearing in mask.
 MAS'SA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Mas'sacring (s. from the part.) The act of butchering; the act of destroying without distinction.
 MAS'SAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 MASSU'RIOUS (s.) A man's name; a famous lawyer in the time of Tiberius.
 Mas'tering (s. from the part.) The act of subduing.
 MAT (s. a contraction of) Matthew; Martha.
 MATADO'RE (s. from the Spanish, matador to kill) The ace of spades and clubs, the deuce of spades and clubs.
 Match'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suiting.
 MATER'NUS (s. in botany) A hardy evergreen; a kind of phyllyrea.
 MA'THO (s.) A man's name; a corrupt lawyer in the time of Domitian.
 Mat'ing (p. a. from mate) Living as man and wife; cohabiting; confounding; throwing into confusion.
 Mat'ing (s. from the part. but not much used) The act or state of cohabiting; the act of putting into confusion.
 MAT'RED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Matric'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of matriculation.
 MAT'TANAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 MATTANI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MAT'TATHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MAT'TATHIAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MAT'TENAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MAT'THAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MAT'THATHIAS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Mat'ting (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with mats; the act of growing thick like a mat.
 MATTITHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Mat'urating (s. from the part.) The act of hastening to ripeness.

Matu'rer

M E L

Matu'rer (adj. comp. of mature) Mature in a greater degree.
Matu'rest (adj. sup. of mature) Mature in the greatest degree.
Matu'ring (s. from the part.) The act or state of advancing to ripeness.
Maul'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating.
MA'VORS (s. in beaten mythology) A name of Mars.
MAURITA'NIA (s.) The southern part of Africa; Lybia.
MAXEN'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a cruel tyrant.
MAXIM'IUS (s.) A man's name; a Thracian, who from a shepherd was advanced to the head of the Roman empire.
MAX'IMUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
May (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to the month of May, produced in the month of May.
May'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pinioning.
Ma'zing (s. from the part.) The act of confusing.
Mead'owrue (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
ME'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Nebe.
Meal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sprinkling with meal.
Meander'ing (s. from the part.) The act of running with a serpentine course.
MEA'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 13.
Meas'uring (s. from the part.) The act of taking the measure; the act of finding the content.
MEBUN'NAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mech'anist (s. from mechanic) One skilled in mechanics.
MECHA'RATHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chro.
Med'dling (s. from the part.) The act of interposing.
MEDE'BA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Me'diating (s. from the part.) The act of performing by mediation.
Med'icating (s. from the part.) The act of impregnating with something medicinal.
Med'itating (s. from the part.) The act of contemplating.
MEDITRI'NA (s. in beaten mythology) A goddess who was supposed to render food or physic wholesome.
MEDULLI'NA (s.) A woman's name; a Roman lady who was ravished by her father, and afterwards slew him.
Meet'ening (s. from the part.) The act of preparing; the act of making meet.
MEG (s. a contraction of) Margery.
MEGA'E'RA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the Furies.
MEGALEN'SES (s. in antiquity) The festival and games which were celebrated in honour of Cybele.
MEGA'LIUM (s.) A fine kind of oil invented by Megalus.
MEG'ALUS (s.) A man's name.
MEGA'RA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Hercules.
MEHI'DA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ME'HIR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Meho'lathite (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Tim.
MEHU'MAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MEHU'NIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mehu'nim (s. from Mehunim) The descendants of Mehunim.
MEJAR'KAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
MEKA'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MELAM'PUS (s.) A man's name; a famous physician and soothsayer.
MELAMPYGOS (s.) One of the names of Hercules.
MELAN'E'US (s.) One of Aëæon's dogs.
MELANCH'E'TES (s.) One of Aëæon's dogs.
MELAN'THIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter.
MELAN'THO (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Proteus.
MELATI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MELCHI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MELCHIS'EDEK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MELCHI'SHUAH (s. a different spelling) Malchithuah.
ME'LEA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MELE'AGER (s.) A man's name; the son of Oeneus.
ME'LECH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ME'LES (s.) A river of Ionia, which runs by Smyrna, where Homer was supposed to be born.
MELESIG'ENES (s.) Homer so called from the river Meles.
Mele'tean (adj. from Meles) Belonging to Homer.

M E R

ME'LLÆ (s.) The nymphs of the fields.
MELIBCE'US (s.) A man's name; a herdsman. Virg.
MEL'ICA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MELICE'RIDES (s. from meliceria) The meliceria.
MELICER'TA, MELICER'TUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Ino.
MELI'NUM (s. in natural history) A kind of white bole much used by the ancients.
Me'liorating (s. from the part.) The act of improving.
MELIS'SA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Melissus.
Melis'san (adj. from Melissa) Belonging to Melissa.
MELIS'SUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient king of Crete.
MEL'LIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of a famous Roman.
Mel'let (s. in farriery) A kind of dry scab on the head of a horse.
MELLO'NA (s. in beaten mythology) The goddess of bees and honey.
Mel'lowing (s. from the part.) The act of making mellow.
MEL'OE (s. in zoology) The oil beetle.
MELOTH'RIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
MEL'ZAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MEM (s.) The thirteenth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
MEM'MIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman of Trojan descent.
MEM'NON (s.) A man's name; the supposed son of Aurora.
ME'NA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the nuptial goddesses.
Me'nacing (s. from the part.) The act of uttering threats.
MENAL'CAS (s.) The name of a shepherd. Virg.
MENALIP'PE (s.) A woman's name; the sister of Antiope, queen of the Amazons.
MENALIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a Theban who slew Tydeus.
ME'NAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MENAN'DER (s.) A man's name; a comic poet of Athens.
MENEC'RATES (s.) A man's name; a boasting physician.
MEN'ELAUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Agamemnon.
MEN'EPHRON (s.) A man's name; one who would have committed incest with his own mother.
MENES'THEUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Iphicrates.
MENESTRA'TUS (s.) A man's name; a famous treasurer.
MENIP'PUS (s.) A man's name; a cynic philosopher.
MENISPER'MUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
ME'NIUS (s.) A man's name; one who obtained victory at sea and hung up the beaks of the enemy ships in the court, which was afterwards called the rostrum.
MENCE'CEUS (s.) A man's name; a Theban who voluntarily sacrificed himself for the safety of his country.
MENCE'ETES (s.) A man's name; a companion of Aeneas.
MENCE'TIUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Actor.
MEN'THA (s. in the mythology of the poets) Pluto's mistress, supposed to have been transformed into mint.
MEN'TOR (s.) A man's name; a famous artist.
ME'NUIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MEONE'NIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MEONO'THAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MEPH'ITIS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Juno.
ME'PHOATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
MERA'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
MERA'OTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mera'rite (s. from Merari) A descendant of Merari.
ME'RATHAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
Merca'tum (s. in old records) A market.
Mer'cenlage (s. an old law term) The law of the Mercians.
Merce'rus (s. in old records) A mercer.
MER'CHESVAN (s. in the Hebrew chronology) The month Bul.

M I G

RED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 RES (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AGAN'SER (s. in ornithology) A species of mergus.
 GER (s. from merge, a law term) The annihilation of a less estate or title in a greater.
 LIMOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 R'ONES (s.) A man's name; a commander whom Homer makes equal to Mars.
 iting (s. from the part.) The act of deservng.
 R'MERUS (s.) One of the Centaurs.
 RON'ATHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron.
 ROPE (s.) The daughter of Atlas.
 ROPS (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Phaeton.
 ROZ (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SEMBRYANTHE'MUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 SHA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a place.
 SHAZ'ABEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHEZ'ABEAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIL'LEMITH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIL'LEMOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shing (s. from the part.) The act of catching in a net.
 SHO'BAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHUL'LAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHUL'LANATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shny (s. from mefin) Mefn. Ainsworth.
 Shal'ity (s. from mefin) A manor held under a superior lord.
 SO'BAITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chr.
 SOPTERYG'IOUS (adj. from the Greek μεσος; the middle, and πτερυγον a wing) Having one fin situate in the middle of the back.
 S'SALA (s.) A man's name; the surname of Valerius.
 SSAL'INA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Meffala.
 SSA'PUS (s.) A man's name; a friend of Turnus.
 ssing (s. from the part.) The act of feeding together.
 STRA, MES'TRE (s. different foellings) Metra.
 S'UA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 TTA'BUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Camilla. tamor'phosing (s. from the part.) The act of changing into another form.
 TIAN'RA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Triptolemus.
 TEL'LUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 thodi'zing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to method.
 THU'SALA, METHU'SALAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 ting (s. from the part.) The act of measuring.
 TIS (s. in beaten mythology) A wife of Jupiter whom he is said to have devoured.
 TIS'CUS (s.) A man's name; the charioteer of Turnus.
 TIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 TRA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Erichthon, who was said to have power to transform herself into any shape she pleased.
 TRODO'RUS (s.) A man's name; an Athenian philosopher.
 ZEN'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a cruel tyrant who used to tie the living to the dead.
 Y (s.) A mow; a rick of corn. Ainsworth.
 Y'a (s. in old records) A mow, a rick.
 ZABAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 PHAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CH (s. a contraction of) Michael.
 CHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CHAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ching (s. from the part.) The act of lying hid.
 CH'METHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 CH'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CIP'SA (s.) A man's name.
 CK'LOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 DAS (s.) A man's name; a foolish king who is said to have had asses ears.
 DIN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 DALEL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 DALGAD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

M I S

MIG'DOL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 MIGO'NITIS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Venus.
 MI'JAMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MICKNI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MIL (s. a contraction of) Mildred.
 MILA'LAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MI'LAN (s. in geography) A duchy in Italy, the capital of that duchy.
 MIL'ANESE (s. from Milan) The duchy of Milan; the inhabitants of that duchy.
 MILA'NION (s.) A man's name; one who courted the coy Atalanta.
 Mil'dewing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with mildew.
 MILE'SIUS (s. in antiquity) A man's name; the name of a hero from whom as some suppose Ireland was first peopled.
 Mile'sian (s. from Milesius) Belonging to the Irish, as the supposed descendants of Milesius.
 MILE'TIS (s.) A woman's name.
 MILE'TUS (s.) A man's name; one of the names of Apollo.
 MI'LO (s.) A man's name; a man who had sufficient strength to carry an ox.
 MILO'NIUS (s.) A man's name; a drunken fellow. Hor.
 MILTI'ADES (s.) A man's name; a valiant Athenian.
 Mil'ting (s. from the part.) The act of impregnating the spawn of the female fish.
 MIL'TON (s.) One of the most famous of the English poets.
 Milto'nian (adj. from Milton) Belonging to Milton; resembling the style of Milton.
 MIL'VIUS (s.) A man's name; the feigned name of a parasite.
 MIMAL'ONES (s. in antiquity) Women sacrificing to Bacchus.
 MI'MAS (s.) A huge giant slain by Jupiter.
 Mim'icking (s. from the part.) The act of playing the mimic.
 MIMICOR'MUS (s.) A man's name; a poet of Smyrna.
 Mind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of attending to; the act of remembering.
 Ming'ling (s. from the part.) The act of mixing.
 MIN'IAMIN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Min'istering (s. from the part.) The act of serving.
 MIN'NITH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 MINOIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Minos.
 MINOS (s.) A man's name; a famous Cretan law-giver.
 MIN'THA (s.) A woman's name; the concubine of Pluto.
 Mint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coining.
 Min'ute (adj. from the sub.) Shewing minutes, repeated every minute.
 Min'uting (p. a. from minute) Taking down minutes.
 Min'uting (s. from the part.) The act of taking down minutes.
 MINU'TIA (s.) The name of a Vestal virgin, who on a suspicion of unchastity was said to have been burned alive.
 MINU'TIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman tribune greatly beloved by the people.
 MIN'YÆ (s. in antiquity) The Thessalians who accompanied the Argonauts.
 MIN'YAS (s.) A man's name; the son of Chryses.
 MINYE'IAS (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughters of Minyas who were supposed to have been transformed into bats.
 MIPH'KAD (s. from the Heb.) One of the gates of Jerusalem.
 Mi'ring (s. from the part.) The act of sticking in the mire; the act of soiling with mire.
 MIR'MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Misadvi'sing (s. from the part.) The act of giving bad advice.
 Misapply'ing (s. from the part.) The act of applying to a wrong purpose or meaning.
 Misapprehend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of apprehending wrong.
 Misascrib'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ascribing falsely.
 Misassign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of assigning erroneously.
 Misbeha'ving (s. from the part.) The act of behaving in a wrong manner.
 Miscal'culating (s. from the part.) The act of calculating wrong.
 Miscal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of calling by a wrong name.
 Miscar'rying

MIS

MON

Miscar'rying (s. from the part.) The act of carrying wrong; the act of failing of success; a miscarriage.
Miscast'ing (s. from the part.) The act of casting wrong.
Misconcei'ving (s. from the part.) The act of conceiving wrong.
Misconduct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conducting wrong.
Miscon'struing (s. from the part.) The act of construing wrong.
Miscoun'seling (s. from the part.) The act of giving bad counsel.
Miscount'ing (s. from the part.) The act of counting wrong.
Misdee'ming (s. from the part.) The act of mistaking; the act of judging wrongfully.
Misdemean'ing (s. from the part.) The act of behaving amiss.
Misdemes'nor (s. a law term) A misdemeanor.
Misdirect' (v. t. from mis, and direct) To direct wrong.
Misdirect'ed (p. from misdirect) Directed wrong.
Misdirect'ing (p. a. from misdirect) Directing wrong.
Misdirect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of directing wrong.
Misdoubt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suspecting deceit; the act of suspecting danger.
Misemploy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of employing to a wrong purpose.
MISE'NUS (s.) A man's name; Hector's trumpeter.
Misfast'ioning (s. from the part.) The act of forming wrong.
Misform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming wrong.
MIS'GAB (s. from the Heb. signifying a high place) The name of a place.
Misgov'erning (p. a. from misgovern) Governing wrong.
Misgov'erning (s. from the part.) The act of governing wrong.
Misguid'ing (s. from the part.) The act of guiding wrong.
MISHA'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MIS'HAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MI'SHAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MISH'MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MISH'RAITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people.
Misinter'ring (s. from the part.) The act of inferring wrong.
Misinform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of informing wrong.
Misinter'preting (s. from the part.) The act of interpreting wrong.
Misjoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining wrong.
Misjud'ging (s. from the part.) The act of judging wrong.
Mislay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying in a wrong place.
Mislead'ing (p. a. from mislead) Leading wrong.
Mislead'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leading wrong.
Misman'aging (s. from the part.) The act of managing wrong.
Mismatch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of matching wrong.
Misna'ming (s. from the part.) The act of naming wrong.
Misne (adj. a law term, and different spelling) Mefn, intermediate, during the pendency of a suit.
Misnos'mer (s. a different spelling) A misnomer Blackf.
Misobser'ving (s. from the part.) The act of observing wrong.
Misord'ering (s. from the part.) The act of ordering wrong.
MIS'PAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
MIS'PARATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Mispell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spelling wrong.
Mispend'ing (p. a. from mispend) Wasting, lavishing away.
Mispend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wasting; the act of lavishing away.
Mispla'cing (s. from the part.) The act of laying in a wrong place.
Mispoint'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pointing wrong.
Misproportion'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining without due proportion.
Misquo'ting (s. from the part.) The act of quoting wrong.
Misreck'oning (s. from the part.) The act of reckoning wrong.

Misrepor'ting (s. from the part.) The act of reporting wrong.
Misrepresent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of representing wrong.
Misser'ving (s. from the part.) The act of serving unfaithfully.
Mista'king (s. from the part.) The act of taking wrong.
Misteach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of teaching wrong.
Mittel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of telling wrong.
Mistemp'ering (s. from the part.) The act of tempering amiss.
Mistern'ing (s. from the part.) The act of terming wrong.
Misthink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of thinking wrong.
Mist'iming (s. from the part.) The act of wrong timing.
Mistrust'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suspecting.
Mistun'ed (adj. from mis, and tuned) Put out of tune.
MISTYL'LUS (s.) The name of a rock.
Mist'ing (s. from the part.) The act of using ill.
Miswrit'ing (p. a. from miswrite) Writing wrong.
Miswrit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of writing wrong.
Miswrit'ten (p. from miswrite) Written wrong.
MITH'CAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
MITH'NITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chro. II
MITH'REDAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
MITHRIDA'TES (s.) A man's name; a king of Pontus who is said to have spoken twenty two different languages.
Mit'igating (s. from the part.) The act of softening the act of assuaging.
Mit'reshell (s. in natural history) A kind of buccinum.
Mix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mingling.
MIZ'ZA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Miz'zling (s. from the part.) The act of raining in small drops.
MNA'SITHOUS (s.) A man's name; a painter.
MNESIL'CHUS (s.) A man's name; an enemy to the Romans.
MNESOR'CHUS (s.) A man's name; a stoic philosopher.
MNES'THEUS (s.) A man's name; a Trojan of honorable descent.
Mo'abiteis (s. from Moabite) A woman descendant of Moab.
MOADI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Moan'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lamenting.
Moat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surrounding with a moat.
Mob'bing (s. from the part.) The act of harassing with noise and tumult.
Mob'bling (s. from the part.) The act of dressing closely.
Mod'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of putting into due form.
Mock'bird (s.) The mocking bird.
Mock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of deriding.
Mod'eling (s. from the part.) The act of forming.
Mod'erating (p. a. from moderate) Making temperate.
Mod'erating (s. from the part.) The act of making temperate.
Mod'ernizing (s. from the part.) The act of making modern.
MODES'TAS, MODES'TIA (s. in beaten mythology) The patroness of honesty.
MOCB'NAS (s.) A man's name; a friend of Horace and patron of learning.
MOE'RIS (s.) The name of a shepherd.
Molas'ses (s. in the Scotch dialect) A base kind of spirituous liquor.
Molas'sed (adj. from the sub.) Intoxicated with the spirit mentioned in the foregoing article.
Molen'dum (s. in old records) A grist, corn sent to the mill to be ground.
Molest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving trouble.
MOL'ID (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Moll'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of making soft.
MOLL, MOLLY (s.) Mary, a woman's name.
MO'LO (s.) A man's name; a Rhodian orator.
MOLOR'CUS (s.) A man's name; an old heron.
MOLOS'SIS (s.) A district of Epirus.
MOLYN'DIA (s. in natural history) A genus of plants.
MONÆ'SES (s.) A man's name; a king of Parthia.
MONE'TA (s.) A name of Juno.
MONOE'CIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
MONOGAMIA (s. in botany, from the Greek monos, a single, and gamos, a female) A class of plants distinguished by having hermaphrodite flowers and one pistil.
Monopodium

M U N

monopolizing (s. from the part.) The act of engrossing many commodity.
 monosyllabic (adj. from monosyllable) Consisting of one syllable.
 monosyllabical (adj. from monosyllabic) Consisting of one syllable.
 mon'strum (s. in old records) A box of relics.
 mon'tes (s. in palmistry) The protuberances at the roots of the fingers.
 MONYCHUS (s.) The name of a Centaur.
 moot'ing (p. a. from moot) Pleading a mock cause.
 moot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pleading a mock cause.
 m'ping (s. from the part.) The act of wandering about in a stupid manner.
 MOP'SUS (s.) A man's name; a soothsayer, a priest of Apollo.
 MORASHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Lev.
 MORDELLA (s. in zoology) A genus of insects.
 MORSETHGATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Mores'sa (s. in old records) Boggy ground.
 MORGAY (s. in ichthyology) A kind of squalus.
 mor'ina (s. in old records) The murrain; the wool of sheep dying of themselves.
 MORMYLUS (s. in ichthyology) A kind of sparus.
 MORS (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to preside over death; death.
 mor'ellum (s. in old records) A moriel, a small parcel.
 MORTA (s. in heathen mythology) Fate considered as a goddess.
 mort'ar (v. t. from the sub.) To supply with mortar.
 mort'ared (p. from mortar) Supplied with mortar.
 mort'aring (p. a. from mortar) Supplying with mortar.
 mort'aring (s. from the part.) The act of supplying with mortar.
 MORTET'TAR (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, the rubetra. mort'gaging (s. from the part.) The act of giving a mortgage.
 mort'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of vital faculties; the act of humbling.
 mort'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of making a mor-tise.
 MOSCATTALL'NA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 moss'etum (s. in old records) Mossy ground.
 moul'd'ering (s. from the part.) The act of turning to dust.
 moul'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming.
 moun'd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a mound or fence.
 moun't'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ascending upwards.
 mous'ing (s. from the part.) The act of catching mice.
 moun't'ing (s. from the part.) The act of speaking loud.
 moun' (s. from mow) Cut with a scythe.
 M'ZA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 M'ZAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 M (s.) The twelfth letter of the Greek alphabet.
 mack'ering (s. from the part.) The act of hoarding up in a mean manner.
 madd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making muddy.
 mudd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making muddy; the act of getting drunk.
 mudd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making muddy; the act of stirring up the mud.
 m'ling (s. from the part.) The act of covering from the weather.
 m'ch (v. t. from the sub.) To cover with half rotten straw.
 m'ched (p. from mulch) Covered with mulch, covered with half rotten straw.
 m'ch'ing (p. a. from mulch) Covering with half rotten straw.
 m'ch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with half rotten straw.
 m'ra (s. in old records) The miller's toll.
 m'les (s. in farriery) The scratches in horses.
 m'ling (s. from the part.) The act of boiling up with sugar and spice.
 m'plying (s. from the part.) The act of increasing by multiplication.
 m'valves (s. in ichthyology) Fish which have three or more shells; a shell compounded of three or more valves.
 M'MIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman who from a mean family was raised to consular dignity.
 M (s. a contraction) Edmond, a man's name.
 M'NIMENT (s. from the Lat. munio to fortify) A deed or writing by which the title to an estate is defended; a house or place where the writings or deeds of an estate are kept. Ainsworth.

N A H

 MUNTIN'GIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 MUP'PIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 MUR'ÆNA (s.) A man's name; a Roman of consular dignity.
 MURCHA'NUS (s.) A man's name; a Latin who boasted much of his pedigree and was slain by Æneas.
 MUR'CIA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess of sloth.
 Mur'dering (s. from the part.) The act of committing murder.
 Mur'thering (s. from the part.) The act of committing murder.
 MUS'Æ/US (s.) A man's name; an Athenian poet.
 MUSCA'RIUS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.
 MUS'CI (s. plu. of muscus) Mosses.
 MUS'ICA (s.) One of the titles of Minerva.
 Mus'ing (s. from the part.) The act of thinking closely.
 Musk'animal (s. from musk, and animal) The animal that produces the musk.
 Musk'seed (s. in botany) A species of hipiscus.
 Mus'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of growing mufty.
 Mus'tilating (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of some essential part.
 Muz'zling (s. from the part.) The act of binding the mouth; the act of feeling out with the mouth.
 Muz'zy (adj. a local word) Dull, sleepy.
 MY'CALE (s.) A woman's name; the name of a for-cerefs.
 MYCE'NIS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Agamemnon.
 MY'CHITHUS (s.) A man's name; the name of a faithful slave.
 MYG'DON (s.) A man's name; a king of Thrace.
 MY'AGROS (s. in heathen mythology) A god worshiped by the Elians.
 MY'OS (s.) A man's name; an excellent engraver in silver.
 MYR'INUS (s.) A man's name; a fencer. Martial.
 MYRME'CIDES (s.) A man's name; a curious engraver in small work.
 MYR'MYDON (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the people of Thessaly who were supposed to have been transformed from ants into men and went to the Trojan war.
 MY'RON (s.) A man's name; an excellent statuary.
 MYR'PHA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Cy-narus.
 MYR'TEA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Venus.
 MYRTIL'LUS (s.) A man's name, who took a bribe from Pelops to overturn his master when he was to run in a race to obtain a charming bride, or lose his life.
 MYT'ULUS (s. in ichthyology) The muscle.

N.

NA'AM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NA'AMAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman; the name of a place.
 NA'ARAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
 NA'ARAI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
 NA'ARAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 NA'ARATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NA'ASSON (s. a different spelling) Naathon.
 NAB (s. in familiar style) Abigail, a woman's name.
 NABAR'ZANES (s.) A man's name; the governor under the last Darius.
 Nab'bing (s. from the part.) The act of biting with continued action of the teeth; the act of catching unexpectedly.
 NA'CHON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NÆ'NIA (s. in heathen mythology) The patroness of funeral song.
 NÆ'VIUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient Roman poet.
 NAFF (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird; the uria.
 NAHA'LAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 NAHAL'EL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NAHAL'LAL

NEE

NAHAL/LAL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 NAHA/LOL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NA/HAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NAHA/MANI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NAHA/RAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NA/HATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NAM/BI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NA/IDES (s. in zoology) A genus of animalcules.
 NAM (s. in familiar style) Ambrose.
 Nam/bypam/by (adj. a cant or droll word) Having little affected prettinesses.
 Nam/bypam/by (adv. from the adj.) With affected prettinesses.
 Nam'mium (s. in old records) A distress; a seizure of goods.
 NAMU/RMARBLE (s. in natural history) A species of black marble.
 Nan (s. in rustic style) Ann.
 Nan'ny (s. the diminutive of) Ann.
 NAPHTU/IM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Nap'kinning (s. in commerce, from napkin) The linen of which napkins are made.
 Nap'ping (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping by short intervals.
 NARCIS/SUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A beautiful youth, who fell in love with himself, and pined away into the flower of that name.
 Narra'ting (s. from the part.) The act of giving in narration.
 Nar'rifying (s. from the part.) The act of delivering in narrative.
 NA'SHON (s. a different spelling) Naason.
 NAS'ICO (s. in beaten mythology) A goddess, who was supposed to preside over children at their birth.
 NA'SIFORM (adj. from the Lat. nasus a nose, and forma a form) Having the form of a nose.
 NA'SO (s.) A man's name; the name of a Roman family.
 NA'SUS (s. in ichthyology) A species of cyprinus.
 NAT (s. a contraction of) Nathanael.
 NATHAN/AEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Naturali'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making natural; the act of admitting a foreigner to the privileges of a native subject.
 Na'vage (s. from navagium) The carriage of goods in ships.
 Nava'gium (s. in old records) The carriage of goods on ship board.
 NAU'BOLUS (s.) A man's name: the charioteer of Laius king of Thrace.
 NAU'CRATES (s.) A man's name; a considerable orator of antiquity.
 Nav'igating (s. from the part.) The act of sailing; the act of passing in ships or boats.
 NA'VIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous soothsayer.
 Naunt (s. an old word) Aunt.
 NAU'PLUS (s.) A man's name; a supposed son of Neptune.
 Nau'feating (s. from the part.) The act of rejecting with a nausea.
 NAUSIC/OA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Alcinoüs, who conducted Ulysses to her father's court.
 NAUSI'THEUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Alcinoüs.
 NAUT'ES (s.) A man's name; a companion of Æneas.
 NEÆ/RA (s.) The name of a woman; a beautiful nymph beloved of Phœbus.
 NE/AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NEAR/CHUS (s.) A man's name; a beautiful boy.
 NEARI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Neat (adj. in commerce) Pure, free from deductions, remaining after an allowance for tare.
 Neat (s. from the adj.) The weight of a commodity after an allowance for tare.
 NE'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NEBAL/LAT (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NE'BRADES (s. in beaten mythology) A name of Bacchus.
 NECUS/HAS'EAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Neces'sitating (s. from the part.) The act of laying under a necessity.
 NECYD/ALIS (s. in zoology) A genus or class of insects.
 NEDABI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Need'ing (p. a. from need) Wanting, being in need.

NIC

Need'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of being want.
 Need'lehell (s. in natural history) The slender turbo.
 Neer (adv. an old spelling) Near, at hand.
 Neer'er (adv. from neer, an obsolete spelling) Nearer.
 Neg'ative (v. t. not much used, from the adj.) To refuse by a negation.
 Neg'ative (p. from negative) Refused by a negation.
 Neg'ative (p. a. from negative) Putting a negative refusing by a negation.
 Neg'ative (s. from the part. not much used) The act of refusing by a negation.
 Neglect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of omitting through carelessness.
 Nego'tiating (s. from the part.) The act of transacting business.
 NE/GUS (s.) The title of the king of Abyssinia.
 NE/GUS (s.) A mixture of wine and water warmed.
 NEI'EL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Neife (s. a law term) A nief, a bond woman; the daughter of a villain.
 NE'KEB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NEK/ODA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NEL (s. in rustic style) Eleanor, Helena.
 NELE/US (s.) A man's name; the father of Nestor.
 NELI'DES (s.) The sons of Neleus.
 NEL/LY (s. the diminutive of) Eleanor.
 NE'NIA (s. a different spelling) Nænia.
 NEOB/ULE (s.) A woman's name.
 NEONO'MIAN (adj. from the Greek νεο, new, and νόμος, law) Holding the gospel as a new law, belonging to a new law.
 Neono'mian (s. from the adj.) One who considers the gospel as a new law.
 Neono'mianism (s. from Neonomian) The tenets of the Neonomians.
 NEOPTOL'EMUS (s.) A man's name, Pyrrhus.
 NE/PA (s. in zoology) The water scorpion.
 NE/PHEG (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NE/PHELE (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Phryxus.
 NE/PHISH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; the name of a people.
 NEPHSH/ESIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NEPH/TOAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NEPHU/SHIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NE'POS (s.) A man's name; a famous biographer.
 NEPTU/NIA (s.) The daughter of Neptune; Thetis.
 NE'REIS (s. in zoology) The stomatea; a genus of insects.
 NER/GALSHARE/ZAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NE'RIO, NERI'ANO (s. in beaten mythology) The wife of Mars.
 NE'RUM (s. in botany) The rose bay.
 NE'RO (s.) A man's name; the name of diverse emperors.
 NER'VA (s.) A man's name; one of the Roman emperors.
 NES'SUS (s.) The name of a Centaur.
 Nest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a nest; the act of taking to a nest.
 Nest'le (v. int. a local word) To discover uneasiness by moving from place to place.
 Nest'ling (s. from the part.) The act of lying close as a bird in a nest.
 NETH'ANEEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Net'maker (s. from net, and maker) One who makes nets.
 Net'making (s. from net, and making) The act or process of making nets.
 NET'OPHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NETOPH'ATHI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Netoph'athite (s. from Netophathi) An inhabitant of Netophathi.
 Net'tling (s. from the part.) The act of irritating.
 NEUROPT'UA (s. in zoology) A genus of insects with membranous wings.
 Newmod'elling (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a new form.
 NEZ/VAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NE/ZIB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 NIB (s. in familiar style) Isabel.
 Nib'bling (s. from the part.) The act of biting by little at a time.
 NIB'SHAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 NICÆ/ARCHUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter of antiquity.

NICEPHORUS

NOCEPHOR'RIUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

NICK'EL (s. in natural history) A kind of mineral substance.

NICK'NAMING (s. from the part.) The act of giving a name in reproach.

NICOM'ACHUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several famous men.

NICOME'DES (s.) A man's name; a king of Bithynia.

NICOPH'ONES (s.) A man's name; a famous painter.

NIG'LING (s. from the part. a local word) The act of trifling.

NIGEL'LA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.

NIGHT'ANGLING (s. from night, and angling) The act or art of angling by night.

NIGHT'FALL (s. from night, and fall) The close of the day, the beginning of night.

NOGID'RIUS (s.) A man's name; a very learned Roman.

NOLE'US (s.) A man's name; one who boasted of his descent from the river Nile.

NOIM (s. in familiar style) Nimrod, a man's name.

NOIM'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.

NOINE (s. from the adj. in poetic style) The Muses, so called from their number.

NOIOBE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Tantalus, who, on account of her pride, was said to have been turned into a stone.

NOIPHE (s.) A woman's name; one of Diana's train.

NOIPPING (s. from the part.) The act of pinching off.

NOIRE'US (s.) A man's name, very beautiful and very effeminate.

NOISA (s.) A woman's name; a shepherdess. Virgil.

NOISUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A man's name, who was said to have been transformed into an hawk.

NOX'II (s. in beathen mythology) The gods who were supposed to strive with the mother in childbirth.

NOX'US (s.) A constellation; Hercules kneeling on his right knee.

NOBS (s. in familiar style) Obadiah.

NO'DAB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

NO'DDING (s. from the part.) The act of inclining the head with a quick motion.

NO'DDY (s. a cant word) A kind of cap; a cap without a caul.

NO'DOS'RIUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the gods of corn.

NO'G (v. t. a local word) To lay bricks between the frames of a timber building.

NO'GAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

NO'GGED (p. from nog, a local word) Fitted up with bricks as the frame of a timber building.

NO'GGING (p. a. from nog) Fitting up the frame of a timber building with bricks.

NO'GGING (s. from the part.) The act of laying bricks between the timber in a wall.

NO'GGIN (p. a. from noise) Making a noise; publishing abroad.

NO'GGIN (s. from the part.) The act of making a noise; the act of publishing abroad.

NO'GOL (s. in familiar style) Oliver.

NO'GINATING (s. from the part.) The act of naming.

NO'GINOR (s. from the Lat. nomen a name) One who chosen or appointed to nominate. Blackstone.

NO'MIUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.

NO'PHYLL'ACES (s.) Athenian magistrates, who were to see the laws executed.

NO'NA (s. a different spelling) Nun, a man's name.

NO'NA (s.) One of the three Deities.

NO'NCONFORM'ING (adj. from non, and conforming) Not conforming, not conforming to the established religion.

NO'NEXPORTATION (s. from non, and exportation) A failure of exportation; a suspension of exportation.

NO'NIMPORTATION (s. from non, and importation) A failure of importation, a suspension of importation.

NO'PLUING (s. from the part.) The act of putting to a plus.

NO'PLUING (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of legal determination by reason of some defect in the proceedings.

NO'PLUING (s. a law term) A neglect.

NO'PLUING (s. from the part.) The act of catching in a net.

NO'PH'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

NOR'mal (s. from the adj.) A perpendicular.

NOR'MAN (s.) A man's name.

NOTCH'ING (s. from the part.) The act of cutting in notches.

NO'TICING (s. from the part.) The act of taking notice.

NO'TIFYING (s. from the part.) The act of signifying by a notification.

NO'tING (p. a. from note) Remarkings, observing, setting down by way of memorandum.

NO'tING (s. from the part.) The act of observing; the act of taking down by way of memorandum.

NOTONEC'TA (s. in the history of insects) The boat fly.

NOUR'ISHING (s. from the part.) The act of affording nourishment.

NOVEL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman consul who could drink three gallons of wine at one pull.

NOY'sANCE (s. an old word) A nuisance.

NU (s.) The thirteenth letter of the Greek alphabet.

NUB'BLING (s. from the part.) The act of beating in a coarse manner.

NUBEC'ULA (s. with physicians) A cloudy substance floating in urine.

NUBIG'ENÆ (s.) The centaurs.

NUD'dLING (s. from the part.) The act of going on carelessly.

NUDIPEDA'LIA (s.) A festival among the ancients, in which all were to appear barefooted.

NUL'lIFYING (s. from the part.) The act of making void.

NUMA (s.) A man's name; the successor of Romulus.

NUM'BERING (s. from the part.) The act of reckoning; the act of counting the number.

NUMB'FISH (s. from numb, and fish) The torpedo.

NUM'bRED (p. an old spelling) Numbered.

NUM'BRING (p. a. an old spelling) Numbering.

NUME'NIUS (s. in ornithology) A genus of birds.

NUME'RIA (s. in beathen mythology) A goddess, who was supposed to give women a speedy delivery.

NUM'ITOR (s.) A man's name; the grandfather of Romulus.

NUMP (s. in familiar style) Humphry.

NUN (s.) The fourteenth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

NUPTIAL'IS (s.) One of the names of Juno.

NURS'LING (s. from the part.) The act of fondling; the act of cherishing.

NUR'tURING (s. from the part.) The act of training up.

NUST'LING (s. from the part.) The act of fondling.

NUZ'ZLING (s. from the part.) The act of going with the nose downwards; the act of feeling out with the mouth.

NYCTE'IS (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Neptuneus.

NYCTE'LIUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.

NYCTE'US (s.) A man's name; the son of Neptune.

NYCTIM'ENE (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Nycteus, who was supposed to have been turned into an owl.

NY'KIN (s. in familiar style) Isaac.

NYMPHAG'ETIS (s.) One of the names of Neptune.

NYMP'PHAS (s.) A man's name. Cell.

NY'S'EUS (s. in beathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.

O.

OAK (s. at cards, but not so common a word) A club, a single card of that suit which is marked with black spots, resembling an oak leaf.

Oaks (s. at cards) Clubs, one of the black suits.

OBDU'cing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing over as a cover.

Obey'ing (s. from the part.) The act of paying obedience.

Objea'ting (s. from the part.) The act of proposing by way of opposition.

Objec'tionable (adj. from objection) Liable to objection.

Obligating

OMB

Obligating (s. from the part.) The act of laying under an obligation.

Obliging (s. from the part.) The act of laying under an obligation.

Obliterating (s. from the part.) The act of blotting out.

Obnubilating (s. from the part.) The act of inducing obscurity.

OBOIH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

Obscuring (s. from the part.) The act of making obscure.

OBSE'QUEUS (s. in heathen mythology) A name of Fortune.

Obsterving (s. from the part.) The act of watching; the act of making observations.

OBSIDIA'NUS (s. in natural history) The obsidian stone.

Obstructing (s. from the part.) The act of hindering.

Obtain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of procuring.

Obtend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing.

Obtest'ed (p. from obtest) Intreated.

Obtest'ing (p. a. from obtest) Intreating, supplicating.

Obtest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of intreating.

Obtrud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imposing; the act of proposing with unreasonable importunity.

Obtrund'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making blunt.

Obvert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning up.

Obviating (s. from the part.) The act of preventing; the act of anticipating an objection so as to render it ineffectual.

OCCA'SIO (s. in the mythology of the poets) The goddess of opportunity.

Oclud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting up.

Occupy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of possessing; the act of following any business.

Occur'ing (s. from the part.) The act of appearing, the act of arising to the memory.

OCEAN'IDES (s.) The nymphs of the sea.

OC'NUS (s.) A man's name; a companion and friend of Aeneas.

OCRE'SIA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Servius.

OCTA'VIA (s.) A woman's name; the name of several Roman ladies.

OCTOGYN'IA (s. in botany, from the Greek οκτω eight, and γυν a female) A genus of plants distinguished by eight pistils.

OCYP'ITE (s.) One of the Harpies.

OCYR'HOE (s.) The daughter of Chiron, supposed to have been transformed into a mare.

ODY'TES (s.) One of the Centaurs.

OEAG'RUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Thrace.

OE'DIPUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Thebes, who murdered his father, married his mother, run distracted, and pulled out his eyes.

OE'NOMAUS (s.) A man's name; a king of Elis, who was overcome by Pelops.

OE'NONE (s.) A nymph of mount Ida.

Offend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving offence.

Officia'rius (s. in old records) An officer of a court.

Officiating (s. from the part.) The act of performing the duties of an office.

OGO'NIUS (s.) One of the names of Bacchus.

OGY'GES (s.) A man's name; an ancient king of Thebes in Boeotia.

O'HUD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

OILE'US (s.) A man's name; the father of Ajax.

Oil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supplying with oil.

Oke (s. an old spelling) An oak. Newman.

O'kers (s.) A kind of ordinary boots. Answorth.

O'd'wife (s.) A kind of fish.

OLIGAE'DRA (s. in natural history) A genus of crystals.

OL'LE (s. plur. of olla) Pots.

OLYMPIOD'ORUS (s.) A man's name; a professor of music.

OLYMP'IIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.

OM'BRE (s. at cards) The person who has the first hand.

Omb'repack (s. from ombre, and pack) The cards after the eights, nines, and tens are thrown out.

ORT

OM'ICRON (s.) The fifteenth letter of the Greek alphabet.

Omit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leaving out.

OM'PHALE (s.) A woman's name; a queen of Lydia with whom Hercules was passionately in love.

O'NAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

One'eyed (adj. from one, and eyed) Having one eye.

On'erating (s. from the part, but not used) The act of loading.

O'NICHIA (s. a different spelling) The onycha.

O'NO (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a city.

ONOMAC'RITUS (s.) A man's name; a fortuneteller of Athens.

ONY'THES (s.) A man's name; a Theban, who took part with Aeneas, and was slain by Turnus.

On'zing (s. from the part.) The act of flowing gently.

OPERA'RIA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Minerva.

Op'e'ating (s. from the part.) The act of working.

OPHE'LIUS (s.) A man's name.

OPHEL'TES (s.) A man's name; the son of Lycus.

OPHIOM'ANCY (s.) The act of divination from serpents.

O'PHION (s.) A man's name; one of the companions of Cadmus.

O'PHIR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

O'PIFER (s.) A name of Apollo.

OPIGE'NA (s.) A title of Juno.

O'PIS (s.) One of Diana's nymphs.

OPH'ULUS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.

OP'PIA (s.) A vestal virgin, who was burnt on suspicion of unchastity.

OPPIA'NUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman poet.

Opp'ignoring (s. from the part.) The act of paying.

Op'pilating (s. from the part.) The act of obstructing.

Oppo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of resisting.

Oppress'ing (s. from the part.) The act of subduing; the act of injuring by unreasonable severity.

O'RA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Romulus.

O'rangeapple (s.) A kind of apple.

ORANOU'TANG (s. in zoology) A species of monkey much resembling the human form.

ORBE'LIUS (s.) A man's name; a severe schoolmaster who lived near a hundred years.

ORBO'NA (s.) A goddess, who was supposed to have power to give children.

ORCA'MUS (s.) A man's name; an Assyrian king who burnt his daughter alive for unchastity.

ORCEL'LE (s. in botany) A species of cladonia.

Ordain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of appointing.

ORDINA'RIUS (s. in old records) An ordinary.

ORDOV'ICES (s. in old geography) The people of Lancashire, Cheshire, and Shropshire.

O'REN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

ORESIT'ROPHOS (s.) One of Aëtion's dogs.

GRES'TES (s.) A man's name; the son of Agamemnon.

Or'ganed (adj. from organ) Furnished with organs.

ORESTI'ADES (s.) The oreata.

Organiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming organically.

ORIB'ASUS (s.) One of Aëtion's dogs.

Originating (s. from the part) The act of rising as an origin.

O'RIGO (s.) A woman's name; an actress and poetess.

O'RIS (s.) An Egyptian divinity.

ORITH'YA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of king of Athens.

Or'nam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with ornaments.

ORO'DES (s.) A man's name; a king of Parthia.

Oro'as'des (s.) The supposed good daemon of the niches.

OROM'EDON (s.) One of the giants who made war with the gods.

ORPH'NE (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the infernal nymphs.

ORPH'NOEUS (s.) One of Pluto's chariot horses.

ORRHOP'GIUM (s. in anatomy) The narrow part of the spine; the rump.

ORSIL'CHUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Iphiclus.

OR'THOEPY (s. from the Greek, orthos right, and epeō speak) The art of speaking with propriety.

ORTHOM'ETRY (s. from the Greek, orthos right, and metron to measure) The laws of verification.

OVE

Ortolan (s. in old records) An orchard, a garden.
 ORYOMETRA (s. in ornithology) A genus of birds.
 OTULUS (s.) A man's name; the grandson of Horatius.
 OUS (s.) One of the names of Apollo; the name of a king of Egypt.
 OUSOPHORIA (adj. from oscophoria) Belonging to the oscophoria.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the Heb.) Joshua.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in ichthyology) A genus of malacopterygious fishes.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 OUSOPHORIA (s.) A high mountain in Thessaly.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. a different spelling) Osmund, a man's name.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of turning to bone.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in heathen mythology) A divinity who was supposed to harden the bones of infants.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. pl. of ostiarius) Door keepers.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the Lat.) A door-keeper in the palace of the Roman emperors.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in old geography) The people of Cornwall.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in old geography) The people of Northumberland.
 OUSOPHORIA (s.) A man's name; a Spartan of invincible courage.
 OUSOPHORIA (s.) A mountain in Thessaly; the seat of the Centaurs and Lapithæ.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the giants who warred against the gods.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. in ornithology) The lesser horned owl.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of abounding too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of doing more than enough.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of covering with an arch.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of keeping in awe by superior influence.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of out-weighing.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of using undue influence.
 OUSOPHORIA (p. a. from overbid) Bidding too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of bidding too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of boiling too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of imposing too heavy a burden.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of burning too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (p. a. from overbuy) Buying too dear.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from overbuy) The act of buying too dear.
 OUSOPHORIA (v. t. pret. of overcome) Did overcome.
 OUSOPHORIA (p. from overcarry) Carried too far.
 OUSOPHORIA (p. a. from overcarry) Carrying too far.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of carrying too far.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of filling too full.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of covering with clouds.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of filling beyond satiety.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the verb) The act of subduing.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of covering all over.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of rating too high.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of doing more than enough; the act of imposing too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of administering too large a portion.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of dressing too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of driving too hard.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of eating too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of overseeing.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of fatiguing too much.
 OUSOPHORIA (s. from the part.) The act of feeding too much.

OVE

Overfilling (s. from the part.) The act of filling too full.
 Overfreight/ing (s. from the part.) The act of loading too deeply.
 Overget/ing (s. from the part.) The act of overtaking.
 Overgo/ing (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing.
 Overgorg/ing (s. from the part.) The act of feeding beyond satiety.
 Overgrow/ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with luxuriant growth.
 Overha/ing (s. from the part.) The act of examining the tackling of a ship.
 Overhang/ing (s. from the part.) The act of jutting out.
 Overhard/ening (s. from the part.) The act of making too hard.
 Overhaul/ing (s. from the part.) The act of loosening an assemblage of tackling.
 Overhear/ing (s. from the part.) The act of hearing what was not intended to be heard.
 Overheat/ing (s. from the part.) The act of heating too much.
 Overhernes'fa (s. in old records) A kind of forfeiture.
 Overjoy/ing (s. from the part.) The act of filling with joy.
 Overlad/ing (s. from the part.) The act of loading too much.
 Overlash/ing (s. from the part.) The act of striking the hinder feet against the fore feet.
 Overlay/ing (s. from the part.) The act of oppressing by too much weight; the act of smothering a child by lying on it.
 Overleap/ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing by a leap.
 Overliv/ing (s. from the part.) The act of surviving.
 Overload/ing (s. from the part.) The act of loading too much.
 Overlook/ing (s. from the part.) The act of overseeing.
 Overmash/ing (s. from the part.) The act of governing.
 Overmatch/ing (s. from the part.) The act of suppressing by superior force.
 Overmix/ing (s. from the part.) The act of mixing with too large a quantity.
 Overname/ing (s. from the part.) The act of calling over by name.
 Overpass/ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing over.
 Overpay/ing (s. from the part.) The act of paying more than due.
 Overply/ing (s. from the part.) The act of plying too closely.
 Overpoil/ing (s. from the part.) The act of outweighing.
 Overpower/ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down by superior power.
 Overpress/ing (s. from the part.) The act of pressing down with superior weight.
 Overpriz/ing (s. from the part.) The act of rating too high.
 Overrack/ed (p. from overrake) Washed from head to stern.
 Overrack/ing (p. a. from overrake) Breaking as a wave from head to stern.
 Overrack/ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking as a wave from head to stern.
 Overrate/ing (s. from the part.) The act of rating too high.
 Overreach/ing (s. from the part.) The act of circumventing.
 Overreck/oning (s. from the part.) The act of reckoning too much.
 Overripen/ing (s. from the part.) The act of getting too ripe.
 Overroast/ing (s. from the part.) The act of roasting too much.
 Overruff (v. t. at cards) To ruff a second time; to ruff the stock over again. Hoyle.
 Overruff/ed (p. from overruff) Ruffed over again.
 Overruff/ing (p. a. from overruff) Ruffing over again.
 Overruff/ing (s. from the part.) The act of ruffing over again.
 Overrule/ing (s. from the part.) The act of governing with too high authority; the act of influencing with superior power.
 Overrun/ning (s. from the part.) The act of spreading all over.
 Overfames'sum (s. in old records) A fine for not pursuing a thief.
 Oversee/ing (s. from the part.) The act of superintending.
 Overshade/ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with shade.

Over.

OUT

Overshad'owing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with shadow; the act of sheltering.

Overshoot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shooting beyond the mark; the act of venturing too far.

Overfiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spreading over with fize.

Overskip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of passing by frequent leaps.

Oversleep'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping too much; the act of sleeping beyond the time.

Overflip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of passing over; the act of neglecting.

Overinow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with snow.

Overispread'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spreading over.

Overstar'ing (s. from the part.) The act of staring too much.

Overstock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of filling too full; the act of laying in too large a stock.

Oversto'ring (s. from the part.) The act of storing with too much.

Overstrain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of straining too much.

Overfway'ing (s. from the part.) The act of overruling.

Overfwell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising above other parts.

Overtak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming up to; the act of taking by pursuit or surprize.

Overtask'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imposing too much labour.

Overtax'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taxing too heavily.

Overthrow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning upside down.

Overtop'ping (s. from the part.) The act of rising above the rest.

Overtrip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of tripping over.

Overturn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of subverting; the act of throwing down.

Overval'uing (s. from the part.) The act of valuing at too high a rate.

Overveil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering as with a veil.

Overvo'ting (s. from the part.) The act of conquering by a majority of votes.

Overwatch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of watching too much.

Overwea'rying (s. from the part.) The act of fatiguing with too much labour.

Overweigh'ing (s. from the part.) The act of outweighing.

Overwhelm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of crushing beneath something violent and weighty.

O'VID (s.) A man's name; one of the smoothest of the Latin poets.

OULOG'ENY (s.) The Russian code or body of laws.

Oranout'ang (s. a different spelling) The oranoutang.

OUS'TERLEMAIN (s. a law term) The delivery of lands out of the hands of a guardian.

Out'ing (p. a. from out) Putting out of possession.

Out'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of possession.

Outa'ct'ed (p. from outa'ct) Outdone, excelled.

Outa'ct'ing (p. a. from outa'ct) Doing beyond, excelling.

Outa'ct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of excelling.

Outbal'ancing (s. from the part.) The act of outweighing.

Outbar'ring (s. from the part.) The act of shutting out as with bars.

Outbid'ding (s. from the part.) The act of bidding a higher price.

Outbra'ving (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down by daring appearances.

Outbra'zening (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in impudence.

Outbrea'thing (s. from the part.) The act of putting out of breath; the act of expiring.

Outcraft'ing (s. from the part.) The act of excelling in craft.

Outda'ring (s. from the part.) The act of excelling in daring appearances.

Outda'ting (s. from the part.) The act of antiquating.

Outdo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of doing beyond others.

Outdwell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of staying beyond the proper time.

OUT

Outerbar'rister (s. a different spelling) An utterbar'rister.

Outfa'cing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down with impudence.

Outfawn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fawning beyond others.

Outfly'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leaving others in flight.

Outfrown'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down by frowns.

Outgiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing in gifts.

Outgrow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing in growth.

Outjest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering with jests.

Outlaw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of the benefit of the laws.

Outleap'ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing by leap.

Outlearn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of learning faster than another.

Outliv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surviving.

Outlook'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down by looks.

Outlust'ing (s. from the part.) The act of excelling in lustre.

Outmarch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leaving behind on a march.

Outmeas'uring (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in measure.

Outnum'bering (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in number.

Outpa'cing (s. from the part.) The act of leaving behind.

Outpas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing.

Outpour'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out.

Outpri'zing (s. from the part.) The act of prizing beyond due value.

Out'raging (s. from the part.) The act of committing outrage.

Outreach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of going beyond.

Outri'ding (s. from the part.) The act of riding faster than another.

Outri'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rising before another.

Outroar'ing (s. from the part.) The act of roaring louder than another.

Outroot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of plucking by the roots.

Outrun'ning (s. from the part.) The act of running faster than another.

Outsail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sailing faster than another.

Outscorn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bearing down by contempt.

Outsel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of selling at dearer price than others.

Outshi'ning (s. from the part.) The act of excelling in lustre.

Outshoot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shooting beyond.

Outsit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sitting beyond the time.

Outsleep'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping beyond the time; the act of sleeping longer than another.

Outspeak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of speaking beyond the time; the act of speaking longer than another.

Outsport'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sporting beyond another.

Outspread'ing (s. from the part.) The act of spreading the act of diffusing.

Outstand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of standing out.

Outsta'ring (s. from the part.) The act of facing down.

Outstretch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stretching out.

Outstrip'ping (s. from the part.) The act of outrunning.

Outswea'ring (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering by oaths.

Outsweet'ening (s. from the part.) The act of excelling in sweetness.

Outtalk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering with words.

Outtong'uing (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering by the noise of the tongue.

PAH

valuing (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in value.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in venom.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in villainy.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in clamour.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of overpowering by a majority of votes.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of surpassing.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of walking faster than others.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of watching beyond the time.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of wearing longer; the act of passing tediously.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of plucking up weeds.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of exceeding in weight.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out a well.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of overcoming by stratagem.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of procuring by violence.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) To carry on a contraband trade; to sculk about with contraband goods.
 over/coming (p. a. from the verb) Sculking about with contraband goods; transporting wool and sheep.
 over/coming (s. from the part.) The act of sculking about with contraband goods; the act of transporting wool and sheep contrary to law.
 over/coming (s. a local word) An ox.
 over/coming (s. in farriery) A kind of spavin; a disease incident to horses.
 over/coming (s.) A river which discharges itself into the Aegean sea.
 over/coming (s.) A man's name; an Indian king.
 over/coming (s. from the Greek, οξυς sharp, and the tonus a tone) A sharp tone; a word or syllable pronounced sharp.
 over/coming (s. an old spelling) Oil.
 over/coming (s. an old spelling) Ointment.
 over/coming (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

P.

gium (s. in old records) A toll for passage through another man's ground.
 am (s. in old records) A pack.
 (s. from the verb) A company or drove of asses.
 ADECARHOM'BIS (s. in natural history) A genus of fish, having a rhomboidal body composed of ten segments.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of appeasing.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of making up in a packet.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of making up in a packet.
 RUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Orodes.
 OLUS (s.) A river in Lydia, which, after Midas washed off his wish, was said to abound with gold.
 VIUS (s.) A man's name; an ancient tragic poet noted for the weight and gravity of his style.
 N (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 (p. from pad) Stuffed, furnished with a pad.
 (p. a. from pad) Stuffing, furnishing with a pad.
 (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a pad.
 (s. from the part.) The act of playing in the water; the act of rowing slowly.
 (s. in familiar style) Margery, a woman's name.
 ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a lock.
 (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Pan.
 (p. from page) Marked with figures to distinguish the pages.
 (p. a. from page) Marking the pages.
 (s. from the part.) The act of marking the pages.
 MOAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

PAP

PAI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Pain'ing (p. a. from pain) Giving pain.
 Pain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving pain.
 Paint'refs (s. from painter) A woman who professes the art of painting. Burney.
 Pair'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting in pairs.
 PA'LAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Pala'tial (adj. from palate) Belonging to the palate; formed as a sound from the palate of the mouth. Kenrick.
 PALAM'EDES (s.) A man's name; he lived in the time of the Trojan war, and discovered the pretended madness of Ulysses.
 PALAN'TO (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Latinus.
 PALA'TUA (s. in heathen mythology) The tutelary goddess of palaces.
 Palfre'dus (s. in old records) A palfrey.
 PAL'ICI (s. in the mythology of the poets) Two sons of Jupiter by Thalia, who were said to be concealed by the earth for the space of ten months; the people of Sicily deified them, and in all controversies swore by their name.
 Palic'ium (s. in old records) A fence of pales.
 Palis'ian (s. from Palilia) Belonging to the Palilia.
 Pal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with pales; a fence of pales.
 PALINU'RUS (s.) A man's name; the pilot of Æneas's ship.
 Palis'ading (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with palisades.
 PALL (s. in rustic style) Mary.
 Pall (v. t. a sea term) To stop.
 Pall (s. from the verb) A stop; a stop made by something falling into the notch of a wheel.
 PALLA'DIUS (s.) A man's name; an old writer on husbandry.
 PALLAN'DA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Evander, ravished by Hercules.
 PALLAN'TIS (s. in heathen mythology) The daughter of Pallas, Aurora.
 PAL/LAS (s.) A man's name; the great grandfather of Evander.
 Pall'ed (p. from pall, a sea term) Stopped; prevented from going round by a catch.
 Pall'et (s. a sea term) The place under the hold of a ship where ballast is laid.
 Pall'iating (s. from the part.) The act of extenuating.
 Pall'ing (p. a. from pall) Stopping.
 Pall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stopping by a catch.
 PAL/LOR (s. in heathen mythology) A god worshipped by the Romans.
 PAL/LU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Palluite (s. from Pallu) A descendant of Pallu.
 PAL/MÆ (s. p. u. of palma) A genus of plants.
 Palme'rian (adj. from Palmyra) Belonging to Palmyra.
 Palme'rian (s. from the adj.) An inhabitant of Palmyra.
 Pal'pitating (s. from the part.) The act of beating at the heart.
 PALTIVEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 PAL'TITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 2 Sam.
 Pal'ius (s. in old records) A pale.
 Pam'pering (s. from the part.) The act of feeding luxuriously.
 Pam'phletting (s. from the part.) The act of writing or publishing pamphlets.
 PAN'DA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Ceres.
 PAN'DARUS (s.) A man's name; a huge Trojan.
 PAN'DION (s.) A man's name; the father of Philomela and Progne.
 Pandoxa'tor (s. in old records) A brewer.
 Pandoxato'rium (s. in old records) A brewhouse.
 Pan'durated (adj. in botany) Having a leaf in the form of the pandore.
 PAN/NAG (s.) An article of commerce. Exod. 27. 17.
 PANOM'PHÆUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
 PAN'OPE (s.) A sea-nymph, the supposed daughter of Nereus and Doris.
 PAN'OPES (s.) A man's name; an attendant on A-cetes.
 PAN'THEUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Otreus, and priest of Apollo.
 PANTHOI'DES (s.) A man's name; the son of Pantheus.
 Pa'pering (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with paper; the act of covering with paper.
 PA'PHIAN (s.) A man's name; a famous lawyer in the reign of Severus.

Par'agraphing

P A T

Par'agraphing (p. a. from paragraph) Dividing into paragraphs.
Par'agraphing (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into paragraphs.
PA'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Yesh. 18.
Par'alleling (p. a. from parallel) Making parallel.
Par'alleling (s. from the part.) The act of making parallel.
PARALLELOPIPE'DIA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.
Paralogizing (s. from the part.) The act of arguing sophistically.
PARAME'CIA (s. in zoology) A genus of animalcules without any visible limbs or tail.
Par'aphrasing (s. from the part.) The act of interpreting with latitude of expression.
PARAREN'CHUS (s.) A man's name; one who used to feign himself asleep in favour of his wife's gallants.
Par'boiling (s. from the part.) The act of boiling in part.
Par'celling (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in a parcel.
Parch'edness (s. from parched) The state of being parched.
Parch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drying up.
Parch'ingness (s. from parching) The state of being parched.
Par'doning (s. from the part.) The act of forgiving; the act of remitting punishment.
PAREM'BOLE (s. from the Greek, παρα θρονον, and παλλω to throw) A figure in rhetoric in which a clause relating to the subject is thrown into the middle of a period.
PARETO'NIUM (s. in natural history) A kind of earth used by the ancients in painting.
Par'geting (s. from the part.) The act of plastering; the act of plastering with parget.
PAR'IS (s.) A man's name; the son of Priam, who stole Helen, the wife of Menelaus, which was the occasion of the Trojan war, and the destruction of that city.
Park'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing in a park.
Par'lement (s. an uncommon spelling) A parliament.
Par'leying (s. from the part.) The act of holding a parley.
PARMASH'TA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PARME'NIO (s.) A man's name; a commander under Alexander.
PAR'NACH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Part'ed (p. from part) Divided, put asunder.
PARTHA'SIUS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter who contended with Zeuxis, and gained the prize.
PARTHENOPÆ'US (s.) A man's name; the son of Meleager.
PARTHEN'OPE (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the Sirens.
PARTHE'NOS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Minerva.
Partic'ipating (s. from the part.) The act of partaking with others.
Particularizing (s. from the part.) The act of pointing out in a particular manner.
Partit'ioning (s. from the part.) The act of making a partition.
Par'tridgehawking (s. from partridge, and hawking) The act or diversion of catching partridges with a hawk.
Par'tridgenet (s. from partridge, and net) A net for catching partridges.
PAR'VAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
PA'SACH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Pasca'ra (s. in old records) A meadow; a pasture ground.
PASDAM'MIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Pash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of crushing by a violent blow.
PASIPH'AE (s.) A woman's name; the wife of Minos.
PASITA'LES (s.) A man's name; a famous engraver among the Greeks.
PASITH'EA (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the three Graces.
Pa'sted (p. from paste) Done with paste.
Pa'sting (p. a. from paste) Fixing with paste.
Pa'sting (s. from the part.) The act of fixing with paste.
Pa'sturing (s. from the part.) The act of feeding on pasture; the act of furnishing with pasture.
PAT (s. in familiar style) Martha.
PAT'AHH (s.) One of the Hebrew points; it answers to A long.
Patch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mending with patches; the act of covering with patches.

P E N

PATHRU'SIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PATELI'NA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to have presided over the ear after it was got out of the blade.
PATRO'BAS (s.) A man's name.
PATRO'BES (s.) A man's name; a troublesome neighbour to the poet Martial.
PATRO'CLUS (s.) A man's name; a valiant Grecian the Trojan war.
PATRO'L (v. t.) To pass through; to go round a way of guard.
Patrol'led (p. from patrol) Passed through; passed round by way of guard.
Patroll'ing (s. from the part.) The act of passing round by way of guard.
Patronizing (s. from the part.) The act of supporting a patron.
Patro'nus (s. in old records) A patron, one who has the presentation to a benefice.
Pat'tering (s. from the part.) The act of striking with small repeated knocks.
Pat'ting (s. from the part.) The act of striking with soft blow.
PAT'TY (s. the diminutive of) Martha.
PATU'LEIUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter.
Pavilioning (p. a. from pavilion) Providing with tents.
Pavilioning (s. from the part.) The act of providing with tents.
Paunch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of piercing bowels.
PA'VOR (s. in heathen mythology) The god of fear.
PAUSA'NIAS (s.) A man's name; a commander of the Lacedemonians.
PAU'SIAS (s.) A man's name; a famous painter.
Pauf'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making pause.
Pawn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting pawn.
Payee' (s. from pay) The person to whom a bill of exchange is payable.
PE (s.) The seventeenth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.
Peak'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of looking meagre.
Peal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of assailing with noise; the act of playing long and loud.
Peck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of picking up the bill; the act of striking as fowls with repeated blows.
PE'DAHIEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Pe'dale (s. in old records) A foot cloth.
PE'DIUS (s.) A man's name; one who was expelled the Roman senate for embezzling public money.
PE'DO (s.) A man's name; an heroic poet.
PEE'BLES (s.) A county or district in Scotland (ends one member to parliament).
PEE'VIT (s. in ornithology) The black-cap; the lark.
Peg'ging (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with peg.
PE'KOD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
PEL (s. in familiar style) Peregrine, a man's name.
PELAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PELALI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PE'LET (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PE'LETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PELI'DES (s.) A man's name; the son of Peloponides.
PE'LOHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people.
PELO'PEA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Theseus.
PELOP'IDAS (s.) A man's name; a noble Theban delivered his country from the oppression of the Lacedemonians.
Pelt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing small stones.
PEN (s. a contraction of) Penelope.
Pen'ciling (s. from the part.) The act of delineating a pencil.
Pen'etrating (s. from the part.) The act of entering beyond the surface.
PENIN'NAH (s. from the Heb.) A woman's name.
Pen'ning (s. from the part.) The act of composing a manuscript; the act of inclosing in a pen.
Pen'sioning (s. from the part.) The act of gratifying a pension.
PENTAHEDROS'TYLA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.

PENTELAS/MIS (s. in ichthyology) A kind of shell fish, the triton.
Penult (s. from penultima) The last syllable but one.
Peopling (s. from the part.) The act of stocking with inhabitants.
Peppering (s. from the part.) The act of sprinkling with pepper.
Perambulating (s. from the part.) The act of walking about.
PER/AZIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain.
Perceiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discovering by some sensible effects.
Perch'ing (s. from perch, and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for perch.
Perch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing on a perch; the act of sitting on a perch.
Percolating (s. from the part.) The act of separating by a strainer.
PER/OCCAS (s.) A man's name; one of Alexander's captains and favourites.
Perennial (s. from the adj.) A plant that lives many years.
PERRES (s. from the Heb.) A part of the handwriting on the wall, denouncing vengeance on Belshazzar.
PERRESH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PERREZ (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PEREZUZZA (s. from the Heb.) signifying the breach of Uzzah The name of the place where Uzzah was struck dead.
PERFECTA (s.) One of the names of Juno.
Perf'ecting (s. from the part.) The act of making perfect.
Perf'ectist (s. from perfect) One who holds perfection; one who pretends to perfection.
Perf'rating (s. from the part.) The act of blowing through.
Perforating (s. from the part.) The act of boring through.
Perform'ing (s. from the part.) The act of accomplishing; the act of performing a part.
Perfricating (s. from the part.) The act of rubbing over.
Perfuming (s. from the part.) The act of communicating an agreeable scent.
Perfusing (s. from the part.) The act of overspreading.
PER/ICLES (s.) A man's name; a wife and great statesman.
PERICLYMENES (s.) A man's name; the brother of Nestor, who, as the poets say, had power to transform himself into any shape.
PERIDA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PERIMEDE (s.) A woman's name; a sorceress.
PERIMELE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Hippodamus, who was supposed to have been turned into an island of the same name in the Aegean sea.
PERINTHUS (s. in old geography) The metropolis of Thrace.
Perinthian (adj. from Perinthus) Belonging to Perinthus.
Periphrasis (s. from the part.) The act of expressing by a circumlocution.
Perishing (s. from the part.) The act of decaying; the act of dying.
Perjuring (s. from the part.) The act of swearing falsely.
Periwigging (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in a periwig.
Perking (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.
PER/IZZITE (s. from the Heb.) One of the ancient people in the land of Canaan.
Permeating (s. from the part.) The act of oozing through.
PERMENAS (s.) A man's name.
Permitting (s. from the part.) The act of suffering; the act of allowing.
Permuting (s. from the part.) The act of exchanging.
PERPENNA (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
Perpetrating (s. from the part.) The act of doing in an ill sense.
Perpetuating (s. from the part.) The act of making perpetual.
Perplex'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rendering perplexed.
Persecuting (s. from the part.) The act of pursuing with malignity; the act of punishing for the sake of religion or opinion.
PERSEPHONE (s.) The daughter of Jupiter and Ceres.
PERSES (s.) A man's name; a King of Macedon.
Persevering (s. from the part.) The act of persisting in a design.
Persevering (s. from the part.) The act of persevering.
PERSTUS (s.) A man's name; a very learned Roman.

Personating (s. from the part.) The act of representing by an assumed character.
Personifying (s. from the part.) The act of speaking of a thing as though it were a person.
Peripir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of emitting by the pores of the skin.
Persuad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of influencing by persuasion.
PERTUN'DA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the nuptial goddesses.
PERTUS/SIS (s. with physicians) The chinough.
Pervad'ing (s. from the part.) The act of penetrating; the act of penetrating through.
PER/UDA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; Berid.
Peruk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in a periwig.
Peru'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reading over with some attention.
PESINUN/TIA (s.) One of the names of Cybele.
Pest'ering (s. from the part.) The act of harassing.
Pes'til (s. an old spelling) A pestle.
PETHAH/IAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PE'THOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Petit'ioning (s. from the part.) The act of intreating; the act of presenting a petition.
PETREI/US (s.) A man's name; one of Pompey's commanders.
PETRID/IA (s. in natural history) A genus of serapi.
Petrifying (s. from the part.) The act of turning into stone.
PETRONI/US (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
PEI/TREL (s. in ornithology) The storm bird.
Pettywillien (s. in botany) The name of an herb; the verbesum.
PEUL/THAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Pew'ing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with news.
PHAE'DIMUS (s.) A man's name; one famous for swiftness in running.
PHAE'DON (s.) A man's name; a scholar of Socrates.
PHA/ETHON (s. a correct spelling) Phaeton.
PHAETHU/SA (s.) The eldest sister of Phaeton.
PHALAN'THUS (s.) A man's name; a Lacedaemonian, who with others left his country and settled in Italy.
PHALAR/US (s.) A man's name; one who had an imposthume, and desiring death, went to the enemies camp, and there received a wound by which he was cured.
PHAL/THEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PHA/RES (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PHAR/NACES (s.) A man's name; the son of Mithridates king of Pontus, who was so speedily defeated by Ciesar, that he wrote an account of it in these three words, "veni, vidi, vici."
PHA/ROSH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PHA/SEAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PHASSACHA/TES (s. in natural history) A kind of seate.
PHE (s. a different spelling) Pe, the seventeenth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.
PHE/GEUS (s.) A man's name.
PHENO/NOE (s. in the mythology of the poets) The daughter of Apollo, who is said to have been the inventress of heroic verse.
PHIR/SETH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
PHI/DAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PHID/YLE (s.) A country woman.
PHIL (s. a contraction of) Philip; Phillis.
PHILAE/NI (s.) Two Carthaginian brothers who chose rather to be buried alive than that their country should not enjoy its just bounds.
PHIL/EBERT (s.) A man's name.
PHILE/NIS (s.) A woman's name; a vile prostitute.
PHILE/TES (s.) A man's name; an elegiac poet.
PHILODE/MUS (s.) A man's name; an epicurean philosopher.
PHILOME/DA (s.) One of the names of Venus.
PHILOME/LUS (s.) A man's name; a rich musician.
Philosophizing (s. from the part.) The act of enquiring into the causes and effects of things.
PHILO/TIS (s.) A woman's name; a maid servant at Rome, who being in the hand of the enemy gave a signal when the soldiers were drunk by which means they were defeated; for this service the maid servants of Rome were made free and had portions allowed them on their marriage out of the public treasury.

PIN

- PHILOXENUS (s.) A man's name; a gourmandizer of antiquity who wished his neck as long as that of a crane, that he might have the greater pleasure in eating.
- PHILYRA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
- PHILYRIDES (s.) A man's name; the music master to Achilles.
- PHLOGISTIC (adj. from the Greek φλογίζω to burn) Aduſt, burnt; promoting inflammation.
- PHLOGISTON (s. from the Greek) That which causes inflammation, that which flies off in burning; a kind of aduſt air emitted from burning bodies.
- PHOBETOR (s. in beaten mythology) The ſon of Somnus.
- PHOCUS (s.) A man's name; the ſon of Æacus.
- PHOCYLIDES (s.) A man's name; an ancient poet.
- PHOEBAS (s.) The prieſteſs who delivered the oracles of Apollo.
- PHOEBIGENA (s.) The ſon of Phœbus, Eſculapius.
- PHOENIX (s.) A man's name; the ſon of Cadmus.
- PHOLUS (s.) A man's name; the ſon of Ixion.
- PHORBAS (s.) A man's name; the oldeſt ſon of king Priam.
- PHORCYNIS (s.) Meduſa.
- PHORMIO (s.) A man's name; a peripatetic philoſopher.
- PHORONEUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Argives.
- PHRAATES (s.) A man's name; a king of the Parthians.
- Phraſing (s. from the part.) The act of ſtyling; the act of terming.
- PHRYGANEA (s. in zoology) A genus of inſects.
- PHRYNE (s.) A woman's name; A beautiful courtezan of Athens.
- PHRYXUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Helle.
- PHUT (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- PHUVAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- PHYGELIUS (s.) A man's name. 2 Tim.
- Phyſicing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with medicine.
- PI (s.) The ſixteenth letter of the Greek alphabet.
- PICEA (s. in botany) A kind of pine.
- PICEASTER (s. in botany) A kind of wild pine.
- Pickling (s. from the part.) The act of preſerving in pickle.
- Picſel (s.) A ſmall parcel of land; a little cloſe. ſinſ.
- Picturing (s. from the part.) The act of painting; the act of repreſenting in picture.
- PICUMNUS (s. in beaten mythology) A demi god who was ſaid to have taught the art of manuring land.
- Piece (s. at cheſs) A man more valuable than common men.
- Piecing (s. from the part.) The act of joining; that which is joined.
- Piedcoat (s. from pied, and coat) The name of a dog, Patch.
- PIEPOUDRE (s. a law term, ſuppoſed to be from the old French pied poldreaux a pedlar) The court of piepowder.
- Pierceſtone (s. in botany) A kind of paſſley, the ſtone paſſley.
- Pigging (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth pigs.
- Pigiron (s. from pig, and iron) Iron as melted in large lumps from the ore.
- Piglead (s. from pig, and lead) Lead in large lumps.
- Pigmetal (s. from pig, and metal) Metal in large lumps.
- Pikefiſhing (s. from pike, and fiſhing) The act or diverſion of fiſhing for pike.
- Pitchardfiſhing (s. from pitchard, and fiſhing) The act or diverſion of fiſhing for pitchards.
- PILDASH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- PILEAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Piling (s. from the part.) The act of ſecuring with piles.
- Pilſaging (s. from the part.) The act of plundering.
- Pilſing (s. from the part.) The act of pillaging.
- Pilſowing (s. from the part.) The act of laying on a pillow.
- PILOMNUS (s. in beaten mythology) One of the gods of corn.
- Piloting (s. from the part.) The act of guiding a ſhip into or out of the harbour.
- PILTAL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Pimping (s. from the part.) The act of doing the office of a pimp.
- PINACIA (s. in antiquity) A kind of baſilot by which the members of the Areopagus were choſen.

PLU

- PINAREII (s. in beaten mythology) The inferior prieſts of Hercules.
- PINCESPIRAL (s. in clockwork) The notch or guide which regulates the ſpring of the balance.
- Pin'got (s. a local word) A ſmall incloſure adjoining to a houſe.
- Pin'ioning (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of the firſt joint of the wing; the act of conſigning.
- Pinning (s. from the part.) The act of faſtening with a pin.
- PI'NON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Pi'per (s. in ichthyology) A ſpecies of trigla.
- Pique (s. at pique) The number ſixty.
- Piqueting (s. from the part.) The act of placing on the piquet.
- PI'RAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Pi'rating (s. from the part.) The act of robbing on the ſea; the act of ſeizing on another man's copy.
- PISISTRATUS (s.) A man's name; an eloquent and learned Athenian.
- PI'SO (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman.
- PIS'PAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
- Pis'sed (p. from piſs) Voided as urine.
- Pis'sing (s. from the part.) The act of voiding urine.
- Piſt (s. a different ſpelling) The piſte, the tread of a managed horſe.
- Piſtoling (s. from the part.) The act of ſhooting with a piſtol.
- Pitch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ſmearing over with pitch.
- PITHODEMUS (s.) A man's name; a famous writer.
- PITHOLEON (s.) A man's name; a Rhodian poet.
- PI'THON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man; the name of a city.
- PITTHEUS (s.) A man's name; the ſon of Pelops.
- Pit'ying (s. from the part.) The act of compaſſionating.
- PLACAGNOSCIE'RIA (s. in natural hiſtory) A genus of ſpars.
- Pla'cating (s. from the part.) The act of appeaſing.
- Pla'guing (s. from the part.) The act of vexing; the act of tormenting.
- Plain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making level.
- Plaiſ'tering (s. from the part, but not ſo correct a ſpelling) The act of plaſtering.
- Plan'ifiſhing (s. from the part.) The act of poliſhing.
- Plank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying wide planks.
- Plat'ing (p. a. from plate) Beating into plates, furniſhing with plates.
- Plat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of heating into plates; the act of furniſhing with plates.
- Plat'ing (p. a. from plat) Interweaving.
- Plat'ting (s. from the part.) The act of interweaving.
- Plench'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bending to make a fence.
- Plen'ing (s. from the part.) The act of gratifying.
- Plen'uring (s. from the part.) The act of giving pleaſure.
- ELECTRONITÆ (s. in natural hiſtory) A genus of foſſil teeth.
- Pledgee (s. from pledge) One to whom a pledge is given.
- Pledg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in pawn.
- Pledgior (s. a law term, from pledge) One who gives a pledge.
- PLENAURIS (s.) A woman's name; a daughter of Atlas.
- Plight'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving in pawn.
- Plough'beam (s. from plough, and beam) The principal timber of a plough.
- Plough'bolſter (s. from plough, and bolſter) That part of a wheelplough on which the end of the beam is made.
- Plough'bote (s. from plough, and bore) Timber making or repairing ploughs.
- Plough'iron (s. from plough, and iron) The plough ſhare.
- Plough'men (s. plu. of ploughman) More than one ploughman.
- Plough'pillow (s. from plough, and pillow) The plough bolſter.
- Plough'pin (s. from plough, and pin) The pin which faſſens the chain by which a wheelplough is drawn.
- Pluck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pulling with ſome degree of violence.
- Plug'ging (s. from the part.) The act of ſtopping with a plug.

Plumb'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sounding the depth by a plumb line.
Pluck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of plucking the feathers, the act of adjusting the feathers.
Plump'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making plump.
PLUMULE (s. in botany) The small downy membrane of the grain or seed of a plant.
Plunder'ing (s. from the part.) The act of robbing.
Plung'ing (s. from the part.) The act of keeping in action.
POCHERETH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PODALIRIUS (s.) A man's name; the son of Esculapius.
Pod'ing (s. from the part.) The act of generating pods.
POEMENIS (s.) One of Aëtion's dogs.
Poetiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of writing like a poet.
Poist'ing (s. at piquet) That which is counted in hand.
Poison'ing (s. from the part.) The act of infecting by poison; the act of destroying by poison.
Poiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of weighing.
POL (s. in familiar style) Mary.
OLAE DRASTYLA (s. in natural history) A genus of crystals.
Pole (s. in weaving) That which constitutes the pile in flag or velvet.
Poller'ell (s. from pole, and roll) The roller on which the weaver winds his pole.
Po'ling (p. a. from pole) Furnishing with poles.
Po'ling (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with poles.
POLITES (s.) A man's name; the son of Priam and Hecuba.
Poll'ock (s. in ichthyology) The codfish; the whiting.
Pollut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defiling.
POLLY (s. the diminutive of Pol) Mary.
POLYÆNUS (s.) A man's name; a Macedonian writer on the military art.
POLYCARP (s.) A man's name; a disciple of John the Evangelist and bishop of Smyrna.
POLYDECTES (s.) A man's name; he was turned into a stone, as the poets say, at the sight of Medusa's head.
POLYIDUS (s.) A man's name; a Corinthian footballer.
POLYMNES'TOR (s.) A man's name; a king of Thrace.
POLYPHON'TES (s.) A man's name.
POLYX'O (s.) A woman's name; a priestess of Apollo, who advised the Lemnian women to kill the men who had taken Thracian wives.
Pom'eling (s. from the part.) The act of beating in a coarse manner.
OMPO'NIA (s.) A woman's name, the mother of Scipio.
OMPO'NIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
ONDA'GIUM (s. in old records) Poundage.
On'dering (s. from the part.) The act of considering closely.
On'arding (s. from the part.) The act of stabbing with a poniard.
Onth'ician (s. from pontiff) A papist, as distinguished from a protestant. Burnham.
Oogh (interj.) Implying slight contempt.
Op'ing (s. from the part.) The act of letting a small part.
Opul'ating (s. from the part.) The act of stocking with people.
Oracional'ius (s. in old records) A partner in an ecclesiastical benefice.
Ork'ing (s. from the part.) The act of feeding for pork.
OROTHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ortcul'ising (s. from the part.) The act of fortifying with a portcullis.
ortend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of foreboding.
Ort'ioning (s. from the part.) The act of parcelling out.
ORTIUS (s.) A man's name.
Ortray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing to the life.
ORUS (s. in natural history) A kind of fossil coral.
Orwig'le (s.) The tadpole. Johnson.
Orw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to a stand.
Orw'ising (s. from the part.) The act of occupying; the act of influencing by an unaccountable operation.
Orw'um (s.) The opossum.
Orw'illing (s. from the part.) The act of illustrating with marginal notes.
Orw'ing (p. a. from post) Placing, stationing, exposing by public advertisement.
Orw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing in a particular station; the act of exposing by public advertisement.

Postpo'ning (s. from the part.) The act of putting off to some future time.
Postulat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of assuming without proof.
Po'thering (s. from the part.) The act of bustling; the act of wearying one's self to little purpose.
Pot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drinking.
Pouch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in a pouch.
Poul'ticing (s. from the part.) The act of applying a poultice.
Poun'ing (p. a. from pounce) Piercing, perforating, sprinkling with pounce.
Poun'ing (s. from the part.) The act of piercing, the act of sprinkling with pounce.
Pound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating, the act of grinding with a pestle, the act of shutting up, the act of impounding.
Pour'ing (s. from the part.) The act of emptying, the act of emitting with a continued stream.
Poy'son (s. an old spelling) Poison.
Pract'ising (s. from the part.) The act of doing, the act of using, the act of making trials on any thing.
PRÆSE/PE (s. in astronomy) A constellation; the nebulous stars in the neck of Cancer.
PRÆ/STES (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter, one of the names of Minerva.
Prai'sing (s. from the part.) The act of commending; the act of celebrating in worship; the act of setting the value.
Frank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.
Pray'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supplicating.
Precaution'ing (s. from the part.) The act of warning beforehand.
Prece'ding (s. from the part.) The act of going before.
Precip'itating (s. from the part.) The act of hastening; the act of throwing headlong; the process in which any thing is thrown to the bottom in chymical operations.
Preclu'ding (s. from the part.) The act of shutting out by a kind of anticipation.
Precog'itating (s. from the part.) The act of thinking beforehand.
Preconceiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conceiving beforehand.
Preconsign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of consigning beforehand.
Precontract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of contracting beforehand.
Predest'inating (s. from the part.) The act of appointing beforehand.
Predeter'mining (s. from the part.) The act of determining beforehand.
Predic'ating (s. from the part.) The act of affirming something of a subject.
Predic'ing (s. from the part.) The act of foretelling.
PREDILEC'TION (s. from the Lat. præ before, and diligo to love) A prior engagement of the affections; a prepossession in favour of any thing.
Predispo'ncency (s. from predisponent) Predisposedness, a prior disposition.
PREDISPO'NENT (adj. from the Lat. præ before, and dispoño to dispose) Predisposing, disposing by some prior influence.
Predispo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disposing beforehand.
Predom'inating (s. from the part.) The act of having the ascendancy.
Preelect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of choosing by a predetermination.
Preenga'ing (s. from the part.) The act of engaging beforehand.
Preetab'lishing (s. from the part.) The act of settling beforehand.
Preexist'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of existing before.
Pre'acing (s. from the part.) The act of introducing by way of preface.
Prefer'ring (s. from the part.) The act of regarding one above another, the act of advancing to office.
Prefig'uring (s. from the part.) The act of exhibiting by antecedent representation, the act of pointing out beforehand by some type or figure.
Prefix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of limiting beforehand.
Prefix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of appointing beforehand; the act of putting before something else.

Presumpting (s. from the part.) The act of forming beforehand.

Prejudging (s. from the part.) The act of judging beforehand.

Prejudicating (s. from the part.) The act of prejudging.

Prejudicing (p. a. from prejudice) Filling with prejudices.

Prejudicing (s. from the part.) The act of filling with prejudices.

Preluding (s. from the part.) The act of exhibiting in prelude.

Premeditating (s. from the part.) The act of thinking beforehand.

Premetting (s. from the part.) The act of deserving beforehand.

Premising (s. from the part.) The act of laying down premises.

Premontishing (s. from the part.) The act of admonishing beforehand.

Premontirating (s. from the part.) The act of shewing beforehand.

Prenominating (s. from the part.) The act of naming beforehand.

Preoccupying (s. from the part.) The act of occupying beforehand.

Pronominating (s. from the part.) The act of prognosticating; the act of foreboding by omens.

Preordaining (s. from the part.) The act of ordaining beforehand.

Preparing (s. from the part.) The act of making ready.

Preponderating (s. from the part.) The act of outweighing.

Prepondering (s. from the part.) The act of outweighing.

Prepossessing (s. from the part.) The act of filling with prejudices.

Prerequiring (s. from the part.) The act of requiring beforehand.

Presaging (s. from the part.) The act of foreboding.

Prescind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off.

Prescribing (s. from the part.) The act of directing.

Presentiating (s. from the part.) The act of making present.

Presenting (s. from the part.) The act of placing in the presence of a superior; the act of giving; the act of levelling a musket.

Preserving (s. from the part.) The act of keeping from injury; the act of seasoning with sugar or pickle.

Presiding (p. a. from preside) Superintending, sitting at the head.

Presiding (s. from preside) The act of superintending.

Presuming (s. from the part.) The act of taking upon presumption; the act of entering without leave.

Presupposing (s. from the part.) Supposing beforehand.

Pretending (s. from the part.) The act of counterfeiting; the act of making pretences.

Pretypifying (s. from the part.) The act of signifying beforehand in types or figures.

Prevailing (s. from the part.) The act of having influence; the act of overcoming.

Prevaricating (s. from the part.) The act of quibbling; the use of prevarication.

Preventing (s. from the part.) The act of hindering; the act of obstruction; the act of going before.

Preying (s. from the part.) The act of feeding by violence; the act of plundering.

Prick'ing (s. from the part.) The act of piercing with a sharp point; a sharp, sudden pain.

Priding (s. from the part.) The act of rating one's self too high.

Priming (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up.

Prinking (s. from the part.) The act of dressing up in finery.

PRIS (s. a contraction of) Priscilla.

Prisoning (s. from the part.) The act of confining in prison.

Privileging (s. from the part.) The act of investing with some immunities.

Prizing (s. from the part.) Valuing at a price, esteeming, valuing at a high price.

Prizing (s. from the part.) The act of setting a price; the act of valuing at a high price.

Probing (s. from the part.) The act of searching with a probe.

Proclaiming (s. from the part.) The act of publishing by proclamation.

Procrastinating (s. from the part.) The act of delaying.

Procreating (s. from the part.) The act of producing by generation.

PROCU'LEIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman of the equestrian rank.

Procuting (s. from the part.) The act of obtaining.

Producing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forward; the act of bringing forth; the act of generating.

Profaning (p. a. from profane) Violating any thing sacred.

Profaning (s. from the part.) A violation of any thing sacred.

Professing (s. from the part.) The act of declaring publicly.

Proffering (s. from the part.) The act of proposing, the act of offering.

Profiling (s. from the part.) The act of representing in profile.

Prognosticating (s. from the part.) The act of predicting.

Prohibiting (s. from the part.) The act of forbidding.

Projecting (s. from the part.) The act of shooting forward; the act of trying schemes.

Prologuing (p. a. from prologue) Introducing by way of prologue.

Prolong'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lengthening out.

Promoting (s. from the part.) The act of forwarding, the act of setting forward.

Prompting (s. from the part.) The act of assisting by private instruction; the act of instigating.

Promulgating (s. from the part.) The act of publishing.

Promulging (s. from the part.) The act of promulgating, the act of publishing to the world.

Pronounc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of uttering; the act of speaking.

PROPHETIDES (s. in the mythology of the poets) The first prostitutes, who were supposed to have been turned into stone.

Propagating (s. from the part.) The act of generating, the act of carrying from place to place; the act of increasing.

Propelling (s. from the part.) The act of driving forward.

Propend'ing (p. a. from propend) Leaning forward; leaning towards anything.

Propend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclining, the act of leaning forward.

Propitiating (s. from the part.) The act of rendering propitious.

Proportionating (s. from the part.) The act of adjusting according to proportion.

Proportioning (s. from the part.) The act of adjusting to due proportion.

Proposing (s. from the part.) The act of offering to consideration.

Propounding (s. from the part.) The act of proposing for consideration.

Prop'ing (s. from the part.) The act of supporting by prop.

Propugn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defending.

Proquing (s. from the part.) The act of putting off to some distant period.

Proscribing (s. from the part.) The act of dooming to destruction.

Prosecuting (s. from the part.) The act of pursuing; the act of proceeding by legal process.

Prote'lying (s. from the part.) The act of making prote'lytes.

Prospering (s. from the part.) The act of making prosperous.

Prostituting (s. from the part.) The act of exposing to vile terms.

Protect'rate (s. from protector) The office or dignity of a protector.

Protrac'ing (s. from the part.) The act of stretching out.

PROTESILAUS (s.) A man's name; a Grecian captain slain by Hector.

Protesting (s. from the part.) The act of making a solemn declaration.

Protract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lengthening out.

Protru'ding (s. from the part.) The act of thrusting forward.

Providing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing beforehand.

PROVISOR (s. a law term) One who has a provision from the pope to present to an ecclesiastical living.

Provoking (s. from the part.) The act of irritating; the act of stirring up anger.

Prowl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of roving about in quest of prey; the act of roving about with no other intention.

PRU (s. a contraction of) Prudence, a woman's name.

PRU'Y (s. the diminutive of) Prudence, a woman's name.

PRUCE (s. an old word) Something costly; a valuable piece of furniture.

P Y R

Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of inspecting off-clearly.
SAM'ATHE (s. in the mythology of the poets) A woman's name; a nymph, the daughter of Nereus; a hill and fountain of Boeotia.
SEUDOPATRON (s. from the Greek seudes, false, and patron) One who presents to an ecclesiastical benefice without due right.
PTER'ARIA (s. with naturalists) The several species of insects which are furnished with wings.
PY'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PUBLICOLA (s.) A man's name; one of the first consuls of Rome after the expulsion of the kings.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of making public.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing up in folds; that which is drawn up in folds.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of polluting with dirt.
PY'HITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron.
PY'LEAN (s. in botany) The name of an herb.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of crying like a chick.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of budding; the act of shooting out.
Pyrrhizing (adj. from pulpit, a droll word) Belonging to the pulpit, suited to the style of the pulpit.
Pyrrhizing (adv. a droll word from pulpit) In the manner or style of the pulpit. L. Chesterfield.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to powder.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of smoothing with a pumice stone.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of perforating by means of a punch.
Pyrrhizing (adj. from Poeni) Belonging to Carthage.
Pyrrhizing (s. from the part.) The act of chastising; the act of inflicting punishment.
PY'NITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Num. 26.
PY'NKA (s. in botany) A kind of fungus often used for tin-der.
PY'NTO (s. at quadrille) The ace of hearts or diamonds.
PY'PIENUS (s.) A man's name; one of the Roman em-perors.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth wheeps.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of bringing forth puppies.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of making a purchase.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with a border.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of stealing.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of making of a purple colour.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of intending.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of intending, the act of resolving.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a purse; the act of contracting like a purse.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of following.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of procuring, the act of providing viuals.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of thrusting; the act of pressing with continued violence.
PY'OT (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
PY'OTRIUS (s. in zoology) The polecat.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of placing.
Pyrring (s. a sea term) A small shroud united to those that are larger.
Pyrring (s. a sea term) A puttock, a small kind of shroud united to the larger.
Pyrring (s. from the part.) The act of overlaying with putty.
Pyrring (s. from the part) The act of perplexing.
PY'GARGUS (s. in ornithology) The name of a bird, a kind of hawk.
PY'GMEI (s. in fabulous geography) The pigmies.
PY'GMALION (s.) A man's name, the son of Belus, king of Tyre.
PY'ACMON (s.) One of the Cyclops.
PY'ADES (s.) A man's name; the first who was said to strike fire out of a flint.
PY'GOTE/LES (s.) A man's name; an excellent engraver of precious stones.
PY'RICULUM (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, the pyrites.
PY'RIOT (s. a local word) A magpie.
PY'RHLEGETHON (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the infernal rivers.
PY'RHILACIS (s. in natural history) A genus of pyrites.

R A D

PYRIPOLIGONIUM (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, consisting of twelve planes.
PYRITRICHIPHYLLUM (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils, a kind of pyrites.
PYRITRICUM (s. in natural history) A kind of pyrites.
PYROCTOGONICUM (s. in natural history) The pyrites.
PYRO'IS (s. in the mythology of the poets) One of the horses of the Sun.
PYROMETER (s. from the Greek pyro, fire, and metron to measure) An instrument to measure the different degrees of heat in fire.
PYTHE'US (s.) A man's name, a king of Bithynia.
PYTHONESA (s.) The priestess of Apollo, who uttered his oracles at Delphos.

Q

Quacking (s. from the part.) The cry of a duck.
Quadraria (s. in old records) A stone quarry.
QUADRILATER (s. from the Lat. quatuor four, and latus a side) A plain figure with four sides.
Quadruplicating (s. from the part.) The act of making fourfold.
Quarrying (s. from the part.) The act of questioning.
Quaffing (s. from the part.) The act of drinking off in large quantities.
Qualifying (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with requisite accomplishments.
Quarrying (s. from the part.) The act of preying on any thing as a hawk.
QUARTETTO (s.) A piece of music in four parts.
Quelling (s. from the part.) The act of crushing, the act of subduing.
Quenching (s. from the part.) The act of extinguishing.
Querying (s. from the part.) The act of asking questions.
Questing (s. from the part.) The act of going in search.
Questioning (s. from the part.) The act of asking questions.
Quibbling (s. from the part.) The act of playing on the mere sound of words.
Quickening (s. from the part.) The act of hastening.
QUI'ES (s. in heathen mythology) The supposed goddess of peace and quietness.
Quieting (s. from the part.) The act of keeping quiet, the act of appeasing.
Quillet (s.) A furrow. Dict. Rus.
Quinceapple (s. from quince and apple) The name of an apple so called from its resemblance to a quince.
QUINTILIUS (s.) A man's name; a noble Roman, friend to Horace and Virgil.
Quipping (s. from the part.) The act of rallying with sarcasms.
Quirring (s. from the part.) The act of singing in concert.
QUIRINUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Jupiter; one of the names of Mars.
Quitting (s. from the part.) The act of discharging;
 the act of giving up.
Quoiffing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a head-dress.
Quoiting (s. from the part.) The act of throwing a quoit.
Quoran (s. in the Scotch dialect) A kind of leather shoe.
Quoting (s. from the part.) The act of citing a passage from an author.

R.

R AANI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ra'bating (s. from the part.) The act of the hawk in regaining the fist after the hand has been lowered.
RAB'BITH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
RABBO'NI (s. from the Heb. signifying my lord) A title of respect among the Jews.
RABIRIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
RA'CHAB (s. from the Heb.) Rahab.
RAD'DAC (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Rad'icating (s. from the part.) The act of rooting up.
 Rad'iating

R E B

Rad'iating (s. from the part.) The act of sending forth rays.
 RA/HAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Rail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inclosing with rails; a fence of rails.
 Rain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring down rain.
 Raip (s.) A rod to measure ground. Dict. Rus.
 Raif'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lifting up; an elevation, that which is raised up.
 RA/KEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ra'l'ying (s. from the part.) The act of bringing again to order.
 Ram'athite (s. from Ramath) An inhabitant of Ramath.
 RA/MATHMIZ/PEH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 13.
 RAMI/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Ram'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into branches.
 Ramp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leaping with violence; the act of forming with a ramp.
 Ranch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tpraining.
 Rangle (v. t. in falconry) To give a hawk gravel.
 Rank'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting into ranks.
 Ran'sacking (s. from the part.) The act of searching thoroughly; the act of plundering.
 Ran'soming (s. from the part.) The act of redeeming with a price.
 Rant'ing (s. from the part.) The act of raving.
 Ran'tipoling (s. from the part.) The act of playing the rantipole.
 Ra'pereeve (s. from rape, and reeve) The chief officer of a rape or principal division of a county.
 RAPH/AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 RAPH/U (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Rapscall'ion (s. a local word) An idle fellow.
 Ra'refying (s. from the part.) The act of making thin; the act of expanding.
 Rase (s.) An old measure of corn. Ainsworth.
 Rase'ria (s. in old records) An old measure of corn.
 Ra'sing (s. from the part.) The act of blotting out.
 Ra'sifying (s. from the part.) The act of confirming.
 Rast'tails (s. in farriery) A disease in horses, a kind of scratches.
 Rav'aging (s. from the part.) The act of laying waste.
 Rav'eled (p. from ravel) Perplexed, entangled.
 Rav'eling (p. a. from ravel) Falling into perplexity.
 Rav'eling (s. from the part.) The act of falling into entanglements.
 Rav'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of violating the chastity of a woman; the act of filling with rapture.
 Ra'zing (s. from the part.) The act of extirpating.
 Ra'zorhell (s. in ichthyology) The razorfish; the shell of the razorfish.
 Reach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of touching with the hand, the act of obtaining with some effort or difficulty.
 React'ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning the impulses.
 Readjourn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of adjourning again.
 Readmitt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of admitting again.
 Readorn'ing (s. from the part.) The act of adorning again.
 Real'izing (s. from the part.) The act of representing as real; the act of turning money into land.
 Rean'imating (s. from the part.) The act of reviving, the act of restoring to life.
 Reannex'ing (s. from the part.) The act of annexing again.
 Reascend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ascending again.
 Reason'ing (s. from the part.) The act of persuading by argumentation, the act of deriving one proposition from another.
 Reassemb'ling (s. from the part.) The act of assembling again.
 Reassert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of asserting again.
 Reassign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of assigning again.
 Reav'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking away.
 Rebat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of discounting.
 Rebell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing lawful authority.
 Rebel'lowing (s. from the part.) The act of bellowing in return.
 Rebound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of flying back.

R E C

Rebuff'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing with sudden violence.
 Rebu'king (s. from the part.) The act of reprehending.
 Recal'ling (s. from the part.) The act of calling back, the act of revoking.
 Recant'ing (s. from the part.) The act of retracting.
 Recapit'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of mentioning particulars over again.
 Recar'rying (s. from the part.) The act of carrying back.
 Reced'ing (s. from the part.) The act of retreating.
 Recei'ving (s. from the part.) The act of taking.
 Recelebrating (s. from the part.) The act of celebrating anew.
 RECH/AB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Recharg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of charging anew; the act of attacking anew.
 Rechang'ing (s. from the part.) The act of changing again.
 Recl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reherring.
 Reclaim'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reforming, the act of turning.
 Recli'ning (s. from the part.) The act of leaning backwards.
 Recl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of closing again.
 Reclud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opening.
 Recog'itating (s. from the part.) The act of thinking again.
 Recogni'fing (s. from the part.) The act of calling to mind; the act of acknowledging.
 Recoil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of rebounding.
 Recoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coining again.
 Recollect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of recalling to the memory.
 Recomfort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of comforting again.
 Reconnen'cing (s. from the part.) The act of commencing again.
 Recommend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of commending again; the act of commending to another.
 Recommit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of committing again.
 Recompact'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining anew.
 Re'compensing (s. from the part.) The act of rewarding.
 Re'compo'fing (s. from the part.) The act of composing anew.
 Reconcil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to reconciliation.
 Recondens'ing (s. from the part.) The act of condensing anew.
 Reconduct'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conducting back.
 Reconjoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining anew.
 Reconnoit'ring (s. from the part.) The act of viewing the strength of an enemy.
 Recon'quering (s. from the part.) The act of conquering again.
 Recon'secrating (s. from the part.) The act of consecrating anew.
 Reconve'ning (s. from the part.) The act of convening again.
 Reconvey'ing (s. from the part.) The act of conveying back.
 Recover'ing (s. from the part.) The act of regaining, the act of getting well.
 Record'ing (s. from the part.) The act of registering, the act of keeping in memory; the act of making effort to sing as young birds.
 Recouch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lying down again.
 Recover'ele (s. from recover, a law term) The person who suffers a recovery.
 Recover'or (s. from recover, a law term) The person in whom lands are vested by the sufferance of a recovery.
 Recount'ing (s. from the part.) The act of counting again.
 Recoup'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting short.
 Re'creating (s. from the part.) The act of refreshing, the act of gratifying.
 Recri'minating (s. from the part.) The act of returning one accusation with another.
 Rectified (p. from rectify) Made right; rectified, measured as a curve line.
 Rectify'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making right, the act of measuring a curve line.
 Recur'ring (s. from the part.) The act of curing anew.
 Return'ing (p. a. from recur) Coming back; arising the mind from past remembrance. Recur'

R E G

Recur'ring (s. from the part.) The act of coming back; the act of having recourse to.
Recu'sing (s. from the part.) The act of refusing.
Red'boran (s. a Saxon law term) A juror; a compurgator.
Red'dening (s. from the part.) The act of making red; the act of growing red.
Redeem'ing (p. a. from redeem) Ransoming; rescuing from slavery; saving from sin, and its consequences.
Redeem'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ransoming.
Redeliv'ering (s. from the part.) The act of delivering back.
Redemand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of demanding back.
Redem'ing (s. from the part.) The act of granting back.
Redintegrating (s. from the part.) The act of renewing.
Reditel'ior (s. a law term) The person who puts another out of possession a second time.
Reditel'ior (s. from re, and disteinor) One who disteins a second time. Blackstone.
Redoub'ling (s. from the part.) The act of repeating over again.
Redound'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming back as by reaction.
Redress'ing (s. from the part.) The act of amending; the act of relieving.
Reduc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to a former state; the act of bringing to order.
Redu'fying (s. from the part.) The act of building again.
Reek'ing (s. from the part.) The act of smoking; the act of emitting vapour.
Reelect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of electing again.
Reel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting on a reel; the act of staggering.
Reenact'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enacting anew.
Reenforc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of strengthening with fresh forces.
Reengage'ing (s. from the part.) The act of engaging anew.
Reenjoy'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enjoying anew.
Reenter'ing (s. from the part.) The act of entering anew.
Reenthron'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing again on the throne.
Reestablish'ing (s. from the part.) The act of establishing anew.
Reexam'ining (s. from the part.) The act of examining again.
Refell'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refuting.
Referment'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fermenting anew.
Refer'ring (s. from the part.) The act of putting to reference.
Refl'ecting (s. from the part.) The act of throwing back; the act of reproaching.
Re flourish'ing (s. from the part.) The act of flourishing anew.
Reflow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of flowing back.
Refract'ing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking the natural or direct course of a ray.
Refrain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of holding back.
Refrig'orating (s. from the part.) The act of refreshing; the act of cooling.
Refund'ing (s. from the part.) The act of paying back.
Refus'ing (s. from the part.) The act of denying; the act of rejecting.
Refut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of proving to be erroneous.
Regain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of recovering.
Regal'ing (p. a. from regale) Entertaining; gratifying.
Regal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of entertaining; the act of gratifying.
Regardator (s. in old records) An officer who superintends a forest.
Regard'er (s.) An officer who superintends the king's forest.
Regard'ing (p. a. from regard) Respecting, observing with respect.
Regard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of observing with respect.
Regard'um (s. in old records) The office of a regarder; the jurisdiction of a regarder.
Regenerate'ing (s. from the part.) The act of producing new; the act of renewing by a spiritual birth.
Register'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inserting in a register.
Regorg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing back; the act of vomiting up.

R E L

Regraft'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grafting again.
Regrant'ing (s. from the part.) The act of granting anew.
Regrat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forestalling; the act of selling by retail.
Regreet'ing (s. from the part.) The act of saluting a second time.
Regress'ing (s. from the part.) The act of going back; the act of returning.
Regret'ing (s. from the part.) The act of grieving at; the act of repenting.
Regulating (s. from the part.) The act of adjusting; the act of reducing to rule or order.
Regurgitating (s. from the part.) The act of pouring back; the act of swallowing back.
Rehabilitating (s. from the part.) The act of restoring to a former capacity for office.
Rehers'ing (s. from the part.) The act of repeating.
Reject'ing (s. from the part.) The act of refusing; the act of casting off.
Reign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of exercising sovereign authority.
Reilian (s. in the Scotch dialect) A mean kind of leather shoe.
Reimbark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting again on shipboard; the act of going again on board.
Reimbod'ying (s. from the part.) The act of embodying anew.
Reimburs'ing (s. from the part.) The act of repaying; the act of repaying loss or expences.
Reimpreg'nating (s. from the part.) The act of impregnating anew.
Reimpress'ing (s. from the part.) The act of impressing anew.
Reinfect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of infecting again.
Reingag'ing (s. from the part.) The act of engaging again.
Reingrat'iating (s. from the part.) The act of getting again into favour.
Rein'ing (s. from the part.) The act of governing as with a bridle; the act of bridling.
Reinsert'ing (s. from the part.) The act of inserting again.
Reinspi'ring (s. from the part.) The act of inspiring anew.
Reinstall'ing (s. from the part.) The act of installing again.
Reinsta'ting (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a former state; the act of putting again into possession.
Reinvest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of investing anew.
Reinvig'orating (s. from the part.) The act of invigorating anew.
Rejoin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of joining anew.
Reiterating (s. from the part.) The act of repeating; a repetition.
Rejudging (s. from the part.) The act of bringing to a new trial; the act of judging again.
Rejuvenes'cence (s.) Rejuvenescency; the state of growing young again.
RE/KEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Rekind'ling (s. from the part.) The act of kindling again.
Relaps'ing (s. from the part.) The act of falling back.
Relat'ing (s. from the part.) The act of telling; the act of declaring.
Relationship (s. from relation) The state of being related.
Relax'ing (s. from the part.) The act of unbending; the act of remitting.
Releas'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting at liberty.
Relegating (s. from the part.) The act of punishing.
Releasee (s. a law term) One to whom a lease is granted.
Reles'sor (s. a law term) The person who grants a lease.
Relev'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of admitting to bail.
Reliev'ing (s. from the part.) The act of succoring; the act of easing from pain.
Relish'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tasting; the act of giving a relish.
Rel'mouse (s. in zoology) The dormouse.
Reluc'tating (s. from the part.) The act of shewing unwillingness; the act of struggling against.
Relum'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lighting anew. Relumining

REP

Re-kindling (s. from the part.) The act of rekindling; the act of lighting anew.

Rely'ing (s. from the part.) The act of confiding in; the act of depending on.

Rem'age (s. a different spelling) Ramage. Dict. Rust.

Rem'agehawk (s. a different spelling) A ramagehawk. Dict. Rust.

Remain'ing (s. from the part.) The act of abiding.

Rema'king (s. from the part.) The act of making anew.

REMALA'DE (s. in farriery) A kind of charge to be applied to a diseased part.

Reman'cipating (s. from the part.) The act of selling again to the person of whom it was bought.

Remand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of ordering back.

Remark'ing (s. from the part.) The act of observing; the act of making a remark.

Remarry'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marrying again.

Remed'ying (s. from the part.) The act of curing; the act of removing mischief.

Remem'bering (s. from the part.) The act of calling to remembrance; the act of keeping in memory.

RE'METH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 19.

Rem'igrating (s. from the part.) The act of rowing back again.

Remind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in mind; the act of bringing to remembrance.

Remitt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of relaxing; the act of forgiving; the act of sending money to a distant place.

Remix'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mixing again.

REM'MONMETHUAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 19.

REMONT'oir (s. from the French, in clock work) The part which winds up the spring of the counter wheel in time keepers.

Remon'strating (s. from the part.) The act of making a remonstrance; the act of presenting a remonstrance.

Remor'ating (s. from the part.) The act of causing delay.

Remount'ing (s. from the part.) The act of mounting again.

Remu'nerating (s. from the part.) The act of rewarding.

Remurm'ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning back in murmurs.

Rem'vating (s. from the part.) The act of sailing back.

Re'count'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fighting hand to hand.

Re'nd'ing (s. from the part.) The act of repaying; the act of giving back.

Ren'ovating (s. from the part.) The act of renewing.

Renounc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of disowning; the act of giving up.

Ren't'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sewing cloth in a particular manner.

Rents'ack (s. plu. of rentseck) More than one rentseck. Blackstone.

Repac'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of pacifying again.

Repas'sage (s. from passage) The liberty of passing. Answorth.

Repas'sagium (s. in old records) A repassage.

Repas'tinating (s. from the part.) The act of digging about vines the second time.

Repay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of paying back; the act of recompensing.

Repe'ling (s. from the part.) The act of driving back.

RE'PHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

REPHAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Repi'quing (s. from the part.) The act of gaining the repique on the adversary.

Replait'ing (s. from the part.) The act of folding one part over another.

Replead'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pleading a second time.

Replev'ing (s. from the part.) The act of admitting to bail; the act of setting at liberty on bail.

Replev'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking back what has been levied on giving legal security.

Reply'ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning an answer.

Repol'ishing (s. from the part.) The act of polishing anew.

Report'ing (s. from the part.) The act of telling from one to another; the act of giving out as a common rumour; the act of giving an account of what has been transacted elsewhere.

RES

Repo'ing (s. from the part.) The act of placing confidence; the act of laying to sleep.

Repos'ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying up in place of safety.

Repos'sing (s. from the part.) The act of putting again.

Reprehend'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reproving; the act of charging with a fault.

Represent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of describing the act of personating; the act of filling the place of another.

Repress'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting down the act of keeping within due bounds.

Repris'ing (s. from the part.) The act of repaying.

Reprimand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reprehending.

Reproach'ing (s. from the part.) The act of censuring criminal; the act of casting reproach.

Reprob'ating (s. from the part.) The act of disallowing the act of rejecting.

Reproduc'ing (s. from the part.) The act of producing anew.

Reprov'ing (s. from the part.) The act of reprehending.

Repu'diating (s. from the part.) The act of divorcing the act of putting away.

Repuls'ing (s. from the part.) The act of driving back.

Repurchasing (s. from the part.) The act of purchasing again.

Reput'ing (s. from the part.) The act of purging again.

Reput'ing (s. from the part.) The act of accounting.

Requal'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of qualifying anew.

Requet'ing (s. from the part.) The act of soliciting; entreaty.

Requick'ening (s. from the part.) The act of quickening anew.

Requir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of asking a matter of right.

Requitt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of recompensing.

Re'rief (s. a Scotch law term) The estate held by inferior feudatory.

Re'sailing (s. from the part.) The act of sailing back.

Re'saluting (s. from the part.) The act of saluting again.

RESCH (s. a different spelling) Resh, the twentieth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

Rescind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting the act of abrogating.

Res'cuing (s. from the part.) The act of delivering from oppression or violence; the act of recovering the legal custody by violence.

Res'earch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of searching again.

Re'seal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sealing again.

Re'seiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of seizing again.

Re'sembl'ing (s. from the part.) The act of representing as a likeness.

Re'sent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking ill; the act of taking as an affront.

Re'serv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making a reserve.

Re'st'ing (s. from the part.) The act of receiving the goods.

Re'st'ing (s. from the part.) The act of settling anew.

RESH (s.) The twentieth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

Re'siding (s. from the part.) The act of dwelling in place; the act of falling to the bottom; the act of sinking.

Re'sign'ing (s. from the part.) The act of yielding up.

Re'sist'ing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing.

Re'solv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of solving; the act of reducing to first principles; the act of mining.

Re'sort (s. a law term) The authority of a court.

Re'sort'ing (s. from the part.) The act of repairing.

Re'sort'um (s. in old records) The authority of a court.

Re'sound'ing (s. a. from resound) Sounding the sounding; telling so as to be heard far.

Re'sound'ing (s. from the part.) The act or state of sounding back; the act or state of giving an echo.

Re'sow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sowing again.

Re'speak'ing (s. from the part.) The act of speaking again.

Re'spect'ing (s. from the part.) The act of regarding with some degree of reverence.

Re'spit'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suspending a time.

Re'stag'nating (s. from the part.) The act of stagnating again.

Re'stem'ming (s. from the part.) The act of stemming against the current. Robinson.

R H O

rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of retrieving; the act of giving back.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of repressing.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of confining; the act of binding up.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of flying back; the act of arising as a consequence.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking up again.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of surveying again.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of selling by small quantities.
 rho/ing (s. a law term) The retention of a debt by an executor due to him from the testator.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking again.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning like for like.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of hindering.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of withdrawing.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of throwing back.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of tossing back.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of improving by new touches.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of tracing back.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of recalling.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of going back; the act of retiring from an enemy.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting off; the act of lessening; the act of throwing up retrenchments.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of making retribution.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of regaining.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of laying open; the act of imparting from heaven.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of feasting with noise and noisy mirth.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing back.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of returning an injury.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of beating back.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving reverence; the act of viewing with a kind of religious awe.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of regarding with reverence.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning upside down; the act of putting one in the place of another.
 rho/ing (s. from reversion) One who has right of reversion.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning back; the act of turning.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing again.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking over again.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking over again in order to greater perfection.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of recalling to mind.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of restoring to life; the act of recovering from a state of languor.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of uniting again.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of recalling.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of departing from duty or allegiance.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of vomiting.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of recompensing.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of repeating in the same words.
 RHO (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 RHO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 RHO (s. a woman's name; the mother of Romulus.
 RHO (s. in beathen mythology) Nemesis, the goddess of revenge.
 RHO (s. a man's name; a king of Thrace slain at the Trojan war.
 RHO (s. a man's name; one of the companions of Diomedes supposed to have been transformed into a heron.
 rho/ing (s. from the part.) The act of playing the flute. rho/ing (s. The seventeenth letter of the Greek alphabet.
 RHO (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.

R O T

RHOXA'NA (s.) A woman's name; the beautiful wife of Alexander.
 Rhy'ming (s. from the part.) The act of making rhymes.
 RI'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 RICHAR'DIA (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
 Rich'es (s. a hunting term) A company of fables.
 Rid'ding (s. from the part.) The act of setting free; the act of clearing away rubbish.
 Rid'dlemereel (s. a cant or droll word) A riddle, a low kind of enigma.
 Riddlemereel (v. int. from the sub.) To make a riddle.
 Rid'iculing (s. from the part.) The act of exposing to ridicule.
 Rif'fle (v. t. not so common a spelling) To rifle. Ans'w.
 Rif'fling (p. a. from rifle) Rifling.
 Rif'fling (s. from the part.) The act of rifling. Ans'w.
 Rif'fling (s. from the part.) The act of pillaging.
 Rif'rat (adj. a cant or droll word) Low, mean, consisting of the common people.
 Rif'rat (s. from the adj.) The scum, the refuse; the lowest of the people.
 Right'ing (p. a. from right) Setting right.
 Right'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting right.
 Rig'marole (s. a cant word) A kind of literary hodge-podge; a confused string of words, a succession of idle stories.
 Rim'ing (s. from the part.) Freezing with hoarfrost.
 RIM'MON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
 RIM'MONPA'REZ (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Rim'pling (s. from the part.) The act of drawing up in puckers.
 Ri'na (s. in old records) A watercourse; a stream subject to floods.
 Rind'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking off the rind.
 Ring'week (s. a hunting term) A circuit made by hunters.
 Rin'ing (s. from the part.) The act of washing in water.
 Ri'pening (s. from the part.) The act of making ripe; the act of getting ripe.
 Risk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to chance.
 RI'SUS (s. in beathen mythology) The supposed god of laughter.
 RITH'MAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Riva'gium (s. in old records) The toll for passing a river.
 Ri'valing (s. from the part.) The act of opposing as a competitor.
 Riv'erbank (s. from river, and bank) A bank to keep a river within bounds.
 Riv'etting (s. from the part.) The act of fastening with a rivet.
 Road'wise (adj. from road, and wise) Expert in choosing the road; apt to keep the road.
 Roam'ing (s. from the part.) The act of wandering.
 Ro'bing (p. a. from robe) Putting on robes.
 Ro'bing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing; the act of putting on robes; a part of a lady's gown.
 Rock'alum (s.) A kind of alum.
 Rock'crystal (s. in natural history) A kind of crystal.
 Rock'fish (s. in ichthyology) The sea gudgeon.
 Rock'oil (s.) The petroleum.
 RO'GELIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a plain.
 ROLI'GAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 ROLPH (s. not so common a spelling) Ralph.
 ROMAI'N (s. in botany) A kind of French grass.
 Romanc'ing (s. from the part.) The art of delivering in romance; the act of telling lies.
 Romaniz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of imitating the Romans; the act of using the modes of the Roman tongue.
 Roof'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with a roof.
 Rook'ing (s. from the part.) The act of thieving.
 Roost'ing (s. from the part.) The act of sleeping as a bird.
 Root'grafting (s. from root, and grafting) A method of grafting to a root instead of a stock.
 Root'ing (s. from the part.) The act of taking root.
 Rose (s. a cant word) The erysipelas.
 Rosecam'pion (s. in botany) The name of a plant.
 Ros'ining (s. from the part.) The act of rubbing with rosin.
 ROS'MARINE (s. an old spelling) Rosemary. Sben'son.
 Rotat'icum (s. in old records) A custom paid for the passage of carts and waggons.
 Ro'ting (s. from the part.) The act of fixing in the memory without understanding the meaning. Row'ing

S A L

Rot'ting (s. from the part.) The act of putrifying.
 Rough'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making rough.
 Roule (s. an old spelling) A roll. Wifeman.
 Roul'ing (s. from the part.) The act of relieving one another as officers of the same rank.
 ROUT'INE (s. from the French) A common course, a dull round.
 Rout'ing (p. a. from rout) Throwing into confusion, defeating an army.
 Rom'eling (s. from the part.) The act of making a romel.
 Royali'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making royal.
 Ru'bifying (s. from the part.) The act of making red.
 Ruck'ling (s. from the part.) The act of making a rustling noise.
 Rud'dling (s. from the part.) The act of marking with riddle.
 RUFF (v. t. at cards) To take in the stock and put out as many cards as are contained in it.
 Ruffed (p. from ruff) Taken in as the stock and an equal number put out.
 Ruffing (p. a. from ruff) Taking in the stock and putting out as many cards as are contained in it.
 Ruff'ing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing up in plait; the act of putting on ruffles; the act of disturbing.
 Ru'ining (s. from the part.) The act of impoverishing; the act of destroying.
 RUL'LUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman senator.
 RUMINA (s. in beathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to preside over sucking children.
 Ru'minating (s. from the part.) The act of chewing the cud; the act of revolving in the mind.
 Rup'turing (s. from the part.) The act of breaking, the act of bursting.
 Rush'ground (adj. from rush, and ground) Having one year's growth from the ground. Di. Ruf.
 Rust'icating (s. from the part.) The act of making rustic; the act of banishing into the country.
 Rust'ing (p. a. from rust) Contracting rust.
 Rust'ing (s. from the part.) The act of contracting rust.

S

SAB'DI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SA'BE (s.) A city and district of Arabia, famous for the production of frankincense and other rich gems and spices.
 Sabe'ism (s. from Sabean) The worship of the sun.
 SABI'NUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 SAB'OT (s.) A kind of wooden shoe.
 SAB'TAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SA'CAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Sad'dening (s. from the part.) The act of making sad.
 Sad'dling (s. from the part.) The act of putting a saddle on a beast.
 Safeguard'ing (s. from the part.) The act of protecting.
 SAF'FERA (s. a different spelling) The zapphera. Phillips.
 SAF'FRONKILN (s. from saffron, and kiln) The kiln on which saffron is dried.
 SAGA'NA (s.) A woman's name, a noted witch. Hor.
 Saint'foin (s. in botany) A kind of grass.
 Sain'ting (s. from the part.) The act of numbering among the saints; the act of canonizing.
 SA'LA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SAL'CAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SALE'VUS (s.) A man's name, a poor Roman poet.
 SAL'ENTINE (adj. from Salentini) Belonging to the Salentini.
 SAL'ENTINE (s. from the adj.) One of the Salentini.
 SALENTI'NI (s.) A people of Italy.
 SAL/GLAUBE'RI (s. in medicine) A purgative kind of salt, Glauber's salts.
 Sal'ivating (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a salivation.
 SAL'LAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SAL'LU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SAL'LUM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Sal'lying (s. from the part.) The act of making an eruption.
 SAL'MA, SAL'MAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Salm'onfishing (s. from salmon, and fishing) The act or diversion of fishing for salmon.
 SA'LU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Sal'ving (p. a. from salve) Curing with medicated applications; saving, preserving.

S C O

Sal'ving (s. from the part.) The act of curing with medicated applications; the act of preserving.
 Salu'ting (s. from the part.) The act of greeting; the act of shewing respect at meeting.
 SA'MECH (s.) The fifteenth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.
 SAM'GARNE'BO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Samp'ling (s. from the part.) The act of shewing by sample.
 Sanct'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of making holy; the act of setting apart to sacred use.
 SAND'ER (s. in familiar style) Alexander.
 San'guifying (s. from the part.) The act of producing blood.
 SAN'ITAS (s. in the mythology of the beathens) The supposed goddess of health.
 SANSAN'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SAPHE'NA (s. in anatomy) The saphen.
 SAPHE'TA (s. in architecture) The board over the top of a window.
 Sapien'tial (adj. not much used) Sapiential.
 SA'POR (s.) A man's name; a common name of the Persian kings.
 SARAI'A, SARAI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SA'RAPH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SA'RID (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Sash (v. t. from the sub.) to fit up with sashes.
 Sash'ed (p. from sash) Fitted up with sashes.
 Sash'ing (p. a. from sash) Fitting up with sashes.
 Sash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fitting up with sashes.
 Sa'tiating (s. from the part.) The act of satisfying; the act of gratifying desire.
 Sa'ting (s. from the part.) The act of satisfying.
 Sat'isying (s. from the part.) The act of gratifying desire.
 Sat'urating (s. from the part.) The act of filling to the full.
 SATURNI'NUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 Sau'cing (p. a. from sauce) Relishing with sauce.
 Sau'cing (s. from the part.) The act of relishing with sauce.
 SAW'NY (s. in the Scotch dialect) Alexander.
 SCÆ'AN (adj.) Distinguishing a gate of Troy.
 Scall (s. an old word) A kind of scale; a skull.
 Scalp'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving the skin of its covering.
 SCAL/PRA (s. in surgery) Instruments used to clean teeth.
 Scamb'ium (s. in old records) An exchange.
 Scamb'ling (s. from the part.) The act of behaving in a turbulent manner.
 Scamp'ering (s. from the part.) The act of running away with haste and trepidation.
 Scand'aling (s. from the part.) The act of charging with false imputations.
 Scandal'izing (s. from the part.) The act of charging falsely; the act of charging with something criminal.
 SCANDA'LUM (s. in old records) Scandal.
 Scan'dian (adj. from Scandia) Teutonic, belonging to Scandia.
 SCANSO'RIMUM (s. in Roman antiquity) An engine to turn a person on high for the convenience of prospect.
 Scap'ed (p. from scape) Escaped.
 Sca'ping (p. a. from scape) Escaping.
 Sca'ping (s. from the part.) The act of escaping.
 Scar'fing (s. from the part.) The act of dressing in a scarf.
 Scar'fying (s. from the part.) The act of marking the skin with slight incisions.
 Sca'ring (s. from the part.) The act of frightening.
 Scatch'mouth (s.) The scatch.
 Scent'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a scent.
 SCHIN (s.) The twenty-first letter of the Hebrew alphabet.
 SCI'NIS (s.) A man's name, a famous Corinthian runner.
 Scintil'lating (s. from the part.) The act of sparkling the stars.
 SCLEROP'TERA (s. in zoology) The class of insects which have four wings.
 Scoff'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with scorn.
 Scoop'ing (s. from the part.) The act of emptying by scooping; the act of making hollow.
 SCO'PAS (s.) A man's name; a famous architect in antiquity.
 Scope (s. a local word) A vessel with a long handle to draw water.
 Scorch'edness (s. from scorched) The state of being scorched.
 Scorch'ingness (s. from scorching) The state of being scorched.

S E M

S H A

Scorifying (s. from the part.) The act of reducing to scoriae.
 Scorching (s. from the part.) The act of marking with slight cuts.
 Scouting (s. from the part.) The act of going out to observe an enemy.
 Scranching (s. from the part.) The act of grinding between the teeth.
 Scrawling (s. from the part.) The act of writing or drawing inelegantly.
 Scribble/ble (a droit word) A piece of negligent writing.
 SCRIP/TULUM (s.) A Roman weight of about eighteen grains.
 Scrotch (s. in salt works) A kind of calcareous earth.
 SCRUP/I (s. in natural history) A class of fossils.
 Scruppling (s. from the part.) The act of doubting.
 Scrutinizing (s. from the part.) The act of examining strictly.
 Scudling (s. from the part.) The act of running with a kind of affected haste.
 Scuffling (s. from the part.) The act of fighting in an irregular and confused manner.
 Sculking (s. from the part.) The act of lying close.
 Sculping (s. from the part.) The act of carving.
 Sculpturing (s. from the part.) The act of forming in sculpture.
 Scuttling (s. from the part.) The act of running with affected haste.
 Seane'm'ony (s. in zoology) The urtica marina.
 Sea'b'ink (s. from sea, and bank) A bank or fence to keep the sea within due bounds.
 Seaming (s. from the part.) The act of making a seam.
 Sea-nettle (s. in zoology) The urtica marina.
 Searing (s. from the part.) The act of scorching.
 Sealand (s. from sea, and land) The land on the sea shore.
 Seate'l'la (s. in old records) A scuttle.
 Seating (s. from the part.) The act of placing in a seat.
 Seaze (v. t. an old spelling) To seize. Neuman.
 SEBE'THIS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A nymph, supposed to be the daughter of the river Sebethos.
 SEBE'THOS (s.) A small river or fountain running through Naples.
 SECACAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SECAN'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Seceding (s. from the part.) The act of withdrawing from fellowship.
 Secerning (s. from the part.) The act of separating by the proper glands.
 SE'CHU (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Seclud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of shutting out.
 SECO'MLÆ (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 Seconding (s. from the part.) The act of promoting by an appearance in the second place.
 Secret'ing (s. from the part.) The act of concealing.
 Secreting (s. from the part.) The act of separating by the proper glands.
 SECTINE'US (s. in anatomy) The name of a muscle.
 Secularizing (s. from the part.) The act of converting from spiritual to common use.
 Securing (s. from the part.) The act of making sure.
 Sedu'cing (s. from the part.) The act of drawing aside.
 Seel (v. int.) To grow grey as a horse about the eyes. DiEt. Ruf.
 Seeling (p. a. from seel) Growing grey as a horse about the eyes. DiEt. Ruf.
 Seen (s. a local word) A cow's teat. DiEt. Ruf.
 Segregating (s. from the part.) The act of separating from others.
 SE'GOL (s.) One of the Hebrew points; it answers to e short.
 SEI'ROTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SEI'US (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 SELA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SELAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SELAHAMMAL'EKOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 1 Sam. 23.
 SEL'DA (s. in old records) A shop or stall.
 Select'ing (s. from the part.) The act of choosing from others.
 SEL'ED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Selfsubdu'ing (adj. from self, and subduing) Subduing self.
 Selfwill' (s. from self and will) Obstinacy.
 Selfwill'ed (adj. from self and will) Obstinate.
 SEL'IO (s. in old records) A ridge.
 SELEU'CUS (s.) A man's name, one of Alexander's captains.
 SEM (s. a different spelling) Shem, Pluto.
 SEMACH'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SEMA'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.

SEMBEL'LA (s.) A Roman coin; half the as.
 SEMIDI'I (s. in heathen mythology) The demi gods.
 SEMIR'AMIS (s.) The name of a woman; the wife of Ninus, one of the greatest heroines of antiquity.
 SEM'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
 SENE'CIO (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 SE'NEH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a rock.
 SE'NIR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place; the name of a country.
 SEN'NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Sensuali'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making sensual.
 Sentencing (s. from the part.) The act of passing sentence.
 SEN'TIA (s. in heathen mythology) The goddess who was supposed to give particular sentiment and opinion.
 Separating (s. from the part.) The act of dividing; the act of parting company.
 SE'PHAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain. Zech. 2.
 SEPH'ARAD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Sephar'vite (s. from Sepharvaim) An inhabitant of Sepharvaim.
 Sepul'chering (s. from the part.) The act of putting into a sepulchre.
 Sequel'ing (s. from the part.) The act of depriving of possessions; the act of separating from company.
 SERAI'A (s. from the Heb.) Seraiah, a man's name.
 SER'ED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SERE'NUS (s.) A man's name; one who wrote on the cure of diseases in heroic verse.
 SERGES'TUS (s.) A man's name, a companion of Æneas.
 Ser'moning (s. from the part.) The act of instructing as in a sermon.
 Sermoni'zing (s. from the part.) The act of composing sermons; the act of preaching sermons; the act of instructing in a formal manner.
 SERTO'RIOUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman of great bravery.
 SERVIL'IA (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Brutus.
 Ser'ving (s. from the part.) The act of performing service; the act of strengthening a rope or other tackle, by winding yarn or canvas about it.
 SESOS'TRIS (s.) A man's name; an Egyptian monarch, who caused his chariot to be drawn by captive kings.
 SE'THER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Set'ing (s. from the part.) The act of planting; the act of putting; the act of going down as the sun or stars.
 Se'vered (p. from fever) Separated.
 Se'vering (p. a. from fever) separating.
 Se'vering (s. from the part.) The act of separating.
 Sev'ilhole (s.) The hole in the branch of a bit. DiEt. Ruf.
 SEXDIG'ITI (s. from the Lat. sex six, and digitus a finger) People with six fingers on one or both hands.
 Sexdig'itism (s. from sexdigiti) The state of having six fingers or six toes.
 Sexdig'itist (s. from sexdigiti) One who has six fingers or six toes on one hand or foot.
 Seym (s. a different spelling) The seams, a kind of chops in the heel of a horse. DiEt. Ruf.
 SHAALAB'RIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SHAAL'BONITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 2 Sam. 23.
 SHA'APH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHAB'BETHAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHA'CHIA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shack'ling (s. from the part.) The act of binding as with fetters.
 Sha'ding (s. from the part.) The act of throwing a shade; the darker parts of a picture.
 Shad'owing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with a shadow.
 SHA'GEH, SHI'GEH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHA'HARAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SHAHAZ'IMOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 19.
 Shail'ing (s. from the part.) The act of walking sideways.
 SHA'LEM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SHAL'LECHETH (s. from the Heb.) One of the gates of Jerusalem.
 SHAL'MAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHA'MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHAM'AR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; Shomar.
 SHAM'ED (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHA'MER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHAM'MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; Shammah.
 SHAM'MAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHAM'MUA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHAM'STERAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHA'PHER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a mountain. Nam. 33.
 Sha'ping (s. from the part.) The act of forming; a form; a particular part of a garment.
 SHA'RAIM

S H I

SHA/RAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Sha'rebeam (s. from share, and beam) That part of a plough to which the share is applied.
 Sha'ring (p. a. from share) Dividing amongst many, taking a share.
 Sha'ring (s. from the part.) The act of dividing into shares; the act of enjoying a part.
 Sha'ronite (s. from Sharon) An inhabitant of Sharon.
 SHAR'UBAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SHA'STAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'AL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHEARI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 She'afs (s. from she, and afs) A female afs.
 Sheath (s. in husbandry) That part of a plough which unites the beam and the sharebeam.
 Sheath'wing (s. from sheath, and wing) The hard or horny wing of an insect.
 Sheath'winged (adj. from sheathwing) Having sheathwings.
 SHE'BAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a district in the land of Israel.
 SHE'BAT (s.) The eleventh month of the Jewish year.
 SHE'BER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'BUEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHECHANI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 She'goat (s. from she, and goat) A female goat.
 SHEHARI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'LESH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHELO'MI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHELO'OMOTH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shel'tering (s. from the part.) The act of defending.
 SHE'MA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'MAAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'MUEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shemu'le (s. from she, and mule) A female mule.
 SHEN'AZAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 She'pham (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place on the border of the land of Israel.
 SHE'PHO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'PHUPHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
 SHEREBI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'RESH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHERE'ZER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'SHAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'SHAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHETH (s. a different spelling) Seth.
 SHE'THAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'TRAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHE'VA (s.) One of the Hebrew points; it answers to e exceeding short.
 SHIB'MAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Shield'ing (s. from the part.) The act of defending as with a shield.
 SHI'HOR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SHI'HORLIB'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 1 Chron. 13. Job. 19.
 SHIL'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIL'HIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Job. 15.
 SHIL'LEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shil'lemite (s. from Shillem) A descendant of Shillem.
 SHILO'NI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIL'SHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHI'MEA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name, Shimeah.
 SHIM'EATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shim'eathite (s. from Shim'eath) A descendant of Shim'eath.
 SHIM'EON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIM'HI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHI'MI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shim'ite (s. from Shimi) A descendant of Shimi.
 SHIM'RATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIM'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIM'RITH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIM'RON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SHIM'RONME'RON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. Job. 12.
 SHI'NAB (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shing'le (w. t. from the sub.) To cover with shingles.
 Shing'led (p. from shingle) Covered with shingles.
 Shing'ling (p. a. from shingles) Covering with shingles.
 Shing'ling (s. from the part.) The act of covering with shingles.
 SHI'ON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place on the borders of the land of Israel.
 SHI'PHI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHIPH'MITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron. 13.
 SHIPH'TON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHI'POR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 1 Chron. 13.

S I K

Shipwrecking (s. from the part.) The act of destroying by shipwreck.
 Shi'reeve (s. from shire, and reeve) A sheriff.
 SHI'SHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shi'ting (s. from the part.) The act of voiding excrements.
 Shit'tahree (s. from shittah, and tree) The shittim.
 SHI'ZA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shoal'ing (s. from the part.) The act of coming in shoal.
 Shoar'ing (s. from the part.) The act of propping.
 SHO'BEI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHO'BEK (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHO'BEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHO'BI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHO'CHO (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 SHO'CHOH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Shock (s.) A pile; the number sixty as applied to some kinds of wares.
 Shock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a shock.
 Shog'ging (s. from the part.) The act of shaking with a sudden motion.
 SHO'HAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHO'MER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Shooe (s. an old spelling) A shoe. Neconan.
 SHO'OH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHO'PHAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 Sho'ring (s. from the part.) The act of propping.
 Shor'ling (s. a different spelling) A shoring.
 Shove'ling (s. from the part.) The act of throwing with a shovel.
 Shov'ing (p. a. from shove) Pushing forward.
 Shov'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pushing forward.
 Show'ering (s. from the part.) The act of pouring down in a shower.
 Show'ing (p. a. from show) Shewing, exhibiting to view.
 Show'ing (s. from the part.) The act of exhibiting to view.
 Shrew, Shrove (s.) A shrewmouse. Dist. Rat.
 SHRIFT (s. an old word) A priest, a confessor.
 Shroud (w. t. a local word) To cut the top branches of trees.
 Shroud'ed (p. from shroud) Lopped.
 Shroud'ing (p. a. from shroud) Cutting the top branches.
 Shroud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of cutting the top branches.
 Shroud'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering, the act of protecting; the act of dressing the dead.
 SHU'BAEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHU'MATHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron. 13.
 Shun'ning (s. from the part.) The act of avoiding.
 Shunt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a sudden start.
 SHUP'IM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SHU'REK (s.) One of the Hebrew points; it answers to u long.
 Shut'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fastening, the act of closing.
 SIA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SIB (s. a contraction of Sebastian) Sibyl.
 SIB'BECHAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 SIB'BOLETH (s. from the Heb. the different pronunciation of the word) Shibboleth.
 SIB'RAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place on the border of the land of Israel.
 SICIN'IUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman of invincible bravery.
 Sick'ening (s. from the part.) The act or state of growing sick.
 SID'DIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 SIDE'RIA (s. in natural history) A genus of crystals.
 SIDE'RACHITES (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 Si'ding (p. a. from side) Taking a party, engaging in a faction.
 Si'ding (s. from the part.) The act of taking a party, the act of engaging in a faction.
 Sido'nian (adj. from Sidon) Belonging to Sidon.
 Sigh'ing (s. from the part.) The act of emitting sighs.
 SIG'MA (s.) The eighteenth letter of the Greek alphabet.
 Sido'nian (s. from the adj.) An inhabitant of Sidon.
 Signali'zing (s. from the part.) The act of rendering singular, the act of making famous.
 Sign'ed (p. from sign) Marked, ratified by the signature of a name.
 Sig'nifying (s. from the part.) The act of declaring by signs or tokens; the act of expressing with force.
 Sike (s. a local word) A furrow. Sike.

S L U

Sikeetus (s. in old records) A rivulet or stream which is dried up in summer.
SIL (s. a contraction of) Silvester.
SILANUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman who slew himself for grief on the rape of his wife by Nero.
Silencing (s. from the part.) The act of putting to silence.
SILIQUE (s.) A denomination of weight among the Romans containing something more than three grains.
SIL/LA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place. 2 Kings 12. 20.
SIM (s. a contraction of) Simon; Simeon.
SIMCETHUS (s. in the mythology of the poets) A nymph of the river Simcethus.
SIMCETHUS (s.) A river of Sicily.
Simulating (s. from the part.) The act of counterfeiting.
SIN (s.) The last letter but one in the Hebrew alphabet.
Sing'ing (p. a. from singe) Scorching, burning slightly.
Sing'ing (s. from the part.) The act of scorching.
Sing'le (s. a hunting term) The tail of the deer kind.
Sing'let (s. a local word) A flannel waistcoat.
Sing'ling (s. from the part.) The act of choosing out from others.
SINGLO (s. in commerce) A kind of fine tea.
Sing'long (s. from sing, and long) An uniform cadence.
SINIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country. Is. 49.
SINITE (s. from the Heb.) A people. 1 Chron. 1. 15.
SINO/PICA (s. in natural history) The snoper.
SIPH/MOTH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
SIPPAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
SIPRAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a well. 2 Sam. 3. 26.
Sizening (s. from the part.) The act of doing the part of a siren.
Siz'ning (s. from the part.) The act of giving a name; the act of adding a name.
SIS (s. in familiar style) Cicely.
SISAMAI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
SISTANTII, SISTUNTII (s. different spellings) The Siftuncii.
Sistuntian (adj. from Siftuntii) Belonging to the Siftuntii.
SYGAMBIS (s.) A woman's name; a beautiful lady, mother of Darius.
THONIA (s.) A district of Thrace. tho'nian (adj. from Sithonia) Belonging to Sithonia; Thracian.
tho'nian (s. from the adj.) A native of Sithonia.
thall (s. an old spelling) A kind of scab, a scall.
thaw'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fixing with a skewer.
THINK (s. in zoology and medicine) A kind of lizard reckoned a great restorative.
thir'mishing (s. from the part.) The act of fighting loosely.
thir'wort (s. in botany) The name of a plant, the skerret.
thir'king (s. from the part.) The act of lurking.
thir'bering (s. from the part.) The act of shedding.
thir'ening (s. from the part.) The act of loosening.
thir'king (s. from the part.) The act of slackening.
thir'ing (v. t. a colloquial word) To shut with a noise.
thir'med (p. from slam) Shut as a door with noise.
thir'merkin (adj. a droll word) Irregular in motion, making a sudden transition.
thir'ming (p. a. from slam) Shutting as a door with noise.
thir'ming (s. from the part.) The act of shutting a door with haste and noise; the act of winning all the tricks in a hand of cards.
thir'king (s. from the part.) The act of making smooth.
thir'ening (s. from the part.) The act of making smooth.
thir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of falling in fleet.
thir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of parting the breads.
thir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of splitting; the act of cutting lengthwise.
thir'bering (s. from the part.) The act of spitting.
thir'ping (p. a. from slop) Drinking up with greediness; treating with slops.
thir'ping (s. from the part.) The act of treating with slops; the act of drinking up hastily.
thir'bed (s. from slug, and bed) One who lies late in the morning. Shakespeare.
thir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of lying idle.
thir'ing (p. a. from sluice) Pouring out as a sluice.
thir'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pouring out as a sluice.
thir'ing (s. from the part. a sea term) The act of turning and without moving out of the socket.

S P I

Smallish (adj. from small) Somewhat small.
Smear'ing (s. from the part.) The act of overspreading with some viscous matter; that with which any thing is smeared over.
Smirk'ing (s. from the part.) The act of smiling wantonly.
Smilt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of turning to pulp as corn over wetted.
SMINTHEUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Apollo.
Smirch'ing (s. from the part.) The act of daubing.
Smokedrying (s. from the part.) The act of drying in the smoke.
Smother'ing (s. from the part.) The act of suffocating; the act of suppressing.
Smould'ering (s. from the part.) The act of burning without vent.
Snag'gret (s.) The snail cod. Dict. Rust.
Snail'cod (s.) A kind of land full of small shells. Dict. Rust.
Snow'ing (s. from the part.) The act of falling in snow.
Snuff'dish (s. from snuff, and dish) An instrument to snuff the candles; a vessel in which snuffers are brought to table; a vessel in which the snuff of the candle is put.
SO'CHO (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
SO'CHOH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Sod'ering (s. from the part.) The act of joining with solder.
SOGIG'ONES (s.) A man's name; an Egyptian astrologer.
Soil'ed (p. from soil) Fouled, manured.
Soil'ing (p. a. from soil) Fouling, manuring.
Soil'ing (s. from the part.) The act of fouling; the act of manuring.
Sol'acing (s. from the part.) The act of comforting.
Sollic'ited (p. not so common a spelling) Solicited. Scott.
Sol'vible (adj. from solve) Capable of being solved.
SOL/VIZO'NA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Diana.
Soot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with soot.
SO'PHON (s.) A man's name; a comic poet.
Sore (v. int. a hunting term) To leave the mark of the foot as a hare.
SO'REK (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Sor'ing (p. a. from sore) Leaving the mark of the foot as a hare.
Sor'ing (s. from the part.) The act of leaving the mark of the foot as a hare.
Sor'rowing (p. a. from sorrow) Grieving.
Sor'rowing (s. from the part.) The act of grieving.
SO'SIA (s.) A man's name; a servile wretch. Plautus.
SO'SIAS (s.) A man's name; a Roman pretor.
SOSIPATER (s.) A man's name. Rom. 16.
SO'TAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Sot'ing (p. a. from tot) Tippling, drinking too much.
Sot'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tippling.
SOUCHONG (s. in commerce) A kind of fine bohea tea.
Sound (s.) A herd of swine; a founder.
Sour'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making sour.
Spa'dier (s. from spade) One that digs with a spade.
Span'ning (s. from the part.) The act of measuring with a finger and thumb.
Sparac'rus (s. in old records) A sparrow hawk.
Spare (v. t. in cockfighting) To put cocks to fight by way of training.
Spark'ling (s. from the part.) The act of sending forth sparks; the act of shining with vivid brightneis.
Spay'ing (s. from the part.) The act of castrating a female animal.
Spear'staff (s. from spear, and staff) The pole or handle of a spear.
Speck'ing (s. from the part.) The act of marking with small spots.
Speed'ing (p. a. from speed) Setting forward, hastening.
Speed'ing (s. from the part.) The act of hastening.
Spelt (s. in botany) A kind of corn, the zea.
Spermatiz'ing (s. from the part.) The act of yielding seed.
SPEUSIPPUS (s.) A man's name; the nephew of Plato.
SPHONDYLE (s. in the history of insects) The whirl worm.
Spind'ling (s. from the part.) The act of shooting into small long stalks.
SPI'RAFRUTEX (s. in botany) A kind of shrub.
Spi'ring (s. from the part.) The act of shooting up pyramidically.
Spit'deep (adv. from spit, and deep) At the depth which may be dug up at once by a spade.
Spolt (p. from spoil) Spoiled. Buch.
SPORA'DES

STO

SWE

SPORA'DES (s. in geography) A cluster of islands in the Archipelago.

SPO'RUS (s.) The name of a boy who was castrated with a design to make a woman of him.

Spous'selle (s. an old word, from spouse) A spouse, a bride.

Spoyl (s. an old spelling) Spoil.

Spread/net (s. from spread, and net) A kind of net.

Spring (s.) The high tide of the new and full moon.

Sprout'ing (p. a. from sprout) Springing, growing.

Sprout'ing (s. from the part.) The act of germinating; the act of shooting in sprouts.

SPURIN'NA (s.) A man's name; a mathematician who is said to have warned Casar to beware of the ides of March.

SPUR'RIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.

Squab'bling (s. from the part.) The act of scalding; the act of brawling.

Squash'ing (s. from the part.) The act of crushing into pulp.

Squir'relhunting (s. from squirrel, and hunting) The act or diversion of hunting the squirrel.

Stab'lishing (s. from the part.) The act of establishing.

Stad'ling (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a stable.

Stag'nating (s. from the part.) The act of lying motionless.

STALAC'TOCIBDE'LA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.

STALAGMITÆ (s. in natural history) A kind of spar.

STALAGMODIAU'GIA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.

STALAGMOCIE'RIA (s. in natural history) A genus of opake spars.

STA'MEN (s. from the Lat.) One of the male parts of generation in plants; a kind of first principle.

Stamin'eous (adj. from stamen) Consisting of stamina, having no flower leaves.

Star'ing (p. a. from stare) Looking with wide and fixed eyes.

Star'ing (s. from the part.) The act of looking with wide and fixed eyes.

Start'ing (s. from the part.) The act of giving a sudden start.

STA'TA (s.) One of the names of Fortune.

Sta'tement (s. from state) The thing stated.

STATIL'INUS (s. in beatben mythology) The god who was supposed to teach children to stand.

Sta'tioning (s. from the part.) The act of placing in some post; the act of fixing in some certain place.

STAT'UE (s. from the Lat. statuo) An image erected, a solid form proportioned to the size of the person or thing represented.

Stau'rum (s. in old records) A flock, a store.

STE'ATITES (s. in natural history) A kind of fossil; the soapearth.

Steel (adj. from the sub.) Made of steel.

STEGA'NIUM (s. in natural history) A kind of fossil; the slate.

STEL'LA (s.) A man's name; a Roman poet.

Stell'ifying (s. from the part.) The act of transforming into a star.

STEL'LIO (s. in the mythology of the poets) A boy who was supposed to have been transformed into a lizard.

STEPH'ANUS (s.) A man's name.

Sterili'zing (s. from the part.) The act of making barren.

Stiffle (s. a different spelling) The fistle.

Stiffled (adj. from stiffle) Hurt in the stiffle.

Stiff'lingbone (s.) The joint of the stiffle. Dict. Russ.

Stil'lify (v. t. a bad word) To make quiet.

Stim'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of urging on; the act of exciting by pungent qualities.

Stim'ulative (adj. from stimulate) Stimulating.

Stim'ulative (s. from the adj.) That which stimulates.

STINT (s. in ornithology) The name of a small bird frequent on the sea coasts.

STIPH'ELUS (s.) One of the Centaurs.

Stip'ulating (s. from the part.) The act of contracting.

Stiv'ing (s. from the part.) The act of making close.

STOBCE'US (s.) A man's name; an ancient Greek author.

Stock'broker (s. from stock, and broker) One who deals in stock.

Stock'ed (p. from stock) Put in the stocks. Blackstone.

Stock'ing (p. a. from stock) Putting in the stocks.

Stock'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting in the stocks.

Stol'one (s.) A sucker from the root of a tree or plant. Dict. Russ.

Stom'aching (p. a. from stomach) Resenting.

Stom'aching (s. from the part.) The act of resenting.

Sto'nesquarer (s. from stone, and squarer) One who squares stones.

Stook'ing (s. from the part.) The act of setting up sheaves of corn in flocks.

STOP'ONY (s.) A kind of liquor made of raisins.

Stota'rius (s. in old records) One who has the care of a stad.

Sto'veni (s. a local word) A dry withered stump of a tree.

Strangul'ion (s.) The strangury.

STRATON'ICE (s.) A woman's name; the mother of Attalus.

STREN'UA (s. in beatben mythology) The goddess who was supposed to excite to bravery.

STRIGON'ESIS (s. in natural history) A kind of bole.

Strum (v. t. a droll word) Tuned as a stringed instrument in a clumsy manner.

Strum'med (p. from strum) Strung or tuned in a clumsy manner.

Strum'ming (p. a. from strum) Strung or tuned in a clumsy manner.

Strum'ming (s. from the part.) The act of stringing or tuning in a clumsy manner.

Stud'y (s.) A disease in cattle.

Stu'fing (s. from the part.) A kind of asthma incident to children.

STULT'IFY (v. t. a law term, from the Lat. stultus foolish, and facio to make) To make foolish, to make a fool of, to pretend to be. Blackstone.

Stun'ned (p. from stun) Confounded by noise, made senseless by a blow.

Stun'ning (p. a. from stun) Confounding with noise, making senseless by a blow.

Stun'ning (s. from the part.) The act of confounding with noise; the act of making senseless by a blow.

Stu'prating (s. from the part.) The act of violating the chastity of a female.

Sty'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting up in a sty.

SU (s. in rustic style) Sue, Sufan.

SU'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

SUB'ERATED (adj. from the Lat. sub under, and eras to erase) Consisting of brass covered over with some other metal.

Subdiver'sifying (s. from the part.) The act of diversifying what has been already diversified.

SUBINFEUDA'TION (s. a law term) The act of letting out to inferior feudatories.

Submerg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting under water.

Submers'ing (s. from the part.) The act of putting under water.

SU'CHATHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron.

Sup'arcake (s. from sugar, and cake) A kind of sweet cake.

SUK'KUM (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 2 Chron.

SU'KY (s. the diminutive of) Sufan.

Suling (s. from sulinga) As much land as one plow can till in a year. Ansford.

Suling'a (s. in old records) As much land as one plow can till in a year.

Su'mack (s. not so common a spelling) Sumach. Dict. Russ.

Sum'age, Sum'mage (s.) A horse load; toll paid for carriage on horseback.

Summa'gium (s. in old records) A toll for carriage on horseback.

Sum'mering (s. from the part.) The act of reaping through the summer.

Sum'ming (p. a. from sum) Computing, collecting into one total.

Sum'ming (s. from the part.) The act of computing the act of collecting into one total.

Sund'ering (s. from the part.) The act of dividing.

Sun'ning (s. from the part.) The act of exposing to the sun.

Sunqui'll (s. in botany) The name of a plant; the name of a flower.

Superf'icializing (s. from the part.) The act of forming superficially.

Superintend'ed (p. from superintend) Overlooked.

Sup'pling (p. a. from supple) Making supple.

Sup'pling (s. from the part.) The act of making supple.

Surrendere'e (s. from surrender, a law term) The person to whom a surrender is made.

Surrend'eror (s. from surrender, a law term) The person who surrenders.

SUSAR'CHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Ezra.

Swain'mote (s. from swain, and mote) One of the mounds within the precinct of a forest.

Sweet'john (s. in botany) The name of a flower.

T E D

T H Y

wein (s. a law term) A freeholder within the precincts of a forest.
 weltering (s. from the part.) The act of incommoding with heat.
 wind'ler (s. a cant word) A sharper; one practised in the art of cheating.
 wing'letree (s. a local word) The stick or piece of wood which keeps the traces of a horse open.
 wink'ing (s. from the part.) The act of labouring too much.
 wob'bing (s. from the part.) The act of cleaning with a mop.
 yecophanti'zing (s. from the part.) The act of playing the yecophant.
 ye (v. t. a local word) To strain milk.
 syllab'icate (v. t. from syllabic) To form syllables.
 syllab'icated (p. from syllabicate) Formed into syllables.
 syllab'icating (p. a. from syllabicate) Forming into syllables.
 syllab'icating (s. from the part.) The act of forming into syllables.
 syllab'ication (s. from syllabicate) The act of forming syllables; the method of dividing words into syllables. Walker.
 syllog'izing (s. from the part.) The act of reasoning syllogistically.
 YLVES'TRES (s. in heathen mythology) The gods of the woods.
 YV'TICHE (s.) A woman's name.
 YR'ION (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place; Hermon.

T

T'ANATHSHI'LOH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 TAB'BATH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Tab'eiving (s. from the part.) The act of wasting.
 TAB'ERAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 Tab'ernac'ling (s. from the part.) The act of taking up a temporary dwelling.
 Table'spoonful (s. from table, and spoonful) As much as a tablespoon will contain. Buchan.
 TAB'REA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 TACH'MONITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 2 Sam. 22.
 TAFF (s. in familiar style) Theophilus.
 TAP'FY (s. in the Welsh dialect) David.
 TA'HAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Tahanite (s. from Tahan) A descendant of Tahan.
 TA'HATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 TAP'ANHES (s. from the Heb.) Tahapanes; a man's name.
 TAHTIMHOD'SHI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country. 2 Sam. 24.
 TAL'ITHA (s.) A woman's name; a damsel.
 Tal'lage (s. a different spelling) Tallage.
 TAL'MON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 TA'MAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Tam'bour (v. t.) To ornament with a kind of particoloured needlework.
 Tam'boured (p. from tambour) Ornamented with a kind of needlework.
 Tam'boursing (p. a. from tambour) Ornamenting with a kind of needlework.
 Tam'boursing (s. from the part.) The act of ornamenting with a kind of particoloured needlework.
 TA'PHATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
 Tap'pa (s. in old records) The stopple of a trumpet or wind instrument.
 AP'PUA, TAP'PUAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.
 A'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 AR'ALAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
 ARAN'TULA (s. in ichthyology) The name of a fish; the omurus.
 A'REA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AR'SHIS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 AU (s.) The last letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 Teacup'ful (s. from teacup, and full) As much as can be contained in a teacup.
 Teaspoon'ful (s. from teaspoon, and full) As much as can be contained in a teaspoon.
 EBALI'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 CMES'SA (s.) A woman's name; a Trojan damsel beloved by Ajax.
 Teder'ing (s. from the part.) The act of confining with a tether.

TED'DY (s. the diminutive of) Edward.
 TEHIN'NAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Tek'oite (s. from Tekoa) An inhabitant of Tekoa.
 TE'LABIB (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 TE'LAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 TE'LAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 TELAS'SER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 TELAN'GIA (s. in natural history) A genus of scrupi.
 TEL'CHINES (s. in heathen mythology) The priest of Cybele.
 TE'LEM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name; the name of a city.
 TELHAR'ESHA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
 TE'LOS (s.) The name of a man; the name of an island.
 TE'MACHIS (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils.
 TEMA'NI (s. from the Heb.) The name of a country.
 TE'MENI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 TEMP (s. a contraction of) Temperance, a woman's name.
 TEM'PERANCE (s.) A woman's name.
 TEM'PUS (s.) One of the names of Saturn; time.
 Tems (s. a local word) A sieve.
 Ten'anting (s. from the part.) The act of holding under another.
 TEN'EDOS (s. from Tenes) An island on the coast of Asia Minor.
 TE'NES (s.) A man's name; he had divine honours paid to him in the isle of Tenedos.
 Ter'ebating (s. from the part.) The act of boring.
 TE'RESH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 TERP'ORUS (s.) A man's name; a musician, favourite of Nero.
 Ter'racing (s. from the part.) The act of furnishing with a terrace.
 Ter'tiating (s. from the part.) The act of doing a third time.
 Test'able (adj. from test) Capable of being devised by testament. Blackstone.
 TETH (s.) The ninth letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 TE'TRADECARHOM'BIS (s. in natural history) A genus of fossils consisting of fourteen planes.
 TETRA'PTERA (s. in zoology) The order of insects distinguished by four wings.
 TE'TRAPYROMID'IA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.
 TETRINI'US (s.) A man's name; a famous robber in antiquity.
 Teyl'tree (s. an old spelling) The teiltree.
 THA'MUZ (s.) The fourth month of the Jewish year.
 Thank'idea (v. t. obsolete) To thank. Wickliffe.
 THA'RA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 THAR'SHISH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a sea port.
 Thaf'ian (adj. from Thafos) Belonging to Thafos.
 THA'SIUS (s.) One of the names of Bacchus.
 THA'SOS (s.) An island near Thrace, famous for gold, marble, and wine.
 THAU (s. a different spelling) Tau; the last letter in the Hebrew alphabet.
 THELA'RIA (s.) A woman's name; the sister of Phæbe.
 THEODO'RICUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Goths.
 THEOPH'ILA (s.) A woman's name; the wife of the poet Canius, remarkable for her learning and modesty.
 THEOPOM'PUS (s.) A man's name; a noted orator and historian.
 THES'TOR (s.) A man's name; a famous soothsayer.
 THESTOR'IDES (s.) A man's name; the son of Thesior.
 THES'TYLIS (s.) A woman's name; a supposed witch.
 THIM'NATHATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. Job. 19.
 Thou'ing (p. a. from thou) Treating with familiarity; treating with disrespectful language.
 Thou'ing (s. from the part.) The act of treating with disrespectful language.
 Thraull'ing (s. from the part.) The act of enslaving.
 THRAUSTOM'ICTHES (s. in natural history) A genus of compound earths.
 Thrith'engum (s. in old records) A court consisting of three or four hundreds.
 TH'UPTOM'ICTHES (s. in natural history) A genus of earths.
 TH'Y'ADES (s.) A man's name; a companion of Bacchus.
 THY'ITES (s. in natural history) A kind of stone used in medicine.
 THYONIA'NUS (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Bacchus.

THYROS,

TRU

THYROSTAPHYL'INUS (s. in anatomy) A muscle of the uvula.

TIBER'INIS (s. from Tiber) A nymph of the river Tiber.

TIBER'INUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Æleians, who was drowned in the river Tiber, from whom it is said to have its name.

TIB'HATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city. 1 Kin.

TIBUR'NUS (s.) A man's name; the brother of Catillus.

TIG'LATHPILNE'SER (s. a different spelling) Tiglath-pileser.

TI'LOU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Tilt'ing (p. a. from tilt) Covering with a tilt; turning up with a sudden motion; running in tilts.

Tilt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of covering with a tilt; the act of turning up with a sudden motion; the act of running in tilts.

TIMA'GORAS (s.) A man's name; an excellent painter.

Ti'ming (p. a. from time) Adapted to the circumstance of time.

Ti'ming (s. from the part.) The act of adapting to the circumstance of time.

TIM'NA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman; the name of a man.

TIM'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

TIM'NATHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

TIM'NATHHE'RES (s. from the Heb.) Timnathserah.

TIM'NATHSE'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

TIM'NITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Judg. 15.

TIR'AS (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

TIR'ATHITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron.

TIR'HANAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

TIR'IA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

TIS'RI (s.) The seventh month of the Jewish year.

TIT (s. in familiar style) Theodore.

Titan'ic (adj. from Titan) Belonging to Titan; belonging to the Titans.

Tit'illating (s. from the part.) The act of tickling.

Ti'tum, Ti'tumti (s. a cant or droll word) An uniformity of cadence.

TI'ZITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chron. 11.

TO'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

TOBADONI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

TOBI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

TO'CHEN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a village.

TO'LAD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

To'laite (s. from Tola) A descendant of Tola.

TOL'LENON (s. in Roman antiquity) A warlike engine, by means of which the soldiers were lifted above the walls to annoy the enemy.

TOM (s. in familiar style) Thomas.

TOM'MY (s. the diminutive of) Thomas.

TON (s. from the French) A mode; a fashion.

TO'NANS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.

TO'NY (s. in familiar style) Antony.

Torpe'dial (adj. from torpedo) Belonging to the torpedo; affected by the torpedo.

TORQUA'TUS (s.) A man's name; a cognomen among the Romans.

TOU (s. from the Heb.) Toi, a man's name.

Traip'ing (s. from the part.) The act of walking carelessly through the dirt.

Transcol'ating (s. from the part.) The act of straining through a sieve.

Transmit'ting (s. from the part.) The act of sending from one place to another.

Traff'es (s. an old word) A kind of shoes.

Treen, Treene, (s. an old word) Cups made of wood or earth.

Tri'ator (s. in old records) A juror.

TRIEPE'DA (s. in zoology) A genus of animalcules.

Trieter'ican (adj. from trieterica) Belonging to the trieterica.

TRIFOR'MIS (s.) One of the names of Diana.

TRIOC'ULUS (s.) One of the names of Jupiter.

TRIPEN'TAHÆ'DRIA (s. in natural history) A genus of spars.

TRI'POS (s.) One of the names of Apollo.

Trith'ingreeve (s. from trithing, and reeve) The principal officer of a trithing.

TRIUM'PHUS (s.) One of the names of Bacchus.

TROGLODITÆ (s.) The Troglodites.

Tru'cbreaker (s. from truce, and breaker) One who breaks a truce.

Tru'ism (s. from true, a droll word) A truth.

Trump'ing (p. a. from trump) Winning with a trump; playing a trump.

Trump'ing (s. from the part.) The act of playing a trump; the act of winning with a trump.

VIR

TSAD'DI (s.) The eighteenth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

TUBULA'RIA (s. in natural history) A species of coral.

TUIS'TO (s. a different spelling) Tuisco.

TUL'LUS (s.) A man's name; the name of two Roman kings.

Turba'gium (s. in old records) The turbary.

Turbiche'tum (s. in old records) A cuckingstool.

TUR'BO (s.) A man's name; a famous gladiator.

Tweag'ing (s. from the part.) The act of pinching between the fingers.

TYD'EUS (s.) A man's name; the father of Diomedes, a man of small stature, but of great valour.

TY'RO (s.) A woman's name; a Thessalian virgin, who, it is said, fell in love with a certain river, and received the embraces of Neptune.

TZA'DE (s. a different spelling) Tzaddi, the eighteenth letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

TZE'RI (s.) One of the Hebrew points; it answers to the long sound of the E in the English alphabet.

V

Vaca'ria (s. in old records) A void place, a waste piece of land.

Va'ga (s. in old records) A weight, one hundred and fifty pounds.

VAJE'ZATHA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Vale'ta (s. in old records) A valet.

Val'ianter (adj. comp. of valiant) Valiant in a greater degree.

Val'iantest (adj. sup. of valiant) Valiant in the greatest degree.

VALLE'NIA (s. in pagan mythology) The goddess who was supposed to preside over the valleys.

VANI'ALE (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

VAS'THI (s. a different spelling) Vasti, a woman's name.

Vast'um (s. in old records) Waste.

Vault'ing (s. from the part.) The act of forming in the manner of a vault.

Vaunt'ing (s. from the part.) The act of boasting.

VEA'DAR (s. from the Heb.) The second Adar, the intercalary month of the Jews.

VEL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.

Vel'lein (s. a different spelling) A villain, one who holds by servile tenure.

Vel'lein (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a villain, held by a servile tenure.

Vel'leinage (s. a different spelling) Villainage.

VEL'LEIUS (s.) A man's name, a Roman historian.

VE'LOX (s. in zoology) A genus of animalcules.

Vena'ria (s. in old records) Beasts caught in hunting.

Veredic'tum (s. in old records) A verdict.

Verg'ing (p. d. from verge) Tending to some certain point, bending downwards.

Verg'ing (s. from the part.) The act of tending to some certain point, the act or state of bending downwards.

VERTICER'DIA (s. in heathen mythology) One of the names of Venus.

VESPER'UGA (s. in the mythology of the poets) The brother of Atlas, supposed to have been turned into the evening star.

Vest'ing (p. a. from vest) Investing, dressing; putting into possession.

Vest'ing (s. from the part.) The act of investing; the act of putting into possession.

Via'gium (s. in old records) A voyage.

VIC'EGOD (s. from the Lat. vice in the room of, and god) An inferior god, a god substituted in the room of another.

VICTIMA'RIOUS (s. from the Lat.) One who attended the priest at the sacrifice, one who sold beasts for sacrifice.

Victualla'rius (s. in old records) A victualler.

Vic'ulus (s. in old records) A little street.

Vil'lain (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to a servile tenure; mean, base.

Vil'lainage (s. from villain) The state of a villain; servile tenure.

Villa'nus (s. in old records) A villain.

Villena'gium (s. in old records) Villenage.

Vina'gium (s. in old records) A payment of wine in lieu of rent.

Vinde'miating (s. from the part.) The act of gathering in the vintage.

Vintena'rius (s. in old records) A vintner.

Virg'ata (s. in old records) The verge.

W A L

Vir'ger (s. from virge) The officer who carries the mace before the dean.
 Vir'gincream (s. from virgin, and cream) A composition of milk, sugar, whites of eggs and other ingredients.
 VIRGINIA (s.) A woman's name; the daughter of Virginius.
 VIRGINIUS (s.) A man's name; a Roman who stabbed his daughter in the forum, to prevent her servitude and prostitution to the lust of Appius one of the last of the decemviri.
 Virginvine (s. in botany) A kind of snakeweed.
 Virine'tum (s. in old records) The vicinity.
 VIVARY (s. from the Lat. vivo, to live) A place where animals are kept alive; a park, a warren, a fish-pond.
 VIX'EN (s. in zoology) The young of a fox, a cub.
 VLAC (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 VLAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 VULA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 UL'TIO (s. in beaten mythology) The supposed goddess of revenge.
 Umpira'gium (s. in old records) Umpirage.
 Umpira'tor (s. in old records) An umpire.
 Uncia'ta (s. in old records) An ounce.
 Unop'posite (adj. from un, and opposite) Not opposite.
 Unreveng'ing (adj. from un, and revenge) Forbearing to revenge, not given to revenge.
 UNX'IA (s. in beaten mythology) One of the names of Juno.
 Unyed (adj. obsolete) United. Fortescue.
 VOLCA'TIUS (s.) A man's name; the name of several Romans.
 VOLG'ESUS (s.) A man's name; a king of the Parthians.
 Volcin'ian (adj. from Volsci) Belonging to the Volsci.
 Volcin'ian (s. from the adj.) One of the Volsci.
 VORTICEL'LA (s. in zoology) A genus of animalcules.
 Vpland'a (s. in old records) High ground.
 Vp'pring'ing (s. from the part.) The act of springing up.
 Vp'stand'ing (s. from the part.) The act of standing upright.
 VRNA (s.) A Roman measure containing three gallons four pints and a half.
 Vsal'gium (s. in old records) Usage.
 V'ing (p. a. from use) Practising, employing, habituating.
 V'ing (s. from the part.) The act of practising, the act of employing, the act of habituating.
 Vufuct'uary (adj. from usufruct) Having the use, in-joying the use only.
 THAI (s. from the Heb.) Aman's name.
 thilaga'ria (s. in old records) An outlawry.
 thil'gus (s. in old records) An outlaw.
 Z'AI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Z'AL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Z'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Z'ZAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
 Z'ZENSHE'RAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.

W

WAp'tores (s. in old records) Officers who guarded the fishery on the coast.
 Waif, Waife (s. a law term) A bond woman, the daughter of one who held in villenage. Blackstone.
 Wain'gium (s. in old records) Wainage.
 Wain'house (s. from wain, and house) A cart house.
 Waive (v. t. a law term) To throw away or desert stolen goods as a thief when pursued.
 W'ived (p. from waive) Thrown away or deserted as stolen goods for fear of a discovery.
 Wivaria (s. in old records) An outlawry as applied to a woman.
 W'iving (p. a. from waive) Throwing away or deserting stolen goods for fear of a discovery.
 W'iving (s. from the part.) The act of throwing away or deserting stolen goods for fear of a discovery.
 W'leche'ria, Wallethe'ria (s. in old records) The kind of a murdered person.

VOL. II.

W Y T

Wall'tree (s. from wall, and tree) A fruit tree growing against a wall.
 Wall'vium (in old records) A waif; stolen goods thrown away or deserted.
 Wan (v. t. pret. of win, but not used) Did win.
 Wang (s. an old word) A field, a meadow.
 Wa'ning (p. a. from wane) Decreasing, declining.
 Wa'ning (s. from the part.) The act of decreasing, the act of declining.
 Wan'lafs (s. a different spelling) The windlafs. D. of Arts.
 Want (s. a local word) The mole.
 Wap'entage (s. an old word) A wapentake. Ainsf.
 Wapenta'gium (s. in old records) A wapentake.
 Wa'ra (s. in old records) A wear, a dam in a river.
 War'gus (s. in old records) A banished rogue.
 War'horse (s. from war, and horse) A horse trained for war.
 Warrantee' (s. a law term) The person to whom a warranty is granted.
 War'rantor (s. a law term) The person who grants a warranty.
 Wash'pot (s. from wash, and pot) A vessel to wash in.
 Was'fel (adj. an old word) Jovial.
 Wa'sing (p. a. from waffe) Diminishing, destroying, growing less.
 Wa'sing (s. from the part.) The act of diminishing, the act of destroying, the act of growing less.
 Watercider (s. from water, and cider) Cider made with a mixture of water.
 Watercistern (s. from water, and cistern) A cistern for water.
 Wateriarcy (s. from water, and farcy) A kind of farcy, a disease incident to horses.
 Waterga'gium (s. in old records) A watergauge.
 Watergan'ga, Watergan'gia, Watergan'num (s. in old records) A watercourse.
 Waterpool (s. from water, and pool) A pool of water.
 Wat'ring (p. a. an old spelling) Watering.
 Wa'ring (s. from the part.) The act of watering, the act of supplying with water.
 Wa'vebreast (s. from wave, and breast) The breast of the beasts slain in sacrifice which was made a wave offering.
 Weet'ing (p. a. from weet) Knowing.
 Wil'chaire (s. in Wales) A measure of two acres. Dict. Rus.
 Wild (s. in botany) The dyer's weed.
 We'ra (s. in old records) The weregild.
 We'ren (v. n. obsolete) Were. Wickliffe.
 Wer'gild (s. a different spelling) The weregild. Ainsf.
 WESTPHALIA (s. in geography) A circle or subdivision of the German empire.
 Westpha'lia (adj. from the sub.) Belonging to Westphalia.
 Wex'ide (v. t. pret. obsolete) Grew, did grow. Wickl.
 Whe'rewithsoever (adv. from where, with, so, and ever) With whatsoever. Mark.
 Whenne (adv. an old spelling) When. Wickliffe.
 Whey (s. a local word) A heifer, a young cow.
 Willowtree (s. from willow, and tree) The willow.
 Willwor'ship (s. from will, and worship) A kind of voluntary worship, worship which is not com-manded. Col.
 Wi'nebottle (s. from wine, and bottle) A bottle in which wine is kept.
 Wi'ne cellar (s. from wine, and cellar) A cellar in which wine is kept.
 Wi'nefat (s. from wine, and fat) The vessel in which the grapes are mashed to make wine.
 Wi'ne pint (s. from wine, and pint) A pint of wine measure.
 Wi'nepress (s. from wine, and press) The press used in making wine.
 Wi'ne seller (s. from wine, and seller) One who sells wine.
 Wis'h'ywash'y (adj. a cant or droll word) Flimsy, unsubstantial.
 Wisk'yfrisk'y (adj. a cant or droll word) Done with a careless air, giddy, unstable.
 Wista (s. in old records) A forfeiture, a fine.
 Withdre'w (v. t. pret. from withdraw) Did with-draw.
 Wond'irden (v. int. obsolete) To wonder. Wickliffe.
 Wrong'headedness (s. from wrongheaded) The state of being wrongheaded. L. Chesterfield.
 Wyf (s. an old spelling) A wife. Wickliffe.
 Wym'aen (s. an old spelling) Women. Wickliffe.
 Wyn (s. an old spelling) Wine. Wickliffe.
 Wy'ten (v. t. obsolete) To know. Sir J. Mandeville.
 XANTHE.

Z A R

X

XANTHEMOIDES (s. in botany) A genus of plants.
XANTHEMUM (s. in botany) A genus of plants, the xanthemoides.

Y

Yard/falen (adj. from yard, and falen) Belonging to that disease in horses, in which there is a relaxation of the yard.
Yard/foul (adj. in farriery. from yard, and foul) Having the yard foul, having the yard furred.
Yce (s. an old spelling) Ice. Nerzman.
Y'dell (adj. an old spelling) Idle, empty. Cbaucer.
Yeer (s. an old spelling) A year. Sbenstone.
Yfix'ed (p. obsolete) Fixed. Sbenstone.
Ygath'ered (p. obsolete) Gathered. Sbenstone.
Yga'zed (w. int. obsolete) Gazed, did gaze. Sbenstone.
Yga'zing (p. a. obsolete) Gazing. Sbenstone.
Yle (s. an old spelling) An island. Sir J. Mandeville.
Yoak'elm (s. from yoak, and elm) A kind of tree, a kind of wood.
Yoc'let (s. an old word) A small farm, as much land as a man might till with one yoke of oxen.
Yra'pe (adj. obsolete) Rare, scarce. Sbenstone.

Z

ZA'ANAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZA'ANAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZAANAN/NIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZA'AVAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZA'BAD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZAB'BAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZABDI'EL (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZA'BUD (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZAC'CAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZAC'CAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZAC'CO (s. in architecture) The zaccho.
ZA'CHER (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZACHE'US (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZA'LAPH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZA'PHON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ZA'RAH (s. a different spelling) Zerah.
ZA'REAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Zare'athite (s. from Zareah) An inhabitant of Zareah.
ZA'RED (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZA'RETAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ZA'RETHSHA'BAR (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Za'rHITE (s. from Zarah) A descendant of Zarah.
ZARTA'NAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZART'HAN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.

Z U Z

ZAT'THU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZAT'TU (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZA'VAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZA'ZA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZEB'AIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZEBI'NA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZEBU'DAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
ZEB'ULUN (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place, signifying a habitation)
 A man's name; one of the tribes of Israel.
Zeb'ulunite (s. from Zebulun) A descendant of Zebulun.
ZE'DAD (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZEE'LAND (s.) One of the provinces of Holland; an island of Denmark.
Zeer (s. an old spelling) A year. Sir J. Mandeville.
ZE'LAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZEM'ARAIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place, the name of a mountain.
ZEM'ARITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chr.
ZE'MENT (s.) Copper.
Ze'mentwater (s. from zement, and water) Water impregnated with copper.
ZEMI'RA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZE'NAM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ZE'ORIM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZEPH'ATHAH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZE'PHI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZE'PHON (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Ze'phonite (s. from Zephon) A descendant of Zephon.
ZER (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ZERAH'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZERA'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZE'RED (s. from the Heb.) The name of a brook.
ZEREDA'THA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZE'RERATH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
ZE'RI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZE'THAM (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZE'THAN (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZI'A (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIB'IA (s. from the Heb.) The name of a woman.
ZID'DIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ZIDKI'JAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Zif (conj. obsolete) If. Sir J. Mandeville.
ZI'HA (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIL'THAI (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIM'MAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIPH'AH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIPH'INITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. Newm.
ZIPH'ION (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZIPH'ITE (s. from Ziph) An inhabitant of Ziph.
ZIPH'RON (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Zit (conj. obsolete) Yet. Sir J. Mandeville.
ZMI'LUS (s.) A man's name; a famous architect.
ZOHA'BAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZO'HAR (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZO'HEH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
Zong (adj. obsolete) Young. Sir J. Mandeville.
ZO'PHAH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZO'PHIM (s. from the Heb.) The name of a place.
Zor'athite (s. from Zorah) An inhabitant of Zorah.
ZORE'AH (s. from the Heb.) The name of a city.
ZO'RITE (s. from the Heb.) One of a people. 1 Chr.
ZUPH (s. from the Heb.) A man's name.
ZU'RIEL (s. from the Heb.) The name of a man.
ZU'ZA (s.) The fourth part of a shekel.

T H E E N D.

am.
(on)

Ze-

as vill.

place,

Chr.

er im-

place.

ephon.

a place;
place.

n.

y.

ndeville.

Newm.

lace.
ndeville
est.

ndeville.

ce.
rah.
city.
Chr.

n.